

A.I.2

The Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library
Bucknell University
Lewisburg, Pennsylvania

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY ARCHIVES

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2010 with funding from Lyrasis Members and Sloan Foundation

<http://www.archive.org/details/bucknellalumnus381425gene>

B U C K N E L L

A L U M N U S

V O L. 38-42

S E P T. 1953-

M A Y 1958

3
/

The

BUCKNELL

ALUMNUS

SEPTEMBER 1953

THERE'S NO FUN LIKE WORK

1953. II

SEE PAGE 2

Welcome to

THE CLASS OF 1957

"A free allowance of pocket money leads a student into many snares, and greatly interferes with his progress in study. The money for minors should generally be deposited with some citizen or member of the Faculty, who will act as guardian and render semi-annual accounts; charging five per cent commission on the amount expended."

We hasten to point out that the above quote from the University catalogue of 1852 is no longer carried in the bulletins issued to entering Freshmen.

In this open season on advice to Freshmen there are several lessons we'd like to draw from this quotation. In the first place, too much spending money is still a snare—and incidentally, not only to Freshmen. While professors and citizens no longer serve as guardians of the student's exchequer, we would like to point out that on the Bucknell campus the student-teacher relationship can be just as close as in the days of 1852—if the student wills it. An alert faculty of almost 150 men and women is ready to guide you; some are great teachers, some are specialists in research, some are outstanding administrators, all are ready to help make the adjustment from high school to college.

But how can I meet the problem of longer assignments, harder courses, more supplementary reading, etc., that one meets in college? In exactly the same way that you have learned to do the tasks which have become more difficult in every succeeding year of your life. Just as successful work in the eighth grade prepared you for successful work in ninth grade so successful work in high school has prepared you for college. You would not be coming to college if you thought that college work would be as easy and on the same level as high school work. College work is not enough harder than the work you have already done to worry you—provided you start at the beginning of the semester to do your best.

Maybe you don't realize it, but you are about to enjoy four of the best years of your life. We welcome you to a college career marked with thrills, excitement, an occasional let-down, but above all, a chance to really prepare yourself for your life's work.

In This Issue

THE COVER PICTURE

These five glimpses into the life of frosh men and women show the age-old process of becoming "oriented." If some of us old-timers cannot see ourselves in the pictures, remember the pattern changes—but the "basic concepts" remain the same.

Page

A Bucknell Experiment Gets Recognition—and Support	23
Alumni
Russel O. Hess '40	21
Bob Keegan '44	6
Mrs. Emily Devine Kelly '21	4, 24
Esther B. Long '17	9
Brad Myers '53	6
"Smokey" Ostendarp '52	6
Eric G. Stewart '36	9
Alumni Fund Report	22
Alumni Trustee Time Table	22
Alumni Weekend	4
Bucknell Families (Pictures)	19
Care and Feeding of College Students ..	9
Class of 1957	2
Class Reports	17-21
Class Reunion Reports and Pictures ..	10-15
Club Activities	16
Clubs Meeting Regularly	16
Coming Events	16
Commencement, 1953	8
Committee to Select New President	21
Dad Is King—October 3	7
Freshman Receptions	16
Hildreths Refund Salary	5
Homecoming, 1953	7
Internship Program of the National Institute of Public Affairs	3, 9, 21
Service Record	15
Sports	6
Suppose You Were the Editor?	9
University Awards 387 Degrees	8

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

Published in January, March, April, June, September, October and December by

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Entered as second-class matter December 30, 1930, at the post office at Lewisburg, Pa., under the Act of August 24, 1912.

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

VOLUME XXXVIII—No. 1

SEPTEMBER 1953

The Internship Program of the National Institute of Public Affairs

By DR. C. HERSCHEL JONES

Associate Professor of Political Science, Bucknell University

EDITOR'S NOTE—Dr. Jones, Associate Professor of Political Science, prepared for his career at Ohio Wesleyan University, A.B. '35; American University; University of Wisconsin, Ph.D. '42. Before joining the Bucknell faculty in 1950 he served as an administrative analyst in the U. S. Department of Agriculture and as lecturer at American University. This experience prepared him for the writing of "The Internship Program of the National Institute of Public Affairs" published in full in "Bucknell University Studies" Vol. IV, No. 1 (1953) of which the following article is a digest.

In college Dr. Jones became a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and the honorary societies of Omicron Delta Kappa and Delta Sigma Rho. The professional societies in which he is active include the American Society for Public Administration, American Political Science Association, Society for Personnel Administration and American Academy of Political and Social Sciences. He spent thirty months in navy service during World War II.

THE National Institute of Public Affairs was established in Washington D. C., in 1934, for the purpose of instituting a program which, it was hoped, would make effective use of the facilities of Washington to instill in the minds of talented young persons a lively interest in the public service.

In its statement of objectives the Institute affirmed that its purpose was threefold:

"Through the Internship program the Institute is endeavoring to increase the attention and devotion to public affairs of the youth of America, to help in the development of higher standards and career opportunities in governmental administration and to add to the academic preparation for public service the experience of working with government officials holding positions of responsibility."

To be accepted for the training program of the Institute, each intern must have completed the work for the baccalaureate degree in a college or university. This was a fundamental requirement. Accordingly, most of them came directly from liberal arts colleges without having had work experience.

During the twelve programs of the Institute, beginning with that of 1936-37 and ending with that of 1947-48, four hundred sixty-five interns were enrolled. The interns who participated in the Institute's training programs were selected from one hundred forty-six colleges and universities. From twelve of these institutions one hundred forty-one interns, or somewhat fewer than one-third of the total, were chosen. In this area of concentration no one institution consistently placed interns with the Institute throughout the twelve programs. From nineteen colleges and universities students were selected for six or more of the programs, as follows: Minnesota, 11 programs; Smith, Stanford, Kansas, 9 each; Harvard, Occidental, Wesleyan, 8 each; Dartmouth, Princeton, Colorado, Washington, 7 each; Barnard, Bennington, Bucknell, Miami, Radcliffe, Illinois, Wisconsin, Wellesley, 6 each.

In its efforts to select for its internship program persons of outstanding intellectual ability, the Institute was preeminently successful. More than thirty-five per cent of those chosen were members of Phi Beta Kappa. Most of the others were in the upper ten per cent of their graduating classes. The candidates selected for the first six programs, those from 1936 to 1942, had perhaps slightly higher academic standing than those who participated in the later groups. However, even during the war period when so many of the college graduates were being drawn off into military service, few of those appointed were not in the upper one-third of their graduating classes.

Essential characteristics of the Institute's training program were the planned orientation, the work assignments, the group meetings, and the university courses. A prominent characteristic of the program of the Institute was a weekly round-table conference known as the "Monday Evening Meeting." At the Monday evening meetings most of the interns were impressed with the opportunity to discuss current problems with outstanding personalities or with administrative officials. Generally, the interns' reactions indicated that they were not all agreed as to the value of these meetings. But as a group they found that the experience did much to enhance the value of their training.

DR. C. HERSCHEL JONES

The staff of the Institute considered as one of the essential elements of the program of the Institute the opportunity for interns to receive correlated academic training. The university courses most often taken by interns were courses in public administration, statistics, and economics. Courses in social security, housing, labor and foreign relations were also popular with the interns. It is a fact particularly worthy of attention that approximately fifty-seven per cent of the men and fifty-three per cent of the women who had participated in the programs entered and were still employed, as late as 1950, in some type of public service. Many of the others were pursuing full-time graduate study, and of these it appeared that some would eventually seek careers in public-service work.

(Continued on Page 3)

Alumni Weekend Tops Records

WORKING on the premise that "there will be more and they'll be merrier at the 1953 reunions," the campus committee headed by Raymond K. Irwin '47, director of placement, and assisted by 13 live-wire reunion class chairmen and their helpers, prepared something in the nature of a five-ring circus. Plagued by the perennial question, "how many shall we prepare for?" the planners got small comfort from the lament of that super-planner from Harvard, Stephen H. Stackpole, when he said:

"Alumni return in years quinquennial,
But only God can tell how many'll."

But there was really no need to worry and fret for the 1953 reunions proved again that the guys and gals will come back if plans are carefully made and notices are mailed in good time. The final tally showed that alumni registrations topped last year's record-breaking figure by a whacking 23%.

But mere numbers cannot measure the success of Alumni Weekend; the improved spirit and hilarity, many worthwhile forward steps in alumni organization undertaken at the reunions and business meetings of the General Alumni Association, tell the story of a new high in Bucknell preferred stock. True, some of the finest features of the weekend stemmed from a really sad event—the leave-taking of the Hildreth family from the Bucknell Campus. Surely the graciousness and friendliness of the Hildreths during the past four years has set an example of university living for students, faculty, alumni and administration alike.

The vanguard of Alumni Association officers and reunion chairmen arrived Friday, June 5. At a buffet supper alumni workers had an opportunity to hear a firsthand report from President Kenneth Sliker '26 on alumni activities, from Alumni Fund Committee Chairman, John Worth '37 on the progress on the Bucknell Alumni Annual Giving Program, from John H. Shott '22, Alumni Secretary, on club and magazine program. During the evening the Board of Directors of the General Alumni Association met at Alumni Headquarters to receive reports on the year's activities and discuss plans for next year's programs.

One of the highlights of the Annual Assembly, the yearly business meeting of the General Alumni Association, was the record breaking attendance of seventy delegates representing twenty-two clubs. When it is remembered that our sixty-five clubs have the privilege of sending 241 delegates it will be seen that we are far from our goal in representative government. However, the group was much encouraged by receiving from the floor one nomination for membership on the Board of Directors. Happy will be the day when clubs will be prepared to nominate the full slate of alumni directors.

The voting resulted in the election of five new members of the Board of Directors to serve for three years. They are Florence Brown Focht '26, Lewisburg; P. Herbert Watson '37, Norristown; Bruce J. Miller '27, New York; Allen A. Rarig '29, Lewistown; Donald L. Sholl '42, Haddonfield, N. J. The directors who completed terms of service were, Lester E. Lighton '20, Glenside; I. H. Marantz '48, Huntington, N. Y.; Roy E. Nicodemus '25, Danville; Rita Holbrook Sear '37, Rochester; Arthur R. Von '17, Atlantic City.

Following the Annual Assembly the new Board of Directors met briefly and elected officers to serve for one year as follows: President, Emily Devine Kelly '21, New York; First Vice President, Paul E. Fink '29, Montoursville; Second Vice President, William S. Liming '33, East Williston, N. Y.

Mrs. Joseph B. Kelly (Emily Devine '21), new president of the General Alumni Association.

By now reunioners had covered a full schedule of Bison Club Breakfast, Phi Beta Kappa Breakfast and Annual Assembly and one would expect a slight letdown but this was only the beginning for now class reunion sessions (for those classes whose numerals ended in "3" and "8") began business sessions of their own. The expression business session is used advisedly for there were many interruptions as late arrivals greeted the early birds and filled in with gossip of the missing years. Each group was photographed and then in full regalia paraded back of the band to the luncheon in the Davis Gymnasium.

The luncheon itself—fried chicken and all the fixings—deserved a billing as a dinner and was a credit to Mrs. Esther B. Long '47, director of food service, and her staff and student assistants. The speaking program following the luncheon was short but filled with thrill after thrill as members of the University staff and alumni paid tribute to the contributions of the Hildreth family during their four-year stay on the campus. Opened by the induction of the Class of 1953 into the Alumni Association by Buck Shott, alumni secretary, Abram Powelson, president of the class, then presented the class gift, (a sum of money for the Little Theater Fund) to the University. Special tribute was paid Dr. Hildreth by chairman of the board of trustees, Dr. Joseph W. Henderson '08, who told of first meeting the former governor of Maine and what his four years as president has meant to the University. Followed then a series of gifts: a brief case from the student body presented by senior class president, Abram Powelson; a silver tray presented by Kenneth W. Sliker, retiring president of the General Alumni Association, from the alumni; and on the behalf of the faculty a silver bowl presented by Dr. P. Burwell Rogers, assistant professor of English. In his presentation Dr. Rogers paid the Hildreths the following tribute:

"Four summers ago there came to the campus of Bucknell University a down Mainer who had made a notable record for himself in his home state by serving two terms as its governor. During the past four years this down Mainer, with equal distinction, has served Bucknell as its president. As results of his efforts the university now benefits from such tangibles as the Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library, the department of military science and tactics, grants in aid providing for research and study in several fields, and increases in faculty salaries. But of more intrinsic value are the intangibles that have derived from his presence on this campus. His ceaseless efforts have all been prompted by a single purpose—The good of Bucknell; and his efforts in behalf of the University have been an inspiration. His determination and his decisiveness have been healthful influences throughout the University, and his objective open-mindedness and far-sightedness have been no less beneficial. At the same time his affability, approachableness, and unaffected simplicity of manner have been cherished by all.

"We of the faculty have been keenly aware of the presence of President Hildreth on the Bucknell campus, and we have been no less aware of the presence of his gracious wife and of his charming family. Mrs. Hildreth's grace and charm will always be remembered by Bucknellians of this generation."

But the greatest gift of all came from the president himself when he quietly announced "Mrs. Hildreth and I would like to feel that we have served without compensation at Bucknell." And explained that he was returning to Bucknell the entire salary paid him since he became president in 1949 as an expression of the Hildreth family's devotion to the University. The audience was not prepared for an announcement of such magnitude and it was probably some hours before many realized the greatness of the gift the Hildreths made to the University they have come to love so well.

At the luncheon recognition also was given Mrs. Anna Kieffer Hay, who honored the University by her return to the campus to celebrate her 70th class reunion. The only member of the Class of 1883 who was able to attend the reunion, she presented a substantial gift to the Bucknell Alumni Fund to commemorate the event. She was presented with an orchid by Kenneth W. Sliker on behalf of the Alumni Association.

Following luncheon a wide choice of entertainment was offered the campus visitors. Of course, reunion classes hurried to their social headquarters set up for them in the women's dormitory houses and at several off campus spots. Here they indulged in more reminiscences, enjoyed light refreshments and believe it or not, spent most of their time planning for even bigger and better reunions five years hence.

Non-reunioners in large numbers made their way to the Christy Mathieson Memorial Field where Sherm Doebler's Bucknell Alumni baseball team featuring former orange and blue varsity men from as far back as 1935 engaged the current Bucknell varsity in a close battle that wound up with the Alumni nine on the short end of a 4-3 score.

Favorite Book Exhibit

THE Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library claimed the attention of many visitors. Here Mrs. Blanche Baughman, senior assistant librarian, under the supervision of Librarian Harold W. Hayden, had prepared a series of exhibits including a display of student photography, student art works, photographs of Bucknell presidents, collected material about Bucknell's history and famous graduates, and favorite books of Bucknellians. The favorite book, exhibit, which has attracted nation-wide interest, consists of an exhibit of books held meaningful by distinguished Americans, together with letters explaining their choices. Selections include books chosen by President Eisenhower, Vice-President Nixon, Albert Einstein and over 40 other prominent Americans. While these entertainment features were being enjoyed a small group was engaged in a business session. This group consisted of the presidents and reunion chairmen of the classes scheduled to hold regular five year reunions in June 1954, the classes whose class numerals end in "4" and "9".

Mrs. Blanche Baughman, senior assistant librarian, showing Jane A. Brown '53 the display of "favorite books" selected by prominent Americans.

The Jamboree

THE weatherman had promised a sun drenched weekend and kept his word except during the Jamboree—the only outdoor event scheduled. But the heavy showers did not dampen the spirit of the hundreds of alumni, students, and parents who gathered in the gymnasium to see and hear a new kind of jamboree program. Dancing, of course, was provided by the Dan Hanna orchestra from Philadelphia, but the booths operated by student organizations and the entertainment provided by the student group headed by Ed Williams as master of ceremonies certainly was the feature of the evening. Not to be outdone in gift-making by the seniors, the undergraduate classes presented a sum of money to President Hildreth to be used by a Pakistan charity of his choosing and gave an orchid corsage to Mrs. Hildreth.

And so hundreds of campus visitors closed a long, busy and eventful day with many of them staying over for the Commencement events scheduled for Sunday and Monday. Judging from the many favorable comments received since Alumni Weekend it is evident that another large group of reunion classes are now convinced that the University, through careful planning and provision of dormitory rooms and baby sitting service, is determined to provide for the kind of relaxing family vacation that can be thoroughly enjoyed by the whole family. In June 1954 another group of reunion classes (those whose class numerals end in "4" and "9") will have an opportunity to thoroughly enjoy the hospitality of "the Hill."

Hildreths Refund Four-Year Salary

At the June meeting of the Board of Trustees the resignation of Horace A. Hildreth as president was accepted to enable him to serve as United States Ambassador to Pakistan.

The generosity and thoughtfulness of the Hildreths was well known to thousands of Bucknellians who have come to know and love the family but no one was prepared to appreciate the full impact of the altruistic action of Dr. Hildreth when he arose at the All-Alumni Luncheon and stated simply "Mrs. Hildreth and I would like to feel that we have served without compensation at Bucknell." An editorial in the Sunbury Daily Item following the announcement in commenting on the able and forceful Commencement speaker followed with this comment.

"There seems to be little doubt, however that the altruistic action of Dr. Horace A. Hildreth . . . in returning to the school all of the salary paid him during the past four years had a stronger impact upon the graduates, and all friends of Bucknell, than any group of orators who might have been called to the Commencement platform.

"In the first instance no American college or university could afford to pay a man of Dr. Hildreth's caliber his full worth. A man who has achieved outstanding success in a material sense, it now becomes apparent that he accepted the presidency of Bucknell as a labor of love. Turning back to the school all of the compensation he has received sealed a season of unselfish service that will always be classified as a contribution of inestimable worth to a great school.

"And the humility and sincerity which marked this gesture explained the credo of Horace Hildreth and his reasons for accepting a difficult assignment in the nation's diplomatic corps. If learning is caught rather than taught—and we believe that it is—Bucknell's retiring president has given the Class of 1953 and all past and future Bucknellians a priceless example of how an effective, well-rounded life makes the best come true."

President and Mrs. Hildreth at the student reception given them on their return from their first trip to Pakistan in May.

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS

By HARRY L. LAWRENCE
Head Football Coach

A good defensive line and an untried offense might briefly describe the Bucknell University grid picture for the coming season.

Gone are three of the four Bison starting backs of the 1952 season—Touchdown Twins, Brad Myers and Burt Talmage, and Fullback Ed Adams, plus eight other varsity performers.

But we're not hauling out the crying towel, at least not yet, for we have some sophomores who have the potential but lack the experience. And once the latter is gained, these boys may be the sparks to send the Herd on a stampede.

Halfbacks Bob Sierer and Dick McCarty, Fullback Bob Ford and Quarterbacks Ron Hendricks and Bill Hollister are the new backfield blood. Add them to such seasoned performers as Halfbacks Bobby Dee, Moe Finkelstein, George Klauder, and Owen Murnane, Fullbacks Jim Kozlowski and Vince Pugliese and Quarterbacks Ken Adamec and Tom O'Brien and the outlook improves.

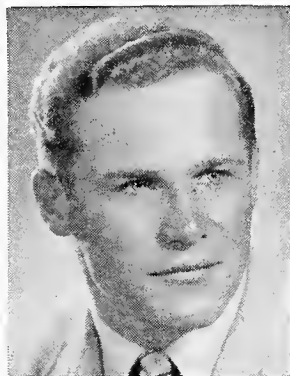

With the change to non-platoons, like everyone else we are confronted with developing a line which will be sturdy defensively, yet also able to move on the offense. Here we are fortunate to have such standouts as Guards John Chironna and Bill Gray, Tackles Ron Lloyd and Jim Egloff, Ends Jack Flurer and Bob Antkowiak and Center Paul Ganz, plus these other able performers: Ken Tashjy, Jack Winebrenner, Ed Popek, guards, Marion Minker and Dick Richter, tackles, Dick Klaber and Bob Harbaugh, ends and Center Roy Gavert.

Our schedule will be tough, including Holy Cross, Colgate and Temple among the roughest. Last year, we began the season on the wings of a 13-game winning streak. This year, we begin from scratch, not looking three weeks in advance to a tough foe, but taking every game as we come to it.

We won't be undefeated, that's for sure, but our team will have spirit, drive and the desire to make amends for our three defeats suffered in 1952.

1953 Football Schedule

Sept. 26—Buffalo Home
Oct. 3—Muhlenberg Home
Oct. 10—Holy Cross
Worcester, Mass.
Oct. 17—Temple, HOMECOMING
Oct. 24—Lafayette ... Easton
Oct. 31—Lehigh ... Bethlehem
Nov. 7—Colgate, Hamilton, N. Y.
Nov. 14—Gettysburg, Gettysburg
Nov. 21—Delaware Home

NEW BACKFIELD COACH — James "Smokey" Ostendarp, of Baltimore, Md., who has been named backfield coach for the coming year, is well-known to recent Bucknell graduates for his football feats on the gridiron in 1948 and 1949, when he was one of the East's leading ground gainers. Following his graduation, he played football for the New York Giants professional eleven Bob Keegan '44, continues his fine work as a hurler for the hustling Chicago White Sox. As we go to press he has just evened his won-lost record at 3-3, after losing a pitchers' duel with Ned Garver in an eleven-inning contest that Detroit finally won 2-1.

SOCCER

Hank Peters' varsity soccer team, which last season won only one contest, will be out to better itself this year when it meets seven colleges, including powerful Penn State and mighty Temple, two of the king pins of the intercollegiate soccer world.

Hank won't say much except that he expects this year's team to show marked improvement over the 1952 booters who were plagued by injuries and inexperience.

The Schedule: Oct. 3, Penn State; Oct. 10, Temple at Philadelphia; Oct. 16, Delaware; Oct. 24, Drexel; Oct. 30, Gettysburg at Gettysburg; Nov. 7, Western Maryland at Westminster, Md.; Nov. 14, Franklin and Marshall.

Brad Myers With Rams

Brad Myers '53, rookie half-back with the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League, made several substantial gains in their charity tilt with the Washington Redskins. The Rams won 20-7 and have been unbeaten in pre-season play to press time.

TICKETS

If you want to make certain of choice seats for the opener, Dad's Day and Homecoming, it is advisable to get your ticket order in early.

Ticket Distribution—Contributors to Alumni and University Funds during the fiscal year that closed on June 30, 1953, will be given priority in filling ticket orders for Homecoming.

A special section on the fifty-yard line will be reserved for the class (of fifty members or more) having the highest percentage of contributors. This year the honor goes to the class of 1913

To receive above priorities, application accompanied by check or money order must be in Athletic Office by October 4. Please signify on application.

Order Your Football Tickets Early 1953 Football Ticket Order Blank BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Last Name		First	Middle	Class
Street		City		State
Date	Game	No. Tickets	Reserve Price	Amount
*Sept. 26	Buffalo		$2.50
Oct. 3	Muhlenberg (Dad's Day)		$2.50
Oct. 17	Temple (Homecoming)		$3.00
Nov. 21	Delaware		$2.50
*Night	TOTAL

Make checks payable to BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY — INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS. Return order blanks to Albert E. Humphreys, Director of Athletics. Tickets will be sent by insured mail.

HOMECOMING IS EARLY THIS YEAR

Dad Is King—October 3

With the Homecoming game scheduled for October 17, all planning for the big event must be advanced somewhat ahead of the usual schedule. Already a large committee of alumni, students, faculty and town residents are at work planning the program and making the arrangements to properly welcome and entertain visiting alumni, relatives and friends.

And the early date will be a further guarantee of pleasant weather and ideal driving conditions. The campus and, in fact, all of Central Pennsylvania will display all the charm of a glorious fall. What better time and place to meet and relax with good old Joe and Mary? Better drop them a line right now and arrange for a campus reunion on October 17.

Features Galore

All of the features that make Homecoming one of Bucknell's three big celebration days (the other two are Alumni-Commencement Weekend in June and Bucknell's Birthday in February) will be included again this year. The full program of events will be published in the October BUCKNELL ALUMNUS but that will be too late to make your reservations. Send your ticket, room and luncheon reservations now (on a tentative basis if you must) so that adequate provision can be made for your comfort and pleasure. Forms for all these reservations are provided in this issue of the ALUMNUS. Remember, the October issue will be too late this year.

The Old Shoe Battle

That traditional Old Shoe, symbolic of victory over Temple, has been proudly displayed in Carnegie Building during the past two years and no one on the campus has any thought of a change of residence for it. After all, it has become a part of the display unit that includes the Bronze Bison presented by the late Dr. S. Dale Spotts '18. However, there are plans afoot on the practice fields at Temple University to remove it from our midst. The Homecoming game with Temple has come to have a special meaning and, regardless of previous scores, a super football game is assured. Kick-off time is 2:00 o'clock. You will not want to miss this Game of the Year.

The All-Alumni Luncheon

Of course, the Homecoming Game is just the super-colossal feature of a star-studded program. The all-alumni luncheon at the Davis Gym at twelve noon (sharp) is the place to eat and meet your friends and classmates and catch the latest word on University affairs. But how can we prepare for a thousand visitors unless you tell us you are coming—better send that reservation NOW. The luncheon will be over in plenty of time for you to see the pre-game spectacle prepared for you by the Bucknell Band and majorettes.

The Roundup is a Reunion

After the game everybody will trek back to Davis Gym for more meeting and greeting old friends. And where else can you give vent to your opinion on two-plateau vs. non-plateau football? After the Roundup and dinner on the campus or in town you will be ready for the All-University Dance, scheduled for 9:00 p. m. in the Gym. Here entertainment and more greetings will be interspersed with the dancing so that even the most non-dancing alumnus will find enjoyment and relaxation.

Other Features, Too

Here we are out of space already and a dozen other highlights we'd like to tell you about. But if you've been here before on Homecoming Weekend you know all the big deals, and if this is your first in a long time, just come and be surprised at the hospitality awaiting you on "The Hill." In fact, come Friday if you possibly can so you will be in time for the Bonfire Parade and will be able to be up bright and early for the Bison Club Breakfast. Last minute previews of the game prospects will be on tap along with a hearty breakfast. The Bisons gather for breakfast at the Lewisburg Club, 131 Market Street and everyone is most welcome, including the ladies. Alumni Forums will occupy the morning hours after breakfast, with special programs devoted to discussions of alumni organizational activities. Several committees of the General Alumni Association will hold important meetings and a number of the classes holding five-year reunions in June 1954 will meet in planning sessions.

Better make it a long weekend this year for the program is filled and several "mists" remain. There's the University Golf Course ready to make your round of golf a pleasant memory of the Homecoming Weekend. And a tour of the new Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library where special exhibits will be on display will be a rewarding experience. Then, too, all of Lewisburg's churches are having Homecoming services and you are cordially invited to attend the church of your choice.

But NOW is the time to send in your reservations—at least on a tentative basis—waiting for the October issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS will be too late. Remember, HOMECOMING IS EARLY THIS YEAR. See you all October 17.

The Fifteenth Annual Dad's Day will be celebrated on the Bucknell Campus, Saturday, October 3, 1953. Dad's Day, which is now a tradition, has become one of the outstanding functions of the school year. The program this year will include a Fathers' Association Board of Directors meeting in the Lewisburg Club, 131 Market Street, at 10:45 A. M., followed by a Fathers' Luncheon to be held at the Lewisburg Club 12:00 noon sharp. Mr. George A. Dietrich, Rockville Centre, N. Y., President of the Fathers' Association, will conduct a short meeting when new officers for the Association will be elected for 1953-54. A message will also be brought to the Dads by the President of Bucknell University. Immediately following the luncheon meeting the Dads will attend the football game in Memorial Stadium scheduled for 2:00 P. M. Muhlenberg College will be Bucknell's opponent on this occasion. At 8:00 P. M. in Davis Gym the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs will sing and other entertainment will be provided. On Sunday, October 4, parents are cordially invited to attend the Lewisburg church of their choice.

Although Dad's Day is dedicated to all the fathers of Bucknell students, the mothers are cordially invited. Mr. Howard "Red" Macanley, senior student, and President of Student-Faculty Congress, is writing a letter of invitation to all Bucknell parents to visit the campus October 3 and 4, 1953. The college will be thrown open to the parents, and they will be able to see how the students live, work and play at Bucknell University. The Fathers' Association and the students are especially anxious to have the parents of this year's freshmen class visit the Bucknell campus on Dad's Day.

If you have a son or daughter at Bucknell University at the present time, why not ask them to make room reservations for you in Lewisburg. You can secure your meals at the University Cafeteria.

Bucknell University and her student body are looking forward to welcoming over one thousand parents to the campus on October 3 and 4, 1953.

Even though your plans may be tentative, please mail this reservation TODAY and guarantee yourself a share in the program and also assist us in planning your accommodations. Although we will do our best—WE CANNOT GUARANTEE RESERVATIONS RECEIVED AFTER OCTOBER 7.

HOMECOMING RESERVATION OCTOBER 17, 1953

Please reserve _____ tickets for the HOMECOMING LUNCHEON,
Saturday, October 17, 1953, at Davis Gym.

Please reserve _____ tickets for the BISON CLUB BREAKFAST,
Saturday, October 17, 1953, at Lewisburg Club.

NAME (Print) _____ CLASS _____

ADDRESS _____

(This slip can be attached to a postal card or slipped into an envelope. Mail to Alumni Office, Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa., NOW. Send your room reservation to Forrest D. Brown, secretary, Christian Association.)

UNIVERSITY AWARDS 387 DEGREES

In the receiving line at a reception in Pakistan, left to right, Mrs. Horace A. Hildreth; Dr. Hildreth, Ambassador to Pakistan; John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State; and Harold A. Stassen, Director, Mutual Security Administration.

A FEATURED part of the five-ring circus known as Alumni and Commencement Weekend was devoted to the graduating seniors and their parents on June 6, 7, and 8.

Although the new vitalized Alumni Weekend includes activities specially planned for the graduating seniors as well as the reuniting alumni, there is no doubt that in the minds of seniors the climax of the weekend comes when the senior grasps that long coveted sheepskin from the extended hand of the President of the University. As a prelude to the actual Commencement exercises, seniors and their parents as well as many alumni visitors enjoyed the traditional President's reception and the Baccalaureate exercises on Sunday, June 7.

"The Infallible Rule of Life"

Rev. David J. Davis '32, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church of Miami, Florida, speaker at the Baccalaureate services, noted that men have always been seeking the meaning of life. The Rev. Davis, who graduated from Bucknell in 1932 and received his bachelor of divinity degree in 1936 from the Yale Divinity School, praised the Golden Rule, the Eight Fold Path of Buddha, and the Ten Commandments as guides to living. He then cited the five words, "Make the Best Come True," as a rule he would commend to the graduates as infallible.

He observed that "it is one of the facts of human nature that you get just about what you are looking for in this life in that your deep unconscious desires come to pass."

Senator Douglas of Illinois is Commencement Speaker

Seniors were urged to develop both attributes of character and culture in a stirring address delivered by Senator Paul H. Douglas of Illinois who gave the Commencement address in place of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles who had to cancel his appearance because of the climax in the truce negotiations in Korea.

Senator Douglas pointed out that "the pursuit of culture to the exclusion of character gives us men who are at best fragile and at worst vicious. When the storms of adversity beat upon them, as happens upon occasion to most lives, they tend to go down in futility or failure." Citing the lives of Henry Adams, the Puritan; Cromwell, Michaelangelo and Jefferson as illustrations, the Senator pointed out that the great and winsome characters in history have always been men who have combined these attributes.

President Horace A. Hildreth conferred 349 bachelor's, 33 master's and 6 honorary degrees. Dean William H. Coleman presented the class for their degrees. During the presentation of the degrees Dr. Hildreth stepped back to permit Dr. Herbert Lincoln Spencer, former president of Bucknell and now a trustee, to present his daughter, Sally, a bachelor of arts degree cum laude.

Honorary degrees were conferred on Herbert L. Spencer, Executive Director of the Samuel H. Kress Foundation, New York and a former president of Bucknell and of the Pennsylvania College for Women; Dr. Clarence E. Carter, Chevy Chase, Md., a State Department editor and noted scholar in the field of American history; Dr. Walter B. McKinney, Philadelphia, a business man and physician, who has practiced medicine since 1924 and has served as president of various steamship and terminal companies; Bayard L. England, Atlantic City, President of the Atlantic City Electric Company and the Edson Institute and vice chairman and treasurer of the New Jersey Highway Authority.

The Commencement speaker, Senator Douglas, was awarded the degree of Doctor of Civil Law and the Rev. David J. Davis, the Baccalaureate speaker, received a degree of Doctor of Divinity.

Distinguished Guests

Distinguished guests at the Commencement exercises included Mrs. James Hile, Lumber City, Penna., daughter of Hannah Bloom Lemon of the Class of 1863, who came to see a representative of another generation of her family receive his degree. He was John Lemon Bailey of the Class of 1953 whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde P. Bailey (Dorothy Lemon) of the Class of 1929. Another visitor whose memory goes back to a graduation program of seventy years ago was Mrs. Anna Keiffer Hay of the Institute Class of 1883 who traveled from Washington, D. C. to celebrate her 70th anniversary of graduation.

Faculty Promotions

Faculty promotions announced at the Commencement exercises included the following: Promoted from associate professor to professor: Robert A. Gardner, civil engineering; Robert D. Henderson, economics; William I. Miller, mathematics; George W. Minard, chemical engineering.

Promoted from assistant professor to associate professor were: Sylvester J. Blum, physical education; Harry R. Garvin, English; Charles Herschel Jones, political science; Henry N. Peters, physical education.

Three persons were promoted from instructor to assistant professor. They are: Allen W. Flock, music; Anthony A. Krzywicki, economics; Darina J. Tuhy, music.

Mrs. Anna Keefer Hay, Institute Class of 1883 and Dr. John I. Woodruff, Class of 1890, president of the Emeritus Club, receive the greetings of the alumni gathered at the luncheon.

The Internship Program

(Continued from Page 3)

Our records indicate that the following Bucknellians participated in the Internship Program in Washington: Eric G. Stewart '36, Dora Elleni Oliver '37, Robert Reunville '38, Russell O. Hess '40, and Mrs. Betty Holifield Feldmann '46. All of these folks except Mrs. Dora Elleni Oliver, for whom we have no current address, have been asked to comment upon the success of their participation in the Internship Program. We are pleased to present the interesting reports received from two of them.

From Eric G. Stewart '36:

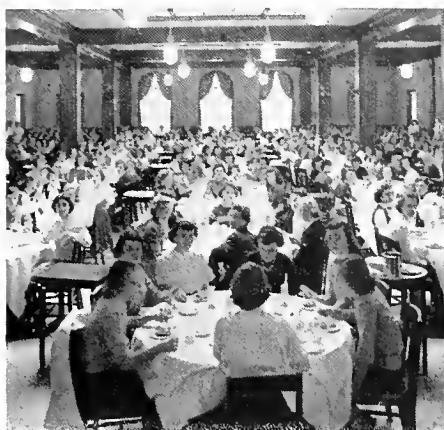

Thanks for the opportunity to say a few good words about the N. I. P. A. program. While that institution was an experiment to test the idea of selecting potential civil servants and bringing them from the college campus to Washington, the opportunity still exists and if a few words from me will encourage a student to seek a career in government I am sure he or she will find it worthwhile.

In the spring of 1936 I was beginning to wonder what an A.B. major in American History would do for a living that summer. I had visions of entering the foreign service of the State Department . . . In September 1936 a very green college student from Lewisburg was in the first crop of 28 N. I. P. A. interns trying to get their feet on the ground in Washington. I soon found that the State Department was not for me. But a happy second choice opened up in the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. From there I watched the Washington scene for nine months. Together with its program of meetings with key figures, progress reports, supervisory interviews, counseling, etc., we managed to pack into those nine months as much experience as might have taken years to acquire otherwise. In this regard the N. I. P. A. gave us an advantage. It was a painless way of rapidly gaining practical experience with which to get a head start in our government career. On the other hand, looking back more than 16 years I feel now that while we were greatly assisted in being "placed" in a government office, we were actually on our own initiative and got out of the program just about what we put into it. Some had a good time and went back to their father's business but the majority of us have stayed in government service of one kind or another. And with increasing regularity more of the 521 intern names keep appearing in positions of responsibility. Hardly a day goes by here that one ex-tern will not pass on to another the word that "W. L. is now Executive Officer of Mutual Security for India and we got a nice letter from his wife the other day telling about their trip from New Delhi to Ceylon" or "Did you see the item on the first page of the Post today about J. M. being made Executive Director of the Civil Service Commission."

If I had it to do over again I would certainly be just as eager to come to Washington. The unfortunate publicity that the press gives to politicians like McCarthy and the distorted stories they tell is out of all proportion to the much bigger good work that the more than a million civil servants are doing. We are gradually getting more recognition for the career public employee and the fact that there are honorable professional groups within the government service. For example you now hear a lot about the field of administrative management with its several professional societies. I am sure that the N. I. P. A. has made a valuable contribution toward this recognition. And even though the Institute is now closed and the Civil Service Commission has officially taken over the job of sponsoring internships, the

(Continued on Page 21)

The Care and Feeding of College Students

WOMEN'S DINING HALL

Mrs. Esther B. Long spends most of her waking hours preparing to feed the active men students and the calorie-conscious coeds at the University. Mrs. Long holds three University degrees, D.S. '16, A.B. '17, M.A. '49 and is still pursuing courses at the University, but serves as the full time Director of Food Service. As head of a staff of 120, she plans and serves over 2400 meals a day.

"Men students pose few food problems. Just give them meat, potatoes and plenty of milk and they seem contented," she revealed. "But with our women students, there's always the problem of dieting. Especially during Lent, desserts go wasting."

Mrs. Long named liver as the food most often ignored by Bucknell students, in spite of its high health value.

They Dodge Breakfast

Describing another idiosyncrasy, she said that the University's women students are "breakfast-dodgers."

"Even setting the breakfast hour later has failed to change that habit," she said.

In the women's dining hall, the breakfast count reaches a weekly low on Sunday morning when the early risers number between 30 and 50, instead of the usual 475.

Meals are served cafeteria style in the University cafeteria, which has a capacity of 350. The Women's Dining Hall, with a seating capacity of 492, serves 1500 meals daily.

Caters to Parties

Catering to teas, parties, and special dinners is another service provided by Mrs. Long's staff. Not a day goes by without some party or tea for which to prepare.

A former Bucknell student herself, Mrs. Long has served in the food department at the University for 12 years, first as an assistant and then as dietitian for the Women's Dining Hall. Two years ago when the dining facilities were consolidated, she was made Director of Food Service.

But with all the work she has, Mrs. Long is still a perpetual student.

"I still take at least one study course every semester," she added, "but I'm not working for credits at the moment. I just like to feel that I'm studying something worthwhile each year."

Suppose You Were the Editor?

Will you take ten minutes to be a guest editor of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS? We need your advice.

To keep the cost of printing and mailing of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS within the budget ($10,000) three newspaper editions were added in 1948 to the previous printing schedule of four magazine editions. There is evidence that alumni do not give the newspaper editions the attention accorded the regular magazine issues. This is unfortunate for the same editorial content is supplied in both.

One of the problems facing your editor, obviously, becomes one of considering ways of eliminating the less popular newspaper edition. Adding three magazine editions is out of the question on account of budget restrictions. However, the substitution of one magazine for the three newspaper editions would meet budget requirements. The question then becomes, shall we cut down to five magazine issues a year or continue the present four magazine and three newspaper editions. While you are voting you can help us in our space problems by giving your opinion on the space you would like us to devote to various elements in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.

To make your job easier we print below a tabulation of the space we allotted to various sections in 1952-53. After you look at that, please jot down in the open column the number of pages you would like us to assign this year. (Don't regard the past as ideal, for we know that the balance could have been improved). If you care to make further remarks in a letter we will certainly give heed to your comments.

Sign your slip only if you care to. In any event, please indicate your class to give us a good idea of our sampling. Send your coupon to THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS, Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pennsylvania. And accept our sincere thanks in advance.

My Vote on Number of Issues

I prefer five magazines a year rather than the present four magazines and three newspapers.

Yes No

My Vote on Space

Departments	Pages Last Year	Pages This Year
Class Notes	47
University Affairs	15
Reunion and Commencement	14
Club Activities	12
Alumni Achievement	10
Sports	8
Fund Reports	8
Features (Lead Article)	5
Homecoming	5
Front Cover	4	4
Student News	4
Faculty News	4
Back Cover	4	4
Letters	3
Bookshelf	3
Table of Contents, Masthead	3	3
Label	1	1
TOTAL	150	150

Name

Class

EMERITUS CLUB

The Emeritus Club was called to order at 10:45 a. m., June 7, 1953, by president, Dr. John I. Woodruff with 14 members present, as follows: Harvey Boger '01; M. C. Van Gundy '98; Dr. C. D. Koch '98; Mrs. Mary Chambers Flint '98; Dr. Mabel Grier Leshner '01; Dr. G. E. Fisher '91; Charles I. Boyer '02; T. Lamar Williams '02; Mrs. Isabelle S. Robison '01; Miss Flora M. Clymer '93; Dr. F. G. Ballentine '99; Dr. J. I. Woodruff '90; Dr. B. M. Wagenseller '95; W. H. Engle '99; Frank M. Simpson '95. Also present were Dr. Blake, faculty adviser, and two visitors Mrs. M. C. VanGundy and Mrs. J. W. Kidd.

Remarks were made by president Woodruff and the other members present. Also several letters were read from members unable to attend.

A nominating committee composed of Dr. C. D. Koch and C. I. Boyer reported the present officers for re-election, which was done. They are: president, Dr. J. I. Woodruff; vice-president, F. M. Simpson; secretary-treasurer, Dr. B. M. Wagenseller.

At 3:00 p. m., after the All-Alumni Luncheon, members of the Club assembled at the German House for a social hour.

—B. M. WAGENSELLER '95,
Secretary.

CLASS OF 1903

Those present at the 50th Anniversary had a wonderful time. There were 25 reservations from a roster of 48.

The scheduled meeting at 10:30 a. m. in Vaughan Literature Building was called to order by the President who introduced our faculty host, Mr. William McRae of the Music Department. The meeting was rather hectic and conducted in an unparliamentary manner, what with new arrivals dropping in, and everybody making talk. (I am sure, however, that Dr. Lincoln Hulley would have looked on us with kindly consideration.)

Messages were read from John Cook, Dr. A. F. Donehower, Dr. Roger H. Williams, Harry Bilger, Ernest Taylor and wife Sadie Ayres, Dr. H. K. Williams, Joseph E. Glaspey and excerpts from questionnaires of Dr. Bessie Burchett, Royce Carringer and others, who were present, were also read.

It was nearing time for picture taking, so class regalia, consisting of gold rosettes made by Ida Luchsinger, and skull caps with our class numerals were donned and the pictures was taken in 1903 form; there was not a chair nor bench in sight. Somehow we never got back "in meeting", so it was never adjourned. If you cannot tell who is who in the picture let your class reporter know and she will send you a diagram.

CLASS RE

Scheduled to march at 12:00, we lined up behind the Emeritus Group and B. U. band. In a slow informal manner, we reached Davis Gym where all Alumni were having lunch together. Our 1903 table was graced by several beautiful bouquets of red roses—our class flower—also, place cards printed in gold and golden favors were at each place.

After a delicious luncheon our class was given special recognition and Jane Fowler Bullis, of Whittier, California, was also given special mention as having traveled the farthest. After the luncheon we went to Walker House where a special reunion party was arranged by our competent social chairman, Mrs. Charlotte Shields Murphy. We showed pictures, old and new, the old ones bringing back many memories, the new ones showing

CLASS OF 1908

The Class of 1908 met for its scheduled business meeting hoping that by some good fortune, our president, Dr. Winfield Booth, would be there with gavel in hand. However, illness prevented his presence.

After the appointment of Henry C. Thompsen as temporary chairman and Mae Jones McGuire as temporary secretary the business meeting of our 45th Anniversary Class reunion was called to order with 21 members present.

Election of officers followed. Elected were: president, Dr. Winfield Booth; vice-president, Charles A. Nicely; secretary, Helen T. Blakemore; class fund manager, W. Carl Sprout; class reporter, Margaret Mathias.

Clyde and Ida Hostetter traveled the greatest distance (Winter Park, Florida) to attend the reunion.

The 45th Anniversary was most satisfactory; a success to those who attended.

UNIONS

our pride and interest in the generations that follow us.

Everyone received a "prize" for one reason or another. We had punch, cookies, and candy, and lots of talk. Our regret is that all could not have stayed with the small group to the end. This group went to church, the President's reception, Baccalaureate services, Commencement, and to a viewing of Mrs. Edith Kelly Fetherston's paintings and antiques at Packwood House.

As guests of the University, we are most grateful for the fine hospitality extended to us. All in all it was a very happy and memorable time for those present. To quote a member of the University family "everybody was watching them, they were having such a good time."

—MRS. ELVIE C. HERPEL,
President.

Members of the class were happy to meet each other and the various members of their families who displayed the same keen enthusiasm and interest from start to finish.

The Committee for the 50th Anniversary has already begun plans; the first is to obtain a snap-shot (with film) as of 1953 of each class member. Do it now, and mail it to Margaret Mathias at once.

Our class was given recognition for its contributions to the Alumni Fund, and we hope that in the future W. Carl Sprout, our class fund manager will be given your liberal support in making the record of 1908 even more outstanding.

Words are most inadequate to express the sincere comradeship each one felt as we mingled around the refreshment table at the Kaffe Klatsch in the Stolz home; every one seemed to be host and hostess which made the affair informal, intimate and homelike. There is no way to express the satisfaction each one had in meeting classmates, but each one felt so rewarded for the effort to attend, that we most earnestly urge the remaining members of our class to share this supreme experience with us at the 50th.

—MARGARET PANGBURN MATHIAS,
Reporter.

CLASS OF 1913

With startling swiftness forty years have swept by since 1913, and it is June, 1953. Twenty-eight of us, prouder of our Bucknell heritage than ever in the past, spent happy hours together celebrating in grand reunion at the campus we all love so well.

On Saturday, June 6, came our first official time for assorted and approved epithets of greeting, renewed handshakes, and heartiest gladness. It was real, honest-to-goodness reality. Interrupting all this gayety, of necessity, came our business meeting.

After greetings by our friendly faculty host, Dr. Frantz, Prexy Howard "Sal" Fisher called all to silence and to words of prayer by Rev. George F. Haines. Thus, in dignity and thankful worship was our meeting begun.

Accompanied by occasional clattering of a classroom bell on the wall to add college flavor and halted by frequent interruptions by raucous welcomes to new arrivals, the meeting was highly responsive to our prexy's conduct of every item of heavy business to receive attention by these 60-year-olds bent on a good time.

Everything was lovely. Officers elected for a new five-year term are "Howie" Fisher, president; Prof. "Hal" Shaffer, treasurer; C. L. Sanders, secretary; "Mar" Glover, reunion chairman. In fact everything went so well that a motion was passed to establish class dues, voluntary but desirable, to assure the sound financial honor of 1913 and to give Harold Shaffer the pleasure of sending out notices sometime next spring.

Of course, a photographer had to interrupt the stately, however noisy, progress of our meeting. Well, the picture soon became a matter of record for the ALUMNUS and the archives where all claims to greatness are preserved. Within minutes after the final camera click came Delinda Potter and Jane Frey Rees, first girls to report. At the luncheon Ethel Hottenstein Miles joined the group and the fun. On the parade march to Davis-

Gym, "Pud" Stein and "Whitey" Zehner fell into line. "Berk" Hastings could be present Friday evening only. Of the 28 returning, the six just named are missing from the picture. Try to identify the other twenty-two, all men, the 12 ladies being wives present, although a few are not in the picture.

Following the picture a memorial for our 40 departed classmates was fittingly observed. Class reporter Sanders slowly read the names after which Rev. Ed. Brush united hearts and minds with the personalities of those gone from their earthly home. These moments in prayer recorded a fealty to Bucknell and 1913 that can not be forgotten.

On Friday evening, for 12 early birds, and on Saturday afternoon the home of Classmate "Jim" McClure and wife on University Avenue was our headquarters. Language only weakly can express our gratitude for the reception all of us received there. It was superb—hospitality, cookies, punch, memories, chats, everything but goodbyes.

Those Lucky 13 badges were distinctive. Worn with unbelievable pride, they added to campus color and enthusiasm beyond any classmate's dream.

But I must not stop without telling of greetings read from Helen Bartol Leonard, Rev. "Dick" Bowling, "Howie" Gochring, Harry Xing Kelly, Winifred Naylor, George Piersol.

To all wives present a gracious Thanks!! Come again. You are in the best of standing as honorary members of 1913. Next time we hope some husbands of classmate wives will join us in all the merriment.

And to all absentees a sincere regret that you were unable to come this year! We missed you not as a group but one by one. We can hope for all a return at a future time. Our 15th will be here soon—in 1958.

CHARLES L. SANDERS,
Secretary.

CLASS OF 1918

How time flies! Reunion is over and now we will begin to plan for the next one. Attendance was light, as you will see from the group picture.

I was a little surprised to find that I had been listed as Reunion Chairman. Had I known that I am sure I would have made an extra special effort to see that more of you '18ers had journeyed to Lewisburg.

Our President, Barton Mackey, has been convalescing from a serious operation and he asked me to take over for him. I was late in arriving, having had to detour through Montandon to reach Lewisburg. We had our business meeting, electing the same officers, with the exception of Dr. Chester Keefer, who had asked to be relieved of his post. In his place, and combining the office of class treasurer and class fund manager, we elected Russell E. Boyer. You will be hearing from him. We exchanged news, had our picture taken and then attended the Alumni Luncheon.

I had never attended an Alumni Luncheon and I found it most interesting; a thousand Bucknellians is a fine spot to acquire some of that good old Bucknell enthusiasm.

Of the members who were back for our Reunion, Jessie Potts Kline had her father with her. Mr. Potts is 88. Dagmar Leth Donauer had her husband, Dr. Donauer, and her mother, Mrs. Leth, who is 82. Dagmar has a son, a Princeton graduate and a doctor, serving in Korea.

Did you know that University records show that 31 members of our Class have died? And there are 16 "lost" members. Do you know the whereabouts of Marguerite Baird or Trella Yoder—just two of the missing?

I do hope to hear from more of you in the future. The reporting has been fun and I want to continue—with your help.

—ELIZABETH CHAMPION KING,
Secretary.

CLASS OF 1923

To those who have to read this report to learn about our class reunion—condolences! Golly, we wish you could have made it! More fun! "Now don't tell me, I'll remember in a minute—isn't this—but it can't be. Why you don't look thirty years older! Hi, Peg! Why, there's Betty, too (hugs and kisses). And there's Andy Gehret (Doctor, you know). Isn't he distinguished looking with his fine face and white hair? And, isn't he lucky to have all that hair!" Dal Griffith has some, too. So does Luke Miller and Pinky Jones (in fact, I happen to know that Pinky is just a trifle proud of his). As for a lot of the others—well, some of the nicest guys haven't much, you know. In general, the women seem to have held up better than the men. (If you don't believe it, order a reunion picture).

CLASS RE

Now for some less disputable information. Your reporter missed the business meeting in the morning due to the coincidence of reunion and ripe strawberries that had to be "done". Dick, my youngest son, and I were there in plenty of time, however, to join the forty or more members of our class assembled for the march down the hill to Davis gym and dinner. We were no more than seated till Gladys Emerick Erdman and I were exchanging snapshots of our families. It was slightly more than warm that day, so the removal of coats by the men soon became a general activity. Then some of the big brains of the class (they must have been engineers and they might have been headed by our president) gathered up all the decorative balloons within reach, tied the strings together, fastened them to the sizeable 1923 card from their table and nudged the creation gently skyward. Up it went, grandly, applause rising with it—till it lodged against the top-most rafters; 1923 took precedence over all its fellows.

CLASS OF 1928

One hundred seventeen (117) alumni represented the Class of 1928 at its all-important Twenty-fifth reunion on June 6, 1953.

An influx of alumni in general began on Friday, and continued throughout the weekend. A large number were "Twenty-eighters" who lost no time in meeting old friends and making new ones. We couldn't have had more fun!

UNIONS

Following the dinner we went to Seventh Street House (right across the street from Annex, girls) where our afternoon headquarters were. There Jerry Schmucker Sheffer had her husband installed behind the punch bowl, ladling out a good cold harmless drink to all comers (Jerry was too busy waiting for a telephone message that would say she had a new grandchild). There were others there not free from anxiety either. Vivian Livingston Ferguson's husband has been seriously ill for quite some time and her trip back to the campus was what the doctor ordered as a needed respite for her, from the constant, devoted care of him. They live in Ocean City, N. J. Vivian's famous smile is still there, and still very sweet. Anyhow, everybody seemed so happy to see everybody else, and those of us who had anything to do with planning the reunion felt gratified to have the response that we did to the first concerted effort to have a real reunion in the thirty years since graduation.

A list of officers elected at the business meeting follows: president, Dr. Dalzell M. Griffith; vice-president, Harry W. Jones; secretary, Foster C. Wilson; treasurer, class fund manager, Arda C. Bowser; class reporter, Mrs. LeRoy Frantz.

—OLIVE BILLHIME FRANTZ,
Reporter.

This reunion was the first real get-together of our class since graduation, and through the efforts of a fine group of committees it was a really bang-up affair. The whole weekend was a very busy one, but it was so well planned that everyone had adequate time to relax and visit with families and friends.

Our class meeting was scheduled for 10:30 in the beautiful Bertrand Library. After

H. M. Marsh "Gummy" opened the meeting with a friendly welcome he familiarized us with the fine program set up for us and all of the returning Bucknellians and friends. A huge planning committee comprised of students, faculty, alumni and the townspeople had left nothing undone. Special attention had been given to arranging housing accommodations and fine food for all of us.

Dr. Lewis Theiss was our honorary faculty guest. It was great to see and hear from him again. We all recalled how very pleased he had been years ago when we elected to dedicate our L'Agenda to him.

A very brief business meeting followed, and we were brought up to date on a few vital matters. We were reminded by our President—Marsh, not "Ike"—to obtain our special reunion hats and also our anniversary booklets. The latter is a class history especially prepared by a committee appointed many months prior to our reunion. These booklets are great, and if you haven't seen one send a buck to Buck Shott and get one. All the worthwhile news of those who took time to answer the questionnaire has been compiled in fine style to be passed on to you. After you read it you will know just what became of old what's-his-name!

After the class picture was taken we lined up behind a band, and began the traditional march to the Davis Gym where we had our Alumni luncheon.

At three that afternoon, we all met at the Milton Country Club for a social get-together. More tales were told and more stories swapped in the next few hours than you'd hear at an Elk's Convention! We must have been quite a bunch "in our day."

I know everyone who was there will agree this one event in our program was a real highlight. We had such a lot of fun!

Each one of you must make up your mind now to be one of those to return to our next reunion. You know you really should if only to check on the gang and see how everyone—well except you, of course, has changed.

I promise if you go back once you'll agree that Reunions are grand!

—LORINNE M. MARSH,
Secretary.

CLASS OF 1933

If you saw a handsome man or an attractive lady with a saucer-size Orange and Blue button, clutching Orange and Blue balloons and leaning on a cane—that was a happy classmate from 1933. There were 47 class members who returned for the biggest and best reunion—our 20th. We didn't count the children but there were some very attractive youngsters in the group—some old enough to attend college—how time passes!

According to the records, the member traveling the greatest distance to attend the reunion was our genial "Red" Wilkenson who journeyed from Hawaii. And, he came bearing lovely orchids for the ladies—real ones flown in from Hawaii. Thanks again, "Red", they made us feel like only an orchid can—simply wonderful!

We were serious long enough to elect the following officers for the next 5 years: president, D. Clayton Brouse; vice president, Warren (Bud) Stapleton; secretary, Marie Groff Hester; treasurer, Ralph Reish; class reporter, Janet Worthington Englehardt; class fund manager, Campbell Rutledge, Jr.; 25th reunion chairman, Louis J. Russo.

We had another serious moment too—when we realized all the time, work, and effort that Bill Liming devoted to our class book, "Twenty Years After". This 1953 Anniversary L'Agenda isn't an ordinary book; it has items of interest of our classmates, candid camera shots of them and their families, and plenty of statistics on what our classmates have achieved. The book creates a warm feeling for our class and our college.

If you missed the 20th reunion start planning now for the 25th—it's later than you think!

—MARIE GROFF HESTER,
Secretary.

CLASS OF 1938

In the absence of the class secretary and class reporter, I shall attempt to report the activities of the reunion of the Class of 1938. In the 10th anniversary report for the Class of 1938, Ira Fox mentioned that enough enthusiasm was expressed by the small group to indicate bigger and better reunions for the future. Surely this 15th anniversary of ours was a huge success. Ward Gage and "C. H." Richardson, co-chairmen of the reunion, should be given special credit for their efforts in the interest of our class.

During the short business meeting before luncheon the following officers were elected for the next five years: president, Ira G. Fox; vice-president, William D. Foltz; secretary, Alice Anderson Clemens; treasurer, Constance Krautter Edwards; class fund manager, Ira G. Fox; class reporter, Ann Culbertson Dempsey. Letters received from members who could not attend were circulated and read. Mr. Howard Kieft, a faculty member handling psychological testing, was our faculty host. The book entitled "Ruminate with '38" was given to each of us.

The Reunion Classes joined in a mass parade from the Lit Building to the Gym. And here I must congratulate the University on its excellent handling of the Alumni luncheon and all the reunion activities. Everyone seemed so very favorably impressed with the efforts made to insure an enjoyable weekend for the returning classes.

Thanks to Marion Ranck Rose and her husband for entertaining us at their home on Saturday afternoon and to Bob Wright and his wife for the hospitality the '38ers enjoyed after closing the Alumni Jamboree late Saturday evening.

Let us begin planning our 20th reunion now. Although this is the first reunion I have attended, I will certainly make every effort to attend the future ones. Those of you who could not come this time should definitely return in 1958.

—CONSTANCE KRAUTTER EDWARDS,
Treasurer.

CLASS OF 1943

The tenth reunion meeting of the Class of 1943 was called to order by George F. Haines, Jr., president. The report from the fifth reunion meeting was read and announcements of the day's activities were made. Dr. Gathings, our faculty advisor, was introduced.

Since the university has no record of a vice-president for our class, it was moved to elect one for the next five years with the understanding that he will become president of the class at the fifteenth reunion. Jay W. Wagner was nominated and unanimously elected. The officers for our class are: George F. Haines, Jr., president; Jay W. Wagner, vice-president; Mary Orso Johannesen, secretary; and Jeanne Haynes Thomas, treasurer. Our new class fund manager is Bill Thomas and the class reporter is Norene Bond Benton.

CLASS RE

Letters from absent members were read, as well as a list of deceased members. A moment of silence was observed in respect for these departed members.

After our reunion picture was taken, each member introduced himself and his wife or husband. The greatest distance traveled

CLASS OF 1948

Forty-eight of our classmates came back to our fifth reunion—yes, 48 from the class of '48—we did it.

We had a marvelous time—only wish more of you could have made it—please try hard to come in 1958—our tenth reunion.

Our activity started Saturday morning, June 6th, at a "business" meeting in one of the Lit rooms. Actually, we mostly caught up on what everyone had done in the past 5 years. Then we picked up our identifying insignia which was a cane with a BUCKNELL pennant and a sign with '48 on it. One of the highlights of the meeting was the presentation of a pamphlet published by our own JOHN BURTON CLARK, who compiled it from replies to the questionnaires we received last spring. It is a most interesting and informative booklet and must have taken

The Budget—Y'Know

A considerable amount of University, Faculty and Campus news, as well as the Bucknell Bookshelf and Alumni Achievement sections could not be carried in this issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS for lack of space. The October (newspaper) issue will bring you up-to-date on these departments.

UNIONS

was by the Johannesens who came 300 miles from Cleveland Heights, O. There were about 30 members of our class present at the meeting.

Dr. Gathings gave us an interesting summary of latest happenings on the campus.

—MARY ORSO JOHANNESEN,
Secretary.

many, many hours of work. We thank you, John.

After we had our class picture taken (see above), we marched down, by reunion classes, to Davis Gym for the All-Alumni luncheon. It was a beautiful day for marching—not like five years ago, remember?

At 3 o'clock we met informally at Edwards House, next to the music school, on Sixth Street, a newly acquired coed house.

Some of the coed houses were taken over completely by '48ers for dormitory use for the weekend—so we talked all night too. Everyone was so happy to be back together.

And that's about it—we of the Class of 1948 who got back to our Fifth Reunion felt as if we'd never left our home, BUCKNELL.

—JOANN GOLIGHTLY,
Reporter.

Service Record

The Alumni Office urgently requests that the names and service addresses, if possible, of Alumni on military duty be forwarded to Lewisburg.

The list of Bucknellians in service is growing. It is important that the record be accurate in order that news of the University may be sent to Alumni in the Armed Services.

CLASS OF 1952

Many Loyal Bucknellians from the Class of '52 journeyed back to Lewisburg for their first reunion, to join in the planned festivities as well as some of their own making. A small fraction of those who returned met under the chairmanship of August St. John at the scheduled alumni reunion in Bertrand Library, as evidenced by our class picture. (Many more were 'listening to the ivy' over a cup of coffee at the Bison). Our individuality as members of the class of '52 was noted by white carnations tied, naturally, with orange and blue streamers.

Mr. Charles A. Hollister was our very pleasant and helpful faculty host. The business of re-electing alumni officers was completed with but one change, that of secretary—yours truly being the obvious substitution.

The rest of the meeting as well as the rest of the weekend was spent catching up on the whereabouts of fellow classmates, and renewing acquaintances with under-graduates.

In closing, the class of '52 wishes to thank its reunion chairman, August St. John, and the numerous undergraduates who worked hard to make our first reunion a successful one.

—MARY ANN RICE,
Secretary.

CLASS OF 1953

According to the June issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS, "the weather man had been spoken to . . . that the June 6 weekend would be a typical sun-drenched Bucknell weekend"—and that it was for over a thousand seniors, friends, and families that gathered on the campus to salute and say farewell to the Class of '53.

It was a weekend devoted to fun, chats, and get-togethers, with the seniors and their families as guests of honor; and yet it was also a weekend devoted to the Alumni, with the activities of the two groups meshed together to recapture and recall the college days once enjoyed.

An activity participated in by the seniors that was not scheduled was one that will be long remembered by the class. The salute to President and Mrs. Hildreth at the rally held the night they returned from Pakistan had its sad moments, for President Hildreth might well have been considered a member of the Class of '53 since he had taken his position four years ago and, in a sense, had "graduated" with the seniors. The cheers, posters, and shouts of "good luck" will not soon be forgotten.

The All-Alumni Luncheon boasted the presence of a large part of the senior class as they slightly prematurely took their places in the group of Bucknell Alumni. Following the luncheon most of the seniors attended the Varsity-Alumni baseball game — and, of course, cheered their own varsity team to victory.

Symposia, the Jamboree (Ed Williams and the gang were a riot), and the Cap and Dagger play, "School for Scandal" filled the evening with never-to-be-forgotten memories.

Commencement morning arrived sunny and not too warm, a perfect day to graduate the 381 seniors who had waited four years for this precise moment.

BARBARA ROEMER CHAMBERS,
Secretary.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

Baltimore

A small, but intimate group of Bucknell Alumni gathered at the Sparrows Point Country Club for a meeting on Saturday, June 20. Early arrivals were treated to a cruise on Harold Ruger's boat.

Following a chicken dinner, the president, Harold Ruger, introduced our guest speaker, Dr. C. Herschel Jones from Bucknell. His talk was most interesting and enlightening as to what is taking place on the campus and also in the political science department. An informal discussion followed the talk.

The election of officers was postponed until the fall meeting when we hope there will be a much larger attendance.

—ALICE MELLINGER SHUPE '50,
Secretary.

Long Island

Following a delicious dinner at Felice's Restaurant May 7 at Westbury, L. I., attended by about sixty Bucknellians and friends, Tom Cann, Jr. '41, president of the Long Island Bucknell Club, called a brief business meeting. After acceptance of reports by the secretary and treasurer, the president appointed a nominating committee to prepare a list of officer nominees for consideration at the September meeting. The nominating committee includes: Paul Crago '30, chairman; "Duke" Dueger '47; Walter Rohr '39; Betty Liming '34; Sally Cann '39.

A most interesting program then followed, introduced with a brief review of the beginning (2 years ago) of the awarding of a trophy to an outstanding Long Island High School athlete, of high scholarship and of the presentation of that trophy at an annual Sports Award Dinner.

Attention was called to the fact that in attendance at this Sports Award Dinner were Coach Harry Lawrence of Bucknell, a number of Long Island High School coaches (including the coach from the school of the 1953 award winner), the Sports Editors from each of the three Long Island daily newspapers who nominate several boys for consideration in awarding of the trophy, several prospective Bucknell students, and a fine representation of Bucknell alumni.

Bill Liming '33 then introduced the 1953 Sports Award Winner—Jim Therrian of Charmmade High School, Mineola, N. Y., whose sports include football, basketball, and track (half mile), and whose other activities include president of his class, president of the Student Council, and the achievement of a 94% scholastic average for his four years in high school.

Nick Farina '34, principal at Lawrence, L. I. introduced Coach Harry Lawrence of Bucknell who presented the trophy to Jim Therrian on behalf of the Long Island Bucknell Club.

Following a most interesting talk by Coach Lawrence, Bucknell football movies were shown, with commentary by Coach Lawrence.

The meeting then closed, leaving all of those in attendance with the feeling that this had been a "fine affair."

—JUNE LEQUATTE WENDT '36.

Philadelphia

At a covered dish supper enjoyed at the Robert Dills' home, the Executive Board of the Philadelphia Alumni Club planned another Splash Party for the Philadelphia area Bucknell Freshmen and their parents. The party was held August 31st at the Eastern Baptist Seminary Swimming Pool. Plans for other Bucknell Alumni get-togethers for the Club were also discussed.

—ALICE ROBERTS '24, Secretary.

Lehigh Valley

The Lehigh Valley Bucknell Alumni Club held a Spring election meeting and buffet supper on Friday, May 1, at the Americus Hotel, Allentown. Professor Robert A. Gardner of the civil engineering department at Bucknell brought the club up to date on campus events.

Officers elected for the coming year were: president, Spencer Carrough '50, Bethlehem; vice-president, Paul Albert '40, Emmaus; secretary-treasurer, Gloria Burkhardt Cowdrick '48, Allentown.

The club will hold a Bucknell round-up at Windish Hall, near the Lehigh Campus, on Saturday afternoon, October 31, directly after the Bucknell-Lehigh football game. Bucknellians from all areas who are planning to attend the game are urged to come to Windish Hall after the game to meet classmates and other Bucknellians.

—GLORIA BURKHARDT COWDRICK '48,
Secretary.

Chicago

Sixteen alumni met for an informal picnic at the Hank Puffs on July 18. Bob Keegan '44, pitcher for the Chicago White Sox and his wife were able to attend and enlightened the group regarding the pros and cons of big league baseball. Jesse Syme was asked to locate a satisfactory spot for a Chicago Alumni picnic sometime this fall.

Many Clubs Plan Freshman Receptions

A number of our alumni clubs have scheduled receptions for freshmen of the Class of 1957 and their parents. Events scheduled up to September 1 include:

LYCOMING COUNTY (WILLIAMS-PORT)—August 19—picnic and reception at Sportsman's Park.

LANCASTER COUNTY—August 27—picnic at Kiwanis Kamp.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—August 29—picnic and reception at Palisades Park.

PHILADELPHIA-SOUTH JERSEY—August 31—Splash Party for alumni, freshmen and parents.

ATLANTIC CITY—late August—tentative.

COMING EVENTS

READING—Wednesday, September 9—reception at Wyomissing Club. Contact Dr. Clair G. Spangler, 214 N. 6th St., Reading.

HARRISBURG—September 10—Contact Francis B. Haas, Jr., Esq., at 31541 or 69341.

WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA (PITTSBURGH)—September 13—reception for freshmen at Norm Davies farm. Contact F. L. Arbogast, Jr., 914 Rolling Rock, Pittsburgh 34.

LONG ISLAND—September 14—reception for freshmen and parents, Community Church, East Williston. Contact William S. Liming, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston.

SEPTEMBER 12-18—Bucknell University Band Camp at "Hemlock Lodge," South Sterling in the Pocono Mountains. Concerts at White Haven (September 16) and Honesdale Fair and Newfoundland (September 17).

SEPTEMBER 16-17—Bucknell University Band concerts at White Haven, Newfoundland and Honesdale Fair.

TRENTON—September 20—picnic at the Joe Quicks Farm.

LEWISBURG—October 3—Dad's Day (See Page 7).

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Thursday, October 8 dinner. Contact Dr. Ernest E. Blanche, 9009 Montgomery Ave., North Chevy Chase, Md.

RHODE ISLAND (PROVIDENCE)—October 9—The newest Alumni Club, made up of Alumni in Rhode Island, Southern Massachusetts, and the two eastern counties of Connecticut will hold its initial meeting on the campus of Brown University, Providence. Alumni in the new club area will be notified of the exact place and hour. Contact the Rev. Kenneth S. Dannenhauer '41, 52 Shippen Avenue, Spring Green 5, Rhode Island.

WORCESTER, MASS.—October 10—Bison Round-up at Holy Cross game. Details later.

LEWISBURG—October 17—Homecoming (See Page 7).

WASHINGTON, PA.—Wednesday, October 21—luncheon for Bucknellians and guests attending the Pennsylvania Baptist Convention.

SOUTHERN NEW JERSEY—October 23—Fall Frolic, Woodbury Country Club.

OCTOBER 24-26—Central New Jersey—Bucknell Chapel Choir tour.

LEHIGH VALLEY—October 31—Bison Round-up following the Lehigh game at Windish Hall, Lehigh at Bethlehem.

NOVEMBER 7—Colgate-Bison Round-up at Colgate Inn, Hamilton, N. Y., prior to game.

NOVEMBER 14—Gettysburg-Bison Round-up at The Shetter House, 48 Chambersburg Street, prior to game.

CLUBS

MEETING REGULARLY

You are always welcome at these regular club meetings:

WESTERN PA. (PITTSBURGH)—Luncheon every Thursday noon, Childs Restaurant, Fifth Avenue and Smithfield Street.

SUNBURY—Luncheon every Monday noon, Neff Hotel, Second and Market Streets.

NORTHEASTERN PA. (SCRANTON)—Luncheon at noon last Friday of every month at the Chamber of Commerce.

HARRISBURG—Dinner first Thursday of the month, 6:30 p. m., at the Y. M. C. A., Front and North Streets.

CLASS REPORTS

Class news of the Emeritus Club and the Reunion Classes of 1903, 1908, 1913, 1918, 1923, 1928, 1933, 1938, 1943, 1948, 1952 and 1953 will be found on pages 10, 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15.

CLASS OF 1892

Class Reporter: DR. A. R. E. WYANT
643 Liberty St., Clarion, Pa.

Dr. A. R. E. Wyant celebrated his 86th birthday by attending the meeting for Bucknellians held at the American Baptist Convention in Denver on May 20th. Dr. Wyant was not able to visit the campus during Commencement but plans to arrive in time for Homecoming on October 17. In July he sold his large Beverly Hills home in Chicago and he and Mrs. Wyant will be seasonal rovers in Pennsylvania, Florida and California.

CLASS OF 1903

(See Page 10)

CLASS OF 1905

Class Reporter: DR. ELIZABETH B. MEEK
Allenwood, Pa.

Jessie McFarland Thomas of Altoona has been making a tour of Europe. While she was in Munich, Germany, she attended the wedding of a niece, Mary Frances Wagner.

This summer Ruth Shorkley Bliss of Carpinteria, Calif. enjoyed a vacation trip through Yosemite National Park. She was accompanied by her younger daughter, Ruth Smillie and her son-in-law, Dr. Jack Smillie of Berkeley, Calif.

Blanche Stoner Wood of Muncy has had as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Rodney G. Brown (Fannie Wood '33) and their three children of Havertown. Mrs. Brown is the only daughter of Mrs. Wood.

CLASS OF 1907

Class Reporter: DR. LEO L. ROCKWELL
Colgate University, Hamilton, N. Y.

Ah me, is it really fifty years since we gathered, a hundred strong, in Bucknell Hall to meet Prexy Harris with the keen grey eyes and the sudden warm smile, and to sign the big book and shake his hand, being thus formally matriculated as freshmen. How busy those Lewisburg September days were; buying furniture from Lou Robey and Coxe Thompson, the college plutocrats; buying Billy Bartol's blue geometry; beginning "that awful German language" with Emil Weithaas. Rhetoric with Llewellyn Phillips at eight o'clock every Monday; hearing him read our themes—(of my first one he said: "Now that's a paper a drunken man might have written"—a very apt figure, for it certainly staggered toward an uncertain goal).

Chapel; fifteen minutes with Prexy's Bible reading, short prayer, and a hymn intoned by Waltz and a straggling choir. Greta, bustling about on many errands. The freshman-sophomore scrap. The bridge on St. George Street and the legend inscribed by Stanton-led Semites: "The freshman girls did it—the boys were too slow."

Hazing; a memory of Sandy Adams tackling Doc Groff's cornshocks under a sophomore coaching. Parading past the Sem Indian file confessing "How green I am." Informal debate under instruction from Timmy Powell (now a sober Congregational minister) on the question: Resolved, that rain is wetter than water. Potter starred.

The literary societies and the agony of the first oration, despite oratorical training under Maneval (Bromley Smith came later).

George Hoskins and his stalwart football team practicing on Loomis Field. The game at Williamsport—"Oh, here come the Carlisle Indians."

The discovery of the Four-Mile and Winfield Cave, the Marsh, and other hiking goals. And the Sem, with the stiffness of the first "At Home" and the weekly meetings of the Mandolin and Guitar Club.

Bailey's Latin: "Mr. Hinman, will you please wake up Mr. Evans." Ah, yes. Old Lewisburg. To steal a phrase—"The golden haze of college days clings round about you yet."

CLASS OF 1908

(See Page 10)

CLASS OF 1909

Class Reporter: MRS. HOWARD HEADLAND
(Sarah E. Walters)
3911 First Ave., N., St. Petersburg 6, Fla.

Dr. C. Stilwell Roush and Mrs. Anna Fritzeneger of Wilkes-Barre were married on Saturday, April 18, 1953. Dr. Roush is connected with special projects for retired ministers for the American Baptist Convention. Congratulations, Charles.

CLASS OF 1913

(See Page 11)

CLASS OF 1914

Class Reporter: MRS. H. B. WEAVER
(Dora Hamler)
348 Ridge Ave., New Kensington, Pa.

We announce with sorrow the death of our classmate, Louis H. Boyer, who died May 3.

Mildred Kirk Morgan (Mrs. Thomas R.), 6139 North 11th St., Philadelphia 41, writes that during the First World War, she taught English and German in a New Jersey high school for a few months and then entered the ordnance department of the United States Army from which she was honorably discharged. While her husband Dr. Morgan returned to the Rotunda Hospital in Dublin, Ireland to specialize, she became chief accountant in one of our local hospitals for nine years. Since then she has been keeping house and working for the past fifteen years for the Philadelphia Tuberculosis Society at no salary, at home. Her work consists of reading the newspapers daily and reporting on new addresses, weddings, and deaths, typing cards for their list, and so keeping it up to date. In one year thirty-five hundred cards were turned in.

She and her husband are Presbyterians. Each year Mildred helps with the Community Chest Drive, Red Cross, and the Salvation Army Drive.

Don't forget '54 is reunion year, so plan accordingly, Fourteeners.

CLASS OF 1918

(See Page 12)

CLASS OF 1920

Class Reporter: MR. HAYES L. PELSON
60 S. Third St., Lewisburg, Pa.

J. Nevin Bauman was named as one of the three new directors appointed at the annual meeting of the shareholders of the White Motor Co. Mr. Bauman has been with the company for 31 years.

Chester R. Leaber '19, one of the vice presidents of the National City Bank, and his wife, Evelyn McGann Leaber '18, enjoyed the month of August with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leaber in Williamsport and visited the campus and Lewisburg area.

Dr. Harry R. Warfel has been given, by the U. S. Department of State, a Fulbright award to lecture on American studies at the University of Marburg, Germany, for the coming academic year. This honor marks another climax in a distinguished scholarly career.

Dr. and Mrs. Warfel (Ruth E. Farquhar '19) sailed on August 21 from New York to Genoa, Italy, and thence will proceed over the Alps to Marburg. During the year they plan to travel extensively in Western Europe.

Marburg, the oldest Protestant university in Germany, was founded in 1527 at the time when Luther and Zwingli were holding their famous conversations.

CLASS OF 1922

Class Reporter: MR. PHILIP C. CAMPBELL
R. D. 5, Danville, Pa.

Your reporter and family have moved "down on the farm" which is located about a mile from Danville on R. D. 5. We have christened our new home "Tall Trees Manor." The latch string is always out for all '22ers. James C. Campbell '55 is located at Clark Air Force Base, Manila, P. I.

Dr. Finley Keech was chairman of the Church Extension Program Committee which presented a report at the American Baptist Convention in Denver calling for the raising of $8,000,000 for 250 newly organized churches among American Baptists. Finley also served as vice-president of the convention and will continue to lead the committee of 25 in its Church Extension Program.

Mrs. Amorita M. Copeland (Amorita M. Sesinger) was recently elected vice president of the Metropolitan New York-New Jersey Alumni Club.

CLASS OF 1923

(See Page 12)

CLASS OF 1924

Class Reporter: MR. ALFRED G. STOUGHTON
13105 Atlantic Ave., Rockville, Md.

The Philadelphia Alumni Association currently elected Alice Roberts as their secretary.

CLASS OF 1926

Class Reporter: MISS ANNA L. BROWN
45 Wildwood Ave., Pitman, N. J.

I wish all of you could have visited with the Jensen's—Maude Keister Jensen and her husband Kris, as I did on the last Sunday of June. It was grand to see Kris so well after his nearly three year imprisonment in Northern Korea. They are looking forward to going back to Korea as soon as possible because of the great need for experienced missionaries. To that end, July 1 they were heading for the great open spaces where Kris could completely relax and fully recuperate in order to build up the reserve strength needed to carry on his work. They are looking forward to a very happy summer just living as a family together again. Philip was just graduated from Allegheny College and Claire Lee has just completed her residence requirements for a doctorate at Duke University.

It is with profound sorrow that we report to you the sudden death of Dr.

Anna O. Stephens, June 29, 1953. We all remember Ann as a selfless person interested only in serving and helping others. We have lost a real friend and a loyal Bucknellian. She was the daughter of the late A. Woodward Stephens '96, and the niece of John S. Stephens '01, Palo Alto, Calif.; Mrs. Roy S. Porter (Ruth Stephens '05), St. Petersburg, Fla.; Mrs. J. C. Downs (Gertrude Stephens '99), Pittsburgh; and Mrs. Arthur A. Rouser (Elizabeth Stephens '18), Brooklyn, N. Y.

CLASS OF 1928

(See Page 12)

IT SEEMS LIKE YESTERDAY

Twenty-Five Years Ago—1928

The new women's dormitory is now filled to capacity and a new dining hall for women students is nearing completion.

Guy Payne '09 purchased a new car; a 1919 Franklin sedan.

CLASS OF 1929

Class Reporter: MISS THELMA SHOWALTER
223 State St., Harrisburg, Pa.

By the time that you read these notes, your local reunion committee will have met, and started the ball rolling for the biggest and best reunion in the history of Bucknell! Our President Paul called a meeting for the week end of August 28, at which time plans were formulated and chairmen appointed. However, we wish that each one of you would make yourself a committee of one to stir up interest and enthusiasm among the '29-ers in your area. Why not write your reporter and offer your help.

We plan to hold a general meeting at Homecoming on October 17, and it would be a real inspiration to your officers if we were to have representatives from many sections of the state and country where members of the Class of 1929 are living. This meeting will set off the real fireworks for our reunion in June.

Your reporter is truly grateful to all those who have returned the cards with a personal thumb nail sketch, but what about those other 125 who have laid it aside? Do let me hear from you.

Charles W. Kalp, well known Union County attorney, resigned his position as Middle District United States Assistant Attorney. Mr. Kalp had served since 1947.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Rupp (Charlotte Girton '33) now live at 517 E. Holmes St., Huntsville, Alabama, where Henry is employed by the U. S. Army at Redstone Arsenal as an industrial engineer.

CLASS OF 1931

Class Reporter: MRS. W. ZELMAN SLEIGHTER
(Ruth J. Thomas)
833 Chestnut St., Mifflinburg, Pa.

The Bill Genne's proudly announce the birth of their fourth child, Susan Steel, on July 1. Their home address is 553 Welch Blvd., Flint, Mich.

Helen Powell is Mrs. Howard Williams of 30 Snowden St., Forty Fort.

Helen Reece spent the summer on a European tour. Her home address is 25 Peters Place, Red Bank, N. J.

Mrs. Byron James (Anna Mae Rees) is living at 1605 Old Farm Lane, York. The James' are the parents of three children. "By" is a designing engineer for the York Ice Co.

CLASS OF 1933

(See Page 13)

IT SEEMS LIKE YESTERDAY

Twenty Years Ago—1933

Alumni petition saves Old Main from the razing planned for it following its almost complete destruction by fire on August 27, 1932, and the central portion will be rebuilt.

Thursday, September 16, 1933, President Rainey lifted the first spadeful in ground-breaking exercises for Vaughan Literature Building.

CLASS OF 1935

Class Reporter: MRS. FREDERICK A. STRALEY
(Metta Farrington)
Furnace Rd., R. D. 1, Lewisburg, Pa.

Samuel L. Braucher and wife have written us of the birth of their child, Marsay Lee, born June 4, 1952.

Col. William C. Shure, who has been an Army Chaplain for more than 13 years, went to Europe on May 25 for duties there.

CLASS OF 1937

Class Reporter: MR. SIGMUND STOLER
215 Chestnut St., Sunbury, Pa.

Mrs. H. Zeliff (Alice W. O'Mara) was recently elected as grand regent of the Catholic Daughters of America, St. Francis Court 1206.

Mrs. Warren L. Dentler (Frances E. Rockwell) is assistant to the Woman's Page Editor of the Victoria Advocate. Mr. Dentler does sales and newscasting for KNAL. They live at 511 N. George St., Victoria, Tex.

Tom Richards continues to receive recognition for his work as superintendent of The Men's Service Center in Rochester, N. Y. A recent issue of The Colgate-Rochester Divinity School Bulletin points with pride to Tom for his outstanding and unselfish work in the service center. We point with pride to Tom and his wife (Mary Savidge Richards '42) for their unselfish service to the Bucknell Alumni programs in Rochester where Tom is president of the local alumni club. We too are proud of his intelligent and practical work with the unfortunate of his city. Tom displays a real sense of mission in his work and religious services are a definite part of the life in the service center. And because Tom believes in the innate honesty of man and their wish to be independent and not objects of charity, he has initiated the policy of making loans for their basic needs. About 75% are repaid; the self-respect of the men has thus been preserved and Tom's faith in them has been justified.

Eleanor Weber Ballard, 25 High St., Port Norris, N. J., writes that as soon as she takes three more hours in education, she'll have her master's degree. She is presently teaching in the local junior high school, and her husband, Oren Ballard, is managing editor of the local weekly, The Advertiser Press. They have a daughter, Diana Luta, who was seven in March.

CLASS OF 1938

(See Page 14)

IT SEEMS LIKE YESTERDAY

Fifteen Years Ago—1938

Men of the Class of 1942 will be the first ones to use the new Davis Gym.

Ground was broken for the two new wings to the Engineering Building.

CLASS OF 1940

Class Reporter: MRS. JAMES A. MILLER
(Mary McCrina)

1220-E Brackenridge Apts., Lake Austin Blvd., Austin, Tex.

Wayne Knouse has recently been elected president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Metropolitan New York-New Jersey. Wayne, supervisor of production of heavy chemicals for DuPont, is married to the former Ellen Tall. They have four children, Valerie, Kendel, Richard and Betsy and reside at 564 Sherwood Parkway, Westfield, N. J.

The address of the Gladwyn Lagos (Mary McClelland) from June 1953 to June 1954 will be 14 Sugar Hill Drive, Route 10, W. Lafayette, Ind. They will be at Purdue all year on leave of absence from the University of Missouri, on an electronics research fellowship from Radio Corporation of America.

Emma E. McQuay (Mrs. Myron K. Sibley) moved to California to attend the Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley, Calif. for two years.

Rev. Reuben Rader is pastor of a Methodist Church at Vienna, Ohio, an Air Force Base just north of Youngstown. Reuben is married to the former Irma Kreuzwieser of Youngstown, whom he met in England where she was serving as an Army nurse. They were married in Belgium, honeymooned in Paris. They have four children (maybe five by now).

Rev. Robert M. Savidge '39 and Mrs. Savidge (Alice Healey) live at 1800 Poplar St., Denver 7, Colo. Rev. Savidge is now the director of Religious Life at the Women's College of Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Westby-Gibson '39 (Dorothy Fenton) are now living in San Francisco at 1824 Larkin St. and are both working in the field of education. Dorothy is director of family life education service, a department of the San Francisco Schools adult education division. For the past 3½ years "Hoot" has been principal of San Mateo County's Special School for the mentally handicapped.

CLASS OF 1941

Class Reporter:
MRS. WILLIAM F. HASSELBERGER
(Jean Steele)

1518 Westmoreland Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

Raymond H. Armor, our alumni class president, has recently been elected assistant treasurer of the Diamond Alkali Co., Cleveland. Ray has just about completed work for his MBA degree at Western Reserve. An Army Air Corps bomber pilot in World War II, he is married to the former Dorothy McKinley and they have three children, Paul, 9, Gail Ann, 7, and Joyce, 4.

John Warren Davis, Jr. has been elected to the school board of Pennsville Schools in Pennsville, N. J.

Dr. William F. Dowdell is now practicing internal medicine at 5500 Ridge Road, Parma 29, O.

Dr. Robert M. Kerr was certified recently in American College of Internal

SOME BUCKNELL THREESOMES AND FOURSOMES

1. THE AVERY'S OF SPRINGVILLE, PA. Betty 11, Claude, Patty 9, Anna Everitt Avery '28, and Barbara 16.

4. THE BENTON'S OF WESTFIELD, N. J. Front Row: Jeffrey 7, Peter 3, and Susan 5. Back Row: Earle E. Benton '10 and Norene Bond Benton '15.

7. THE PECK'S OF WAHIAWA, HAWAII. Maribeth Bond Peck '13, Deborah Grace 2, Barbara K. 5, David B. 1 and Edward N. Peck.

2. THE MEYER FAMILY OF SILVER SPRING, MD. Front Row: Kathy 5, and Peggy Ann 8. Back Row: Thomas O. Meyer '11, Mary Louise 1 and Marion Phillips Meyer '13.

5. THE WINTER FAMILY OF WILLIAMSPORT, PA. Front Row: Richard 13 and Robert 12. Back Row: Bruce H. Winter '28, Mrs. James R. Dargell '23 (Jean M. Winter) and Mary B. Winter.

8. CHILDREN OF THE MADDEN'S (Glen E. McFarland '28) OF ANGLES, PA. Tom 16, Franklin 13 and James 19.

3. THE MATTHEWS FAMILY OF ROARING SPRING, PA. Mrs. John L. Matthews (Dorothy Lee Grounds '13) with Elizabeth Lee born February 1953 and Mary Lee 7, John Lee 9 and Eleanor Lee 5.

6. THE DON SHOLL'S OF HADDONFIELD, N. J. Front Row: Marilyn Jeanne 7 and Donna Gail 1. Back Row: Janet Bodd Sholl '13, Barbara Anita 1 and Donald H. Sholl '12.

9. THE RUSSIN'S OF KINGSTON, PA. Front Row: Jacob S. Russin '28, Ellen, Mrs. Jacob S. Russin. Back Row: Jonathan and Rodion Russin.

WHOLL SEND US SOME FIVESOMES AND TENSOMES?

Medicine. Dr. and Mrs. Kerr and son, Bruce Robert, reside of 204 S. Franklin St., Wilkes-Barre.

Rev. Herbert E. Richards, husband of Lois Marcey Richards, received the honorary degree of doctor of divinity from the College of Idaho in May 1953. His religious radio programs have a statewide audience in Idaho.

A daughter, Linda Louise, was born April 27 to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald C. Madison (Sarah Slaughenhaup).

William K. Smith received the degree of doctor of philosophy from the University of Michigan in June 1953.

CLASS OF 1942

Class Reporter: MRS. THEODORE WILKINSON
(Mary C. Forrest)

329 W. Walnut St., Lancaster, Pa.

April 11, 1953 was the day Don L. Hopkins selected to tie the knot. His wife, Marjorie M. Johnson, Nebraska Wesleyan University, has been private secretary to former Ambassador Joseph C. Grew. After a Bermuda honeymoon they moved to 1453 Massachusetts Ave., N. W., Washington, D. C. Don is also the new secretary of the Washington, D. C. Alumni Club.

BIRTHS: A third son, Robert, born December 29, 1952 to Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Seltzer (Ethel M. Jaegle). A third son on April 25, 1953 to Mr. and Mrs. J. Charles Jones (Marquerite Strouse '44).

CLASS OF 1943

(See Page 14)

IT SEEMS LIKE YESTERDAY

Ten Years Ago—1943

Cornell beats Bisons 7-6 in opening football game.

C. A. arranges for five United Nations Parleys; includes Pan-American, Far Eastern, African, Asiatic, and European groups.

CLASS OF 1944

Class Reporter: MRS. ROBERT F. BAKER
(Honey Rhinesmith)

Lindys Lake, R. D., Butler, N. J.

Hope you didn't miss the double spread on Dottie Bittner, now Dr. Dorothea Bittner Kleppinger, in an early summer issue of the Philadelphia Inquirer magazine. The picture spread on Dottie's activities was something special, portraying how she is carrying on as a woman physician in Kutztown while her husband, Dr. Richard Kleppinger completes his Navy assignments.

BIRTHS: A son, Thomas Huntington, born April 17, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Wood (June G. Chapman). A daughter, Mary Elizabeth, born March 1, to Lt. and Mrs. John Joralemon (Mary E. Foley). A daughter, Margaret Elizabeth, born May 21, to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Puff. A son, Daniel Symons, born June 1, to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hoffman (Jean S. Richards).

CLASS OF 1945

Class Reporter: MRS. C. FRED MOORE
(Nancy Woehling)

Alden Park Manor, Germantown, Phila., Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Padden (Barbara Dyer) announce the birth of their second son, James Richard, born May 5. Their new address is 9180 Oxford Blvd., Steubenville, O.

Lt. and Mrs. John L. Moyer, III (Nancy Patterson) announce the birth of their second daughter, Mary Susan, Feb. 6. The Moyers are now living at 326 Pikeland Ave., Spring City. Lt. Moyer is acting chief of laboratory service at Valley Forge Army Hospital, Phoenixville.

CLASS OF 1946

Class Reporter: MRS. WILLIAM HARSHBARGER
(Jeanne Phillips)

666 Osborne Ave., Morrisville, Pa.

Russell W. Eisenhower was recently elected to the position of supervising principal of the Northumberland Area Joint Schools.

We have just received word of the marriage of A. Elizabeth Grove to William C. Paris (U. of Delaware) on May 10, 1952. We also learned of the birth of a daughter, Susan Elizabeth. They may be addressed at 909 Washington St., Wilmington 1, Del.

Sara J. McFall and Frank W. Moore were married on April 18. They are now residing in Pittsburgh. How about an address?

Dr. Edith J. Miller married Dr. Samuel Levit in March 1952. They have a son, Harry, born May 3, 1953. She has been resident in endocrinology at Philadelphia General Hospital for the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Score (Ruthanne Studebaker '45) are parents of three year old David Ford and Donald Charles who was born December 27, 1952.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hancock, Jr. (Jean Whitaker) of R. D., Salem, N. J. are the parents of their third daughter.

Your reporter and family have moved to a new address, 666 Osborne Ave., Morrisville. We arrived too late to renew old ties with Mrs. E. E. Richardson (Jean DeGroat) who had moved with her husband and daughter to 26 Rocky Ridge Drive, Trumbull, Conn.

CLASS OF 1947

Class Reporter: ROGER S. HADDON, Esq.

243 Water St., Northumberland, Pa.

Mathias F. Erieg and wife proudly tell us of the birth of Mathias F. Erieg, III.

Our thanks to an anonymous legman: I received an envelope post-marked Westport, Conn., containing a clipping of Ed Sullivan's syndicated column printed in April. The column bears this item: "Mary Jane Soong, daughter of China's ex-Minister of finance, marrying Charles Eu today." Amiable Charley is BU'48.

A clipping several weeks ago in a Harrisburg paper reported that Mr. and Mrs. Milton Jaques were indulged in a leisurely house-trailer tour to the West, via Florida and Antoine's in New Orleans.

A year-long discussion in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Matthews (June Stott) climaxed when June finally consented to send us some alumni news, to wit: birth of June Allyn on June 23, 1952. The family has moved from North Wales to 274 Norwood Ave., Cranston, R. I. Gene is selling cotton yarns for Hyde-Rakestraw Company of Philadelphia. The Matthews' report seeing Hank and Gloria Fernwald and Charlotte Schultz Custer and her husband at a Boston Pops event in Boston in June. They also encounter Lynn Deissler Gronau now and then, and also John Jones '44.

John Wilbur '48 recently became pastor of the Baptist Church at East Greenwich, R. I. John, wife Jane, and children Cindy and Jay moved there from Newton Centre, Mass.

Bob Morton is practicing law at York.

John DeBarr, another of our law school graduates, has been in the Middle East with a U. S. Government mission.

Barbara Wall Heinzerling and Cliff Heinzerling '46 are beaming over the birth of Catherine Ann on June 11. Brings their roster to three girls, the others being Connie, 5, Gail, 17 months. Their address is 11 Straight Lane, Levittown, N. Y.

This column could treble in size if you'd only write and let us know if you found work.

CLASS OF 1948

(See Page 14)

IT SEEMS LIKE YESTERDAY

Five Years Ago—1948

Six hundred freshmen make the class of 1952 the largest entering class in the history of the University, bringing the total enrollment to approximately 2300.

Bisons throttle Alfred in opener, 29-6.

CLASS OF 1952

Class Reporter: MISS BARBARA SEGELKEN
26 Fairmount Ave., Morristown, N. J.

Bud Keen and Dick McMahon are with Bailey Meter Co. in Cleveland. Dick, who drove in from Cleveland, was believed to have traveled the farthest for our reunion. Dick Bietel is reported living in Edgewater, N. J. Jack Rickart is with Business Forms, Inc., Pittsburgh. Also in Pittsburgh, but working with Alcoa, are Bill Clemens and Joe Whipple.

Dave Norwine is a sales trainee at Pepperell Textiles in N. Y. C. Doris Nissley is in television sales with ABC, also in New York. Marianne Thurnall is an assistant buyer for Allied Stores in N. Y. and Pat Hineline is working at Johns-Manville, N. Y. Jeanne Jacques is doing medical research in connection with Beth-Israel Hospital in Boston. Lynn Fetterolf is employed as a medical secretary in Milwaukee, Wisc. Harry Staley is editing the plant newspaper at the Dupont Company in Charlottesville, Va.

In the education field—Jean Rodinis is teaching 2nd grade in Riverhead, N. Y. Liz Sowers is teaching in Lewistown High School. Lee Craig is teaching first grade in Plainfield, N. J. Joyce Gardner is a music instructor in Binghamton, N. Y. Another Bucknellian working in Binghamton is Kirk Kazarian, who is with Link Aircraft. Ole Oleson is with the Link Aircraft division in France.

Naturally Uncle Sam has placed many from our class. Edwin Mighell is at OCS School, Fort Belvoir, Va. Earl Meade is with the intelligence corps. George Parker is at guided missile repair school in Huntsville, Ala. Harry Miller is an ensign stationed in San Francisco. Carol Barnes is also an ensign and since graduation has received recognition for his paintings. Dick Haberstroh is in the Army. Don Milligan is an ensign in the Navy and last heard of was cruising to Rio de Janeiro. Jim Hastings is in the Navy OCS at Newport, R. I. Lynwood Butler is in the Army. Lawrence Johnson is serving with the Army in Korea. Richard Ware, Jr. is with the Navy stationed in Texas. Robert F. Gift is with the Air Force.

Many from '52 are continuing their quest for knowledge in various fields. Donald Fry received his master's degree from Bucknell and was awarded a fellowship to Hartford Seminary School. Walt Spragg and Howie Bozarth will enter their second year in the Dickinson Law School. Bobby Zaun has completed one year of a two year assistantship at Mt. Holyoke College. She is working towards a master's in physiology. David McGill has been appointed a University Fellowship at Columbia after completing a year in Plymouth, England, on a Fulbright scholarship. John Morrison received his master's in electrical engineering from Polytechnic Institute.

"Boston" Smith is a second year student at Andover-Newton Theological School in Boston (of course). He had a parish in Vermont for the summer. Jim Williams and Bib Gibb are also at Andover-Newton.

In the Philadelphia area—Ed McConsey will be entering his third year at Penn Dental School, while Drew Seibert and Bob Leitzel will be second year students. Peggy Garrett will enter her second year at Penn Medical School. Sydney Wishoff will study medicine at Hahnemann. Gill Friday is one of numerous Bucknellians at the Temple Medical School.

Norm Levy and Phil Graebe are studying at Penn Law School. Jack Simmons is working for a master's from the Institute of Local and State Government at the U. of Pennsylvania. Mary Ann Fritz is training for a medical technologist at Jefferson Hospital. Marcia Griest is enrolled in a similar course at the Harrisburg Hospital. Bobby Wall is enrolled in Pierce Business School in Philadelphia.

Jackie Wightman is a Blue Cross Service Representative in Phila. Molly Tompkins is a secretary with Atlantic Refining Co. Fred Cloud is with Western Steel.

Several from our class have done some traveling—Josephine (Dodie) Hildreth plans to spend six or eight months in Pakistan with her parents. Her next stop will be a secretarial career in Boston. Corine White and Janet Caul, after teaching a year in Arizona, plan to tour Mexico. Phyl Denning is touring Europe. Dick Devlin was reported to be a tourist in Sweden at the time of our reunion.

Eugene DeBarr is an associate professor at Fen College, Cleveland, O. Thomas Candrick has been hired to teach by the Western Area Joint School Board, Union County, Pa. Jack L. Peters is with the Philadelphia Electric Co.

MARRIAGES: Betts Hill to John Keely in April. Molly Brown to Roger Roth on June 20. Berda Stout '53 to Van Johnson; Phyllis Bell to Robert Pederson; Janet Fagan to Jim Clitter, all on June 27th. Charlotte Weber and Bradley Lamson on June 20th. Lou Hind and Peyton Palmore (Yale Divinity School) on August 29th.

(See Also Page 15)

CLASS OF 1953

Class Reporter. MRS. JAMES A. CHAMBERS, JR.
(Barbara Korman)

Boulevard Apts., 8 Clark Bl., Lodi, N. J.

Marjorie Boote is now residing in Lewisburg since her marriage to Dr. Harold W. Heine, of Bucknell's chemistry department. Dr. and Mrs. Heine's address is 304 North Fourth St.

Harry J. McSorley entered the novitiate of the Paulist Fathers to study for the priesthood and has asked to be relieved of his duties as alumni president of the class. His duties will be assumed by Norman Freytag, vice president.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Shirley Reidinger to James "Smokey" Ostendarp '52. The couple are now residing at 812 Market St., Lewisburg.

We have recently received word that Henry Stephens is with the U. S. Army and is stationed in Germany. His address is RA 14309657, Hdq. Det. 347 Rep. BN., APO No. 872, c/o Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

(See Also Page 15)

The Internship Program

(Continued from Page 9)

surface has hardly been scratched and many opportunities exist in federal and state service for eager college men and women. I wish Bucknell could establish a scholarship fund of its own to encourage at least one deserving student each year to go into public service as a number of the other schools are doing.

From Russell O. Hess '40:

When the N. I. P. A. program became extinct in 1949, it had literally put itself out of business. During the years from 1936 to 1942, the Institute, although it had no official link with the federal service, was one of the principal suppliers of promising young executive talent. In the war years, with impetus supplied by the Civil Service Commission, the federal government began to undertake increasingly more extensive programs of positive recruitment of junior executives.

In the immediate post-war period the combination of the abolition of many, and the retrenchment of other federal activities, together with legal and other inhibiting recruitment factors, signalled the approaching end of the institute's program. The institution of executive selection and training programs as official federal programs came about as a direct result of the efforts of Dr. F. M. Davenport and his leadership of the N. I. P. A. program. As one who was privileged to be associated with the N. I. P. A. in its golden era and who is intimately familiar with the current Junior Management Assistant program, I naturally regret the passing of the N. I. P. A., but believe that the J. M. A. is a worthy son of a worthy parent.

On leaving Bucknell, I came to Washington in the fall of 1940 to participate in the work-study program under the aegis of the National Institute of Public Affairs. Incidentally, I am doubly indebted to the institute, because it selected a girl to be part of our intern group who subsequently became my wife and the mother of our three sons.

As an immediate outgrowth of the experience in the N. I. P. A. program, I became affiliated with the Farm Security Administration, and served with various other units of the Agricultural Department from 1941 to 1946. From 1946 to 1950, when I returned to the federal service, I did a variety of things: staff member of a private management consultant firm; special management project with U. N. R. R. A.; and teaching government and administration at the University of Maine and the University of Miami.

The last two years, it has been my privilege to be associated with the most daring and challenging federal program in the post-war era, the Point IV or technical co-operation program, in which program I serve as executive officer for that part of the Point IV program concerned with the Near East and independent Africa.

Committee to Select New President

To select a new president the Board named a committee of ten trustees headed by Dr. Herbert L. Spencer, 221 West 57th Street, New York. Until a new president is selected and takes office the powers and duties of the president will be performed by Dr. Joseph W. Henderson, chairman of the Board of Trustees.

The trustees also created two new posts. To fill the first post will be Dr. William H. Coleman, dean of the college, who will have the title of vice-president and dean and will be in charge of academic affairs. The second post will be filled by Dr. Dayton L. Ravek, University treasurer, whose title will be vice-president and treasurer and who will be in charge of administration.

Others serving on the Selection Committee headed by Dr. Spencer are Dr. Emma E. Dillon, Trenton, N. J.; Dr. Elmer K. Bolton, Wilmington, Del.; O. V. W. Hawkins, Esq., New York; Dr. Arthur L. Brandon, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Dr. Robert L. Rooke, Newark, N. J.; Harry G. Schad, Philadelphia; Dr. Evan W. Ingram, Pittsburgh; and Dr. William R. White, New York. Dr. Henderson, board chairman, will serve as an ex-officio member.

Dr. C. Willard Smith, of the University English department, and faculty representative to the Board of Trustees, will be invited to sit in on the meetings of the Selection Committee.

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS is published in January, March, April, June, September, October and December by Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa.
 Member—American Alumni Council

OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION

- MRS. J. B. KELLY (Emily Devine '21), President, 1569 Metropolitan Ave., New York 62, N. Y.
- PAUL E. FINK '29, First Vice President, 606 N. Arch St., Montoursville, Pa.
- WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, Second Vice President, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York.
- DAYTON L. RANCK '16, Treasurer, 35 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa.
- JOHN H. SHOTT '22, Secretary and Editor, 116 Faculty Court, Lewisburg, Pa.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

- PAUL E. FINK '29, 606 N. Arch St., Montoursville, Pa. (1954).
- MRS. J. B. KELLY (Emily Devine '21), 1569 Metropolitan Ave., New York 62, N. Y. (1954).
- LAWRENCE M. KIMBALL '23, Box 226, Vineland, N. J. (1954).
- DANIEL M. ROOP '45, 19 Vine St., Danville, Pa. (1954).
- KENNETH W. SLIFER '26, 177 Briar Hill Lane, Woodbury, N. J. (1954).
- WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York (1955).
- JOSEPH T. QUICK '38, Wright Rd., R. D. 2, Newtown, Pa. (1955).
- MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh 6, Pa. (1955).
- CLAIR G. SPANGLER '25, 214 N. Sixth St., Reading, Pa. (1955).
- JOHN F. WORTH '37, 233 N. Galveston St., Arlington, Va. (1955).
- MRS. BROWN FOCHT (Florence Utt '26), 229 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa. (1956).
- BRUCE J. MILLER '27, 54 Fruehauf Ave., Snyder, N. Y. (1956).
- ALLEN A. RARIG '29, 528 Lindbergh Way, Lewistown, Pa. (1956).
- DONALD H. SHOLL '42, Munn Lane E., R. D. 1, Haddonfield, N. J. (1956).
- P. HERBERT WATSON '37, 67 Prospect Ave., Norristown, Pa. (1956).

() Year Term Expires.

Alumni Trustee Time Table

- June Commencement—Appointment of Committee on Nominations for Alumni Trustee.
- August 15—Letter to Alumni Club Presidents.
- September 1—Follow-up to Alumni Club Presidents.
- September 15—Letter to representative Alumni, Alumni Class Presidents, Alumni Fund Representatives, Past Presidents of the Alumni Association, and former Alumni Trustees.
- October 12—Deadline for receiving suggestions to be considered by Nominations Committee.
- October 17—Meeting of Nominating Committee.
- November 20—Nominations Committee submits three candidates to the President of the Association.
- December 20—Deadline for Board approval.
- January ALUMNUS (about Jan. 15)—Announcement of names of three candidates in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.
- February 20—Petition deadline.
- April 1—Ballots in mail; Election announcement in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.
- May 15—Deadline for receiving ballots in Alumni Office.
- June Commencement—Certification to Board of Trustees.

THE FUND GROWS—A PROGRESS REPORT

When the Bucknell Alumni Fund books for the fund year (1952-1953) were closed on June 30, 1953, a growth in number of givers, percent of alumni participating, and amount of total dollar contributions was noted. A quick comparison with the results of the previous year (1951-1952) shows the following:

ALUMNI:	1951-1952	1952-1953	An Increase of:
Number of Givers	2056	2192	6.61%
Percent of Alumni Participating	15.13%	15.29%	.16%
Total Dollar Contributions	$20,530.39	$21,782.43	6.09%
 PARENTS:
Number of Givers	169	178	5.33%
Total Dollar Contributions	$6,448.62	$13,056.57	102.47%

Which classes will share the honor of having their Class Numeral Banners flying over the stadium on Homecoming Day? Did the ODD—or EVEN—numbered classes produce the best results? These and other figures for each class will be published in the Fifth Annual Report of the Bucknell Alumni Fund which will reach you by mail early in October.

A Bucknell Experiment Gets Recognition—And Support

By ALFRED H. FENTON, Assistant to the President

Officially, as of July 20, Bucknell University was awarded a $25,000 grant from the Carnegie Corporation of New York, to provide for nourishment of Bucknell's five-year-old brain child, the University Course.

To members of the last five graduating classes, who took part in this experiment in integrative education, this should be exhilarating news. To all Bucknell Alumni, this recognition by one of the country's outstanding foundations should be heartening proof that the University "on the hill" continues to move forward.

The above two paragraphs undoubtedly will evoke numerous questions on the part of those Alumni who have not been in touch with things academic at Bucknell. What is "integrative education?" What is the University Course? How did the Carnegie Corporation happen to give the University $25,000? The answers to these questions make rather exciting reading.

At the close of World War II, Bucknell re-examined its curriculum with a view towards meeting post-war needs. The results of this Faculty survey showed, among other things, that the trend toward specialization at Bucknell, as elsewhere, was producing lop-sided students—engineers who couldn't understand the humanities; scientists who knew the mechanics of man, but little about human nature. Consequently, the Faculty Committee recommended a special one-semester course for seniors which would provide a systematic study with the view to bringing together of all fields of knowledge. This type of study, known as integrative education, had as its purpose to acquaint the student with the interrelations of the various fields of knowledge—to show how psychology cannot be ignored in the field of medicine; how economics and sociology are intertwined; how biology and chemistry are related. To set up such a "university course" a Faculty Committee was appointed.

Bucknell was not alone in experimenting with this problem, but the University Course, as conceived by Professors Preston Warren, Donald Stillman, and Arthur Wood, of the Philosophy, English, and Sociology Departments respectively—and later developed by the directors—was unique in its approach to the matter. Basically, the University Course sought to study and compare the various fields of knowledge by applying the same measures to each. This consisted of three major questions: What are the major problems in the field? What are the methods by which these problems are attacked? What are the basic concepts and principles in the field? In obtaining the answers to these questions, the student soon came to see how very often the efforts in one field of knowledge were dependent upon the efforts by the specialists in a second and third field of knowledge.

The University Course thus accomplished several things. It gave the student a wealth of fresh material to which to give thought; it showed the student that though he might know a great deal about his own chosen field, there was much to be learned in related fields; it inspired the student to investigate these other fields.

The University Course was first given in the Spring semester of 1948 and for three years, the directors of the course, who later included Professor Harry R. Garvin of the English Department, and Professor F. David Martin of the Philosophy Department, experimented and revised in an effort to perfect their efforts. During this period, the directors studied the work in integrative education at other universities and came more and more to realize that their course was as good, if not better, than most. They also reached the conclusion that to be most effective, The University Course would have to be expanded over several semesters.

Accordingly, in 1951, the course directors approached the University administration for assistance in obtaining a grant from a national foundation for the purpose of expanding the course. It was agreed that the Carnegie Corporation was the most likely source, since it already had shown interest in the matter of integrative education. A trip to New York engaged the interest of Dr. Oliver C. Carmichael, then President of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Education, and in the Fall of 1951 he visited the University for a closer examination of the project. He explained that his organization was attempting to help experiments in integrative education by backing various approaches to the problem. Thus, Union College and Smith College, which eventually received Carnegie grants, had the same general goals as the Bucknell plan, but were attempting to reach them by other approaches. In fact, it is now clear, the Bucknell method has a much larger scope than these others. Union College, for example, is attempting to integrate ideas common to certain fields, whereas Bucknell is attempting integrations of all major fields.

Correspondence ensued throughout the next year, clarifying the relationships of this program to the departments of the Bucknell curriculum. Then, in March of 1953, Dr. Carmichael made a second visit to Bucknell and had the opportunity of discussing the matter with a large group of Faculty members. As a result of this visit, Dr. Carmichael recommended to his board that a grant of $25,000, to be paid over a 2½ year period, be made in support of the University Course. In May the grant was authorized by the Board and the matter became official on July 20.

This support will now enable the University to expand the course from one semester to four, thus giving the student a better opportunity to orient his knowledge with that of other fields. A university is not unlike a department store, with the salesman and customers of one department having little knowledge of the values offered by other departments. The bigger the university, the greater the confusion.

One of the items that the grant now facilitates is the engagement of a professor who is at home in the sciences as well as the humanities. Though 38 members of the Faculty, representing 18 departments of the University, have had a hand in the teaching of the course, few have had enough time recently to equip themselves to discuss, with sureness, matters outside their own fields.

In communication with Dr. Carmichael, the University has been seeking for some time, a man who is particularly suited to the questions of integrations in the sciences and their relation to the humanities. They have finally engaged Dr. Irving Polonoff, whom Professor Charles Hendel, Chairman of the Philosophy Department of Yale University, characterized as a "natural" for this position. "It is rare," wrote Professor Hendel, "to have a call for a man with precisely these qualifications." Dr. Polonoff trained at McGill, Edinburgh and Yale after having studied science at Sir George Williams College and having done technical work in science. Dr. Polonoff has continued his applied science while taking his doctorate in the history and philosophy of science.

So that other members of the Faculty may participate more fully in the program, a "Faculty Seminar" on the integrative education is being planned for next year. This idea, first suggested by a few faculty members, is fully encouraged by Dr. Carmichael and is vital to the success of the project. With four semesters in which to cover the ground, there will be a greater need and opportunity for members of all Departments to present the concepts, problems, and methods of their fields.

In order that Bucknell Alumni may have a clearer picture of what the University is attempting to do in the field of integrative education, the Administration is hopeful of being able to arrange a demonstration of a University Course lecture during Homecoming Weekend on October 16, 17 and 18. The idea, as now tentatively planned, is to have Professors Garvin, Martin, and Warren conduct a class for Alumni on Friday evening, October 16.

Meanwhile, the directors of the University Course have been compiling what is believed to be the first textbook on the subject of integrative education. Considerable time and energy have been put into this by-project, and it is hoped that negotiations will soon be completed for the publication of the book. Such a textbook would bring added prestige to the University, since it unquestionably would be used by many universities throughout the country.

Dedicated as they are to the University Course, Professors Garvin, Martin, and Warren undoubtedly would have abandoned their idea long ago, had it not been for the constant encouragement they received from leaders in the field of education. In 1949 the University Course was given a citation by the Foundation for Integrated Education, and since the beginning of the program, the course has received considerable praise from outstanding educators at other universities.

Most of these educators spoke from first-hand knowledge, since a feature of the program is the engagement of visiting lecturers to assist in the course.

After his experience as a lecturer for and observer of the University Course, Professor Henry Margenau of the Sloane Physics Laboratory of Yale University, said: "Your (University Course) plan has . . . solidity, consistency, and wholeness . . . Anything so well conceived must not fail."

Professor Eliseo Vivas of Northwestern University has written: "What seems to me most impressive about the document (explaining the basis of the program) is its depth and maturity—and both are qualities notorious for their absence in contemporary teaching . . ."

Perhaps the finest tribute of all came from Professor W. H. Werkmeister, Philosopher of Science at the University of Nebraska, who said: "My visit to Bucknell has strongly reinforced my conviction that our small institutions of higher learning have a great deal to give their students which the large universities do not provide . . . If Bucknell can carry through (the expanded program of the University Course), Bucknell is sure to make educational history. The University Course (program) should become a model for other institutions."

Greetings from the New Alumni President

Alumni Weekend at Bucknell brought forth a new corps of officers to replace the most efficient retiring ones. As the new President of the General Alumni Association, I am well aware that following in the steps of such excellent predecessors as have held this office will be a tremendous task. I hope I may measure up in a small degree to the efficiency they displayed. I shall need help from all of you. With your assistance we can keep Bucknell's fine Alumni Spirit going and growing.

The Commencement luncheon, with over 1000 present, was an inspiring sight. The Alumni Fund, bigger than ever with help from the fathers and more and more alumni giving, is a healthy sign for Bucknell. The Alumni Service Award, the democratic process of electing our Alumni Trustees, are steps in the progress of Bucknell. Dr. Hildreth, Buck Shott, Ray Irwin and others share in the credit for all of these with a deep bow to Ken Slifer for his fine work as President of the Alumni Association for the past two years.

Ken has a lot of advantages on me. Just to mention a few, he is a whole foot taller, weighs about fifty pounds more than I and he doesn't wear dresses. Sooooo, if I am going to succeed a great guy such as Ken I'd appreciate it very much if you'll help me in these specific ways:

- 1. Talk Bucknell! Let everyone know what a grand place it is so they will want to send their children and their friends' children to Bucknell. Let your local high school know you are glad to tell prospective students about Bucknell.*
- 2. Attend Alumni Club meetings and if there is none, form one, be it near or far from Bucknell. Do your share to keep these meetings interesting.*
- 3. Give to the Alumni Fund as you give to the Red Cross, the Boy Scouts and Community Chest. The Spirit of Giving to Bucknell is the important thing. It's a good habit.*
- 4. Visit Bucknell when you can, on Alumni Day in June, at Homecoming or any time. It makes that Bucknell Spirit closer and dearer.*

Let's make a few Alumni touchdowns in these things. It will be fun doing it and Bucknell memories will keep you younger. So let's go Alumni. Remember it's "On Bisons down the field, it's Bucknell today" and everyday in the life of a true Bucknellian.

Thank you. I'm grateful.

EMILY DEVINE KELLY '21
(MRS. JOSEPH B. KELLY)

The

BUCKNELL

ALUMNUS

DECEMBER 1931

M e r
r y

C h r i s t
m a s

H
a p p
y

N
e
w

D
e
a
r

Mathieson '20 Named Fund Chairman

Announcement was made at Homecoming Weekend by Mrs. Emily Devine Kelly that Andrew R. Mathieson '20 had accepted appointment as chairman of the Bucknell Alumni Fund Committee.

Andy becomes the third chairman of the fund since its establishment in 1948 when Kenneth W. Slifer '26 became the first fund committee chairman. After three years service John Worth '37 became chairman and served until the appointment of Andy Mathieson.

ANDREW R. MATHIESON '20

Long an ardent worker in University and alumni affairs, Andy brings to his new position a successful record of achievement in many industrial and charitable enterprises. Since his student days he has distinguished himself by service to the University through alumni local club activities in Youngstown, New York and Pittsburgh. Following a distinguished athletic career in basketball, track and tennis it was only natural that Andy should become an active worker in the Bucknell Athletic Council on which he served as a member and as president of the group, resigning the later position upon his election as an alumni member of the Bucknell Board of Trustees for a five-year term in 1944. His "sabbatical" from the Board of Trustees was relatively short, however, for he was again elected as a board member in December 1951 and upon the death of Dr. S. Dale Spotts '18 was made chairman of the important Committee on Alumni Relations. He also serves on the committees of Instruction and Public Relations.

A pioneer worker in the Alumni Fund Program at Bucknell he has declared his intention of bringing the financial needs of the University before every alumnus to encourage regular annual giving to the fund on the "living" endowment principle.

His service to community organizations is as distinguished as his record of alumni activities. He served for the last three years as chairman of the Board of Directors of the Pittsburgh Chapter of the American Red Cross, is presently chairman of Eastern Area Advisory Committee American Red Cross, member of the Board of Directors of the Hospital Service Association of Pittsburgh, and trustee of the Sixth Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh.

His business career with United States Steel Corporation began immediately after graduation. After serving in the Youngstown and Homestead district plants of Carnegie Steel Company, he became Personnel Director of the company in 1927. In 1934 he was advanced to assistant to the Vice-President—Industrial Relations, United States Steel Corporation, New York, and upon the formation of the United States Steel Corporation of Delaware in 1938, he returned to Pittsburgh in a similar capacity. He was made Salary Administration Supervisor of the Delaware Corporation in 1942 and was elected President and Treasurer of the United States Steel and Carnegie Pension Fund, which administers the pensions and insurance plans for employees of United States Steel Corporation and subsidiaries, in May 1950.

He married Margaret Wray in 1924. Their son, Andrew Wray Mathieson earned his bachelor's degree from Bucknell in 1950 and his master's degree in industrial administration at Carnegie Institute of Technology. "Drew", as he was named on the campus, is, like his father, a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. At present he is an ensign in the Navy attached to the Bureau of Ships and is located at the New York Ship Building Company yard at Camden, N. J. Andy and his charming wife, Peggy, live at 1458 Greystone Drive, Pittsburgh 6, Pa.

In This Issue

Alumni	Page
Al Borelli '49	8
Mrs. Angelette Tilden Coulston '83	6
Dr. Frederic B. Davies '26	7
Andrew R. Mathieson '20	2
Dr. Bruce J. Miller '27	7
Stephen Terpak '24	7
Alumni Fund Contributors	9-16
Alumni Trustee Time-Table	5
Bucknell Alumni Census	7
Class Reports	17-23
Class Reunions—1954	17
Club Activities	5
Freshmen with Bucknell Parents	8
Homecoming	3
Lambda Chi Alpha Cornerstone Laid	6
New Faculty Members	8
Parent Contributors	15
Sports	4

TO CORRECT OUR RECORDS

If your name on the address label of this issue has you listed as a private, when you should be a colonel, or if you are long since out of the service . . . or . . . if the Miss should be a Mrs. or the Mr. should be a Dr., will you please send a note of correction to the Alumni Office.

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

Published in January, March, April, June, September, October and December by

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Entered as second-class matter December 30, 1930, at the post office at Lewisburg, Pa., under the Act of August 24, 1912.

Student Editorial Assistant:

SARA JANE ANDERSON '54

Cover Picture

Looking toward East College . . . never to be forgotten are the beautiful winter snows and the unexpected cold mornings.

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

VOLUME XXXVIII—No. 3

DECEMBER 1953

HOMECOMING

BUCKNELL'S football loss to Temple, 27-21, failed to dampen the spirit of the Homecoming fans in their enjoyable reunions with old friends and classmates.

The first feature of the weekend was the Homecoming parade held Saturday morning on the streets of Lewisburg. The parade, in addition to sorority and fraternity floats, presented visiting bands, local floats, and officials of various organizations.

All-Alumni Luncheon

APPROXIMATELY 800 guests attended the annual Homecoming Luncheon, which included a brief program presided over by Mrs. Joseph B. Kelly '21, president of the General Alumni Association, and introduction of alumni secretary John H. Shott '22 and Mrs. Shott; James A. Tyson '11, winner of the Alumni Award for 1953; Dorothy Diorio '54, president of Women's Student Government; Robert Schrimmer '54, president of Inter-Fraternity Council; Dr. Joseph W. Henderson '08, chairman of the Board of Trustees and acting president of Bucknell, and Mrs. Henderson. Dr. Henderson expressed gratification that "two such great schools as Bucknell and Temple were meeting in an atmosphere of friendship and good will." He introduced Dr. William Tomlinson, vice president of Temple, who brought the official greetings of the University.

Informal reunions were featured at the Bison Roundup after the game. Malcolm A. Clinger '26 and Dr. Carroll C. Nesbit '39 were alumni chairmen for the event. Refreshments were served by the Lewisburg Alumni Club.

Delta Zeta Sorority and Phi Lambda Theta Fraternity choo-chooed full speed ahead to win the Homecoming Parade Trophy.

All-Alumni Dance

A LARGE crowd enjoyed the alumni dance in the gym on Saturday night. Intermission entertainment included the Men's Glee Club quartet, several baritone solos by Richard Ellis '55, and a tap dance by Barbara Besosa '56. Master of ceremonies was Edward Williams '53. A cup for the best decorated women's dorm went to Hunt Hall, with Judith Esmay '54, president of Mortar Board, making the presentation.

Sunday found many Bucknell alumni still around town, attending church, having dinner in the fraternity houses, and enjoying the art exhibit of oils and water colors by Blanchard Gummo '25, professor of art, in the Bertrand Library.

The Doctors Met

MORE than 40 Bucknell Alumni and their wives attended a $50-a-plate dinner at the Otzinachson County Club in Milton on Friday evening, Oct. 16, and thereby contributed $3,700 to the University's effort to remodel its Biology Building, Taylor Hall.

The Medical Alumni also voted to make the affair an annual one as a means of providing regular support to the Biology Department, and to form an organization to assist the University in other ways.

The dinner was planned by Dr. William F. Darkes '27, of Orwigsburg, Pa., who served as Toastmaster and Chairman of the affair. In suggesting that the Medical Alumni of the University form an organization, Dr. Darkes pointed out that the University needed their support in ways other than monetary in such problems as curricula, the planning of buildings and laboratories, and the placement of graduates.

And the Lawyers Too

MORE than 100 Alumni, undergraduates and members of the bar from the Lewisburg area took part in a panel discussion on pre-legal education as part of Homecoming activities.

The group met in the Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library on Friday evening, October 16, to hear a panel composed of Judge Frederick V. Follmer '06, of the U. S. District Court; Dr. Robert N. Cook '33, professor of law at Western Reserve University; Mr. William Fearon '50, law clerk to the Chief Justice of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court; Dr. John Homnold, professor of law at the University of Pennsylvania Law School and Mr. D. Fenton Adams, assistant to the dean of Dickinson Law School.

John F. Zeller, III '41, assistant professor of political science served as moderator and Dr. Joseph W. Henderson '08, chairman of the Board of Trustees of Bucknell, gave a summing up at the conclusion of the discussion.

Football greats of 1903 fought the Homecoming game just as hard as they did 50 years ago. Pictured here are four of the varsity of 1903 (left to right) John C. Johnson '01, Philadelphia; John B. Smiley '05, Washington, D. C.; R. W. Thompson '04, Lewisburg; and Harold V. Lesher '05, Northumberland.

Bucknell's 1953 football season has been anything but pleasant for most interested observers. One win and eight straight defeats are reminiscent of the 1948 season.

But though the record is poor, the team itself has not been that bad. Only two opponents really outclassed the Bisons—Holy Cross and Delaware. The other games could have gone either way, but unfortunately, didn't.

Every college has its ups and downs so far as football is concerned, and this year has been a real downer. But it will not take too much to have a better season next year (two wins, to be exact). And next year should be an improvement, for our sophomore backs have had a bit of experience, and a few boys up from the freshman team should help.

The Herd opened 1953 in fine style, easily overpowering Buffalo, 35-6. The next week, an aroused Muhlenberg upset the Bisons, 18-13. Then the Lawrence men flew to Holy Cross to absorb a 40-0 lacing at the hands of the Crusaders. This game really illustrated our poor pass defense.

The fourth game was the Homecoming affair with Temple. It was a thrilling contest, but the Owls' passing proved our undoing, 27-21. Next came a greatly improved Lafayette which edged the Herd, 7-6, in a contest which should have been Bucknell's. Lehigh took to the air in the sixth contest to down the Bisons, 20-6. Colgate used the same offensive pattern to beat Bucknell, 19-12 in a hard-played ball game. Gettysburg's undersized speedsters and a splendid quarterback named Gagliardi gave us the business, 26-13, and then Delaware completed the season with a 34-13 thumping of la aeriels.

Basketball Prospects Look Brighter

Basketball practice has begun in full swing and Coach Ben Kribbs is hopefully preparing his hard-working regulars for their 20-game schedule which opens Dec. 5 against Lehigh University.

Five members of last year's varsity, three of them starters, are returning along with a crop of newcomers up from last year's freshman team.

It seems safe to predict that the Herd will at least equal and probably better last year's unsensational 3-16 record. But the real key to the future lies with this year's freshman team which is known to possess talent that can be developed.

We don't mean to write this year off as "nothing from nowhere" for the varsity will be capable of pulling off a few surprises of its own. Jim Poff, of Wilkes-Barre, our leading ball player last year until injured early in the season, has had an operation on his knee and appears fit once again.

Another senior is Barry Parker, of Mt. Holly, N. J., who led the team in scoring last year. Two steady juniors are Dick Bradway and Herb Cox, both of Pittsburgh. Dick Johnson, a junior from Plainfield, N. J., rounds out the five returnees.

Two sophomores who should aid the regulars and maybe unseat two of them are Dick Guttermuth, of North Bergen, N. J., and Ted Groom, of Arlington, Va., the latter a 6-5 stringbean.

1954 Wrestling Schedule

Jan. 9—Gettysburg Gettysburg
Jan. 16—Lafayette Home
Jan. 23—Muhlenberg Allentown
Feb. 6—Haverford Home
Feb. 13—Temple Home
Feb. 20—Ursinus Home
Feb. 27—Delaware Newark, Del.

Coach: James Ostendarp '52

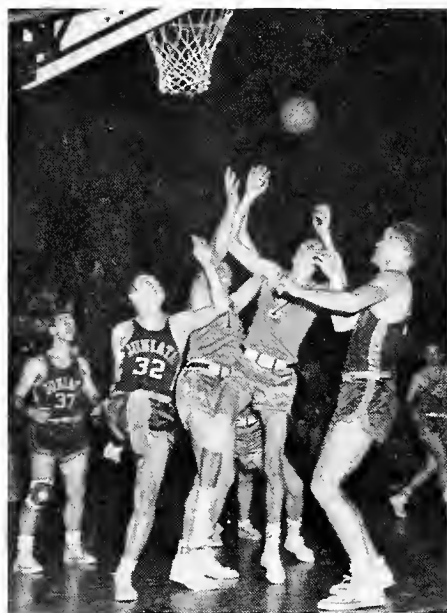

GRADUATING SENIORS—These seven seniors have played their last intercollegiate football game for the Bisons and are looking forward to graduating next June. First row, left to right, Bob Dee, of Mt. Lebanon, Pa.; Owen Murnane, Trenton, N. J., and Carl Gurevich, Bronx, N. Y. Standing, Ken Adamec, New York, N. Y.; Paul Ganz, Baltimore, Md.; Bill Gray, New Britain, Conn., and Jim Egloff, Valley Stream, N. Y.

Tennis Conference

Bucknell was the scene of the First Middle Atlantic Collegiate Athletic Conference tennis championships, Oct. 22, 23 and 24. Swarthmore swept to victory with Lehigh finishing second and Bucknell third in the eleven team tourney.

The tournament was held in the fall rather than next spring because of scheduling difficulties, and was hailed by all in attendance as a splendid success. A great deal of credit should go to Tennis Coach Hank Peters for his work as tournament director. The entire program was well organized and functioned efficiently.

ACTION UNDER THE BOARDS—Bucknell's Jim Poff (number seven) and Barry Parker (number ten) ward off Juniata's defenders as they prepare to leap for the ball. Though this photograph was taken last season, Poff and Parker should be the mainstays of this year's team.

Swarthmore, Lehigh and Bucknell dominated the early matches in both singles and doubles, but the invaders from Philadelphia had too much all-around class for the Engineers and the Bisons. Their two singles entries met in the finals and their doubles team defeated Lehigh for the championship in that bracket.

Bucknell entered Al Holton, senior from Pelham Manor, N. Y., and Jack Laird, junior from Short Hills, N. J. Holton got to the semi-finals before being dropped by Parker Hall of Swarthmore, 6-1, 6-3. Tim Coss, who won the singles title, dumped Laird in the quarter finals, 6-1, 6-0.

1953-54 Bucknell Basketball Schedule

Dec. 5—Lehigh	Home
Dec. 8—Dickinson	Carlisle
Dec. 12—Connecticut	Home
Dec. 16—Juniata	Huntingdon
Dec. 18—Albright	Home
Jan. 6—Muhlenberg	Allentown
Jan. 8—Colgate	Home
Jan. 13—Gettysburg	Home
Jan. 16—Albright	Reading
Jan. 23—Lafayette	Easton
Jan. 27—Penn State	Home
Feb. 6—Rutgers	New Brunswick
Feb. 10—Lafayette	Home
Feb. 12—Susquehanna	Selinsgrove
Feb. 17—Dickinson	Home
Feb. 20—Gettysburg	Gettysburg
Feb. 23—Juniata	Home
Feb. 27—Lehigh	Bethlehem
March 3—F. and M.	Lancaster
March 6—Muhlenberg	Home

Time Schedule for Election of Alumni Trustee

(Under revisions approved by Board of Directors—March 3, 1951)

December 20—Deadline for Board Approval

January ALUMNUS—Announcement of names of three candidates in BUCKNELL ALUMNUS (about Jan. 15)

February 20—Petition Deadline

April 1—Ballots in mail; Election announcement in BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

May 15—Deadline for receiving Ballots in Alumni Office

June Commencement—Certification to Board of Trustees

The committee for nomination of Alumni Trustee met on October 17 and selected three candidates. Article 8, Section 7 of the revised By-laws provides that "The name of any alumnus nominated by a petition, signed by not fewer than 200 alumni shall automatically be placed on the ballot and it shall be indicated that this candidate was nominated by petition." The deadline for receiving petitions shall be February 20, 1954.

Providence

A small, enthusiastic group of Bucknellians of the newly formed Alumni Club of Providence met for the first time Oct. 9th at the Brown University Faculty Club.

Following a delicious dinner, "Buck" Shott talked informally about Bucknell and brought everyone up to date on the latest campus news, highlighting his presentation with color slides.

A committee was formed to make plans for the 108th birthday celebration meeting in February. The committee includes: The Rev. Kenneth Dannenhauer '41, chairman; the Rev. John M. Wilbur '48; Steve Stephano '38; June Stott Matthews '47.

Election of officers will be held at the next meeting in February when a much larger attendance is expected.

—JUNE STOTT MATTHEWS '47

Long Island

On Monday, Sept. 14th, the Bucknell Alumni Club of Long Island held its fourth annual reception for freshmen, in the Community Church of East Williston. One hundred and seventy-eight freshmen, their parents, undergraduates and alumni attended.

After a warm welcome by club president, Thomas W. Cann, Jr. '41, a brief business meeting followed. Officers elected for the coming year were: Thomas W. Cann, Jr. '41, president; William Lybarger '25, vice president; Gay Duerger '38, secretary; Art Iredell '34, treasurer. Elected to the Board of Directors were: Amorita Copeland '22, Walt Rohrs '39, Marjorie Miller '39, Walt Pfeifer '50 and Clinton Hegeman '43.

Our guest, Mary Jane Stevenson, dean of women, extended greetings from the college and spoke to the freshmen on orientation. Nelson Wendt '34 and June LeQuatte Wendt '36, then divided those present into men's and women's discussion groups. Questions of the freshmen and their parents were answered by the undergraduates. Colored slides

Baptists at Washington

Twenty-eight Bucknellians and their guests gathered for luncheon at Washington, Pa., during the recent Pennsylvania Baptist Convention. Buck Shott, alumni secretary, presided and introduced Dr. Charles M. Bond and the Rev. Wilbur Sheriff '28, who suggested ways of bringing the education program offered at Bucknell to the attention of young people in the Baptist congregations of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Dayton L. Ranek, vice president of the University, attended the convention as a member of the budget committee and Dr. Bond participated in a panel on the subject of "The Moral Responsibility of the Baptist-Related Colleges to Our Churches."

Connecticut

The Bucknell Alumni Club of Connecticut held a dinner meeting on October 8 at the University Club of Bridgeport. Feature of the meeting was the presentation of the club's charter to President C. E. Holleran '19 of Ridgefield, Conn., by Alumni Secretary John H. Shott.

CONNECTICUT ALUMNI DINE AT BRIDGEPORT UNIVERSITY CLUB—At the speakers' table are (left to right) Cliff E. Holleran '19, president; Elizabeth May Smith '49, Buck Shott '22, Alumni Secretary, and Martha E. Sober '45, secretary.

Mr. Shott also showed slides of the new campus buildings and other campus scenes to the group. Needless to say, these were of unusual interest to the prospective students who were present.

The club plans its next meeting at the time of the annual birthday celebration in February.

Metropolitan Alumni Help in Student Selection

We are pleased to report that another local club of alumni, the Bucknell Alumni Club of Metropolitan New York and New Jersey, has organized a High School Selection Committee.

The committee at work in the Metropolitan area is made up of Douglas L. Bonham '43, 4 Parkway Village, Cranford, N. J., Chairman; Richard C. Sbultz, '40, Westfield, N. J. and Richard L. Moore '47, Cedar Grove, N. J.

The function of these committees is to attend college or career nights in local high schools on the occasions when the Registrar's Office is represented and to contact local schools when the members of the Registrar's Staff are not able to attend.

If you would like to learn what you can do to assist Bucknell in recruiting suitable students please send to the Alumni Office for the bulletin, "The Role of the Local Alumni Club in Recruiting Prospective Students for Bucknell."

of Bucknell were shown and the meeting closed with the singing of Bucknell songs.

Delicious refreshments were served, completing a most enjoyable social evening.

—DORIAN SMITH VANDERBILT '43.

B. U. Civil Engineers Meet

Civil engineering graduates met with Dr. D. M. Griffith and Prof. H. A. Weeden at the annual meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers recently in New York. Those attending the annual meeting of the society included: Bill McGuire '42, Emil Kordish '42, Ben Williams '42, Sandy McPherson '42, Jim Diffenderfer '43, Charlie Bergman '43, Bob McLaughlin '48, Les Becher '49, Clair Wynkoop Carlson '49, Jim Riley '52, Bill Corgill '50, Clifford H. Mellor '27.

Syracuse

The Bucknell Alumni Club of Central New York with headquarters in Syracuse held an interesting meeting on October 23 and enjoyed pictures of the campus. A large part of the session was devoted to business affairs with a constitution for the club being adopted.

The new officers selected at the meeting are as follows: Carroll E. Osborn '37, president; Robert W. Cochran '48, vice president; Mrs. William F. Hasselberger (Jean P. Steele '41), treasurer; William E. Andrews '45, secretary. The following Executive Committee was elected to plan club activities: Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Sleeth, Jr. '42 (Eleanor M. Lindell '41); John F. Hummer '08; Mrs. Arthur Mielke (Hazel Jackson '37); Robert R. Sterner '44; Rev. H. Burton Entrekin '48; Clare Osborn; David H. Gold '45; Mrs. H. L. Wochling (Mary Wollinger '47); Mrs. Vito L. D'Amore (Jean Crofoot '47).

The entire meeting was marked with enthusiasm and the goal for the Bucknell Birthday meeting in February was set at 50 members in attendance.

—CARROLL E. OSBORN '37, President

Bucknellians in the Teaching Profession

Bucknellian educators attending the convention of the Pennsylvania State Education Association are cordially invited to attend a luncheon on Monday, December 28, 1953, at 12:15 P. M. in the Y-Feen Room of the Y. W. C. A., Fourth and Walnut Streets, Harrisburg. All Bucknellians living in Harrisburg and vicinity are welcome at this noon meeting.

Grandma Coulston '83 Dies in Texas

GRANDMA COULSTON '83

Mrs. Angelette Tilden Coulston, known to almost everyone in Lancaster, Texas, as Grandma Coulston, died there on Tuesday, September 15, one week after celebrating her 91st birthday.

Mrs. Coulston, the last surviving member of the Institute Class of 1883 was active until shortly before her death, taking an interest in civic, religious and political affairs. She was an active alumnae correspondent of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS and eagerly awaited the football results.

Mrs. Coulston was born in 1862 in Steuben County, New York, the daughter of Alanson Tilden, an Army chaplain who offered the prayer at Abraham Lincoln's funeral. In 1883 she married William J. Coulston of the College Class of 1883 and followed a busy life as wife of a Baptist minister until his death in 1938.

She is survived by two daughters, two sons, six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Library Needs

To complete our reference files we need any or all of the following:

- Chemical Abstracts 1907-date
- Christian Chronicle (Phila.) August 1846-October 1863
- New York Chronicle 1849-1865 v. 1-17
- Examiner and Chronicle (later Examiner-Chronicle and Examiner) 1865-1912
- Watchman 1898-1903

Anyone who has odd issues of these titles is urged to write to Mr. Harold W. Hayden, Librarian, Bucknell University.

Library Receives Thacher Manuscripts

The first two items in a proposed collection of original works by Bucknell University Alumni were donated to the Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library by Russell L. Thacher, Jr., a member of the Class of 1941.

Mr. Thatcher, an associate editor of Omnibook Magazine, sent the original manuscripts of two recent novels, The Captain and The Tender Age, published in 1951 and 1952, respectively, by The MacMillan Company. The former deals with life on an LST and the latter with the problems of a 17-year-old. Both books were well received by critics and public alike.

The Captain, Mr. Thatcher's first novel, was somewhat autobiographical in nature since after graduation from Bucknell, he spent five years in the U. S. Navy as the Commander of an LST.

At Bucknell, Mr. Thatcher was a Dean's List student and editor of L'Agenda. He is currently living at Ridgewood, N. J., where he and his wife cope with small sons, Michael and Christopher between books.

Dr. Blake Dies

It is with a sense of great loss that we announce the sudden and unexpected death, on October 2, of Dr. Wainwright Donald Blake, associate professor of psychology at Bucknell since 1945. Professor Blake was a graduate of St. Lawrence University and qualified for the doctorate at the University of Missouri.

In recent years he had become interested in the psychology of adults and old age and had done extensive research on this subject. At the time of his death he was at work preparing a report based on a survey made among members of the Emeritus Club of Bucknell during the alumni weekend of 1953.

A frequent contributor to journals in his field, Dr. Blake was thoroughly respected by his colleagues. His life was honest and upright in all respects. A kindly, gentle, genially humorous man, he will be greatly missed.

The sympathy of the University and his former students is extended to Mrs. Blake, who has taken an active part in campus and community affairs as well as to Mary and Robert, students at the University, and Donald, now studying in Stockholm.

Prepayment Plan

Bucknell's Prepayment Plan has been in effect for 15 years and is considered to be a desirable way for families of young Bucknellians to prepare years in advance for the future college expenses of their sons and daughters. The advantages of avoiding a concentrated four-year financial burden are obvious. If you wish to study the Prepayment Plan, the Alumni Office will be glad to send you a full description of how it operates upon your request.

Doc Hoskins III

Alumni who were on the campus at the turn of the century will be sorry to learn of the illness of George (Doc) Hoskins, former football coach.

Doc Hoskins, who is 89, is reported in serious condition at the General Hospital, Cincinnati suffering from pneumonia and a heart condition.

He was a coach of the Bucknell football teams from 1899 to 1906. His teams won 45 games, lost 35 with five ties. Until his retirement 15 years ago he was a trainer for the Cincinnati Reds baseball team.

Will You Help Us Prepare Professional and Occupational Directories?

One of our long term projects at Alumni Headquarters is to prepare occupational directories for the benefit of Bucknell Alumni. To assist us will you please fill out this coupon and mail it to the Alumni Office, Bucknell University, Lewisburg.

Name Class

Address

I am a: Doctor M.D. D.D.S. Minister
 Lawyer Engineer

Other (Please Specify)
 I am in training for the profession checked above.

We thank you for your assistance.

Lambda Chi Alpha Cornerstone Laid

During Homecoming Weekend almost 300 members of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity attended the cornerstone laying for the new stone house being constructed on the campus. The new house is located opposite the Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library and is expected to be ready for occupancy soon after the first of the year.

The new home will accommodate 34 students and there will be dining room facilities for about 70. Malcolm Clinger '26 drew the plans for the structure.

Dr. Daniel A. Poling, member of the Board of Trustees of the University, editor, novelist and leader in religious and civic movements, was the principal speaker at the dinner held on the evening of Homecoming. Harry B. Weaver '14, first president of the Lambda Chi Alpha Chapter, acted as toastmaster at the dinner, which was arranged by Si Morgan '21.

Bucknell Alumni Census of 1953

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the fifth of a series being published in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS to show the geographic distribution of Bucknell Alumni. The present article reports the census of 1953.

The accompanying map shows the state-by-state distribution of the 15,303 former students of Bucknell University with known addresses. The count was made in October 1953 and includes the graduates of June of this year. The state list shown under the map includes the comparable census for October 1952. About 10% of our Bucknellians move each year and tell Alumni Headquarters of their new address. Another 5% move and leave no forwarding address. Experience shows that about 250 copies of this issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS will be returned to Alumni Headquarters as undeliverable. We can improve that position by being sure to tell Alumni Headquarters when and where we move and inform the office about Bucknellians who move into our local community. The post office department does a splendid job of notifying us about changes of address that they have received, but a sizeable amount of tax money could be saved if everyone notified our office of a change of address BEFORE moving.

BUCKNELL ALUMNI CENSUS OF 1953

	Oct. 1952	Oct. 1953		Oct. 1952	Oct. 1953
Alabama	16	17	Nevada	4	4
Arizona	25	32	New Hampshire	27	28
Arkansas	6	8	New Jersey	2,165	2,314
California	277	310	New Mexico	18	22
Colorado	44	38	New York	1,838	1,973
Connecticut	170	191	North Carolina	46	42
Delaware	142	164	North Dakota	1	1
District of Columbia	105	139	Ohio	315	355
Florida	167	187	Oklahoma	23	22
Georgia	41	41	Oregon	14	14
Idaho	8	7	Pennsylvania	7,427	7,595
Illinois	143	148	Rhode Island	28	24
Indiana	62	67	South Carolina	28	35
Iowa	17	16	South Dakota	4	4
Kansas	28	26	Tennessee	28	35
Kentucky	34	42	Texas	89	99
Louisiana	18	16	Utah	7	6
Maine	28	31	Vermont	16	16
Maryland	278	311	Virginia	162	181
Massachusetts	201	239	Washington	59	51
Michigan	117	137	West Virginia	52	62
Minnesota	25	29	Wisconsin	29	29
Mississippi	9	10	Wyoming	6	6
Missouri	34	39	Outside U. S.	96	119
Montana	6	6
Nebraska	14	15	Totals	14,692	15,303

Bruce Miller '27 Promoted

The appointment of Dr. Bruce J. Miller '27 as assistant manager, research administration of Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation has been announced by Dr. G. O. Curme, Jr., vice-president in charge of research. Dr. Miller will coordinate the recruiting of scientists for the Corporation and will assist Dr. Raymond W. McNamee, the newly appointed manager, in the personnel aspects of the Corporation's research activities.

Dr. Miller, who was chairman of the department of chemistry at Bucknell University, joined Union Carbide in 1944. His first assignment was in the Corporation's atomic energy program in an administrative capacity. In 1946 he was assigned to the laboratories of Linde Air Products Company, a division of Union Carbide, as Personnel Administrator. Dr. Miller has been in charge of the Corporation's research recruiting activities since 1950.

Bruce is a member of the Board of Directors of the General Alumni Association of the University. He is married to the former Florence Beckworth '27 and with their children, Bruce, Audrey, and Grant, they live at 112 Devoe Rd., Chappaqua, N. Y.

General Electric Promotes Terpak '24

STEPHEN TERPAK

Stephen Terpak has been appointed supervisor—design and production engineering for step and induction voltage regulators according to an announcement by D. D. MacCarthy, manager-regulator engineering for General Electric Co.

Mr. Terpak was graduated from Bucknell University in 1924 with a B.S. in E.E. He served as group leader from 1935 to 1945 and was in charge of design for the next two years. He was assistant division engineer from 1947 to 1951, and supervising engineer of the bushing unit from then until the present time.

Mr. Terpak has been granted five patents. He is the author of an AIEE paper on high voltage bushings. Married, he and Mrs. Terpak, and their four children, Stephen '56, Donald, Margaret, and Gerald live at 110 Euclid Avenue, Pittsfield, Mass. Steve is the active president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Pittsfield.

Dr. Frederic B. Davies '26 Dies at 48

Bucknell lost one of its most prominent medical graduates with the death on July 19 of Dr. Frederic B. Davies, active and well-known member of the Class of 1926. A member of Phi Gamma Delta, Fred distinguished himself as a student and was active in the Pre-Med Society, Glee Club, Cap and Dagger, Theta Alpha Phi, and participated in track athletics.

Born in Scranton, he attended the University of Rochester School of Medicine and interned at Geisinger Hospital in Danville before returning to Scranton to become an outstanding member of the medical profession in his home city. A frequent speaker and writer on medical topics, he soon attained prominence in his field of internal medicine and cardiology. He served with distinction in the Medical Corps from 1942 to 1946 leaving the service with the rank of major.

He is survived by his wife, the former Dorothy Montgomery, a daughter Nancy E., two sisters, Mrs. Franklin Brutzman and Mrs. Herchel Ward and a brother, Ralph W. Davies M.S. '39, Plainfield, N. J.

Fred will be sadly missed by the University and the alumni he served so well. Sincere sympathy is extended to the family.

New Faculty Members

We welcome to the faculty of Bucknell the following new members appointed by Dr. William H. Coleman, vice president of the college. In addition, two former Bucknell teachers returned to the faculty after several years in industrial posts.

To assist in the teaching of the University Course which has been expanded through a grant from the Carnegie Corporation, Dr. Coleman named DR. IRVING I. POLONOFF who will serve as lecturer in the philosophy of science.

A native of Canada, Dr. Polonoff was educated at Sir George Williams College and McGill University, in Montreal, and at Yale University. Since receiving his doctor's degree at Yale, he has held important technical positions with Canadian and U. S. firms.

DR. MERRITT C. OELKE of the University of Illinois was appointed assistant professor of education. A graduate of the University of Houston and of the University of Illinois, Dr. Oelke has had teaching experience at both of these universities.

MISS PATRICIA R. ASHLEY of Cleveland, Ohio, joined the faculty as instructor in music and MISS MARCIA R. SCARLES of Lake Worth, Florida, as instructor in physical education for women. The former attended the Eastman School of Music and the Cleveland Institute of Music and the latter studied at Bouve-Boston and the University of Wisconsin. During the past year Miss Scarles taught at New Jersey College for Women.

CAPTAIN JIMMIE L. PITTMAN and LT. THOMAS L. JOHNSON have been appointed assistant professors of military science and tactics. Capt. Pittman is a graduate of Seattle University and Lt. Johnson of the University of California.

DR. MARK C. EBERSOLE, assistant professor of philosophy and religion at Elmira College, became an assistant professor in the department of religion. His previous experience includes service as minister to students at the University of Pennsylvania, relief administrator in Europe with the American Friends Service Committee, teacher and director of religious activities at Elizabethtown College, and field worker at Union Seminary.

DR. ROGER H. BOWMAN M.S. '48, assistant professor of physiology at Philadelphia College of Osteopathy, serves as assistant professor of biology while DR. HULDA MAGALHAES is on leave of absence.

BERNARD O. BOGART of the metals and minerals bureau, U. S. Department of Commerce, was named assistant professor of geology and geography to replace CLAUDE E. McMICHAEL, JR., who took an industrial post. Before entering government service, he taught at Lafayette College and the University of Pennsylvania.

To be instructor of music, Dean Coleman has named HOWARD N. BOYAJIAN, formerly a member of the faculty of the State Teachers College at Jacksonville, Ala. He received his master's degree at Oberlin Conservatory of Music and for the past two years has taught at Jacksonville, where he also headed the string and orchestra departments.

Also rejoining the faculty will be W.

NEIL BAKER '11 as instructor in mechanical engineering. MASTER SERGEANT SYLVESTER SGLENSKI has assumed duties as Supply Sergeant with the ROTC Detachment. He was transferred from Carlisle barracks. GEORGE D. KROTCHKO was appointed assistant professor of civil engineering, and DAVID L. BOWLER '48, instructor in electrical engineering. Mr. Krotchko has been with the Bureau of Public Roads at Baltimore, Md., while Mr. Bowler has been associated with the Hazeltine Electronic Corporation on Long Island.

RAYMOND H. YOUNG '43, one-time instructor at Bucknell, will return as assistant professor of electrical engineering. An army veteran, his experience in industry includes service as a test engineer with the General Electric Company.

JAMES "SMOKY" OSTENDARP '52, who is serving as back field coach under Head Coach Harry Lawrence, has been appointed instructor in physical education.

Members of the faculty who will be on leave during part or all of the present year include: Dr. W. Preston Warren, Dr. C. H. Richardson, Professor Paul J. Brand, Professor Beatrice H. Gonzales, Dr. Hulda Magalhaes, and Professor Ralph Walker.

Returning from leave of absence are: Mr. Forrest Brown, Miss Jeanne Chew, and Mr. Russell Headley.

Freshmen—Class of 1957—and Their Bucknell Relatives

Thirty-four members of the freshmen class and four students entering above the first year level are the sons or daughters of Bucknell parents and the total of 112 of the entering class of 530 new students have relatives who are Bucknellians. Among the relatives listed are one great-grandfather, one grandmother, six grandfathers, thirty-one brothers, twenty-one sisters, thirty-two uncles, fifteen aunts, and fifty-nine cousins and other more distant relatives.

This year's entering students who are children of Bucknellians are listed below with their Bucknellian parents' names.

Names of Students

STUART JAY BAILEY
TOZIA ANNE BECKLEY
ALYSANNE BUTT
RALPH HOLT CONNER
ROBERT WHITMER DILL, JR.
FRANCES ANN DILLWORTH

FRANK EDWARD FAINT
JOHN RODGERS FEICK
DOROTHY JEAN GRABOWSKI
BERKELEY PENN HASTINGS
MARJORIE ANNE HASTINGS
JAMES RUSSELL HERMAN, JR.
RICHARD HOLLOWAY HILL
DANIEL BLEECKER HOOVEN
ELIZABETH ANN HULL
PATRICIA JEAN INGHAM
RICHARD COMLEY JOHNSON
CHARLES PHILIP JONES
ROBERT EURFRYN JONES
SALLY GWYNN JONES
HARRY WILLIAM KENNEDY, JR.
MARGARET ANN LIPPENCOTT
FORREST DRYDEN LONG, JR.
JOSEPH CLOYD MAHER
ROBERT ELMER MITCHELL
WILLIAM STERNER MOYER

STEWART LEEDS RANKIN, JR.
JAMES FRANCIS FESS REAMER

THERESA RUTH SHIPMAN
LAURENCE GEIGER STEELE
ROBERT ARTHUR STEVENS
GEORGE HENRY VAN TUYL II

CAROLYN UPSHUR WOODCOCK
GEORGE BOOKER WRIGHT
JAMES LACEY YARNELL
DAVID RICHARD TURNEY
JOHN RICHARD WHELAN, JR.
ROBERT CHARLES SHAFFER

Parents

GUY W. BAILEY '26
FRANCIS J. BECKLEY '17
BRUCE E. BUTT '16
ELMER R. CONNER '18
ELEANOR MILLER DILL '28, ROBERT W. DILL '27
FRANCES SAUL DILLWORTH '29, ROBERT E. DILLWORTH '29 (Deceased)
GEORGE R. FAINT '25
MARY RODGERS FEICK '28, DR. RALPH H. FEICK '28
SIDNEY GRABOWSKI '15
BERKELEY V. HASTINGS '13
BERKELEY V. HASTINGS '13
JAMES R. HERMAN '19 (Deceased)
WALTER R. HULL '23
MORRIS D. HOOVEN '20
HELEN NAYLOR HULL '32
JOSEPH F. INGHAM '17
DAVIS JOHNSON, JR. '30
GLADYS GANDAR JONES '34, PHILIP E. JONES '33
DR. EURFRYN JONES '26
SARA BAILEY JONES '30, WILLIAM G. JONES '29
HARRY W. KENNEDY '21
MARY BRICK LIPPENCOTT '31
FORREST D. LONG '32
EDNA WOLFE MAHER '29
DR. ROBERT E. MITCHELL '27
M. CHRISTINE STERNER MOYER '28, EARLE L. MOYER '29
DR. STEWART L. RANKIN '26
E. LARUE UNGER REAMER '21, FRANCIS F. REAMER '21
RALDO E. SHIPMAN '29
JOSEPH H. STEELE '23 (Deceased)
WALTER A. STEVENS '25
KATHRYN LEACH VAN TUYL '30, GEORGE H. VAN TUYL '31
CLARENCE W. WOODCOCK '33
JANICE BOOKER WRIGHT '30, GEORGE A. WRIGHT '31
JOHN L. YARNELL '21
ANNA ELIZABETH KING TURNEY '31
ANNA BARBARA WAGNER WHELAN '30
MILDRED HOUSEMAN SHAFER '24, ROBERT SHAFFER '25

Borelli '49 Has TV Show

AL BORELLI

AL BORELLI followed his Bucknell training with a year of intensive piano study at the New England Conservatory of Music, served as assistant music critic of the Boston Globe but the urge to compose and perform were too strong. One of his compositions "Prometheus Bound" was performed last year. Al now is a popular performer on his own show "Intermezzo" over WJAR-TV, Providence, R. I. He is already booked for piano recitals in a number of New England cities. Bucknellians in New England should not miss the opportunity to hear Al Borelli in concert.

Summary of Gifts by Alumni and Friends of the University

1952-1953

BUCKNELL ALUMNI FUND — THE ANNUAL-GIVING PROGRAM:

ALUMNI	$21,547.36
FRIENDS, FACULTY, and ADMINISTRATION	235.07
TOTAL—BUCKNELL ALUMNI FUND		$21,782.43

CAPITAL GIFTS:

ALUMNI	$49,179.36
PARENTS	13,056.57
TOTAL—CAPITAL FUND GIFTS		$62,235.93
TOTAL GIFTS—7/1/52—6/30/53		$84,018.36

ROLL OF CONTRIBUTORS

Fifth Fund Year 1952-1953

CONTRIBUTORS—1952-1953

Gifts Received from July 1, 1952 to June 30, 1953

The following is a list of the names of ALUMNI, FACULTY and FRIENDS who made contributions to the University during the FIFTH FUND YEAR 1952-1953. Names of PARENTS who contributed to the FATHERS' LOYALTY FUND are listed on page 15.

As a result of their generosity the funds have reached a total beyond any previous year! This report is dedicated to these "Bucknell Partners" in hope that they will be accorded some measure of the recognition they so richly deserve.

Extreme care has been taken with the preparation of these lists, but some errors and omissions are inevitable. It will be greatly appreciated if you will bring such errors to the attention of the ALUMNI OFFICE. Gifts received since July 1, 1953, will be credited to the Sixth Fund and the donors' names will appear on the Sixth Fund list. The numbers in parentheses following the names of givers indicate the years of continuous giving.

1883 Coulston, Angelette Tilden (4) Hay, Anna Kieffer (1) 1884 Strine, Grace Runyan (2) Williams, Anne (1) 1886 Keiser, Dr. Elmer E. (4) 1887 Harley, Walter S. (2) Marsh, Anne Kaler (2) In addition to the Fund contributions, members of the class contributed to the Capital Funds of the University a total of $65.00. 1888 Hayes, Dr. William Van V. (4) Stein, Margaret Hower (1) 1889 Brubaker, Susanna Stapleton (3) Meixell, Edith Slifer (3) 1890 Fund Manager Dr. John I. Woodruff Class Members 5 Contributing 1 % Contributing 20 Amount $20.00 Woodruff, Dr. John I. (4) 1891 Fund Manager Dr. George E. Fisher Class Members 10 Contributors 2 % Contributing 20 Amount $20.00 Barder, Mary Rogers (1) Fisher, Dr. George E. (4) 1892 Fund Manager Dr. A. R. E. Wyant Class Members 12 Contributors 2 % Contributing 17 Amount $263.41 Shaffer, Charles G. (4) Wyant, Dr. A. R. E. (3) 1893 Fund Manager Miss Flora M. Clymer Class Members 15 Contributors 2 % Contributing 13 Amount $10.00 Harter, Carrie Lloyd (3) Pauling, Rev. E. C. (4) 1894 Fund Manager Dr. Mary B. Harris Class Members 23 Contributors 9 % Contributing 39 Amount $210.00 Armstrong, Jessie Wheeler (1) Callender, Mabel C. (4) Harris, Dr. Mary B. (4) Lawrence, Blanche Swengel (4) Mulford, Alice Prabasco (4) Smith, Dr. Harvey F. (4) Smith, Homer B. (4) Strayer, Franklin R. (2) Watson, Ida Greene (4)	1895 Fund Manager Dr. B. Meade Wagenseller Class Members 25 Contributors 10 % Contributing 40 Amount $407.00 Allen, Ezra (4) Baldrige, Thomas J. (4) Bower, Herbert (1) Clark, Winifred Patchin (4) Greene, Edward M. (4) Jackson, Frank W. (1) Sharkley, Sara Merriman (4) Simpson, Frank M. (3) Truckenmiller, Laura Fague (1) Wagenseller, Dr. B. Meade (4) 1896 Fund Manager Dr. Mary M. Wolfe Class Members 24 Contributors 6 % Contributing 25 Amount $88.00 Harris, Herbert F. (4) Lewis, Daniel E. (4) Robb, C. Keen (4) Walker, Elizabeth C. (4) Wolfe, Dr. Mary M. (4) Wolfe, Mary Williams (3) 1897 Fund Manager Dr. Romeyn H. Rivenburg Class Members 19 Contributors 4 % Contributing 21 Amount $43.00 Deike, Byrde Taggart (4) Rivenburg, Dr. Romeyn H. (3) Slifer, Susan R. (2) Smith, Horace (1) 1898 Fund Manager Dr. Charles D. Koch Class Members 27 Contributors 9 % Contributing 33 Amount $203.00 Flint, Mary Chambers (2) James, Anna Rodgers (2) Koch, Dr. Charles D. (4) Leiser, Jr., Andrew A. (4) Pohlmann, Flora Sigel (4) Reisner, Grace Pretzman (1) Van Gundy, Morris C. (1) Walls, John A. (4) Williams, Nellie Hower (1) 1899 Fund Manager M. Eloise Schuyler Class Members 33 Contributors 15 % Contributing 45 Amount $212.00 Baldwin, Emily McCreight (3) Ballentine, Dr. Floyd G. (2) Bartleson, Carrie Devitt (1) Bostwick, Marie L. (3) Calvin, John E. (4) Dieffenderfer, Rev. John P. (2) Dawns, Gertrude Stephens (4) Engle, William H. (4) Grier, Lucy H. (1) Hazen, Joseph C. (1) Krise, Daniel H. (2) Meserve, Rev. Howard C. (4) Mulford, Maurice B. (4) Purdy, William C. (3) Schuyler, M. Eloise (4) In addition to the Fund contri-	utions, members of the class contributed to the Capital Funds of the University a total of $3,000.00. 1900 Fund Manager Anna C. Judd Class Members 37 Contributors 13 % Contributing 35 Amount $145.00 Black, Sara M. (1) Bradbury, Grace Callender (2) Bunnell, Charles E. (1) Deppen, Joseph H. (3) Dutton, Mabel Batten (2) Emery, Gertrude Raos (2) Judd, Anna C. (4) Kress, Rush H. (4) Morris, Thomas J. (1) Sherwood, Dr. A. J. (3) Slifer, Edna Shires (4) Smith, Louise Warriner (3) Weymouth, C. A. (1) In addition to the Fund contributions, members of the class contributed to the Capital Funds of the University a total of $22,190.00. 1901 Fund Manager Rev. Walter E. Ruch Class Members 42 Contributors 15 % Contributing 36 Amount $622.00 Allison, Archibald M. (4) Bentz, S. Elsie (1) Bidelspacher, Charles F. (1) Bager, Harvey S. (4) Bower, C. Ruth (4) Burpee, Frank E. (1) Kalp, Edith Phillips (4) Kankle, Laura Allen (3) Leshar, Dr. Mabel Grier (4) Pierson, R. G. (1) Rambo, O. N. (1) Rubich, Isabelle Schweyer (4) Ruch, Walter E. (4) Trax, Harland (4) Wolfe, Charles W. (1) 1902 Fund Manager Dr. Lewis E. Theiss Class Members 41 Contributors 8 % Contributing 20 Amount $86.00 Bacon, Edna L. (1) Bentz, Abner D. (2) Cunningham, Alan Craig (3) Edgett, George E. (4) Miller, Grace Brubaker (4) Noaker, Anna E. (4) Shields, Sarah Judd (4) Williams, Dr. T. Lamar (4) 1903 Fund Manager Jay Bond Class Members 49 Contributors 24 % Contributing 49 Amount $303.00 Alexander, Eudora Davies (1) Bond, Jay (1) Bullis, Jane Fowler (1) Carringer, Royce E. (2) Derbshimer, Alexander F. (4) Ebling, Emily R. (4) Eisenmenger, C. F. (2) Felsberg, Louise E. (4) Frampton, J. V. (1) Harris, Reese H. (1)	Herpel, Elvie Coleman (1) Kalp, W. Lawrence (4) Lehman, Charles A. (1) Long, Clara C. Slifer (4) Luchsinger, Ida (1) Mahaffey, Esther Lydic (1) Mauser, Dr. Harry S. (4) Mitchell, Frank A. (2) Murphy, Charlotte Shields (2) Sheldon, Marlon R. (4) Stewart, George H. (1) Williams, Rev. Howard K. (2) Williams, Roger H. (1) Zeller, Helen Houghton (4) 1904 Fund Manager David W. Robinson Class Members 44 Contributors 13 % Contributing 30 Amount $168.00 Beagle, Mae Morgan (1) Crist, H. M. (1) Graft, Margaret B. (4) Johnson, John C. (1) McCormick, Harry E. (2) Merrill, Elizabeth Williams (4) Reed, Elizabeth (1) Robey, Louis W. (4) Robinson, David W. (4) Schilling, Olive Martha (2) Stahl, John H. (4) Teufel, Rev. Charles M. (4) Thompson, Robert W. (3) 1905 Fund Manager Claire Conway Class Members 69 Contributors 26 % Contributing 38 Amount $370.00 Andrews, Mary Halfpenny (4) Bliss, Ruth Sharkley (4) Bower, Mary Isabel (4) Conway, Claire (4) Cook, Mabel Maurer (2) Cooper, Charles D. (1) Cooper, Cattie Albright (1) Cudley, Mary Unruh (3) Elliott, Ralph (2) Fetherston, Edith Kelly (4) Flood, Jr., John H. (1) Forgeus, Margaret (2) Hall, Wyman L. (4) Hylbert, Lewis C. (4) Johnson, Nellie E. (2) Kalp, Martha Wolfe (4) McCain, Donald R. (1) Partser, W. Wallace (4) Rayer, Roberts D. (3) Sanders, Rev. John C. (2) Smith, Paul G. (2) Steinhilper, Anthony (4) Steinhilper, Nellie Gaddard (4) Thomas, Jessie McFarland (4) Thomas, Ruth Leshar (4) Waad, Eva Stoner (1)	1906 Fund Manager Elbina L. Bender Class Members 75 Contributors 28 % Contributing 37 Amount $156.00 Bender, Elbina L. (4) Cole, Dr. Harold N. (4) Cole, Hazel Knapp (4) Covardale, William T. (4) Dann, Edna Innes (2) DeMelt, Dean William E., Sr. (2) Dietrich, Harvey (1) Danehower, W. L. (2) Fisher, Emma Gearhart (1) Follmer, Frederick V. (2) Frost, Sarah Furman (4) 13 Kech, Augustus S. (2) Lang, Grace Meek (1) 30 McCaskie, Florence (1) MacLaggan, Catherine F. (1) Millward, Carl L. (4) Morrison, Charles C. (4) Park, J. Theadore (1) Parmley, Harry M. (4) Parsons, Daisy Parsons (2) Rumsey, Rev. Edwin W. (4) Shelley, Dr. Penrose H. (4) Sheppard, Harace J. (1) Unger, Sarah (2) Waltz, Rev. A. Pierce (1) Wilkinson, Katherine MacCart (4) Yast, Frank L. (2) In Memoriam Kauffman, Ruth Hammitt In addition to the Fund contributions, members of the class contributed to the Capital Funds of the University a total of $350.00. 1907 Fund Manager Mary Stanton Speicher Class Members 74 Contributors 33 % Contributing 45 Amount $277.00 Andrews, Percy C. (2) August, Wendall M. (2) Blakney, Lulu E. (1) Brackway, Chauncey E. (4) Burrans, Ernest S. (3) Catherman, John I. (4) Cober, Peter G. (4) Godshall, C. Harold (1) Griffith, Havid (1) Haskell, Vera Davies (1) Hawk, Dr. George W. (4) Jones, Ruth C. (2) King, Kathryn M. (4) Mattis, George (2) Olds, Helena M. (1) Perez, Gilbert (2) Potter, Charles F. (2) Riggs, Rev. George A. (2) Riggs, Margaret Leshar (2)
--	--	---	---	---

IN MEMORIAM GIFTS

Carl E. Bowen, 1929
Albert M. Cober, 1913
Angelette Tilden Coulston, 1883
Havard Griffith, 1907
Anna Kieffer Hoy, 1883
Edith Phillips Kolp, 1901
Ruth Hammitt Kauffman, 1906
Frank A. Mitchell, 1903
Maurice B. Mulford, 1899
Rudolph Peterson, 1915
Harry G. Snively, 1907
S. Dale Spotts, 1918

Rockwell, Dr. Leo L. (4)
 Saylor, Edwin W. (2)
 Schuch, J. Harry (4)
 Schultz, Thomas W. (4)
 Shove, F. Rebecca (3)
 Snider, Ada Moore (1)
 Speicher, Mary Stanton (4)
 Ulmer, Margaret Myers (1)
 Wagner, Charles C. (1)
 Weddle, Joseph N. (4)
 Whitney, Earl W. (2)
 Wolfe, Jonathan (3)
 Zug, Fred R. (2)

In Memoriam
 Snavelly, Harry G.

In addition to the Fund contributions, members of the class contributed to the Capital Funds of the University a total of $100.00.

Hartshorn, Edward S. (2)
 Hedge, Homer B. (3)
 John, Stella Houghton (4)
 Jury, Mabel Christian (3)
 Kresge, Homer D. (4)
 Lawrence, Mait Cathral (2)
 McDonough, Michael J. (2)
 Mickle, Roy (1)
 Pangburn, Dr. Weaver W. (4)
 Roser, Hugh E. (4)
 Saylor, Robert J. (4)
 Sherwood, Alexander M. (4)
 Sholl, John G. (2)
 Sholl, Helen Hare (2)
 Sterner, Hepe B. (2)
 Street, George T., Jr. (3)
 Thompson,
 Priscilla Hardesty (1)
 Woods, Elmer B. (4)
 Yoder, Emily Lane (2)

FUND RESULTS IN BRIEF — 1952-1953

	Number of Contributors	Amount of Contributions	Average Contribution
Alumni	2171	$21,327.36	$ 9.82
Undergraduate Classes	11	220.00	20.00
Faculty* and Friends	10	235.07	23.51
Parents	178	13,056.57	72.94
TOTALS	2371	$34,839.00	$31.57

* See Page 15

1911

1908
Fund Manager
Dr. Winfield S. Booth, Sr.
 Class Members 86
 Contributors 24
 % Contributing 28
 Amount $498.00

Blakemore, Helen Tiffany (1)
 Bolton, Dr. Elmer K. (4)
 Booth, Dr. Winfield Scott, Sr. (4)
 Bromley, Rev. Charles L. (4)
 Condict, Dr. E. Carroll (4)
 Duncan, Stephen G. (4)
 Ferguson, Charles D. (2)
 Foster, Carol Spratt (4)
 Gibney, John V. (1)
 Haller, Ralph W. (2)
 Henderson, Dr. Joseph W. (4)
 Hostetter, Dr. John C. (2)
 Hummer, John F. (4)
 Landers, Olive Richards (4)
 Long, Elsie Owens (2)
 Luchsinger, Victor B. (1)
 Mathias, Margaret Pangburn (1)
 Nicely, Charles A. (2)
 Nofsker, Paul B. (1)
 Royer, Dr. E. L. (2)
 Shrum, Rev. Reuben W. (4)
 Sprout, W. Carl (1)
 Thomas, Ralph L. (4)
 Thompson, Henry C. (4)

In addition to the Fund contributions, members of the class contributed to the Capital Funds of the University a total of $7,200.00.

Fund Manager
Mr. J. Leslie Crowell
 Class Members 108
 Contributors 23
 % Contributing 21
 Amount $286.00

App, Elmer M. (1)
 Baker, Ruth Mohr (1)
 Browne, Elizabeth Hughes (4)
 Carpenter, Katherine G. (4)
 Crowell, J. Leslie (4)
 Davis, Dr. Frank G. (4)
 DeLong, Roy Allen (2)
 Harris, Lester (1)
 Hillman, Verna Whitaker (4)
 Jarvie, Ruth Safford (4)
 Lloyd, Herbert (2)
 Loveland, Charles D. (4)
 McCullen, William (4)
 Mann, Walter H. (3)
 Rockwell, Vera Cober (4)
 Shipe, James W., Sr. (1)
 Snyder, Edgar A. (4)
 Starkweather,
 Matilda Gelding (4)
 Thompson, Flo Leland (2)
 Tyson, James A. (4)
 Villalon, Jose A. (3)
 Waite, Dr. John H. (1)
 Waltman, Harry R. (4)

In addition to the Fund contributions, members of the class contributed to the Capital Funds of the University a total of $10.00.

1912

1909
Fund Manager
Dr. Newton C. Fetter
 Class Members 98
 Contributors 26
 % Contributing 27
 Amount $501.00

Bailets, George F. (4)
 Blair, Harry J. (2)
 Chaffee, Myra M. (4)
 Darlington, Richard (2)
 Elson, Charles (2)
 Fetter, Dr. Newton C. (4)
 Humm, Doncaster G. (4)
 Jackson, Hazel Craig (4)
 Lepperd, Charles J. (4)
 Lyte, Gilbert H. (4)
 Payne, W. Guy (2)
 Quandt, Iola B. (4)
 Reiter, Frank W. (1)
 Ritter, Allan G. (3)
 Roush, Rev. Charles S. (2)
 Ryan, Bessie N. Condict (1)
 Shirley, John T. (4)
 Shupe, Myrtle Walkinshaw (3)
 Smith, Dr. Stanton R. (4)
 Stone, Helen Cliber (4)
 Turner, Gertrude L. (1)
 VanWhy, Eugene (4)
 Weeter, Mabel Slout (2)
 Winegardner, Ralph G. (1)
 Wolfe, Josephine Hankins (4)
 Youngken, Heber W. (4)

In addition to the Fund contributions, members of the class contributed to the Capital Funds of the University a total of $1,000.00.

Fund Manager
A. Oscar Wolfe
 Class Members 92
 Contributors 25
 % Contributing 27
 Amount $216.50

Clarke, Helen Levegood (1)
 Conner, Alberta Bronson (2)
 Crandall, Leon M. (1)
 Daggett, Harry N. (2)
 Davenport, Ralph F. (2)
 Duffon, Edward P. (4)
 Everett, H. S. (1)
 Fisher, Margaret McClure (3)
 Goff, Frances L. (1)
 Houseknecht,
 Maze Callahan (2)
 Iglar, Dr. Frederick B. (4)
 Jenkins, Mary Weiser (3)
 Johnson, Howard (2)
 Lowther, Elizabeth Heinsling (2)
 McNeal, David A., Sr. (4)
 Meyer, Robert W. (4)
 Ogden, Merton M. (4)
 Riehl, Paul L. (3)
 Ruth, D. Clifford (4)
 Ruth, Helen L. (4)
 Woltz, Dr. Arthur D. (3)
 Weddell, Sue E. (4)
 Williams, Pearl Ream (4)
 Wolfe, A. Oscar (4)

1913

1910
Fund Manager
Dr. Weaver W. Pangburn
 Class Members 86
 Contributors 27
 % Contributing 31
 Amount $302.00

Abraham, Paul J. (1)
 Bank, John (2)
 Brown, Josephine (1)
 Butt, Cameron A. (3)
 Cathers, Mildred (3)
 Fulton, Elizabeth Stage (2)
 Gorton, MacArthur (2)
 Hardgrove, Winnie Dickson (4)

Fund Manager
Rev. John D. W. Fetter
 Class Members 73
 Contributors 41
 % Contributing 55
 Amount $730.50

Beck, Bright W. (2)
 Bernhart, C. Baker (1)
 Bogert, John R. (1)
 Bowling, Richard H. (4)
 Brush, Rev. Edwin C. (2)
 Dunkle, D. Forrest (4)
 Edwards, Walter H. (4)
 Fetter, Rev. John D. W. (4)
 Fisher, Howard V. (4)
 Glover, M. B. (1)
 Goehring, Howard M. (4)
 Goehring, Raymond R. (1)
 Haines, George Freeman (1)
 Harris, Benjamin S. (1)
 Hastings, Berkeley V. (4)

1914

Fund Manager
Jesse E. Riley
 Class Members 99
 Contributors 25
 % Contributing 25
 Amount $335.50

Armstrong, Earle B. (4)
 Boyer, Louis H. (4)
 Campbell, Harry Earle (3)
 Coleman, Charles E. (4)
 Criswell, John R. (4)
 Fairchild, Elmer E. (2)
 Fero, Beulah Hummel (1)
 Glightly, Joshua R. (4)
 Hagan, Robert C. (1)
 Hawkins, Marian Harman (1)
 Kuyf, Henry G. (2)
 Lanning, Leland P. (2)
 Lowther, W. C. (2)
 Reimensnyder, Florence I. (2)
 Reitz, W. S. (2)
 Rice, John W. (4)
 Rice, Ruth Hoffa (3)
 Riley, Jesse E. (4)
 Schnure, Fred O. (4)
 Schnure, Clinten F. (1)
 Stahler, Harry S. (1)
 Stapleton, R. B. (3)
 Weaver, Eudora Hamler (4)
 Weaver, Harry B. (4)
 Winkelleblech, John F. (1)

In addition to the Fund contributions, members of the class contributed to the Capital Funds of the University a total of $500.00.

1915

Fund Manager
Helen Eede McQuay
 Class Members 103
 Contributors 29
 % Contributing 28
 Amount $389.50

Allen, Joseph W. (4)
 Aller, Mabel Brown (1)
 Bancroft, Marion R. (2)
 Brown, F. Theodore (3)
 Clapp, Edgar T. (2)
 Clark, Albert J. (1)
 Creuse, Walter S. (3)
 Dillen, Dr. Emma E. (4)
 English,
 Margaret Gretzinger (1)
 Gale, Charles W. (1)

1916
Fund Manager
Hon. William L. Showers
 Class Members 102
 Contributors 28
 % Contributing 27
 Amount $323.50

Alter, Samuel G. (4)
 Bartholomew, Derben W. (2)
 Bartlett, Lester J. (1)
 Bigler, R. P. (3)
 Brandon, Margaret Weddell (4)
 Butt, Bruce E. (4)
 Carpenter, Anna Reynolds (1)
 Conway, John J. (1)
 Davenport, Dr. Samuel M. (4)
 Fernandez, Marie Yeisley (1)
 Giffin, Harold W. (2)
 Hamlin, Ruth Williams (4)
 Jones, Carrie Foresman (2)
 Laird, Elizabeth B. (3)
 Mensch, Sterling R. (2)
 Osterle, Rev. Eric A. (2)
 Pesting, Kimber M. (1)
 Ranck, Dayton L. (3)
 Rice, Charlotte Lanning (1)
 Rollins, M. Florence (1)
 Ryan, Margaret Wallace (1)
 Sanders, Homer M. (2)
 Schnure, Dorothy Bunell (4)
 Showers, Hon. William L. (2)
 Smith, Harold E. (1)
 Stevenson, Amy Patterson (4)
 Sutton, Grace I. (2)
 Switzer, Lester A. (3)

1917

Fund Manager
Clinton I. Sprout
 Class Members 124
 Contributors 25
 % Contributing 20
 Amount $317.00

Belcher, Louise Bassell (2)
 Brenner, Jr. Fred C. (1)
 Colkin, Leroy P. (1)
 Coty, Helen Krouse (1)
 Dorr, Ralph B. (4)
 Harer, H. L. (3)
 Felton, Raleigh M. (3)
 Geating, William J. (1)
 Giffin, Geraldine Hanson (1)
 Gray, Amanda L. Whitaker (2)
 Heberling, Dr. John A. (1)
 Kendig, Benjamin F. (4)
 Kneuse, Helman G. (1)
 Kriner, Clarence M. (4)
 Kriner,
 Henrietta Heinsling (4)
 McCarthy, Elizabeth Lehr (1)
 Moore, Olive E. (4)
 Russell, Hugh T. (3)
 Schug, Alice Johnson (4)
 Seomann, S. Leroy (2)
 Sowers, Irvin F. (4)
 Sprout, Clinton I. (4)
 Topham, C. Ray Speare (3)
 Volkmar, Moria (4)
 Williams, Frank E. (4)
 Yon, Arthur (4)

1918

Fund Manager
Russell E. Boyer
 Class Members 142
 Contributors 27
 % Contributing 19
 Amount $267.00

Bloom, Hiram J. (1)
 Boswell, Rev. David N. (2)
 Bewer, Helen Diffendafer (4)
 Boyer, Russell E. (1)
 Dent, Edith Crane (3)
 Derr, Mary Beatty (4)
 Eshelman, Dr. Thomas A. (4)
 Feresman, Grover (4)
 Fritz, Mabel H. (4)
 Gold, John S. (4)
 Hall, Miriam Minch (4)
 Harris, Stanley N. (3)
 Johnson,
 Dorothy McClintic (1)
 Kline, Jessie Potts (1)
 Leaber, Evelyn McGann (1)
 McCready, Margaret Smith (1)
 Mackey, Barton H. (1)
 May, Marguerite Ryan (1)
 Miles, Dr. George H. (2)
 Musser, Malcolm E. (3)
 Ranck, Bruce O. (4)
 Rouner, Elizabeth Stephens (1)
 Shellenhamer,
 Carrie Wetzel (4)
 Smith, Ora B. (4)
 Sprout, Louise Hehn (4)
 Trimble, William S. (1)

In Memoriam
 Dr. S. Dale Spotts

In addition to the Fund contributions, members of the class contributed to the Capital Funds of the University a total of $1,024.76.

1919

Fund Manager
Dr. Franklin D. Jones
 Class Members 140
 Contributors 32
 % Contributing 23
 Amount $297.50

Abrams, Sam (1)
 Anchor, Charles J. (2)
 Andrews, Harry F. (2)
 Angel, Harry H. (4)
 Cruse, Ernest J. (1)
 Eisenman, Naomi Lane (3)
 Fester, Marguerite Taggart (1)
 Fritz, Irene J. (1)
 Gilbert, Harold N. (2)
 Greenleaf, Dr. Arthur J. (4)
 Grove, Mary E. (4)
 Harer, H. L. (3)
 Heinrich, Kenneth (1)
 Hellerson, Clifford A. (1)
 Hornbarger, J. Howard (1)
 Jones, Dr. Franklin D. (4)
 Kelchner, Alice M. (4)
 Keough, Edwin M. (1)
 Lanning, Gelda Clark (2)
 Lawrence, Frank A. (4)
 Leaber, Chester R. (1)
 Lewis, Raymond P. (2)
 Markowitz, Dr. Benjamin (3)
 Pierce, James C. (2)
 Riule, Frank H. (2)
 Robbins,
 Mary M. McLaughlin (2)
 Rudin, Miriam Bridge (1)
 Skavish, Jean Flanagan (1)
 Starkweather, George A. (4)
 Stein, Ruth (4)
 Warfel, Ruth Farquhar (2)
 Wonrich, Clyde E. R. (4)

A Picture of Progress, Possibilities, and Potential

For the Bucknell Alumni Fund

Remember:

1. Your Fund gift is deductible on your income tax.
2. If you have your own business, a corporate contribution is worth considering.
3. IN MEMORIAM gifts are made by many Bucknellians, honoring Bucknell friends and relatives.
4. Family gifts will be credited to husbands and wives (50-50) if you list names and classes of each in your remittance envelope.
5. Fund ideas or personal news items, enclosed with your check, will make it doubly welcome.

CLASS REPORTS

Alumni Weekend— June 11-14, 1954

The following classes will celebrate with class reunions on Alumni Day, June 12, 1954.

Emeritus	1909	1939
1894	1914	1944
1899	1919	1949
1904	1924	1953
	1929
	1934

Members of these classes should circle the date on their 1954 calendar now.

CLASS OF 1894

Class Reporter: DR. MARY B. HARRIS
9 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa.

(Editor's Note): Our class reporter Dr. Mary B. Harris is spending an extended visit in Tripoli, Libya, with her nephew, Walter W. Harris, Jr., who is attached to the legation there. She writes that it is a beautiful city and that they (she was accompanied on the trip by her niece, Isabelle T. Harris '52) are enjoying their contacts with Arab civilization.

CLASS OF 1899

Class Reporter: DR. F. G. BALLENTINE
626 Taylor St., Lewisburg, Pa.

Dr. Joseph C. Hazen has returned to his home in Summit, N. J., after his fourth major operation in a little over a year.

We announce with sorrow the death on May 7, of Maurice B. Mulford, whose home was in Monterey Park, Calif., just a year and a few days after the death of his brother, Arthur.

Next June will mark the eleventh quinquennial reunion of the class. There cannot be many more, and every one who finds it possible to come should plan to be present.

CLASS OF 1900

Class Reporter: MR. GEORGE A. GRIM
South Broad St., Nazareth, Pa.

(Editor's Note): George A. Grim, South Broad St., Nazareth, has kindly agreed to act as class reporter to relieve Mrs. E. S. Slifer who served so well in this capacity. Will you please send a news note or a health report to George so he will be able to pass the news along to the rest of the class members.

CLASS OF 1901

Class Reporter: MR. J. C. HIGGINS
106 S. Fourth St., Lewisburg, Pa.

In our last issue an error was made in listing the survivors of Mrs. W. Lawrence Kalp, the former Edith Lee Phillips, who died last July. The correct name of the surviving daughter is Margaret E. Kalp who graduated from the New Jersey College for Women in 1936.

Elmer H. Myers passed away suddenly at his St. Petersburg, Florida home on October 3. He leaves a widow, son and a daughter.

CLASS OF 1903

Class Reporter: MRS. BARRY C. HERPEL
(Elvie B. Coleman)
1250 Park Ave., McKeesport, Pa.

Our officers for the interim between reunions are: president, Elvie Coleman

Herpel; vice president, Ida Luchsinger; secretary-treasurer, Charlotte Shields Murphy (Mrs. Howard R.), R. D. 3, Lewisburg; class fund manager, Jay Bond, 11 Church St., Factoryville.

Those present at the 50th Reunion in June were: Jay Bond, Ray and Jane Fowler Bullis, 501 N. Newlin Ave., Whittier, Calif.; Lt. Col. A. Forrest Dershimer, 85 Maple Ave., Tunkhannock; Emily Ebling, 5225 Schuyler St., Phila., 44; J. V. Frampton, Esq., 506 W. Third St., Oil City; R. H. Harris, Esq., 700 Scranton Elec. Bldg., Scranton; Elvie Coleman Herpel; W. Lawrence Kalp, 428 Bath Ave., Long Branch, N. J.; Ida Luchsinger, 300 Exeter Ave., West Pittston; Charlotte Shields Murphy and husband Dr. Howard L.; Rev. Morton Sheldon, son and two granddaughters, Box 123, McGrann; John M. Snow and wife, 110 14th St., Franklin; Grace Roberts Snyder, 111 S. Front St., Lewisburg; G. Herbert Stewart and wife, 7034 Greene St., Phila.; Carl Tiffany, 19 East 8th St., Erie; Eva Ginter Gilmore, 717 Market St., Lewisburg; Esther Lydic Mahaffey, Mahaffey, Pa.; Helen Houghton Zeller, 138 S. Third St., Lewisburg.

Howard K. Williams celebrated his 47th anniversary as pastor of the Alpha Baptist Church, Phila.

CLASS OF 1904

Class Reporter: MR. ROBERT W. THOMPSON
310 S. Third St., Lewisburg, Pa.

Don't forget we have a reunion in June 1954. Plan to celebrate the anniversary of a certain event of just a few years ago. Mark the date June 12, 1954 now; you will hear more about it later.

Speaking of reunions we almost had one October 17th when at Homecoming we met up with John Johnson, Haldy Christ and wife, Clarence Hursh and wife, Rev. Billy Keifer (now retired) and wife, Ginger Teufel (now retired), Moose McCormick. Returning met up with Estella Albright Halfpenny.

Elizabeth Reed retired from her teaching career in Sunbury school district at the close of the last term.

Elizabeth Williams Merrill is librarian at the Blossburg Public Library.

Edgar Taft Stevenson and Mrs. R. C. Wilson were married on September 26. Ed has been editor and publisher of the Titusville Herald for the past 31 years.

Coxey T. will appreciate any and all information you can give him regarding other members of 1904. Mail to Box 33, Lewisburg.

REUNION AT BUCKNELL JUNE 12, 1954. More regarding it later.

CLASS OF 1905

Class Reporter: DR. ELIZABETH B. MEEK
Allenwood, Pa.

A letter from Nellie Goddard Steinhilper in reply to a request for news shows that Neil still retains her youthful humility. The announcement of the death of her kind husband, Anthony Steinhilper '05, came as a surprise. All members of the class express to her their sympathy. The letter in Nell's exact words follows:

As you know, Tony and I were married in 1907 and we had forty-five years of life together. During this time we amassed not a fortune but a family, three children—Helen, B. O. '29, now Mrs. E. W. Wilkinson, of Summit, N. J.; John, B. O. '35, who has just bought himself a farm in Ghent, N. Y.; and Frank, Penn State '40, who is a patent lawyer in Rochester, N. Y. They have presented us with seven grandchildren ranging in age from Bruce Wilkinson, 15, to David Goddard Steinhilper, born last October.

When my husband was ready to retire we bought a big, old-fashioned house in Hackettstown. A pretty little town, beautifully situated in the hills of Northern New Jersey, that we have enjoyed for the beautiful scenery and the friendly people.

Tony's health had not been good for some time and just a year ago (September 10, 1952) he passed away. He did nothing spectacular, achieved no fame, wrote no books, acquired no great wealth, but it has been heart-warming to receive from his associates in business, in civic work and the church so many expressions of respect and affection for one who "died justly, loved mercy, and walked humbly with his God."

As for me, I expect to keep on living here where we made so many friends. I should like to get up to Bucknell sometime. We often spoke of it and vaguely hoped to be there for our fiftieth, but it was not so to be.

A note came from John B. Smiley at the time he was about to go to the seashore for a vacation. His statement that he always tries to come back to Lewisburg at least once a year puts to shame some who live within a few miles. He says that when he is in Lewisburg he spends a few hours on the campus and reviews the pictures of earlier years that hang pleasantly on memory's wall. He mentioned the inspiration he received by gazing at the entrance gates, the Class Memorial of the Class of 1905.

John C. Sanders, one of the successful ministers of the class, is too modest to tell about his achievements. Fortunately, he sent three recent church bulletins to inform his classmates of his present status.

A pamphlet concerning the minutes of the last session of the Synodical Council of the Mercersburg Synod contains this information:

"Rev. John C. Sanders, living in suburban Chambersburg, Pa., who was made Pastor Emeritus by his last parish, after serving it for 26 years, was re-elected as the Secretary of the Mercersburg Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church at its recent meeting."

Requests for news are being answered very slowly.

Put another red circle around June 1955. Keep that savings account active.

CLASS OF 1907

Class Reporter: DR. LEO L. ROCKWELL
Colgate University, Hamilton, N. Y.

The Rev. Harvard Griffith died in Harrisburg, September 10 at the age of 74. Harvard, who attended Bucknell Academy before graduation from the college and later earned his master's degree in 1910 at Bucknell, was trained for the ministry at Rochester Theological Seminary. He had been a preacher in the Baptist denomination since 1900 serving churches at Port Alleghany, Geneva, N. Y.; Monongahela, Newark, O., and Bradford before serving the First Baptist Church of Harrisburg.

Rev. Griffith is survived by his wife, the former Pearl Etnoyer of High Spire, a daughter, Mrs. O. Jack Elliott (Mary Elizabeth Griffith '41), a son, Harvard, Jr. '40.

Rev. George A. Riggs spoke to the Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church of Sunbury about his mission work in Puerto Rico. He previously had been in Cuba, then was sent to Puerto Rico to build chapels.

CLASS OF 1909

Class Reporter: MRS. HOWARD L. HEADLAND
(Sarah E. Wallers)
3011 First Avenue, N., St. Petersburg, Fla.

A memorandum—Saturday, June 12, 1954, the 45th reunion of the Class of 1909 (University and Seminary). Whether you have never, seldom, or often been back on the campus of our alma mater, you should let nothing, short of utter inability, keep you from returning next June. Come everybody, once more, to our beloved campus on June 12, 1954. Send a letter to your reporter—name and address above—saying you are planning to answer "present" at 1909 roll call on that day.

A year ago Dr. J. Earle Edwards and his wife came to St. Petersburg, Fla., to live. They reside at 1111—26th Avenue, S., where they are eager to welcome all their friends. Many of us remember him as he entered Bucknell with our class and appears with us in the 1909 L'Agenda. He was obliged to drop out of our class because of illness and was graduated with the Class of 1910.

It is rumored that Charles E. Hilbish has resigned as superintendent of Northumberland County schools to take effect June 1954. At that time he will have completed 20 years in this capacity—said to be the longest term in this office in the history of Northumberland County—5 four-year consecutive terms. Is this correct, Charles? Anyhow, send us a sketch of all this in more detail, please.

George Bailets and wife Ruth again left St. Petersburg last summer for four months. They spent a month in New York and New Jersey and three months in Sunbury, with his 93 year-old mother.

Howard and Sarah Walters Headland also spent from July to September in Pennsylvania and western New York. Whenever they are in these localities they aim to see as many of Sarah's classmates as they can. This year was not very satisfying. They stopped in Lock Haven to have a word with Matt Haggerty and Olive, but found them—not at home. In Reynoldsville, Amy Bollinger entertained them with a delicious lunch. Then Amy and Sarah spent most of the afternoon talking of days gone by. On the campus Guy Payne and his wife were busy as usual in the College Inn.

Iola Quandt writes that last August she and four others had a mighty fine vacation in Sequoia National Park, Calif. With the altitude over 6,000 feet, they were not hiking much. Her account of their skirmishes with a bear which was after their food, and, indeed, one day, got milk, sandwiches, and cookies, was exciting.

Your reporter would like to hear from all of her classmates and especially from Margaret Curtin, Richard Darlington, Dr. Herman G. Diferferer, Bertha Eaches, and Harry Eakley. News of these people has never appeared, as far as we know, in this magazine.

CLASS OF 1912

Class Reporter: MRS. H. W. HOUSEKNECHT
(Maze Callahan)
108 W. Penn St., Muncy, Pa.

Here it is time for my report, due Monday, November 9th. The last time I was a couple of days late so "Buck" declared it a "hang-over" and published it in the "little paper rag" (Ed. Note: If more alumni contributed to the Alumni Fund the "little paper rag" could be a magazine) the next month. I didn't care because I felt the reunion guys should have first place. Do you know Buck is getting mean (Ed. Note: Correction, please, meaner) just like Frank Davis—"Don't do this"—"Don't do that."

Dr. Howard Johnson, the eighth pastor of North Frankford Baptist Church of Philadelphia, closed his pastorate on his 11th anniversary June 30. He is a graduate of Bucknell, Columbia, and North Dakota Universities and of Crozer Theological Seminary. He is a past president of the Frankford Ministerium, a vice president of the Baptist Union of Philadelphia and vicinity. He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, educational fraternity, Tau Chapter of U. of P. He has served Baptist pastorates, led conferences in summer youth programs, and has taught college. Howard is now residing at Forked River, a lake resort of N. J. He will be engaged in writing and part time public speaking.

Well, Pat Schrieber has retired and Howard Johnson semi-retired. That just makes me think. Did you ever hear of a housewife retiring? If so, let me know. Today's housewife is a combination cook, vacuum pilot, purchasing agent, business manager, interior decorator, seamstress, hostess and public relations counsel for the entire family with a little washing, ironing, dusting, dish washing, window washing, and baby sitting thrown in.

Pop thought he had to retire last March but on account of his "youthful appearance" the company gave him an extension of one year. When he does retire I am going to have a separate cage built for him because I just can't stand a man hanging around my kitchen, opening the refrigerator, lifting the lids off my cooking utensils, in other words sticking his nose in my business. If this plan doesn't work out I'll either apply for admission to the old ladies' home or hire a maid.

Last year a grandmothers' day was set aside in October. This year I didn't hear nor see a word about it. Anyway, the smart modern grandmother doesn't hid the fact that she has grandchildren—she advertises it. She buys herself a "grandmother bracelet," with each new addition to the family she adds a charm; a heart for a girl, a circle for a boy. Baby's name is engraved on one side of the disc, the birth date on the other. There are also grandmother books which are quite charming. Now all you kids who have children see that "granny" gets either a book or a bracelet.

By the way I've already asked Santa to bring me a rocking chair. Not that I'm an "old rockin' chair granny" because I'm still in the "lovable sixties," but when I reach the "sensible seventies" as Hal Boyle says, I want to be prepared.

Dave McNeal is still pulling them in for drunken driving. The other day I saw in the paper that he had hauled someone in for knife throwing. You know Dave is Justice of the Peace at Towanda.

Had a card from Bruce Butt '16 saying that he enjoyed my column. I wish the 1912ers would write their approval or disapproval.

Now a prayer for Thanksgiving!

"Thank Thee, God, for love that crowds each day,
And thank Thee, too, for simple things we find along the way.

For little children romping 'round,
For bird song, gay and happy sound.

Through sun and rain,
For friends to greet, loved ones near,
For songs to share, perchance a tear,
For strength to work, for gift to play,
For fireside at the close of day

And candlelight again!
Thank Thee, God, for all the lovely, simple things
That each day brings.

—Eleanor Frey."

I am passing on to all of you a Christmas wish that Howard Johnson sent to me last year:

A GREETING AND A WISH

"This is my Christmas greeting and wish for you. It has no value in the market and no great art in the making. But if it will mean to your heart what it means to mine at this Yuletide season, there will be in it a worth above money value and a beauty that art alone never gives.

I earnestly wish that every good thing brought into life by Christ may be yours; that you may have a heart of cheer, a spirit of hope and a life of service every day in 1954."

From all the Houseknechts a Happy Christmas Season and kindly include in your New Year's resolutions that you will send me some news.

In the words of Tiny Tim, God Bless You.

CLASS OF 1913

Class Reporter: MR. CHARLES L. SANDERS
76 Walnut St., Mifflinburg, Pa.

Registering in Carnegie Building on Homecoming Day at 11 a. m., I found no other '13ers names on the board. Later, after the luncheon, I saw Berkeley Hastings and chatted for a few seconds with him.

Marian Fischler left the teaching profession about five years ago and is now living restfully among hometown acquaintances and friends in her home town of Wellsboro. In her town on a business trip I spent an enjoyable half hour with her recalling names and characteristics of classmates, including facts about our reunion of which Marian was happy to hear. For a time she was not in desired good health, but she has recovered remarkably well and hopes to be with us for our next reunion. Sorry to say I did not immediately recognize her at the door, but when she spoke and smiled I felt as if I should have. Her address is 18 Kelsey St.

Karlton Hooker has retired from his position with the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania at Reading, where he was district plant superintendent. He and his wife spent the month of October with his son and family in Minnesota. There the three grandchildren, fishing and hunting chiefly occupied Carl's time. Another son, Joseph F. Hooker '42, who attended Bucknell for a time, gave his life in World War II. Because of Mrs. Hooker's hospitalization last June, Carl was unable to attend our 40th reunion. His address is 17 E. 36th St., Reiffton, Reading.

A new honor has come the way of Harry X. Kelly. His latest promotion makes him president of Mississippi Shipping Co., Inc. of New Orleans. The Class and the University extends best wishes to Harry on his latest achievement.

At the chapel exercises on October 28 our Rev. Dr. George Middleton was the speaker. Changed but little in appearance after all the years since graduation, he was typically George, brilliant in his address as we remember him on the hill. His topic "Seeing What Isn't There" held to close attention the packed audience in Beaver Memorial Methodist Church. After the service, Harold Shaffer and this reporter proudly shook George's hand, met Mrs. Middleton and their son, Lee, now a sophomore at Bucknell. It was an unforgettable hour indeed. As mentioned in a recent ALUMNUS, George is pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, Rochester, N. Y., in his thirty-second year of service there.

Admission of distress—six letters mailed recently with questions inviting news for the ALUMNUS. One has been returned to date. Shall your reporter shed tears alone, or will some other classmates join him in his sorrow? A class reporter's mail slot in the door awaits some letters evermore!

CLASS OF 1914

Class Reporter: MRS. H. B. WEAVER
(Dora Hamler)
348 Ridge Ave., New Kensington, Pa.

First, a reminder to mark June 12, 1954, on your calendar. Let's all plan a successful fortieth reunion. At our thirty-fifth reunion, Edna Whittam Glover was named chairman of arrangements. She will need our co-operation to make this event an outstanding success.

Norman W. Whited, 1104 Fairview Ave., South Pasadena, Calif., writes that since 1945 he has been structural engineer in the bridge and structural department of the city of Los Angeles. Norman received an LL.B. from George Washington University in 1935. During World War I, Norman served in the A. E. F. as a 1st. Lieut. in the Fiftieth Artillery. During World War II, as a Colonel, he had charge of construction with ordnance plants in Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana and served in the European theater with the combat engineers.

CLASS OF 1915

Class Reporter: MR. J. B. BATES
265 Green St., Millifburg, Pa.

Dr. Rudolph Peterson, who's scholarly influence touched the lives of thousands of Bucknell students in his 22 years on the faculty, died on July 29 after a lengthy illness. His retirement was reported in the September 1952 issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS (p. 16) and his death was reported in the October 1953 issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS (p. 3).

CLASS OF 1918

Class Reporter: MRS. LAYTON KING
(Elizabeth Champion)
301 Broad St., Montoursville, Pa.

No news of 1918 for several months? I just cannot use my imagination to that degree. So come on fellow classmates, send me some items of interest. Summer is past and we are enjoying the first snow of the season!

One faithful, and interested member of the class has written me. He is Alem P. Hull, Jr., of Montgomery. Alem operates Hull's Electric Center in Montgomery and is president of the Montgomery Water Co. He is a "sea-going man" who for a number of years has spent his summers cruising on the Chesapeake Bay with a U. S. Coast Guard unit. Young Alem at 20 is an officer of the U. S. Coast Guard stationed at Baltimore, Md., and expects to attend college at the expiration of his enlistment. Sons, Marshall and James are attending Montgomery High School.

Won't you please come to my rescue and send me news of yourself and any members of the class with whom you come in contact. I am counting on you.

LOOKING BACKWARD

Thirty Years Ago — 1923

Initial issue of new humorous magazine "BELLE HOP" makes a hit with twenty full pages of cartoons, wit and humor.

CLASS OF 1924

Class Reporter: MR. ALFRED G. STOUGHTON
12105 Atlantic Ave., Rockville, Md.

Earl S. Dunlap has established his own business, Lehigh Dyeing and Finishing Corporation, operating at Allentown. Earl received his professional degree of chemical engineering in 1934 and has been active in the dyeing and finishing of knit goods, including the newer synthetics, Dacron and Orlon.

His son, Earl, Jr., graduated from Brown and is now with American Viscose Corp., Lewistown. The Dunlaps reside at 316 S. 16th St., Allentown.

Dr. G. Merrill Lenox continues his outstanding contributions in bringing the church and church members into the everyday life of his community. As executive director of the Detroit Council of Churches he has recently authored a series of articles which appeared in the Detroit Free Press.

At the last meeting of the Lycoming County Bucknell Alumni Association at Williamsport, Rev. Malcolm V. Mussina was elected treasurer.

Stephen Terpak presented a paper at the American Institute of Electrical Engineers at the summer convention held in Atlantic City June 15-19.

CLASS OF 1923

Class Reporter: MRS. LeROY FRONTZ
(Olive Billhime)
Evergreen Farm, Allenwood, Pa.

The Bucknell community was shocked by a tragedy that took the life of two county residents on September 5. Guy R. Erdley, '31, husband of the former Jennie E. Stackhouse, was killed when a tractor he was driving plunged into an abandoned quarry. Guy, a well known local farmer was assisting in a hunt for Wallace Kreamer, a maintenance employee at the University, who was later found dead of a heart attack in a nearby field. When the alarm went out to search for Kreamer late Saturday night Mr. Erdley proceeded to search on his tractor using the headlights to light the area. The University extends heartfelt sympathies to the families.

CLASS OF 1926

Class Reporter: MISS ANNA L. BROWN
45 Wildwood Ave., Pitman, N. J.

Ken Slifer was the guest speaker at Laymen's Sunday services of the First Baptist Church, Hightstown, N. J., in October.

CLASS OF 1927

Class Reporter: MRS. L. H. COLLISON
(Grace M. Pfeiffer)
Marydel, Maryland

Have you ever—oh, I'm sure you have—looked and looked for mail that never—no never—did appear. Then you know just how I'm feeling after having sent out 30 cards to 1927'ers with replies, to date, from THREE. Have the other 27 been consigned to the waste basket, pigeoned-holed in some desk—or, worse yet, been lost in the mail? Or perhaps your thoughts coincide with this particular classmate who writes, "Perhaps everyone is like me—so swallowed up in mediocrity that we feel we have nothing to add—in middle age we become lethargic. My life is so routine that it is bound to be dull. Rise at 6:15 a. m., pack lunches, make beds, tear off to teach school, put in a hard day, return to the domicile, go through the ritual of dinner dishes, catch up on the evening news, check the bedding-down of offspring, and drop into bed. Now see, there is absolutely no newsprint in my history."

Agreed—we can't all be Julius La Rosa, but we do all of us have 26 years of living behind us that the rest of us would like to know about—so drop me a line, even if you're running a freight elevator and have recently been fired because you can't remember the route. We did hear that—

Raymond F. Brandiff is living at 4014 10th Ave., N., St. Petersburg, Florida.

Wilbur D. Brandiff, who transferred to Gettysburg after having attended Bucknell for one year, is now living at 112 W. 5th Ave., Collegeville. He is married, has one daughter in second grade, and is director of education at the Eastern Penitentiary, Graterford.

Please, I beg of you—don't leave my imagination putting you in the gouty, rheumatic, arthritic category, who can't even pick up a pen because of the numbness of your fingertips. Do drop me a line about you soon. It will be a grand Christmas surprise!

LOOKING BACKWARD

Twenty-five Years Ago — 1928

A ballot cast by the audience, gathered in Commencement Hall to hear the third international debate between Oxford and Bucknell, awarded the decision to Bucknell.

CLASS OF 1929

Class Reporter: MISS THELMA J. SHOWALTER
233 State St., Harrisburg, Pa.

Remember—June 12, 1954

Homecoming may not have provided the most satisfactory game as far as Bucknell was concerned, but it was a very successful day for the members of the Class of '29 who returned and joined us in the morning meeting or the luncheon at the gymnasium.

"Turk" Jones, Jessie Fielding Eyster, Charles Kalp, Martha VonNeida Waterbury, Clyde and Dorothy Lemon Bailey, Kenneth Bidlack, Allen Rarig, and "Vic" Meyer all showed and were really pepped up for our Silver Reunion next June. Of course, President Paul and your reporter were there.

The letters and cards which have come in response to Paul's recent letter have shown the true "Spirit of '29." From Houston, Texas, Helen Myerly Loman writes that she is enthusiastic about our reunion and is still a loyal Bucknellian although she transferred and was graduated from Penn State!

Horace "Hop" Sheppard is now living in Pompton Lakes, N. J., and says that we can count on him to contact the other '29ers in northern New Jersey.

Dr. Herbert Smith, Needham, Mass., hopes that his clerical duties will permit his being with us in June.

Bill Mahood, who is living in California, says he will definitely be on hand as he has been planning the trip for the last five years.

Remember Bucky Harris? Our distinguished member is now a doctor on the staff of the Rumbaugh Clinic at Kingston, and sends word that he will see us on June 12.

Ken Rounsley, who has had a distinguished career with the Navy and now with the Army engineers, is already planning to get away from his duties to join us.

And again we hear from Calif! Dick Nicholson, who is living in Palo Alto, hopes to get back after 25 years. Why not charter a plane for '29-ers from Calif? "Bucknell, here I come."

Gene Klinger, whose sons are attending Amherst and Tufts College, has promised that he will bring the two younger boys along next June, as he expects that at least one of them will come to Bucknell.

So, we are hearing from our classmates from far and wide, from North to South, East to West. Why not sit down now and write Paul or Charlie or your gal reporter? And do not forget to mention that you will be seeing us on June 12.

CLASS OF 1932

Class Reporter: MR. ELLIS F. HULL
Allentown, N. J.

"Pakistan at the Crossroads" is the title of an interesting article in The Christian Century of October 7 written by our Dr. George L. Abernethy. George, who is a professor of psychology at Davidson College, was awarded a fellowship at Columbia by the Ford Foundation and last year studied comparative religion, the Middle East and Pakistan. For a clearer understanding of the political, economic and religious backgrounds of Pakistan's problems we recommend George's article.

CLASS OF 1933

Class Reporter: MRS. ERNEST H. ENGELHARDT
(Janet Worthington)
375 College Hill, Bloomsburg, Pa.

At the beach at Eagles Mere Lake this summer was a beautiful cream-colored roadster and driving it Charlie Bidelspacher in sporty suit and glasses, in for a weekend with Marge, his daughter Ann and twin sons. Later at a dance that evening daughter Ann walked off with a trophy for the Lake Swim. (She achieves a perfect swan dive). She departed, leaving the trophy with her mother, Marge. Charlie looked at Marge holding the trophy. "Marge," he said, "you look like a champion." And she did—the mother of a fine family.

One of my best friends in college was Julia Hoffman Beighley who is now very active in community affairs. Her husband, Fay Beighley '34, is assistant general manager of the Williamsport division of Bethlehem Steel and an active member of the Rotary Club. Julia's sense of values, frankness, and lack of pretense have always endeared her to me. She is proud of Fay; Frances, 16 (nicknamed "Peachy"); Julie, 12; and Putter, their pug dog.

Another former Williamsporter, Margaret Huling who married Robert Wilson '35, is living at 338 East 5th Ave., Warren. Robert is supervisor of the Sylvania plant in Warren. The Wilsons have five children; Marjorie, 19, is majoring in physical education and science at Slippery Rock Teachers College; Bobby, a freshman at Lycoming College; Dick, 12, and the twins Donald and Douglas are 8. Margaret, an excellent student in mathematics, seems to have no difficulty in keeping shirts, socks, birthdays, and problems concerning five children in hand.

Linda Lutz, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lutz (Peggy Garret '36), modeled in the October fashion show sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution. Linda Lutz—quite a euphonious name.

John G. Mathews is still with the MacMillan Co. and lives from September 1 to mid June at 138 Woodside Village, Stamford, Conn. The rest of the time he and his wife Mildred are on board their cruiser and likely to be anywhere in Long Island Sound. The class of 1933 is glad to claim that cruiser, Johnnie!

Recently Muriel Marshall Miller walked off the next to the bottom step of her cellar steps at her home and cut her arm in fourteen places with a broken glass bottle losing a newly canned bottle of peaches. Who said these college girls aren't homemakers? And with homemaking she combines creative music. You should have heard her last December play an original composition in adoration of the Virgin Mary at the Christmas meeting of the American Association of University Women.

Walking down the main street in Bloomsburg, I spied Jane Williams in a passing car. I rushed into the street. The car stopped for a red light, she waved. The light changed. I heard her call, "we're moving from Nanticoke to Pittsburgh." Hadn't seen her in twenty years. She looked the same, which was always pretty good.

LOOKING BACKWARD

Twenty Years Ago — 1933

If any Bucknell student intends to drink hard liquor, made legal on December 5 by the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, he will find that the University's opposition is as strong as ever.

CLASS OF 1934

Class Reporter: MRS. WILLIAM S. LIMING
(Ruth Rohr)
396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., N. Y.

June 12, 1954 is the big day, Alumni Day and our 20th Reunion. Plan your vacations or leaves so you may see the many changes to Bucknell's 300 acres and have a bang-up time too. Bring your wives, husbands, sweethearts and youngsters. Let them share the fun and thrills you'll get renewing acquaintances and reliving the joys of college days at America's most beautiful campus. Maybe you've been back as I have then I needn't tell you how wonderful it still is but if you haven't you're missing a great deal and so are your loved ones. Last June I had a wonderful time at Bill's 20th seeing those friends we both had in the Class of '33, meeting their families and introducing our children to the campus, now we're waiting and hoping that enough of it seeped in so when they are ready for college it will be Bucknell. Eddie Myers, our genial class proxy, is busy planning along with Buck Shott so our 20th will be The Reunion.

Hope you've missed our class news enough to write even if only to bawl me out. Seems tho, I was ill and spent some time in the hospital and altho I can't show you my scars was unable to write the "begging for news letters" that class reporters do.

Harry C. Fithian, Jr. is the new president of the Lycoming County Alumni Club. Why not help him do a better job if you're in his area—get to those meetings.

Edward C. Myers is now assistant vice president in the industrial relations dept. of U. S. Steel Corp. Eddie has been affiliated with U. S. Steel since graduation. He resides in Pittsburgh with his wife Edna Cleckner Myers '33 and their lovely daughters Wendy and Sandra at 1236 Murray Hill Ave.

Lee A. Grove is now a Lt. Colonel, having graduated from the regular course, Command and General Staff College, Fort Worth. At present he is an instructor of Command and General Staff subjects (GI) at the Medical Field Service School, Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston. Lee and his family live at 619 Byrnes Dr., San Antonio, Tex.

Got a wonderful letter from Vince Wayland who is minister at the Church of Christ (Federated) in Warner, N. H., the town Life selected as New England's most typical town. He tells of the arrival of Kerell Powell Wayland on March 10 to join Vince, 12, and Cheryl Lynn, 8. Vince taught school for 5 years then attended Colgate-Rochester Seminary for 3 years, then 18 months in Ohio with the Baptist Home Mission Board; three years as minister to the Baptist students, civilian protestant chaplain to the V-12 unit and minister of the Oberlin, Ohio Baptist Church. Then nearly five years in Pittsburgh before New Hampshire. He and his wife Frannie have enjoyed every moment of it. Made me think when he recalled how we used to sit and listen to Dr. Karraker lecture on "Imperialism and World Politics." Little did we realize in our ivory tower then how important a part it would play in our lives.

Guess that's all for now. If any feel noble and would like to volunteer to make our 20th reunion the best ever please let Eddie Myers know pronto. Incidentally don't feel you have to be a huge success to write to me. Most of us have been plugging away and leading average lives; but wouldn't it be consolation to read about each other? I'm just a housewife with two live wire youngsters—busy with P. T. A., Girl Scouts, teaching Sunday school, absorbing culture at Woman's Club and A. A. U. W. and counting silver threads among the gold. Bill and I traveled to Easton with some friends to see the Lafayette game and I must confess I saw only old-timers or undergrads. How about more of us in-betweeners supporting our fine coach and his team. We can't always win but with more alumni at games we could cheer them along.

CLASS OF 1935

Class Reporter: MRS. FREDERICK A. STRALEY
(Metta Farrington)
Furnace Rd., R. D. 1, Lewisburg, Pa.

Mrs. A. P. L. Peters (Margaret Eleanor Weddell) kills two birds with one stone; when her young sons receive U. S. dollar currency as gifts she sends them as her contribution to the Bucknell Alumni Fund and gives the youngsters the equivalent South African currency, thus eliminating exchange charges. Pretty neat move, we think, and the fund appreciates the thoughtfulness. Peg is married to A. P. L. Peters who is an engineer with the Morgan Crucible Company Ltd. of London. The Peters family which includes two sons, Michael 7, and Christopher, 4, live at 60 Valley Road, Parktown, Johannesburg, South Africa.

CLASS OF 1938

Class Reporter: MRS. JOHN B. DEMPSEY
(Anne Culbertson)
377 N. Main St., Romeo, Mich.

Jeanne Kurtz Esser tells us of the arrival of a fourth of July present, a third boy.

George Porter is the new treasurer of the Washington, D. C. Alumni Club.

"C. H." Richardson has compiled a booklet "Ruminate with '38." If you haven't sent for yours, mail one dollar to the Alumni Office, available while they last.

Dr. Robert M. Streeter has been elected to membership in the Bucknell University chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary fraternity. Dr. Streeter is now an associate professor of English and chairman of the undergraduate English department at the University of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Travis announce the arrival of their first child, Malcolm Winfield, born February 15.

LOOKING BACKWARD

Fifteen Years Ago — 1938

One hundred and seventy voices, the largest mixed chorus in Bucknell history presents Handel's "Messiah."

CLASS OF 1939

Class Reporter: MR. DAVID R. BAGENSTOSE
Conestoga Rd., Wayne, Pa.

Donald Roselle and his bride Trudi (of two years) are both as proud as punch of their daughter, Constance Faith, born March 6. Don spent three years with the Air Transport Command as first lieutenant. Since the war, he has joined the H. L. Yoh Co., industrial consultants as mechanical engineer. Everything is "rosey" on the Roselle horizon.

Robert F. Seers was married to Elizabeth Shotsberger in 1947. Bob is now proprietor of the Buick agency after serving five and a half years as captain in military service.

Larnie B. Shaw married Francis Tomlinson in 1943 and they now have three daughters. Larnie received his master's degree at Temple University with psychology as his major. Since graduation he has been deep in the various activities of the tug boat business. Today he is secretary-treasurer and general manager of the L. B. Shaw Inc., engaged in marine transportation. At the moment they are moving oil and chemicals on the East Coast.

Robert H. Shipman is married to Mary A. Martz and is the father of two sons. After short hitches with the Procter and Gamble Company and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, Bob served as captain and procurement officer in the Ordnance Division of the U. S. Army. In June of '46 he joined Day and Zimmerman Inc. and is now director of purchases.

Dr. D. R. D. Shupe is deep in the general practice of medicine. Dave married Betty Jane Vance in 1943. They are parents of twins, David and Diane, as well as Sybil Kathleen. Dave spent thirty months as major in the Medical Corps serving in the E. T. O. Besides being president of the Florence Lions Club and superintendent of Florence Presbyterian Church Sunday School, Dave is an Elder of the Church and active in the York Rite Masonic Bodies, Knight Templar.

CLASS OF 1940

Class Reporter: MRS. JAMES A. MILLER
(Mary McCrina)
1220-E Brackenridge Apts., Lake Austin Blvd.,
Austin, Tex.

Isaac Miller has been elected president of the Williamsport Education Association.

If you enjoy these excerpts from a letter from Alice "Ted" Healey Savidge, which she says is a belated—or is it early—Christmas greeting, how about making your reporter's Christmas merry by writing too.

"Jean, 10, David, 8, and Doug, 6, add up to normal, delightful (they look so peaceful when sleeping), noisy problems which children have a habit of adding up to.

"I got to attend the Bucknell slum dinner held in connection with the American Baptist Convention. Had a good time—Ward Gage '38, Tony Vasquez '37, Ruth Graham Russell '38 of our generation at hand. Ken Dannenhauer '41 spent an afternoon with us as we explored new roads in the mountains.

"When east in November I visited with Art Calvin '38 and his family had a delightful visit. Marian Weinberger '42 came down from New Haven when we were all back in March—you can know that we talked and talked. Went on campus and had a good visit with the Bonds.

"We tried to locate John Zeller '41 with no success. But we did meet our heat man quite unexpectedly—since we had supposed he was still in Michigan—as we were leaving Zeller's home, and went over and visited with Bill and Julie."

pectedly—since we had supposed he was still in Michigan—as we were leaving Zeller's home, and went over and visited with Bill and Julie."

From the September Alumnus a report on the internship program of the National Institute of Public Affairs by Russell Hess:

"On leaving Bucknell, I came to Washington in the fall of 1940 to participate in the work study program under the aegis of the N. I. P. A. Incidentally, I am doubly indebted to the institute, because it selected a girl to be part of our intern group who subsequently became my wife and the mother of our three sons."

"The last two years it has been my privilege to be associated with the most daring and challenging federal program in the post-war era, the Point IV or technical cooperation program, in which I serve as executive officer for the Near East and independent Africa."

CLASS OF 1941

Class Reporter:
MRS. WILLIAM F. HASSELBERGER
(Jean Steele)
1518 Westmoreland Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kenneth Brown '42 (Evelyn Day) wrote to tell us of their third daughter, Arlene Jeanette, born July 3. Her sisters are Janice, 4, and Joanne, 2½. Congratulations! Their address is 1810 Griffith St., Phila. 11.

William W. Eitel, methods manager, has been appointed an officer by the Board of Directors of the Home Life Insurance Co., New York. Bill, a member of Kappa Sigma, began his career with Home Life in 1935 interrupting his service with the company to attend Bucknell where he earned the bachelor of arts degree. After a hitch with the Air Force, from which he was separated as captain, he returned to the Home Life Insurance Co. where he has made splendid strides.

Had a letter from Inza McNabb Dipert. Her address is 57 Ivy Lea, Kenmore 23, N. Y. Inza, when you come to Syracuse next time look us up. Inza went to Philadelphia for Ruth Howley's '43 wedding. Saw Jean Alston Wagner (Alston, let me hear from you) and Estella Howley '44, who were bridesmaids. Jean has a little boy, Walt, Jr.

Donald E. Wilson completed four years as an attache in the American Embassy at Wellington, New Zealand. He has been transferred to the Embassy at Copenhagen, Denmark. Don and his wife sailed from N. Y. on the S.S. Stockholm in October. He is connected with the United States Information Agency and will be in charge of disseminating information concerning the United States through radio news, magazine feature articles, and will also administer the Fulbright and other exchange scholarships.

Rev. Herbert E. Richards, husband of Lois Marcey Richards, received the honorary degree of doctor of divinity from the College of Idaho in May. His religious radio programs have a statewide audience in Idaho.

George L. Narber continues his popularity in the South recently elected vice-president of the Gulf States Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants, we now learn that he has earned a new title: City Councilman of Pensacola, Fla. Of course, George continues his service with the Armstrong Cork Co. in the Florida city.

Chester T. Winters '44 and his wife, the former Elizabeth Dyer, are now at the Baptist Church in the Great Valley, R. D. 1, Wayne. They have two children, Tommy, 4½, and Jean, 2½.

Thanks so much for the letters, its wonderful hearing from all of you—wish more of you would write!

CLASS OF 1943

Class Reporter: MRS. EARLE E. BENTON
(Norene Bond)
130 Effingham Pl., Westfield, N. J.

Dr. Russell McQuay is serving as head of the department of pathology at Mt. Sinai Hospital, Chicago, Ill.

Betty Newell writes that she and Ed Kelley were married on Oct. 25, 1952, in All Hallows Episcopal Church, Wyncote. They bought a house at 338 Hewett Rd., Wyncote.

It is with real regret that I must announce the death of our classmate, M. Francis Reardon, who died on April 23. While at Bucknell he was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

THE DIFFENDERFERS OF JOHNSTOWN, PA.
Here are the four children of James W. Diffenderfer, Jr. '43, and Sarah Fry Diffenderfer '41. Seated left to right are Margaret, Robert, Jane, and Tom.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Griffin have a son, Glenn Ward, born June 10. They also have a daughter, Nancy, 2.

One baby I am sure of is Lucy Anne King who was born on June 2, to Jimmy and Lucy Hoffman King. They are living at 6947 Horrocks St., Philadelphia 24.

George Jenkins and his wife, the former Elizabeth Morley, recently visited the campus. They are living in Dearborn, Mich., where George works for the Standard Oil Company of Detroit.

Johuney Johannerson was awarded the Ph.D. degree by Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland, O. in June 1953. Congratulations!

A card from Harriet Lynn Simmonds brings news that she was expecting her second child about reunion time last spring. Boy or girl, Harriet?

LOOKING BACKWARD

Ten Years Ago — 1943

The Bisons opened their cage season with a '29-'26 win over Penn State.

CLASS OF 1944

Class Reporter: MRS. ROBERT F. BAKER
(Honey Rhinesmith)
Lindys Lake, R. D., Butler, N. J.

A long distance call from Mary Lewis Strittmatter in September all but floored me. The previous week Mary Straus (Mrs. E. J. Millikin) had visited her and I guess they became nostalgic, hence, the call, and it was wonderful! (We all lived on 3rd floor elevation, Larison . . . over 13 years ago!) Mal and Ken adopted their second child this year—a daughter, Kim. Their son, Jere, is three. Bill and Dottie Bunnell Palmer and the children spent an afternoon with us during the summer. We also had a visit from Penny and Art Bald '43. Sandy Sanger '47 took time out to write of meeting Frank De Angelis, his wife and two children, in Carmel, Calif. In Sandy's words, "hadn't seen Frankie in 11 years. He's

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS is published in January, March, April, June, September, October and December by Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa.

Member—American Alumni Council

OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION

MRS. J. B. KELLY (Emily Devine '21), President, 1569 Metropolitan Ave., New York 62, N. Y.
PAUL E. FINK '29, First Vice President, 606 N. Arch St., Montoursville, Pa.
WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, Second Vice President, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York.
DAYTON L. RANCK '16, Treasurer, 35 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa.
JOHN H. SHOTT '22, Secretary and Editor, 116 Faculty Court, Lewisburg, Pa.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

PAUL E. FINK '29, 606 N. Arch St., Montoursville, Pa. (1954).
MRS. J. B. KELLY (Emily Devine '21), 1569 Metropolitan Ave., New York 62, N. Y. (1954).
LAWRENCE M. KIMBALL '23, Box 226, Vineland, N. J. (1954).
DANIEL M. ROOP '45, 19 Vine St., Danville, Pa. (1954).
KENNETH W. SLIFER '26, 177 Briar Hill Lane, Woodbury, N. J. (1954).
WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York (1955).
JOSEPH T. QUICK '38, Wright Rd., R. D. 2, Newtown, Pa. (1955).
MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh 6, Pa. (1955).
CLAIR G. SPANGLER '25, 214 N. Sixth St., Reading, Pa. (1955).
JOHN F. WORTH '37, 233 N. Galveston St., Arlington, Va. (1955).
MRS. BROWN FOCHT (Florence Utt '26), 229 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa. (1956).
BRUCE J. MILLER '27, 112 Devoe Rd., Chappaqua, N. Y. (1956).
ALLEN A. RARIG '29, 528 Lindbergh Way, Lewistown, Pa. (1956).
DONALD H. SHOLL '42, Munn Lane E., R. D. 1, Haddonfield, N. J. (1956).
P. HERBERT WATSON '37, 67 Prospect Ave., Norristown, Pa. (1956).

() Year Term Expires.

in the wax business in Sacramento with his brothers. He looks fine and has a lovely family." Visited Dud and Jean Newsom Waldner '46, in Montclair, where they bought a huge house, did a tremendous job redecorating it themselves, and deserve credit galore for their beautiful results. Margie Strouse Jones writes that Chuck '42 is now a assistant professor in family relations at the University of Illinois. He received his Ph.D. from Cornell in August. To quote Margie, "having a house is heavenly after a 2 bedroom apartment with the four children! Our address is 405 Hessel Blvd., Champaign, Ill."

Bob Keegan, big right handed hurler of the Chicago White Sox, spoke at a stag dinner held by the Chicago Sigma Chi's on September 23. Bob wound up his first season in the big leagues with a 7-5 record.

BIRTHS: A son, Andrew Kelton, on May 24, to Ralph and Betty Evans Franklin. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whiteheads '42 (Carol Sproul) have a son, Charles Edward, born September 9. Mr. and Mrs. Sid Perrys (Hope Woh-nus) have a daughter, Margaret Ann, born August 7. Mr. and Mrs. Burr Williamson (Sylvia Cliffe '45) have a daughter, Donna Louise, born September 10. The Charles Murphys (Ottillie Fredericks) have a daughter, Mary Margaret, born May 20. The Merle Smiths '49 (Rosemary Palmer) have a daughter, Clair Christine, born September 3. Mr. and Mrs. Ron MacPherson (Ruth Cooper) have a daughter, Gwendolyn Lee, born October 17.

Whew! Thank you again and again for all news. Happy Holidays from the four of us.

CLASS OF 1946

Class Reporter: MRS. WILLIAM HARSHBARGER
(Jeanne Phillips)
666 Osborne Ave., Morrisville, Pa.

The Rev. Edmund W. Fetter has become chaplain to protestant students at the University of Rhode Island and Executive Director of the University of Rhode Island Christian Association. Edmund is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Newton C. Fetter '09.

Dr. Harry H. Haddon, Jr. has enrolled at the University of Pennsylvania for post graduate work.

Dr. and Mrs. John H. Morton (Ruth Ireland) are the parents of their second child, a daughter, Nancy Lawson, born October 9. Their other child is a son, two years old.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Richardson (Jean DeGroat) have moved into their new home. Their address is Farist Road, Fairfield, Conn.

Dorothy Anne Steiner was married on September 19th to Dr. Grant E. Hunter, of Jeanette, Pa. They are living at 423 Culbertson St., Greensburg.

CLASS OF 1947

Class Reporter: ROGER S. HADDON, Esq.
243 Water St., Northumberland, Pa.

BIRTHS: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson announce the birth of a son, Peter, on May 14. Mr. and Mrs. Earle S. Pedigo, Jr. (Betty Snyder '49) have a son, Robert Earle, born April 22. Mr. and Mrs. James A. Donaldson '48 (Peggy Randolph) have a second daughter, Susan Lyn, born in May. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Warren (Isabelle Kent '43) are the parents of a son, Jeffrey Scott, born May 5.

CLASS OF 1948

Class Reporter: MISS JOANN GOLIGHTLY
106 N. Grove St., East Orange, N. J.

Now that Homecoming is over, what a weekend that was, let's get together at our local alumni meetings and support Bucknell.

Ruth A. Ellis received a degree of master of social work from the University of Pittsburgh in June.

Joann G. Golightly was recently elected secretary of the Metropolitan New York—New Jersey Alumni Club.

Robert W. Haigh received the degree, doctor of commercial science, from Harvard.

Russell W. Luck, recently discharged from the Air Force, has accepted a position as a research chemist with the Westinghouse Electric Corp., Pittsburgh.

William H. McChesney was elected treasurer of the Metropolitan New York—New Jersey Alumni Club.

Ruth E. Rice was recently married to John W. Garinger.

George Rifendifer and his wife thought we classmates would be interested to know that they have an eight year old daughter, Janet Lynn and a one year old son, George Richard, and can be addressed at 502 Highland Ave., Cheswick, N. J.

Albert E. Schmidt who had a bout with polio is back in his office at Wilkinson-Todd Insurance Service in Cleveland, where he serves as vice-president. Al and his wife, the former Edith Plumb, are the parents of Jimmy, 4, and Robbie, 2.

Harold "Steffie" Steft has been named football coach and instructor in math in the Minersville High School.

Dr. John W. Whitenight received the degree of doctor of osteopathy from the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy in June. John will be interning at the Harrisburg Osteopathic Hospital.

Richard J. Zott has been appointed field representative in the metropolitan New York area for the A. B. Murray Co., Inc., tubular steel products distributor of Elizabeth, N. J., and McKeesport.

Your reporter sailed on the Queen of Bermuda, with Eleanor V. Lemanski on June 13. We were met at the Elbow Beach Hotel by Dot Harrison '48 and Helen Harrison '53. Toured the "isle of coral" by bicycle, motor bike and Austin (on the left-hand side of the road, of course)—shopped in the capital, Hamilton, for the usual tourist bargains—ate extravagantly, then flew home all too soon via Pan American in just three hours!

Left to Right—Dorothy L. Harrison '48, Eleanor V. Lemanski, Helen Harrison '53, J. G. Golightly '48.

A most welcome and interesting letter came to me from Jeanette Loo Wong of Lake Hopatcong, N. J. Lindy and her husband, Kit Y. Wong, have a son, Richard Hsiang-Hua Wong, born January 28. Lindy also sends word that Carlos Tang graduated from the College of Dentistry, New York University and has gone back to Panama where he has opened his own dental office.

MARRIAGES: Elizabeth Billhime to Belmont G. Farley; Edmund A. Brummer to Betty Hamrick both on April 25. Jean Featherly to Brendan T. Byrne on June 27. Gladys E. Kurtz to Jerome Anderson on August 1.

BIRTHS: Mr. and Mrs. Norman Schaffer (Anita Coleman) have a second son, Thomas Lee, born May 9. Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Young '50 (Barbara Lehr) have a son, Russell Evan born June 3. A daughter, Robin Susanne, born January 17, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Scherer (Ruth A. Dusenbury '49). A daughter, Susan, born November 25, 1951, to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hochenedel

DECEMBER 1953

(Shirley J. Stokes). Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Derr, Jr. (Janet Wilbur) have a daughter, Sherry Kris, born January 30. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis (Florence Kreidler) have a son, John Eric, born June 29.

George J. Hermann has accepted the position of assistant professor of civil engineering in Bozeman State College, Bozeman, Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Clint Marantz (Audrey Johnson) are the parents of a son, Eric Milton, born June 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar E. Marbach (Dorothy Merritt) of 101 Holly St., Toms River, N. J., announce the birth of Philip Merritt on October 13.

Stephen S. O'Neil and Betty Kepner were married September 27. Steve is a sports writer on the staff of the Harriburg Patriot News. Mrs. O'Neil is a graduate of Geisinger Memorial Hospital School of Nursing.

LOOKING BACKWARD

Five Years Ago — 1948

The Bisons trip Swarthmore College's soccer team, 2-1, and thereby capture the Middle Atlantic Conference title.

CLASS OF 1950

Class Reporter: MRS. DAVID L. MILLER
(M. Jane Kreider)
614 Penn St., New Bethlehem, Pa.

Your reporter offers apologies for the absence of class reports in the last few issues of the ALUMNUS. She has been busy increasing the class census herself and wishes to report the birth of Ralph James Miller on June 7.

Dr. Drew A. Barrett has graduated from Pennsylvania State College of Optometry and his office is located at 28 W. Fourth St., Williamsport.

Rev. M. Edgar Datesman was ordained June 11 into the Presbyterian ministry as pastor of Port Alleghany Presbyterian Church, Port Alleghany.

William Fearen, who was seen on campus at Homecoming, received his degree from the University of Pennsylvania in June and will serve as law clerk to Chief Justice Stern, Pennsylvania Supreme Court for one year.

Charles Hall has been named athletic coach at the Pennsylvania Military Prep School, Chester. He will coach football, basketball and baseball.

Jack E. Hester is going to teach history and coach junior high basketball in the Montoursville High School.

John C. Hoover has been appointed youth work director at the Central Branch Y. M. C. A. in Atlantic City. John, who formerly taught in the Williamsport schools, now lives at 51 A. Atlantic Ave., Pleasantville, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Rickard (Marjorie Lawler '51) report that it's great to be home again from Rangoon, Burma, where John had been working for Smith, Kline and French Co.

Lt. (jg.) Malcolm Root is the executive officer of an ATF operating out of Newport, R. I. Friends and classmates can correspond with him at USS Lunsford ATF 156, c o F. P. O., New York, N. Y.

William Shaffer has been named assistant superintendent of Union County schools.

Edmund Sobolewski, a graduate student of Syracuse, is the recipient of a fellowship in chemical engineering sponsored by Solvay Process Division, Allied Chemical and Dye Corp.

Bruce Starr has been elected a member of the faculty of Ralpho Township High School.

Among the familiar faces at Homecoming Weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Irv Williams (Ellie Leiper). Irv is hoping to enter medical school in the near future. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jackman '49 (Shirley Mathieson) were showing off pictures of their two boys, Teddy, 2½ and Billy, 9 months. They have just moved into their new home at 1471 Frances Lane, Plainfield, N. J.

We recently received word that Mr. and Mrs. Edward Yancavage '52 (Ruth Ramsay '50) are living at 33 Myrtle St., Springfield, Mass. Ed is working in the plastics division at Monsanto Chemicals.

MARRIAGES: John P. Marcinek and Margie Gribbin, May 20; S. Karl Miller and Emily L. Evans, May 9; George W. Stanton to Sara L. Baumgardner '52, June 20; William Webber to Elizabeth Brough, June 10; William White to Rose M. Sibley, April 5; Glenna M. Godley to William B. Nolle in June; James L. D. Roser to Katherine Stantoin in August; William Wolensky to Anne Morrison in July; June M. Miles to John F. Collins in September; Lester L. Murray and Jacqueline Shult, August 8.

BIRTHS: A daughter, Karen, born October 10 to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ireland (Catherine Klotz '51); Mrs. and Mrs. John K. Thamman, Jr. have a son, John Charles, born September 3; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Yarnall, Jr. (Dorothy Judd '49) have a daughter, Jean Patricia, born July 8; A daughter, Linda Ann, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Conrad, Jr. on August 18, 1952; A daughter, Lisa Stone, to Mr. and Mrs. John Jefferson (Sydney Anderson) in July; A daughter, Lanamarie Nancy, born July 6, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bean.

DEGREES: Bernard Dohrmann, bachelor of laws from Franklin Thomas Backus School of Law, Western Reserve; David B. Fawcett, Jr., bachelor of laws from the University of Pittsburgh; Harman L. Kuster, Jr., bachelor of divinity from Drew University; Floyd E. Romesberg, doctor of philosophy from University of Cincinnati Graduate School of Arts and Sciences; Dale Derr, bachelor of laws from Harvard.

CLASS OF 1951

Class Reporter: MISS FRANCES WILKINS
Apt. 74, 1316 New Hampshire Ave., Washington D. C.

William S. Reitz, Jr. is now a lieutenant with the Air Force and is serving in Europe.

Ronald E. Rinehart received a master of science degree in physics from the Pennsylvania State College on June 4, 1953.

Jim Stanton spent the last six months as a cook with the U. S. Bureau of Fish and Wildlife in Alaska but expects to return to the University of Washington this fall to continue his work in dramatics.

MARRIAGES: Walter J. Hall, Jr. to Anna M. Beitzel on June 21. William T. Musser to Ethel L. Fisher on June 28. Audrey T. Nichodemus to Dr. William L. Eubanks on June 27. Arthur L. Troast to Katherine S. Webster on June 27. May B. Williamson to Raymond L. Britton on June 20.

BIRTHS: A son, Robert, on March 3, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Benjamin. A daughter, Marcia Lynn, on January 20, to Mr. and Mrs. Allen R. Malcolm (Thelma F. Jessie). Mr. and Mrs. James H. Case (Peg Caugherty) have a son, James Hyder, born February 17.

A daughter, Pamela Rose, born April 7, to Mr. and Mrs. W. Dale Hay (Norma Hunsinger). A son, Howard R., born February 2, to Mr. and Mrs. George R. Walsh (Jean Borden). A son, Ernest Louis III, born June 17, to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Petersen, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kiningham (Pamela Watts) have a son, Daniel Watts, born January 21.

DOT HAWKINS ON THE DOCKS AT PORT OF BELEN, IQUITOS

Dot Hawkins as she appeared while entertaining her parents in Peru last summer. Dot is serving in the Disbursing Office of the American Embassy in Lima. She plans to be back in the U. S. in June 1954 (see you at Alumni Weekend on the campus June 12, Dot) and can't wait to see lots of baseball games and cheer for the good old Phillies.

CLASS OF 1952

Class Reporter: MISS BARBARA SEGELKEN
26 Fairmount Ave., Morristown, N. J.

The Class of 1952 joins in expressing its sincere sympathy to the family of 2nd Lieutenant William R. Hansman, USMCR, who was killed during the final hours of the Korean war. His many friends will remember Bill as the president of Theta Chi. The news of his death has come as a great shock to all of us.

Donald A. Anderson has been commissioned a second lieutenant following graduation from the 26-week Engineer Officer Candidate School at Fort Belvoir, Va.

We have recently learned that Lt. John B. Keeley, husband of Catherine Bill Keeley, is now stationed in Korea.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Snyder (Fay Adams '44) are the parents of three children: James Harry, Beth Ellen, and Edward Adams, who was born in July.

CLASS OF 1953

Class Reporter: MRS. JAMES A. CHAMBERS, JR.
(Barbara Roemer)
Boulevard Apts., 8 Clark St., Lodi, N. J.

Joan Harris and William Taylor '52 were married on June 27 and are now residing at 895 A Boulevard, New Milford, N. J.

Nancy Heiss has returned home after an European tour. Nancy will teach at an elementary school in Wayne this fall.

Harry A. Kurtz was married to Lillian M. Welti on June 14, 1952.

Gilbert F. Norwood is serving as a doctor with the U. S. Air Force in Japan.

Nancy Valentine and Stephan Terrel '52 were married September 12 and are now living in Rutherford, N. J.

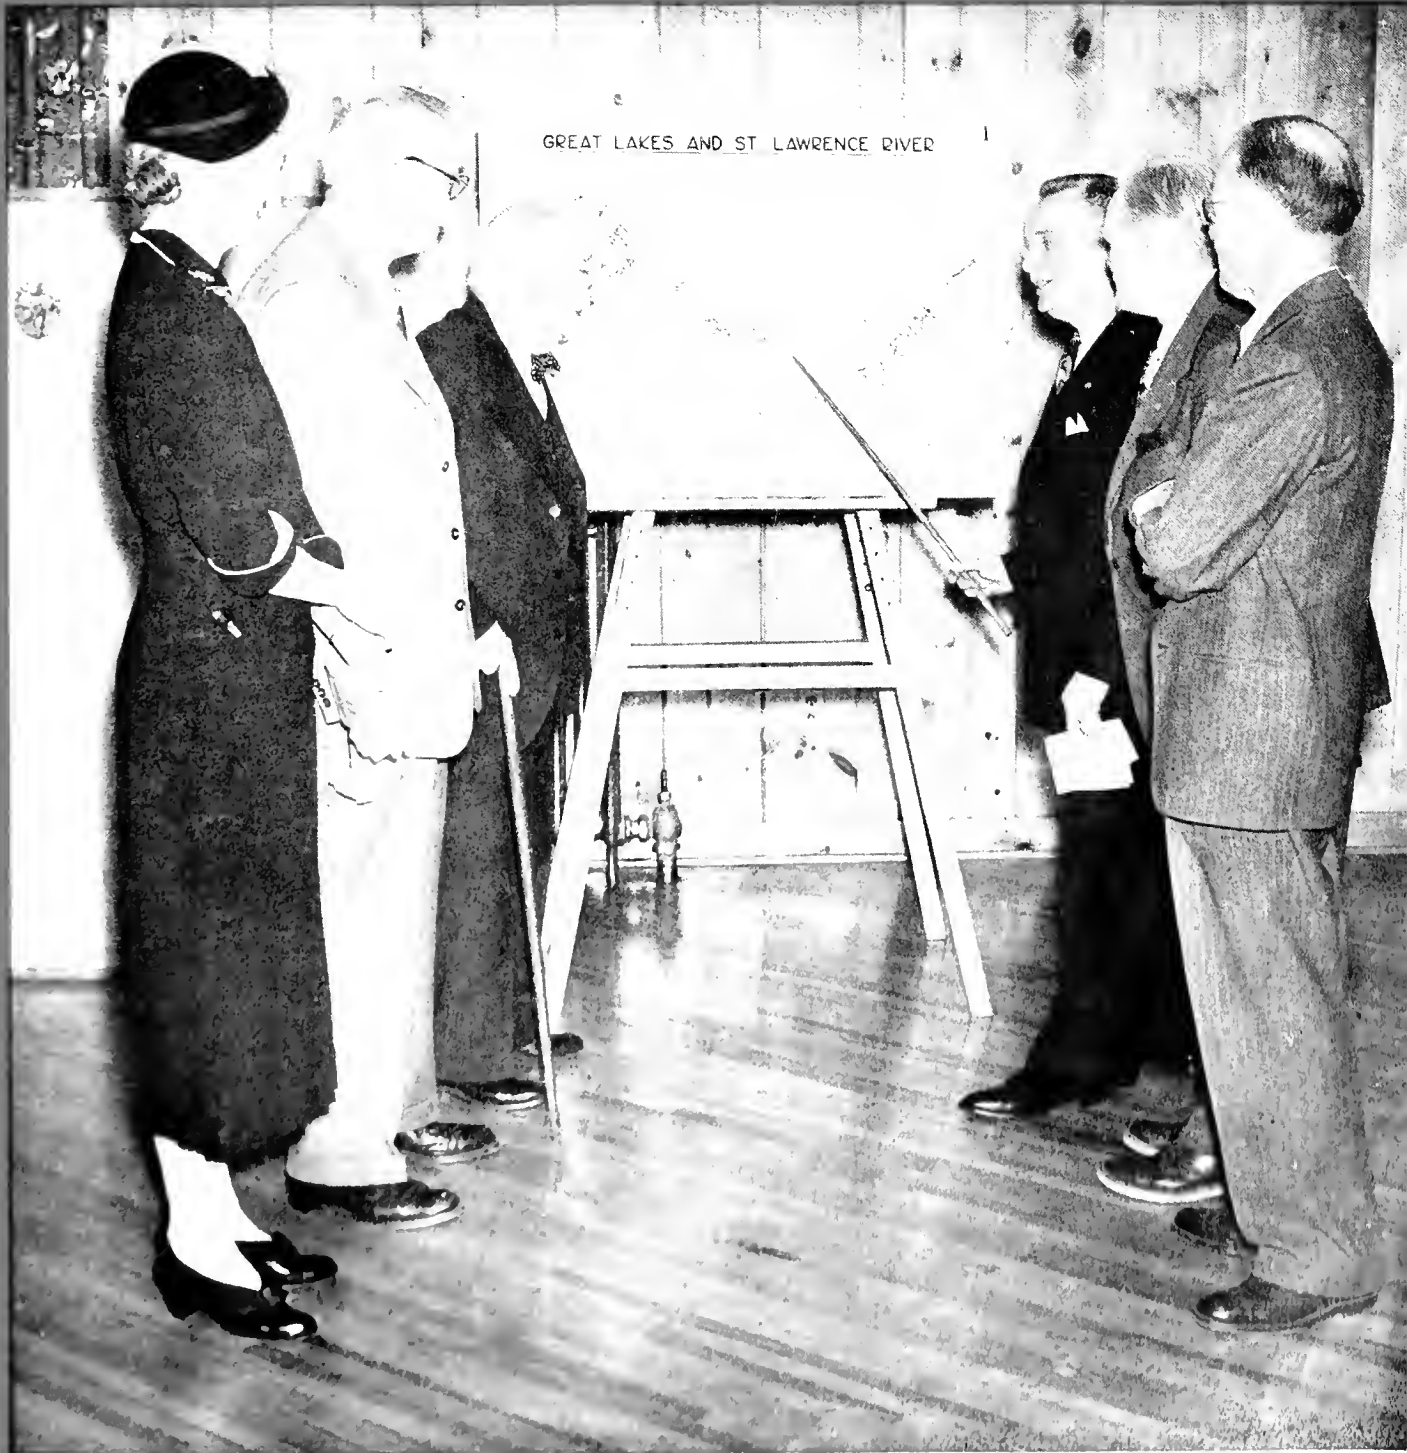

On behalf of the campus family—students, faculty, administration—I say “A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year” to you and you and you—Bucknellians and friends of the University round the world.

We appreciate and thank you for the wholehearted spirit and the generous help you have given Alma Mater during the past year. Best wishes to each of you for a happy holiday season and a year of superior achievement in 1954.

Mrs. Emily Devine Kelly '21,
President, General Alumni Association

The
BUCKNELL
ALUMNUS

MARCH 1954

THE PUPIL BECOMES TEACHER

SEE PAGE 2

DADS vs. GRADS

Pictured above is what seems to be a private tussle between Al Fenton and Buck Shott. Such is not the case! This is a BIG fight—and YOU are in it. Actually, the picture symbolizes a contest being waged between the Bucknell University Fathers' Association and the Bucknell Alumni Fund. Al, secretary of the Fathers' Association, and Buck, director of the Alumni Fund, are just standing in for their respective organizations.

The hassle really started last fund year when the Bucknell Dads made a threat to build the Fathers' Loyalty Fund to a higher dollar total than the total amount of the Bucknell Alumni Fund. With some 2200 Fathers competing against 15,000 Alumni, it looked for a time as though the Dads would turn the trick. However, the Alumni pulled away approaching the wire and came up with a final $21,000 against $13,000 for the Dads.

Thereupon, the Dads decided to issue a formal challenge to the Grads and offered the trophy to the fund which shows the greater improvement in 1953-54. The most equitable basis for this competition seemed to be the percentage of improvement in participation between the two funds.

The trophy has been donated by John D. Knies of Bethlehem, vice president of the Fathers' Association. No silver loving cup this. A unique combination of cast iron pipe, steel flanges, with steel rods for handles, this 25-lb. steel grey pot must be added to the awards owned by the Bucknell Alumni Fund, say the Alumni. The Dads are just as sure the trophy will be added to their loot.

Based on results to December 31, the mid-point in the fund year, 786 Alumni or 5.3% have enrolled in the Alumni Fund effort compared with 2.9% at the same point last year. But the Dads have likewise improved their standing, with 4.7% enrolled this year against 3.1% on the same date last year.

At first glance it looks as though the Alumni stalwarts are leading by a comfortable margin. But the statisticians are quick to point out that the Grads are playing at great odds; for each 1% increase the Grads must find about 150 new givers to the Alumni Fund while the Dads can gain 1% with each 23 givers. However, the Grads have a veritable army of prospects as compared with the Dads.

From now until June 30, 1954 Al and Buck will be tugging at opposite handles of that trophy and angling for every tactical advantage they can muster but the final victory lies with YOU and YOU and YOU. Says Buck, "Alumni victory is assured if every Bucknell guy and gal who gave last year comes through again and if everyone who didn't contribute last year climbs on the band-wagon NOW."

The Cover Picture — Dr. Earl M. Richards '13, M.S. '19, Honorary D.Sc. '46, explaining the St. Lawrence Waterway Project to his former teachers. (l. to r.) Miss Mary H. Hunt, Dr. Frank E. Burpee, Professor Frank M. Simpson, Dr. Richards, Dr. Lewis E. Theiss, Dr. Floyd G. Ballentine.

In This Issue

	Page
Alumni
Albert F. Buffington '28	9
John N. Feaster '30	9
Edward M. Greene '95	7
Franklin D. Jones '19	7
Reginald P. Merridew '37	9
Robert E. Streeter '38	23
C. Roger Test '52	5
Alumni Fund Report	5
Alumni Office Visitors	23
Alumni Trustee Election	6
Alumni Will Vote in April	7
Bison Bows to:	22
Book Shelf	5
Class Reports	13-20
Club Activities	11-12
Dads vs. Grads	2
How to Eat Your Cake and Have It Too	10
Letters	5
Dr. Magalhaes in England	10
Olin Foundation Gift	3
Progress of the Second Century Program	4
Reunions, June 1954	12
Sports	8
We Visit Bucknellians in Europe	21
What Our Readers Like and Dislike in the Magazine	10

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

Vol. XXXVIII—No. 5 March 1954

Published in January, March, April, June, September, October and December by

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Entered as second-class matter December 30, 1930, at the post office at Lewisburg, Pa., under the Act of August 24, 1912.

Student Editorial Assistant:
SARA JANE ANDERSON '54

Second Century Program Aided by Olin Foundation Gift

At a special convocation in the Davis Gymnasium on Friday, January 15, the University and community were thrilled with the electrifying news that a gift from the Olin Foundation of $900,000 will permit the early construction of a new science building to house the departments of chemistry, physics, and mathematics.

The new structure (architect's drawing at top of page) will be built of brick along architectural lines similar to the other main buildings on the campus. Its location will be on College Hill directly opposite the Engineering Building. The structure will contain approximately 600,000 cubic feet.

Dr. Joseph W. Henderson, acting president and chairman of the Board of Trustees, in accepting the gift in the name of the University, pointed out that it reflected great credit upon the quality of the college academic program.

"Our University has had a splendid reputation in the sciences even though operating without the modern facilities which this grant will make possible," he declared.

The Olin Foundation, whose headquarters are in Minneapolis, Minn., was established in 1937 by the late Franklin W. Olin, well known chemical manufacturer, a graduate of Cornell University. A native of Vermont, Mr. Olin moved to the middle west early in his business career, where he started building powder mills. He amassed wealth, and when in his eighties, set up the foundation bearing his name to "provide a program to train men for useful living." He ordered that none of the foundation's money be used for propaganda purposes, and said that it should go instead only to charity or educational organizations.

Dr. Charles L. Horn, who is president of the Federal Cartridge Corporation as well as being president of the Olin Foundation, Inc., made the presentation at the special convocation. He pointed out that the foundation first became interested in Bucknell through Rowland

Henry Coleman '29, son of Bucknell's vice president and dean, Dr. William H. Coleman. On June 3, 1952 Dean Coleman wrote Mr. Charles L. Horn, president of the Olin Foundation, presenting Bucknell's need for a modern science building. He was referred to Mr. James O.

Dr. Charles L. Horn, president of the Olin Foundation, Inc., and president of the Federal Cartridge Corporation, shows the architect's drawing of the new F. W. Olin Science Building. (L. to R.) are Dr. Dayton L. Ranck '16, vice president and treasurer of the University; Mr. James O. Wynn, vice president and counsel of the Olin Foundation, Inc.; Dr. Joseph W. Henderson, acting president and chairman of the Board of Trustees of Bucknell; Dr. Horn, Dr. William H. Coleman, vice president and dean of Bucknell University.

Wynn of New York, vice-president of the Foundation. A conference with Mr. Wynn followed. Months later Mr. Wynn visited Bucknell to inspect our science facilities. After much correspondence and several conferences, the Foundation decided to make the grant. In all, the negotiations embraced a period covering a year and seven months.

Announcement of the gift, largest single contribution ever made to Bucknell, came at a special convocation attended by more than 2,000 students, teachers and administrative leaders. The new structure will include a central auditorium seating 212 students, numerous laboratories, classrooms, offices for staff members and workshops.

Of the foundation's $900,000 gift, $125,000 has been allocated for the purchase of new equipment to supplement that now available.

At present physics classes meet in the basement of East College and in a temporary annex; mathematics classes are held in the Annex of 105-year old Taylor Hall. The present chemistry building, constructed 60 years ago, is no longer adequate for present-day needs, Dean Coleman pointed out.

Dayton L. Ranck, vice president and treasurer, told the enthusiastic audience that preliminary plans are already well under way by J. Frederick Larson, the university architect. Construction will begin as soon as possible, and the building should be completed for use in September, 1955.

Friday's meeting was a surprise convocation, not announced to students or faculty until a short time before it took place. Persons on the campus said it was the first time in the modern-day history of Bucknell that such a convocation had been held.

In the audience were 1,850 students, 140 faculty members and administrative leaders along with wives of faculty members and others.

Progress on the Second Century Program

The erection of the F. W. Olin Science Building will mark the halfway point in the University's Development Program for Bucknell's Second Century. The first item in this program was the new heating plant, which was put into operation in 1949. The second project in the program was completed in 1951, with the erection of the Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library.

It is interesting to note that these first three items have been obtained from three different sources. The Heating Plant was made possible by a fund-raising campaign which produced nearly $800,000 from thousands of Alumni and Friends of the University. The Ellen Clarke

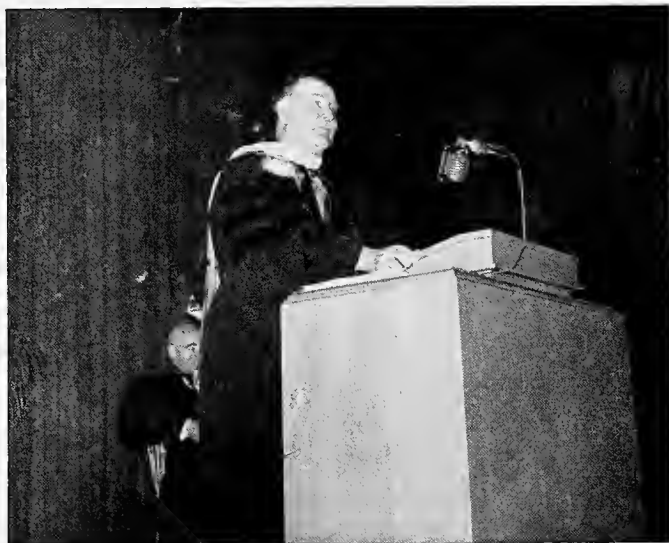

In the meantime, more immediate needs face the University. The most pressing of these are the remodeling of Taylor Hall and the erection of a new men's dormitory. Taylor Hall, the old Academy Building, must be completely rebuilt. Originally this job was estimated at $200,000, including new equipment. A quiet effort has been made over the past two years to obtain these funds and the University is hopeful of being able to start work on the building in June, despite the fact that the price of the job has risen by $25,000.

The erection of a new men's dormitory has been the subject of a great deal of preliminary planning but the decision as to when the building will be started must await the completion of the financing plan.

Preliminary specifications call for the erection of a U-shaped building to provide dormitory space for about 225 men students. Adequate lobby and lounge space are included in the plans. A feature of the building will be a kitchen and cafeteria suitable for providing food service to the occupants of the dormitory.

The job is not an impossible one, but neither is it easy. And more dormitory space for men is a paramount need, both from the point of view of study conditions and from the point of view of comfort and convenience of male students. Last year the University dormitories housed 559 men. For far too long there has been double occupancy in single rooms. The atmosphere generated by present crowded conditions is not conducive to scholarship.

These are difficult problems, but the same applied to the heating plant, the library and the science building. Bucknell has developed too much momentum to stop now.

Dr. Charles L. Horn, president of the Olin Foundation, Inc., announcing the $900,000 gift to the students and faculty at the special convocation on January 15.

Bertrand Library was realized through the generosity of a small group of individuals, notably the member of the Board of Trustees for whom the building is named. The F. W. Olin Science Building has come from a private foundation because of an alert Alumnus-Administration combine that had the University's future constantly in mind.

Of the six items originally listed as the goals of the Second Century Development Program, three remain to be realized. They are a Chapel-Auditorium, a Social Science building and additions to the Men's Gymnasium. How and when these buildings are obtained will depend in large measure on the alertness of every person who has ever come to know and love the University.

Merck & Company, manufacturing chemists of Rahway, N. J. and Danville, have inaugurated the Merck Lecture Series at Bucknell which began February 11. The seven lectures open to the general public, will be slanted towards Bucknell students and personnel of the Merck plant at Danville.

* * * *

Nineteen pre-medical students of Bucknell University have been accepted by medical schools for graduate work next fall. Eight of the students will attend Temple Medical School, three at Jefferson Medical College, and the remaining eight will attend other medical schools in the United States.

BOOK SHELF

WARFEL, Harry R. '20, Editor

Letters of Noah Webster

New York: Library Publishers, 1953

In Noah Webster: Schoolmaster to America (1936), Professor Warfel established himself as an authority on the famous lexicographer, and in this selection of 188 letters he is able to point up Webster's place in the Post-Revolutionary scene.

Though Webster (1758-1843) is justly known primarily as a dictionary-maker and as a schoolmaster to America, he was also a vivid, petulant commentator on the politics, the economics, the science, and the religion of his day. In 1786 he wrote to George Washington: "I must write: it is a happiness I cannot sacrifice." By 1843 Webster the scholar and partisan had happily and colorfully written numerous books, magazine and newspaper articles, and letters. His wide reading made him a full man; his vanity and cholera made him an arrogant writer. It is no wonder that one of his contemporaries called him "the critic and cockcomb-general of the United States."

Included in Professor Warfel's edition are open and private letters to Madison, Hamilton, Jefferson, Franklin, and Daniel Webster. A rabid Federalist, Noah Webster wrote to Jefferson a caustic letter reviewing the first six months of Jefferson's first term. (Webster elsewhere convincingly claims that he was among the very first to suggest certain doctrines of Federalism). An anti-British nationalist, Webster wrote a series of polemical letters to Joseph Priestley, whose two pamphlets addressed to the inhabitants of Northumberland, Pennsylvania were considered by Webster to be anti-American and anti-Federalist.

The letters give an intimate view of the difficulties Noah Webster had to overcome before publishing, in 1828, An American Dictionary of the English Language, which Professor Warfel says is "the first monumental scholarly work completed by an American citizen."

In his informative introduction, Professor Warfel puts into perspective Webster's contributions to philology. The introduction might well have made clearer, however, that by modern standards Webster is hardly a linguistic scientist. For example, Webster believed (p. 48) that "Greek, Latin, English, and other European languages were all derived from the same root, the Celtic"; and the learned man was not always aware of the best philological work of his contemporaries. He nevertheless was surely the best lexicographer of his time, especially in the power to define words.

Professor Warfel's notes to the letters and to the names mentioned in them are useful; my quick test of the accuracy of the two indices proved successful. His text, though it slightly modifies the original documents, is essentially exact. The dedication to Professor Leo L. Rockwell, his "mentor and friend," is of course appropriate.

In the Letters, Professor Warfel helps the reader to know Webster better and to catch some direct glimpses of the formative years after the Revolution.

— HARRY R. GARVIN,

Associate Professor of English,
Bucknell University

Hugh D. Sims, professor of chemical engineering at Bucknell, recently returned from the annual meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers in St. Louis, Mo. Mr. Sims participated in the session for the counselors of student chapters of the organization.

MARCH 1954

Report of 1953-1954 Alumni Giving by Classes

Gifts received from July 1, 1953—January 31, 1954

Class	Number of Contributors to Fund and Capital Gifts	Total Contributions	Alumni Fund	Capital and Other Gifts	Class	Number of Contributors to Fund and Capital Gifts	Total Contributions	Alumni Fund	Capital and Other Gifts
Emeritus Club (Classes 1874-1903)
1886	1	$ 25.00	$ 25.00	$	1922	17	$ 305.00	$ 205.00	$ 100.00
1887	1	10.00	10.00		1923	14	208.00	158.00	50.00
1889	2	8.00	8.00		1924	19	459.00	209.00	250.00
1890	1	20.00	20.00		1925	17	425.00	275.00	150.00
1891	2	45.00	45.00		1926	20	618.00	418.00	200.00
1892	1	404.69	404.69		1927	18	417.50	267.50	150.00
1893	2	10.00	10.00		1928	21	344.50	194.50	150.00
1894	3	30.00	30.00		1929	22	523.00	423.00	100.00
1895	5	138.00	38.00	100.00	1930	17	213.00	213.00
1896	3	560.00	60.00	500.00	1931	26	893.00	293.00	600.00
1897	1	25.00	25.00		1932	16	417.50	217.50	200.00
1898	2	55.00	55.00		1933	21	383.00	333.00	50.00
1899	5	32.00	32.00		1934	11	307.00	207.00	100.00
1900	4	67.00	67.00		1935	15	169.00	169.00
1901	6	752.50	315.00	437.50	1936	18	803.00	103.00	700.00
1902	3	65.00	65.00		1937	20	384.00	284.00	100.00
1903	8	108.00	108.00		1938	12	173.00	173.00
Total Emeritus	49	$ 2,355.19	$ 1,317.69	$ 1,037.50	1939	22	372.00	372.00
1904	8	128.00	128.00		1940	21	201.50	151.50	50.00
1905	9	195.00	195.00		1941	24	179.00	179.00
1906	7	168.00	68.00	100.00	1942	28	193.50	168.50	25.00
1907	11	182.00	132.00	50.00	1943	27	268.50	158.50	110.00
1908	15	4,438.00	438.00	4,000.00	1944	17	120.50	70.50	50.00
1909	10	289.00	189.00	100.00	1945	16	117.00	102.00	15.00
1910	13	217.50	177.50	40.00	1946	22	138.50	138.50
1911	12	913.00	113.00	800.00	1947	33	150.00	150.00
1912	9	114.50	114.50		1948	31	339.00	139.00	200.00
1913	14	10,766.00	266.00	10,500.00	1949	52	329.00	329.00
1914	8	662.00	162.00	500.00	1950	38	241.05	241.05
1915	9	182.50	82.50	100.00	1951	32	223.50	223.50
1916	15	238.00	238.00		1952	42	243.00	243.00
1917	13	305.00	255.00	50.00	1953	30	121.00	121.00
1918	10	73.00	73.00		1954	5	23.00	23.00
1919	18	320.00	320.00		Friends, Faculty and Administration	5	100.00	100.00
1920	14	779.00	704.00	75.00	Totals	1009	$33,168.24	$12,315.74	$20,852.50
1921	15	440.00	290.00	150.00

FOR COMPARISON

	No. of Donors	Amount Contributed
This year—7/1/53 to 1/31/54	1009	$12,315.74
Last year—7/1/52 to 1/31/53	630	6,868.09

THE FUND YEAR CLOSES ON JUNE 30, 1954

LETTERS

(Editor's Note): We like to print letters from alumni. Why don't you write us a letter that can be printed here? We will even find space for constructive criticism. No propaganda, please—except programs to make Bucknell stronger and stronger and Bucknellians more and more loyal. Hold your letters to 300 words, or less, please.

26 December 1953

Gentlemen:

I graduated with the class of June, 1952 and in October of this year my wife and I became parents of a girl, Marjorie Rae. Since I will ever be grateful for the opportunities to which Bucknell opened the door for, I am very much interested in my child or children being afforded the same educational opportunities.

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS is forwarded to me regularly by my father and in the latest issue a small article concerning a type of educational endowment aroused my attention. This strikes me as a fine idea and I am very much interested in your plan. There are a few questions which I should like clarified, however:

1. What is the amount of the payments?
2. How many payments per year and for how long a period?
3. At what rate is interest payable and can it be accrued or is it refunded in premiums.
4. In the event that unforeseen circumstances preclude the beneficiary's attendance at Bucknell, what are the provisions for a refund?

Very truly yours,

ENSIGN C. ROGER TEST '52
Disbursing Officer
USS Mississippi (EAG 128)

Alumni Trustee Election

The Committee for the Selection of Alumni Trustee Candidates presents for your consideration the names of three Alumni to be balloted upon in April, 1954. We present below the names, pictures and biographies of the proposed candidates. Early in April ballots will be mailed to all Alumni whose addresses are known to be correct. The return envelope will be a combination mailer, providing for the return of the ballot and a contribution to the Alumni Annual Giving Program—BUT

YOU DO NOT NEED TO CONTRIBUTE TO BE ELIGIBLE TO VOTE. The voter will open the envelope at an indicated place, mark the ballot, insert it in the envelope, enclose a contribution to the Alumni Annual Giving Fund—if you have not made a gift since July 1, 1953, and feel inclined to do so—seal, and mail it. No postage required. On receipt at the Alumni Office the secrecy of the ballot will be maintained by separating the name and address of the voter from the ballot after which it will be placed in a locked ballot box. Balloting will end on Saturday, May 15, 1954. During the following week, a committee of alumni will open the locked ballot box, tally the votes and certify the results to the Board of Trustees.

Please read the biographies printed below and kindly retain this copy of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS for ready reference when you receive your ballot. Only the names and photographs will appear on the ballot.

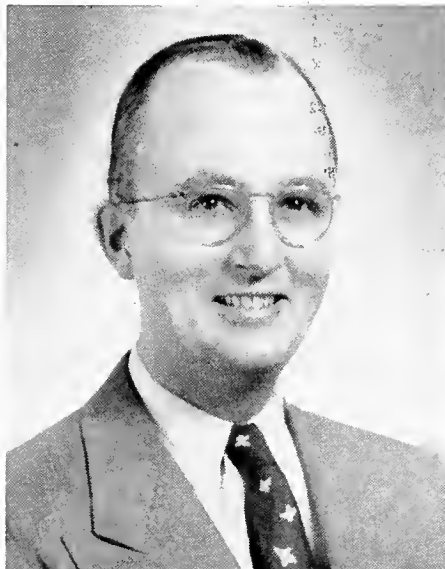

GEORGE LAWRENCE ABERNETHY
518 N. Main Street
Davidson, North Carolina

College Record: A.B. (cum laude) 1932 Bucknell University; Scholarship in Philosophy, Oberlin College 1932-33; M.A. 1933 Oberlin College; Fellowship in Philosophy, University of Wisconsin 1933-34; Fellowship in Philosophy, University of Michigan 1934-36; Ph.D. University of Michigan 1936; Faculty Fellowship, Fund for Advancement of Education (Ford Foundation), for study in Comparative Religion at Columbia University 1952-53.

Professional Experience: Professor of Philosophy, Culver-Stockton College 1936-40; Professor of Philosophy and Psychology, University of South Dakota 1940-46; Professor of Philosophy, Davidson College 1946 to date.

Organizations: President of Culver-Stockton, University of South Dakota and Davidson Chapters of American Association of University Professors; President of North Carolina Philosophical Society 1951-52; Chairman, Southern Hazen Conference 1951; Member of American Philosophical Association, Southern Society for Philosophy and Psychology, American Sociological Society and Rural Sociology Society.

Personal Record: Born August 23, 1910, West Orange, New Jersey; married Helen McLandress August 25, 1936; children: Robert John February 28, 1940; Jean Helen September 27, 1942.

JOHN CHRISTIAN DECKER
99 Parkwood Street
Williamsport, Pennsylvania

College Record: A.B. 1936 Bucknell University; LL.B. 1940 University of Pennsylvania Law School; Kappa Sigma; Sigma Tau Delta; Delta Phi Alpha; Theta Alpha Phi; Editor of Student Handbook 1935; Managing Editor, "The Bucknellian" 1933; Features Editor 1934-36; Assistant Editor 1936 "L'Agenda."

Professional Experience: Attorney at Law, Williamsport, Pa., since 1941.

Organizations: Past Secretary, Lycoming Law Association 1951-52; Councilman of Messiah's Lutheran Church, South Williamsport; Chairman of Committee on Church Music and Worship; Ivy Lodge 397, F. and A. M.; Williamsport Consistory A. A. S. R.; Baldwin Commandery; Adoniram Council, No. 26, R. and S. M.; Past Song Book Commissioner of Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

Military Record: 2nd Lieutenant, 446th Coast Artillery A.A., 1942; Captain, Finance Division, Field Investigations Branch, Office of Dependency Benefits, serving in Chicago and Cincinnati, 1943-45.

Personal Record: Born September 27, 1915, South Williamsport, Pennsylvania; married Elizabeth Ann Talley '37, June 1944; children: John Frederick, March 1949; William Alexander, February 1952.

Bucknell Interest: Past President, Bucknell Alumni Club of Lycoming Club; Co-Chairman, Lycoming County, Heating Plant Drive; Delegate, 1952 and 1953, Annual Assembly, General Alumni Association; Alumnus Adviser, Alpha Phi Chapter of Kappa Sigma, Bucknell, since 1946.

THOMAS JAMES MANGAN
34-27 79th Street
Jackson Heights 72, New York

College Record: B.S. 1921; Sigma Chi; Varsity Football, Quarterback, 1915-16-19-20.

Professional Experience: Seaboard National Bank, N. Y. C., 1921-1922; Secretary and Credit Manager, E. Gerli & Co., Inc., N. Y. C. (Importers of Raw Silk); Past President, Raw Silk Importers Credit Association; Secretary-Director, Mallinson Fabrics Corporation; Secretary-Director, National Fabrics Corporation; Executive Vice President and Director, W. H. Gahagan, Inc.; Gahagan Construction Company; Director, West Branch Novelty Company; Chairman of Executive Committee and Director, Mission Dry Corporation, Los Angeles, California.

Organizations: Past President, The Touchdown Club of New York; Member-Board of Governors, The Touchdown Club of New York; Past Vice President, Interfraternity Club of New York; Past President, Jackson Heights Golf Club; Past President, Jackson Heights University Club; Oakland Golf Club, Bayside, Long Island; Pennsylvania Society of New York.

Military Record: S. S. U., No. 524 Bucknell Ambulance Unit, Sergeant, 1917-1919; Playing Captain, Paris War Area Basketball Team in A. E. F. Olympics 1919.

Personal Record: Born, August 21, 1893, Washington, Pennsylvania; married Edith K. Chapin, Milton, Pennsylvania, June 8, 1925.

Bucknell Interests: Past President, Metropolitan N. Y. Bucknell Alumni Association; President, Bucknell Athletic Council 1945-1952 (Member 1932-52);

PLEASE SAVE THESE BIOGRAPHICAL RECORDS; ONLY THE PICTURES OF THE CANDIDATES WILL APPEAR ON THE BALLOT YOU RECEIVE IN APRIL

Honorary Member, Bucknell Athletic Advisory Committee 1952-1954; Member, Bison Club; Winner of 1952 Bucknell Alumni Achievement Award; Chairman, Christy Mathewson Memorial Fund Drive; Campaign Committee, Fund Raising for Stadium, Old Main Rebuilding, and New Power Plant.

Alumni Will Vote in April

On Page 6 you will find the names, pictures and biographical records of the three candidates chosen to stand for election as Alumni Trustee to the Board of Trustees of Bucknell University. One is to be elected by the general alumni body in April for a term of five years.

The candidates were carefully chosen from a larger group of nominees suggested by local alumni clubs, class presidents, class reporters, fund managers, members of the Board of Directors and the Alumni Fund Committee, as well as former alumni trustees and former presidents of the General Alumni Association. Well over 500 alumni were canvassed for suggestions. Furthermore, each issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS carried an outline of the procedure for nominating a candidate by petition.

After all suggested candidates have been listed the Alumni Office prepares a biographical record of each candidate. These records are examined and discussed by the nine-member Committee for the Selection of Alumni Trustee Candidates, following which each committee member by secret ballot records first, second, third, fourth and fifth choices. By weighting the choices on all ballots the three top candidates emerge. The candidates with their pictures and biographical records, then appear in the March issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS, and in April every alumnus with a known address receives a postage-free ballot for voting. After studying the election procedures at scores of colleges, a committee of alumni have come to the conclusion that Bucknell's plan is as democratic as it can possibly be. Believe it or not, there are still some colleges where the alumni board selects one candidate and submits his name to the Trustees for approval and election!

Alumni now serving on the Board of Trustees through election of that body, but who were originally nominated for membership by the General Alumni Association, include: Dr. Harvey F. Smith '94, Robert L. Rooke '13, Dr. Mary B. Harris '94, Berkeley V. Hastings '13, Dr. Mary M. Wolfe '96, William R. White '26, and Andrew R. Mathieson '20.

Alumni now serving on the Board of Trustees, on nomination by the General Alumni Association, are Clyde P. Bailey, Esq. '29 (term expires 1954); Russell E. Boyer '18 (1955); Dr. Arthur L. Brandon MA '27 (1956); Dr. Emma E. Dillon '15 (1957) and Dr. Roy E. Nicodemus '25 (1958). History has supplied ample evidence that the members of the Board of Trustees, from whatever source selected, serve not the Trustees, nor the Alumni Association, but the University, which is as it should be.

You are urged to exercise your prerogative to vote in a democratic election when you receive your ballot in April. Better study those biographical records now, for only the names and pictures of the candidates can be carried on the ballot. The ballot mailing will be a "double-duty" envelope mailer, providing for the return of the voter's ballot and a contribution to the Alumni Annual-Giving Program in one postage-free envelope. Alumni do not need to contribute to be eligible to vote—this combination mailing is planned to save postage and will result in a saving of about $400.00 on the outgoing and return envelopes.

Jones '19 Consulting Chemist to General Industries, Inc.

DR. FRANKLIN D. JONES '19, D.Sc. '46

Dr. Franklin D. Jones, as President of the Class of 1919, is leading an all-out effort for the 35th Reunion of that class in June. As a feature of this Reunion, a "35-year later" L'Agenda is being assembled, and the best contribution that 1919 has ever made to the Alumni Fund is coming in.

After graduating as one of Doc. Brown's chemical engineers, Franklin worked for Allied Chemical and Dye, New Jersey Zinc, duPont, Merck and Phillips and Jacobs. In 1938 he organized the agricultural chemical department for American Chemical Paint Co., manufacturing agricultural specialties. While there he pioneered the use of 2-4D and similar chemicals as weedkillers, resulting in basic patents here and abroad. Nearly a hundred U. S. and foreign patents on weedkillers, plant hormones, insecticides and chemical processes have been issued to him.

In 1946, at the centennial commencement, Bucknell conferred the degree of Doctor of Science on him.

Since 1947, Dr. Jones has been a consulting chemist. Recently he was appointed to the consulting staff of General Industries Incorporated, an engineering firm of Philadelphia.

Franklin's wife is the former Lillian G. Butz, a Delaware graduate. They have two children, Roger F., a chemical engineer with duPont and a graduate of Haverford College, and Mary Lou, a sophomore at Swarthmore. Roger is so good a fencer that he hopes to be on the next U. S. Olympic Team, and he has interested his father into the sport, too.

Besides fencing, Franklin's hobbies are golf, and his collection of boys' books by G. A. Henty.

His Henty collection contains 94 out of the 95 books that the noted author wrote is probably one of the most nearly completed collections of his works; 72 items in the collection were first editions. The books represent years of haunting second hand bookstores from coast to coast.

Another hobby is his armchair garden, meaning that in his garden he has a shrub in flower every month of the year, such as the witchhazel that Buck Shott saw in February.

Dr. Jones is an active member of Phi

Gamma Delta and holds membership in the Mason bodies, Merion Golf Club, American Chemical Society, Franklin Institute, American Society for Horticultural Council, American Institute of Chemists and is a member of the Board of Governors of the Amateur Fencers' League of America.

Trustee Edward M. Greene '95, Dies

Bucknell University lost one of its most faithful workers with the death on Tuesday, December 29 of Edward M. Greene of the Class of 1895.

Mr. Greene was for 31 years an active and capable trustee and patron of the University. A lifetime resident of Huntingdon County, Pennsylvania, he died after a brief illness in the J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital, Huntingdon.

He was the third generation of Greenes in the leather tanning business, being associated first with his father and later with his brother Raymond in the tanning industry. After his retirement from active business he spent his winters in Mission, Texas with a son and a sister who reside there.

A frequent visitor to the campus on trustee business and for class reunions he maintained a broad interest in all University affairs. Just a few days before his death he attended a Bucknell-Juniata basketball game in Huntingdon.

The Greene family includes many Bucknellians. His father, Calvin Greene was a patron of the University and his late brother, Raymond, was a member of the Class of 1902. His sister, Mrs. Esther Greene Hamilton was a member of the Institute '96 class. Two sisters still surviving are Mrs. Ida Greene Watson, Mercedes, Texas, Institute '94, and Miss Nora Greene, Lewistown, Institute '94. Mr. Greene is also survived by two sons, Edward M. Greene, Jr., Greenwich, Conn., and Waldo W. Greene, Mission, Texas.

In 1900 he married the former Caroline Wittenmyer of the Bucknell Institute Class of '91, who died in 1942. Other relatives of Mrs. Greene who were Bucknellians include Mabel Wittenmyer, Institute '94, deceased, Bertha Wittenmyer, Institute '92, of Harrisburg and Samuel Wittenmyer, Institute '91 of Whitford.

On the campus Mr. Greene was a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. He was active in the First Baptist Church of Huntingdon throughout his life. A life long Republican, he served on the Republican State Committee as Huntingdon County's representative and during World War I served as Federal Fuel Administrator for the county.

Bucknell has lost a faithful servant of long standing. The University extends heartfelt sympathy to the surviving members of the Greene family.

Dr. W. H. Sauvain, acting head of the education department, spoke on "Language Arts in the Elementary School" at a Study Council of Allegheny County Teachers and Administrators at Alfred University in New York.

* * *

Dr. Hulda Magalhaes, associate professor of physiology at Bucknell, and Dr. Robert F. McCune, associate professor of physics, represented Bucknell at a recent conference on University Cooperation at the Brookhaven National Laboratory, Long Island, New York. Brookhaven is a regional center at which scientists from institutions, particularly those in Northeastern United States, conduct research in the nuclear sciences and related subjects as part of the nation wide program of the Atomic Energy Commission.

By WILLIAM J. DAVIS
Assistant in Public Relations

Basketball

Bucknell is experiencing a none-too exciting athletic season so far as the won-lost columns are concerned, but through the darkness comes a bright ray of sunshine in the form of her freshman basketball team which at this writing has won nine of its first ten games.

The yearling five is regarded by local followers as one of the best seen hereabouts in recent years, and their record seems to bear that out. On four occasions they have scored over 90 points, and against Bloomsburg State Teachers College Junior Varsity, they amassed a 103-point total.

All of the members of the starting five are averaging over 13 points per game, and two of them are over the 17 point norm. They are not exceptionally rangy except for Center John Beatty who extends 6-5 upwards. But they are fast, unusually good shots and as spirited and scrappy a crew as any coach would want.

Leading the scoring parade is Jumpin Joe Baccelli of Niagara Falls, N. Y., who has scored 175 points thus far for a 17.5 average. Joe's best night came against Bloomsburg when he scored 28. Right behind him is John Beatty of Charleroi, who is averaging 17.1 points. His best single game effort came against Lycoming College Junior Varsity when he hit for 25.

Third highest, but perhaps the steadiest performer is Mike Corrigan of Kutztown, who averages 15.8 per game but has never scored less than 11 points in any single contest this year. Next is Norm Voorhees of Meadville, who has scored 137 points and who seems to be improving steadily as the season rolls along. He garnered 25 as the Junior Herd trampled Penn State's Little Lions, 88-63. Marty Tannenbaum of Hackensack, N. J., boasts a 13.1 average. He popped in 23 markers early in the year against Lycoming for his best single game effort.

This aggregation has come along rapidly under the direction of Coach Bill Lane, and varsity mentor Ben Kribbs is looking ahead anxiously to next season when he can add these youngsters to his varsity.

Varsity Basketball Record

Lehigh	73	Bucknell	61
Dickinson	68	Bucknell	43
Connecticut	80	Bucknell	64
Juniata	83	Bucknell	60
Albright	77	Bucknell	61
Muhlenberg	88	Bucknell	55
Bucknell	76	Colgate	74
Gettysburg	88	Bucknell	52
Albright	76	Bucknell	59
Lafayette	75	Bucknell	49
Penn State	49	Bucknell	43
Rutgers	81	Bucknell	73

Freshman Basketball Record

Bucknell	94	Lehigh	68
Dickinson	65	Bucknell	61
Bucknell	91	Lycoming J. V. ...	66
Bucknell	78	Juniata J. V.	54
Bucknell	88	Albright J. V.	72
Bucknell	103	Bloomsburg J. V. ...	62
Bucknell	93	Lycoming J. V.	80
Bucknell	85	Gettysburg	75
Bucknell	61	Albright J. V.	51
Bucknell	88	Penn State	63

You'd Have to See It To Believe It

Bucknell's freshman basketball team looked upon Penn State as their "big game" and were definitely "up" for the contest, but how far "up" could one team get?

Joe Baccelli tossed in a set shot to open the scoring, and from that point on it didn't seem to matter who took aim and fired so long as he was a Bucknellian, for the ball couldn't seem to keep from slithering through the hoop. The BU Frosh missed three shots during the first period and had the fantastic lead of 35-8 at the end of the quarter. The game finally ended with Bucknell out front, 88-63.

1954 Football Schedule

Sept. 25—Muhlenberg	Allentown
Oct. 2—Gettysburg	Home
Oct. 9—Lehigh	Home
Oct. 16—Temple	Philadelphia
Oct. 23—Lafayette, HOMECOMING
Oct. 30—Boston University ..	Boston
Nov. 6—Colgate ..	Hamilton, N. Y.
Nov. 13—Albright	Home
Nov. 20—Delaware ..	Newark, Del.

Want to Join the Chain Gang?

The University Christian Association is looking for alumni in various centers around the country who would be willing to serve as "hosts" for foreign students at Bucknell, who use their vacations to "See America."

The idea, as explained by Forrest D. Brown, General Secretary, is to make it possible for our guest students from abroad to see as much of the country as possible during Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter, and summer vacations. They travel by bus or hitch-hike. "Stations" along the way provided by Bucknell alumni would make such trips much more meaningful, and make possible additional local color. It would also enable alumni to meet some of the very fine students we have from overseas. Overnight accommodations, and a tour of interesting places nearby would enhance their education. Many of these students want to see New England, the South, Florida, New Orleans, TVA, the middle west, and even the far west. As strangers they would feel more at home to find friends along the way. This past Christmas the Hostess of the French House wanted to see New Orleans, but hesitated to start off on such a long bus trip alone, and with no friends along the route. Miss Jeanne Barnes '39 of Niagara Falls has done an outstanding job for foreign students visiting the Falls at the conclusion of the Foreign Student Institute each summer.

Alumni who would be willing to assist in this hospitality chain should communicate with Mr. Forrest D. Brown, Bucknell University Christian Association. He will be glad to provide you with any further information, and to receive your suggestions.

About a year and a half ago a student, George B. Spratt, and Dr. C. Harvey Palmer, associate professor of physics, began the construction of an apparatus to measure the speed of light. It is believed to be the only one of its kind in college use, can record light velocity directly and will be used as standard laboratory equipment.

FUTURE BUCKNELL HOPEFULS—Six of the outstanding members of this year's once-beaten Bucknell freshman five should be a great boost to Bucknell's basketball fortunes next season. They are: kneeling, left to right, Marty Tannenbaum, of Hackensack, N. J.; John Beatty, Charleroi, and Norm Voorhees, Meadville; standing, Darwin Schanley, Boyertown; Joe Baccelli, Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Mike Corrigan, of Kutztown. All, except Schanley are averaging over ten points per game. The Baby Bisons have won nine of their first ten games, including victories over the Penn State, Lehigh, and Gettysburg yearlings.

What Our Readers Like And Dislike in the Magazine

The editor of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS would like to be guided in his selection of articles for the magazine by the preference of the readers. To this end periodic surveys of reader interest are conducted. Last September Bucknellians were asked to vote on their preference for a printing schedule calling for four magazines and three newspapers each year (the present program) or whether they preferred an all-magazine program calling for five magazines each year. Readers were also asked to vote on whether they preferred more, less, or about the same amount of space devoted to the various departments of the periodical.

Bucknellians being busy people, your editor did not expect a heavy vote but was a little shocked by the very light response.

On the basis of the replies received, the Board of Directors at its last meeting has approved a change in the printing schedule for next year which will call for the publishing of five magazine editions at approximately two month intervals. Starting next September THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS will be published on September 1, November 1, January 1, March 1, and May 1. The printer's deadline dates will be approximately thirty days earlier in each case. Fifty-four percent of the readers who voted preferred the all-magazine schedule outlined above while forty-six percent voted in favor of the present schedule of four magazines and three newspaper editions.

The vote on preferences for space distribution indicated that the majority of the readers preferred no change in the present space allotments to the various sections of the magazine. A detailed tabulation of space preferences is shown in the following tabulation.

	More Space	Less Space	Same or No Change in Space
Class Notes	42%	10%	48%
University Affairs	26%	5%	69%
Reunion & Commencements	10%	16%	74%
Club Activities	16%	26%	58%
Alumni Achievement	16%	16%	68%
Sports	5%	16%	79%
Fund Reports	5%	37%	58%
Feature Articles	5%	21%	74%
Homecoming	10%	16%	74%
Student News	10%	10%	80%
Faculty News	26%	16%	58%
Letters	6%	17%	77%
Bookshelf	11%	28%	61%

I prefer four magazines:

Yes	54%
No	46%

We appreciate your opinions and will do our best to be guided by them.

Bucknell Featured in Baptist Publication

The Penn-Baptist, monthly publication of the Pennsylvania Baptist Convention, features Bucknell and its Baptist connections in the January 1954 issue. In helping to celebrate Bucknell's 108th Birthday, this interesting publication carried a cover picture and article describing Bucknell's beginning and present offerings.

Dr. Magalhaes in England

Research studies which she has been conducting at Bucknell University have brought Dr. Hulda Magalhaes, associate professor of physiology, an invitation to address an important international scientific gathering in England this spring.

Dr. Magalhaes has agreed to present a paper on the uses of the golden hamster as a laboratory animal at the Seventh Laboratory Animals Bureau Congress to be held at the University of Sheffield April 5 and 6.

The paper will be based on research which she has been directing at Bucknell during the past seven years in the development of pure-lines of golden hamsters for special laboratory uses. It will also mention the work of both undergraduate and graduate students under her direction in compiling a bibliography pertaining to the uses of hamsters in teaching and research laboratories throughout the world.

Dr. Magalhaes is currently on leave from Bucknell to engage in private research under a fellowship from the Ford Foundation granted her for the 1953-54 college year.

During her trip abroad Dr. Magalhaes will visit outstanding research centers in England and Scotland with particular emphasis on the special laboratories at the Universities of Edinburgh and London where work is being done in mammalian genetics. She will return to this country in May and will resume her duties at Bucknell with the fall term.

Bruce Mitchell, Bucknell resident artist, recently conducted an exhibition of paintings at the Rehn Gallery in New York. Included in the exhibition were a number of jazz paintings, a brush and ink drawing, and several paintings from the Lewisburg area. Mr. Mitchell is the recipient of the Yaddo, Tiffay, and Guggenheim Fellowships.

* * *

Miss Trennie Easley, director of public relations at Bucknell University, recently was named director of District Two, American College Public Relations Association, at a convention held in Atlantic City.

* * *

Dr. William H. Coleman, vice president and dean, and Dr. Dayton L. Ranck, vice president and treasurer, attended sessions of the American Association of Colleges in Cincinnati recently. Dr. Coleman also participated in the annual meeting of the American Conference of Academic Deans. Dr. Ranck participated in a special session for church-related colleges, followed by a conference on college and university public relations programs.

* * *

Three representatives from the economics department of Bucknell University attended the Allied Social Science Association in Washington, D. C. Attending the meeting were Russell A. Headley, Robert D. Henderson and Neil F. Shiffer.

How to Eat Your Cake and Have It Too!

A Clever Play in Three Acts

ACT I

As the curtain rises, Joe Bucknell is seated at his desk, scratching his head. He has some securities he would like to reinvest, but he is afraid that the capital gains tax will be prohibitive. He is also thinking how he is ever going to be able to leave something in his will to Bucknell. He finally decides to call on his classmate, Bucky Bison '23, who has had an outstanding career in the banking business.

ACT II

The scene is Bucky Bison's office. After explaining his problem, Joe Bucknell sits back and listens. The problem is not an unusual one, says Bucky. In fact, there is a very simple solution that is profitable to both Joe Bucknell and the University. It works like this:

Joe Bucknell establishes a trust fund which will provide him an income for life. He turns over his securities to the bank as trustee and names Bucknell University as the ultimate beneficiary. The bank then reinvests the funds without paying a capital gains tax because it is acting for a charitable trust.

As the result of these transactions, Joe Bucknell has made a gift to Bucknell and at the same time has done the following good turns to himself:

1. Secured an income for life from the securities he has turned over to the bank.
2. Diversified his investments without paying a capital gains tax.
3. Obtained a sizeable tax deduction for the year in which he established the trust.
4. Increased his spendable income.

ACT III

Joe Bucknell is back home, but instead of sitting at his desk with a frown on his forehead, he is relaxing in his easy chair. His smile of contentment is due to the fact that he now knows that he can continue to add to his trust fund each year with the same attendant benefits—both to himself and to the University.

The End

Harrisburg

The regular monthly dinner meeting of the Bucknell Alumni Association of Harrisburg was held on Thursday, January 7, at the Y. M. C. A. Thirty-seven Bucknellians and guests were present.

Mr. Butt reported on the activities of Bucknell Alumni.

Mr. Schaffner announced that the Bucknell Men's Glee Club will sing at the First Baptist Church on February 7. Patsy Anna Reed is chairman of the committee to arrange over-night accommodations for the 70 men in the Glee Club.

Mr. Schaffner reminded us that February is Bucknell's birthday month. An invitation has been sent to Dr. C. Willard Smith to be the guest speaker.

Mr. Butt, program chairman for this meeting, showed a General Electric film, entitled, "The Inner Man Steps Out" which depicted the inner tensions an individual can develop in reaction to external pressures.

The meeting closed with the singing of the Alma Mater.

—NANCY GETTMAN '46, Secretary

Pittsburgh Association Of Bucknell Women

The annual scholarship fund box social was held on November 21 at the home of Mrs. David Morgan. Naturally the men were invited to this party and 22 couples attended. The scholarship fund was increased by $220.00. In January two dessert bridges were held, one in the East End of Pittsburgh and one in the South Hills. The April meeting, a buffet dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mathieson will have a Hawaiian flavor. The decor, food and entertainment (colored pictures the Mathiesons took on their trip to Hawaii) will be in keeping with the theme of the meeting.

—MRS. STANLEY C. MARSHALL (Alice Zindel '42), Secretary

Pittsburgh

At the regular Christmas luncheon (Bucknellians meet every Thursday at noon at Childs Restaurant), Bob Keenan '40, chairman of the nominating committee, reported the names of the candidates for offices for the ensuing year. There being no other candidates the vote was unanimous for Craig M. Waldner '41 as president, George Miller '48, vice president, and Leon Arbogast '40, secretary-treasurer.

Frank Magill '39, president, and the other retiring officers were given a vote of appreciation for their faithful service during the past year.

Andy Mathieson '29, Chairman of the Alumni Fund Committee, explained the plan and program of the Fund activities for the group.

—CRAIG WALDNER '41, President

Shamokin—Mount Carmel

Dr. Dayton L. Ranck, vice president and treasurer of Bucknell University, and Mrs. Ranck were honored guests at the Bucknell Birthday Party in our home at Shamokin on Friday, February 5. A group of 39 Bucknellians and guests enjoyed Dr. Ranck's comprehensive talk on the affairs of the University including a resume of the plans for the new science building and remodeling of Taylor Hall. Officers elected for the coming year are: Francis F. Reamer '21, president; Mrs.

SHAMOKIN — MT. CARMEL CLUB MEETING

Gladys Emerick Erdman '23, vice president; Miss Irene Fritz '19, secretary; and John H. Carter '21, historian.

After the meeting the group enjoyed refreshments served by Mrs. Reamer.

—FRANCIS F. REAMER '21, President

Wilmington

On Monday, January 25, thirty-two members, parents and friends of the Bucknell Alumni of Wilmington assembled at the English Grill in commemoration of Bucknell's birthday. We were very pleased to have with us, Fitz Walling '46, to tell us pertinent facts about our Alma Mater and the $900,000 gift for the F. W. Olin Science Building by the Olin Foundation.

We were gratified to have so many responses to our gathering, particularly from people as far away as Dover and Newark. Our group was also enhanced by the presence of several parents of students now at the University.

Our meeting was planned mainly as a social get together and we hope that even more Alumni will come to the two or three other meetings we plan to have each year. It was really nice to see so many old friends and meet so many new ones.

—NANCY E. TATNELL '51, Secretary

Campus and Club Coming Events

- March 5—Atlantic City
- March 14—First showing of film strip, "The Bucknell Story"
- April 14—Spring recess begins
- April 21—Spring recess ends
- April 22—Lecture by Dr. Alberto Lleras, Director, Pan American Union
- May 8—Spring Festival
- May 19—Student Recognition Day
- May 29—Classes for Second Semester end
- June 1—Final examinations begin
- June 9—Final examinations end
- June 12—Alumni Day
- June 13—Baccalaureate
- June 14—Annual Commencement

(Also planned, but not scheduled to date, are two lectures and exhibitions by leading contemporary painters.)

Women's Glee Club Tours in April

The Women's Glee Club is in full swing this time of year. After December's Christmas concert with the Modern Dance Club, the girls turned all their efforts toward preparation for the annual Spring tour.

This year's tour will last from April 6 to 11. The first day of the tour will be spent in the Philadelphia area, giving high school and church concerts. The girls will then head north toward Bethlehem, giving a concert at Doylestown High en route. From Bethlehem, the club will journey through New Jersey, singing at Cranford High School and spending Thursday night in the Plainfield area. On April 9, the girls will head toward the New York area and then proceed northward, singing at Tarrytown High School, and spending the evening in Ossining. On April 10, the club will head back to Lewisburg once more, with a Saturday night concert in Orwigsburg. Watch your local papers for time and place of public concert and attend with your friends and prospective students.

Teachers Convene In Harrisburg

A small but enthusiastic group of Bucknellians in Education held a luncheon meeting during the Pennsylvania State Education Association convention on December 28. Carrying out plans laid at the 1952 Annual Luncheon, Buck Shott, alumni secretary, had invited several present students of education to attend. Mr. William C. Schaffner MS'53 and Mr. Elmo L. Mentzer, who will receive a master's degree in June 1954 told of their impressions of the education department offerings on the campus and made several appreciated suggestions for improvement. Dr. Walter H. Sauvain, acting head of the department of education at Bucknell, outlined the program of secondary and elementary teacher training now being offered. Dr. Frank G. Davis '11, professor of education and former alumni secretary, presented his impressions of education in Texas and Mexico, where he spent the past year in research and writing. The problems facing educators in Pennsylvania were ably discussed by Dr. Eugene P. Bertin '17, assistant executive secretary of PSEA. The program was entirely informal and inevitably wound up with the annual bull session which this year developed into a contest of Frank Davis' definitions of Texans vs. Gene Bertin's definitions of New England Yankees. Dr. Sauvain's red-nose reindeer entry easily won the prize in the pun division.

Chapel Choir Touring New York State

During the first week in March the Bucknell University Chapel Choir of 50 voices under the direction of Mr. William Duncan McRae, Jr., associate professor of music, will tour central and western New York State centers. The public performances will include the First Baptist Church, Norwich, N. Y., on Wednesday, March 3, 7:30 p. m.; The West Presbyterian Church, Main and Walnut St., Binghamton, N. Y., on Thursday, March 4th, 8:15 p. m.; The Calvary Baptist Church, Genesee St. at Kirkland Road, Rochester, N. Y., on Friday, March 5th, 8:15 p. m.; First Baptist Church, Niagara Falls, N. Y., on Saturday, March 6th, 8:15 p. m.; First Baptist Church, East Rochester, N. Y., on Sunday, March 7th, 7:30 p. m.

In addition to the church concerts the group will sing at several high schools in the area.

Alumni and friends are cordially invited to attend the public evening performances, announcement of which will be made in local newspapers.

Baltimore

Baltimore's party for Bucknell's birthday was an evening meeting held at 8 o'clock, January 28th, at the Parker House Restaurant. After a short business meeting, forty-two enthusiastic Bucknellians enjoyed the delicious cake and other refreshments for which President Ruger '34 had arranged.

From the campus, Mr. Fitz Walling '46 of the Admissions Office, came to give us an up-to-date account of Bucknell events—among them the thrilling announcement of the $900,000 Olin Foundation gift. Mr. Fitz Walling spoke with humor and interest of the more than one hundred visits he has made to schools for the purpose of attracting desirable students to Bucknell. He made the suggestion, relayed from the Admissions Office, that a High School Selection Committee be set up to contact the principals and guidance teachers of the area. The following committee was selected: Ann Mussina '34, chairman; Mrs. Frank Koehler, George B. Young, Jr. '52, William S. Kosicki '49, William Wakefield '51.

A tentative date of May 27th was set for the next evening meeting by President Ruger.

—DORIS WILDE THOMAS '48, Secretary

South Jersey

Bucknell's 108th Birthday was celebrated by the Bucknell University Alumni Club of Southern New Jersey at Glover Caterers in Vineland, New Jersey on February 5, 1954. Incidentally, the 74 members who were present were more than grateful to Ned Glover, Class '49, for the superb dinner his establishment catered during the course of the evening and for the added enjoyment derived from the background of piano music.

Between courses many events took place. Former members of the Bucknell Men's Glee Club were asked to rise, whereupon they were ushered to the piano to present some of Bucknell's noted melodies. This went over with great success. However, in retaliation the men made the women rise to present their chorus. All ended well with a finale of all voices joining in. Also a short discussion was held about our next meeting on June 19th, which will be a family picnic.

Mrs. Kenneth Slifer brought a beautiful display of jewelry made by Donald A. Ware, Class '53. Unfortunately, Donald was not able to attend but all were anxious to help him.

Quite a varied group was present, but also present was a Bucknell student and a prospective Bucknellian. Mrs. Dutton, the oldest alumni attending, was also called upon to take a bow.

Irene Thompson was to entertain us with her spectacular baton twirling but she was suddenly rushed to the hospital just two days before. Our thoughts were with her though for a speedy recovery.

Our most important guest of the evening was Dr. James A. Gathings, who presented a short talk on the activities that have taken place at Bucknell in most recent years. He made us feel as though we were back on campus again, seeing the events take place. To him, we owe much for a very interesting evening on Bucknell and our Bucknell friends.

With our meeting completed and our minds enriched, the cutting of the birthday cake took place to end an enjoyable evening.

—DOROTHY YAWNER CONNELLY '49,
Secretary

St. Petersburg

The annual dinner of the Bucknell Club, of St. Petersburg, was held at the Pennsylvania Hotel, with 28 in attendance. Howard Headland gave the invocation. The president, Mr. Bailets read a telegram of good wishes from the University. He announced the recent gift of a new Science building, which brought rejoicing to the local group. Dr. John I. Woodruff '90, spoke briefly on the Emeritus Club. Messages of thanks for sympathy cards were read from Mrs. Peters and the family of Dr. J. Hillis Miller. Mrs. Bowser, the Mulkies and the Sholls sent greetings and a picture of the Sholl family was displayed. Dr. John Clyde Hostetter wrote about his recent operation, necessitating the amputation of his leg. From Lakeland came Dr. and Mrs. W. E. DeMelt '06, she being a bride. From Clearwater came Anna Halfpenny Reitz M'99, and Mary Halfpenny Gilbert I'00, with Mr. Gilbert, both of them Lewisburg girls. Helen Davis '13 brought a guest, Mary Margaret Krebs. Mrs. Eurora Davies Alexander '03 brought her sister-in-law, Mrs. R. A. Davies.

12

The speaker of the day was Dr. Elkanah B. Hulley '07, who is in the city renovating and repairing the building purchased to house the Law Department of Stetson University. This school is of interest to all Bucknellians because the late Dr. G. Lincoln Hulley '88 served with distinction as President of Stetson University for many years. Elkanah is one of the Trustees of Stetson. He plans to move to our city and join our group.

The Secretary thanked the group for the many messages sent during her recent illness and thanked George Bailets for assuming her duties in connection with the dinner.

We adjourned to meet March 20th, at Lake Maggiore, for a picnic covered-dish luncheon at 12:30 o'clock.

—RUTH STEPHENS PORTER, '05, Secretary

Mirror of Your Reunion

Have you ever thought about how the rest of your college gang has done since graduation? Of course you have! We know because it is the question most often asked by alums on visits to the Alumni Headquarters. It is not an easy question to answer but we are happy to report that a number of classes reuniting within the past two years have been able to find the answer and pass it along to the reunioners of their classes. The simple device being used to mirror class progress is the class-wide questionnaire which is then summarized in a booklet or brochure, variously known as the Reunion Report, the Anniversary L'Agenda, etc.

Last year the Classes of 1908, 1923, 1928, 1933, 1938 and 1948 published reunion booklets. The year before only one class, 1922, made an organized effort to produce a booklet. Prior to 1952 there were no booklets published for Alumni and Reunion Day distribution. This year eight reunion classes—1909, 1914, 1919, 1924, 1929, 1934, 1944 and 1949—are already at work on their publications. The editors and their committees were reported in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS, January 1954.

Since each report is a class-sponsored project, the format and layout is the product of the editorial committee of the class. Consequently, there is great variety in content and size. But all have been good and have been highly praised by alumni of other colleges in addition to being much appreciated by members of the reunion classes.

One of the most unique among those published last year was the 12-page printed booklet prepared by John Burton Clark of Minneapolis for his Class of 1948. Well-illustrated with charts and figures, John's report gave a clear indication of what the Class of 1948 has done in its professional, personal and community life. An interesting glimpse of class preferences, selections and habits was included.

Treating questionnaire returns with standard statistical procedures, John was able to draw the following average picture of the men of the Class of 1948:

Mr. 1948 . . .

I'm sure you aren't a 29 year old married man with one and a third children, an income of $5,058 a year, and a new contemporary home worth $14,120.

I'm not even sure you drive a 1951 Chevrolet, smoke Luckies, subscribe to four magazines including Time and Life, or that you earned $19,838 since graduation. Not a single bachelor's degree graduate from our class fits those measurements exactly—but this hypothetical character is the statistical average man in our class. He received a B.S. degree from Bucknell and does not have any advanced degrees.

He has had nearly two jobs since 1949 and has lived in more than three residences in two states. There's nearly an even chance he has been a military reservist or on active duty in the past five years, and he owns a TV set.

He is active in two organizations; his church and a professional society.

And John's searching questionnaire turned out the gals of the Class of 1948 in this average mold—with the accent on average:

Mrs. Coed . . .

Are you a 26 year old married coed with almost one child? Do you and your husband drive a 1950 Chevrolet, subscribe to four magazines, including Time and Life? Do you own a TV set and smoke Chesterfields? If you are, and do, then you are the typical feminine graduate of our class.

She also received an A.B. degree from Bucknell and lives in her own contemporary home, worth $14,840.

She earned $9,830 since graduation—probably worked 2 to 3 years of the 5 years since graduation and then married and took up the profession of home making.

She is active in 2½ organizations outside of her home; a church, and probably a community club or a bridge club, plus some service activity.

Neither of these descriptions fit you but chances are your reunion class is busy at work trying to mirror your class. If that unanswered questionnaire is still on your desk better dig it out and send it off today. And, of course, make plans now to be on the campus on Reunion Day, June 12 to see how close to "average" you are. Even if your regular five-year reunion is not scheduled this year (Classes whose numerals end in "4" and "9" celebrate in 1954) come anyway for a good representation from every class turns out every Alumni Weekend. June 12 is the big Day—See you then.

Reunions in June 1954

Five-year reunions are scheduled for Alumni Weekend June 11, 12, 13, 14, 1954. Alumni Day will be celebrated on Saturday, June 12, 1954, and reunion class members will soon be receiving details of the special programs being planned. The classes holding reunions in 1954 are:

Emeritus Club (1890-1903)

1894
1899
1904 (Golden)
1909
1914
1919
1924
1929 (Silver)
1934
1939
1944
1949
1953 (First)

Of course, Alumni Day provides an excellent program for Bucknellians of all classes whether or not your class is holding a five-year reunion this year. You will enjoy the program of University activities being planned for June 12, 1954. Come back, bring the family, see your classmates and friends, present students, faculty and administrative staff on this happiest of Bucknell weekends.

EMERITUS CLUB

The Bucknell Blood-Mobile

John Buck Shott thought to try his luck;

He aimed to shoot a Bison Buck;

He tried to get his gore.

This made the Buck quite sore.

He pawed the earth and horned the air—

This Bison Buck in mad despair.

He said John Buck Shott wasn't fair.

— 2 —

John Buck Shott preached a pious preach;

The Bucks a lesson he would teach.

He called on Sundry, all and each,

To give their blood to Mother Dear

Lest she expire of financial fear.

— 3 —

Now all this stew has simmered down;

The Blood-Mobile has come to town.

Ecce Alumni Et Alumnac too,

This battle we are going through—

Ecce Signum.

—John I. Woodruff '90, President

CLASS OF 1892

Class Reporter: DR. A. R. E. WYANT
Hotel Pennsylvania, W. Palm Beach, Fla.

Mrs. F. B. Thomas (M. Cora Davis), a member of the Institute Class of 1892, died on December 2 in Glendale, Calif., at the home of a daughter, Mrs. H. C. MacIntosh. Mrs. Thomas, who formerly lived in Johnstown, is survived by two daughters—Mrs. MacIntosh and Mrs. J. William Kauffman, Rocky River, O., and a son, Frank B. Thomas, Akron. Her sister, Martha Davis Miller, who resides in Riverside, Calif., also attended Bucknell. Her husband, F. B. Thomas preceded her in death. The University extends heartfelt sympathy to the survivors.

We regret to announce the death on

MARCH 1954

December 13 of Charles Grant Shaffer of Bloomfield, N. J. Charles was born in Lewisburg in 1869 and after attending local public schools enrolled in the Bucknell Academy in 1885. From the academy he entered Bucknell earning his bachelor's degree in 1892 and his master's degree in 1895. Harvard University awarded him a bachelor's degree in 1893. He began teaching in 1893 and served as teacher and principal in schools in Maryland and Louisiana until 1900 when he joined the Newark school system. He retired from teaching in 1940 after 35 years service as principal of Elliott Street School in Newark.

He was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, the Bison Club, the Emeritus Club of Bucknell, and a number of school-men's and musical organizations.

Mr. Shaffer married Miss Dora Valcska Becker, a concert stage violinist, who survives him along with a nephew, Russell Harris, of Bloomfield. Both Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer were regular visitors to the campus on commencement weekends and other occasions and were faithful in attendance at alumni activities at Newark and New York. The University and the surviving members of the Class of 1892 mourn the loss of one of Bucknell's most brilliant and loyal graduates.

Dr. and Mrs. A. R. E. Wyant are happily spending a warm winter at the Hotel Pennsylvania, West Palm Beach, Fla.

CLASS OF 1893

Class Reporter: MISS FLORA M. CLYMER
N. E. Hancock & Oregon Ave., Philadelphia 48, Pa.

We regret to announce the death on November 9 of Miss Carrie Louise Geary at St. Joseph's Hospital in Carbondale. Miss Geary was out shopping when she fell. Taken to the hospital, she never regained consciousness and passed away a few days later. Survivors include a cousin, Mr. Earl B. Geary, in Calif.

CLASS OF 1894

—"Plan NOW to Come to Our Sixtieth Reunion June 11-14, 1954."—

Christmas in Libya, 1953

By MARY B. HARRIS

Two "christmases" were celebrated in Tripoli, both deeply significant to the celebraters. The first came in November, the 19th, commemorating the birth of Mohammed. This is like our Easter, a moveable feast, and I am told will come in October next year. It fell on a Thursday, and as Friday is the Moslem Sunday the observance began Wednesday and continued until Saturday. It is called the Feast of Maulid, and for it Tripoli displays its ultimate in gaiety. To flood-lights, illuminated fountains, hundreds of lighted candles, torch-light processions of children, pageants of Boy Scouts and sports clubs, military parades and caroling groups, was added the picturesque background of Arabian costumes, sheiks in their finest robes and head-dress, all against the back-drop of palm-trees, domes, minarets, and the Mediterranean, blue as the sky above. Scores of horsemen from the outlying villages attended their sheiks, one of whom, called "Chief of the Pilgrims", will have the honor and responsibility of escorting the pilgrims to Mecca next year. He will then wear the red robe of office conferred on him at this Feast by the Governor of the Province.

After this ceremony, came the processions of the religious sects, the Zavia. The celebrants clad in their richest garb and carrying gay silken banners, danced from the King's Palace to Government House, and then into the Old City to the Castle where in earlier days the Pasha waited their coming to receive their thanks for the Festival.

The processions continued two days. Our Christmas celebrated a month later by the English, American, Italian and Greek populations offered no competition to the Feast of Maulid, but was observed in the Cathedral, the Greek Church and the chapels of the two military bases in the manner traditional to them. Carolers were organized at the camps and visited the homes of the members of the two legations. Christmas trees and turkeys were flown in, carols were in the air at the American Wheelus Airbase during the week, and everything possible was done to make the Americans, and I think the English also, conscious of the significance of the season though they were in unfamiliar surroundings.

Our own family celebration was brightened by the visit of my niece's father, Mr. George Wadsworth, who stopped here a week on his way to his new post in Saudi-Arabia, to see his daughter and attend the christening of his first grandchild, Mary Isabelle Harris. The December rains on which the harvest depends began the 24th and continued several days; but as our celebrations did not depend on the weather, but were family affairs, we could and did make it a Merry Christmas.

CLASS OF 1895

Mrs. J. Douglas Nisbet (Benlah Hayes) has disposed of the Ivy Place Farm Jersey cattle maintained for some years by her late husband at Van Wyck, S. C. Mrs. Nisbet continues to reside at the Ivy Place Farm, R. F. D. 1, Lancaster, S. C. Mrs. Nisbet, who attended Bucknell Institute in 1895 and later earned the AB degree at Goucher College, is the granddaughter of the Hon.

Thomas Hayes, member of the Board of Curators of the University at Lewisburg (now Bucknell University) from 1854 to 1863. Her father was Alfred Hayes, Esq. of the Bucknell class of 1855. Her brothers included Alfred Hayes '95, Dr. William V. Hayes '88, Admiral Harold Hayes, an Annapolis graduate, and Mathew Hayes, a Princeton graduate.

CLASS OF 1899

Class Reporter: DR. FLOYD BALLENTINE
626 Taylor St., Lewisburg, Pa.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Fifty-fifth Reunion June 11-14, 1954."

Daniel H. Krise, perhaps the oldest (well over 85) living member of the class, is spending the declining years of life most happily in the Masonic Home at Elizabethtown ("the best place this side of heaven," he writes). Dan will be remembered for having taught in public and other schools, before and after his college course, for nearly sixty years until he retired when eighty-two years of age, and not least for having given to Bucknell the sum of $5,000 to establish a scholarship. If he does not go back to teaching, may he have many more years of enjoyable retirement.

Remember the reunion date, June 12.

CLASS OF 1900

Class Reporter: MR. GEORGE A. GRIM
South Broad St., Nazareth, Pa.

Dr. Rush H. Kress and his philanthropic activities of giving away art collections were featured in the November 16 issue of Life Magazine. The article was illustrated with seven color reproductions included in the Kress Foundation collection and described the procedures followed in an effort to give away the entire $75 million art collection by 1960.

CLASS OF 1901

Class Reporter: MR. J. C. HIGGINS
106 S. Fourth St., Lewisburg, Pa.

Charles F. Bidelsbacher, Esq. was honored recently by the Lycoming County Law Association. Charlie, who has been a practicing attorney since 1908, still has an active law practice in Williamsport.

CLASS OF 1903

Class Reporter: MRS. HARRY C. HERPEL
(Elvie S. Coleman)
1250 Park Ave., McKeesport, Pa.

Classmates of '03—greetings and best wishes for the coming year. May your New Year resolutions contain this one—"Send news to alumni reporter."

Col. and Mrs. A. F. Dershimer are spending the winter in Mobile, Ala.

Emily Ebling is a visitor in the South. Her latest address—Prattville, Ala.

Reese H. Harris is now head of his law firm in Scranton.

Ida E. Luchsinger heads so many activities of church, school, community, that I am grateful for her time given to her class.

Jane Fowler Bullis has complied with request for personal history.

Please send those histories in soon. Col. Dershimer would like to get his "History of 1903" finished.

CLASS OF 1904

Class Reporter: MR. ROBERT W. THOMPSON
Lewisburg, Pa.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Fiftieth (Golden) Reunion June 11-14, 1954."

Have heard from some members of the class who have assured us that they are counting on being present for our 50th Reunion. Do not fail us as we desire to have a real reunion at this time.

We announce with regret the death of Miss Lillian K. Gregory who died in October 1953. Before her death she had been living in Alexandria, Pa.

CLASS OF 1905

Class Reporter: DR. ELIZABETH B. MEEK
Allenwood, Pa.

Ruth Shorkley Bliss of Carpinteria, Calif., and Blanche Stoner Wood of Muncy, continue their friendly rivalry as to the number of grandchildren. This winter Blanche became the grandmother of twin girls, Laura Stoner Wood and Jennifer Laing Wood. These girls are daughters of William H. Wood '32 of Camp Hill. This month Ruth added Juliedna Grace Bliss, daughter of Charles Bliss of Arlington, Va., to the list of grandchildren in her family record. At the present time Blanche has fifteen grandchildren, six boys and nine girls; Ruth has eighteen grandchildren, seven boys and eleven girls. Ruth and Blanche are anxious to know if any member of the class has a greater number of grandchildren.

This past year Mont-Cli, the year-book of Montgomery-Clinton High School, was dedicated to your class reporter.

Dedication

DR. ELIZABETH B. MEEK

To our friend and former teacher, Dr. Elizabeth B. Meek, we, the Class of Nineteen Hundred Fifty-three, affectionately dedicate this volume of the MONT-CLI.

Last June, after forty-five years of service to the schools in this vicinity, Dr. Meek retired from the teaching profession. She was graduated in 1902 from Bucknell Institute. From Bucknell University she received her A.B., summa cum laude, in 1905, and her A.M. in 1908. She received her Ed.D. from the Pennsylvania State University in 1938, being the first woman to do so. Dr. Meek served at the Montgomery-Clinton for thirty-five years during which she held, at various times, the positions of teacher, dean of girls, dean and counselor, assistant principal, high school principal, and supervising principal.

We shall always remember Dr. Meek, and to her go our best wishes for the future.

CLASS OF 1906

Class Reporter: MR. WILLIAM L. DONEHOWER
22 N. Fifth St., Lewisburg, Pa.

W. Eugene DeMelt, Sr., was recently placed on the retirement list at Florida Southern University, Lakeland, Fla., after serving a long term of office as dean and registrar of F. S. U.

Mr. DeMelt went to Lakeland, Florida, after his retirement as supervisor of public schools at Penn Yan, N. Y., where he had a long and successful term of office in the schools in that city.

We recently learned that Catherine MacLaggan was placed on the Emeritus status at South Dakota State College after 26 years of service as professor and head of the Department of Foreign Languages.

Hazel (Knapp) and Harold Cole celebrated their 40th anniversary this past September—along with many friends. Dr. and Mrs. Cole have three children and eight grandchildren. Dr. Cole is now Emeritus professor of dermatology and syphilology at Western Reserve Medical School after teaching there for forty-three years. He has also served twelve years on the council on pharmacy and chemistry of the American Medical Association; likewise, twelve years on the American Board of Dermatology and Syphilology, an examining board for medical specialists. He is an honorary or corresponding member of numerous European and South American Dermatological Societies. The Coles hope, God willing, to attend the 50th reunion of their class and to once more see old faces and old places.

CLASS OF 1907

Class Reporter: DR. LEO L. ROCKWELL
Colgate University, Hamilton, N. Y.

Coit Hoechst is still at it. His Christmas greeting is a beautifully engrossed "Prayer for the New Year" of St. Francis of Assisi. How many hours of work did that involve, Coit? No medieval scriptorium could produce anything more artistic.

Almost anyone can write a limerick but a former colleague of Coit's who coined one around Hoechst really took on a challenge. Here is his limerick:

A versatile chap that man Hoechst—
You never know what he'll try noechst.
Harp, organ and cello
He plays 'em smart fellow—
Can cuss in eight tongues if he's voechst.

Can you picture Doc Manley with a Rip Van Winkle beard? Well, I don't know that he has one, but he ought to, because that is the accepted thing for great-granddaddies. His great-grandson "Mike", son of Carol, daughter of Louise Manley Krueger '32, daughter of Lawrence Manley '07 and Helen, arrived, in what is becoming a fad, as a "preemie", but now has the "physique of a Japanese wrestler", according to great-grandamma. The Manleys are back in Washington after a fine vacation in Florida.

Charles Francis Potter is expanding his article on riddles in the Funk and Wagnalls Dictionary of Folklore into a book. He gives frequent talks to children in schools and summer camps on old-fashioned American fun-rimes and riddles, as well as to grown-up children at Rotary and Women's Clubs. I wonder if they are as good as the lecture he gave years ago all over the country on the American home library? If he were to give one on that topic today it would probably be even sadder, now that the bar has displaced the book-case in sophisticated homes, and TV look-see is displacing the first of the three R's for many people. (One of my students said to me: "You must be like my grandfather. He's a queer old gentleman; can sit for hours reading a book.")

George Riggs has had a busy and in some respects a sad year. From his home base in Northumberland he was summoned to Seattle because of the death of a brother-in-law. While there he received a telegram from St. Petersburg, Fla., telling of the serious illness of a sister there. He reached St. Petersburg just in time to find her still living. Arriving home, George was taken with pneumonia himself, and Margaret also was ill. Upon recovery, George resumed his preaching in churches of the area. In late summer he and his daughter Ruth motored to Dorset, Vt., where his son James is managing a sheep ranch. Returning they visited Cooperstown, the Howe Caverns, and other places of interest. Still later George visited a brother in Vandergrift, and a sister in Cadiz, O. Then back to home base and speaking engagements.

CLASS OF 1908

Class Reporter: MRS. MARGARET P. MATHIAS
(Margaret Pangburn)
202 S. Louis St., Lewisburg, Pa.

We extend congratulations to Dr. Joseph W. Henderson, acting president of the University and chairman of the Bucknell Board of Trustees, on his recent appointment by Governor John S. Fine to membership on the Delaware River Port Authority.

The Rev. Charles L. Bromley preached at the services celebrating the 125th anniversary observance of the First Baptist Church, Reading. Rev. Bromley attended school in Reading during the time his father, Rev. Joseph Stinson Bromley, Honorary '06, served as pastor of the church. After earning bachelor and master degrees at Bucknell, Rev. Bromley received his theological training at Rochester Theological Divinity Seminary, now Colgate-Rochester Divinity School. After a long period of service in the mission field in China, Rev. Bromley returned to the United States where he is now pastor of the First Baptist Church, Oberlin, O.

It is with regret that we announce the death of Holmes A. Frank on March 2, 1952. Before his death he resided in Danville.

Chester A. Niple has a new address—2075 Springhill Dr., Columbus 21, O. Chester is a member of the firm of Burgess & Niple, civil and hydraulic consulting engineers.

CLASS OF 1909

Class Reporter: MRS. HOWARD HEADLAND
(Sarah E. Walters)
3911 First Ave., N., St. Petersburg, Fla.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Forty-fifth Reunion June 11-14, 1954."

Exerpts from our president, Myrtle Walkinshaw Shupe's letter:
Dear Classmates:

Greetings from your class president. "Charlie" Hilbish and "Doc" Leiser are co-chairmen in the Lewisburg area for our reunion.

Likewise, there are chairmen for every other area. When you receive a letter from your chairman, please give him the life history of yourself, your family, your achievements, your hobbies, so that all members of the '09 class may have a real reunion after forty-five years out in the wide, wide world. Other area chairmen at work are Allan Ritter, Los Angeles; Myra M. Chaffee, Towanda; Eunice Hall Johnson, and "Chick" Florin, Plattsburgh. I have 96 names. Why can't we have "54" for "45" and maybe more? Just "Walkie" speaking.

A recent letter from Richard Darling-ton who is at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., 2626 Del Mar Place for the winter informs us that he will make a special effort to be present at Bucknell, June 12.

Charlotte Hulley Velte is now living at 10799 Sherman Grove Ave., Sunland, Calif.

We regret to report at this late date that Dr. Herman G. Difenderfer died in Johnstown several years ago. (Thank you Mrs. Mabel Brown Aller, 1915, for this information.)

Myrtle and Frank Shupe write enthusiastically about their newly acquired bungalow, Larch Lodge, located on the west side of Lake Canadochta in Northwestern Pennsylvania. It is their summer home where all their family of 16 can gather.

Dr. Heber W. Youngken recently presided and made an address on his method of presenting Belladonna from the Taxonomic Viewpoint to a teachers' seminar at the University of Utah, Salt Lake City.

Last call to the 45th reunion of the Class of 1909 on June 12—consider and act accordingly.

CLASS OF 1912

Class Reporter: MRS. H. W. HOUSEKNECHT
(Maze Callahan)
108 W. Penn St., Muncy, Pa.

I'm always glad when the holiday season rolls around. I know that I'm going to see some familiar hand writing, some familiar faces and maybe a note or two for my column. Ruby's greeting expresses my thoughts

"Never a Christmas Morning,
Never the Old Year Ends,
But Somebody Thinks of Somebody,
Old Days, Old Times, Old Friends."

It's a most satisfying and gratifying feeling to have this renewed contact.

My first greeting and letter came from Eva Himmelreich Apgar Dec. 8th.

"Dear Maze,

Get a big kick from your Class report and especially this time, am trying to prepare myself for Ray's retirement. Thought perhaps you could order two cages when you put in your order or since I am living in Pennsylvania, perhaps we could share a room in the same "old ladies' home."

We moved to Levittown on Oct. 26th after many years in Trenton. You probably have read about this development. It is really wonderful, everything so modern and stores so brand new. These are all in a compact shopping center. There are now over 7,000 occupied homes and miles and miles more being built. It's supposed to be the 10th largest city in Pennsylvania when complete.

We have very nice neighbors and like it very much.

Will probably see you in June. It will be Ray's 40th reunion year so hope to be able to be there.

Hope you continue with your 1912 column for a long time having enjoyed them every time.

Merry Christmas to you and your family.

Eva."

Louise Pauling Sieber '43 sent me a greeting, note and picture of little "Rickey" who was 4 years old in April. He is Kathryn Oldt and Gundy Pauling's '13 4th grandchild.

"Dear Mrs. Houseknecht,

I love to hear from you at Christmas. Thank you so much for your note. We hope that you and your family have a very happy holiday.

I'm not so sure about ours because Mother is in the hospital with pneumonia so, of course, that will spoil things but we are going home today to try to carry on. This should be Rickey's biggest and best Christmas. Mother is getting better but you know it is a long road. She was taken to the hospital on the 19th.

Affectionately,

Louise."

Poor Kathryn! She had a terrible sick spell a few years ago and was just beginning to feel like herself. I guess we just can't have everything.

A greeting note and picture from Helen Ruth:

"Dear Maze,

Perhaps sometime I'll get around to write you about my new position.

I enjoyed looking at the reunion picture; I had planned to be present, but my mother's rapidly falling health (she passed away July 1952, a month after I had retired in Trenton to be with her) made me loathe to spend my week-end away from her.

Enclosed picture was taken June 1952. Address 216 Lincoln Way E, New Oxford, Pa.

Helen Ruth."

Petrona Hean writes:

"Elizabeth and Charles Stone came today. She is studying French at Harvard, and has a position in Boston with the Congregational Church while Charles "dies" at his law. They have a nice, small apartment in Cambridge, Mass., near Harvard which gives them home life! If they aren't too weary to enjoy it. Elizabeth finds time to do Junior League work from time to time. Frank is full of fun and his blood pressure is better. Our best to you and yours. Petrona."

Bob Meyers writes:

"I hope you will enjoy Christmas with all its beautiful blessings—the same to all the survivors of our class if I knew where to write them.

According to the list of contributors to the Alumni Fund our ranks must be thinning or maybe there is a lag in loyalty.

I attended several football games last fall and I must confess I did not get much from my investment in the Bison Club—poor season, but who gets much these days from a small investment. I hope we can buy more for the gridiron if we don't go broke paying taxes. Our Alma Mater needs money but who doesn't in this fast stepping epoch. Some of our class members have retired. I can't stand that boredom—it shrinks youth.

If you can read these few lines you are an accomplished linguist. My fountain pen should be retired, but when Christmas gifts were in order at our house I forgot to tell my wife that my pen is eligible for Social Security. I wish you and all class members many new years.

Sincerely, Robert W. Meyer."

A greeting and long letter from Lyman Lister which I'll send in my next report.

John Tyson was one of the soloists in an oratorio, "The Childhood of Christ". It was given in two of the leading churches in Williamsport. We had planned to hear him but a bad night prevented us from going. I've chased this young Tyson all over Lycoming County—talked with him on the phone but have never seen him. I'm going to meet him someday; know who he is? Jesse Tyson's son.

Howard Johnson writes:

Dear Maze C. H.,

This is a belated Christmas greeting and note. First, I appreciate your references in the 1912 news. I'm glad that my Christmas composition of last year struck a responsive chord. I renew the wish.

Second, I have recently married Miss Eva Cornell, of Rockville Centre, N. Y., a school teacher of N. Y. C., an active Baptist, who was in my first parish.

Third, you say Pat and I are semi-retired and ask when will housewives retire? Do not get a cage for "Pop" when he retires and snoops around the kitchen. Do as I have done. We have a half acre estate, with small bungalow and good-sized work shop. Do not put Pop in the "dog-house." Let him putter around a shop and "go jump in the lake" (as I may do here) or take a fishing trip in the Bay or Atlantic. Come to Jersey and you need not go to an old ladies' home!

I may move in on Howard, who knows? His address is Lacey Road, Forked River, N. J.

Other greetings from Violet and Louis Neumann, Helen and Ray Clarke, Margaret and Ez Rathmell, Ruby and Tim O'Leary, Alberta and Dave McNeal, Leon and Grace Crandall, Olive and Matt Haggerty, Pearl and Frank Williams, Patsy and Pauline Henderson, Helen and Vic Schmid, Arthur and Sarah Waltz, The Buck Shotts, Ruth and "Rip" Ruth, Alice and Bob Sellers, Kathryn and Gundy Pauling, Dr. Charles Koch, Fannie Wood Brown '33 and family, Mary Weiser Jenkins and Tom.

Did you notice my lengthy epistle in the 1912 column in the "little paper Rag" (Jan.) Can't you hear Buck raving? I sent that article about Roy Mickle '10 with my news in June. I wondered why it was left out. Guess I'll have to go down and straighten up Buck's desk drawers for he is either slippin' or I'm seeing things.

Fred Tyler sent a lovely greeting which I hope to use next year. When I turned the page it said "God's blessing on your home and your rocking chair."

Yes I got my rocking chair but I've been too busy to enjoy it. You see I'm getting my house in order for my young house guest who will stay with us while his parents await the Stork. He has his grandpa's traits—nose trouble—so I'm removing all obstacles—such knick-knacks as butcher knives, etc. He moves faster than any dozen kids and grandma just can't make the grade. We took him to church during the holiday season. I carried in my handbag a bottle of milk, a couple of crackers, and a small red box in which was a pair of earrings. I was prepared for every move but these things kept him contented.

Around the last of November Pop and I decided to take the day off and go somewhere. I thought it would be fun to go to Clearfield for two reasons—one to look up Ed Dufton whom we haven't seen for 41 years—the other to find some of my father's relatives. We found Ed's place of business—a lovely hardware store which had been in the family for several generations. I walked through the store back to the office. There stood Ed, all dressed up in a white shirt, looking like a real executive pushing a pencil. I said, "You're Ed Dufton, aren't you?" He said, "Yes, who are you?" I would have known him anywhere. Looks just the same, a trifle stouter, a few gray hairs, wears glasses—very shy. We had a nice visit, said he hoped to come back to school some day but most of the fellows whom he knew were gone. I asked about, "Porky" O'Brien but he hadn't seen him for a long time.

Ed directed us to my relative's home where we had a most delightful visit. I found out that these people were the only living relatives in my father's family.

1953 brought a few surprises. Letters from Merton Ogden, Helen Ruth Lyman Lister, Howard Johnson's marriage, found John Tyson, heard from Art Waltz, chatted with Ed Dufton.

And now when old Father Time gathers up his possessions and limps around the bend in the road may you survivors (as Bob calls us) have the best of Health, Wealth, and Happiness.

Keep your feet on the ground, do your own thinking, don't let anyone boss you. May 1954 make us all better men and women.

CLASS OF 1913

Class Reporter: MR. CHARLES L. SANDERS
76 Walnut St., Mifflinburg, Pa.

Rev. L. Earl Jackson, in his new pastorate in Prospect Park, writes as follows:

"After 16 months here we are much at home, and increasingly happy in this church's spirit and service. Celebrated one-third century of marriage on October 28. I enjoyed Rochester Convocation, Pennsylvania Pastors' Conference at Harrisburg, and, with Helen, my Bucknell reunion. Dorothy is very happy with her Beverly, Mass. 4th-graders, school glee club, the camera club, and is now soprano in First Universalist quartette, Lynn, Mass."

The quotation is part of a pastoral note entitled "1953 Highlights For Our Friends" Earl sent to parishioners at Christmas. Glad you're back in Pennsylvania, Earl, after your years since graduation in other parts of the U. S.

At the Union County birthday dinner in Lewisburg, Feb. 9, Dr. Earl M. Richards, vice president of Republic Steel Co., Cleveland, is to give an illustrated address on "The St. Lawrence Seaway Project", a subject upon which he has written and spoken on many occasions. When this issue of the ALUMNUS appears, your reporter will, as now planned, have had the pleasure of greeting Earl and of hearing his address. Probably a few other '13ers will have been there also.

CLASS OF 1916

Class Reporter: MRS. GEORGE S. STEVENSON
(Amy Patterson)
R. D. 1 Box 556, Red Bank, N. J.

Dot Bunnell Schnure's house seems to be a meeting place for alumni. In a recent letter she mentions about a dozen visitors. One was Cecelia Kitowski Starzynski who, since her husband's death, has been living with her son in San Francisco. Her address is 2134 Green St., San Francisco 23. Dot also reports being, at last count, eight times a grandmother.

CLASS OF 1917

Class Reporter: MRS. CARL A. SCHUG
(Alice Johnson)
266 Lincoln Ave., Williamsport 12, Pa.

Dr. Eugene P. Bertin was recently elected to the post of vice president of the Lycoming County Bucknell Alumni Association.

We announce with sorrow the death of Walter T. Lodge at Paulsboro, N. J. on November 7, 1953. The heartfelt sympathies of the University and the class are extended to Mrs. Lodge on this sad occasion.

Charles W. Potter, who retired as supervising principal of Jersey Shore High School in June 1952, has joined the staff of Lycoming College, Williamsport.

We recently learned that Irvin P. Sowers has retired from teaching but is still doing substitute work.

Mrs. Erle (Tip) Topham (C. Ray Speare) retired from public school teaching in Philadelphia after 35 years of service. Ray has always contributed liberally of her time and experience in student recruitment and alumni activities. We all hope she will be willing to undertake even greater alumni activities now.

CLASS OF 1919

President: DR. FRANKLIN D. JONES
2617 St. David's Lane, Ardmore, Pa.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Thirty-fifth Reunion June 11-14, 1954."

In June the Class of 1919 will have its 35th Reunion. The first 30 replies show that this will be the best attended reunion we've had. Plan to be there, for we can actually have a perfect attendance. Don't forget to send in your biography for the 35-Year L'Agenda. We already have splendid biographies of Charles J. Anchor, Harold N. Gilbert, Helen R. Hoffa, Raymond D. (Bing) Kline, George Merrill Kunkel, Chester R. Leaber, Mrs. Harold W. Musser (Thelora Smith), Mrs. Martin C. Skavish (Jean Flanagan), Mrs. Alan Fraser Small (Helen E. Swartz).

Edwin E. Aubrey is active in student Christian association affairs at the national level. He is chairman of the program commission of the National Student Council of Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s, and a member of the advisory committee of the student division of the National Y. M. C. A. He also serves as chairman of the editorial board of Haddam House which publishes books for students in the field of religion and ethics, and as chairman of the advisory council of the department of religion at Princeton University.

CLASS OF 1920

Class Reporter: MR. HAYES L. PERSON
60 S. Third St., Lewisburg, Pa.

L. E. Lighton continues to collect honors here and abroad for his eminent work as a battery engineer. Les, vice president in charge of engineering for the Electric Storage Battery Company, received his latest honor recently when he addressed the Philadelphia section of the Electrochemical Society on the University of Pennsylvania campus.

You all would have enjoyed Ruth (Farquhar '19) and Harry Warfel's Christmas greeting and news letter which this year came from Sybelstrasse 1, Marburg Lahn, Germany, where Harry is lecturing this year at Marburg University. As usual, Ruth and Harry are going to include a great deal of interesting side trips during their stay in Europe.

T. Cortland Williams, who received the professional degree of mechanical engineer at Bucknell's commencement exercises last June, has been elected executive vice president of Stone & Webster Engineering Corp. Cort will continue his present responsibilities as senior construction engineer.

CLASS OF 1922

Class Reporter: MR. PHILIP C. CAMPBELL
R. D. 5, Danville, Pa.

To those of us who remember Doc Hidlay in his "chicken-chasing" days on the campus it won't come as a surprise to learn that Dr. Raymond G. Hidlay won awards at the Pennsylvania State Farm Show with his Old English Black Game bantams. He also did well in the Wheaton game bantam and in the modern brown-red game bantam section. If you want to know why Doc has switched to bantams as his hobby, you better write him yourself at Dunmore.

CLASS OF 1924

Class Reporter: MR. ALFRED G. STOUGHTON
13105 Atlantic Ave., Rockville, Md.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Thirtieth Reunion June 11-14, 1954."

Miss Ida R. Heller has been appointed to serve on the commission on teacher education and professional standards, P. S. E. A.

IT HAPPENED HERE

Thirty Years Ago — 1924

The proposal for a new examination system, closer co-operation between faculty and students, and uniformity in the application of existing faculty rules were passed by a seventy-five per cent affirmative vote.

CLASS OF 1925

Class Reporter: REV. WILLIAM D. GOLIGHTLY
708 Jefferson Ave., Scranton, Pa.

Mrs. Marvin Heller (Helen Waldner) has given up teaching music in the public schools at Ashland. She is now doing piano teaching and choir work.

CLASS OF 1926

Class Reporter: MISS ANNA L. BROWN
45 Wildwood Ave., Pitman, N. J.

Robert Y. Garrett, Jr. was recently named administrator of the Cooper Hospital, Camden, N. J. at the annual meeting of its board of managers. He was also elected assistant secretary and assistant treasurer to the board.

Formerly a trust officer of the Camden Trust Co., Bob resigned from that position in April 1953 to devote full time to his duties as treasurer of Cooper Hospital. Between 1933 and 1953, he served successively as assistant trust officer and trust officer of the Camden Trust Co.

He is a member of the advisory board of the Haddonfield branch of Camden Trust Co. He is a past president of the Camden Rotary Club and a former member of the Camden County Vocational School Board. For eighteen years he was a member of the Haddonfield Board of Education, and served as its president for ten years.

Mrs. Franz J. Postpichal (Ruth M. Propert) is teaching algebra in the Abington Friends School in Jenkintown.

CLASS OF 1928

Class Reporter: MRS. H. M. MARSH
(Lorinne Martin)
60 Prospect Hill Ave., Summit, N. J.

Rev. Emil Kontz continues an outstanding ministry in the First Baptist Church, Birmingham, Mich., which began in November 1947. In addition to his pastoral duties, Rev. Kontz is active in many other organizations and is a frequent speaker at youth conferences, church conventions and committee meetings. He is married to the former Hanna K. Dulity and they have two children, Elaine and Richard.

Did you notice that in the last issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS, page 8, we listed Earle L. Moyer as a member of the Class of 1929? This was just another case of gremlins in the type case and we assure you that Earle is still a member in good standing of our class.

Dr. Wilbur S. Sheriff delivered the Founders' Day address at Crozer Theological Seminary under the title "The Fall of the Mantle."

CLASS OF 1929

Class Reporter: THELMA J. SHOWALTER
223 State St., Harrisburg, Pa.

—“Plan NOW to Come to Our Twenty-fifth (Silver) Reunion June 11-14, 1954.”—

IT HAPPENED HERE

Twenty-five Years Ago — 1929

The men's glee club will leave for its fifteen day journey through Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

CLASS OF 1933

Class Reporter: MRS. ERNEST H. ENGELHARDT
(Janet Worthington)
375 College Hill, Bloomsburg, Pa.

While solemnly contemplating the income tax of March 15, it is delightful to receive a lift in news from a classmate.

Charles B. Adams' new address is 1511 Myron St., Schenectady, N. Y. Effective September 1953 he was appointed manager of purchases for the General Electric Co. He and Marjorie have two children, Donald, 13, and Diane, 9.

Had a newsy letter from Janet Blair, now Mrs. Robert Bogar '31, whom I haven't seen since last winter when we almost collided in a store in Harrisburg. She is currently involved in getting outfits ready for a daughter of school-dance-age, conducts a thirty-five member junior choir, and is president of the Pi Phi Alumna Club in Harrisburg. Bob, her husband, was elected to a four year term as school director of Paxtang Borough at the last election. Allan, a sophomore at John Harris High School, is a DeMolay and Explorer, Star Rank.

Dr. L. P. Bly received his M.D. at the University of Pennsylvania in 1937. From 1942 to 1946 he was a Lieutenant Commander in the Navy, specializing in obstetrics and gynecics. His two children are Loren L., 14, who plans to go to Bucknell, and Lynne, 3. His present address is Cuba, N. Y.

“Charles Bidelspacher, Jr., Attorney of Williamsport, hits Jackpot in Big Suits” was the headline of an article I read in the Grit newspaper early in January. Handling big cases became routine for “Bidy,” as he is known to fellow lawyers, in 1953. Four of the cases involved suits of $1,000,000 and higher. He is given much of the credit for the pay-off in the much publicized Williamsport Wire Rope Case. He and four associates stand to collect legal fees of $1,800,000 based on the initial distribution of the settlement and will realize $2,500,000 in fees when all claims are settled. He also serves as city solicitor, was on the winning side in the Fickle Fanny oil well case, and is awaiting decisions on two other cases, one involving title to coal and another an anti-trust suit against the movie industry. $ signs are floating in front of my eyes so much I can't see. Congratulations, Charlie!

Dr. Palmer Burg, who spent one year at Bucknell and five years receiving his B.S. and D.D.S. degrees at Pittsburgh, is busy practicing dentistry in his home town of Red Lion. He is active in many local organizations.

Margaret E. Cornely, now Mrs. Claude G. Schmitt, says the brains of her family are in her husband's name, but if I remember correctly, Margaret contributes her 50 to the 100%. Her husband, having taught at Oklahoma A. & M. after receiving his doctorate at Ohio State in chemistry, joined Kodak. Then he decided to study law, became a member of the Patent Bar and the New York Bar, and is assistant director of the patent division of Eastman Kodak. He is chairman of the geneology division of the Historical Society and the Boy Scout Committee. Why the Scouts? Why, Claude Junior is a freshman in high school this year. Carolyn Cornely is in fifth grade. So good to hear from Margaret.

Alice Leslie, now Mrs. Stuart Brenaman, really loves teaching kindergarten in a beautiful, modern room filled with adorable children. Her husband is with the Great Lakes Steel Company. Ted, her son, six feet, one and one half inches tall, was eighteen in February. Ann, her daughter, is twelve.

Samuel S. Stern is treasurer of the New Jersey Association of Public Accountants and lecturer of the American Institute of Banking.

Thanks class, for being so wonderful in sending in news. Who wouldn't be proud of our Class of 1933? Alma Matter should be smiling benevolently, like Mona Lisa — secret, subtle thoughts. What does she really want of us, and we from her and from one another—love? This above all! Don't tell me she's commercial too—wants a fur coat! Ah no—the aim of the University is the pursuit of truth. Truth is beauty, beauty, truth.

CLASS OF 1934

Class Reporter: MRS. WILLIAM S. LIMING
(Ruth Rohr)
396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, N. Y.

“Plan NOW to Come to Our Twentieth Reunion June 11-14, 1954.”

Well 1954 has arrived and we haven't many months to wait for our 20th on June 12th. As I've said before I'll be there; will you? Have had some interesting mail but not enough! Wish I could get you folks to answer my letters and cards. GIVE OUT WITH THE NEWS. I'll just let you know who I've heard from.

Gardner M. Loughery sent me a fine newsy letter with some “brickbats as well as roses.” He and his wife “Sue” Hill Loughery '35 and their two sons 13 and 4 years of age, live at 336 Abbey Court, Ridgewood, N. J. He tells us he's a commuter and is putting on weight and losing his hair (aren't we all!). He was fortunate enough to see the Delaware and homecoming games. Too bad he missed us at the Lafayette game. Gardner doesn't say, but seems I heard he was in the insurance business. He relates that Larry Bond is “doing well with U. S. Rubber Co.”; Bailey Russell died about four years ago; Paul Reitz is teaching in Hershey;

Ed Flexer is a game warden in Pennsylvania; Eugene Cook is in South Jersey with Kimball Glass Co. These were all fine fellows and they all played a good game of “bridge”—wonder if they still do?

William P. Boger is off to Europe to speak to medical groups. We are fortunate to have him on our class roster. He'll be back to greet us all in June.

Fred D. Pinatti, formerly in charge of research and engineering at the Vineland, N. J. plant of Kimball Glass Co., has been elected a vice president and member of the board of directors of the company. Fred joined the Kimball Glass Co. right after graduation and has shown a steady record of promotion in the organization. He used to be a wonderful dancer and a “handsome guy”—hope we'll see him in June.

Major Harold A. Endler graduated from the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas on December 18. I understand that while there, he was preparing for duty on the general staff of division on higher units. I'm kind of glad we've a good military man on our class roster—makes you feel better in these troubled times.

Rev. and Mrs. Vincent Wayland and family are now living in Lakeville, N. Y. where he is minister of the Lakeville Community Church. Met the Ed Wittmer's '35 (Lois Kurtz Wittmer) at an open house during the Christmas season and we all chatted about Vince. Ed and Lois are kept busy with their daughters and are active in their Episcopal Church in the Bronx. They hope to get back to Lewisburg in June.

Dr. James M. Converse has a successful practice in Williamsport and is a radiologist at the Williamsport Hospital. He is the father of six boys and one girl. Seems to me this sounds like a class record. How does his wife manage; I have my hands full with two youngsters.

Mrs. Alfred H. Miller (Ruth Beers) of Bloomsburg tells us she has two boys, Alfred Junior, 27 months and Charles, 8 months. Needless to tell how she spends her time.

Saved the best for the last. Dorothy Kester, that excellent star of Cap and Dagger in the good old days, is my idea of a truly great career gal. Wish we could print her entire letter then you could truly appreciate all she's done since June 1934. Dot is a director at The Weathervane, the Akron, O. community theatre, and at present is directing a play at Ellet Jr.-Sr. High to be presented in March as part of the world wide celebration of International Theatre Month, sponsored by ANTA and UNESCO. Dot is a member of ANTA (American National Theatre and Academy) and was a delegate to their annual assembly representing the Children's Theatre Conference, a division of the American Education Theatre Association. Last August Dot was convention program chairman for the annual meeting of the Children's Theatre Conference at Adelphi College here on Long Island. As present she is their publicity chairman and preparing for their August meeting at Michigan State College. Dot is co-ordinator of speech education for Akron public schools and does a story hour over WAKR. She's a member of the American Speech and Hearing Association and chairman of the speech supervisors in cities of over 200,000 population and presided in November at their meeting in N. Y. Dot is president of Beta Mu chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, an honorary teachers society; also state first vice president and state program chairman and will represent Ohio at their 25th anniversary convention in Boston.

Dorothy certainly does travel about and is still active with Phi Mu. In 1952 at the 100th anniversary at Macon, Ga. she was awarded first prize in the national contest for her "Centennial Sonnet." She is on the editorial board of The Agloia, the Phi Mu magazine.

I could go on about Dot's wonderful activities but feel I've given you a bird's-eye view of the busy life of one of our more prominent classmates. Hope this won't keep you from writing to me—after all those of us who lead just normal lives as parents and breadwinners are important too — we're building the future America and our sons and daughters are reaping the benefits of those four years we spent at Bucknell. I'm still hoping my two will choose Bucknell and by the time they are ready the campus will be more wonderful with the addition of the F. W. Olin Science Building and the other new buildings to come.

I'll be looking for YOU on June 12th. Meanwhile, I'd appreciate some more news—wouldn't you—just write to me at the above address. Just remembered—what happened to the Bucknell little theatre project—how hopeful we were 20 years ago to have a theatre at Bucknell—perhaps in June we might do something about this.

IT HAPPENED HERE

Twenty Years Ago — 1934

E. E. Mylin named to succeed Snavelly as football, baseball coach.

CLASS OF 1935

Class Reporter: MRS. FREDERICK A. STRALEY
(Aletta Farrington)
Furnace Rd., R. D. 1, Lewisburg, Pa.

Dr. William H. Druckemiller was certified by the American Board of Neurological Surgery and is on his way to Korea.

J. Melvin Miller received a promotion to Lt. Col. in the U. S. Air Force Reserve in July 1953.

Children of the Platt's (Janet Soars '36) of New Columbia, Pa., Paul, Larry and Peggy.

CLASS OF 1937

Class Reporter: MR. SIGMUND STOLER
215 Chestnut St., Sunbury, Pa.

Thayer D. Moss is an attorney-adviser with the Military District of Washington, Department of the Army.

The Rev. Anthony Vasquez, for nearly eight years director of Christian education and youth activities for the Baptist Union of Philadelphia and vicinity, has become minister of St. John's Baptist Church in Philadelphia. Before taking up the associational work, Tony served as a pastor in Brooklyn and as director of young people for the Italian Baptist Convention of America.

CLASS OF 1939

Class Reporter: MR. DAVID R. BAGENSTOSE
Conestoga Rd., Wayne, Pa.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Fifteenth Reunion June 11-14, 1954."

IT HAPPENED HERE

Fifteen Years Ago — 1939

1,000 Bucknell socialites prepare to dance to music of Artie Shaw at the senior prom.

CLASS OF 1940

Class Reporter: MRS. JAMES A. MILLER
(Mary McCrina)

1220-E Brackenridge Apts., Lake Austin Blvd., Austin, Tex.

In January Jim received his degree from the University of Texas, and we progressed from collegiate learning to the high school level. Jim is teaching English at Pattison, which is about 30 miles from Houston.

Christmas brought some welcome chatter — a nice newsy letter from Martha Clayton (Mrs. Tracey Jones) from Singapore, Malaya. Wish I could include the whole thing. She does say that "Singapore is still a crossroads of the world . . . we shook hands with Vice President and Mrs. Nixon at our American Consulate General's home." This was mailed November 25, and did not reach darkest Texas till after Christmas. Wonder if they also met the Queen and Prince when they were there?

Did you read the news item about Chaplain Robert "Q" Jones in the last issue? Bob's present parish is the "Big T"—the heavy cruiser USS Toledo.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Kohberger '39 (Ruth Cox) announce the birth of a daughter, Nancy Lynn, on September 3. They also have a son, Robert, who is 7.

Our fifteenth reunion next year should draw a capacity crowd if every one would start planning to go now, as does Bette Towner (Mrs. Frank W. Magill, Jr. '39). The Magills now have three children—Frank III, 12, Karen, 7, and Charles Towner, 15 months. Frank is now chief of the tax fraud division of Treasury Intelligence in Pittsburgh.

Helen Peachey married Walter R. Rohrs '39 in 1941, and their son is 5½ years old. Walt spent 30 months as Technical Sergeant during World War II, and is currently a buyer in the wholesale grocery firm of Middendorf & Rohrs.

Helen Sanders ("Sandy") Christian wrote along with her Christmas card. She and her husband Bill had a quick visit with Kay Webb (Mrs. John C. Gault, Jr. '39), and their two small sons when in Williamsport recently. Bernice Henry is another who has settled in Billtown. Sandy also reported that she was quite astounded one Saturday morning to hear the name of a classmate announced as the speaker on a radio program from Wilkes-Barre. It was Alice Moore, who is librarian of the City Library.

Also had a few "Winter" greetings from Lee Ann, Calvin, Nelson and their friend. They (all the aforementioned except the snowman, of course) are the children of the Jack Winters.

CLASS OF 1941

Class Reporter:
MRS. WILLIAM F. HASSELBERGER
(Jean Steele)

1518 Westmoreland Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hammerman (Catherine Jones) had their first child, a son, Willard Jeffrey, January 29, 1953. Their address is R. D. 2, Dalton. Thanks for the note!

Rev. and Mrs. John R. Lepke are the parents of a son, Mark, born at Natal, S. Africa on September 18, 1953.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Scott (Carolyn Gemmill) are the parents of three children, Claire, 9, Jimmy, 7, and Barbara 2. Their address is 1419 Justine St., Pittsburgh. Thanks Caroline, for the letter and photo.

Children of Richard C. Scott and Carolyn Gemmill Scott, of Pittsburgh. They are Clair, 9, Jimmy, 7, and Barbara, 2.

William H. Askey, young attorney in Williamsport, was named "Young Man of 1953" by the Williamsport Junior Chamber of Commerce. Bill, a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and a graduate of Dickinson Law School, won his award because of his service on the Red Cross Blood Program, the Cancer Crusade, his volunteer work in the Legal Aid Society and his general helpful activities in his home community. He is married to the former Betty Moore and they reside at 723 Fifth Avenue, Williamsport.

CLASS OF 1943

Class Reporter: MRS. EARLE E. BENTON
(Norene Bond)
130 Ethingham Place, Westfield, N. J.

I've been seeing a number of Bucknellians lately. On January 23 we attended a housewarming for Jeanne (Haynes) and Bob Thomas at their lovely new home at 25 Glenside Rd., Murray Hill, N. J. Bob is now associated with White Laboratories in Kenilworth. Also at the party, which was engineered by Janet (Bold) and Don Sholl '42, were Ruth (Chamberlain) and Bill Reiss, Janet (Lawlor) and Bill Hauk, Doris (Eber '47) and Bernie Heiber '47, Marcia (Herregesell) and Clint Hegeman, D. J. (Sievering) and Al Ashman '46, Donna (Ray '46) and Bill Bowen, Jean (Williams '45) and Ferd Wiederspahn and Jane Griffith.

Mr. and Mrs. Volney Frankel are the parents of a son, Paul Irving, born July 31, 1953.

Dr. Robert L. Gatski is a physician and psychiatrist and clinical director at the General Baker Clinic, Delaware City, Del. He is also the proud parent of four future Bucknellians.

A letter from Marvin Gerla brings the news that on October 31, he was married to Cecily Lichtenstein. He is doing well in a business way too for he is president of Cameo Building Corp. which is now building 52 homes in Huntington, L. I. His address is 63-09 Booth St., Forest Hills, Queens, N. Y.

Another birth announcement from an Honor Houser came from Mary (Orso) Johnny Johannesen. Michael Braker was born on September 30. Via the grapevine, I understand Ruth Howley Barnes and her husband have a new son. How about some details, Ruth?

Janet Lawlor Hauk entertained Kay Marshall Morris and children, Carol, 7, and Bobby, 4, and Jeanne Lever Wean with Dennis, 5, and Nancy, 2, a short time ago. The Morrisses live in Hohokus, N. J. and the Weans in Scotch Plains, N. J.

We hope to get to see Bobbie (Poling) and Phil Roy '42 soon. I chatted on the phone with her and learned all about their fifth (can anyone beat that?) baby, Peter Craig, born October 26.

My Christmas cards brought some news of Bucknellians this year. Nina (Osovick) and Paul Magilligan and children have a new address—755 Keeler Ave., Berkeley, Calif. Jean Troyer Prest has remarried and is now Mrs. Morris Cochran. Congratulations and best wishes to you, Jean. Harriet Lynn Simmonds had a boy on June 9th. That is all for this time.

CLASS OF 1944

Class Reporter: MRS. ROBERT F. BAKER
(Honey Rhine-mith)
Lindys Lake R. D., Butler, N. J.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Tenth Reunion June 11-14, 1954."

Please, please don't forget to return to Lewisburg in June. Ray Irwin has been put in charge and although he's noted for successful chairmanships, he's unable to do a thing without our interest, enthusiasm, and determination to make our reunion historic. Let's not leave it all up to Ray and his committee, but write ourselves to classmates we want to see, and instead of just hoping they'll be there, we can organize enough little groups to have the overall reunion be more than worth our combined efforts.

Christmas brought ever so many notes and slews of wonderful pictures of the future Bucknellians. Rev. Bob Kevorkian writes that along with having his own church, he attended Temple University and has completed much of the work toward his doctorate. He and Bettyjean have two daughters, Monica, 4, and Karen, 2. Their address is 711 West Broadway, Anaheim, Calif.

Sy Bernstein's letter from 2132 Madison St., Paducah, Ky., announced the birth of Susan Frances, October 26, 1953. They also have a son David, 4. Sy is still with Carbide and Carbon Chemical in the atomic energy program, and transferred to Paducah from Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Burney Brown became Mrs. William Runkle on February 6, 1954 in Lewis-town.

A timely tax exemption arrived at the Arthur L. Straubs on December 29. Her name is Susan Elizabeth and she joins a brother, Peter, 2.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. King, Jr. (Ann Gensior) now have two daughters, Polly, 4, and Mary.

Please try to come back for our first big reunion, and remember it's not too early to start planning. With your permission (and they say it's a woman's privilege) I'd like to change a sentence above. Ray Irwin was not put in charge of the committee, rather, he generously accepted the responsibility. There's a tremendous difference! . . . Hope we'll see you in Lewisburg.

IT HAPPENED HERE

Ten Years Ago — 1944

No Easter vacation scheduled; class absences will be unexcused; students cut at their own risk.

CLASS OF 1946

Class Reporter: MRS. WILLIAM HARSHBARGER
(Jeanne Phillips)
666 Osborne Ave., Morrisville, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clarkson (Jean Creelman), 40 Burrill Ave., Orange, Mass., are the parents of a son, Frederick III, born in March 1953.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grenhart (Catherine Casseiman) are the parents of a daughter born November 16, 1953. Their address is 231C Haddon Hill Apts., Haddonfield, N. J.

Mary Gettman has been elected secretary of the Harrisburg Alumni Club.

Philip Glaser is now assistant buyer of office furniture at Goldsmith Brothers of N. Y. C.

CLASS OF 1948

Class Reporter: MISS JOANN GOLIGHTLY
106 N. Grove St., East Orange, N. J.

June week at Bucknell would be a great time to get back—it's the 11th, 12th, 13th—why not get together with a couple of friends—and come up to Lewisburg for a good time.

A welcome letter from Helen Hayden Nelson reports that a second son was born to their family, Stephen Robert, on December 4, 1953. Their first child, William, will be two years old in March. Helen and her husband, Ted, are moving to Kansas City, Mo., and their new address will be 5421 Cedar St., Mission, Kansas. Further news from Helen reflects that her brother Bill's newest addition was a girl, Katherine Jane, born July 20, 1953. He and his wife and four children live at 1331 Harding Terrace, Hillside, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Davis (Florence Kreidler) are the parents of a son, John Eric, born June 29, 1953.

CLASS OF 1949

Class Reporter: MISS MARILYN HARER
505 Columbia Ave., Lansdale, Pa.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Fifth Reunion June 11-14, 1954."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw (Jeaney Barker) and son, Robin, have left Hawaii. They spent Christmas in New Jersey and will leave for the next tour of duty in California soon.

It is now Dr. Samuel S. Brenner, Jr. for Sam graduated from the University of Rochester Medical School in June and will serve his internship in the Robert Packer Hospital, Sayre.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester C. Becher (Jean M. Zeising) are the parents of two children—Thomas Drake, born September 1951, and Pamela Jean, born May 1953.

Robert E. Farrell was one of twelve newspapermen to be awarded a coveted Nieman Fellowship in journalism. Bob, a member of S. A. E., served as editor of The Bucknellian and was honored by membership in O. D. K. and "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" on the campus. Since graduation he has been with the Wall Street Journal and for the past three years has served in the Washington Bureau. Bob is spending his year on the fellowship at Harvard and plans to study economics and history.

Rev. William Fenstermaker is now associate minister of the Grace Methodist Church in Harrisburg.

Grace M. Fischer received her doctor of medicine degree from Temple University June 18 and began her internship in Germantown Hospital July 1.

Donna M. Spencer is working in the group insurance department of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, N. Y. C. Her address is 6 Prospect Place, Springfield, N. J.

Chemical engineers from Nome to Key West were disturbed when we placed Ted VanKirk in the civil engineering field in our June 1953 reference to him. Just for the record Ted earned the B.S. in chemical engineering at Bucknell in 1949.

Joseph A. Zenel '49, RCA research engineer, showing an experimental recording head unit, the heart of video tape equipment used recently in the first public demonstration of magnetic tape recording and reproduction of both black and white and color television pictures. Joe a candidate for the M.S. in E.E. degree at Princeton is a member of a seven man research team working at the David Sarnoff Research Center of RCA, Princeton. The story of the development of TV's latest fabulous gadget—the magnetic tape recorder—was first reported in the Sunday newspapers, December 6. The magnetic tape recorder is one of three "presents" Brig. Gen. Sarnoff, chairman of the board of RCA, has asked the scientists to produce to mark his 50th anniversary in radio in 1956.

We recently learned that Jack B. Knouse is employed as a buyer for the Athens plant of Ingersoll Rand Co.

BIRTHS: Mr. and Mrs. C. William McChesney (Doris Baker) a daughter, Becky Sue, born April 2, 1953. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Denenberg (Ruth Orner '51) a daughter, Carol Faith, born April 12, 1953. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Neuviller (Jane Foster) a daughter, Linda Susan, born July 8, 1953. A son, Robert, to Mr. and Mrs. John Hain, Jr. (Beverly Hendry) on April 5, 1953. Mr. and Mrs. W. Dale Hay (Norma Hunsinger '51) a daughter, Pamela Rose, born April 7, 1953. A son, December 5, 1953, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Megargel (Nancy King). A son, Roderick Joseph, born October 13, 1953, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Miller (Alice Bogdanoff). Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Sonnichsen, Jr. (Gertrude Hogg '50) a daughter, Jamie Lynne, born June 13, 1952. A son, Howard Arthur, III, born June 4, 1953, to Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. VanDine, Jr. (Margaret Ryan '46). A son, Craig Chance, born May 6, 1953, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walgran (Martha Chance).

IT HAPPENED HERE

Five Years Ago — 1949

Three hundred and sixty-five students on the Dean's list for the fall semester. This represents one-sixth of the enrollment.

CLASS OF 1951

Class Reporter: MISS FRANCES WILKINS
Apt. 74, 1316 New Hampshire Ave.,
Washington, D. C.

William Andrews was elected secretary of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Central New York. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews (Dorothy Maginnis) live at 408 Village Dr., Syracuse 6, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Case (Peggy Ann Caugherty) are the parents of a son, Jeff Huyler, born February 17, 1953.

Alan Davis is serving as assistant editor of the Michigan Municipal Review, official organ of the Michigan Municipal League.

Gordon Masters, recently discharged from the Air Force, is employed as a technical engineer for IBM. He and his wife are living in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Dick Rogers arrived in Lewisburg from Korea to the surprise of his family in November 1953. His wife, the former Helen Thomas of Lewisburg, had just arrived home that day from the hospital with a baby daughter, Linda Marie.

William C. Schaffner has been elected president of the Harrisburg Alumni Club.

MARRIAGES: William W. Jackson and Katherine Brittain were married recently. Arthur L. Troast and Kather- ine Webster in June 1953. John Vislocky and Shirley Owens were married on December 12, 1953, as were Robert Housekeeper and Mary E. Gordon. Herbert Zearioss and Thelma McCarthy '54 were married December 19, 1953, as were George F. Woodward, Jr. and Louise Greensling.

CLASS OF 1952

Class Reporter: MISS BARBARA SEGELKEN
26 Fairmount Ave., Morristown, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Carman (Lucille Swetland) are living at 144½ Scottsville Rd., Rochester 11, N. Y. Bob is in his second year of medical school at Rochester and Lucille is working as children's librarian with the Rochester Public Library and serving as religious education director of the First Universalist Church.

It is now Ensign James Hastings, if you please, and a Christmas letter from the USS Tarawa, tells us that Jim hoped to reach Pakistan and visit with the Hildreth family on his cruise.

Ralph B. Jackson is now qualified as a carrier pilot after six successful landings aboard the light aircraft carrier USS Monterey in the Gulf of Mexico recently.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kiely, Jr. (Elizabeth Shuster) are the parents of a daughter, Lynn Kathryn, born July 2, 1953.

Jack Miller has been elected vice president of the Harrisburg Alumni Club.

Rosina Davis Thomas, a nurse for the Arabian American Oil Company in Saudi, Arabia, flew home for a short vacation with her parents in Northumberland last fall.

Al Bradley is one of six members of Lambda Chi Alpha to receive a graduate scholarship award from his national fraternity. Al, who graduated magna cum laude and earned membership in Phi Beta Kappa, is attending the University of Michigan Law School.

Cpl. Francis W. Fuge is a member of the Seventh Army Symphony Orchestra that made a goodwill tour of Europe last summer.

MARRIAGES: Carolyn Ruth Hanson to Walter MacKinnon on September 12; Fran Locher to Arthur A. Kritler on September 12; Marianne Colville to Bruce Parkinson on September 26.

Howard M. Thompson was married to Mary Jane Fisher on June 20.

Robert M. Kinscherf was married to Ivy Russell August 22, 1953.

Elizabeth A. Walker and Charles C. Wagner were married August 22, 1953.

CLASS OF 1953

Class Reporter: MRS. JAMES A. CHAMBERS, JR.
(Barbara Roemer)
Boulevard Apts., 8 Clark St., Lodi, N. J.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our First Reunion June 11-14, 1954."

Before we go into the news of our class, we first want to remind everyone of our class reunion this June. Plan to attend now the first reunion of the Class of '53. See you there!

Many, many wedding bells were ringing for class friends the past few months. Congratulations to all of you, and don't forget to send us your new addresses! John Diffendafer and Pat Nelson '55 were married December 19. William Catlin and Marjorie Lewis '55 were married December 26. Paul B. Jacques and Beverly Gleason were married as were Karl G. Rohrbach and Louise Marker. Frank Kutz married

Ruth Jean Ireland and his address is 9710 TSU Det. 3, Army Chemical Center, Md. Bob Christian and Eileen Smith '55 were married as were Chris Hill and Robert Killough. Bette MacDonald married Lawrence Becker December 31 and their address is 1281 Mills St., Apt. 9, Menlo Park, Calif. Anne Wiebolt became Mrs. Richard Wilson and Amy Jo Abrams and Don Anderson '52 were also recently married.

Roland Creps and Richard Markson were selected for the November class of the Navy Officer Candidate School at Newport, R. I.

John V. Kemberling is employed by Real French Cleaners and was recently married to Dorothy Kaleta. They are residing at 118 N. Eighth St., Sunbury.

Way down in the deep south, Jim Whitney is also working for Uncle Sam. His address is: Pvt. James Whitney, US51277747, Co. 18 BTG SCRTC, Camp Gordon, Ga. He's serving in the Signal Corps.

Ed Davis is also stationed down at Camp Gordon, Ga. Wonder if he and Jim know the other is there?

Greg Bowen and Stan Butterworth are serving in the Marines.

Ellen Herte is working at West Point, naturally, as a secretary in the Ordnance Dept. Joan Lafferandre is employed by Young and Rubicam, an advertising firm in New York City.

Marilyn A. Gardner is teaching art in the Junior High School at Sunbury. Mrs. James Ostendarp (Shirley Reidinger) is teaching 3rd grade at the Elementary School in Linntown, and Kitsy Bell is teaching near Phila.

Pursuing graduate work we find Barb Simpson attending the University of Pennsylvania under an economic scholarship (and living with Babs Paulison at 1813 Spruce St., Phila.) and Art Long taking a post graduate course in engineering at Bucknell.

Max VanBuskirk and Mary Jane Webber were married August 30. Max is a student at the University of Pennsylvania Veterinary Medicine and Mary Jane is employed as an administrative secretary in the office of the Dean.

Clarence D. Gardei is doing graduate work at Purdue in industrial psychology. His address is Apt. 325-2, F. P. H. A., West Lafayette, Ind. Mr. and Mrs. Garei's two children, Russell and Lois Ann, just passed their third and first birthdays respectively.

Down Philadelphia way we find a lot of Bucknellians. Claire Vogelsong and Jane Banker are both working for Atlantic Refining Co. as secretaries. Claire is in the sales department and living at 2107 Spruce St., Phila. 3. "Bugs" Harvey is working for Liberty Mutual Insurance, and Nancy Wisehaupt for Wanamaker's.

Pfc. Howard J. Brosious is stationed in Germany with the Army. After leaving Bucknell he studied at South Eastern University in Washington, D. C. and worked for the FBI. His present address is U. S. 24006417, C "A", 656th Engr. Topo. Bn. A. P. O. 403, c/o P. M., New York.

Here's the latest on Jane Banker and Greg Bowen: Married, February 7 at Lewistown.

(Ed. Note) We regret the fact that limited space has made it impossible to print all the notes submitted to us the past three issues by your reporter. They will be printed as soon as space permits. To help "catch up" some class notes will reach you by mail soon.

We Visit Bucknellians in Europe

By FORREST D. BROWN, Secretary, Christian Association

Travel can be just that. Going places, seeing things strange and exotic, or ordinary; doing things, rushing madly around, or just loafing—can be travel and pleasant. On the other hand it may mean a serious interest in art, history, cultural patterns of different societies and groups, industrial development or social problems—and be immensely stimulating and educational. More of this serious study is being accomplished each year by Americans. Thirty thousand of 400,000 Americans who applied for passports to travel abroad last year did so for "educational purposes".

Our own interests for the five and a half months in Europe were in between. We wanted to see other countries and peoples, and to make some cultural comparisons. We wanted to know something about the religious situation in Portugal and Spain, the cultural conflicts in colonial Moslem North Africa, the outlook of youth and students in Europe, and the progress and validity of student exchange everywhere. We were fortunate in being able to make contacts with English speaking friends, old and new, in all the places we visited, and through them meet many other people of the respective countries.

We came out of the experience convinced that travel abroad could be made profoundly more meaningful if Americans took time to meet the real people in the countries they visit, and if they made use of their own professional associations and counterparts in other countries, this would be possible.

On our initial long journey by train from Paris to Lisbon, our compartment friend, Manuel Mendes, young Portugese engineer who was returning home from six months study and observation in the Pittsburgh area, proved to be a most stimulating host. Enthusiastic about the superb treatment given him by members of his profession in Pittsburgh, he couldn't do enough for Americans. Through him the towns and scenery and people took on human forms. Customs checks and strange customs were met with ease. In Lisbon another group of new friends introduced us to most fascinating people, historic places and to the history of a once great power, and a strong friend of the U. S.

In Madrid and in Lisbon, other good friends unfolded for us some of the great art treasures of Spain in painting and in architecture. From the small but beautiful concealed Protestant chapels we got a sense of what being a Christian means under persecution. We witnessed also the deep devotion of the Spanish people to their own state faith (Roman Catholic), and the tensions such a relationship creates in domestic, social, economic and political life. Some of the most helpful conversations were with Roman Catholics in varied professions who have no illusions about their explosive situation. It may be hoped that the program of American aid will bring back into modern life the country which has for years been in a back eddy. Seventy-five Spanish students are in the USA studying this year, as part of that program. Spain is indeed a tourist's paradise because of the low prices and historic and colorful interests. The economic suffering of the people is tragic. Drafted soldiers, serving for two years, receive forty-five cents a month.

In Algiers and in Tunis, our contact friends were missionaries under the Methodist Board, who knew the language and the people. Through them we met French officials, Arab leaders and friends, and saw first hand such exotic places as "The Casba" and the sacred city of "Kairouan". Native handicrafts and customs, and the life within the native villages of the Kabyle people in the remote hinterland, the ruins of an amazing Greek and Roman civilization, now emerging from the sands, revealed new dimensions of history to us.

THE FORREST BROWNS AT FRANKFURT A M

Left to Right—Mr. Merkel, brother of Gertrude Merkel M. A. '51; Hans Jensen '50-51; Forrest D. Brown, secretary, Christian Association; Mrs. Virginia Werlein Geck '49-50; Karl Geck '49-50; Mrs. Forrest D. Brown; Ernst Wallrapp '50-51.

In Rome for Easter, we attended the American Church. The coffee hour following provides opportunity for meeting members of the American community—a delightful custom we were to find also in Geneva and in Paris. Of the more than half a million pilgrims to Rome at that season, three-fourths were said to be Germans! In Florence we met Italian students enthusiastically looking forward to a year in an American University under the Fulbright program. We also met two who had returned, a bit disillusioned to find that their training and experience still did not qualify them to be teachers in their chosen fields of art and philosophy. A "professorship" in a European University, in fact any academic status, comes after long years of sacrifice, research, and is in itself recognition, rather than the pathway to recognition.

In Germany we were introduced to Nuremberg, Oberamagau, and Bavaria by Miss Betty Funkhouser, former assistant dean of women at Bucknell. At Zweibrücken we were able to spend two week ends with Forrest, Jr. '51, and his wife, and to get here something of the life and outlook of the armed services on occupation duty. Throughout Europe we were pleased with the conduct and spirit of American military personnel. They were on the whole better representatives than the average run of tourists! And they were taking advantage of seeing Europe. In Frankfurt we were part of a Bucknell reunion in the beautiful apartment of Gingi and Karl Geck. Karl has finished his Ph.D. work with honors, and is now qualifying for the post of "Judge". He will presently return to his position with the Law Faculty of the University of Frankfurt. At the party were Hans Jensen and Ernst Wallrapp who were at Bucknell in 1951-1952, and who are still studying law at Frankfurt and Marburg respectively. Gertrud Merkel's brother, formerly a student at the U. of N. C., was also there. Although economic conditions were severe, they seemed to radiate some of the new hope of Germany. Under the guidance of Gingi and Karl, we took the famous Rhine River trip.

In Switzerland and in Holland we found English spoken to such an extent that we did not feel any handicap in getting about. The peoples here are optimistic, hard working, and seem to be very much like ourselves. At the U. of Leyden we met John Carmen, brother to Bob '52. In Geneva we met leaders of the World Council of Churches, and of the World's Student Christian Federation, some of them old friends. We were amazed to find here, as in so many other University centers, many Americans, especially medical students. Here we also got to know the Smith College Junior Year group. Success in foreign study depends so much on ability to handle the language.

France proved for us to be a difficult country to understand. We saw at its best Christian compassion in the work of the CIMADE, Protestant relief work. Here the strong though small Protestant community of France has taken responsibility for thousands of refugees from Spain, Russia and the countries behind the iron curtain, making an attempt to integrate them into the normal life of the community. In a country already overcrowded, poor, and disorganized this is no easy thing.

In Britain we arrived in time for the Coronation, and remained for seven weeks, spending much of the time with relatives. As Americans we can never understand this relationship of a people and their king or queen. For them it is a vital and thrilling thing. It gives cohesion to the scattered remnants of empire and commonwealth. Luxuries are few. Although the people are tired, the national spirit is superb.

Even much as there is to see across Europe, we cannot understand it without knowing something of the history, and of the people themselves. So many times we wished for more knowledge of history, and a speaking knowledge of French at least!

When you go, we hope that you too will make it a point to meet the people. They are the most interesting part of Europe!

Ed. Note—Mr. Brown is this summer leading a tour to Europe for the Guild on Student Travel, leaving Quebec on June 12th, returning on July 30.

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS is published in January, March, April, June, September, October and December by Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa.
Member—American Alumni Council

OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION

MRS. J. B. KELLY (Emily Devine '21), President, 1569 Metropolitan Ave., New York 62, N. Y.
PAUL E. FINK '29, First Vice President, 606 N. Arch St., Montoursville, Pa.
WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, Second Vice President, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York.
DAYTON L. RANCK '16, Treasurer, 35 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa.
JOHN H. SHOTT '22, Secretary and Editor, 116 Faculty Court, Lewisburg, Pa.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

PAUL E. FINK '29, 606 N. Arch St., Montoursville, Pa. (1954).
MRS. J. B. KELLY (Emily Devine '21), 1569 Metropolitan Ave., New York 62, N. Y. (1954).
LAWRENCE M. KIMBALL '23, Box 226, Vineland, N. J. (1954).
DANIEL M. ROOP '45, 19 Vine St., Danville, Pa. (1954).
KENNETH W. SLIFER '26, 177 Briar Hill Lane, Woodbury, N. J. (1954).
WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York (1955).
JOSEPH T. QUICK '38, Wright Rd., R. D. 2, Newtown, Pa. (1955).
MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh 6, Pa. (1955).
CLAIR G. SPANGLER '25, 214 N. Sixth St., Reading, Pa. (1955).
JOHN F. WORTH '37, 233 N. Galveston St., Arlington, Va. (1955).
MRS. BROWN FOCHT (Florence Utt '26), 229 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa. (1956).
BRUCE J. MILLER '27, 112 Devoe Rd., Chappaqua, N. Y. (1956).
ALLEN A. RARIG '29, 528 Lindbergh Way, Lewistown, Pa. (1956).
DONALD H. SHOLL '42, Munn Lane E., R. D. 1, Haddonfield, N. J. (1956).
P. HERBERT WATSON '37, 67 Prospect Ave., Norristown, Pa. (1956).

() Year Term Expires.

Bison Bows to:

Another Bucknell Birthday

No doubt many local club presidents wish that the founders of Bucknell had selected a month other than the month of February for the granting of the University Charter. The risk of unfavorable weather in February sometimes discourages club planners from scheduling Birthday Celebrations at this time of the year.

Perhaps all of us should re-read Chapter 1, "A Trying Journey" in Dr. Theiss' Centennial History of Bucknell University to understand that our travel difficulties in February are as nothing compared to the hardships our founding fathers encountered.

This year about twenty local Alumni Clubs celebrated Charter Day with the traditional Bucknell Birthday Cake and messages of encouragement from more than a dozen faculty members who devoted their mid-year vacation to this unselfish service.

On the campus the granting of the University Charter was noted by a special student chapel service addressed by Dr. Harold R. Husted, Minister of the First-Park Baptist Church, Plainfield, New Jersey. Dr. Husted is the father of four Bucknell sons. Following the chapel service, a luncheon commemorating the founding fathers was held by a group of Bucknell Baptist Ministers and other campus visitors. Dr. Ronald V. Wells, Executive Director of the Board of Education of the American Baptist Convention, was the speaker at the luncheon.

Alumni residing in the campus area met on Tuesday, February 9 at the Lewisburg Club to celebrate Bucknell's Charter Day. The speaker of the evening was Dr. Earl Morgan Richards '13, MS19, Honorary DSC46, a former member of the Board of Trustees and Vice President of Republic Steel Company, Cleveland.

And what was accomplished at Bucknell's Birthday Parties? Well, in the first place, several thousand Bucknellians and their families enjoyed an evening of fellowship and benefited from hearing the latest news from the Bucknell campus. Every report from the campus was designed to give Alumni the benefit of the latest information concerning Bucknell's progress and plans with the hope that we will all be encouraged to promote enrollment of the better local high school graduates at the University.

Other benefits enjoyed by a number of clubs included the establishment of High School Contact Committees. The growth of admissions work in clubs is to be commended. This type of assistance to our admissions officers is certain to be reflected in wider and better selection of entering students. Some clubs held elections, thus insuring continued alumni activity. A number of clubs that will not be meeting again before June took care of the important task of selecting their representatives to attend the meeting of the Annual Assembly of the General Alumni Association on June 12. Still others canvassed their membership to select candidates to be submitted to the proper committees for election to the Board of Directors of the General Alumni Association. Some looked ahead and chose candidates for nominations for the 1955 election of an Alumni Trustee.

Bucknell's Annual Charter Day celebration is here to stay, but in order to be of maximum effectiveness, its functioning must be of service and fellowship to the local Alumni group, as well as to the University.

* * * *

How Large Should Bucknell Be?

Try out that question with any group of Alumni and you are likely to get a variety of answers. The 1909 gal believes Bucknell should be the same size as it was when she attended. The 1919 man believes Bucknell's size in 1919 was about right, and so on. These answers point out the fact that the average alumnus of Bucknell—like his fellow alumni of other Universities all over the country—is not unsympathetic towards the present day Bucknell or to the Bucknell of the future. But it seems to be generally acknowledged that, even in this violently changing world, the average alumnus likes to feel that something of the college of his day persists in the college of now and of tomorrow. Bucknell is fortunate in that its growth has been gradual and the oldest alumnus visiting the campus today can see much evidence of a retention of the older facilities and spirit present in his or her student days.

It is our hope that THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS will always carry a liberal portion of material telling about the Bucknell of the past. But as Alumni helping to shape the future of the world as well as of Bucknell we might well consider the University of today and of tomorrow.

Not to be overlooked in consideration of University size is the prediction of things to come in the matter of college enrollment. For instance, a recent survey reported, after carefully surveying population trends and Office of Education statistics, that enrollment in all colleges now is 2½ million which constitutes about 26% of the 8 million of college age. (About one of four go to college). By 1960, college age, about 9½ million. And by 1970, about 13½ million. These figures seem to indicate that colleges should prepare for increasing enrollments. How big should Bucknell be?

* * * *

Dr. J. Orin Oliphant, professor of history, for his splendid editorial work on the 80-page brochure The Beginnings of Bucknell University—A Sampling of the Documents just published by the Bucknell University Press. His scholarly introduction brings together a detailed account of the Baptist efforts in the 1830's that finally led to the establishment of the University at Lewisburg. It is a fine companion piece to add to your copy of Dr. Theiss' Centennial History of Bucknell University. If you do not have a copy of the History now is the time to obtain both. Send $3.50 to the Alumni office.

Kernels From the Campus Squirrels:

IT COULD HAPPEN HERE—An editor on an Illinois newspaper couldn't believe it when he read a reporter's story about the theft of 2,025 pigs.

"That's a lot of pigs," he growled, and called the farmer to check the copy.

"Is it true that you lost 2,025 pigs?" he asked. "Yeth," lisped the farmer.

"Thanks," said the wise editor and corrected the copy to read "two sows and 25 pigs."

* * *

AN ENGINEER—Little Johnny was asked to describe a bolt and nut and turned in this gem—"A holt is a thing like a stick of hard metal such as iron with a square bunch on one end and a lot of scratching wound around the other end. A nut is just like a holt only opposite, being a hole in a little square bunch of iron sawed off short, with wrinkles around inside the hole."

All right—you describe it!

* * *

SO RIGHT!—A Bucknellian's wife was talking with another Bucknellian's wife at a recent club meeting. The subject of their respective husbands' jobs were up for discussion. The first wife said—"My husband is a safety expert."

"What does a safety expert do?" queried No. 2.

"Well, if we women did it, they'd call it nagging," replied the wiser of the two.

* * *

YOU CAN VOTE ON THIS—Punctuate to fit the case—"Woman, without her man, is helpless" or—"Woman, without her man is helpless."

* * *

SWITCH—Dean "Whispering Ivy" Musser tells the silly about the two little Dutch boys walking along a dike with their mother. Halfway across, one of the boys pushed his mother into the water, and said:

"Look, Hans. No Mom."

Alumni Office Visitors

The General Alumni Association maintains a visitors' register in the Alumni Office, 206 Roberts Hall, which contains the names of many Alumni who have returned to the campus. Won't you come when you are on the campus, sign the book, and look for the names of classmates who have been back recently?

Alumni and their guests are urged to use the Alumni Office as their campus headquarters. Stationery, desk space and telephone service are available.

Among those who have signed the register recently are the following:

GEORGE R. WALTERS '33, Williamsport
JOHN C. HOOVER '50, Williamsport
ERIC A. OESTERLE '16, Woodstown, N. J.
NEWTON C. FETTER '09, Scarsdale, N. Y.
HARRY J. ZIEGLER, JR., Radnor
HENRY G. P. COATES '32, Hightstown, N. J.
M. M. OGOEN '12, Rutland, Vt.
C. I. CARLSON '22, Williamsport
LUKE R. BENDER '21, Milton
MR. AND MRS. GEORGE ENNIS '27, Mt. Penn
MR. AND MRS. A. S. CRATER, Reading
EDNA M. CRATER, Reading
RICHARD C. CRATER, Reading
JOHN M. ENNIS, Reading
DAVID W. RYERSON, Lehigh '52, Wyckoff, N. J.
BRYN T. BARNARD, Rosemont
JAMES H. MCK. QUINN, Philadelphia
LARRY BARNARD, Rosemont
HARRY R. WARFEL '20, Gainesville, Fla.
DOUGLAS W. ANDERSON '27, Towaco, N. J.
RICHARD B. BYROD '49, Baltimore, Md.
CORA C. TRUXEL '31, Yeadon
CARL E. TRUXEL '31, Yeadon
LEICESTER HORAM '23, Shamokin
HOWLAND F. HOLLAR '52, Ashtabula, Ohio
MRS. H. F. HOLLAR, Ashtabula, Ohio
JOHN W. SPROUT '48, Hightstown, N. J.
BARTON H. MACKEY '18, Newark, Delaware
WALTER W. MERKEL, Johnstown
CHARLES RAYMOND BARR, M.D., Philadelphia

ALEXANDER F. DERSHLIMER '03, Tunkhannock
VORIS A. LINKER '21, Nutley, N. J.
A. R. MATHIESON '20, Pittsburgh
CLYDE P. BAILEY '29, Pittsburgh
R. E. BOYER '18, Allentown
VETA D. REPLOGLE '27, Pittsburgh
J. S. REPLOGLE '26, Pittsburgh
JANET REPLOGLE '56, Pittsburgh
KENNETH W. SLIFER '26, Woodbury, N. J.
DAVID SLIFER '60, Woodbury, N. J.
HARRY HARTZELL '08, San Francisco, Calif.
CHARLES D. KOCH '98, Muncy
RUTH KISTLER YOUNG '43, Philadelphia
LILLIAN H. BANNISTER, Summit, N. J.
JUDITH BANNISTER, Summit, N. J.
CHARLES E. BANNISTER, Summit, N. J.
RAYMOND AND JANE BULLIS '03, Whittier, Calif.
JAMES R. WILLIAMS '52, Nanticoke
DANIEL M. ROOP '45, Danville
EMILY DEVINE KELLY '21, New York
HELEN BOOLNE RHODES '20, Pittsburgh
JOSEPH T. QUICK '38, Newtown
MARY BACHMAN QUICK '38, Newtown
JOHN F. WORTH '37, Arlington, Va.
PAUL E. FINK '29, Montoursville
ROY E. NICOLEMUS '25, Danville
LEONARD R. SMITH '44, Washington, D. C.
MRS. ANNA M. HAY '83, Washington, D. C.
MRS. FLORENCE M. GRITZAN, Washington, D. C.
CHARLES R. EYER '40, Williamsville, N. Y.
ROBERT TODD PRATT '49, Quito, Ecuador
C. W. PULLEN '27, Belle Mead, N. J.
DAN C. PULLEN, Belle Mead, N. J.
LINDA G. PULLEN, Belle Mead, N. J.
W. HARRY POSTEN '09, Atlantic Highlands, N. J.
M. EDGAR DATESMAN '50, Port Allegany, Pa.
JAY F. BOND '03, Factoryville
JOHN A. STREETER, Penn State '32, Williamsport
DOROTHY J. STREETER, Williamsport
RALPH F. HARTZ '22, Philadelphia
JOHN FREMONT COX '25, Munhall
OELLA KISOR LINDNER '29, Milton
EMILIE WILLIAMS REIMENSNYDER '29, Milton
DOROTHY WAGNER '29, Mifflinburg
THELMA J. SHOWALTER '29, Mifflinburg
MARTHA V. WATERBURY '29, Laurelton

ELLIS S. SMITH, SR., '21, Rochester, N. Y.
SARAH WALTERS HEADLAND '09, St. Petersburg, Fla.
ELEANOR S. W. DILL '28, Norristown
ROBERT W. DILL '27, Norristown
E. LARUE UNGER REAMER '21, Shamokin
FRANCIS F. REAMER '21, Shamokin
JAMES F. F. REAMER '57, Shamokin
LEWIS C. SCHOENLY, Gilbertsville
MR. AND MRS. CLIFTON L. SCHANLEY, Boyertown
DR. AND MRS. STEWART L. RANKIN '26, Springfield
ENS. LEONARD H. AHLFELD '53, Westfield, N. J.
WALT HOPPER '32, Arlington, Va.
JACK RICKART '52, Pittsburgh
MR. AND MRS. W. B. KRISHER '54, State College
FLORENCE THOMAS, Grenloch, N. J.
MARY WOODWARD BUDO, Mt. Holyoke '96, Mount
Holly, N. J.
DORA HAMLER WEAVER '14, New Kensington
H. B. WEAVER '14, New Kensington
M. R. BUFFINGTON '15, Short Hills, N. J.
DONALD J. BUFFINGTON '55, Short Hills, N. J.
ANDREW R. E. WYANT '92, Clarion
FRANK HAAS '47, Harrisburg
W. H. BERLIN '35, Youngstown, Ohio
GEORGE BERLIN, Youngstown, Ohio
ALEN A. RARIG '29, Lewistown
FLORENCE UTT FOCHT '26, Lewisburg
LAWRENCE M. KIMBALL '23, Vineland, N. J.
BRUCE J. MILLER '27, Chappaqua, N. Y.
R. C. STADGEN '47, Lancaster
BRUCE E. BUTT '16, Harrisburg
WALTER L. HILL, JR., 23, Scranton
KENNETH A. BIOLACH '29, Mifflinburg
MRS. L. D. FERO (BEULAH M. HUMMEL) '18, Pittsburgh
ERNEST E. BLANCHE '38, N. Chevy Chase, Md.
JAMES E. THOMAS '51, Pittsburgh
D. R. BAGENSTOSE '39, Wayne
P. HERBERT WATSON '37, Norristown
MELVIN L. WOODWARD '53, Quantico, Va.
GEDDES W. SIMPSON '29, Orono, Me.
BLANCHE THOMAS SIMPSON '30, Orono, Me.
FRANK T. SIMPSON, Orono, Me.
BLANCHE A. SIMPSON, Orono, Me.
GEDDES SIMPSON, JR., Orono, Me.
MARY SIMPSON, Orono, Me.

Bob Streeter '38 Named Dean of the University of Chicago

Dr. Robert E. Streeter '38 has been appointed dean of the liberal arts college at the University of Chicago.

Bob succeeds Dean F. Champion Ward who has resigned to take a temporary position as co-ordinator of the Division of Overseas Activities of the Ford Foundation. After earning his bachelor's degree at Bucknell, Bob earned his master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees from Northwestern University. He taught at Bucknell from 1942 to 1947 in which year he was on leave as professor at Seoul National University, Korea, as American advisor to the university English department.

Appointed an assistant professor of English in Chicago in 1947, Dr. Streeter became an associate professor and associate dean of the college last October. He served, too, as chairman of the English staff.

Bob has served Bucknell and the Alumni Association in a variety of ways both as a student and alumnus. A member of Delta Sigma (now Delta Upsilon) fraternity, he distinguished himself as a student and during his teaching career on the campus served as editor of the alumni magazine and in the public relations office. Since he has been in Chicago, Bob has served a term as president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Chicago and has represented the University at various conferences and convocations in the Chicago area. In 1953 he was elected to membership in the Bucknell University chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

In 1950 he prepared the feature article "In a Korean Classroom" for the December issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.

He is married to the former Ruth Parker '38 of Lewisburg. They reside with their children, Janette Frear, 8, and Robert Alvan, 4, at 1225 East 54th St., Chicago.

Dr. Norman H. Stewart, professor of zoology and a member of the Friends of the Library association at Bucknell, recently contributed to the university library seven volumes pertaining to his field, including six volumes entitled "Morris's British Birds" and one volume entitled "Animal Kingdom" by Baron Cuvier. The six volume set was given to Dr. Stewart by the executors of the estate of the late Dr. Benjamin Harry Warren, former state ornithologist of Pennsylvania.

In the past two months, Harold W. Heine, associate professor of chemistry at the college, has had four articles, written on the role of cyclic intermediates in substitution reactions, published in the Journal of the American Chemical Society. A book, "Organic Reactions", was reviewed by Professor Heine for the American Chemical Society, and an account of his research at Bucknell on Tetanus was included in "World Science Review", a monthly publication printed in England. Also, he gave an address on the bio-chemistry of tetanus toxin at Swarthmore College and at Camp Detrick in Frederick, Md. He has recently returned from a conference at Warner Research Laboratories in Morristown, N. J.

* * *

The Bucknell department of geography and geology was represented by Professors Paul J. Brand and Samuel W. Smith at the meetings of the National Council of Geography Teachers and of the National Council for Social Studies held recently in Buffalo, N. Y. The Bucknell representatives participated in a visual aids symposium and in a reconnaissance of the industrial zones of Buffalo.

* * *

Bucknell University has been awarded a $1900 research grant by the Camille and Henry Dreyfus Foundation, Inc., to be used by Dr. Bennett R. Willeford, Jr., assistant professor of chemistry, for a study of coordination compounds of various metals by spectrophotometric, ion exchange and radio activity techniques.

Business and the Colleges

Despite the increasing financial aid given to colleges by U. S. business, an estimated 50% of the country's private educational plants operate in the red.

If industry is to get more and better trained college graduates, corporations must provide much of the cash needed by colleges to expand their facilities and improve their teaching, and work more closely with colleges on business' needs, TIME, The Weekly News-magazine, said in its business essay in the Jan. 18 issue.

Businessmen and educators have not always recognized their "clear mutuality of interest . . . The rapidly expanding U. S. economy has made college graduates more important than ever to industry. In turn, universities must depend increasingly on corporations for contributions, since high taxes have all but cut off the flow of the big individual contributions that built the private schools."

Few people know how much industry already contributes. In 1954 business will donate well over $60 million to private colleges, plus additional funds for research and equipment.

At present, much corporate help covers only tuition, about half the cost of putting a student through school. Donations are sporadic—a flood in high-profit years, a trickle in bad; too many contributions are for specific scientific projects which tend to unbalance the college program.

"U. S. business is taking the lesson to heart," TIME says. "Corporate gifts are not regarded merely as a means of spending cheap tax dollars, but as a blue-chip investment that will eventually pay heavy dividends. Some 1,500 companies have learned that the best way to give is through corporate foundations . . ."

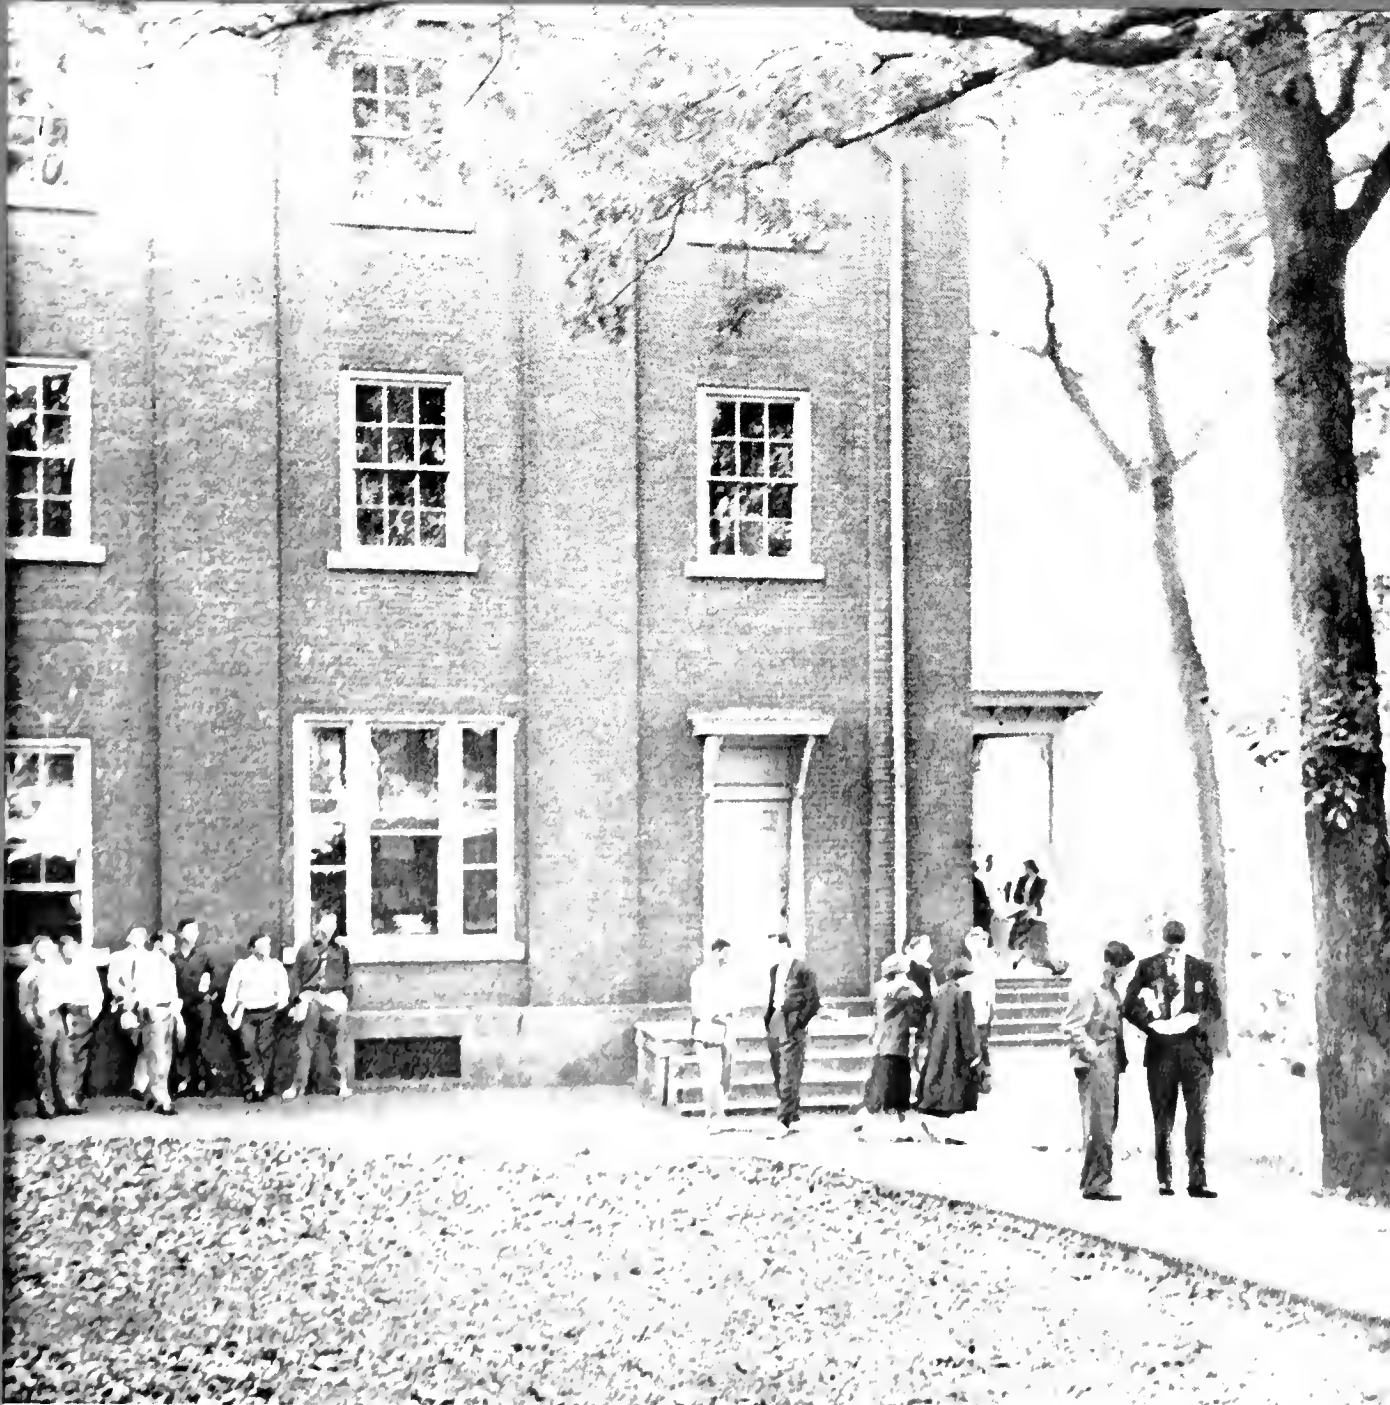

"By investing heavily in periods of high earnings, a backlog can be accumulated to insure a steady stream of funds, thus enable educators to plan years ahead."

The

BUCKNELL

ALUMNUS

11 • 1954

ALUMNI DAY . . . JUNE 12, 1954

SEE PAGE 3

Report of 1953-1954 Alumni Giving by Classes

Gifts received from July 1, 1953 to April 30, 1954

Class	Fund and Capital Gifts	Total Contributions	Alumni Fund	Capital and Other Gifts	Class	Fund and Capital Gifts	Total Contributions	Alumni Fund	Capital and Other Gifts
Emeritus Club (Classes 1874-1903)
1886	1 $ 25.00	$ 25.00	$ 25.00	$	1922	36 $ 523.00	$ 423.00	$ 100.00
1887	2 15.00	15.00			1923	42 373.00	323.00	50.00
1888	1 25.00	25.00			1924	34 732.00	482.00	250.00
1889	2 8.00	8.00			1925	30 604.00	454.00	150.00
1890	1 20.00	20.00			1926	37 874.00	674.00	200.00
1891	2 45.00	45.00			1927	32 530.30	380.30	150.00
1892	2 409.69	409.69			1928	36 521.50	371.50	150.00
1893	2 10.00	10.00			1929	35 818.00	718.00	100.00
1894	11 210.00	210.00			1930	27 264.00	264.00
1895	6 139.00	39.00		100.00	1931	56 1,167.00	567.00	600.00
1896	7 616.00	116.00		500.00	1932	30 570.50	370.50	200.00
1897	1 25.00	25.00			1933	41 595.00	545.00	50.00
1898	5 115.00	115.00			1934	35 568.50	468.50	100.00
1899	15 199.00	199.00			1935	28 236.50	236.50
1900	12 165.00	165.00			1936	22 868.00	118.00	750.00
1901	16 1,010.37	563.00		447.37	1937	32 501.00	401.00	100.00
1902	10 114.00	114.00			1938	24 285.00	285.00
1903	15 168.00	168.00			1939	46 611.00	611.00
					1940	40 325.50	275.50	50.00
Total Emeritus	111 $ 3,319.06	$ 2,271.69	$ 1,047.37		1941	66 436.50	436.50
1904	15 193.00	193.00			1942	58 337.50	312.50	25.00
1905	15 267.00	267.00			1943	48 436.50	326.50	110.00
1906	15 279.00	179.00		100.00	1944	26 160.00	110.00	50.00
1907	18 234.00	184.00		50.00	1945	26 216.00	201.00	15.00
1908	23 4,775.06	533.00		4,242.06	1946	49 393.00	288.00	105.00
1909	25 587.00	337.00		250.00	1947	38 182.00	182.00
1910	22 343.50	303.50		40.00	1948	82 572.00	372.00	200.00
1911	18 970.00	170.00		800.00	1949	93 528.00	528.00
1912	15 154.50	154.50			1950	63 395.55	395.55
1913	22 11,037.00	537.00		10,500.00	1951	59 359.00	359.00
1914	16 752.00	252.00		500.00	1952	66 389.50	389.50
1915	16 282.50	182.50		100.00	1953	72 313.00	313.00
1916	22 340.00	340.00			1954	6 28.00	28.00
1917	20 409.50	359.50		50.00	1955	3 18.00	18.00
1918	17 140.00	140.00			Friends, Faculty and Administration	7 101.00	101.00
1919	53 629.00	629.00			Totals	1929 $42,165.47	$20,756.04	$21,409.43
1920	27 1,025.50	950.50		75.00
1921	34 594.50	444.50		150.00

FOR COMPARISON

	No. of Donors	Amount Contributed to Fund
This year—7/1/53 to 4/30/54	1929	$20,756.04
Last year—7/1/52 to 4/30/53	1660	$15,987.17

THE FUND YEAR CLOSSES ON JUNE 30, 1954

The Cover Picture

Here's your last chance to see a picture of STEPHEN WILLIAM TAYLOR HALL, for when classes close this June a major rebuilding project will begin. This was the first building on College Hill, erected in 1848-1849. Known as the ACADEMY BUILDING from the beginning of the University until the discontinuance of the Academy in 1916, it was renamed in that year in honor of the man who had general direction of the work of establishing Bucknell University. When the rebuilding is completed modern facilities for the pre-medical program will be provided. An auditorium, recitation rooms, offices, and laboratories for work in zoology, embryology, histology, bacteriology, physiology, and anatomy will be included in the project.

In This Issue

	Page
Admissions Outlook	26
Alumni Clubs	6, 11, 13
Alumni Fund Report	2
Alumni Weekend	3, 5
Alumni
Albert V. Boerner '32	9
Dr. Gordon L. Brownell '43	9
Roxland H. Coleman '29	4
Mrs. Anna K. Marsh '87	4
Dr. Michael S. Mermon '29	4
Weaver W. Pangburn '10	5, 9
Sigmund Stoler '37	21
George S. Tilley '99	4
Dr. A. R. E. Wyant '92	4
Bequests	27
Book Shelf	5
Cap and Dagger	7
Class of 1954 Officers	13
Class of 1954 Presents	12
Class Reports	15-25
Code for Bucknellians	Back Cover
Does Education Pay?	26
Faculty News	7
Founders' Day	25
"Four-Mile", and Map	10, 11
Help Week—1954 Style	9
How Large Should Bucknell Be?	26
May Queen	13
Men's New Dormitory	7
Men's Student Assembly	13
Robbins Retires	8
Senior Prom	26
Sports	14
Student News	4, 7, 9, 13
University Affairs	7
Wandering Bucknellians	24, 27
WUS Auction	7

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

Vol. XXXVIII—No. 7 June 1954
 Published in January, March, April, June, September, October and December by
 BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY
 Entered as second-class matter December 30, 1930, at the post office at Lewisburg, Pa., under the Act of August 24, 1912.

STUDENT EDITORIAL ASSISTANTS: Jean Wirths '56, Madison, N. J.; Howard Macauley, Jr. '54, Reading; Lolita Bunnell '56, South Temple; Jane Nevling '56, Lockport, N. Y.; Betty Fogg '56, Moylan; Laura DeRosa '54, Totowa Borough, N. J.; Arline Sherwood '56, Trenton, N. J.

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

VOLUME XXXVIII — No. 7

JUNE 1954

Reunion to Feature Alumni Weekend, June 11-14

The 1954 Alumni Reunion—Commencement Program will open Friday, June 11 and continue through Monday, June 14, with Saturday, June 12 designated as All-Alumni Reunion Day. The pattern of events will follow the revitalized program of the past few years with each reunion class planning features that will make this the best one yet. This All-University celebration has improved with experience gained as the years go by.

So far as campus plans are concerned everything is ready. The reunion classes and other alumni are cordially invited to come and enjoy the entertainment provided. The biggest general alumni event will, of course, be the All-Alumni Luncheon to which alumni, students, faculty, parents, and friends are invited at 1:00 P. M. on Saturday, June 12 in the Davis Gymnasium.

REGISTRATION

As soon as you reach Lewisburg you will want to head for the Carnegie Building (the old library). There you will register, receive your room and ticket reservations and a schedule of the location of your own class reunion and other weekend activities. For those without advance reservations, ticket needs and a directory of events will be supplied at the registration headquarters in the Carnegie Building.

YOUR REUNION HEADQUARTERS

Classes holding five-year reunions (those whose class numerals end in "4" and "9") plus the Emeritus Club (1884-1903) and the Class of 1953 plus the graduating seniors of the Class of 1954, have been provided special class reunion headquarters for both the morning business meeting and the afternoon social gathering. The schedule of meeting places, subject to some last minute adjustments, is as follows:

Class	Place of Class Meeting 10:30 A. M.	Place of Afternoon Social Program 3:00 P. M.
Emeritus	Rouance Seminar	Taylor Street House
Club	Vaughan Literature
1904	103 Vaughan Literature	Spanish House
1909	105 Vaughan Literature	German House
1914	107 Vaughan Literature	Sixth Street House
1919	109 Vaughan Literature	Edwards House
1924	203 Bertrand Library	Senior Honor House
1929	Bertrand Library	Otzinachson Country Club, Milton
1934	1st Floor Reading Room	Seventh Street House
	Bertrand Library
1939	202 Bertrand Library	French House
1944	Library, Vaughan Literature	Spratt House
1949	207 Vaughan Literature	Stephens House
1953	201 Bertrand Library	Hulley House
1954	Exhibition Room
	Bertrand Library

At the morning meeting reunioners will meet for a general handshaking, to perform necessary business, to receive the anniversary L'Agenda, regale themselves with their class regalia, and pose for their group picture. Quite a large order for a one hour meeting so better be prompt at your class headquarters at 10:30 A. M.

GROUND BREAKING AT 12:00 NOON

Promptly at noon brief ground breaking ceremonies for the new F. W. Olin Science Building will be held on the site opposite the Engineering Building and just a few steps from your Alumni Headquarters.

THE ALL-ALUMNI LUNCHEON

Immediately following the ground breaking ceremonies the traditional parade to the gymnasium will take place. Parade marshals will place each reunion group back of its class banner and, headed by the reunion band, will move as a body to the Davis Gymnasium where the All-Alumni Luncheon will be served. Alumni will be seated by class groups so it is very important that you join the parade with your own group. The luncheon will be substantial, the speeches few and short, the opportunities to meet Bucknellians of all classes and the graduating seniors ample. The luncheon is the feature gathering place for all Bucknellians.

YOUR SOCIAL PROGRAM

Following the luncheon the pace will slow down to a gallop and the reunioners will meander to the class social headquarters (shown on the schedule below) for relaxing and reminiscing. For non-reunion classes and, in fact, for all who can find the time we recommend a tour of "the four-mile" (see page 10) and a visit to the Bucknell Treasure Room in the new Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library where an exhibit of rare Bucknelliana will be on display.

THE EVENING PROGRAM

Fraternity and sorority symposia will occupy some at 6:00 P. M. but we cannot dally too long for the Commencement Play is scheduled for the Lewisburg High School at 8:00 P. M. This year Cap and Dagger will present "Othello."

THE JAMBOREE AND RECEPTION —WHAT IS IT?

Starting at 9:00 P. M. in the Davis Gymnasium we will celebrate one of the newer additions to the revitalized Alumni Day program. There will be an orchestra for dancing, an entertaining program of student talent, refreshments and ample room for everyone to get together, climaxing the end of the school year, a farewell to our senior graduates and another opportunity to meet and greet Bucknell classmates and friends. Those who attend the Cap and Dagger performance will, of course, dash over to the Jamboree in the gymnasium to polish off the evening.

BISON CLUB — PHI BETA KAPPA BREAKFAST

No, the brains and brawn are not combining their talents—yet. For the Bison Clubbers will gather for breakfast at 8:00 A. M. Saturday at the Lewisburg Club, 131 Market Street, while the Phi Beta Kappa breakfasters will meet at St. Andrews Episcopal Church on Route 15 at 8:30 A. M. to eat and discuss—(I wonder what they do talk about?)

BUSINESS MEETINGS

Of course, while all this program is going on Alumni Association officers, club, class and fund workers, as well as delegates and alternates to the Annual Assembly of the General Alumni Association, will be attending business meetings on Friday night and Saturday morning. We are required to carry on the business affairs of a nation-wide association of 15,000 members for a whole year with less than three hours of meeting time, so alumni workers should be in their appointed places of meeting promptly. All alumni are urged to attend the annual business session of the General Alumni Association scheduled for the Vaughan Literature Auditorium promptly at 9:30 A. M. No other campus meeting has been scheduled to compete with this all-important gathering.

THE SUNDAY-MONDAY PROGRAM

Sunday morning the sun will rise on a more quiet scene and for many alumni the program will be breakfast, church and homeward bound. For those who can stay, the band concert and reception for seniors, parents, faculty, and alumni at 3:30 P. M., the Baccalaureate Service at 8:00 P. M., followed by Commencement exercises at 10:00 A. M. Monday, will round out a weekend that will long be remembered.

(Continued on Page 5)

Who Is '99's Busiest Retired Member?

GEORGE S. TILLEY

Probably few graduates of Bucknell have had a more varied experience than George S. Tilley, youngest member of the reunion Class of 1899, who was only thirteen years of age when he first appeared on the campus in short pants.

After graduation he spent two years at a school of the U. S. Revenue Cutter Service and five years at Harvard, one year in the College and four years being a research Fellow working on atomic weights. His Harvard training was interrupted twice by a return to Bucknell as an instructor in chemistry in 1904-5 and again in 1907-8. Leaving Harvard in 1909, he spent a year in the research laboratory of the General Electric Company at Schenectady, followed by two years at the U. S. Bureau of Standards in Washington.

In 1912 he transferred his activities to the West as chemical engineer for the Smith Emery Company of San Francisco, working on the recovery of potash from Pacific giant kelp. With the coming of the first World War, he worked on the same problem at the U. S. Department of Agriculture plant at Summerland, California, then helped design, build, and get into operation a similar plant on one of the San Juan Islands off the northwestern coast of Washington, after which he returned to the Summerland plant and stayed there until their research laboratory was closed at the end of the war.

He next became associated with I. F. Laucas, Inc., in Seattle as research chemist and engineer, then went to their branch at Kobe, Japan. In 1922 he returned to the United States as research chemist at the U. S. Bureau of Mines station at Berkeley, and later as acting superintendent of this station.

While at Berkeley he had the luck (as he says) to hit upon some improvements in the metallurgy of aluminum and vanadium, on which the Government allowed him to take out nine patents, and he soon found a firm that would pay for the commercial development of the patents and pay royalties for their use. Leaving the Bureau of Mines in 1925, he became engineer and consultant for this firm until 1932, when their plant was closed. The process, however, was later used for millions of pounds of aluminum during the second World War.

Mermon '29 Honored

Dr. Michael S. Mermon, whose foresight and leadership provided a youth center for his hometown of Nesquehoning, was recently honored by 400 of his friends and neighbors when the center was formally dedicated. The celebration featured the presenting of a plaque by William S. Livengood, state secretary of internal affairs. The plaque, unveiled by Dr. Mermon's children, Jeanne Marie and James bears the following inscription:

"This building dedicated February 24, 1954, in tribute to Michael S. Mermon, foremost civic leader, interested in community improvements, chairman of the Mauch Chunk Township Supervisors 1948-54, president of the State Association of Township Supervisors. John Bales, chairman; James Fauzio and Charles McGorry."

Dr. Mermon, after graduation from Bucknell, was awarded the M.D. degree by Jefferson Medical College in 1933 and has practiced medicine in his home community since then but has found time to help with many civic projects in Nesquehoning.

Coleman '29 Advances in Remington Arms Company

Rowland H. Coleman added a new title and many additional duties when he became vice president and assistant general manager of Remington Arms Company, Inc. in January 1954. In 1951 he was elected a vice president of the company and served as director of sales.

Mr. Coleman joined the advertising department of the Du Pont Company shortly after graduation from Bucknell University. In January 1937, he was transferred to the Remington Arms Company as advertising manager. He was later made director of promotion. He became director of sales in 1944.

Mr. Coleman is well known in the hardware and sporting goods industries, currently being president of the American Hardware Manufacturers Association. He is a member of the University Club of Bridgeport, of which he is president, First Church of Christ, Fairfield, Pequot Yacht Club and the Country Club of Fairfield. He lives with his wife, the former Esther Keim '30, and family on Catamount Road, Fairfield, Conn.

In 1932 he dropped chemistry altogether. As far back as 1913 he had been carrying on fruit-growing as a side activity in Oregon and then in Washington. Now he divided his time between building houses in California and British Columbia and especially fruit-growing in British Columbia and, later, on Vashon Island in Puget Sound.

In 1944 he sold his business at Vashon Island and worked for the State of California on the treatment of alkali feed water for use in steam boilers in State institutions and on automatic control of oil or gas-fuel firing and other problems until he was retired in 1951. Since then he has been "loafing", filling in some of the time by taking University Extension courses in Russian and in radio theory, with a cottage at Napa, California, for the hot weather, and for fall, winter, and spring a bachelor apartment at Riverside, Calif.

George has a brother in the Class of 1898, Dr. Frank W. Tilley, who resides in Chevy Chase, Md.

Mrs. Anna K. Marsh '87 Dies

Mrs. Eugene Fowler Marsh (Anna Kaler '87) long a Lewisburg resident died on Thursday, April 8, at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Henderson, of Chestnut Hill.

Mrs. Marsh was an interested and loyal Bucknellian and attended regularly the Alumni Weekend activities on the campus. She formerly served as president of the Bucknell Alumnae Association. Prominent in a number of organizations, she was a member of the Sedgley Club, Colonial Dames of America, Pennsylvania Society of New England Women, Historical Society of Pennsylvania and Pennsylvania Society for the Preservation of Landmarks. She was a former vice president of the National Society of Magna Charta Dames and former corresponding secretary and Pennsylvania vice regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Marsh was a descendant of William Rittenhouse, who established the first paper mill in Pennsylvania. She married H. Grant Dreisbach '86, who died in 1908, and later married Eugene F. Marsh, who passed away in 1930.

Funeral services were held on Sunday, April 11 at the Baptist Church in Lewisburg with burial in the Lewisburg Cemetery. Pallbearers were James F. McClure, John F. Zeller, Weber L. Gerhart, W. J. Miller, Charles G. Wilson, Charles W. Kalp, William H. Coleman, vice president and dean of Bucknell University and Dayton L. Ranck, vice president and treasurer of the University.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Joseph W. Henderson (Anne K. Dreisbach '13); a grandson, J. Welles Henderson, Jr.; and three great grandchildren.

Joined Bucknell Y. M. C. A. In 1887

The Central Young Men's Christian Association of Chicago has announced the donation of $2500 by Dr. Andrew R. E. Wyant to cover the cost of furnishing the youth center lobby of the new million dollar Washington Park Y. M. C. A. building for Negroes. Last year Dr. Wyant gave $1000 to the gymnasium and swimming pool fund there for body, mind and spirit service.

Andy joined the Y. M. C. A. at Bucknell in 1887 and has been active in Y. M. C. A. work in Chicago for over 60 years, and is still on the governing board. He retired from active medical practice in 1937. He recently sold his Beverly Hills home as he and his wife have been spending most of their time in Pennsylvania and the Palm Beaches in Florida.

The Bucknell University Women's Glee Club took their annual spring tour on April 6th. Miss Kleinfiter and the group of sixty-six girls held eleven concerts in the three states of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and New York.

Another musical organization, the band, was host to the Annual State Collegiate Band on April 22-24. Erik Leidzen, arranger for the famed Edwin Goldman Band since 1933, was guest conductor. Allen Flock, Bucknell's band conductor, said there were 140 students present representing twenty-nine Pennsylvania colleges.

BOOK SHELF

ARNAUD C. MARTS

Philanthropy's Role in Civilization
Harper & Brothers, New York, 206 P.

This is not, as might be expected, a book on how to raise funds, but rather it is a philosophical summation of the experiences of one of the pioneers in the field of fund raising.

It is worth reading on several counts. First, a person such as Dr. Marts, who has helped to raise millions of dollars for hundreds of private organizations throughout the country over a period of thirty years, obviously has something to say. Second, even though some of us might have hoped for some specific advice from the master as to how we might raise funds for such institutions as Bucknell, nevertheless, it is heartening to have pointed out to us what a vital part voluntary philanthropy has played, is playing and will continue to play in American History.

Dr. Marts sets the tone of his book by prefacing it with a quotation by Alexis de Tocqueville on the occasion of his visit to America in 1830. The selection is a most happy and timely one for it emphasizes one of the strongest phases of our society. Here is a portion of the quotation:

"Americans of all ages, all conditions, and all dispositions consistently form associations . . . to give entertainments, to found seminaries, to build inns, to construct churches, to diffuse books, to send missionaries to the antipodes . . ."

The health of a democratic society may be measured by the quality of the functions performed by private citizens."

Dr. Marts then goes on through seven chapters to point out how Americans are continuing to band together to support the many private enterprises that continue to abound in this country of ours. His faith in our way of doing things is refreshing and his hope for the future is stimulating. Those who read this book will close it with a feeling of reassurance in America and its peoples.

Specifically, Dr. Marts has presented a brief history of philanthropy, related some stories about notable givers, given examples of how philanthropy has helped education, religion and public health in this country, described the trends in fund-raising from the old time financial agent to today's systematic campaign, spikes the rumor that the day of the big giver is over, discusses private foundations, corporation support and finally, forecasts a larger role for philanthropy in the future.

For Bucknellians, it will be interesting to note that Dr. Marts calls back a number of his experiences while associated with this University. In retrospect this is not surprising for one-third of his career as a fund-raiser was spent while serving as the head of Bucknell, first as Acting President from 1935 to 1938 and then as President until 1945.

—ALFRED H. FENTON

Alumni Weekend

(Continued from Page 3)

The Baccalaureate speaker will be Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president of Morehouse College and co-author of several works dealing with the Negro and religion. The Commencement speaker will be Dr. Brand Blanshard, head of the department of philosophy at Yale University, a distinguished teacher and one of the significant thinkers of our times.

JUNE 1954

Pangburn '10 Puts You in a Park

There are few aspects of American life touching the emotions of the people that are more genuinely democratic and unifying than recreation. At a time when our American democracy must be especially strong, unfortunately, separatist influences are becoming more powerful as divisive tendencies in education and labor-management conflicts reveal. Although attracting too little notice in this respect from observers of the American scene, our parks and playgrounds with the organized services they afford take on added importance as agents of the spirit of understanding and democracy.

It is such a conviction as much as anything else that has sustained the enthusiasm of Weaver W. Pangburn '10, in the field of community recreation in which he has spent almost his entire working life.

WEAVER W. PANGBURN '10

Pangburn started out, after graduation, in the educational field. After three years as instructor at Bucknell Academy with a summer's study at the University of Chicago, he entered the graduate school of arts and sciences at Harvard to prepare for the teaching of history. A minor course in Social Ethics introduced him to the social problems of the country, led to a fellowship involving residence at South End House settlement in Boston and changed the focus of his professional training.

Work for War Camp Community Service, the USO of World War I, and military service during that war were followed by employment with the National Recreation Association for some twenty-five years. Varied responsibilities were carried for this agency for promoting public recreation. They included administration of training courses in many cities, direction of national publicity, and field representation in a dozen metropolitan centers. Consolidation of public recreation services in Washington, D. C., the reorganization of public recreation in Baltimore, special studies in Boston, Cincinnati, Kansas City and other cities and the preparation of numerous magazine and newspaper articles and radio programs were among his activities with the Association.

With E. Ellwood Allen, Pangburn developed the techniques of the "comprehensive long range recreation plan", comprising

Md. State Dept. of Forests and Parks

These Highest Falls in Maryland Belong to All the People of the State. Swallow Falls State Park, Garrett County, Md.

methods for scientifically locating parks and other recreation areas within the framework of both city planning and "social planning". Pangburn has been a leader nationally in bringing sociological thinking into city planning for parks and recreation. He and Allen applied their pioneer methods to Baltimore, Portland, Maine and other cities while with the National Recreation Association and to many more communities later under the auspices of the Allen Organization.

In 1946, Pangburn resigned from the National Recreation Association and soon after became an associate of Allen in a broad field which embraced studies and plans for industrial corporations including Electrolux, International Business Machines, State Farm Insurance Companies, Central Soya and others, state and local public school systems, foundations, state and county governments, city planning departments, park and recreation departments and community funds and councils. The bulk of this activity was in the public field. There were nearly three years of work for the Maryland State Planning Commission in a study of the tourist and

Md. State Dept. of Forests and Parks

Exposure to Nature's Wilds Does Something Good for the Physical and Emotional Health of the People . . . Upper Reaches of the Potomac River, Potomac River State Forest, Garrett County, Md.

vacation potentials of Western Maryland, preparation of a comprehensive long range, state park plan and a development plan for the Patapsco River Valley. On the completion of the latter study, the Maryland State Legislature voted $900,000 for the acquisition of the 6000 acres of land recommended by the planners.

Cutting down the pace in July, 1953, Pangburn gave up full time employment and be-

(Continued on Page 9)

CLUB ACTIVITIES

Atlantic City

On March 5 the Bucknell Alumni Club of Atlantic City and a number of trustees and alumni association officers gathered as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Yon at the Hotel Flanders in Atlantic City.

Art and Ysabelle proved the perfect host and hostess as usual and provided the visitors with an elaborate entertainment program. At the Friday night dinner Robert K. Bell '20 presided as master of ceremonies. The invocation was presented by Dr. Dayton L. Ranck '16, vice president and treasurer of the college. A cablegram of greetings was received from the Hildreth family in Pakistan and acknowledged by the group.

After introducing trustees Andrew R. Mathieson '20, Joseph Dent '20, Dr. Herbert Spencer, Dr. Bayard English, Berkeley V. Hastings '13, the toastmaster called for brief remarks from Mrs. Joseph B. Kelly (Emily Devine '21), president of the General Alumni Association, Dr. William H. Coleman, vice president and dean of the college, Dr. Dayton L. Ranck '16, vice president and treasurer, Malcolm E. Musser '18, dean of men and Buck Shott, alumni secretary.

The toastmaster then introduced Dr. Joseph W. Henderson '08, acting president and chairman of the Board of Trustees, who presented a report on the state of the University and paid a glowing tribute to Dr. Coleman for his efforts in connection with the gift of the Olin Foundation for the erection of a new science building on the Bucknell campus.

Saturday was devoted to business sessions of the Board of Trustees committee, the Board of Directors of the General Alumni Association and the Alumni Fund Committee.

Chicago

The annual dinner meeting of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Chicago was held on March 4th at Ireland's Oyster House, with 28 Bucknellians and guests in attendance. Our meeting was highlighted by the presence of our guest speaker, Dr. Charles C. Knapp, former pastor of the Lewisburg Baptist Church and present pastor of the First Baptist Church of Evanston, who gave us an interesting up-to-date report from the campus.

We were pleased to see many familiar faces, such as T. J. Morris '00, Frances Wolfe Peel '38, Ruth Parker Streeter '38, Luther Carlisle '31 and Catherine Reese Carlisle '33, Arthur Malcom '46, Leighton Thomas '40, Jess Syme '47, Hank Puff '46, and Bush Fullerton '47. And we were very gratified to also welcome some newcomers to our club, namely, James H. Konkle '31, Jane Nagro Lowum '43, Shirley Higgins Brown '43, Jim Roski of Bucknell Junior College, Ensign Kirk Kazarian '52, and Van Johnson '52 and Berda Stout Johnson '53.

President Hank Puff stated that he was encouraged over the attendance of this meeting and, at the same time, urged each of us to try to interest even more Bucknellians in our meetings. It was agreed that we would plan on having a family picnic in the fall as our next gathering. Hank also urged those present to contribute to the annual giving program; and started a discussion on how best we can familiarize Chicago high school students with Bucknell. Before closing the business meeting, he thanked Jesse Syme for making all the necessary arrangements for our dinner meeting. We concluded by singing the Alma Mater.

—LOIS MILLER FULLERTON '47, Secretary

Metropolitan New York-New Jersey

The annual Bucknell Charter Day Dinner, held at the Park Sheraton Hotel on February 11, was one of the most enthusiastic gatherings of alumni, parents and friends of the University ever scheduled.

The invocation was pronounced by Dr. Newton C. Fetter '09 and a moment of silence was observed in memory of Charles Grant Shaffer '92 and Paul S. Althouse '12, club members who passed away recently.

The guest of honor, Dr. Arnaud C. Marts, former president of Bucknell University, was introduced by Mrs. Emily Devine Kelly '21, president of the General Alumni Association. Dr. Marts in his stirring address reminisced on his pleasant memories of days spent on the Bucknell campus and paid fitting tribute to the Bucknell way of life which he continues to find in abundance among the Bucknell Alumni and friends of the University.

The former alumni club officers and trustees introduced to the group by Mrs. Kelly, included Thomas J. Mangan '21, chairman of the Birthday Dinner Committee, Joseph D. Dent '20, W. C. Lowther '14, Jules F. Seebach, Jr. '20, E. A. Snyder '11, Frank W. Jackson '95, Dr. A. A. Allen '22, Dr. Stanley P. Davies '12, C. R. Leaber '19, and many others.

In a very brief business meeting conducted by Wayne E. Knouse '40, president of the Metropolitan Alumni Association, there was presented for the consideration of the members the idea of sub-dividing the Metropolitan New York-New Jersey group into a separate New York and a separate New Jersey organization. He asked that members give careful thought to the decision which will be presented in a letter to the entire membership within a short time, with the idea of coming to some decision before or at the May meeting of the Alumni Association in Newark. A nominating committee to select officers, to report at the May meeting was appointed as follows: Richard C. Shultz '40, Richard L. Moore '47, Robert E. List '48, Thomas J. Mangan '21.

After the dinner meeting the group moved to the Grand Ballroom of the Park Sheraton and enjoyed, along with many parents and friends of the University, a concert by the Bucknell University Men's Glee Club of 75 voices under the direction of Dr. Harold E. Cook, head of the department of music at Bucknell.

Lancaster

Lancaster County Alumni celebrated Bucknell's 108th Anniversary with a dinner meeting at Dissingers' Old Mill on Thursday, February 4. On hand to welcome Professor and Mrs. J. B. Miller were eighteen members and friends of the club.

We were very pleased to have Professor Miller bring us up-to-date on all the recent happenings at Bucknell as well as the pertinent facts about the Olin Foundation gift. Highlighting the evening, Professor Miller presented a very excellent selection of colored slides of campus scenes.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were president, Howard R. Dieter '29; vice president, Ted R. Simpson '52; secretary, Albert H. French '50; treasurer, Benjamin F. Bastian '48.

Our next meeting is planned for May 6 to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoffman.

—ALBERT H. FRENCH '50, Secretary

St. Petersburg

The St. Petersburg Bucknell Club met, for a picnic luncheon, at Lake Magiorre, on March 20th with 23 in attendance. Dr. Joseph Yoder, who came with his wife, Emily Lane, gave the invocation. After a delicious luncheon, the President, George Bailets, opened the meeting. He greeted Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Richardson, who are on leave of absence from the faculty. Dr. Richardson gave an interesting account of recent developments at the college. Dr. Yoder spoke of his work at Juniata College. Mr. C. P. Duncan, Rutgers '06, and Mrs. Duncan were guests. Sarah Ray Way told of her first humorous experience in Dr. Bartol's class, and Mildred Cathers gave the highlights on the idea that blossomed into the beautiful new library. Mrs. Ralph Stevens of Mt. Holyoke College was another guest. Dr. John I. Woodruff gave a talk and read one of his delightful humorous verses.

Dr. George Fisher '92, who has been staying at the Crawford Hotel, recently injured his shoulder and was taken by plane to his son's home in the north. Elkanah Hulley had a slight heart attack and has been confined to Mound Park Hospital. He could not be with us. A card signed by the entire membership was sent to Mrs. Ella Bowser, who was a faithful member of our group for years.

Mr. Bailets and Sarah Headland were appointed to represent our group at the June meeting on the campus. The following officers were elected—Dr. J. Earle Edwards '10, president; Sarah Headland '09, first vice president; Mrs. Henry Colestock (Bertha Wagner) '16, 2nd vice president; Margory Montgomery, 3rd vice president; Mrs. L. S. Porter (Ruth Stephens) '05, secretary-treasurer; Howard Headland, assistant secretary.

The next meeting will be on November 20th at the home of Mrs. Henry Colestock, 1711-48th Avenue, North, at noon.

—RUTH S. PORTER '05, Secretary

Sunbury

On Monday, February 22, the Sunbury Bucknell Alumni Club held its birthday meeting in the Hotel Neff, Sunbury. Twenty-six members were present and heard Dr. Dayton L. Ranck, vice president and treasurer of the University, speak on current topics of interest on and about the campus. Russell L. Winegardner, MA'47, was elected president to succeed Lewis Eyster, who has served faithfully for many years. John Hilbish '11, Willard Zimmerman '37, and Harold M. Neff, Jr. '48 were re-elected vice president, treasurer and secretary respectively.

The new president, Mr. Winegardner, announced plans to have more meetings of the group, probably monthly luncheons.

—H. M. NEFF, JR. '48, Secretary

(Continued on Page 11)

Faculty to Make Education Survey

Members of the faculty will undertake shortly a comprehensive survey of various aspects of Bucknell's educational program, it was announced by Dr. William H. Coleman, vice president and dean of the University.

The survey, as described by Dean Coleman, will consist of a self-examination or study by the teaching staff of the major problems affecting the academic welfare of the college and may require a year for completion.

"It is essential, periodically, that an institution of higher learning take stock of its academic resources—not simply for the sake of change—but to insure that it is functioning at maximum efficiency," Dr. Coleman said in explaining the purpose of the proposed study.

"In view of the greatly increased college enrollments in prospect, now is the time to make plans for the future," he emphasized.

The dean has just concluded a series of five dinner meetings with faculty members at which he outlined Bucknell's major academic problems as he saw them and invited the teachers to comment upon these or other problems which they deemed pertinent.

A record was kept of the discussions at each of these meetings. In addition, faculty members have been invited to submit written suggestions on other problems or topics not already listed.

A committee will be appointed by Dean Coleman to review this material with the object of determining what the major problems are that need to be examined. A committee will then be assigned to each problem with directions to study it thoroughly and come up with constructive suggestions for its solution.

"We shall urge these committees to invite and evaluate student opinion in those instances where it may prove helpful," Dean Coleman said.

One of the larger problems to be examined by faculty members will be that of providing a basic educational concept that will serve the situation by which the University is confronted, the dean pointed out.

"Is the Bucknell student broadly-educated and what do we mean by the term broadly-educated" is another basic problem that will come up for study along with the question "How can we create and maintain at Bucknell a campus atmosphere conducive to learning?" Dr. Coleman added.

The place of vocational training in our total educational program and the extent and nature of the contributions which Bucknell teachers should make to research are some of the other topics listed for review.

"The interest and cooperation shown by faculty members in our preliminary discussions have been most encouraging," Dean Coleman declared as he expressed appreciation for the constructive approach which the faculty in general is making to this vital project.

This year's University Player's production was The Chocolate Soldier. Performances were given on March 25, 26, and 27 at the Lewisburg High School Auditorium under the direction of Robert Blake '54, Lewisburg.

New Men's Dormitory To Be Built

Another Second Century development was announced by the University's trustees at their annual meeting on the campus May 8. It is anticipated that construction of the new dormitory and dining hall for freshman men at Bucknell will get under way in September.

The new structure, which will house 220 freshmen, will cost approximately $750,000, and will be financed largely through gifts from trustees, alumni, and friends of the University, according to Dr. Joseph W. Henderson, chairman of the Board of Trustees.

The committee engaged in the selection of a new president for the University reported progress and will make another report at a special meeting of the Board to be held in Lewisburg at Commencement time.

The Board re-elected all of its officers as well as five trustees whose terms had expired. They include Alfred G. Freas, Bogota, N. J.; H. Boardman Hopper, Philadelphia; Dr. Daniel A. Poling, Philadelphia; Dr. Harvey F. Smith, Harrisburg; Dr. Herbert L. Spencer, New York City; and Paul L. Troast, Passaic, N. J.

Dr. Henderson named Paul L. Troast, of Passaic, N. J., as chairman of a special trustee committee for the new dormitory. Committee members include Robert K. Bell, of Ocean City, N. J.; Kenneth W. Slifer, Woodbury, N. J.; Andrew R. Mathieson, Pittsburgh; Joseph D. Dent, New York City; and Dr. Walter B. McKinney, Philadelphia.

To be built of brick in Pennsylvania colonial style, the dormitory will be U-shaped and will consist of a center section two stories high and two wings that will be four stories high. Each wing will have rooms for 110 students plus a game room. The dining room and kitchen facilities will be located on the first floor of the center section and a large lounge will take up the second floor.

The building will be located between the Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library and the stadium. The grounds between the dormitory and the stadium will be graded for use as playing fields for soccer, softball, and other sports, for the use of the freshmen and residents of the nearby fraternity houses.

Auction in Action

To the lucrative strains of "Going, Going, Gone," the World United Service was busy making money on Saturday, March 13 at the Bison, familiarly known as Chet's. Here the Greeks, along with members of the faculty, donated their services and wares to be auctioned to the student body, and together they offered some strange and unique commodities for sale.

Jim Logue '54, Williamsport, and Ed Williams '54, Brooklyn, were chief auctioneers for the occasion and managed to keep the money rolling in. Members of the faculty offered to the highest bidder a ride up the hill to an 8 o'clock class, the typing of a theme in the future, fifty baby roosters, dinner for two with an unclappered evening by the fireplace, and the loan of a car for the night of the Senior Prom.

Sororities gave up formal Greek procedures in this battle of wits and wallets. The Alpha Phi's were willing to risk dishpan hands and wash dishes for the highest bidding fraternity. The Alpha Chi's donated their elbow grease in a floor scrubbing project at a fraternity house, while the Tri

Faculty News

Robert E. Maurer, instructor in English, and Lloyd M. Swartz, assistant professor of mathematics, have been chosen as recipients of the 1954 Faculty Award for Summer study awarded annually by the trustees of Bucknell University. This award provides a cash stipend for graduate study during the summer vacation.

Dr. Cyrus H. Karraker, assistant professor of history, recently received word from London that he has been elected a Fellow of the Royal Historical Society of Great Britain. Membership in the Royal Historical Society is bestowed only upon those historians who were recommended and nominated by Fellows of the Society. The selection of Dr. Karraker was based on the strength of his recent publication Piracy Was A Business, which has received wide acclaim for its scholarship and literary qualities.

Allan W. Flock, assistant professor of Music Education at Bucknell University, was guest conductor at North Central District Choral Festival (Coudersport) January 14, 15, 16; Northeast District Band Festival (Bloomsburg) February 18, 19, 20; Mifflin County Choral Festival (Lewistown) March 11, 12, and 13.

Miss Mary Jane Stevenson, dean of women, represented Bucknell at the annual conference of the National Association of Deans of Women at Washington, D. C., April 2-5. During the meeting Miss Stevenson participated in a panel discussion on the topic "The Improvement of Human Relations."

"Othello" Features Alumni Weekend

One of the outstanding features of the coming Alumni Weekend will be the June 12th performance by Cap and Dagger of Shakespeare's "Othello", which promises to be an excellent production. Two performances of the play have already been given and have been very well received. "Othello" is being directed by Margo Hand '54, and stars Lionel Kranitz '55 as Othello, Myrna Haag '57 as Desdemona and Robert Blake '54 as Iago. Also in the cast are five members of the English department faculty: Messrs. K. Ward Hooker, Frank W. Merritt, Harry R. Garvin, Frank A. Hoffman and Harvey M. Powers.

Delts provided bat girls and water carriers for intramural softball. Kappa Deltas and Pi Phi's served dinner to the highest paying fraternities, while the Phi Mus offered to wash cars.

According to the fraternity men, the way to a Sem Gem's pocketbook is through her stomach. Consequently, the Sammies auctioned off six steak dinners, the Phi Psi's served a meal to the highest bidding sorority pledge class, and the Phi Gams gave a spaghetti dinner to the sorority paying the most for their services. The Kappa Sigs were willing to clean a sorority suite, while the KDR's generously offered the cleaning services of their pledges to the highest bidding fraternity. The Theta Chi's came up with an enticing offer of two Senior Prom tickets, along with a date, if necessary.

It is agreed that this is a painless method to contribute to a worthy cause and have fun doing it.

ROBBIE RETIRES

Harry Wolcott Robbins, Chairman of Bucknell's Department of English since 1923, will retire this June.

That terse statement will give pause for thought to thousands of Bucknellians, past and present, for Robbie is as much an institution at Bucknell as is the Vaughan Literature Building in which he has his office. In fact, Robbie is more of an institution. He was here before the Lit Building. He also antedates the Davis Gymnasium, the Botany Building, most of the Engineering Building, the Stadium, the Golf Course, Roberts Hall, Hunt Hall, the Women's Dining Hall, the Ziegler Infirmary, Bucknell Lodge, the Bison, the Library and the Heating Plant. In fact, it is not too far from the truth to say that a University has been built around him.

To sum up a teaching career of 45 years, 31 of them at Bucknell, is no mean feat, but since the ideal college is Mark Hopkins (or Harry Robbins) on one end of a log and a student at the other end, it might be well for us to study what the students said about him last year when they dedicated their yearbook, L'Agenda, to him. Here it is:

"Beneath the seeming New England austerity that is characteristic of Dr. Harry W. Robbins lies a Frostian humour, a gentle understanding of the minds of men, and a scholarly mind rich in literature and in life. During his seventy years, 'Robbie' has been a football player and a journeyman printer, an army captain, a high school teacher, and for the past thirty years, a professor of English. He reads a French or German text or an old Anglo-Saxon manuscript with the same ease with which he attacks a problem in semantics. Those of us who have spoken to him of life and its problems know that he is a philosopher.

"Dr. Robbins was graduated from Brown University in 1908, and received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Minnesota in 1923. He has been chairman of the Bucknell Department of English for thirty years, during which time he has been on numerous important faculty committees, a foundation member and president of the Bucknell chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, and an adviser to Sigma Tau Delta. He is a member of the American Association of University Professors, the Modern Language Association, the Early English Text Society, and Le Societe des Anciens Textes Francais.

"Best known as the co-editor of the widely printed Western World Literature, for which he completed several translations, Dr. Robbins has also published editions of Le Miroir de Sainte Eglise, Richard Rolle's 'Devout Meditacioun', and worked on a translation of The Romance of the Rose.

"The rigors of academic duties have never succeeded in hiding the twinkle in his eyes, his almost boyish satisfaction over a good bridge hand, or the dry wit expressed in muted asides. Students who penetrate the Vermont severity discover that 'Robbie' is both warm and kind, and that he has a keen awareness and an understanding that can spring only from years of studying, of reading, and of living."

In making the presentation at Senior Chapel last year, the students also said:

"He has become a tradition at Bucknell University, a tradition so well established that not one of us will ever forget the shivers of our first oral quiz or the fact that Agamemnon died in the bathtub. We hope that this L'Agenda will be in some small way a tribute to a man whose presence at this university has stood for all that is worthy and rich in the academic tradition."

Obviously Robbie's claim to fame is not mere longevity. Yet much of what he has done for Bucknell over these many years has received little notice. As any former student will understand, Robbie is not one to advertise.

HARRY WOLCOTT ROBBINS

The bulk of Robbie's efforts naturally has gone into building and improving the work of the English Department. One of his first innovations in that Department was the introduction, in 1927, of an honors course or seminar. At that time the idea was unusual in American Colleges, for it lay stress on the reading of literature and eliminated almost all requirements of class attendance during the student's final semester.

The seminar, which has many features of a graduate course, was established primarily for seniors who wished to obtain honors in English, but from the first graduate students were admitted. Altogether the work of the course is a satisfactory contribution to the "mastery of the field", which is considered to be the basis for the awarding of the A.M. degree.

Probably the most important contribution to the Department was the introduction of the World Literature course. This started in 1929 as an evening course entitled "An Introduction to World Literature" and made use of the faculties of the various language departments. The course ran along for several years, was dropped temporarily and then blossomed forth in 1934 as "World Literature". Originally the course carried through to the middle of the 18th Century, but in later years it was developed to cover all Western Literature from Homer to the present. The purpose of the course was to provide background for later advanced courses. In this work, Professor Robbins worked in cooperation with the then Professor Coleman and the two eventually edited an anthology entitled Western World Literature. This book filled a definite need in college work and subsequently was adopted by colleges throughout the country. As late as 1951 it had gone into its 15th printing.

In 1945 an Advanced World Literature Course was introduced for students wishing to do more intensive work similar to that in the Great Book courses at other colleges.

Another innovation made by Robbie, was a system of cumulative tests for English students. These tests encouraged the student to remember work of previous semesters instead of assuming that when the final examination is passed, he is "through with the course". These tests also serve as a sort of comprehensive examination for majors in the field and provide proof of general mastery of the subject.

Behind all of this work was the basic idea of getting students to think, the obvious sign of a great teacher.

It is also interesting to note that of the 14 Committees on which Robbie was elected to serve during his 31 years at Bucknell, most of them concerned themselves with academic matters. He was constantly on the side of scholarship and it is no coincidence that as his committee work was lightened these last few years, the one major assignment he retained was that of member of the Academic Standards Committee.

Committee titles and functions have changed greatly during the 31 years Robbie has been at Bucknell, but from the names of those on which he was asked to serve over the years, it can be seen that he has always been regarded as a scholar. Under five presidents, from Hunt to Hildreth, his opinion was sought in such fields as Curriculum and Courses, Advanced Degrees, Student Measurement, Faculty Advisory, and Academic Standards. For the past five years he has served as Chairman of the Coordinating Committee of the Liberal Arts Group, although there is no doubt that he served in that capacity for many years before the title was created. During the administration of President Rainey, for example, he served as Chairman of the Language Group, and as such was a member of the Administrative Council. His longest tenure was on the Advanced Degrees Committee on which he served eight years before becoming Chairman for another nine years.

The records do not show, however, one paradox in his make-up. A humanist and a linguist, he is also, strangely enough, an amateur statistician. It comes out in his bridge and when he needs facts to back up an argument.

Nor do the records show his love for his native Vermont, to which he retreats regularly for his summer vacations. This may account in part for the fact that his 31 years in Pennsylvania apparently have had little effect on his nature. He still is a Vermonter in appearance, manner, speech or silence.

Brownell '43 Aids in Tumor Research

Since Gordon L. Brownell received his B.S. degree with a major in physics from Bucknell in 1943 he has achieved fame for his research in the fields of physics and bio-physics. Obviously, his achievements have been credited in the reports in professional journals but more and more his work has received attention in the prominent periodicals. In 1951 both Colliers and Look carried articles describing his research activities. In April Time magazine reported the story of his contribution in helping save the life of a young patient at Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston.

Time reported the case (April 5, 1954) as follows:

"Holly Jane Hyde, daughter of a Rhode Island chicken and apple farmer, had been a lively youngster and, with her brilliant coppery hair, was as bright as a new penny. But when, at seven, Holly went into second grade, she had trouble with reading. Then Holly's mother noticed that sometimes she seemed not to understand what was said to her; she gazed vacantly into space and occasionally picked up her luncheon sandwich and tossed it across the room for no evident reason.

"At first the doctors could not be sure of the reason, either. It might be the petitmal form of epilepsy, or a brain tumor. At Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, Neurosurgeon William H. Sweet tried the electroencephalogram ('brain-wave machine') and got indications of a local disorder, but nothing definite enough to justify major brain surgery. Another standard test (in itself fairly drastic), involving the injection of air into the brain cavities, showed nothing. Not long ago Holly Hyde would have had to wait for her condition to worsen, imperiling her understanding of language and perhaps endangering her life, before the doctors could have felt certain of what to do.

"But Dr. Sweet had worked with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's Physicist Gordon Brownell to develop a scanning machine that shows, with a high degree of accuracy, not only whether a brain tumor is present but, if so, precisely where it is. Dr. Sweet gave Holly an injection of radioactive arsenic, which has an affinity for tumors. An hour later she lay on a cot with her head between two scintillation counters to which scanning mechanisms were attached. Soon, as the counters picked up the gamma rays, the robot pens showed that the arsenic had concentrated in one part of the lower forebrain. This showed that Holly did indeed have a tumor. Another scan showed that it was left of center, and (within a third of an inch) how far. The machine, which Dr. Brownell had helped to work out under an AEC grant, told Dr. Sweet just where to operate. He removed an invading tumor. That was a year ago.

"Last week Third-Grader Holly Hyde bounced into the hospital board room so that American Cancer Society officials could see for themselves that she now seems fully recovered. Her reading has improved, she has no more spells and feels, as she chirped, 'fine.'

"Drs. Sweet and Brownell have run their tally of scanned subjects (including normal volunteers for comparison) to well over 200. The machine, they hope, will save many a patient from dangerous surgery inside the skull for the sole purpose of getting information and will make the operation far surer in cases where a lurking tumor is disclosed."

Boerner '32 Serves in Germany

Alfred V. ("Mickey") Boerner '32, is in charge of the U. S. information and cultural program in Germany. As Director of the Office of Public Affairs since October 26, 1952, he has played a large role in building firm ties of understanding between the people of Germany and the United States. Under him are about 2,000 employees, and his current budget is about $16,000,000.

ALFRED V. BOERNER '32

Five different groups of workers are engaged in the program. Through 26 information centers—Amerika Hauser—and about one hundred local libraries which were begun by this program, books and magazines, lectures and concerts, documentary moving pictures, and English-language lessons are available to all. Each of the larger libraries has from ten to twenty-five thousand books and about 100 magazines. The significance of this enterprise of American goodwill cannot be overestimated.

The other groups of workers are engaged in distributing news stories and pamphlets, exhibiting documentary films; exchanging about 500 students, teachers, and research scholars; carrying on educational relations; and studying the conditions which result from the division of Germany into two zones.

"Mickey" came to this high position through his consistently important work since his arrival in 1946. After his days at Bucknell, where he was intercollegiate middleweight boxing champion, he studied at the University of Michigan and in France and Germany. On returning to the United States, he taught at Washington and Jefferson College and did public relations work in Ohio. Early in World War II he began broadcasting comments on international affairs over a Pittsburgh station.

In the fall of 1944 he joined the Office of War Information in New York and soon was in London as head of the policy desk for Germany and also as a member of the psychological warfare division of SHAEF under General Eisenhower. He followed the victorious American troops into Luxembourg in March, 1945, and then into Frankfurt am Main the next month to broadcast to the German people. His initial phrase, "Guten Abend," became so popular as a result of his excellent commentaries, that he has been known ever since as "Herr Guten Abend" and was voted Germany's most popular radio commentator.

Pangburn '10 Puts You in a Park

(Continued from Page 5)

came a park and recreation consultant on his own. However, the past two years have been nearly as busy as ever with Allen and in service in Trenton, N. J., Columbus, Ga., Dade County, Fla., and Pittsfield, Mass., for Community Chests and Councils of America, Inc. and Community Research Associates. Currently he is engaged with Allen in replanning the parks and beaches of Long Beach, California and designing one of the first state parks for the State of Delaware.

Pangburn is a member of the American Association of Social Workers, the American Recreation Society, the National Recreation Association and an associate member of the American Institute of Park Executives. He is a former president of the National Social Work Publicity Council. He is a former chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee on city planning and a member of the Cosmopolitan Club in Montclair, N. J., where he has resided since 1924. His wife, (Katharine E. Greene) was Smith, 1915. There are two sons, both married, Edward living in Amarillo, Texas and John, in Montclair.

During his professional career Pangburn has seen a healthy ripening of public appreciation of participant recreation in the United States. Against a background of professionalization of much sport, colossal development of commercial amusement and the multiplicity of gadgets that encourage "spectatoritis" he has seen the steady growth of national, state, county and city parks, the spread of city playgrounds, the immense growth of crafts, the popularity of good music and hobbies, the expansion of swimming pools and beaches and the vogue of community forms of recreation such as picnicking, square and folk dancing and community center programs.

These simple, healthy developments enrich the physical, emotional and spiritual life of the people and help keep our democracy strong, in Pangburn's view.

Help Week—1954 Style

This year, various organizations on the Bucknell campus have been busy with projects relating to a "Help Week" program.

Their work has been facilitated through the Social Service Commission which has been organized on campus to form a clearing house for community service projects. The purpose of this clearing house is to receive from community leaders descriptions of community projects which they feel are worthwhile and to pass them along to student organizations. Sororities and fraternities have done much to undertake these civic projects. The clearing house also gives an estimate of the time and material required for each project and keeps a record of those projects that are in progress and those that have been completed.

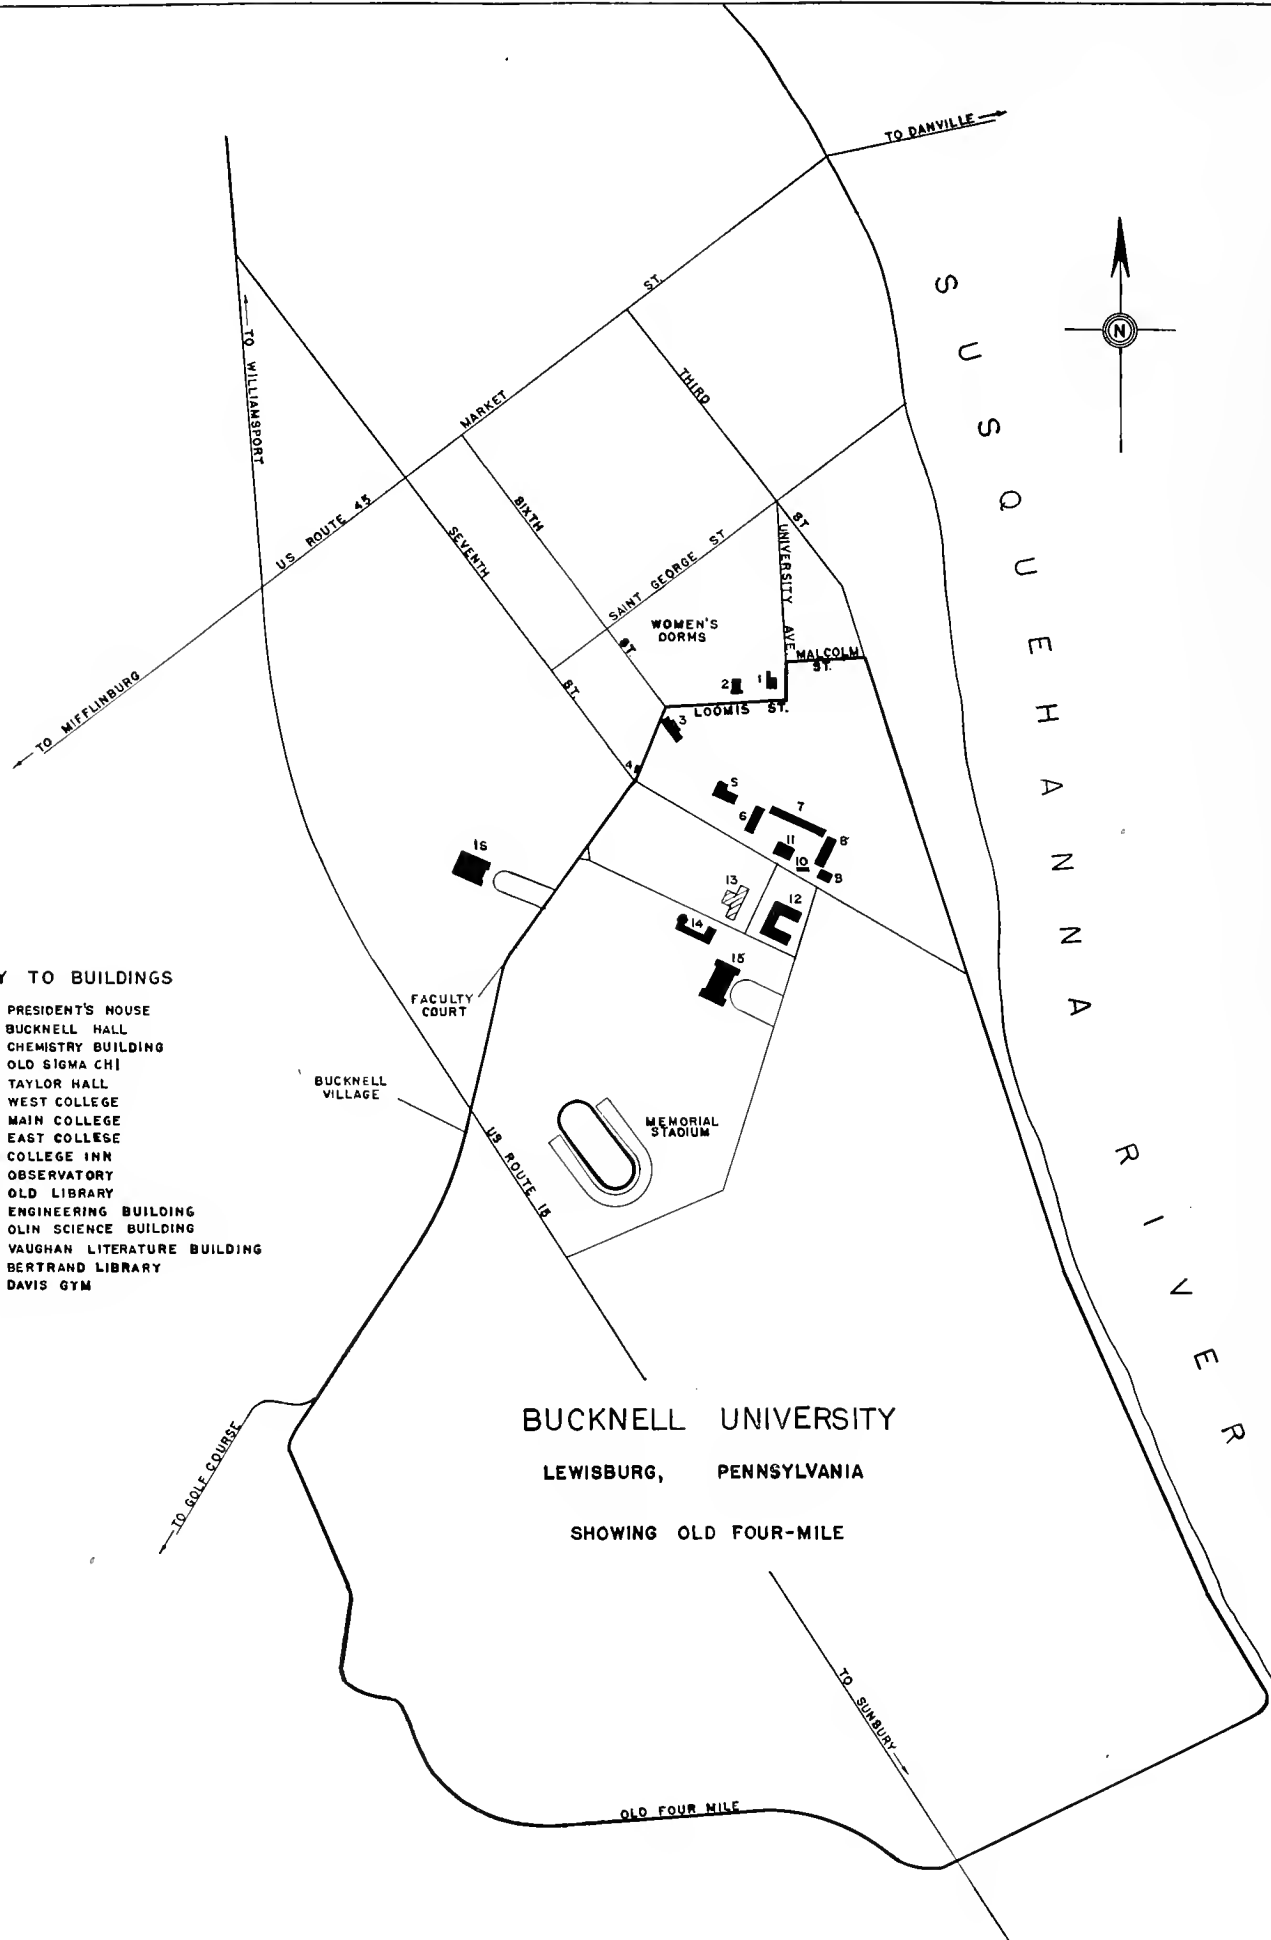

Among the projects which have been undertaken this year by Bucknell students are reading to shut-ins in Lewisburg and vicinity, sewing and mending in the Lewisburg Health Center, and clothing drives for overseas relief. The sororities and fraternities also held their annual Christmas parties for the children in the Lewisburg area.

He still broadcasts once a week, despite the heavy burden of official duties.

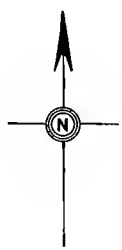

"Mickey" married a fellow student in Germany, Elinor Deming, daughter of a professor of chemistry at the University of Nebraska. They have five children, two of whom are students at University of Nebraska.

KEY TO BUILDINGS

- 1 PRESIDENT'S HOUSE
- 2 BUCKNELL HALL
- 3 CHEMISTRY BUILDING
- 4 OLD SIGMA CHI
- 5 TAYLOR HALL
- 6 WEST COLLEGE
- 7 MAIN COLLEGE
- 8 EAST COLLEGE
- 9 COLLEGE INN
- 10 OBSERVATORY
- 11 OLD LIBRARY
- 12 ENGINEERING BUILDING
- 13 OLIN SCIENCE BUILDING
- 14 VAUGHAN LITERATURE BUILDING
- 15 BERTRAND LIBRARY
- 16 DAVIS GYM

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY
LEWISBURG, PENNSYLVANIA
 SHOWING OLD FOUR-MILE

Let's Hike "The Four-Mile" Again

For too many years the old "Four-Mile" has been neglected. Some say it no longer exists. Though slightly changed in spots by reason of newer road construction, it still exists and to prove it a map of the campus with the old "Four-Mile" drawn to scale is shown on the facing page. The map is the work of Richard B. Ulp, a sophomore, of Northumberland, who probably took the tour. But Dr. Dalzell M. Griffith '23, professor of civil engineering, who knows every foot of the way, could supply all the details from memory.

The resulting map is published for the benefit of older Bucknellians who have made the trip many times and for the newer alumni who reached the campus after that busy thoroughfare no longer was used for late afternoon "fussing." Was the "Four-Mile" popular? Well, we can remember (in the spring of 1919) Prexy Harris, in his long black topcoat and derby hat, taking his daily constitutional around the course. 'Twas said he learned a lot about college students and such on his daily jaunts.

The ritual of "walking the Four-Mile" was flourishing in 1919. But when did the pleasant custom begin? And when did it end? And why did it end? And who has a picture of life on the "Four-Mile?" Anybody have a picture of Dr. John H. Harris taken on the hike? We'd like to publish it for the benefit of all alumni.

Of course, the old dusty road finally had to give way to smooth macadamized surfaces but you can still take the walk—or ride, if you are so inclined. Better plan to include the tour in your program when you are back for Alumni Reunion Weekend on June 12—or the next time you return to the campus—and make it soon!

One of the landmarks you should spot quickly is the old willow tree and the concrete bridge, with iron pipe railing, that crosses the brook. Both the tree and the bridge will be found on Moore Avenue opposite the Christy Mathewson Gateway to the Memorial Stadium. 'Tis said that one of the semites and that second lieutenant of the SATC days did some important fussing at that spot. Well, you supply your own nostalgic scenes and people them with the folks of your era.

Anyway, there's a big gap in the log of the old "Four-Mile" that you can help to fill. Can you supply some of the details? We'd welcome letters, telling us some of your experiences. Just address them to the Editor, THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS. If you can't take the time to write a letter, please clip the coupon below and send it in.

You bet I'll help with the "Four-Mile" History. Here are my answers:

1. I first walked the "Four-Mile" in _____ (Year)

2. I last walked the "Four-Mile" in _____ (Year)

Name _____

Class _____

JUNE 1954

Club Activities

(Continued from Page 6)

Wilkes-Barre

Seventy Bucknellians and friends gathered at the American Legion Home, Kingston, for a dinner meeting on March 29th to celebrate the University's 108th Birthday and Charter Day.

Invocation was offered by the Reverend Howard G. Hartzell '41, and a brief message of welcome was given by Quentin R. Walters '48, president.

The toastmaster, Attorney Donald S. Mills '32, introduced the principal speaker, Dr. Paul Witmeyer, professor of education at Bucknell. Dr. Witmeyer recalled the University's fine reputation with a faculty of high caliber and an emphasis upon superior scholarship. He also traced the past achievements and future plans of the building program.

John "Buck" Shott, alumni secretary, talked briefly about the growth of the Alumni Association and the Alumni Fund and encouraged increased interest in the local chapter among the many Valley Alumni. He extended an invitation to the celebration of class reunions and Alumni Day at the campus on June 12.

A proposal was made by Michael Solomon to conduct an aerial tour from Wilkes-Barre to Lewisburg in May. The plan includes a fraternity luncheon and a bird's eye view of the campus.

Entertainment, which was arranged by Miss June M. Owens '44, included the following: three vocal solos; "Sea Fever", "Singing A Song", and "Some Enchanted Evening" by C. Fred Mathias '54, accompanied by Cynthia McGoughey '56, both Bucknell students; "Lady of Spain" and "In the Mood" by the Accordion Rascals; Patricia Skiptunas, Francis Schwartz, and Joseph Baratta; Hawaiian, Egyptian, and tap dances by Angeline Maminski.

Throughout the dinner group singing was led by Herbert Lloyd '11 and accompanied by Reese Pelton.

The affair was climaxed by the lighting of the candles and a birthday cake which was the focal point of the decorations. This was done by Miss Claire Conway '05 and the Reverend Charles Roush '09. The singing of the Alma Mater closed the ceremony. Benediction was pronounced by the Reverend Charles Roush.

The following committees and officers arranged the meetings: co-chairmen, Al Rusin '38 and Michael Solomon; decorations, Mrs. Beverly Graham Myers '46, chairman, and Mrs. Elizabeth Laedlein Wentz '22; tickets and reservations, Lloyd Davies '49; place and menu, Lynn Goughnour '32; publicity, John Bush '42; president, Quentin R. Walters '46; treasurer, Emily Dooley '38; secretaries, June M. Owens '44 and Katherine P. Freund '44.

Lynn Goughnour was named chairman of the next meeting, an outing, on June 26. Election of officers will also take place at that time. Members of the nominating committee are: Herbert Lloyd, chairman; Mrs. Beverly Graham Myers, Mrs. Elizabeth Laedlein Wentz, Donald Mills, Edward Davies, and Claire Conway.

—JUNE M. OWENS '44 and

KATHERINE P. FREUND '44, Co-Secretaries

Kansas City

A group of Bucknellians in Kansas City met under the chairmanship of Dr. Herbert A. Wenner '33 on March 29 and enjoyed a report on campus activities given by Dr. Lester Kieft, head of the department of chemistry at Bucknell.

Bradford

Bucknellians from McKean and Warren Counties in Pennsylvania and Allegany and Cattaraugus Counties in New York met at the Emery Hotel in Bradford on April 26 under the chairmanship of Dr. John K. Thamm '18. A report of campus activities was given by Buck Shott and plans were made to contact the 73 alumni in the area with the view of conducting a reception for entering freshmen and their parents before the opening of college in September.

Cleveland

Eighteen Bucknellians from the Cleveland area gathered at the Alcazar Hotel on March 11 to enjoy a delicious dinner and hear the latest news from the campus from Al Fenton, assistant to the president.

Tom Quigley, president of the group, conducted the business meeting. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Thomas Quigley '47, president; Mrs. Wayne A. Evans (Elva Horner '28), vice president; and Jerry Rudolph '47, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Evans was appointed chairman of the program for the May meeting, and Al Schmidt '48 was appointed chairman of a telephone committee to contact members of the group prior to the next meeting in an effort to improve attendance.

Mr. Fenton's interesting and informative report on the campus was enjoyed by all.

—MARY O. JOHANNESSEN

DuBois

An even dozen Bucknellians and guests from the three county area of Clearfield, Elk, and Jefferson met on Friday, April 23 at the DuBois High School under the chairmanship of Howard H. Moore '21.

Buck Shott presented an illustrated talk on "Bucknell Today" which was followed by a social hour of reminiscing and recalling campus experiences.

Officers for the three-county area were selected as follows: president, Louis E. Woodring '29, Punxsutawney; vice president, Miss Matilda E. Bell '21, DuBois; secretary-treasurer, Harry G. Evans '41, Clearfield. Plans were made to have the club represented at the annual assembly of the General Alumni Association on the campus in June.

Erie

New officers of the Erie Club were selected at a dinner meeting held on April 27, 1954. They are: Frank P. Jeckel '31, president; Mrs. M. G. Armogost (Josephine Schilling '29), vice president; Mrs. Fred R. Amsler (Mary E. Stahl '26), secretary-treasurer.

After a delightful dinner arranged by Lyman C. Shreve, Esq. '11, an illustrated address was given informally by Buck Shott, alumni secretary, followed by a question and answer session. If any phase of present day campus activities was overlooked by the interested alumni and guests in the discussion period that wound up the meeting it will surely come up at the next meeting planned as a freshman reception and picnic for late summer. Roy B. Mulkie '98, retiring president, and Carl W. Tiffany '03, retiring vice president, stage-managed an election procedure that left little to be desired in efficiency.

Johnstown

Bucknellians in Cambria, Indiana and Somerset Counties in Pennsylvania met at a dinner held at the Shangri-La Lodge, Johnstown on April 21. Allen N. Reynolds, Jr. '37, who was chairman of the meeting, entertained the 23 Bucknellians in attendance until presents

(Continued on Page 13)

THE CLASS OF 1954

PHI BETA KAPPA

First Row, Left to Right—Doris Erman, Betty Powell, Fran Harvey, and Patti Ponon. Second Row—Ellie Gilliams, Diane Slifer, Mrs. Gloria Slonaker, and Joan Rafaj. Third Row—Margie Irland, Saul Weshnoff, Wally Krzeminski, Red Macauley, Phil Roth, and Arlene Small. Not Pictured—Leo Black, Bob Catherman, Dick Minton and Alumni, Kenneth W. Slifer '26, Dr. Ernest E. Blanche '38, and Mrs. Joanne Cottle Storch '53.

"Bucknell as we leave thee
Thoughtful seniors are we,
For the friendships we've made here . . ."

The graduating class of 1954 leaves Bucknell, not as separate individuals, but as a group of friends who have gained much from associations in campus activities and in contacts with the faculty and administration.

They leave behind a part of the Bucknell Family, but enter the world where many alumni have gone before. With this graduating class go the friendships they have made here.

"Bucknell as we leave thee
May we never forget
For the knowledge we've gained here . . ."

The graduating class of 1954 has realized that knowledge comes not only from a classroom, but from participation in all phases of campus life. They have found that desire for knowledge increases ever with the acquisition of it and pleasure is derived from putting that knowledge to use.

The class of 1954 accepts the challenge to use the knowledge they have gained here as they enter the world as alumni.

PAT MCCOLL

LINEA LINDBERG

HELEN FRAZEE

DOROTHY MASEMER
Senior Prom Queen

JAN GELLER

DOROTHY DIORIO

BETSY ERNST

The Functioning of the Men's Student Assembly

By JOHN F. CHIRONNA '55, President

(Editor's Note)—A number of attempts have been made to set up a student organization for the men on the Bucknell campus to perform the functions that the Women's Student Government Association does for the coeds. The program of student government on Bucknell's campus has needed such an organization to work under the direction of the Student Faculty Congress which is the overall group composed of students, faculty and administration. We are glad to report that in 1953 the Men's Student Assembly came into being and we believe you will be interested in this report of the activities undertaken thus far by the new organization.

Last May 13, 1953, nine Bucknell students solemnly stood in Chapel waiting to be sworn in as members of the Men's Student Council. The inauguration of these gentlemen marked the initial step in the organization and functioning of the Men's Student Assembly, a governing-body formulated strictly for the male students. After several previous attempts to create such an organization, the desires of the administration and students for such a governmental body were finally consummated.

The authority and functions of the M. S. A. were formulated principally by former male student officers of the institution with assistance from the administration. The men composed the Constitution, which is the sole governing body of the group. Based on the structure of the Federal Government, the Assembly is divided into two sections: the House of Representatives and the Council. The members of the House of Representatives express the opinions and grievances of the male populace. Every fraternity, all dormitory floors, the non-fraternity men, the commuters, and Bucknell Village are equally represented. The Council operates through nine students annually elected by the entire male student body. This Council, the more influential of the two sections, reserves the right to veto or accept any action of the House. Through its meetings the problems and controversies of the male student government are solved.

The M. S. A. deals with problems of every nature. At the moment the subject of the use and possession of automobiles at Bucknell is being debated. In the past, the authorization of automobile permits was strictly an administrative responsibility. Now the M. S. A. is collecting data and statistics in an effort to formulate a new policy which will be acceptable to the faculty, the administration, and the students.

Another project of the organization deals with the permission to sell refreshments in the dormitories. Though the privilege of selling any article in the dormitory demands the approval of the Dean of Men, the pleas of the male students were heard with reference to this problem, and acted upon by the M. S. A. These, along with numerous other controversial questions, are continuously being reviewed and discussed for the best interest of the men.

The M. S. A. was formulated to uphold the interest and welfare of the men. This is clearly illustrated by the recent disciplinary action taken by the Council. Two male Bucknell students were confronted with disorderly conduct charges. The Council was invited to try this case. After hearing the statements of the two men, the Council reviewed the situation at great length. After very careful and detailed consideration of the factors involved, the Council members established an appropriate punishment for the offense. Presenting the verdict to the Administration and explaining the reasons for their decision, the Administration Disciplinary Committee unanimously accepted the plan. The M. S. A. broke all precedent by administering this disciplinary case, and having its decision and recommendations accepted in full by the Administration. This undoubtedly signifies the importance this newly-formed organization has on the campus. It is evident that the interests and welfare of the male students in disciplinary matters of this type will be given careful consideration by the M. S. A.

The Assembly conducted a semi-formal dance and dormitory open-house in April. The dance, featuring a prominent orchestra and to which faculty and administration members were cordially invited, was scheduled for Saturday night, April 10, with the open-house following it the next day. The open-house is another first for the M. S. A. Never before have the men's dormitories been open for inspection by the Bucknell coeds. The members of the Men's Council and the House of Representatives acted as official hosts, while the officers of the W. S. G. A. served refreshments in Roberts Hall. Through both the dance and the open-house, the M. S. A. is striving for the recognition which it so rightly deserves as it emphasizes a greater all-college participation in social events, and strives for a unity of effort and spirit among the male student body, and a mutual understanding among all students, faculty, and administration.

make the arrangements for the place of meeting.

Sharon

A short notice meeting was held at She-nango Inn, Sharon on April 28 to confer with Buck Shott, alumni secretary, on future club activities. Ira G. Fox '38 was chosen chairman of the local group to plan for a reception for present and prospective students and their parents in late summer and to organize a dinner meeting for all Bucknellians in the counties of Mercer and Lawrence in Pennsylvania and Mahoning County in Ohio in celebration of Bucknell's 109th Birthday in February 1955.

May Day Program

"The Greatest Show On Earth" was presented May 8 in Davis Gym as the annual May Day program. Members of Orchesis, modern dance club, and the apprentice modern dance organization combined their talents to make the 1954 event one of the most unique and unusual programs of this kind.

The big moment of this entertaining and exciting day was the crowning of Dottie Di-Orio, as May Queen by last year's queen, Sally Spencer. Members of the queen's court, elected on the basis of service, personality, and leadership were: Jo Anthony, Judy Es-may, Nancy Green, Fran Harvey, Shirley Hess, Jackie Jolly, Jackie Long, Dottie Masemer, Pat McColl, Jay Nides, Diane Sli-fer, Alice Rhoads.

In keeping with the circus custom, a grand parade of the entire cast preceded the main show. Here were seen the acrobats, animals, sideshow girls, and clowns, all dressed in appropriate costumes.

Following the parade was the big show in which the acrobats exhibited their agility and skill. Then came the animal trainer cracking her whip at the "ferocious" animals—a lion, tiger, and monkeys; in another circus ring was a snake charmer who mystified everyone with her magic powers over a "terrible" snake.

Between acts, the Women's Glee Club presented a short concert. In the second half of the program, four clowns danced after which a juggler and six midgets became the center of attraction. The sideshow entertainers were as popular as ever, particularly with the men! After the hilarious "Punch and Judy" show, an original May Pole Dance was performed by the clowns.

In charge of the music for the program were Miss Helen E. Kleinfelter, director of the Women's Glee Club, and Allen W. Flock, director of the band. Nancy Barnes was student dance manager and Pat Goff was in charge of costumes. WAA conducted the May Queen elections.

Class of 1954 Alumni Officers

At a recent meeting of the Class of 1954, Alumni Officers were elected. Acting as 1954 Alumni president will be Marty Carhart, Riverton, N. J. Vice president will be Dorothy Masemer, York; secretary, Diane Sli-fer, Woodbury, N. J.; treasurer, Jeff Mynott, Rochester, N. Y.; class reporter, Dottie DiOrio, York; class fund manager, Pat McColl, Hamden, Conn. and reunion chairman, Jo Anthony, Merion Station. The reunion committee will consist of Bob Catherman, Williamsport; Warren Rittenger, Cantonville, Md.; Mary J. Rhodes, McKeesport; Don Huseh, Bloomfield, N. J. and Spence Bruno of New York City.

Phi Gams Jim Gessner '56, Bucksville, and Henry Owen '56, Lewisburg, won the 175-lb. and heavyweight boxing titles to help Phi Gamma Delta take the boxing trophy in the Inter-Fraternity matches. Phi Lambda Theta placed second and the Theta Chis took third place in the contests.

Is Your Hat in the Ring?

As a means of commendation and encouragement to college men and women to enter politics we would be happy to print notice of Bucknellians who become candidates for public office. Send the pertinent information to the Alumni Office.

Club Activities

(Continued from Page 11)

the arrival of Buck Shott who made the trip from Lewisburg by automobile, taxi, bus, train, and finally, some hitch-hiking.

At a short business meeting the following officers were selected: president, William H. Schnure '44; vice president, Daryl J. Sheridan '51; secretary, Mrs. Myrtle Walkinshaw Shupe '39; treasurer, Mrs. Jack M. Hess (Ruth E. Llewellyn '39). The group considered favorably the idea of a monthly luncheon meeting to be held at a convenient spot in Johnstown and asked Miss Agnes K. Garrity '32 and Robert J. Haberstroh '22 to

SPORTS

FOOTBALL

1954 Schedule		1953 Results
			B. U.	Opp.
Sept. 25—Muhlenberg	Allentown	*Buffalo	35	18
Oct. 2—Gettysburg	Home	*Muhlenberg	13	18
Oct. 9—Lehigh	Home	Holy Cross	0	40
Oct. 16—Temple	Philadelphia	*Temple (Homecoming)	21	27
Oct. 23—Lafayette	Homecoming	Lafayette	6	7
Oct. 30—Boston U.	Boston	Lehigh	6	20
Nov. 6—Colgate	Hamilton, N. Y.	Colgate	12	19
Nov. 13—Albright	Home	Gettysburg	13	26
Nov. 20—Delaware	Newark, Del.	*Delaware	13	34
*Home Games			119	198

Football—1953

After an impressive 35-18 victory over Buffalo University in the season's opener, the Herd lost the key to success and could not open the gates of victory during its next eight games. Two of the eight losses, however, were by two touchdowns, another two games were lost by one touchdown and a fifth contest was dropped by the slim margin of one point. The graduation of Brad Myers and Burt Talmage, the "touchdown twins" on the 1951 and '52 teams, coupled with the scholastic ineligibility of Ed Adams, Bill Cody and Tom O'Brien, three backs Coach Lawrence had counted upon to replace the Myers-Talmage punch, proved to be the straw that broke the Bison's back.

Lawrence, in looking for backfield strength, shifted his aggressive right guard, John Chironna to halfback. Chironna averaged 3.4 yards per try and scored two touchdowns in four games, but his absence from the front wall was soon felt and he was shifted back to his guard slot. Ron Hendricks, quarterback, heaved 62 passes and completed 20 for a 12.8 yard average per completion. Center Paul Ganz received recognition from the Eastern Intercollegiate Football Association as one of the "unsung heroes" on the 1953 gridiron.

Football—1954

Five letterwinning backs will return to the Bucknell gridiron this season. Heading the list is Bob Ford '56, Collingswood, N. J., who barreled his way for 360 yards last year for a five yard average per try. Bob Sierer '56, Wiconisco, was right behind Ford with a 4.5 average per try. Hendricks '56, Perkasio, and Bill Hollister '56, Short Hills, N. J., both of whom snapped the ball in the backfield last season, will be returning to resume their signal calling duties.

Chironna '55, Westfield, N. J., a guard, will head the list of ten letterwinning linemen. Ends Jack Flurer '55, Columbus, N. J., Bob Antkowiak '55, Baltimore, Md., Rich Klaber '55, Mt. Lebanon, and Ken Tashjy '55, Palisades Park, N. J., should cement the terminals of the line. Center Roy Gavert '55, Wilkinsburg, guards Hank Popek '55, Philadelphia, and Jack Winebrenner '55, Baltimore, Md., and tackles Ron Lloyd '55, Forty Fort, and Marion Minker '56, Towson, Md., should strengthen the middle of the front wall.

Sophomore Don Koppes '57, Basking Ridge, N. J., looks like a hard-charging, high-stepping halfback who may strengthen the "weak link backfield." George Klauder '55, Philadelphia, who averaged 4.7 yards per try last season, should provide depth at the full-back position. Gregory Blyler '57, Leonia, N. J., a sophomore tackle who tips the scales at 260, should provide the line with beef as well as strength and speed and Henry Owen '56, Lewisburg, looks like he is slated to see plenty of action backing up the line.

Coach Lawrence feels that if he doesn't lose too many men through injuries, there will definitely be some improvement over last season's record. Lawrence also feels that last year's freshman squad was not too strong but should add some depth to the 1954 varsity eleven.

Co-ed Sports Summary

Girls' sports on the Bucknell campus this year were many and varied, offering opportunities for girls interested in almost every type of athletic activity. The success of the athletic program was due to the competent job done by the Women's Athletic Association. This year WAA was under the capable leadership of Janet Wilt '55, Drexel Hill. Assisting her were vice president, Virginia Wightman '55, Glen Rock, N. J.; secretary, Anne Tuckerman '54, Media and treasurer, Jean Uhler '56, York.

Hockey practice began almost immediately after the girls returned to campus. In the first play day at Juniata the Bucknell team won two games, lost one, and tied one. On October 13, the All College Tournament was held at Lebanon Valley. From Bucknell Barbara Glenn (captain) '56, Greenville, S. C., Carol Getz '56, Glen Mills, Jo Lower '57, Westtown, and Barbara Folk '57, Merion, were selected to play on the first team, and Fran Derby '54, Baltimore, Md., Martha Green '57, Drexel Hill, and Connie Hamilton '57, Downingtown, were chosen to play on the second team.

Diane Slifer '54, Woodbury, N. J., pulled through to win the tennis championship, while Sally Roop '57, Baltimore, Md., came out on top to take the badminton singles.

Interclass volleyball competition began in November with the Sophomores winning on an undefeated record, followed by intergroup contests. Delta Delta Delta tied the Independents for first place but were defeated in the finals by the non-sorority team.

After an exciting tournament the Sophomores won the interclass basketball championship with only one defeat. Intergroup basketball was won by the Alpha Chi Omega's after defeating the Kappa Delta's in the finals. In bowling the Independent team was the winner of the intergroup tournament. Fourteen girls also participated in the National Intercollegiate Bowling Tournament held at Penn State.

In competition with other colleges the Bucknell girls did very well this year. At Susquehanna on February 13 the basketball team won their first game with Susquehanna and went on to beat Lock Haven, who had until this time been undefeated at any of the previous play days. On February 27, at the Lycoming play day Bucknell took first place in both swimming and basketball and placed third in badminton and bowling. At the play day at State College the swimming team won the swimming meet and Sally Roop '57, Baltimore, Md., came out first in the singles badminton tournament. The basketball team won one game and lost one.

In the midst of the many athletic activities, Orchesis, the modern dance club, was kept busy. At Christmas they performed for the Linntown Parent-Teachers' Association and gave a concert with the Women's Glee Club. This year the entire May Day program was put on by the modern dance group.

Spring Sports

Baseball, track, tennis and golf occupied the athletic spotlight during spring on the 300 acres. Coach Bill Lane's baseball team, led by the sensational pitching of Don Richards, won its opener from Susquehanna 5-4. A week later, the Bison nine tied Navy 1-1. Tom King hurled Bucknell to an 8-5 triumph over Scranton in the next game. Franklin and Marshall finally turned the tide and upset the Orange and Blue hurlers 7-6 shortly before Spring Recess; however, Bucknell bounced back after the recess and outclassed Susquehanna for the second time. On this occasion, Richards blanked the Crusaders 3-0 on three hits. Juniata turned the tables on the Bisons two days later, squeaking by with a 6-5 decision; however, Coach Lane's nine bounced back once more and shellacked Albright 12-1.

Coach Bus Blum's mile-relay team opened the 1954 track season in the annual Penn Relays, but placed "out of the money." The team, as a whole, did not see action until May 1 when it thumped Muhlenberg 84-42. Harold Smith, Frank Vanderhoof, Red Macauley and Ed Burg led the Bison scoring parade.

On the clay courts, Coach Hank Peters' tennis team chalked up three victories against a single defeat in the early part of the season. Navy set the racquetmen back on their heels 9-0 in the season's opener, but since that time the tennismen have beaten Temple 7-2, Albright 8-1 and Muhlenberg 8-1. Al Holton, Joe Battin, Spencer Lenhart, Dick Wormser, and Rich Richter paced the team during its siege.

Coach Hal Evans' golf team got off to a slow start as it lost three matches in a row. Then the linksmen won two consecutive matches, beating Temple and Albright. Jeff Mynott, Nelson Korb, Andy Harvat and Pete Straub have been the leading divotmen.

Intramural Standings

	Points
Delta Upsilon	431
Phi Gamma Delta	375
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	364
Kappa Sigma	359
Sigma Chi	355
Phi Kappa Psi	314½
Phi Lambda Theta	312
Lambda Chi Alpha	303
Theta Chi	281½
Sigma Alpha Mu	275
Tau Kappa Epsilon	242
Kappa Delta Rho	211½
Sigma Phi Epsilon	191
Independents	120
Fat Five	66
Challengers	39
East College	27

CLASS REPORTS

EMERITUS CLUB

Class of 1886—It is with regret that we announce the death of Dr. Elmer E. Keiser on March 28, 1954 at his home at 6933 Tulip St., Philadelphia. Dr. Keiser, who was a general practitioner for more than 60 years, served as physician at the County Prison at Holmesburg from 1906 until 1929. He was also an active physician in Tacony until the time of his death. Dr. Keiser, active in many civic affairs, was a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity and a long time member of the Bison Club. He was married to the former Jeanie Deans I'86, deceased, and is survived by two sons, Laurence B. and Hubert D.

Mrs. Susanna Stapleton Brubaker

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Susanna Stapleton Brubaker I'89, on February 7, at Indiana, Pa. Mrs. Brubaker, wife of the late Dr. Brubaker, of Mifflinburg, was a native of Lewisburg and before her death was active in church work. She is survived by three children, Mrs. Marlin B. Stephens, of Johnstown; David M. Brubaker, Harrisburg; Mrs. William S. Stephens (Evelyn Brubaker M'25); one granddaughter and one great-granddaughter.

CLASS OF 1899

Class Reporter: DR. FLOYD G. BALLENTINE
626 Taylor St., Lewisburg, Pa.

— Fifty-fifth Reunion, June 11-14 —

All members of the class will be sorry to learn that Oscar R. Levan, that never-failing source of entertainment with his sprightly wit and good humor, has suffered a paralytic stroke and is now confined to his room and his chair at Fairview St., Mohnton.

Albert E. Hutchinson, M.D., who lives at Barnett Apt., Saratoga, Cal., is also having trouble with some major surgical operations.

For some information about the activities of George S. Tilley, see page 4 in this issue.

A last call to make every effort to be on hand for our fifty-fifth.

CLASS OF 1900

Class Reporter: GEORGE A. GRIM
South Broad St., Nazareth, Pa.

Dr. Charles E. Bunnell and Dr. Andrew Nerland, two men who helped found and guide the destiny of the University of Alaska, were recently honored by the Fairbanks Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Ernest N. Patty, president of the University, told how Dr. Bunnell struggled to keep the University (now 32 years old) alive during the dark days of its establishment. Said Dr. Patty, "I saw Dr. Bunnell build the University on a firm foundation with high standards. I saw him stretch dollars and meet problems with courage, skill and finesse. There were times when it was nip and tuck whether forces that would discontinue the institution would win or not. There were times when a lesser man would have quit."

CLASS OF 1901

Class Reporter: J. C. HIGGINS
106 S. Fourth St., Lewisburg, Pa.

We regret to announce that Lyndon E. Ayres of Clifford passed away in 1952. After his retirement from the teaching profession, Mr. Ayres continued to take an active part in community affairs.

The Rev. Raymond G. Pierson has been re-elected treasurer of the Tourist Club at Daytona Beach, Fla.

CLASS OF 1903

Class Reporter: MRS. HARRY C. HERPEL
(Elvie S. Coleman)
1250 Park Ave., McKeesport, Pa.

Greetings to 1903 classmates. It has been evident that the deep interest and warmth of feeling for our alma mater that was rekindled by the cordial invitation from the University to attend the 50th anniversary of our class has continued throughout the year. Those who were fortunate enough to be present will never forget how each one was able to enter into the old friendships just as they were 50 or more years ago. Those unable to come have found real pleasure in hearing from and about their old friends. Keep the news items coming in, tell us about your interests, civic and church activities, politics, careers, grandchildren, etc.

Col. A. F. Dersheimer and wife have returned to their home after a winter in Mobile, Ala. The Col. is planning to get back to the campus in June. Wish that we all lived near enough to do that!

Jay Bond will also be a visitor at commencement time. We shall expect to hear reports from both these classmates.

Emily Ebling enjoyed the sunshine during the spring season at Atlantic City.

Ida Luetsinger is a director of the Visiting Nurses Association and is chairman of several active committees in her home city.

Joseph Glaspey, our '03 track team star who was in the hospital at reunion time last year, has recovered. He recognized only two of his classmates in the reunion picture. A diagram with names will be sent to him.

Dr. Bessie Burchett has had a most interesting and exciting life. '03 will be proud of her bravery when her story is told in our history. She lives at Wrightstown.

Jane Fowler Bullis and her husband, Ray, are busy in church and educational activities. They enjoyed the hills and mountains of Pennsylvania last June and are coming again from their far off home in California.

Roger H. Williams, D.D., will have completed 27 years as pastor of the First Baptist Church in Greensburg in July.

CLASS OF 1904

Class Reporter: ROBERT W. THOMPSON
P. O. Box 33, Lewisburg, Pa.

— Fiftieth (Golden) Reunion June 11-14 —

Louis W. Robey, vice president and secretary of Marts & Lundy, Inc., will be in charge of the Philadelphia office which the fund raising organization has opened in the Lincoln-Liberty Building, Broad and Chestnut St., Philadelphia. The Philadelphia office will facilitate supervision of the firm's campaigns in the Washington-Philadelphia-Pittsburgh area.

David W. Thomas—the long lost member of the class has been located in Louisiana these many years. He has preached several years and later practiced law. Has served as mayor of Minden, La. and is now a candidate for city judge. Has not been in Lewisburg nor met up with any Bucknellians in the last fifty years. Dave should come and look us over in June. David W. Robinson will be the driver of that DeSoto with Florida tags 7W-4811 headed north in June. Dave is chairman of the Planning Commission, Winter Park, Fla.

Mrs. Mae Morgan Beagle is the retired postmistress at Watsonstown.

Harry B. Bibby and Clarence M. Hursh have both been retired by the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

Woody Gilbert and wife enjoyed a real vacation in Florida where they attended the Bucknell Anniversary Dinner in February.

Estella Albright (Mrs. Paul Halfpenney) and Olive Schillinger were former high school teachers of a Bucknell Trustee—Andy Mathieson '20.

Now is the time for all loyal BU'04ers to decide that they will be on the campus for our 50th anniversary reunion. Be with us.

CLASS OF 1907

Class Reporter: DR. LEO L. ROCKWELL
Colgate University, Hamilton, N. Y.

After teaching 12 years at Purdue University, Charles C. Wagner has taken a position in an industrial laboratory in Hammond, Ind. We're glad to get this news about Wag. He has three sons and one daughter, one son just back from Army service. He has outdone some of us with four grandchildren. (Why don't some of you other guys report on the third generation?)

Again the grim reaper. J. Harry Sebnch died suddenly on February 18th. He had worked the day before but became violently ill on the 18th and died almost immediately.

Members of the class will remember Harry as one of the most cheerful of our mates. He was one of Bill Raker's "Lycoming County Gang", his home having been at Cogan Station. After taking his degree with us in civil engineering, he was for two years with the Bessemer and Lake Erie R. R. at Greenville; thence he moved to Lincoln, Neb., with the C. B. and Q. After two years there he went to Montana, where for years he was with the Butte, Anaconda, and Pacific. In 1933 he went for a short term to the FERA, the U. S. Forest Service and U. S. Public Works Administration, as resident engineer at Helena. In June 1940 he joined the Anaconda Copper Mining Co. doing civil engineering and maintenance work.

In 1915 he married Nellie G. Daniels. They have two daughters, Kathryn and Marilyn, and at last reports from Harry these daughters were still in Helena.

Always loyal to the class, Harry was unable to get back for a reunion before that of 1947, where he was warmly welcomed. In his later years he was an elder of the Presbyterian Church, a very devout Christian. His going leaves another large gap in our thinking ranks. He had hoped to be back for our fiftieth reunion; he will be with us in spirit.

Ada Moore Snider '07 died in Farmington, Missouri, October 10, 1953. Ruth Shorkley Bliss '05, who reported her passing, says, "Ada Moore was a 'town' girl who lived for a year with mother and me and for a year with the Shields family. She had come to Bucknell from St. Clair, Mo.; she was a grandchild of James Moore III, the only one of his grandchildren to be educated at Bucknell.

"After teaching home economics for some time at Caruthersville, Mo., she married George Burette Snider and made their home in Farmington. She is survived by three children: George Burette, Jr., Schenectady, N. Y.; Mrs. Charles Neel, Benton, Ark.; and Miss Ellen Snider, St. Louis, as well as by three grandchildren.

"Mrs. Snider had been active in church and civic club life, while at the same time devoted to home and family. She was a worthy daughter of Bucknell and a worthy granddaughter of its founder."

CLASS OF 1908

Class Reporter: MRS. MARGARET P. MATHIAS
(Margaret Pangburn)
202 St. Louis St., Lewisburg, Pa.

In his most recent letter from Burma, Dr. E. Carroll Condict '08, A.M. '11, D.D. '35, reports that with nine more teeth "outened" he will bring to 16,000 the total of "painless" extractions during his 42 years of service in the Burma mission field. Bucknellians will be happy to learn that Carroll is at work on the final touches of the translation of the Bible, after which he will return to America and make his home with his son, Rev. T. Chubb Condict '39, 87 Randall Ave., Ocean Park, Maine.

Mrs. Dana Bower Haines writes in regard to our 45th reunion, announcements of which reached her in Costa Rica, where she is visiting. She writes, "Mae Jones McGuire wrote me the news of all you loyal '08ers. It must have been a grand bunch. Put me down for the golden jubilee in 1958. I'll be there with bells on." At the end of her letter she said, "Did Mae tell you I have eight grandchildren?" Mae Jones McGuire is our best promoter for our 50th anniversary. From several voices have come the words, "I have heard from Mae news of the 45th." Keep up the good work, Mae.

Just as we go to press word is received of the death on April 29 of our genial class president Buster Booth at Hackensack Hospital. Further details will be found in our next issue.

CLASS OF 1909

Class Reporter: MRS. HOWARD HEADLAND
(Sarah E. Walters)
3911 First Ave., N., St. Petersburg 3, Fla.

—Forty-fifth Reunion, June 11-14—

Guy Payne continues his long service in Y. M. C. A. work by accepting the chairmanship of the North-Central District of State Y. M. C. A.

Gertrude Turner retired at Abington High School in June 1953. Since then she has been the housemother of a 58-girl dormitory at Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa.

Again the bell tolls. With a sad heart we report the death of Frances Chaffee Evans on March 13th, 1954, at the Robert Packer Hospital, Sayre. Mrs. Evans, who was active in community affairs and a member of the First Presbyterian Church, is survived by a daughter, Mrs. William L. Wilson (Margaret Chaffee '39), a sister, Miss Myra Chaffee '09, a brother, William J. Chaffee, and three grandchildren.

CLASS OF 1910

Class Reporter: MISS MILDRED B. CATHERS
100 W. 33rd St., Bayonne, N. J.

Weaver Pangburn, class secretary for the Alumni Fund, was in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. with Mrs. Pangburn and her father during January, mostly playing, but with a little report writing. Since then his business, from which he is now semi-retired, has taken him to Long Beach, Cal.; Wilmington, Del.; and Pittsfield, Mass. (See page 5—Ed.) With his wife and sister, Margaret Pangburn Mathias '08, he plans to leave on May 15 for a two months trip abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Yoder (Emily Lane) spent the winter in Sarasota where they have purchased a winter home and may be addressed during the winter months at Box 440, Rt. 3, Sarasota, Fla. The weekend of March 19th the Yoders visited the Howard Headlands (Sara Walters '09) in St. Petersburg and with them attended the Bucknell Alumni Club picnic at Lake Maggiore.

Mrs. Palmer M. Way (Sara Ray) was registered at the Normandie in St. Petersburg, for three months.

Your scribe was also in St. Petersburg during February and March and enjoyed the Bucknell picnic where Sara Way, Emily Yoder, Dr. J. Earle Edwards and she had a 1910 reunion in miniature.

CLASS OF 1912

Class Reporter: MRS. H. W. HOUSEKNECHT
(Maze Callahan)
108 W. Penn St., Muncy, Pa.

WILFUL WINTER

Some people call April a wild wanton maid
And think of the winter as adult and staid.
But I think of Winter as no such meek thing,
For she is as freakish and moody as spring.

A lacy white mantle she'll wear in the blue
Of a sparkling cold day and go flirting with you,
Or may choose tiaras of diamonds to wear,
Charmingly balanced on dirty black hair.

She'll weep for a week with her icy cold tears,
Or blow with a breath that can shave off your ears
A shower of snowflakes she'll fling in your face
Her jealous finale as spring takes her place.

—Mabel Doyle.

Isn't the countryside beautiful during April? The forsythia, magnolia, dog-wood, japonica; then the lovely narcissi, jonquils, baby irises, and tulips. My, I wish I hadn't a care in the world but travel around at this time of the year!

Had a card from Matt and Olive Long Haggerty '09 who were vacationing in St. Petersburg, Fla., for a couple of months. Then cards from the Frank Heans and the Roy Mikles '10, who were also basking in the sun in Florida. One card read: "Stopped in your town. Roy and I thought of you. The town might be improved by your presence; otherwise it is no metropolis." Roy and Frank, about that time I was seeing red. I thought the bums enjoying themselves, then stopping in Muncy and not even coming around to say "hello." When I turned the card over the town was Callahan, Fla. I just sort of chuckled to myself.

Four grandchildren were acquired during a period of four months by Mr. and Mrs. A. Cleveland Conner (Alberta Bronson), 271 Linwood Ave., Ardmore. Their daughter, Doris, now Mrs. Frank Andress, Jr., Abington, Va., gave birth to a son, born August 28. Their daughter, Kathleen, now Mrs. Robert Orr, Houston, Texas, had a daughter exactly one month later, on September 28. Next, their son, Dr. Arthur Bronson Conner of Central College, Pella, Iowa, who married the former Carol Norton, Beatrice, Nev., became the father of a daughter on December 5. That same month on Christmas Day, to be exact, the Connors daughter, Phyllis, now Mrs. Charles McKnight, Bloomfield, N. J., gave birth to a daughter. And here's a footnote. Doris and Phyllis are twin sisters, and Kathleen is the twin sister of Capt. Kenneth Conner now stationed at New Castle Air Base after having served recently with the Far Eastern Air Force. The five Conner children mentioned together with their sister, Anita Derry of West Orange, N. J. are all six graduates of Lower Merion High School.

I don't have that kind of a record but I can announce a precious granddaughter, Debra Callahan, born February 10. Now I can have two charms for a grandmother's bracelet.

This, too, was enclosed in my envelope:

	1932
"Bucknell 1912	1912
	20 years

"Twenty years ago our class was graduated from old Bucknell! What years they have been!! War, prosperity, depression, floods, famines—you add the other elements of these years.

"Members of our class have married, divorced, traveled, fought, died, succeeded, failed, and what have you. Those of us who are alive and can borrow $1.00 for a great dinner and desire to relive 1908-1912 and thereafter and can take the evening off Monday, May 16th, 6:30 p. m., Beautiful University of Pennsylvania, C. A. Building, 36 and Locust St., Philadelphia. Wives, husbands, and sweethearts invited. Allentown, Harrisburg, Trenton, New York are all not far away for such an event. Come!!!"

Art Waltz	Jack Roberts
Patty Conner	Fred Iglar

It is with regret, but nevertheless with deep pride, that we record the death of Paul Althouse, a native of Reading, who scaled the heights of his profession as an opera singer, became a leading tenor in the Metropolitan Opera Co., won acclaim in other lands, but never became too big to remember the friends of his youth and enjoy others' companionship on those occasions when time permitted him to visit his home town.

Everyone recognized the talent and artistry of Paul Althouse. But those who were his intimates never ceased to love him as a human being who, although great in the eyes of the musical world, never lost the common touch nor valued fame above friendship. Long after his magnificent voice won him world acclaim, Paul Althouse continued to seek the society of less talented associates with whom he had been reared. Neither the plaudits of the crowd nor the endorsement of critics seemed to give him the full satisfaction that he enjoyed by visiting and cooperating with the "boys" who played less glamorous roles in private life.

Genial, friendly, democratic Paul was. Permitted only 64 years of life, he will continue to live as a pleasant and tender memory in the minds of those of us who watched and rejoiced in his mounting achievements and in the recorded annals of the musical world.

It would be impossible to complete even a brief tribute to Paul Althouse without mentioning the name of Miss Evelyn Essick, another outstanding native of Reading, who, as a young teacher of music, "discovered" Paul as a boy and more than any other individual guarded and developed his voice and launched him on the road that led to success. Miss Essick survives her famous protege and it is gratifying to be able to thank her for the great gift she made to Reading and the world.

I think I knew Paul quite well even though he was only with us for the fall term of our freshman year. He called on me at my home in Montoursville. He was my escort at our freshman banquet at the Hotel Graeman in Shamokin. I remember the banquet was Monday evening. I suppose school was officially opened that day because "Ma" Bush was our chaperon. Helen Levegood Clarke, Ruby Stuck O'Leary, Violet Wetterau Nauman, Alberta Bronson Conner, Ada Brooks Nancarrow and I danced with the boys. I danced with Paul. It, of course, was against the rules of the University to dance with men during school hours so "Ma" Bush reported us and we were put on campus for six weeks. When I think of it I don't see how the "old lady" rests in her grave. We weren't allowed to cut a class, go down to Mrs. Huths, play sick by crawling into bed and having the maid bring us toast and tea, had to be on time for every meal. I wasn't even allowed to go home over the week to get some fresh air and I only lived 30 miles from the school. I wonder what this generation would do if they had such rules?

This was quite a sensible thought that I copied from the church bulletin this past Sunday:

"Easter is over, but your love for Christ should compel you to attend church each Sunday in the year; and it should impel you to try and interest another person in this church in the remainder of the year. We are to go into all the world and preach the gospel. Are you doing that?"

May 9th—Most of the good things in this life come to us in two's and three's, dozens and hundreds—plenty of roses, stars, sunsets, rainbows, brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles, friends, and good neighbors—but why only one mother in all this wide world. Two legs of our journey are over—only three more rounds until our 45th. Do you think you will make it?

CLASS OF 1913

Class Reporter: CHARLES L. SANDERS
76 Walnut St., Mifflinburg, Pa.

Early in March Jane Ireys Rees telephoned to me from her home in Danville saying that she was moving to Miami, Florida, to establish permanent residence. Her address is 1510 S. W. 14th St., and her telephone number 2-4736. She invited classmates and college friends to call if they happen to be in her southern city. Jane has one son living in Ajo, Arizona. It was a real joy to have these few moments of conversation with her, but I was sorry to know that she will be far from Lewisburg and easy visits there. All classmates, I know, wish you health and contentment in your new environment, Mrs. Rees.

The class extends sincere sympathy to Anne Dreisbach Henderson in the loss of her mother on April 8, and to Jerome Paulhamus in the death of his wife on April 11.

CLASS OF 1914

Class Reporter: MRS. H. B. WEAVER
(Dora Hamler)
348 Ridge Ave., New Kensington, Pa.

All aboard, Fourteeners for Fortieth Reunion.

Place: Bucknell Campus.

Time: June twelfth.

Will we be seeing you?

Harry Stahler, "I hope so, doing my best to make it"; Ray Apgar, "Sure hope to be there"; Earle Armstrong, "Probably"; Bill Barnes, "Not sure"; Harry Campbell, "Sorry, I can't promise. I would like to be there"; J. E. Kaufmann, "I may. Send me another announcement of it"; Charlie Coleman, "Sorry, I can't make it. I have a business date in Seattle at that time. Give my best regards to everyone. (Sure will miss you, Chuck)"; Willie Dorrell, "If possible"; Rachel Davis, "I don't think so." (Change your mind, Rachel); Joe Golightly, "My reservation is in"; Florence Halliwell, "If possible"; Marian Harman, "Hope so"; Ruth Hoffa, "Yes"; A. P. Hull, Jr., "Not certain"; Louie Lyne, "Yes." The three original graduates in mechanical engineering were members of the Class of 1914. They were Charles Coleman, Olaf Linberg, and myself. I am happy to report that we are all alive and planning a '40 reunion in June"; Mildred Kirk, "Yes"; Leland P. Laning, "I (we) hope so. The we means Golda Clark '19"; Frances McNall, "No answer. (She lives near me, so I'll work on her.)"; Thomas Moore, "If possible"; Ralph Neff, "Try my best"; Jack Rice, "Hope to be"; Jesse Riley, "Yes"; Fred Schurre, "Yes"; Clinton Snyder, "Probably not. (Why not join us? You'll be glad you did.); Raymond Stapleton, "No answer, but he'll be there"; Helen Stout, "Uncertain. (Some Williamsporter can work on her.)"; Ralph Tyson, "Very doubtful"; John Winkleblech, "I hope to be"; Florence Reimensnyder, "I am not certain. (Why Florence, Milton is only a hop, skip, and a jump away. We will see you)."; Edna Whittam, "No word yet, but since she's chairman of arrangements, we know she'll be on hand.)"

Just one more word. The 1914 Who's Who will soon be in the printer's hands. You can get your copy at Reunion.

See you June Twelfth.

CLASS OF 1916

Class Reporter: MRS. GEORGE STEVENSON
(Amy Patterson)
R. D. 1, Box 556, Red Bank, N. J.

Dr. James E. Nancarrow has received a certificate of appreciation for distinctive professional service given to the advancement of secondary education in 1953. Dr. Nancarrow is principal of the Upper Darby High School in Philadelphia.

Homer Sanders did the promoting, planning and supervising the building of the new Euclid Congregational Church, Euclid, O., which was completed in September of 1953. His regular work is with the Austin Company, engineers and builders. His present address is 22790 Hadden Rd., Euclid, O.

CLASS OF 1917

Class Reporter: MRS. CARL A. SCHUG
(Alice Johnson)
266 Lincoln Ave., Williamsport 12, Pa.

Henry T. Lofft, who is project manager of Tennessee Valley Authority's Kingston Steam Plant sent us an interesting leaflet of the development in his area. Henry lives at Harriman, Tennessee, R. F. D. 4, Box 315.

CLASS OF 1919

Class President: DR. FRANKLIN D. JONES
2617 St. David's Lane, Ardmore, Pa.

— Thirty-fifth Reunion, June 11-14 —

Edwin E. Aubrey is active in student Christian association affairs at the national level. He is chairman of the program commission of the National Student Council of Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s and a member of the advisory committee of the student division of the National Y. M. C. A. He also serves as chairman of the editorial board of Hadden House which publishes books for students in the field of religion and ethics, and as chairman of the advisory council of the department of religion at Princeton University.

Mrs. Nelson F. Davis (Margaret Allen) heads a volunteer hospital aid program of 400 women for the Peninsula Hospital of her home city. The aides, barbed in flamingo red pinafores over white blouses, can be clearly recognized as they go about their tasks of bringing added comforts to the patients. The Davis family lives at 120 El Cerrito, San Mateo, Calif.

Harry C. Fries, our freshman class president, is at present superintendent of schools at South Plainfield, N. J. Harry missed graduating with us by one year because of an overseas assignment for Uncle Sam in 1918. He has a record of service on many community projects including 16 years of perfect attendance in Rotary.

Dr. Elizabeth M. Kates, who was awarded the Honorary LL.D. by Bucknell in 1951 in recognition of her outstanding service in correctional institutions, is now serving as superintendent of the State Industrial Farm for Women at Gochland, Va.

CAMPUS CAPERS

Thirty-five years ago — 1919

The time has come again when blood shall run hot between the Freshman and Sophomore classes, as the inter-class baseball game is about to be played on the Athletic Field.

Game will probably be called at 3:30 o'clock. Mohler is captain of the Sophomores, and Schultz of the Freshmen.

CLASS OF 1920

Class Reporter: HAYES L. PERSON
60 S. Third St., Lewisburg, Pa.

Dr. Harry R. Warfel gave his 40th public lecture in Europe, when he addressed the University of Stockholm, in Stockholm, Sweden. His earlier European lectures were delivered in Germany to university and public audiences, who have been particularly amused at his Pennsylvania German dialect stories. By the time of his departure for America on June 15, his engagements will have brought him before audiences drawn from 12 of Germany's 16 universities.

CLASS OF 1921

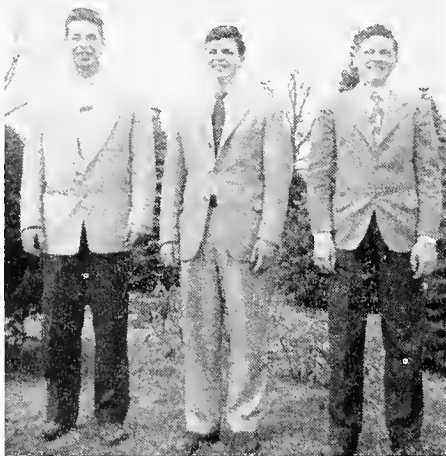

Class Reporter: MRS. ELWOOD DERR
(Sarah Bernhart)
1360 Jefferson Ave., Lewisburg, Pa.

It is with regret that we announce the death of George H. Beattie on April 5, 1953. Mr. Beattie, a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity and the Bison Club, is survived by his wife, Mrs. Harriet Emerson Beattie, Ashville, N. C., and two children, Barbara, a sophomore at Skidmore College, Saratoga, N. Y. and George, 11.

CLASS OF 1923

Class Reporter: MRS. LeROY FRONTZ
(Olive Billhime)
Evergreen Farm, Allenwood, Pa.

With news of classmates so scarce I decided I'd break down and issue a few statements about myself rather than have the year's final ALUMNUS go to press with no mention of '23.

The Froniz Boys—LeRoy, Jr.; Edward; Richard

First, I have three sons, LeRoy, Jr., a freshman at Antioch this year; Edward hopes to be in at Bucknell come this fall and Richard is a junior at Watson-town High School.

As for myself, I have been enjoying a revival of some musical activity doing some accompanying for a choral group and having some private piano pupils.

After years of service with state and federal governments in Pennsylvania and states of the Middle West, my husband, a forester by profession, is deeply interested in operating a small farm and nursery on the principles of organiculture here in Pennsylvania's beautiful White Deer Valley. Our praises of rural living are long and loud. One of my hobbies and greatest pleasures is birding—and I need not leave the farm to pursue it. With a creek on one side, mountains on the other, and lots of trees all around it is a "natural" for birds. Incidentally, I go to meetings of the Bucknell Ornithological Society. Our dear Dr. Stewart is always there too (and don't think of him as "old" either, for he definitely is not). He is the life of the meetings.

Putting the preceding down on paper seemed to have the salutary effect of bringing a nice note from Larry Kimball, Vineland, N. J. Larry has been re-elected as director of the Middle Atlantic Lumbermen's Association. He says that Bob Bogar '31 of Steelton is also on the board. Larry reminds us that he missed the reunion last year only because he went to Paris to the Rotary Convention. He hopes to get back to the campus for Alumni Day this year.

CLASS OF 1924

Class Reporter: ALFRED G. STOUGHTON
13105 Atlantic Ave., Rockville, Md.

— Thirtieth Reunion, June 11-14 —

Dr. G. MERRILL LENOX '24

Dr. G. Merrill Lenox, executive director of the Detroit Council of Churches, has been made the chief executive officer also of the Michigan Council of Churches in order to bring into closer relationship more than 3,000 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox congregations, and more than 30 county and local Councils of Churches in the state.

Al Stoughton is now conducting public relations audits for hospitals as a consultant to management.

CAMPUS CAPERS

Thirty years ago — 1921

Great excitement as frosh celebrate end of freshman rules. Due to the victory of the "frosh" over the "sophs" in their annual ball game on Wednesday the Freshmen Pajama Parade scheduled for Friday evening was staged on Wednesday. About one-third of the class, pajama-clad, appeared in front of Carnegie Library about 9:00 o'clock.

CLASS OF 1926

Class Reporter: MISS ANNA L. BROWN
45 Wildwood Ave., Pitman, N. J.

Have you all sent in your Alumni Fund gifts? Less than a month remains in this fund year and every little bit counts. Gene Carstater, our class fund manager, reminds us that at one time or another during the life of the fund seventy different members of our class or 28% of the survivors have made one or more gifts to the fund. Your contribution should be sent directly to the Alumni Fund. Gene is head of the training research branch of the personnel analysis division, Bureau of Naval Personnel. Since graduation he has earned his Ph.D. in education.

Of the 248 members of the Class of 1926 still on the rolls, 20 had contributed to the Alumni Fund by March 15 for the 1953-1954 Fund year. Fifty additional members of the class have made contributions in one or more of the previous Fund years. If all these remember to send in their contributions before June 30, the class will reach a participation record of 28.2%.

The class is scattered among 23 states, one territory, the District of Columbia, and Italy. The percentage of participation by states varies all the way from 0 to 100, but only three of the states have enough '26ers to make the percentage significant. Since the establishment of the Fund, 37 of the 119 members living in Pennsylvania, or 31%, have contributed; 11 of the 31 living in New York, or 35%, and 12 of the 41 living in New Jersey, or 29%, have given one or more times. Of the remaining 57 members scattered over the rest of the U. S. A.—and foreign parts—only 10, or 18%, have felt the tug of fond memories strongly enough to send in their checks.

The significant fact is that 28% of our class have given at some time during the first five years of the Fund program.

I'm always waiting to hear from all of you, so that we may have some thing for the '26 column in each issue of the ALUMNUS. Even if I don't get a letter off to you write to me about any changes in address, occupation or work you are doing. It won't be long now before reunion time, and we all want to be up-to-date then.

CLASS OF 1927

Class Reporter: MRS. L. H. COLLISON
(Grace M. Pfeifer)
Marydel, Md.

"Marty" Felty Ackerly reports her home address as Edgewood, a suburb of Pittsburgh where her husband works as sales engineer for Frick and Lindsay Co., of Pittsburgh. She has two children, Lorraine, 17, a high school senior, who plans to study public school music and David, 9, still interested in cowboys and Indians.

Lytle M. Wilson was awarded an honorary degree of LL.D. by Geneva College in June 1952.

"Yours truly" has returned to the school room again teaching 5th grade in the Dover Elementary School since March 1st, and is also taking extension work at the University of Delaware.

They say—no news is good news—but not in this case! So do let me hear from you real soon.

CLASS OF 1928

Class Reporter: MRS. H. M. MARSH
(Lorinne Martin)
60 Prospect Hill Ave., Summit, N. J.

William R. Mertz was appointed manager, engineering design, general engineering department, on February 1, at Campbell Soup Co., Camden, N. J. Mr. Mertz, with his wife and two sons, reside at 6338 Martins Mill Rd., Lawn-dale, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Eleanor Schooley Bly accepted the position as bacteriologist at the Williamsport Hospital. She received a Ph.D. degree from Pennsylvania State University on February 3.

John C. Sheppard served as chairman of the March of Dimes campaign in Gloucester County, N. J., this year and under his leadership the Mothers March collected over $20,000 in one hour. A splendid increase over 1953, when the Gloucester County record was already above the national average. Another classmate John B. Middleton, Westfield, is state representative of the March of Dimes program.

NEW CLASS FUND MANAGER

In case you haven't noticed (and we shudder to think of this possibility), S. Cober Braucher, Somerset, has replaced Loyd Trimmer as our class fund manager. After doing a yeoman's job for several years, "Trim" asked to be relieved of the responsibility, and "Tubby" graciously agreed to take over. By now you have all received his first appeal for the Alumni Fund, pointing out that the goal this year is $200,000 and stressing the need for financial support from every Alumnus. Let's all give Tubby our support and help raise '28's banner over the stadium at Homecoming. A contribution from each member will put us at the top of the list and give Bucknell the assistance it so richly deserves.

CAMPUS CAPERS

Twenty-five years ago — 1929

B. C. Stude "bums" across states in eleven days.
"Nippy" Bossard "hitch-biked" to California the past summer in 87 lifts, the longest of which was a 1250 mile hop. He intends to work his way back to New York on a steamer next spring.

CLASS OF 1929

Class Reporter: MISS THELMA J. SHOWALTER
223 State St., Harrisburg, Pa.

— Twenty-fifth (Silver) Reunion June 11-14 —

Your committee for the silver anniversary of our class had its final meeting on April 10th. President Paul reported that the booklet is progressing in fine shape and will carry a biography of a majority of the members of the class. Naturally, you will want a copy. They may be secured at our class meeting on Saturday morning, June 12, for a nominal fee. The booklet is being prepared under the direction of Emily Williams Reimensnyder. Also, at that time, "Turk" Jones will have hats and other paraphernalia available. Incidentally, "Turk" is doing a bang-up job on the fun and entertainment end of our reunion. Martha VonNeida Waterbury, chairman of hospitality, and her committee will be on hand to greet you and let you know the whereabouts of other '29ers who are on campus.

Here are the high lights of the Alumni Day Program as it has been planned for the pleasure of the Class of 1929: General Alumni Association Meeting, 9:30 a. m.; Class Meeting, 10:30 a. m.; Alumni Parade, 12:30 p. m.; All-Alumni Luncheon, 1:00 p. m.; Class of '29 "get-to-gether"—Milton Country Club, 3:30 p. m. to ?.

Your class officers, the reunion committee and the University are awaiting your arrival. Please do not disappoint us. So on to Bucknell and your 25th Reunion.

CLASS OF 1930

Class Reporter: HENRY A. WADSWORTH
R. F. D. 1, McGraw, N. Y.

Davis Johnson, Jr. has been appointed manager of the North Park Buffalo district for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Mr. Johnson, whose son Richard Conley, is a freshman at Bucknell, can be reached at 1452 Hertel Ave., Buffalo 16, N. Y.

CLASS OF 1931

Class Reporter: MRS. W. ZELMAN SLEIGHTER
(Ruth J. Thomas)
833 Chestnut St., Millinburg, Pa.

Mrs. George Hosler (Doris Bracey) writes that she is still leading a busy life as wife of a pastor of St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Leigh W. Haeffle, vice president in charge of operations of the American Portable Irrigation Co., Riverdale, N. J., was recently named head of the new industrial planning committee on the Pequannock Planning Board. Mr. Haeffle resides at 45 Ramapo Rd., Pompton Plains, N. J.

James H. Konkle, Jr. is now division manager with Prudential Insurance Co., Clarks Green. Mr. Konkle is the father of four children, Gail, 14, Carol, 11, and Pete, 5.

Warren J. McClain presided as president of the New Jersey department of superintendents at the Eighth Annual Conference of the New Jersey Education Association held in Atlantic City. Warren, who is married to the former Marian E. Ash '32, is superintendent of public schools of Woodbury, N. J.

We regret to announce the death of John Howard Stahl, Jr., 638 Market St., Lewisburg, on March 26. Before his death, Mr. Stahl was employed by Bucknell University. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Stahl.

CLASS OF 1932

Class Reporter: ELLIS F. HULL
Allentown, N. J.

W. Zelman Sleighter became steward of Laurelton State Village in March. He joined the staff at the village in 1941 as maintenance foreman and became director of maintenance and construction in 1952. We, of course, know that he is married to the former Ruth Thomas '31. They have raised a nephew, Benjamin Thomas, who is now a storekeeper in the U. S. Navy.

Gilbert E. Stranser, who is employed by Westinghouse International Electric, New York, has a new address — c/o Westinghouse, Tokyo, Japan.

CLASS OF 1933

Class Reporter: MRS. ERNEST H. ENGELHARDT
(Janet Worthington)
375 College Hill, Bloomsburg, Pa.

Thought for June: How many commencements are there in every life?

Writes Mrs. M. Howard Clark (Ellen M. Evans), "Being corporation gypsies we've wrought havoc on our friends' address books. We've moved eleven times and have lived in nine different cities. We've enjoyed living as far South as Atlanta, West to Kansas City, North to Providence, R. I., and we're now 'perched' in Drexel Hill. Currently my extra curricular activities are confined to Red Cross work, being on the board of directors of the 69th Street branch and public relations chairman for the branch, also coordinator of publicity for six branches. Our hobbies are various and sundry. At the present time we're concentrating on raising orchids in the living room and refinishing antique furniture. Best wishes to all our friends. Our present address is 433 Forrest Ave., Drexel Hill."

Note: So glad, Ellen, that you like antiquing too! A retired teacher of mathematics, Miss Ranson, at B. S. T. C. and I drove to Lewistown last Saturday where I found an old Paul Revere lantern (minus one hinge) for 200 pennies. It's the old punched tin type with a holder for a candle. After painting it inside and out with black, outside enamel, and having it wired, I called the electrician to hang it on a 30-inch black chain from the ceiling of our porch. With my dark green old-fashioned settee, and a batter jug with a wide spout (from which I plan to have ivy growing) I stood there admiring the lantern, quite entranced, when my husband remarked ruefully, "Now what are you going to do for light?" I'm all for the artistic atmosphere minus light. Those old black irons that once handled ladies ruffles so capably, make potent door stops, and a pair of them make delightful book-ends. Who would imagine that such utilitarian things would become so literary? Happy antiquing!

Paul Bowers reports that he is an obstetrician and gynecologist on the staff of Jefferson, Philadelphia General, and Germantown Hospitals, and an Army consultant at Valley Forge General Hospital. He also teaches at Jefferson Medical College. He and his wife and three children live in Penn Valley, just outside of Philadelphia. Says he "I am looking forward to our 25th reunion." We are looking forward to seeing you too, Paul.

Rev. Alfred B. Haas is professor of homiletics at Drew Theological Seminary. Rev. Haas recently returned from a sabbatical leave spent in England, where he visited and preached at Methodist Churches in the British Isles.

You remember Peg Dougherty, always so petite, a regular "curly head" not of the permanented kind. Her letter was so natural and newsy. As an aunt, she is proud of her two nieces and nephew, 4 year old Kathie, Peggy, her name sake, age 7, and Johnny, age 5. She received her master's degree in social work in June, 1950 at the University of Pittsburgh. Since then she has been working as a psychiatric social supervisor and an associate director in the Children's Mental Health Center in Columbus. She thinks her work is wonderful and loves it. In March she went to the American Orthopsychiatric Conference in New York where she saw Lou Meyer Diehl after twenty years. It's unbelievable. Has it been that many years? Her address is Apt. 51, 581 East Town St., Columbus, O.

Both of the Cooks are now whipping up mental stimuli for students. Thanks, Franklin for being so cooperative in letting me know that you are an associate professor at the Pennsylvania State University, and that Bob, is a professor at Western Reserve Law School. Both were in my Latin classes under Dr. Ballentine, and both later received their L.L.D. degrees from Duke University. Both are married and have children. Franklin says he isn't in the private secretary bracket, but I figure he's more of a success in writing a personal letter. At least I feel more of a success in receiving a personal communication.

Writes James Colavita, M.D., "Have this day returned from Leesburg, Fla., where I had a very delightful vacation. Am all tanned and my brain is full of fond memories of the fish I caught (no story). My wife, Sara, (no children) enjoyed herself immensely. Getting back to the grind of practicing medicine is going to be hard. Am secretary of our Medical Department at McKinley Hospital in Trenton, N. J. Am also treasurer (8 years) of our hospital staff." We're glad you didn't put off taking that well-earned vacation, Jim.

Harriet Heydenreich Covert (Mrs. Henry M.), who was with our class for the freshman and sophomore years and an excellent student, now has a young daughter and lives at R. D. 4, Muncy. Since her husband's death, she makes her home with her sister, Martha, whose husband is Ralph Smith, assistant superintendent of Lycoming County Schools and a well known educator of that area.

Max Demler reports "The Demler family is Damaris, 15, Deanna, 10, Donna, 7. I am district representative for Harbison-Walker Refractories Co. covering Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, and Wisconsin." What a territory to cover, Max! Evidently you like the music in the alliteration of D's. Try it class—isn't it lovely? Damaris Demler, Deanna Demler, Donna Demler. Now do it again.

Whitney Corsello, M.D. answers my inquiry for news, "Served as a major during World War II. Joined general surgery at Shadyside and Ohio Valley Hospitals here in Pittsburgh in private practice. Just returned from Mexico and California. Am going to Pan-American Medical in Rio this fall."

Dr. Burt C. Pratt, laboratory director at the experimental station of E. I. DuPont Company, Wilmington, recently spoke to the Bucknell University student affiliate group of the American Chemical Society on "The Place of Research in Industry."

Had a satisfying letter from Jim Davis who since August 1952 is minister of Christian Education at the East Lynn Christian Church, 23rd and Jefferson Sts., Anderson, Ind. Says he, "Believe I'm in the work I've always wanted to do, working with people in the integration of a strong religious-educational foundation and with all age groups from nurse and kindergarten through adults (including oldsters and shut-ins). The church has a membership of 1100 which gives quite an opportunity for organization. Do get around the community as well (population 60,000), in the religious education division of Anderson Association of Churches. I taught 'Background of the Bible' in winter leadership training courses, and belong to the Ministerial Association. My wife keeps the home going and works with the Christian Women's Fellowship and eight circles. Nancy Lou recently celebrated her 9th birthday. Dicky is enjoying life in the large back yard and kindergarten. We are trying to give them a not-too-overbalanced life as P.K.'s (preacher kids) which can prove a problem later on."

Saw Katherine "Kitty" Graham Showalter in the lobby of the Penn Harris Hotel in Harrisburg recently. She looked very smart in a small yellow checked tweed coat and matching hat. The Showalters live in Lewisburg and have two sons. Kitty belongs to D. A. R., A. A. U. W., and Tri-Delta Alliance. Both she and her husband belong to the Union County Bucknell Alumni Club.

Your reporter represented Bloomsburg as a national councillor delegate at the 42nd Annual Chamber of Commerce in Washington, D. C. in April, attending both the Pennsylvania Congressional Dinner and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce Dinner. Have a weekly radio program every Thursday over WHLM from 11:15 to 11:30 a. m. for which I write the scripts, interviewing members of the Bloomsburg Area Chamber of Commerce. If you're in Lewisburg for Commencement, travel a few miles to Town Hall in Bloomsburg for a chat. Hope to see you.

CLASS OF 1934

Class Reporter: MRS. WILLIAM S. LIMING
(Ruth Rohr)
396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., N. Y.

— Twentieth Reunion, June 11-14 —

Hello again, in a few weeks I'll have been able to personally greet so many of you and I hope you are looking forward to June 12th as I am. The Liming family will be there to join in and hope our youngsters get to meet your youngsters—who knows maybe they'll get to know some freshman of the class of 1965 and 1968, at least I hope they'll be Bucknellians. I hope you sent in your completed questionnaire to Walt Ruch—it should be interesting to read the results.

Dan Park has been appointed publicity director of the Metropolitan Edison Company and Pennsylvania Electric Company with headquarters in Reading.

It is with regret that I report the death of Kenneth C. Bookwalter in August 1953 at Silvercreek, N. Y.

Thought you might like to know that David Wendt, the son of Nelson Wendt and June LeQuatte Wendt '36 will enter Bucknell as a freshman this September. Are there any other freshmen with a class of '34 parent or parents. Bruce Reisman, son of Ed Reisman '36, has also been accepted as a freshman. Our Long Island Bucknell Club should be proud I think to know that we'll soon have 2nd generation Bucknellians in our midst.

My next column in the fall should really be juicy and newsy after our reunion. Do write to me even if you're coming in June so I'll have material to keep this interesting.

CAMPUS CAPERS

Twenty years ago — 1934

New Band uniforms seen in near future when alumnus Dr. Edward W. Pangburn '15, pledges half total cost.

CLASS OF 1935

Class Reporter: MRS. FREDERICK A. STRALEY
(Metta Farrington)
Furnace Rd., R. D. 1, Lewisburg, Pa.

James Orloske was promoted to department head of the organic synthesis department of E. R. Squibb and Sons on December 1, 1952.

Frederick L. Peters is professor of English at the Peddie School in Hightstown, N. J. He and his family occupy the Trask House on the campus.

CLASS OF 1936

Class Reporter: MRS. CHARLOTTE S. BROWN
(Charlotte Shupe)
Box 71, R. D. 3, Leechburg, Pa.

Harold L. Stoler, who has operated a store in Sunbury since his service in World War II, has recently opened a modern shopping center on Route 11-15 in Shamokin Dam. The new store is the first modern highway department store operated in this vicinity.

CLASS OF 1937

Class Reporter: SIGMUND STOLER
215 Chestnut St., Sunbury, Pa.

Joseph F. Rickards was recently promoted to the position of Middle Atlantic regional sales manager of the Stokely-Van Camp Co. Mr. and Mrs. Rickards, with their three children, Cyrus James, 13, Jonathan Wade, 8, and Christopher Edward, 6, reside at 8155 N. Prospect Ave., Chicago 31, Ill.

CLASS OF 1938

Class Reporter: MRS. JOHN B. DEMPSEY
(Anne Culbertson)
377 N. Main St., Romeo, Mich.

Ira G. Fox, our genial class president continues to win promotions, and is now in charge of all material purchasing, handling, transportation and inventory control for the big transformer division of Westinghouse at Sharon. Somehow in his busy schedule he finds time to carry on a heavy schedule of speaking engagements before groups interested in inventory control problems. Some of his recent appearances include Washington (Navy), Youngstown, New York, Shawnee and Chicago. And he still finds time to do a good job for Alma Mater as chairman of the Sharon Alumni and as president and class fund manager of our class. Lead on, Ira, we will follow.

CLASS OF 1939

Class Reporter: DAVID R. BAGENSTOSE
Conestoga Rd., Wayne, Pa.

— Fifteenth Reunion, June 11-14 —

CAMPUS CAPERS

Fifteen years ago — 1939

President Marts will present diplomas to approximately 250 in the 89th graduation.

STOLER '37 NOW WRITING FOR TV

SIGMUND A. STOLER '37

With the production of his first show, "The Circle Closes," produced on The Web over CBS television, February 28, Sigmund A. Stoler '37, added television drama as the fifth medium in which he works. Mr. Stoler is a writer.

The Web, an outstanding mystery-drama series, served not only to introduce him to TV script writing, but also presented him as a mystery writer. He allows he likes the genre, and more are to come.

Born and raised in Sunbury, he began his writing career, after college graduation (B.A. in English and education) with the old Sunbury Daily as a reporter. Matter of fact, he still substitutes for an occasional day or so for the paper, now the Sunbury Daily Item, to keep his hand in on factual writing.

After working as a visitor for the Department of Public Assistance for three years, then teaching English at Freeburg High School for two, he decided writing was the profession he wanted. Early in 1944, he sold two stories to love-pulp magazines, and was encouraged enough by their sale to quit teaching that June and concentrate on writing.

A contract with ABC writing "Appointment With Life," a complete (daily) half-hour dramatic show, broadcast over WJZ and affiliated stations, followed that fall. While working for ABC, he also free-lanced such radio shows as "Grand Central Station," and "Stars Over Hollywood."

When "Appointment With Life" went off the air in 1946, he began writing confessional stories for such magazines as True Story, True Confessions and four other books in the same field. He has the distinction of having two of his stories, which originally appeared in True Story selected for an anthology, published by Doubleday, of the best fourteen stories that had been published in True Story in the past thirty years. The Anthology was titled The Book of True Stories, published in 1948.

He has also written one-act plays, many of which have been published in a series of one-act play anthologies released by Greenberg: Publisher, New York. However, he claims he likes writing for TV best of all.

"It's a stimulating medium, combining features of both stage and movie technique." He feels his work in community theatre as a director is serving him in good stead now for arranging stage "business" and direction for his television dramas, although mysteries—featured on The Web—are a new type of story for him.

Mr. Stoler still talks about writing a novel; says he has started two but both times didn't feel they excited him—or would, any one else. He would like to have a play on Broadway some day. In the meantime, he admits seeing his work produced on TV is the biggest careerwise thrill he's had.

He comes from a Bucknell family. His sister, Mrs. Harry Bernstein, of Scotch Plains, New Jersey, the former Evelyn Del Stoler, was granted her bachelor of arts degree in 1931. His brother, Harold L., of Sunbury, was in the Class of 1936.

CLASS OF 1940

Class Reporter: MRS. JAMES A. MILLER
(Mary McCrina)
Pattison, Texas

June 1954—only 365 days (more or less) till our fifteenth year reunion! Let's be planning on coming—the whole cotton-pickin' class, hear?

Hear? — we have — from

Don Drumm, whose present address is 74-12 35th Ave., Apt. 519E, Jackson Heights 72, N. Y. Don emerged from the Air Force after forty-one months of service as a major. Except for this time, he has been with the National Board of Fire Underwriters since 1940. Don and his wife, Esther, a former resident of Burlington, Vt., were married December 19, 1953, and hope soon to have a home in New Jersey at commuter's distance from New York.

Mrs. Paul Curtin (Carol Holderman) has a new address—333 Poplar St., Douglas, Wyo.

We have some "maniacs" amongst us. (Any "Baltimorans" in the class?) From Rev. and Mrs. Donald C. Ward (Nancy Shields '38) comes word of a second son born January 25, 1954. They have three other children—Elizabeth, 10, Sarah, 7, Thomas, 5. Don is pastor of the First Congregational Church at Brewer, Maine.

June 1955—'twont be long till that reunion date. Ywal come! (Any resemblance to a Texas twang is purely accidental.)

CLASS OF 1941

Class Reporter: MRS. WILLIAM F. HABELBERGER
(Jean Steele)
1512 Westmoreland Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

Raymond H. Armor received the master of business administration degree from the graduate school at Western Reserve University in February.

Capt. Luther C. Craumer has been serving as officer in charge, disbursing course at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Rogers (Virginia Engle) announce the birth of a daughter, Joan Ellen, January 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee S. Ranck, Lewisburg, are the parents of twins, Craig Snyder and Carol Lee born February 20. They also have two other children, Lois Lee, 4½, and Jeffrey, 21 months.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Graybill (Eloise Garber) are residing at 1265 Wheatland Ave., Lancaster. Their three children are Bunnie Blair, 10, Jay, 3, and Richard, Jr., 7 months. Eloise is class fund manager, so help her out with a contribution.

Randy and Ricky Nagel

Spent an afternoon with my dear old "roomie" Lois Knerr Nagel. She and Charlie Nagel '42 are living at 1121 Putnam Ave., Plainfield, N. J. They have two darling boys, Randy, 6, and Ricky, 1½.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stephens are the parents of a girl, Cindy, born in January. They also have three other children, Nancy, 6, Ben, 5, and Jim, 3.

CLASS OF 1942

Class Reporter: MRS. THEODORE WILKINSON
(Mary C. Forrest)
329 W. Walnut St., Lancaster, Pa.

Lt. John C. Bush was recently awarded the Naval Reserve Medal for ten years of honorable service in the United States Naval Reserve. During World War II, Lt. Bush served aboard amphibious craft and participated in five major invasions in the European and Pacific theatres. Lt. Bush, who is married to the former Elizabeth O'Malia, is now serving in the advertising department of the Wilkes-Barre Sunday Independent. Lt. and Mrs. Bush are the parents of one daughter, Betsy, and reside at 86 Church Rd., Dallas.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ALUMNI OF NEW YORK

Any Bucknellian in New York City interested in joining the program of activities of the Intercollegiate Alumni of New York, an associate of the Y. M. C. A. program, is invited to contact the New York office at 215 West 23rd Street, New York City.

CLASS OF 1943

Class Reporter: MRS. EARLE E. BENTON
(Norene Bond)
130 Eflingham Place, Westfield, N. J.

Dorothy Harris writes that she was married on June 14, 1952 to C. Leroy Johnson of Nassau in the Bahamas and is now living at 1645 N. W. 16th Terrace, Miami, Fla. They have a daughter, Deborah Anita, born January 25.

Jay C. Leff, who spent two semesters at Bucknell under the Navy V-12 program in 1943, has become one of the youngest bank presidents. He reached his present position at the age of 29 as president of the Fayette National Bank & Trust Co., Uniontown. He served in the United States Naval Reserve as an ensign on mine sweeping duty. Employed in various capacities in the phonograph record manufacturing and distribution business, he has been employed by the Fayette National Bank since June 1947 as, successively, assistant cashier, vice president, executive vice president, and president. Mr. Leff, his wife the former Florence Zarrin, and five-year old son, reside at 10 Linden Place, Uniontown.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Thomas are the parents of a daughter, Elizabeth Ann, born February 20.

This looks like all the news on hand. How about all you people who have never written, showering me with mail?

CLASS OF 1944

Class Reporter: MRS. ROBERT F. BAKER
(Honey Rhinesmith)
Lindys Lake, R. D., Butler, N. J.

— Tenth Reunion, June 11-14 —

With the arrival of spring and the baseball season, we were pleased to see the following headlines, "Keegan Hurls First White Sox Win." Bob Keegan scored a run in that game, too.

The Jack Huses announced the arrival of Deborah Lee, March 9. They also have two sons.

Don and Betty Jane (Walter) McMullen sent word of Donald Clayton, II, born March 12. He joins two sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Carlson (Dotte Sonn) announce the birth of their second son, Dean Stuart, December 12. Dotte enclosed, along with a note of her own, one she had from Betty Baush McCrow. While Betty was here from South America she and the three children spent a night with Kitty Stevenson Barclay and her three little Barclays, and to quote Betty, "This will be one trip we'll never forget!"

From Mrs. Carl Moore '43 (Ruth Nulton), "Just a note on hospital stationery to let you know we have a son, Carl Nulton, born March 10." Carl is an assistant professor of accounting at Lehigh University. Their new home is on 3033 Center St., Bethlehem.

CAMPUS CAPERS

Ten years ago — 1944
Bisons hit peak performance defeating Penn State, 7-0, for seventh win.

CLASS OF 1945

Class Reporter: MRS. C. FRED MOORE
(Nancy Woehling)
564C Alden Park Manor, Germantown,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Since January 1 Robert Finkernagel, Jr., has been serving as executive director of the Rock Hill, S. C. Chamber of Commerce, after serving in a similar capacity at Walterboro, S. C.

Mrs. E. D. Standt (Marjorie Hall) writes "Our second child, Barbara Ann, was born December 7. She joins Cindy, 2. We're Pitmanites again, and since September our address has been 209-A Woodbury Rd., Pitman, N. J."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert LaCroix (Mary Follmer) have moved to 327 Kent Rd., Springfield.

Dr. Robert J. Hitchens recently graduated from the U. S. Naval School of Aviation Medicine and has been assigned duty with Fleet Air Service Squadron 121, Oceana, Va. His mission will include the selection and care of aviation personnel, and the study of aviators' operational problems and continued research in the expanding field of aviation medicine. Dr. Hitchens, who married the former Sarah Crawford, is the father of three children, Barbara, Robert J., and William. After receiving his M.D. from Temple University, Dr. Hitchens was engaged in private practice in Watson town before entering the Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Schnure '44 (Anne W. Kloss) are the parents of a son born December 31, 1953. They reside at 206 Diamond Blvd., Johnstown.

Commander and Mrs. John Bacon (Phoebe Follmer) announce the arrival of their second daughter, Deborah Heller, April 16.

CLASS OF 1946

Class Reporter: MRS. WILLIAM HARSHBARGER
(Jeanne Phillips)
666 Osborne Ave., Morrisville, Pa.

Got a four page letter (both sides too) from Dorothy Huffman Cieslicki and I wish we could print all of it. Doty worked for the Carnegie Institute of Technology after graduation and in November 1948 was married to Marion Cieslicki in Albuquerque, N. M., where they both worked in the research and development division of the New Mexico School of Mines. In May 1952 they moved to Cincinnati where Marion works for General Electric. They are anxious to meet other Bucknellians in Cincinnati and Doty says they have a grand yard for picnics if any alumni are interested. The address is 8104 Richmond St., Cincinnati 36, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Schweitzer (Adraine Krawit) have a son, Peter Harry, born February 1.

A daughter, Patricia Jane, born Oct. 15, 1953 to Mr. and Mrs. David E. Odell (Jane Kuhlman). The Odells live at 603 Susquehanna St., Johnstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. VanDine, Jr. (Margaret Ryan) announce the birth of a son on July 15, 1953. The VanDines live at 938 Shelburne Rd, Burlington, Vt.

CLASS OF 1947

Class Reporter: ROGER S. HADDON, ESQ.
243 Water St., Northumberland, Pa.

Attorney and Mrs. W. Roger Fetter are the parents of a daughter born November 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Frake, Jr. (Marie Johnson) are the parents of a son, Barry Neil, born October 20, 1953. They have another son, Bobby, 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Brogan, Jr., have a son, Charles III, born May 9, 1953.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Tomashefsky (Rhoda Tanenbaum) now live at 330 South Middletown Rd., Pearl River, N. Y. Rhoda spent some time in the New York School of Social Work prior to her marriage in 1948. Son Steven is now almost four and his brother, Michael, is ten months old. Rhoda writes of pleasant contacts with Sheila Obstfeld Fisher (two daughters), Rita Ingulli Veit, Peggy Banks Sheldon, Manota Spacht '46, Jocelyn LeMassena Harzyk, Marie (Bogossian '48) and Joe Barber. Rita and Will Veit have three sons, and the Sheldons have a boy. Morty Silberman '43 practices law in Pearl River, N. Y. Rhoda would like to hear from other alumni in the Rockland and Bergen County areas.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Goldman (Tamara Gurvitch) have a second son,

Barry, born April 1. Glenn was two years old on April 7. The Goldmans were scheduled to move in May or June to their newly built home at 370 Holland Lane, Englewood, N. J.

Marjorie Ann Geils and David A. Bancel were married March 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Taylor '49 (Barbara Fitzgerald) now have two little girls—Cynthia Wadsworth, born March 16, and Carolyn Cummings, who is almost four. Their address is 9 South Wickon Dr., Westfield, N. J.

The eyes of Texas are probably on Mr. and Mrs. Richard McGinn '49 (Peg Gleason), who were recently transplanted at 3207 Milburn St., Houston, 1700 miles from native Pennsylvania soil. Dick was transferred there early this year as branch manager for Southwestern states, Nelson Stud Welding, after three years of sales work in Philadelphia. Peg and the boys—Ricky, 2½, David, three months—joined him several weeks later. Anybody around Houston for forming a BU alumni club? Don't be fooled by Dick's lofty height—he's actually a home-grown Easterner, and the McGinns are ready to talk Bucknell with anyone who'll listen.

CLASS OF 1948

Class Reporter: MISS JOANN GOLIGHTLY
106 N. Grove St., East Orange, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Gass '46 (Dorothy Kinsey) have a daughter, Nancy Elizabeth, born April 3.

A new address for Dwight S. Milledale is 505 S.E. 18th St., Fort Lauderdale, Fla. His family now includes Dwight D., six, Cynthia Lynn, three, and Mary Rebecca, born March 9.

Left to Right—Ray Tyler, George L. Rifendefter, Flo Fellows Skove, Jo Golightly, Barb Hillhouse, Bill Hayden, Helen Hayden.

Mary Moyer sent in a picture she took of the group of us who loyally met last June to celebrate our fifth reunion—hope we increase for our tenth.

Lorraine O'Connell Williams—749 Park Lane, East Meadow, L. I., N. Y., writes a real newsy letter. She and her husband have a daughter, Jennette, 1½. She wrote that Jenny Maffei was practicing law in Wilkes-Barre, also that Ginny Kuntzmann Moritz and her family were living at 131 Pleasant St., Haworth, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Hettig are the parents of a daughter, Rebecca Lynn, born February 10. Their other daughter, Nadine, is three. Stew is employed at Merck, Inc., Elkton, Va.

Doris M. Raub, the first woman awarded a civil engineering degree by Bucknell, is the only woman graduate engineer employed in the Pennsylvania State Highway Department. She is an advanced bridge draftsman now working in a three-span continuous plate girder bridge to be constructed in Indiana County.

Anita Rosenberg was married to George Miller on February 29 at St. Francis Cathedral, N. Y. They are living at 5 Congress Ave., New York 2, N. Y. George is a sales engineer in the export division of Fairbanks-Morse, Inc.

Robert H. Taylor, city class fund manager, has a new job—representing Goodrich & Wertz Limited, an old firm in the liquor industry. He may be addressed at 4-411 Thomas Wynne Apts., Wynnton.

A letter from Bob Weiss reflects that he and his family now reside at 218 Spring Ave., Hampton Manor, Eastchester, N. Y., a move necessitated since his transfer to the Albany office of the accounting machine division of the National Cash Register Co.

CLASS OF 1943

Class Reporter: MISS JO-ANNETTE BARBER
215 Johnson Ave., Lancaster, Pa.

— Fifth Reunion, June 11-14 —

In June 1931 Bob Barron graduated from the dental school at the University of Pennsylvania. While at the University he served a two year term as elected class delegate to the Student Board of External Relations. He was a member of the Delta Sigma Delta professional fraternity. At present Bob has a dental office at Pottsville, Pa.

Jim Bernier, who taught in the department of mathematics after graduation, is enrolled in a three year course in Naval construction and Marine engineering at M. I. T. He has been chosen by the Navy for the program.

Lynn M. Clark has a new position as district clerk for Glen Rock, New Jersey schools.

Richard W. Checkner is now associated with the law firm of Livingston & Nussley in Harrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Fridrych have returned from a two-year stay in Australia. Mr. Fridrych has been absorbed in a construction project at New Castele, New South Wales.

Glenn A. Good, instructor in physics and mathematics at East Chathamque Pointe High School, Montandon, has been nominated for a High School Teacher Fellowship. The award, which is awarded annually, enables the recipient to visit institutes where he can observe in-the-act training programs and acquire information which will be valuable in helping high school students make a choice of vocations.

Sally Anne Goodrich and Dr. Maurice Goodrich were married October 11, 1933.

Johanna E. Huserly and Dale E. Wheeler, Jr. were married in 1933. Mrs. Wheeler is now in the faculty of the Western Technical High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray Johnson are now at home at 14 Terrace Rd., Easton, Pa. Mrs. Johnson is a member of the First M. E. Church.

Jack Knouse is now at home at 1401 North St., Easton, Pa. Mrs. Knouse is a member of the First M. E. Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Robertson are now at home at 402 North St., Easton, Pa. They have two children, a daughter, Dale, and a son, David.

Donald L. Ward, Jr. has been appointed general agent for the Mutual Life Insurance Co. Mr. Ward, who received his master's degree in business administration from Wharton Graduate School, is residing at 234-A Green St., Harrisburg.

BIRTHS A daughter, Amy Ruth, born December 11, 1933 to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Casper. A daughter, Linda Susan, born July 1, 1933, to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Newmiller. Jane Foster, A daughter, Linda Carola, born February 11, 1933, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maudlin. Carole Jackson, A daughter, Barbara Lynn, born April 14, to Mr. and Mrs. John Farnell, Jr. Barbara Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. McKee. Ruth Williamson and are the parents of a son, Thomas Richard, born November 14, 1933.

CAMPUS CAPEERS

Five years ago — 1929

The glee club serenaded the Sen Gents after one of his concerts. Immediately after the serenade, fire bells sounded and the Sen Gents scampered down the fire escapes in many instances of serious apparel.

CLASS OF 1931

Class Reporter: MISS FRANCES WILKINS
401 1/2 E. 12th New Harrisburg Ave., Washington, D. C.

Nancy C. Armstrong and Robert F. Rammann were married March 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brown, Elira-Veak Hilde, are now located at Box 49, Johnstown, N. J., where Don is about halfway through his military assignment. At the moment he is helping maintain law and order with the M. P.'s at Fort Dix. A daughter, Kathryn Louise, arrived in the Brown household last November 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Miller, Jr., Susan Reinhold, are the parents of a daughter, Nancy Ruth, born January 12.

A son, William Scott, born April 1, to Mr. and Mrs. William T. Musser, The Mussers live at 3113 N. 17th St., Philadelphia 41. The mother, the former Ethel Fisher of Hartleton, is a graduate of the Franklin School of Science and Arts. The father is in his junior year at Temple Medical School. The grandfather, Thomas Musser, 28, is principal of the Millington Junior Junior and Senior High School.

From June Simon Robinson, 139 Forrest Ave., Lynchburg, N. J., comes news of David Franklin, born January 21. June is married to Dudley Robinson, Jr., a graduate of Princeton with a B.S. and M.S. in electrical engineering.

Clara McBride, husband of Lucaine Yawman, was recently discharged from the Army in February. They have two daughters, Lynn, 1, and Janice, 1 months. They reside at 141-29th St., Brooklyn 2, N. Y.

W. J. D. is the District Attorney in Harrisburg. Let's have a little more news about him.

CLASS OF 1932

Class Reporter: MISS BARBARA STEWART
20 Fairview Ave., Easton, Pa.

William H. Barton is now at home at 1401 North St., Easton, Pa. Mrs. Barton is a member of the First M. E. Church.

Howard J. Brunsion, Jr., is now at home at 1401 North St., Easton, Pa. Mrs. Brunsion is a member of the First M. E. Church.

Mary Ann Fritz is now at home at 1401 North St., Easton, Pa. Mrs. Fritz is a member of the First M. E. Church.

Lee L. Henry is a communication watch officer stationed at Port Lyautey, French Morocco, North Africa. He was married to Janet Reichel of Bally, Pa. on October 21, 1933.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant E. Johnson have a son, Kirk William, born January 26. They reside at 113 Rebecca Ave., Pittsburgh 21.

Kenneth B. Kleppinger and Mrselle Wilson were married in December 1933. Kenneth is a senior in petroleum engineering at the University of Oklahoma.

John Klingman is serving aboard the U. S. S. Mt. McKinley with the Pacific Fleet.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Coleman 31 Jane Kohler are living at 432 Clearview Dr., Cleveland 23, with Penny Lynn, born February 14.

Ensign E. Donald Minnigan and Sarah Jordan were married on March 20. Don is stationed in Key West and expects to go to Europe in July. His wife is a student at Radcliffe.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott R. Morgan, Jr., Jacqueline Thompson announce the birth of Elliott R. Morgan III, born April 1.

Corinne White is now teaching fourth grade in May, Arizona.

Sidney Wischnoff and Frances Smigel, of Syracuse University, were married in September, 1933.

CLASS OF 1933

Class Reporter: MRS. JAMES A. CHAMBERS, JR.
Barbara Roemer
Boulevard Apts., 1 Clark St., Lodi, N. J.

— First Reunion, June 11-14 —

Clare Slater married Richard Carpenter February 8 in Ossining, N. Y. Another wedding took place on December 8 for Bobbie Tredebeck 32 and Bud Brez.

E. Thornton Rice, III and Doris M. Wright 32 were married in January 30. Thorny is stationed in Newport, R. I.

Pvt. LOUIS M. GROENHEIM

Pvt. Louis M. Groenheim, who was recently promoted to Sergeant, is a member of the First Infantry Division, 3rd Signal Co.

Helen Harrison and Bill Caldwell, USNR, are married on April 3. Buckle up for the wedding party were Nancy Carter, Dot Harrison 43, Med Harrison Rolly 43 and Ben Savidge, 21, who is still mad for a few months.

in Washington where the couple will reside.

Mel Woodward is in advanced officer training at Quantico, as are Greg Bowen, Ted Stark, Bill Bulick and Bill Catlin. Mel's address is Lt. Melvin Woodward, USMCR, Laurel Branch Farm, Falmouth, Va.

Alice Fetzer has spent this past year studying at the Yale Divinity School. She also worked as assistant Y. W. C. A. teen age department director at the same time. On June 17th she'll be leaving for Germany to spend the summer with her family.

Kay Reiner and Lt. (j. g.) James L.

Shive, USNR, were married on March 25, 1954, at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

Bob George is an aviation cadet training at Harlingen AFB, Texas. His address is A/C Robert L. George AD18443573, 3610 Student Training Sqdn., Aviation Cadet P. O. Box 1143, Harlingen AFB, Texas. Bob Phillips, also in the program, is stationed at Ellington AFB, Houston. The Columbia School of Journalism claims Harvey Schierr.

James A. Smith was recently selected for the February class of the U. S. Navy OCS at Newport, R. I. Mr. Smith had been employed by Sylvania Electric Products, Emporium.

Pragnall, William Henry
Reese, Benjamin Hughes
Robbins, VanRoom, Jr.
Ross, Robert J.
Rushin, William E.
Schlicher, Sarah G.
Simon, Melvin
Stack, John N.
Swartz, Donald W.
Thurlby, Dorothy
(Mrs. Herbert W. Kelly)
Wally, Beulah Sara C.
Watson, Rankin
Weiss, Marshall R.
Whiton, Maurice W.
Wisa, Louis
Zarr, Fred Campbell

Wandering Bucknellians

Below, arranged by classes, are names of Alumni who apparently have moved and have not notified the Alumni Office. No doubt, some are deceased, but certainly many of them are known by Alumni who read this publication regularly. We are anxious to cut down the number of missing Alumni to a minimum. Won't you look over this entire list and write the Alumni Office immediately before you have time to forget, giving addresses or information which may lead to addresses. This will be a real service to Alma Mater.—ED.

CLASS OF 1904

Hayes, Dr. Charles Garfield
Hoelzel, John H.
Jones, Guy
Little, Harry Joseph
McGiffin, Maurice C.
Rittenhouse, Lawrence M.
Schleier, Henry Nicholas
Watson, Alexander Pomeroy

CLASS OF 1909

Carey, Prof. Alfred Lee
Deats, Walter E.
Jacobs, Walter Silas, Jr.
Landsrath, John Anton
Lyell, Anna Denny
Mulford, Elizabeth Budd
(Mrs. A. W. Thomas)
Pfleeger, Bertha Reed
Savidge, Preston Mettler
Smith, Harry
Watrous, Marguerite

CLASS OF 1914

Bachman, Nevin George
Cole, Jean Dorothy
(Mrs. George Vosburg)
Coulter, Samuel Henry
Davis, Darle Faye
Evans, Mary N.
Martien, Ellen Webster
Musser, Howard Burton
Wells, Stephen Kuhn
Wight, Carroll Zenas

CLASS OF 1919

Amer, Charles Long
Bright, Mary Evelyn
Brooks, Warren Foster
Carulla, Robert Gonzales
Chalfont, Alexander Hill
Cook, Charles Wetzel
Dreyer, William
Estler, Chester Ernest
Garner, Lloyd Lay
Halaburda, Mary
Haldeman, Meta Frances
Harris, Madonna
(Mrs. D. E. Hair)
Hyde, John Francis
Jaco, George Conn
Kreitner, Charles Bunnell

Mitchell, Charles William Powell, Edna Mildred
Schuster, Irene Roberts
Sonder, Ernest Frederick

CLASS OF 1924

Axe, Earl Jacob
Baird, Benjamin
Bolton, William J.
Brown, Mildred A.
Callen, Dr. Harold S.
Conn, Willis D.
Kempster, Guyton
Lehman, John J., Jr.
Lesaius, Geddy Gilbert
MacLeonard, Ralph
Reitz, Elma Elnora
Samley, Albert C.
Seybold, Seward W.
Smith, Esther M.
Stringer, Milton J.
Vollmer, Russell C.
Wensel, Gwendolyn F.
Williams, Edwin W.
Zimmerman, Fred T.
Zimmerman, Myrtle Irene

CLASS OF 1929

Abel, Lester J.
August, Edward
Barbour, Donald Edward
Bauman, Elizabeth
Beatty, Richard Hamilton
Bixler, Chester Arthur
Blizzard, Mulford
Brown, James Good
Brueschwyler, John T.
Brunozzi, John
Davenport, Samuel Miller, Jr.
Dawes, Thomas John
Deitrick, Robert J.
Dever, Claire Ruth
Earhart, Kenneth A.
Esgar, George W.
Fischler, Evelyn B.
(Mrs. A. M. R. Jacobs)
Fletcher, Robert Earle
Gresh, Dorothy H.
Hoffman, Seymour
Holmes, Walter P.
Holstein, Earl M.
Huester, Charles M.
Iles, Charles A.
Jacobs, Frederick F.
Kaufman, J. Paul
Kimbrough, James Raymond
Kirtey, Mary Adelaide
Kraemer, Jerome W.
Kunkle, Brinton L.
Lichtenstein, Robert Harold
Mathews, Ruth May
Morelli, Abram A.
Morgan, George Warren
Moser, Wallace G., Jr.
Moses, Philip Neal
Nieder, George M.
Parsons, Francis E.
Plummer, Roy Lester

CLASS OF 1934

Birks, Wynifred Emily Napier
Bischoff, Margaret Agnes
Boothe, Clifford Wesley
Brown, Harriet Adele
Burns, Kathryn Cecilia
Carlomagno, Thomas Gaetano
Coene, Laura Madeline
(Mrs. Carl V. Richardson)
Cohen, Dr. Alexander Norman
Cohen, Irving
Corey, John Hamilton
Dabbieri, Peter Vincent
Dinsmore, William James
Dorson, Anne Rose
Ematat, Samuel Christopher
Fox, Charles Jack
Grace, James Eugene
Griffiths, John Edwin
Haroldsen, Frances Roma
Hepler, Thomas Jefferson
Herashimchuk, John Vasil
Heydrich, Edward Dare
Johnson, Howard John
Johnston, Robert Glenn
Kopp, Oliver Michael
Lindig, Kathryn Virginia
Lundin, Lillian Elaine
Mann, Frances Mildred
(Mrs. Harry W. Rementer)
Michelson, Alfred Arnold
Newton, Wilbur Charles
Olney, Margaret Adams
Park, Dan Keller
Quinn, Mose
Roeth, Evelyn
Ruelke, Rev. Winfield Frank
Safford, Allan William
Sagel, Sydney
Saib, George Carl
Scheid, Frank
Seymour, Harold Shaffer, Maxwell
Shiskin, Julius John
Sicher, Austin Clay
Smithgall, Helen Van Pelt
(Mrs. Richard P. Hughes)
Stetson, Thomazine
Thomas, Robert Clifford
Tuman, Nathan Norman
Turk, Rhoda Lina
Veckman, Mark George
VonDorster, Herbert Rinard
Warner, Elmer Ellsworth
Wehrmaker, Cornelius Joseph
Whiton, Irving Maxwell
Willis, Donald George
Youngusband, John Alexander

CLASS OF 1939

Arny, Louis W., Jr.
Baranzelli, Alda Mary
(Mrs. Tracey S. Holmes)
Bawden, Harriet Elizabeth
Blum, William Francis
Collett, Grace Elizabeth
Delluva, Adelaide Marie
Doyle, William Francis
Farmer, Kenneth Carlton
Fitz. Joseph Robert
Fritts, Norman H.
Gerard, Paul Mason

(Continued on Page 27)

Founders' Day on the Campus

(Ed. Note) One of the features of Founders' Day was the Student Chapel Service on Wednesday, February 10, addressed by Dr. Harold R. Husted, minister, First-Park Baptist Church, Plainfield, N. J. Dr. Husted, although not a Bucknellian, has four Bucknell sons and two Bucknell daughters-in-law. They are H. Harlan Husted '43, married to the former Barbara G. Russell '44; William DeHart Husted '48, married to the former Dorothy M. Jennings; Robert Redding Husted '53, married to the former Patricia Foulkes '53; and Richard H. Husted '53. Following is an excerpt from Dr. Husted's Chapel address dealing with the early history and the John Howard Harris era of Bucknell that will undoubtedly be of interest to several generations of Bucknell Alumni.

It was very gracious to invite one who is not a graduate of this University to participate in this 'Founders' Day' program. I assure you that I consider this privilege an honor. My only claim to recognition on this campus is the fact that I am the father of four sons who are graduates of Bucknell. It is true that about 25 years of my ministry have been spent within a radius of 150 miles of this school and I have had some small part in influencing a score of young people to attend Bucknell.

The occasion for which we are gathered is 'Founders' Day.' It is our privilege to look back upon the past; to the beginnings of this University, before we look around us at the present and ahead of us to the future. "God builds the Future on the Present and the Present on the Past." No individual is an adult until he appreciates the contribution of the past. We cannot change our past, but we can choose our attitude toward it. We can be unmindful of it and irreverent toward it, or thoughtful of it and grateful for it.

The "University at Lewisburg" was founded in 1846, upon the completion of an effort to raise $100,000 to meet the requirements for a charter. Without the substantial support of a number of Baptist laymen in Philadelphia, the effort would have failed. In 1886 the present name was adopted in honor of William Bucknell of Philadelphia, who was a generous contributor to this University.

John Howard Harris registered as a freshman in the University at Lewisburg in 1865. He was then 18 years of age. The only buildings on "The Hill" were Old Main, the Academy and the Seminary. Harris completed his college course in three years. So great was the impression that the young man made upon the faculty and President Loomis, that he was selected as the one best fitted to be the first president of a new secondary school to be known as "Keystone Academy" in Factoryville, Pa. The school opened with 16 students and no buildings. The classes were held in the First Baptist Church.

Young Harris remained at Keystone Academy 20 years. When he finished his work in 1889, there were three buildings on the campus and an enrollment of 225.

In 1889, Dr. John Howard Harris became president of this school which three years before had become Bucknell University. The total enrollment was 71 and there were 8 members on the faculty. There were few buildings, little equipment and less money. President Harris gathered around himself a faculty unusual for Bucknell's size. He preferred to take Bucknell students, whom he had met daily in his classes and whose character he knew well, and encourage them to take graduate work while serving as instructors in the school. In this way, he secured men of strength, character and broad scholarship. Dr. Harris' appreciation of the value of a faculty may be gained from a statement in an address that he delivered before the Annual Convention of the Association of Colleges in 1906:

"I believe there are no men in any vocation superior to the college professor in manly character, in devotion to truth, in love of their work, or in the value of their services to mankind. The office has always enlisted the brightest reflective intellects of the race. Though poor, they make many rich; not only in things of the spirit, but in things of matter as well. These men make the moral atmosphere of the college; association with them is a liberal education."

The high scholastic standing this University achieved under his leadership may be judged by the recognition President Harris received from his fellow college presidents, who elected him to the important office of Chairman of the "Colleges and Universities Council of Pennsylvania." It is recorded that President Harris exerted more influence upon college education in Pennsylvania than any other man of his day.

In 1919, President Harris resigned the presidency of Bucknell. During the entire 30 years, he had served as Professor of Psychology and Ethics. He now became Professor of Philosophy, which chair he occupied for five years.

In 1924, Dr. Harris severed his active connection with this University. He moved to Scranton, Pa., to live with one of his eight sons, seven of whom were graduates of this University. His one daughter is also a graduate of Bucknell. Three months after Dr. Harris moved to Scranton, I began my ministry in the Immanuel Baptist Church. This was my first pastorate. The 'reported' membership of Immanuel at that time was 1,200, and the Sanctuary seated 1,100. These facts do not intimidate the young minister nearly so much as the presence of John Howard Harris in his congregation each Sunday morning. This great scholar, theologian and administrator was truly a humble man and a devout Christian. He was very helpful to the young minister. On one of my frequent calls into his home, I asked him, "Dr. Harris, what can you get from anything I may say in a sermon?" The great man replied, "My young man, you always say something that starts my mind going." He was too gracious to complete the sentence, "and then I go off and leave you."

On Saturday morning, April 21, 1925, after President Harris had lived in Scranton less than a year, he died. I had fully expected that Mrs. Harris would invite a number of dignitaries to conduct the service. Like her husband, Mrs. Harris was very gracious and humble. I can well remember her statement: "You were his pastor and you will conduct the service." Later, the body was brought to Lewisburg where a memorial service was held and the remains of this great man are buried in Lewisburg Cemetery.

Such, in brief, is the story of one man who lived 78 years in Pennsylvania—born in this state, educated in this state, spent his entire ministry in this state, and is buried in this state; 50 years as an administrator; fifty-five years as a professor. Fifty-five years of unselfish self-sacrificial service to the Kingdom of God in these two Baptist schools.

It is inspiring to read the Baccalaureate Sermons delivered by this great scholar who had a profound faith in God and the ultimate victory of truth and righteousness. That he was not swayed off his feet during the years of the First World War is indicated by the themes of the addresses that he delivered before the graduating classes during the war years:

- 1916—"The Spiritual Building"
- 1917—"The Unshaken Kingdom"
- 1918—"The Persistence of God"

Permit me to quote the last paragraph of his 1918 Baccalaureate Sermon: "Half of your number are absent today, in various kinds of war work—many more will undoubtedly engage in it. As in the old days the challenge went forth "Whom shall I send? Who will go?" And the answer came, "Here am I, Oh Lord, send me." So in our day, the same challenge has gone forth and the hearts of millions of youth answer, "Here are we. Send us." The man and the hour have met, and best of all, God is with us. The triumph of right is as sure as the act of gravitation. Let us be sure that we are on the side of God and we need not fear the outcome."

This gathering will little note nor long remember what we say here, but Bucknell University should never forget what Dr. Harris did here. It is for us the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which he and his contemporaries thus far so nobly advanced."

Jay Mathias, Bucknell alumni and president of the Bison Club, was toastmaster at the Sports Banquet this year when the basketball and wrestling letters were distributed. It was announced that Bucknell had four students in the Middle Atlantic Conference at Gettysburg. The wrestlers were Tom Miller, Ambridge; Jack Bitzer '54, Doylestown; Don Kelso '54, Pittsburgh; and Bob Daventport '54, DuBois.

* * *

Bucknell was represented by Dorothy Maserer '54, York, in the Ivy League Campus Queen Contest sponsored by the New York Journal-American. The contest was held early in April at the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, N. Y.

* * *

Bucknell's Hinkle, all-time grid ace, was chosen "Best Player I Ever Coached" by Curley Lambaut, head coach of professional Green Bay Packers. In the Saturday Evening Post article, Lambaut said Hinkle was one of the greatest players of all times. Hinkle played for Bucknell in 1930-32 and then entered pro ball at Green Bay.

* * *

The 84-piece Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, William Steinburg, director, appeared at Davis Gym on Saturday, April 3, through the auspices of the University and the Lewisburg Lions Club.

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS is published in January, March, April, June, September, October and December by Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa.

Member—American Alumni Council

OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION

- MRS. J. B. KELLY (Emily Devine '21), President, 1569 Metropolitan Ave., New York 62, N. Y.
- PAUL E. FINK '29, First Vice President, 606 N. Arch St., Montoursville, Pa.
- WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, Second Vice President, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York.
- DAYTON L. RANCK '16, Treasurer, 35 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa.
- JOHN H. SHOTT '22, Secretary and Editor, 116 Faculty Court, Lewisburg, Pa.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

- PAUL E. FINK '29, 606 N. Arch St., Montoursville, Pa. (1954).
- MRS. J. B. KELLY (Emily Devine '21), 1569 Metropolitan Ave., New York 62, N. Y. (1954).
- LAWRENCE M. KIMBALL '23, Box 226, Vineland, N. J. (1954).
- DANIEL M. ROOP '45, 19 Vine St., Danville, Pa. (1954).
- KENNETH W. SLIFER '26, 177 Briar Hill Lane, Woodbury, N. J. (1954).
- WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York (1955).
- JOSEPH T. QUICK '38, Wright Rd., R. D. 2, Newtown, Pa. (1955).
- MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh 6, Pa. (1955).
- CLAIR G. SPANGLER '25, 214 N. Sixth St., Reading, Pa. (1955).
- JOHN F. WORTH '37, 233 N. Galveston St., Arlington, Va. (1955).
- MRS. BROWN FOCHT (Florence Uit '26), 229 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa. (1956).
- BRUCE J. MILLER '27, 112 Devoe Rd., Chappaqua, N. Y. (1956).
- ALLEN A. RARIG '29, 528 Lindbergh Way, Lewistown, Pa. (1956).
- DONALD H. SHOLL '42, Munn Lane E., R. D. 1, Haddonfield, N. J. (1956).
- P. HERBERT WATSON '37, 67 Prospect Ave., Norristown, Pa. (1956).

() Year Term Expires.

Buck-Raising, "Joe Doe" Style, Or How Loyal Can One Get?

Back in June of 1952, "Joe Doe" '08 received a letter from Bucknell asking him to suggest the names of persons whom the University might solicit in behalf of the Taylor Hall program.

He replied by giving his own name and address and saying "and I will see that the guy comes across with $218 by December 31, 1953."

Well, December came and went without any word from Brother "Joe", so a few weeks ago the University sent him a reminder.

By return mail came a check and a terse note:

"I nailed the guy and made him come across for the full amount with interest compounded since June, 1952. Check ($242.06) enclosed. He wanted to deduct contributions in December '52 and '53, but I would hear nothing of it."

How Large Should Bucknell Be?

In our March 1954 issue (page 22) some interesting figures concerning future college enrollments were given. Another recent study that predicts high school age population to 1966 has been prepared by Ronald B. Thompson, Ohio State University. The results as reported in the Phi Delta Kappan in March 1954 are reproduced here for a study of things to come.

The importance of the figures may be indicated by the following: Whereas high school facilities for the past decade have had to take into account only the increasing percentage of high school-age children enrolling in secondary schools, the next decade will have to contend with an additional factor. Not only can the percentage of those enrolling in secondary schools be expected to increase, but there will be, no doubt, a tremendous increase in the actual number of young people of high school age.

The Thompson analysis is based upon births as reported each year since 1922, to which basic figure has been applied known percentages of survival to, and through the normal high school ages.

HIGH-SCHOOL-AGE POPULATION TRENDS IN THE UNITED STATES

Year	Total Births	Estimated Number (in Thousands) Living at Age				Year	Total High-School-Age Population
		14 years	15 years	16 years	17 years
1940	2,360,399	2,216	2,125	2,142	2,062	1954	8,546,743
1941	2,513,427	2,360	2,214	2,122	2,140	1955	8,837,614
1942	2,808,996	2,637	2,357	2,211	2,120	1956	9,327,526
1943	2,934,860	2,755	2,634	2,355	2,209	1957	9,955,086
1944	2,794,800	2,624	2,752	2,632	2,352	1958	10,361,813
1945	2,735,456	2,568	2,621	2,749	2,629	1959	10,569,299
1946	3,288,672	3,088	2,565	2,618	2,747	1960	11,019,678
1947	3,699,940	3,474	3,084	2,563	2,615	1961	11,738,073
1948	3,535,068	3,319	3,470	3,081	2,560	1962	12,431,846
1949	3,559,529	3,342	3,315	3,466	3,078	1963	13,203,333
1950	3,554,147	3,337	3,338	3,312	3,463	1964	13,451,685
1951	3,648,954	3,426	3,333	3,335	3,308	1965	13,404,261
1952	3,839,490	3,605	3,422	3,330	3,331	1966	13,689,955

The Outlook in Admissions

By GEORGE R. FAINT '25, Registrar

This year more applications than last year have been received from both men and women. Because fewer women can be accommodated this year, the competition is exceptionally keen.

Effective with applicants for September 1955, the major selection of candidates, both men and women, will not be made until the results of the full March series of College Entrance Examination Board tests have been received; that is in April, but before May 1. This will enable us to receive applications, particularly from women, for a longer period, and to have the 3½-year secondary school record available when the selection of candidates is made.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Bucknell has very limited scholarship funds, and hence candidates needing aid must show great financial need, rank very high in the graduating class, and be exceptional on the College Board tests.

ALUMNI ENDORSEMENT

The endorsement of candidates by alumni is always helpful to the Admissions Committee. Alumni are cautioned only to recommend Bucknell, and not to assure candidates of acceptance. Often personable candidates may be low ranking scholastically. Sometimes a particular degree program may be popular, creating additional competition for the few who can be accepted in that program.

Senior Prom

An "American In Paris" theme supplied the background for the annual Senior Prom on March 19.

Davis Gymnasium was bedecked with Paris scenes and French cafes while Duke Ellington and his orchestra supplied a variety of unique arrangements for the large crowd of Bucknellians and their guests.

At the height of the evening, Prom Queen Dorothy Masemer, York, was presented with her court of six seniors. Dottie DiOrto, York; Betsy Ernst, Emmaus; Helen Frazee, Pittsburgh; Jan Geller, Mineola, N. Y.; Linea Lindberg, Summit, N. J.; and Pat McColl, Hamden, Conn., served the queen on her court.

Jim Logue, Williamsport, acted as master of ceremonies during the presentation and during the intermission Queen Dorothy and her escort, Marty Carhart, Riverton, N. J., led the Grand March of all seniors and their dates.

Does Education Pay?

The table below is taken from Notes, a publication of the Junior Division of Indiana University. This table was compiled from figures gleaned from the 1950 report of the Bureau of the Census.

AVERAGE INCOMES OF MEN

Age	No Schooling	Grade School	High School	College
25-29	$1,016	$2,255	$2,892	$2,928
30-34	1,133	2,557	3,308	4,227
35-44	1,267	2,803	3,523	5,142
45-54	1,465	2,912	3,687	5,549
55-64	1,736	2,601	3,436	5,142
65-74	827	1,505	2,262	3,597
75 plus	491	800	1,217	1,892

Wandering Bucknellians

(Continued from Page 25)

Gerard, Ralph McKinney, Jr.
Grossman, Howard Bruce
Higgins, Ruth Barbara
Hughes, Margery Elizabeth
Koronski, Barbara
(Mrs. William A. Ford)
Lane, George Leonard
Lasher, Harold Sidney
Laughlin, James Knowlton
Liem, Channing
Lynn, John Pero
McDonough, Thomas Francis
McHugh, Donald Peter
Martin, Mildred
Meltzer, Ray
Moser, Franklin W.
Mosler, Herman B.
Policelli, Anthony
Possessky, Kay Helen
Rees, Margaret Elizabeth
Rogel, David
Rosenberg, Jack
Rossman, Harold Taner
Schurtz, Victoria Alexandra
Suway, Arthur Albert
Touris, Soterios
Troy, Shirley

CLASS OF 1944

Acker, Jean Shirley
Amour, Mary Jane
Anderson, Patricia Evans
Ball, Jean Cameron
Doyle, Carol
(Mrs. Louis D. Gingras)
Fetzer, Mary E.
(Mrs. Mary E. Miller)
Foster, George T.
Gaston, Ida C.
(Mrs. Robert L. LaBelle)
Johnson, Philip Ray
Kerk, Stanley MacPherson
Klaus, Edward Louis
Potter, Myron Lowe
Rosenblum, Sanford Joshua
Stein, Harold
Whitmore, Page Gregory

CLASS OF 1949

Aykanat, Ali
Bagnoli, Eno
Beard, Welton Edward
Berger, Sandra
Bloomfield, Donald Edward
Daniels, Walter J.
Draper, Norman Celestin
Durkin, Robert Thomas
Gabriele, Paul Patrick
Herb, Jack Franklin
Johnsen, George Erwin
Jones, Lewis Davies, Jr.
Kopf, Walter Joseph
Montgomery, Donald Andrews
Quenzler, Eugene Charles
Rothstein, Harold Lamport
Schindler, Eva
Smith, Leonard William
Swigart, Shelley Sandborn
Whary, Elvin Harrison

CLASS OF 1953

Danciger, Edgar
Gigli, Victor J.
Goudy, June R.
Hillmaye, Yvonne
Hoida, William C.
Long, James V.
Newcomer, Jesse C.
Reich, Ernesto C.
Shader, Elizabeth
Simmons, John J., Jr.
Steiermann, Frederick E.
Szarko, Joseph F.
Valder, Carol D.

“Each one must do as he has made up his mind . . .”

II CORINTHIAN 9:7

PAUL ALTHOUSE '12

The passing of two prominent Bucknellians in February and March and the subsequent probating of their wills has brought to light once again the esteem in which Bucknell Alumni hold their Alma Mater.

On February 7 the University received with regret the news that Paul Althouse, a member of the Class of 1912, had died at New York City. Subsequently, the University received a copy of his will which read in part:

“I give and bequeath to Bucknell University, School of Music, the sum of One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars and request that some appropriate memento of a permanent nature be displayed in said School of Music of this bequest.”

The former Metropolitan Opera Star had supported the University regularly in his later years and it was not surprising that he singled out the School of Music as a beneficiary in his will. Music was his life, but as the Editor of the Reading Eagle put in his editorial of February 8, he “never lost the common touch nor valued fame above friendship.”

It was unquestionably this trait which led Paul Althouse to think of the many students who would follow him through Bucknell's School of Music in the future.

RICHARD DARLINGTON '09

Less than a month later, March 1, the University received another blow in the passing of Richard Darlington, a member of the Board of Trustees and of the Class of 1909. Coincidentally, both of these loyal Alumni were 64 years of age.

A native of Lewisburg, Richard Darlington became a successful coal distributor and for many years contributed substantially to the support of the University. In 1948, his gifts having passed the $10,000 mark he was made a Founder of the University.

When his will was probated early in March it was discovered that Richard Darlington's desire to help his Alma Mater was even greater than had been evidenced during his lifetime. He had named Bucknell as the residuary legatee of sixty percent of his estate, which was valued at $200,000.00.

The will provided a life estate for Mrs. Darlington, the former Margaret Kerstetter of Milton, which is to be dissolved at the time of her death. In addition to Bucknell, Mr. Darlington also provided for the Bryn Mawr Hospital; employees of the Pennsylvania and Hudson Company, of which he was president; the Evangelical Community Hospital of Lewisburg and the First Presbyterian Church of Lewisburg. These four groups will share 40% of the residuary estate.

Richard Darlington was not the type to manifest his feelings in public, but there can be no doubt that his will has spoken eloquently of his love for his Alma Mater.

A Code for Bucknellians

Having chosen Bucknell University as our Alma Mater, we who have benefitted from her academic resources, her learned teachings, her friendly counsel, her high traditions, her rich social experiences, and her beautiful campus environment do proudly assert our happy affiliation and our invaluable claim. This assertion is most appropriately made as an expression of recognition of the Bucknell Way of Life.

We thankfully acknowledge that we have received more than that for which we paid, as the result of numerous benefactions from Bucknellians and friends of Bucknell who preceded us. We humbly realize that in being provided with the knowledge of and access to the tools of life, we accept willingly the moral obligation to employ those tools to the best of our abilities for the good of society. In so doing, we recognize the inconsistencies of our social and economic environment and adjust for them in accordance with the principles of our Bucknell heritage.

Faith in God, allegiance to our country, consideration of our fellow man, and loyalty to Bucknell we shall constantly endeavor to practice and foster in our daily lives, regardless of our individual stations. May our loyalty to Bucknell and to her Alumni, past, present, and future, result in compounding the interest of the Bucknell Way of Life.

The

BUCKNELL

ALUMNUS

SEPTEMBER 1954

GROUND BREAKING FOR THE
F. W. OLIN SCIENCE BUILDING

SEE PAGE 4

HAIL - CLASS OF 1958

We are sure the freshmen men and women of the Bucknell Class of 1958 who reach the campus next week will not lack advice on how to succeed in college. In the belief that those of us, who one day many years ago set foot on the campus for the first time as students and lived through four years of college, have learned something of the approach to college life, these few words are addressed to the entering Class of 1958.

First of all, expect to be challenged at a higher level of achievement than you have experienced before. You would not be coming to college if you expected your work to be as easy as it was in high school. Face your enlarged tasks with the assurance that the entire faculty and staff are dedicated to help you achieve success in your work.

Our second bit of advice was stated so well by our June 1954 commencement speaker, Dr. Brand Blanshard of Yale University that we cannot do better than quote his words. Dr. Blanshard, speaking on "the Concept of the Gentleman", declared that chivalry and honor, two priceless elements in our ideal of the gentleman, are deeply and particularly needed in our day.

"Chivalry," he said, "has come to mean a generous fairness to others which is an essential part of honor. Honor implies that one has incorporated such fairness in one's self-respect. That is why honor is so potent a force."

The speaker pointed out that honor does not reserve itself for great occasions and referred to athletics as one of our chief schools of honor. "The notion of sportsmanship or fair play," said he, "is one of our best Anglo-Saxon exports. The ability to take hard knocks unwhiningly, to win without preening oneself, to admire those who can beat one at the game, to go all out to win but to prefer not winning at all to winning by cadging and goudging, is one of the finest traditions of American life."

If the members of the Class of 1958 can accept this concept of a gentleman throughout their four years on the campus a new high in class spirit and achievement will have been established.

In This Issue

THE COVER PICTURE

On Alumni Day Dr. Charles L. Horn, president of the F. W. Olin Foundation turned the first shovel of earth at the ground-breaking ceremonies for the F. W. Olin Science Building scheduled to be completed for use of the chemistry, physics and mathematics departments by the fall of 1955. Watching at left are Dr. Horace A. Hildreth, former Bucknell President, now Ambassador to Pakistan, and Dr. William I. Miller '26 of the mathematics department. At right is Dr. Joseph W. Henderson '08, acting president and chairman of the Board of Trustees.

	Page
Alumni
Dr. Edwin Ewart Aubrey '19	19
John C. Decker, Esq. '36	4
"Wally" Diehl '26	21
Paul E. Fink '29	4
Dr. Charles C. Fries '09	19
Harold W. Griffin '16	11
Mrs. Emily Devine Kelly '21	4
Dr. Lester E. Lighton '20	5
William S. Lining '33	4, 24
Edwin R. Manchester '08	21
Charles Francis Potter '07	19
Dr. Leo L. Rockwell '07	5, 19
Robert W. Thompson '04	4
Hugh J. Worthen '53	21
Arthur R. Yon '17	4
Alumni Fund Report	22
Alumni Trustee	4
Alumni Trustee Time Table	22
Alumni Weekend	4, 8, 9
Bookshelf	19
Bucknell's New President	3
Class of 1958	2
Class Reports	15-18, 23
Class Reunion Reports and Pictures	8-13
Club Activities	10, 14
Coming Events	10, 14
Commencement, 1954	5
Dad's Day	7
Faculty News	13
Faculty Promotions	5
Homecoming	7
Letters	13
Ogders, Dr. Merle M.— New Bucknell President	3
Robbins Death	21
Sports	6
They Represented Bucknell	7
USAAC History	20, 23

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

Published in January, March, May, September, and November by

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Entered as second-class matter December 30,
1930, at the post office at Lewisburg, Pa., under the Act of August 24, 1912.

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

VOLUME XXXIX—No. 1

SEPTEMBER 1954

Dr. Merle M. Odgers to Become Bucknell President

DR. MERLE M. ODGERS
President-elect of Bucknell University

ON June 28 Dr. Joseph W. Henderson '08, chairman of the Bucknell Board of Trustees, announced the election of Dr. Merle Middleton Odgers as the tenth president of the University.

Dr. Odgers, who is 54, has served as president of Girard College, Philadelphia, since 1936. He is scheduled to assume his duties as Bucknell's president on December 1, 1954.

The announcement by Dr. Henderson completed the efforts of a trustee committee, headed by Dr. Herbert L. Spencer, that has been at work for a year selecting a president to succeed Dr. Horace A. Hildreth who resigned in June 1953 to become U. S. Ambassador to Pakistan.

A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania (1922) where he received his master's and doctor's degrees, Dr. Odgers has had 32 years of experience in college teaching and administration.

Following his graduation from the University of Pennsylvania he served as instructor in Latin (1922-28), assistant professor (1928-36), professor of Latin (1936), assistant director of admissions (1926-33), dean of the College of Liberal Arts for Women (1933-1936), and in the later year became president of Girard College, one of the nation's best known schools for boys. Honorary degrees have been awarded him by Temple University, Ursinus College and the University of Pennsylvania. He has been decorated with the Legion of Honor by the French Government.

Long an active member of the General Alumni Society of the University of Pennsylvania, he served as its president in 1943-45. He is now a trustee at his alma mater.

Dr. Odgers has in the past served as president of St. Andrew's Society of Philadelphia, Numismatic and Antiquarian Society of Philadelphia, Presbyterian Social Union of Philadelphia, Beta Pi Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha. He was formerly chairman of Philadelphia Five-County District, Committee for Economic Development; Philadelphia Committee, Greek War Relief Association; Mayor's Scholarship Committee, Philadelphia.

Formerly a trustee or director of the Chamber of Commerce of Philadelphia, Theodore Presser Foundation, Temple University, United War Chest of Philadelphia, Bethlehem Presbyterian Church, Edwin Forrest Home for Retired Actors, he was a former vice president of France Forever, Philadelphia Chapter.

Dr. Odgers is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Pi Kappa Alpha, American Philological Association, National Education Association, Association of American University Professors, Headmasters' Club, L'Association Guillaume Bude of Paris, Philadelphia Country Club, Lenape Club (Philadelphia), Rittenhouse Club (Philadelphia), American Legion, Phi Delta Kappa, Newcomen Society of England, Philadelphia Branch of The English-Speaking Union of the United States.

He has written three books, mostly of a biographical nature, Alexander Dallas Bache, Fifteen Hundred Looking On, Brothers of Girard, and numerous articles in professional journals and magazines.

He is married to the former Frances Bunting of Philadelphia, a descendant of John Bartram. They have two children, Eleanor Bunting Odgers, 19, a student at the University of Pennsylvania, and John Bartram Odgers, 15, a student at Carson Long Military Academy.

Dr. Odgers made a brief visit to the University during the summer session prior to a six-weeks vacation tour in Europe where he made brief stops in Scotland, Sweden, Norway, Denmark and England. The Odgers family owns a summer residence at Cliff Island, Maine where they spend most of their vacations when not traveling abroad.

In announcing his decision to accept the post of president of Bucknell, Dr. Odgers commented as follows: "I am deeply honored by the invitation to become president of Bucknell University in view of the splendid accomplishments which have marked this 108-year old institution in the past and in view of its bright prospects for the future."

"Bucknell has a great tradition for scholarships and service," he continued, "and I am looking forward to becoming a part of this fine college, the 100th chartered in America."

Editorializing in the Sunbury Item, the editor wrote:

"The selection of Dr. Odgers as president of Bucknell underlines the fact that our University has been greatly blessed in the caliber of the men who have directed its destinies through the years. Dr. Odgers will face an unmistakable challenge in the records of men like Dr. John Howard Harris, whose long tenure, deep devotion and outstanding accomplishments marked a milestone in the progress of the University, and more recent predecessors including Dr. Horace A. Hildreth, now Ambassador to Pakistan, Dr. Herbert L. Spencer, who left the campus to become director of the Kress Foundation, and Dr. Arnaud C. Marts, one of the nation's best known counselors on public finance enterprises. However, Dr. Odgers' background of service to education covering 32 years as college teacher and administrator qualifies him for carrying on a great tradition. A year's search by Bucknell's Board of Trustees for a man measuring up to the high standards established in the University's presidency has not been in vain."

Dr. Merle M. Odgers, president-elect of Bucknell University, and Dr. William H. Coleman, vice president in charge of academic affairs and dean of the college, conferring during the visit of Dr. Odgers to the campus in mid-July.

ALUMNI WEEKEND - 1954

WILLIAM S. LINING, President
General Alumni Association
Bucknell University

William S. Lining '33 was unanimously elected president of the General Alumni Association during Alumni Weekend in June. Bill is with the group insurance division of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in New York, serving as manager of benefit plan publicity and employee education services.

Prior to service as a naval officer in World War II, he was in the writing and editing field in New Jersey and New York. As an undergraduate Bill, who specialized in journalism, edited both the Bucknellian and L'Agenda. In addition to membership in Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity, he belongs also to Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, and to Sigma Tau Delta, honorary professional English fraternity. A frequent speaker at conferences of editors he was on the Board of Directors of the American Association of Industrial Editors and now serves as vice-president in charge of the Association's placement service.

Bill is married to the former Ruth E. Rohr '34, popular class reporter for her class. They have two Bucknellians-to-be children, Ruth Gail, aged 11, and Robert Geoffrey, aged 7½. The Linings live at East Williston, Long Island, New York where both are active in many phases of alumni work and helped to organize the Bucknell Alumni Club of Long Island.

ALUMNI WEEKEND-1954 again attracted a record breaking of alumni to the campus on June 11-14. Class presidents and reunion chairmen of the Emeritus Club and the Classes of 1899, 1904, 1909, 1914, 1919, 1924, 1929, 1934, 1939, 1944, 1949, 1953, and 1954 planned a full program of activities for the reunioners. Non-reunion class members of all years accounted for about 300 of the visitors in the total crowd of well over a thousand Bucknellians who sat down at the All-Alumni Luncheon on Saturday noon. A campus committee of students, faculty, and alumni, under the dynamic leadership of Raymond K. Irwin '47, made the campus arrangements for over thirty meetings during the gala weekend.

Of course, the highlight of any class reunion is the fine glow of renewing college friendships but this year several features and at least one pleasant surprise added new zest to the time honored activities.

GROUND BREAKING

THE FEATURE of the Saturday morning program was the impressive ceremony of ground-breaking for the $900,000 F. W. Olin Science Building. Dr. Charles S. Horn, president of the Olin Foundation returned to Bucknell to lift the first shovelful of earth from the site of the new building which will be located opposite the Engineering Building. There to assist him were James O. Wynn, Esq., vice president and general counsel for the Olin Foundation; Dr. Joseph W. Henderson '08, acting president and chairman of the Board of Trustees of Bucknell; the Honorable Horace A. Hildreth, American Ambassador to Pakistan and former president of the University; Dr. William H. Coleman, vice president in charge of academic affairs; and Dr. Dayton L. Ranck '16, vice president in charge of administrative affairs. Dr. W. Norwood Lowry '22, Dr. Lester Kieft, and Dr. William I. Miller '26 represented respectively the departments of physics, chemistry and mathematics which will be housed in the new building.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE

THE WHOLE UNIVERSITY FAMILY was thrilled to have Ambassador and Mrs. Horace A. Hildreth on the campus for Alumni Day. Dr. Hildreth, who last summer left the presidency of Bucknell after four years of outstanding service, is United States Ambassador to Pakistan. The Hildreths had flown from Karachi for a series of conferences with Department of State Officials in Washington and visited Bucknell before their return to Pakistan. Ambassador Hildreth, in acknowledging the standing ovation accorded him at the All-Alumni Luncheon probably made the shortest speech on record when he said, "This is just like coming home."

President Emily Devine Kelly '21 was on the receiving end at the All-Alumni Luncheon. At left, Robert W. Thompson, Lewisburg, presenting the fiftieth anniversary gift of $305 from the Class of 1904, and, at right, Paul E. Fink, Montoursville, presenting the twenty-fifth anniversary gift of $1,500 for the Class of 1929. Both gifts became part of the Bucknell Alumni Annual-Giving Fund.

LUNCHEON FEATURES FUN

THE ALL-ALUMNI LUNCHEON where everybody sees everybody, even though each class is seated as a group, provided a hilarious occasion for all with each crowd of reunioners trying to fly its class numerals highest via the balloon route. After a delicious lunch served in fine style by Mrs. Esther B. Long '47, director of food services, with the aid of her staff augmented by a number of students, a minimum of time was devoted to greetings and announcements. Mrs. Emily Devine Kelly '21, retiring president of the General Alumni Association, who presided at the huge gathering in Davis Gym wielded the gavel without fear nor favor. In quick succession Buck Shott, alumni secretary, introduced the Class of 1954; Bob Kellar, 1954 class president presented the Class gift of $1,700 to be used to equip the Bucknell Treasure Room in the Ellen Clark Bertrand Library; to Dr. Henderson, acting president, who responded with thanks and greetings; and vice presidents Coleman and Ranck extended words of greeting. After presentation of the distinguished guests, Dr. Horn and Mr. Wynn, of the Olin Foundation, and Ambassador Hildreth, the twenty-fifth and fiftieth reunion classes were introduced by Mrs. Kelly. Another surprise was injected into the proceedings when Paul E. Fink, president of the 25th reunion Class of 1929 and Robert W. Thompson, president of the 50th reunion Class of 1904 stepped to the speakers' platform and presented special anniversary gifts to the Bucknell Alumni Fund on behalf of their respective classes.

DECKER NAMED ALUMNI TRUSTEE

JOHN C. DECKER, ESQ. '36 was named for election to a five-year term as Alumni Trustee on the Board of Trustees of Bucknell University by nation-wide alumni balloting. Mr. Decker, an attorney in Williamsport, prominent in many activities in his undergraduate years, trained for the law at University of Pennsylvania, serving now as alumni adviser of Kappa Sigma fraternity, is the son of the late Oliver J. Decker, Esq. '99, who occupied the position of secretary of the Board of Trustees of the University for many years until his death in 1943.

A roar of approval greeted the announcement that Arthur R. Yon '17, genial owner of Hotel Flanders, Atlantic City, had been named recipient of the Bucknell Chair and Citation of 1954. This annual award is given in recognition of outstanding achievement and service on behalf of the University and the General Alumni Association.

Following the luncheon the visitors dispersed to all points of the compass, the

(Continued on Pages 8 and 9)

ARTHUR R. YON '17 receiving the congratulations of President Emily Devine Kelly '21 on winning the 1954 Alumni Achievement Award for Distinguished Service to the University. Long active in many phases of alumni work, Art has served as president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Atlantic City where he is the owner and operator of the Hotel Flanders. Guiding qualified students to Bucknell has been his chief hobby with faithful service on the Athletic Advisory Committee and on the Executive Committee of the Bison Club a close second. With her and his charming wife, Ysabelle as host and hostess, Bucknell Weekends at Hotel Flanders have become fabulous. His counsel in Phi Kappa Psi alumni affairs is sought and appreciated.

Bucknell's 104th Commencement Honors 415 Scholars

DAVIS GYMNASIUM was the scene of the 104th Annual Commencement Exercises on Monday morning June 14. Degrees were awarded to 415 persons, an increase of 28 over the previous year. Seniors earning bachelor's degrees totaled 377, with 34 members of the class cited for honors. Master's degrees were awarded to 31 scholars while seven honorary doctorates were conferred. Thirty-three graduates, six with distinguished records, were out that her generosity has made possible the University's library which bears her name and paid tribute to "her fine qualities of mind and heart, her philanthropic spirit, and her abiding interest in the University's welfare."

The degree of Doctor of Divinity was awarded to Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president of Morehouse College, Atlanta, Georgia, the baccalaureate speaker. He was cited "for courage in the face of diffi-

The degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon Blake Tewkesbury, president of Keystone Junior College, La Plume, formerly Keystone Academy, founded and presided over by John Howard Harris '69, who later became president of Bucknell University. President Tewkesbury was cited for his constructive services to the institution he now heads.

Dr. Blanshard, in his commencement address, "The concept of the Gentleman" declared that chivalry and honor, two priceless elements in our ideal of a gentleman, are deeply and particularly needed in our day.

The baccalaureate speaker, Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, basing his address on a passage from St. Luke, relating to the fate of the rich man who ignored the beggar at his door, made a strong plea for the development of a social conscience.

FACULTY PROMOTIONS

PROMOTIONS FOR 17 MEMBERS of the University faculty were announced by acting President Joseph W. Henderson at the Commencement Exercises.

Promoted from associate professors to the rank of professor were Dr. Harold W. Heine, chemistry, and Dr. Hulda Magalheas, physiology and hygiene.

Teachers promoted from assistant to associate professors include: Miss Margaret L. Bryan, physical education; Robert M. Ewing, English; Miss Helen E. Kleinfelter, music education; Miss Harriet A. Love, economics; Dr. Robert F. McCune, physics; Dr. William K. Smith, mathematics; Charles F. Stickney, physics; and Dr. Bennett R. Willeford, chemistry.

Promoted from the rank of instructor to that of assistant professor were David L. Bowler, electrical engineering; Benton A. Kribbs, physical education; Robert E. Maurer, English; Harvey M. Powers, Jr., English; Ralph Rees, English; Neil F. Shiffler, economics, and Robert E. Slonaker, Jr., chemical engineering.

THE PROCESSION OF GRADUATES

sworn in at second lieutenants by Lt. Col. Roger A. Barnes, commanding officer of Bucknell's ROTC.

HONORARIES TO ROCKWELL, LIGHTON

TWO BUCKNELL GRADUATES were among the recipients of honorary degrees. Doctor Leo L. Rockwell '07, who taught at Bucknell for 28 years prior to becoming professor of English and director of the School of Languages and Literature at Colgate University was cited as a "teacher, editor, and philologist who for nearly half a century has inspired in his students a respect for learning and for thoroughness in research," when presented for the degree of Doctor of Literature by Dr. William H. Coleman, vice president and dean of the college. Lester E. Lighton '20, a veteran of both world wars, when presented for the degree of Doctor of Science, was cited as "a distinguished son of Bucknell" and recommended for "his contribution in enlarging the resources of modern engineering." Both men have a long record of service to Bucknell in all phases of alumni activity. Dr. Rockwell served as editor of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS and now serves as president and reporter of his Class of 1907. Dr. Lighton has served as consultant on the engineering curriculum, as director of the General Alumni Association and now serves as president of the Philadelphia Bucknell Alumni Club.

Professor Brand Blanshard, the commencement speaker, who is head of the department of philosophy at Yale University, when presented for the Degree of Doctor of Humanities was cited for "services in making philosophy meaningful to the uninitiated and for his preeminence as a teacher and as a thinker."

In presenting Mrs. Ellen Clarke Bertrand, New York, for the degree of Doctor of Humanities, Dr. Coleman pointed out that her generosity has made possible the University's library which bears her name and paid tribute to "her fine qualities of mind and heart, her philanthropic spirit, and her abiding interest in the University's welfare."

Thomas J. Watson, president of International Business Machines Corporation, presented for the degree of Doctor of Laws by Andrew J. Sordani, Secretary of Commerce for Pennsylvania and a Bucknell trustee, was cited by Dr. Joseph W. Henderson '08, chairman of the Bucknell Board of Trustees, who awarded the degrees as acting president of Bucknell, for his "extensive efforts to improve human relations, his unique skill in handling vast business enterprises, and his deep interest in art, music and education."

Recipients of honorary degrees, left to right: Dr. Brand Blanshard, the commencement speaker; Dr. Benjamin Mays, the baccalaureate speaker; Mrs. Ellen Clarke Bertrand, Blake Tewkesbury, Dr. Joseph W. Henderson '08, acting president of the University; L. E. Lighton '20, Leo L. Rockwell '07, and Thomas Watson.

SPORTS

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS

by HARRY LAWRENCE,
Head Football Coach

The 1954 season promises an interesting and difficult series of hurdles. Boston University and Albright College will be the newcomers to the schedule. Of our traditional opponents Colgate, with All-American quarterback Dick Lalla at the helm, once again looms as a most formidable opponent.

Lafayette, our Homecoming foe, is definitely on the comeback trail and has a big experienced junior team ready to pick up where it left off last Fall. Temple, Delaware, Gettysburg, Lehigh and Muhlenberg all seem to have the necessary nucleus for top teams in 1954.

As for the "Bisons," graduation and drop-outs has dealt lightly with us this year. The Herd will have more depth and experience than last year, and the squad is determined to make amends for its first losing season in years. John Chironna was unanimously elected Captain and he promises a spirited, fighting ball club.

Veteran players returning are: Jack Flurer, Bob Antkowiak, Dick Klaber, Ken Tashjy, ends; Marion Minker, Ronnie Lloyd, Joe Brune, tackles; John Chironna, Hank Popek, Art Kinney, Jack Winebrenner, guards; Roy Gavert, Hawk Owens, Charlie Wolfe, centers; Bill Cody, Bob Sierer, Dick McCartney, Ron Hendricks, Bob Ford, George Klaunder, Moe Finklestein, backs.

New to the varsity will be about fifteen members of last year's frosh squad. These boys showed to good advantage in the Spring work-outs and while in general they are very green, several promising players will give the veterans a real fight for position; and all will help to add depth and spirit to the squad.

The varsity coaching staff will be the same as last year, with Bill Lane coaching line and Smokey Ostendarp coaching backfield. Ben Kribbs will again coach

OPENER AT HERSHEY

Team followers should remember that the opening football game with Muhlenberg is scheduled for the Hershey Sports Stadium at Hershey on Saturday evening, September 25. Those desiring football tickets in the Bucknell section should send their orders with check (at $2.50 each) to Bucknell University, Attention of Albert E. Humphreys, Director of Athletics, without delay.

freshmen, but for the first time, will have assistance in the person of Franny Hatton, former Sunbury High School coach. Franny will coach the frosh line.

The sheer speed of Myers and Talmage days is not available to the 1954 squad, but most of the other ingredients are present; and the Herd is definitely in a position to improve on its 1953 performance.

TICKETS

In accordance with the wishes of the alumni and students, we have shifted the students, team and band back to the West side of the stadium.

The students and faculty have sections D, E, and F and alumni sections B and C, which includes seats from the 10 to 45 yard line. Alumni will have choice of above seats or fifty-yard line seats on the press box side of the stadium. Please indicate your preference on the application below.

If you want to make certain of choice seats for the opener, Dad's Day and Homecoming, it is advisable to get your ticket order in early.

A special section on the forty-five yard line will be reserved for the class (of fifty members or more) having the highest percentage of contributors.

To receive above priorities, application accompanied by check or money order must be in Athletic Office by October 2. Please signify on application.

Order Your Football Tickets Early 1954 Football Ticket Order Blank BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Last Name	First	Middle	Class
Street		City	State
Seat Preference	West Side	East Side	Best Available Seat Irrespective of Side
(Check Choice)
Date	Game	No. Tickets	Reserve Price	Amount
*Oct. 2	Gettysburg		$2.50
Oct. 9	Lehigh (Dad's Day)		$2.50
Oct. 23	Lafayette (Homecoming)		$3.00
Nov. 13	Albright		$2.50
*Night	TOTAL

Make checks payable to BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY—INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS. Return order blanks to Albert E. Humphreys, Director of Athletics. Tickets will be sent by insured mail.

SOCCER

The varsity soccer team under the able tutelage of Hank Peters will open the season against two of the leading teams in the East, Penn State and Temple University. Such stiff competition should put them in good stead for their following seven games with teams in the Middle Atlantic Conference.

Schedule—

- Oct. 2—Pennsylvania State ... Penn State
- Oct. 8—Temple Home
- Oct. 12—Wilkes Wilkes-Barre
- Oct. 16—Washington Home
- Oct. 22—Johns Hopkins Baltimore
- Oct. 30—Gettysburg Home
- Nov. 6—Western Maryland Home
- Nov. 13—Franklin & Marshall ... Lancaster
- Nov. 20—Delaware Newark, Del.

1954 Football Schedule

- *Sept. 25—Muhlenberg . Hershey
- *Oct. 2—Gettysburg Home
- Oct. 9—Lehigh (Dad's Day)
Home
- Oct. 16—Temple . Philadelphia
- Oct. 23—Lafayette,
HOMECOMING
- *Oct. 30—Boston U.
Braves Field, Boston
- Nov. 6—Colgate
Hamilton, N. Y.
- Nov. 13—Albright Home
- Nov. 20—Delaware
Newark, Del.
- * Night Games

Dad's Day—October 9

Dads accompanied by mothers, of course, will take over the Bucknell Campus on Saturday, October 9, 1954, for the celebration of the 16th Annual Dad's Day. Following the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Fathers' Association in the Lewisburg Club, 131 Market St., at 10:45 a. m., there will be a Fathers' Luncheon. The self-introduction of Dads, now a tradition at the luncheon, will be a feature of the occasion when new officers for 1954-1955 will be elected.

Following the luncheon the parents will attend the football game in Memorial Stadium, where Lehigh University will be the opponent. An evening of entertainment is scheduled for Davis Gymnasium at 8:00 p. m. At this meeting a plaque commemorating the parents' part in the rebuilding of Taylor Hall will be presented. The Bucknell University Men's and Women's Glee Clubs will sing. Dean Malcolm Musser, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Fathers' Association, will present plaques to former Presidents of the Association.

Although Dad's Day is dedicated to all the Fathers of Bucknell students, the Mothers are cordially invited to attend. The Fathers' Association and the students are especially anxious to have the parents of this year's freshman class visit the Bucknell Campus on Dad's Day.

If you have a son or daughter at Bucknell, why not ask them to make room reservations for you in Lewisburg. You can secure your meals at the University's cafeteria.

Bucknell University and her student body are looking forward to welcoming over a thousand parents to the Campus on October 8 and 9, 1954.

They Represented Bucknell

Alumni from coast to coast continue to serve alma mater in many ways. Since last Spring the following Alumni appeared at president inaugurations and celebrations on behalf of Bucknell University: Dr. Kenneth F. Herrold '36 at Columbia University and Pratt Institute; Dr. Gordon Brownell '43 at State Teachers College, Salem, Mass.; Dr. John S. Fetter '32 at Jefferson Medical College; Dr. David A. Culp '41 at Simpson College; Dr. Emma E. Dillon '15 at Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania; Dr. A. A. Allen '22 at New York University; Dr. Herbert A. Haslem '23 at Lincoln University; Mr. Douglas M. Brown '45 at Utah State Agricultural College; Mr. William Clayton '49 at Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas; Rev. Emil Koutz '28 at Kalamazoo College; Mr. George M. Andrews '41 at the University of the State of New York in Albany, New York; Dr. James F. Olley '42 at Berry Schools and College; Dr. Thomas J. S. Heim '20 at Pennsylvania Military College; Rev. Donald C. Ward '40 at Hebron Academy; Rev. Finley M. Keech '49 at Brandeis University; and Mr. Eugene Levitt '44 at Wilmington College in Wilmington, Ohio.

SEPTEMBER 1954

HOMECOMING—OCTOBER 23

Already a large committee of Alumni, students, faculty, and town residents are at work making arrangements to properly welcome and entertain you on the campus Homecoming Weekend, October 23.

All of the features that make Homecoming one of Bucknell's three big celebration days (the other two are Alumni Reunion Weekend at the June Commencement and Bucknell's Birthday in February) will be included again this year. The program shapes up as follows:

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1954

PEP RALLY AND BONFIRE

★ ★ ★

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1954

BISON CLUB BREAKFAST

★ ★ ★

GUIDED TOUR OF NEWLY REBUILT TAYLOR HALL

★ ★ ★

HOMECOMING PARADE OF FLOATS

★ ★ ★

ALL ALUMNI LUNCHEON

★ ★ ★

FOOTBALL GAME—BUCKNELL VS. LAFAYETTE

★ ★ ★

BISON ROUND-UP AND RECEPTION

★ ★ ★

CAMPUS ENTERTAINMENT AND DANCE

★ ★ ★

For those who have made Homecoming a regular visiting day on the campus no further invitation is necessary. For Alumni and friends who have not been back for Homecoming for a long time, let us assure you that it will be a long-remembered occasion. More and more Bucknellians are acclaiming Homecoming as a Reunion Day—an excellent opportunity to renew friendships and meet and relax with classmates.

This year a special reunion of the Bucknell USAACS—members of the United States Army Ambulance Corps in World War I will reunite and have a special dinner on Saturday night.

To make adequate provision for everybody please send the reservation form printed at the bottom of this column.

Even though your plans may be tentative, please mail this reservation TODAY and guarantee yourself a share in the program and also assist us in planning your accommodations. Although we will do our best—WE CANNOT GUARANTEE RESERVATIONS RECEIVED AFTER OCTOBER 13.

HOMECOMING RESERVATION

OCTOBER 23, 1954

Please reserve _____ tickets for the HOMECOMING LUNCHEON,
Saturday, October 23, 1954, at Davis Gym.

Please reserve _____ tickets for the BISON CLUB BREAKFAST,
Saturday, October 23, 1954, at Lewisburg Club.

NAME (Print) _____

CLASS _____

ADDRESS _____

(This slip can be attached to a postal card or slipped into an envelope. Mail to Alumni Office, Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa., NOW. Send your room reservation to Forrest D. Brown, secretary, Christian Association.)

EMERITUS CLUB

Twenty-three members of the Emeritus Club ranging in classes from 1890 to 1903 gathered under the leadership of President John I. Woodruff '90, with Dr. Mark C. Ebersole, assistant professor of religion, as faculty host. Mrs. Jane Fowler Bullis '03, who became eligible for membership just last year probably traveled the greatest distance coming from Whittier, Calif., to attend her first meeting as a member of the Emeritus Club. Jay Bond '03, also a new member of the Emeritus Club, attended, setting an example that should be followed by new eligible members—the example of becoming affiliated with the Emeritus Club as soon as possible after the 50th reunion of the class. (Are you listenin', Class of 1904?) After the meeting the veterans led the parade to the All-Alumni Luncheon in the gym and later gathered at the Taylor St. House for their social gathering.

Officers elected are president, Prof. Frank M. Simpson '95, Lewisburg; vice president, Dr. Mabel Grier Leshner '01, Lewisburg; secretary, John M. Gundy '97, Lewisburg; treasurer, B. Meade Wagenseller '95, Selinsgrove.

CLASS OF 1904

Several firsts were established when the Class of 1904 gathered for its 50th reunion. Certainly no 50-year class ever looked as snappy as the 04ers looked in their kelly green Alpine hats bedecked with red feathers. Another notable first was the 50th anniversary gift to the Bucknell Alumni Fund established by the Class of 1904. Not all the reunioners arrived in time for the picture; the class registration showed at least 20 classmates and guests in attendance. Coxy

Thompson ruled with an iron hand, ably assisted by Dave Robinson and Carroll Caruthers. Dave came from Florida for the reunion and following his week's visit in Lewisburg he and Mrs. Robinson proceeded to the Maine coast where Dave unfortunately developed an abscess that landed him in the Portsmouth (N. H.) hospital. We are glad to report however that Dave is now recovered and feeling fine again.

CLASS RE

CLASS OF 1909

The 45th reunion of the Class of 1909 on the campus of Bucknell University has become history, but what memories for those of us who were there! We came from Connecticut, Florida, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Michigan, New York, and Pennsylvania. Answering present were: Mary Meyer Al..., Herman Fritz, Eunice Hall Johnson, Clara Lepperd, Dolly Leopold Lillienthal, John Shirley, Stanton Smith, Eugene Van W..., Mabel Slout Weeter, and Ida Sames Yeag... The following were there too bringing with them their better or worse halves, as they may be: George Bailets, Ansley Clay, Grace Wolfe Crandall, Sarah Walters Ireland, William Leiser, Albert Waffle O..., Guy Payne, Hannah Mervine Shultz, Estine Hyatt Villalon, Myrtle Walkinsh..., Shupe, Norman Wilkinson and Helton Youngken. We were sorry to hear that Don Fetter, New York, and Don Humm, California, on their way to the reunion were en ill and had to return home. We regret them indeed and are hoping that by they are quite well again.

ALUMNI WEEKEND—1954

(Continued from Page 4)

twelve reunion classes going to the planned social gatherings on and off the campus, while others spread to the library exhibits, the ball game, the golf course or just reminisced along the Old-Fort Mile. Later in the day the crowd was occupied with fraternity and sorority symposia, Cap and Dagger Play and the Jamboree and Entertainment Program. Members of Delta Theta Upsilon, a local fraternity which flourished on the campus from 1903 until 1918 held a special reunion dinner under the guiding hand of Frank R. Hean, Esq. '12. Emeriti professor of engineering, Frank M. Simpson '95 and Frank E. Burpee '01 were feted at a dinner given by several of their former students of the first engineering class graduated headed by Lewis F. Lyne, Jr. '14.

Sunday and Monday of Alumni Weekend were devoted to Baccalaureate and Commencement.

UNIONS

CLASS OF 1914

The "40th" is history—and a good time was had by all. Approximately forty—(one for every year)—of us were back for reunion. Friday evening a merry crowd ate supper together in the men's dining hall, University Avenue—the old Miller home to us. Saturday morning, in room 107 Vaughan Building, we assembled for a business meeting. We were greeted by prexy Riley with the words "we don't look so good." He was promptly boo-ed down. We felt good and we looked GOOD. If you don't believe it look at our picture! We re-elected all officers and even added a treasurer, Mary Kunkle, to handle our growing funds.

After ceremonies for the new science building, we joined the marchers on the way to the gym and lunch. We filled two tables and can still cheer as lustily as the best of them.

Sixth Street House was ours for the afternoon. Edna Whittam Glover outdid herself. She arranged a wonderful party with punch, cookies and all the trimmin's. She was unanimously re-elected chairman on arrangements for all time to come. Crissy delighted us with movies of our 25th and a jolly hour was spent in telling stories of college days. Sammy Markowitz topped with his tales of the pea-green freshman. The old one-how he paid 25c for his radiator but how he wised up when the bold soph wanted him to pay $1.00 for the wall-paper. A little of the green had faded and he saved his money by telling the salesman to take the paper. Harry Weaver thanked one and all for helping us celebrate our 36th wedding anniversary. I thank you too. You didn't know it but 'tis true.

Reluctantly we knew the hour had come to part. With farewells and one more happy memory of old Bucknell to stow away, we disperse. So adieu, a fond adieu, till we meet again.

Corrected Address: Helen Ott Oesterle (Mrs. Eric), 114 E. 188th St., New York 68, N. Y. Apologies for this error and any others that may appear in "Who's Who '14 B. U.," Our thanks to Mr. Shott and the alumni office staff for mailing copies to absentees.

—DORA HAMLER WEAVER,
Reporter.

A thank you from all of us to Dr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Sims of the faculty for being so gracious as host and hostess to our class. We greatly appreciate their kindness and hope to see them again in 1959.

At 3:00 P. M., Saturday, we gathered at the German House for a delightful tea. The hostesses were Mrs. William Leiser and Mrs. Guy Payne assisted by their husbands. Everybody came early and stayed to chatter and reminisce.

This is being written on a perfect day in July in this beautiful village of Little Valley, N. Y. We keep wondering whether it could be that other classmates are living nearby. If so, we certainly are sorry to miss you while on our visit here. Send us a letter instead.

As this year we shall aim to have some class news in every number of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS, please keep it rolling in to your grateful reporter.

—SARAH WALTERS HEADLAND,
Reporter.

ELECTION RESULTS

RESULTS OF ELECTIONS held earlier in the day were announced by Mrs. Kelly. Chosen to lead the General Alumni Association during the coming year were William S. Liming '33, president, John F. Worth '37, first vice president, and Mrs. John A. Rhodes (Helen E. Bodine '20), second vice president. Alumni elected to serve three year terms on the Board of Directors of the General Alumni Association were: Mrs. Charles E. Copeland (Amorita Sesinger '22), Jackson Heights, N. Y.; Wilmer D. Greulich '34, Wynnewood; J. Norman Davies '26, Pittsburgh; W. Carl Sprout '08, Harrisburg, and Francis B. Haas, Jr. '47, Harrisburg.

They replace: Paul E. Fink '29, Montoursville; Mrs. J. B. Kelly '21, New York, N. Y.; Lawrence M. Kimball '23, Vine-land, N. J.; Daniel M. Koop '45, Danville, and Kenneth W. Slifer '26, Woodbury, N. J.

CLASS OF 1919

The 1919ers turned out in goodly numbers for the meeting at the Vaughan Literature Building—31 of them with 21 wives and children—although 22 more who had hoped to come, were unable to get there. It was the best attendance at a reunion that we have ever had.

We were joined by Tommy Mangan, Ed Ashman, Joe Dent, and Don Laher, who had all started out with us, but because of World War I service had finished up with later classes. In fact we tried to ring Buck Shott in with us and he went so far as to wear the 1919 Derby with us. We made a good showing in the parade down the Hill to the Gym, though we couldn't match the 1929 Ford that the '29 class had.

There was the usual good food at the Luncheon and then we adjourned to the Edwards House for a social hour. Sam Abrams showed us that he is still a master at the piano, and sprung a surprise on us by doing several piano duets with his attractive daughter, who seems to have inherited Red's talent with the keys.

A roll call of all members of the class was made by the permanent Class President, Frank Jones, and information pooled by all present with regard to any absentees. Although most of what we know has come in through answers to the 35-Year L'Agenda, we must acknowledge that Tommy Mangan has probably seen or talked to more of our classmates than anyone else in the last few years, by making it a point to look up Bucknellians whenever he travels.

Until a volunteer comes forward, Frank Jones will act as reporter, so write him news for 1919. The 35-Year L'Agenda with write-ups of almost half the class can be called a success to judge from the comment about it.

There are about 35 copies of the 35-Year L'Agenda on hand. If you have not yet received one you may obtain a copy by sending $1.00 to John H. Shott, Alumni Secretary, Bucknell University.

With half the class contributing to the Alumni Fund, the total and percentage for the year surpasses anything previously done by 1919. Hurray for our side!

Frank Rorabach and Ben Markowitz came all the way east for the reunion from Bloomington, Illinois, but Charlie Wainwright came a greater distance—from Winter Haven, Florida, where he is a state highway engineer. Norman Finger and Harry Angel had to come to this reunion to find that they have worked for the same company (Bethlehem Steel) for many years! And your reporter hadn't seen any of the five since 1919 except Harry.

—FRANKLIN D. JONES,
President.

CLASS RE

CLASS OF 1929

What a glorious "6000 years" the class of 1929 has had! Who would have dreamed that out of our depression class would have come famous doctors, prominent lawyers, nationally known business executives, teachers, community leaders, and last, but not least, the able circulation manager of Williamsport's Grit—our own President Paul? Yes, all have done well.

Your reporter is so enthused about every minute of the reunion that she is a bit bewildered where to begin her story. On Friday evening, we found Martha Von Neida Waterbury on duty at the reception desk, greeting one and all as they came in to register in old Carnegie Library. Of course, your president Paul E. Fink and "Yours Truly" were on hand also.

Saturday's activities started off with a class meeting in the new Bertrand Library, where Prof. Clyde Burgee welcomed class members, wives, husbands and children on behalf of our beloved University.

At this time the reunion booklet, "6000 Years of the Class of 1929", was presented. Your reporter takes pride in the excellent work done by our president and Emily Williams Riemensynder on this issue of L'Agenda, twenty-five years later. They both deserve our thanks.

The next order of business was the election of class officers. The following officers were elected by acclamation: president, Paul Fink;

CLASS OF 1924

"Ain't it funny that some folks you can't miss,

An' some folks you jus' miss a pile
An' the folks that you can't miss you see lots,
An' the other folks, once in awhile."

—Carrie Jacobs Bond

Alumni Day, June twelfth, will long be remembered by forty-four members of the Class of 1924. The committee, for our thirtieth reunion worked for months on plans to make this one surpass all others. In fact, the warning to list all members as deceased, unless the questionnaires were answered, brought prompt results!

Our first meeting, Friday evening, was an outdoor buffet dinner at the Milton Country Club. The weather was perfect, the setting ideal, and those reminiscing found the words of Carrie Jacobs Bond all too true.

Alumni Day, Saturday, was one round of activities from early breakfast at the Bison to the closing of the Jamboree in Davis Gym that evening. Our business meeting was highlighted by receiving our souvenir booklets, canes, balloons and badges (our official insignia for the Alumni Parade), our class picture and the election of officers. (By the way, if any member paid for a booklet and did not receive it, please get in touch with Mrs. W. Calver Moore, 446 S. 49th Street, Philadelphia, Penna.) Class officers elected were as follows: president, Edwin D. Robb; vice president, Foster D. Jemison; secretary, Mrs. Clarence Shaffer; treasurer, Rev. R. O. Hudson; class reporter, Mrs. Paul J. Cupp; class fund manager, Dr. Merl G. Colvin.

The Alumni Luncheon was the usual happy affair at which time one had the pleasure of seeing, meeting, and talking with dear friends of other classes. This was truly a grand introduction to the family party which followed immediately afterwards at Walker House, attended by seventy-four husbands, wives and children.

The Jamboree, in the gym that evening, and the play, "Othello", climaxed the day's activities. Everyone who returned to Bucknell declared our thirtieth reunion the best ever and faithfully promised to return to the next one!

—LOUISE BENSHOFF CUPP,
Reporter.

Coming Events

PENNSYLVANIA BAPTISTS—the Pennsylvania Baptist Convention will be held in Wilkes-Barre, and Bucknellians and their friends are gathering for a dinner meeting on Wednesday evening, October 20. Bucknellians attending the convention and Alumni from the local Wilkes-Barre area and their guests are cordially invited to attend the dinner and bring their friends. The Bucknell University Chapel Choir, under the direction of Mr. William D. McRae, Jr., will appear on the program of the convention.

UNIONS

CLASS OF 1934

Twenty-nine members of the Class of '34 returned to Bucknell with, perhaps, a feeling of turning back the clock. Each one of us was a bit apprehensive. Time can be not only a healer, but a devastation on hair lines and waist lines!

When we gathered in the Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library, it seemed that the clock had really stopped in 1934. The women looked like "Sem Gems" and the men were handsome!

Sanford Barcus presided at the meeting and introduced our Faculty Host, Professor John Gold. A message from President Eddie Myers was read and we regret that he was unable to be with us because he was at work on the new labor contract for United States Steel.

An election was held with the following officers elected: president, Edward C. Myers; vice president, Sherburne B. Walker; secretary, Marie Steinbach Fox; treasurer, Vincent B. Wayland; class fund manager, Frank E. Gerlitz, Jr.; class reporter, Ruth Rohr Lining.

Dorothy Kester was the member who had travelled farthest in order to attend. Dotty is doing a marvelous job as coordinator of speech education in the public schools of Akron, Ohio.

Most of us were quite surprised and very pleased to hear that we have money in our Class Treasury. After discussion, it was decided to keep the money for another five years and then decide on its disposition.

Walter Ruch did a magnificent job of editing the reunion booklet. We are listed biographically and statistically as "a preponderately church-going, Republican, child-rearing, middle class, club-joining, car and home-owning group."

We really had a marvelous time! We chattered, wore Indian Headdresses, marched in a parade, sent up balloons, and later had a purely social meeting. Sherb Walker will be in charge of Hospitality at our 25th and its not too early now to plan to "Shine in '59."

—MARIE STEINBACH FOX,
Secretary.

vice president, William "Turk" Jones; secretary-treasurer, Thelma J. Showalter.

Following the meeting, we adjourned to the front of the Literature Building where Turk had a 1929 model Ford in action. Those of you who were not with us on June 12 will have an opportunity to see it in the class picture. Our boy Turk really did a bang-up job toward making our 25th a big success. Later, he along with Bill Mahood and Johnnie Gittens rode in style in our Ford to the Alumni Luncheon. The highlight of the luncheon for the Class of '29 was the presentation of a check in the amount of $1500 by our president to the Alumni Fund. We are justly proud of the fact that ours was the first class to make a contribution as a class to the Fund. We trust that it will serve as an inspiration to other reuning classes in the future.

From the luncheon, we moved on to the Milton Country Club, where good fellowship ruled supreme as long as even two members of the class remained.

Yes, it was truly a big day. Your reporter wishes that she had the gift to write so that each of you who missed being with us might in some small way live for a few moments the joy and happiness of our "Day of Days."

May I confess that in the midst of a rather busy life, your reporter finds herself dreaming up ideas for our 30th in 1959.

—THELMA J. SHOWALTER, Reporter.

Harold Giffin '16 Moves Ahead With New Dream Highway

Word comes from New Jersey that new roads are being made on the Garden State Parkway. Harold W. Giffin '16, is Chief Engineer of the Authority set up to build and operate the Parkway a new dream highway being modelled with an eye toward the future. When complete, the parkway will embody 165 miles between Bergen and Cape May counties. Singing shoulders, pre-tressed concrete bridges, and reflecting curb are feature, included for the convenience and safety of today's driver.

CLASS OF 1939

The meeting opened with a pleasant greeting from our president, Jack Gault, who then asked if there was a report on a previous meeting. There was none, so the first order of business was the election of new officers. The new officers are: president, Bob Smith; vice president, Bernice Henry Rathmell; secretary, Mildred Stabler Gollnick; treasurer, Kurt Manrodt, Jr.; class fund manager, Leonard O. Friedman; class reporter, Dave Bagenstose.

The formal business over, the meeting evolved itself into a real reunion, with the members present each introducing themselves, giving a short history of their 45 years as alumni—where they lived, what they were doing, and the status of their families.

Bud Dunham, from Detroit, Mich, came the farthest of those who made the meeting.

Everyone was amazed at the size of some of the families produced by quite a few of our 39'ers!

Dave Bagenstose received much deserved praise for the reunion book. Everyone agreed that it was a grand job.

The meeting was adjourned so that we could get down to the lawn in front of the Literature Building for our class picture.

MILDRED STABLER GOLLNICK,
Secretary.

CLASS OF 1944

Our 10th reunion is now a part of the past, but like Freshman Week in 1940 through Commencement in 1944, a very memorable part, thanks to the 26 members who journeyed from all corners to make it so.

Perhaps we were all fooling ourselves, but it was agreed generally that everyone was recognizable and ten years had wrought no great change. However, we all seemed to appear more normal by Saturday night, having acquired that lack-of-sleep look symbolic of the years 1940-44. One of the nicest phases (to me, anyway) was the way we all just sort of "took up" where we left 10 years ago, and in several instances became better acquainted with some whose paths seldom crossed ours while we were in school. It was also nice meeting the wives and husbands who hadn't gone to Bucknell and who were so tolerant of the rest of us! The weekend was just wonderful, and I'm all ready to start campaigning for 1959.

At our business meeting on Saturday morning Bill Schnure took over in Hank Puff's absence, with the following officers elected: president, Mal Lewis Strittmatter; vice president, Bob Baker; treasurer, Bill Schnure; secretary, Janet Leach; fund manager, Ray Irwin; and I was blessed again with Class Reporter. (Speaking of Ray, he was chairman of the entire Commencement and Reunion weekend, and did a terrific job

. . . '44 was mighty proud.) The meeting should be classified as basically social, although we did vote unanimously to send two telegrams to absent members . . . one to Bob Keegan who was to pitch against the N. Y. Yankees the next afternoon, and the other to Dr. Gordon Brownell who had been invited to California to present his latest advancements in cancer research before the American Medical Association.

Hope we're all recognizable in the picture. The few who didn't make it in time to be photographed were Gene Matthews, Jim Brady, Nip Edmunds, Jack Stockton, and Ray Irwin.

Without question, the ones who traveled farthest to be with us were Sandy Sanger and his wife all the way from California. Had we the means to award prizes, the second one would have gone to the Gene Levitts and their two sons for a 550 mile journey from Ohio.

Everything was arranged wonderfully by the University (AND Ray!) and the luncheon (1026 people there) was perfect. So, it isn't too early to look ahead and start thinking of our 15th. We missed so many of you who couldn't come, but certainly enjoyed being with the ones who did . . . and thank you again and again for making the weekend so memorable.

—HONEY RHINESMITH BAKER,
Reporter.

CLASS OF 1949

CLASS RE

June 12th! What a beautiful spring day! And what a wonderful day for our class reunion!

For some of the Class of '49 the reunion may have started Friday night but for most of us Saturday was the big day. At first things seemed a little strange to us since a new library and a new Lambda Chi Alpha house had appeared on the campus. Soon, however, we saw familiar faces and we were home again.

Our first meeting of the returning members was held in Vaughan Literature Building in the morning. Robert Camac, president, presided at the meeting. We were proud to see about 59 people here. The number at this meeting was not, to be sure, all who were back because many of the class did not appear on the campus until later that afternoon.

At the meeting, Dale Hay was elected chairman of our next reunion committee. To aid Dale, Barbara Jones Purnell was chosen. Other volunteers were accepted to help Dale. Many thanks went to Natalie Dann Craum-

CLASS OF 1953

The class of '53 didn't come out to our first reunion in great numbers, but we were in great spirits! It felt like home to walk into the Bertrand Library and see so many faces for the first time since graduation.

Vice President Norm Freytag called the meeting to order and was promptly elected President of the class, since former president Harry McSorley is now devoting all his time to divinity school studies. Mel Woodward was elected Vice President.

Next, the person who traveled the greatest distance to get to reunion was determined, and the honor went to Mr. and Mrs. Greg Doescher who came from Fort Devon, Mass. They didn't come quite as far as Ambassador and Mrs. Hildreth, but it was a sizable distance!

Mr. Ohl, who acted as faculty host, then caught us up on the campus news, including sports, Men's Student Government, social pro, racial discrimination in fraternities, and

UNIONS

CLASS OF 1954

er for the endless hours she spent on preparing the reunion book "49 plus 5."

At the all Alumni Luncheon we enjoyed our lunch of chicken salad, peas, potatoes, rolls, ice cream and cookies. And how we consumed the ice water for it was certainly a warm, warm day—just like the warm day, June 6th, 5 years ago! Remember?

That afternoon we met in Stephens House for a good old gab session. Having left the formal meetings behind, we spent several hours learning what had happened to each other in five long years. Some of us had put on a little weight and some of us had lost some hair but on the whole each one of us seemed exactly the same.

We left this pleasant gathering to attend our symposia or to have dinner with friends in preparation for the Alumni Jamboree and Reception in Davis Gymnasium or for "Othello", the Cap and Dagger play. Thus we ended a wonderful day at our 5th year reunion!

—MARILYN HARER,
Reporter.

The Class of '54 entered into the activities of that long anticipated commencement weekend almost mechanically, as we realized with disbelief that four whole years had quickly slipped away.

Old man sun, who has been known frequently to hide his face from the 300 acres, beamed his approval throughout the whole weekend.

Although we were but infant members of the Alumni Association, we had no trouble assimilating our farewell with the schedule of the many reuniting alums. One of the highlights of the weekend was the groundbreaking ceremony for the new Science building, a gift of the Olin Foundation. In a few years I wonder if we will recognize our Bucknell with all the construction plans.

Probably the best representation of our class as a group (other than the commencement exercises) was the All-Alumni Luncheon. The Class of '54 was last in the procession, but we boasted one of the few motor vehicles in the line-up, that memorable red convertible laden down with exhausted seniors.

Saturday night offered the traditional Symposia, the Jamboree, and the Cap and Dagger production, "Othello."

That element of doubt remained in the mind of each graduating senior until 11:35 A. M. when each of us had received the official sheepskin. Upon the conclusion of the exercises the campus took on the aspect of a beehive; it was farewell to a climactic weekend and to student life at Bucknell.

—DOTTIE DIORIO,
Reporter.

Dear Seniors—oops, I mean
Dear Alumni:

If the mailing address shown on the back cover of this magazine is not your preferred mailing address won't you please send the correction now to the Alumni Office, Bucknell University, telling us your old and new address and just a word about your job.

The Editor

all the other news we craved, still being students at heart.

Attired in our very fetching hats we posed for our group picture, then witnessed the groundbreaking ceremony of the new science building. Tagging along at the end of a very long line of alums, we paraded to the alumni luncheon which was a gala affair, each class trying to outdo the other in raising their numerals highest, via balloons.

It was a gratifying experience to be a part of the class reunion. Unfortunately, a lot of the manpower of the class is in uniform and unable to gad about as of old. And others, as Mr. Ohl said at our meeting, really don't feel like alums yet—it's a feeling that grows with age. So, older and wiser, let's all plan to be together at our next reunion. It's an event that can be called—for lack of stronger word—truly refreshing.

JOAN LAFFERANDE,
Secretary.

LETTERS

Dear Friends:

With our class president, Dr. Mary B. Harris, abroad, I assume the privilege of reporting that the Institute Class of 1894 was represented at its 60th anniversary in June 1954 by four of its loyal members: Mrs. Alice Probasco Mulford, Bridgeton, N. J.; Miss Mabel Callender, Dalton; Mrs. Elizabeth Bates Hoffman, Lewisburg; Mrs. Mabel Thomas Topping, Stratford, N. J.

We saw many changes in Bucknell, but many said they saw little change in us. Our spirits and loyalty at least are unchanged, but 60 years are a long time to remain static.

With every good wish for dear Bucknell and all its alumni,

—(MRS. WILLIAM H.) MABEL THOMAS TOPPING

Faculty Notes

At a meeting on the University of Delaware campus last March 19, Albert E. Humphreys, Bucknell's athletic director was elected the new president of the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Conference (MASCAC).

Miss Dorothy Wilson, a assistant professor of music, was one of seven composers represented on a program of contemporary music in New York last March 3. Her Duo for Violin and Piano was performed by Max Pollikoff and Claude Frank, well known performers in New York. The Herald Tribune commented that "Miss Wilson's fluent music showed craftsmanship."

Professor William McRae succeeded Dr. Harold Cook as chairman of the music department last November, a chairmanship Dr. Cook had held for six years. In addition to his duties as department chairman, Professor McRae is continuing his academic teaching and the leadership of the fifty-voice a cappella choir.

The department introduced last March the first edition of the Pitch Pipe, a semi-annual newsletter presenting musical news to those people interested in the musical activities of the Bucknell community.

Miss Trennie E. Easley, director of public relations, assumed last July the duties of Director of District II of the American College Public Relations Association. Numbering over 1,000 member colleges, the association is devoted to meeting the public relation needs of higher education. Miss Easley, a member of the association since 1935, will represent the states of New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, and will promote the activities of the association in this area.

Dr. Robert E. McCine, associate professor of physics, and Miss Esther Marie Souza of Elmwood, Conn. were wed on June 19 in Rumlford, R. I.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

BELLEFONTE—Dean Malcolm E. Musser was the chief speaker at a meeting of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Bellefonte on May 21. He told the assembled Bucknellians of Centre County of his interesting experiences in his service as Dean of Men on the Bucknell Campus.

An election resulted in the selection of William G. Jones '29, Philipsburg, as president; L. F. Hartman '24, State College, vice-president; and Mrs. Herman E. Abbott (Mary M. Meyer '09), Rebersburg, secretary-treasurer. Franklin H. Cook '33, served as chairman of the meeting, and Mrs. Elmer Decker (Grace Corman '32) made arrangements for the dinner held at the Corner Tea Room.

CINCINNATI—Bucknellians from the Cincinnati area met at the Hotel Alms on April 19 to hear a report from Registrar George R. Faint '25, on campus activities and achievements. The meeting was arranged by Ralph Ford '38, Chairman of the area group.

LEHIGH VALLEY—Bucknellians from Allentown, Bethlehem, Easton and surrounding area met at the Hotel Traylor in Allentown on June 4. H. Spencer Carlough '50, president, conducted the business meeting at which the following officers were elected: Murray B. McPherson '42, president; H. Spencer Carlough '50, vice-president; and Ann L. Hahn '52, secretary-treasurer.

The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. Paul E. Witmeyer, professor of education at Bucknell. Dr. Witmeyer presented some of today's problems of collegiate education and traced some of the future plans of the campus building program.

Buck Shott, alumni secretary, spoke briefly about the Alumni Association and encouraged increased alumni interest in student selection. Following the program of the evening Bucknellians from the Lehigh Valley area enjoyed a social hour.

ANN HAHN '52, Secretary

MINNEAPOLIS—The meeting of Bucknellian Baptists held in connection with the American Baptist Convention in Minneapolis attracted a larger than usual crowd, 27 Bucknellians from all over the United States being in attendance. The meeting was conducted by Dr. Romeyn H. Rivenburg '97, dean emeritus of Bucknell. Everybody is looking forward to the convention in 1955 to be held in Atlantic City when even more Bucknellian Baptists should be able to attend.

PROVIDENCE—Bucknellians from the Providence Club ended the first year of their organization with a picnic at Arcadia State Park in Rhode Island.

Plans for next year were discussed and it was decided that three meetings would be held. The following schedule was arranged. On Friday, October 29th, the eve of the Bucknell vs. Boston University football game, a dinner party will take place. For the second meeting, another Birthday Party is scheduled on next February 5th. John Wilbur '48 graciously offered his forty-foot cabin cruiser to the lucky Bucknellians here for a nautical outing in June. This will be our third and last get-together.

We look forward to an ever growing, active alumni club in the Providence area this coming 1954-55 season.

JUNE STOTT MATTHEWS,
Secretary

PHILADELPHIA—Again the Philadelphia Alumni and their friends enjoyed an evening of gay dancing, good fun and surprises at the annual Spring Dance June 5, at the Manufacturers Country Club. Bob Taylor '48, chairman and his co-chairman Don C. Dewees '53, Kitsy Bell '53, Claire Vogelsson '53 are to be congratulated on an excellent job. Leo Zollo and his Orchestra kept the "young" and "old" grads whirling and spinning. There were door prizes and bags of favors for everyone.

Dates for Bucknellians to put in the date book for the coming year: October 16—Temple Game, Buffet and Roundup; February 4—Annual Dinner, McCallister's; May 21—Spring Dance, Merion Tribute House, Merion.

ALICE ROBERTS '24,
Secretary

SOUTH CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA—Twenty-two alumni and friends gathered at the dinner meeting of the Bucknell Alumni Club of South Central Pennsylvania held at the Hotel Washington, Chambersburg, on May 6. "Buck" Shott presented the charter of the new organization to Mrs. James Strite (Janet Keefer '36), president

Dr. and Mrs. James Gathings and Mr. and Mrs. Shott were the honored guests from campus and they brought the old grads up to date on activities on the hill. Dr. Gathings gave an interesting and informative talk covering college changes and innovations—building projects, educational projects, students and faculty.

Plans will be made for future meetings, probably only several a year for the present, including a get-together on Founder's Day when it is hoped that a larger group will be able to attend.

Officers include, Mrs. James Strite, president; Mrs. G. C. Madison (Sarah Louise Slaughenbaur '41), vice president; Mr. Daniel Davis '22, treasurer; and Mrs. H. T. Meminger (Dorothy Blix '38), secretary

DOROTHY B. MEMINGER '38,
Secretary

The Bucknell-Temple Game, Saturday, Oct. 16, 1954

Come one, come all to the Philadelphia Alumni Club's before-game Rally and Luncheon. Arrangements have been made for luncheon and game tickets in one package at $5.00 per person, (Luncheon at the Cedar Brook Country Club, reserved block of tickets on the 50-yard Line). Reservations must be made through Mr. Robert Dill, Butler Pike R. D. 4, Norristown, Pa., before October 12. Send your reservation and cash now; only those making reservations through Mr. Dill can be served luncheon and be able to sit with the group.

Other dates that will interest you: Founders Day Dinner, Friday, February 4, 1955, McCallisters. Spring Dance, Saturday, May 21, 1955, Merion Tribute House, Merion, Pennsylvania.

Bob Keegan Fan Club

Members of the Bob Keegan fan club (and that probably includes many Bucknellians) had a dinner in New York in mid-July prior to a Yankee-White Sox baseball game. After the game the gang of 25 Bucknellians, many of them Sigma Chi's, met with Bob. At press time his pitching record for the season is 15 wins and 7 lost, which accounts in large measure for the splendid record the Chicago White Sox are making this year.

Attention Women of Western Pennsylvania!

The Pittsburgh Association of Bucknell Women invites you* to lunch, October 9, 1954, at the Carlton House, Downtown Pittsburgh. Call up or write some of those old Bucknell Friends and make a day of it: shop, see the sights, see a fine fashion show put on by Saks Fifth Avenue. The cost is $3.00, the time 12:30 p. m. Your reservations must be in by Oct. 2. Please mail them to Mrs. Leroy R. Fero, 3945 Dalewood Avenue, Pittsburgh 27, Pennsylvania.

*By YOU, we mean not only women who themselves attended Bucknell, but also the mother, wife, or daughter of any man who attended Bucknell.

Boston Bison Round-Up

The Bucknell Alumni Club of Greater Boston is planning a "Bison Round-Up" and dinner prior to the Bucknell-Boston University game on Saturday evening, October 30, 1954. Although plans are not yet completed, all members are urged to reserve this date. Details will be sent as soon as final arrangements have been made. Neighboring club members (Rhode Island, Pittsfield, New York, Albany) and any team followers should do likewise, as their club officers will be notified of final plans.

Please mail the following "Advance Reservation Blank" to the Boston Club Secretary as a block of tickets for the game is being reserved on the Bucknell side. (All on the 50 yard line, of course). Plan now to attend!

TO: Walter Weidemann, Jr.
107 Valley Road
Needham, Massachusetts
(Phone Needham 3-4514)

I surely want to attend the Bison Round-Up and Bucknell-Boston University Football game on Saturday evening October 30, 1954.

Please make reservation(s) for me for the Round-Up and Supper.

Please reserve tickets to the game for me.

Name

Class

Address

CLASS REPORTS

Class news of the Emeritus Club and the Reunion Classes of 1904, 1909, 1914, 1919, 1924, 1929, 1934, 1939, 1944, 1949, 1953, 1954, will be found on pages 8-13 inclusive.

EMERITUS CLUB

Mrs. Addison B. Bowser, the former Ella Stebbins '89, passed away last May 17, at the age of 84. Widow of Addison B. Bowser '88, who died in 1936, she is survived by one daughter and three sons, one of whom is Arda C. Bowser '23.

We have learned from Miss M. Florence Pannebaker '93, of the death of her sister, Miss Esther M. Pannebaker M'88, on May 23, 1949 at the age of three weeks short of 80 years. Miss M. Florence Pannebaker has enjoyed her 80th birthday and is the only member of her family remaining.

DR. EZRA ALLEN

Dr. Ezra Allen '95, AM '96, H '22, widely known biology professor at Stetson University in DeLand, Florida, celebrated his 84th birthday last May 6. Retired from active professorship in 1951, Dr. Allen remains as curator of the museum.

Mrs. Alice Snowden Smith died on April 7, 1954 at the home of her son in Pittsburgh. She was the sister of State Senator John G. Snowden.

CLASS OF 1897

Class Reporter: DR. ROMEYN H. RIVENBURG
10 Main St., Clifford, Pa.

Dr. Romeyn H. Rivenburg has been re-elected for his fourth term as president of the Tourist Club of Daytona Beach, Fla. The programs designed to bring brightness and cheer to the tourists visiting Daytona Beach during the season have attracted 2,100 members this year, an increase of over 700 members.

CLASS OF 1899

Class Reporter: DR. FLOYD G. BALENTINE
626 Taylor St., Lewisburg, Pa.

Advancing years and distance interfered with attendance at the reunion of the Class of 1899. The meeting was held at the home of the class reporter and his wife, but Cober and wife and Anna Halfpenny Reitz, Mus., were the only ones to appear in person. We were glad, however, to find Engle at the Alumni Luncheon — an annual event now which alone makes it well worth while for any alumnus to be here at Commencement time.

At the reunion meeting letters were read from Calvin, Hazen, Hutchinson, Ivins, Krise, Meserve, and Gertrude Stephens Downs — not a bad record with fifteen surviving members from a class of forty-six.

A vase of beautiful flowers, the thoughtful gift of Joe Hazen was much appreciated, as was the gift of class canes for the occasion by Gertrude Stephens Downs.

CLASS OF 1900

Class Reporter: GEORGE A. GRIM
South Broad St., Nazareth, Pa.

Dr. Charles E. Bunnell, who was instrumental in the founding of the University of Alaska and who served as president of the institution for thirty years (1922-1952) received the following well-deserved compliment in The Secret Diary of Harold L. Ickes. Dated Saturday, August 13, 1938, this portion of Mr. Ickes' record read: "This morning at Fairbanks Dr. Bunnell, president of the University of Alaska . . . called and we went with him to see his institution. I had met Dr. Bunnell formerly in Washington. He is one of the outstanding citizens of Alaska and he is doing a fine job here. He used to be a United States judge, having been appointed by President Wilson, but he has been head of the University of Alaska for some thirteen years."

CLASS OF 1905

Class Reporter: DR. LEWIS C. HYLBERT
435 Drake Ave., Upland, Calif.

(Editor's Note): We are happy to announce that Dr. Lewis C. Hylbert has undertaken the important post of reporter for the class. Dr. Hylbert distinguished himself on the campus as one of the organizers of the Christian Association movement. After graduation from Crozer he served for two years as pastor of the First Baptist Church, Richwood, W. Va. In 1910 he began a 38-year period of mission service in China. Since his retirement in 1948 he has lived in California. The doctor of divinity degree was conferred on him by Bucknell in 1931 and by Anderson-Broadus in 1944.

CLASS OF 1906

Class Reporter: WILLIAM L. DONEHOWER
22 N. Fifth St., Lewisburg, Pa.

Dr. Hugo B. C. Riemer, prominent eye surgeon, died July 11 at Norwood Hospital, Mass. Dr. Riemer graduated from Bucknell University and Harvard Medical School. For the past 40 years Dr. Riemer practiced in Norwood and Boston. He is survived by his wife, the former Lucile Warner, four daughters, two sons, a sister, two nephews, Hugo Riemer, Esq. '29, Grier Riemer '29. His brother, Dr. Guido C. L. Riemer '95, Hon. '26, passed away in March 1953.

CLASS OF 1907

Class Reporter: DR. LEO L. ROCKWELL
Colgate University, Hamilton, N. Y.

REMEMBER?

In nineteen hundred zero four
'07 was a sophomore,
Bucknell installed electric lights
To brighten up the campus nights.
They helped to guide home many a spouse
(Not classmates) from the Baker House.
The men who wore the freshman caps
Licked us soundly in all the scraps
(Brawn against brain, I think, perhaps).
Pop's "love was like a red, red rose,"
And Bromley Smith rose on his toes
To show how an oration goes.
Bally intoned Horatian Odes

While Drummy surveyed fields and roads,
Simpson made physics students groan
And, moan, "He has a heart of stone."
Lindy filled with constant fears
His un-civil engineers.
Keough came from Harvard College
Chock-full of linguistic knowledge;
Most of us agreed with Sherman—
But instead of war we put in German.
What! Fifty years ago you say?
I'm sure it was but yesterday.

Three '07ites showed up at Commencement. Earl Whitney came to see his charming daughter Naomi graduated; Coit Hoechst got mixed up and thought it was our reunion year; Rocky came because lumbago made him unhappy at home . . . It was a grand Commencement; you old birds who still think of the college in terms of 1904 ought to see it now! And Lewisburg has expanded westward; it hasn't quite reached Mifflinburg but it's getting close.

(Editor's Note): Rocky, with the modesty so characteristic of him, failed to report the outstanding news in his column—the awarding of the degree of Doctor of Literature to him at the Bucknell Commencement in June. In the presentation for the degree Doctor Rockwell was cited as a "teacher, editor, and philologist, who for half a century has inspired in his students a respect for learning and for thoroughness in research."

CLASS OF 1908

Class Reporter: MRS. MARGARET P. MATHIAS
(Margaret Pangburn)
202 St. Louis St., Lewisburg, Pa.

Dr. Winfield Scott Booth, Sr. passed away last April 30 in the Hackensack (N. J.) Hospital. He was 71. Very active in alumni affairs, including the presidency of his Class of 1908 for many years, Dr. Booth, better known by classmates as "Buster," received his master of arts degree from Bucknell in 1910, two years after graduating summa cum laude from the school of liberal arts. From here he went to Crozer Theological Seminary where he earned his bachelor of divinity degree in 1911 and his master of theology degree in 1922. In 1931, an honorary degree of doctor of divinity was bestowed upon him by Bucknell.

An Army Chaplain with the rank of captain in World War I, Dr. Booth held pastorates at the First Baptist Church of Harrisburg, the First Baptist Church of Collingswood, N. J., and the Clinton Avenue Baptist Church of Newark, N. J. He also was executive secretary of the Baptist Extension Society, Newark, N. J. from 1926 to 1944.

A member of Delta Sigma, now Delta Upsilon, Dr. Booth is survived by his widow, the former Evora P. Mailley, and their son, Winfield S. Booth, Jr. '39. His classmates and the University family extend heartfelt sympathy to the family.

CLASS OF 1910

Class Reporter: MISS MILDRED B. CATHERS
100 W. 33rd St., Apt. 6, Bayonne, N. J.

All of you 1910ers! It's time now to begin planning to be in Lewisburg in June for that 45th reunion. Come yourself and round-up your friends. Let's make it a big occasion.

Word comes from William Gatchouse that he is looking forward to the 1910's 45th reunion next spring with great anticipation. Bill was forced to retire from a versatile career in 1942 due to ill health.

Frank M. Jenner, principal of Madison High School, Rochester, N. Y., retired September 1. Frank resides with his wife and five children at 201 Trafalgar St., Rochester.

CLASS OF 1912

Class Reporter: MRS. H. W. HOUSEKNECHT
(Maze Callahan)
108 W. Penn St., Muncy, Pa.

When we arrived in Lewisburg for the Alumni Luncheon in June we headed for the Carnegie Building (the old library) to pick up our luncheon tickets. By the way, have you seen that building? Well, you wouldn't know it—all dressed up—the floors are so polished that you couldn't see the shine on your nose. Just have to watch your step! Not nearly so nice as when we went to school. We used to sit at the long tables pretending to study and holding hands under the table. But they suit the building to the people and this generation doesn't need a place like that—they hold hands on the street.

When I came out of the building there were the Heans, Mikles, Conners, "Rip" Ruth and "Sal" Fisher. We all started for the gymnasium in order to get a seat before the "old timers" made their appearance. During the luncheon I saw Leon Crandall '12 and Grace leave—saw Dave McNeal and Alberta at a distance, said "hello" to Pearl Williams and Frank. Looked all around for Eva Himmelreich Apgar and Roy because I knew he was celebrating his 40th. No luck! When "Buck" made his remarks during the luncheon meeting he said "We had reservations for 400 people—we fed 1,000." Miraculous! The dietician must live right for that "stretching" was almost like the five loaves and two fishes feeding the 5,000, not including the children.

This is when I dislike being a reporter when I have a death to report. Robert Augustus Stoughton, 63, Covington, Va., died Tuesday, July 13, 1954, at his home. Death was sudden. Gus was an engineer at Covington for the past 28 years. He was a native of Lewisburg, and a brother-in-law of the late Christy Mathewson, of baseball fame.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Mathewson and Mrs. Peter B. Cregar, Lewisburg, and also by several nieces and nephews.

Send me some news. I have to make the honor roll this year. We have five "real" editions and I must have something to say in each one. If you don't know anything make up something as I do. The "little old paper rag" is dead and buried.

CLASS OF 1913

Class Reporter: MR. CHARLES L. SANDERS
76 Walnut St., Mifflinburg, Pa.

"The Iron Ore Outlook of the United States", an address by Dr. Earl Morgan Richards, vice president of Republic Steel Corp., at a meeting of the Bucknell Business Forum in Sunbury in February, has been published by the Bucknell University Press. Earl is an authority on the iron ore situation, present, past, and future.

Paul L. Stein closed his working association with the Hewitt Rubber Co., Buffalo, N. Y. and returned to his native Lewisburg to the joy of his many local friends. His address, since April of this year, has been 38 N. Third Street.

Although '54 was not an official reunion time for our class of '13, eight classmates did join hands and hearts in happy fellowship this year. The McClure porch was a center of reminiscence and cheer on Friday evening following first greetings at the University dining hall. On Saturday the alumni luncheon found us together at one table duly marked 1913. Also we participated as enthusiastic spectators at the ground-breaking ceremony for the Olin Science Building, and felt renewed love for our Alma Mater with pride in her dignity and progress.

For those absent this year, awaiting the 45th in 1958 and already preparing for it both mentally and financially, this may be said now. It is doubtful whether a name of any classmate went unmentioned this year in conversations of returnees. Come back next year if possible, and remember that 45th is already in the making. You want to know who rejoiced together this year? Here are the names: Howard (Prexy Sal) Fisher, Marwood Glover, Jim McClure, Berk Hastings, Harold Shaffer, Paul Stein, Bright Beck, Charlie Sanders. Mrs. Beck and Mrs. McClure added their share to our reunion joys. Lucky '13 badges were proudly worn.

CLASS OF 1916

Class Reporter: MRS. GEORGE STEVENSON
(Amy Patterson)
R. D. 1, Box 556, Red Bank, N. J.

Cyrus B. Follmer, American Counsel at Calgary, Western Canada, is retiring from foreign duty. After approximately 34 years of serving in many parts of the world including France, Estonia, Germany and Canada, Cy has purchased a home near Pottsgrove.

CLASS OF 1917

Class Reporter: MRS. CARL A. SCHUG
(Alice Johnson)
266 Lincoln Ave., Williamsport 12, Pa.

Dr. Arthur E. Harris, Honorary '17, passed away March 8, in St. Petersburg, Florida, where he was spending the winter. Dr. Harris, who graduated from Crozer Theological Seminary, is survived by his wife, the former Ruth Chase, a daughter and two brothers.

CLASS OF 1918

Class Reporter: MRS. LAYTON KING
(Elizabeth Champion)
301 Broad St., Montoursville, Pa.

Raymond W. Cooper, who is associated with the firm of Marts & Lundy, has been assigned as their director for the King College (Bristol, Tenn.) campaign for $1,000,000. Mr. Cooper lives at River Rd., Andover, Mass.

A long time ago Herbert C. Grice, Sr. was elected to the post of Treasurer of the Union County Alumni Club.

I went back to Bucknell for Alumni Day this past June and I enjoyed it so much that I hope to make it an annual visit. I was amazed to learn that on the morning of the luncheon there were relatively few reservations, yet the crowd numbered more than 1,200. The food was excellent, service the best. You who have homes and families know the agony of having extra guests arrive when you have four pork chops or a pound of hamburger, so I want to put in my plug to all of you—next year make your reservations early. Didn't see too many members of the Class of 1918, but did meet Russ Boyer and Dave Boswell. Dave was there with his son who was attending his reunion. Am told that Dave has written a most interesting pamphlet on the Life of Francis Bellamy. Bellamy, who wrote The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, was a member of the church in Rome, N. Y. where Dave has served as pastor for a number of years. Mr. Bellamy was buried from the church in 1931 and Dave preached the funeral sermon.

I would appreciate a little help. How about some news?

CLASS OF 1920

Class Reporter: HAYES L. PERSON
60 S. Third St., Lewisburg, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester R. Leaber '19 (Evelyn McGann '18) spent their vacation in late July and early August in and about Williamsport where Chef's parents live. Mr. Leaber is in the New York office of the National City Bank, foreign department, after having spent many years in foreign service branches of the bank. Their married daughter, Patricia, and daughter returned from Europe during the Leaber's vacation period and plan to stay in the states. Mrs. Leaber's home was Lewisburg and they visited friends in town where her father was long a popular Lutheran minister.

The first edition of Herbert E. Stover's sixth historical novel, By Night the Stranger, was issued on September 7. Mr. Stover is now working on his seventh book, a story of the Revolutionary War.

Hiram J. Wagner died on June 10 in Charleston, W. Va., his home since 1937. A depreciation engineer with the United Fuel Gas Company at the time of his death, Jake was a gas expert and a very active member of engineering organizations.

CLASS OF 1922

Class Reporter: PHILIP C. CAMPBELL
R. D. 5, Danville, Pa.

Eve Bunnell and Stephen Johnson, Clifton, N. J., were recently married.

Phil Campbell was re-elected president of his fraternity (Theta Chi) alumni corporation for the 26th consecutive year. He and Mrs. Campbell attended the 98th anniversary convention of Theta Chi in Atlanta, Ga. on September 1-5. Phil was a moderator at several of the panel meetings.

Dr. Mark Gass was made vice president of the Pennsylvania Radiological Society recently. He is head of the radiological department at Sunbury Community Hospital and is secretary of the Northumberland County Medical Society.

Leander Klingman died at Dayton, O. after a long illness. Mr. Klingman was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity.

Lawrence "Curly" Lawson and his family are enjoying life on his farm near New Berlin, Union County. Curly is an official of the Trailer Manufacturing & Sales Co. of Hummels Wharf.

CLASS OF 1925

Class Reporter: REV. WILLIAM D. GOLIGHTLY
708 Jefferson Ave., Scranton, Pa.

Want to catch up on adult education? Our own Dr. Andrew Hendrickson is your man. As professor of adult education at Ohio State University, Columbus, Andy has written and published a number of brochures on adult education. His Review of Post War Literature on Public School Adult Education springs from the postulate that "in a democracy, adult education is a fundamental condition of survival." As University graduates we all have a big stake in promoting adult education in our home communities. What is the situation in your home town? After earning his master's and Ph.D. degrees at Columbia, Andy taught at Western Reserve before accepting his present position at Ohio State.

CLASS OF 1926

Class Reporter: MISS ANNA L. BROWN
45 Wildwood Ave., Pitman, N. J.

Mrs. Frank Ellis (Darthea Ash) passed away on May 4, 1953. Before her death, Mrs. Ellis had been a teacher. The sympathy of the class is extended to the survivors.

IT SEEMS LIKE YESTERDAY

Twenty-five Years Ago—1929

Coeds could be down town unchaperoned until only 6 p. m. if they were in the company of a young man—10:00 if they were with other girls. The cemetery was off limits at all times.

Fraternities were permitted two social functions per semester.

CLASS OF 1931

Class Reporter: MRS. W. ZELMAN SLEIGHTER
(Ruth J. Thomas)
833 Chestnut St., Millifinburg, Pa.

George W. Johnson has recently been promoted to manager of the DuPont company's new district sales office in Detroit. George is president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Michigan-Toledo.

It is now Dr. Warren J. McClain, if you please, for Warren has earned the doctor of education degree from Rutgers University. He is, as you know, superintendent of schools of Woodbury, N. J. and has long been a leader in New Jersey educational organizations.

Arthur E. Minnier has been elected as county superintendent of schools for the Clark's Summit-Abington School District. Mr. Minnier, formerly of Fisher's Ferry, taught in the Lewisburg schools from 1931 to 1942 and had been supervising principal of Brown Township Schools, Clark's Summit-Clark's Green Schools, and Clark's Summit-Abington School District. Active in community affairs, Mr. Minnier is married to the former Dolores Stinson and has one son, Arthur. The family resides at 220 Stone Ave., Clark's Summit.

CLASS OF 1932

Class Reporter: ELLIS F. HULL
Allentown, N. J.

Those of us who got back for Alumni Day, June 12, were Lloyd S. Hoffman, Dr. John S. Fetter, Mrs. Warren C. Evans (Ella B. Bibby), Burt Pratt, and your reporter.

Burt Pratt was back to see his daughter, Patricia Pratt Knodel, graduate. If I am correct, she will make the second offspring of our class to graduate from Bucknell, Margaret Beck Brown's daughter, Jane, being the first. Patricia told me she sent her application in when she was in the sixth grade so as to be sure to be accepted by Bucknell.

I quizzed John Fetter as to news and he passed out the information that he represented Bucknell at the Jefferson College Commencement during the week of June 14.

The Rev. Dr. David J. Davis has been made president of the Board of Directors of the Florida Congregational Christian Conference for 1954-1955.

S. Kenneth Dunkerly died on March 24 at St. Joseph Hospital, Hazleton, where he had been a patient for five weeks. Mr. Dunkerly graduated from Freeland Mining and Mechanical Institute in 1928. Prior to his illness he was employed by the Department of Public Assistance in the Hazleton office and before that was connected with the engineering department of the Westinghouse Lamp Co., Bloomfield, N. J. He is survived by his wife, the former Eleanor Dodd '33, and a son, Robert Dunkerly. The sympathy of the class is extended to the survivors.

Walter F. Hopper, Jr. has been named chief, organization branch, manpower and organization division at Headquarters, Air Proving Ground Command, Elgin Air Force Base, Fla., having left USAF at the Pentagon. Walt now lives at 41 North Laurie Dr., Fort Walton Beach, Fla., with his wife, the former Jean Marie Brown '31.

Donald Mills has been elected president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Wilkes-Barre.

CLASS OF 1935

Class Reporter: MRS. FREDERICK A. STRALEY
(Metta Farrington)
Furnace Rd., R. D. 1, Lewisburg, Pa.

Martin P. Andrews brings us up-to-date on his activities in response to a special call from Alumni Headquarters. Martin reports that he is doing fine in his own sales business as a manufacturer's representative working out of Fayetteville, N. Y. You should remember that Martin married Marian Osborne '34 and they are now the proud parents of three young men, 14, 12, and 8 years.

Albert Brown, Jr. recently celebrated his 14th wedding anniversary. Al and his wife, the former Elizabeth Griffith, have no children to report, but Al is doing fine as a senior supervisor in the stores and transport department of the DuPont organization. They live at Laurel Hills, R. D., Woodstown, N. J.

CLASS OF 1937

Class Reporter: SIGMUND STOLER
215 Chestnut St., Sunbury, Pa.

From the University of Rochester comes word that Thomas Richards received a master of arts degree in sociology last spring. Already holding a bachelor of divinity degree from Colgate-Rochester, Tom was chaplain of the Federal Penitentiary at Lewisburg and a chaplain in the Eighth Air Force during World War II. Married to the former Mary Savidge '42, he is director of the Men's Service Center, Rochester, N. Y. Research work performed in satisfaction of the sociology degree requirements included conducting a research project on the Police Case Alcoholic at the Monroe County Penitentiary, N. Y. The project was conducted under a grant from the Mental Health Commission in Albany. Tom and Mary are the proud parents of Jane Eynon, born April 2. Tom writes that the baby is a great source of enjoyment to her two brothers.

Mrs. Warren L. Dentler (Frances Rockwell) writes that she is assistant to the women's editor Victoria Advocate and active in community affairs. Their present address is 511 N. George St., Victoria, Tex.

Sigmund Stoler (your reporter) had his second television play produced Sunday, July 25, at 10 o'clock, over CBS television, when "The Web," presented "A Name for Death." A fine Broadway cast, headed by Leora Dana, played the show. More plays for the same program are being planned.

CLASS OF 1940

Class Reporter: MRS. JAMES A. MILLER
(Mary McCrina)
Pattison, Tex.

DR. CARL A. BENNETT

Dr. Carl A. Bennett, whose outstanding book will be reviewed in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS, is married to the former Myra Schwan, a University of Michigan graduate in mathematics, who served as secretary to the mathematics department at Michigan when Carl was a graduate student there. She is an important part of the partnership in the preparation of Carl's books and is probably one of the world's best technical typists. Besides the usual community activities, the Bennetts have been active in the Richland (Wash.) Lutheran Church. As a hobby they raise dachshunds and Carl has served as superintendent of a number of A. K. C. dog shows. Their latest vacation was a two-week automobile trip to Alaska via the Alcan highway. Carl reports the scenery gorgeous but the dust thick.

As for your reporter, six weeks of the summer was spent at the University of Texas where Jim started on his graduate work. Another adventure was calling on Dick and Peg (Gleason '47) McGinn '49, on our trip to Houston to deposit our daughter Martha on a plane for her annual visit to Grandma. We hope to renew the acquaintance and have a Houston round-up of Bucknellians.

CLASS OF 1941

Class Reporter: MRS. WILLIAM HASSELBERGER
(Jean Steele)
1518 Westmoreland Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

Had a note from Fred Golden. He and his wife live at 170 Puritan Dr., Scarsdale, N. Y. They have two girls—Robbie, 6, and Laura Jean, 2. Fred is head of the cost department for United Merchants & Manufacturers, one of the world's largest textile firms. Glad to hear from you, Fred.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Reading '40 (M. Elizabeth Hitchcock) have a son, William D., Jr., born March 13. Their daughter Betsy is three.

Dr. William Hulley, III is looking forward to his three children, William IV, 8, John M., 6, and Mary B., 2, being the 10th, 11th, and 12th Hulleys to attend Bucknell.

CLASS OF 1942

Class Reporter: MRS. THEODORE WILKINSON
(Mary C. Forrest)
329 W. Walnut St., Lancaster, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Bayless announce the birth of a son, George R., born December 24, 1953.

John Britton is now a member of the Glifford, Graham, MacDonald, and Illig in Erie. Besides lawyering John has become owner of the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co., Erie; vice president of the Urick Foundry Co.; and has had the satisfaction seeing his hobby of golf pay-off with the Amateur Championship of Northwestern Pennsylvania in 1953. John married the former Suzanne Eckerd and they are the parents of Judith E., four.

Leslie Ehringer has been named sales representative in Washington for Capital Airlines.

Also there is another item to report this month. Walter Wenrich wrote me a very sad letter. His wife, Barbara Bailey Wenrich died in February of leukemia. She had been ill for a year. The sympathy of the class is extended to the family.

IT SEEMS LIKE YESTERDAY

Ten years ago—1944

Freshman girls were housed in the Kappa Sigma and Phi Gamma Delta houses under the surveillance of two women counselors.

The male enrollment consisted of 150 civilian students and 600 Navy recruits.

CLASS OF 1945

Class Reporter: MRS. C. FRED MOORE
(Nancy Woehling)

504C Alden Park Manor, Germantown, Phila., Pa.

Commander and Mrs. John Bacon (Phoebe Follmer) are now living at Quarters C-16, U. S. Naval Base, Philadelphia.

Charles W. Boughter and Mary C. Bell, Lewistown, were married June 27.

BIRTHS: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hammer (Marcia Beatty) have a second daughter, Laura Lynn, born April 27. Mr. and Mrs. F. Arthur Ross (Phoebe Goldsmith) have a second daughter, Nancy Ruth, born November 22, 1953. They reside at 192-15A 69th Ave., Flushing, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wagner (Rachel Arbogast) announce the birth of a son, Charles J., on March 1. A new daughter, Margaret Ruth, born December 1, 1953, to Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Young '33 (Elsie Wilson).

CLASS OF 1946

Class Reporter: MRS. LELAND C. EWING
(Betty Wells)

13851 Sylvan Ct., Oak Park Manor, Apt. 107,
Oak Park, Mich.

(Editor's Note): This will re-introduce Betty Wells Ewing as our class reporter; she is taking over to give Jeanne Phillips Harshbarger a bit of vacation. Please send your latest news to Betty at the above address where Betty and her husband, who is with Ford Motor Co., and their daughter, who just turned three, are living while their home is being finished.

Because Jeanne Phillips Harshbarger has been unable to continue as reporter, I have volunteered to take over as news-assembler. My first efforts will be brief since I learned the copy due date today and leave on vacation (New York's Thousand Islands) tomorrow.

18

Please do send in your news so we can all be in touch before our big 10th reunion.

PEGGY THOMPSON JERAMAZ

Mrs. Thomas Jeramaz (Peggy Thompson) has been appointed to the fashion staff of Time's new sports weekly, Sports Illustrated. Peggy was employed as a sport researcher for Time and a reporter for Life until her marriage in 1952. Peggy and her husband then moved temporarily to Cali, Colombia, S. A. They now reside in Hackensack, N. J.

CLASS OF 1947

Class Reporter: ROGER S. HADDON, ESQ.
243 Water St., Northumberland, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Matthews (June Stott) announce the birth of Jan Ellen on April 11. The Matthews' now live at 73 Brewster Dr., Chatham Village, Warwick, R. I. June is secretary of our growing Providence Alumni Club.

CLASS OF 1950

Class Reporter: MRS. DAVID L. MILLER
(M. Jane Kreider)
614 Penn St., New Bethlehem, Pa.

MAJOR WILLIAM H. BAUMER '50, LISTED AS PRISONER OF REDS

William H. Baumer, a 1950 graduate in mechanical engineering, was listed last June as one of 15 prisoners held by the Red Chinese for political purposes. It was 18 months prior to this news that the B-29 pilot with thousands of hours of flying time in World War II and the Korean War was listed as missing in action over Korea. His name had been released over Peiping radio in January 1953 as a prisoner held in Manchuria, but his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Baumer of Lewisburg, was warned not to trust the news as valid until reported by the Red Cross.

Ever since that time, a year and a half ago, Mrs. Baumer has been praying and believing that her son is held prisoner, that he is alive and well.

The exchange of Korean prisoners aroused hope, then became an incident in history. Still no word.

Now there is definite hope. The hoped-for Air Force telegram, telling Mrs. Baumer that Bill was alive and a prisoner, finally arrived, and every effort is being made to assure his early release.

Classmates and the university family hope for his early return.

Andrew W. Mathieson, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew R. Mathieson '20, Pittsburgh, was married to Helen Fricke, Saturday, December 5, 1953, in Overbrook, Phila. Arthur Troast '51 served as best man. After a wedding trip to Sea Island, the couple moved to 134 A. Haddon Hills Apts., Haddonfield, N. J.

In a recent letter to Forrest Brown, R. Emory Smith, Jr. writes of his interesting experiences in Edinburgh, Scotland, where he was taking post graduate courses.

Patricia Wagner continues her musical training and recently sang the role of Princess in Suor Angelica by Puccini in New York. She appeared in DeBussey's Blessed Damozel in February and early in the season sang at the Town Hall Club under the auspices of the New York Community Opera Association. She continues her studies under Miss Amy Ellerman in New York while serving as appointment clerk in a New York hospital.

Gordon P. Bechtel completed his military service in June 1953 and last year did graduate work at Stanford University.

Arthur Borden, who recently completed two years with the Marine Corps, is now employed by the Lewisburg Builders Supply Co.

We recently learned that Forrest Brown, Jr., recently discharged from the Army, is on the personnel staff of the research laboratories of DuPont in Wilmington. His address is 135A Martin Lane, Monroe Park Apts., Wilmington, Del.

CLASS OF 1951

Class Reporter: MISS FRANCES WILKINS
Apt. 62, 1316 New Hampshire Ave., Washington, D. C.

From Mullica Hill, N. J., the telephone number of Barbara Snyder Acton and Charles. Don't bother to use the telephone book; you won't find it there. For news about these two, may your reporter suggest you call Swedesboro 7-0149J11.

Also from New Jersey, June Simon Robinson and husband Tom send news of a son born January 20. David Franklin is the lad's name. To bring some of you up to date, June worked for two and a half years after graduation for Bell Telephone, married in April 1953, honeymooned in Bermuda, and is now at 169 Forest Ave., Lyndhurst, N. J.

Another Jerseyite, Kitty Klotz Irland reminds us that she and husband Ned are at 488 White St., Apt. 101, Orange, N. J., with daughter Karen Elaine who appeared last October 9.

Now living in Washington at 5702 Sherrier Place are Herb Zearfoss, U. S. N., and wife "Charlie" McCarthy. Welcome to the nation's capital.

Vea Abronski '53 LePard and husband Jim '52 have left the capital for civilian life. Jim is now an employee of Alcoa and undergoing a training course.

Dr. Joseph M. Blackburn spent the past summer as an interne at the Danville State Hospital, Danville.

CLASS OF 1952

Class Reporter: MISS BARBARA SEGELKEN
26 Fairmount Ave., Morristown, N. J.

Alexander "Scottie" Gamble, genial alumni president, has spent too much time in casts in Veterans Hospitals and we are pleased to say that he is now as spry as a campus chipmunk. Scotty and his family will soon be leaving Lewisburg to begin his teaching at Haddon Heights High School, N. J.

(Continued on Page 23)

BOOK SHELF

EDWIN EWART AUBREY '19, A.M. '21, B.D. '22, Ph.D., '26, D.D. '39.

Secularism A Myth.

Harper and Brothers, N. Y.

According to Dr. Edwin E. Aubrey, Professor of Religious Thought at the University of Pennsylvania, Christian leaders and theologians have used the term "secularism" to cover all the conditions of society which they want to criticize. The reports of the Ecumenical conferences during the past three decades reveal that "secularism" has been used to designate at least twenty-six conditions including "rationalism," "philosophy," "democratic faith," "intellectualism," "moralism," and "historical method when applied to the biblical revelation." It is Dr. Aubrey's contention that this indiscriminate use of the term is unjustified and that the relationship of the religious with the secular needs to be redefined. Secularism A Myth was written to help fulfill this need.

Chapter I, "The Churches' Attack on Secularism," considers the recent statements of Ecumenical leaders regarding secularism. Chapter II, "Christianity and Secular Thought Since the Renaissance," discusses the relationship of Christian thought and western culture. Chapter III, "The Secular Involvement of Religion," indicates how non-Christian practices and ideas have become part of the life of the Christian Church. Chapter IV, "Spiritual Values in Secular Movements," indicates that the religious significance of the secular and suggests that in all fairness the Christian ought to acknowledge the secular contributions to the welfare of men. Chapter V, "Religious Experience and Secular Thought," treats the relationship of revelation and faith to reason. Chapter VI, "A Christian Strategy," points out how the church can more effectively make its message relevant to society.

Dr. Aubrey's book is a corrective to neo-orthodox theology's inclination to draw sharp lines between church and society, the religious and the secular. It is a reminder that no manifestation of religious faith has a monopoly on either truth or virtue; that secular movements can and do reflect a deep religious concern. In many cases religious and secular movements ought to co-operate. The author points out that the real enemies of the church are not the secular movements as such. "The real enemies are such exemplars of greed as the unscrupulous merchant or the power-hungry secretary of a church board or the corrupt political leader; such hypocrites as the scheming diplomat, the evasive teacher of social problems or the preacher who guards his reputation for eloquence at the expense of honest thinking in his sermons; such oppression as that of the domineering wife or father, of the tyrannical trustee of a college, or the autocratic bishop in the church. In other words, the church has no corner on goodness and the secular movements have no corner on badness . . ." (p. 136).

Secularism A Myth is thorough, convincing, and—in contrast to Continental theology—exceedingly refreshing. Its content is drawn from a wide variety of sources and the book is documented throughout. Dr. Aubrey, with his deliberative and imaginative mind, lifts the reader above all ecclesiastical and theological dogmatism and arrogance and provides a vigorous and cogent discussion of one of the most important issues in religion—thought.

MAKE C. EBERSOLE,

Assistant Professor of Religion,
Bucknell University

CHARLES C. FRIES '09, A.M. '11, Ph.D. '22, D.Lit. '46.

American English Series. Books I and II.

D. C. Heath & Co.

Grammar, taken in its broadest sense as the study of language, has two sub-divisions: descriptive, which attempts to discover how people speak and listen, write and read, and prescriptive, normative or "school" grammar, which attempts to tell people how they should behave linguistically.

Ideally, prescriptive grammar should be based on the findings of descriptive grammar. Actually, until quite recently it has chiefly consisted of an accumulation of precepts, largely prescriptive ("Don't do this, avoid that"), based on the prejudices of writers of textbooks, who often used paste and shears to follow the "rules" of earlier writers.

In this century descriptive grammar has made astounding advances. But until recently complaint was made that the descriptive grammarians had done little to make their findings useful to the schools. That criticism is no longer valid.

One of the half-dozen leading grammarians in this country is Charles C. Fries, Bucknell '09. For a generation he has been publishing the results of extensive research into the behavior of English-speaking persons past and present. In 1940 appeared his epoch-making American English Grammar. In the following years he applied the results of his studies to the development of the six-volume Intensive Course in English for Latin-American Students, which was then adapted to the needs of students coming from other languages. Emphasizing the "oral approach," this series became the most highly regarded text in this country for intensive study of every-day English. Not only the more than 2,500 students in the English Language Institute at the University of Michigan have profited by this work; it has been of value to the many teachers of English abroad who were trained at Michigan, and by others who learned method from it.

Now there have appeared the first books of a series developed by Dr. Fries with the aid of the Director of the English Section of the Department of Education of Puerto Rico, Professor Pauline Rojas, and her staff, for use in the elementary schools of that island and elsewhere.

The service which will be rendered by these beautifully printed and attractively illustrated volumes can hardly be overstated. The population of the tiny island has doubled during the half-century since Puerto Rico was freed from Spain. The combination of public health measures and resistance by reactionary elements to limitation of births, has accentuated an already acute problem of over-population.

For that reason, despite the enlightened policies of Governor Munoz Marin, the mass movement of our Puerto Rican fellow-citizens to the continental United States seems bound to continue. And despite the existence of a small fanatical anti-American group, which has prejudiced uninformed persons against them, Puerto Ricans in general are peaceful industrious folk who can make a great contribution to our culture. But they can do this only if they can speak and understand American English. Until the language barrier is overcome they cannot make the contribution they are capable of. In this situation the great value of the Fries series is clear.

LEO L. ROCKWELL '07

CHARLES FRANCIS POTTER '07, A.M. '16.

The Faiths Men Live By.

Prentice-Hall, Inc., N. Y., 1954.

This excellent and readable survey of the faiths by which men live covers a surprising amount of religious territory. In twenty brief chapters, Dr. Potter pictures the many living religions of the Far and Near East, as well as most of the major divisions of Christianity found in our country. An appendix outlines even more briefly the main characteristics of some of the fringe religious sects in America.

This is not a book written for theologians. And therein lies its main attraction. During commencement week, Bertrand Library featured this book in one of its displays of the accomplishments of distinguished Bucknellians. The display included a copy of the original typescript, with corrections by the author, the galley proofs and page proofs, and a letter explaining how the book came to be written. The letter tells how in 1947 the editor of Fawcett Publications had challenged Dr. Potter to "climb down off (his) Atlantic Monthly highhorse and visit America." The result was a series of 17 articles which appeared in True Confessions magazine, outlining the faiths of the world and of America, written in such a way that theological education was not a prerequisite for understanding. It is these articles, revised and expanded, that appear in The Faiths Men Live By.

Each chapter is best described as a word picture of a given faith or religious practice. The minute detail of theological abstraction is omitted, and with a pen seemingly experienced at description, Dr. Potter "paints" pleasing and interesting sketches of the people who live by each faith. The sketches are made real by the inclusion of brief stories and religious legends which illustrate the way believers think and act, and also by the inclusion, in most cases, of an equally brief biography of the founder of each faith. Thus each faith is described in terms of its people, rather than in terms of its philosophical concepts.

One does not have the feeling that the brevity in this case is equal to superficiality. Each description would doubtless fall far short of satisfying an avid believer, and yet in those instances where this reviewer is qualified to judge, Dr. Potter shows both a knowledge of and an appreciation for the faith he is describing.

It is inevitable, however, that in a book dealing with religion an author's own convictions should be frequently apparent. The one chapter which does become theological is that dealing with the Humanists and related groups, and it is not difficult to discern that Dr. Potter is describing here his own faith.

In certain other places, also, the author's own convictions have influenced his selection and presentation of material. To one who has rejected the so-called externals of the Christian faith, these externals of customary Christian practice can easily stand out and seem to be all. So it is that Christians are said to "worship Jesus," and the sketch of Roman Catholicism is woven around the practice of the veneration of relics.

But selection according to some principle is essential in any book of this sort, and for such a task as this Dr. Potter's broad tolerance is without doubt more of an asset than a liability. He has done an excellent job with a difficult task, and his book is both enjoyable and informative.

MOSE BETTISON, Minister,
First Baptist Church, Lewisburg.

THE BUCKNELL AMBULANCE UNITS 1917-1919

Reunion to Be Held at Homecoming

Thirty-five years is a rather long stretch between reunions but the Bucknell Ambulance Sections 524 and 525 are going to remedy that situation by holding a first reunion of the sections at Homecoming time, October 23. The plans call for a special dinner on Saturday evening, October 23, following the Homecoming game with Lafayette.

The fifty Bucknellians who left their studies on the campus in 1917 after enlistment in the Bucknell Ambulance Units have never been properly recognized in the history of Bucknell activities. This does not infer that the contributions of the hundreds of other Bucknellians who volunteered for military service in World War I are less important than the work of the Ambulance Units. But since the ambulance men were recruited as units on the campus there should be a complete record of the University-organized group. The present article is a first attempt to bring together the record of this All-Bucknell organization.

Now to review some of the organizational facts available in the files of the University. Fifty Bucknellians were recruited for the Bucknell Ambulance Units early in 1917. Although 36 men comprised a full company, Bucknell was credited with two units. Each unit was composed of 20 ambulance drivers, 3 touring car drivers, 12 repairmen, and 1 clerk.

Led by Lt. George H. Clapp the company left the Bucknell campus in June 1917 for Camp Crane in Allentown, traveling by special car. On arrival at Camp Crane they became sections 524 and 525 of the U. S. Army Ambulance Corps, commonly known as the USAACS. While at Camp Crane, Reginald S. Newbury '17 died of pneumonia. He was the first Bucknell student to die in service in World War I.

The records show that in April 1918 the Bucknell Alumni Club of Philadelphia, instead of holding their regular spring banquet, contributed the banquet money to a fund for the Bucknell Ambulance Units.

The following is a chronological account as near as can be learned of the activities of Section 524:

May 29, 1917—Mustered into service as enlisted men for the duration of the war. Furloughed to June 9, 1917. Left Lewisburg as a company at 8:37 a. m., for Camp Crane, Allentown, Pa. At Allentown, received inoculations, practiced driving Ford ambulances, went on 10-day hike, and returned to Camp Crane.

January 9, 1918—Left Allentown by rail and sailed the same day from Jersey City on S. S. Carmania.

January 12—Left Halifax harbor in convoy of 10 other ships and cruiser North Carolina.

January 23-March 7—Arrived at Liverpool, spent 10 days in rest camp at Winchester and then crossed the English Channel; reached St. Nazaire on the later date.

March 13—Cy Follmer rejoined the outfit after having been left at Winchester with the measles.

March 14-22—Engaged in baseball series with other sections without losing a game.

March 27—Moved to Ferrieres-Gatinos, the section base camp.

May 31-June 2—Moved to Paris and from there with ambulances went to Versailles.

June 4—Started working with 2nd Division, evacuating men wounded in the fight at Belleau Woods.

June 8—Lt. Dean Sturgis of the 23rd Infantry, a former Bucknell football star, is brought in for medical attention.

July 15—Bonnie Banks had elbow hit by shrapnel at Red Cross hospital at Neuilly.

July 16—Anderson, Jones, Larson and Merget captured by Germans at front line dressing station.

July 22-August 17—Moved back and forth to several areas. Finally arrived on later date at Bonnet. During this time Bloomfield, Redcay, Rinebold, were hit by shrapnel, Shorty Bell was gassed and Jack Paul was killed while in a dressing station where doctor was trying to remove a piece of shrapnel from his hip.

September 3—Received a Sectional Citation from the General of the 3rd Division. Assigned to 6th Division.

September 4-November 15—Moved to several areas on assignment in succession to 1st Army Corps, 77th Division and 6th Division; arrived at Verdun on later date.

November 16—Armistice celebration dinner with roast chicken and all the fixings.

November 24—Anne Morgan had Sunday dinner with the section at Chateau-Thierry—and we had chicken.

January 18, 1919—Announced that Sgt. McDermott, Bill Rinebold, and Jack Paul had received the D. S. C. for work done at Fismes.

January 18-June 11, 1919—No record of activities available except that the section had worked with 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 6th, 28th, 30th, 42nd, and 77th Divisions fighting in all the American sectors except at Saint Mihiel. During this period the section basketball team of Gaenzle, Mangan, Bonnie Banks, Siple and Jones won the championship of Paris and entered the A. E. F. finals but lost the A. E. F. championship due to injuries.

June 11, 1919—Discharged at Camp Dix after returning to the states on the cruiser St. Louis.

The following is a chronological account, as near as can be learned, of the activities of section 525:

May 29, 1917—Mustered into service as enlisted men for "the duration of the war." Furloughed to June 9, 1917.

June 9—Left Lewisburg as a company at 8:37 a. m., for Camp Crane, Allentown, Pa. Drilled, lectures, not enough uniforms to go around. Received inoculations, practiced driving Ford ambulances, went on 10 day hike and soon after returned to camp. On July 19 started preparations to go overseas.

August 7—Left Allentown and sailed same day from Hoboken, N. J., in first contingent to leave the camp. Sailed on S. S. Antilles, a "Banana Boat," with 5 ships in convoy.

August 20—Arrived St. Nazaire, France. Remained in camp there to assemble Ford ambulances and drove off in them in convoy September 29, 1917.

October 9—Arrived at front line near Verdun to take over from American Field Service one day before American infantry took over a sector of front line to the right. Served in campaigns around Verdun—later at Oise-Aisne, Aisne-Marne, Champagne and finally went to Alsace where they were when the war ended. All the service was with the 63rd and later with the 68th French Army Division (from Bordeaux district). After the armistice the division occupied the town of Neulhouse in Alsace and remained in that vicinity until March 1919. Went by train to Brest, sailing for home in April, and demobilized at end of the month from Camp Dix, N. J.

Unit 525, with its commander, Lt. H. H. Parsons, arrived back at Bucknell in May 1919 after 23 months of active service in France. Every man wore French Croix de Guerre and a Division Citation Ribbon. The day of their arrival the University officials declared a holiday in order that students could join the townspeople of Lewisburg in a parade welcoming the men home. The officers of unit number 525 were Lt. George H. Clapp, 1st. Sgt. Alex Chalfant, Sgt. Allen Willson, Corp. Leroy Clark, Company Clerk E. R. Bainbridge. Later Lt. Clapp was replaced and early in 1918 Lt. (later Major) Henry L. Bibby became leader. In August 1918, Lt. H. H. Parsons took over and stayed with the unit until its return to the United States. Walter Beyer became a sergeant.

Bucknell is justly proud of all of her sons and their service to the nation and would like to make a lasting memorial record of every military man. Perhaps we can start by gathering together a more complete record of these campus units. The achievements of these Bucknellians while in service and since have been a sterling example for those who have followed.

There follows a list of the Bucknellians, classified as far as possible by unit, recruited on the campus. The names of other men who were not Bucknellians but were added to the units at Camp Crane are also included. The class year listed is the class with which the man entered Bucknell but is not necessarily the year of graduation as now recorded on the University records. If you can add names and addresses, your help will be greatly appreciated.

This is an alphabetical list of the men who went to France with the Bucknell University Ambulance Unit, Section 524, during World War I:

Bruce L. Banks, Bucknell '18, Richard T. Carvolth '19, Clarence A. Davis '19, Robert Downing '17, Cyrus B. Follmer '16, John T. Gaenzle '19, Albert L. Gandy '19, William R. Heckendorn '18, Arnold R. Kerth '20, Francis Pat McDermott '19, Thomas J. Mangan '19, Harry W. Mathers '23, St. Claire Murray '17, Reginald S. Newbury '17, Emerson V. Peck '19, William J. Rinebold '20, Frank H. Ritter '18, Gurney C. Seeber '19, Charles B. Siple '17, Daniel R. Steele '18.

Lionel G. Algoren, George J. Bell, Herbert W. Bloomfield, Jr., Frederick R. Bromley, George S. Dix, Clarence Eiler, Edgar A. Forsyth, Jr., R. B. Grubb, Thomas W. Harris, Joseph J. Hendel, Alfred P. Jones, John E. Kaufmann, Erwin E. Larson, H. R. Lyons, Lynn Lyons, W. P. Merget, Lyman D. O'Barr, Frank C. Olds, John S. Paul, Fred L. Pearse, John R. Redcay, Frank S. Richardson, Philip Shay, Martin L. Spangler, William B. Sprague, Lt. John B. Stearns, Robert H.

(Continued on Page 23)

Sudden Death of Dr. Robbins Shocks Campus

Dr. Harry W. Robbins, 71, head of the Department of English until his very recent retirement on June 14, died suddenly on the 19th of that same month. No record of ill health preceded his death. He was amidst plans for a trip to his summer home in Vermont when he was stricken.

A native of Vermont, Dr. Robbins, known by those who loved and revered him as "Robbie," was a graduate of Brown University where he received his A.B., liked the school so much that he stayed to earn his M.A. in 1908; he received his Ph.D. from the University of Minnesota in 1923. His wife, the former Florence Bliss Lyon of Plymouth, Mass., whom he married in 1910, survives him. They had no children.

Many articles have been written in admiration and memory of Robbie. The June 1954 issue of the ALUMNUS carried on page 8 a feature "Robbie Retires." Therein were poured the thoughts and feeling of all of us who knew him and are now unable to pick up the Western World Literature text or pass the Vaughan Lit English office without reflecting upon the very full life of accomplishment that Robbie led. He was a member of First Baptist Church, Lewisburg; Lambda Chi Alpha; a founder and past president of the Bucknell chapter, Phi Beta Kappa; the American Association of University Professors; Early English Text Society; and Le Societe des Anciens Textes Francais.

We find a most suitable summation of insight into Robbie's character in the 1953 L'Agenda, feelingly dedicated to him. Part of this dedication read:

"Beneath the seeming New England austerity that is characteristic of Dr. Harry W. Robbins lies a Frostian humour, a gentle understanding of the minds of men, and a scholarly mind rich in literature and in life. During his seventy years, 'Robbie' has been a football player and a journeyman printer, an army captain, a high school teacher, and for the past thirty years, a professor of English . . .

"The rigors of academic duties have never succeeded in hiding the twinkle in his eyes, his almost boyish satisfaction over a good bridge hand, or the dry wit expressed in muted asides. Students who penetrate the Vermont severity discover that 'Robbie' is both warm and kind, that he has a keen awareness and an understanding that can spring only from years of studying, of reading, and of living."

Yes, his physical self lies in the shaded Lewisburg cemetery with the roar of Route 15 near by, but his spirit and his many students will live on and learn on. As Reverend Morse Bettison said at Dr. Robbins' funeral, "a teacher and what he imparts are never forgotten." And truly Robbie was a great teacher, scholar, and friend.

Manchester '08 Dies

Bucknellians were shocked to learn of the unexpected death of Edwin R. Manchester '08 from a heart attack suffered while he and his wife were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sisson (Marion G. Coe '27) in Factoryville over the July 4th weekend.

Mr. Manchester, who resided in Wilmington, was editor of the DuPont magazine for 32 years until his retirement in September 1950. Prior to his joining the DuPont Company in 1918 he served as a school teacher, auditor, publicity director, advertising manager and editor for a number of organizations in the Scranton area. Since his graduation from Bucknell in 1908 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts in jurisprudence, he had been an ardent alumni worker and took a large part in the organization of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Wilmington. He was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, the Kiwanis Club of Wilmington, Exchange Club, Westminster Presbyterian Church, and Masonic organizations.

The University and his classmates of 1908 extend sincere sympathy to his wife, the former Kathryn E. Reynolds and his daughter, Elizabeth M. Manchester '35, who is assistant director of the Children's Bureau of Delaware. His only son, Capt. Edwin R. Manchester, Jr. was killed on a bombing mission over Germany in 1943.

Ed was highly regarded by his home town associates, as attested in an editorial appearing in the Wilmington Press a few days after his death, which read in part as follows: "As editor of the DuPont Magazine during the time when DuPont was going through its great diversification, Ed Manchester's byline became nationally known. Following the path of the company's products he descended coal mine shafts, stood in dusty quarries, watched great dams built, and peered into the intricate glass maze of chemical laboratories. He wrote of what he saw in spare, unadorned fashion, and with a passion for accuracy which led his publication to be accepted with the same confidence accorded a text.

"A quiet, unassuming man, with a ready smile and dry wit, he was on first-name-calling status with the generation of men who brought DuPont to its present status in the chemical industry and American industry.

Wally Diehl '26 Dies

Glenn Walter "Wally" Diehl '26, one of Bucknell's greatest fullbacks and one-time captain of the Bison herd, passed away at his home in Somerton last May 29. Wally was 49 when he died. He will never be forgotten by Bucknellians and fans who followed his years at Bucknell and, later, his playing for, and coaching of, the Frankford Yellowjackets (forerunners of the Philadelphia Eagles).

Wally was married in 1929 to Ora Cooper '29 whose father, Dr. Charles D. Cooper '05, captained the Bucknell pigskins in his undergraduate days. Ora's mother, the former Cottie Albright '05, is the fourth Bucknellian in this family.

A native of Mt. Carmel where he played high school football, Wally Diehl attended the University of Pennsylvania for one year during which he captained the freshman football team there. Transferring to the 300 acres, he spent three years on the field here during which time George "Lefty" James '30, now coach at Cornell, was a teammate.

Wally is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Thomas E. Morrow and Claire Cooper, 14, and two sons, John Albright, 18, and Charles Walter, 16. Both sons follow in the football loving footsteps of their famous dad.

He was constantly doing small kindnesses for his friends, a fact which makes his passing cut the deeper among all who were privileged to know him."

Worthen '53 Wins Cadillac

Hugh J. Worthen receiving congratulations from Walter Winchell for winning first prize in Winchell's Damon Runyon Cancer Fund essay contest, while Marilyn Smith '55, Hugh's wife-to-be looks on. (They were married later on August 7).

Hugh's winning essay on the theme "Why I Could Never Be A Communist" was as follows:

"A free man has a certain dignity, of which even poverty cannot deny him. His voice, however small, can be heard. Communism, which robs men of their freedom, dignity and voice, can hold no promise high enough to compensate for loss of my identity as a human being."

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS is published in January, March, May, September, and November by Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa.

Member—American Alumni Council

OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION

WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, President, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York.
JOHN F. WORTH '37, First Vice President, 233 N. Galveston St., Arlington, Va.
MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), Second Vice-President, 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh 6, Pa.
DAYTON L. RANCK '16, Treasurer, 35 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa.
JOHN H. SHOTT '22, Secretary and Editor, 116 Faculty Court, Lewisburg, Pa.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York (1955)
JOSEPH T. QUICK '38, Wright Rd., R. D. 2, Newtown, Pa. (1955)
MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa. (1955)
CLAIR G. SPANGLER '25, 214 N. Sixth St., Reading, Pa. (1955)
JOHN F. WORTH '37, 233 N. Galveston St., Arlington, Va. (1955)
MRS. BROWN FOCHT (Florence Utt '26), 229 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa. (1956)
BRUCE J. MILLER '27, 112 Devoe Rd., Chappaqua, N. Y. (1956)
ALLEN A. RARIG '29, 528 Lindbergh Way, Lewistown, Pa. (1956)
DONALD H. SHOLL '42, Munn Lane E., R. D. 1, Haddonfield, N. J. (1956)
P. HERBERT WATSON '37, 67 Prospect Ave., Norristown, Pa. (1956)
MRS. CHARLES E. COPELAND (Amorita Sesinger '22), 85-10 34th Ave., Jackson Heights, N. Y. (1955)
J. NORMAN DAVIES '26, 1112 Mill St., Wilkinsburg, Pa. (1957)
WILMER D. GREULICH '34, 715 Greythorne Rd., Wynnewood, Pa. (1957)
FRANCIS B. HAAS, JR. '47, 2917 N. Front St., Harrisburg, Pa. (1957)
W. CARL SPROUT '08, Mitchell Apts., North and Front St., Harrisburg, Pa. (1957)

() Year Term Expires.

Alumni Trustee Time Table

- June Commencement—Appointment of Committee on Nominations for Alumni Trustee.
- August 15—Letter to Alumni Club Presidents.
- September 1—Follow-up to Alumni Club Presidents.
- September 15—Letter to representative Alumni, Alumni Class Presidents, Alumni Fund Representatives, Past Presidents of the Alumni Association, and former Alumni Trustees.
- October 18—Deadline for receiving suggestions to be considered by Nominations Committee.
- October 23—Meeting of Nominating Committee.
- November 20—Nominations Committee submits three candidates to the President of the Association.
- December 20—Deadline for Board approval.
- January ALUMNUS (about Jan. 15)—Announcement of names of three candidates in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.
- February 21—Petition deadline.
- April 1—Ballots in mail; Election announcement in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.
- May 16—Deadline for receiving ballots in Alumni Office.
- June Commencement—Certification to Board of Trustees.

THE SIXTH FUND REPORT—1953-1954

The 1953-1954 Fund established new high marks in every category of Fund measurement when the Sixth Fund Year closed the books on June 30, 1954.

The results:

An increase of 2.6% in percentage of participation.

An increase of $7,275.52 in total gifts.

A 33.2% increase in total dollar gifts.

A 8.9% increase in average gift.

Most classes showed a healthy growth. How did your class stand? Which classes will share the honor of having their Class Numeral Banners flying over the stadium on Homecoming Day? The answers to these and other questions will be published in the Sixth Annual Report of the Bucknell Alumni Fund, which will reach you by mail late in September. Be on the look-out for it.

Bucknell Ambulance Units

(Continued from Page 20)

Steele, Douglas H. Williams, John Y. Willis, John H. Wood.

This is an alphabetical list of the men who went to France with the Bucknell University Ambulance Unit, Section 525, during World War I:

Thomas W. Agnew, Bucknell '20, Charles M. Bashore '19, George H. Beattie '19, Leroy P. Calkins '17, Alex H. Chalfant '19, Leroy G. Clark '18, Donald B. Cloward '19, Frederick E. Duffee '19, Gardner Wade Earle '15, Charles M. Emerick '19, Howard V. Fisher '13, Roland N. Gragg, Academy; Allen E. Lees '20, Lester E. Lighton '20, Gilbert J. Meredith '15, Emerson R. Miller '20, James Frederick Moore '20, Charles A. Reed '18, Warren S. Reed '20, Julius F. Seebach, Jr. '18, Don B. Shipman '17, Walter B. Shoffstall '18, Grover R. Short, Bucknell '20, Harold A. Stewart '19, Everett E. Stone '18, Harry V. Thomas '19, John B. Vanderbilt '20, John P. Williams, Academy; Allen F. Willson '20, John Clayton Yon '18.

Ellwood R. Bainbridge, Robert H. Barr, Walter H. Beyer, Henry L. Bibby, Paul B. Binder, Lt. _____ Buckley, Edw. Casey, George H. Clapp, Spurgeon Cross (Colgate), Vern C. Davison, Harvey N. Dorn, _____ Fuhs or Fuchs, Flint M. Gregg, Donald L. Gutelius, F. C. Hanlin, Lionel H. Harris (Columbia), Frederick W. Jones, Paul V. Kelly, W. A. La Fleur, James A. Lee, Vincent J. Lucia, Alfred H. MacGregor, _____ McDonald, Romeo C. Martell, _____ Mowry, Lt. H. H. Parsons, Lt. _____ Reed, Clinton Straub, _____ Thornburg, Lt. _____ Wallace.

These men were also members of the Bucknell University Ambulance Unit, but we do not know to which unit they belonged:

John E. Catherman, Ralph P. Griffith, R. B. Grubb, Floyd Harmon, John R. Kaufman '20, William T. Windsor '15.

Class Reports

(Continued from Page 18)

CADET ROBERT J. GRICE

Cadet Robert J. Grice is now qualified as a carrier pilot after six successful landings aboard the light aircraft carrier USS Monterey in the Gulf of Mexico.

The Rev. and Mrs. Peyton L. Palmore, II (Mary Lou Hind) headed for Japan on August 12 with the blessing of the Methodist Board of Missions. Both Mary Lou and her husband have graduated from Yale Divinity School and will be assigned to a church overseas. Their address: Interhaard House, 4 of 12 Shiba Keah, Minatu Ku, Tokyo, Japan.

Phyllis Jean Vandenberg is now assistant to the director of admissions at Wilson College, Chambersburg.

CLASS OF 1953

Class Reporter: MRS. JAMES A. CHAMBERS
(Barbara Roemer)
Boulevard Apts., 8 Clark St., Lodi, N. J.

Second Lieutenants Roy Cunningham, Greg Bowen, and Charlie Swope have recently completed their officer basic course at the Marine Corps School, Quantico, Va. Bill Buliek who also has completed his officer course at Great Lakes, Ill., has been assigned to Camp Pendleton, Calif.

ROBERT R. DODSON, JR.

Bob Dodson graduated from the U. S. Naval School, Pre-Flight as Naval Aviation Cadet. He has been assigned to the U. S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Whiting Field, Milton, Fla.

Paul F. Evans has purchased a home in Antioch, Ill., 1060 Victoria St. He has acquired a private pilot license, too!

Clarence P. Gardei received his master's degree at Purdue University on May 30. He has accepted a position with the personnel department of the General Telephone Corporation of Indiana.

Chuck Hetzel received his master's degree in physiology and bio-chemistry at Rutgers University.

Karl Rohrbach has been elected to teach mathematics and social studies in the Lewisburg High School.

Pfc. Jim Harrod is serving as company clerk with a medical company in the Army in Germany. Pvt. Jeff Thompson is now stationed at Fort Knox, Ky. He met Jack Taylor '52 also stationed at Fort Knox.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Washburn have moved to the Loreman Apartments in Riverside, a suburb of Danville, Pa. Fred is employed by Geisinger Memorial Hospital—Foss Clinic.

Ensign Len Ahlfeld is serving with the U. S. Navy in London, on the staff of the Commander in Chief of the U. S. Naval Forces, Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean. He was married in June to Judy Esmay '54 in London.

Word from Young & Rubican advertising is that Joan Lafferandre is now a copywriter with her own office—complete with name on the door.

Lou (Thorne) and Ed Luce are the proud parents of a son, Stephen Craig, born June 10. Lou and Ed's address is 818 West Main Rd., Apt. A-1, Middletown, R. I.

Got a cra-azy letter from Betti Schellenberg and Leila Feifer last May. Schelli graduated from the University of Florida in 1953 and Lee has just completed a course at Katharine Gibbs, New York. Their address is 27 West 70th St., New York 23, N. Y. Good to hear from you.

GEORGE F. LUM

It is with regret that we announce the death of George F. Lum who died as a result of an automobile accident near Austin, Pa. George was working for the Penna. Dept. of Highways as a testing engineer, on the Sinnamahoning road and dam project. He had resigned from the job and accepted a job with a firm of consulting engineers in Harrisburg. After a few weeks' vacation at his sister's home in New York City, he was to start the new job. George had spent the last 12 years in China just before entering Bucknell in 1950. The sympathy of the class is extended to the survivors.

CLASS OF 1954

Class Reporter: MISS DOROTHY M. DIORIO
439 Cleveland Ave., York, Pa.

Paul F. Andrus and Joyce Bevan were married June 5. They will reside in Hartford, Conn. where Paul is employed by an engineering firm.

R. Danforth Crossley II has enrolled in Temple University School of Medicine, Phila.

Peggy Hines and Thomas Reimensnyder, Milton, were married July 18.

June Christ and Dick Klemm '53 were married February 21st and are now residing at Fort Smith, Ark. Dick is an instructor in artillery at Camp Chaffee.

Joan Hanto and Len VonHeill '52 were married February 27th and are living in Roosevelt, L. I., N. Y.

The New Alumni President Looks At The Year Ahead

I am assuming that you are interested in Bucknell, else why would you be reading this? It is about that interest of yours—and the year that lies ahead—which I write.

There are 15,000 of us Bucknellians. Our interest ranges all the way from active participation in alumni affairs and life at the University today to no interest at all! But ranging somewhere in between is a vast group that has only a moderate interest in Bucknell—perhaps only enough to read this message.

It is to all of you—keen interest or moderate—that I bring the encouraging news that never before has the state of health of our alumni organization been more sound.

Thanks to the leadership of my immediate predecessor, Emily Kelly, and to Andy Mathieson and Buck Shott and all the other loyal alumni workers, we have:

A wonderfully-organized annual alumni weekend which this past June had a record 1,050 in attendance at luncheon.

Our Alumni Fund at an all-time high.

An encouraging 50 alumni clubs active during the past year.

BUT, just to deflate the balloon a little, let's look at these two facts:

Contributors to the Alumni Fund represent only 18 percent of our eligible alumni!

A survey of 135 members of one of this year's reuning classes showed that 90 had no affiliation with a local alumni club!

There's still a big job to be done if we are to end the year that lies ahead with even greater alumni spirit and enthusiasm. Here are some suggestions:

Talk Bucknell among your friends and acquaintances—help in recruiting top-quality prospective students for Bucknell.

Get interested in local alumni club activities—if there is no club, why not organize one?

Contribute regularly to the Alumni Fund in proportion to your ability.

Come back to the campus whenever you can, especially on Alumni Weekend in June or at Homecoming.

To you who already know the satisfaction of loyal alumni interest and support, we look forward to your continued help. And to you who, in the past, may have been only "moderately interested" we say, "Come on in, the water's fine!"

WILLIAM S. (BILL) LIMING, '33, President,
General Alumni Association.

The

BUCKNELL

ALUMNUS

Clyde P. Bailey '29 Heads Alumni Fund

CLYDE P. BAILEY '29

Another "charter" member of the alumni fund program became chairman of the Bucknell Alumni Annual-Giving Fund at the beginning of the fund year, July 1, 1954. He is Clyde P. Bailey of the Class of 1929. Taking over the chairmanship from Andy Mathieson '20, who last year established new highs for the Fund in percentage of participation, total dollars contributed, number of contributors, and average gift, Clyde has outlined a program of activity that will bring the story of the Fund and the financial needs of Alma Mater to the doorsteps of thousands of Bucknellians during the coming year. Already a group of potentially large givers have had a personal message on fund needs from Clyde. Last year, as chairman of the pilot program of personal solicitation for the Fund in Allegheny County, he recruited five captains and 20 agents who called on 163 Bucknellians and received "on the spot" contributions from over half of them, many of whom were first time donors.

Clyde's activities on the campus as a student, both curricular and extra-curricular, were pointed towards his career as a lawyer. Active in the Pre-Legal Fraternity, he served as its president and debated against Oxford University. He was secretary of the Senior Tribunal in his senior year. A member of Phi Lambda Theta, he was president in his senior year, and after graduation, was chosen president of the national body in 1935. In addition to all these student activities he was assistant to the University Registrar during almost his entire stay in college.

He earned his LL.B. at Duquesne University Law School in 1933 and immediately entered the practice of law in Pittsburgh and over the years he has argued a number of precedent-setting cases before the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. He is now a partner in the law firm of Weller, Wicks & Wallace, Pittsburgh.

In Bucknell Alumni affairs he has always shown an interest, and activity in all University fund-raising campaigns followed as a matter of course. Chairman of the Pittsburgh area in the Bucknell 100th Anniversary Gift Campaign and the Heating Plant Campaign just naturally led to an early activity in the Alumni Annual-Giving Program. A former president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Western Pennsylvania, and president of the General Alumni Association in 1947-48, he was nominated as a member of the Board of Trustees of Bucknell University, serving a six-year term which ended just this year.

It was perhaps inevitable that Clyde should have a 100% Bucknell family. He married the former N. Dorothy Lemon of the Class of 1929, and their son, Jack, who graduated from Bucknell in 1953, soon thereafter married Sally Lee Dietrich of the Class of 1954. A second son, now in high school, is expected to enter as a freshman upon graduation from high school. The Baileys live at 16 Churchill Road, Pittsburgh.

The Cover Pictures

The front cover shows Dr. Norman H. Stewart, professor of zoology, climbing the hill to Taylor Hall just as he has for over forty years, but there's a new gleam in his eye this fall as he anticipates the improved facilities available in the newly renovated building.

The back cover portrays plaques mounted in the rebuilt Taylor Hall by the Philadelphia Bucknell Alumni Association as a tribute to the late S. Dale Spotts '18 and the plaque provided by the "Doctors For Bucknell." Other plaques in the building mark gifts from the Bucknell Fathers' Association; the late John Houghton Harris, Bucknell Trustee; the gift of O. V. W. Hawkins '18, Bucknell Trustee, and Mrs. Hawkins, the former Marian K. Harman '14 in memory of Mrs. Hawkins' parents, Laura E. and Jacob C. Harman; and gifts from the Kresge Foundation, Detroit; and the Davella Mills Foundation, Montclair, N. J.

In This Issue

	Page
Alumni
Clyde P. Bailey '29	2
Carl A. Bennett '40	7
Franklin H. Cook '33	7
Dr. Ernest B. Decker '27	10
Herbert F. Harris '96	10
Harry W. Johnson '22	9
Everett T. Jones '19	6
Mary McClelland Lago '40	7
Raymond O. Manker '40	10
Constantino F. Nagro '17	10
Daniel M. Roop '45	10
Norman Thomas '05	7
Alumni Fund	2
Alumni Fund Contributors	11-18
Alumni Meetings in the Skies	8
Alumni Trustee Time Table	22
Book Shelf	7
Class Reports	19-27
Club Activities	8
Cover Pictures	2
Curriculum: Then, Now, and Tomorrow	3,4
Dad's Day	6
Editorial	26
Enrollment and Admissions	9
Freshmen—Class of 1958	4
New Faces in the Bucknell Family	4
New Faculty Members	4
Recent Student Demonstration	6
Sports	9
Three Up and Three to Go	5

It Happened Here

Twenty Years Ago—1934

During Homecoming, President Homer P. Rainey announced the definite plans for Bucknell's Centennial year, including a $6,000,000 Building Program. The program included a renovation of Taylor Hall. They should see it now!!! Taylor Hall has just been renovated again; it looks like a new building.

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

Vol. XXXIX—No. 2 November 1954

Published in January, March, May, September, and November

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Entered as second-class matter December 30, 1930, at the post office at Lewisburg, Pa., under the Act of August 24, 1912.

Student Editorial Assistants: Joan Christman Bertolet '55, Reading; Loie Bunnell '56, South Temple; Elizabeth Fogg '56, Moylan; Jane Nevling '56, Lockport, N. Y.; Arline Sherwood '56, Trenton, N. J.; Jean Wirths '56, Madison, N. J.; Rhoda Wolf '56, Philadelphia.

NOVEMBER 1954

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

VOLUME XXXIX—No. 2

NOVEMBER 1954

The Curriculum: Then, Now, and Tomorrow

OLD MAIN—When the Curriculum Was Chiefly Latin and Greek

The First Annual Catalogue of the Officers and Students of the University at Lewisburg, 1850-51, defines the course of study which was prescribed for the sixty-one students who were then attending the university. (In 1850, the annual tuition was thirty dollars, the room rate "on the Hill" was seven dollars and fifty cents a year, and according to the Catalogue, "board, including lodging, washing, fuel, and light" could be had in town for as low as a dollar and a half a week.) Electives, of course, were unheard of; every student took precisely the same course of study. In all, thirty subjects were taught by the faculty of six, each student taking about four subjects a term.

The courses in the curriculum of 1850 were chiefly in Greek and Latin, although English, mathematics, and the practical sciences were also present. A freshman during his first term, for example, would study Algebra, Xenophon, Livy, Latin Composition, Fiske's Classical Manual, and English Language and Composition.

By 1900, Bucknell University (the new name had been adopted in 1886) had grown considerably, and the curriculum had undergone one significant change. Three hundred and fifteen students were now being taught by a faculty of twenty-one teachers. The college rate was ninety dollars per year, and board cost about two and a half dollars a week, laundry twenty-five cent extra.

According to the fiftieth Annual Catalogue, the undergraduate could choose one of four courses of study: the Classical Course, the Philosophical Course, the Scientific Course, the Eclectic Course. The number of subjects taught by the faculty had risen to one hundred and fifty-eight.

The Bucknell freshman in 1900 would be required to take during his first term courses in geometry, algebra, Cicero, Livy, Homer, Greek composition, and elocution. In the first term of the senior year, the student was compelled to take only Psychology, Literature, and Oration; he would have completed his schedule by choosing courses from the following list of electives: Demosthenes, Tacitus, Lessing, Anglo-Saxon, French, History, Composition, Law, Blackstone's Commentaries, International Law, Geology, Practical Astronomy, Comparative Anatomy, and Chemistry.

The description of the curriculum in the 1953-54 issue of the Bucknell Catalogue indicates that the conception of what kinds of subjects a university should teach has changed drastically in the past hundred years.

The range of subjects in the present curriculum at Bucknell is very great. A faculty of about one hundred and forty members belonging to thirty academic departments announce through the Catalogue that it is qualified and willing to teach about seven hundred and fifty courses. (Many of these are seldom offered; in the fall semester of 1954 about two hundred and fifty courses are being given.) The alphabetical range is from Aerodynamics to Zoology with such diverse subjects as Geomorphology, Biometrics, Networks and Filters, Photography, archery, Xenophon, Solfeggio, Charlemagne, Romances, weight-lifting, and Eurythmics appearing in between.

Perhaps as striking a feature of the present curriculum as its range is the flexibility with which it is operated. There are no all-university requirements in English literature, in the foreign languages, in mathematics, or in history, although some of these subjects are required for students in particular fields. The philosophy underlying the present broad, flexible curriculum is that each student is unique, each has his own particular goals, and therefore each has his own particular needs. The assumption behind the philosophy is that each student knows himself well enough to be certain of his goals and is wise enough to know how to achieve them.

The elective system, which, developing in the past hundred years, slowly at first and then after 1900 more and more rapidly, had become almost universal in American colleges and universities by 1940, has recently been subjected to some reappraisals. Many educators have come to feel that two para-

(Continued on Page 4)

New Faculty Members

The Bucknell faculty welcomed to its ranks this past fall twenty new professors and three ROTC officers. Fifteen of the newcomers have joined the faculty in the capacity of assistant professor.

New assistant professors in the education department are: Miss Ruth Epler, a Hood graduate with her master of arts from Bucknell, who has been teaching at Girard College, Philadelphia; Charles Jones '42 who came here from the University of Illinois and has his M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from Cornell; and Nicholas Troisi, a graduate of Cortland State College with his master's degree in education from Springfield College.

Frederick Stauffer '51 and Vincent Suprynovic enter the physics department as assistant professors. Mr. Stauffer has worked as an assistant in the physics department here at Bucknell where he earned his B.S. degree. Dr. Suprynovic earned his B.S. and M.S. degrees at Ohio State and his Ph.D. at Yale where he worked as a research assistant for two years. Two new members join the economics department. They are: Dr. Earl B. French, who since 1952 has been an instructor at the University of Maine, and Dr. William N. Talmers, who received his doctor's degree from M. I. T. in June. The psychology department also welcomed two: Dr. William Carr, who received his doctor's degree in August from the University of Pittsburgh, and Dr. Harry Jacobs, coming here from Cornell University.

Other new assistant professors include: Roy P. Meyer, addition to the geography and geology department, who received degrees from the Illinois Institute of Technology and the University of Chicago; Colonel J. Worthen Proctor, an M. I. T. graduate advanced to the rank of colonel before retiring from the U. S. Army, joining the mechanical engineering department.

The chemistry department this year welcomed Dr. Reed Riley, a University of Illinois graduate with his Ph.D. from Michigan State. Maurice C. Powers, formerly a teaching assistant at the University of North Carolina, his alma mater, is now teaching geography and geology. Emil Polak '51, joining the mathematics department, received his A.B. and M.A. degrees at Bucknell and taught here in the same department from 1948 to 1951. Dr. Octave Levenspiel, chemical engineering, formerly taught at Oregon State College.

Newly-named instructors include: Miss Janet Melzer, physical education, a June graduate of Pennsylvania State University; William Weist '50, sociology; George Hersey, art, a Harvard graduate; Gregory Wulczyn, chemistry, who earned his master's degree in mathematics at the University of Pennsylvania after completing his undergraduate training at LaSalle; and John Tilton '52, an assistant in the English department last year, now an instructor in English. Mr. Tilton received his A.B. and M.S. degrees at Bucknell.

Assuming command of the Bucknell ROTC is Lt. Col. Joseph Chaufy, a graduate of West Point and holder of a master's degree in civil engineering from Iowa State. Having served in Europe during World War II and again in 1952, Col. Chaufy has been awarded the Bronze Star and the Purple Heart. He is replacing Lt. Col. Roger Barnes who has been assigned to a post in Germany.

Other ROTC changes include the arrival of Capt. Frederick P. Kayser to replace Major Donald H. McConnell as assistant professor of Military Science and Tactics. Capt. Kayser spent 19 months in the European Theatre in World War II and eight months in Korea. In Japan he spent 16 months as an instructor at the engineering school, Far East Command. Lt. Col. Richard

A. Morgan has assumed the duties of executive officer, replacing Lt. Col. W. J. Besser. Col. Morgan formerly was located at the Fifth Army headquarters in Chicago.

Four ROTC staff members remain from last year. They are: Major Arthur W. Delaney, Major Jimmie L. Pittman, Capt. Thomas Johnson, and Master Sergeant Allen Mews.

New Faces in the Bucknell Family

Two assistant deans were welcomed to the campus this fall as Miss Martha Harris was named to succeed Miss Cynthia Goddard as assistant dean of women, and Mr. Ralph F. Soelzer was appointed assistant to Malcolm E. Musser, Dean of Men.

Miss Harris has come to us from Los Angeles, California, having received her A.B. degree at Occidental College and her M.A. in guidance at Columbia University. While at Columbia, she lived at International House, working in the program office there. Her most active duties will be those of adviser to freshman women and head resident of Larison Hall.

Mr. Soelzer, assistant to the dean of men and director of men's residence halls, is a graduate of the University of Illinois where he majored in English. Also holding an M.A. degree in counselling and guidance, he formerly taught in the Arcola, Ill. high school.

The Curriculum

(Continued from Page 3)

doxical dangers inhere in this system: one, the knowledge outside of his major subject which the student acquires is likely to be fragmentary and superficial, and two, the student often becomes a specialist in a single narrow field, despite efforts to avoid this contingency. In the past decade a significant number of leading universities (Harvard, Yale, and Chicago, for example) have been experimenting with programs which stress the teaching of knowledge in terms of its historical development as well as its immediate practicality, the teaching of basic ideas as they relate to many diverse fields of study, and the teaching of the basic skills of thought and expression as tools with which to integrate acquired knowledge and to pursue new ideas. At Bucknell the four-semester University Course, which recently was awarded a $25,000 grant from the Carnegie Foundation, is an experiment of this kind. And mindful that the university will never arrive at the place where it has constructed for all time the best curriculum which it can offer, mindful that in a world which never stands still vision in the educator and flexibility in his system are desperately needed, the Dean of the College with the help of the faculty has been re-evaluating the present curriculum. For over a hundred years the evolution of the curriculum at Bucknell has been motivated by a constant purpose: to improve the quality of the education which the university offers to the student.

FRESHMEN—Class of 1958—and Their Relatives

Thirty-nine members of the freshman class are the sons or daughters of Bucknell parents and a total of 117 out of the entering class of 555 new students have relatives who are Bucknellians. Among the relatives listed are one great-great-grandfather, one great-grandfather, one grandmother, two grandfathers, nineteen brothers, eighteen sisters, nineteen uncles, and nine aunts, sixty-one cousins and other distant relatives.

This year's entering students who are children of Bucknellians are listed below with their parents' names.

Names of Students

MARGARET ANN ANDERSON
FRANCES ANN BEIGHLEY

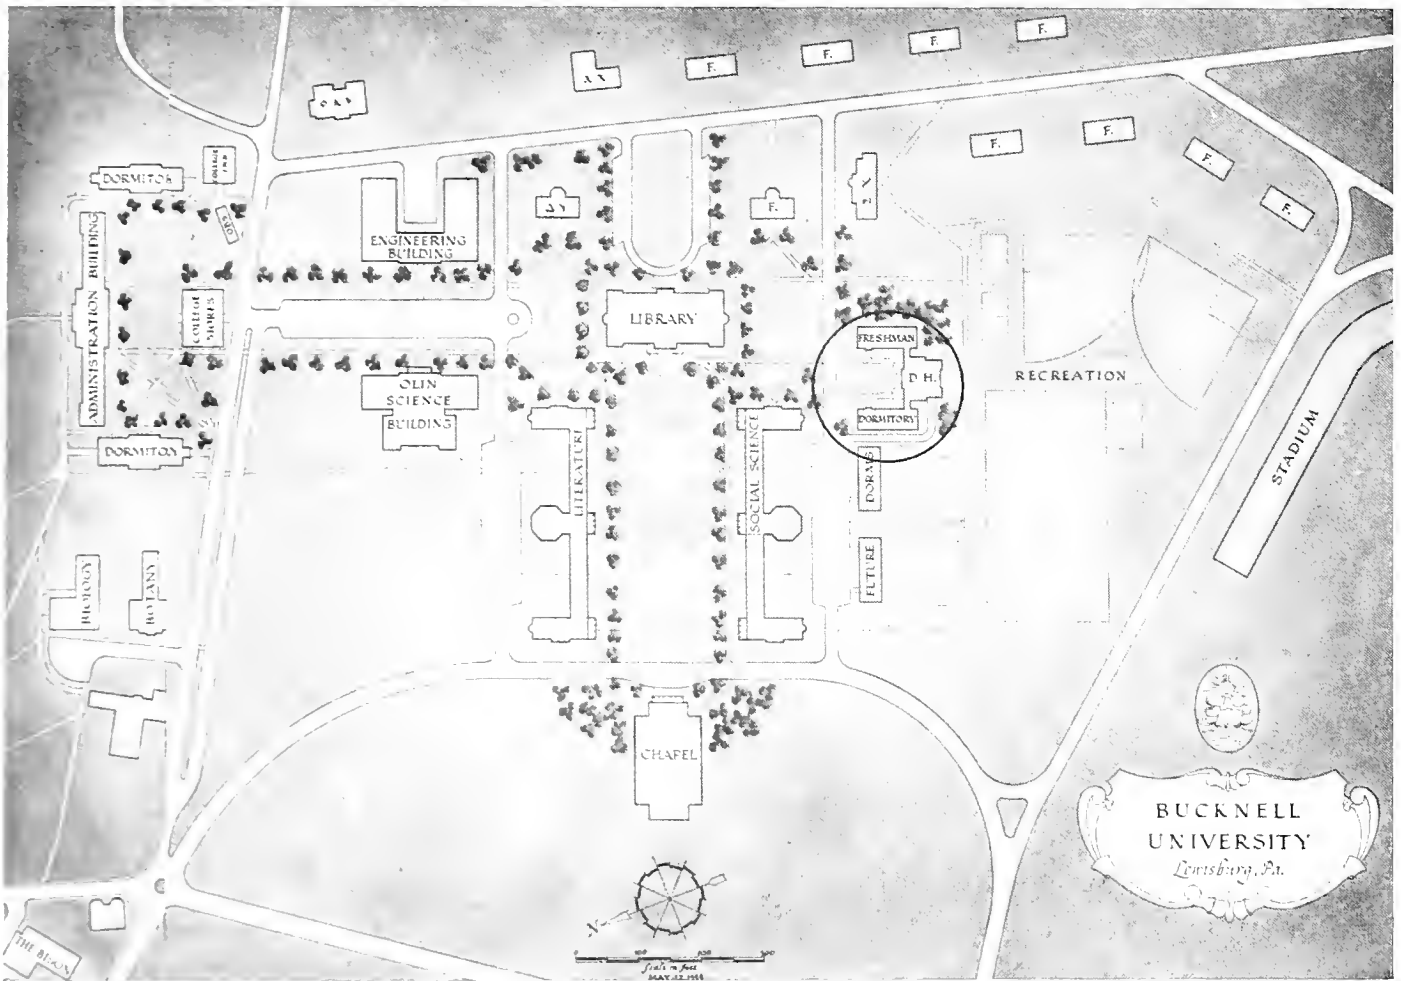

NANCY ELLA BELLMEYER
ALICE MOHR BREWER
SARAH BARBARA BUCHER
JANET BOSSLER BULL
MARGARET JANE CARLL
NANCY ANN CHRISTIANSON
NAOMI LAURA COWEN
ROBERT EVANS DAVIES
REESE ALLEN DAVIS
PETER STEWART DECK
HAROLD G. ERICKSON
CYNTHIA R. FARNSWORTH
JANICE S. FOX
JANET ANN FRABLE
JAMES ROBERT FRIES
EDWARD B. FRONTZ
JAMES B. GRIFFITHS
JOHN DONALD HARRISON
GAIL ZONA KOONDEL
RONALD PAUL LEWIS
WILLIAM J. LLEWELLYN, JR.
BARBARA MARY LONG
JANICE MARIE MILLER
MARIAN ANN MOORE
JAMES EDWARD NEWELL
JOHN W. NICHOLS
ROBERT NICODEMUS
AMOS VASTINE PERSHING III
BRUCE WAGNER REISMAN
ROBERT DANIEL RUGER
MARY LINDA SHORTS
CHARLES FREDERICK SIEDE III
ALLEN HUGHES SMITH
SANDRA JANE STICKNEY

HAROLD E. WALDNER
DAVID NELSON WENDT
WILLIAM RAFFORD WHITE, JR.

Parents

SARA HAWES ANDERSON '30
JULIA HOFFMAN BEIGHLEY '33, ARTHUR F. BEIGHLEY '34
MARY GROVE BELLMEYER '33, SAM'L BELLMEYER '33
STEWART F. BREWER '26
ROBERT L. BUCHER '17
KATHRYN BOSSLER BULL '28, HOWARD H. BULL '27
MARGUERITE MAYERS CARLL '26, JOS. D. CARLL '26
FRANK T. CHRISTIANSON '29
HAZEL HAGERMAN COWEN '18
JOHN NORMAN DAVIES '26
FRED DAVIS '30
JOHN PHILLIPS DECK '32
HARRY W. ERICKSON '31
JAMES F. FARNSWORTH '27
MARIAN STINSON FOX '31, CHARLES F. FOX '31
MILTON F. FRABLE, JR. '28
HARRY C. FRIES '20
OLIVE BILLHIME FRONTZ '23
JAMES A. GRIFFITHS '32
JOHN M. HARRISON '29
RHODA TURK KOONDEL '34
THOMAS G. LEWIS '28
DR. WILLIAM J. LLEWELLYN '24
DAVID E. LONG '29
MARIE WALBERT MILLER '30
DR. JOHN M. MOORE '28
RANDALL L. NEWELL '26
MARTHA WETTLAUER NICHOLS '18
ROY E. NICODEMUS '25
AMOS VASTINE PERSHING, JR. '24
EDWARD A. REISMAN '36
HAROLD DAVID RUGER '34
MARY REESE SHORTS '32, ARTHUR M. SHORTS '30
CHARLES FREDERICK SIEDE '33
ROBERT H. SMITH '36
DOROTHY TURNBACH STICKNEY MA'49, CHARLES F. STICKNEY MA'48
HAROLD E. WALDNER '30
JUNE LEQUATE WENDT '36, NELSON E. WENDT '34
WILLIAM RAFFORD WHITE '26

Three Up and Three to Go

Architect's drawing of the section of the campus "top o' the Hill," showing the location of the new dormitory for freshman men (in circle) now under construction and plans for future development of that area.

In the first nine years of Bucknell University's Second Century, her total assets will have been nearly doubled.

Back in 1946 when the Second Century Development Program was inaugurated, the University's physical assets were valued at approximately $3,900,000 and her endowment fund stood at $1,500,000 in round figures, for a grand total of $5,400,000.

At this writing, the value of the University's property is placed on the books at $5,000,000 and the endowment fund stands at $2,600,000 for a total of $7,600,000. By the end of the current academic year, when the present building projects have been completed, it is estimated that the University's assets will be up another $1,500,000 for a grand total in the neighborhood of $10,000,000.

Three years ago, when the ALUMNUS reported on the status of the Second Century Development Program, it stated that two of the program's six building projects had been completed. These were the heating plant and the new library. Now, with the construction of the E. W. Olin Science Building well under way, the situation can be nearly summed up by the statement: Three Up and Three to Go.

The projects not covered by that phrase are the renovation of Taylor Hall, which has just been completed and the construction of a new dormitory for freshman men that has just been started. These were contingencies not foreseen by the original designers of the Second Century Program.

The remarkable thing about this rapid improvement of the University's position is that much of this work has been done without interference with the University's efforts to build up the Annual Giving Program among Alumni. Following the Heating Plant campaign which was a full-scale effort among all Alumni and Friends of the University, a definite policy was established that there would be no more such campaigns until such time as the Alumni Fund had reached a status comparable to those of other leading universities.

Consequently, no campaign was organized to erect a new library and fortunately, gifts from a small number of individuals, notably Mrs. Ellen Clarke Bertrand, made this building possible. The Olin Science Building came as the result of a single gift by the Olin Foundation.

A number of Alumni contributed voluntarily to the renovation of Taylor Hall, but for the most part, the funds came from Friends, Parents, Industry and Foundations. However, it should be noted here that Bucknellians, now in medicine or allied fields were naturally the most interested in the Taylor Hall project. In addition to giving funds to the project, they have also organized so that their support of the Biology Department is to be a continuing thing.

The new men's dormitory, also has been made possible without benefit of a full-scale campaign. In fact, the bulk of the funds necessary for this project are being made available by the Trustees of the University. At the present time 27 members of the Board have pledged or paid $321,000 toward this project.

Three major items from the original Second Century Development Program remain to be checked off. These are a Chapel-Auditorium, a new Social Science and additions to the Men's Gymnasium.

In the meantime, other projects have nudged their way into the picture. Endowment for faculty salaries and scholarships are demanding attention and with the erection of the Olin Science Building and the new dormitory, funds must be found with which to remodel the old chemistry building and the quarters occupied by the Physics Department in East College. A new women's dormitory to replace the many houses on Sixth Street has been proposed and better facilities for the Commerce and Finance Department and the School of Music are necessary.

Which one of these projects will be given top priority is a matter for the Board to decide, but in any event, if the University can continue to increase its assets by $500,000 per year as it has done over the past nine years, there is no question but what Bucknell's needs will be met eventually.

The Recent Student Demonstration

After six years of study, trial, and experience in efforts to control student drinking, the Executive Committee issued a statement on September 22 stating that the use and possession of alcoholic beverages, normally banned in all university buildings, would hereafter be banned as well in the fraternity houses. Naturally this subject has been of a controversial nature, but the administration in arriving at its decision has done so only after a determined effort to act honestly and sincerely in the interests of the individual student and the university.

Disregarding for the moment the several moral factors as well as the historical background of the university, the college officials were practically compelled to recognize the fact that a large percentage of the student body is under age and that any other position taken by the university would, in effect, condone the breaking of the Pennsylvania State Laws. There are undoubtedly many phases that could be considered in connection with this subject; but the honest effort on the part of the university to work for the best interests of the students is readily recognized and it is hoped and expected that the alumni and friends of the institution, as well as the student body, may see the value of the position taken by the university and support the new regulation.

The announcement of the new policy was made by the Executive Committee at a meeting of the fraternity presidents and social chairmen. The meeting was also attended by a number of the alumni advisors of the fraternities. The Executive Committee is composed of Dr. William H. Coleman, vice president and dean of the college; Malcolm E. Musser, dean of men; Miss Mary Jane Stevenson, dean of women; Dr. Dayton L. Ranck, vice president and treasurer; George R. Faint, registrar; Walter C. Geiger, superintendent of grounds and buildings; and three members of the faculty elected by the faculty—Dr. Albert Blume, associate professor of German; Prof. John F. Zeller, III, assistant professor of political science; and Dr. Manning A. Smith, professor of chemistry. The statement of the Executive Committee reads as follows:

Because of the confusion and misunderstanding which have developed in interpreting the University's policy on the use or possession of alcoholic beverages at Bucknell, the University Executive Committee deems it advisable to set forth a precise statement on the subject.

The Committee has adopted the following regulation, effective immediately: "Possession or use of alcoholic beverages in any form is prohibited in all University buildings and fraternity houses."

Bucknell, since her founding, has been opposed to the use or possession of alcoholic beverages on the college campus. Five years ago, the University's trustees went on record with this official statement of policy:

"Possession or use of alcoholic beverages on the campus, including fraternity houses, is completely opposed to the best interests of Bucknell and any use thereof resulting in discredit to Bucknell will be handled with the utmost severity.

"The use or possession of alcoholic beverages has been traditionally forbidden in all college buildings, and on this point there is apparently little misunderstanding.

"In the case of fraternity houses, however, the policy has been interpreted somewhat differently.

"Bucknell's administrative officers have given this matter intensive consideration over a long period. It seems to us to be highly inconsistent to insist upon one interpretation of policy for students living in the college dormitories and to permit another interpretation in fraternity houses.

"Nor can we condone a situation in which alcoholic beverages are unlawfully furnished to minors.

"We have therefore concluded that a specific ruling covering both college buildings and fraternity houses is necessary in order properly to execute the policy formulated by the trustees.

"At the time that the trustee statement was announced in 1949, it was indicated by the trustees that the implementation of this policy was an administrative matter, to be handled by the college officials on the campus.

"The Executive Committee has accordingly acted to define our policy by prohibiting the use of alcoholic beverages in all Bucknell buildings and fraternity houses."

Publication of the full statement of the Executive Committee two days later in THE BUCKNELLIAN, student newspaper, and a short editorial pointing out that prohibition would cause increased drinking off campus, resulting in dangerous driving after drinking and suggesting the proposal made by the fraternities last spring, i. e., "tolerate drinking but punish severely and consistently all the groups or individuals who practice indiscriminate drinking" were the first reactions to the announcement. During the following week the fraternities, through the Interfraternity Council, were busy discussing a proposal of compromise on drinking in fraternity houses to be presented to the Executive Committee for consideration. Before this could be accomplished, however, some students displayed publicly their dislike for the new regulation.

Student demonstrations against the ruling occurred on Sunday and Monday nights, October 3 and 4. The Sunday night demonstration was of a rather spontaneous nature and was engaged in by 300 to 500 students. The student outbursts, in the main, represented demonstrations by certain students (and it should be remembered that outbursts of this nature may occur on college campuses with little provocation). In both displays of opposition by students, no property damage resulted, nor were there any injuries reported.

In its issue following the demonstrations, THE BUCKNELLIAN devoted about eight full columns—about one and one-third pages—to the liquor ban. It published one student letter of protest against the ban and pointed out that the editors of the publication are 100 per cent behind the sentiment expressed in the demonstration, but the lead editorial, entitled "Sound and Fury, Accomplishing Nothing," expressed this conclusion: "the demonstrations defeated their own purpose", and this hope: "We hope our fatalistic attitude will not discourage responsible leaders in Student Faculty Congress and the Interfraternity Council from working out a compromise plan. It should have been their problem all along."

Naturally the ban will have its effect upon the fraternity houses, and it has been interesting to observe that the national officers of practically all the fraternities represented on the campus, and especially those associated with the Interfraternity Conference, have given their unqualified endorsement of the position taken by the university and in practically every instance offered their help in enforcing the regulation.

Actually, national fraternities represented on the campus all have drinking restrictions in their chapter regulations and at least one campus fraternity chapter adopted a rule banning intoxicants before the university regulation was announced.

The Bucknell University Fathers' Association, meeting on the campus on October 9, went on record as unconditionally supporting the university's stand on alcoholic beverages. The two governing bodies of the students, the Women's Student Government Association and the Men's Student Assembly, expressed to Bucknell University their sincere regret "for the detrimental publicity resulting from recent student demonstrations." The senate of WSGA went on to say that "in the event of any future disturbance of this or any other sort, every woman student, under our Honor System, is responsible for complete understanding and compliance with this regulation. It is to be understood that this applies to all phases of conduct which could defame the reputation of Bucknell University."

A number of organizations and individuals, including alumni, on and off the campus, lost no time in expressing their approval of the edict by telephone calls, telegrams, and letters to university officials. According to information received at the offices on the hill, numerous colleges throughout the country have been wrestling with this same subject, and in many instances, action similar to that taken by Bucknell has been taken by other educational institutions.

Dad's Day

The sixteenth annual Dad's Day celebration was held on the Bucknell campus on October 9 and 10. Features of the weekend were the Board of Directors of the Fathers' Association meeting, a Dad's Day Luncheon, the Bucknell-Lehigh football game, and evening entertainment by the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs.

Speakers at the Dad's Luncheon were Dr. William H. Coleman, dean and vice president; Dr. Dayton L. Ranck, treasurer and vice president; and Dr. Joseph Henderson, acting president of the University. Mr. George Holton of Pelham, New York, president of the Fathers' Association presided at the luncheon.

Saturday afternoon, Dads witnessed the Bucknell-Lehigh football game in Memorial Stadium and on Saturday night, were entertained by the Glee Clubs in Davis Gymnasium. During the evening program, a rotating plaque was presented to the new president of the Fathers' Association by Booster Club president, Pat Mansfield '55. A plaque was also given for the S. Dale Spotts Auditorium in the newly renovated Taylor Hall.

An informal reception for the Dads followed the evening program in the gym.

Everett T. Jones '19, Succumbs

President of the board of trustees of the Pennsylvania Oral School since last February, Everett Thomas Jones died September 24 at the age of 60 in Scranton. He had been ill for three weeks.

Known during his school days as "Rnt," Mr. Jones was a Phi Gam. Continuing his fraternal associations after graduation, he rose to the 33rd degree of the Masonic order. He was a veteran of the First World War.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Margaret Jones; a daughter, Mrs. Frederick W. Francis, of Baltimore; a son, Robert W. of Austin, Tex., and a brother, Edward E. '26, of Baltimore, Md.

BOOK SHELF

MARY McCLELLAND LAGO '40.

They Live in the City.
Friendship Press, N. Y.

This fascinating story is written about the life and action of teen agers who live in the city, or who have come recently to its industrial suburban developments. It is not about dust bowl victims, but comfortable Americans who have followed to the cities. There is portrayed the drug store gang of the new housing development in Westmont; the sophisticated teen agers of the higher economic levels of the city nearby; and the Scorpion gang in the slums. We meet Katy, recently from a small village, yearning for friendship in her new community. There is Barry who is hospitalized with rheumatic fever, whose mother can scarcely make ends meet. Barry is sullen and an introvert. Joe and Nick and their gang make spending money in minor thefts, becoming bolder with time. They war on a Negro youth group. Nick's sister is injured by a trailer truck. Jeff, the Negro boy, is the envy of the baseball fans. The exclusive section of the city, which helps maintain social services in the slums doesn't care to meet the people who live there, or to share too generously with them. Mr. Anderson is a very determined man and most respectable, and a churchman. But then there are some other people who must be taken into account—Mr. Martin, Dr. Halstead, Mr. "Mike," The Shackelfords, Barbara and Elizabeth.

The author has woven her stirring story around the lives of these people, and shows what can be done with the cooperation of the churches, community agencies, citizens of good-will when leadership is wisely exercised. The story has come out of real life situations and experiences in the vicinity of St. Louis.

The author, Mrs. Mary McClelland Lago '40, is now the wife of Dr. Gladwyn Lago of the department of electrical engineering of the University of Missouri. As a student at Bucknell, Mary was an English major with much participation in music. Her second love was journalism. Upon graduation she took a position with the Friendship Press in New York, first as secretarial. She then began to do some editing and writing for the Press. Her articles have also appeared in other magazines, such as Mademoiselle. In Columbia (Mo.) she has been active in orchestra and choir, and in her church, which is now Episcopal. Her social concerns have brought her in contact with many community enterprises throughout the state. This most recent publication of hers expresses her ideas on delinquency and what can be done for a wholesome community life. A gifted writer, she is joined in this book by the talents of a remarkably good photographer, Edward C. Meyer of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

- FORREST D. BROWN, Secretary,
Christian Association.

ROBERT T. OLIVER.

Syngman Rhee, The Man Behind the Myth.
Dodd, Mead & Company, N. Y., 1954.

In August 1942 Dr. Robert T. Oliver first met Syngman Rhee through their mutual friend, Reverend Edward Junkin, formerly pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Lewisburg. At the time of the meeting Rhee was President of the Provisional Government of Korea and Dr. Oliver was Chairman of the Speech Department at Bucknell University.

They met in a small cafeteria on Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D. C. Impressed by Rhee's earnest zeal for Korean independence Dr. Oliver suggested that he should write the story of Korea for the American public. Rhee replied, "I am not a writer; why don't you?" Since that initial contact Dr. Oliver has been the outstanding advocate of Korea's cause in the United States. In 1944 he wrote Korea; Forgotten Nation; in 1950, Why War Came to Korea; in 1951, The Truth About Korea; in 1952, Verdict in Korea; in 1953, he served as editor for Korea, My Country by Yung Tai Pyun; and now, Syngman Rhee, The Man Behind the Myth.

The biography of Rhee is a sixty-year history of his people from the days prior to the Russian-Japanese War to the post-Korean War period of 1954. Introduced to American democratic ideals through Methodist missionaries in the Pai Jai Middle School, Rhee with a small group attempted to bring reform under the Korean Emperor. Caught between Russian and Japanese pressures from abroad, and a domestic reform movement, the emperor established a Privy Council made up of reform proponents. In 1897 Rhee served on this Council as Speaker. However, the forthright actions of the Council led to the seven year imprisonment of Rhee. Released by a new emperor Rhee entered a stream of Korean life dominated by the Japanese. Unable to give Rhee diplomatic status because of the presence of the Japanese the emperor sent him as a student to intercede with Theodore Roosevelt under the Amity Agreement of 1882 between Korea and the United States. This mission was unsuccessful for the United States was promoting friendly relations with Japan. Again, at the end of World War I, as a friend of President Wilson, Rhee sought to invoke the "right of self-determination of peoples," with failure as a result. Not until the termination of World War II were the Koreans to achieve independence as a half-nation, with Syngman Rhee as President. The removal of Japan from Korea again meant the upsurge of Russia to threaten Korea. Today, at the end of fourscore years Rhee is creating democratic government in Korea where laws are made through the process of parliamentary procedure rather than arbitrary decree.

—FRANKLIN H. COOK '33, Professor of Economics, Pennsylvania State University.

CARL A. BENNETT '40, M.A. '41, M.A.
(Mathematical Statistics) '42, Ph.D. '52
(Co-Author).

Statistical Analysis in Chemistry and the Chemical Industry.

John Wiley & Sons, Inc.

Dr. Carl A. Bennett, the head of General Electric's Statistics unit in Operations Analysis at the Hanford Atomic Products Operation, has just been announced as co-author of a book published recently on applied statistics in the chemical field titled Statistical Analysis in Chemistry and the Chemical Industry.

His co-author is Norman L. Franklin, professor of chemical engineering with the University of Leeds in Leeds, England.

Looking well ahead, the National Research Council's Committee on Applied Mathematical Statistics decided, in 1949, that the greatly accelerating interest in the use of modern statistical methods in chemistry was generating a need for an adequate book on this subject.

To write an effective book of this sort it was decided that two authors would be required—one a mathematical statistician, the other a chemist—each with experience in the other's field.

After gaining the services of the two authors listed above, the committee then agreed to sponsor the undertaking with financial support from the Office of Naval Research. It has been published by John Wiley and Sons, Inc.

The book, in its 724 pages, presents the development of those aspects of applied mathematical statistics which will be continually useful to chemists and chemical engineers. It starts from the beginning of the subject and, dealing with each topic as completely as possible, gives the theoretical background and derivation of the methods, together with computational procedures.

—C. H. RICHARDSON.

NORMAN THOMAS '05.

The Test for Freedom.

W. W. Norton and Company, N. Y., 1954.

With the rise and development of "McCarthyism" Americans again have become conscious of the Bill of Rights. Numerous works flow from the press denouncing the challenge to or upholding the protection of those basic rights. Norman Thomas adds his voice to the growing throng who think the American people by apathy or indifference stand a chance of having them ignored or discarded. He resents the fact that liberty and security have been impaired by involving them so deeply in the politics of McCarthyism.

In the Preface of his book the author says, "This book will speak for itself or it will not speak at all." His first chapter is devoted to a defense of his writing the book in the first place. For the more mature reader Norman Thomas needs to make no apology for his interest in the subject, nor does he need to explain by relating numerous personal experiences his interest in the subject of Freedom. Certainly, this reader is convinced that Mr. Thomas is admirably well qualified through experience and action to discuss this topic and to give his reasoning and conclusions on the test for freedom today.

While the author does not tell us anything new or startling in his book, he does present a picture of the challenge to our basic freedoms. His analysis is penetrating and clear; his style is simple, yet forceful; and his work makes interesting reading. It will clarify the thinking of many people who have been flooded with literature on the subject accompanied by charges and countercharges resulting in almost complete confusion.

The Jefferson ideal of individual freedom is accepted by Thomas as the norm. He traces the fight made by Jefferson for his principles, and he shows that in practically every generation these ideals are challenged, as for example, the Alien and Sedition Laws, slavery, the Ku Klux Klan, the treatment of aliens in World War I and World War II, and especially the treatment of the Japanese-Americans in the 1940's.

Recognizing the threat of Communism to the American Way of Life the author was one of the early opponents of the spread of the doctrine of Marx.

While cognizant of the sinister aspects of Communism, Norman Thomas is tremendously concerned about the new challenge to American freedoms—McCarthyism. He appraises the movement of McCarthyism and is firmly convinced that it is larger and more important than the man who is its symbol. Under McCarthyism he shows the developments which have culminated in the acceptance by Americans in the limitation of their freedoms: The Smith and McCarran Acts, the Congressional investigations with their ignoring individual rights, the loyalty and security tests, and McCarthyism at state and local levels. In each instance the author gives examples of the abuse of authority and the trampling of individual rights by the persons involved. He pointed out numerous instances where innocent persons were victimized under the pretext that the persons responsible were defending America.

While the author is not too pessimistic, he ends his book with this warning: "To us Americans much has been given; of us much is required."

JAMES A. GATHINGS, Ph.D.,
Professor of Political Science,
Bucknell University.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

ALTOONA—The Blair County Alumni club of Bucknell met Thursday, Sept. 2 at the American Association of University Women's home with Dr. L. H. Weiss ('38), president, in charge.

Guests of the club were Richard White and John Hill, Jr., who entered Bucknell this fall and Lionel Kranitz, who is a senior at the University.

The next session of the group will be a dinner meeting in January.

JANE GUNDY STEPHENSON '41,
Secretary

HARRISBURG—The Bucknell Alumni of Harrisburg met regularly for dinner meetings on the first Thursday of each month from March, 1953, through May, 1954, at the Y. M. C. A., Front and North Sts., Harrisburg. We had an average of 35 Alumni attending the Spring meetings. Our programs included group discussions of a film, THE TOYMAKER, an Easter message from Dr. Robert Stephens of the Market Square Presbyterian Church, and Mr. R. L. Lindsey of the Harrisburg School District.

Our traditional picnic supper for freshmen entering Bucknell from the Harrisburg area was held at Reservoir Park on Sept. 2, 1954. Of the 68 people present, 30 were freshmen and their parents.

We were very happy to have Janet Lehr, a junior at Bucknell and Jack Gresham, a sophomore, with us as well. Janet and Jack discussed the many and varied student activities at Bucknell which was not only of value in terms of orientation for our freshman guests, but of interest to the graduates. We were fortunate in having Mr. John F. Zeller '41, professor of political science, with us as our speaker. Mr. Zeller interpreted the Bucknell way of life from the faculty viewpoint, and shared with us his thinking in regard to the use a student can make of the opportunity for learning. This seemed to us to be a very fine beginning for the resumption of our regular monthly meetings for the Fall season.

MARY NANCY GETTMAN '46,
Secretary

READING—The Bucknell Alumni Club of Reading entertained freshman students from this area entering Bucknell this fall, at a party September 8, in the Wyomissing Club.

Three present students at the University spoke on various phases of school life. Dale Bowen, a junior, told of the athletic program at school. Susan Fleming, a senior, spoke of the sorority activities and the extra curricular activities were discussed by Lolita Bunnell, a junior.

The University government and policies were discussed by Dr. Clair G. Spangler, a member of the Board of Directors. Buck Shott, alumni secretary, discussed "Bucknell Traditions and Education." Master of ceremonies for the evening was Raymond Tyler, president of the local club. A social hour followed the program.

BETTY KEIM KETNER '43,
Secretary

WASHINGTON—The meeting, held in the auditorium of the Washington Post Building, was called to order by President Ernest E. Blanche.

Discussion followed concerning the Club's future activities, and it was suggested that Bucknell students in the exchange program with American University, Washington, be invited to attend the Washington Club meetings.

The following officers were nominated and unanimously elected to serve for the

The York Picnic Featured Good Food and Relaxation

June 26 was the day and Marilyn Etzweiler's ('27) cottage along the Susquehanna was the place for the summer picnic of the Bucknell Alumni Club of York. After a busy afternoon of swimming, badminton, horseshoes, and ping-pong, a delightful picnic supper was enjoyed, followed by the usual relaxing and lounging. Then came bingo, with Peggy Deardorff ('52), our club president, winning most of the prizes. After dark Mr. Etzweiler entertained the 50 Bucknellians in attendance with some of his finest movies.

BOB LECATES ('51), Secretary.

new year: president, Dale Hay '49; vice president, Mrs. Ralph Sherman (Mary E. Sholl '22); secretary, Mrs. J. R. Skove (Florence Fellows '48); treasurer, George R. Porter '38; member of executive committee, Ernest E. Blanche '38.

With respect to plans for the future, a program committee was appointed, with Leonard Smith chairman, Tom Meyer and Howard Dreyer members.

FLORENCE F. SKOVE '48,
Secretary

THE MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS—

The musical organizations are setting up a program of appearances for the coming year that will reach most of our Alumni centers of activity. After appearing on a program of the Pennsylvania Baptist Convention in October the chapel choir will have a tour, November 6, 7, and 8 to Altoona, Zelenople, McKeesport, and Philipsburg. A later trip scheduled tentatively for April 24, 25, and 26, will take the choir to Baltimore and Philadelphia.

The Women's Glee Club is planning their annual tour for February 5-9 with appearances scheduled on February 5 at Teaneck, N. J. (joint concert with the NYU Men's Glee Club), at West Point on February 6, and appearances at High Schools on Long Island and Northern New Jersey.

The Men's Glee Club tour scheduled for February 7-10 will take that popular singing organization to Washington, Baltimore, York, Hagerstown, and Wilmington.

Alumni in the areas being visited by the musical organizations are cordially invited to attend the public performances and will be notified of the exact time and place through the local newspapers. You are missing something worth-while if you skip the opportunity to hear any of the Bucknell musical organizations in action in your home community.

SAINT PETERSBURG—The first meeting of the season for the Bucknell Alumni Club of Saint Petersburg, Florida will be held on Saturday, November 20, at noon in the form of a covered dish luncheon at the home of Mrs. Henry Colestock, 1711 48th Ave. N., St. Petersburg. Bucknellians travelling in Florida should remember that the St. Petersburg Club meets regularly during the winter season. When you reach St. Petersburg please call Mrs. Ruth S. Porter, secretary, 2710 Dartmouth Ave., St. Petersburg, to learn the meeting date of the Club. Visitors are always welcome and urged to attend.

WASHINGTON—The Bucknell Alumni Club of Metropolitan Washington held its fall meeting in the form of a picnic on Saturday, Sept. 11, 1954, at the Palisades Field House and Park, Washington, D. C. It was a "Pot-Luck" picnic with each family contributing part of the meal. The weather was fine and a good number of Alumni turned out for an afternoon of fun and relaxation.

The only business brought up was the election of Mr. George Porter as Treasurer of the Club for the coming year. Mention was also made about the November meeting which will be a dinner and fun night at the Fairfax Hotel, Washington, November 27, 1954.

FLORENCE FELLOWS SKOVE '48,
Secretary

Alumni Meetings in the Skies

On two occasions during the past summer Bucknellians met in the skies over Europe and proceeded to hold impromptu Bucknell meetings.

While flying from Venice to Munich during a recent visit to Europe this past summer Dr. Edward G. Hartmann '37, director of libraries and associate professor of history of Suffolk University, Boston, found himself seated next to a distinguished gentleman. Subsequent conversation revealed the distinguished gentleman was also a Bucknell Alumnus, Mr. Rush H. Kress '00, also enjoying the beauties of Europe. As might be expected, Bucknell was high upon the agenda of conversation.

Ambassador and Mrs. Horace A. Hildreth also met Mr. Kress and his family on a London to Istanbul flight. The Hildreths were en route to Pakistan after having spent a month in the United States, during which time Dr. Hildreth was a visitor on the Bucknell campus.

Football—the 1954 Season —to Date

The fact that Bucknell University's 1954 grid machine received top billing by the nation's press services as one of the "undefeated major colleges" mid-way in the campaign is reason to term Coach Harry Lawrence's eighth season at the helm of the Bisons a success.

Previously, the Bisons were excluded from the list of major colleges in the football realm but the Thundering Herd caught fire and also caught the attention of the country's grid authorities with smashing victories over Gettysburg, 29-0; Muhlenberg, 33-13; Lehigh, 48-46; Temple, 27-0, and Lafayette, 7-0.

In the same stretch, the Orange and Blue skyrocketed to the top of Pennsylvania's college elevens becoming one of two undefeated squads with five victories and pacing the field with the most points, 144 in five games.

Also, midway in the campaign, the Bisons held claim to the front-running individual pointmaker throughout Pennsylvania in Bob Ford of Collingswood, N. J., with a grand total of 48 points in the five engagements. Ford, who rallied from a severe attack of gripe to become Bucknell's top ground gainer, had his biggest day when he carried 66 times against Lehigh for a total gain of 312 yards.

And then comes the big question in the minds of Bucknellians as well as football followers throughout the country. "Is this the same eleven that eked out a lone victory while losing eight in 1953?"

Coach Lawrence claims, "Essentially the same ball club except for some changes in position," adding that, "it's a matter of youth and experience."

Alumni will recall that Coach Lawrence bypassed his seniors in the waning weeks of the 1953 season to turn loose his juniors and sophomores "for experience." His planning brought early dividends in 1954 and a lot of colorful, victorious football games for Bucknell.

Basketball Prospects Do Look Brighter

Writing under the above heading in last December's ALUNNUS we predicted that the season would be better than the previous one, when three games resulted in victories. The season wound up with four victories in the winning column, but when the fighting spirit of the Club is considered and when it is remembered that one of the wins was over Colgate and further that the team held nationally ranked Penn State to a six point margin, it is realized that the squad gave all it had throughout the season.

So we say "Basketball prospects do look brighter." In the first place four stalwart lettermen are returning. They are Dick Bradway '55 and Herb Cox '55, Pittsburgh; Steve Smith '55, Perkasic; Rick Johnson '55, Plainfield, New Jersey. From the frosh team of last year, which finished with a record of 15 wins and only 2 losses will be the following sophomores: Martin Tannenbaum, Hackensack, N. J.; Joe Baccelli, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; John Beatty, Charleroi; Norm Voorhees, Meadville; and Mike Corrigan, Kutztown.

With a new freshman squad that looks much better than average Bucknellians would do well to plan to see both Clubs in action on the road. A fine schedule of away games has been arranged and officers of Alumni Clubs are urged to organize group dinners and attendance when the Basketball teams visit their communities.

NOVEMBER 1954

ENROLLMENT AND ADMISSIONS

by GEORGE R. FAINT, Registrar and Director of Admissions

Fall Enrollment

The enrollment for the first semester of 1954-1955 is more than three per cent better than for 1953-1954, or a grand total of about 1930 students. The increase in the freshman class is nearly five per cent.

New Admissions Policy for 1955 and Later

Effective with the class entering in September, 1955, candidates will be required to present the full day of testing under the College Entrance Examination Board, preferably the March, 1955, series, although results from earlier series will be considered. The first, and major, selection of candidates will be made late in April or early in May, 1955.

The support of alumni in presenting Bucknell University to prospective students is appreciated, and more efforts to attract well-qualified students who do not need financial aid is especially needed. In several of the alumni clubs, more interest is being manifested in the solicitation of students.

Itinerary of Admission Staff

Fitz R. Walling, Admissions Counselor, will be in the Boston area the week of November 1, Long Island week of November 8, and lower New York state the week of November 15. Mr. Faint will be in the New York area the week of November 1, and in Pennsylvania toward the weeks of November 8 and 15.

Enrollment Prospects for 1955 and Later

More young people plan to attend college each year, and in just a few years the higher birth rate will greatly increase the college-bound group. This should enable us to select better qualified students. In 1955, it is anticipated greater interest will be possible for men because of the erection of a new residence hall, and for science students because of the renovation of Taylor Hall and the completion of the F. W. Olin Science Building.

Literature

The registrar is more than happy to send literature to alumni who are interested in helping to inform prospective students of our facilities.

he was previously director of the command and staff department of the Armored School at Fort Knox, Ky.

Graduated from the U. S. Military Academy in 1926, General Johnson participated in the Normandy landing during World War II. His decorations include the Silver Star, Legion of Merit, Bronze Star with three Oak Leaf Clusters, and the Belgian Croix de Guerre with one Oak Leaf Cluster.

General Johnson is a member of one of Bucknell's larger alumni families. His sister Mary E., wife of Cameron Bieber, graduated in '28 and his three Bucknellian brothers include: Cyrus L. '22, George W. '31, and James R. '26.

General and Mrs. Johnson can be reached by addressing: Hq. 2nd Armored Div., APO 42, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

Harry Johnson '22 Promoted to Brigadier General

HARRY JOHNSON '22

Word comes from Bad Kreuznach, Germany that Harry W. Johnson '22, assistant commander for the Second Armored Division in Germany, recently was promoted to the rank of brigadier general. At his present duty station since April,

Basketball Schedule

Coach—BEN KRIBBS

Dec. 1—Albright Home	Jan. 22—Albright Reading
Dec. 4—Lehigh Bethlehem	Feb. 4—Jona
Dec. 10—Rochester	New Rochelle, N. Y.
Rochester, N. Y.	Feb. 5—NYU New York City
Dec. 11—Colgate	Feb. 9—Lafayette Easton
Hamilton, N. Y.	Feb. 12—Dickinson Home
Dec. 17—Rutgers Home	Feb. 14—Susquehanna Home
Jan. 5—Pennsylvania State University State College	Feb. 16—Juniata Huntingdon
Jan. 8—Muhlenberg Home	Feb. 23—Pittsburgh Pittsburgh
Jan. 12—Gettysburg Gettysburg	Feb. 26—Lehigh Home
Jan. 15—Lafayette Home	March 2—F & M Home
	March 5—Muhlenberg, Allentown

Herbert F. Harris '96 Dies

Herbert Frederick Harris '96, the eldest son of John Howard Harris, president of Bucknell from 1889 to 1919, died suddenly at his home in Scranton on September 10. He was 78 and had been in ill health for several years.

Graduated from Bucknell Academy, in 1892, he received his bachelor's degree from the University in 1896 and his master's degree in 1897. After serving in the Spanish-American War, he graduated from the George Washington University Law School. Associated with the law firm of O'Malley, Hill, Harris and Harris in Scranton, he retired several years ago because of ill health.

Four of the Harris brothers have been practicing attorneys at the same time and three of them were members of the Lackawanna Bar Association. Attorney Herbert F. Harris' work as a lawyer was largely on the civil side. As council for the Pennsylvania Coal Company, Mr. Harris occupied a place of unique prominence in his field. In a special way he had familiarized himself with laws referring to mining and not a few members of the Bar looked upon him as an authority in such matters. He was a friendly, quiet man and was held in high regard by his associates in the law, as well as by all privileged to know him. He will be sadly missed by his family and his large circle of friends.

Surviving Mr. Harris are his wife, the former Mable Sharpless of Philadelphia; a sister, Dr. Mary B. Harris '94, Lewisburg; and four brothers: Reese H. '03, Scranton; Dr. Coleman J. '12, Charleston, West Virginia; James P. '12, Wilkes-Barre; and Stanley N. '18, Pittsburgh.

Decker '27 Lost in Air Crash

Dr. Ernest B. Decker '27 and his wife were aboard a Royal Dutch KLM airliner that crashed into the North Sea off the Dutch coast on August 23. Enroute from New York to Amsterdam, the plane was only ten minutes from its goal when the disaster occurred. Nothing has been heard since. Twelve of the twenty-nine passengers were Americans. The plane's crew numbered nine.

Dr. and Mrs. Decker had resided in Daytona Beach, Fla., where he was a practicing eye, ear, nose, and throat specialist. The couple had no children.

Nagro '17 Awarded Degree

Constantino F. Nagro '17 was awarded the degree of Doctor of Music Education from Chicago Musical College last June. He came to Bucknell in 1915 as a protegee of Dr. Paul G. Stolz, former head of the department of music. He was awarded a teacher's diploma in Violin and Theory in 1917 and continued as a post-graduate student until 1919, leaving Bucknell to teach music at Albright College, Reading. He returned to the campus for two years in 1946 as an assistant professor of music.

Since leaving Bucknell, Dr. Nagro was manager of the Violin Department of the Rudolph Wurlitzer Company in Chicago until his recent appointment to the position of director of music in the Roselle (Illinois) schools.

Now residing in Roselle, the Nagros have a daughter Carolyn Jane (now Mrs. Robert E. Lowum) who graduated from Bucknell in 1943.

Roop '45 to Memphis

DANIEL M. ROOP '45

Dan Roop, a graduate of civil engineering in 1945, has accepted a position as Administrative Engineer of the Baptist Memorial Hospital, Memphis, Tennessee, beginning January 1, 1955. The Baptist Memorial Hospital is the largest private institution of its kind in the South. At the close of its present $6,000,000 expansion program the bed capacity will be 1,000. In his new position Mr. Roop will be responsible for the complete physical plant through executive planning, delegation, supervision and inspection, and will also serve on the School of Nursing faculty.

After Navy service in World War II, Dan became plant engineer at the New England Medical Center in Boston and in 1952 was appointed as chief engineer at the Geisinger Memorial Hospital in Danville.

A member of Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity, he has always been an active and interested worker in Alumni affairs—serving as an officer of the Boston Alumni Club. More recently he served a 3 year term as a member of the Board of Directors of the General Alumni Association, and in 1953 was elected a vice president of the Alumni group.

Although somewhat farther removed from the campus in his new assignment, we are sure that Dan and his wife, the former Dorothy Danenhower '46, and their family will promote Bucknell actively in Memphis. Let's have an early meeting of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Memphis, Dan.

Manker '40 Receives Bronze Star

Colonel C. U. Knaub awarding Bronze Star to Major Raymond O. Manker '40

Major Raymond O. Manker '40 was awarded last August the Bronze Star for his fine work from July 28, 1953 to June 30, 1954 when he was personnel officer and assistant adjutant general of the Prisoner of War Command headquarters and later, a member of the personnel section of the Korean Communications Zone headquarters.

Ray has been connected with the U. S. Army for thirteen of the fourteen years since his graduation. He hopes to make the army his career.

Expected home in November, Ray lives with his wife and three children at 1 Curry Lane, Brookside Park, Newark, Delaware.

It Happened Here

Thirty Years Ago—1924

Cheering undergraduates, although contributing $50,000 toward our stadium, had to occupy the seats extending from the twenty yard line. Well, it looks as though we at Bucknell have broken a one-time precedent on the 300 acres.

NOVEMBER 1954

SUMMARY OF GIFTS TO THE UNIVERSITY FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1954

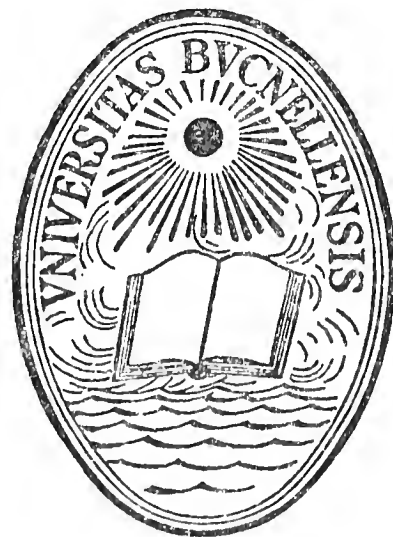

ACCORDING TO SOURCE:

	ALUMNI FUND		CAPITAL AND OTHER GIFTS		TOTAL GIFTS
	Number Giving	Amount Given	Number Giving	Amount Given	Number Giving	Amount Given
Alumni	2,644	$28,888.95	*	$ 25,762.21	2,644	$ 54,651.16
Bison Club			264	2,393.50	264	2,393.50
TOTAL ALUMNI GIVING	2,644	$28,888.95	264	$ 28,155.71	2,908	$ 57,044.66
Parents			233	10,901.50	233	10,901.50
Friends	5	194.00	28	121,524.84	33	121,718.84
Faculty	43	609.50	2	1,787.00	45	2,396.50
Foundations			12	33,319.39	12	33,319.39
Corporations			21	23,805.18	21	23,805.18
	2,692	$29,692.45	560	$219,493.62	3,252	$249,186.07
Less duplication of credits due to contributions of Bucknellians on Faculty being listed under "Alumni" and "Faculty."	33	419.50	*	250.00	33	669.50
TOTAL GIFTS	2,659	$29,272.95	560	$219,243.62	3,219	$248,516.57

*These donors are included in Column I "Alumni Fund—Number Giving."

ACCORDING TO PURPOSE:

Unrestricted Gifts	$ 39,452.45
Endowment Funds	46,253.70
Scholarships	13,838.50
Grants for Research, etc.	16,550.00
Taylor Hall Rebuilding	43,555.69
New Men's Dormitory	84,675.27
Music Department	1,000.00
Chemical Engineering Department	745.18
Christian Association	200.00
Other Restricted Gifts	2,245.78
Total Gifts	$248,516.57

CONTRIBUTORS—1953-1954

Gifts Received from July 1, 1953 to June 30, 1954

The following is a list of the names of ALUMNI, FACULTY, and PARENTS who made contributions to the University during the SIXTH FUND YEAR 1953-1954. Names of PARENTS who contributed to the FATHERS' LOYALTY FUND are listed on page 15.

As a result of their generosity the funds have reached a total beyond any previous year! This report is dedicated to these "Bucknell Partners" in the hope that they will be accorded some measure of the recognition they so richly deserve.

Extreme care has been taken with the preparation of these lists, but some errors and omissions are inevitable. It will be greatly appreciated if you will bring such errors to the attention of the ALUMNI OFFICE. Gifts received since July 1, 1954, will be credited to the Seventh Fund and the donors' names will appear on the Seventh Fund list. The numbers in parentheses following the names of givers indicate the number of years of continuous giving.

1886
In Memoriam
Keiser, Elmer E.

1887
Harley, Walter S. (3)
In Memoriam
Marsh, Anne Kaler

1888
Hayes, William Von V. (5)

1889
Meixell, Edith Slifer (4)
In Memoriam
Brubaker, Susanna Stapleton

1890
Woodruff, John I. (5)

1891
Fund Manager
George E. Fisher
Class Members
Contributors
% Contributing 38
Alumni Fund $50.00
Other Gifts
Total Gifts $50.00

Fisher, George E. (5)
Glover, Maze Pellman (1)
Solly, Mary Kremer (1)

1892
Fund Manager
A. R. E. Wyant
Class Members
Contributors
% Contributing 18
Alumni Fund $409.69
Other Gifts
Total Gifts $409.69

Wyant, A. R. E. (4)
Solier, Frances Montgomery (1)

1893
Fund Manager
Flora M. Clymer
Class Members
Contributors
% Contributing 114
Alumni Fund $125.00
Other Gifts
Total Gifts $125.00

Ayars, Lillian Grove (1)
Bigler, Hattie Wolter (1)
Burger, Mary E. (1)
Clymer, Flora M. (1)
Foreman, John H. (1)
Gardner, Arthur F. (1)
Harter, Carrie Lloyd (4)
Ivins, John W. (1)
Lehman, Louise Lane (1)
Martin, Oriano Williams (1)
Pannebaker, M. Florence (1)
Parker, Ruth Miller (1)
Pauling, Edward C. (5)
Thorton, Mary A. (1)

In Memoriam
Geary, Carrie L.
Pannebaker, Esther M.

1894
Fund Manager
Mary B. Harris
Class Members
Contributors
% Contributing 52
Alumni Fund $315.00
Other Gifts
Total Gifts $315.00

Armstrong, Jessie Wheeler (2)
Collender, Mabel C. (5)
Harris, Mary B. (5)

Huffman, Elizabeth Bates (1)
Lawrence, Blanche Swengel (5)
Mulford, Alice Probasco (5)
Smith, Horvey F. (5)
Smith, H. Burns (5)
Strayer, Franklin R. (3)
Tapping, Mabel Thomas (1)
Watson, Ida Greene (5)

1895
Fund Manager
B. Meade Wagenseller
Class Members 24
Contributors 8
% Contributing 33
Alumni Fund $153.00
Other Gifts 100.00
Total Gifts $253.00

Allen, Ezra (5)
Baldridge, Thomas J. (5)
Bauer, Herbert K. (2)
Jackson, Frank W. (2)
Sigmond, Franklin I. (1)
Simpson, Frank (4)
Truckenmiller, Lou Fague (2)
Wagenseller, B. Meade (5)

1896
Fund Manager
Mary M. Wolfe
Class Members 24
Contributors 7
% Contributing 29
Alumni Fund $116.00
Other Gifts $300.00
Total Gifts $616.00

Burgstresser, A. K. (1)
Morris, Herbert F. (5)
Kase, Gertrude E. (1)
Robb, C. Keen (5)
Walker, Elizabeth C. (5)
Waife, Mary M. (5)
Waife, Mary Williamson (4)

1897
Fund Manager
Romeyn H. Rivenburg
Class Members 17
Contributors 3
% Contributing 18
Alumni Fund $60.00
Other Gifts $60.00
Total Gifts $60.00

Deike, Byrde Taggart (5)
Gundy, John M. (1)
Rivenburg, Romeyn (4)

1898
Fund Manager
Charles D. Koch
Class Members 25
Contributors 7
% Contributing 28
Alumni Fund $131.00
Other Gifts
Total Gifts $131.00

Flint, Mary Chambers (5)
James, Anna Rodgers (3)
Koch, Charles D. (5)
Leiser, Andrew A., Jr. (5)
Pahlmann, Flora Siegel (5)
Wells, John A. (5)
Williams, Nelle Howler (2)

Bollentine, Floyd G. (3)
Bartleson, Carrie Devitt (2)
Bostwick, Marie Leiser (4)
Calvin, John E. (5)
Cabr, E. W. (1)
Dieffenderfer, J. P. (3)
Downs, Gertrude Stephens (5)
Engle, William H. (5)
Grier, Lucy H.
Hazen, Joseph C. (2)
Hutchinson, A. E. (1)
Ivins, Robert M. (1)
Kris, Daniel H. (5)
Meserve, Howard C. (5)
Purdy, William C. (4)
Schuyler, M. Eloise (5)

1900
Fund Manager
Anna C. Judd
Class Members 36
Contributors 13
% Contributing 36
Alumni Fund $265.00
Other Gifts $265.00
Total Gifts $530.00

Black, Sara M. (2)
Bradbury, Grace Callender (4)
Bunnell, Charles E. (2)
Carringer, Marion A. (1)
Dumont, Louise Seiler (1)
Dutton, Mabel Batten (3)
Grim, George A. (1)
Judd, Anna C. (5)
Kress, Ruth H. (5)
Marris, T. J. (2)
Slifer, Edna Shires (5)
Smith, Louise Wainner (4)
Strayer, G. Droyton (1)

1901
Fund Manager
Mabel Grier Leshner
Class Members 40
Contributors 17
% Contributing 43
Alumni Fund $699.00
Other Gifts 447.37
Total Gifts $1,146.37

Allison, Archibald M. (5)
Anderson, Frank (1)
Bentz, S. Elsie (2)
Bidelspacher, Charles F. (2)
Boger, Harry S. (5)
Bower, C. Ruth (5)
Burpee, Frank E. (2)
Konkle, Laura Allen (4)
Leshner, Mabel Grier (5)
Pearse, Charles J. (1)
Pierson, Raymond G. (2)
Rombo, O. N. (2)
Robison, Isabel Schieweyer (5)
Ruben, Walter E. (5)
Trax, Harland A. (5)
Walfe, Charles W. (2)

In Memoriam
Wright, Emma Probasco

1902
Fund Manager
Lewis E. Theiss
Class Members 38
Contributors 11
% Contributing 29
Alumni Fund $154.00
Other Gifts
Total Gifts $154.00

Bentz, Abner (3)
Cromstock, Rachel Kunkle (1)
Cunningham, Alan C. (4)
Edgett, George E. (5)
McCracken, John W. (1)
McCracken, Mary Ueoner (1)
Miller, Grace Brubaker (5)
Noaker, Anne E. (5)
Shields, Sarah Judd (5)
Theiss, Lewis E. (1)
Williams, T. Lamar (5)

1903
Fund Manager
Jay Bond
Class Members 48
Contributors 19
% Contributing 40
Alumni Fund $235.00
Other Gifts
Total Gifts $235.00

Alexander, Eudora Davies (2)
Bond, Jay (2)
Bullis, John Fowler (2)
Carringer, Royce E. (3)
Dershmer, Alexander F. (5)
Ebling, Emily R. (5)
Eisenmenger, Charles F. (3)
Felsberg, Louise E. (5)
Forbell, Mansfield F. (1)
Frampton, J. V. (2)
Gilmare, Eva Ginter (2)
Kalp, W. Lawrence (5)
Long, Clara Slifer (5)
Mausser, Harry S. (5)
Murphy, Charlotte Shields (3)
Sheldon, Marton R. (5)
Stewart, George H. (2)
Williams, Howard K. (3)
Zeller, Helen Houghton (5)

1904
Fund Manager
Robert W. Thompson
Class Members 46
Contributors 22
% Contributing 48
Alumni Fund $305.00
Other Gifts 25.00
Total Gifts $330.00

Beagle, Mae Morgan (2)
Bibby, Harry B. (1)
Coruthers, Carroll (1)
Custer, Lewis B. (1)
Gaff, Margaret B. (5)
Hollpenny, Estelle Albright (1)
Hush, Clarence M. (1)
Jensen, John C. (2)
Kieffer, William M. (1)
Kuder, Blanche Bone (1)
McCormick, Harry E. (3)
Merrill, Elizabeth Williams (5)
Murdock, William G. (1)
Reed, Elizabeth E. (2)
Robey, Louis W. (5)
Robinson, David W. (5)
Schiffinger, Olive (3)
Stahl, John H. (5)

Stevenson, E. T. (1)
Sutton, Dean M. (1)
Teufel, Charles M. (5)
Thompson, Robert W. (4)

1905
Fund Manager
Claire Conway
Class Members 67
Contributors 26
% Contributing 39
Alumni Fund $331.00
Other Gifts
Total Gifts $331.00

Andrews, Mary Halfpenny (5)
Bittenbender, Joseph S. (1)
Biss, Ruth Shorkley (5)
Bower, Mary I. (5)
Conway, Claire M. (5)
Cook, Mabel Maurer (3)
Cooper, Charles D. (2)
Cooper, Cottie Albright (2)
Dudley, Mary Unruh (4)
Elliott, Ralph (3)
Fetherston, Edith Kelly (5)
Flood, John H., Jr. (2)
Fargeus, Margaret (3)
Hall, Wyman L. (5)
Hylybert, Lewis C. (5)
Johnson, Nellie E. (3)
Leshner, Harold (1)
McCain, Donald R. (2)
Porter, W. W. (5)
Royer, Robert D. (4)
Sanders, John C. (3)
Smith, Paul G. (3)
Thompson, Nellie Goddard (5)
Thomas, Jessie McFarland (5)
Williams, Roger H. (1)

In Memoriam
Kalp, Martha Wolfe (5)

1906
Fund Manager
Elbina L. Bender
Class Members 74
Contributors 19
% Contributing 26
Alumni Fund $192.00
Other Gifts 100.00
Total Gifts $292.00

Bender, Elbina L. (5)
Cole, Harold N. (5)
Coley, Hazel Knapp (5)
Coverdale, William T. (5)
Dann, Edna Innes (3)

IN MEMORIAM

- Elmer E. Keiser, 1886
- Anno Koler Marsh, 1887
- Susanna Stapleton Brubaker, 1889
- Carrie L. Geary, 1893
- Esther M. Pannebaker, 1891
- Emmo Probasco Wright, 1901
- Mortho Wolfe Kalp, 1905
- Howard Griffith, 1907
- Homer Henderson, 1907
- Ulsula Pormley Leach, 1907
- George Leach, 1907
- William W. Roker, 1907
- J. Henry Schuch, 1907
- Horry G. Snovely, 1907
- Ido Moore Snider, 1907
- Charles C. Woaner, 1907
- Winfield Scott Booth, 1908
- C. Harold Godshall, 1908
- John G. Roffensperger, 1935
- John A. Fox, 1941

The numbers in parentheses following the names of contributors indicate the number of years of continuous giving.

CLASS REPORTS

CLASS OF 1890

Class Reporter: DR. JOHN I. WOODRUFF
Selinsgrove, Pa.

Of all the modern allergies
I finally found my own.
'Tis not the wild-eyed daisy
Nor any plant that's grown;
'Tis not a thing thrust on me;
Or some other curious quirk.
'Tis a plain old-fashioned something
That prosaic men call work.

—John I. Woodruff.

Dr. John I. Woodruff was recently given recognition by the Pennsylvania German Folklore Society for being the originator of the "Fersommlinge" or Pennsylvania German gatherings, the first of which was held in Selinsgrove in 1933.

CLASS OF 1897

Class Reporter: DR. ROMEYN H. RIVENBURG
10 Main St., Clifford, Pa.

John M. Gundy was elected president of the Lewisburg Trust & Safe Deposit Company last August to complete the term of the late Daniel F. Green, who died on August 5. Mr. Green had been president of the bank since 1924.

CLASS OF 1901

Class Reporter: J. C. HIGGINS
106 S. Fourth St., Lewisburg, Pa.

At the 25th anniversary dinner of the Camden County Branch of the American Association of University Women in Camden, N. J. in June, it was announced that their 1955 international study grant would be named in honor of Dr. Mabel Grier Leshner, a charter member, in recognition of her pioneer work in social hygiene education for family living in the Camden public schools and her later extension of the program to state and national scope.

Her 1901 classmates and friends will be interested to learn that her activities in the Camden Branch, together with other B. U. members, materially aided in gaining recognition of Bucknell's qualifications and subsequent endorsement by the National Board in Washington for organization of the Susquehanna Valley Branch in Lewisburg.

Dr. Frank Anderson recently sent his regards; says he's passed his 78th birthday and is in good health. He's been acting as interim pastor of the Mt. Vernon Baptist Church, Mt. Vernon, Ark.

John S. Stephens made a plane trip east and while he didn't visit the campus, he was able to visit with his sisters, Mrs. Gertrude Stephens Downs '99, Mrs. Ruth Stephens Porter '05. While in Florida he also visited Dr. J. Earle Edwards '10 who had been pastor at St. John's Church in Palo Alto, Calif., before retiring to Florida.

CLASS OF 1902

Class Reporter: MRS. SARAH JUDD SHIELDS
(Sarah Judd)
79 University Ave., Lewisburg, Pa.

Orren "Ducky" Barrett, end for the thundering herd in 1900-1901 recently recalled his days on the field. He refuses to watch the game on TV, saying "I feel that I ought to be out there."

Ernest A. Sterling died at his home in Montrose on September 1. Before his death he was consulting engineer for Johns Manville Sales Corporation and the American Creosoting Company of New York.

CLASS OF 1903

Class Reporter: MRS. HARRY C. HERPEL
(Elvie S. Coleman)
1250 Park Ave., McKeesport, Pa.

After the pleasant summer, which it is hoped all have had, please send in news of your activities, vacation experiences, families, etc.

Non-letter writing seems to have been the rule this summer; your reporter falls into that category along with other members of the class. Shall we all try to remedy this situation in the following months, and give a little news of ourselves to interested readers.

Regretfully, we report the death of Joseph E. Glaspey in April. He had not been able to attend our reunion last year because of illness. Mr. Glaspey, of Slippery Rock, is survived by his wife, and two children.

CLASS OF 1904

Class Reporter: ROBERT W. THOMPSON
310 S. Third St., Lewisburg, Pa.

Harry Bibby heads a true Bucknell family. His two daughters, Ella B. '32, and Ethel L. '30 and a son-in-law Warren C. Evans '34 are all Bucknellians.

Billy Kieffer, after attending the class reunion at Lafayette, came on to Lewisburg bringing his good wife and attended commencement exercises.

Louis W. Robey was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws by Alderson-Broadus College, Phillip, W. Va. in May, in recognition of his outstanding service to education. Dr. Robey, a vice president and director of Marts and Lundy, Inc. has, since April 1, been in charge of the new Philadelphia office of that firm. This new honor is one of a long record of salutations Dr. Robey has earned in recognition of his outstanding service for American Baptists. He served as a Trustee of Bucknell University from 1920 to 1930.

We are happy to report that Dave Robinson has safely arrived at his home in Florida after an enforced sojourn in a Portsmouth, N. H. hospital. Dave was stricken while on a vacation trip following our June reunion.

Mrs. Alma T. Moore advises that her father Orestes C. Thomas passed away September 12th, 1948.

Charles E. Yost passed away February 15th at Bellflower, Calif.

David W. Thomas has been practicing law at Minden, La. for many years. Dave served a term as mayor of the city and is at present a candidate for judge.

CLASS OF 1905

Class Reporter: DR. LEWIS C. HYLBERT
435 Drake Ave., Upland, Calif.

We regret to announce the death of Harold E. Tiffany in Wilmington, Del. on May 4.

CLASS OF 1906

Class Reporter: WILLIAM L. DONEHOWER
22 N. Fifth St., Lewisburg, Pa.

Miles Timlin died September 1 at his home in Lansdowne at the age of 82. He was a math teacher for many years and had retired from teaching about 15 years ago. He is survived by his wife and three children. The sympathy of the class is extended.

CLASS OF 1907

Class Reporter: DR. LEO L. ROCKWELL
Colgate Univ., Hamilton, N. Y.

Elkanah Hulley spent last winter in Florida rebuilding the Stetson University Law School. It will be remembered that Elkanah has a long-time family connection with Stetson. His uncle, Lincoln Hulley, who had been one of the most popular professors at Bucknell, left Lewisburg just as we entered college to become president of Stetson, where he did a remarkable job of building the university. So naturally Elkanah, who is a Stetson trustee, has to divide his loyalty between the two universities.

All of us will feel the deepest sympathy for classmate Bill Kelly and Mrs. Kelly (Sara Meyer '09) in the shocking death of their daughter in an auto accident in the late spring.

The Old Man with the Hourglass has struck our ranks again. Charles C. Wagner died at his home in Hammond, Ind., on February 9. Wag was one of the most active men in our class; in addition to his carrying on the "tough" chemistry specialization, he was one of our few athletes, being a football and basketball star. For twenty years after graduation he was professor of chemistry and physics and director of men's athletics at Madison, (S.D.) Normal School, which later became General Beadle State Teachers College. For some fifteen years he was in the oil business. When the Federal Housing Administration was established, he was appointed State Director of Modernization Credits. In 1940 he moved to the Chicago area. Here he was a chemist with the Sinclair Refining Company of East Chicago, Ind., a consultant to the Sanitary District of the City of Chicago, and special instructor in the industrial chemistry department of Purdue University.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Eldred L. Wagner, 839 175th Place, Hammond, his children, Lawrence Wagner, an investment banker in Chicago, Mrs. Eldred Dunn of Sioux Falls, S. D., Theodore F. Wagner, commissioned from West Point, now an engineer with Union Carbon and Carbide at the AEC plant at Oak Ridge, and Paul Wagner, the youngest son, a World War veteran decorated for bravery in action. Mrs. Bertha Wagner Colestock, widow of the late Dr. Henry T. Colestock, is a sister. We all join in our feeling of sympathy for the family of this fine classmate.

If any of you have a 1744 Dos Mundos pillar dollar, you make take it from Gilbert Perez that you have a rare item. In his recent article (March 1954) in the Philippine Numismatic Monographs No. 10, entitled "Foreign Coins Related to Philippine History" he discusses the Chilean, Colombian, Mexican and Peruvian coins to be found in the Philippines, as well as the U. S. coins later imported. The U. S. 1901 half-dollars are also rare; Dr. Perez assumes they were later sold to India with the 1906-s pesos by the Philippine government. If you are a numismatist, you may hazard a guess on this. No others need apply.

For the third time George Riggs has been invited to revisit Puerto Rico, all expenses paid, for the annual meeting of the churches in February. This is a well deserved tribute to George for the many years he devoted to religious work on the island. When at home, he and Margaret are still in Northumberland.

Mary Stanton Speicher sends word of the death of Paul Levan Knorr, whom some will remember as having been briefly a member of our class. He was a retired wholesale and retail shoe dealer in Reading, a member of the Universalist Church, the American Humanist Association, the Travelers Protective Association, and the Reading High School Alumni.

Mary takes due pride in the showing of our class in the Alumni Fund gifts. As we all approach retirement, or actually arrive at that point, we realize the fact, which she emphasizes, that pensions are inadequate; but however small the gift, let's keep up the record. Mary has received word from Buck Shott that forty of our dwindling members contributed this year. That is a remarkable story! Several gifts were in Memoriam. That too is significant, not merely of our loyalty, but of the fact that those left behind remember us when we have moved on to our reward.

CLASS OF 1909

Class Reporter: MRS. HOWARD HEADLAND
(Sarah E. Walters)
3911 First Ave., N., St. Petersburg, Fla.

Charles E. Hlbish and his family took an extended trip to the Western U. S. and into Mexico last summer. Charles had just retired from the position of superintendent of the Northumberland County Schools.

Percy Shade died on September 4. He was a retired farmer. Also, he organized the Mifflinburg Farmers Supply, which he operated as an implement agency until six years before his death. A native of Danville, he was a resident of Mifflinburg most of his life. He is survived by his wife and several sisters and brothers.

Leonora Shamp Crosby answered the summons March 10, 1953. We are sorry that we did not know to report this death earlier but we learned of it only last July when we called at her former home in Falconer, N. Y.

CLASS OF 1912

Class Reporter: MRS. H. W. HOUSEKNECHT
(Maze Callahan)
108 W. Penn St., Muncy, Pa.

When I received my ALUMNUS in Sept. I was somewhat startled. I didn't know what had happened to the rest of my report. Soon a letter came from "Buck" saying an editor could get "ulcers" from all the worries in trying to print all the news with so little space. Then he informed me that the rest would appear in the November issue. If it is stale just blame it on him.

This year 1954 commemorates the golden anniversary of the Delta Theta Upsilon fraternity on the campus at Bucknell. They merged with Sigma Chi 37 years ago. Some of the fellows did not join us as they had gone on to medical, law, and dental schools and became members of different national fraternities. So a group of the old fellows decided it would be fun to have a "get-together", renew acquaintances, live over the memories of their fraternity days at Bucknell. This was planned for alumni day. After the luncheon a bull session was arranged at 3 o'clock at Hunt House. Frank Hean, acting chairman and master of ceremonies presided. A bull session with a big "B." All the fellows talked and butted in at the same time. The women folks were really ladies. Finally order was restored, letters and telegrams were read from members unable to be present. Then the fellows told "all they knew" since graduation, where they lived, kind of position, married or single, number of children and grandchildren. It was decided to meet next year on alumni day for breakfast at 9:30. This way they could enjoy a session without interfering with the luncheon, class reunions, and symposia. At 6 o'clock we drove to Milton to have dinner at the Elks Club. A wonderful dinner! A wonderful day! A wonderful time!

The following old D. T. U.'s were present: Dr. Frank Simpson '95, Lewisburg; Dr. and Mrs. Carl Millward '06, Milton; Chauncey E. Brockway '07, Sharon; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mickle '10, Harrisburg; "Spider" Case '10, Troy; Mr. and Mrs. George Street '10, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Crowell '11, Wanamassa, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hean '12, Harrisburg; Rip Ruth '12, Malvern; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Conner '12, Ardmore; "Sal" Fisher '13, Reading; Elmer Fairchild '13, Milton; Bob Everall '14, Sharon; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williams '15, Glenside; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reitz '14, Lewisburg; Lester Houser '20, Lewistown; Willard Lewis '20, Connelville; Stanford Kunkle '21, Lewisburg.

I suppose a great many of you are wondering how I know so much about this affair. When the notices were sent out the wives, sweethearts, children, and other assorted relatives were invited. Pop and I were placed in the category of "assorted relatives." We did have two sweethearts in the group—old "Fusser" Crowell, as the boys called him, had been married four years and was still honeymooning. Then George Street after all these years has been married just eight years. Both of these are the first marriages. The other wives were the average "run of the mill", cooks, dish washers and baby sitters.

Girls, do you remember the old D. T. U. house? It almost sat on the sidewalk where we passed to go to the Sem. It was most embarrassing at times. We had no other way to reach the Sem except around faculty and that was much too long if we had stayed down town till the last minute. There was no sidewalk on the other side of the street. After we passed you could hear suppressed giggles and snickers—well, we never knew "what was showing" but we did know remarks were being passed.

When I get tired of looking at the same person, also fed up with my own food, I get itchy feet and want to go somewhere. So Sunday we made the long promised trip to Harrisburg. Stopped at the Heans, picked up our son, Bill, met the Mikles, had dinner. Then we went to their home to spend the afternoon. Remember in one of my reports I said that Roy Mickle '10 had a hobby—he's a hybridizer of "glads" and irises. This is the season for "glads." Well, I never saw such a gorgeous display of blooms. Roy is an originator of new varieties. He grows these from seed sometimes having 10,000 and 20,000 seedlings in one season. He already has three "glads" on the market—Susan, the Harrisburger, and Valencia. He and Renie are so modest they won't tell you much, yet they attend the flower shows in many places and come home with any number of blue ribbons and various awards. It takes time to produce such a display planting, fertilizing, cultivating, heaps of patience, plenty of sunshine and rain thrown in. I would just sum it up in these words, "God's in His Heaven, all's right with the world."

Mary Louise Blackburn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Norris Blackburn, State College and James H. Bartholomew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bartholomew '12, 1019 Market St., Williamsport, were married Saturday, August 14 in the First Methodist Church, Vancouver, Wash. They will reside in Portland, Ore. where he is employed by the U. S. Forest Service.

"It is one of those days in which the world seems too good to be true, a day we feel 'this day can never come again.' It is like walking through the Twenty-third Psalm."

—Richard Le Gallienne.

CLASS OF 1913

Class Reporter: CHARLES L. SANDERS
76 Walnut St., Mifflinburg, Pa.

Mrs. Grace Miller (Grace Rossiter) has retired from teaching. Mrs. Miller resides at 415 Walnut St., Sunbury.

CLASS OF 1914

Class Reporter: MRS. H. B. WEAVER
(Dora Hamler)
348 Ridge Ave., New Kensington, Pa.

George T. Grove, 325 W. Alameda, Tucson, Arizona, formerly associated with Headman, Ferguson & Carollo, is now director of public works for the city of Tucson.

Recently we received a letter from Bertha Pfeegor Grove '09, a classmate of your reporter. Bertha's letter brought us up-to-date on the Grove family. George is enjoying his present work for the city of Tucson, finding it pleasant change from traveling constantly and living in hotels. George, Jr. is a civil engineer with Peter Kewitt Construction Co. (The company building the atomic plant at Portsmouth, O.) He is married and has three children. Bob is a mechanical engineer doing atomic research for a firm in Phoenix, Ariz. He is married and has one son. Betty, with her husband and their daughter, lives on their cotton farm in southern California. George, Jr., Bob, and Betty are graduates of the University of Arizona.

Henry G. Kuyl retired on April 30 as chief engineer of the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, Department of the Army, with headquarters in Washington, D. C. Mr. Kuyl's work with the department began in 1926, when he was employed by the District Engineer, Chattanooga, Tenn., as hydroelectric engineer on the comprehensive survey for improvement of the Tennessee River for power navigation and flood control. In 1929 he was transferred to the board and became chief engineer in 1942. Hats off to Henry, who has been giving a check to the Alumni Fund equal to the amount given by the rest of us '14ers. It is of interest to learn that we rank ninth among the classes from 1886 to 1954 in our contributions to the Fund.

In the accumulation of mail upon return from vacation is the reminder that news is due October 7. It is difficult to come down to earth after a 6,661 mile auto trip. Our itinerary included many interesting highlights which fall into place in retrospect.

The Dakota Badlands were magnificent even in 103 heat. The size of Mt. Rushmore impressed us by the particular fact that a grown man can stand upright in Lincoln's eye. Still far from the West Coast, we overheard a citizen of Sheridan, Wyoming, ask a little girl teasingly if she had come from "way back east—Illinois or Iowa?"

In Hardin, Montana, Harry visited an elementary school whose enrollment was one-third Indian children. We drove for hours through the wide open spaces of Montana, meeting no one and seeing only herds of cattle. We spent the Labor Day weekend at beautiful Glacier National Park.

From the park we drove through Washington, Oregon and on to California. At Crescent City we had our first glimpse of the Pacific Ocean, and our trip from the California border to San Francisco was over the beautiful Redwood Highway.

Bucknellians of the mid-twenties will remember Kathryn Glase '25, now Mrs. T. A. Hines. With Kathryn as guide, we toured the city; Chinatown, Fishermen's Wharf (on the unique cablecars), the smart shops, and the Top of the Mark. She and Tom live at 1380 Taylor St., and the view from their rooftop terrace is almost as magnificent as that from the Top of the Mark.

From there we headed East, through Donner Pass in the Sierras to Nevada. We passed through the Great Salt Desert of Utah and on to Wyoming, driving at 7,000 feet altitude with a view of snowtopped mountains and herds of antelope.

Following the Lincoln Highway, we drove through the farmlands of Nebraska and Iowa. Three weeks from the date of our departure, we were once again at home in Western Pennsylvania.

CLASS OF 1915

Class Reporter: J. B. BATES
265 Green St., Mifflinburg, Pa.

Rev. Edward O. Clark celebrated 30 years as pastor of the Chevy Chase Baptist Church. One of his sermons "Opening Blind Eyes," was published in the Congressional Record by courtesy of the Hon. E. C. Gathings, who is a member of the congregation.

Last June's issue of the Seer, a quarterly bulletin for the prevention and conquest of blindness, was dedicated to Mark M. Walter, dean of vocational rehabilitation of the physically handicapped in Pennsylvania and a pioneer in this work on a national scale.

CLASS OF 1916

Class Reporter: MRS. GEORGE STEVENSON
(Amy Patterson)
R. D. 1, Box 556, Red Bank, N. J.

Currently building a home in Ocean Springs, Miss. after a career in the air, is Burton F. Lewis, retired Lt. Col., U. S. Air Force.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund T. Hoch (Charlotte Welliver) purchased the residence of former Judge Albert Johnson '96, One University Avenue, Lewisburg, and established a nursing and convalescent home there.

CLASS OF 1917

Class Reporter: MRS. CARL A. SCHUG
(Alice Johnson)
266 Lincoln Ave., Williamsport, Pa.

Lewis A. Eyster, Sunbury, is chairman of the Northumberland County Highway Safety Committee. He is helping to plan and promote a program to study in highway safety with special emphasis on a courtesy program and use of radar speed checks, as well as high school training courses.

CLASS OF 1918

Class Reporter: MRS. LAYTON KING
(Elizabeth Champlin)
391 Broad St., Montoursville, Pa.

Russell E. Boyer was recently the recipient of a distinguished service award by the Chamber of Commerce, Allentown, in recognition of his service as district engineer of the State Highway Department. Rus, a member of the Bucknell Board of Trustees and genial class fund manager, has under his direct supervision the building and maintenance of state highways in the counties of Berks, Carbon, Monroe, Northampton, Schuylkill, and Lehigh. His citation read in part as follows: "His fellows will never have to build a monument in his memory for, all around us, we can see living monuments—excellent highway arteries which this amiable and capable engineer has helped to construct, repair, and improve in the best traditions of his office."

Of interest is a clipping from a New Jersey paper telling of a "Bon Voyage" dinner given by members of the Matawan Township Board of Education, the Matawan School faculty and friends of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Bennett, honoring Mr. Bennett's retiring after 33 years as principal of the Matawan High School. Mr. Bennett went to Matawan after service in the First World War and made a valuable contribution to the community. He plans to spend his time in Christian service. Our congratulations to John for a job well done and appreciated by his community.

And my usual plea for more news.

CLASS OF 1919

Class Reporter: DR. FRANKLIN D. JONES
2617 St. David's Lane, Ardmore, Pa.

Margaret Jane Buck (Mrs. Richard N. Chubb) makes her home in Millville, N. J., where her husband is in the insurance business. She is a member of the Millville Woman's Club, and the American Legion Auxiliary and is still interested in Pi Beta Phi. As a good Episcopalian she is active in her local and state church organizations. Of her three daughters, the oldest went to Penn State; the second, Sara, graduated from Bucknell in '43, got her M.D. from Temple; and the third went to Dickinson and is a chemist at home in Millville. The older two are married and there are two grandsons and a granddaughter.

Naomi Lane (Mrs. Ralph E. Eisenman) lives in the Old Lane home at the edge of Brockway. Her husband is a graduate of Penn State in mechanical engineering, and is in the dry cleaning business in nearby DuBois. Naomi and Ralph have a son, David, a junior in Brockway High School. She writes "Our hobby at the moment is riding horses, our favorites being Tennessee Walkers. With business in DuBois and living in Brockway, our friends and clubs are in both towns. For nine years I was superintendent of children's work in the Presbyterian Church, and Ralph is a member of the Board of Trustees. He is also a member of the Board of Education. Last spring I affiliated with the State College Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi and I belong to the AAUW of DuBois."

Raymond P. Lewis has retired after 33 years of math teaching at Plainfield (N. J.) High School and has taken to sunny California to wit; at 4459 Ventura Canyon Ave., Sherman Oaks, Calif. Bunny is looking forward to meeting the Bucknellians of Southern California. How about giving him a real welcome?

Donald Lose died in Duncedin, Florida, on October 1, 1950.

CLASS OF 1920

Class Reporter: HAYES L. PERSON
60 S. Third St., Lewisburg, Pa.

Dr. Lester P. Fowle and Mrs. Amelia H. Beard, Excelsior, Minn., were married on July 1. Dr. Fowle has been medical director at Bucknell University for the past 23 years. The couple plan to reside in Lewisburg.

CLASS OF 1922

Class Reporter: PHILIP C. CAMPBELL
R. D. 5, Danville, Pa.

Norwood Lowry and his family had an enjoyable time at their summer home near Carbondale.

Carl Ivar Carlson lives at 901 Market St., Williamsport. He is manager of Susquehanna Division of The Gas Company, Williamsport.

Arthur Gardner and his wife made an extensive trip to the west during the summer.

Of course, what would you expect Phil Campbell to do when he passed through Phil Campbell, Alabama on his recent extended tour of the South, which included attendance at the Theta Chi National Convention? That's right, he sent a postcard postmarked "Phil Campbell, Ala."

Mrs. Mary Sholl Sherman was elected vice president of the Washington, D. C. Alumni Club at the May meeting.

Latest reports on Thomas R. Stein, one of our mechanical engineering graduates, tells of his appointment as division manager of the Jessup (Ga.) Division of Rayonier Inc. He resides at 586 Plum St., Jessup, Ga.

CLASS OF 1923

Class Reporter: MRS. LEROY FRONTZ
(Olive Billhime)
Evergreen Farm, Allenwood, Pa.

Thomas Musser, Mifflinburg, has been named assistant superintendent of Union County Schools.

CLASS OF 1925

Class Reporter: REV. WILLIAM D. GOLIGHTLY
708 Jefferson Ave., Scranton, Pa.

Henry "Ted" Moore, Reynoldsville, has been ill for the past 20 years and is now in the Maple Avenue Hospital in DuBois. He would enjoy hearing from classmates. Ted is one of five brothers: Charles Byron '20, Howard H. '22, Fred E. '27, William Frank '27, all Sigma Chi's.

Editor's note: Your reporter (too modest to say so) is now serving as chaplain of the Department of Pennsylvania of The American Legion.—Ed.

CLASS OF 1926

Class Reporter: MISS ANNA L. BROWN
45 Wildwood Ave., Pitman, N. J.

We see by the Wall Street Journal that Malcolm G. Jones has been elected president and director of Sidney Blumenthal Co., a textile firm. He joined E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co., in 1929 as a foreman of the acetate plant in Waynesboro, Va. In 1946 he was made plant manager of the Waynesboro plant, and in 1950 he was appointed director of nylon sales. In 1953 he joined Robbins Mills as president and in June 1954 he was elected director in addition to being president. His resignation from Robbins Mills became elective August 5, when he moved to the Sidney Blumenthal Co. Congratulations, Mac.

CLASS OF 1927

Class Reporter: MRS. L. H. COLLISON
(Grace M. Pheifer)
Marydel, Md.

Lt. Col. Gilbert R. Frith has recently earned the Third Army Certificate of Achievement awarded at Fort McPherson, Georgia, for "his prompt and sound decisions in rendering advice and assistance to post commanders in the Third Army and other personnel, which resulted in increased efficiency of medical service operations." Col. Frith with his wife, the former Lillian Webster

'30 and his children Mary Ann, Thomas Charles, and John live at 136 Vidal Blvd., Decatur, Ga. Col. Frith will leave shortly to become sanitary engineer to the U. S. Army Field Services, Orleans, France.

Kitty Gaventa has recently undertaken the raising of Christmas trees commercially. Her vacation days were spent browsing around the woodlands of Michigan and Minnesota.

John W. Kling, Dumont, N. J., passed away at his home on Easter morning. Before his death, Mr. Kling had been a biology teacher at the Dumont High School. Active in many community affairs, Mr. Kling was also a member of the Calvary Methodist Church. He is survived by his wife, two sons, and a sister. The sympathy of the class is extended to the survivors.

If you want to read more class news, for goodness sakes, send it on its way to Marydel, Md.

CLASS OF 1928

Class Reporter: MRS. H. M. MARSH
(Lorinne Martin)
60 Prospect Hill Ave., Summit, N. J.

William Harpster has returned to the office of Stone and Webster Engineering Corp., Boston, after spending a few years all over the U. S. Bill, his wife, and three children reside at Oregon Rd., Rt. 1, Framingham, Mass.

Louis A. Pursley will be the Republican candidate in November for the office of State Assemblyman to serve in the General Assembly of Pennsylvania. Mr. Pursley resigned from the teaching profession at the end of the past school year.

Hollis T. Ross has been named president of the Lions Club at Lewisburg.

Rev. Dr. Charles E. Roth, Honorary '28, was honored in July by the Reading Kiwanis Club. He is retiring after 49 years' service as a clergyman.

Dr. Wilbur Sheriff has been named chairman of a newly created "Committee on Higher Education and the Institutional Budget," by the Pennsylvania Baptist Convention.

CLASS OF 1929

Class Reporter: MISS THELMA J. SHOWALTER
223 State St., Harrisburg, Pa.

This is one of the occasions that your reporter wishes that someone else had this job. From Horace Sheppard comes word of the sudden and untimely death of our friend and classmate, the Rev. Frank B. Loper, at his home in Modesta, Calif., September 8. Following his college days at Bucknell, he attended Yale Divinity School. He served pastorates in Connecticut and Massachusetts prior to going to Modesta three years ago. Our personal sympathy and that of the Class of 1929 is extended to Frank's wife and his two daughters, Nancy and Judy.

From Maine comes news that Geddes Simpson has been appointed head of the department of entomology at the College of Agriculture and the Maine Agricultural Station and professor of entomology at the University of Maine.

Hugo Riemer, Esq. delivered the high school commencement address at Bloomsburg in June. Hugo is president of the Nitrogen Division, Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation of America.

William Mahood has recently been appointed manager of the contractors section of the explosive department of Atlas Powder Co. Bill joined Atlas in 1936 and for sometime had been sales manager on the West Coast. Bill, his wife and three children reside at 3608 Lancaster Ave., Wilmington, Del. Recently, it was your reporter's good fortune to run into Bill on the streets of our Capital city.

While vacationing in Michigan this summer, Hopp Sheppard visited with Charles and Esther Rivenburg. You will recall that "Chuck" is the nephew of Bucknell's former Dean Romeyn Rivenburg '97.

During freshman week, your reporter renewed her old friendship with Arthur Shorts and his charming wife, Mary Reese '32. Their daughter, Linda, is now a freshman at our beloved Alma Mater.

CLASS OF 1931

Class Reporter: MRS. W. ZELMAN SLEIGHTER
(Ruth J. Thomas)
833 Chestnut St., Millinburg, Pa.

Helen Reece is teaching at Red Bank, N. J. and lives at 25 Peters Place. She spent the summer with her family in Lycoming County.

Dr. Andrew B. Steele, husband of Margaret Ross, Lewistown, died suddenly in his office of a heart attack on September 4. Dr. Steele, a prominent physician, was a member of the American Psychiatric Society, the Epsilon Phi Mu Medical Fraternity, Lewistown Presbyterian Church, Lewistown Lodge of B. P. O. Elks, Mifflin County and Pennsylvania medical associations and the American Medical Association. Dr. Steele is survived by his wife, and two sons, Bruce, 7, and James, 10. The sympathy of the class is extended to the survivors.

Mrs. William Bolster (Ann M. Sprout) has moved to One Crown Circle, Haynesfield, Tenn.

George A. Wright has been named New York district sales manager for the Grasselli Chemicals Department of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co.

CLASS OF 1932

Class Reporter: ELLIS F. HULL
Allentown, N. J.

Arthur Palmer started his career after graduation as a teacher at Newton Falls High School, Ohio, but soon after earning his law degree he became established in a law practice there and since then has become a well-established part of the community. In fact, he has served four years as mayor and four years as solicitor besides activities in church and masonic organizations and as president of the Kiwanis Club of Newton Falls. Art became a bridegroom in 1940 marrying Mildred Hoffman (Kent State University '35). They are the parents of three children.

CLASS OF 1933

Class Reporter: MRS. ERNEST H. ENGELHARDT
(Janet Worthington)
375 College Hill, Bloomsburg, Pa.

Description of November — "So autumn boldly passes like a drum and bugle corps down the street, and we welcome the peace and quiet of the first snow fall, interrupted only by sparrows twittering over bread crumbs scattered on the frozen ground."

Marie Groff Hester attended the District Conference of AAUW on Sept. 18 at BSTC where she discussed "Citizens Commissions" on a panel, "Education for the Community." Marie is district counseling technician for the Bureau of Employment Security in Williamsport. Her older daughter Joan is a junior at BSTC, and her daughter Carolyn is a sophomore at Susquehanna where she is studying to be a medical secretary.

Don Fisher, one of my favorite tennis partners while I lived in Muncy, is still a major threat in tennis in that area. He has made quite a name for himself in the inventive phase of engineering, and is now director of engineering at the Sprout-Waldron Manufacturing Co., employing over 500 men at present. Don lost his wife four years ago, his family numbers five. Recalling that some of our classmates were avid hunters, Don says, "Have made the limit in rabbits every year for 20 years, a deer every year." Now he is shooting small bore, hi-velocity rifle. So far this year he has killed 48 woodchucks—52 crows.

Ed Frack's new address is 421 Range Rd., Towson 4, Md. Ed writes, "I came here to Baltimore in October of '53 and the family came in June '54, after the close of the school year. I am now employed as executive manager of the Mechanical Contractors Association of Maryland, Inc. and enjoy the work better than any I have had since '33. My activities are divided between labor relations and business relations. We have a daughter, 14, and a son, 11, and think we all like Baltimore a lot. Saw Owen Sadler '34 in Omaha. He is manager of a television station there. Met him by chance in a hotel. Regards to all." Ed.

Julia Hoffman Beighley's daughter, Frances Ann, is a freshman at Bucknell this fall. Frances Ann was a member of the National Honor Society in Williamsport High School, member of student council for three years, and active in athletics.

Joseph DiPace is living at 16 Rue Anselme, Neuilly Sur Sein, Paris, France. His work in his company requires him to travel all over France.

The class wishes to express its sympathy to Eleanor Dodd Dunkerly whose husband, S. Kenneth Dunkerly '32 died in March. Her son is in the fourth grade. Eleanor with the true Bucknell spirit is carrying the family responsibility. She is cashier with the Bon Ton department store in Hazleton.

Martin Lutz, wife and two children, spent several weeks in Bermuda in August.

Gladys Steel Dunmire has been teaching seniors in high school, but this year has a home room full of wiggly 7th graders (preference—seniors). Married 17 years she considers her husband "wonderful."

In March Thomas Wilkenson, safety director for the U. S. Army, Pacific, since 1946, left for Japan where he is now safety director for the U. S. Army Forces, Far East. An editorial in the Honolulu Star Bulletin praised his impressive record of eight years there. As a civilian employee of the Army, Tom served well. He held office in the Kailua Elementary P. T. A., the Honolulu Alumni Chapter of Sigma Chi, the Hawaii Chapter of the American Society of Safety Engineers, and the Federal Safety Council of Hawaii. He is a member of Kiwanis, Elks, Toastmasters, Industrial Safety Advisory Committee, Society of Automotive Engineers, Society of American Military Engineers, and the coordinating committee of the Governor's Safety Conference. His wife Josephine and two sons, Tommy, 8, and Michael, 5, joined him in Tokyo late in August.

CLASS OF 1934

Class Reporter: MRS. WILLIAM S. LIMING
(Ruth Rohr)

396 Andrews Road, East Williston, L. I., N. Y.

Hi to all the loyal members of our class who journeyed back to Lewisburg on June 12. The weather was perfect and I know you all enjoyed your visit on our beautiful campus. We missed those of you who weren't there. The reminiscing was really fun. The changes during these next five years will be many and that 25th Reunion will be interesting to say the least, so remember '59 when we should have a bang-up time under the chairmanship of Sherb Walker and Harry Fithian who agreed to work on our Silver Reunion.

Our Reunion report was prepared by our new Class Secretary so I thought I'd tell you about our Class Officers elected at our Reunion meeting in the Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library.

Our class prexy Edward C. Myers, 1236 Murrayhill Ave., Pittsburgh 17, was re-elected. Eddie couldn't be with us because of the Steel Negotiations but his duties were turned over to Sanford Barcus who did a really fine job—more of Sparks later. Eddie is now assistant vice president—industrial relations for the United States Steel Corporation. He married Edna Cleckner '33 and they have two daughters Wendy Ann, 12, and Sandra Sue, 8. Eddie attended Harvard Graduate School where he took the advanced management program. He's a member of the University Club, Longue Vue Country Club and American Iron and Steel Institute. He's also an active layman of the Shadyside Presbyterian Church. His hobbies are golf, reading, and sports (spectator).

Sherburne Walker was elected vice president and he lives at 2 Severn Avenue, Annapolis, Md. Sherb was the first member of our class to reach Lewisburg for the reunion. He is regional sales manager for Eversharp Inc. Sherb's still single and I can't imagine how he stays that way cause he's as handsome as ever and hasn't gained an ounce nor lost his hair! He was a major in the Marine Corps during World War II and at present is active in the Shrine, Sons of the American Revolution, Annapolis Yacht Club and the Boston University Club. His hobbies are sailing and gardening. You'll hear from him since he'll be planning that reunion in '59.

Our class secretary, a truly busy lady, is Marie Steinbach Fox (Mrs. J. Leland Fox) of Pennsylvania Avenue, Seaford, Delaware ("the Nylon Center of the World," says Marie). Marie is as charming and attractive as ever and married to a prominent Seaford physician and the mother of Jackson Jr., 15, and Fredericka, 12. The latter accompanied her mother to our reunion and I think she's following in her mother's footsteps. Jackson Jr. was unable to come as he was participating in a State Golf Tournament. Marie is a member of the Seaford School Board, Seaford Planning Commission and area chairman for the Red Cross. She's past state president of the Women's Auxiliary of the state Medical Society as well as past state chairman of the Delaware A. A. U. W. She's also active in Boy Scout and Girl Scout affairs. Gee, I forgot to ask her how she does it all.

Our class treasurer is Rev. Vincent Wayland, Lakeville, N. Y. Vince is a Congregational clergyman and hasn't lost any of his pep. I had a really enjoyable visit with the Waylands at the Phi Gam house. Mrs. Wayland is a friendly, charming lady and the busy mother of Vincent Jr., 13, Cheryl Lynn, 9, and Kerry, 1. I am sure she's an ideal minister's wife and a great help to Vince. Vince got his B.D. at Colgate-Rochester Divinity School. He's an active Mason, Rotarian and in Kappa Phi Kappa.

Our new Class Fund Manager is Frank E. Gerlitz, Jr., 164 Friendship Road, Drexel Hill, Penna. Feg is general sales manager of Simplex Valve and Meter Co. He has a son Frank E. III, 6, and a daughter Linda Ann, 3. Feg is still an extra-curricular guy! He is active in Philadelphia Engineers, American Society of Civil Engineers, A. W. W. A., E. S. I. W. A., Masons and Benjamin Franklin Society. He's also vice president of the Men's Club in the local Methodist Church. You'll cooperate with Frank I'm sure when you hear from him about our wonderful Alumni Fund.

Yours truly remains as Class Reporter. I am the proud wife of our new General Alumni Association President, Bill Liming '33, and the mother of Ruth Gail, 11 (her birthday was Reunion day June 12) and Robert Geoffrey, 7½. I am kept busy as a housewife in our small suburban village. I belong to the Women's Club of the Williston's, A. A. U. W., Community Church Couples Club, P. T. A. Executive Board, Williston Home Bureau, Bucknell Club of Long Island, and am publicity director of our Girl Scout Council. I teach Sunday School and am Leader of our Church Summer School primary department. Our youngsters enjoyed the reunion and were as surprised as the '34 reunioners to hear their Dad's name announced at the Alumni Luncheon as the new Alumni President and to meet Charles Sanders '13, my beloved high school English teacher, who convinced my parents that Bucknell was the ideal college for me—it truly was, for as well as a fine education, I found a Bucknell husband and we've had 18 happy years together and we're looking forward to a long association with Bucknell—fingers crossed that our children will some day attend our favorite University.

Now you know our class officers, perhaps you'd like the *Reunion L'Agen*da that Walter Ruch and Marie Steinbach Fox prepared? It's really a fine record of our class "in Midpassage." It costs $1.00 and can be secured from Buck Shott, Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Penna.

Last but not least, I must express thanks for all of us to Sanford Barcus of 1133 Hoffman Street, Elmira, N. Y. who acted as chairman for our Reunion Meeting. He was totally unprepared as I had only learned late Friday, June 11, that Eddie Myers couldn't be at Lewisburg, but Sanford did a fine job as I knew he would. Sparks is manager of television station WTVE in Elmira. His attractive wife Nanette is Vassar '46 and the mother of Steven Lawrence, 3, and Carolyn Joanne, 14 months. I am sure Nan enjoyed meeting many of Spark's classmates. Sparks was in the Army in World War II and emerged as a Lt. Colonel after six years. He belongs to Kalurah Temple Shrine, Cashmere Gratto, Corning Consistory, the Masons, American Legion, Reserve Officers Association and Elmira Shrine Club.

Now only another word—I find that not many of us belong to local Alumni Clubs and I feel you are all missing something. If you'd like, drop me a line and I'll send you the address of your local group. Alumni Clubs are interesting and you'll be surprised to renew friendships and enjoy meeting other Bucknellians. Why not bolster that Bucknell Spirit which is truly something to be proud of? Why not make those four years spent at Bucknell come back to life again; they were important then and become cherished memories which will stay alive when you join with other Bucknellians.

CLASS OF 1935

Class Reporter: MRS. FREDERICK A. STRALEY
(Metta Farrington)
Furnace Rd., R. D. 1, Lewisburg, Pa.

Mrs. Carson Wetzel (Pauline Benauge) has been named to the faculty of the Milton borough schools.

CLASS OF 1937

Class Reporter: SIGMUND STOLER
215 Chestnut St., Sunbury, Pa.

William B. Clemens, 27 James St., Cortland, N. Y., was promoted to associate professor, New York State University Teachers College. He was also recently elected director-at-large, New York State Science Teachers Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ziegler (Mabel Nyhund) have a daughter, Virginia Louise, born May 20. They have a son, Bill, now two.

CLASS OF 1939

Class Reporter: DAVID R. BAGENSTOSE
Conestoga Rd., Wayne, Pa.

Albert J. Cheponis was appointed manager of the Seiberling Rubber Company's Denver sales district last August. With the company since May 1946, he rose from salesman to budget manager in the Denver district.

Rev. T. Chubb Condict has become executive secretary of the New England Baptist Conference with headquarters at Ocean Park, Me. He formerly served in a similar capacity in Vermont. Chubb's famous minister father, Dr. Carroll Condict '08 completed 42 years of Burma service in April and returned to Maine to live with his son. Chubb has two Bucknell brothers, Edward C. '36 and Clinton A. '37, who is pastor of the Baptist Church, Lakeport, N. H., and serves as fund manager for his Class of 1937.

Lillie L. Deimler and Henry Leighton were married in August. Mr. Leighton is a geologist and they are making their home in the Finger Lakes region at Jacksonville, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Donnelly have a daughter, Mary Katherine, born May 6.

T. Richard Williams received his M.Ed. in education in June from Pennsylvania State University.

CLASS OF 1940

Class Reporter: MRS. JAMES A. MILLER
(Mary McElm)
Pattison, Tex.

Rev. and Mrs. Tracey Jones (Martha Clayton) have a second daughter, Deborah, born February 11. Coincidentally, small Deborah's father had based a sermon on the Biblical Deborah just three days before. The Joneses have two other children, Judy, 11, and Tracey III, 6½. Tracey had a fascinating trip to Borneo in May, visiting Chinese churches and schools, then a week up the river among the primitive Dyaks. Martha reports that while he was gone a mass demonstration, ostensibly against national service and probably Communist-led, took place a half block from their house in Singapore.

An interesting publication arrived in the mail—it was the Seablade, the bi-weekly news purveyor of the U. S. S. Toledo. Chaplain Robert "Q" Jones is officer advisor of the Seablade, which remarks, "Being Chaplain and spiritual advisor to 1,300 personnel aboard one of the fightingest ships in the fleet was no job for Sundays only." Chaplain Jones is being transferred to the states, where he will be joined by his wife, the former Eddis Mae Turner, and their two children. His new address is Robert "Q" Jones, Lt. Cdr. Chc, USN, COM-PRON 4, Naval Air Station, Atlantic City, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Selinger (Doris Loos) have a new daughter, Nancy. They have three boys, Kenneth, 8, Stephen, 4, and Philip, 2. They have organized formally the market research business which they have operated for the past four years, calling it the Audience Analysts. They reside at 308 Berkeley Rd., Merion.

As of June 12, Mary McClelland Lago says, she and her husband Gladwyn were back at 413 N. Williams St., Columbia, Mo. Gladwyn received his Ph.D. from Purdue May 30 and will be back at the University of Missouri as associate professor of electrical engineering this fall. Mary has not been idle, has a book off the press, They Live in the City, published by Friendship Press, New York. It's for junior high age kids, the interdenominational home mission study book for 1954. (See "Bookshelf" Section).

The new address of Mrs. Myron Sibley (Pat McQuay) is Box 21, Loomis, Calif. Myron has taken a leave of absence from Alfred University and is currently enrolled at the Pacific School of Religion at Berkeley, Calif. He is serving as pastor for the Congregational Church in Loomis, in the Sacramento Valley, heart of the fruit country.

J. J. Kovski is one of a number of Bucknellians on the engineering staff of the Glenn L. Martin Co., Baltimore, Md.

Vice president of the Lehigh Valley Alumni Club is Paul M. Albert. Mrs. Robert B. Schnure (Annabel Kreider) is president of the Pittsburgh Club (women). It's good to see so many of the class blossoming out in alumni activities. We'll be expecting to hear reports from them all over the "New-nited States" at our reunion next year.

John Gambold's address is 18820 Pacific Highway, S., Seattle 88, Wash.

Congratulations to Leo Simoson; he is now the father of six. Leo's address is Corner, Fairmont & Arlington Blvd., Cleveland Heights, Ohio.

Rev. Gerald L. Wilson recently represented Bucknell at Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Iowa.

Alumni Club Officers, Continued: Robert D. Wilt, vice president, Triple Cities; Wayne Knouse, president, Metropolitan New York-New Jersey; Richard C. Schultz, High School Selection Committee, Metropolitan New York-New Jersey. Probably one of the reasons Pittsburgh's president (men) Frank W. Magill, Jr. '39 is so active is Mrs. Magill (Bette Towner).

From the campus we have tidings of a very pleasant visit with Madge Bailey, now Mrs. H. F. Richter, Jr., on her return there recently. Her spare time is spent serving as president of the alumni chapter, Pi Lambda Theta, National Honor and Professional Association for Women in Education.

CLASS OF 1941

Class Reporter: MRS. WILLIAM HASSELBERGER
(Jean Steele)
1518 Westmoreland Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

John M. Laudenslager is presently assigned to the U. S. Naval Training Center, San Diego, serving as chief clinical psychologist since 1950. He has two daughters, Diane, 8, and Karen, 4. They reside at 3755 Kingsley St., San Diego 6.

Robert E. Pettigrew and Jean Van-Kleek (Cornell) were married on April 10. Mr. Pettigrew is with the National Supply Co., Venezuela.

Mr. and Mrs. William Masler, Jr. (Lucile Rasmussen) have a new daughter, Wendy Lou, born November 19, 1953.

Also heard from Carol Minner Cressman. The Cressman's live at 640 High St., Bethlehem, Pa. They have three children, Carol Lynn, 6, Philip, 10, and David, 1. Carol is very active in community and children's theatre work. Thanks for writing, Carol.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Scott (A. Carolyn Gemmill) have a daughter, Carolyn Jane, born May 4.

We recently learned that Mrs. Milton Blum (Jean Sheinhouse) has two children, Wendy Marie, 7½, and Andrea Dee, 4. Their address is 118 W. 79 St., New York 24, N. Y.

John F. Hanna received his Doctor of Education degree at the commencement exercises August 7 at the Pennsylvania State University at State College.

Dr. Matthew M. Mansuy, recently released from active duty with the Navy, has resumed his Williamsport medical practice.

Children of Frank Serrao, Nancy, two and Bruce, four and a half.

In a recent letter from Frank Serrao we learned that after spending three and a half years in the Air Force he married Joan Devalon and is now the father of two children, Nancy, and Bruce. After earning his master's degree at N. Y. U. in physical education, Frank taught and coached (football and track) at Rutherford, N. J. for four years, and has just finished his first year of teaching at Redlands High School, where he is backfield coach and "B" basketball coach. Frank and his family reside at Rt. 1, Box 648, Redlands, Calif. Thanks for the news, Frank!

CLASS OF 1942

Class Reporter: MRS. THEODORE WILKINSON
(Mary C. Forrest)
329 W. Walnut St., Lancaster, Pa.

Jasper Frantz has been transferred to the College Park, Md. office of Michael Baker, Inc., as supervisor of highway design. He is married to Charlotte Billip '47, and they reside at 5729 29th Ave., Apt. 102, Hyattsville, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Huskin (Mary Gleckner) have a new son, William Richard, born April 18. They reside at 808 Lincoln Ave., Williamsport.

A son, Glenn Edward, born February 3, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Good. Robert is assistant professor of psychology at Sacramento, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davies (Gertrude Jones) have a daughter, Susan Gail, born January 25. They are living at 34 Carlisle St., Wilkes-Barre.

Elizabeth E. Whitenight became the bride of William D. Jones, Kingston. Elizabeth is on the faculty of the Shickshinny High School.

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Richards '37 (Mary Savage) have a daughter, Jane Lynn, born April 2.

CLASS OF 1943

Class Reporter: MRS. EARLE E. BENTON
(Norene Bond)
130 Evingham Place, Westfield, N. J.

Greetings to you all again as we start another year. You '43ers probably wondered what happened to me in the first issue. I was in Maine for a vacation and neglected to take my Alumni notes and news along. I'll try to stay on the ball henceforth.

Esther Buss became the wife of Robert Eittmat, Williamsport, on June 1. Esther has been teaching in the Montgomery-Clinton High School.

Dr. Raymond Hillyard wrote that after a long program of study and service with Uncle Sam, he was to open his office in Wilmington, Delaware on July 1. He specialized in Neurological Surgery at Graduate Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania after his service in the Navy. The Hillyards have two daughters, ages five and one years. They make their home at 12 Rolling Road, Rolling Park, Claymont, Delaware.

Arlene Downs Luce writes that she and her husband with daughters Linda, 5 and Karen, 3 live at 134 Prospect Pl., Riverhead, N. Y. She'd love to have any of you who get out that end of the Island look her up.

Stanley C. Marshall, industrial account executive for Lando Advertising Agency, has been named as a member of the Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering society.

Rev. and Mrs. Douglas Passage are the parents of a son, Peter Charles, born April 20. Douglas is completing his second year as minister of the Federated Church of West Winfield, N. Y.

William Rollins is now analyst, management trainee for All State Insurance Co., Philadelphia.

Randy and Jeffrey Ulmer are proud to announce that they had a little sister, Nancy Anne, born August 3. They are still living, along with Dad and Mother (Norman and Peggy Gundy Ulmer) at 110 Parker Pl., New Haven, Conn.

An item I've had on the desk for ever so long, and my apologies to the Weavers, is that Mr. and Mrs. John Weaver are living at 16-D Leland Gardens, Plainfield, N. J. A daughter, Barbara Giselle, was born to them on March 27, 1954.

CLASS OF 1944

Class Reporter: MRS. ROBERT F. BAKER
(Honey Rhinesmith)
Lindys Lake, R. D., Butler, N. J.

The Richard M. Christenson's '43 announce the birth of Richard Frederic on July 28, 1954.

Miss Katherine Freund has been re-elected secretary of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Wilkes-Barre.

Evelyn Gaston was married on August 23 to Milton Wolfe, a teacher of social studies at Lemoyne High School. Evelyn has taught biology in Mishawaka, Ind., in Turbotville, and in Lewisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mendes, III (Ruth Smith) have had their first child, a daughter, Barbara Anne, born April 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fink (Burda Murphy) sent word of Thomas Edward's arrival, Sept. 3, 1954.

Miss June Owens has been elected vice president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Wilkes-Barre.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Verbeyst (Dora Seyfarth) and their five daughters have moved into a big home at Princeton, N. J. Their address is Box 234, R. D. No. 2, Carter Road.

The Jack Stockton's had their first child, Ann, in August, 1953.

James R. Turner, who attended Bucknell under the Navy V-12 program in our senior year, was recently elected to the House of Representatives for South Carolina. Jim, who is a senior member of the law firm of Brown, Turner & Brown of Spartanburg, S. C., earned his law degree in 1948 at the University of S. C. He is married to the former Patty Bland and they are the proud parents of James R. Turner, Jr. born July 1, 1947.

CLASS OF 1946

Class Reporter: MRS. LELAND C. EWING
(Betty Wells)
13351 Sylvan Court, Oak Park 37, Michigan

John Howard Boyle, Jr. received the bachelor of divinity degree from Central Baptist Theological Seminary, Kansas City, May 13.

Dr. and Mrs. William S. Myers (Beverly Graham) have recently purchased a home at 1471 Wyoming Ave., Forty Fort. Dr. Myers is a dentist with offices in Kingston. They have a son, Mark, two.

Dr. Harry H. Haddon is doing a 3-months residency in cardiology at Hahnemann Hospital to round out training for American Board certification in internal medicine.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. McKernan '48 (Bette Moore) are residing at Brinsmaid Rd., Hamden, Conn. Bob is radio news editor for station WELI, New Haven and he and his wife are drama critics for the station. They are the parents of Robert, Jr., six, and Rory, five.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Voelker (Ruth Tischler) are the parents of a son, David Carl, born May 5. David joins Robert, seven, and Donald, 18 months. Ruth and her family live in Shavertown.

Norma White Baird and husband, Chuck are now residing at 33 Wildwood Rd., Chappaqua, N. Y., with their three children, Susan, five, Stephen, three, and Charles, Jr., 10 months.

Betty Wynn Reifsnnyder writes that Dr. and Mrs. James Cowan (Gloria Whitman) and daughter visited her this summer on their way back to Kansas. They will be at Kansas State, where Jim teaches while he works on his master's.

I myself, saw Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hill (Pat Whittam) this winter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Pemberton (Ruth Burnett '45). Pat and Jim are in Lansing while Jim completes studies at Michigan State.

Dr. Robert E. Karnofsky and Miss Cleo Moskowitz, R. N. of Shamokin were married in Wilkes-Barre where they will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Kresge (Marian Greenwalt) welcomed a daughter, Elizabeth Ann, into their family on July 14, 1954. She joins three brothers at their home in Mountville.

Mary Jane Marley was named acting head of the Business Administration division at Lycoming College, Williamsport, as she entered her ninth year as a faculty member in September.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lenchuk '47 (Helen Meseroll) are now living at 2215 St. Johns Ave., Jacksonville, Fla. Paul is with the Dictaphone Corp., and Helen is happily occupied with five year old Paul III and three year old Eve, while awaiting the imminent arrival of a third addition.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Rapp (Alice Nix) and daughter Carol, are living temporarily at 4700 Connecticut Ave., Washington, D. C. until their own home is ready. They have just returned after four months of sightseeing in Europe, while Walter was establishing an export business.

CLASS OF 1947

Class Reporter: ROGER S. HADDON, ESQ.
243 Water St., Northumberland, Pa.

James E. Brady and his wife now have two sons, James R., born April 16, and David, 22 months. James is a salesman for Jones and Laughlin Steel Co.

Helen E. Carter and Frederick A. Gehret were married June 5. They will reside in Norristown.

Curtis W. Clump recently received a doctor of philosophy degree with a major in chemical engineering from Carnegie Institute of Technology. Curtis and his wife, the former Marian E. Turner '46, reside at 410 Prospect St., Apt. 4B, East Orange, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Heinz Gronau (Grace Deissler) have a daughter, Gwen Susan, born April 13. She has a brother, Kurt Allen, three.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Friedman have a son, Steven Todd, born June 3.

Thomas L. Garten and May Ellen Potter were married on September 9. They reside in Scarsdale Manor Apts., Scarsdale, N. Y. Mr. Garten is a real estate broker with his office at 475 Fifth Ave., New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Frake (Marie Johnson) have two sons, Barry Neil, born October 1953, and Robert James, born November 1949. They reside at 125 Crescent St., Keansburg, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Spence (Jean McKernan) have two children, Pamela Jean, 14 months, and Brian, three months. They reside at 68 Thompson Ave., Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rathe (Faith Lief) have a second son, Donald Scott, born December 9, 1953. They reside at 56 Pondfield Rd., W. Bronxville, Yonkers, N. Y.

Richard Moore, director of personnel and assistant treasurer of Poster D. Snell, Inc., chemists and engineers, New York City, spoke before the Draper Chemical Society of New York University on "Job Opportunities in Chemistry."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steininger (Dorothy Gleckner) write that daughter Carol Ann was born February 4 this year. The Steiningers have moved from the Chicago area to Havertown, and expect to enter their new home there in November. Chuck is a patent attorney for Atlantic Refining Company.

Ralph M. Keenan, formerly a steel buyer for Dravo Corp., at Pittsburgh, is now applying his mettle for Follansbee Metals in the same city.

How about yourself? Postal cards thrill us.

CLASS OF 1949

Class Reporter: MRS. THOMAS A. FRAZIER
(Marilyn Harer)
747 High St., Williamsport, Pa.

LT. RICHARD D. ATHERLY

Take a good look at Dick in his Marine duds for he has now put them in mothballs. On September 15 Dick and Margaret moved to the University of Michigan where Dick will spend a year of graduate study in the School of Business Administration. His major study will be how to keep the Class of 1949 at the top of the list in number of contributors to the Bucknell Alumni Fund.

William H. Bachman received the M.D. degree from Temple University School of Medicine last June.

William Bradshaw, Jr., received the M.D. from the University of Pittsburgh in June.

Chester W. Crumrine, Jr. is serving as a USAF special agent, office of special investigation, Procurement Investigation Division at Wright Patterson AFB, Dayton, O.

Dr. George E. Dodson is now in Grrosse Point, Mich.

Nicholas Daviduk has returned from an inspection trip to Saudi, Arabia and The Netherlands for ARAMCO. He was married in October 1953 to Joan Kennedy.

Howard R. Dieter was married to Carol Marie Dougherty on April 10. Mr. Dieter is associated with Provident Mutual Insurance Co., Lancaster.

CLASS OF 1950

Class Reporter: MRS. DAVID L. MILLER
(M. Jane Kreidler)
614 Penn St., New Bethlehem, Pa.

Mrs. John Hepfer (Ellen Cober) received her M. R. E. degree from Andover-Newton Theological School in May. Her husband is associate minister in the First Baptist Church, Beverly, Mass.

Mrs. Edward Teno (Doris Coombs) has a new address—370½ E. Allegheny St., Emporium.

(Continued on Page 26)

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS is published in January, March, May, September, and November by Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa.

Member—American Alumni Council

OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION

WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, President, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York.
JOHN F. WORTH '37, First Vice President, 233 N. Galveston St., Arlington, Va.
MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), Second Vice-President, 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh 6, Pa.
DAYTON L. RANCK '16, Treasurer, 35 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa.
JOHN H. SHOTT '22, Secretary and Editor, 116 Faculty Court, Lewisburg, Pa.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York (1955)
JOSEPH T. QUICK '38, Wright Rd., R. D. 2, Newtown, Pa. (1955)
MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa. (1955)
CLAIR G. SPANGLER '25, 214 N. Sixth St., Reading, Pa. (1955)
JOHN F. WORTH '37, 233 N. Galveston St., Arlington, Va. (1955)
MRS. BROWN FOCHT (Florence Utt '26), 229 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa. (1956)
BRUCE J. MILLER '27, 112 Devoe Rd., Chappaqua, N. Y. (1956)
ALLEN A. RARIG '29, 528 Lindbergh Way, Lewistown, Pa. (1956)
DONALD H. SHOLL '42, Munn Lane E., R. D. 1, Haddonfield, N. J. (1956)
P. HERBERT WATSON '37, 67 Prospect Ave., Norristown, Pa. (1956)
MRS. CHARLES E. COPELAND (Amorita Sesinger '22), 85-10 34th Ave., Jackson Heights, N. Y. (1957)
J. NORMAN DAVIES '26, 1112 Mill St., Wilkensburg, Pa. (1957)
WILMER D. GREULICH '34, 715 Greythorne Rd., Wynnewood, Pa. (1957)
FRANCIS B. HAAS, JR. '47, 2917 N. Front St., Harrisburg, Pa. (1957)
W. CARL SPROUT '08, Mitchell Apts., North and Front St., Harrisburg, Pa. (1957)

() Year Term Expires.

Alumni Trustee Time Table

October 23 — Meeting of Nominating Committee.
November 20 — Nominations Committee submits three candidates to the President of the Association.
December 20 — Deadline for Board approval.
January ALUMNUS (about Jan. 15)— Announcement of names of three candidates in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.
February 21—Petition deadline.
April 1 — Ballots in mail; Election announcement in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.
May 16—Deadline for receiving ballots in Alumni Office.
June Commencement — Certification to Board of Trustees.

Class Reports

(Continued from Page 25)

Allan W. Dahls and his wife, Ginny, have two daughters, Sue, born May 3, 1951, and Carolyn Beth, born December 16, 1953.

Richard F. Eberhart passed the C. P. A. examination in Philadelphia in 1953 and is associated with L. Clifford Myers & Co., Williamsport. He has two daughters, Lee Ellen, three, and Jane Lynn, one.

Robert M. Engler and Nancy Morgan were married on Thanksgiving day. They are living at Edgewood, Drums, Pa.

Joseph J. Fuchs is a member of the technical staff of the guided missile division of the Hughes Research and Development Laboratories, Culver City, Calif.

David A. Grimm has been transferred from the New York office to the Newark office of the Shaw-Walker Co. as assistant sales manager of the payroll system division.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Hammesfahr are the parents of two daughters, Grace Susan, 2½, and Gail Diane, born January 2. They are residing at Howard Beach, N. Y.

Guy L. Krapp, Lewisburg R. D. 3, has been appointed as borough manager of Mifflinburg. He was formerly a member of the S. R. Collins firm of consulting engineers, Lewisburg.

Edward P. Little, Jr. has been admitted to the bar in Susquehanna County. He becomes the fifth generation of his family to practice law in the county. He graduated from the University of Pennsylvania Law School in 1953.

George R. Little received a promotion to engineer, eastern engineering for the Bell Telephone Company following his Navy service.

James E. Lomeo was able to earn his LL.B. at the University of Pennsylvania Law School and pass his state bar examination before going into the military service in August 1953. After induction he attended Quartermaster School, Fort Lee, Va.

John B. McKernan was appointed sales representative for American Airlines, Detroit, Mich. His address is 340 E. Grand Blvd., Detroit 7, Mich.

Rev. Vernon I. Naugle and Miss Betty Weller, Ickesburg, were married May 16. Rev. Naugle serves three churches at Loysville, Landisburg and Elliotsburg.

EDITORIAL

Bison Bows to:

A new evidence of increased Alumni interest is revealed with the announcement that over two dozen Bucknellians have been suggested as nominees for the position of Alumni Trustee. This is more than three times the candidate list of last year. Unfortunately, some of the best of suggested candidates have felt that they "do not choose to run" but the remaining list is an outstanding one. We hope that when Alumni are given an opportunity to vote for their favorite candidate next April, a new record in balloting will be established. Complete biographies of the candidates chosen will be published in the March 1955 issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.

* * *

Another evidence of Alumni activity in local areas is found in the increasing number of Alumni who are representing Bucknell at High School-College Night programs in their home towns. Already four Alumni Clubs have organized High School Selection Committees. There is ample evidence that such committees, working under the guidance of George R. Faint, registrar, could perform a valuable service to the University.

* * *

The Doctors-for-Bucknell project which last year specialized in assisting with the re-building of Taylor Hall, raised the percentage of participation for Doctors to 26%—well over the 18% reached for the general Alumni group. The Doctors have plans for other special fund raising activities for this year.

* * *

Special kudos go to the classes of 1904 (Robert W. Thompson, President) and the Class of 1929 (Paul E. Fink, President) for outstanding efforts which produced special 50-and-25-year anniversary gifts to the Bucknell Alumni Fund. Already the Classes of 1905 and 1930 are considering similar projects for June 1955.

* * *

If you are confused about publication dates of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS under the new five-magazine-issue program, may we remind you that the remaining issues for this school year will be dated: January 1, March 1, and May 1. Copy goes to the printer about six weeks before publication date, so please send your news notes promptly.

* * *

How Big Should Bucknell Be?

With public school enrollment going from 23 millions (1953-54) to 25 millions in 1958, high school enrollment going from 6.6 millions to 8.1 millions by 1958 and college enrollment scheduled to double by 1970, Alumni should be concerned about the size of Bucknell. Besides the great need for more elementary and secondary school teachers there will be pressure to turn out more engineers, doctors, lawyers, psychologists, et cetera. How big should Bucknell be? If you have an opinion, why not write a letter to the Editor of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.

by BUCK SHOTT

TO CORRECT OUR RECORDS

If your name on the address label of this issue has you listed as a private, when you should be a colonel, or if you are long since out of the service . . . or . . . if the Miss should be a Mrs. or the Mr. should be a Dr., will you please send a note of correction to the Alumni Office.

Andrew Parkansky received the bachelor of law degree last June from Georgetown University Law School. He is now employed by the Municipal Court in Washington.

John S. Purnell, Jr. received his medical degree on June 19 from Jefferson Medical College. The third generation of the family to be granted the M.D. at Jefferson, and the second to be graduated from Bucknell. Jack is married and the father of a daughter, Barbara Linn.

Samuel C. Ranck received his law degree at the University of Pennsylvania in June.

Harold R. Reed received his M.Ed. in June from Pennsylvania State University.

James C. Reitz received his M.D. from Temple University Medical School last June. Jim will serve his internship in the Williamsport Hospital until July 1955.

We recently learned that Robert Eugene Roush has been admitted to the staff of the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory at the University of California. Bob and his wife, the former Ruth M. Hood, with their three children, reside at 2587-B 36th St., Albuquerque, N. M.

John H. Scott received an M.D. degree from Pittsburgh University in June.

Lt. Chelton W. Smith, Jr. is an aerial observer and has been in Korea and Japan for 11 months. He expects to return to the states in 1955.

Jack M. Thomas has been admitted to law practice in Oklahoma. He is associated with the law firm of Rucker & Tabor, Tulsa, Oklahoma.

We recently learned that Peter Weidenbacher, along with H. W. Kates '49, R. E. List '48, have started a business for themselves as manufacturer's representatives of electronic components, under the name of Henry G. Richter, Co.

Jean White has been hired by the Washington Post as a reporter. Jean, a former Grit reporter, received her master's degree in journalism from Columbia University. She also holds a Pulitzer traveling scholarship which will enable her to study abroad sometime this year.

Bettyanne Galloway writes that she is enjoying her work as training leader of six year old primaries, First Baptist Church. She is also secretary for Dr. M. F. Nimkoff at Florida State University.

CLASS OF 1951

Class Reporter: MISS FRANCES WILKINS
Apt. 62, 1316 New Hampshire Ave.,
Washington, D. C.

George Edward Fusia and Haydn White Fusia, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fusia (Patricia White) students at Bucknell, were dedicated at the First Baptist Church, Lewisburg on Mother's Day. Eddie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Fusia '17 (Aileen Larson '18), Pittsburgh. Pat is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haydn J. White '23, Drexel Hill. Eddy and Pat, with the offspring, are back at Bucknell as students.

Robert W. Baird received his bachelor of divinity at Drew University, June 7.

Bob Kelchner gave a lecture to the Franklin Historical Society, Philadelphia in May on "Ancient Weapons."

When we spotted Clyde R. McAvoy's new address, NAS3835, Box 11, F. P. O.,

San Francisco, Cali., we said, "Well, well, Clyde's back in the Marines." But we were wrong, as a recent note from Clyde and Jean tells us that he is working in Yokohama and going to school at night in Tokyo. His overseas address is 114-A Midorigaoka, NAKA-KU, Yokohama, Japan.

Lt. Ward Martin is serving as executive officer of the USS Joyce. His wife and five year old daughter are residing in Newport, R. I.

Mrs. Wayne Stevenson '52 (Janet Miller) will be teaching in the Western Area Joint Elementary School System at Mifflinburg.

CLASS OF 1952

Class Reporter: MISS ELINOR CHILDS
74 Mt. Kemble Ave., Morristown, N. J.

Eugene DeBarr has been appointed to serve as a member of a psychiatric team in Cuyahoga County, O., having come from Fenn College, Cleveland, where he was an instructor and vocational counselor for veterans.

Ralph L. Gemberling was ordained a deacon of the Methodist Church in Bloomfield, N. J. He is attending Drew Theological Seminary and has served as supply pastor in a number of churches in the metropolitan area of Newark, N. J. and New York City while attending school.

James LePard, recently discharged from the service, is now in sales administration work with the Aluminum Company of America. He is married to Vivian Abronski '53 and they are residing at 48 N. Bedford St., Arlington 11, Va.

Charles B. Mercer is attending Colgate-Rochester Divinity School and is serving as assistant minister of the South Congregational Church in Rochester, N. Y.

Josephine Purpuri has transferred from the Mifflinburg High School to Indiana, Pa. She had been teaching in Mifflinburg for the past two years.

MARRIAGES: Lorraine Collani to Thomas J. Cabelus, Jr. in June. Elizabeth Anne Holter to Martin V. Kwasnoi, June 26. Jacqueline M. Wightman to Raymond O. Nelson, May 1. Paul A. Wilson and Elva M. Zimmerman, June 9. Anne Louise Woodworth to William E. VeVier, June 5. Marilyn Naugle and Roy Burkholder, June 26.

Barbara Segelken has accepted a secretarial job with the Foreign Service. She is in Washington, D. C. awaiting a foreign assignment. Her temporary address is Wesley Hall, 426 21st St., N. W., Washington 6, D. C.

Don't drop out of sight: Drop your Reporter a line!

CLASS OF 1953

Class Reporter: MRS. JAMES A. CHAMBERS
(Bobbie Roemer)
Blvd. Apts., 8 Clark St., Lodi, N. J.

Bette MacDonald Becker, now living at 322 Bryant, Palo Alto, Calif., is working at Stanford Research Institute in Menlo Park.

Bucknellians at Fort Devens, Mass., include Chris Hill Killough, Pat (Lewis) and Greg Doescher, Eileen (Smith '55) and Bob Christian.

Congratulations to Hugh Worthen as winner of the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund essay contest, "Why I could Not Be a Communist." Hugh married Marilyn Smith '55 on August 7 in East Williston.

Sally Spencer and Norwood Lowry, Jr. were married June 19 in Angels, Pa. Norwood, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. N.

Lowry '22, Lewisburg, is now a student at Jefferson Medical School. Sally is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Spencer, former president of Bucknell.

CLASS OF 1954

Class Reporter: MISS DOROTHY M. DIORIO
722 Radcliffe St., Bristol, Pa.

This issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS finds the members of our illustrious Class of '54 tossed out into the cold, cruel world. The consensus is probably that, "It's not such a bad place after all!"

The wedding bells have tolled for: Liv Joan Hanto and Leonard S. Von Heill '52; Mary Ann Isaacs and Henry L. Shuldener, Jr. '53; Virginia Harrison and William C. King; Eleanor Mendelson and Drew F. Seibert '52; Janet Nides and Theodore Bayless '53; Betty Krebs and Richard E. Slaughenhoupt; Miriam Esslinger and Ray Huffman '53; Victor Scott and Diane Slifer; Helen Frazee and Jackson Feeren.

Those teaching are: Barbara Ann Davenport; Dorothy M. DiOrio, Neshaminy High School, Langhorne; Lora Bell Doody, Public School No. 5, Cedarhurst, N. Y.; Beverly J. Geake, Haverford Jr. High School, Havertown; Barbara Anne Grant Palmer; Joan Groben, Stockton School, East Orange, N. J.; Frances L. Harvey, Roger Ludlowe High School, Fairfield, Conn.; Eva Huel Cadwallader; Shirley Hess, Eloy, Arizona; Joan Lee Herrmann, Neshaminy High School, Langhorne; Margaret Lois Hines Reimensnyder; Gabrielle Kramer, Hawthorne School, Teaneck, N. J.; Jill D. Kriebel, Plymouth Township School District, Norristown; Katherine Leisman, Cumberland Valley Joint School System, Cumberland Valley; Thelma McCarthy Zearfoss; E. Patricia McColl, Ridge Road School, North Haven, Conn.; Dorothy Masemer, York City School District, York; Nancy Patricia Read, West Orange Public Schools, West Orange, N. J.; Alice C. Rhoads, Sherman School, Fairfield, Conn.; Janet E. Sandford Smith; Jeanne C. Sullivan, Brockway-Snyder-Washington Jt. Schools, Brockway; Anne Tuckerman; Janet Wilt, School District of Upper Darby, Upper Darby; Elaine Vouyoukas, Gordon Junior High School, Coatesville; Barbara Davis, Fairless View Elementary School, Fairless Hills, Pa.

Those serving Uncle Sam are: Charles Arnholz, Jr., Camp Gordon, Ga.; Ronald C. Chaffee, Camp Barrett, Quantico, Va.; Robert H. Christman; Walter F. Grambow; Robert W. Jaggard, Pensacola, Fla.; Michael Jensen; Ray Charles Lapof; Donald B. MacClary; Calvin F. Nodine, Ft. Eustis, Va.; Angelo J. Peggio, Fort Dix, N. J.; Robert M. Post; Charles S. Riegel; Robert L. Roberts; David B. Swarr, Camp Gordon, Ga.; Bruce LaBar.

Ministerial students are: Richard L. Wilson, Drew University; Charles F. Mathias, Princeton Theological Seminary; Robert Keller, Yale Divinity.

Graduate students are: Harlan B. Bliss, Cornell University; L. Robert Davenport, University of Penn Veterinary School; Bette Anne Kinzie, West Lafayette University; Howard Kane Macauley, Jr., Stanford University; Hayes McKinney; Joan V. Rafaj, Cornell University.

Medical students are: Martin Castelbaum; Jerome I. Cohen; James M. LaBraico; Dean D. Monaco, Jefferson Medical College; Tasso G. Spanos, Temple University.

THE S. DALE SPOTTS
AUDITORIUM

A TRIBUTE TO S. DALE SPOTTS, M.D.
— CLASS OF 1918 —

PHYSICIAN, SURGEON, LOYAL ALUMNUS,
TRUSTEE, FRIEND OF MANKIND.
ERECTED BY THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF HUNDREDS OF HIS FELLOW ALUMNI, ASSOCIATES, FRIENDS AND PATIENTS.

THIS TRIBUTE DEDICATED BY THE PHILADELPHIA POLYCLINICAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION 1954

THIS ROOM WAS MADE POSSIBLE BY THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF LOYAL ALUMNI WHO LEFT THIS CAMPUS TO ENTER MEDICINE AND ITS ALLIED FIELDS.

The

BUCKNELL

ALUMNUS

JANUARY 1955

PRESIDENT ODGERS MEETS
EDWARD J. MIZMA '55

SEE PAGE 3

I HOPE THEY ASK ME ABOUT THE BUCKNELL ALUMNI FUND

By JOHN H. SHOTT '22, Fund Director

When you get this issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS your Fund Director will be conferring with several hundred other Fund Directors of colleges on the eastern seaboard. I will be happy to tell them that the outstanding fact of the 1953-1954 Fund program at Bucknell is that Bucknellians are learning to give. In five years the average gift has risen from $9.11 to $10.92 and the total amount contributed annually has increased from $15,000 to over $28,000. And in the past year an additional $28,000 for Capital Gifts such as endowments, scholarships, and for building purposes, came from Alumni. The percentage of givers in one of our classes (1929) has increased in the past three years from 7% to 25%. In the same period the annual gifts of this class have risen from $190 to $1500.

And yet in the 1953-1954 Fund year, out of a total of 15,000 Alumni, only 2644 gave to the annual Alumni Giving Fund and for Capital purposes. The encouraging aspect about all this is not only that the Alumni are learning to give, but that a vast potential source of giving is awaiting the magic word to start it flowing. We often wish it would start growing more rapidly—as it has on some campuses. We sometimes wonder why more than 80% of our number give nothing. Surveys show that it is because most of us are casual, and often careless, not to say thoughtless. We mean well, and have deep affection for Bucknell, intend sometime in the future to do something for it; but we find it difficult to overcome inertia, and take the first step. It is only necessary to make a beginning, however small. When we begin to give, we begin to grow interested; we read THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS; we take an interest in our local Alumni club activities; we follow the progress of events on the Hill; we become a part of the great educational movement and feel ourselves becoming shareholders in the enterprise. Ask those who have been giving and increasing their gifts during the last six years and you will find they really enjoy helping "Keep Bucknell Strong."

In November the General Electric Co. announced that in 1955 it will match (up to $1000 per employee) the gifts that GE employees make to their colleges. This is a challenge to college alumni and may be a forerunner of other industrial programs of "Helping them that help themselves."

We keep believing that someday soon every potential Bucknell giver will make a place in his or her annual budget for a gift to the University, some amount that can be given without strain. The result will be that giving will become a habit and the amount will increase as the giver prospers. Furthermore, when that day comes the doors of many industries and foundations now closed will open wide; for industry and foundations—like the Lord—"help them that help themselves."

I hope they ask me about the Bucknell Alumni Fund at the Fund Directors Conference. If they do, I think I'll speak for all Bucknellians and assure them that the 1954-1955 program will establish new highs in total contributions, average gift, and most important of all, in percentage of participation.

The Cover Picture

Edward J. Mizma '55, president, Student-Faculty Congress greets Dr. Merle M. Odgers, tenth president of Bucknell University, at the Special Convocation Exercises held in the Davis Gymnasium on Wednesday, December 1, 1954. (See next page).

In This Issue

Alumni	Page
Dr. George L. Abernethy '32	27
Elbina L. Bender '06	6
Dr. Frank G. Davis '11	9
Nelson F. Davis, Jr. '22	8
Arthur E. Harris '21	5
Dr. Mary B. Harris '94	9
Josephine Hildreth '52	8
Morris D. Hooven '20	14
Dr. J. C. Hostetter '08	9
Dr. Charles D. Koch '98	9
John Lepke '41	6
Walter A. Miller, Jr. '43	14
Jeanne Rockwell Noonan '42	5
Stonley A. Purdy '48	9
Robert O. Shaffer '42	14
William C. Shure '35	5
Andrew J. Sordoni, Hon. '50	7
Alumni Census—1954	8
Alumni Fund	2
Alumni Officers	5
Alumni Trustee Time Table	25
Assistant in Public Relations Appointed	25
Bond Family Reunion	14
Bucknell's "Baby Boom"	13
Bucknell Business Forums	13
Bucknell Scholars' Club	13
Chapel Speakers	27
Class Reports	15-25
Club Activities	11, 12
Doctors for Bucknell	7
Editorial	26
Faculty News	8, 26
Graduate Scholarships Available	13
Handbook for Alumni Club Officers	11
Homecoming 1954	4
I Hope They Ask Me About the Bucknell Alumni Fund	2
John Houghton Harris Dies	27
Journalism Awards	26
Lambda Chi Alpha Opens New House	12
Library Adds Audio Aids	6
Lodge to be Built at Cowan	6
Musical Organization Tours	12, 14, 25
President Odgers Welcomed	3
Red Face Department	9
Some Bucknell Families	20
Sordoni Elected President of AAA	7
Sports	10
Summer Bucknell University Tours	7
Theta Chi to Build	7
Trustees Boost Men's Dorm Project	7
University Course Now Two Years	13

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

Vol. XXXIX—No. 3 January 1955

Published in January, March, May, September, and November

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Entered as second-class matter December 30,
1930, at the post office at Lewisburg, Pa., under the Act of August 24, 1912.

Student Editorial Assistants: Joan Christman
Bertolet '55, Reading; Loie Bunnell '56, South
Temple; Shelagh Clutter '57, Singapore, Malaya;
Elizabeth Fogg '56, Moylan; Jane Neving '56,
Lockport, N. Y.; Arline Sherwood '56, Trenton,
N. J.; Jean Wirths '56, Madison, N. J.; Rhoda
Wolf '56, Philadelphia; William Lauchman '56, Lansdale.

President Odgers Welcomed as Tenth President of Bucknell

At a special convocation held in Davis Gymnasium on December 1, over 2,000 members of the Bucknell family greeted Dr. Odgers to the campus. Following are excerpts from the addresses of introduction, greetings and response.

From the introduction of Dr. William H. Coleman, vice-president in charge of academic affairs:

"We extend to you, Dr. Odgers, as the 10th President of Bucknell University, our greetings. You are entering upon a great heritage which I am convinced you will uphold with honor to yourself and with distinction to the University.

"The faculty looks for a new miracle man who will be able to solve overnight all the problems of the institution; the students also expect marvels to be performed and the graduates of the University likewise expect the impossible. Do not be dismayed, President Odgers, if the miracles do not occur promptly, for you are facing the same college and the same people, the same problems your predecessors faced. Your fine academic training coupled with your rich and varied experience as teacher, scholar, administrator, hold promise of great things.

"I am sure that Bucknell will find in Dr. Odgers a man of understanding, considered optimism, extensive experience, deep insight and executive wisdom. I know that as he assumes office you will display towards him that spirit of friendliness which is the distinguishing characteristic, I believe, of this institution; you will take the new President and his gracious wife into the Bucknell family that reaches around the world. May you, Mr. President, realize the early fulfillment of the goals you've set for this institution and in so doing achieve a full measure of personal satisfaction which will be reflected in the steady progress of the University we cherish.

"I present to you Dr. Merle Middleton Odgers, the tenth President of Bucknell University."

From the greetings of Edward J. Micma '55, president, Student-Faculty Congress:

"Dr. Odgers, it is my pleasure and privilege on behalf of the student body to welcome you to Bucknell University. Since our present Freshman and Sophomore classes have been here, the President's house has been unoccupied. These underclassmen perhaps have not been aware that a certain little something has been missing; that is, a little extra enthusiasm and a unity of spirit that exists within a capable and popular President is in office. We have been looking forward to having you with us, Dr. Odgers.

"There has been no one person to whom the students could extend their thanks for any special concessions given them by the University, but at the same time, there has been no one upon whom to place the blame for any unpopular regulations which may have been imposed on the students by the University. You see, Dr. Odgers, we are happy to have you with us."

From the greetings of Dr. Norman H. Stewart of the faculty:

"Dr. Odgers, it is my peculiar privilege to welcome you in the name of the Bucknell Faculty and I take great pleasure in so doing.

"In September 1846 another gentleman came here from Philadelphia, one Thomas Wattson to put his boy in that little academy group down in the basement of the old Baptist Church which was the nucleus of Bucknell. May I quote one of his letters: 'After a vexatious detention at Harrisburg due to the breaking down of the cars and a long delay in the canal boat waiting for more water to come, we finally arrived at Lewisburg, met Professor Taylor and put my boy in his class. Then Professor Taylor took me out to see the site of the proposed university and as we wandered through the grove of young oak trees he seemed to speak with unusual enthusiasm about his plans and dreams, and I thought, rather poetically. But as we came to the top of the hill and I took the view from there, I confess that I wished I were an educated man who might teach in an institution at such a beautiful site.' Today, Dr. Odgers, the longings of Thomas Wattson are fulfilled in you.

"We shall not sit by and expect you to work miracles here in your own strength alone. Is it not miraculous however, that from that little group down there in the basement of the old Baptist Church there has arisen this University with 1900 students and 15,000 Alumni? How are such things done? Not in the strength of men alone but by the grace of God assisting them.

"With the faith that characterized the founders of this institution and those who came after them, miracles can be worked and I am convinced that we are stepping forward into the greatest period in the history of Bucknell."

From the greetings extended by Dr. Dayton L. Ranck, vice-president in charge of administrative affairs:

"We live in a day when practically all colleges have some program of expansion, largely due to the social demands which are now crowding in upon us. Expansion demands result in 'growing pains' or headaches to some who have to meet situations incident to the growth. Some discouragements and dark moments frequently appear. The President is the one individual expected at all times to be able to see the star in the distance and to lend encouragement to the staff about him.

"Dr. Odgers, we turn to you as the Chief. We are confident that you will not find anywhere a more loyal and devoted group to support your administration. As you plan for an increased influence for our college, which we love, we know that together we can do worth-while things. Ours is a sincere welcome to you and to Mrs. Odgers. We are going to like you, and we hope that you will like all that Bucknell makes traditionally possible."

From the response of Dr. Merle M. Odgers, tenth president of Bucknell University:

"As the newest of all Bucknellians, not yet a Bucknellian for one day, I greet you older ladies and gentlemen of Bucknell University. I appreciate this introduction to the Bucknell family—my new family. Since it is an obligation imposed on the youngest member of any family to be seen rather than heard, I shall attempt no lengthy response. I am honored by the kind things that have been said and I do appreciate very much indeed your very kind and cordial welcome. I am looking forward with deep pleasure to living and working with all of you here on this campus.

"And because for many years I have been head of a school which enrolls only males, I admit to a certain sense of keen anticipation in becoming associated once again with an institution in which women students form a vital, and may I say, attractive part of the scene. In the past Mrs. Odgers and I have known many alumni of Bucknell, some of them alumni of the classes of a recent vintage (if it is proper to refer to vintage on this campus) as 1953 and 1954.

"And on visits here, brief as they were, and few though they were, I have seen quickly that this is a friendly campus, as has been said this morning. A friendly campus, where good friends, good people, and good work predominate, just as they did on the campus from which I come. And people smile in greeting one another here. I like that. I am proud to be associated with the faculty members and the upperclassmen whom I have met.

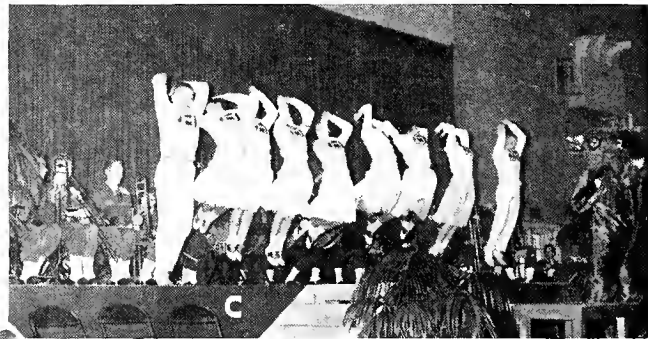

"I realize, of course, even though they may be my elder brothers and my elder sisters for the moment, I can't say of the Bucknell Freshmen or the Bucknell Sophomores as the poet said of Abou Ben Adhem 'May his tribe increase' because, unfortunately, these classes have a way of decreasing and not of increasing. But you will permit me. I know, to hope that your classes are 'sanitized', as some one has phrased it, and that they will not shrink because of what some individuals do or fail to do in meeting academic standards. I suppose a class is like anything that grows. Its strength increases with work. I often think of an interesting statement in Nehemiah 'So we built the wall, for the people had a mind to work.' Surely as a University this institution naturally expects students to have a mind to work and to work up to their intellectual capacities.

"As I look at you and think of the cordial relationship that I expect to enjoy with you, a British phrase comes to my mind. In post-war England I have listened to many British Broadcasting Company programs. As you know they have more music than our programs; they have no commercials; they do have conventional news and our type of weather reports. But the weather reports are likely to be a little more human than ours; for the British announcers provide the predicted weather with a kind of personality, calling it benign, or aggressive, or co-operative or resistant. The London reports are often pessimistic when the weather is showery and unpleasant. But occasionally with a note of joy in his voice the BBC newscaster predicts that it will be 'fair, with bright intervals.' And perhaps that phrase may well characterize our relations with one another on this campus. You and I want to exemplify human justice and fair play and we would certainly like to have our intelligence outdo itself at times, so let's be 'fair, with bright intervals.'

"Ladies and Gentlemen, this morning you made the newest of all Bucknellians very welcome indeed, and he sincerely thanks you for it."

HOME COMING

1954

A—High-stepping their way through Homecoming activities are the five Bucknell majorettes sporting their new uniforms! Left to right we see: Ellena Steinman, sophomore from East Greenville; Carole Vought, sophomore from Middleburg; head majorette Bette Skow, junior from Springfield; Lee Clemens, sophomore from Metuchen, N. J. (formerly of Sunbury); and freshman Nancy von Glahn from Springfield.

E—Recalling the pigskin days of 50 and more years ago, former star Bisons gather at the Homecoming Day luncheon. Holding the ball is Dr. A. R. E. Wyant '92 who played four solid years of football for Bucknell.

C—Bucky Bison (Bob Rankin '56), far right, cavorts at the Homecoming luncheon backed up by nine enthusiastic cheerleaders and the Bucknell Band.

D—Tau Kappa Epsilon and Kappa Kappa Gamma won first place in the annual Homecoming parade with their metallic float carrying the slogan "To the Victor." A silver (Lafayette) leopard has just been hit by Bucknell's victory arrow as the black-based victory statue of silver and gold moves up Market Street.

F—Here celebrating their first reunion are Bucknell sections 524 and 525 of the United States Army Ambulance Corps, formed in 1917.

B—Admiring the plaque erected in honor of the late Dr. S. Dale Spotts '18 at the Homecoming Day dedication of the S. Dale Spotts Auditorium in Taylor Hall are his widow, Mrs. Spotts, and daughter, Mrs. William E. MacLaughlin, Jr., the former Patricia Spotts.

ALUMNI OFFICERS ON NIGHT SHIFT

While several thousand Bucknellians made merry in pre-game celebrations on Homecoming Weekend about half a hundred General Alumni Association officers, directors, and committee members put in 8 solid hours of meetings and discussion of affairs vital to the General Alumni program.

Class Fund Managers Meet

The first session was the dinner meeting of the Class Fund Managers and members of the Alumni Fund Committee. After dinner the Fund workers assembled from far and near, (Arda Bowser '23 came from Florida to attend the session), and heard Clyde P. Bailey '29, Alumni Fund Chairman, outline the program of Fund activities for the current year. There was general agreement that a broader attack should be made in the field of personal solicitation and 23 Alumni areas were listed for personal solicitation efforts with the following 13 being placed on the first priority list: Williamsport, Metropolitan New York, Southern Jersey, Long Island, Trenton, Cleveland, Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Reading, Washington, D. C., Lewistown, Binghamton, and Philadelphia. The program of soliciting students during the Senior year for Fund contributions was outlined for those present. It was pointed out that some misunderstanding exists with regard to the relationship of capital and other gifts as compared with gifts to the Alumni Fund. The group favored the present plan of allowing individual and class credit for all gifts of Alumni to the University whether for the Alumni Annual-Giving Fund or for "Capital and other gifts."

Board of Directors

Twelve of the 15 members of the Board of Directors were present for the 4-hour session on Friday night of Homecoming Weekend and heard a lengthy report on proposed changes in the by-laws. The proposals will be published in the May 1955 issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS and will be submitted to the Annual Assembly in June 1955. An interim report of the Committee Studying a Revision of the Alumni Award Program was submitted, with a complete report promised for the next Board meeting. The Board heard Dr. William F. Darks '27, Chairman of the "Doctors for Bucknell" project, outline the accomplishments of this special group of Alumni and present plans for extending the program.

Other business included the appointment of a committee to confer with the University officials on the study of the questions involved in designated giving in the Alumni Fund program; heard a report from the Athletic Advisory Committee on athletic matters; heard a report from a member of the University administration on recent campus and student relationships; considered the names of fifteen Alumni suggested for membership on the Board of Directors to fill the five places to become vacant in June 1955; appointed a committee of Alumni to serve as tellers in the 1955 Alumni Trustee Election; discussed the steps necessary to accomplish the subdivision of the Metropolitan New York-New Jersey Alumni Association in accordance with the petition presented at the 1954 assembly. At 12:30 A. M. the meeting was closed, although there still remained several items of business on the agenda.

Alumni Trustee Committee

If number of candidates is any indicator of interest (and it is) then the Alumni trustee election of 1955 should draw a record number of votes. Alumni Club organizations and individual Alumni had suggested the names of 28 Bucknellians—any one of whom would make an excellent addition to the already distinguished Board of Trustees. But the Committee is required to select just three nominees and after studying the biographical record of achievements of the 13 Bucknellians who had indicated a willingness to serve, the committee members selected a first, second and third choice of candidate. By tallying the results of these secret ballots, the following candidates emerged:

Dr. Franklin D. Jones '19, Ardmore, Pa.

Mr. James S. Replogle '26, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mr. Julius F. Seebach Jr. '20, New York City.

Photographs and biographical records of the three candidates will be published in the March 1955 issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS and in April every Alumnus will receive a mail ballot and will be urged to vote for his favorite candidate. Balloting will end on May 16 and the results of the election will be certified to the President of the University at Commencement in June 1955. Additional candidates may be nominated by a petition signed by no fewer than 200 Alumni, provided such petition shall be filed in the Alumni Office not later than February 21, 1955.

Alumni Achievement Award Committee

On Saturday morning October 23, the Alumni Achievement Award Committee met as usual in great secrecy and selected an Alumnus to receive the Bucknell Alumni Achievement Award chair and citation in June 1955. Would you like to know who was selected? Be sure to be on hand at the All-Alumni luncheon on Saturday, June 11, 1955 at the Davis Gymnasium and you will be able to congratulate the recipient.

William C. Shure '35 Active in Germany

Chaplain of the VII U. S. Army Corps in Germany, Colonel William C. Shure '35, leads a busy life. Available to all military personnel, he sees and talks to a whole command at least once a month, serves and advises men and women from every walk of life. About a million young people move in and out of the armed forces annually. On every post that Colonel Shure has met these people, he has helped some to decide that the Christian ministry should be their life work.

Colonel Shure received his B.D. degree from Drew University in 1938, having previous pulpit experience while a senior at Bucknell. He served in several rural community churches before entering the service in September, 1939.

During the second world war, Chaplain Shure was in the landing at Omaha Beach, in the heavy fighting at Metz with General Patton's 3rd Army, and with General Simpson's 9th Army when it made the end run into the Ruhr pocket of Hamm, Dortmund, and Essen. For his meritorious service during the war he was awarded the Bronze Star medal and three battle stars.

Since 1945, Colonel Shure has served at Fort Ord, Calif., Fort Benning, Georgia, and in Washington, D. C. In 1953 he was assigned to his present position, one of the highest in his branch of service.

Colonel and Mrs. Shure, Ruth Wentworth '30, live in Schlossbergstrasse 5, Gerlingen Stuttgart, Germany. Any Bucknellian who is in southern Germany will receive a royal welcome.

Congratulations to another successful member of the Bucknell family!

Former Bucknellian Editor to Have Book Published

Mrs. Jeanne Rockwell Noonan '42 is the co-author with her father of My Way of Becoming a Hunter, a biography of her father's adventuresome life as a museum man, naturalist, and big game hunter. Publication date for the book is set for February—W. W. Norton and Co. of New York.

Jeanne tells us that after nine years in and out of newspaper business she decided in 1950 to settle down and write the novel she'd always been dreaming about. The result turned out to be non-fiction and a topic close to her, as you can see. Her father, Robert H. Rockwell, now lives at Jamesville, Virginia, close to Chesapeake Bay, where since his retirement from the American Museum of Natural History in New York, he has continued his sculpture and taxidermy work. One of Mr. Rockwell's bronze miniatures "Equine Motion" was exhibited this fall at the annual show of the Washington (D. C.) Sculpture Group.

At present Jeanne is at work on another book although this has been going fairly slow due to the fact that she is regularly substituting as a teacher in the Ann Arbor public schools. Jeanne's husband, Thomas E. Noonan, is on the faculty of Tappan Junior High School in Ann Arbor. They live at 1500 Longshore Drive with their son, Keith, aged 8.

Arthur E. Harris '21 Is School Head

Word comes from Rochester, N. Y., that Arthur E. Harris '21 is enjoying his eighth year as principal of Brighton High School there. Endorsing an "open door policy" where students and faculty are concerned, he finds that the test of a good school system is the mutual understanding of children and administration.

After receiving his A.B. degree from Bucknell, Mr. Harris earned a B.D. degree in religious education and philosophy at the old Rochester Theological Seminary, now Colgate-Rochester Divinity School.

Art and his wife, Elsie, have two married daughters. Their life interest has always been teenagers, and they've kept in contact with this group through church work, scouting and YMCA activities.

Congratulations and good luck to another successful member of the Bucknell family!

LODGE TO BE BUILT AT COWAN

by FORREST D. BROWN, General Secretary,
Christian Association

THE Trustees' approval in November of the building development at Cowan, and the acceptance of the general chairmanship by Dr. Louis W. Robey '04, inspires confidence in success for a project long under consideration.

IN 1936, the University Christian Association after some four years of searching, acquired a property of 28 acres along Buffalo Creek, near the village of Cowan, seven miles from Lewisburg. The farm house and barn were remodeled to provide facilities for conferences, outings, and recreation. The project was made possible through the generous gift of $1,000.00 by the then President Arnaud C. Marts. Since that time the property has been much improved. Large playing fields have been developed and a picnic area in the woods, including fireplaces, was made possible through a gift by the Mothers' Association. Comfortable accommodations provide for 40 overnight guests, and more can be handled for meals.

THE facilities of the Conference and Recreation Center have been used increasingly by campus and community groups. Last year more than 80 different groups were accommodated. Freshman Camp is held here. During the fall and spring almost every week-end sees one or more groups accommodated. Many organizations have their annual dinners here. During the summer, service clubs, scouts, and church groups use these facilities. But the facilities are too small for the demands put upon them.

THE present plan calls for the erection of a new building or lodge, with a living room 30 x 60, with kitchen, faculty guest rooms, and dormitory wings attached. A heating system and modern plumbing will be added, as well as fireplaces which the center does not now have. The present farm house will then become a caretaker's home, and the barn an auxiliary sleeping unit. Mr. Jens Larson and his firm are generously contributing their services to draw up the plans for a structure, estimated to cost $50,000. It will be kept rustic and simple. Much glass in the walls will open the view into the woods and through the meadow. This building will make possible an expanded program all the year round, where students and faculty members as well as others can get away from the campus itself and informally create

DR. LOUIS W. ROBEY '04
Chairman of the Cowan Project fellowship and strengthen the ties of intellectual, moral and spiritual life. This kind of development is known to many campuses.

VALUABLE ASSISTANCE GIVEN

THE Department of Public Relations of the Board of Education and Publication of the American Baptist Convention has through its director, Dr. Paul Carter, volunteered to assist in a program of fund raising, and are assigning Mr. Homer M. Fairlee of their staff to the campus for three months to help. These services as well as those of the able chairman, Mr. Robey of Marts & Lundy, will be invaluable and come as a gift to the University. Mr. Carter's office is also handling the publicity.

MR. Weaver W. Pangburn '10, national consultant on Parks and Recreation, is contributing his services as counsel on building arrangements, site, and on landscaping and development of the grounds. He is very much pleased with the present location and possibilities of the site. Dr. D. M. Griffith '23, chairman of civil engineering department, who has been chairman of the "Cabin Committee" since its inception, has given much time to the planning of the program. The General Secretary of the Christian Association will undertake the local management of the campaign office. Contributions will be solicited from a selected group of alumni and friends. But no one is excluded from making a gift to this project. Dr. Dayton L. Ranck, Treasurer and Vice President, has been one of the prime movers in the program which now begins to materialize in providing Bucknell with another valuable asset to its educational and religious program.

Elbina L. Bender '06 Dies

Classmates and Bucknellians in general will be saddened to learn of the untimely death of Elbina L. Bender. Miss Bender, who has served as Class Fund Manager for 1906 since the inception of the Fund, has established a splendid record of service to the University throughout her career. Death occurred a few hours after she was struck by an automobile at Third and Market Streets, Lewisburg, November 22.

Because of her long period of service in the Lewisburg schools, she was known and highly regarded by a large part of the adult population of Lewisburg. Her teaching career also included service at Pasadena Polytechnic School, Pasadena, California and as Dean of Women at Hartwick College, Oneonta, New York, from which position she retired twelve years ago. Miss Bender was a graduate of Bucknell Institute for Women and the Bucknell School of Music before earning her bachelor's degree from the University in 1906.

Surviving are a brother, George T. Bender '17, Lewisburg; a sister, Elizabeth, wife of Truman R. Martin, Lewisburg florist; a niece, Mrs. Raymond W. Cooke '45; a nephew, Donald B. Gardner.

The University and the Class of 1906 extend heartfelt sympathy to the survivors.

News From Africa and John Lepke '41

A newsy letter came last July from Rev. John Lepke '41 who is with the American Board Mission in Mapumulo, Natal, South Africa. Dated in May, the three-page epistle told of new experiences and achievements in that far-off land. A 1954 Chevrolet sedan had just arrived and was being greatly appreciated. Rummage sales of clothes sent by American friends enabled the Africans to maintain their self-respect as they raised $240 to help renovate their chapel.

Library Adds Audio Aids

One of the newest developments at Bucknell in addition to the modern buildings that are rapidly going up is an audio aids room in the Bertrand Library.

Dr. J. A. Rivoire, associate professor of French, has made a study of schools which use this teaching device in order to incorporate in Bucknell's program the best features of the system. As a result, one room is equipped with 30 listening stations for that number of students, a master control room, and a second listening room. The addition of audio aids will assist in the teaching of speech, languages, and music.

ARCHITECT'S SKETCH OF THE PROPOSED LODGE AT COWAN

Doctors for Bucknell

With little fanfare but with definite effect, a new organization is growing on the Bucknell Campus that well may set a pattern for other groups associated with the University. It is known as Doctors for Bucknell and it is composed of Alumni who entered medicine or its allied fields. The purpose of the organization is to support the Biology Department in any manner possible.

The idea of Doctors for Bucknell was brought forward by Dr. W. F. Darke '27 of Orwigsburg, Pa. two years ago when the University was engrossed in the problem of raising funds with which to remodel Taylor Hall. Dr. Darke suggested that all Medical Alumni be invited back to Lewisburg to attend a $50-a-plate dinner for the benefit of the building fund.

The University was at first a bit reluctant to accept the idea, good as it was, because it felt that such an effort would interfere with the Alumni Fund. However, the University agreed to let Dr. Darke poll his fellow medics as to the possibility of holding such a dinner and the response was such that there was no doubt that the idea would go over.

Accordingly, tickets were printed and the Medical Alumni were invited to a dinner at the Milton Country Club, on Friday evening of Homecoming Weekend, 1953. More than 40 persons paid more than $4,000 to sit down at that dinner and furthermore, they voted to make the affair an annual one. It was also agreed that Dr. Darke should be acting chairman of Doctors for Bucknell with Alfred H. Fenton, assistant to the president, as acting secretary, until Homecoming of 1954 when permanent officers would be elected.

Dr. Chester B. Keefer '18, Special Assistant for Medical Affairs and Health to the U. S. Secretary of Health, Welfare and Education was the speaker for this year's dinner, held in the Women's Dining Hall on Friday evening, October 22.

Since this dinner meeting was to be of an organizational nature, it was decided to lower the price of the affair to $25-a-plate in order to increase attendance.

As a result of this move, 53 persons attended the dinner. These included several non-Bucknellian doctors from the local area who wished to hear Dr. Keefer, as well as a number of pre-medical students who were guests of those Alumni who purchased tickets but were unable to attend.

Dr. Edward W. Pangburn '15 of Lewisburg was elected the first president of Doctors for Bucknell, with Dr. Albert J. Abbott '29 of Nanticoke, Pa., as vice president and Alfred H. Fenton, assistant to the president, as secretary-treasurer.

Following the meeting an Executive Committee composed of the three officers and Dr. Darke, the retiring Chairman and Dr. Cornelius Sedgwick '36 of Boston was appointed. This group has already started working on a number of projects. At their suggestion all pre-medical students are organizing to help the Doctors For Bucknell to hold a one-day conference on the campus next spring. This conference will be headed by a group of faculty members from a leading medical school so that the Bucknell students will have an opportunity to hear first hand what lies ahead of them.

The Executive Committee is also working with the biology faculty to determine how the present funds on hand can be used to assist the biology department and its planning memorials for Drs. Nelson F. Davis and G. G. Groff. The Committee is considering a graduated scale of prices for next year's dinner so that younger doctors will be encouraged to attend.

Trustees Boost Men's Dorm Project

The new Dormitory for Freshman Men currently being erected on the Campus is virtually a monument to Bucknell's present Board of Trustees.

Like the renovation of Taylor Hall, the new Dormitory was a contingency item. There were several factors involved in the decision to erect this building. In the first place, the Board felt that it was not fair to expect men students to continue to study in the crowded conditions which were inevitable when the campus was over-populated with World War II veterans. Secondly, the colleges and universities which can be considered as Bucknell's "competitors" were gradually improving their facilities and it was becoming evident that Bucknell would have to do the same. Another reason behind the move was the fact that the Board wanted to give members of the freshman class an opportunity to know one another better before they were divided among the fraternities on campus. Thus, a dining hall was included in the basic plans so as to care for the feeding of freshmen when deferred rushing is instituted in the Fall of 1955.

Action on this project was started two years ago under the administration of President Hildreth. As a first step, he persuaded Rush H. Kress, Honorary Chairman of the Board of Trustees and member of the Class of 1900, to make a challenge gift of $100,000 contingent upon the raising of an additional $300,000 for the project. This, as he has done many times before, Mr. Kress agreed to do. Then Senator Andrew J. Sordoni made a pledge of $25,000 and the ball began to roll.

Robert K. Bell '20 of Ocean City, N. J. and Paul L. Troast, Hon. '52, of Clifton, N. J. were the two Trustees who pushed hardest for this building and as a result of their enthusiasm they were appointed as planning chairman and finance chairman, respectively, for the project.

The Planning Committee, headed by Mr. Bell and composed of Joseph W. Henderson, H. Boardman Hopper, Paul L. Troast, and Harry G. Schad together with the Standing Committee on Buildings and Grounds, began working with the architect, studying dormitories on other campuses, and getting building estimates. It was eventually decided that the proper type of building could be erected for $750,000 and the Board, realizing that a full-scale campaign for funds could not be conducted, agreed to borrow $350,000 from the University's own endowment and to raise the remaining $400,000 in gifts.

With these facts on hand, Kenneth W. Slifer '26 prepared a booklet to be used by the Finance Committee, so that by June, 1954 the Committee, headed by Mr. Troast and composed of Joseph D. Dent, Bayard L. England, Andrew R. Mathieson, Dr. Walter P. McKinney, Harry G. Schad and Mr. Slifer, was ready to start work.

With the assistance of Mr. Bell and Vice President Dayton L. Ranck, as ex-officio members of the Committee and Alfred H. Fenton, assistant to the president, as Executive Director of the Campaign, the group worked quietly during the months of July and August. So successful was this effort that by September 15, when bids were due from contractors, sufficient funds were on hand or in sight so that the Board agreed to start construction at once.

In addition to the fact that the goal of $400,000 was within reach, another factor which helped the Trustees to make their decision was the fact that by building now, with construction crews already on the campus, a saving of $20,000 could be obtained.

And while the goal of $400,000 has still not quite been attained, it should be pointed out that to date 26 members of the Board of Trustees have pledged or paid $321,000 toward the project.

Because of their generosity the walls of the Dormitory are already reaching skyward.

Sordoni Elected President of AAA

Dr. Andrew J. Sordoni, formerly state secretary of commerce who received an honorary LL.D. degree from Bucknell in 1950, was last October elected president of the American Automobile Association. Sordoni, who served as president of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, said in a report to the organization's executive committee that the AAA clubs are "the legislative watchdogs for the motoring public."

Theta Chi to Build

Amidst the busy activities of Homecoming weekend, Bucknell's chapter of Theta Chi discussed plans for a new house on "the Hill." The present house is still located on South Third Street.

Philip C. Campbell '22, of Danville, president of the Theta Chi Alumni Corporation, announced at the meeting on Homecoming Day that all alumni will be contacted to help make the financial drive a success. The exact cost of the project is not known at present.

The most recent Greek-letter addition to the hill has been the now-completed Lambda Chi Alpha house.

Summer Bucknell University Tours to Europe

Bucknell faculty members as well as students are going abroad in the summertime. Next summer three faculty members are heading tours.

The Guild for Student Travel has retained Miss Harriet Love of the department of economics for directing their "Nordic Tour" covering the main part of Europe, including Denmark, Sweden, and Norway. This tour, leaving June 20 will occupy 62 days. Miss Love also conducted a tour last summer.

Mr. Forrest D. Brown, secretary of the Christian Association, who recently returned from a sabbatical in Europe, has also been retained by the Guild to direct a student tour to seven countries, leaving July 2nd, and returning on September 3. A special feature of this trip will be conferences with leaders in education and government in the countries visited.

Mr. and Mrs. "Bus" Blum have been retained by the Ball Tours to supervise a student tour of two months, leaving in late June. Last summer Mr. Blum served as a tour director for Ball Tours on some of their western trips.

Alumni who are interested in going on one of these tours, should write to the faculty directors mentioned above to obtain further information.

Bucknell Alumni Census of 1954

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the seventh of a series being published in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS to show the geographic distribution of Bucknell Alumni. The present article reports the census of 1954.

The accompanying map shows the state-by-state distribution of the 15,687 former students of Bucknell University with known addresses. The count was made in October 1954 and includes the graduates of June of this year. The state list shown under the map includes the comparable census for October 1953. About 10% of our Bucknellians move each year and tell Alumni Headquarters of their new address. Another 5% move and leave no forwarding address. Experience shows that about 250 copies of this issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS will be returned to Alumni Headquarters as undeliverable. We can improve that position by being sure to tell Alumni Headquarters when and where we move and inform the office about Bucknellians who move into our local community. The post office department does a splendid job of notifying us about changes of address that they have received, but a sizeable amount of tax money could be saved if everyone notified our office of a change of address BEFORE moving.

BUCKNELL ALUMNI CENSUS OF 1954

	Oct. 1953	Oct. 1954		Oct. 1953	Oct. 1954
Alabama	17	25	Nevada	4	2
Arizona	32	36	New Hampshire	28	28
Arkansas	8	10	New Jersey	2,314	2,368
California	310	340	New Mexico	22	25
Colorado	38	32	New York	1,973	2,086
Connecticut	191	232	North Carolina	42	51
Delaware	164	169	North Dakota	1	1
District of Columbia	139	136	Ohio	355	371
Florida	187	200	Oklahoma	22	30
Georgia	41	47	Oregon	14	13
Idaho	7	6	Pennsylvania	7,595	7,657
Illinois	148	144	Rhode Island	24	22
Indiana	67	71	South Carolina	35	37
Iowa	16	16	South Dakota	4	4
Kansas	26	25	Tennessee	35	38
Kentucky	42	40	Texas	99	101
Louisiana	16	18	Utah	6	10
Maine	31	34	Vermont	16	17
Maryland	311	321	Virginia	181	168
Massachusetts	239	239	Washington	51	53
Michigan	137	150	West Virginia	62	59
Minnesota	29	30	Wisconsin	29	31
Mississippi	10	9	Wyoming	6	6
Missouri	39	38	Outside U. S.	119	119
Montana	6	8
Nebraska	15	14	Totals	15,303	15,687

Josephine Hildreth '52 Wed

On October 23 in Cumberland, Maine, Josephine Wing Hildreth became the bride of Humayun Mirza of Pakistan. Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Horace A. Hildreth, Josephine (better known to Bucknellians as "Dodie") was given in marriage by her father, former Bucknell president, now U. S. Ambassador to Pakistan. Graduated from Bucknell in 1952, Dodie formerly attended Abbot Academy, the Waynefete School, in Portland, Me., the Katharine Gibbs School and Vassar College. She accompanied her parents to Pakistan when Dr. Hildreth stepped into his ambassador role and there met her husband.

The bridegroom is the son of Pakistan cabinet member, Iskander Mirza. He attended the Doon School in Dehrn Dun, India, and the Chartered Insurance Institute of London.

The couple will live in Karachi, Pakistan where Mr. Mirza is an insurance executive with the Alliance Assurance Company of London.

Pierce Honored by Sociology Group

Dr. Albert Pierce, of the sociology department, was honored in December by his election to the Institut International de Sociologie. He was notified of his election by the honorary's president in Rome, Professor Corrado Gini. Dr. Pierce is also a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

The Institut International de Sociologie was founded in 1893 for scientific study of sociological problems. Election to the society is an indication of scholarly development within the field of sociology.

Dr. Merritt Presides in Forensics

Dr. Frank Merritt, associate professor of English, played a prominent role at the meetings of the Debating Association of Pennsylvania Colleges, and the Pennsylvania Speech Association in Pittsburgh on October 8 and 9.

As president of the DAPC, Dr. Merritt served as critic judge in a debate, presided over meetings, and presented a paper on "Pennsylvania Indian Oratory." The highlight of the convention was an address by Dr. Daniel Poling, editor of the Christian Herald magazine and a trustee of Bucknell.

Senior Theme—"Old Faces"

The Class of '55 decided to leave its mark in Bucknell's Hall of Fame and presented a variety show, "Old Faces of '55," December 4, 1954 in Davis Gymnasium.

The show had as its theme a review of the most prominent activities and attitudes to be found in each successive college year. In the cast were members of the Class of '55 who each contributed to the production. Scripts were written by the students, and choreography, tickets, and staging were also arranged by the seniors. The Purple Knights provided music for the affair.

The performance combined wit and charm, gaiety and sobriety. It was an account in retrospect presenting the laughter along with the tears and the joy with the doubts in college life.

Nelson F. Davis, Jr. '22 Succumbs

The death of Nelson F. Davis, Jr. '22, on November 11, 1954 followed that of his father by exactly 30 years to the day. Dr. Nelson F. Davis '95 was professor of biology at Bucknell from 1896 until three years preceding his death on November 11, 1924. Both father and son were natives of Lewisburg and members of Sigma Chi. Nelson, Jr.'s mother, (Nellie Taylor '97) passed away in 1904.

Graduated with an A.B. in '22 and a B.S. in Electrical Engineering in '23, Nelson, Jr. had been with the Guardian Life Insurance Company since his graduation. At the time of his death, he was district manager in California where he resided with his wife, the former Margaret Allen '19, in San Mateo.

Surviving Nelson, Jr. are his wife, his stepmother, Mrs. N. F. Davis, Sr., Lewisburg, and his sister Frances '25 who is teaching in Tunkhannock, Pa.

Dr. Harris—Outstanding Daughter of Pennsylvania

"I was sidetracked into entering the prison service in New York City in 1914," said Dr. Mary B. Harris upon learning that she had been chosen as one of 1954's Pennsylvania's Ten Outstanding Women. Dr. Harris is a Bucknell graduate of 1894 and now resides at 9 Market Street, Lewisburg.

The previous 54 living award winners of "Pennsylvania's Outstanding Women," founded in 1949, made the selections. The gold medal awards were given at a luncheon in Governor John S. Fine's home in Harrisburg. The ten women then took part in the home county celebration during Pennsylvania Week from October 10 to 17.

The words of Dr. Harris' formal citation express in part the outstanding work she has done in her field to obtain this great honor. They read . . . Without formal education in penal work, Dr. Harris "grew to understand the heart of the woman criminal and so thorough were her common sense methods that she achieved an amazing success in her chosen work, and for many years has been accepted as an outstanding authority in prison management for women. She is a great humanitarian, penologist, and public servant."

After graduation from Bucknell and the University of Chicago, she taught in private girls schools and did graduate work in numismatics at Johns Hopkins. Continuing her education, Dr. Harris spent two years abroad studying advanced numismatics at the American Classical School, Rome, and at the Keyser Fredrick Museum, Berlin.

It was upon returning to the United States that she became "sidetracked." She accepted the position of superintendent of the Women's Work House in N. Y. C. in 1914. Taking a leave, Dr. Harris served as assistant director of the women's section on detention houses and reformatories for the War Department in Washington.

Completing this mission, she became superintendent of the Reformatory for Women at Clinton, N. J., and then went to the State House for Girls in Trenton until 1925. In the next two years, Miss Harris directed the building of the new federal institution for women at Alderson, W. Va. This project revolutionized housing and treatment of women in penal institutions. Much of this time was spent with the Justice Department in Washington, D. C. The institution opened in 1927, and Dr. Harris lived there until her retirement in 1941.

Dr. Harris then made her home in Lewisburg where she served on the Pennsylvania Parole Board in 1942 and '43. However, this is not the end of Dr. Harris' "long sidetrack" for she has headed the Lewisburg Community Chest Drive three times, was president of the Lewisburg Civic Club four times, has been a trustee of Bucknell for many years, and is presently vice president of the Union County Unit of American Cancer Society. Dr. Harris returned recently from a ten months' North African and European trip. While in Lybia, she was asked by the governor to inspect two of the penal institutions.

Dr. Harris was one of six children, being the only girl. Her brothers are: Herbert Frederick '95, deceased; Reese H. '03, Scranton; Dr. Coleman J. '12, Charleston, W. Va.; James P. '12, Wilkes-Barre; and Stanley N. '18, Pittsburgh.

All Bucknellians, faculty, and administration congratulate Dr. Mary B. Harris on her recent award. It was an honor well deserved.

JANUARY 1955

Davis '11 Directs Guidance Workshop

Dr. Frank G. Davis '11 was director of a guidance workshop which constituted a part of the Teachers' Institute of Clinton County, Pennsylvania, on October 29 at Lock Haven. Assisting were Dr. J. Charles Jones '42, assistant professor of education, and Nicholas Troisi, also assistant professor of education. Jones and Troisi are starting their Bucknell service this year.

The idea of a guidance workshop instead of the traditional institute promises to be an interesting and effective educational program.

The same team will conduct a guidance workshop in the 1955 Bucknell Summer School and will bring in addition specialists in the field.

Stan Purdy '48 Writes for Mickey Spillane Movie

It seems that Mickey Spillane and his cohorts use the ingenuity of a Bucknellian to make their newest film effort a success. Stanley A. Purdy, Jr. '48 has completed the composition of background music for the "Ring of Fear," now being shown at your favorite cinema showplace. Two main themes penetrate the plot and action, Stan tells us.

STANLEY A. PURDY, JR. '48

These are the "Velda" and "Mike Hammer" themes.

This doesn't end the story, however. A record album of these themes was released in October through Columbia Records and is entitled "Mickey Spillane's Mike Hammer Story." Stan was composer, arranger and conductor for the album. He was a dean's list student when working for his A.B. in music, also was accompanist and piano soloist for the Men's Glee Club and was awarded the Aviragnet Prize when he graduated.

Dr. J. C. Hostetter '08 Honored By State

Dr. John Clyde Hostetter '08, famed ceramic specialist and glass technologist, was awarded during Pennsylvania Week last October the state's ambassador award presented each year to a state native who has won fame in another state. A former chemistry instructor and trustee of Bucknell, Dr. Hostetter has retired from his very active life. The Pennsylvania award was received for him by his brother-in-law, as Dr. Hostetter was then hospitalized in New York City.

Dr. Charles D. Koch '98 Succumbs

On October 14, 1954, Dr. Charles D. Koch, well known educator died in the Muncy Valley Hospital, thus ending a distinguished career in the field of education. A magna cum laude graduate of the Class of '98, he was 84 years of age at his death.

DR. CHARLES D. KOCH '98

Dr. Koch was a former teacher, principal, and holder of several state education department positions including the position of deputy superintendent in charge of professional and higher education.

After receiving his bachelor's degree, Dr. Koch earned master's degrees both at Bucknell and at Columbia, receiving a Litt.D. degree from Franklin and Marshall College in 1922.

His wife, Fanny Carlisle, preceded him in death. He is survived by one son, John Carlisle '23.

Red Face Department

Who would think an alumni magazine editor would fail to mention the fact that Mr. and Mrs. "Doc" Speare '20, now have a son, Bill, Jr., enrolled as a freshman at Bucknell? Well, we did it. Besides, we failed to mention that Bill, Jr. comes from quite a Bucknell family that includes, besides his Dad, an uncle and aunt, Mr. Erle M. Topham '15 and Mrs. Erle M. Topham (C. Ray Speare '17), another aunt, Mrs. Charles W. Christ (Anna M. Speare '23), and a cousin, Ronald A. Lloyd '51.

And, that's not all. The list of freshmen published in the November issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS failed to include Corbin A. Wiant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Corbin W. Wiant '20. A brother, James M. Wiant, graduated in 1949 and another brother, John W. Wiant attended with the Class of 1950.

And, that's not all! Fred B. Kemery of the Class of 1928, who lives at 3504 Cameron Mills Road, Alexandria, Virginia, is represented on the campus this year by his son, Fred D. Kemery.

And, that's not all! Richard T. Merwin '26 and Elsie Schuyler Merwin '23 have a daughter, Carolyn Schuyler Merwin in the freshman class. Carolyn's uncle, William H. Schuyler '15, is assistant professor of chemical engineering at Bucknell.

Back to Bucknell—Captain John Chironna, Westfield, N. J., receiving the Old Shoe, traditional emblem of football superiority in the Bucknell-Temple rivalry, from Dr. G. D. Timmons, dean of the Temple School of Dentistry, originator of the trophy, at the Quarterback Club dinner.

Bison Herd Builds 6-3 Record

Despite three losses in their last four contests Bucknell's football Bisons completed the 1954 season with a fine 6-3 record. The gridders opened the campaign with five successive triumphs.

The Bisons generated plenty of power, especially on the ground. Final Eastern Intercollegiate Football Association figures showed that the Bucknellians rolled 2169 yards in nine games, an average of 241 yards rushing per game. This fine figure placed the Bisons fifth in the East in that category.

Bob Ford, the thundering fullback, paced his mates in ball-toting throughout the campaign and finished No. 6 in the East in yards gained. Ford will be back in Bucknell livery again next fall, and may better his 1954 average of 4.6 yards per carry.

Bisons who gained post-season notoriety by being selected to the various all-collegiate teams selected by coaches and writers were Ford, guard John Chironna, end Rich Klaber, guard Hank Popek, tackle Ron Lloyd, quarterback Jim Stewart and punter Ron Hendricks. The latter was No. 4 in the East in his specialty with a 36.1 yard average.

Smashing victories over Muhlenberg 33-13, Gettysburg 29-0, Lehigh 48-46, and Temple 27-0 were reported in the November issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS. The remaining games shaped up this way:

LAFAYETTE—It was Homecoming Game at Lewisburg and the Bisons sent everyone home happy as they rolled to their fifth straight win, 7-0. With star guard Chironna missing the only game of his Bucknell career, the host team was hard pressed from start to finish. Four timely pass interceptions helped considerably, however, and the locals were able to make their first period score stand up throughout.

BOSTON U.—Costly fumbles proved too much for the Bisons to overcome, as they dropped their first verdict of the season 20-7. Terrier fullback Sam Pino trudged 150 yards through the mud to spark a second half BU attack that dumped Bucknell from the undefeated class.

COLGATE—A surprising Bucknell air attack threw a scare into the then undefeated Red Raiders, but they fought back with two second half touchdowns to hand the Bisons their second straight defeat, 20-14. Loss of halfback Bob Sierer for most of the second half hurt the underdog Bucknellians.

ALBRIGHT—Boy Scout day at Lewisburg saw the Bisons returning to the victory trail with a lop-sided 27-0 conquest of Albright. Bucknell moved the ball almost at will early in the game and led 20-0 at the end of the first quarter. Harry Lawrence turned his reserves loose from there on in.

DELAWARE—A keyed-up Blue Hen team handed Bucknell its only severe setback of the season, blanking the Bisons 20-0 in the campaign finale. A downpour of rain didn't dampen the spirits of the Refrigerator Bowl-bound Delaware performers. Led by quarterback Don Miller, who tossed the 36th touchdown pass of his career, the Blue Hens moved to a relatively easy victory.

Sophs Strengthen Basketeers

With his rebuilding program about one-half completed, Coach Ben Kribbs has floored a 1954-55 basketball team that is definitely an improvement over last year's combination. The Bisons proved this opening night with a fine 102-87 win over Albright in Davis gym.

The quintet is composed mostly of sophomores, however, and lacks experience, height and depth. The Thundering Herd will not win all of its games by a long shot, but it will be a scrappy club that is interesting to watch. The Kribbsmen are loaded with speed, and they can cause trouble for an opponent on any given evening. It is certainly safe to say that the team will improve on last winter's 4-16 season record.

Coach Kribbs has a nucleus of seven players—sophs Joe Baccelli, John Beatty, Norm Voorhees, Mike Corrigan, Marty Tannenbaum and Al Kenzie, and senior Dick Bradway. Baccelli's uncanny shooting in the Albright contest—nine of ten from the field and 13 of 14 from the foul line—added up to 31 points and one of the finest individual performances seen at Lewisburg in some time.

Basketball results:

BUCKNELL .. 102	Albright	87
Bucknell	65	LEHIGH
Bucknell	76	COLGATE
Bucknell	86	ROCHESTER

Dec. 17	Rutgers
Jan. 5	at Penn State
Jan. 8	Muhlenberg
Jan. 12	at Gettysburg
Jan. 15	Lafayette
Jan. 22	at Albright
Feb. 4	at Iona
Feb. 5	at N. Y. U.
Feb. 9	at Lafayette
Feb. 12	Dickinson
Feb. 14	Susquehanna
Feb. 16	at Juniata
Feb. 19	Gettysburg
Feb. 23	at Pitt
Feb. 26	Lehigh
Mar. 2	F. and M.
Mar. 5	at Muhlenberg

At press time Bill Lane's Frosh squad had a 3-0 record.

Soccer Team Shares Crown

Hank Peters' Bison soccer combination completed the fall campaign with a 4-4-1 record and a share of the Middle Atlantic Soccer League crown. A league record of three wins and one defeat tossed the Bucknellians into a title deadlock with Drexel, Washington College and Western Maryland.

SEASON'S RESULTS

PENN STATE .. 14	Bucknell	1
TEMPLE	4	Bucknell
WILKES	1	Bucknell
Bucknell	1	Washington
BUCKNELL	3	Johns Hopkins ..
BUCKNELL	5	Gettysburg
W. MARYLAND	3	Bucknell
BUCKNELL	6	F. and M.
BUCKNELL	3	Delaware

Intramural Standings

Greek competition in the 1954-55 intramurals as we go to press finds Delta Upsilon nearest the laurel wreath with 144 points. It is a close contest, however, with the following fraternities on their toes in this order: Sigma Alpha Mu, 133; Kappa Sigma, 124; Phi Kappa Psi, 122; Theta Chi, 120; Phi Gamma Delta, 117; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 112; Lambda Chi Alpha, 107; Sigma Chi, 98; Tau Kappa Epsilon, 94; Phi Lambda Theta, 84; Sigma Phi Epsilon, 73; Kappa Delta Rho, 69.

The team winners of the season's completed sports were Phi Kappa Psi, soccer; Sigma Alpha Mu, handball; and Delta Upsilon who copped both the tennis and cross country championships.

1954 Powder Bowl an Upset

In the annual Kappa Kappa Gamma-Pi Beta Phi Powder Bowl at the stadium on December 8, the feminine football competition for funds and fun proved a one-way score with Pi Phi topping the Kappas, 19-0. Coached by this year's Bison Herd, the girls turned over proceeds to the Cowan sports equipment fund.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

LONG ISLAND—On Monday, September 13, 1954 the Bucknell Alumni Club of Long Island, held its fifth annual reception for freshmen in the Community Church of East Williston. Over two hundred freshmen, their parents, undergraduates and alumni attended.

After the welcoming address by club president, Thomas W. Cann '41, a brief business meeting followed. Officers elected for the coming year were: Nelson E. Wendt '34, president; Sally Cann '39, vice president; Gay Dueger '38, secretary; Art Iredell '34, treasurer. Elected to the Board of Directors were: Walt Pfeifer '50, Bill Lybarger '25, Fred Flaherty '33, Amorita Copeland '22, Walter Rohrs '39, Marge Miller '39, Robert A. Snyder '42, Walter S. Vanderbilt '42 and Clinton Hegeman '43.

Dr. William H. Coleman, vice president spoke to the freshmen in regard to the life they might anticipate at Bucknell and gave a brief history of Bucknell's past.

The meeting was adjourned and Clinton and Marcia Hegeman then divided those present into men's and women's discussion groups. Questions of the freshmen and their parents were answered by the undergraduates.

Delicious refreshments were served, thus completing a very enjoyable, social evening.

GAY RUSSELL DUEGER '38,
Secretary

New York Bucknellians to Hold Monthly Luncheon

We are happy to announce that the New York monthly luncheon will again be held beginning January 26, 1955.

Bucknellians who live or work in Manhattan and visitors to the city are cordially invited to attend the informal monthly luncheons. They will be held on the last Wednesday of each month at the Hotel Shelburne, 37th St. and Lexington Ave.

Here are the details for the first luncheon:

DATE: Wednesday, January 26, 1955.

HOUR: 12:15 p. m.

PLACE: Hotel Shelburne
37th St. and Lexington Ave.
New York 16, N. Y.

COST: Reasonably priced — you write your own ticket—lunches start from 90c up.

Let's make the opening luncheon a big event. Here is an excellent opportunity to meet many of the Bucknellians, both newcomers and old timers who are in the city.

We must tell the hotel what facilities we need so please call or write Mrs. Emily Devine Kelly '21, 1569 Metropolitan Ave., New York 62 (Underhill 3-5029) that you will be with us for the opening luncheon, Wednesday, January 26.

Remember this luncheon is planned for all Bucknellians, both men and women. Let's see which class has the largest representation on January 26.

METROPOLITAN NEW YORK-NEW JERSEY—Our first meeting of the year was held at the Robin Hood Inn in Montclair, N. J. on Tuesday, November 16. After a delicious chicken dinner our President, Wayne Knouse '40, introduced the officers: Mrs. Amorita Copeland '22, vice president; Chester Leaber '19, treasurer and Mrs. Jean Newsom Waldner '46, secretary. Also introduced at the speakers table were Judge and Mrs. Harry B. Frank, Bucknell parents of freshman Ned D. Frank, whom we were very pleased to have with us.

Wayne announced that after the Birthday Dinner in February, the Metropolitan Club will separate into two clubs in accordance with the petition for subdivision approved last June.

Our President then commented on the grand job being done by forty of our members who are on the Student Selection Committee headed by Doug Bonham, Dick Moore and Dick Schultz.

We were all happy to greet one of our favorite people from the campus, Mal Musser, dean of men. In his usual inspiring way, Mal took us back to Lewisburg and wonderful college memories. Those of us who don't get back to Bucknell often were brought up to date on the big strides our school has taken in physical improvements.

Mal told us of the need for endowment, and asked our support of the Alumni Fund. He made us proud of our Alma Mater as he told us of the high scholastic standing, and the splendid guidance center now on the campus. He filled us with enthusiasm, and made us all hope that Mal will return again soon.

MRS. JEAN NEWSOM WALDNER '46,
Secretary

ST. PETERSBURG—The first meeting of the season, was held on Saturday, November 20, at the home of Mrs. Henry Colestock, 1711 48th Ave., N. The President, Dr. Earle Edwards, returned thanks.

Dr. Edwards presided at the meeting which followed, calling for the minutes which were read by Mr. Headland in the absence of the secretary, who was ill. The treasurer's report was also accepted and filed.

Reports in detail were given by those who attended the commencement activities.

We were sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Bowser, who attended our meetings and annual dinners for many years. A card was sent to her son by the group.

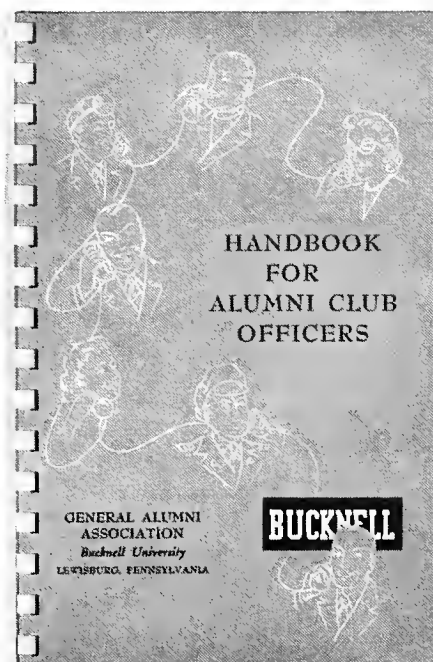

Correspondence from others was read to the club.

It was decided to hold the annual dinner on February 5, at noon, at the Pennsylvania Hotel. We hope that many Bucknellians will be in this area in February and that they will contact the secretary at 2710 Dartmouth Ave., St. Petersburg, and plan to make it the biggest gathering of Bucknellians ever to assemble.

A vote of thanks to Mrs. Colestock was given by those present for her gracious hospitality.

RUTH S. PORTER '05, Secretary

TRENTON — Bucknellians from the Trenton club met for their annual picnic at Quick's (Joe and Mary, both '38) farm in Newtown, Pa. on Sunday, Sept. 12, 1954. Seventy-five were in attendance which was composed of grads, near grads,

We are pleased to announce the publication of a new "Handbook for Alumni Club Officers."

This new edition, a copy of which has already been sent to each of the sixty-five alumni club presidents, with the request that they study its contents with the entire officer staff, has been prepared by a committee of experienced alumni club officers. The committee appointed in March 1953 consisted of William S. Liming '33, Long Island, Chairman; Joseph T. Quick '38, Trenton; Campbell Rutledge, Jr. '33, Corning; Gladys S. Murray '31, Philadelphia and J. Dudley Waldner '46, Montclair. The committee has worked diligently to produce a handy and helpful outline of suggestions on how to form an alumni club and how to keep it functioning in the best interests of the alumni and the university.

There are a few extra copies available for general distribution. They can be had on a first come, first served basis by writing the alumni office.

prospective freshmen (now the Class of '58) and many little future Bucknellians. Everyone enjoyed himself thoroughly, eating, talking, pitching quoits, playing baseball, badminton, etc. The highlight of the day for the younger ones was a ride in a large hay wagon driven by Joe.

Prospective freshmen met each other as well as the alums, a few bills were paid, and a February get together was scheduled—the Annual Dinner Meeting.

WILLIAM PEEBLES '38, President

WILMINGTON — Bucknell Alumni in Delaware had two opportunities to meet during the football season. On October 9 Bucknellians joined with the Alumni of Lehigh at a Dinner-Dance at the University Club in Wilmington. When Bucknell played Delaware on November 20, a group of Bucknellians from Delaware along with team followers from Philadelphia, and the campus held a pre-game luncheon at Hearin's Restaurant. The spirit was high in spite of the rainy weather, which seems to prevail when the Bisons visit the Blue Hens.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA OPENS NEW HOUSE

PHILADELPHIA—Many Bucknellians and friends of Bucknell enjoyed a delicious lunch at the Cedar Brook Country Club, then went on to help cheer the Bisons to victory at the Temple Stadium on October 16, 1954.

The Philadelphia Club is now planning its annual dinner for Friday evening, February 4, 1955 at McCallister's. Our new university president, Dr. Merle M. Odgers, will be our guest of honor. We expect to make this another evening filled with Bucknell fellowship.

Remember also to put the date Saturday, May 21, 1955 in your date book—the Spring Dance at the Merion Tribute House.

Alice Roberts '24,
Secretary

SOUTH JERSEY—About 62 Alumni and friends turned out for the dance November 12 at the Woodbury Country Club. Music was provided by Bart Dutton and his orchestra. Later in the evening refreshments were served. Nine Alumni contributed to make the feast ever so delicious. Door prizes were also in abundance. These too were contributed to our affair by Alumni.

Special chain letters were mailed to members of each class prior to our dance. The class which made the rounds and returned its letter to the Publicity Chairman, Richard M. Gray '42, the fastest was to receive a prize. The Class of 1913 and 1914 won with Mr. and Mrs. Marwood B. Glover, who were then presented special crowns to commemorate the occasion. The letters of the Class of 1949 were lost somewhere in their passing and thus all '49-ers in attendance were awarded dance caps to wear.

Our next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, February 8 because the Bucknell Men's Glee Club will be coming to Haddonfield. Instead of a dinner meeting, we are planning to have a reception immediately after the concert for all Alumni and friends who are present. At that time we shall have refreshments, including the cutting of Bucknell's birthday cake. Another important event to take place at this gathering will be the election of new officers.

Dorothy Yawner Connelly '41,
Secretary

PROVIDENCE—Alumni from the Providence area began their 1954-55 season with a dinner meeting at the Faculty Club of Brown University on November 12.

Following dinner, plans were formulated for our annual Birthday Party on February 5. Also discussed were various ideas for increasing attendance at meetings.

After the meeting everyone of the small group attending seemed in a reminiscent mood and many humorous as well as serious memories of the three hundred acres were exchanged.

June Stott Matthews '47,
Secretary

Coming Events

Alumni in many parts of the nation will have an opportunity of celebrating Bucknell's Birthday at local area club meetings. At many of these celebrations faculty member visitors will bring a message from the campus. These gatherings are planned to bring Bucknell to you. At press time the following clubs have announced their meeting plans:

Metropolitan New York—Wed., Jan. 26—monthly luncheon at noon at the Shelburne Hotel, 37th and Lexington Ave.; Washington, D. C.—Tues., Feb. 1—John H. Shott will be the speaker; Reading, Pa.—Wed., Feb. 2; Philadelphia, Pa.—Fri., 12

Another milestone in the establishment of a "Fraternity Row" on the top of the Hill was achieved with the formal opening of the new Lambda Chi Alpha house at Homecoming, October 23. The celebration was in the form of a dinner in the new quarters for almost 300 alumni and active members.

The acre plot on which "The Stone House on the Hill" is constructed was made available through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. William Strohecker who were willing to sell a share of their valuable farm, so that "Fraternity Row" could become a reality.

The house, built of stone dragged from the mountains of Buffalo Valley and rough-hewn and dressed on the site, stands on the high point of the campus and looks out at the new library, the engineering building, the Delta Upsilon fraternity, over the stadium and beyond to the beautiful vista of Buffalo Valley. From the rear, the view includes the Susquehanna River and the surrounding mountains; off to the right Blue Hill, directly ahead "old Montour," and off to the left the Muncy Hills.

Malcolm A. Clinger '26, a member of the chapter, was the architect of the building which features spacious living areas and emphasizes masculine appointments. The main lounge spreads out over the entire width of the building and includes a massive fireplace with a cutstone mantel. To the left of the entrance is a fumed oak dining room to serve 70 people, with the electrically equipped kitchen and living quarters for the help to the rear. Also in the rear wing is the Memorial Library which includes an open fireplace of Nantucket brick extending from floor to ceiling, built in trophy and book shelves and provision for memorials to be dedicated at a later ceremony. In the L formed by the main lounge and the library there is a flag-stone terrace bounded by a bench-high capstoned wall. The second floor provides for nine study rooms, each equipped with ample facilities for four men, while the third floor is devoted to dormitory facilities with sleeping accommodations for 60 men.

The house-opening celebration on Homecoming Weekend was not designed as dedicatory exercises which will be held at a later date, but was planned to recognize the untiring efforts of those responsible for the planning and building stage of the project. The completed house represents the combined efforts of many willing hands not all of whom can be mentioned here. Serving on the building and finance committee are: Guy W. Bailey '26, Malcolm A. Clinger '26, David A. McNeal '12, Clair G. Groover '15, Robert J. Haberstroh '22, Clarence O. Hartman '16, Robert L. Hulsizer '21, Thomas S. "Si" Morgan '21, William G. Thomas '43, A. Thomas Wilson '47, and Donald B. Young '33. The house was constructed by Wilbur B. Boyer, contractor, of Northumberland, with Frank Zimmerman, a Lambda Chi Alpha member at F. & M., in charge of supervision.

Robert J. Haberstroh served as toastmaster at the dinner and the Rev. John H. Ehrhart, a Lambda Chi Alpha member from Gettysburg College, who is pastor of St. John's Evangelical and Lutheran Church, Lewisburg, delivered the address recognizing the accomplishments of the project. The official dedication and presentation of memorials will be scheduled at a later date.

Feb. 4. Dr. Merle M. Odgers will be the speaker; Johnstown, Pa.—Feb. 4; Long Island—Feb. 4; annual Supper-Dance at the Riviera, Port Washington; York, Pa.; Providence, R. I.; St. Petersburg, Fla.; Triple Cities (Endicott, N. Y.)—all on Sat., Feb. 5; Lewisburg, Pa.—Tues., Feb. 8; South Jersey—Tues., Feb. 8; New York City—Thurs., Feb. 10. Dr. Merle M. Odgers, president of Bucknell, will be the speaker at a dinner at the Park-Sheraton Hotel. The Men's Glee Club will present a concert following the dinner also at the Park-Sheraton Hotel.

The following clubs are planning Bucknell Birthday meetings but as we go to press the dates have not been set: Chicago, Lycoming County (Probably on April 18), Scranton, Pittsburgh, Sharon, Lock Haven, Bellefonte, Albany, Boston.

Men's Glee Club Tour

Feb. 4, 1955—Lewisburg High School, Muncy (evening); Feb. 6—Harrisburg, Pine Street Presbyterian Church (evening); Feb. 7—Annville High School (morning), Wyomissing, Pa. (evening); Feb. 8—Haddonfield, N. J., First Baptist Church (evening); Feb. 9—Bordentown High School (morning), Trenton High School (morning); Feb. 10—Summit High School (morning), Union High School (afternoon), Grand Ballroom, Park-Sheraton Hotel, New York City (evening).

(Continued on Page 25)

Bucknell's "Baby Boom"

The "baby boom" is continuing among college graduates in the United States. This is the latest report from the Population Reference Bureau of Washington, D. C., at the conclusion of its ninth year of study of graduates' birth rates in which Bucknell University has participated.

Unfortunately, as found elsewhere in the United States, our graduates' families are too small. However, the fertility of recent graduates has increased every year since 1946, when the college study began. Married graduates of the class of 1944 already average more children, only 10 years after graduation, than the graduates of the Class of 1929, 25 years after graduation.

With 15 more years of family building ahead of them, there is even a probability that members of the class of 1944 will replace themselves in the new generation. An average of 2.1 children per graduate is necessary to accomplish this. This is news—and good news—for the birth rate of college graduates has for a long time been far short of replacement.

This year Bucknell again assisted the Bureau in reviewing class birth rate records. Bucknell's Class of 1944, surveyed through questionnaires last winter, reported 1.6 children per alumnus. Unhappily, the Bucknell alumni of 1944 are below the national average of 1.7 for the 109 colleges where the men of 1944 were reviewed.

Among our neighbors, Juniata's Class of 1944 reports two children per alumnus; Lebanon Valley College averages 1.47 per man; and Gettysburg College averages 1.94 per man. Outside the state, Harvard men of '44 report 1.35 offspring apiece, while Tufts men average 1.48.

Since the College Study was first undertaken in 1946, the number of children reported by men and women in their 25th year after graduation has been low. Graduates of the Class of 1929, reviewed this past year, are now near the end of their reproductive span. Men from 121 colleges average 1.95 children per graduate and women from 131 colleges average only 1.36. Bucknell University's Class of 1929 reported only 1.72 children per alumnus and but 1.14 per alumna. With approximately 2.1 children per graduate required for replacement, these men fail to replace themselves by 18 per cent and the women by 46 per cent.

The overall winner in this past year's "Baby Sweepstakes" is Brigham Young University in Utah, which leads the men and women of '29 with 3.38 offspring per alumnus and 3.78 per alumna of the class.

For many years a trend toward smaller families has been noted in urban-industrial societies. This decline in fertility, measured in terms of income and in terms of education, has been uneven. People with more schooling tend to have fewer children than people with less education. In 1940, the U. S. census showed that women with 1-4 years of schooling averaged 4.33 children apiece, while those who were college graduates averaged but 1.23. The least-educated group was nearly doubling in a generation; the most-educated group was declining by nearly 50 per cent.

In our highly complex industrial society, there is an ever-increasing demand for people of intelligence and advanced training. There is currently a shortage of physicians, biologists, teachers, engineers, research chemists, physicists and other professionally trained people to meet the needs of our rapidly growing population. In the United States, about one person in eight now graduates from college. A committee of the National Research Council recently pointed out that this relatively small group furnishes: "... most of the able and educated people who will manage the nation's industry, direct its educational system, preserve its health, make its laws . . . write its books . . . lead its cultural, political and economic, religious and social development of the future."

The recent upward trend in the birth rate among the 10-year graduates is encouraging. May it continue!

Fourth Annual Bucknell Business Forums

The Bucknell Business Forum opened in October on the campus with an address by Dr. Ralph Watkins, director of research for Dun and Bradstreet. The forum, whose membership last year totaled more than sixty-five leading business and industrial firms from central Pennsylvania, will consist of five more sessions, one each succeeding month. Speakers at these sessions will be Leonard J. Calhoun, Washington attorney and consultant to Secretary Hobby; Emerson P. Schmidt, Director of Research for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce; Robert S. Rice, Industrial Production Editor for Factory Management and Maintenance in New York; and Alvin Brown, Vice President and Director of the Johns-Manville Corporation.

University Course Now Two Years

This semester a new University Course has been introduced to Bucknell students. In previous years the course has been offered completely during one semester. It has now been extended over a period of two years and has been divided into the classifications of logic, the sciences, humanities, philosophy and the practical.

The course, a program of integration, is open to junior and senior students. There are no special prerequisites. Throughout the four semesters, students examine the major fields of human knowledge and discuss their basic differences and interrelationships. The physical, social, and biological sciences are studied along with some problems and central principles applying to them.

Students will hear lectures from guest speakers, as well as from members of the faculty. Directors of the program include Dr. Harry Garvin from the English department, Dr. Francis Martin, Dr. Irving Polonoff, and Dr. Preston Warren from the philosophy department.

Bucknell Scholars' Club Rounds Out Schedule

An interesting organization on campus that may not be known by all alumni is the Bucknell Scholars' Club organized in 1938. The club's program for '54-'55 has been set up and three sessions have already been held. For the benefit of those who are unfamiliar with the organization, Dr. Oliphant of the history department prepared the following statement which we now quote:

"The informal organization commonly called The Bucknell Scholars has been operating since the spring of 1938. In several ways this organization is distinctive. It has no fixed constitution, no certain membership, and no visible means of support. Its procedures have been established by custom. Its membership consists of such faculty members as are present when it is in session. Its small overhead expense is taken care of by the business acumen of its program committee. It has no archives, no filing cases, and no vice presidents.

"By common consent, meetings of this organization are held eight times during the academic year, the first one in October and the last one in May. At the May meeting a committee of two is elected to take charge of the program for the ensuing year and to see to it that each member of the faculty receives a written notice of each meeting. Every faculty member is cordially invited to attend these meetings. Ordinarily a meeting is preceded by a dinner, which, unhappily, is not free.

"At each meeting a faculty member reads a paper or otherwise reports on a subject or a project that he has investigated. It was the hope of those who founded this organization that they were bringing into being a forum which, when requested to do so, would pass critical judgment on the scholarly papers of the faculty members before such papers were offered for publication."

Faculty members who spoke in the Fall were, Dr. Harold Heine, chemistry department, whose topic was "Some Recent Advances in Cancer Therapy;" Dr. Hulda Magalhaes, biology department, who spoke on "The Golden Hamster as a Laboratory Animal—The First Two Decades;" and Dr. George Irland, of the engineering department. During the remaining sessions, the Scholars will hear the new art department member, Prof. George Hersey, speak on the preservation of Lewisburg architecture; Senorita Beatrice Gonzalas, who will talk of her year in Spain from which she returned in September to the Spanish department; Dr. Harvey Powers, drama professor and adviser; Prof. John F. Zeller, III, political science department and Lewisburg attorney; and Dr. William Smith, of the mathematics department.

Graduate Scholarships Available

Bucknell students and faculty are presented with the opportunity of applying for many scholarships and fellowships. Dr. Roy C. Tasker, chairman of the committee for the Encouragement of Graduate Study and Research, has reminded us. In addition to scholarships offered by particular institutions, the following broad scope opportunities are available.

Fulbright scholarships for study abroad have been awarded to four Bucknell graduates within the past three years. David McGill '52 was the University's first Fulbright student, studying during the '52-'53 term. Jane Brown '53 studied drama at Dijon, France in '53-'54, and Paul Remmey '53 has renewed his scholarship and is spending his second year in England. Louise Austin '54 is studying under the same program this year at the University of Edinburgh.

Other opportunities are the Woodrow Wilson Fellowships in Humanities or Social Science, the Social Science Research Council plan for all levels of study, the National Science Research Council plan, and the Ford Foundation for Foreign Study.

Bond Family Reunion

Just try matching this group with any other Bucknell family and you will find that here is surely a generous gathering of Bucknellians. Together for the first time in quite a few years, Dr. and Mrs. Charles M. Bond and their children held a family reunion at their home in Lewisburg this past May.

Let's look into this happy gathering and say hello to the Bond family—many of them

Bucknellians. Starting on the near left with the little blonde cupie doll and moving backwards, we have first the Edward N. Peck family (Maribeth Bond '43). They have just returned from eight years in Hawaii where Rev. Peck was pastor of Wahiawa Community Methodist Church on the island of Oahu. He has now accepted the pastorate of Rosewood Methodist Church in Los Angeles, Calif. Surrounding them on the picture are their three children: Deborah, David, and Barbara.

Moving clockwise around the table we meet Miss Anna Bond of West Chester, niece of Dr. Charles M.; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bond of Philippi, W. Va., son and daughter-in-law; and Dr. Bond's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Bond.

At the tablehead, Dr. Charles M. Bond, professor of Religion at Bucknell, has to his left his son Professor Charles F. Bond '42 now assistant professor of zoology at the University of Vermont. His wife (Amy L. Stevenson '44), and their children Charles S. and Betsy are with him. Next to Amy sit the Norman Ganos (Barbara J. Bond '47), interim pastor of the Picture Rocks Baptist Church, who is also attending Crozer Theological Seminary for special work.

Immediately to the right of Mrs. Charles M. Bond in the foreground is part of the William E. Bond '45 family. (Marjorie E. Hudson '46). Not shown is Bill who played photographer for this important event. Bill is with the Bell Aircraft Company in Buffalo where he and Marjorie live with their children, William R. and Linda.

There you have it. Dr. and Mrs. Bond truly had a reunion that both they and the Bucknell family enjoyed.

Catching Up With the LeMons

A family of Bucknellians has recently answered our call for news of them and we find that the LeMons of Aurora, N. Y. are just as busy as ever. Head of the family, Dr. Melvin LeMon, was associate professor of music at Bucknell from 1932-43 and since then has been in his present position of director of music at Wells College, Aurora. At present he is writing a folk opera which he hopes to produce in a joint venture with one of the New England men's colleges in another year.

His wife, Jane Orwig LeMon '35 is chairman of the English department and librarian at King Ferry Central School, N. Y. Active in many state and county educational activities, Jane has just completed work for her Master's degree at Cornell University.

Youngest member of this Bucknell family is son M. William LeMon '54. Bill worked this past summer as script-writer for Radio Station WGVA in Geneva, N. Y. and is at present attending graduate school at Syracuse University for his M.S. degree in Radio and Television. He can be reached at Apt. 26, Marshall Apts., 728 Crouse Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

Jane, who wrote to us, says that many ex-Bucknell Glee Club and Band members write to them, directing their correspondence to Lewisburg. If you are one of these, you can be sure of reaching the LeMons, c/o Wells College, Aurora, N. Y.

Hats off to the LeMons, another active link in the ever-growing Bucknell family chain.

Hooven '20 Proposed for AIEE Presidency

The New York Section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers has proposed Morris D. Hooven '20 for the presidency of the Institute for the 1955-56 term. Graduated magna cum laude from Bucknell with a Bachelor of Science degree, Mr. Hooven has attained national recognition in the engineering profession for his work in the power field. Also contributing to the sphere of communication, he has long been active in the AIEE, as attested by the significant list of committees on which he has played a major part. Holding membership in six other engineering societies, in one of which he is Vice-Chairman (the Engineers' Council for Professional Development), Morris is employed by the Public Service Electric and Gas Co. in Newark, N. J.

Bucknellians in the Hooven family who are wholeheartedly supporting the AIEE's proposal are daughter Barbara Hooven Fuller '50 and her husband James C. Fullmer '52. Mr. Hooven and his wife Florence have two other children, Beth and Daniel '57. They reside in Montclair, N. J.

Robert Shaffer '42 Accepts New Post

Since the first of September, Robert O. Shaffer '42 has been connected with Rohrer, Hibler & Replogle of Chicago as consulting psychologist. Bob says the work, which in detail is the attempt to develop individuals for top management positions in corporations, is fascinating. His firm is one of the very few using a clinical approach. It does sound fascinating, Bob!

Previous to the new position, Bob was dean of students at Oswego State Teachers College (N. Y.) since 1952 before which time he was assistant to the president at Cornell University. It was from Cornell that he received his M.S. in Education in 1948 and Ph.D. in 1951.

During World War II, Bob spent four Navy years as an aviator, test pilot, and engineering officer.

The Shaffers, (Mrs. Shaffer is the former Marilyn Eppley '43) now live at 2500 Hawthorne Road in Homewood, Illinois with their two daughters, Deborah, 4, and Allyson, 2.

Walter Miller '43 New Head of Bergen Schools

Walter A. Miller, Jr. '43 assumed on the first of this year, 1955, the position of Superintendent of Public Schools in Bergen, New Jersey. Immediately previous to this position he was for five years employed as superintendent of schools in Dunellen, N. J. Now working with a staff of 250, Walt has reached this height in his career after a number of years of experience in education. Formerly teaching in junior and senior high schools in his home town of Shamokin, he later switched to administrative work.

Holding membership in many education organizations, Walt earned his bachelor's degree from Susquehanna University in 1936, his M.S. in Education from Bucknell in 1943.

Musical Organizations to Tour

In addition to the tours of the Women's and Men's Glee Clubs (see pages 12, 25) other campus musicians will present off campus concerts during early 1955.

The Bucknell University Band, directed by Allen W. Flock, will go on tour for the first time in its history. The tentative schedule for February 23 until February 25 includes Harrisburg, York, Wayne, Springfield, and Norristown, Pa. and Collingswood, N. J.

The band has been commended highly for its clever formations and excellent marching in football games. The formations, which are student-created, included "School Days," a salute to the various departments of a university; a salute to Glenn Miller in which the formations represented some of his most famous songs; and a "Trip to Europe" in honor of the U. S. Army Ambulance Corps.

The Bucknell University Chapel Choir, in addition to its weekly chapel programs, presented several local concerts, under the direction of William D. MacRae. The first appearance was at the Pennsylvania State Baptist Convention in Wilkes-Barre on October 24. The fall tour in November included concerts in Linesville, Zelienople, McKeesport, and Brentwood, Pa., and a radio broadcast in Altoona. On December 3, they sang for the Pennsylvania Music Educators Association in the Forum in Harrisburg. One of their annual concerts was a complete program of Christmas music for the Christmas Chapel service. The choir is planning several local concerts and two tours for the second semester this year. The tours will include the metropolitan New York area in March and the Philadelphia and Haddonfield, N. J. area in April.

CLASS REPORTS

EMERITUS CLUB

Mrs. Charles W. Strine (Grace Runyan '84) died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. Arthur Britton, in Frenchtown, N. J., September 9. She was 87 and a widow since 1907. Her husband, Charles Strine, was one-time manager of the Metropolitan Opera Company and of the John Philip Sousa Band.

Annie Martha Pines '91 died at the Evangelical Home, Lewisburg. Miss Pines had taught 20 years at Bucknell and in Lewisburg Public Schools. She also graduated as a practical nurse from the Broad Street School of Nursing, Philadelphia.

Dr. Andy Wyant '92 reports a winter in Florida, spring in Chicago, air flight to California and Minneapolis (for American Baptist Convention), motor trip to Bucknell Commencement for the graduation of his twin granddaughters Bette and Louise Kinzie. August at Chautauqua, N. Y. and summer with his wife at their Clarion, Pa. home. He spent Homecoming on the campus and was featured in the New York Times as a football great.

Mrs. Frank B. Thomas (M. Cora Davis '92) passed away December 2, 1953 at the home of her daughter in Glendale, Calif.

Dr. Mary B. Harris '94 addressed the American Association of University Women on November 8 on the Bucknell campus. Her talk was entitled "To the Shores of Tripoli" and gave impressions gained during her recent travels abroad.

Franklin R. Strayer '94, teacher of physics and chemistry at Cornell University, died in the Chester County (Pa.) Hospital Sept. 1 at the age of 89. In addition to his work at Cornell he had taught at various Pa., N. J., and N. Y. high schools. He retired in 1926. He attended the Academy in 1888-90 and was awarded the B.A. degree, summa cum laude, from Bucknell in 1894.

Webster W. Irvin '96 died of a heart attack September 6. He had retired from farming several years ago. He is survived by his wife and three sons.

Mrs. A. W. Stephens '96, the former Gertrude Overhold, widow of Albert Woodward Stephens, passed away in a Philadelphia Hospital on March 13, 1954. Mr. Stephens died in 1941 after a long career in agriculture. Dr. Anna O. Stephens '26, a daughter, died at State College in June 1953.

Mr. William C. Purdy '99, who gave a life time of service as a plankton expert in the U. S. Public Health Service, died on July 15, 1954. Even after retiring in 1941 he continued his interest in purification of water in the rivers of the United States. Mr. Purdy is survived by two daughters to whom the sincere sympathy of the University is extended.

Oscar R. LeVan '99 has been hospitalized at the Veterans' Hospital, Lebanon, for removal of his leg above the knee. He is now doing fine.

CLASS OF 1900

Class Reporter: GEORGE A. GRIM
South Broad St., Nazareth, Pa.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Fifty-fifth Reunion June 10-13, 1955"

Three members of the Class of 1900 were present at the Seattle Art Museum in the State of Washington, October 13, when Rush H. Kress was in the city to attend the ceremonies marking the opening of the new wing of the Seattle Art Museum.

More than 1,200 works of art from the Kress foundation have been distributed to the National Art Gallery in Washington and to galleries in twenty other American Cities.

Also present at the ceremonies were Dr. Charles E. Bunnell, of Fairbanks, Alaska, President-emeritus of the University of Alaska and Mrs. Frederick J. Drynan (Alicia M. Zierden) who were classmates at the impromptu reunion. Mrs. Drynan was prominent in the establishment of the Pennsylvania State Museum in Harrisburg, and is a charter member of the American Association of Museums.

CLASS OF 1902

Class Reporter: MRS. SARAH JUDD SHIELDS
(Sarah Judd)
79 University Ave., Lewisburg, Pa.

Ernest A. Sterling, who roomed with Christy Mathewson while at Bucknell, died early in September at his home in Montrose. He was 76. A nationally known consulting forest and timber engineer, he was a past president of the American Forestry Association.

Dr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Theiss attended the 45th annual meeting of the Nut Growers Association held in Lancaster this fall. Dr. Theiss addressed the session, speaking on the topic "Nut Trees in Landscaping".

Dr. Lewis E. Theiss of Lewisburg, retired member of the Bucknell University faculty, presented the Bucknell Library with the manuscript of his book "With Bruce on the Indian Frontier" which was requested to add to the growing and valuable collection of his work. After writing a story on flying at about the time of Lindbergh's flight, the demand came for more flying stories—until he wrote 26 of them. Then his work was interrupted by the selection of Dr. Theiss to compile a history of Bucknell on the occasion of its 100th anniversary in 1946.

Dr. Theiss has written for more than 40 national magazines, and he was just recently selected to write the editorial for the first issue of a publication being launched by the Lycoming County Historical Society.

CLASS OF 1904

Class Reporter: ROBERT W. THOMPSON
Box 33, Lewisburg, Pa.

Tug Caruthers makes his home in the community in which he grew up—Irwin, Pa. He and his son practice law, having an office there and at the county seat, Greensburg.

Roger Edwards, New York, was unable to be with us at our fiftieth last June as he was nursing a "bad leg". Understand he is doing nicely and trust he will be able to join us at our next reunion.

Elwood "Woody" Gilbert and his good wife, Mary Halfpenny '00, enjoyed the reunion with us last June and it was quite a shock when we were advised of his passing Nov. 18 after several days illness.

Johnny Johnson, Ginger Teufel, Moose McCormick and Coxy Thompson as manager were present at the Homecoming game with football veterans of fifty years and earlier as guests of the University.

Billy Murdock has been writing some very interesting articles for the Milton Evening Standard. They are of much interest as they touch on local, state and general matters. Keep up the good work, Billy.

Coxy Thompson, Box 33, Lewisburg, Pa., will be pleased to receive for this column any and all news classmates of 1904 can pass on to him. Thanks.

CLASS OF 1905

Class Reporter: DR. LEWIS C. HYLBERT
435 Drake Ave., Upland, Calif.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Fiftieth Reunion June 10-13, 1955"

DR. LEWIS C. HYLBERT

The following persons are hereby appointed to assist in the promotion of our 50th (Silver) Class Reunion on the campus on June 10-13, 1955:

For local arrangements, Mrs. John T. Fetherston (Edith Kelly), Packwood House, Lewisburg; Wilkes-Barre, Miss Claire M. Conway, 53 Washington St., Wilkes-Barre; Pittsburgh, Miss Mary Bower, 6214 Kentucky Ave., Pittsburgh 6; Philadelphia and New York, Donald McCain, c/o George Helme Co., 9 Rockefeller Plaza, New York 20, N. Y.; West Coast, Lewis C. Hylbert, 435 Drake Ave., Upland, Calif., and John Flood, 2933 Fourth Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.; Washington, D. C., J. B. Smiley, Apt. 301, 2000 Connecticut Ave., Washington 8, D. C.

Our tentative plans call for a gathering for the Class at Packwood House, the home of Dr. and Mrs. John T. Fetherston (Edith Kelly) on Saturday afternoon, June 11, following the All-Alumni Luncheon. We are also considering a dinner for the whole group on Sunday noon, June 12, at the Lewisburg Inn followed by a social gathering Sunday afternoon at Packwood House. Please try to make your plans accordingly.

Miss Nell Thomas died at her home in Tyrone on September 19, 1954, after a long illness. A charter member of Delta Delta Delta, she had been a teacher in the Altoona High School for some years before her retirement.

CLASS OF 1906

Class Reporter: WILLIAM L. DONEHOWER
22 N. Fifth St., Lewisburg, Pa.

Harold N. Cole, M.D. (Bucknell '06), is retiring from practice after forty-five years. He became Emeritus Professor of Dermatology and Syphilology at Western Reserve Medical School in 1952. Doctor and Mrs. Cole have three children, Junior being also a physician, and eight grandchildren.

Dr. W. Eugene DeMelt died September 14 at the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hospital in Penn Yan, New York at the age of 82 years. Dr. DeMelt had spent a life-time in education, having served as principal and superintendent of Schools in Penn Yan. He resigned to take graduate study at the University of Toronto, earning the degree of Doctor of Pedagogy in 1928. He later joined the faculty of the Southern College, Lakeland, Florida, retiring in 1952. He is survived by his wife, the former Beatrice Horton, a son, William E. DeMelt, Jr., M.A. '49 of Lakeland, Fla. and a sister, Mrs. Cecilia Ramsdell.

Miles Timlin died on September 1 at his home in Lansdowne. Before his retirement 15 years ago, he had taught at Pottsville, Haverford, and Lower Merion high schools, and also here at Bucknell. His wife and two daughters survive him.

Harold N. Cole is a corresponding or honorary member of several of the dermatological societies in Europe and in South America.

CLASS OF 1907

Class Reporter: DR. LEO L. ROCKWELL
Colgate U., Hamilton, N. Y.

Another reminder that "our lives are like the shadows on sunlit hills that lie." Lawrence O. Manley died suddenly on November 11, being taken by a heart attack on his way to work. "Doc", as we all called him in college, was known there as a whiz in math and as deserving his nickname by being healer in general to all East Wingers. A Bradford County boy, he was one of that fine group which Canton in those days was sending to Bucknell. Son of a well-known physician, he was advised by his father not to go into medicine, and after college tried various fields before finding his true metier. After teaching in his home town, he took over a fruit farm in Colorado. He didn't make a fortune farming, but he did find a treasure, his wife Helen. While there he took the Pace course in accountancy, ranking first in the country on the final examinations. For some time he was a partner in a Wall Street accounting firm, residing in Hillside, N. J.

After some years he removed to Washington and became a partner in a well-known firm there. For some years he was flying all over the country on special assignments, having become a specialist in hospital accounting. He was active in the Washington Alumni Club, serving as its president and making substantial financial contributions to it.

For the past several years he has been subject to heart attacks, but refused to slow down except under the strictest doctor's orders. When stricken he was being driven to his office by his daughter on a holiday when he was not supposed to be working.

He is survived by his widow, Helen; a daughter, Mrs. John Krueger (Louise Manley '32); a granddaughter, Carol Krueger Gibson, and a great grandchild . . . We'll keep you in our memories, Doc.

Chauncey Brockway is still busy with good works. He returned recently from a six-week tour with a mission representing the National Conference of Christians and Jews. The party flew from New York to Copenhagen. They visited Sweden, East Berlin and Munich in Germany; Istanbul, and Beirut, Old and New Jerusalem, spending eleven days in Palestine. Thence they went to Cyprus, Athens, Rome, Geneva, Paris and London. Their time was largely spent in conference with leading figures in politics, economics, religion, and education. Chauncey returned almost exhausted from the physical effort, but he felt it worthwhile. Keep it up Chauncey, the world needs more like you.

I'll have to talk about myself a bit. VCR and I spent July visiting kinfolks in Florida. We spent a grand week with daughter Margie '39 and husband John Weihs in Lakeland. We were properly startled at the Frank Lloyd Wright architecture at Florida Southern College. We tried to call on Gene DeMelt '06, but he was not at home. We were shocked later to hear of his untimely death. He had been dean at Florida Southern for many years.

We tried also to look up David Robinson '04, in Winter Park, but his beautiful residence was standing lonely. We spent several fine days with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warfel '20 (Ruth Farquhar '19) at Swan Lake; they were full of their year in Germany. Since that Harry has had a serious operation, from which he is now convalescing. They took us to the University at Gainesville, and we had a pleasant chat with Ralph Page, now dean there. We couldn't get in touch with Bill Hinman '07 at Floral City, thus missing some big fish stories. We went through De Land fast, and couldn't make Tallahassee and St. Petersburg. (Time and funds were limited). Friends there will please not shoot us on sight. One can't do everything.

CLASS OF 1908

Class Reporter: MRS. MARGARET P. MATHIAS
(Margaret Pangburn)
202 St. Louis Street, Lewisburg, Pa.

Dr. E. Carroll Condict, who is serving as interim pastor at the North Springfield (Vermont) Baptist Church, had the pleasure of dedicating his grandson, Edward Carroll IV, son of Edward C. Condict '36 at Trenton, New Jersey.

James Lose Jr., whose father had been a principal of the Old Muncy Normal School, Muncy, was a speaker at the eighth reunion of that school on October 9.

CLASS OF 1909

Class Reporter: MRS. HOWARD HEADLAND
(Sarah E. Walters)
3911 First Avenue N., St. Petersburg 3, Fla.

George Bailets and Mrs. Howard Headland (Sarah Walters) represented 1909 at the luncheon of the Bucknell Alumni Club of St. Petersburg held at the home of Mrs. Bertha Wagner Colestock in November.

While wandering around Pennsylvania last summer, we had a happy visit in Lock Haven with Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Haggerly (Olive Long), their daughter, Gloria Miller and her son, Gil. Olive and Matt spoke then of coming to St. Petersburg again this winter. We are hoping to see them soon.

Then the next day further down the road, in Milton, we stopped again to say "hello" to my good old pal of Greek and Latin days, Mrs. Dix Colvin (Katherine Heinen).

Mrs. Louis Velte (Charlotte Hulley) lives at 10799 Sherman Grove Ave., Sunland, Calif. It is with regret that we report the death of one of her sons, William H. Velte. He was a pilot trainer at a government air base in Arizona, where in an airplane crash he and a student lost their lives. Our sympathy to you, Charlotte, in your sorrow.

CLASS OF 1910

Class Reporter: MISS MILDRED B. GATHERS
100 W. 33rd St., Apt. 6, Bayonne, N. J.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Forty-Fifth Reunion June 10-13, 1955"

Hugh E. Roser, 67, died en route to a Harrisburg hospital after suffering a heart attack on September 8. He had been a civil engineer with the Federal-State Flood Forecasting Service. The sympathy of his classmates of 1910 is extended to his wife and one son who survive.

CLASS OF 1911

Class Reporter: W. NEIL BAKER
7 Brown St., Lewisburg, Pa.

Dr. Frank G. Davis, professor of education at BU, was one of eight prominent Pennsylvania educators who received the first annual Certificate of Merit for distinguished service to adult education. The awards were presented at the 1954 conference of the Pennsylvania Association for Adult Education last June.

Dr. George Patrick Shields, who earned his M.D. at the University of Pennsylvania in 1914, died on April 16, 1954.

CLASS OF 1912

Class Reporter: MRS. H. W. HOUSEKNECHT
(Maze Callahan)
108 W. Penn St., Muncy, Pa.

In September I received a call from a lady in Williamsport. She said she was "Muff" Scott, Alice Scott's sister. I quickly grabbed a chair because it was just as though someone had returned from the dead. I had never seen nor heard of Alice since the day we received our diplomas. They live at 307 Euclid Ave., Elmira, N. Y. Alice teaches English in the high school and lives at 307 Euclid Ave., Elmira, N. Y. "Muff", whose real name is Florence, is controller for the J. P. & M. Sullivan Stores in Corning, Elmira, and Williamsport. Then there is little Florence about whom I shall talk later. After our lengthy conversation, she made me promise that we would come to see them very soon.

The 11th of November was our 35th wedding anniversary, Armistice Day "Peace all our lives"—now Veterans' Day. My best beau asked me what I wanted. I said, "Go to Elmira to see the folks." The weather was beautiful, the trip delightful, and the reception while we were there just out of this world. Would you believe that "Muff" served me coffee each morning in bed? That's just a sample of the service rendered. I had a notion to have my picture taken to send around to the survivors (as Bob Meyers calls us) making you believe I was leading a very "ritzy" life.

When we were in school Margaret Harter, Violet Wetteran, Ruby Stuck, Kathryn Oldt, and I spent many weekends with Alice in Milton. A little woman, Florence Kear, lived with them. She came from England when she was very young. She was a friend of Alice's mother and went to live with them, when they were married. The mother was not too well so Florence was mother and adviser. When the parents passed away, she still took charge of her brood, and as she says "I'm proud of my family."

She will be 95 in February. I just wish you could see her. She prepared the most wonderful meals. Up early every morning she is right on the job. She moves faster than I do. Already she had her fruit cakes baked for Christmas. Goes to church regularly. She reminds me of Grandma Moses. Physically active, witty, mentally alert! She even remembers the things we said and did 45 years ago. Also told me that my mother sent oysters already padded for me to fry. I remembered then that we fried them in a chafing dish. We all sneaked a pat of butter from the table. I imagine there was quite a "promenade of napkins" leaving the dining hall that night.

They all fell in love with Pop so we have been invited back. He really did behave beautifully considering he was the only male in this feminine outfit. When Alice wrote me, she said, "We hope to see you quite often in between but why not make it a habit to spend your anniversaries with us each year." Remember Prexy's definition of habit—"An action performed so frequently that it becomes automatic." I can still hear him in the old chapel when he called on Helen Levegood to recite. He said "The next, Miss Levegood, you may go on with the next." Those were pleasant days!

Remember the gang that came over from Milton and Watsonstown? Rode the street car to the end of the line, walked across the bridge in all kinds of weather. Then up the hill for an 8 a. m. class. Those kids deserved a lot more credit than we who lived on the campus.

Hannah Mervine '09, Katherine Hein-en '09, Julia Kremer '11, and the Raup girls, Sara '10, and Eleanor '11. Sarah McFarland '10, Ethel Hottenstein '13, Berke Hastings '13, Harry Daggett, Til Paul, Jay Fleckenstine, Ned Wagner, Alice Scott in our class.

Every time I go away someone comes. When I was in Harrisburg, Jay Fleckenstine, his wife, and grandson stopped to see me. Then the day after Homecoming, I found a note in my door from Lib and Red Lowther '14. They were on their way home—stopped by to say "Hello." Just my luck!

Helen Levegood, Margaret H a r t e r, and Olive Long all celebrated their 35th wedding anniversaries in October. I remember these especially as we were all married around the same time. It's an awful long time to be looking at the same person, but I suppose it works both ways.

It's December 8th—my report is due at the Alumni Office. I'm in time to wish you all a happy holiday season.

Sugar plums, jingle bells, silence of the snow,
Hollyberries, mantlepiece, bowl of cookie dough,
Tree top angel, yule log,
children out of bed
Bags of toys, little boys,
Santa in a sled,
Prickly wreath, reindeer,
cozy winter nights,
Tinsel, glitter, mistletoe,
tangled string of lights,
That's what Christmas is made of!

CLASS OF 1913

Class Reporter: CHARLES L SANDERS
76 Walnut St., Millersburg, Pa.

That "Hi Charlie" card from George Campuzano telling of his return north to live after two years in Vero Beach, Fla., was a morale builder indeed. Class reporters need this kind of stimulant more frequently than classmates seem to know. George's new address is 19 King Ave., Marlton, N. J. He said he would write again after getting settled. Hope to have more to tell you later.

Attorney Michael S. DePierro, outstanding criminal lawyer in northeastern Pennsylvania died on October 27 after a three-month illness. He was 68. Acknowledged as one of the finest trial attorneys in the area, he was active in debating while at Bucknell, and in 1914 received his law degree from the University of Pennsylvania Law School.

Surviving are his wife; one son, Frank, Hazleton; and two daughters, Mrs. Ernest Gruen, Edgewood, Md.; and Mrs. Gordon Guernsey, Bedford, Mass. Sympathy of all classmates to these survivors.

Two letters came my way recently from "Prexy" Howard Fisher, business letters to be sure but mighty welcome just the same.

Your reporter called on Ben Harris at the Veterans' Administration headquarters in Wilkes-Barre. Really it is Attorney Benjamin Harris, Esq. Since the Second World War, Ben has been on the legal staff at Wilkes-Barre. It was a visit of only a few minutes but ample for me to observe enough to tell all classmates that Ben is very much alive and vigorously enthusiastic forty-one years after. Asked why he did not appear at our 40th reunion he gaily retorted, "Not old enough to have graduated forty years ago." Ben was a captain in World War I, a major in World War II, practiced law in Philadelphia in the years between them. A Lewisburg boy, trips back home are not uncommon, and so he keeps in touch with Bucknell's progress. Wish I knew more details of Ben's active life to include here.

Mrs. Grace Miller (Grace Rossiter) has retired from teaching. Mrs. Miller resides at 415 Walnut St., Sunbury. Her subjects were English and Latin, which she taught continuously since 1934. She also had taught in Sunbury between 1914 and 1920. Other places where Mrs. Miller served in a teaching capacity were St. Johnsville, N. Y., and Huntington Park High School, near Los Angeles, Calif. for a period of seven years. In addition to graduation from Bucknell, she studied at Columbia University and the University of California. Mrs. Miller's daughter, Blanche, a graduate of Cornell, is an advertising assistant for Life Magazine, New York City.

Looking toward our 45th and 50th reunions in 1958 and 1963, assembled reunioners at our 40th took a positive forward step to make our next official gatherings the biggest, grandest ever. Among actions taken was passing a resolution reading as follows: "To establish a system of dues, voluntary but desirable, to the extent of $5.00 annually, bill (reminder) to be submitted by our class treasurer each year some weeks prior to the annual college commencement." Treasurer Harold gave us a respite in 1954, but in 1955 and subsequent years all of us should expect from the campus (Harold Shaffer to be explicit) a notice that dues are duly due. And how happily we shall remit!

All of the more than 1,000 present at the Alumni Luncheon in '54 saw the 25 and 50-year reunion classes present a money gift to the alumni fund and heard applause which almost raised the roof of Davis gymnasium. When our 50th rolls around, we hope! May we live to see the day!

CLASS OF 1914

Class Reporter: MRS. H. B. WEAVER
(Dora Hamler)
348 Third Street, Lewisburg, Pa.

We were happy to receive a telephone call from Frances McNall early in October. She had returned for a short visit with friends in Oakmont, Pa. After many years of teaching there, Frances retired in June. She is now living at 912 Elm Avenue, Takoma Park 12, Maryland, with her sister, Marjorie '16. Her days will be busy with substitute teaching and homemaking for Marjorie and herself in their Maryland home.

We hope your Christmas was a joyous one. Our hearty good wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year to you all.

CLASS OF 1915

President: CLAIR GROOVER
237 S. Third St., Lewisburg, Pa.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Fortieth Reunion June 10-13, 1955"

Our Class of 1915 has a challenge. June 11, 1955 is our 40th reunion. We are planning a program of activities to properly celebrate the occasion. In addition to the usual campus reunion celebration, we will probably have a social get together and dinner. Please plan now for a return to the campus for our 40th reunion.

Our faithful Class Fund Manager, Helen Eede McQuay, has accomplished fine results because of your generosity. She has now asked to be relieved and Myrna Strickler Hines, Millersburg, has been appointed and accepted the assignment. You will hear from Myrna, but in the meantime you can send in your contribution to the Alumni Fund directly to the Alumni Office. Make checks payable to Bucknell University. Can we make it 100 per cent? Dr. Ed. Pangburn has consented to help with the plans for the reunion. If you have any suggestions as to what you would like to do at our 40th reunion, please write me now.

CLASS OF 1916

Class Reporter: MRS. GEORGE STEVENSON
(Amy Patterson)
R. D. No. 1, Box 556, Red Bank, N. J.

Mr. R. J. W. Templin, retiring school superintendent of West Pittston, was honored at a testimonial dinner sponsored by the service clubs of the community. He was presented with the Lafayette Leadership Baton in recognition of outstanding service in the enrichment of good citizenship, acts of leadership, and his creative, unselfish work in education. Mr. Templin was the seventh person to receive the Lafayette Leadership Baton.

CLASS OF 1918

Class Reporter: MRS. LAYTON KING
(Elizabeth Champlon)
301 Broad St., Montoursville, Pa.

Our sympathy goes to Mrs. Arch Kline (Jessie Potts) on the death of her father. Mr. Potts enjoyed our 35th Reunion with Jessie.

I do hope that your New Year's Resolutions included one that you would contribute to the news of the Class of 1918.

A happy and prosperous New Year to all of you!

Arthur R. Sheppard of 217 East Madison Ave., Collingswood, N. J., died on June 6, 1954 of a heart attack. He was 58 years old. He is survived by his wife, Emma Lamar Sheppard, and a son, William Middleton Sheppard, who now makes his home in Williamstown, W. Va. Arthur left Bucknell before graduation to serve in World War I.

CLASS OF 1920

Class Reporter: MR. HAYES L. PERSON
60 S. Third St., Lewisburg, Pa.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Thirty-Fifth Reunion June 10-13, 1955"

CLASS OF 1924

Class Reporter: MRS. PAUL J. CUPP
(Louise Benschoff)
933 Murifield Rd., Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Mrs. W. Calver Moore (Geneva Gerlach) had a note from Mrs. O. T. Somerville (Mildred Clower) in which she stated that illness prevented their attending our '24 reunion. See you at the next one, Mid!

Mrs. George Rassweiler (Tacie Gifford) represented Bucknell at the formal inauguration of Dr. Miller Upton as the sixth president of Beloit College, Beloit, Wis., on October 29.

The First Baptist Church in Williamsport celebrated its Centennial recently and Miss Ida Heller, a member of the congregation and a teacher at Stevens' Junior High School, wrote the pageant entitled, "Go Ye". The pageant was a colorful one depicting the Church's story of its Christian service and was told in narration and drama.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Livingston (Mildred Good '25) live at R. D. No. 1, Thompsonville Rd., Venetia, Pa., which is about twenty miles from Pittsburgh. They have a married daughter, Marjorie and a married son, Bob, Jr., who live nearby. Bob, Jr. works for the Rockwell Manufacturing Co. as their co-pilot and mechanic for their executive planes. Bob, Sr. is the Chief Electrical Engineer of the U. S. Steel Corporation. Bob and Milly could not attend our '24th reunion because of a business (and pleasure) trip to Europe.

Mrs. Clarence Shaffer (Elma Street-er), 358 Pershing Ave., New Kensington, Pa., recently attended the DAR Convention in Philadelphia and was the guest of Miss Alice Roberts. Elma has a son at Valley Forge Military Academy.

CLASS OF 1925

Class Reporter: REV. WM. D. GOLIGHTLY
708 Jefferson Ave., Scranton, Pa.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Thirtieth Reunion June 10-13, 1955"

The June-July issue of Gettysburg College's Alumni Bulletin carried a three page article written by guidance counselor, Dr. William O. Duck. In the article, Bill explained the Gettysburg College program.

Ralph S. Hagan died suddenly of a heart attack on January 18, 1954.

Dr. E. Colvin Hassenplug died on September 20 at the age of 51. After receiving his degree in dental surgery from the University of Pittsburgh in 1929, he opened offices in Milton where he practiced until shortly before his death. His wife and a son, William, survive.

William McFarland is currently teaching the language and customs of Arabia to newcomers of the American Arabian Oil Company at Bierut, Saudi Arabia.

Now is the time to lay plans for a successful Thirtieth Reunion in June. Lend a hand in making contacts with the classmates in your area. You will help tremendously by offering your assistance and suggestions. Your Reunion Chairmen—Dr. Clair G. Spangler, 214 North Sixth Street, Reading, Pa. and Mr. Edwin J. Davies, 264 State Street, Nanticoke, Pa.—will be delighted to hear from you.

CLASS OF 1927

Class Reporter: MRS. L. H. COLLISON
(Grace M. Pfeifer)
Marydel, Maryland

The Third Army Certificate of Achievement was presented last summer to Lt. Col. Gilbert R. Frith for outstanding performance as chief of the Sanitary Engineer Branch. He left Ft. McPherson, Ga. for Orleans, France, where he took the position of sanitary engineer attached to the U. S. Army Field Forces.

CLASS OF 1929

Class Reporter: MISS THELMA SHOWALTER
233 State St., Harrisburg, Pa.

Horace J. Sheppard '29, Ethel A. Sheppard, Robert A. Sheppard (15), Bonnie L. Sheppard (12), Valerie J. Sheppard (8).

Kenneth A. Bidlack, Mifflinburg attorney, was named to the board of trustees of Laurelton State Village by Governor John S. Pine. The appointment was made in September. After graduating from Bucknell, Mr. Bidlack received his degree from Dickinson Law School in 1934.

Several weeks ago while shopping in Williamsport, your reporter had the good fortune to meet our friend and classmate from "Doabler" House, Mildred Gentzler, who is an instructor in guidance in Bernardsville, New Jersey. Following her father's retirement, the family came to Muncy, and thus, Mildred spends her vacations there with her family.

CLASS OF 1930

Class Reporter: MRS. BERNARD KLOSTERMAN
(Emmalynne Y. Fuller)
23 Leathers Rd., Fort Mitchell, Kentucky

"Plan NOW to come to our Twenty-fifth Reunion June 10-13, 1955"

Fellow Classmates: You will note the Class of 1930 has a new reporter. It was literally thrust upon me, but now that I am acting as our reporter I need your help, so please send lots of news to me, and in that way we will receive our share of publicity and news in the ALUMNUS.

This coming June will be our twenty-fifth Reunion year and President Henry Wadsworth appointed Ollie Wagner, chairman. Ollie then contacted several members of the class, and we had a meeting Saturday morning of Homecoming. The following persons being named as chairmen of committees:

Mrs. William Jones (Sally Bailey) and Bill Emmitt, Regalia; Francis Moerschbacher, Anniversary Booklet; Mrs. D. Neil Pursley (Mildred Gommer) and Edgar W. Lare, Activities, and yours truly, Class Reporter.

Tentative plans call for the usual parade, luncheon at the Gym and a Social Hour, Dinner and Dance at the Milton Country Club, which includes husbands and wives.

Francis Moerschbacher is chairman of the Anniversary Booklet and is going to give an all-out effort to make it a huge success, so please co-operate as promptly as possible when you hear from him.

Make your plans now to attend our twenty-fifth Reunion on Saturday, June 10-13, 1955.

Lawrence C. Wermuth passed away suddenly on Tuesday, May 4, of a heart attack. Before his death, Mr. Wermuth had been Luzerne County Supervisor of the Pennsylvania Department of Public Assistance.

CLASS OF 1932

Class Reporter: MR. ELLIS F. HULL
Allentown, N. J.

Among those who returned to the Bucknell campus for Homecoming, after a long absence was Mrs. Kenneth Rickett (Helen M. Kelly) of Erlton, N. J. Helen said it was her first time back in twenty years. Mr. Rickett was with her. They have a son, Kenneth, who is now at Bordentown Military Institute, Bordentown, N. J., and he expects to enter Bucknell next year. A news release from his school that came to my desk here at the Messenger Office says he is one of their football stars. Helen also passed on the information that Linda Shorts '58, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shorts '30 (Mary Reese '32), is a freshman at Bucknell this year. Others to return for Homecoming were Martin E. Mandel, Lloyd S. Hoffman, Mrs. George Mussina '34 (Anna M. Weigold), Mrs. Harold S. Easley '21 (Ruth Shook) and Henry Coates.

Gilbert Strauser is in Tokyo, Japan on a three-year assignment as sales representative for the international electric branch of Westinghouse. His territory also include the Philippines and China, where his interest is power plant sales for Westinghouse. Mrs. Strauser is with him in Tokyo.

CLASS OF 1933

Class Reporter: MRS. ERNEST H. ENGELHARDT
(Janet Worthington)
375 College Hill, Bloomsburg, Pa.

First of all I want to thank the members of our class for the many friendly notes they have written to me. I know it takes time and effort, but I believe we all are happier in keeping closer to one another.

George Eastburn, Jr., Superintendent of Quality Control at American Preserve Co. in Philadelphia, reports he and his wife are busy trying to do all possible in "rearing two young 'uns". As I remember you, George, you were a Phi Lambda Theta fraternity brother of Ernie's—tall and a good basketball player. Your invitation will be accepted, and do visit us too.

Had a frank note from Franklin Figner. "I own the Paxtang Fuel and Supply Company and Rutherford Bros. Explosive Company, so if you know anyone who needs coal, fuel oil, cement, sand or dynamite, please let me know.

"I have one daughter, Linda, 14 years old. My wife was Maxie Lough whose father runs the Heimbach Lumber Company in Lewisburg.

"We live in Oakleigh, a suburb of Harrisburg. I have never been on television. I am balding. I look back to my days at Bucknell with pleasure.

Throwing away all of my textbooks just this week, I noticed that some of them had not had the pages slit!"

Sorry I forgot to enclose that self-addressed postal, Frank—I'll buy you a coke at the next reunion for those pleasant remarks. He's a frank Frank.

Mrs. Calvin Folk (Elizabeth Heiss) attended Bucknell one semester, then changed to the University of Pittsburgh to take her degree. For those who knew her, she was graduated at Pittsburgh in 1933 and later received an M.Ed. at the same institution.

She is married to Calvin E. Folk, supervisor of art in the Altoona schools. Her husband is a graduate of Pennsylvania State University.

Mother of four children—Betsy, 10, Joe, 8, Renetta, 5, and Jimmy, six months, Elizabeth is a member of AA-UW, officer of P. T. A., board member of Y. W. C. A., and teacher at St. James Lutheran Church. She sounds like such a capable person, and we're sorry she did not stay with us longer so we all could have known her better.

L. P. Gilmore, retired from teaching, and he is now a chemist at U. S. Radium Corporation's Almedia Plant. He built a ranch type house in Danville, and is now living in it.

Ann Graybill "had a marvelous summer" studying at Harvard. Eight hours of graduate work in Social Relations with David Riesman reminded her of the year 1933-34 which she enjoyed so much at Bucknell, doing her Master's work in Sociology with Robert Sutherland. Some day soon she hopes to be able to complete requirements for a Doctor's degree, probably at University of Pennsylvania where she is now Program Director of the University Christian Association.

Henry W. Hallett, 209 W. 20th Street, Wilmington, Del., is chairman of the Mathematics Department of the Pierre S. duPont High School in Wilmington, Del. Twenty-two years he's been teaching and can't believe it's been that long. We can't either! The girls of the class, I'm sure, will remember dancing in Larison Hall after dinner in the evening when Henry entertained at the piano. Henry now owns and teaches the Hammond Organ, playing professionally in and around Wilmington. His hobby? It's collecting long playing records of all types.

Mrs. Henry B. Hartzler (Helen Butler) married a graduate of Penn State '33 who is now manager of the Bell Telephone Co. for his area and member of the Coatesville Rotary and Chamber of Commerce.

They have a son, 11 years old, and a daughter, Lynne, married to a West Chester State Teachers College senior, who is mother of a five month old son.

Being publicity director and assistant Chester co-ordinator for the New York Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund take up Helen's spare time. They live at Brandywine Manor, R. D. No. 1, five miles north of Coatesville.

Harald E. Kenseth became associated with the firm of Kersting, Brown & Company, Inc. (New York City) last October.

Dr. David S. Sarnier received his Ed.D degree from Cornell University in August, and is now an assistant professor of Secondary Education at Teachers College, Temple University. He lives at 209 Papermill Road, Oreland.

The Engelhardts have nothing to report except that we are busy training a 12 month old police dog with enormous feet, named Thor. Planted my bank near Carver Hall with crocus bulbs which I hope will bloom early in spring. This summer I won a Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce scholarship to Yale for a week's training in August, while our son, Hans, played in American Lawn Tennis Association sanctioned tournaments in Lancaster, Harrisburg, Eagles Mere, Scranton, State College, Allentown, and Pittsburgh, winning three singles titles and 16 trophies. He is a member of the National Honor Society in scholarship, and at present on the staff of the school paper, in dramatics, and playing varsity basketball.

Let us know about YOU.
Happy New Year, Class!

CLASS OF 1934

Class Reporter: MRS. WILLIAM S. LIMING
(Ruth Rohr)
396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, N. Y.

May I take this opportunity to wish you all a very happy and prosperous New Year.

Homecoming was truly wonderful—perfect weather, perfect program and perfectly delightful to meet so many of our classmates. All of those I met were having a lot of fun getting re-acquainted with the campus. Just to mention those I chatted with: Bill Greulich, Nelson Wendt, Mrs. Laura Goldstein Bernstein, Mrs. Gladys Gander Jones, Gardner Loughery, Mrs. Marie Peters Nikodem, George Mussina, Jack Dorman, Fay Beighly, Harold Ruger, Jack Griffiths and Mrs. Helen Showalter Evans. There were other '34ities, but I didn't get to meet them.

Mrs. Anna Bashore Henderson is living in Port Royal, Pa. Polly is busy teaching and caring for her husband and son, Jack, 11. Polly's husband, a graduate of Carson Newman is also a teacher.

Mr. Theodore S. Capik was recently elected to the post of Commander of the American Legion Post in Monterrey, Mexico. Ted was a Phi Psi while at Bucknell and originally hailed from Perth Amboy, N. J. However, he now seems to prefer the warmer climes to those of this former home. In 1937 Ted married Carrie Jane McAvoy in Trujillo, Peru.

Richard A. Curnow is a Presbyterian minister and lives at 241-14 Memphis Ave., Rosedale 22, L. I., N. Y. He is Moderator this year of the Brooklyn-Nassau Presbytery. I read about Dick in the Long Island Press quite often. He, aside from church duties, is kept busy by Dick, Jr., 14, John, 12, Ann, 9, William, 6, and Katherine, 3. Maybe it is a good thing. His wife was a school teacher with an M.A. from Duke.

Helen Davis now Mrs. Helen D. Dixon, lives at 62 Cortland St., Norwich, N. Y., with her engineer husband and their three children, Carol, 10, Betty Lou, 6, and Tommy, 1.

Mary Iddings received her M.S. in library science from Western Reserve University, Cleveland, in June and is now the assistant librarian in the Pikesville Memorial Library, Pikesville, Md.

I see in the December 6 copy of Time magazine that L. Eleanor Johnson Lindner's husband, Dr. Robert Lindner '35, is quite an authority on juvenile delinquents. Bob is a very prominent psychologist in Baltimore. Can't help to remember when we both took Psych. under Dr. Harriman. Little did I realize how famous Bob would be.

Isabella Alrich is now Mrs. J. H. Robinson and they live at 4906 10th St., Tampa 3, Fla.

Met Dr. Charles Robert Roberts '33 at Homecoming, and he too is a prominent psychologist. He keeps busy as the director of the Child Guidance Clinic of the Oranges and Maplewood, N. J.

Well, that's all for now. Hope you will all try to contribute to the Alumni Fund this year. If you haven't done so in the past, start now. Why not help our class become one of the leaders in number of contributors. Bucknell did much for us; now let us, even, if in some small way, do something to keep our Alma Mater. Just a reminder—Join your local Alumni group wherever you may be, if there isn't one, start one! Buck Shott, our Alumni Secretary, will help you. Do write to me even if to complain, or perhaps you can suggest ways I could improve this column of class notes.

CLASS OF 1935

Class Reporter: MRS. FREDERICK A. STRALEY
(Metta Farrington)
Furnace Rd., R. D. No. 1, Lewisburg, Pa.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Twentieth Reunion June 10-13, 1957"

"Members of the Class of 1935:

"We've missed you. It's been a long time—almost twenty years! This June marks the anniversary we talked about so long ago. We promised to be on hand for the twentieth, remember? Aren't you all anxious to see what time has done to Suzy Q. and how fat old Sam is now? For those who have not been on the campus for a while, there are many pleasant surprises awaiting you.

"Homecoming this year was disappointing for our class members. We consoled ourselves, by hoping that you had just postponed your return, and would be on hand in June. In the Gym after the game we did see Mrs. Morgan Fellows, Jr. (Phyllis Hicks), Mrs. James Williamson (Beth Hicks), Butch Boiston, Mrs. John Rogers (Esther Powell) and Mrs. Stuart Smith (Edith McCormick). George McGaughey was on the sidelines at the game—a coach for Lafayette.

"Now we are busy making plans for the reunion weekend. Won't you all please help? We would appreciate any volunteers, or any interesting information that you could send us. A questionnaire will be mailed to you before long, and from the information we receive, we hope to have an anniversary booklet printed. It will be worth a trip back to Lewisburg just to read about all your old friends, their activities, and their families. Do you know that our class has members in Johannesburg, South Africa, Bengal, India, Sitka, Alaska, and Honolulu? Be there in June, and we will tell you who they are.

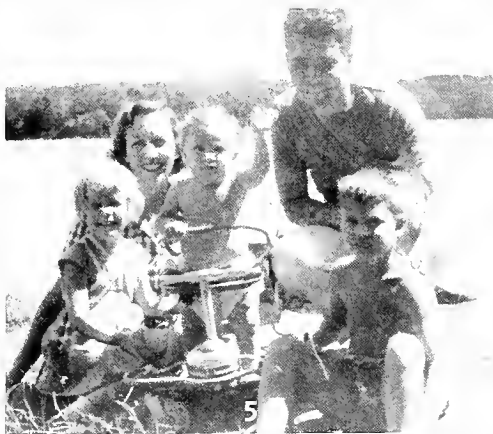

"Start planning now, and remember the dates, June 10 and 11.

BETTY SMITH BERLIN,
142 Griswold Drive,
Youngstown 12, Ohio."

Harry Lanson Wynn broke into print lately when his article "You Can Take It With You" appeared in the September issue of High Fidelity magazine. The article describes methods useful in bettering auto radios.

Here are the Reunion Organization committees: W. H. Berlin, president and reunion chairman; Martha Fulmer, Mrs. Esther Powell Rogers, Allan I. Shirley, Mrs. Betty Benedict James, Leonard V.

SOME BUCKNELL FAMILIES

1—THE ADAMSON'S OF AKRON, OHIO. Front row: Bruce, Kathy, Peggy. Back row: Irene Bardwell Adamson '44 and N. Arthur Adamson '44.

2—THE BRUBAKER'S OF WATKINS GLEN, N. Y. Front row: Nancy Jane, Edith Jeane, Donald George. Back row: John Melvin, Donald L. Brubaker '29, William James.

3—THE DIFFENDERFER'S OF JOHNSTOWN, PA. Front row: Bobby, Tommy, Peggy. Back row: Jane, Sarah Fry Diffenderfer '44, James W. Diffenderfer '44.

4—THE MURPHY'S OF VIENNA, VA. Front row: Frederick, Charles, Jr. Back row: Charles E. Murphy, Mary, Otilie Fredericks Murphy '44.

5—THE SMITH'S OF SCHEENECTADY, N. Y. Sally, Edith Scharff Smith '44, Douglas, Roy C. Smith, Clint.

6—THE SCHNURE'S OF JOHNSTOWN, PA. Front row: Art, John. Back row: William Schnure '44, Anne Kloss Schnure '45, Billy.

7—THE SMITH'S OF NEEDHAM, MASS. Front row: Florence Sumner Smith, Pembroke '36, Barbara Louise, Rev. Herbert R. Smith '29. Back row: Lawton Rhodes Smith, Florence Carpenter Smith.

8—THE VERBEYST'S OF PRINCETON, N. J. Barbara Dene, Alice Louise, Louis Verbeyst, Dora Seyfarth Verbeyst '44, Margaret Elise, Frances Mathilde, Janet Michele.

Kachel, Harry F. Wightman, Martin P. Andrews, Mrs. Elizabeth Murray Fisher, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Berlin, attendance: Mrs. Elizabeth Smith Berlin, Mrs. Edith McCormick Smith, Mrs. Esther Powell Rogers, George McGaughy, and Mrs. Romlyn Rivenburg Balsbaugh, editors.

CLASS OF 1936

Class Reporter: MRS. CLYDE E. BURGEE
(Lois Montgomery)
124 S. Fifth St., Lewisburg, Pa.

(Editor's Note: We take pleasure in introducing our new Class Reporter, Mrs. Clyde E. Burgee (Lois Montgomery), whom many of you will remember as a special student who graduated with the Class of '36. Lois, who is the wife of one of our popular faculty members, Clyde E. Burgee, head of the department of economics, will bring you the news of the class from now on. You can help her by sending news of promotions, new members of the family, etc., to the address given above.)

Frank Bratton has resumed duties as teacher in Danville High School after a year's leave of absence.

Dr. Cornelius E. Sedgwick, a surgeon at the Lahey Clinic in Boston, is now residing at 88 Hampshire Rd., Wellesley Hills, Mass. Dr. Sedgwick, Phi Gamma Delta, earned his bachelor of science in biology degree at Bucknell, continued his medical education at Cornell University Medical College and was the winner of the Dean William Mecklenburg Polk prize for accuracy in research. He spent four years in the medical service of the Marine Corps during World War II. He is also a surgeon at the New England Baptist Hospital and the New England Deaconess Hospital and has become a fellow of the American College of Surgeons and a diplomate of the American Board of Surgeons. He married the former Mabel Booth in 1942 and they have two children, Bruce Edward, 6, and Gregory Booth, 3½.

Dr. J. Fred Weaver, for the past two years a member of the Boston University School of Education faculty, has been promoted to associate professor of education. Fred's work relates to the pre-service and in-service training of teachers, principals, and supervisors in the field of elementary school mathematics, and includes the direction of master's and doctor's research studies in this area of the curriculum. Fred, his wife and their four children, Barbara, 14, Jeffrey, 9, Jane, 7, and Michael, 5, are living at 10 Emerson Place, Needham 92, Mass.

CLASS OF 1937

Class Reporter: MR. SIGMUND STOLER
215 Chestnut St., Sunbury, Pa.

Helen B. Walters and Clyde E. Baltzer were married September 4, 1954. They will reside at 525 W. Fourth St., Williamsport, where Mrs. Baltzer is a teacher in the Henry Clay Building. Mr. Baltzer is Secretary-Manager of the Lycoming County Automobile Club.

CLASS OF 1940

Class Reporter: MRS. JAMES A. MILLER
(Mary McCrina)
Pattison, Texas

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Fifteenth Reunion June 10-13, 1955"

Let's face it: that fateful fifteenth year is rolling round—it's time we laid our plans for being Bucknell-bound (Pardon the "poetry"—I did it in a moment of impulse—but please consider the message.)

Here are the Reunion Organization committees: Donald Walker, president; Dorothy Oaks McRae, reunion chairman; Ruth Gemberling, Kay Webb Gault, Ruth Lepperd MacDowell, Howard Moll, Annabel and Bob Schnure, Wayne Knouse, Mary Louise and Doug Fish, Jean Fisk Paul, Don Ward, Ruth Lowther Miller, Mary McCrina Miller, attendance; James Duchine, editor; Dot-tie and Bill McRae, social meeting; Kermit Bowers, regalia. We need more volunteers! Write Dotty Oaks McRae.

Gordon S. Black, who is married to Betty Naumann '39, received his B.S. degree from the University of Pittsburgh. The Blacks have a son, Gordon S., Jr., 9. They make their home at 114 Dewey St., Pittsburgh 18.

The address of Mrs. John C. Gault, Jr. '39 (Kay Webb) is 1620 West Fourth St., Williamsport. Jack is associated with the law firm of Candor, Youngman & Gibson. The Gaults have two children, John III and Jeffrey Alexander.

Alice M. Follmer is married to Dick Hertz '39. They live at 314 High St., Milton.

Dr. and Mrs. Allen E. Hamburg '39 (Dorothy Gottschall) and their three children—Robert, Wayne, and Diane—reside at 532 Georgian Rd., Glenside. Dr. Hamburg is an orthopedist.

Major Raymond O. Manker was recently awarded the Bronze Star. (See November '54 issue of the ALUMNUS.)

Lee Mills, who married Ruth Braun '39, has been made merchandiser and produce buyer of the Jacksonville Division of Winn and Lovett Grocery Stores (a seventy-seven store chain.) The Mills have three children, all girls, Carol, 9, and twins Jean and Joan, 6.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Reading (M. Elizabeth Hitchcock '41) have a son, William D., Jr., born March 13. Their daughter, Betsy, is three.

Harry W. Wenner, assistant superintendent of West Orange, N. J. schools, has been named to the Parsippany-Troy Hills Township Board of Education.

CLASS OF 1941

Class Reporter: MRS. WILLIAM HASSELBERGER
(Jean Steele)
1518 Westmoreland Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

John L. Gallagher has recovered from a serious auto accident which happened early in the summer, and he is now selling Lincoln and Mercury cars for the Senate Motor Co. in Harrisburg, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Wagner (Mary F. Gilson) had their fourth son, John Richard, July 22, 1954. Their other boys are David (11), Tom (6), and Billy (4). Congratulations Fran!!! They are residing at 317 Crescent Dr., Erie, Pa.

Eugene D. Hayes has been transferred from Riverside, Calif. to the Rome, N. Y. division of Revere Copper and Brass Incorporated. The Hayes' new address is 516 N. Madison St., Rome, N. Y.

CLASS OF 1944

Class Reporter: MRS. ROBERT F. BAKER
(Honey Rinesmith)
Lindys Lake, R. D., Butler, N. J.

Mrs. Milton Wolfe, (Evelyn Gaston) is residing in Camp Hill and teaching in the Highspire High School.

Donald W. Shields is serving as secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in Van Wert, Ohio, where he is living with his wife and two baby girls, aged 1 and 3.

Perhaps you have heard of the 1954 All America Cities Contest, and no doubt many of you are living in towns which were participants. Well, Rockville, Md., home of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Smith '49 (Rosemary W. Palmer) is one of the 22 finalists, one half of which will be announced as winners early in 1955. Rosemary was extremely active in the group bringing about city reform, and was sent to Kansas City by the editor of the local paper to cover the conference. She met Dr. George Gallup, along with many other national figures. All this and the mother of three, too! Wish we could print her entire letter, but our space is limited.

Please send us some news of yourself, won't you? Until next time, our fondest wishes to everyone for all that's healthy and good in 1955.

CLASS OF 1945

Class Reporter: MRS. C. FRED MOORE
(Nancy Woehling)
Alden Park Manor, Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Tenth Reunion June 10-13, 1955"

Constance U. Dent is attending Pennsylvania State University where she is starting to work for her Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology.

Mrs. Calvin K. Sholl (Nancy C. Ireland) and daughter, Wendy Sholl, were featured in the Post-Standard Style Show at the War Memorial. The moms wore nurses uniforms to keep in step with the nursery scene.

Now on the evening school faculty at the University of Dayton, Ohio, is William J. Reckmeyer. During the day Bill is employed in the procurement division at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Moore (Nancy Woehling) announce the arrival of their daughter, Christina Stoddard, on August 31, 1954.

Plans are now underway for our tenth reunion, and it's not too early for you to make your arrangements to come back to campus. Nancy Patterson Moyer (248 Beaver St., Beaver, Pa.) is the chairman of the reunion and working with her are the following committee members: Elsie Wilson Young, Lewisburg; Phoebe Follmer Bacon, Philadelphia; Louise Magill Downes, Paoli; Mildred Brown, Elsie Miller Schnure, Pittsburgh; Josephine Ridgeway Haase, Miriam Krese Young, Baltimore; Janice Felmy Wurfel, Newark; Ruthanne Studebaker Score, Hohokus, N. J.; Judith Brooks, N. Y.; Marjory Chapin de Toledo, Jamaica; William Bond, Buffalo, N. Y.; Martha Sober, Bridgeport, Conn.; Emily Josif Bristah, Detroit, Mich.; Sylvia Cliffe Williamson, Dallas, Texas.

These people will be contacting you soon concerning definite details about the reunion. Lois Depuy Boston, Westfield, N. J., and Helen Wythes Naimark, Summit, N. J., will co-edit the anniversary booklet.

I think you'll agree it's a wonderful group working to make this a memorable reunion. Let us know your plans!

CLASS OF 1946

Class Reporter: MRS. LELAND C. EWING
(Betty Wells)
31260 Westfield Avenue, Livonia, Michigan

First of all, we have been in our own new home a week now, and will welcome all comers and letters, so do note the address.

A second stork visit was made to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Schuetz (Jean Crisman) in Camp Hill. This time a son, Timothy. He joins brother, Doug, 3½.

On July 22nd William D. Davis became a father for the second time when Jamie Ruth was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Davis. Bill's luck appears to come all at once because he has recently been promoted to the position of chief accountant for Sales Affiliates, Incorporated, Evans Research and Development Corporation, R. L. Evans, Associates and Evans Chemetics, Incorporated. These are separate, but related, companies.

Dr. Harry H. Haddon, Jr. has set up his offices in Chambersburg, specializing in the field of internal medicine. Dr. and Mrs. Haddon and their two daughters reside at 212 N. 6th St., Chambersburg.

Eloise Headland is teaching 5th grade in the Charles S. Bennett Elementary School in Green Cove Springs, Fla.

Mrs. Virginia Jones Smith has been appointed to the faculty of Lycoming College, where she will teach psychology and participate in the counselling service.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Krzywicki '48 (S. Faith Van Sise) are the parents of a son born November 2, named Clausen Joseph.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lenchuk, Jr. '47 (Helen Meserol) announce the arrival of Donna Lee, born October 18, in Jacksonville, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Pangburn, Jr. are now the parents of two children, Martha Christine, 3½, and Edward III, three months old. Mr. and Mrs. Pangburn are residing at 62 W. Bruceton Rd., Pleasant Hills, Pittsburgh 36, Pa.

CLASS OF 1947

Class Reporter: ROGER S. HADDON, ESQ.
243 Water St., Northumberland, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. William Scheible '48 (Audrey Bruce) report the birth of their second daughter, Gale Susan, on April 30. Lynn is now 5. The family resides in Kirkover Hills, Camden, S. C., and Bill is with the DuPont Orton plant there. Other Bucknellians in Camden, S. C. are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mendes '44 (Ruth Smith '44), and Don Walker '40. Camden is on Route 1 to Florida, and touring alumni are invited to stop and vegetate.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Adamson '49 (Carolyn Hand) are indoctrinating Patty Gayle, born May 13. Also, credit two boys, Ken (6) and Scott (4). Address is 19524 Battersea Blvd., Cleveland 16, Ohio.

Also on the diaper line: Sybil Haddon, born May 19 to Mr. and Mrs. Roger S. Haddon, their second daughter.

Girard Rudolph is still moving up with General Electric. Jerry has been made manager of personnel accounting at the GE works in Bridgeport, Conn., and writes that Hal Kircher '45 is close by, with Remington-Rand. The Rudolph address: 65 Woodridge Circle, Trumbull, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Goldman (Tamara Gurvitch) are in their new home, at 370 Holland Lane, Englewood, N. J.

Dr. Walter D. Celmer addressed an open meeting of the Central Pennsylvania Section of the American Chemical Society, October 18, in the Osmond Laboratory of Penn State University. He spoke on "Unique Antibiotic Structures". Dr. Celmer is now serving on the research staff of the Charles Pfizer Company, Brooklyn, as Research Supervisor.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Roger Fetter are the parents of a baby boy born October 29. They have one other child, a daughter Harriet, one year old. Roger is practicing law in Lewisburg and serves as borough solicitor.

Phyllis Gray, now Mrs. Charles G. Miller, is residing at Building 2028, Fort Monmouth, N. J. She is an editor, Signal Corps Publications Agency, at Fort Monmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay A. Oberdorf are living in Allentown. They have three daughters, Linda, 4; Cheryl, 3; Joyce 1½.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tyler '48 (June Frantz) are the parents of another son, James Ingram, born Sept. 14. The score for the Tylers is now three boys.

Mildred Valentine Painter and husband Robert S. Painter '48 have moved to 55 Elm St., Glen Falls, N. Y. Bob is now a research chemist for International Paper Co. The three little Painters are Frank (5), John (4) and George (6 months), the latter of whom, on Valentine's Day, should qualify as a real George Valentine.

Russell L. Winegardner, president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Sunbury, is serving as teacher-principal of Sunbury Junior High School. He fills the vacancy created by the sudden death of Alton J. Garman '48. In addition to teaching social studies, Mr. Winegardner has been coaching the Sunbury Junior Varsity football team.

CLASS OF 1948

Class Reporter: MRS. JAMES A. BROWN
(Joann G. Gollightly)
954 Caldwell Ave., Union, N. J.

Perhaps you have been wondering where the class of 1948 has been the last two issues of the ALUMNUS? Here is the answer: Your reporter was busy this summer and fall preparing for her wedding on October 30, 1954, to James A. Brown. We were married at Connecticut Farms Presbyterian Church, in Union, New Jersey, and spent a glorious honeymoon right in New York City. Dorothy L. Harrison, another '48er, was my maid-of-honor; she is employed by American Cyanamide Corporation, N. Y. C. Jim and I are busy furnishing a three-room, modern apartment, at 954 Caldwell Avenue, Union, N. J. And, yes, I'm still with the FBI in Newark, N. J. . . . Now you're all caught up with the latest in my life—how about a line or two from you?

A son, Earl Frederick, was born on July 19, 1954, to the Reverend and Mrs. Earnest F. Andrews, Hamburg.

Arax Aroosian Balakian and Gerard Balakian write of their new arrival, Pamela Kahar, on March 25, 1954—they can be reached at 366 West Englewood Avenue, West Englewood, N. J.

The faculty of Albright College, Reading, has a new member in the biology department. It is Dr. Edwin L. Bell, II, who got his M.S. degree from Penn State in 1950 and his doctorate from the University of Illinois last June. Ed is married to the former Frances Reichard. They have one son, Ernest, and reside at 1523 N. 14th St., Reading.

Reverend Stanley E. Brush and his family spent their second summer abroad this year. He is a Methodist missionary in Pakistan where he met Dr. Hildreth last winter. Very much interested in Bucknell's initiation of a department of oriental studies, Stan spent last winter on the campus of Forman Christian College in Lahore where he taught English and religious education.

A daughter, Jane, born April 29, to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Earnest.

Ruth A. Ellis and Frank B. Hedges (Harvard University) were married June 19, 1954.

Rev. Howard Burton Entrekim was ordained on November 11 in the First Baptist Church at Rome, N. Y. He is serving as assistant pastor to the Rev. David N. Boswell '18. Dr. Charles M. Bond, of the Bucknell department of religion, took part in the ordination services. The Entrekim address in Rome is 710 McKinley Avenue.

Millie Gruner Liebergall and Harvey Liebergall of 435 Whitewood Rd., Englewood, N. J. announced an addition to their family, Lisa, on April 18, 1954.

THE McLAREN CHILDREN

Jack W. McLaren and his wife Gerry, and two children are now living at 34 North 15th St., Lewisburg, Pa. Jack is assistant test engineer for the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co.

Mary Edith Moyer and Robert F. Stevens were married July 10, 1954 in Binghamton, N. Y.

Lorraine Pertsch O'Loughlin and Edward O'Loughlin '49 announce the arrival of Bradford John on April 10, 1954. He joins Peter and Terri, Lorrie and Ed. The family resides at Carey Gardens, Butler, N. J.

Sterling T. Post, Jr., who is serving in Germany, has been promoted to Captain.

Jacques L. Sallade, 415 Orchard St., Glen Osborne, Sewickley, is now assistant manager of Sears, Roebuck & Co., Ambridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Guempel are the parents of a son, Herbert George II, born October 9. They claim the distinction of having the first child to be born on Bucknell's Dad's Day, 1954.

The Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service was recently awarded to Chaplain (Maj.) Howard E. Huddell, former minister at the Evangelical United Brethren Church, Harrisburg. Chaplain Huddell distinguished himself as chief chaplain at the 382d General Hospital in Japan.

Georgia Ann Hutchinson and George B. Lawson, Jr. '49 were married in Philadelphia, July 24.

Kenneth and Gary Carlough, aged 4 and 2, have a new baby sister, Kelly Ann, born Sept. 4. Emily Kelly '46-M.A. '48, Carlough and H. Spencer Carlough '50 make it a "full house" (3 kings and 2 queens) at 1533 Eastwood Drive, Bethlehem, Pa. Spence is a mechanical engineer at the Bethlehem Steel.

Kelly Ann's grandmother is Emily Devine Kelly '21, past-president of Bucknell's General Alumni Association.

The stork visited Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Krzywicky (Faith Van Sise '46) on Nov. 2, and left a son, named Clausen Joseph.

Paul T. LaMont, Jr. and Miss Shirley Dalton, Hazleton, were recently married. Paul is employed as a drug salesman by Ayerst, McKenna and Harrison, Ltd.

Harold Steff, Minersville High School grid coach, skippered the Southern All-Stars against the Northern All-Stars in the 17th annual Schuylkill County "dream game" on December 2. Proceeds went to the Schuylkill County Crippled Children's clinic.

Lt. (jg.) Lawrence E. Trabaldo is serving with the Joint U. S. Military Aid group in Greece and expects to be there for the next two years.

CLASS OF 1949

Class Reporter: MRS. THOMAS A. FRAZIER
(Marilyn Harer)
55 Manor Drive, Apt. 8J, Newark, N. J.

Dr. Doris Bartuska (Doris Gorka) graduated June 10 from the Women's Medical College of Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Seeley, Jr. (Leah Fletcher) are the parents of a son, Ralph Marion III, born October 12, 1953. Their present address is North Rd., Chester, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sharrett (Emily Hill) are now living at 4823 Fourth Ave., Washington 21, D. C. Allan is stationed at Boling Air Force Base in the Judge Advocate General Staff.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Lewis (Mary Ellen Shook) have two children. A son born in 1951 and a daughter born in 1953.

Otto L. Sonder, Jr., assistant professor of sociology at DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind., has been elected vice president of the Indiana Council on Family Relations.

Leonard J. Swicklik received a doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Pittsburgh in June.

Shelley Swigart has been back to the States on a business trip and will soon return to the Far East where he has spent the last several years.

BIRTHS: A son, Wayne Christian, born May 15 to Mr. and Mrs. David A. McNeal, Jr. A daughter, Catherine Ailing, born April 16 to Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Pratt. A son, David, born April 15 to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rydzewski.

The arrival of a daughter, Patti Gayle, to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Adamson (Carolyn Hand '47) was announced on May 13. She has two brothers, Ken, age 6 and Scott, 4.

Donald J. Carss is working for his master's degree at N. Y. U. Graduate School of Business Administration.

George B. Gerber, a project engineer for Hyatt Bearings Division, General Motors, recently lectured before several hundred mathematics teachers at the Second Mathematics Institute sponsored by Rutgers University. His topic was "Mathematics in Industry".

Ann Giesecke Mauger and her husband, Kenneth, have adopted a little boy, age 4½ months, whom they have named David Crittenden Mauger. They are living at 14 James St., Shrewsbury, N. J.

Leon J. Gonzalez, R. D. No. 4, Mechanicsburg, is now operating the Gonzalez Nursery, R. D. No. 4, Mechanicsburg.

Marilyn Harer was wed on Sept. 25 to Thomas Allan Frazier of Williamsport. The matron of honor was Mrs. John Purnell '50 (Barbara Jones). Marilyn has been teaching in Lansdale High School but will now live with her husband in Newark, N. J. He is an engineer with the Research Molding Corp., Hillside, N. J.

W. DALE HAY AND DR. RALPH SMEDLEY

W. Dale Hay, popular president of our Bucknell Alumni Club of Washington, D. C., may not be the official greeter for Allegheny Airlines in his job at Washington National Airport, but the accompanying picture shows him doing the honors when Dr. Ralph Smedley, founder of Toastmasters International, recently arrived at the airport. Better stop in to see Dale the next time you fly in to Washington.

Rev. and Mrs. Finley M. Keech and Catherine Lepsch '47, are residing in Marlboro, Mass., where Rev. Keech has been pastor of the First Baptist Church since Dec., 1951. They have two children, Daniel, 2; and Sarah, 1.

Myron W. Kronisch has been appointed to the staff of the Justice Department's new division of internal security in Maplewood. Kronisch recently completed a one-year appointment as law secretary to Supreme Court Justice, Nathan L. Jacobs.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Long (Marian C. Merrill) celebrated their first wedding anniversary on Sept. 12, 1954. They are living at 323 Wagner Rd., Northfield, Ill.

Michael F. P. Nightingale is serving as assistant to dean of men and advisor to fraternities at the University of Wisconsin, where he is studying for his Ph.D. in statistics in the department of science in statistics at Virginia Polytechnic Institute in June, 1954. His address is 31 Sherman Ter., Madison, Wis.

Ralph (Bud) Roberts having graduated from OCS, spent a year and a half in Europe. In 1952 he married Grace Richardson '50. In February 1954, a son, Steven, was born. At present Bud and family are living at 56-A Garden Drive, Roselle, N. J.

Tito Sabal, of Santiago, Chile, recently reminded us in a letter to Forrest Brown that Bucknellians meet all over the world. When approaching his parked car one day, he met an Argentine graduate of BU, Class of '51, whose attention had been called to a Bison sticker on Tito's back windshield!

A double blessing has entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Skove (Helen Busing '48). The twins, born on August 3, have been named Richard and Marcy. They join Margaret Ann, 4½, and Tommy, 3.

Rev. and Mrs. George Sinclair, Jr. (Marjorie Walter '48) are living in Hartford, Conn., where Rev. Sinclair has been pastor of the Blue Hills Baptist Church since Sept. 1952. They have one daughter, Barbara Louise, born March 31, 1954.

CLASS OF 1950

Class Reporter: MRS. DAVID L. MILLER
(M. Jane Kreider)
614 Penn St., New Bethlehem, Pa.

"Plan NOW to Come to Our Fifth Reunion June 10-13, 1955"

David B. Fawcett, Jr. graduated from the University of Pittsburgh Law School in 1953. In August, he married Janet McKain '53 and they are residing at 7232 Thomas Blvd., Pittsburgh 8.

BIRTHS: A daughter, Jill Mary, May 31 to Mr. and Mrs. John V. Campana, Jr. A son, David Elliott, October 23, 1953, to Dr. and Mrs. George Summer (Elizabeth Ann Koch). Mr. and Mrs. George R. Sprague (Irene Melhuish) twins, Bruce Edgar and Barbara Louise, June 23. A daughter, Janet Elaine, April 28, to Mr. and Mrs. Roger J. Wurtzel. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Corgill, a son, Paul Jay, January 1. Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Hoffer (Mary Robinson), parents of Dorothy Joy, December 11, 1953. Mr. and Mrs. George Rommelt (Martha Brown), a daughter, Linda Ann, February 4. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Oxenrider, a daughter, Linda Jean, December 27, 1953. Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Rahner, Jr., a son, Charles III, June 20, 1953. Mr. and Mrs. James Miller '49 (Barbara Lenox), a son, James Lenox, born July 11, 1954.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rommelt (Martha Brown) are parents of a daughter, Linda Ann, born February 4.

Charles S. Bender is employed as a biologist with Supplee-Wells-Jones Milk Company, Chambersburg, after having been discharged from the Air Force in September 1953.

James Kepler is enjoying life in Colorado Springs, Colo., as associate minister of the First Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. William Byer (Betsy Wenger) have bought a home at 602 Wintermantle Ave., Scranton, where Bill is in business with his father as a heating and plumbing contractor. Their second daughter Mary Jane was born March 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Witman were blessed with a daughter, Susan Louise, born January 17. Henry is now guidance counselor and history teacher at the Montrose Consolidated High School. They reside at 18 Lincoln Ave., Montrose.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Linde have returned to the states after three and a half years of missionary work with the Methodist board in Japan. Dick will enter the University of Michigan linguistics department for a year, then study at Drew for a year to enable him to become a permanent missionary in Japan.

William Fearen is now associated with the firm of Livengood & Kessley, Harrisburg, in the general practice of law.

A radio report from Red China alerted the world to the fact that Major William H. Baumer had been given an eight-year prison sentence on the charge that his plane had flown over North China, when it was shot down in January, 1953. Ever since the report of the shooting down of the plane has been received, the State Department has made efforts for the release of the prisoners. Members of Bill's family received first direct word from him in letters released through the Red Cross Society of China, Peking in November. As we go to press the UN has just voted to make every effort possible for the release of the prisoners.

Here are the Reunion Organization committees: Art Raynor, president; Bob Ervin, reunion chairman; Robert Clancy, Sara Angle, Richard Freed, John Purnell Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell, James Raab, Clifford Clark, John Ireland, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lotto, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Concklin, attendance; Mrs. David Miller (Jane Krieger), editor; John Marcinek, social meeting; Pete Weidenbacher and Jack Evans, regalia.

CLASS OF 1951

Class Reporter: MISS FRANCES WILKINS
Apt. 62, 1316 New Hampshire Ave., Washington, D.C.

Robert H. Seitzer, Williamsport, has resigned his position as principal of the Mountain Avenue School, South Williamsport, to accept the principalship of an elementary school in Glen Rock, N. J.

Ronald L. Unger and Norman M. Yoffe both received the bachelor of laws degree in June from Harvard University.

MARRIAGES: Charles R. Berilla to Ruth Jennings in September 1953; Charlotte J. Young to Franklin S. Frederick on April 24; Nancy Houston to John Kimmel, Jr. on June 12.

BIRTHS: Mr. and Mrs. Clifford "Bud" Clark (Patricia Schweiker) a girl, Pamela Schweiker, May 26. Statistics: seven pounds, eight ounces. Mr. and Mrs. William Bonine (Joan Graham) a daughter, Linda Carol, December 27, 1953. Bill is at present employed as a chemical engineer by DuPont Co., Wilmington, Del. A daughter, Susan, January 23, to Anne Cooper Nixon and husband, Jack. A son, Paul Riley, April 7 to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lacke (Mary Jane Riley). A daughter, Deborah Marie, September 20, 1953, to Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Scott. A son, Charles Walter, III, November 5, 1953, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Briggs, Jr. (Diane C. Stott).

CLASS OF 1952

Class Reporter: MISS ELINOR CHILDS
74 Mt. Kimble Ave., Morristown, N. J.

BIRTHS: Mr. and Mrs. David A. Akershielm (Betsy Conklin), a girl, Kathryn Gardner, May 21. Al is employed by DuPont de Nemours and Co. Mr. 24 and Mrs. Herbert Grosswirth, a daughter, Sheila Lynn, October 17, 1953. Herb is teaching at the Rhodes School, New York. Mr. and Mrs. H. Joseph Totten '50 (Alice Windkelecht), a son, Kenneth Joseph, April 27. Their address is Myrtle Ave., Demarst, N. J. Lt. (jg) and Mrs. John Boulden (Barbara Bleecker), a son, John Searles Boulden, III, July 7. Address is 4823 Willett Parkway, Apt. 22, Chevy Chase, Md. A son, Bruce Victor, June 25 to Mr. and Mrs. Victor Meyer '50 (Joan Morris). A son, Robert James, May 5, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Pedersen (Phyllis Bell).

MARRIED: Janet Caul to Lawrence Ferreira on August 21. Address: 1 Eagle Hill Rd., Berkeley 7, Calif. Isabelle Harris to Roy Wilson Penny in Tripoli last August. Before her marriage Isabelle toured Europe for 10 months with her aunt, Dr. Mary B. Harris '94. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Harris '12, toured Europe following the wedding. Francis Huber, Jr. to Mary Ramsey of Memphis, Tenn. on December 12, 1953. He is with du Pont in Niagara Falls, N. Y. Mary Grace Jones to Clarence J. Thomas on July 16. The bride's father, Rev. Thomas W. Jones '24, performed the ceremony. Mrs. Thomas Jones '24 (Hannah Metcalf '26) gave her daughter in marriage. Also taking part were Gwen Jones '54 and Mrs. William Henkelman (Natalie Isaac). Address: 30 North Thomas Ave., Kingston, Pa. Ann Woodworth on June 5 to Ensign William E. Be Vier of Minneapolis, Minn. Address: 112-B Lorena Ave., Ellinor Village, Florida.

BIRTHS: A girl, Elizabeth Anne, on June 7 to Lt. and Mrs. John Keeley (Betts Hill). A boy, Jeffrey Conger, on May 4 to Lt. and Mrs. John A. Schaumberg '51 (Anne Buswell). Address: 219 Bradford Ave., Norfolk, Va. A girl, Eilene Susan, on August 30 to Mr. and Mrs. Gershon Meckler (Nina Tanenbaum). Address: 82 B. Throckmorton Ave., Red Bank, N. J.

CLASS OF 1953

Class Reporter: MRS. JAMES A. CHAMBERS, JR.
(Barbara Roemer)
Boulevard Apts., 8 Clark St., Lodi, N. J.

And many more weddings in the limelight . . . Thomas Collins and Ann Mae Heckman, May 22 . . . Mary Ann Fairchild and Robert Dilworth '54, July 17 . . . James Hoffman and Doris Yerg (Penn State), June 19 . . . Wayne Diller and Carol Miller '56, May 22, in Valley Forge . . . Mary Elizabeth Vanek and Randolph Sites, Jr. (St. Lawrence Univ.), April 17 . . . Rodney Wilcox and Joyce Dittman, June 19 . . . Don Raphael and Katherine Alice Lower, June 7. Don and his wife are living at St. Charles Place, Ocean City.

Charles E. Flowers, Jr. has accepted the position of registrar at the Williamsport Technical Institute. He previously taught industrial arts in the North-Mont Joint School District, Turbotville.

Elizabeth Hudson is doing secretarial work for Woodcock & Phelan, patent attorneys in Upper Darby, following her certification at Katharine Gibbs Secretarial School in June.

Slim McKeel is spending a few months in sunny Korea. His address is Pvt. Benjamin McKeel, US52346845, 29th Engineer Co. (Base Survey), A. P. O. 971, c/o PM, San Francisco, California.

Lt. Melvin Woodward has completed the five-month officers' basic course at the Marine Corps School, Quantico, Va.

He has been assigned to Force Troops, Fleet Marine Force Atlantic, Camp Lejeune, N. C.

MARRIAGES: Don DeWees to Martha Folk on July 31. Spurgeon S. Johns, Jr. to Barbara Easton on August 28. Ann Sundberg to Jack Purcell on July 24 in Ramsey. (Jack is due to receive his Navy discharge in January.)

George Appleton, recently engaged to Lyn Huxter '54, is stationed at White Sands Proving Grounds, New Mexico.

Albert E. Bone, Jr. has recently returned from Korea and has been discharged from active military service. He expects to resume his studies.

Jane Brown, back from studying in France, is now obtaining her Master's degree in dramatics at Cornell University. Don Hill received his Master's degree in industrial and labor relations in September, 1954, also from Cornell. Don is now employed in the commercial department at American Telephone & Telegraph Company in Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Hill and son, Doug, live at 3512 S. Stafford St., Arlington 6, Va.

A boy was born to Mollie Brown Roth and Roger Roth '52, on October 8. His name is Mark Edward. The Browns are living somewhere in Alabama. How about the address, Mollie. Roger is stationed at the Redstone Arsenal.

Another new arrival is David Alan Chambers, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Chambers '52 (Barbara Roemer) born on October 20. Jim is working in the sales promotion department of Hoffman-LaRoche.

CLASS OF 1954

Class Reporter: DOROTHY DIORIO
722 Radcliffe St., Bristol, Pa.

Again the Class of '54 is very much in the news. The report is filled with engagements, marriages, graduate study, and, of course, Uncle Sam's latest doings. I think it will make easier and more coherent reading if I give you "just the facts" as recorded in my private news room.

What they're doing: Josephine B. Anthony, secretary, Atlantic Refining Co., Philadelphia; Robert A. Bell, accountant, General Electric Co., Bridgeport, Conn.; Erik J. Blomqvist, Jr., attorney, Murray Sams, Jr., Miami, Fla.; Theodore H. Buley, International Business Machines Corp., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Douglas Burnham, trainee, Bristol Brass Corp., Bristol, Conn.; E. Marter Carhart, III, purchasing, American Cyanamid Co., Stamford, Conn.; Joseph J. Childrey, accountant, National Carbon Co., Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Drusilla M. Christopher, technical assistant, Bell Telephone Lab., Murray Hill, N. J.; Jeanne A. Cooper, textile chemist, E. I. duPont de Nemours, Wilmington, Del.; Anthony Cortese, E. G. L. Co., Newark, N. J.; Charles Coulomb, III, Household Finance Corp., Philadelphia; Manfred H. Edelman, Libde Air Products Co., Tonawanda, N. Y.; Jerome Felcher, civil engineer, Dr. Jacob Feld, N. Y. C., N. Y.; Eugene Feuerstein, junior accountant, Price Waterhouse & Co., N. Y.; Donald J. Fick, trainee, Socony-Vacuum Oil Co.; Gerard Galloway, trainee, IBM, Baltimore, Md.; Marilyn Gardner, Equitable Life Assurance Society, N. Y.; Eleanor F. Gilliams, assistant physicist, Atlantic Refining Co., Philadelphia; Michael Gilman, trainee, Bakelite Co., Bound Brook, N. J.; William F. Gray, Bell Telephone of Pennsylvania, Wilkes-Barre; Doris Greer, technical editor, Bell Telephone Lab., Murray Hill, N. J.; Arthur

Club Activities

(Continued from Page 12)

WILLIAMSPORT—On November 12, the club played host to alumni of Albright College at a football rally and turkey dinner on the eve of the Bucknell-Albright game. The dinner, attended by 74 alumni, was held at Calvary Methodist Church, Williamsport. An invocation was offered by the Rev. Ward Gage '38, pastor of First Baptist Church, Williamsport. Twelve Albright alumni were present and were introduced.

Guests of honor and principal speakers were Albert E. Humphreys, director of athletics for Bucknell, and Jay P. Mathias '35 of Lewisburg, president of the Bison Club. Mr. Humphreys, introduced by John H. Shott, disclosed plans to organize a "Middle Four" football conference, around Bucknell, Lehigh, Lafayette, and Delaware.

Class Reports

D. Harrison, Jr., accountant, Arthur Anderson, N. Y.; Robert K. Haynes, trainee, Johnson & Johnson, New Brunswick, N. J.; Alan R. Hegelien, salesman, Socony-Vacuum Oil Co.; Carl Heiden, junior executive, Imperial Hotel, Atlantic City, N. J.; Francis M. Holcomb, Manufacturer's Light & Heat Co., Pittsburgh; Frank F. Holden, chemical engineer, E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co., Parlin, N. J.; Lee H. Idleman, trainee, S. S. Kresge Co., Falls Church, Va.; Margaret Irland, secretary, Rochester, N. Y.; Marvin C. Kelly, chemical engineer, Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.; Carl H. Klinger, automobile salesman, Klinger Chevrolet Co., Sacramento, Pa.; Nelson R. Korh, Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance, Harrisburg; L. Arthur Lees, Jr., claims adjuster, Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., Philadelphia; Melvin W. LeMon, Jr., script-writer, Radio Station WGVA, Geneva, N. Y.; Benjamin Libenson, salesman, Union Paper & Supply Co., Wilkes-Barre; John L. Linck, Fire Association of Philadelphia; Mason Linn, salesman, Brown & Bigelow, Philadelphia; Leslie Magee, trainee, General Electric, Bridgeport, Conn.; Claude Manaton, junior engineer, U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, Montpelier, Idaho; Virginia V. Martin, correspondent, Equitable Life Assurance Society, N. Y.; Geoffrey P. Mynott, du Pont; Chester R. Parent, E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Parlin, N. J.; Dean F. Poeth, test engineer, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft, East Hartford, Conn.; Sheldon Roe, Jr., chemical engineer, Thatcher Glass Mfg. Co., Elmira, N. Y.; Mary Jane Rhodes, reporter, McKeesport Daily News, McKeesport; Edwin H. Sears, design engineer, Sprout-Waldron & Co.,

Women's Glee Club Tour

Feb. 5, 1955—Joint concert with NYU Glee Club, Teaneck, N. J. (evening); Feb. 6—St. Paul's Church, Broadway and E. 18th St., Paterson, N. J. (morning), Army Theatre, West Point, N. Y. (evening); Feb. 7—Peekskill High School, Ringgold St., Peek-kill, N. Y. (morning), Roosevelt High School, Yonkers, N. Y. (afternoon), Hicksville, L. I., N. Y. (evening); Feb. 8—Manhasset High School, Memorial Place, Manhasset, N. Y. (time not set); Feb. 9—Dover High School, Dover, N. J. (morning), Wyoming Seminary, Kingston, Pa. (afternoon).

Inc., Muncy; Elaine C. Seltmann, secretary, Colgate-Palmolive Co., Jersey City, N. J.; Ann Louise Sheffer, teen age director, Y. W. C. A.; Charles A. Shaffer, research engineer, Aluminum Company of America, Cleveland, O.; Ann F. Sides, Holiday Magazine, Philadelphia; Arthur Simon, accountant, Lybrand Ross Bros. & Montgomery, N. Y.; Charles M. Stainton, Jr., trainee, Sears, Roebuck & Co., Pittsburgh; John Stark, chemical engineer, Hooker Electrochemical Co., Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Kenneth Stauffer, trainee, E. I. de Pont, Parlin, N. J.; John Stocking, accountant, Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery, Philadelphia; William E. Swartz, chemical engineer, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., Springdale; Harold VanArnam, Jr., insurance agent, New York Life Insurance; Donald C. Watson, engineer, Esso, Linden, N. J.; Norman Weber, meat packing, Weber's Meat Products, Newark, N. J.; Naomi Whitney, secretary, Washington, D. C.

Margaret Lois Hines and Thomas John Reimensnyder were married July 18, 1954.

Paul Leinbach and Jeanette Grove '55 were married in Freehold, N. J. on August 21. They are now living in Bucknell Village with Paul doing graduate work while Jeanette completes requirements for her B.S. in biology.

Franklin Delcamp entered a seminary this past fall in preparation for the priesthood.

Robert C. Baughmen recently graduated from the U. S. Naval School, Pre-flight at Pensacola, Fla. He is now assigned to the U. S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Whiting Field, Milton, Fla., for primary flight training.

Paul F. Andrus and Joyce L. Bevan were married June 5, 1954. They will live in Hartford, Conn., where Paul is employed by an engineering firm.

Joan Ayers and Carol Stobham are teaching the third grade of Pleasantdale School, West Orange, N. J. They both enjoy their work and their apartment at 55 Glenwood Ave., East Orange, N. J.

Mary Anne Boessneck is enrolled in the Course for College Women at the Katharine Gibbs School in N. Y. where Mary Louise Merrmann started last July.

Assistant in Public Relations Appointed

Valjean A. Pinchbeck, Jr. has been appointed assistant in public relations in charge of athletic publicity, filling a vacancy that has existed for six months.

A 1952 graduate of Syracuse University, Pinchbeck comes to Bucknell after two years service with the U. S. Navy. He was released to inactive duty with the Naval Reserve on Nov. 1.

A former resident of Snyder, N. Y., Pinchbeck studied journalism and political science as an undergraduate at Syracuse. He served on the sports staff of the Daily Orange, the campus newspaper, and as sports editor of the Syracusan magazine.

As a senior he was employed by the University as assistant to the athletic publicity director. In that capacity he wrote press releases and served as official sports statistician. Pinchbeck was a member of Aecia social fraternity and Sigma Delta Chi professional fraternity.

During his two years as an officer in the Navy the new Bucknellian saw duty in the Mediterranean, in the Caribbean and at Norfolk, Va. He was permanently attached to Beachmaster Unit TWO, Amphibious Force, Atlantic Fleet.

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS is published in January, March, May, September, and November by Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa.

Member—American Alumni Council

OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION

WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, President, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York.
JOHN F. WORTH '37, First Vice President, 233 N. Galveston St., Arlington, Va.
MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), Second Vice-President, 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh 6, Pa.
DAYTON L. RANCK '16, Treasurer, 35 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa.
JOHN H. SHOTT '22, Secretary and Editor, 116 Faculty Court, Lewisburg, Pa.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York (1955)
JOSEPH T. QUICK '38, Wright Rd., R. D. 2, Newtown, Pa. (1955)
MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa. (1955)
CLAIR G. SPANGLER '25, 214 N. Sixth St., Reading, Pa. (1955)
JOHN F. WORTH '37, 233 N. Galveston St., Arlington, Va. (1955)
MRS. BROWN FOCHT (Florence Utt '26), 229 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa. (1956)
BRUCE J. MILLER '27, 112 Devoe Rd., Chappaqua, N. Y. (1956)
ALLEN A. RARIG '29, 528 Lindbergh Way, Lewistown, Pa. (1956)
DONALD H. SHOLL '42, Munn Lane E., R. D. 1, Haddonfield, N. J. (1956)
P. HERBERT WATSON '37, 67 Prospect Ave., Norristown, Pa. (1956)
MRS. CHARLES E. COPELAND (Amorita Sesinger '22), 85-10 34th Ave., Jackson Heights, N. Y. (1957)
J. NORMAN DAVIES '26, 1112 Mill St., Wilkensburg, Pa. (1957)
WILMER D. GREULICH '34, 715 Greythorne Rd., Wynnewood, Pa. (1957)
FRANCIS B. HAAS, JR. '47, 2917 N. Front St., Harrisburg, Pa. (1957)
W. CARL SPROUT '08, Mitchell Apts., North and Front St., Harrisburg, Pa. (1957)

() Year Term Expires.

EDITORIAL

Bison Briefs

Bucknell Alumni Clubs are well on their way to establishing a new high record of activity during the present year. Already a new record has been set in the number of Freshman receptions held and five-well-organized and well-attended football rallies have been held in connection with the off-campus games. It may well be that during the basketball season a new record of Alumni rallies in connection with the "on the road" games will be established. Already Rochester rallied to support the team on December 11. Other opportunities present themselves when we play N. Y. U. at New York, Feb. 5; Lafayette at Easton, Feb. 9; Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh, Feb. 23; and Muhlenberg at Allentown, March 5. Treat yourself to a thrill when the current basketball squad visits your home town.

* * *

Classes reuniting June 10-13, 1955 are those whose class numerals end in "0" and "5." Reunion organizing committees are already at work in many classes (see Class Notes Section) and most groups are planning the increasingly popular reunion booklet as a feature of the Reunion. Now, if we could get all reunioners to register at the registration desks when they reach the campus, we would have a good record of those in attendance. Last year with over 1,000 at the All-Alumni luncheon, there were less than 700 who registered—and only 187 who answered the request for advance reservations. One of these years we are going to run out of food!

* * *

"It's a small world etc." What a thrill when a member of the Class of 1930 from Maine steps into the Alumni Office just as another classmate from Arizona is leaving.

You don't need to speak a foreign language to become an interpreter. I wish you could be in Alumni Headquarters when that member of the Class of 1893 who is deaf comes into the office while that chap from the 1901 Class who stutters is visiting.

* * *

Are you a doodler at the phone? I'm a phone directory reader. I wonder how long I am going to be able to resist the temptation to dial the number of the subscriber listed in the New York phone book as "A. Kiss." I'd like to be around when the 20 or 25 families listed in the New York phone book as "Ng" gather for a reunion. Congratulations to the owners of the Zzyzyy Ztamp Ztudio. But who wants to be last? I still think my old friend, the hat manufacturer named Albert A. Aal, had the best deal—and first place in the phone book.

* * *

How Big Should Bucknell Be?

Three recent issues of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS invited Alumni comment on "How big should Bucknell be?" We are happy to report that asking 15,000 Alumni this question three times has produced one (1) answer to date. Donald W. Hill '53 has this to say:

"In answer to the question 'How Big Should Bucknell Be?'—I have done much thinking on the subject the past few years. It seems to me that Bucknell should be steadily growing, which it is, but I feel more can be done to speed it up. Has anyone ever looked into the possibility of establishing a State School in one or more of the departments? I do not know if this is possible but I always understood that the University of Pennsylvania, Temple University, and the University of Pittsburgh receive State support. I am not in favor of government support in most endeavors but believe there is a place for it in education. Other actions probably could be taken to encourage growth. I believe 4,500 students

Alumni Trustee Time Table

January ALUMNUS—Announcement of names of three candidates in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS. (See page 5).

February 21—Petition deadline.

April 1—Ballots in mail to all Alumni.

May 16—Deadline for receiving ballots in Alumni Office.

June Commencement — Certification to Board of Trustees.

Dr. Karracker Recognized for Migrant Worker Project

Dr. Cyrus H. Karracker, assistant professor of history and chairman of the Pennsylvania Citizens Committee for Migrant Labor, accepted on behalf of the committee the first place award in the National Community Service Competition sponsored by the Necchi Foundation.

A plaque and a $5,000 check, presented by Governor John S. Fine, were won by the Pennsylvania Committee for its work with migrant labor. The project, underway for the past two years, deals with integrating the migrant workers into the life and activities of the community.

Mrs. Harry Garvin, wife of the Bucknell English professor is state executive secretary of the Committee.

Bucknellians Win Journalism Awards

Four Bucknell graduates have recently been awarded more than $5,000 in scholarships and fellowships for graduate study in Journalism.

Robert Farrell '49 was a Nieman Fellow at Harvard in 1953-1954 after working four years on The Wall Street Journal. The fellowship pays all expenses for a year's study in any field the student selects.

Jean White '50 earned a master's degree in the Pulitzer Graduate School of Journalism at Columbia University in 1953. While there she won a $200 Women's Press Club award and a $1500 traveling fellowship.

Howard Macauley '54 won a $900 scholarship at Stanford University and is now pursuing graduate work in the Institute for Journalistic Studies.

Patricia Forlifer '53 was awarded the $750 Maxwell M. Geffen scholarship as she began her work this fall toward a master's degree in the Pulitzer Graduate School of Journalism at Columbia University.

can be taken care of on the Bucknell Campus after certain additions and new construction takes place. A student population of this size would increase the prestige of Bucknell and encourage more top-flight professors to become a part of the Bucknell faculty. A higher overall grade of student also would be attracted to the campus."

Do you all agree?

* * *

The remaining issues of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS for this school year will be placed in the mails on March 1 and May 1. Copy goes to the printer four weeks before publication date, so please send your news promptly.

Trustee John Houghton Harris Dies

JOHN HOUGHTON HARRIS

—Blackstone Studios

Bucknell University lost a loyal and dear friend, and the Board of Trustees an able member in the passing of John Houghton Harris on August 30, 1954. His constant interest and ready generosity were reflected by substantial gifts to the new library and the heating plant, a laboratory in the new Taylor Medical Hall, where there is a bronze plaque to his memory. His munificence will provide the dining hall in the Freshman Residence Hall now under construction. When completed, this splendid dining hall will be dedicated to him. These magnificent additions to the campus facilities will stand as a living memorial to John Houghton Harris. He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth Katte Harris of Salisbury, Conn., who assisted him in his philanthropic enterprises. Also surviving are two brothers, Reese and David Harris.

His contributions to charities were varied and large, including gifts to the Peter Bent Brigham Memorial Hospital, Boston, the University of California at Los Angeles, the Sharon Hospital, Sharon, Conn. By his contributions to the science of medicine and through his help in assisting medical researchers to study adrenal insufficiency, he has blazed a trail that may some day lead to conquering Addison's disease. The eminent Dr. George W. Thorn, Hersey Professor of the Theory and Practice of Physic, Harvard Medical School; and Physician-in-chief, Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, in appreciation of the contribution of Mr. Harris to this field of medicine, has dedicated his book "The Diagnosis and Treatment of Adrenal Insufficiency" to him.

Mr. Harris was born in 1915 and was graduated from Hotchkiss School and Williams College, where he was a member of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity. He was president of Heliogen Products, Inc. and was a member of the firm of Harris LaBouchere, Inc., New York City. Although Mr. and Mrs. Harris were residents of Salisbury, Connecticut, they also had homes and spent time seasonably in New York City and Pasadena, California.

The University extends heartfelt sympathy to Mrs. Harris and offers thanks on behalf of the coming generations of Bucknell students who will benefit from the generosity of John Houghton Harris.

studying Japanese Civilization on a special scholarship awarded him by the Japan Society of New York.

George had dinner in October with Francis Walker '32, legal counsel for the Wright Manufacturing Company, subsidiary of Sperry Corporation. Last Spring George attended a Philosophy and Psychology meeting in Atlanta where he visited with Dave Evans '32, now pastor of a large Baptist church in Atlanta. At the same meeting he ran into Alan Grinstead '31, now a Lt. Commander in the Navy doing psychological research in the training of Navy pilots at Pensacola, Florida.

1954-1955 Chapel Speakers Number 25

Bucknell's Wednesday morning chapel program includes 25 speakers for the '54-'55 term. Of these 25, five are former students.

Included in the programs for the first semester are: Dr. William H. Coleman, Vice President and Dean of the College, Bucknell; Dr. Clarence W. Cranford '29, Minister, Calvary Baptist Church, Washington, D. C.; Dr. James A. Pike, Dean, The Cathedral Church of St. John the Divine, New York City; Dr. Edward L. R. Elson, Minister, The National Presbyterian Church, Washington, D. C.; Mr. Malcolm E. Musser '18, Dean of Men, Bucknell; Rev. John O. Mellin, Minister, First Presbyterian Church, New York City; Dr. William H. Hamilton, Professor, Colgate-Rochester Divinity School, Rochester, N. Y.; Dr. Samuel M. Shoemaker, Rector, Calvary Episcopal Church, Pittsburgh; Dr. Vernon B. Richardson, Minister, The University Baptist Church, Baltimore, Maryland; Dr. Rex S. Clements, Minister, The Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church, Bryn Mawr; Dr. Edwin E. Aubrey '19, Professor, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; and Rev. Luther H. Harshbarger, Chaplain, Pennsylvania State University, State College.

On December 1 our new president, Dr. Merle M. Odgers, presented the address in Davis gymnasium.

During the second semester we will hear Dr. Roland O. Hudson '24, Minister, Calvary Baptist Church, Norristown; Dr. Samuel D. Proctor, Dean, School of Religion, Virginia Union University, Richmond, Va.; Dr. James H. Robinson, Minister, Church of the Master, New York City; Bishop Hazen G. Werner, Resident Bishop, The Methodist Church, Columbus, Ohio; Miss Mary Jane Stevenson, Dean of Women, Bucknell; Dr. Ronald V. Wells, Board of Education, American Baptist Convention, New York City; Dr. Dayton L. Ranek '16, Vice President and Treasurer, Bucknell; Rev. Aurance E. Shank, Minister, The First Methodist Church, Berwick; Dr. Herbert Gezork, President, Andover-Newton Theological School, Newton-Centre, Mass.; Dr. Charles C. Knapp, Minister, First Baptist Church, Evanston, Illinois; Dr. Louis M. Levitsky, Rabbi, Olney Shalom Congregation, Newark, N. J.; and Dr. Charles E. Boddie, Minister, Mount Olivet Baptist Church, Rochester, N. Y.

At Christmas and Easter, programs of traditional music will be presented by student musical organizations.

Baptist Youth Meet on Campus

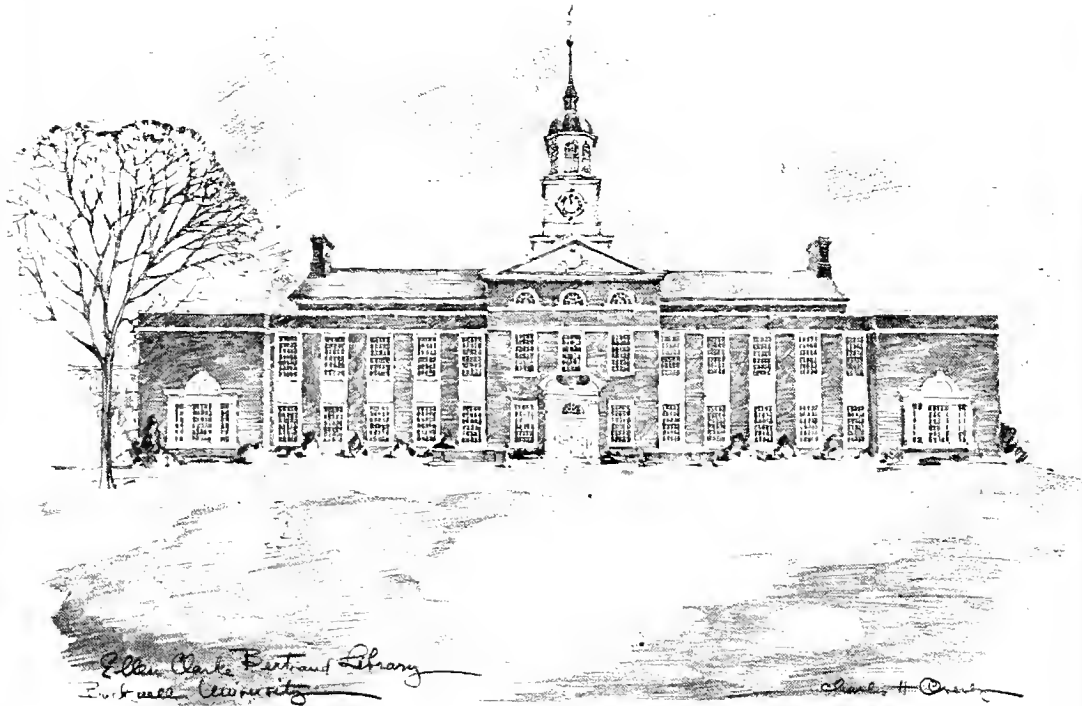

The Bucknell campus was the scene of the fifth biennial convention of the Pennsylvania Baptist Youth Fellowship on November 26-28, attended by 450 young folks. The convention theme was "Go Forth With Christ Now." Addresses, discussion programs, and a report from the Baptist Student Movement of Pennsylvania highlighted the programs.

The convention's local planning committee was headed by Reverend Morse Bettison, pastor of First Baptist Church, and Dr. Charles M. Bond, professor of religion.

George Abernethy '32 on Japanese Program

Dr. George L. Abernethy '32 has run across many Bucknellians in recent months. Himself still connected with the Davidson College (N. C.) department of philosophy, George attended last summer a six week session at Duke University

New Year Greetings 1955

WITH FAITH IN THE FUTURE AND WITH THE UNDIMMED MEMORY OF THE DEVOTED MEN AND WOMEN
WHO MADE A UNIVERSITY POSSIBLE ON THIS HILL
IN 1846
AND WITH GRATITUDE TOWARD THOSE WHO EVER SINCE
HAVE KEPT THE LIGHT BURNING,
BUCKNELL GREET'S HER SONS AND DAUGHTERS
OVER ALL THE EARTH

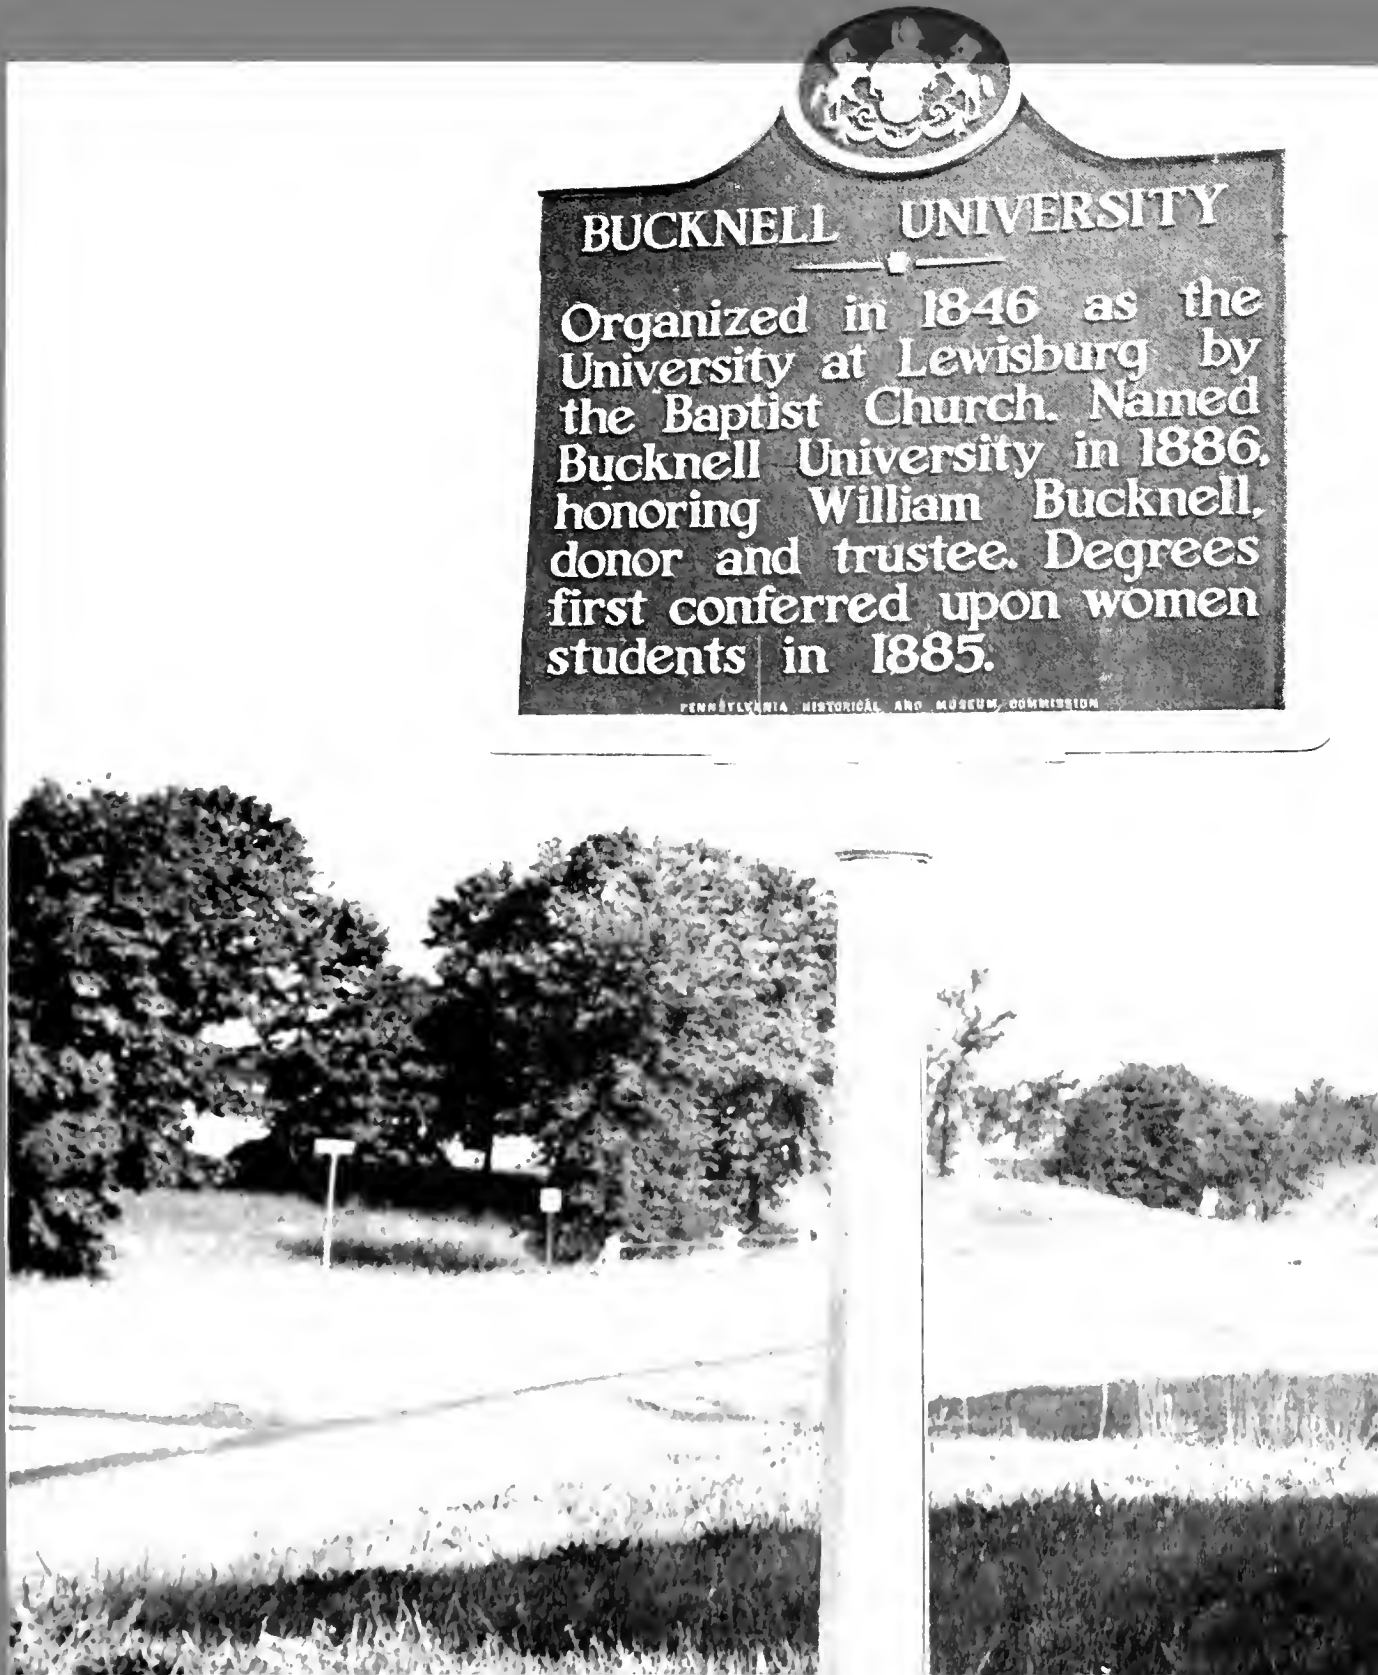

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY, LEWISBURG, PENNSYLVANIA

The

BUCKNELL

ALUMNUS

MARCH 1905

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Organized in 1846 as the University at Lewisburg by the Baptist Church. Named Bucknell University in 1886, honoring William Bucknell, donor and trustee. Degrees first conferred upon women students in 1885.

PENNSYLVANIA HISTORICAL AND MUSEUM COMMISSION

FUND PROGRAM TO EXPAND

As we go to press at the end of the seventh month of the 1954-1955 Bucknell Alumni Annual Giving Program, 1111 Alumni have sent in contributions to the fund for a total of $12,871.42. Alumni Capital Gifts account for an additional $132,593.54. The current year's program began on July 1, 1954 and will close on June 30, 1955. As in past years, the program is operated on the "Living Endowment" principle. This means that Alumni who may not be able to make substantial endowment gifts through annual giving can supply the University annually with the income that such larger endowments would provide. Last year Alumni Fund gifts of $28,000 (the equivalent of a return on over $700,000 of endowment) helped the University meet its current budget for faculty salaries, scholarships, general maintenance and the thousand and one other items that are incurred in "keeping Bucknell strong."

Thus far this year Bucknellians have received three appeals for contributions to the Fund. The first sent in early November was in the form of the Annual Report of the Fund efforts in the 1953-54 year. The second appeal was a letter signed by Clyde P. Bailey '29, chairman of the Bucknell Alumni Fund Committee. The third reminders were sent by the class fund managers to the individual members of each class who had not yet contributed. This year a few classes have new class fund managers. Frank L. Yost, superintendent of schools in Orange, N. J., is taking over as class fund manager for the Class of 1906 to replace Elbina L. Bender who died in November. In the Class of 1915 Mrs. George H. Hines (Myrna Strickler) is replacing Mrs. Russell M. McQuay (Helen Eede) who continues to serve on the Alumni Fund Committee. Dr. Samuel M. Davenport for the Class of 1916 is replacing Judge William L. Showers who has asked to be relieved of some of his extra curricular duties. Frank E. Gerlitz, Jr., of the Class of 1934, is replacing Walter Ruch as class fund manager. In the Class of 1953 Joan Lafferandre continues to serve for Frank Bogozewski while Frank is on duty with Uncle Sam's Navy. During the illness of Russell E. Boyer, Class of 1918, Dean Malcolm E. Musser is acting as class fund manager. Our newest class (1954) has Patricia McColl at work as class fund manager. Class fund managers are appointed by the class president, and we join these presidents in extending thanks to those who have completed services as class fund managers and welcome the newcomers to the staff of fund workers. These folks spend long hours in preparing the letter reminders sent to their classmates, and it is an encouragement to them to see the splendid response so many Bucknellians make in the effort to have their class reach the highest pinnacle in total dollars contributed, highest percentage of participation and greatest number of contributors.

Last year the class fund managers received help in their program of Fund Raising through a pilot experiment conducted in Pittsburgh. About 20 fund agents working under 5 captains and supervised by Clyde P. Bailey, chairman of the personal solicitation program in Pittsburgh, made 160 personal visits to alumni and proved that procrastination is still the biggest stumbling block to alumni giving. On over half of their visits the alumnus stated, "I want to give but I just didn't get around to it. Now that you are here I'll give you the check." These 20 volunteers were so encouraged by their results that the program will be in operation again this spring, and it is hoped to expand into several new areas. Personal solicitation staffs are being formed in Southern New Jersey, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Lycoming County, Long Island, Trenton, Harrisburg, Washington, Binghamton, Lewistown, and Lewisburg, and it is hoped to organize also Metropolitan New York, Buffalo, and Cleveland.

Alumni giving on many college campuses got a tremendous lift from the recent announcement of the General Electric Company that GE will match dollar for dollar—the gift of their employees to their respective alma maters. Bucknell has already received several donations under the GE plan. Since there are about 100 Bucknellians employed by General Electric, this effort could mean a big boost in the Alumni Fund for all of these contributions become, in effect, double duty dollars.

In This Issue

Alumni:	Page
Charles E. Bunnell '00	7
John S. Burlew '30	23
Stanley Butterworth '53	12
John B. Clark '48	4
John F. Cox '25	23
Lois Anne Davison '56	5
Ruth Croft Foster '39	9
Walter S. Horley '87	9
Dorothy G. Kester '34	9
Robert M. Lindner '35	5
Victor Oleyar '32	9
Earl M. Richards '13	9
Horace J. Sheppard '29	9
Ann Gilchrist Strong '99	7
Robert W. Thompson '04	12
John S. Wheatcroft '49	3
Alumni Fund	2
Alumni Trustee Election	6,7
Birthday Parties	10
Book Shelf	5
Bucknell Teachers	10
Campus Calendar	12
Class Reports	14-22
Club Activities	10
Commencement Program	11
Doctors for Bucknell	13
Engineering Directory	23
How Big Should Bucknell Be?	4
Industry and Higher Learning	13
Learning and Teaching	3
Letters	9
Newsmen's Conference	23
Pennsylvania Industry Helps Bucknell	12
Reunions, June, 1955	11
Scholarship Aid	13
Sports	8, 23
Summer Guidance Workshop	13
The Bucknell Review	13
Touche	13
Tri Deltas to Meet on Campus	23
Walls Collection to Library	4

The Cover Pictures

This issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS, celebrating the 109th anniversary of the granting of the University charter, properly shows on the front cover a brief, history of the University. This signpost stands at the western (Route 15) entrance of the campus.

The back cover panel shows an unusual picture of the clock tower of the new Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library taken from the site of the new F. W. Olin Science Building.

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

Vol. XXXIX—No. 4 March 1955

Published in January, March, May, September, and November

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Entered as second-class matter December 30, 1930, at the post office at Lewisburg, Pa., under the Act of August 24, 1912.

Student Editorial Assistants: Joan Christman Bertolet '55, Reading; Loie Bunnell '56, South Temple; Shelagh Clutter '57, Singapore, Malaya; Elizabeth Fogg '56, Moylan; Jane Nevling '56, Lockport, N. Y.; Arline Sherwood '56, Trenton, N. J.; Jean Wirths '56, Madison, N. J.; Rhoda Wolf '56, Philadelphia; William Lauchman '56, Lansdale.

LEARNING AND TEACHING

By JOHN S. WHEATCROFT, '49, Instructor in English

JUST as the medical doctor who, after framing his license and hanging his shingle, neglects to study the journals and books which report the latest findings in medicine, is not doing his best to protect the health of the community, so the teacher who fails to keep up with fresh developments in his field is failing in his service to the minds of his students. For knowledge, which can be begot only by living minds, is, like the minds it springs from, alive; and after it has been born it assumes an existence of its own and it has its own growth. In a marvelous, an almost mysterious way, new facts and new pieces of information are always coming to light, and new ideas are ever springing into being. This proposition holds true not only for those fields of study which are obviously dynamic—the natural and social sciences—but also for history, for literature, for the fine arts, for even the so called "dead languages." In addition to the new products, the new descriptive ideas, the new explanations which are coming out of the modern laboratory, new artifacts and manuscripts and documents are being turned up continually by archaeologists and scholars; new ideas with which to explain the events, the thought, and the art of the past are being offered continually by historians and critics; new connections between the past and the present and the present and the future are being suggested continually by independent and original thinkers.

THERE is another reason that the teacher must ever be at work. Besides the responsibility he has to the students who sit in his classroom, the teacher has upon him an additional and not altogether ancillary obligation. The whole duty of the teacher requires that he serve students everywhere, that he serve his professional brotherhood, that he serve society, that he serve knowledge and ideas themselves. Traditionally the teacher has been not only the guardian and purveyor of learning but the explorer of new worlds of thought, the thinker who is always a couple of steps ahead of the mass of minds of his time. From Plato's Academy, where new solutions to ethical, aesthetic, and metaphysical problems were generated by the action of minds in contact with one another, to the physics and chemistry and biology laboratories of the modern university, where many of the concepts basic to the new wonder drugs and the not-so-wonderful new weapons were born, the teacher has been a pioneer in the field of ideas.

THE realization that the teacher, if he is to be vital and thorough in the classroom and if he is to do his whole duty, must be engaged in research or in some kind of original work in his field, creates a major problem for both the teacher and the administrator. The time involved in teaching alone—the time it takes to prepare for the lecture, the discussion, the recitation in class, the time actually spent in the classroom, the time it takes to make up and administer examinations, the time spent in grading papers, the time spent in conferring with and advising students, the time it takes to assign grades, the time spent in staff and faculty meetings and in serving on departmental and university committees—a mounts to something more than a forty-hour week. And only infrequently is it possible for the teacher to combine research or original work with his regular teaching. Consequently the teacher finds that he must squeeze such work into the hours around midnight, into his brief weekends, into his school-year vacations, into his summers—if he is not compelled to spend these times working to supplement his teaching income. About his lack of time the teacher feels desperate, for well he knows that if he is not learning he cannot teach.

CERTAINLY the wise college administrator is anxious to have the teacher satisfied in this respect. He wants to see his faculty happy, he wants the student to get the best possible education for his money, and he knows that the faculty which produces and publishes adds prestige and even income to the university. But to give the teacher more time for research in the form of sabbaticals, leaves of absence, grants, and awards, to lighten the teaching load, to give the teacher fewer preparations, to reduce the size of classes, to provide additional library and research facilities, the administrator must have money. And here he too has some problems. The cost of running a university has risen tremendously in the past ten years: teachers' salaries have been increased, the cost of maintaining the physical plant is at a peak, to provide board is more expensive than ever. And what with predictions that large increases in college enrollments lie right ahead, the college administrator must increase and improve the facilities of his institution.

AT Bucknell, despite the difficulties which beset the teacher and the administrator, research and original work are being done. Members of the faculty are continually winning grants for research from the federal government, from industry, and from the large foundations. The results of this work are constantly being published in books, in brochures, in the learned journals, in the young but growing Bucknell University Press, in The Bucknell Review, formerly Bucknell University Studies, the Review, which appears three times a year, publishes scholarly articles by members of the Bucknell faculty. The Scholars' Club, a faculty organization which meets eight times a year to hear and discuss a scholarly paper by one of its members, is an indication that the Bucknell teacher not only is engaged in research but is actively interested in the work of his colleagues.

THE administration at Bucknell has found it possible to provide a number of encouragements for faculty research. There is a provision for a sabbatical leave, for the full professor who has served at least eight consecutive years at Bucknell. For the faculty member who is working for an advanced degree there is a very generous provision of a leave of absence with pay. Each summer the Board of Trustees makes an award of seven hundred dollars to one or two faculty members in order that they may carry on research or original work. A joint faculty-administration committee has been set up to stimulate graduate study and research and to provide information about scholarships, fellowships, grants, and awards.

NOT only at Bucknell but at colleges and universities throughout the country, the teacher needs more money, better facilities, and above all additional time for research. Until such things are given to him, however, the teacher will quietly carry on his work with the funds and facilities at his disposal, during whatever hours he can find. For he intends to enter the classroom with a mind that is thoroughly informed and completely alive, and he is determined to make some contribution to all of his fellows.

WALLS COLLECTION GIVEN TO LIBRARY

By ALFRED H. FENTON

The Bucknell University Library's efforts to become a center of Central Pennsylvania lore and records, was given a heartening boost in January when Mrs. Harry E. McCormick, Institute '05, of Lewisburg and Mr. John A. Walls '98 of Baltimore presented to the Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library a large collection of family papers and documents.

Mrs. McCormick, the former Dorothy Walls, and her brother are descendants of a number of Lewisburg's leading families and consequently, the story of Lewisburg is pretty well told in this collection. Members of the Walls, Slifer, Frick, Green, Cameron, Adlum and Coulter families played various parts in the major enterprises of the region, such as the building of the canals, the building of boats for the canals, the trading and shipping of produce from the area, the building of bridges, the organizing of banks, not to mention the politics of the state.

Dorothy and John Walls are direct descendants of Eli Slifer, successful boat builder and businessman who served as State Secretary under Governor Curtin during the Civil War, as well as Judge John Walls, another successful businessman, who served on the State Bench as well as in the State Senate.

There is also considerable mention of Bucknell in this collection since William Cameron Walls, father of Mrs. McCormick and her brother, was a member of the Bucknell Class of 1873 and served for 16 years as a member of the Board of Trustees.

Many of William Cameron Walls' business papers are included in the collection and these present a detailed picture of the retail and wholesale business that the Walls' family ran in Lewisburg for nearly 100 years. Judge John Walls founded the business and served as a retailer to Lewisburg and a wholesaler to the area. The arrangement was ideal since Lewisburg became a shipping point for the lush valleys to the west.

One of the most interesting items in the collection is a diary kept by Robert B. Green during his seven-month trek to California in 1849. Robert Green was a young man at the time of the Gold Rush, but he was most observant and wrote a spicy account of the trials and tribulations to be found on the overland route to California. Unfortunately, he died shortly after reaching the west coast and a second volume of his diary, describing life there, apparently has been lost.

Not quite so spicy, but equally interesting is a collection of annual diaries kept by Eli Slifer during the Civil War, when he played such a prominent part in the affairs of the Keystone State. A considerable amount of his personal correspondence during the war years has been saved. The requests made of him at that time must have been burdensome. For example, a Union officer writes from a Southern prison camp to ask that money be sent to his wife. A mother requests aid because her son is at the front and she has no one else to whom to turn. There are letters and telegrams from many prominent persons, including Secretary Seward and a number of State Governors.

Equally fascinating is the correspondence from Dr. A. G. Walls to his father, Judge John Walls, much of it written from the battlefields.

And for those doing research on the early days of Lewisburg there are all manner of ledgers, scrapbooks, documents, and miscellaneous correspondence.

Perhaps the most valuable of all, from a researcher's point of view is a memoir, written by Mrs. Charles W. Kalp, which presents a fairly complete picture of the history of Lewisburg and the part that these various families played in it. Anyone delving into these papers will do well to read this manuscript first.

And perhaps best of all, from the historian's view, is the fact that many of these papers have been transcribed to typewriter.

John B. Clark Advanced

Last year John B. Clark, that energetic editor of the Class of 1948 Reunion Book, joined the Automatic Control Company of Saint Paul, Minn., as advertising manager and was given responsibility for all the advertising, merchandising, sales promotion and public relations activities of the company. Then last December he was elected to the Board of Directors. The Automatic Control Company manufactures custom-engineered control systems for municipal, industrial and commercial water treatment and sewage processing plants.

Before joining Automatic, John was public relations account executive for Campbell-Mithun Advertising, Inc., and prior to that was manager of engineering information for the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company aeronautical division.

John originally was in the Class of 1942, but left Bucknell the year before receiving his degree. He came back after the war and was awarded the degree in mechanical engineering with the Class of 1948. In his community activities he is serving as President of the Oakhill Parknoll PTA, an active organization of over one thousand members. He is also active in the affairs of the Minnesota Industrial Advertisers Association. He is a member of the board of Aldersgate Methodist Church and a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

At Bucknell he was a member of Phi Lambda Theta fraternity, and was elected to membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Lambda Theta and Theta Alpha Phi honoraries.

He and his wife, the former Jerine Wam (Stephens College) are the proud parents of three girls, Carolyn, eight, Cynthia, four,

How Big Should Bucknell Be?

The accompanying figures will not answer the above question, but may give us a clue to our thinking about the problem of size faced by Bucknell and all other colleges and universities.

The latest census (October, 1954) showed 15,531 "listed and located" alumni. An alumnus is anyone who has matriculated, whether or not a degree has been awarded. It is interesting to note that about 25% of our alumni are in the classes of 1950 or later; that nearly 50% are in classes since 1940 and that 75% have been at the University since the Class of 1930 matriculated.

Classes	Number of Alumni	Accumulated Total	Percent of Total	Accumulated Percent
1883-1889 inclusive	13	13	.08%	.08%
1890-1894 inclusive	56	69	.36	.44
1895-1899 inclusive	111	180	.72	1.16
1900-1904 inclusive	202	382	1.30	2.46
1905-1909 inclusive	378	760	2.43	4.89
1910-1914 inclusive	446	1206	2.87	7.76
1915-1919 inclusive	600	1806	3.86	11.62
1920-1924 inclusive	962	2768	6.19	17.81
1925-1929 inclusive	1349	4117	8.69	26.50
1930-1934 inclusive	1531	5648	9.86	36.36
1935-1939 inclusive	1551	7199	9.99	46.35
1940-1944 inclusive	1802	9001	11.60	57.95
1945-1949 inclusive	2744	11,745	17.67	75.62
1950-1954 inclusive	3786	15,531	24.38	100.00

and Constance, one. John's Bucknell connections include his father, the Rev. Edward O. Clark '15, his mother, the former Eva G. Thayer '21, and two sisters, Dorothy J. '51 and H. Elizabeth '53.

Since John is rather far from the campus, he looks forward to welcoming Bucknellian visitors to the Minneapolis-Saint Paul area, and recently had a visit from Bob Schaffer '42.

It Happened Here

Twenty-five Years Ago—1930

Back in 1930 an hilarious C&D play, "Applesauce," was under the direction of Mr. C. W. Smith, instructor in English. Mr. Smith had had quite a bit of dramatic experience, while at Princeton, and the cast profited greatly by his directing. That man is now our own Dr. (Willard) Smith, head of Bucknell's English Department.

BOOK SHELF

GRUBER, F. C. and BEATTY, T. B.

Secondary School Activities

N. Y.: McGraw-Hill, 1954, 316 pp. $4.50

Both Professor Frederick C. Gruber of the University of Pennsylvania and our own Professor Thomas Bayard Beatty, formerly Director of Student Teaching at Bucknell, are well-equipped to deal with the subject of student activities in the secondary school. Both have had rich experiences along these lines as secondary school teachers and administrators, Professor Beatty having served as principal of Radnor High School for nineteen years prior to his coming to Bucknell. Professor Gruber is a leader in the Cultural Olympics and is this year in the Netherlands on a Fulbright scholarship.

The volume emphasizes particularly the participation of the students themselves in developing their own potentialities through organizing and working in the numerous activities found in modern secondary schools. Great stress is placed on the practical procedures used in carrying on successful activities programs. Throughout the work a multitude of illustrations are used to show ways in which the co-curricular and extra-curricular student activities serve to achieve the goals which the modern school considers important for growing adolescents.

An introductory chapter deals with the historical development of student activities and the role of activities in the total school program. Succeeding chapters deal with such varied activities as the homeroom, the student council, dramatics, music, club programs, health activities, the assembly, publications, commencements, and the social program. An exceptionally good chapter is devoted to the financing and promoting of student activities.

In the chapter on homeroom activities, the authors are more favorably disposed towards the vertical homeroom organization, in which students of varying class levels would be located in the same homeroom, than is the case with other writers in this field. The authors have rather less to say about school camping and its contributions, although rather more with regard to dancing and other phases of the social program.

Concluding chapters furnish much helpful information with regard to the cooperating agencies concerned with youth activities and the means of evaluating outcomes resulting from school activities.

Good bibliographies, well-annotated, are to be found at the close of each chapter. Not the least helpful feature of the work is a series of illustrations showing a number of student groups in action.

The volume will be found helpful chiefly to two groups: First, it should be of great value to the secondary school teachers and administrators interested in securing the latest information as to what is being done in better modern secondary schools of our country in the field of student activities. Second, it is already proving helpful as a text book in colleges and universities offering courses in the fields of extra-curricular activities or student activities. The work merits the careful perusal of educators at either level.

—WALTER H. SAUVAIN, Ph.D.,
Professor of Education
Bucknell University

ROBERT M. LINDNER, '35; M.A. '36 (Cornell); Ph.D. '38 (Cornell)

The Fifty Minute Hour

New York: Rinehart and Company, 1954

After reading Dr. Robert Lindner's latest book, "The Fifty Minute Hour," called in subtitle "a collection of psychoanalytic tales," this reviewer did not agree entirely with Max Lerner who wrote in the introduction to the book that he had read the tales with pleasure and with pleasure recommended them to other readers. The tales are highly recommendable to readers, but not because they are pleasurable. If they are read for enjoyment as a kind of high-brow detective fiction, or as lurid tales in the manner of Ambrose Bierce, the whole point in their writing is lost. Dr. Lindner had a more serious intention in mind when he wrote them than just arousing the reader's morbid curiosity in the abnormal behavior of deluded people.

In his foreword to "The Fifty Minute Hour," Dr. Lindner carefully explains the purpose of his work, thus helping to remove from the reader's mind the suspicion that the stories are merely sensational dramatizations of the lives of Dr. Lindner's analysands. In so realistically describing the mental abnormalities of five very distinct individuals, Dr. Lindner's aim was to reveal the private world of the psychoanalyst and his patient to the wondering layman, enabling the latter to see that the work of the analyst is not mysterious, or occult, and that the basis of true mental recovery is not only the analyst's humane understanding of his patient, but also the mutual understanding of the two, embraced in a strenuous attempt to solve the innermost mysteries of mind and behavior. With a fervor amounting to evangelism, Dr. Lindner expounds his great faith in the ability of a sensitive analyst to penetrate the recesses of the disturbed mind and to find out what the real person is under the palimpsest of distorted emotions and actions. Like Alexander Pope, Dr. Lindner staunchly believes that the proper study of mankind is man, and that man alone, in troubles of the mind particularly, can fathom man. He boldly repudiates the psychiatric treatment of mental illness which specializes in shock therapy, and deplores what he calls the attempts of his medical colleagues to reduce their patients to a vegetable state with personality marks erased and character bumps eroded.

The respect and care which Dr. Lindner has for the human mind and personality are clearly, sometimes tenderly, reflected in the collection of five tales which he has chosen to call "The Fifty Minute Hour." In the story of "Songs My Mother Taught Me," the history of Charles, the rapist-murderer, is described with artistry and genuine analytic penetration. It is by far the most terrifying and the best told of the tales, and it is the only tale of the analyst's failure to help his patient. "The Jet-Propelled Couch," the story of Kirk Allen, the physicist who lived in outer space, constitutes the second best tale. Third best is "Solitaire," the story of Laura, a compulsive eater. "Come Over, Red Rover," and "Destiny's Tot," stories of Mac, the communist with unusual sex problems, and of Anton, the psychopathic fascist, are the least successful of the group, perhaps for the reason that they strain the reader's credulity the most.

These psychoanalytic delineations form, as Max Lerner points out in the introduction, a portrait gallery of the characteristic figures of our era, not, he warns, to be regarded "as materials for a story, but human personalities in deep trouble." The warning is given with good reason, for there are times when the facility and brilliance of Dr. Lindner's narrative style, combined with the fantastic nature of the stories, tend to confound his own humanely scientific objective so honestly expressed in the foreword of his book.

—LOIS KALP

DAVISON, LOIS ANNE '56

Ask of the Eagle, A first volume of collected poems

Lewisburg: Bucknell University Press, Dec. 1954. $2.50

In her foreword to this first collection of her poems, Lois Anne Davison, now in her junior year at Bucknell, says, "Everyone has asked himself some question to which there is no answer; everyone has at some time received an answer to a seemingly unanswerable question. These poems are such questions and such answers, such quests and such discoveries, such invocations and such replies." The thoughtful sincerity of this statement is reflected in the poems. The title poem, "Ask of the Eagle," catches this quality of questioning, and suggests that the poet has discovered the necessary humility of being able to accept an answer that is still half-question:

Would that the gay, the brave, the proud,
the true
Could end in endless flight to endless sky,
But even he—the eagle, born to flight—
Must keep his last appointment here upon the ground—and I
Can scarce be said to have the right
To say the way a living thing should die,
For I have never felt the wind against my wings
Nor known the weariness of struggle when a storm is past.
Perhaps the wish of flight is that of earthborne things,
And eagles are content to rest at last.

Perhaps one of the most important functions of poetry is its ability to persuade us that such answers are the only possible ones, and that they are somehow satisfactory. The poet can but formulate experience in such a way as to make us conscious of "innumerable Odysseys" as in "Ruins at Night":

Like shredded velvet, shadows lie
Raggedly on the white bones
Of fallen columns of the temple hall,
While the innumerable Odysseys,
Whispered by ghosts, suspended suddenly
And waiting for my passing, silent hang.

The striking thing about these poems is the balance, unusual for a young poet, between direct emotion and technical control. The diction and structure of the verse, carefully controlled but rarely obtrusive, allow the direct expression of emotion without permitting it to get out of hand. They impose an element of classic restraint, curbing elaborate poses or overindulgence of sentimentality. If, occasionally, this balance is imperfect, feeling and thought not sufficiently digested in words, the reader will remember that the complete mastery of the medium is a matter of long and hard experience. It is surprising not that there are imperfections, but that the mastery demonstrated is already so firm. The final poem, "Night Music," reveals Miss Davison's technique at its best. An intelligent use of metrical variation contributes to the celebration of art and love in the world:

I know an old, drunken man who plays the harmonica:
"You play it, honey," he once said to me.
I could not; I had never learned.
He could scarcely stand or speak but he could play it; he played it sweetly in the darkening evening; the world about answered with the soft song of stirring insects.

—JANE HERSEY

(The reviewer is the wife of Mr. George L. Hersey, Faculty member in the Department of Art.)

Here Are Your Alumni Trustee Candidates - Please Vote in April

The Committee for the Selection of Alumni Trustee Candidates presents for your action the names of three Alumni to be balloted upon in April 1955. We present below the names, pictures and biographies of the proposed candidates. Early in April ballots will be mailed to all Alumni whose addresses are known to be correct. The return envelope will be a combination mailer, providing for the return of the ballot and a contribution to the Alumni Annual Giving Program—BUT YOU DO NOT NEED TO CONTRIB-

UTE TO BE ELIGIBLE TO VOTE. The voter will open the envelope at an indicated place, mark the ballot, insert it in the envelope, enclose a contribution to the Alumni Annual Giving Fund—if you have not made a gift since July 1, 1954 and feel inclined to do so—seal and mail it. No postage required. On receipt at the Alumni Office, the secrecy of the ballot will be maintained by separating the name and address of the voter from the ballot after which the ballot will be placed in a locked ballot box. Balloting will end on Monday, May 16, 1955. During the following week, a committee of Alumni will open the locked ballot box, tally the votes and certify the results to the Board of Trustees.

Please read the biographies printed below and kindly retain this copy of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS for ready reference when you receive your ballot. Only the names and photographs will appear on the ballot.

FRANKLIN D. JONES
2617 St. David's Lane
Ardmore, Pennsylvania

JAMES SMITH REPLOGLE
2820 Bethel Church Road
Pittsburgh 34, Pennsylvania

JULIUS FREDERICK SEEBACH, JR.
168 East 74th Street
New York 21, N. Y.

College Record: B.S. Chem. Engin. 1919 B. U.; Honorary D.Sc. 1946 B. U.; Phi Gamma Delta; Glee Club; Cap & Dagger; Phila. Textile School (Textile Dyeing) 1921.

Professional Experience: Chemical Supervisor, National Aniline and Chemical Company, 1919-20; High School Teacher, Nanticoke School District, 1921; Plant Manager, Wyoming Dye and Chemical Company, 1921-22; Research Chemist, Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company, 1922-23; Research Engineer, New Jersey Zinc Company, 1923-25; Research Engineer, duPont de Nemours & Company, 1926-27; Chief Chemist, Phillips and Jacobs, 1928-34; Assistant to Sales Manager, Merck and Company, 1935-36; Manager of the Horticultural Department of the American Chemical Paint Company, 1938-47; Present Consulting Chemist on the staff of General Industries Incorporated; miscellaneous consulting work; holder of key patents in the chemical field, including the weed killer 2.4D and 2.45T.

Organizations: Mason; Merion Golf Club; American Chemical Society; Franklin Institute; American Institute of Chemists; American Horticultural Council; Amateur Fencers League of America; American Society for Horticultural Science.

Personal Record: Born September 3, 1898, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania; married Lillian G. Butz (University of Delaware); children: Roger, Haverford graduate, chemical engineer for duPont at Niagara Falls; Mary Lou, Swarthmore junior; brothers: Malcolm G. '26; William G. '29; Philip E. '33.

Bucknell Interests: Past Treas., Phila. Alumni Assoc.; Alumni Pres., Class of 1919; Alumni Fund Mgr., Class of 1919.

College Record: A.B. '26 Bucknell University; Phi Gamma Delta; Pi Delta Epsilon; Kent Pre-Legal Society; Circulation and Business Manager Bucknell "Belle Hop"; L'Agenda Staff.

Professional Experience: Metallurgical Department and New York Sales Department of Bethlehem Steel, 1927-30; Division Credit Manager, L. Bamberger and Company, Newark, New Jersey, 1930-35; Assistant General Manager and Merchandise Manager, Junior Mercantile Company, 1936-38; Champion Stores, Merchandise Manager, 1938-43; Present President, Champion Stores Incorporated, 100 Wood Street, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Organizations: Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce; American Red Cross Disaster Committee, Chairman Purchasing and Supply; Lutheran Church; F. and A. M. Lodge No. 758; University Club, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; St. Clair Country Club, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; Cavalier Club, Virginia Beach, Virginia; The Pennsylvania Society; National Industrial Store Association—Executive Committee.

Personal Record: Born February 21, 1905, Johnstown, Pennsylvania; married Veta Davis (B. U. '27) July 6, 1929; children: Mary Janet (B. U. Class of 1956); brother: Charles L. Replogle (B. U. '30); sister: Dorothy Replogle (B. U. '25).

Bucknell Interests: Active in Bucknell Alumni Club of Western Pennsylvania (Pittsburgh); Alumni Fund-raising campaigns; Bison Club.

College Record: A.B. '20; Diploma in Music '20, B. U.; Delta Sigma, Lit. Edit. L'Agenda, 1918; Glee Club Operetta Society; B. U. Gun Club; oratorical contests.

Professional Experience: French teacher at Bucknell, 1919-20; Teacher, St. John's School, Manlius, New York, 1920-21; Teacher, West High School, Rochester, New York, 1921-23; Teacher, High School, Jersey City, New Jersey, 1923-24; Audit Correspondent, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, 1924-25; Announcer, Radio Station WOR and Program Director, 1925-27; Program Manager, continuity writer, Program Director Columbia Broadcasting Company, 1928-35; WOR Director of program operations, 1935-47; WOR Vice-President, 1941; Administrative Secretary of the Metropolitan Opera Association in charge of business affairs, 1947-49; WOR and Mutual Broadcasting System, Vice-President in charge of Radio and Television Production, 1949-6/1/54; Present Radio and Television Package Producer and Consultant.

Organizations: Radio and Television Executive Society; Radio Pioneers; The Lambs; The Players; The Coffee House; Dutch Treat; Gunners Club, Long Island.

Military Record: U. S. A. A. C., Section 525, 1917-19; awarded the Croix de Guerre and Purple Heart.

Personal Record: Born August 29, 1898, Maytown, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania; married: Elizabeth Anne Morgan, June 10, 1950, Scarsdale, New York.

Bucknell Interests: Past-president, Metropolitan Bucknell Alumni Association.

PLEASE SAVE THESE BIOGRAPHICAL RECORDS; ONLY THE PICTURES OF THE CANDIDATES WILL APPEAR ON THE BALLOT YOU RECEIVE IN APRIL

Please Vote in April

On Page 6 you will find the names, pictures and biographical records of the three candidates chosen to stand for election as Alumni Trustee to the Board of Trustees of Bucknell University. One is to be elected by the general alumni body in April for a term of five years.

The candidates were carefully chosen from a larger group of nominees suggested by local alumni clubs, class presidents, class reporters, fund managers, members of the Board of Directors and the Alumni Fund Committee, as well as former alumni trustees and former presidents of the General Alumni Association. Well over 500 alumni were canvassed for suggestions. Furthermore, each issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS carried an outline of the procedure for nominating a candidate by petition.

After all suggested candidates have been listed the Alumni Office prepares a biographical record of each candidate. These records are examined and discussed by the nine-member Committee for the Selection of Alumni Trustee Candidates, following which each committee member by secret ballot records first, second, third, fourth and fifth choices. By weighting the choices on all ballots the three top candidates emerge. The candidates with their pictures and biographical records, then appear in the March issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS, and in April every alumnus with a known address receives a postage-free ballot for voting. After studying the election procedures at scores of colleges, a committee of alumni have come to the conclusion that Bucknell's plan is as democratic as it can possibly be. Believe it or not, there are still some colleges where the alumni board selects one candidate and submits his name to the Trustees for approval and election!

Alumni now serving on the Board of Trustees through election of that body, but who were originally nominated for membership by the General Alumni Association, include: Dr. Harvey F. Smith '94, Robert L. Rooke '13, Dr. Mary B. Harris '94, Berkeley V. Hastings '13, Dr. Mary M. Wolfe '96, William R. White '26, and Andrew R. Mathieson '20.

Alumni now serving on the Board of Trustees, on nomination by the General Alumni Association, are Russell E. Boyer '18 (1955); Dr. Arthur L. Brandon MA '27 (1956); Dr. Emma E. Dillon '15 (1957); Dr. Roy E. Nicodemus '25 (1958) and John C. Decker, Esq. '36 (1959). History has supplied ample evidence that the members of the Board of Trustees, from whatever source selected, serve not the Trustees, nor the Alumni Association, but the University, which is as it should be.

You are urged to exercise your prerogative to vote in a democratic election when you receive your ballot in April. Better study those biographical records now, for only the names and pictures of the candidates can be carried on the ballot. The ballot mailing will be a "double-duty" envelope mailer, providing for the return of the voter's ballot and a contribution to the Alumni Annual Giving Program in one postage-free envelope. Alumni do not need to contribute to be eligible to vote—this combination mailing is planned to save postage and will result in considerable saving on the outgoing and return envelopes.

Bunnell '00 Honored

DR. CHARLES E. BUNNELL '00

Dr. Charles E. Bunnell '00, H '25, occupies a prominent place in the January 25, 1955, issue of the Fairbanks, Alaska, Daily News-Miner. This issue is devoted entirely to the University of Alaska, which was established in 1921 with Dr. Bunnell as its head. He had for years dreamed of a university in Alaska and gave the next twenty-eight years of his life to building up this institution, which now is one of the recognized land-grant colleges of the country.

The University of Alaska, situated at Fairbanks, two hundred miles south of the Arctic Circle, is in a strategic position as far as the defense of North America is concerned. The Geophysical Institute, established there upon the recommendation of the National Research Council and housed in a million-dollar building, is making significant contributions to the study of the upper atmosphere, which presents serious problems in this part of the world. Mining and agricultural interests of Alaska, as well as the preparation of teachers for the Territory, have been important concerns of the University leaders.

In the early days the Alaska Agricultural College and School of Mines, as it was then called, had only a handful of students. Today the regular college population numbers 450. Two Community Colleges—at Anchorage and Ketchikan—along with a rapidly growing summer school and more than 1000 students in extension courses bring the attendance to approximately 2500. To meet the growing enrollment the Board of Regents is asking the Territorial Legislature for an appropriation of $6,000,000 for the current biennium.

Charles E. Bunnell, one of Bucknell's most eminent alumni, and by many considered the number one Alaska pioneer, entered on his career as a university president with a solid background of achievement. An outstanding Bucknell athlete and top student in his graduating class, he went to Alaska in 1900 as a teacher in a mission school. From there he moved to Valdez as principal. After five years he entered law and at the age of 37 was appointed by President Wilson judge of the Fourth Judicial District of Alaska. After seven years as judge, he became the University's first president, which position he held until his retirement in 1949.

This story may sound like a very tranquil step-by-step movement from one position to a higher one. Don't be deceived. He was a leader in practically every move for the educational, economic and moral improvement of Alaska, and no fighter like Charles Bunnell would have a tranquil life. Right now he is writing a history of the University.

Bucknell salutes this man of achievement.

Career of Ann Gilchrist Strong Spans Three Continents

We venture to say that not many Bucknellians can match the extensive career enjoyed by Mrs. Ann Gilchrist Strong of the Class of 1899, Dean Emeritus of the School of Home Science of the University of Otago in Dunedin, New Zealand.

Born in Carthage, Illinois, in 1875, with ancestors that included Edward Winslow, first governor of Massachusetts, who arrived on the Mayflower in 1620, and a descendant of Nathaniel Pope, a cousin of George Washington, Mrs. Strong apparently has always believed in keeping on the move. Her preparation for a teaching career included work at Bucknell University, Maryland College, Abbott Academy, Clarke University and Teachers College, Columbia University.

After such a diversified preparation, it was only natural for her to keep on the move. After teaching in Florida and Maryland in elementary schools, she later served at the University of Tennessee, University of the South, Cornell University, Cincinnati University, Columbia University, Kansas State College and in 1917 started a four-year teacher training program in Baroda, India. In 1921 she became professor of household arts at the University of Otago, Dunedin, New Zealand and twenty years later retired as Dean Emeritus of the University. She was granted the Order of the British Empire by King George in Tibet in 1937 and was awarded the Coronation medal by King Edward VIII.

In 1907 she married Benjamin Rush Strong. He died in 1911.

Prevented from returning to America by the frozen currency problem, Mrs. Strong still keeps in touch with Bucknell through correspondence and sent the following note with her most recent contribution to the Bucknell Alumni Annual Giving Program:

"I wish I might have revisited Bucknell when I returned to America four years ago but both time and money prevented it. I fear I am destined to end my days in New Zealand.

"Unfortunately, I have to spin out my small accumulation of funds not knowing how long I am destined to live, and we are not permitted to exchange New Zealand pounds for dollars, and I have but few of the latter, however I am enclosing a small cheque with my best wishes.

"I don't suppose many of the alumnae remember me, but Dr. Mary Wolfe probably will, also Dr. Mary Harris, daughter of the president in my day, and of course Morris Van Gundy who was a classmate. I had a letter from Professor Owens several years ago congratulating me on belonging to the Emeritus Club.

"With very best wishes for the future of Bucknell, and all Bucknellians.

"I am yours very sincerely.

MRS. ANN GILCHRIST STRONG, O.B.E."

Let's hope that even though Mrs. Strong cannot visit America that some Bucknellian will soon be able to visit her in New Zealand.

TO CORRECT OUR RECORDS

If your name on the back cover of this issue has you listed as a private, when you should be a colonel, or if you are long since out of the service . . . or . . . if the Miss should be a Mrs. or the Mr. should be a Dr., will you please send a note of correction to the Alumni Office.

HOPEFUL HOOPSTERS

1954-55 BUCKNELL VARSITY BASKETBALL SQUAD

(Left to Right)—John Beatty, Al Kenzie, Mike Corrigan, Herb Cox, Rick Johnson Norm Voorhees, Hank Shanley, Ben Slavitt, Joe Baccelli, Marty Tannenbaum, Don Wain, Ray Rappel, Manager Leo Eisner.

It was cold in Lewisburg during the month of January. The sun came out once in a while, but the snow never did melt completely. Sometimes your car wouldn't start in the morning. When the month drew to a close Ben Kribbs' Bison hoopsters were still hoping for a thaw and the end of their losing skein.

Hampered by a severe lack of height, Kribbs' sophomore-dominated club dropped its final December contest to Rutgers, lost five in a row in January and entered the month of February with a 1-9 record and nine losses in a row. The Bison varsity basketballers hadn't copped a verdict since their 102-87 opening night triumph over Albright.

It would be unfair to say that the Kribbsmen have played poorly. They have not. The Bison sophs have played a good brand of ball and, at times, have been excellent. The height disadvantage, however, has been terrific.

Against Lafayette, for instance, the Bucknellians enjoyed one of their best nights of the campaign, tallying 93 points and hitting on a fine percentage of their shots. The Maroon, however, sported a first-line combination that featured three men taller than 6'4". With only one man—6'4" John Beatty—taller than 6'4", the locals were completely out-manned and dropped the contest 117-93 as most of the Davis gym scoring records went down the drain.

Fortunately, things shouldn't go from bad to worse. The first half of the varsity hoop card was by far the toughest, and Kribbs' present charges still appear to be a good bet to better last winter's 4-16 basketball record.

Results since last issue of ALUMNUS:

Bucknell	87	Rutgers	89
Bucknell	45	Penn State	94
Bucknell	74	Muhlenberg	96
Bucknell	87	Gettysburg	92
Bucknell	93	Lafayette	117
Bucknell	70	Albright	76
Bucknell	68	Iona	90
Bucknell	65	N. Y. U.	82
Bucknell	72	Lafayette	81
Bucknell	81	Dickinson	82
Bucknell	95	Susquehanna	67
Bucknell	66	Juniata	70
Bucknell	54	Gettysburg	77

Feb. 23—At Pitt
Feb. 26—Lehigh
March 2—F. and M.
March 5—At Muhlenberg

Coaching Staff

Bucknell's battery of athletic coaches will be unchanged next year, according to an announcement made by Athletic Director Al Humphreys on Jan. 20.

Humphreys dismissed campus rumors that football mentor Harry Lawrence would not return by stating that Lawrence would be back again next fall along with all the other present Bucknell athletic tutors.

Returning to the helm of Orange and Blue teams next fall will be Lawrence, basketball and frosh grid coach Ben Kribbs, baseball, freshman basketball and grid line coach Bill Lane, soccer and tennis mentor Hank Peters, wrestling and grid backfield coach Smokey Ostendarp and track and intramural supervisor Bus Blum. Hal Biggs will serve as trainer.

Grid Draft

Bob Antkowiak, Marion Minker and Ron Lloyd, three 230-pound Bucknell tackles, were tapped for possible professional football duty by teams of the National Football League at the league's annual January "draft" meetings.

Minker, a Towson, Md. boy, was selected by the Baltimore Colts, Antkowiak, of Baltimore, Md., was picked by the Green Bay Packers, while the Philadelphia Eagles grabbed Lloyd, a Forty Fort, Pa. resident.

All three Bison linemen have indicated a willingness to "take a crack" at pro football, but obligated U. S. Army service after graduation will prevent extended play-for-pay careers for the boys in the near future.

Spring Sports Preview

In the Spring many a young man's fancy often turns to things other than it is supposed to. At Bucknell, for instance and in the very near future, the male collegian may soon find his fancy turning to such un-romantic things as baseball, track, tennis, golf and spring football.

With the advent of sunny weather and the disappearance of the white precipitation that held forth during January and February, some 120 Bucknell athletes will pour outdoors for participation in the extensive Spring sports program drawn up by Athletic Director Al Humphreys.

Mid-March football drills will open the door to two and one-half months of athletic activity that will continue until May 28, when final exams nail down the lid on all Bison sports participation for another school year.

BASEBALL

Strong pitching performances by right-hander Jack Flurer and southpaw Don Richards should carry Bucknell's diamond squad to a highly successful season, according to baseball coach Bill Lane.

Lane, who hit the spheroid far and often when he was a Bucknell undergrad, feels that this spring's Bison baseball team will be one of the best of the post-war era. Connie Mack says that pitching is 75 percent of the game, and Lane agrees. He has the pitchers.

Behind Richards and Flurer, Lane has Tom King, Keith Tucker and sophs Bob Beck and Howie Sipler. With a sound pitching staff and some timely hits from fellows like catcher Rich McFarland, first baseman Bob Whitehead, outfielder Roy Rangnow and second sacker and captain George Klaunder, the Bison mentor looks for his team to improve on last year's 8-7-1 record.

TRACK

Bucknell's 1955 track team will be an interesting combination that should make things tough for all opponents. Last year the Bison cindermen copped two of five dual or triangular meets. This spring they should do as well, if not better.

Veteran coach Bus Blum will be especially strong in the sprints and in some of the field events. Ed Burg and captain Frank Vanderhoof, who did well last year, will again hold forth in the 100 and 220. Blum also looks for good work from Mid-Atlantic high jump champ Harold Smith.

Returning for duty in the shot put and pole vaulting events are Ron Lloyd and Tom Sprague. Both were stalwarts last spring. Blum also holds sophomore distance runner Art Saunders in high regard. The track tutor hopes that the soph will be able to pick up some of the slack in his weakest area—the middle and long distance runs.

TENNIS

Hank Peters has often found it a bit difficult to scrape together enough capable tennis players to form a Bison team. He has made it each spring, however, and usually with a winner.

This year things will be different. No searching is necessary. Eleven boys have indicated a desire to play tennis this season and a dog-fight is already shaping up for positions on the squad, and a chance to take part in the extensive schedule of 20 matches.

Peters' charges ran up a 10-4 record against the East's best last year, and the Bison coach hopes his team can duplicate that fine performance again this spring. He expects Colgate, Navy, Penn State and Syracuse to be particularly tough.

(Continued on Page 23)

LETTERS

How Big Should Bucknell Be?

To the Editor:

Personally, I've always hankered for the intimacy of small enrollments. I'd prefer a small student population and a continuing growth in quality. Let Columbia, UCLA, Penn, Penn State and the rest battle for the "biggest" honors: Bucknell should strive for aces in well-rounded, intelligent graduates who never tire in their search for the basic truths.

The comment in the ALUMNUS mentions the "prestige" of a big school. "Prestige" is a hollow, hollow term, and the "prestige of bigness" is something that I thought passed away with the bull market of 1929. But here it rears its one-eyed head once again.

I have observed and worked with some graduates of "big" universities who should never have had a high school diploma judging from the inadequacy of their basic elementals. Somehow, in the hurly-burly of the "big" school, they were able to hide these deficiencies and graduate.

Bucknell students and alumni should strive to build a bigger endowment aimed at providing a higher standard of living for a teaching force geared to the quality of an intimate, small-class relationship.

This could go on and on, Buck, but enough for now.

Best regards,

VIC OLEYAR '32

To the Editor:

Each issue of the ALUMNUS reports the continuing growth of Bucknell, both in size and stature. I, for one, hope the student body will not go much beyond three thousand. Those of us who graduated ump-teen years ago sought, among other things, the intimate atmosphere of the "small" college. There must be change and progress, of course, but Bucknell will lose much that is precious, even though intangible, if it approaches the "big" school idea. This Bucknell couple would like to see our school the "biggest" of the smaller colleges—big in philosophy, big in quality of faculty, big in calibre of students. This type of growth can continue within the confines of a small student body. With all due respect to Mr. Hill '53, may I enter a protest against state aid, which is rarely given without state supervision. There is nothing wrong with state-governed education for those who seek it—but not at Bucknell, please.

We wish all of you on the "Hill" a very Happy New Year!

Sincerely yours,

RUTH LORET FOSTER '39

Reunions

Dear Classmates of Bucknell:

I'm still on Cloud No. 7, after our wonderful twentieth reunion week-end in Lewisburg! What a good time we had! I made a last minute decision to drive over alone and as I whizzed through the Pennsylvania countryside, fragrant with clover and honeysuckle, I sang (fortunately I was alone!) "Gonna Take a Sentimental Journey" and "Ray Bucknell" (the only school song I could seem to remember, except for a few dubious fraternity ditties!) But the nearer I came to Lewisburg, the more my convictions oozed away. I became alarmingly certain that the trip was a mistake, that I wouldn't know anybody (and worse for the ego, that nobody would know me! Ha!), that I couldn't find a place to stay (I'm the improvident type—hadn't made a reservation anywhere), that the business sessions would be solemn (they weren't!), that the Alumni Luncheon would be interminable (under Emily Devine Kelly it had sparkle!) and the Commencement Play wouldn't be as good as in "the good old days" (how wrong can you be?).

I drove up to Hotel Lewisburger at 9:30 Friday night (I always had a sort of yen to stay there but never had a chance while I lived at the Sem) and presented myself, disheveled and dusty, at the desk. Certainly I could have a room! Of course, the shower was about a quarter of a mile toward Mifflinburg, but I managed.

The moment I drove onto the campus, the old enchantment began working. There were the oaks and dried-up Buffalo Run, the cool bricks and the sun-dappled grass. And all of you, even from California and Iowa, sauntering up and down the Hill.

All this was before I registered. (You'd never know the old Library—it has a shiny new bookstore). But from that moment on, memories gave way to real people—our classmates—looking blessed familiar (even if we did have to peer at name cards) and radiating poise and energy and accomplishments. I wish I could tell you what a delight it was to remember and be remembered, for your activities of twenty years ago, for your friendships, for the funny things you shared, for classes gotten through together, for long-buried memories that needed only a familiar face to come surging back.

I had been picturing us as I saw us in 1934, tentative, a little defensive, feeling inadequate when we stopped to think about making our way in a depression world, expressing boundless confidence when we didn't, callow, uninformed, naive and, of course, completely enchanting when seen through the mist of memory.

The reality was better. There were the same faces, etched and shadowed by struggle and success. There were the same outreachings of acquaintances who might have been friends twenty years ago, if campus politics had been different or individualities had been more resilient. There were the realized potentials, having grown from trace elements in the personalities into firm characteristics. ("I always knew you'd be a success at that.") There were the surprises ("How did you get into that field?" "I didn't know you were interested in that." "When did you start with that company?"). And best of all, there was the ease with which we met, as adults, with the security of years, if not of success, behind us, no axes to grind, no rivalries to pursue, able to delight unreservedly in each other's company.

Oh, you'd have been glad of your classmates, as I was. And you'd already be looking forward to your next reunion and vowing not to miss it for the world.

With love to you all,

Dot KESTER '34

To the Editor:

My wife and I enjoyed the Alumni Weekend very much. It was most pleasant seeing people that I hadn't seen for twenty-five years. The Silver Anniversary booklet entitled "6,000 Years of '29" that Paul Fink, the Alumni Office, and others worked so hard on has brought me much pleasure and the pages are well thumbed by now. In fact I was so stimulated that this summer our family traveled all the way out to Geneseo, Illinois, to visit my old college roommate, Charles H. Rivenburg '29 of Glee Club fame and his family, who could not attend, but were listed in the book.

Very sincerely yours,

HORACE J. SHEPPARD '29

The Curriculum: Then

To the Editor:

I was very much interested in the article "The Curriculum: Then, Now, and Tomorrow," appearing in the November issue of THE ALUMNUS. While it is true that a large part of the curriculum, 70 years ago, was assigned to the traditional Latin, Greek, and Mathematics, the required list of studies included also French, German, English Literature, English History, Anthropology, Rhetoric, Logic, Botany, Zoology, Physiology, Geology, Chemistry, Physics, Astronomy, Psychology, Philosophy and Ethics. Besides, there were elective courses in other modern languages and science. Two literary societies, Euepia, and Theta Alpha, called for debating, which was usually enthusiastic, and "oratory." It will be admitted that this program had breadth; of course the extent and depth of today's program were not possible.

As the surviving member of the first graduating class of Bucknell (1887), I pay loyal tribute to the faithful and inspiring faculty of nine professors, who taught a study body of less than 100.

WALTER S. HARLEY '87

Richards' Address Hits 29 States

Back in February of 1954, Earl M. Richards '13, who has since retired as Vice President of Republic Steel Corporation, addressed a meeting of the Bucknell Business Forum at Sunbury, Pa. on the subject, "The Iron Ore Outlook of the United States." Having made a career of looking ahead for Republic and having had a hand in the now famous Labrador-Quebec project, not to mention the St. Lawrence Seaway project, what Earl had to say was important.

"Iron Age", the leading trade magazine in the field, reported the speech almost in toto. As a result, the Bucknell University Press decided that the speech should be given permanent form and consequently published it.

As with all such publications, it was eventually noted in the various lists of new publications by which librarians keep pace with the constant flow of new material. Consequently, the University Press became deluged with requests for the pamphlet.

At this writing, nearly a year after the booklet was published, requests are still coming in. To date copies have been mailed to college, public and private libraries in 29 states, the District of Columbia and British Columbia. Nearly two thousand copies in all have been distributed.

There are still a few copies available for any Alumni who may care to have them. Simply address your request to Bucknell University Press, Lewisburg, Pennsylvania.

Bucknell Birthday Celebrated Far and Wide

At least 25 Bucknell Alumni Clubs held special meetings in February to celebrate Bucknell's 109th anniversary of the granting of the University Charter. The exact date of the birthday was February 5, and eight of our clubs were able to meet on that evening.

The highlight of the celebration on the campus was the annual dinner of the Alumni Clubs of Lewisburg and Milton at which a reception for President and Mrs. Odgers was held. Dr. J. Orin Oliphant, professor of history, delivered the address of the evening on the subject, "Union County Residents Abroad During the 1850's." Other campus events celebrating the Charter Day Anniversary included the student chapel services on Wednesday, February 9 at which the speaker was Dr. Roland O. Hudson '24, and the second annual newsmen's conference, which was held on the campus on February 9, 10, 11.

Local Alumni Clubs that scheduled meetings on or near the birthday date included Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Harrisburg, Wilmington, Long Island, Sharon, Johnstown, Rochester, Philadelphia, York, Chambersburg, Providence, St. Petersburg, Endicott, New York, Erie, Lock Haven, Syracuse, South Jersey, Lancaster, New York, Bellefonte, Schenectady, Pittsfield, Lehigh Valley and Scranton. A number of clubs in other localities are planning birthday celebrations in the early Spring, when driving conditions are likely to be more favorable.

A number of the members of the campus family sacrificed their short weekend of release from class duties between semesters to visit alumni clubs as speakers. President Odgers, besides the Union County dinner, traveled to Philadelphia, New York and Scranton for club meetings. A special feature of the New York dinner and reception was the concert of the Bucknell University Men's Glee Club at the Park Sheraton Hotel. Other club speakers included Dean Malcolm E. Musser, Dr. C. Herschel Jones, Dr. Walter H. Sauvain, Professor John F. Zeller, III, Dr. James A. Gathings, Alfred H. Fenton, Professor Robert A. Gardner, Dr. C. Willard Smith, Professor John S. Gold, Dr. Paul E. Witmeyer and Albert E. Humphreys. The alumni secretary appeared at five of the club dinners.

The attendance at all of the alumni club meetings was encouraging and showed that alumni who find it difficult to return to the campus for Homecoming and Alumni Reunion Weekends do appreciate the opportunities presented when the campus, through faculty speakers, is brought to the local community. The willingness of faculty members to travel to club centers is greatly appreciated by the Bucknellians everywhere.

HARRISBURG—The Harrisburg Club had an average attendance of thirty-five at its dinner meetings held the first Thursday of each month, October through December at the Central Y. M. C. A. "Buck" Shott and Mrs. Shott visited the October meeting where Buck gave an interesting account of campus happenings and the current program of the Alumni Association. The Club learned that Carl Sprout '08 and Frank Haas '47, members of the Harrisburg Club, have been elected to the Board of Directors of the Association. November featured dial films showing the new long distance dial system of Bell Telephone, and Reverend Morton Glise, pastor of the Paxton Presbyterian Church, spoke at the December meeting. Bruce

Butt '16 presented the January program "Energy Is Our Business."

Our guest in February was Dean of Men, Malcolm E. Musser, who gave us much interesting information concerning the various activities, recent physical improvements and scholastic standards on the campus.

Officers for the 1955 season were elected in December. Jack Miller '52 will be president; Mrs. William Barnes (Betty Cleckner '45), vice-president; Norma Gotwalt '52, secretary; and William Fearen '50, treasurer.

M. NANCY GETTMAN '46, Secretary

ST. PETERSBURG—The annual dinner of the Bucknell Alumni Club of St. Petersburg was held on Feb. 5th, at the Hotel Pennsylvania. There were twenty-four in attendance. The president, Dr. J. Earle Edwards '10 gave the invocation.

Welcomed as guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Stabler '23 of Endicott, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Brownell, of Lewisburg; Mrs. Sarah Ray Way who brought as her guests—Mrs. Ralph Stevens and Mrs. Needles of Cape May, N. J.; Mr. Cruikshank, father of Mary Jane Graves '46, and a son who graduated in '48. Dr. Woodruff '90 of Selinsgrove came with his daughter, Mrs. Martin and his grandson. Mr. and Mrs. Entz also joined us.

Messages were read from Dr. Rivenburg and Raymond Pierson of Daytona Beach; from Rev. Walter Hilton who has recently retired and now lives in Avon Park; from other Bucknellians there were letters and clippings. Two weddings were announced of local interest. Bob Weiss, who went to Bucknell before going to Korea, is taking his bride to Gainesville where both are in the University.

The son of our own Frank Brown was married last week, and he will soon go to Germany.

Dr. Edwards distinguished himself as a master of ceremonies and succeeded in getting a speech out of everyone present.

After a social time we adjourned to meet on April 2nd for the annual picnic at Lake Maggiore at noon.

RUTH S. PORTER '05, Secretary

PITTSBURGH—The walls bulged at Childs Restaurant in Pittsburgh when the Bucknellians got together for their annual Christmas luncheon on December 23.

We are sorry to announce the passing of Wesley A. Wolfe '11, who for 35 years was one of our most active and honored members. It will indeed be a strange sight to see Bullet's empty chair at our weekly luncheons. He is survived by his wife, Mae Wolfe.

The Western Pennsylvania alumni are proud that one of their members, James A. Replogle '26, is a candidate for Alumni Trustee.

At a recent meeting, Craig Waldner '40, who for the past year has done an excellent job as president, announced the officers for the forthcoming year. They are: George Miller '48, President; Floyd Arhogast '40, Vice President; Jack Rickart '52, Treasurer; Chuck Larson '51, Secretary.

Bucknellians got together for the Bucknell vs. Pitt basketball game on Feb. 23 and for a luncheon with Bucknell Alumnae on Feb. 24. Bob Kelchner, our dance chairman, states that this year's Birthday Ball April 23 is bound to be a big success.

See you all Thursday at 12 o'clock. Childs Restaurant, Fifth and Smithfield Streets, Pittsburgh for our weekly luncheon meeting.

CHUCK LARSON '51, Secretary

Bucknell Teachers Meet

Bucknellians in the educational field met for their annual P. S. E. A. convention luncheon in Harrisburg, December 27, and were addressed by Mr. Glenwood J. Crist '41, supervising principal of Montgomery-Clinton schools.

Dr. Walter H. Sauvain, head of the Department of Education, presided and then introduced other Department of Education members. They included: Dr. Frank G. Davis '11, Dr. Paul E. Witmeyer, Dr. J. Charles Jones '42, and Dr. Nicholas F. Troisi.

Mr. Crist, in what might well have been the keynote speech of the convention, pointed out the leading problems facing the public schools of Pennsylvania. Recalling that one-third of the school children of the Commonwealth are attending only one-half day school sessions and that one-third are improperly housed, he noted that the median annual salary of $3800 places Pennsylvania in twenty-seventh rank among the states. The need for 18,000 dedicated teachers can be met only by a prompt upward salary adjustment.

"Steamboats on the Susquehanna"

Dr. J. Orin Oliphant, Professor of History, has written a lively report on "The First Steamboats on the Upper Susquehanna River" which is being published in the Proceedings of the Northumberland County Historical Society, Volume XX (1954), pp. 71-105.

Bucknellians Hold Monthly Luncheon in New York

Bucknellians who live or work in Manhattan and visitors to the city are cordially invited to attend the informal monthly luncheons. They are held on the last Wednesday of each month at the Hotel Shelburne, 37th St. and Lexington Ave.

Here are the details for the next luncheon:

DATE: Wednesday, March 30, 1955.

HOUR: 12:15 p. m.

PLACE: Hotel Shelburne
37th St. and Lexington Ave.
New York 16, N. Y.

We must tell the hotel what facilities we need so please call or write Mrs. Emily Devine Kelly '21, 1569 Metropolitan Ave., New York 62 (Underhill 3-5029) that you will be with us.

Remember this luncheon is planned for all Bucknellians, both men and women. Last minute reservations (up to 11 a. m. on the day of the luncheon) should be phoned to Mrs. Amorita Sesinger Copeland '22 at Murray Hill 2-2505.

JUNE ALUMNI REUNIONS BEING PLANNED

Campus and Class Committees at Work

As we go to press, your campus committee of alumni, faculty and students has held several important meetings to plan the program for alumni reunions to be held on the campus on June 10, 11, 12, 13, 1955.

Your campus committee of planners as at present constituted includes Mr. Raymond K. Irwin '44, chairman, director of placement bureau; Mr. Alfred H. Fenton, assistant to the President; Mrs. Brown Focht (Florence Utt '26), director, General Alumni Association; Mr. Walter C. Geiger '34, superintendent of grounds and buildings; Mr. John H. Shott '22, alumni secretary; Mr. Fitz R. Walling '46, admissions counselor; Mr. Allan Flock, assistant professor of music education; Mr. Richard Klaber '55, class president; Miss Mary B. Told '55, president, women's student government association; Dr. Mark C. Ebersole, assistant professor of religion; Mr. Charles A. Hollister, assistant professor of political science; Mr. Russell E. Dennis, bursar; Miss Grace W. Coulton, director of women's residences; Mr. Donald B. Young '33, comptroller; Mrs. E. B. Long (Esther Baumgartner '47), director of food service. Other campus organizations and offices will be represented in the later phases of the reunion planning.

Classes Organizing Too

While alumni reunion day scheduled for Saturday, June 11, is planned for all alumni of all classes there are certain groups that are emphasizing five-year reunions. In this group are the Emeritus Class (all alumni who have graduated 50 or more years ago), the Classes of 1900, 1905 (the golden anniversary class), 1910, 1915, 1920, 1925, 1930 (the silver anniversary class), 1935, 1940, 1945, 1950, 1954 (the first year class), and the graduating seniors of the Class of 1955. Eight of the reuniting classes had representatives at a reunion planning session held last October during Homecoming Weekend, and it is evident that all of the reunion groups are making plans to assure you that your weekend on the campus will provide maximum opportunities for reuniting and reminiscing. Since the October organizing meeting, a number of class group planners have spent weekends on the campus in Alumni Headquarters planning the details of the various class programs.

It is evident that more groups than ever plan to produce an anniversary issue of the L'Agenda. These books, portraying the history of the class from graduation day to the present time, are proving to be one of the highlights of the reunion weekend. Individual class members are already receiving questionnaires that will provide the information to appear in the anniversary book, which will be distributed to classmates on Alumni Day, June 11.

A Full Program

Your campus committee, after surveying the alumni who attended alumni reunion programs on the campus during the past two years, is attempting to organize activities most pleasing to reunioners. The tentative program is shown on this page. We suggest that you look over the many interesting events that have been scheduled. Generally speaking, the only conflict of events occurs on Saturday evening when you are offered the opportunity of attending the Cap and Dagger production or the Campus Jamboree and Entertainment. Actually, there are always more than enough alumni on campus to guarantee full houses at both these events, but in recent years neither function has played to a full house. We feel sure that most alumni prefer to attend one or the other of these events, but find that when they reach the campus and enter the convivial atmosphere of the reunion other programs of entertainment present themselves with the result the planned functions are not well attended. Your planning committee has decided that for another year both these events will be continued, but their inclusion in future reunion programs will depend upon the support they receive this June.

Dormitories Available

No longer is it necessary for you to search from one end of town to the other to find suitable overnight room accommodations. A large part of the University dormitory facilities are available on a first-come—first-served basis for you and your family. Many alumni prefer to return to the dormitory atmosphere for the reunion weekend. One word of caution is necessary, however. These facilities cannot be guaranteed unless they are reserved in advance. A reservation form for both rooms and luncheons will be included in the next (May, 1955) issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS. We would suggest that you fill out your reservation form as soon as it is received on May 1, and send it back promptly so that adequate room and luncheon arrangements can be made for you. Of course, rooms in private homes in Lewisburg are at your disposal as always and can be reserved on the same reservation slip, if you desire. The nearby hotels tell us they are already booked to capacity, so we cannot offer you reservation service in local hotels.

NOW IT IS UP TO YOU

So there's the deal! Everything will be done to make your visit to the campus an interesting and pleasant experience. Joe will be there. Mary will be there. Why not check with Harry and Kate in your own community and make up a car pool for the big weekend of the year in June, 1955?

We'll be looking for you—don't forget to make your reservations in advance.

ALUMNI REUNION AND COMMENCEMENT WEEKEND—1955

June 10, 11, 12 and 13, 1955

FRIDAY, JUNE 10

2:00 to 12:00 p. m. REGISTRATION of Alumni, securing of room reservations and tickets—Lounge, Carnegie Building
6:30 p. m. Buffet supper meeting for class and club officers
7:00 p. m. Meeting of Athletic Advisory Committee
8:30 p. m. Meeting of Board of Directors, General Alumni Association
9:00 p. m. Meeting of Board of Directors, Executive Committee of Bison Club

SATURDAY, JUNE 11

9:00 to 4:00 p. m. REGISTRATION of Alumni, securing rooms, etc. Lounge, Carnegie Building
8:00 a. m. Bison Club Breakfast
8:30 a. m. Phi Beta Kappa Breakfast
9:30 a. m. Annual Assembly, General Alumni Association
10:30 a. m. Class Reunion Meetings

12:00 Noon Alumni Parade
12:30 p. m. All-Alumni Reunion Luncheon
3:00 p. m. Individual Class Socials
6:00 p. m. Annual Fraternity and Sorority Symposia
8:00 p. m. Cap and Dagger Production—"Mr. Roberts"
9:00 p. m. Commencement Jamboree and Reception (Entertainment and Dancing for Alumni, Faculty, Students and Parents)

SUNDAY, JUNE 12

3:30 p. m. Band Concert
4:00 p. m. President's Reception for Seniors, Parents, Faculty, Alumni and Friends
8:00 p. m. BACCALAUREATE SERVICES

MONDAY, JUNE 13

9:30 a. m. Formation of Class Procession
10:00 a. m. COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Pennsylvania Industry Helps Bucknell

Bucknell is one of 40 Pennsylvania Colleges and Universities making a joint appeal to industry in the State these days—with definite success.

The idea of State Associations for soliciting funds from industry was originated in Indiana in 1948 when two College Presidents managed to obtain two gifts totalling $15,000. Since that time, 32 State Associations representing 36 States have obtained 3,890 gifts totalling $5,836,587.

The Pennsylvania group, called the Foundation For Independent Colleges, Inc., was incorporated in June of 1952 with Horace A. Hildreth, President of Bucknell as its first President. As of December 31, 1954 the 40 Colleges had obtained 225 gifts for $233,313.

This sum, divided among 40 Colleges does not go very far, but the plan nevertheless can be acclaimed as a definite success because of the obvious interest in the problems of the small, independent colleges of the State which the effort has aroused. During the academic year 1954-55, the Pennsylvania Foundation will undoubtedly double its income over the previous year, and furthermore more educational work will have been accomplished which should pay off in future years.

The most heartening advance to date has been the gift of $40,000 by the United States Steel Corporation, which put the Foundation off to a flying start for 1954-55.

All solicitation is made by the Presidents of the member institutions, under the guidance of an Executive Director with offices at Harrisburg. This past fall, taking a leaf from the Indiana book, the Pennsylvania Presidents made mass attacks on industry in the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia areas. More than 30 Presidents spent three days in each city and made more than 400 calls on the leading business executives of the State. Bucknell, being without a President at the time, was represented by Alfred H. Fenton, Assistant to the President. The interviews were most encouraging. Since the calls had been arranged in advance, executives were quite willing to give the Presidents as much time as they desired. As a result, these more than 400 executives are well indoctrinated in the problems of the small, independent college.

The joint appeal that these 40 colleges can make is impressive. For example, 80% of top leadership in business and industry is now college trained. Of these men and women, 71% come from private institutions.

The 40 Colleges spend, on the average, $988 per year to educate each student. The latter, in turn, pays on the average $688 for his education. The difference, approximately 30% is made up from endowment income and gifts. In addition, these member colleges provide $662,577 from endowment income and $1,556,389 from operating income for scholarships each year. One student in every three is the recipient of scholarship aid.

On the dark side of the picture, the average salary for a full professor at these 40 colleges is only $5,114 per year. Associate professors get an average of $4,187; assistant professors $3,859 and instructors $3,319.

"Coxey" Thompson Dies in Florida

Robert W. Thompson, known to thousands of Bucknellians as "Coxey", died, January 22, in Saint Anthony Hospital, St. Petersburg, Florida. He had been on a visit to his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brandiff '27, over the Christmas holidays.

Few men have been closer to the University or have been more helpful as student and alumnus than Coxey. A graduate of the Class of 1904, he served as alumni class president and alumni class fund manager and was the reunion chairman when his class celebrated its 50th reunion on the campus last June.

During his student days, he served as manager of the varsity football team and since his graduation had been active on the athletic council and later the athletic advisory committee. He attended the most recent meeting of the committee in December, 1954, and was instrumental in bringing back to the campus last Homecoming Day a group of a dozen former football players of 50 years ago.

He founded the Peerless Laundry at Lewisburg and State College in 1916, and continued it in operation until 1953 when he sold his interest in the company.

Always interested in youth, as exemplified by his years of service on the Lewisburg school board, Coxey was one of the founders of the Susquehanna Valley Area Council of Boy Scouts in 1921. He was also the first man in the local area to receive the Silver Beaver award in 1930, the first year the award was authorized nationally.

The University and his classmates extend heartfelt sympathy to his survivors, his daughter, Mrs. Raymond Brandiff (Camille Thompson '24); a sister, Mrs. Sarah T. Steele, Irwin; a brother, Henry C. Thompson '08, Beaver Falls.

Stan Butterworth Named Redskin Alumnus

The Washington Redskins learned to their sorrow recently that Stan Butterworth '53 won't be playing football with them next season. The reason: polio.

Some weeks ago, a club official had written Stan Butterworth, of Woodbury, now in the Army and a former defensive half-back at Bucknell, asking whether he still wished to play professional football. Butterworth signed with the Redskins in 1953 but went into the Army before the season opened.

The club received this answer from Butterworth:

"I originally planned to join you after my discharge," he wrote. "This past fall . . . I was stricken with polio and am now in an Army hospital in Denver. I'm progressing fairly well, but I will never be able to play football again."

Washington General Manager Richard McCann said as far as the club is concerned, Butterworth is a Redskin "alumnus."

"He'll be our guest at any Redskin game he wants to attend and will enjoy dressing room visiting privileges the same as other former players," McCann said.

After graduating from Bucknell, where he was a standout gridder, he enlisted in the Air Force and was assigned to an air base at Denver.

With football still uppermost in his mind, he tried out for the base team and played a great game for the Denver Flyers. Stricken ill shortly after the season, his illness was diagnosed as polio and his grid career came to an abrupt end.

Stan is convalescing at Fitzsimmons Army Hospital, Ward 2-W, Denver, Colorado.

Twenty Years Ago

During Homecoming, President Homer P. Rainey announced the definite plans for Bucknell's Centennial year, including a $6,000,000 Building Program. The program included a renovation of Taylor Hall. They should see it now!!! Taylor Hall has just been renovated again; it looks like a new building.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

- March 4—W. A. A. and B. Club—Sadie Hawkins Day Dance
- March 5—Music Department Festival
- March 11—Senior Prom
- March 12—Burma-Bucknell Weekend
- March 13—Burma-Bucknell Weekend
- March 17—Merck-Bucknell Chemistry Lecture
- March 18—Junior Class—Donkey Basketball
- March 19—Artist Course—Don Cossack Chorus
- March 20—Methodist State Student Group Meeting
- March 23—Bucknell Business Forum Dinner
- March 24-25-26—University Players present "Carousel"
- March 27—Baptist Student Movement Conference
- April 1-2—Demic Play—"Look Me in the Eye"
- April 7—Spring Recess begins—11 a. m.
- April 11—Spring Recess ends—8 a. m.
- April 23—Pennsylvania State Council of Geography Teachers
Bucknell Pre-Medical Society Conference on Medical Education
- April 25—University Band Concert—Am. Soc. Civ. Engr. Meeting
- April 27—Moving Up Day
- April 29-30—Houseparty Weekend; Am. Soc. Engr. Ed.
- May 6-7-8—Spring Festival—Cap and Dagger—"Mr. Roberts;" Glee Club Concerts;
Crowning of May Queen
- May 31-June 8—Final Examinations
- June 11—Alumni Reunion Day; Cap and Dagger—"Mr. Roberts"
- June 12—Baccalaureate
- June 13—Commencement

Scholarships, Student Aids Total $150,712

Scholarships and other student aid awarded by Bucknell University during the past college year totalled $150,712.

Of this amount $87,687 was granted in the form of scholarships, while $63,025 was received by students in the form of compensation for student service.

Scholarship grants, including both graduate and undergraduate awards, went to 195 students or about 10 per cent of the student body. Financial need of the applicant is the principal consideration in the awarding of scholarships by the Student Aid Committee.

The number of students employed by the University totalled 403. Approximately 100 of these earned at least 25 per cent of their college expenses. Most of the students employed were upperclassmen, since Bucknell does not normally engage freshmen for student service.

In all, 775 individuals received some form of aid, either in the form of grants or employments.

Once more, gifts to Bucknell from alumni, friends, foundation, and business firms enabled the University to close its fiscal year with a slight operating surplus. This surplus amounted to $7,140.

Industry's New Attitude Towards Higher Learning

Recognizing that the future of the nation may well be in the hands of institutions of higher learning, U. S. industry has adopted a whole new attitude towards higher education in the past few years and set up a series of plans to give help to colleges and universities.

With the announcement of a $2,000,000-a-year gift program by General Motors, TIME, the weekly newsmagazine, says in the Jan. 24 issue, "one thing had become clear: U. S. industry was well started on a program to give help to U. S. colleges and universities—and therefore to help itself . . . Though U. S. corporations are far from using up the 5% tax exemption allowed (they use less than 1% for all types of philanthropy), they have obviously adopted a whole new attitude . . . as practical and down-to-earth as a balance sheet."

Nearly half the nation's private colleges are running in the red. U. S. campuses will need at least $3,570,000,000 before 1960 for plant construction alone and it will take $5,500,000,000 merely to house the estimated jump in enrollments by 1970.

Until the crisis became so acute, most companies were satisfied to fund a few scholarships and professorships or research projects related to their own work.

What Companies Are Doing

Of all the plans in effect so far, TIME says, none is more comprehensive or generous than General Motors', which adds $2,000,000 to the $2,500,000 already being spent annually on special training, fellowship, and research.

Other programs:

Lord Motor Co. finances about 70 scholarships a year for the sons and daughters of employees and also gives $500 annually to each private college or university the student happens to choose.

The Gulf, Mobile & Ohio Railroad has given more than $125,000 since 1951 to private college along its route.

Du Pont now pours $2,500 grants into the chemistry departments of 50 different campus, expects to give in various ways $800,000 this year.

The Radio Corp. of America will pay for 26 scholarships (at $800) this year.

Standard Oil Co. (N. J.) spread $450,000 over 138 campuses plus $50,000 for the National Fund for Medical Education last year.

Union Carbide's plan: $50,000 for 400 scholarships to more than 30 colleges.

Standard Oil Co. (Ind.) gave more than $350,000 in 1954, matches its scholarships with equal gifts to each campus.

U. S. Steel last year gave $700,000 in unrestricted gifts.

Bethlehem Steel since 1953 has given $321,000 to the colleges—if privately endowed—of young employees completing its collegiate training program.

The Columbia Broadcasting System is giving $32,000 to the alma maters of its own selected executives.

General Electric has promised to match every employee's gift to his own college up to $1,000, will spend "substantially more" than $1,000,000 in 1955.

Time, Incorporated matches the total tuition paid by Time employees enrolled in college courses.

Introducing Touche

This semester marks the birth of a new literary magazine, Touche, on Bucknell's campus. The staff has been striving diligently to create a magazine which will become a Bucknell tradition, and will take its place beside such beloved collegiate creations as the Froth, the Princetonian, and the Yale Record.

So far our biggest problem has been to discover of what permanently popular literature consists. What is it that makes a college magazine "tick"?

Variety is an essential requirement for a good periodical. The fact that human beings are individuals, each demanding a different kind of literature, makes life difficult for the staff of a magazine. To achieve variety in this realm it is necessary to diversify in types of literary composition, writing styles, moods, layouts, and illustrations. Touche's layout will also be modernized, the magazine becoming fuller in content and larger in size. We are experimenting with advertisements, hoping to make them a readable part of the whole, rather than just a necessary addition.

Of course, it is obvious that the best magazine in the world is unsuccessful unless it sells. Good publicity is another part of the prosperous magazine's foundation. Interest must be cultivated; once aroused, it must be fed regularly, or it dies slowly and inevitably. A great deal of a college magazine's popularity comes from its being a product of everyone concerned with the college. It contains a part of everything with which the readers are intimately acquainted.

We are trying to integrate Touche into the whole of that which is Bucknell, for we feel this is the feature which will sell it. To gain the interest of Bucknellians we held a name contest, from which the name Touche was derived. Our alumni clubs have been provided with copies of our first issue.

The new Bucknell magazine is quite naked yet, like a newborn baby. We have many aspirations, many dreams, and we hope, much determination. Our aim is to give Bucknell a magazine that will "tick." To student, faculty, alumni, and all Bucknellians we give Touche. It has been created for you to develop. We are poor midwives with little experience in our field.

Doctors Still For Bucknell

Doctors for Bucknell, that fast-growing organization of Bucknell Alumni in medicine and allied fields, are losing no time in preparing for their third annual meeting at Homecoming, 1955. Already they have engaged Dr. Joseph C. Hinsey, Director of The New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center, to be guest speaker at the annual banquet to be held Saturday evening, November 5, after the Colgate football game.

Dr. Hinsey is an international figure in the field of medicine and previous to appointment to his present position, served as Dean of the Cornell University Medical School and Professor of Anatomy. He agreed to come to Bucknell next fall at the request of Dr. Cornelius E. Sedgwick '36, a surgeon on the staff of the Lahey Clinic at Boston.

Doctors for Bucknell have also arranged for four members of the Temple University Medical School Faculty to come to the campus on Saturday, April 23, for an all-day conference with Bucknell's pre-medical students. The arrangements were started by Dr. William F. Darkes '27 of Orwigsburg, who had suggested the idea of giving our pre-medical students an opportunity of learning what lies ahead of them.

The conference will be staged by the newly formed Bucknell Pre-Medical Society, which also was created at the suggestion of Doctors for Bucknell.

Bucknell to Present Summer Guidance Workshop

The Bucknell Department of Education will offer in the summer of 1955 the most thoroughly-staffed guidance workshop in the history of the institution. It will be headed by Frank G. Davis, Professor of Education, assisted by J. Charles Jones, Assistant Professor of Education, both specialists in the personnel and guidance field.

The workshop will bring to the campus such outstanding specialists as Daniel A. Prescott, University of Maryland; Robert Hoppock, New York University; Esther Lloyd-Jones, Columbia University; Mabel Grier Lesher, specialist in family relations, Lewisburg; Pearl S. Norris, supervisor of counseling in Philadelphia Elementary Schools; Frank L. Sievers, Executive Secretary of American Personnel and Guidance Association, Washington, D. C.; N. Harry Camp, Director of Clinical Services and Counselor Training in the Public Schools of Baltimore County, Maryland.

Opportunity will be provided for students to earn from two to six hours of professional credit leading toward the counselor's certificate in Pennsylvania and neighboring states.

The Bucknell Review

The first 1954-1955 issue of The Bucknell Review, formerly Bucknell University Studies, is off the press. The new editor of the Review is Professor Gladys E. Cook. The Review contains four articles: "Sound and Sense in Four Saints in Three Acts" by Professor Harry R. Carvin; "Francis James: a Reconsideration," by Professor Douglas Orrok; "Towards a Re-examination of Eden as a Scientist," by Professor Harold W. Miller; and "A Search for the Ideal: an Interpretation of T. S. Eliot's 'Marina'" by Professor Harold E. Cook. The Bucknell Review is on sale at the Bertrand Library and at the University Bookstore.

CLASS REPORTS

EMERITUS CLUB

Reunion, June 11

Mrs. Joseph O. Clark (Winifred Patchin '95) died recently, and the members of the Class of 1895 extend their deepest sympathy to those who survive.

E. W. Cober '99 is now a retired principal of Holmes School, in Pittsburgh. Miss Lucy H. Grier '99 passed away on November 21, 1954.

Dr. Mary B. Harris '94 attended a dinner Dec. 5, given by the University of Pittsburgh in honor of the three women from that area who were selected in 1954 as members of "Distinguished Daughters of Pennsylvania." The chancellor of the University presided at the dinner and received the 300 guests in the stately Cathedral of Learning in the Commons where the dinner was served. Preceding the dinner, there was a special vesper service in the Heinz Memorial Chapel at which the University choir sang, adding the beauty of music to the perfection of the chapel's architecture and the dignity of the service. It was a memorable occasion.

Oscar R. Levan '99, Mohnton, died on Dec. 21, 1954. He was 84. The members of the Class of 1899 extend their deepest sympathy to his two surviving sisters, Mayme, of New York City, and Katie, of Orwigsburg, and his niece, Mrs. Derr, with whom he lived.

Dr. Harvey F. Smith '94 presented a paper in November at the First Annual Series of Clinic Conferences in Harrisburg on "Origins of Cancer Control in Pennsylvania." These conferences are sponsored by the state division of cancer control.

We find that the career of Franklin R. Strayer '94, whose death was announced in the January ALUMNUS, was not properly reported in that account. Mr. Strayer retired in 1926 from service at Morris High School, New York City, after having served there for 23 years. He was a brother of Dr. George D. Strayer of the Bucknell Class of 1900, who received an honorary degree from Bucknell in 1930.

Dr. and Mrs. A. R. E. Wyant '92 are spending the winter in Florida at the Pennsylvania Hotel, West Palm Beach. Dr. Wyant delivered the dedication address of the Youth Lobby of the Washington Park YMCA (Chicago) which has been erected in memory of his son.

When Andy Wyant joined the Bucknell YMCA in 1887, he began an interest in "Body, Mind and Spirit" service that has lasted to this day. Active in YMCA work in Chicago for over 60 years and still on the governing board, he has recently donated $2,500 to the Central YMCA of Chicago to cover the cost of furnishing the youth center lobby of the new million dollar Washington Park YMCA Building for negroes. Last year he made a contribution for the gymnasium and swimming pool fund for the same building.

Retiring from active medical practice in 1937, Dr. Wyant has made his home in Chicago, but recently sold his Beverly Hills home there, as he and Mrs. Wyant have been spending most of their time in Pennsylvania and the Palm Beaches in Florida.

Dr. Ernest R. Myers died in Victoria, British Columbia, on January 7, 1955. Dr. Myers entered Bucknell with the Class of 1896, but because of illness lost a year and graduated with the Class of '97. Receiving his medical degree from Medico-Chirurgical College in Philadelphia, he practiced for many years in Saskatoon, Canada. Retiring a few years ago, he moved to Victoria. His wife died several years ago. A sister, Lena, of Dayton, Ohio, survives.

Emeritus Club members (all Bucknellians, including those who attended the Institute and the Academy up to the Classes of 1904) are cordially urged to attend the annual reunion on the campus June 11, 1955.

00 GEORGE A. GRIM
South Broad St.
Nazareth, Pa.

We are inviting members of the Class of 1900 in the Institute and the Academy to hold their 55th reunion with us on the campus on June 11. A committee of class members in Lewisburg will have charge of the local arrangements and you will be advised of the details later.

01 J. C. HIGGINS
106 S. Fourth St.
Lewisburg, Pa.

Edith Shepard Rodgers, wife of the late William H. Rodgers '97, died on September 30, 1954, leaving five children, all Bucknellians. They are: daughters Elizabeth '28, Katherine '32 (now Mrs. Frederick Arbogast), and Mary '28 (now Mrs. Ralph Feick '28); and sons, John S. '36 and W. Hamilton '26.

02 MRS. SARAH JUDD SHIELDS
(Sarah Judd)
79 University Ave., Lewisburg, Pa.

John W. McCracken died at the age of 81 in Manhattan, Kansas on October 22, 1954. He is survived by his wife, Mary Unger McCracken '02, and one daughter, Elizabeth '29.

05 DR. LEWIS C. HYLBERT
435 Drake Ave.
Upland, Calif.

Our 50th Reunion, June 11

Plans are progressing and questionnaires are arriving daily. See page 11 for the Weekend details.

06 WILLIAM L. DONEHOWER
22 N. Fifth St.
Lewisburg, Pa.

With the death of Elbina L. Bender (ALUMNUS, January, 1955, page 6), we lost our capable and energetic class fund manager. Mr. Frank L. Yost, 241 Park Place, Orange, N. J., has agreed to carry on as class fund manager. As a well deserved tribute to Elbina and as encouragement to Frank, let all of us participate this year in the Bucknell Alumni Annual Giving Program. This should be the year when we show our heels to the rest of our nearby classes.

Benajah J. Gardner of 95 Weldon St., Rochester 11, N. Y., died on December 24, 1954. He is survived by his wife Bertha; one daughter, Dorothy Gardner; three sons, Richard, Maurice, and Edwin; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Baker and Mrs. Florence Tune.

07 DR. LEO L. ROCKWELL
Colgate University
Hamilton, N. Y.

Coit R. Hoechst is presently a lecturer in Adult Education at Pittsburgh University.

Alfred "Parson" Whitby had another granddaughter born February 22, 1954, a Washington's Birthday child. How many does that make, Parson?

The Faiths Men Live By, Charles Francis Potter's latest book, continues to have excellent reviews. It is being praised as an objective but sympathetic treatment of living religions. In these days of a shrinking geographical globe and an expanding intellectual world, it behooves us all to listen to what the other fellow believes. We may find more in common than we have thought. Prentice-Hall publishes the book.

Speaking of books, let's adopt Dr. J. Orin Oliphant into the class: long enough to speak of his monograph The Beginnings of Bucknell University, Bucknell University Press, 1954. Orin, who has been professor of history at Bucknell since the early thirties, has done a beautiful piece of research and an excellent job of selection from the many early documents. The University Press has done justice to the work by first-rate typography and format. Those of you who think of the $50 annual tuition and $45 room rent we paid Gretz or Eddie Saylor (if we didn't have a scholarship) as about the minimum in college costs, will be surprised at the charges of a century ago. At that time annual "instruction" cost $30, room rent $7.50, fuel for private rooms $3. Also "no pipe or segar shall be smoked in any of the passages or public rooms." The world, she certainly does change.

08 MRS. MARGARET P. MATHIAS
(Margaret Pangburn)
202 S. Louis St., Lewisburg, Pa.

Dr. E. Carroll Condict, now serving as interim Pastor at North Springfield, Vt. Baptist Church, has a new address: Box 37, North Springfield, Vt.

In a recent letter to your reporter, Carroll expresses his appreciation to Mrs. Winfield Booth, wife of our late class president, for the gift of "Buster's" doctor of divinity hood. Bandits in Burma had stolen all of Carroll's belongings, among which was his own prized hood given him by Bucknell in 1935.

A Christmas card indicates that Olive Richards Landers still loves the outdoors (it was a picture of Olive and Maurice fishing) and still indulges in writing verse. There also was a card from Helen Tiffany Blakemore.

Take notice! All the rest of you '08ers—You may send me an Easter greeting and be sure to make it your picture for our 50th anniversary booklet. Thanks, Carroll Condict, for yours.

We all rejoice with Paul Stolz in the recovery of his son, Donald, from an attack of polio.

09 MRS. HOWARD HEADLAND
(Sarah E. Walters)
3911 First Ave., N. St. Petersburg 3, Fla.

Mrs. Edward E. Maggs (Jessie M. Pursell) writes from Williamsport that her two years of training in piano, organ, and harmony at Bucknell are still quite useful to her. Teaching piano lessons every day, she has 35 students ranging in age from 6 to 75. Mrs. Maggs, in addition to her schooling at Bucknell, studied piano at Lycoming College, Williamsport.

MRS. JESSIE PURSELL MAGGS

10 MISS MILDRED B. CATHERS
100 W. 33rd St., Apt. 6
Bayonne, N. J.

Our 45th is fast approaching. Be sure to be in Lewisburg for the reunion June 11. You'll soon be hearing more about it.

Clyde W. Cranmer retired as Superintendent of Schools at Kittanning, Pa. in 1946.

David J. Park retired from teaching in 1952. He taught for 38 years. He taught Related Subjects for 30 years, and he was a teacher in the Boys' Vocational Department in the Hazleton High School.

Thursday evening, January 6, Hope B. Sterner died very suddenly as he was leaving the Presbyterian Church in Watsonstown, where he had attended a service. Word of his passing came to Paul Abraham, who was able to stop en route from Muncy to his home in Greensburg to see Mrs. Sterner and express to her the sympathy of his classmates. Through this column may the sympathy of members of the Class of 1910 go also.

Miss Eva E. Weddle retired from teaching in June, 1953.

As we go to press, word is received of the death of Mrs. John G. Sholl (Helen Hare) in an automobile accident in Frederick, Md. Details are not now available but will be reported in our next issue.

11 W. NEIL BAKER
7 Brown St.
Lewisburg, Pa.

Miss Mary E. Starook has not been in the teaching profession for some years. She is at present working with the Highway Department at Harrisburg.

Wesley A. Wolfe, known to thousands of Bucknell as "Bullets," died in Pittsburgh on January 27 following some weeks of hospitalization with a lung condition. Always first in line when Bucknell projects needed support in Western Pennsylvania, Bullets will be sadly missed by alumni and friends in his home city. Meetings of Bucknell alumni in Western Pennsylvania, weekly luncheons and Bucknell picnics somehow will not seem the same for Bullets was the first to arrive and the last to leave. A member of Sigma Chi and the Bison Club of Bucknell, Wesley served for many years as an engineer for the City of Pittsburgh. The heartfelt sympathy of the University, his classmates and his many friends in Pittsburgh are extended to Mrs. Wolfe, the former May Williams, and a sister and a brother who survive.

12 MRS. H. W. HOUSEKNECHT
(Maze Callahan)
108 W. Penn St., Muncy, Pa.

Miss Sue Weddell, one time co-executive secretary of the Division of Foreign Missions, National Council of Churches, was honored at a dinner in Riverside Church on the occasion of her retirement as acting executive of the Southern Asia Committee of the Division. This latter post was one she was asked to assume following her retirement as the co-executive two years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Ruth (Ruth Royal) sent a new address so jot it down. They now live at R. D. 2, West Chester, Pa.

I got my usual lick at football last autumn and in another jaunt to Lewisburg, I made it my business to stroll over the campus. I was amazed at the material progress our Alma Mater is making. Probably if more alumni would return and note this change, they might be more responsive to the Alumni Fund.

Dear Maze,

Just want to write you and your good husband the Season's Greetings, and thank you for the class picture and all the good work you are doing for the Alumni Association. Should your journeys take you and your family into New England, please come to see us.

Sincerely,

MERTON OGDEN

Dear Maze,

Have been reading all your Bucknell news. It surely keeps us posted. Keep up the good work. We must soon begin to plan for our 45th reunion. That sure has been a long way back but the road was short.

ARTHUR D. WALTZ

The stork is going to swoop down upon the Hean household in the near future. Can't you see Frank Hean "sputterin'" and "fussin'" and "raisin'" his blood pressure? Just a tip—the wee quiet hours will never be the same.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Crandell (Grace Wolfe '09), 60 West Houston Ave., Montgomery, were pleasantly surprised recently on their 45th wedding anniversary. Five of their six sons and daughters and fifteen grandchildren from Binghamton, Rochester, Sayre, Milton and Montgomery attended. One son, Walter, Laurel Lake, Susquehanna Co., was unable to be present. Leon is serving as Montgomery Borough Secretary and as magistrate. They were married in 1910 in Bellefonte.

Dear Maze,

We have some changes in address: Home, 588 Charles Ave., Kingston, Pa. and office address, 34 S. River St., Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

You asked about Isabelle's marriage and our resulting expedition. There is nothing to report of any particular interest. Isabelle graduated from Bucknell in 1952, taught at the Gill School the following year and in September 1953 went with her aunt Mary B. Harris '94 to visit her cousin Walter W. Harris, Jr. in Tripoli, Africa. While there she got a job and also got acquainted with Mr. Roy W. Penny, a graduate of the University of California, who after about five years of active military service and other employment became involved in the construction of an Air Force Base in Tripoli, his contractor-employer being Crowe-Streets-Shepherd. This Air Base has been practically completed and a cablegram received today (January 29, 1955) says that the Penny's are on their way to the Red Sea and a new Air Base.

We were advised by letters in May of Isabelle's engagement, and of her desire to have a wedding in Tripoli in August. We could not and of course did not want to miss the event, so we flew over. The wedding was August 7. A Baldwin School roommate, Miss Vera Mander of New York, was intending to spend a year studying art in Europe. She went over earlier than intended and acted as maid of honor.

We had a very interesting and eventful week in Tripoli, and being in the vicinity of Rome, Paris and London, we took advantage of the opportunity and spent a week in each of those cities, and flew back to New York about the 1st of September. If we go to Europe again, it will probably be to visit our son Richard W., who is about to go some place in Europe on an Army assignment.

Aside from the above about the only thing class wise to report is a visit from Dr. Frederick B. Iglar who came to Wilkes-Barre for the Pennsylvania Baptist Convention. We had a very enjoyable but too brief meeting.

We enjoy your reports very much; it is angelic of you to devote the time and trouble to the job. With best wishes,

Sincerely,

JIM HARRIS

13 CHARLES L. SANDERS
76 Walnut St.
Mifflinburg, Pa.

The holiday season brought a few Christmas greetings from classmates. Besides those arriving at reporter headquarters, Marwood Glover added some names and messages from his list of well-wishers so that this column may announce "aliveness" from several classmates not so long ago. By the way, wasn't that card from Marwood glorious? Old Main, bless her, cherish her in memory! Names smiling upward from holiday cards to either Marwood or me: Bright Beck, Bob Rooke, Delinda Potter, Clay Sanders, Harold Shaffer, Baker Bernhart, John Fetter, Howard Fisher, The Hawkins, The McKeagues, The Earl Jacksons, George Piersol, Walt Edwards and Weston Smith. Jackson enclosed a Newscast for 1954 revealing his happiness and that of Mrs. Jackson in their church pastoral life in Prospect Park. Piersol told of his pleasure in hearing from Bucknellians at his far western home in Los Angeles. Weston Smith reported his health improved from his incapacitation two and a half years ago. This is good news, H. G. W. For eight months Weston was away from his pastoral duties at his church, Bedford, Ohio. "Walt" Edwards hopes, at one of our reunions, "to see my friends not seen for so many years"—this from Bethlehem, Pa.

Berkeley Hastings, Milton, was elected by the Presbytery of Northumberland as an Elder Commissioner to the General Assembly in Los Angeles in May. George Piersol, take note, possibly you can meet one of our classmates from near the campus and receive first-hand news of Alma Mater.

In mid-January I saw Jerome Paulhamus, after more than forty years. Following World War I, for fifteen or more years, Jerry was with the Consolidation Coal Co., Wall St., New York, residing in East Orange, N. J. Longing for the atmosphere of home territory, about twenty years ago, he returned to Watsonstown, became proprietor and owner of a Texaco service station here. Here he has been among many old acquaintances since that time. Mrs. Paulhamus passed away last April, and Jerry now lives alone but keeps himself occupied with his business and with friends about town. It was a lively half hour we spent together.

If '13ers could have strolled into the lobby of Rehoboth Beach, Delaware, Trust Company during last December, greeting them would have been an oil portrait of our Leslie W. Stout, president of the company, painted with an official paper in his hand. Before Leslie's election as president in January, 1952, he had been associated with the First National Bank, Dover, Del.; Franklin National Bank, Philadelphia; Laird, Bissell and Meeds, Wilmington; Industrial Trust Co., Wilmington. Leslie's portrait, with that of previous presidents of the company, will hang permanently in the directors' room. From all of us, Leslie, joy in your distinction.

Let's be on the lookout for that reminder from Harold Shaffer.

14 MRS. H. B. WEAVER
(Dora Hamler)
348 Ridge Ave., New Kensington, Pa.

Ralph H. Moore, an employee of the Peoples Natural Gas Company of Pittsburgh, with offices in Gateway Center, has won first prize of $50 in the Gateway Color Slide Contest. The picture with which he won the prize will be made up as a color postcard and soon will be available for distribution to all visitors to Gateway. There were over 120 entries in the contest to select the picture of the three skyscrapers most suitable for reproduction as a postcard. And, when the names of the makers were matched with the winning slides, it was discovered that a Gateway employee led all the rest. Ralph has been an enthusiastic amateur photographer for many years. Recently, one of the company publications of Peoples Gas printed a picture he had taken of the reflection of Gateway in one of the blacked-out windows of McCann's store.

Ralph offers this recipe for a perfect vacation:

FIRST: Win cash prize of $50 the day you leave.

SECOND: Have perfect photographic weather (blue sky and fluffy white clouds) for next two weeks.

THIRD: Mix well in one automobile, a limited amount of luggage, an unlimited amount of film, several cameras, one wife and one other congenial couple. Then follow directions listed below:

Leave Pittsburgh on Route 22 heading for Williamsport; then on to Elmira, Ithaca and the Finger Lakes; then via Syracuse into the Adirondack Mountains; then by ferry across Lake Champlain through the Green Mountains of Vermont to the White Mountains of New Hampshire and a trip up the cog railway to the top of Mt. Washington; then strike north through Maine to Bangor and the photogenic coast of Bar Harbor; then down the coast via Cape Ann, Gloucester and Salem with a quick glance at Boston, and out Cape Cod to the artists' colony at Provincetown; take a day off for a boat trip out to Nantucket Island; then head westward through Connecticut and Rhode Island, crossing the Hudson on the new Rip Van Winkle Bridge, through the Catskills and the Poconos, back to Bethlehem and the super-highway home.

Measure the trip carefully, never driving more than 200 miles a day. Take any time during summer or fall. If followed as directed (but it's up to you to win your own $50), you should have about 2075 miles of perfect vacation and so many pictures it will take you all winter to sort them out.

Bess and Harry Stahler celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary, December 27, 1954. Our congratulations to them.

15 CLAIR GROOVER
237 S. Third St.
Lewisburg, Pa.

Get set for our 40th reunion on June 11 on the campus.

Marion R. Bancroft has retired from teaching, and is now working as a receptionist in a doctor's office.

Our sympathy is extended to the family of Joseph F. Gedanic (now Gedanic) who died on December 25 in a Dayton, Ohio hospital following an operation. Joe had an outstanding scholarship and athletic record while in college, winning 12 letters in 4 major sports and meriting honorable mention on Walter Camp's All American Football Team in his senior year.

Following graduation, Mr. Gedanic was a teacher and coach in Charleroi and Pottsville. He also worked on a mining project in Virginia and on flood control projects on the Mississippi River. In 1940 he was placed in charge of electrical development for the Wright Air Development Center Wind Tunnels at Dayton, Ohio.

He is survived by his wife, Louise; a daughter, Mrs. Frank White of New York City; a son, Joseph B., an attorney in Dayton and a number of brothers and sisters.

Wanna catch up with "Bucky" Stevenson? Get your February issue of The American Magazine and read his splendid article "What Are You Afraid Of?"

16 MRS. GEORGE STEVENSON
(Amy Patterson)
R. D. 1, Box 556, Red Bank, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Henszey sailed from N. Y. on January 8th on the SS Kungsholm for a 97 day trip around the world.

John F. Jeffery recently visited Illinois to get a first glimpse of his fourth grandchild, a girl.

George H. Neff, last of his generation of the family which has run the Neff Hotel in Sunbury since 1867, succumbed on December 1 following a stroke. His son George H., III '48, and a nephew, Harold M., Jr. '48 run the hotel at present.

Mr. Neff is survived by his wife, son George, and daughter Mrs. John Gocke, of Philadelphia.

R. J. W. Templin retired as of June 20, 1954 after 31 years at West Pittston as superintendent of schools. Now he is teaching at Wilkes-Barre and Penn State.

17 MRS. CARL A. SCHUG
(Alice Johnson)
266 Lincoln Ave., Williamsport 12, Pa.

Arthur G. DeWald has retired as teacher.

Frank S. Hartman, of Nutley, N. J., who served as a mathematics instructor at Barringer High School, Newark for the past 24 years, died at his home from a heart attack on August 30, 1954. Mr. Hartman is survived by his wife, the former Rachel Reisinger, a daughter, and a brother. The class and the University extend sincere sympathy to the survivors.

18 MRS. LAYTON E. KING
(Elizabeth Champion)
301 Broad St., Montoursville, Pa.

This is Winter, with a big "W"—but lead pencils never freeze! And the mail goes through! That is just a subtle hint.

For you who are freezing and thinking of the Sunny South—Hazel Gay Bailey reports from Dunedin, Florida, that her husband and brother-in-law have opened up a new sub-division in Dunedin Isles. I am sure all Bucknellians would be given personal attention.

From the other side of the country, not from the Class of '18, but that of '17, Christmas greetings from Sally Park Titterington, of Ontario, California. I am sure all of the girls of the Class will remember Sally.

I can always write about myself (I can get involved in more things), but that gets boring, even to me. However, at the moment I am planning on a visit to Washington, D. C., with my daughter. She is on the staff of the Textile Museum in Washington and lives in Arlington.

Thanks to Mr. Shott, I hope to have a letter off to you in the near future—and I want them all returned.

19 DR. FRANKLIN D. JONES
2617 St. David's Lane
Ardmore, Pa.

Attorney W. J. Bryan Bloom, 214 North Twelfth St., Sunbury, died on December 21, 1954 at 8:10 a. m. at his home of a heart attack. He was 56 years of age.

A former Sunbury City Solicitor and member of the Northumberland County Bar Association for more than 32 years, he had been in ill health for some time.

Attorney Bloom entered Bucknell, where he completed the required course for a bachelor of arts degree in three years, graduating in 1919. From Bucknell, he entered Dickinson College, Carlisle, where he received his master's degree and also his bachelor of laws degree in 1922, the latter from Dickinson Law School.

20 HAYES L. PERSON
6J S. Third St.,
Lewisburg, Pa.

Our 35th Reunion, June 11

Paul Stolz is presently teaching in the science and mathematics departments at Kiskiminetas Springs School, Saltsburg, Pa.

Herbert E. Stover's sixth book of fictionalized history is now on the shelves of bookstores across the nation. Dealing with the operation of the underground railroad, By Night the Stranger will soon be followed by a seventh novel concerning the Revolutionary War period. Mr. Stover says there is much to write about and so little time. We're sure he is too modest when he calls himself a "fiction factory." Among his other novels are Men in Buckskin, Song of the Susquehanna, Powder Mission, and his most recently published, The Eagle and the Wind mentioned in the November issue of THE ALUMNUS.

Bob Bell, chairman of our 35th reunion committee will be contacting you soon to help promote our celebration on the campus June 11.

22 PHILIP C. CAMPBELL
R. D. 5,
Danville, Pa.

William J. Irvin won the coveted "MAN OF THE YEAR FOR 1954" award given by the Philadelphia Agency of the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company. Bill, who serves as district manager in Trenton was honored as the individual who has contributed most to his clients, to the industry and to his fellow members during the year. We're proud of you, Bill.

Robert E. Lepperd, electrical engineer with Westinghouse and member of Sigma Chi, died of a heart attack at Lakewood, Ohio, November 11. He is survived by his wife, a daughter, a son, and a brother, Charles J. Lepperd '09 who lives in Pottstown.

William C. A. Willman passed away on November 24, 1954, and all the members of his class extend their deepest sympathy to the survivors.

23 MRS. LeROY FRONTZ
(Olive Billhime)
Evergreen Farm, Allenwood, Pa.

For the past year Rev. W. D. Callender has been the New England repre-representative of the American Baptist Publication Society, which requires considerable travel and field work, as well as supervision of field workers. Rev. Callender serves as executive secretary of the Conference of Baptist Ministers in Massachusetts, which operates a pension system and a committee for pastoral settlement in the state. Rev. Callender was also honored last May by being elected a Trustee of Andover-Newton Theological School by the alumni of the school.

Harry Dayhoff was presented with honorary membership in the Central Pennsylvania Chapter of PIAA Football Officials upon retiring after 29 years of officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lofberg (Dora Keough) traveled by S. A. S. to Europe in October to visit with their son, 2nd Lt. Richard Lofberg, at Kitzingen, Germany. Dick had leave and they toured Bavaria to Salzburg, Austria and then flew from Frankfurt to Malmo, Sweden, the former home of Mr. Lofberg's mother.

24 MRS. PAUL J. CUPP
(Louise Benschoff)
933 Muirfield Rd., Bryn Mawr, Pa.

George Bellak, 786 Thermal Ave., Johnstown, Pa. coaches at Joseph Johns Junior High School in that city.

Dr. and Mrs. Merle G. Colvin (Margaret M. Price '26) announce the marriage of their daughter Caryl Price Colvin '54 to James Rutledge Pigg.

Rose Curtis Wihtal has moved to 240-72 Depew Ave., Douglaston 63, Queens, New York.

Mary Eisenmenger (Mrs. Edwin Zahn), 1056 Hepburn St., Williamsport, Pa., has retired as librarian at Stevens Junior High School.

Mrs. John Davis (Lillian Edmunds) attended Syracuse University last summer and is now the new librarian at Stevens Junior High School in Williamsport.

Peggy Everitt (Mrs. Douglas Lathrop) of Springville, Pa., finds time while teaching and keeping house to send us a bit of news. They have a married daughter, Mrs. Harold Hocker of Palmyra, Pa., two grandchildren and a daughter at Penn State University who is doing her practice teaching in Altoona this semester.

Lois Hamblin Wendell and Roland Wendell live in Cromwell, Iowa, where Roland is pastor of the Congregational Church. Lois and Roland had a 6,000-mile trip last summer when they came East to visit former parishes and to see friends. They have two sons, one at Chicago Theological Seminary and the other in a metallurgical laboratory in Elyria, Ohio.

Ida Heller, 1009 Vine Ave., Williamsport is going to Europe this summer, leaving from Montreal, June 25 on the Holland American Line, The Maasdam. One week later they arrive in Rotterdam and almost immediately head for the "Land of the Midnight Sun." They cross the Arctic Circle and go around the northern tip of Norway, returning to the U. S. A. two days before school opens. Have a wonderful trip, Ida!

Mary Lape (Mrs. Thomas J. Horner), 401 Linden Ave., Johnstown, Pa. is teaching and is no doubt the youngest grandmother in the school!

Helen E. Lockard, 225 Main Street, Johnstown, Pa. is teaching at Central Senior High School.

Virgil Overdorff, 173 Barron Ave., Johnstown, Pa. is teaching at Garfield Junior High School. Virgil and Anne have a son of whom to be proud! The son, James V. Overdorff, is a graduate of Duke University in 1951, and Western Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh in May, 1954. He was ordained in his present church at Mechanicstown, O., June 5, 1954 at The First Presbyterian Church. He is married to Virginia Rice of Georgia, and they have two children.

We wish to express our belated sympathy to Mary Stephens (Mrs. Ernest E. Grumbling) of R. D. 1, Johnstown, Pa., upon the death of her husband last year. In fact, we did not know Mary's address until recently. She is teaching at Garfield Junior High School in Johnstown.

Mrs. E. E. Eanes (Eleanor Little) of Emporia, Va., writes that her latest and most important news is a granddaughter, Jean Little, of Bookerville.

Angella Unverzagt, 2812 Fifth Ave., Altoona is a teacher of social studies in Altoona High School. She was elected secretary of the S. S. Department—Central Convention District, P. S. E. A.

Ruth Weidenhamer (Mrs. Robert Armstrong, Jr.) of Augusta, N. J. reports the marriage of their daughter, Margaret, to Mr. Keene Bigger on November 20. They live in Trout Run, Pa.

25 REV. WILLIAM D. GOLIGHTLY
703 Jefferson Ave.
Scranton, Pa.

Our 30th Reunion, June 11

Miss Gertrude Gardner is now teaching in the commercial department of Danville Senior High School.

Dr. William Golightly is serving on Board of Trustees of the Public Library, Scranton, Pa. At the annual meeting on January 28, he was elected to his sixth term, as secretary of that organization.

Samuel Wedell, youngest son of Rebecca Miliken Wedell, was drowned last June, 1954 in saving two teen-age girls from drowning. He succeeded in saving Jean Stella Rosenberger and Nancy Carol Larson. The drowning occurred in the Applegate River near Medford, Oregon, where Sam was visiting.

Sam lettered in football, basketball, and track, all three years that he was able to play. He was the captain of the football team, editor of the High School paper The Grizzley, salutatorian of his class (1954) and was granted a scholarship by the University of New Mexico.

The classmates of Rebecca will be interested in the achievements of her heroic son. Mrs. Wedell is living at Carizzozo, New Mexico, Box 483.

26 MISS ANNA L. BROWN
45 Wildwood Ave.
Pittman, N. J.

Malcolm G. Jones has resigned as president of Robbins Mills and is now president of Sidney Blumenthal & Co. Inc., 1 Park Ave., New York, N. Y. He resides at 3 E. 71st St., New York 21.

No doubt you will be interested to know that A. Kris Jensens (Maudie Keister) are back in Seoul, Korea. I am sure that mail from friends will be most welcome as they attempt to get established once more. Their personal address is Methodist Mission, APO 72, San Francisco, California.

William F. Muthard is now in the securities business.

Mrs. Franz Postpichal (Ruth Marion Propert) is teaching at Abington Friends School, Jenkintown.

27 MRS. L. H. COLLISON
(Grace M. Pfeifer)
Marydel, Maryland

Ralph E. Dorman now lives at 728 Glenwood Ave., Johnstown, Pa., where he is employed as a civil engineer with the Conemaugh and Blacklick Railroad Company.

A. Beatrice Eaker lives at 106 N. Main St., Muncy. She is now Mrs. W. R. Petrie. Before her marriage in 1938, she was receptionist for Drs. G. Klump and C. Youngman in Williamsport.

Mrs. Marian Eisenhauer Edwards and her husband live in the Glennland Bldg., State College, Pa. Marian left Bucknell at the end of her junior year to prepare for the secretarial field. For the past 22 years she acted as secretary of the Department of Agriculture at Penn State. At present she says she is very contented in being just another busy housewife.

Dotty Gilbert, who is now the wife of Robert J. Cotton, reports that she is presently a busy housewife doing all the things she wanted to do but had no time to do them. And no wonder, for up until two years ago, she served as personnel director, in turn, for the Peoples Church in Cranston, R. I., the Rhode Island Hospital in Providence, and the Crawford Allen Memorial Hospital in East Greenwich, R. I. Following graduation from Bucknell, she received the MRE degree from the Hartford School of Religious Education in 1930. She is now living at 199 Oak Tree Ave., in Warwick, R. I. in a new home overlooking Narragansett Bay, with a ring-side seat for hurricanes Carol and Edna!

Mrs. Ann Outwater Day is now living at 1860 Winding Brook Way, Westfield, N. J. with her husband, W. L. Day, Jr. and daughter, Elizabeth Anne. Following her graduation from Bucknell, she received a master's degree in Romance languages from Columbia University, and then became secretary for six years with the American Tel. and Tel. Company in New York City. She is presently writing a history of the Westfield Woman's Club as well as helping to conduct a production of the "Mikado" by the Westfield Community Players. In between times she is studying solo and quartet parts for Rosini's "Stabat Mater", also a community enterprise. She says, "I highly recommend a varied program to keep one young, interested and interesting. I do hope that my old classmates will say 'yes' when they are asked to serve on civic, church and social committees."

29 MRS. THELMA SHOWALTER
233 N. State St.
Harrisburg, Pa.

Fred N. Hardy retired as supervising principal, and is now a salesman for L. J. Bullard Co.

Howard T. Hogan of Farmingdale, Long Island, running mate of Samuel Rabin of Queens for Supreme Court, is a former teacher who turned to the law and became a member of one of Nassau's leading law firms.

Born near Rochester, N. Y., he graduated from Brockport State Teachers College and received his A.B. at Bucknell University.

He is married to the former Miss Betty Stewart of Bay Shore, and is the father of two children, Margaret 11, and Howard T. Hogan, Jr., 9.

Rev. Philip G. Murray, who has been occupying a Riverside, Calif. pulpit (First Congregational Church) for the past year and a half, says that the community is growing by leaps and bounds, including the latest branch of the University of California, which supplies an excellent pool of leadership talent for the church's Christian educational program.

Through the kindness of Horace Sheppard, an interesting letter from Charles Ribenburg has come to your reporter's desk. As you perhaps know, the Ribenburgs live in Geneseo, Illinois. They have two daughters, Marian, who is a freshman at Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis. and Marcia, a ninth grader, who has blossomed out as a trampoline star and a member of the string quartet. Incidentally, Marian has the distinction of being the only freshman selected for the flute quartet at Lawrence. She is following in her mother's footsteps, having recently become a pledge of Alpha Chi Omega. Mrs. Ribenburg is the former Esther Johnson '30. She is teaching in the high school and served as the faculty chairman in helping to furnish the new school. "Chuck" is enjoying the new church organ, which was recently dedicated.

30 MRS. BERNARD KLOSTERMAN
(Emmalyn Y. Fuller)
23 Leathers Rd., Fort Mitchell, Kentucky
Our 25th Reunion, June 11

Harry D. Benford is no longer in the teaching profession, but is now working as purchasing agent for the Vulcan Mold and Iron Co.

Mrs. Paul E. Miller (Marie Walbert) sent daughter, Janice Marie, off to Bucknell last September.

Here are the names of interested classmates that have expressed a willingness to help in the plans of the reunion: Marlin Stephens, Edward Yawars, Sybil Williams, Reba Decker Hartman, Betty Huxley Mazeine, James Hurlburt, Esther Keim Coleman, Blanche Thomas Simpson, Harry Benford, William Emmitt, Winton Bennett, Karl Wilson, Manuel Allen, Sally Bailey Jones, Edgar Lare.

Our Alumni Secretary, Mr. Shott, George (Ollie) Wagner and Francis (Mush) Moerschbacher spent the best part of January 15th making plans for our June 11th weekend. If things work out, it is hoped that all the time at our 25th reunion, as far as possible, will be spent together so that the past quarter of a century can be covered thoroughly.

First prize for the return of the questionnaire goes to Karl H. Wilson, 323 Ivy Rock Lane, Havertown. Second prize goes to Walter R. Moore, 123 Ravine Avenue, Caldwell, N. J.

31 MRS. W. ZELMAN SLEIGHTER
(Ruth J. Thomas)
833 Chestnut St., Mifflinburg, Pa.

Miss Olive B. Barr is working as secretary to Mr. Amos E. Neyhart, administrative head, Institute of Public Safety, Pennsylvania State University.

B. Winston Barrett celebrated his 19th year of community theater activity as he helped to stage the Bakersfield (Calif.) Community Theater's presentation of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" last October.

Mrs. Lewis E. Bathurst (Dorothy Iddings) is President of the Mifflinburg Elementary School P. T. A. Her daughter, Saranne, is in the sixth grade.

Arthur E. Minnier is now the superintendent of schools of Lackawanna County. His home is at Clarks Summit.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. McDowell (Roberta S. Slifer) are now living at 1601 Texar Drive, Pensacola, Fla.

Albert T. Sprankle has been appointed assistant vice president of the Mellon National Bank and Trust Company.

32 ELLIS F. HULL
Allentown, N. J.

James B. Stevenson has succeeded his father, Edgar T. Stevenson '04, as a member of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission. The latter, who served under three governors, resigned because of illness. Jim also has been elected a director of the Titusville Trust Company, one of the Oil Region's largest banking institutions.

33 MRS. ERNEST H. ENGELHARDT
(Janet Worthington)
375 College Hill, Bloomsburg, Pa.

"Daffodils
That come before the swallow dares, and take
The winds of March with beauty."

Just "marching" a little—the dictionary says march means to advance in step in regular formation, or in an organized body. I guess that's we, class.

Stanley J. Bienus is now principal of the Franklin Junior High School, Hanover Township, Pennsylvania.

Lehman P. Gilmore, 3 Maple Ave., Mahoning Manor, Sunbury, a native of Williamsport and distinguished Central Pennsylvania educator, died suddenly in his home at 8:30 o'clock January 14, 1955. Death was attributed to an acute heart attack. The Class of 1933 extends its sympathy to the survivors.

Alfred B. Haas is teaching as associate professor in the department of practical theology of Drew University in Madison, N. J. He meets many Bucknell friends as he travels over Jersey conducting Hymn Festivals. He admits "I am getting fat on my own cooking (still enjoying single bliss)." This bachelor's address is 57 Madison Ave., Madison, N. J., gals, so MARCH, daffodils!

Ira P. Hoffman comments, "You asked for it!" He returned from a seven year foreign assignment on U. S. Education, and is presently principal of the Governor Mifflin Junior High School — a new department in the jointure of Brecknock Township, Cumru Township, Mohnton Boro and Shilington Boro.

Alton R. Kemp, writing from Cleveland, Ohio, admits he should report to his friends at least every ten years.

In 1940 he married Charlotte Edson, a K. D. from Mt. Union, and they have two girls. They live in Parkview Village, a Cleveland suburb, at 6011 West 217th Street.

After twenty years of working for others, he now has his own business—"The Kemp Nature-Curve Swimming Pool Co." specializing in low cost residential swimming pools. Business is good, and he says, "I should soon be able to build pools all summer and spend the winter at Sun Valley enjoying my family's favorite sport—skiing. Next to swimming, that is."

With pleasure I remember Sally Miller riding the train with her from Montgomery to Lewisburg. We turned our seats in the train so we could face each other and socialize. She is now Mrs. Robert F. Jones. Upon graduation from college, Sally received a position as secretary to the head of the electrical engineering department, Pennsylvania State College (now University), which position she held until 1942. She was married in September, 1942 to Robert F. Jones, Franklin, Pa., a graduate of Penn State.

Upon completion of Army Service (3½ years), her husband accepted a position with the Erie Public School System and has been a teacher in vocational machine shop work for the last seven years. They have two children, Judith, 6½, and Linda, 4 years.

Received a letter from Robert Williams on letterhead marked "Lindquist & Williams, Decorating, Paint, Wall Paper, R. D. 1, Smethport, Pa. and 1 S. Broad St., Emporium, Pa. Robert wanted to know Thomas Wilkenson's address in Japan, as Robert's son is now in Japan. Mr. Williams addressed me very formally as Mrs. Engelhardt—but remember, I used to be Janet, Bob. I sent Bob all the newspaper clippings I had about Wilkenson's whereabouts. Did you locate him?

34 MRS. WILLIAM S. LIMING
(Ruth Rohr)
396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, N. Y.

The months seem to fly by between issues of THE ALUMNUS, and I am trying to keep my promise made at our 20th reunion to have our class notes in every issue until our 25th reunion in 1959 when perhaps I can persuade someone else to take over this chore. Well, here goes.

Mrs. Charles Richards, Jr. (Helen E. Green) is no longer in the teaching profession. She is the homemaker for her teacher husband and Rachel, 13, and Charles, 4. They are at home at: 419 N. Scott St., York, Pa.

Mrs. William Newcomb '36 (Mary VanKirk) lives at 6 Temperance St., Port Norris, N. J. She and Bill, who is a New Jersey State Department of Health bacteriologist, have two sons William A., 10, and Lemuel Kirk, 8. Mary keeps busy with Cub Scouts and golf and P. T. A.

Had a wonderful letter from Wendell R. Stevens which was written while he was high over the Atlantic en route by P. A. A. Clipper to a meeting at Frankfurt, Germany—only his eighth round trip in the past year to European meetings. He had with him a copy of THE ALUMNUS and a few spare moments, so I learned that he graduated from Guggenheim School of Aeronautics, New York University as an aeronautical engineer in 1934 after three happy years at Bucknell. He never "engineered"—became an airline salesman, then into sales management and finally airline consulting and administration—American Airlines, Charles A. Rheinstrom Consultants (now Pan American World Airways). Wendell married Alice McCabe of Pittsburgh in 1937 and they have one son, Guy, now sixteen and headed for college in two years and one daughter, Wendy, age 12. The Stevens live at 217 W. Washington Ave., Pearl River, N. Y., and he says—"Would like to have any Bucknellians stop in." Little does he know how the Limings may just do that, as we visit other friends up his way in Rockland County. I chuckled when Wendell wrote "I'm mighty bald." He should have seen we all in June—don't misunderstand now! We have all improved in looks, but if any of you recall he had a wonderful head of hair. He tells me that he loves to ski, sail and play tennis and the children love it too. I like sailing and ache right now from trying to keep up with my husband and two youngsters at ice-skating. Hate to admit it, but I am afraid I will soon join the ranks of spectators.

Rev. Vincent B. Wayland announces the arrival on November 5 of a future Bucknell coed. Gaylan Nichole. She is the fourth junior member of the Wayland family, joining Vince, Jr., Cheryl Lynn and Kerry at their Lakeville, N. Y. home.

That's all for now—hope you all won't wait until you're in a plane high above the clouds to write as Wendell did! But if you need an airplane to spur you on, please all start flying. Hope you've contributed to the Alumni Fund. If not why not do it now and make the other classes realize "34 has more."

35 MRS. FREDERICK A. STRALEY
(Metta Farrington)
Furnace Rd., R. D. 1, Lewisburg, Pa.

Our 20th Reunion, June 11

"The January BUCKNELL ALUMNUS came, and I see that it's time to give my new address. It is: Mr and Mrs. Charles Abbott (Jane Millikin), 519 Country Lane, Louisville, Ky.

"We have built a house just on the outskirts of the city, which we hope will give each of us enough elbow room for awhile. We now have Ted, 12, John, 8, Betsy, 6 and Fred, 1 and the age variance requires different needs, too.

"Christmas cards brought news of a few Bucknellians. Helen Sutherland Richards plans to return to our reunion June 11. Mrs. Robert Dymond (Grace King '38) from another class has returned from many travels with her 4 children and Army Major husband to civilian living again. There are some Bucknellians here as you know—Tim Delaney a classmate, and Elizabeth Dinsmore Tedder '39. I do see her occasionally, and we have had some rare chats. I think you may remember her.

"Enough chatter, and I do think our class reporter, Metta Farrington Straley, does remarkably well at keeping everyone informed.

Fondest wishes,
Jane Millikin Abbott"

36 MRS. CLYDE E. BURGEE
(Lola Montgomery)
124 S. Fifth St., Lewisburg, Pa.

Miss Grace G. Arnott is director of Guidance and Social Studies at the Fairview Rice High School, Mt. Top, Pa.

Miss Anna L. Becker is no longer in the teaching field.

George E. McCabe is no longer in teaching, and he now has a drug store.

John Joseph North, Jr. is the Guidance Director at the Hanover Township Schools, Wilkes-Barre.

John J. Sitarisky is now athletic and recreational director at the Northeastern Federal Penitentiary, Lewisburg.

Mrs. Melvin Walters (Emma Angstadt) is serving as secretary to the Tri-County Area Girl Scout Council at its Lewisburg office in the Community House.

A son, Thomas Walter, to Mr. and Mrs. Clair Glock (Mary Louise Angstadt '51) was born on February 6. Mary Angstadt Glock is the daughter of Emma Angstadt.

37 SIGMUND STOLER
215 Chestnut St.
Sunbury, Pa.

Frances Miles Mervine attended the American College Surgeons meeting in Paris and London last May with her husband, Dr. Thomas B. Mervine, F. A. C. S.

Dr. John W. Raker was recently named Director of Division of Surgery, Pennsylvania Hospital, 8th and Spruce Streets, Philadelphia. Affiliated with the Harvard Medical School department of surgery from 1940-54, John, with his brother, Ned, truly has achieved a success of which his family can be proud. The brother, Dr. Ned T. Raker '31, is chief surgeon of the Anglo-American Clinic, Lima, Peru. Their father was W. W. Raker '07.

39 DAVID R. BAGENSTOSE
Conestoga Road
Wayne, Pa.

Want to see a picture of the Freshman Class of 1968? Well here's Jim Foster, auburn hair and hundreds of freckles, son of Gilbert Earl and Ruth Croft Foster '39 of Westfield, New Jersey.

40 MRS. JAMES A. MILLER
(Mary McCrina)
Pattison, Texas

Our 15th Reunion, June 11

Want to learn about the latest wrinkle? Well, that's what reunions are for. So come and see, June 10-13. If you take the question literally, I plan to be there and may be able to oblige with a couple or three of my own. "Be my guest."

George B. Breznay was elected supervising principal of the Ashley Public School, Ashley, Pa. on June 21, 1954. He formerly held the position of principal of the Ashley High School.

Mrs. Herbert Wesby-Gibson '39 (Dorothy Fenton) is about to receive her doctorate at the University of California. "Hoot" is on the last lap toward his doctorate, also, and is at present principal of the Sierra Morena School, which is a special training school for mentally retarded children. Their address is 65 Buena Vista Terrace, San Francisco 17, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dunham '39 (Carol Martin) who are now Michiganders, have three children—Nancy, 7, Patricia, 5, and Charles V., Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Magill, Jr. '39 (Bette Towner) also have a trio—Frank III, Charles Towner, and Karen. We'd love to see some family portraits of these Bucknell broods.

William R. Morgan is now engaged in the real estate-insurance business. Could you insure our oil well, Rosser? That is, if we had an oil well?

Not too long ago I flushed some Bucknellians from the Bellaire (suburb of Houston) woods. Practically next-door neighbors of each other (in fact, they had been in the same car pool). They were: Dr. and Mrs. Charles Spurr '35 (Isabel M. Holtzenger '36) and Mrs. Hugh Granberry (Peggy Linaberry '42).

D. Albert Watts is the supervising principal of the Westmont Upper Yorder Schools, Johnstown, Pa.

41 MRS. WILLIAM F. HASSELBERGER
(Jean Steele)
1518 Westmoreland Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

Hope you all had a wonderful New Year. Bill and I and the boys spent Christmas and New Year in sunny Florida. Just got back, and am freezing in Syracuse's sub-zero temperatures!!

John C. Clendenin has been named as an assistant professor of English at Gallaudet College, Washington, D. C. The nation's only college for deaf people, Gallaudet named nine newcomers to its faculty this past fall. An M.A. graduate of Bucknell, John received his A.B. from Mansfield State Teacher's College and did graduate work at Columbia University.

By the time our last issue went to press, we had received a new address for the John Lepkes. They are now located at 55 Strathlyn, Sea View, Durban, Natal, South Africa.

"Spike" Norman Simpson is in the advertising business in Lee, Mass.

Dorothy Smailes Nutt and husband Richard Nutt are living at 1417 R. Street, Lincoln, Nebraska. Dick is minister to Methodist students at the University of Nebraska. They have three children Thomas, 9, Nan, 7, and Kathy Sue, 5.

43 MRS. EARLE E. BENTON
(Norene Bond)
130 Eflingham Place, Westfield, N. J.

Luther K. Boyer is supervisor of transportation at the Central Bucks Joint High School.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johannesen (Mary Orso '43) have moved from the Middle West to New Jersey recently. The Bentons missed a surprise party given for them on January 29 by a gang of Bucknellians. Johnny is with Bell Labs, we understand, and they are living at Overlook Trail, Morris Plains, N. J.

Dr. Russell M. McQuay, Jr., head of the parasitology department at Mt. Sinai Hospital, Chicago, has been named assistant in parasitology at the Chicago Medical College.

Mary Frances Parmelee is now Mrs. David C. Carter. They are living in West Cheshire, Conn.

Mrs. Edward Peck (Maribeth Bond) writes that she and her family are now back in the states to live after eight years in Hawaii. Ed is located at the Rosewood Methodist Church in Los Angeles, and they are living at 638 No. Ardmore Ave., Los Angeles 4, Calif.

Catching up with Mrs. Robert Bauers (E. Dorothy Wolfe) we find she has two children, born in '48 and '51, and that she received her M.A. in social work from Columbia in 1945.

44 MRS. ROBERT F. BAKER
(Honey Rinesmith)
Butler, R. D., Lindys Lake, N. J.

Our sincerest thanks for all the wonderful Christmas notes. Wish they could be printed here, but the space is so limited we get frantic pleas to keep reports brief. (Regular donations to the Alumni Fund would help in adding a few more pages to this little journal!)

Dottie Heller spent a winter vacation in Nassau, Haiti and Jamaica. She now lives at 312 So. Camac St., Phila.

BIRTHS: The Bob Whiteheads '42 (Carol Sproul) had their fourth child, Holly Ellen, December 16, 1954 . . . Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Hughes (Virginia Cushing) announced the birth of their third, Virgil Gregory, June 3, 1954 . . . The Edward Brennemans (Jeanne Beeler) had their second daughter, Dian, September, 1954 . . . Donald Clayton, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McMullen '46 (Elizabeth J. Walter) joined two sisters on March 12, 1954.

NEW ADDRESSES: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Franklin (Mary E. Evans), 6166 Joyce Lane, Cincinnati 37, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McMullen '46 (Elizabeth J. Walter), Palma Sala Park, Bradenton, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Perry (Hope Wohnus), 7 May Street, Hartford, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. G. William Runkle (F. Burnette Brown), 100 Fleming Ave., Lewistown; Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Strittmatter '42 (Mary Lewis), Stewartstown, Penna.; Mrs. Mahlon J. H. Smith (Jean Unger), 1050 S. Gay St., Phoenixville; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Magagna, 2010 Miller Rd., Flint 3, Mich.

45 MRS. C. FRED MOORE
(Nancy Woehling)
Gillin Rd., Whitpain Village, Ambler, Pa.
Our 10th Reunion, June 11

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Schwalm (Carolyn Dunkelberger) are proud to report 2 children in the class census — Susan Jane, 2, and Ralph Harry, born September 27, 1954. Mr. Schwalm has been back in Valley View practicing medicine since January, 1953, after serving two years in the Air Force.

Emily Josif Bristah, James Bristah, Gayle, 1 yr., Christine, 5½ yrs, Cheryl, 4 yrs.

Mrs. J. L. Moyer (Nancy Patterson) our reunion chairman, reports that her committee has given her really enthusiastic support for getting plans rolling for June. Mrs. James W. Bristah (Emily Josif), 13440 McDougall, Detroit 12, Mich., writes, however, that church responsibilities and a forthcoming trip to Europe (with a Methodist sponsored group) will keep her from actively participating on the committee. Aside from these activities, Emily is singing with the Rackham Symphony Choir, the choral group of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, directed by Maynard Klien.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Score '46 (Ruthanne Studebaker) have just moved to Cleveland. Ruthanne has just recently had her third child, first daughter.

The stork has scheduled a visit for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wurfel '48 (Janice T. Felmy) in June, so Janice is planning not to attend the reunion. However, she will be working on the committee until then. She writes "The bambinos, Anne 5½ and Richard, 3½ have finally reached the stage where they can do most everything for themselves. Like many household executives (the word housewife isn't glamorous enough for me) from the Class of '45, I do all my own work, and I must admit there doesn't seem to be time for all of it. Dick is healthy, a little fatter, a little balder, but he has a fine job, which he likes a lot, and that's half the battle. He works for the Bradford branch of Carteret Savings and Loan, doing the mortgage end of things. Everytime I see the lack of communication in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS from the Class of 1945, I become more embarrassed."

I think Janice has a point! Please drop a line now and let your class know what you are doing. We're all interested.

Dr. John L. Moyer III, husband of Nancy Patterson, has accepted a position as associate pathologist at hospitals in Beaver Falls, Ellwood City, and Rochester, Pa. He recently completed his residency at Geisinger.

Remember the tenth reunion, June 11. It will be a success if you make your plans early and contact your classmates concerning them.

46 MRS. LELAND C. EWING
(Betty Wells)
31260 Westfield Ave., Livonia, Mich.

Carolyn Berkheimer Rosser writes that on December 7, 1954 their little girl Ann, age 3, became the big sister of a little boy, Evan Rhys Rosser, III. The Evan R. Rosser, Jr. family live at 1150 Market St., Williamsport, Pa.

Dr. and Mrs. Carl H. Eisenbeis (Ruth E. Scotchmer) have left Boston where Carl has been with the Lahey Clinic for 2 years and have returned to Pittsburgh, where he will set up practice. With them is three year old son, Carl Leonard.

Vincent J. McCoola is an adviser in research and statistics of the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction.

Dr. Oscar M. Weaver, Jr. has taken the position of radiologist at the J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital, Huntingdon.

Daniel E. Williams is teaching United States history and democracy, and has been director in guidance at the U. S. Army Dependents Headquarters at Wurzburg, Germany.

47 ROGER S. HADDON, ESQ.
243 Water St.
Northumberland, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. David S. Gifford (Dorothy Kohl) welcomed their first child, Karin Ruth, September 15. Mr. Gifford is studying for Ph.D. in organic chemistry at the University of Connecticut. They are now living at 101 West Ave., Willimantic, Conn.

Cheers from a tired correspondent to Clarence S. Obitz, better remembered as "Slats." He writes: "After graduation from BU, I spent one year in Kentucky and then went to Oregon, where I worked for the state department of education in Portland . . . I married a Portland girl, Marie Mauro, a Reed College graduate and a clinical psychologist. A year and a half ago, I accepted the position of assistant director of the Eugene Vocational School, Eugene, Oregon. Eugene being the home of the University of Oregon, I started work on my doctorate but although on the last leg of my work, I will have to delay the final chapter until I return from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, where Federal Overseas Aid has offered me a two-year appointment." Slats and Marie were scheduled to leave January 6 for Brazil. They have an infant daughter, Judy Marie. Slats now has a two-year leave of absence from Eugene. His Brazil address is C. S. Obitz, FOA, A. P. O. 676, c/o Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

Miles G. Smith is teaching mathematics at Clearfield High School, Clearfield, and is striving for a championship basketball team. The Smiths' youngest is Jeannie, 21 months old.

Mrs. Mark Iba (Jean C. Steele) is no longer teaching. Daughter, Marilyn, was born, November 15. Glenn is almost 3. The Ibas live at 429 S. 12th St., Lebanon.

48 MRS. JAMES A. BROWN
(Joann G. Gollightly)
954 Caldwell Ave., Union, N. J.

William T. Bobb has been elected moderator of the Northumberland Baptist Association.

Kathryn Ann was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cowdrick '49 (Gloria Burkhardt) of 734 Greenleaf St., Allentown. Congratulations, Burkie and Bob.

Elizabeth Decker became the bride of electrical engineer, Edward F. Seymour, of Takoma Park, Md. on November 28. Betty is a member of the Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School faculty.

Received a newsy letter from Jeanne Grice Ramer. She is the personnel assistant in the employment division of the Penn State University at State College. Also Jeanne's taking courses towards her M.A. in personnel administration. Mail will reach her at 220 So. Allen St., State College, Penna.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grosvenor '47 (Barbara Brown) welcomed last July 19, a son. The young man joined his sister, Carol, on her fifth birthday. Now a business representative of a branch of the A. F. of L., Bob lives with his family at 4110 Richmond St., Lansing, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hansen (Dorothy Clark) welcomed Carol Jane on December 21, 1954. The Hansens live at 55 Meadow St., Pearl River, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. John Westplate (Martha E. Kreitzburg) welcomed on September 22, 1954, a daughter, Janice Elaine. They have one other child, a son, Ronald, two.

A daughter, Jane Anne, was born on November 11, to Mr. and Mrs. Stephen S. O'Neill.

Raymond Tyler, our energetic alumni class president, celebrated the New Year in his new assignment with Dupont in Chicago. June and the three young Tylers can be reached at their new home. Ray's new territory (he is in the Nylon Division) is almost as wide and deep as the Middle West. Happy travelling, Ray.

Thanks to all of you who wrote to congratulate Jim and I on our marriage. It is good to know we have so many Bucknell friends.

MRS. DAVID L. MILLER
(M. Jane Krelder)
614 Penn St., New Bethlehem, Pa.

Our 5th Reunion, June 11

Joseph Kraut received his doctor of philosophy degree from the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena, Calif. He is now a member of the faculty at the University of Washington.

A Ph.D. in organic chemistry was awarded to Roland Stahl at Cornell in July. In August he assumed a position with the American Cyanamid Corporation in Bound Brook, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cox (Mac Baldwin) are residing at Penn State where Martha is periodical librarian for the State University and John is a student.

Doris Wellencamp is residing at 728 Parnassus Ave., San Francisco, Calif., where she is pursuing the career of nursing.

David G. Hayhurst, who received his A.B. (1950) from Bucknell University, was one of thirty-eight Harvard Law students of high academic standing, who were honored by being elected to serve on the Harvard Legal Aid Bureau. This Bureau provides legal assistance to residents of Boston, Cambridge and vicinity who cannot afford to retain lawyers.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Lilak are the parents of a daughter, Susan Elizabeth, born Feb. 7, 1954.

Mr. Richard A. Pfluger has recently joined the technology staff of General Food's Central Laboratories in White Plains, N. Y. Richard is a veteran of World War II, and he is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wolensky are the parents of a son, Russell William, born June 14, 1954.

Correction, please. Peter Weidenbacher, H. W. Kates '49, and R. E. List '48 are not in business for themselves as reported in our last issue. They are all, however, employed by the Henry G. Richter Company, manufacturer's representatives of electronic components.

Many of you have already written that you will be on campus June 11, 1955 for our fifth class reunion. To all of you we can promise that big plans are being worked in to make it a week-end long to be remembered. Your class reporter asks especially for a 100% response to the questionnaires soon to be mailed to everyone. It will mean a reunion bulletin packed with the latest news on all your friends.

MISS FRANCES WILKINS
Apt. 62, 1316 New Hampshire Ave.
Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Barrett, Jr. (Doris Neuberger '52) have been living at 429 South Division St., Ann Arbor, Mich. since leaving Lewisburg in 1952. Walter is engaged on a Research Project for A. E. C. being carried on by the University of Michigan. They report enjoying life on the Michigan campus.

From Strasburg, Pa. comes news about Clifford Arthur, born last June to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Betty. Don is currently a project engineer of Armstrong Cork Co. in Lancaster.

Catching up with Kenneth Bialkin, we find he is associated with the law firm of Willkie, Owen, Fan, Gallagher & Walton in New York City. He has been with them since graduation from Harvard Law School in 1953.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Child, Jr. '50

(Dorothy Varni) are now at home at 3500 90th Ave., S. E., Mercer Island, Washington. Tommy is traveling the northwest for G. R. Bard, makers of biological and surgical instruments. Let's have a meeting of alumni in the Pacific Northwest soon, Dot and Tommy.

Margery Davidson Fleischer dropped us word from Florida that she has a son, Steven, now well over a year old. For those of us who like a sunny climate the welcome mat is out at 1128 N. W. 101 Street, Miami, Fla.

Dorothy Hawkins was last heard from when she was in Peru. She is now in Okinawa. She certainly is the globe-trotter of our class, and likes every minute of it.

Marian L. Lemmon became the bride of William Foresman '56 on Thanksgiving Day morning, November 25.

Rev. Irvin R. Lindemuth has accepted the call to become the assistant pastor at the Birmingham Congregational Church, Pittsburgh.

The former Patricia McElvany is now Mrs. Kirby R. Giles, Jr. They are living at 2627 Regent St., Berkeley, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. George Myers '49 (Kathryn Fish) report that son, Billy now has a sister, Dolores Nancy, born last July. George is a territory manager for B. F. Goodrich in Elkins, W. Va.

Ronald Reinhardt married to Charlene Wright, a Texas gal, is a physicist with Chance Vought Aircraft. Ron spent two years as a student and teacher at Penn State, where he received his M.S. in Physics in June, 1953.

Rebecca Rogers Norris married in October, 1953. A son, Jeffrey, was born last October. Becky, once a teacher of English at Montrose High School, is very much settled at 6 Griffis St., Montrose, Pa.

Lt. and Mrs. John A. Schaumberg (Anne Buswell '52) are parents of a son, Jeffrey, born May 4, 1954.

Barbara Lou Stein and Robert E. Kelchner were married in Philadelphia on Oct. 16, 1954. They now live at 8 Dunmoyle St., Pittsburgh 17, from which spot Bob works his territory as salesman for the Heller Tool Company. Both are already active in Western Pennsylvania Alumni Club affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Britton (May Williamson) have just recently moved to Denton, Texas, where they joined the faculty of North Texas State College. They are also announcing the arrival of their son, Paul Walcott, born on August 12, 1954.

MISS ELINOR CHILDS
74 Mt. Kemble Ave.
Morristown, N. J.

SUCCESSFUL: Harold F. Bluhm is now research chemist with Hercules Powder Co., Experiment Station, Wilmington, Delaware.

Correction! Josephine Purpuri is now a social worker at the Richmond State Hospital in Richmond, Ind.

Mary Grace Jones, teacher at Montoursville High School, was married on July 16, in Wilkes-Barre to Clarence J. Thomas of Kingston.

A son, Michael Philip, to Lt. and Mrs. Philip Erdle (Carolyn Knies). Address: 302 Pine Grove Ave., Hampton, Va.

Norman J. Levy recently arrived for duty at Fort Jay, N. Y. Norm, a law clerk in the judge advocate section, entered the Army last April.

Elizabeth Lu Pinner has been selected by the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. to receive for the second time their $1,000 Esso scholarship. Lu is continuing work toward her master's degree at the Pittsburgh School of Social work.

Gary Ryan, now returned from Korea. He is an architectural draftsman near Haddonfield, N. J. He sends this news: John G. Morrison having received his Master's degree in electrical engineering, is in the research division of the Sperry Gyroscope Corp. Address: 46 Rhodes Dr., New Hyde Park, N. Y.

Herb Schloo served his hitch in the Counter-Intelligence Corps and plans to enter Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.

The class offers its thanks to Barbara Segelken for her efforts as class reporter for two years and wishes her success in her new job in the Foreign Service, in Mexico City.

Ruth P. Siegert and Paul M. Neuman are now Mr. and Mrs. They are living at Ithaca, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Joseph Totten '50 (Alice Windeknecht) have a young son, Kenneth Joseph, born last April. Joe is a sales engineer with Peabody Engineers, New York City. They are living in Demarest, N. J., where they bought a home recently.

It's a boy for Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Tschop (Elizabeth Denning) and his name is David Bruce. He arrived October 19, 1954.

Robert G. Wark, a Lambda Chi, is currently representing the U. S. Coast Guard in the production of the service television show "March On".

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce S. Parkinson (Marianne Colville) were blessed with a baby girl, Jean, on August 18, 1954.

Donald D. Frankel was married on November 6, 1954 to the former Betsy Frances Marek, in Honolulu, Hawaii.

KARL HEININGER '52 AND SON TEDDY

If you weren't lucky enough to catch this photo on the cover of a Johnstown, Pa. Sunday newspaper magazine, you may not have seen Karl Heininger greet his son, Teddy, for the first time. Mommy is, of course, Jan Coll '54. The happy family threesome is now located in Philadelphia with Karl out of the Army after serving many months in Korea.

MRS. JAMES A. CHAMBERS, JR.
(Barbara Roemer)
Boulevard Apts., 8 Clark St., Lodi, N. J.

Lt. Roy Cunningham is serving with the 3rd Marine Division in the Pacific theater.

Leila Feiler is now secretary to the assistant manager at Memorial Hospital in New York.

At Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism Patricia June Forlifer was awarded its first Maxwell M. Geffen Scholarship. The scholarship is a gift of Maxwell M. Geffen, editor of Omnibus magazine, and who was also a graduate from the journalism school. The scholarship is to be made annually to the "student best qualified in periodical journalism."

More news from the armed forces: Norm Freytag is stationed at the Aberdeen Proving Ground in Maryland. His address is: Pvt. N. Freytag US 51278769, 9301 TSU (ORD) D & PS DET 2, Box 160. Russ Norris is in the same company.

Edwin Gates Halline took Ester C. Wennerblad of West Orange, N. J. as his bride on Sept. 25. She is a Smith graduate. Gates is now in the service, stationed at Frankford Arsenal in Philadelphia.

Nancy Hamlin is a secretary at the Association of American Soap and Glycerine Producers.

Dorothy "Bugs" Harvey and Art Lloyd were married November 6 in West Chester, Pa.

Barbara W. Hunt and William H. Gurges '54 were married Sept. 6, 1954 and are living in Quantico, Va. Bill is a 2nd Lt. in the Marine Corps there.

Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Lowry (Sally Spencer) are living at the Parkview Apartments, Apt. 629-B, Collingswood, N. J. Norwood is now in his sophomore year at Jefferson Medical School, and Sally is working at the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ritter (Margaret O'Brien) have a baby daughter, named Kathleen Elizabeth.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Terrell '52 (Nancy Valentine) announce the birth of a daughter, Susan Valentine, born October 13. Nancy and Steve live at 204 A Darwin Ave., Rutherford, N. J.

54 MISS DOROTHY M. DIORIO
722 Radcliffe St.
Bristol, Pa.

Our First Reunion, June 11

Norman J. Clark is taking graduate work at good old B. U.

Caryl Colvin was married to James R. Pigg on the 20th of November; they are living at 1209 Little Page St., Frederickburg, Va.

R. Danforth Crossley II has enrolled in Temple University School of Medicine, Philadelphia.

Lois Anne Cullen is a graduate assistant in the Tulane University department of chemistry in New Orleans, Louisiana.

Sue Dayton is circulation librarian at Bell Telephone Labs at Whippany, N. J.

Laura DeRosa and Leslie B. Magee were married August 28, 1954, and are living in Warwick, Va. Lee is a 2nd Lt. in the U. S. Army Transportation Corps.

Ellwood S. Derr received his degree of bachelor of music on June 13 from the Eastman School of Music of the University of Rochester. He is now in the army headed for Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. James J. Egloff (Anna Lukens) are living in Doylestown where Jim is teaching in the Central Bucks Joint School District.

David B. Fitch is a graduate assistant in the School of Business Administration at Penn State University where

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS is published in January, March, May, September, and November by Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa.

Member—American Alumni Council

OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION

WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, President, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York.
JOHN F. WORTH '37, First Vice President, 233 N. Galveston St., Arlington, Va.
MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), Second Vice-President, 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh 6, Pa.
DAYTON L. RANCK '16, Treasurer, 35 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa.
JOHN H. SHOTT '22, Secretary and Editor, 116 Faculty Court, Lewisburg, Pa.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York (1955)
JOSEPH T. QUICK '38, Wright Rd., R. D. 2, Newtown, Pa. (1955)
MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa. (1955)
CLAIR G. SPANGLER '25, 214 N. Sixth St., Reading, Pa. (1955)
JOHN F. WORTH '37, 233 N. Galveston St., Arlington, Va. (1955)
MRS. BROWN FOCHT (Florence Utt '26), 229 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa. (1956)
BRUCE J. MILLER '27, 112 Devoe Rd., Chappaqua, N. Y. (1956)
ALLEN A. RARIG '29, 528 Lindbergh Way, Lewistown, Pa. (1956)
DONALD H. SHOLL '42, Munn Lane E., R. D. 1, Haddonfield, N. J. (1956)
P. HERBERT WATSON '37, 87 Prospect Ave., Norristown, Pa. (1956)
MRS. CHARLES E. COPELAND (Amorita Sesinger '22), 85-10 34th Ave., Jackson Heights, N. Y. (1957)
J. NORMAN DAVIES '26, 1112 Mill St., Wilksburg, Pa. (1957)
WILMER D. GREULICH '34, 715 Greythorne Rd., Wynnwood, Pa. (1957)
FRANCIS B. HAAS, JR. '47, 2917 N. Front St., Harrisburg, Pa. (1957)
W. CARL SPROUT '08, Mitchell Apts., North and Front St., Harrisburg, Pa. (1957)

() Year Term Expires.

he has begun working for his master's degree in economics.

Ronald Goodman is attending Columbia University, where he is studying for his master's degree in chemical engineering.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Harrison, Jr., (Suzanne Hopson '55) are the parents of a baby boy born August 26, 1954. They are living in Roslyn Heights, N. Y.

Mary Lou Hermann is attending Katharine Gibbs School in N. Y. She shares an apartment with Sandy Whipple and Cindy Luks at 148 East End Ave., New York 28, N. Y.

Francis M. Holcomb (Frank) is working in the engineering section of the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. in Pittsburgh. He is living at 4501 Bayard St., Pittsburgh 13, Pa.

Frank Hoornbeek is a part of Uncle Sam's Armed Services at Fort Dix, N. J.

Alda L. Keller is serving as director of the teen-age program of the Y. W. C. A. in Trenton, N. J.

Nancy Keplinger (Kep) was married last May 2 to Frank Wellersdieck, a D. U. from Brown. It was wonderful hearing from her. Nancy requests news from her Bucknell friends to keep her company in Anchorage, Alaska where Frank is stationed in the Army. The address: K & J Apartments, 7th and Gambell Sts., Anchorage, Alaska.

Bette Kinzie and her brother, Wyant Kinzie, of Yale spent the past summer on a student European tour. Louise Kinize sailed on Sept. 25, as a Bucknell exchange student at Poitiers, France for a year's study.

Bruce A. LaBar, Robert M. Pincus and Harold E. Smith, II, are serving in the U. S. Army.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Arthur Lees (Suzanne Dieffenderfer '55) announce the arrival of a son, Robert Arthur, on August 14, 1954.

Jim Logue has been named student assistant at Beaver Memorial Methodist Church, Lewisburg. He is back at Bucknell doing graduate work in preparation for theological seminary.

Malcolm Maccubbin is a student at the Andover Newton Theological School in Newton Centre, Mass.

Patti Ponon and Arthur Simon were married August 7. Art has been called to active duty with the Army, and they are living in New Palestine, Ind., while Art goes to Finance School.

Elaine C. Purcells and Donald M. Fryer (Syracuse '54) were married Sept. 10 and are now living in Wilmington, Del.

Fanny Rich is now Mrs. W. Harvey Mapes '53. They are living at Vine Grove, Ky., while Harvey is located at Ft. Knox.

Carl Robbins is located in Philadelphia, where he is a trainee with Stokes and Smith Co.

Anne Marie Savacool is a laboratory assistant at the Hahnemann Medical College in Philadelphia.

Charles A. Shaffer is a junior research engineer for the Aluminum Co. of America, and is residing in Lakewood, Ohio.

George R. Shepherd is serving as graduate assistant in biochemistry at the University of Maine, Orono.

Barbara J. Warren and Glen O. Long were married, June 5. They are living in Philadelphia, where Barbara is a student in the Graduate School of the University of Pennsylvania. Glen is teaching science in the Springfield Jr. High School.

Here are the Reunion Organization committee: Marty Carhart, president; Josephine Anthony, reunion chairman; Bob Catherman, Mary Jane Rhodes and Fran Derby, attendance; Jackie Long, editor; Bill Bray, social meeting; and Jim Logue, regalia.

Newsman's Conference

The Second Newsman's Conference was held on campus February 9, 10 and 11 with the theme "As Others See Us." Five foreign correspondents attached to the United Nations came to campus for the three-day affair to discuss their views of the United States in a series of panels and classroom discussions. In the main, they pled for a better understanding on the part of the United States of the problems and peculiarities of other nations.

The five newsmen were: Jacques Edinger, of the Agence France Presse; Paul F. Sanders, correspondent for the Dutch newspaper, Het Parool; Leyon Keshishian, of Al Ahram, of Cairo, Egypt and a member of last year's newsmen's conference team; Walter P. Schuch, correspondent for the Handelsblatt, Western Germany's leading financial newspaper; and Anand Mohan of the Information Service of India.

The conference got under way Wednesday evening with the showing of "Farewell to Yesterday", a documentary film covering the outstanding news events of the past two decades.

On Thursday the five newsmen were feted at a reception and tea in the afternoon with members of Pi Delta Epsilon, journalism honorary, and the United Nations Club acting as hosts. This was followed in the evening by the opening panel "As Others See Us", moderated by Robert Ewing, journalism professor.

The last day of the conference the newsmen elaborated on their opinions of the United States at individual classroom discussions in the morning. The closing session of the conference Friday evening consisted of a question and answer period between the audience and the five correspondents. John F. Zeller III, political science professor, served as the moderator.

The speakers committee was composed of Dr. Richard Du Wors, head of the sociology department; Richard Kirshman '54, and Richard Wormser '55. Other committee chairmen were: program, Eleanor Mackie, '55; publicity, Margery Cuff '55 and Cecily Kline '57; hosts and hostesses, Christine Horne '57, and planning committee, Frank Richardson '55.

A committee has been formed to discuss the possibility of making this Newsman's Conference an annual event and a permanent part of Bucknell's Founder's Day observation on campus.

Judge John F. Cox '25 Receives Salute

The capable service of John Fremont Cox '25, as Judge of the Orphans Court of Allegheny County, was recognized in an editorial published by the Pittsburgh Press recently.

The Press editorial writer, under the subject of "An Able Judge", had this to say about John Cox:

The Press adheres to the principle that a judge who has satisfactorily served an elective term on the bench is entitled to the support of both parties when he comes up for re-election.

Without such a principle, judgeships in our various courts would be up for grabs every time an elective term ended and justice would suffer.

Judge Cox serves on a court of special importance, in that it deals with the legal details and administration of estates, trusts and adoptions. To this work he has applied himself with diligence and ability.

A few months ago, the State Supreme Court, in an opinion on a case handled by Judge Cox, referred to his "skill and patience," his meticulous "care," his "exhaustive analysis of the evidence" and to his "accurate application of the pertinent legal principles."

This view of the Judge's competence apparently is shared by the lawyers of Allegheny County. No less than 1654 of them have endorsed him in writing for re-election. This is an unprecedented recommendation which represents almost unanimous endorsement by the active members of the bar here.

Judge Cox was a teacher, a school principal, a State Senator, a local and county official before going on the bench. In his more than nine years on the bench, he has avoided political activity. But he found time to take a graduate degree at the University of Pittsburgh, to study our adoption system and propose badly-needed amendments, and to serve, in an unpaid capacity, as a professional lecturer at Duquesne University.

John S. Burlew '30 Fills New Position

DR. JOHN S. BURLEW

Dr. John S. Burlew '30, who received his Ph.D. in Chemistry from Johns Hopkins, was appointed to the newly-created position of Assistant Director of the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia. He assumed his duties on July 26. Immediately prior to his acceptance of the Institute position, John was technical director of the Cambridge Corporation of Cambridge, Mass. The Burlews now live at 12 Chestnut Lane, Rose Valley, Moylan, Pa.

Tri Delt Regional Meeting In April

Tau Chapter of Delta Delta Delta and the Lewisburg alliance will be a hostess group for a regional meeting of Delta Delta Delta to be held on the campus, April 23, 1955.

Collegiate groups to be represented include University of Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania State University, University of Pittsburgh, Carnegie Tech, and alliance groups from Wilmington, Del., Charleston, W. Va., Johnstown, Altoona, Erie, State College, Pittsburgh, Reading, York, Philadelphia and Lewisburg.

Mrs. Layton King (Elizabeth Champion '18) of Montoursville, will be chairman of the meeting assisted by members of the local groups.

Engineering Directory

The third Engineering Directory to be published by the Bucknell University Department of Engineering is currently in the mails and lists a total of 1941 persons who have received Engineering Degrees from the University.

Of this total, 1798 graduates are still living and are residing in 37 States and 11 Foreign Countries.

The breakdown by fields shows Mechanical Engineering leading the way with 530 graduates, followed by Electrical 494, Chemical 478 and Civil 439.

Other figures revealed by the Directory show that 578 of these Alumni are members of Professional Engineering Societies, that 177 of them are Registered Professional Engineers and that 165 went on to get higher degrees.

While many of the present occupations of these Alumni could not be classified, it is interesting to note that technical supervision claims 152; engineering sales and service, 94; research and development, 68; executive work, 67; and designing, 58. Six Alumni have gone into business and another 93 are no longer in the field of engineering.

Since the last Directory was published in 1949, the number of students graduated by the Engineering Department has risen approximately 23%, or from 1502 students to 1941.

Du Wors Named to "Who's Who"

Dr. Richard E. Du Wors, head of the department of sociology at Bucknell, has been included with those listed in "Who's Who in America." Dr. Du Wors, a graduate of Bates College, earned his doctor of philosophy degree at Harvard University.

Eight other Bucknell faculty members listed in the publication are: Dr. Frank G. Davis, Dr. John W. Rice, Dr. Clarence H. Richardson, Dr. Philip L. Harriman, Dr. George A. Ireland, Dr. W. Norwood Lowry, Dr. Lester Kieft, and Bruce Mitchell, artist in residence.

Spring Sports Preview

(Continued from Page 8)

Returning seniors, who have an inside track on squad berths, are Captain Dick Wormser, Frank Klahre, Bob Harbaugh and Dick Richter.

GOLF

With ace Jeff Mynott and Nelson Korb gone from last year's team Harold Evans' Bison golfers may have some tough sledding this spring.

The departed twosome paced the Evans-coached team to five wins in 14 matches a year ago. With fourteen matches on tap again this spring, against such top Eastern squads as Cornell and Penn State, the Bisons will have to do some fast stepping to improve on the 1954 record.

Wrestling

After absorbing 34-0 shutouts at the hands of strong Gettysburg and Lafayette teams, Smokey Ostendarp's Bison wrestlers bonced back for a 19-13 triumph over Mhelenberg but lost to Haverford 18-14.

Three more dual meets remain on the grappling schedule, including a Davis gym contest with Delaware. The Bucknellians will also take part in the Middle Atlantic championships on March 4 and 5.

The

BUCKNELL

ALUMNUS

ALUMNI REUNIONS . . . JUNE 11, 1955

OUR GOAL: An Annual Gift From Every Bucknellian

As we approach the final month of the 1954-1955 Bucknell Alumni Annual Giving Program (the fund year ends June 30, 1955), the prospects look promising for an increase over last year's total.

While the Bucknell Alumni Fund Committee, under the chairmanship of Clyde P. Bailey '29, Pittsburgh, has never set a monetary goal, it has adopted the very optimistic aim of a gift annually from every Bucknellian, on the theory that every student whether a graduate or not received real benefits from his or her association on the campus. There seems little doubt that every Bucknellian of the past wants the present and future student body to receive similar benefits.

As we go to press, personal contact programs are in progress in eleven large areas of Alumni concentration. These regions with their chairmen and co-chairmen and the dates of the kickoff meeting are as follows: Lewisburg, Mrs. Brown Focht '26 and Mrs. Paul Showalter '33, April 13; Long Island, William S. Liming '33 and Mrs. Amorita S. Copeland '22, April 19; South Jersey, Kenneth W. Slifer '26 and Joseph W. McCormick Jr. '26, April 21; Philadelphia, P. Herbert Watson '37 and Wilmer D. Greulich '34, April 22; Williamsport, Paul E. Fink '29, April 25; Harrisburg, Francis B. Haas Jr. '47 and William Fearen '50, April 28; Washington, John F. Worth '37 and Dale Hay '49, April 29; Lewistown, Allen A. Rarig '29, May 3; Triple Cities, Harry E. Stabler '23, May 4; Pittsburgh, Craig M. Waldner '41 and Barr Cannon '39, May 5; Trenton, William J. Irvin '22, May 19.

Encouraged by the results in the person-to-person program in the Pittsburgh area last year, a force of 600 regional workers has been recruited to visit 3,000 Alumni in the eleven areas of solicitation.

INDUSTRY IS PITCHING IN, TOO

Disturbed by financial problems facing privately supported higher education, business and industrial leaders have begun to take forceful action. Since reporting the programs of eleven industries in our last issue (THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS, March, 1955, page 13), several other groups including Westinghouse Electric and the Ford Foundation have announced increased plans of support to colleges and universities.

Stimulating this support by business has been the widespread concern of not only university administrations, but university Alumni over the plight of their respective institutions. Without doubt, the most forceful factors in promoting industrial participation have been the annual alumni funds, which have set examples of farsighted and inspiring aid.

Bucknell University, of course, will profit by some of these programs, but the extent of benefit is geared directly to the kind of support given by its own Alumni. They are the pace setters, the inspirational leaders, and the essential foundation of a gift structure that will provide Bucknell with the financial support so vitally needed.

It is not difficult to see why your Alumni Fund Committee has set as its goal:
AN ANNUAL GIFT FROM EVERY BUCKNELLIAN.

In This Issue

	Page
Alumni:
Richard Atherley '49	4
Neil S. Blaisdell '26	4
Gary B. Boring '55	11
Russell E. Boyer '18	4
William R. Campbell '47	5
Richard E. Fetter '47	5
Carl J. Geiser '27	8
L. M. Hainer '05	14
William L. Haines '56	11
A. Herbert Haslam '23	17
William S. Liming '33	24
Dayton L. Ranck '16	8
Helen Hare Sholl '10	15
Donald B. Young '33	8
John F. Zeller III '41	8
Alumni Fund	2
Bucknell Gift Tops Million	8
By-Laws Scheduled for Revision	6-8
Campus Calendar	5
Class Reports	14-23
Club Activities	9, 11
Did You Vote?	23
Donkey Basketball	5
Faculty Salaries Increased	5
Food Storage Building	5
Football Schedule	10
Highlights of 1955	12, 13
May Day	4
Meet the Mayor	4
Moving-Up Day	10
Reunions—June, 1955	3
Dr. Richardson Dies Suddenly	11
Slifer-Scott Wedding	5
Sports	10
Staff Changes Announced	8

The Cover Picture

These seniors seem to have turned their backs to you. Not so—they are standing on the steps of the Davis Gymnasium waiting to greet you when you arrive for the All-Alumni Luncheon at the gym at noon on Saturday, June 11. We hope you will be here to accept their greeting.

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

Vol. XXXIX—No. 5 May 1955

Published in January, March, May, September, and November

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Entered as second-class matter December 30, 1930, at the post office at Lewisburg, Pa., under the Act of August 24, 1912.

Student Editorial Assistants: Katherine Alimisis '55, Camden, N. J.; Dale Bowen '56, Reading; Loie Bunnell '56, South Temple; Shelagh Clutter '57, Singapore, Malaya; Elizabeth Fogg '56, Moylan; Jane Nevling '56, Lockport, N. Y.; Arline Sherwood '56, Trenton, N. J.; Carol Wanamaker '57, Baldwin, N. Y.; Jean Wirths '56, Madison, N. J.; Rhoda Wolf '56, Philadelphia.

IT'S NEARLY THAT TIME AGAIN

Class and campus committees, with membership that runs into the hundreds, are at work putting the final touches to the reunion preparations, so that all of us will be assured pleasant experiences upon our return to the campus for Reunion Weekend, June 10, 11, 12 and 13.

Alumni class reunions are concentrated on Saturday, June 11, but the entire weekend will be filled with activities.

Classes holding regular five-year reunions, include the Classes of 1890, 1895, 1900 and all the classes in the Emeritus Club group, which means everybody who has celebrated 50 or more years since graduation. All of the 50 years-plus group will hold their celebration at a centrally located headquarters under the banner of the Emeritus Club except that the 1900 group will hold a class social meeting at the home of Miss Anna Judd, 79 University Avenue, at 3 P. M., June 11.

Other classes holding five year reunions include the Class of 1905 (the golden anniversary), Class of 1910, Class of 1915, Class of 1920, Class of 1925, Class of 1930 (silver anniversary), Class of 1935, Class of 1940, Class of 1945, Class of 1950, and the first reunion of the Class of 1954.

But Everybody's Welcome

But Alumni Reunion Day provides a program with atmosphere that makes it possible for Bucknellians of all classes to celebrate and no matter what year you graduated, there will be interesting and enjoyable programs for you. Officers of next year's reunion classes (those whose numerals end in "1" and "6") are especially urged to be on campus for Alumni Weekend this year in order to observe the re-vitalized weekend program in action and thus be in a better position to plan for their own reunion in June 1956.

Housing For Visitors

As usual, overnight sleeping accommodations will be available in the dormitories for those who make their reservations early. Reunion classes have received reservation forms and all others should return to us the reservation slip shown on this page to make their room and luncheon reservations. Keep in mind that the rooms are available on a first-come, first-served basis and we cannot guarantee reservations received after May 27. Better be sure to send in yours early.

The Program

The March issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS carried an hour-by-hour program of activities for the whole weekend. Final programs showing the exact time and place of the activities will be available at registration headquarters in the Carnegie Building when you reach the campus.

Reunioners will have their first meeting, a business session at 10:30 A. M. on Saturday, when the Anniversary issue of the L'Agenda of each class will be on sale. Every reunioner is urged to attend this meeting to receive the class regalia and appear on the class group picture. A very short business meeting for election of officers where necessary, will also be included in the program.

The All-Alumni Luncheon

After the class picture taking, the traditional parade to the gymnasium will take place. At the All-Alumni Luncheon in the gymnasium, reunioners will be seated by class groups. The luncheon will be substantial, the speeches few and short, with ample opportunities to meet Bucknellians of all classes and to have the privilege of seeing the senior class inducted into the Alumni Association and to meet the winner of the Alumni Achievement Award Chair.

Social Program

Saturday afternoon following the luncheon, each reuniting class will provide a social program of its own. Some classes are planning to meet at the homes of nearby graduates. Some are meeting at off-campus spots, while others will avail themselves of the opportunity of establishing class headquarters in Women's Residence Houses on the campus.

The Evening Program

Fraternity and sorority symposiums will occupy some at 6 P. M. but we cannot dally too long for the Commencement Play and the Jamboree and Reception will present features that we will not want to miss.

Other Features

The traditional Bison Club Breakfast and the Phi Beta Kappa Breakfast are scheduled for Saturday morning. There is a probability that the corner-stone placing ceremonies for the new F. W. Olin Science Building will be scheduled for noon on Saturday.

And don't miss the opportunity to see the special Reunion Displays in the Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library during the weekend. You may see your own biography on display.

The business meeting of the General Alumni Association (The Annual Assembly) offers added significance this year because of the importance of the decisions to be made. All Alumni are urged to attend the Assembly session at 9:30 A. M., Saturday. Voting will be by delegates selected to represent the 65 Alumni Clubs. This year delegates will be asked to consider a rather thorough-going revision of the Constitution and By-Laws (see page 6). Another important piece of business is the selection of five members of the Board of Directors from the following ten:

- Mrs. E. D. Carstetter (Marie Helwig '28), Falls Church, Va.
- Dr. Merrill B. Dewire '21, Reading, Penna.
- Herbert C. Grice Sr. '18, Lewisburg, Penna.
- William J. Irvin '22, Trenton, N. J.
- William G. Jones '29, Phillipsburg, Penna.
- Wayne Knouse '40, Scotch Plains, N. J.
- William S. Liming '33, East Wiltiston, N. Y.
- C. Martin Neff '42, Red Lion, Penna.
- Mrs. John A. Rhodes '20, Pittsburgh, Penna.
- Alice Roberts '24, Philadelphia, Penna.

Additional nominations from the floor will be permitted.

The results of the Alumni Trustee election will be announced at the Assembly meeting.

The Sunday-Monday Program

Sunday morning the sun will rise on a more quiet scene and for many Alumni the program will be breakfast, church and leave taking. For those who can stay, the band concert and reception for seniors, parents, faculty, and Alumni at 3:30 P. M., the Baccalaureate Service at 8:00 P. M. followed by Commencement exercises at 10:00 A. M. Monday, will round out a weekend that will long be remembered.

BE GLAD YOU DID—

DON'T WISH YOU HAD

ALTHOUGH WE WILL DO OUR BEST — WE CAN NOT GUARANTEE RESERVATIONS RECEIVED AFTER MAY 27!

Name	Class	Time of Arrival:
		Date ..
Mailing Address		Approximate Hour

DORMITORY RESERVATIONS ($1.50 per person per night) desired for:

Friday Saturday Sunday nights.

Please check if: Married Couple Mr. Mrs. Miss

If reservation includes persons other than yourself,

List names here: ..

Children
Male	Ages
Female	Ages

How Many?

ALL-ALUMNI REUNION LUNCHEON

Saturday, June 11, 12:30 p. m. Price $1.50

SATURDAY EVENING ALUMNI PROGRAM: (Indicate Choice)

- 1. Reunion Jamboree (Alumni Get-Together, Entertainment, Refreshments, Dancing) Davis Gymnasium: 8 - 12 p. m. } $1.00 } or
- 2. Cap & Dagger play "Mr. Roberts" High School 8:00 p. m. } per } person

Oh for the Life of a Class Fund Manager!

ARRIVAL IN ANN ARBOR

"DEAR

TRINKE HELPS TOO!

ON THEIR WAY

Dick Atherley's job as Class Fund manager of the Class of 1949 is one of the biggest assignments in the fund program, for he has 863 classmates on his list. The pictures above give a graphic story of how he does it. In late January, we sent him 863 letters to which he added personal notes, and then he mailed the letters from Ann Arbor, Michigan, where he is this year attending the University of Michigan Graduate School of Business Administration. During the two previous fund years, Dick found time while on assignment with the Marine Corps to carry out the details of his big class project. This year he is recruiting 16 classmates to assist in the fund program to assure that his Class of 1949 will remain on top (as they have for the past three years) in the "total number of givers" category in the fund.

Sound like a lot of work? Sure, but Dick measures it in terms of the loyal response of his classmates. Reminds us of another class fund manager who recently wrote, "The joy of hearing from classmates makes the fund managers' task a pure pleasure." You, too, can reap the benefits of closer association with your Bucknell campus experiences by undertaking a job in your class, your local Alumni club, and your University.

May Day - May 7

May Day, one of Bucknell's most festive traditions, will be held on May 6 weekend and will feature the crowning of the May Queen in Davis Gymnasium on Saturday afternoon.

This honored co-ed will be chosen by a class vote from a group of thirteen outstanding senior women who will comprise the May Court.

The May Day ceremonies are sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association and the Department of Physical Education.

An "Alice-In-Wonderland" theme will be presented, and the various numbers will include, "Garden of Flowers," "Tweedle-dee and Tweedledum," and "Jabberwocky." One of the highlights will be "The Lobster Quadrille," in which the participants will sport black leotards, red skirts and helmets, and bright red "claws."

The Bucknell University Band, conducted by Allen W. Flock, will present musical selections at the outset of the program.

The traditional Maypole Dance will be performed this year by "The Deck of Cards," in keeping with the "Alice-In-Wonderland" theme. Miss Margaret L. Bryan will be the general chairman of the May Day program. She will be ably assisted in the dance department by Miss Marcia Scarles and Miss Janet Meltzer. Judy Beattie, president of the Women's Athletic Association, will be the student chairman.

The candidates for May Day Queen, chosen on the basis of leadership, service, and scholarship, are Jan Bayreuther, Judy Beattie, Betsy Bice, Dixie Dixon, Betty Elliott, Nancy Green, Lydia Hines, Ardis Hinkle, Marty Jones, Marianne MacMain, Sally Marsh, Vaughan Richart, and Polly Told.

Cap and Dagger will present "Mister Roberts" on Friday and Saturday evenings as their contribution to the weekend festivities. The Glee Clubs will perform concerts on both evenings.

The recession of the May Court will complete the impressive and eagerly anticipated celebration that attracts hundreds of spectators each year to our Bucknell campus.

Meet the Mayor

Meet the new Mayor of Honolulu—His Honor Neil S. Blaisdell of the Class of 1926.

Capping a long career of public service, Neil S. Blaisdell was elected to the top office in the City of Honolulu in November 1954. Honolulu can qualify as the world's largest city-county because its extended boundaries include a total expanse of 540,000 square miles, most of which is Pacific Ocean. The city itself embraces 85 square miles. Prior to his election as Mayor, Neil had served as a Representative and a Senator in the Territorial Legislature and just before his election as Mayor, he had served as Director of the Department of Public Welfare for the Territory of Hawaii.

In business affairs he has been equally prominent, serving or having served in the real estate department of the Bishop Trust Company; as executive of the Hawaiian Pineapple Company and as director of the Schumann Carriage Company and Hawaiian Motors Limited.

Born in Honolulu, Neil attended Bucknell where he was a member of Sigma Chi and with his brother William K. Blaisdell '27, built an outstanding career on Bucknell's football squad. After graduation, he returned to the islands and served as teacher and athletic director at several high schools and at St. Louis College in Honolulu.

He is married to the former Lucy Thurston. One of his daughters, Velma '51, is married to Jimmy Clark of the Washington Redskins football team. His other daughter, Marilyn, is married to Charles Ane and is the mother of two children.

Bucknellians visiting Honolulu are cautioned to travel carefully and not to expect Neil to fix any traffic tickets for them.

Trustee Boyer '18 Dies

Russell E. Boyer, a member of the Board of Trustees of Bucknell University, died at his home in Allentown on Sunday, March 6.

Mr. Boyer had been home from the hospital only several weeks, recuperating from serious injuries received in a four-car automobile crash last November. He died of a self-inflicted bullet wound.

A veteran of 34 years of service in the State Department of Highways, he had served as District Engineer in Allentown since 1951.

A Mason and former member of Williamsport Rotary Club, Mr. Boyer was also a member of the American Society of Highway Engineers, and in 1950 served as president of the Pennsylvania Society of Professional Engineers.

As a student, he was a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. Elected to the Board of Trustees of Bucknell by the Alumni in 1950, he served on the Committee of Grounds and Buildings and the Committee on Alumni Relations. He last attended a Board meeting on November 14, just two days before his automobile accident.

He is survived by his wife, the former Jean E. Bail, three brothers and two sisters, to whom the heartfelt sympathies of the University are extended.

William R. Campbell '47 Dies in Plane Crash

William R. Campbell, husband of the former Alice M. Schoonmaker '47, and Alice's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Schoonmaker, were among 16 persons killed in a Trans World airline crash on Needles Peak, N. M., on February 10.

Bill had been on a business trip in the west for the A. G. Schoonmaker Company of New York, owned by his father-in-law. Mr. and Mrs. Schoonmaker had been in California, also on business, and the three met at Albuquerque, Saturday, February 10, to fly to Santa Fe, 60 miles away where they planned to stop before returning east.

Born in Lewisburg, Mr. Campbell was the son of Clyde Campbell, chief of the Bucknell University police force, and Dorothy Pursell Campbell, who serves in the University Post Office in Roberts Hall.

He graduated from Lewisburg High School, and attended Bucknell University for three years. He served with the United States Air Force during World War II, and shortly after marrying Alice Schoonmaker, whom he met at Bucknell, entered his father-in-law's employ.

He had resided at Tenafly for almost six years.

Surviving are his wife, Alice, his parents, two daughters, Alice, 4, and Virginia, 2, three aunts, Miss Bessie and Miss Madeline Campbell, Milton, and Mrs. Harold Schreckengast, Lewisburg, and an uncle, Clement Campbell, Milton.

Alfred G. and Dorothy Schoonmaker are survived by three daughters, Mrs. Alice Campbell and Mrs. Annie Pearson, the former Anne Schoonmaker '53, wife of William H. Pearson, a sophomore at Bucknell, Lewisburg, and Miss Barbara Schoonmaker, at home; and a son, Theodore.

Classmates of Alice and Bill, extend sincere sympathy to the survivors.

Slifer-Scott Wedding

The wedding of Miss Diane C. Slifer '54, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wilson Slifer '26 and '27 respectively, 177 Briar Hill Lane, Woodbury, N. J., to Mr. Victor Franklin Scott '54, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Scott, of Patton, Pa., was solemnized October 2, 1954 at the Central Baptist Church, Woodbury, Rev. Dr. William McNutt, pastor, officiated, and Rev. William E. Fenstermacher '49, pastor of the Grace Methodist Church, Harrisburg, assisted.

The bridal party, with one exception, was composed entirely of Bucknellians. Mrs. Donald C. Knodel (Pat Pratt) '54, Wilmington, Del., was matron of honor. The bridesmaids included: Louise Austin '54, Baltimore; Joann Black, Altoona, Pa. Cousin of the bridegroom; Jacqueline Jolly '54, Bloomfield, N. J., and Alice Rhoads '54, Upper Montclair, N. J. Martha McDowell (daughter of Robby Slifer '31), Pensacola, Fla., was flower girl.

David Shier (brother of bride and prospective Bucknellian) was best man. The ushers were Albert Hg '54, Bloomfield, N. J., Malcolm Macculbun '54, Lenoir, N. J., Howard Rudge '57, Scranton, Pa., and William Schmidt '57, Buffalo, N. Y. Bob Smith '56, was soloist.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Virginia and are now residing in Salem, N. J. where they have established the Colonial Nurseries, Inc.

MAY 1955

Dick Fetter '47 Featured in GE Advertising

Richard E. Fetter '47 was featured in the monthly General Electric Company college series, "What Young People Are Doing at General Electric," appearing in 221 college newspapers throughout the country in April.

Fetter is just one of thousands of young businessmen who are serving in positions of responsibility at General Electric.

As financial manager of the Industrial Heating Department located in Schenectady, Dick Fetter is responsible for handling the entire financial structure of his department. This includes many problems involved in relocating the department in a new $5,000,000 plant at Shelbyville, Ind., later this year.

His responsibility includes setting up a complete financial section at Shelbyville and managing everything from tax, cost and general accounting to payrolls, budgets and measurements and internal auditing.

A 1947 graduate with a B.S. in commerce and finance, Dick Fetter reported directly to General Electric and enrolled in the business training course. He served in various assignments at Schenectady, Syracuse and Bridgeport, Conn., and was appointed to his present position in February, 1954.

From 1943 until 1945, Fetter was in the Army Air Corps, returning to Bucknell to resume his war-interrupted education.

He married the former Miss Mary Virginia Gabriel '48 of Lewisburg in June 1947. They reside with their daughter, Molly Elizabeth, at 6-C1 Sheridan Village, Schenectady.

President Odgers Announces Increased Salaries for Faculty

Substantial salary increases for the Faculty were announced at the beginning of the second semester by President Merle M. Odgers. While the increases were to become effective with the beginning of the fiscal year, July 1, actually the new scale was put into effect on March 1. The revised salary schedule provided increases of $500 each for professors, $400 each for associate professors and $300 each for assistant professors and instructors.

The increases which were approved by the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees, originated with President Odgers, who indicated soon after his arrival on the Bucknell campus, his determination to raise faculty salaries. The new scale grew out of the strong conviction that the welfare of the University and level of its educational achievement depend on the competence of the member of the Faculty and the vigor and enthusiasm with which they perform their painstaking duties.

Food Storage Building Will Also Process Milk

Construction of a food storage and dairy processing plant at Bucknell University is well under way.

The plant, which will cost approximately $50,000, and will be built as an addition to the college power plant, is expected to be completed sometime this Spring.

The building will be one story high and will be a concrete and brick structure conforming to the general design of the power plant. It has been planned primarily to provide storage and refrigeration facilities for handling food for the University's two present dining halls and for the freshman dining hall now being built.

The University's dairy processing plant, now located at the college farm, will be moved into the new building. The farm is currently supplying all fluid milk now consumed in the college dining halls and at the Bison.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

- May 6—Spring Festival—Cap and Dagger—"Mr. Roberts;" Glee Club Concerts
- May 7—Spring Festival—Cap and Dagger—"Mr. Roberts;" May Day Program; Glee Club Concerts
- May —Phi Beta Kappa—Banquet and Speaker
- May 13—Freshman Class Dance
- May 17—University Course Lecture
- May 19—University Course Lecture
- May 20—Sem Night (block party)
- May 21—Sem Night (rain date)
- May 20-21—Chapel Choir Tour—Atlantic City
- May 22—Symphonic Band Concert—Women's Quad
- May 31-June 8—Final Examinations
- June 11—Alumni Reunion Day
- June 12—Baccalaureate
- June 13—Commencement

Donkey Basketball Hits Campus

When something different and humorous is sought, depend on the Junior Class to do the job. The Juniors will try anything (within bounds) to raise money for their Senior Prom, which 'tis said, will be "the best ever." Our "third yearers" performed in rare style by engaging our faculty team, and "All-Star" Donkey-Ball players, in a basketball game on the evening of March 18. The game was played by four teams, consisting of four players each: the Junior Co Eds (Captain—Bette Skow), Junior Men (Captain—Art Kinney), Faculty (Captain—Neil Shiffler), and the members of the intramural All-Star basketball team (Captain—Bob Antkowiak).

The rules of this unusual game, plus the costumes of the players, who were adorned in everything from Easter Bonnets to Davy Crockett hats, were unique.

The final score in the Junior women vs. the Junior men proved again the old adage, "Never underestimate the power of a woman," while the Faculty vs. Intramural All Stars ended in a tie.

The proceeds more than compensated for the many black and blue marks collected in combat.

REVISION OF BY-LAWS SCHEDULED FOR JUNE VOTE

Alumni are asked to consider a revision of the Constitution and By-Laws of the General Alumni Association. The proposed changes will be an important item of business at the Annual Assembly in Vaughan Literature Auditorium on Saturday, June 11, at 9:30 a. m. The Annual Assembly is the yearly business meeting of the Association. Every Bucknellian is represented at the Annual Assembly by delegates and alternates chosen in each Alumni Club area. The Alumni Clubs' presidents have been given advance copies of the proposed changes with the suggestion that at a club meeting to be scheduled before June the revisions be studied and the Club's delegates and alternates be instructed how to vote.

A complete draft of the proposed changes is printed in this issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS so that everyone may have an opportunity to study the changes and express an opinion through his or her local Alumni Club. It is hoped that many Alumni will take the time to become familiar with the proposals. For those who would rather not go into detail, the changes do these things:

1. Provide a new Article I, setting forth the name, definitions, and the principal office of the General Alumni Association.

2. Delete the old Article III on Association Meetings, inasmuch as the Annual Assembly (new Article V) constitutes such meetings in fact.

3. Provide a new Article VI, changing the terms of service of members of the Board of Directors from three to five years.

4. Delineate the duties of the Alumni Secretary (new Article VII, Section 4).

5. Add new articles on the Alumni Fund (new Article X), the Alumni Achievement Award (new Article XI), and Committees (new Article XII).

6. Make a number of changes that are essentially of an editing nature.

In the proposed revisions printed in the following columns italics indicates the new or revised wording of the various articles and sections.

The new Constitution and By-Laws are the result of the painstaking efforts of John F. Worth '37, chairman of the committee that included also Clyde P. Bailey, Esq. '29 and J. Norman Davies, Esq. '26. The Board of Directors at its meeting on October 22, 1954 studied John Worth's draft of the revisions and with a few changes instructed the Alumni Secretary to publish the revised version and provide for a vote on the entire draft at the Annual Assembly in June 1955.

PROPOSED REVISION of CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS of THE GENERAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Amended June , 19

(Words in italics are the new or revised wording).

Article I—Name

Section 1. The name of this organization shall be "The General Alumni Association of Bucknell University."

Section 2. The following definitions of terms used herein shall apply:

"Alumni"—All persons, male and female, described in Section 1 of Article III herein.

"The Association"—The General Alumni Association of Bucknell University.

"The Board"—The Board of Directors of The General Alumni Association of Bucknell University.

"The University"—Bucknell University.

Section 3. The principal office of the Board of Directors of The General Alumni Association shall be the Office of the Alumni Secretary, Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pennsylvania.

Article II—Object

Section 1. The object of the Association shall be to organize and enlist the endeavors of its members for the diligent advancement of Bucknell University by:

(a) strengthening the relations between the Alumni and the University;

(b) establishing efficient Alumni organizations;

(c) disseminating such information as will arouse the interest of the public in the University;

(d) bringing to the attention of the students of high and preparatory schools the advantages of Bucknell University as an educational institution;

(e) assisting in University extension work;

(f) making recommendations to the Board of Trustees concerning matters deemed material to the University's welfare;

(g) assisting in raising funds for the endowment and maintenance of the University;

(h) taking such other actions as may be deemed proper and necessary for the advancement of the University and the Association.

Article III—Membership

Section 1. Every person to whom a degree shall have been awarded by Bucknell University and every person who shall have matriculated and ceased to be a student at Bucknell University shall be deemed to be a member of this Association.

Section 2. Every member of the Association shall be deemed to be a member of the Alumni Club having jurisdiction over his place of residence, provided that a member of the Association may elect to change his affiliation to any Club which best suits his convenience, and provided further that anyone residing in an area not assigned to a Club shall be deemed a member of the Club embracing the town of Lewisburg.

Section 3. Members of the Faculty and Administration of the University who are not members of the Association by virtue of the provisions of Section 1 of this Article shall be deemed associate members of the Association.

ARTICLE IV—ALUMNI CLUBS

Section 1. For the purposes of carrying on the activities of this Association more effectively throughout the world and establishing a representative basis to conduct the internal affairs of this Association, local Alumni Clubs composed of members of this Association shall be chartered.

Section 2. The division of the United States into districts appropriate for the jurisdiction of the Alumni Clubs shall be determined by the Assembly, and each Alumni Club shall be issued a charter and assigned the district over which it shall have jurisdiction.

Section 3. The power to curtail or enlarge the size of the district assigned to a Club and to issue or revoke Club charters shall rest with the Assembly.

Section 4. Petitions for new Clubs may be made by not less than five members of the Association.

Section 5. Jurisdiction over the territory of any Club whose charter shall have been withdrawn or which shall have failed for two years in succession to send any delegate or alternate to the Assembly shall be terminated and reassigned, unless other action is voted by the Assembly.

Section 6. Each Alumni Club shall be empowered and required to proceed within its own district with such activities as it shall determine will best accomplish the purposes of the Association and to elect or appoint and send to the Assembly the delegates and alternates authorized as hereinafter provided.

ARTICLE V—ASSEMBLY

Section 1. The members of the Association shall by representation, in a meeting of delegates known as the Assembly, elect the members of the Board of Directors, perform such functions and take such actions as are not otherwise delegated pertaining to the conduct of internal affairs of the Association.

Section 2. Representation in the Assembly shall be by delegates elected or appointed by the Clubs which hold charters from the Association. Each chartered Club shall be entitled to send to the Assembly one delegate and one alternate. In addition thereto, each Club may send one delegate and one alternate for each seventy-five members or major fraction thereof. Delegates and alternates of Clubs beyond a radius of 300 miles from Lewisburg need not be members of the Clubs they represent.

Section 3. The delegates and their alternates shall meet annually at Lewisburg during Commencement weekend at a time and place to be determined by the President of the Association and published in the Commencement program. Extraordinary Assemblies may be called during the year at Lewisburg by the President or by three members of the Board of Directors upon two weeks' notice first being given by mail to each chartered Club.

Section 4. A quorum shall consist of those delegates and alternates who attend. Each delegate or his alternate shall be entitled to one vote, provided that no alternate shall vote or have voice in the meeting if the delegate for whom he is an alternate be present. All business shall be dispatched by a majority vote of those present and entitled to vote, except as otherwise provided herein. There shall be no voting by proxy.

Section 5. Meetings of the Assembly shall be open to all members of the Association, but members shall have no voice in the meetings except through their delegates.

Section 6. The Assembly shall have the right to take a referendum vote of the members of the Association on any question through the medium of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.

ARTICLE VI—DIRECTORS

Section 1. The affairs of the Association shall be managed by a Board of Directors composed of fifteen members, who shall be elected from the membership of the Association for terms of five years each. At least three members of the Board shall be women. The terms of three members shall expire annually, except that during the period of change-over to this prescribed basis of election terms may be staggered, in a manner to be determined by the Board, to accomplish the election of all members on the above basis in the shortest practicable time without affecting the terms of incumbent Directors. The President of the University shall be a Director, ex officio.

Section 2. The appropriate number of members of the Board of Directors shall be elected by the Assembly in a regular annual meeting from a total number of nominees equal at least to twice the number of vacancies to be filled. A slate of nominations by a Committee on Nominations for Directors shall be submitted to the Assembly, and additional nominations may be made from the floor of the Assembly. Upon the expiration of the term of a woman Director, whereby the remaining women Directors total less than three, at least two nominees shall be women. The woman candidate receiving the largest number of votes among the total women candidates shall be elected. The remaining vacancies shall be filled by the candidates receiving the largest number of votes.

Section 3. The unexpired term of any Director shall be filled by a member of the Association selected by the Board of Directors, unless the unexpired term is for less than one year.

Section 4. The Board of Directors shall meet in Lewisburg twice annually, on Commencement weekend and on Homecoming weekend. Other meetings may be held at the time and place fixed by the President of the Association or by three members of the Board upon due notice.

Section 5. A quorum of the Board of Directors to constitute a meeting shall consist of a majority thereof, and business shall be dispatched by a majority vote of the members in attendance.

ARTICLE VII — OFFICERS

Section 1. The Board of Directors shall elect from its number a President, a first Vice-President and a second Vice-President. The Board also shall select a Secretary, who shall be known as the Alumni Secretary, after consultation with the President of the University. There may also be an Assistant Secretary. The Treasurer shall be the Treasurer of the University. The terms of the elected officers shall be one year.

Section 2. The President shall preside at all meetings of the Assembly and the Board of Directors and shall act as the chief executive officer of the Association.

Section 3. The Vice-Presidents in the order of their rank shall preside in the absence of the President and perform such other duties as may be assigned to them by the President and the Board of Directors.

Section 4. The Alumni Secretary shall:

(a) Direct and assist in the organization and perpetuation of local Alumni Clubs.

(b) Attend the meetings of the several Clubs from time to time and devote his best efforts to the stimulation and coordination of the activities thereof and generally assist in preparing and consummating their programs of activity.

(c) Work with the President of the University in creating good will among the Alumni and the general public.

(d) Keep the minutes of all meetings of the Assembly, the Board of Directors and major committees and give the proper notices for all the meetings of those bodies.

(e) Keep accurate records of all persons who have attended Bucknell with particular reference to their class, degrees, business, residence, and condensed biographical information.

(f) Keep the roster of Alumni current for mailing information and provide facilities for an effective mailing service to the Alumni and the Clubs.

(g) Create and build up a "morque" of biographical sketches and photographs of trustees, professors, administration officials, and prominent Alumni and newspaper clippings concerning them.

(h) Edit the "Alumni Directory" and under the direction of the University officials publish same.

(i) Edit THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS and under the direction of the University officials publish same.

(j) Assist in preparing programs for the participation of Alumni at Commencement and Homecoming and aid the President of the Association and the University officials in these activities.

(k) Three months prior to the annual Assembly, request the president of each Alumni Club to have elected or appointed delegates and alternates to the Assembly in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution and By-Laws of the Association and follow up such requests for the purpose of securing full representation of all Clubs at the Assembly.

(l) Keep informed of activities of the respective Alumni classes and assist in effecting the election or appointment of appropriate class officers, including specifically Class Reporters and Class Fund Managers.

(m) In the absence of an individual separately charged with such functions, serve as Fund Director for the Alumni Fund or the annual Alumni giving program, acting as business manager and coordinator of activities therefor and maintaining records of Alumni contributions as well as issuing reports thereon.

Section 5. The Treasurer shall receive all funds accruing to the Association (excluding amounts paid into local Alumni Club treasuries) and contributions by Alumni, shall keep an accurate account thereof, including charges made against such funds, and shall report annually to the Board of Directors on the status of such accounts.

ARTICLE VIII — ALUMNI TRUSTEE

Section 1. Whereas it is the prerogative of the Association to nominate annually one of its members to the Board of Trustees of the University, there shall be a Committee on Nominations for Alumni Trustee appointed by the President of the Association and the procedure outlined herein shall be followed in the selection and presentation of nominees to be voted upon by members of the Association.

Section 2. The Alumni Secretary shall request all Alumni Club presidents to canvass their Club members for suggestions for prospective nominees. Such requests shall be accompanied by an appropriate standard form for convenient use in proposing individual candidates and furnishing qualification data therefor. If no reply is received from the first request, the Alumni Secretary shall mail at least two follow-up letters to Club presidents. Not later than September 15, he shall write to representative Alumni, including class presidents, Alumni Fund representatives, past presidents of the Association, and former Alumni Trustees, requesting suggestions for nominees to the position of Alumni Trustee.

Section 3. In each issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS published between the beginning of the fall term of the University and February 15, the Alumni Secretary shall cause to be inserted in a prominent place a notice inviting Alumni to exercise their privilege of proposing nominees for Alumni Trustee.

Section 4. The deadline for receiving suggestions for Alumni Trustee nominees in the Alumni Office, except as provided in Section 6 of this Article, shall be October 15. All nominations received by the Alumni Secretary shall in due course be turned over to the chairman of the Committee on Nominations for Alumni Trustee.

Section 5. The Committee on Nominations for Alumni Trustee shall canvass the suggestions filed and select three persons whom it considers best suited and qualified for the position of Alumni Trustee and file its report in writing with the President of the Association not later than November 15.

This report shall include the names of all persons proposed to the Committee as nominees, the three selections made by the Committee, complete descriptions of the qualifications of those selected, and a statement as to whether the report represents the unanimous opinion of the Committee. The President shall immediately forward a copy of this report to all members of the Board of Directors for their approval. If approved by a majority of the Board, the candidates selected shall then be notified by the President; if a majority of the Board should reject all or any of the nominees recommended by the Committee, the Board shall then select the proper number of candidates so that three will be nominated and duly notified by the President. When their acceptances shall have been received, the Alumni Secretary shall publicize the nominees in accordance with Section 8 of this Article.

Section 6. The name of any candidate nominated by a petition signed by not fewer than 200 Alumni shall automatically be placed on the ballot and it shall be indicated thereon that such candidate was nominated by petition. The deadline for receiving such petitions shall be February 15.

Section 7. Beginning with the year 1952, and each fifth year thereafter, three women candidates are to be selected for nomination. No men candidates shall be selected in those years by the Committee, the Board, or by petition.

Section 8. The Alumni Secretary shall cause appropriate articles and notices to be inserted in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS for the purpose of publicizing the candidates for Alumni Trustee to induce a large popular vote in the election.

Section 9. The Alumni Secretary shall cause ballots to be printed, naming the candidates in alphabetical order, and cause a ballot to be sent by mail to each member of the Association with appropriate instructions for voting and an envelope addressed to the Alumni Secretary for the return of the ballot. The ballots, as returned, shall be deposited unopened in a locked box which shall be opened only by the Committee of Tellers.

Section 10. The President shall appoint a committee of Tellers, and said Committee shall file a report of the canvass of ballots with the Alumni Secretary as a permanent record.

Section 11. The Alumni Secretary shall certify the candidate receiving the largest number of votes to the Board of Trustees of the University.

Section 12. Any person who shall have been elected to the Board of Trustees as a candidate of the General Alumni Association, as herein provided, shall not be eligible for redesignation as a candidate of the Association.

ARTICLE IX — FISCAL YEAR

Section 1. The fiscal year of the Association shall begin on the first day of July and close on the last day of June.

Article X — Alumni Fund

Section 1. The creation and active prosecution of a plan of annual giving for the support of Bucknell University shall be a recognized major activity of the Association.

Section 2. The major purposes of such a plan shall be to provide a ready source of expendable funds for urgent operating needs of the University and to supplement capital gifts and endowments through a program of regular, recurring contributions, the ultimate goal being to obtain contributions from all Alumni annually.

Section 3. The promotion and execution of the annual giving program shall be under the direction of an Alumni Fund Committee appointed by the President of the Association and the Fund Director, who shall be the Alumni Secretary unless otherwise designated, with the assistance of Class Fund Managers elected or appointed by each Alumni class.

Article XI—Alumni Award

Section 1. There shall be an award known as "The Alumni Award for Distinguished Service to Bucknell University," conferment to be made by the President of the University at the Annual Alumni Luncheon during Commencement weekend.

Section 2. The purpose of the plan is to honor Bucknell men and women who have shown unselfish interest and loyalty and rendered outstanding service to the University and to the Association.

Section 3. The President of the Association shall appoint an Alumni Award Committee to select the recipient or recipients. The Committee, in its selection considerations, shall be guided by the following principles of eligibility:

(a) Any living Alumnus, Alumna or former student of the University is eligible as a candidate for the award.

(b) The recipient shall have assisted in expanding the usefulness, influence and prestige of the University.

(c) The recipient shall have been instrumental in interesting good young men and women to attend Bucknell.

(d) The recipient shall have been willing, insofar as location and opportunities make it possible, to devote time and energy as Class Fund Manager, class correspondent, class officer, or worker in the special projects which the Association and the University sponsor from time to time.

(e) The recipient shall have a consistent record of supporting the University according to his or her means.

Section 4. Awards shall not be given to:

(a) Trustees of the University and Directors of the General Alumni Association.

(b) Those who have received honorary degrees from the University.

(c) Those who are employed by the University.

(d) Those who have previously received the Alumni Award.

(e) More than two recipients each year; nor shall awards necessarily be given annually.

Section 5. Recommendations for awards may be made at any time to the Alumni Secretary by any individual Alumnus or Alumna or by any Alumni Club. Recommendations shall include a list of activities in which the nominee has engaged in the interests of the University and the Association.

Section 6. Recognition of service to Bucknell shall be shown in three distinct forms. One copy of each citation shall be given to the recipient of the award. Another copy of the citation shall be bound in a book with all the previous citations. This book shall be kept in the University library and shall be made available for consultation. Each recipient shall be given a Bucknell chair with appropriate University design and having on its back an engraved metal plate showing the name of the recipient.

Section 7. The rules governing the awards may be revised or amended at any time by the consent of a majority of the Board of Directors of the Association.

Article XII—Committees

Section 1. Committee on Nominations for Alumni Trustee. In accordance with Article VIII, this committee shall consist of nine appointed members, three of whom shall be appointed annually by the President of the

Bucknell Gift Tops Million

Transfer of title has been completed in the remaining parcels, of land in a Virginia tract given to Bucknell University in 1923.

Sale of these last parcels, consisting of 161 acres, brings to well over one million dollars the total amount received by Bucknell from the sale of the land over the period.

Consisting originally of 844 acres, the University's real estate holdings in Fairfax County, Virginia, were the gifts of James S. Swartz, for many years chairman of the Bucknell Board of Trustees, and his friend, Henry J. Loftus. At the time of the gift Mr. Swartz placed the value of the land at $25,000 and suggested that if an offer of $37,500 should ever be received it would be wise to accept it.

First major sale of land from this tract, which became increasingly valuable with the development of residential areas between Alexandria and Mount Vernon, was made in 1934, when about 200 acres of shore land were sold to a gravel company for $100,000.

Since 1949, a committee of Bucknell trustees has been engaged in carrying out an Association from members of the Board of Directors. Terms of appointment shall be three years. The President of the Association shall be a member, ex officio. Five members in attendance at a committee meeting shall constitute a quorum.

Section 2. Committee on Nominations for Directors. This committee shall consist of five members appointed by the President of the Association for terms of one year and, in accordance with Article VI, shall submit to the Assembly the following June a slate of nominees equal at least to twice the number of vacancies to be filled.

Section 3. Committee of Tellers. This committee appointed by the President of the Association, in accordance with Article VIII, shall consist of three members, including the Alumni Secretary who shall be chairman. The committee shall exist for the purpose of canvassing the ballots in the election for Alumni Trustee.

Section 4. Alumni Fund Committee. This committee, appointed by the President of the Association for indefinite terms of service, shall consist usually of twenty-four members, including the chairman and the Fund Director, and shall assist in formulating promotional policies and programs for the annual giving program.

Section 5. Alumni Award Committee. This committee appointed by the President of the Association shall consist of five members whose terms, except for those on the original committee, shall be five years. The original committee appointed shall have the terms staggered so that a new member may be added each year. After the original committee has been appointed, the new member added annually shall be a recipient of the previous year's award, if any. Vacancies on the committee shall be filled by appointment by the President of the Association.

Section 6. Special Committees. Other committees may be appointed by the President of the Association from time to time as the need arises.

Article XIII—Amendments

Section 1. The Constitution and By-Laws of the General Alumni Association of Bucknell University may be amended by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the Assembly at any annual meeting of the Assembly, except as otherwise specifically provided herein, provided that a copy of the proposed amendments be published in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS at least one month prior to date of said meeting.

arrangement entered into with a group of real estate men known as the Bucknell Syndicate.

The remaining acres were disposed of under a contractual arrangement which provided for the sale of this extensive tract in sections, with the first sale occurring in 1949. Other parcels have been sold since that time, leaving for final disposal about 161 acres, transfer of which was completed recently.

Credit is due many members of the present and past Boards of Trustees of Bucknell University for their wise guidance in the handling of the entire Virginia land project. Any attempt to single out certain individuals who have been most helpful is always a dangerous procedure for fear that someone will be missed. However, it must be said that over the years certain members have made a tremendous contribution of time, money, and effort in managing and disposing of the property. These members of the past and present include: Joseph W. Henderson, Esq. '08, Rush H. Kress '00, Dr. Charles P. Vaughan, O. V. W. Hawkins, Esq. '13, James McClure, Esq. '13, Richard Darlington '09, Charles R. Holton and John Heisley Weaver.

As a result of this generous property gift from Mr. Swartz and Mr. Loftus, the University has received, over a period of two decades, more than one million dollars for endowment purposes. Thus the joint contribution from these two friends of Bucknell represents the most valuable gift ever made to the University in its 109-year history.

D. L. Ranck, J. F. Zeller in New Official Duties

Important changes in the business staff at Bucknell, occasioned by the forthcoming retirement of the treasurer, Dr. Dayton L. Ranck '16, were announced by President Merle M. Odgers on April 6.

In accordance with Bucknell's retirement program, Dr. Ranck will retire on July 1 as treasurer and head of the business function of the University. After that date he will fill the newly created post of vice president and director of development.

To head the business function of the college after July 1, President Odgers has named John F. Zeller III '41, assistant professor of political science at Bucknell and well-known Lewisburg attorney who will have the title of assistant to the president. He plans to give up his law practice when he assumes his new duties at Bucknell.

Donald B. Young '33, comptroller, has been made comptroller and assistant treasurer, as of April 1. Beginning July 1, he will serve as treasurer and comptroller. Russell E. Dennis, bursar, and Carl J. Geiser '27, purchasing agent, will also take on increased responsibilities within the business function, Dr. Odgers announced.

In the new business set-up, Alfred H. Fenton, who has headed Bucknell's fund-raising activities will serve as assistant to Vice President Ranck.

In his new capacity, Dr. Ranck will coordinate all University work on planning, including both the short-range and long-range development programs, Dr. Odgers said. His duties will be comprised primarily of a number of top-level projects, such as studies of long-range income, optimum enrollment, building plans, and endowment.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

LANCASTER—Professor John S. Gold provided a stimulating talk on campus activities at the enthusiastic Bucknell Birthday Dinner meeting on February 10. After the dinner and birthday celebration the following officers were elected: president, William G. Thomas '43; vice president, Donald Betty '50; secretary, Ted Simpson '52; treasurer, William Reitz '51.

LEHIGH VALLEY—Bucknell's Birthday was celebrated by the Bucknellians of the Lehigh Valley on March 4 with the traditional birthday cake following a delightful dinner served at the Anna-Maria Restaurant in Allentown. Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Humphreys traveled from the campus to be with us. The Director of Athletics presented an interesting report of current campus life.

More than 30 Bucknellians have volunteered to work on the high school contact committee that is being organized to visit area high schools and prospective students and their parents.

Plans were made for the annual family picnic scheduled for September 11, 1955.

MURRAY B. MCPHERSON '42, President

New York Luncheons to Continue Through the Summer

Bucknellians who live or work in Manhattan have decided to continue their monthly luncheon the last Wednesday of each month, throughout the summer, at the Hotel Shelburne, 37th Street and Lexington Avenue, New York 16. Luncheons will be held on May 25, June 29, July 27, and August 31.

Visitors to the city as well as Bucknellians regularly in New York should circle the above dates and try to attend one or more informal monthly luncheons at the Hotel Shelburne, 37th Street and Lexington Avenue, New York 16.

We must tell the hotel what facilities we need so please call or write Mrs. Emily Devine Kelly '21, 1569 Metropolitan Avenue, New York 62 (UNderhill 3-5029) that you will be with us.

Remember this luncheon is planned for all Bucknellians, both men and women. Last minute reservations (up to 11:45 a. m. on the day of the luncheon) should be phoned to Mrs. Amorita Sesinger Copeland '22 at MUrray Hill 2-2505.

NORTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

The Very Reverend John H. Long, president of the University of Scranton, and Mr. Lawrence Tice, president of International Correspondence Schools, brought greetings to President and Mrs. Merle M. Odgers at the annual Birthday Dinner of area Alumni at the Scranton Club on March 8.

Sidney Grabowski, Esq. '15, whose family includes nine Bucknellians, served as master of ceremonies. He introduced President Odgers at the meeting which was arranged by Norman Mangan '23.

The invocation was pronounced by the Reverend Doctor William D. Golightly '25, William E. C. Speare '20, president of the club, presided at the dinner attended by 55 Bucknellians and friends. He extended a cordial invitation to all Alumni to attend the regular monthly luncheon held the last Friday of each month at the Scranton Chamber of Commerce.

ANN ARBOR

Bucknellians at the University of Michigan were entertained informally at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Brandon M.A. '27 (Margaret C. Weddell '16). Dr. Brandon is a trustee of Bucknell University. The Bucknell guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richardson '52 (Virginia Turrone '52); Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alan C. Davis '51 (Rachael Jean Heim '51); Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Atherley '49 (Margaret Devlin, Columbia). Also attending the dinner party was Elizabeth Sutherland, daughter of Dr. Robert L. Sutherland, former Dean of Men at Bucknell.

BELLEFONTE

The Bucknell Birthday Dinner was held at the Nittany Lion Inn, State College, on February 18 with Professor John S. Gold, of the mathematics department, as the speaker. Mr. William G. Jones '29, president of the club, conducted the meeting attended by twelve Alumni from the Centre County area. Everyone enjoyed Professor Gold's report on campus activities and agreed that a similar program should be presented at the next meeting of the club scheduled for August.

WYCK JONES '29, President

CHAMBERSBURG—Aired H. Fenton, assistant to the President at Bucknell, was the speaker at the Birthday Dinner meeting of the South-Central Pennsylvania group on February 5 at the College Inn, Chambersburg. His talk "What's going on at Bucknell" included an informal discussion enjoyed by everyone.

JANET KEEFER SURITE '36, President

HARRISBURG

Thirty-eight Bucknellians attended the monthly dinner, Bucknell Alumni Club of Harrisburg, on March 3, at the Y. M. C. A. The meeting was opened with the invocation given by William Schaffner '51.

Bruce Butt '16 reported on the current news of Bucknell Alumni. A convalescent greeting was sent to Harvey S. Bogar '01.

Mr. Butt, program chairman, introduced our speaker, Mr. Guy J. Swope. Mr. Swope, who was at one time Governor of Puerto Rico and who later served as an assistant to the High Commissioner in Western Germany, has had a broad and varied experience both as a world traveler and as a government administrator. Mr. Swope presented for us an informative resume of the situation in Germany from the end of the war to the present time. Some interesting highlights of the NATO and EDC treaties were also presented by our speaker.

NORMA J. GOYWALT '52, Secretary

METROPOLITAN NEW YORK-NEW JERSEY

Our Birthday Dinner, celebrating Bucknell's 109th year, was held February 10th at the Park Sheraton Hotel, New York, and proved a big success. The evening's activities began with a reception for President and Mrs. Odgers, followed by a delicious buffet dinner.

Wayne Knouse, president of our club, served as toastmaster. He called on Mrs. Amorita Sesinger Copeland who reported briefly on the New York group of the present club. In June, the New Jersey and New York groups will become separate organizations and the latter group has begun meeting for lunch at the Hotel Shelburne on the last Wednesday of every month. All Bucknellians in the city on that day are cordially invited to these luncheons.

Birthday greetings from Dr. Arnaud C. Marts, Rush Kress and William Liming were read.

(Continued on Page 11)

By VAL PINCHBECK JR., Athletic Publicity

Football Preview 1955

When Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard were making repetitious touchdown jaunts for Army during the war years, they came in for plenty of plaudits. Both pigskintoters were quick to point up front, however, when asked to explain their continued success. The linemen were the answer. The glamour boys would go as far as the forwards would take them.

When Coach Harry Lawrence was asked whether Bucknell's herd would thunder in '55, he had the same rejoinder. The Bisons will go as far as the linemen take them.

Bucknell spring drills ended on April 29. Hard work was the rule and not the exception. Contact work was on tap March 19, the first day of the sessions, and it was on tap each and every other day right up until the April 29 deadline. Looking back at the practice periods, Lawrence was far from a displeased man.

"We have plenty of spirit," he opined, "and we have a good set of backs. On the whole I think that we will be a faster team than we were last fall. Whether we win ball games or not will be up to the linemen. Of the 14 boys who formed our first two forward walls last year, 11 will graduate this June. The 11 boys who fill those vacated spots are the ones who will tell the story."

One thing appears certain even at this early date—Bucknell will field an interesting team that should pick up yardage. Backfield coach Smokey Ostendarp is grooming a good stable of backs that could be outstanding with the right kind of aid from the forwards.

The entire 1954 front-line quintet of quarterbacks Ron Hendricks and Jim Stewart, halfbacks Bob Sierer and Dick McCartney and fullback Bob Ford will be back again next fall along with Bill Ross, who was injured last year, and newcomer Chuck Wagner, up from the freshman squad.

Ford, who was one of the top ground-gainers in the East last fall, lost little of his zip during the winter layoff. He was the most impressive of the Bucknell backs during the spring drills and should be ready for full-time duty and another fine season come September. Wagner, a fleet halfback, was also an eye-catcher at times. The 165-pound Oakmont, Pa., youngster could be a factor before the 1955 campaign is too old.

Hendricks and Stewart give Lawrence plenty of protection in the field general spot. There is little to choose between the two. If Stewart has an edge in passing, Hendricks gets the nod in ball-handling ability. Both boys punt well and can handle placement conversions.

Free of the injuries that plagued him last fall, Sierer is a sure bet for one of the halfback posts. McCartney and Ross will battle it out for the other wing slot, with Wagner a possibility.

Along the line, center George Wolfe, guard Art Kinney, tackle Ralph Riker and end Bill Reilly have the inside tracks on four of the seven first team berths, but the rest of the positions are still open. Dave Wallis, a converted halfback, and Paul Manning are leading the race for the other flanker spot, while Joe Brune, John Rottelle and newcomer Bob Holmes seek the other tackle position. Marty Dippold and John Michalski are the best bets for the other guard opening.

Spring Sports

Dandy Dick Deadline, a fellow who seems to step to the fore repeatedly, did a commendable job of blocking your agent's view of the Spring Sports scene. As the ALUMNUS went to press, however, both the baseball and tennis squads were ready to swing wide the 1955 portals and track and golf drills were in full swing.

BASEBALL

The pre-season diamond picture looked bright. With pitching as a forte, baseball coach Bill Lane was hopeful that base hits would not be at a premium. Whereas grid mentor Lawrence is searching for linemen, Lane is on the prowl for batsmen.

McFarland, a burly 200-pounder from Lock Haven, could be the Bucknell take-charge guy. The big fellow delivers the long ball often, handles the pitchers well and possesses an arm that defies opposition runners to stray off base. McFarland suffered a broken ankle last summer, however, and although he has not been hindered this spring, his health may cause Lane to lose sleep between now and June 1.

With veterans Don Richards, Jack Flurer, Tom King and Keith Tucker ready to supply able mound chores, Lane isn't worried about the opposition opening up big gaps in the runs-scored column.

TENNIS

With returning veterans Dick Richter, Bob McInroy and Captain Dick Wormser established in the 1-2-3 positions, Coach Hank Peters' tennis squad was ready to roar into its campaign with four matches in four days.

The venerable Peters, who drilled his charges through snow, rain, cold and what-have-you during late March and early April, has a set line-up ready for early-season frays. Sophomore newcomers Art Hartwell and John Fincke are seeded 4-5 behind the stronger vet trio, with another soph, John Pulizzi, in the No. 6 position.

In doubles competition Peters will lead with a combination of Richter and McInroy, spotting teams of Hartwell and Fincke and Pulizzi and Wormser in the No. 2 and No. 3 positions.

TRACK

Eyeing his April 29 opening date with Muhlenberg, track tutor Bus Blum took advantage of sunny pre-Easter weather to increase the tempo of his einder drills. Blum was particularly anxious to find at least one boy to fill the bill in the 440 and 880 events, to take up some of the slack left by the graduation of Red Macauley and Larry Patz, two of last year's stalwarts.

Sophomore Art Saunders appears to be one of the keys to Bison success this spring. If the men of Blum are to equal last year's ledger of three triumphs in five dual-meet outings, the newcomer will have to live up to his coach's expectations in the mile and two-mile runs. Saunders has been impressive in practice timings.

Capt. Frank Vanderhoof and Ed Burg will give Bucknell good performances in the dashes again. Bob Stevens, another promising soph, has the unenviable job of standing in for the graduated Harold Smith, Middle Atlantic high jump champ last year.

GOLF

Returning from the last year's squad, which copped five of 14 decisions, are veterans Don Albee, Dave Basch, George Damman, Andy Horvat and Pete Straub, but the top 1954 duo of Jeff Mynott and Nelson Forb has since graduated. Sophomores Jim Ladd and Bob Miller may be the fellows who will brighten the Bison golf picture.

Bison Bandwagon

If you intend to climb on the Bison Bandwagon, the time to think about it is now and during the summer, not next fall. Make your "back to the campus" plans early and keep them steady.

The feature contest for players and fans alike is the Nov. 5 Homecoming date with Colgate. Harry Lawrence's Bucknellians have not toppled a Red Raider team since 1951 when Brad Myers, Burt Talmadge and company turned the trick en route to an undefeated season. The Colgate encounter is one game the Bisons will be pointing for. Last fall a then-undefeated Colgate squad copped a narrow 20-14 verdict.

Four home games feature the 1955 slate. Bucknell opens in Memorial Stadium with a night contest against Albright on Sept. 24, tackles Temple on Oct. 15, plays Colgate on Nov. 5 and closes out the campaign against Delaware on Nov. 19.

The football schedule:

Sat. Sept. 24—Albright (night)	Home
Sat. Oct. 1—Gettysburg	Gettysburg
Sat. Oct. 8—Lehigh	Bethlehem
Sat. Oct. 15—Temple (Dad's Day) Home
Sat. Oct. 22—Lafayette	Easton
Sat. Oct. 29—Harvard	Boston
Sat. Nov. 5—Colgate (Homecoming)	Home
Fri. Nov. 11—Miami (Fla.) (night) Miami
Sat. Nov. 19—Delaware	Home

Moving-Up Day

Annual Moving-Up Day ceremonies were held in the Baptist Church April 27, 1955. Dadgie Steinkamp, newly-elected president of WSGA presided at this traditional program. After extending a welcome to all guests, Loie Bunnell, vice-president of WSGA thanked the House of Representatives and Barbara Glenn, Honor Council Chairman thanked members of Honor Council for their work.

The assistant Deans of Women, Miss Martha Harris, Miss Marjorie Cressey, and Miss Joy Werner, were presented with corsages. Dean Stevenson then spoke to the women students.

Two newly elected officers of Senate, president of WAA and Freshman Counselor Representative were then installed. Dadgie then announced the assistant head residents of Hunt and Harris for 1955-56. She read the names of the thirteen girls who were elected by the members of their class to live in Honor House. Miss Stevenson announced the winners of various scholarships.

Dadgie presented the names of the girls who will be junior counselors for next year. Members of the 1955-56 WAA Board were also announced. Vaughn Richart, president of Mortar Board read the names of the new members of Mortar Board.

Following these announcements, each class moved up and sang their class song. The ceremony was ended with the singing of the Alma Mater.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

(Continued from Page 2)

Dr. Herbert L. Spencer introduced our new President who gave an interesting and inspiring talk. President and Mrs. Odgers impressed us all with the warmth and sincerity of their friendliness, and we hope that we may have the pleasure of frequent visits from them in the future.

The Bucknell Men's Glee Club gave a splendid performance thus making the evening thoroughly enjoyable.

JEAN NEWSOM WALDNER '46, Secretary

NORTH CAROLINA—Francis E. Walker '32 has volunteered to act as chairman for an Alumni group of Bucknellians living in the State of North Carolina. The 51 Bucknellians residing in that great state cannot meet at a central point very often, but under the arrangements now set up, Alumni will be advised whenever it is possible to have a campus representative visit in any of the larger communities.

Francis will serve as chairman of these activities and Alumni residing in the state are urged to tell him of their interest in this new arrangement. He lives at 2014 Wilson St., Durham, N. C., and is connected with Wright Machinery Company, Durham, North Carolina, a subsidiary of The Sperry Corporation. Alumni are cautioned to continue to keep their mailing address at the Alumni Office in Lewisburg up-to-date as all notices will be mailed from the campus. Let's rally in North Carolina! Any other states interested in this "colony" arrangement? Let's hear from you South Carolina, Minnesota, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, etc.

PROVIDENCE—Bucknell's Birthday was celebrated by the Bucknell Alumni Club of Providence on February 5, by the showing of football films of the Gettysburg game and the collection of Kodachrome slides of campus celebrations. All agreed that this is an excellent way to bring the campus to Alumni gatherings.

Arrangements were made for visiting six area high schools to present information about Bucknell's educational program. The Reverend Finley Keech '22 is chairman of the student selection committee.

Plans for the June Picnic, tentatively scheduled for June 18, will include a nautical outing on John Williams' cabin cruiser followed by a lobster and clam bake on one of the islands of Narragansett Bay.

JUNE STOTT MATTHEWS '47, Secretary

ST. PETERSBURG—The Bucknell Alumni Club of St. Petersburg met on April 2 for their annual picnic at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Earle Edwards '10.

There were 21 present. It was decided to hold a March meeting in 1956 so that some of the tourists who come in March can meet with us.

The officers elected for the coming year are: President, Dr. J. Earle Edwards '10; Vice President, Mrs. Howard L. Headland (Sarah E. Walters '09); Secretary-Treasurer, Ruth S. Porter (Ruth Stephens '05); Assistant Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Howard L. Headland.

The next meeting will be held on Saturday, December 3, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Bailets, 552 Kirkwood Terrace, North, in form of a covered dish luncheon at noon.

RUTH STEPHENS PORTER '05, Secretary

SYRACUSE—An outstanding Bucknell Alumni meeting of the Central New York area was held on Saturday evening, February 5th, at Martin's Restaurant, Syracuse, to celebrate Bucknell's 109th Birthday. This largest group ever to attend numbered thirty-three. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin LeMon and son, Bill '54, from Aurora and the Herb Bowmans from King Ferry traveled the farthest. Cal Osborne, president for the past year, presided. Mr. LeMon lead the group in singing Bucknell songs.

Mr. John F. Zeller III, '41 attorney and professor at Bucknell, gave a most interesting talk and brought us up-to-date on the campus activities and news.

The following officers were elected for the next year: president, Calvin Sholl '46; vice president, Mrs. Gloria Child Goetz '47; secretary, Mrs. Mollie Wolfinger Woehling '47; treasurer, Dr. Ernest S. Cramer '38; historian, Dr. John Hummer '08.

We appreciate the continued interest and enthusiasm and hope that all the Bucknell Alumni from this area will soon be attending the club meetings.

MRS. MOLLIE WOLFINGER WOEHLING '47,
Secretary

WASHINGTON—The Birthday meeting of the Washington Alumni Association was held February at the Fairfax Hotel, Washington, D. C., with 36 Alumni present to celebrate Bucknell's Birthday. After an exceptional dinner, Dale Hay '49, president, opened the meeting and appointed a nominating committee to meet in April to draw up a slate of new officers. Those serving are: Les Ehringer '42, Tom Meyer '41 and Len Smith '44.

Len Smith, program chairman for the meeting then introduced Buck Shott, who brought greetings from President Odgers. Buck talked to us about the latest happenings at Bucknell and then showed slides of the recent changes being made. We all enjoyed "catching up" with Buck.

Our next meeting will be on May 10 when President Odgers will be with us.

FLORENCE FELLOWS SKOVE '48, Secretary

Students Killed In Car-Train Crash

The campus was saddened by the death on March 7 of two University students, when the car in which they were riding struck a train in Lewisburg.

Gary B. Boring, senior from Johnstown, driver of the car, and William L. Haines, junior from Laguna Beach, Calif., were killed instantly, and Stanley T. Zak, senior from Ambridge, was injured. The students were on their way to the Davis Gymnasium to see the intramural boxing program when the accident occurred.

A coroner's jury investigating the circumstances, declared the crash accidental.

Funeral services held in Johnstown and Laguna Beach, Calif., were attended by student and Alumni representatives of the University.

Dr. Richardson Dies Suddenly

Dr. Clarence H. Richardson, 64, professor of mathematics at Bucknell University, died in his sleep March 13 at his home. Death apparently was caused by a heart attack and he was found by his wife at 7 a. m.

Although he suffered a severe heart attack in the summer of 1952, Dr. Richardson was able to resume his teaching duties and his death came as a shock to his students and to his colleagues of the faculty on which he had served 27 years.

Born at West Plains, Missouri, on July 21, 1890, Dr. Richardson received his early education in the public schools of Buffalo, Kentucky, where he was reared. A graduate of the University of Kentucky, he received his master's degree from the University of Illinois and his doctor's degree from the University of Michigan.

He began his long teaching career at the University of Illinois in 1915 and in 1918 he joined the faculty of Georgetown College in Kentucky, where he taught for 10 years before coming to Bucknell.

One of Bucknell's best-liked teachers, he served as secretary of the faculty from 1949 until 1953. His two textbooks, "Statistical Analysis" and "Business Mathematics," of which he was a co-author, are widely used by colleges and actuarial societies.

A member of the First Baptist Church of Lewisburg, he belonged to the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity and to four honorary societies: Phi Delta Kappa, Psi Mu Epsilon, Omicron Delta Kappa, and Phi Beta Kappa. He was elected by the Bucknell chapter of the last named organization in 1942 in recognition of his scholarly achievements.

In attendance at the services were a majority of the faculty and administrative staff of the university, headed by President Merle M. Odgers. All classes at the university were suspended at 10:45 a. m. for the remainder of the morning.

In announcing to the faculty the death of Dr. Richardson, who for 27 years occupied the James S. Swartz chair of mathematics, Vice President William H. Coleman, paid high tribute to his colleague in these words:

"Known to his friends as C. H., Dr. Richardson was ever the Christian gentleman—courteous, affable, refined, and considerate. A gifted teacher, he possessed the rare faculty of inculcating in students his own enthusiasm for his subject, and of presenting his material with clarity and precision. A man of the greatest integrity and character he was interested in every great cause."

Surviving are his wife, the former Agnes Brownfield; two sons: Clarence H. Richardson, Jr., '38, an attorney of Louisville, Ky. and Robert B. Richardson '52, a graduate student at the University of Michigan; and two grandsons.

The Bucknell Alumni Club of Long Island

will hold a

FAMILY PICNIC

Saturday, June 4, 1955,

Rain Date: June 18.

Please reserve this date.

Further details will reach you by mail.

HIGHLIGHT

Seniors elected to Who's Who are pictured above. From left to right, first row—Rose Scicchitano, Lydia Hines, Fran Wood Batson, Ardis Hinkle, Jon Boyreuther. Second row—Marty Jones, Betsy Bice, Barboro Dixon, Polly Told, Betty Elliott, Nancy Green, Shirlo Williams. Third row—Joe English, John Chironna, Stuart Bean, Roy Govert, Dale Steinmetz, Tom Deans, Don Clark, Rich Klaber, Jerry Sovory, Byron LeCates, Ed Mizma. Not pictured are Sally Ann Marsh, Proctor Reynolds, and Vaughn Richart.

Top honors in the Women's Student Government went this year to Polly Told, WSGA's capable president. Polly has spent four years here active in all phases of campus life.

Bucknellians welcomed a new president and his wife to the campus this year. Pictured above are President and Mrs. Merle M. Odgers.

Burmese and Bucknell students join for fun at a social gathering during the annual Burma-Bucknell weekend sponsored by the Christian Association.

Performing members of Orchesis are, from left to right, Nancy Barnes, Ginny Wightman, Carol Wanamaker, Ruthanne Burnett, Charlotte Eccles, and Peggy Maddock.

Carrying on the campus tradition of student-faculty relations will be Student-Faculty Congress' recently elected officers. From left to right they are Henry Owen, vice president, Charlotte Eccles, secretary, John Jacoby, president, and Joe Eberhart, treasurer.

Is he out or safe? One of the tense moments in a thrill-packed athletic program.

CLASS REPORTS

Emeritus Club

We have learned of the death of Mrs. Harry M. Crist (Tabitha J. Farwell) who was a member of the Institute class of 1895. Mrs. Crist's home was in Jersey Shore, Pa. We extend our sympathy to her friends and family.

Bucknellians extend heartfelt sympathy to the survivors of Mrs. Elizabeth Laning Grove '87, who passed away in Spokane, Washington last August 15. She was the widow of Dr. Charles E. Grove '87, who died in July, 1951.

The Rev. Benjamin L. Herr '83, one of our oldest graduates, died in Cortland, N. Y. in early February at the age of 94. He served Baptist Churches in New York State since 1888. A member of the Class of 1883, he also earned degrees at Brown University and Rochester Theological Seminary.

Emeritus Club members will be saddened to learn of the death on March 10 of Frank Watterson Jackson, Esq. '95, at his home in Montclair, N. J. Frank has long been active in Bucknell Alumni affairs and was able to continue his law practice until the time of his death. A member of Phi Gamma Delta, he earned his M.A. Degree at Bucknell in 1898 and the LL.B. Degree at New York Law School in 1918. He was appointed consul to Greece in 1901 by President McKinley and returned to this country in 1903 to head the Greek Currant Company in New York and to lecture on Greece for the New York Board of Education. He served on several Greek relief committees, was knighted by the King of Greece and held the title of Chevalier in the Order of George I.

The heartfelt sympathies of the University are extended to his two daughters, 6 sisters, and 2 brothers who survive.

We regret to report the death on July 17, 1954 of Mrs. Carrie C. Horter, the former Carrie V. Lloyd who attended the Institute and graduated from Bucknell in 1893. She was the widow of the late Rev. George C. Horter of the Class of 1894.

99 DR. FLOYD BALLENTINE
626 Taylor St.
Lewisburg, Pa.

Dr. Albert E. Hutchinson died on December 31, 1954, at Berkeley, Calif. after an illness of five years. Before his illness he served as civil engineer at Mare Island Naval Shipyard and Hunter's Point Shipyard. Heartfelt sympathy is extended to his wife, the former Kay Ribbel, and surviving daughters, son and brothers.

Daniel H. Krise, who was an educator for 57 years, is now living at the Masonic Home in Elizabethtown, Pa. He taught in a G. I. school until he was 82 years old.

00 GEORGE A. GRIM
Nazareth, Pennsylvania

REUNE IN JUNE

Thomas J. Morris, now in his eightieth year, is President of the Columbus Park Lawn Bowling Club of Chicago and an active lawn bowler as well as a member of two leagues of indoor pin bowlers in Oak Park. He is also President of the Adult Recreation Club of Oak Park, special representative of the Borrowed Time Club of Oak Park to the Community Welfare Council of Oak Park and River Forest, and is actively serving on six important committees of that organization devoted to the welfare, entertainment and interests of all senior citizens.

02 MRS. SARAH JUDD SHIELDS
(Sarah Judd)
79 University Ave., Lewisburg, Pa.

Mrs. Walter Wilcox (Frances Scott) writes, "I got very tired doing nothing but rocking and reading so for over a year I have been working at the Missouri State School of Feeble Minded. My son is a dentist in St. Louis and has four children."

Mrs. Clarence Rogers (Lulu Welliver) died in Lakeland, Fla., late in 1953 according to reports from relatives in Danville.

03 MRS. HARRY C. HERPEL
(Elvie S. Coleman)
1250 Park Ave., McKeesport, Pa.

Rev. Roger H. Williams has completed 27 years of service as the pastor of the First Baptist Church, Greensburg. Much improvement and progress has been made during his period of service there.

Since our last news items had to be left out because of lack of space, perhaps '03 classmates wonder what has happened to the reporter. She is willing and waiting. Interesting news items might be created out of the imagination, but reality is safer.

If any '03's are planning to be on campus this commencement, please inform your reporter.

04 HARRY E. McCORMICK
Lewisburg, Pa.

Classmates will be saddened to learn of the death of Elwood F. Gilbert, New Castle, Pa., who died in November following a stroke. His wife, Mary Halfpenny '00 survives.

Miss Elizabeth Reid who retired from teaching in 1952, is maintaining her Sunbury residence.

From Bryn Mawr, comes word that Dr. Louis W. Robey, was honored in June by Alderson-Broadus College with the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. Dr. Robey is well-known as a Baptist leader; he has not only counseled on the Board of Education of the American Baptist Convention, but has conducted several financial campaigns, including the World Mission Crusade.

Mrs. Elizabeth W. Merrill (Elizabeth A. Williams) writes that she is still presiding as librarian at the Blossburg Memorial Library.

05 DR. LEWIS C. HYLBERT
435 Drake Ave.
Upland, Calif.

REUNE IN JUNE

CALL TO 1905 'ERS

Come! Meet with us!
And let us peer
Down through the years
To where we wait.
Give and receive
The clasp of hands
The reassuring press
Of loyal hearts and true.
No great surprise that these
Your Classmates remain
The same from year to year.
Let us meet together then
For our Golden Jubilee
And face to face revive
The joy we fully shared
From 1901 to 1905.

—L. C. H.

Albert M. Carringer died on August 3, 1952.

We regret to announce the death of the Rev. Lee (Levi) Morrill Hainer on October 29, 1954 in New York City.

Lee, or Pete as he was known to many service men, had a distinguished career as a clergyman, missionary and literary researcher. Rev. and Mrs. Hainer, the former Helen Lee of Memphis, Tenn., resided in New York City about 19 years. His first wife, the former Laura Hamill '12, died some years ago.

After graduating from Bucknell, he attended Crozier Theological Seminary and then spent four years in missionary work at Camp Cook, S. D.

After his return east, he served several Baptist Churches, from which he left for duty as a chaplain during World War I and later served in a similar assignment for the Army of Occupation.

After further service in the United States as a minister, he spent seven years editing and doing research work in France and later joined Fulton Oursler in the United States and assisted as a researcher in the preparation of the celebrated book, "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

In his later years he served as editor of "The Ivy Leaves", quarterly publication of the National Fourth (Ivy) Division Association and following his death, this organization dedicated a memorial edition of the magazine to him.

He is survived by Mrs. Hainer to whom sincere sympathy is extended by his classmates and the University.

06 WILLIAM L. DONEWOWER
22 N. Fifth St.
Lewisburg, Pa.

We have just learned of the death of our classmate, Charles H. Whittaker on April 16, 1953. Our sympathy is extended to Mrs. Whittaker who survives.

Mrs. Alvah G. Frost (Sarah C. Furman) writes that Mrs. Samuel J. Black (Lucretia Snyder) returned from a year's visit in Scotland to her new home in Cleveland, Ohio. She resides with her daughter and son-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Becker.

07 DR. LEO L. ROCKWELL
Colgate University
Hamilton, N. Y.

John I. Catherman and Mrs. Catherman have been spending the Winter at the Gralyn Hotel, Miami, Florida.

Word has been received of the death of Mr. Walter Godcharles, husband of Mary Heaton, on Aug. 15, 1954, in Hollywood, Fla.

Walter Hilton now resides at Avon Park, Florida. Looks as though we'll have to establish an '07 colony in the sunshine state.

Ruth Jones has returned from Lebanon to her former home in Reading.

Kathryn King is another classmate loyal to class and college.

George Mattis has a fourth grandchild. It has been suggested that he send us another picture with Grandpa changing the baby. George will be back in '57.

Helena Olds, who has retired from her teaching at New Paltz State Teachers College, maintains a lively interest in things Bucknellian.

"Faith for Living" might well be the title of Gilbert Perez's greeting for the year 1955. It seems to me to be an eloquent expression of the spirit of our class, which has survived despite the ills that flesh is heir to, ills which have, in greater or less degree, struck all of us. This is the essence of Gilbert's poem:

Same old merry-go-round
Circling through the ages,
Same faces
Peeping out of varied souls,
Out of varied, collared
Or collarless garments,
But riding the same old hobby horses
Of greed or of charity
Of love or hate.

Spurred by ambition,
Seared by sacrifice,
Crushed by despair,
Yet billowed by hope,
On it goes
While round go the horses
Through the circus wheeze
Of the old hand-organ
Of the elements . . .

One drops off,
Then two,
Then three—
And finally
All:
But the horses are not riderless
Others will ride,
Yes, on they go
Through the ascs;
With the raucous cacophony
Of ever replenished
Pain-chastened
Love-blessed
Life,
On this
Merry-go-round,
This merry old merry-go-round!
God bless it!

The three Speicher grandchildren keep Grandma Mary busy with their original ideas. (I still can't imagine Mary a grandmother. Can you?)

Joe Weddle has retired from business and devotes his time to promoting Boy Scout activities in West Newton.

Your reporter has had three articles published this year. In the Critic of the College English Association for Fall he published "Our New Responsibility," dealing with the importance of having English teachers prepared to teach it as a foreign language. In Improving College and University Teaching for February appeared "Why Are We So Dumb?" pointing out that we are so dumb (unable to communicate in other languages) because we are so dumb (stupid) in not seeing the necessity for giving the oncoming generation a better linguistic background than the present adult group had. The current issue of The English Record has his article "The Nomenclature of Levels of Usage" urging a more exact technical terminology to indicate levels and areas of English usage.

08 MRS. MARGARET P. MATHIAS
202 St. Louis St.
Lewistown, Pa.

Charles D. Ferguson writes that he is keeping busy as a manufacturer's agent in Philadelphia. His address is 6025 Clifford St., Philadelphia 31, Penna.

Ralph W. Haller writes that he is still going strong at 72. Although he retired in September, 1953, he is kept busy trying to get a bill through the Legislature giving school supervisors in New York State a higher minimum salary.

Robert Bruce Morris has retired from teaching in the Philadelphia Schools. He is spending his winters in Florida.

Miss Beatrice R. Richards retired from teaching in 1952. She is just enjoying life!

We are sorry to report the death of one of our class members, Dr. Edwin L. Royer, of Lock Haven, Pa. He died as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident, which took place near Leesburg, Virginia, on March 19, 1955. His wife, as well as the occupants of the car with which he collided, were hospitalized. "Zake" came to Bucknell from Rebersburg and from Bucknell went to the University of Pennsylvania to get his medical degree. He had practiced medicine in Lock Haven for twenty-five years. (Thank you, Carl Sprout '38 for the news item).

Mrs. J. B. Blakemore (Helen Tiffany) is planning to move in the near future from Harrisburg to her home town of Honesdale, Penna. Preliminary to that move, she is entertaining some '08ers over the Easter holiday. Your reporter hopes to be there and to bring back items of interest for our next edition of THE ALUMNUS.

09 MRS. HOWARD HEADLAND
(Sarah E. Walters)
3911 First Ave., N., St. Petersburg 6, Fla.

The Rev. Newton C. Fetter has retired and is now living at Blooming Grove, Pike Co., Pa., the year around.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles C. Fries (Agnes Carswell '19) are in Germany this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Haggerty (Olive Long '12) called on Mr. and Mrs. Howard Headland (Sarah Walters) at the tail end of their annual trip to St. Petersburg. They are well, happy and very fine company.

Mrs. Herman Abbott (Mary Meyer) has been visiting with friends in Tallahassee, Florida.

Iola B. Quandt, now living at 1443 21st Street in Santa Monica, Calif., informs us that she has retired from teaching.

Mrs. Myrtle Walkinshaw Shupe of Saltsburg, Pa., was re-elected secretary of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Johnstown.

10 MISS MILDRED B. CATHERS
100 W. 33rd St., Apt. 6
Bayonne, N. J.

REUNE IN JUNE

J. R. Bell regrets that, because his school will still be in session, it will be impossible for him to be at Bucknell for our reunion in June. Mr. Bell is treasurer on the Administrative staff of the Rayen School, Youngstown and at present is also teaching bookkeeping.

Classmates will be saddened to learn of the death on February 22, of William H. Gatehouse at Cumberland, Md. William had planned to attend our 45th reunion on the campus in June. He retired as an Accountant for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in 1942 and had been in fair health until his final illness. Burial services were held in Lewisburg Cemetery.

Deepest sympathy is extended to his widow, the former Edna David, and his brother and sisters.

Winnie V. Hardgrove has resigned her position at the Akron Hospital and is enjoying well-earned leisure. She hopes to be at reunion in June and soon thereafter will leave on a two months' European tour.

Mrs. Palmer Way (Sara Ray) and Mildred Cathers were in St. Petersburg, Florida again this Winter and enjoyed meeting with the St. Petersburg Bucknell Alumni Club at their annual picnic. Rain was responsible for our meeting in the home of Dr. J. Earle Edwards instead of in the park—a happy transfer.

Mrs. John G. Sholl (Helen Hare) met a tragic death on February 11 when the car she was driving crashed with a truck on a rain-swept highway southeast of Frederick, Maryland. Helen and Gurney were enroute to a convention in Memphis, Tennessee, when the accident occurred. Gurney suffered fractured ribs for which he was treated at a nearby hospital.

Mrs. Sholl was the daughter of the late Rev. Calvin A. Hare '77 and Rene Moore Hare '72.

Both she and Mr. Sholl graduated in the Class of 1910. They were married at Lewistown, September 17, 1913, and established residence in Pitman, N. J.

She early became interested in church and community activities and was one of the founders of the Parent Teacher Association. In her church connections, Mrs. Sholl had been for many years teacher of a large class of young women in the First Baptist Church School, Pitman; a former member of the Board of Managers, New Jersey Baptist Convention. She was also a member of Pi Beta Phi Alumni Club of Southern New Jersey.

Mrs. Sholl had also been for several years a member of the Board of Visitors of the Vineland Training School and also of the Arts Committee, State Museum, Department of Education of New Jersey.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by three sons all graduates of Bucknell University and veterans of World II: Dr. John G. Sholl III '37, a specialist in internal medicine in Cleveland, Ohio; Donald H. Sholl '42, Haddonfield, with N. W. Ayer and Son, Philadelphia, and Calvin K. Sholl '46, Syracuse, N. Y., assistant personnel manager Bristol Laboratories. There are eleven grandchildren.

Sincere sympathy of members of the class of 1910 is extended to this all Bucknell Sholl family in the loss of wife and mother.

Hope B. Sterner died suddenly on January 6, 1955, near the First Presbyterian Church, Watsonstown, after attending church service there.

Sincere sympathy is extended to his wife, the former Ruth Nicely, two sons, George N. '40 and Robert R.

The Hon. Elmer B. Woods has been named judge of the Superior Court of New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yoder (Emily A. Lane) have spent the Winter in their Sarasota, Florida home, but will return to their Huntingdon, Pa., home about the middle of April.

12 MRS. H. W. HOUSEKNECHT
(Maze Callahan)
108 W. Penn St., Muncy, Pa.

You certainly aren't bored with the weather. Just when Spring is "bustin' out all over it starts to snow and freeze—then rain—more snow and high winds at 53 miles per hour. Today (April 5) the sun is really shining. I have a crocus blooming here and there and a lovely daphne tree.

I have one customer for our 45th reunion, Mrs. Douglass Wallace (Leone Havice). She writes:

Dear Maze,

Your card with note arrived today, and as things have quieted down a little after the holidays, I thought this would be a good time to write a few letters.

Since last hearing from you, we have sold my big house on Main Street and bought a new modern ranch type house, slightly smaller than the ten room one. I live here about seven months, and I have a home at Tavares, Florida, where I stay the other five months. I have boats at both places and spend a lot of time on the water fishing.

In regard to the 45th reunion, I plan to attend if I have to come on crutches. However, my health has been good and think it can be managed without any aid. I was the youngest in the class, and as I have no children to mark the passing of time, sometimes I think that the years are standing still. There probably will not be many left by 1957.

My sister and her husband have a summer home in Vermillion and one near mine in Florida. She was born in Muncy while my father was minister of the Lutheran Church there, and we frequently made trips to Pennsylvania. Now that my last aunt has passed away the ties are broken, and we take trips in other parts of the country.

I plan to go South soon and will return in May. In the meantime, will keep in touch with you.

I wish you and your family a happy and prosperous new year.

Sincerely,

LEONE H. WALLACE

P. S.

Please note my new address: 918 Jefferson St., Vermillion, Ohio

You know I have never been able to locate Louis Waldner. I got my B. U. directory and as there are several Waldners listed, I just picked one at random, Nancy Waldner '48. I wrote, sending the letter to Ashland, asking if she knew anything about Louis. She wrote:

"The Louis Waldner, about whom you wrote is my uncle. Practically all the Waldners listed in the directory are related as eleven in our immediate family attended Bucknell.

"Louis is married to a New York girl and has lived at 708 Eleventh Ave., Middletown, Ohio for many years. They have four children, all married. I believe they have eight grandchildren. He is a building contractor and one of his sons is associated with him in the business."

Sincerely yours,
NANCY WALDNER SWEENEY '48
17951 Kesewick St.,
Keseda, California

April 18 was a big night for the Bucknell Alumni of Lycoming County; a dinner at the Lycoming Hotel in Williamsport with George Walters '33 as the able and most efficient chairman, with Eugene Bertin '17, who is president of the association, kicking from the side lines. Everyone strutted his stuff to pay homage to the new Prexy and Mrs. Prexy.

In February the club officers and directors with their wives, husbands and sweethearts, together with all the Alumni of Montoursville were pleasantly entertained at the home of Helena '37 and Mable Eck '37. The plans were made then for this gala event. Buck and Mrs. Shott were there. They showed pictures of the new buildings. It's remarkable the progress that has been made since we were in school.

Can't guess who was there—Mrs. R. J. White (Hannah Bertin). I haven't seen her since Bucknell days. We just didn't have enough time to talk about everyone.

Found this little clipping in the paper. A Hollywood grandmother plans to collect signatures on a petition asking President Eisenhower to proclaim a grandmother's day.

Mrs. Mary Lou Whistler, mother of three sons and grandmother of seven youngsters, said she got the idea because grandmothers rear their own families and then their children's families without receiving official recognition. I'll sign. Anyone else want to add her 2 cents?

I'm acquiring a new daughter-in-law in June. They are having a wedding so my son told me it would give me a chance to buy a new dress and hat. According to that attire I'll have more eyes cast toward me than the bride, when I promenade down the aisle of the Pine Street Presbyterian Church in Harrisburg.

Have you paid your income tax?

Have you contributed to the Alumni Fund?

Have you counted your blessings?

If you can answer "yes" to all of these questions, you can ease up a bit on your prayers.

13 CHARLES L. SANDERS
76 Walnut St.
Mifflinburg, Pa.

The following announcement tells its own honorable story.

Officers and Members of

First Baptist Church

BUTE STREET—NORFOLK, VIRGINIA

Announce the

TESTIMONIAL and RECOGNITION OF FORTY YEARS OF SERVICE BY

REV. RICHARD H. BOWLING, D.D.
Pastor Emeritus

FRIDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 18
Dr. W. H. R. Powell, Guest Speaker

To this testimonial and recognition every '13er adds hearty commendation, 16

For this life of service to mankind and to God all classmates and college acquaintances of Rev. Bowling express graciously sincere thanks. A commencement speaker at our graduation exercises forty-two years ago as one of our honor students, "Dick," we recall, received the gold watch award in acknowledgment of his speech on "The Negro and Our National Ideals" as the most distinguished student address on that day. Felicitations again many years after, Rev. Bowling!

Miss Winifred A. Naylor retired at the close of last year as supervisor of English in the Niagara Falls, N. Y., Junior and Senior High Schools, where she had served continuously since 1923. This past winter she spent in Ormond Beach, Florida. Besides her numerous activities closely related to her school duties, she was a member of the College Club, International House, both the Western N. Y. branch and the National League of American Pen Women, the First Baptist Church and a worker with its young people. Frequently she gave book reviews and talks before local groups, radio talks, and on occasions submitted to persuasion to read her own poems. Her first book of poems, "Gold," was published in 1950. A new edition with many poems added will appear probably next year. Your reporter treasures his autographed copy of "Gold," an appealing collection of thoughts, moods, reactions on such topics as "The Bird Bath," "Niagara's Gorge On a Summer Evening," "Paths Across Back Yards," "The Trinity Made Manifest," "Evening Fireplace." Best thoughts for you in retirement, Miss Naylor, say all of us from Bucknell '13.

15 CLAIR GROOVER
Lewisburg, Penna.

REUNE IN JUNE

16 MRS. GEORGE STEVENSON
(Amy Paterson)
R. D. 1, Box 556, Red Bank, N. J.

James E. Nancarrow was named to the Executive Committee of the National Association of Secondary School Principals at their national convention in Atlantic City in February. His seconding speech was presented by Bright E. Greiner '22 of Taos, N. Mex.

17 MRS. ERLE M. TOPHAM
(C. Ray Speare)
425 W. Sedgwick St., Philadelphia 19, Pa.

(Editor's Note) Three years ago, Mrs. Carl A. Schug (Alice S. Johnson) very kindly volunteered to be Class Reporter temporarily in order to further the plans for the class reunion. When Ray Speare retired from active teaching recently, she was asked to accept appointment as the Class Reporter, and we are pleased to present her first report.

Dear Seventeeners:

Ever since I retired, Buck has been asking me to take on the job of Class Reporter. I have been reluctant about doing it because I'm not much of a letter writer.

I do, however, read THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS from cover to cover and I enjoy every bit of it. It's so nice to read about old friends.

I am going to try to supply the news if you will help. How about it?

We just had a fine birthday dinner in Phila., and I contacted all '15-'16-'17ers in our area. I took this opportunity to ask for news from all '17ers.

Here is some news I learned at the last Philadelphia Alumni Dinner:

Holman G. Knouse is practicing attorney at 736A Commercial Trust Bldg., Philadelphia. He was a corporal in World War I, Chemical Warfare Service and while there solved a tension problem in gas masks, thereby helping to save the lives of many of our soldiers. For his work he was recognized in an edition of "Who's Who in the East". He is a thirty-second degree Mason and a past commander of Lu Lu Shrine. He says nature has been kind to him from a health and financial viewpoint.

We are very glad to hear that and hope it will always be so with him.

Olive E. Moore lives at 9 East Benedict Ave., Havertown, Pa., and she would like to hear from others, too, so she told about her life.

Olive is continuing her teaching in the math department of the Haverford Township Senior High School and finds the work just as challenging as ever—"Modern Youth Permits Few Dull Moments", says Olive. She spends weekends and vacations in Bridgton, N. J., (Box 464), her home town of college days.

Summer travel has provided several worthwhile trips to the West and Canada, which in turn has given home and work a new appeal. Olive sends her best to all of you.

Mrs. Walter Tietze (Frances Silberstein) still lives in Frankford and operates her family storage business called the "Frankford Storage Co." She is very busy and jolly; just like her old self. She has one son. We hope some day she'll be able to come to one of our fine Philadelphia Alumni Parties and also to our 40th reunion in Lewisburg two years from now.

Marie Volkmar teaches Spanish in Germantown High School. At the present time she is on leave and is travelling in Spain. Marie has been working as a member of the committee chosen to write a new course of study in foreign languages for the Philadelphia School System. She expected to be back February 1, but was taken ill and arrived home later, fully recovered.

"That's all now"—Hope we can have news from 3 or 4 of you each edition.

Best to you all always,

RAY

Word has just been received from Mrs. F. V. Mick, sister of Judge Felix Piekarski '20, of the death of her husband, Felix V. Mikolajczak (name changed to Mick) on March 22, 1954 after an illness of 8 years. Before his illness, Felix held principalships in Delaware for 25 years. Our sympathy is extended to his wife, Mrs. Eleanor Mick and sons, Felix '40 and Frank '41.

Eugene P. Bertin has been active in historical circles of Pennsylvania in recent months. President of the Historical Society and Museum of History since 1940, he has this year compiled the Chronicles of Lycoming County, Pennsylvania, in a forty-page document which will be published in the quarterly magazine of the county society. His annual report for 1954 in which President Bertin makes a declaration of faith of historians, was printed serially in the official organ of the American Association for State and Local History. A third historical project is the development of the genealogy of the Wood family, a most distinguished lineage in Pennsylvania annuals beginning in 1690 to descendants still living in 1955. Gene is also assistant executive secretary of P. S. E. A. and I am always proud when I see his name in my Journal.

Arthur G. DeWald has retired as teacher.

18 MRS. LAYTON KING
(Elizabeth Champion)
301 Broad St., Montoursville, Pa.

Herbert C. Grice, Sr., of Lewisburg, was re-elected Treasurer of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Union County, recently. (This begins to sound like a Phi Gamma news letter!)

Dear Classmates:

As I reported to you earlier, I have been sending letters out a few at a time, starting at the bottom of the list, and while the response has not been 100 per cent, I have been encouraged.

Louis Siplely raised my morale by writing me a long newsy letter, and I will pass some of it on to you. He has written a book called "A Half Century of Color" in connection with his work as director of the American Museum of Photography, 338 S. 15th St., Philadelphia. He tells me he writes columns for two local magazines in Philadelphia, does book reviews for a national photographic magazine and is historical editor for another. (You who delight in photography should be interested).

He says, after expressing his appreciation of my small effort at news gathering for which I am most grateful, "I think it might be a fine idea if some year we could have a reunion of the Legitimate 1918 class by having all those who entered with us in the Fall of 1914 and would have graduated with us in 1918 if that d--- war had not intervened. Maybe it could be held in 1957 which would be forty years from the time we were still intact as a body." I like the idea—anyone else have any thought on the subject?

Carlton Shilling reports that he is assistant cashier of the McDowell National Bank of Sharon, Penna. He lives at 289 Norris Ave., Sharon, Pa. He is married and has one daughter and one granddaughter. Carlton is a graduate of the Graduate School of Banking, Rutgers University, and has both standard and graduate certificates from the American Institute of Banking.

Can't say much for my trip to Washington. I picked a weekend when they had one of their snow storms, and believe me, I would rather be in Pennsylvania where snow storms are the rule rather than the exception. I did, nevertheless, have a nice visit with my daughter and got to know the members of the Staff at the Textile Museum—a most unusual place. Until the next issue—Happy Memories.

19 DR. FRANKLIN D. JONES
2617 St. David's Lane
Ardmore, Pa.

While on a business trip to Bloomington, Illinois, in February, your correspondent looked up Dr. Benjamin Markowitz and found him recovering from a recent hospitalization. Frank Rorabach, our other Bloomingtonian, was out of his office, so we did not get together.

At the Philadelphia Alumni Birthday dinner in February there was a 1919 table and the following classmates were there: Frances Hilgert Higgs, George Starkweather and wife, Dr. Edwin Aubrey and wife, Martha Achenbach Heller, Bob Williams and wife, and Franklin Jones.

20 HAYES L. PERSON
69 S. Third St.
Lewistown, Pa.

REUNE IN JUNE

The Rev. George E. Gaskill, assistant pastor of Blockey Baptist Church, Philadelphia, passed away in February, 1955. After graduation from Bucknell, he studied at Temple University and Crozer Theological Seminary, Chester. He was a trustee of the Baptist Orphanage and a member of many Baptist organizations. We extend our heartfelt sympathies to Mrs. Gaskill.

23 MRS. LEROY FRONTZ
(Olive Billhimer)
Evergreen Farm, Allenwood, Pa.

Frank R. McGregor was recently appointed by the United States Department of Agriculture as Deputy Administrator in charge of Operations, Commodity Stabilization Service, and Vice-President of the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Mr. McGregor will be directly in charge of CSS administrative services, budget, fiscal, personnel, and transportation and warehousing activities. He will provide these services to Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, State and County offices, and will supervise and direct the operations of the eight regional CSS Commodity Offices in the field. CSS is the agency of the Department of Agriculture which operates the CCC price-support programs and the commodity adjustment programs.

FRANK R. MCGREGOR

Mr. McGregor has had years of broad executive experience in the general field of operations management, both in private industry and in government. Business connections included Schultz-McGregor Corporation, Town House Construction Co., Gaylord Container Corporation, St. Louis, Earle and McGregor (public relations), Frank R. McGregor and Associates since 1953, and the Council for Independent Business, Washington. His public service has covered a number of agencies. During World War II, he was chief of field management for the War Production Board. He later served as a Commander, USNR, in charge of the Small Business Office, U. S. Navy; as Commanding Officer of the Industry Cooperation Division, Executive Office of the Secretary of the Navy; and as Navy Liaison Officer to committees of the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives. He also served as a member of a Presidential Mission to China, Korea, Japan, the Philippine Islands, Australia and New Zealand in connection with a business survey at the close of World War II.

Since the war, Mr. McGregor has served as consultant and counselor for the Munitions Board, the Department of Defense, and the Mutual Security Agency in the field of relationships with small business, in addition to operating as a partner in a public relations firm.

Bucknell lost one of its outstanding representatives in social and humanitarian work with the death of the Rev. Dr. A. Herbert Haslam on February 13.

As administrator of Fellowship House, Philadelphia, Dr. Haslam had capped an outstanding career as a minister and national leader in social work.

A member of Kappa Sigma he established an outstanding campus record as a student and athlete. In fact, he gave up the opportunity of becoming a member of the American Olympic team as a pole vaulter to enter the ministry. He graduated from Andover Newton Seminary and was awarded the honorary Doctor of Divinity Degree by Bucknell in 1944.

After serving Baptist congregations in Philadelphia and Toledo, Dr. Haslam returned to Philadelphia to establish Fellowship House, a community center under the supervision of Fellowship Church, a congregation of Jews and Christians of all races. In recent years, Dr. Haslam resided on a farm near Pottstown, the site of a Fellowship House camp.

Dr. Haslam is survived by his wife, the former Marian Riess '20, two sons and three daughters.

24 MRS. PAUL J. CUPP
933 Muirfield Rd.
Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Cupp (Louise Benschoff) announce the engagement of their daughter, Louann Marie, to Mr. Jay Edward Geiger. Louann, a biology major of Bucknell, Class of 1954, is a serologist at Jefferson Hospital in Philadelphia. Mr. Geiger, an alumnus of the William Penn Charter School, was graduated from Trinity College and received his master's degree from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. A June wedding is planned.

Daniel A. Copenhaver is now living at 1818 Douglas Avenue, Minneapolis, Minn.

A new business enterprise, known as "Bridal Chest Linen, Inc." was incorporated in Pennsylvania on January 6, 1955 with Geneva Gerlach Moore heading this active, interesting concern. The company is a direct selling one which sells bridal chests of monogrammed linens. We wish you success, Gene!

Word has reached my desk of an outstanding honor extended to one of our class, to Dr. James N. Patterson, of Tampa, Florida. Last November, Dr. William Dameshek, who is probably the most widely known hermatologist in the world, requested Pat's assistance in his post-graduate courses. This is the first year any Florida physician was on the program in the 27 years in which post graduate courses have been given. Pat was also named president-elect of the Hillsborough County Medical Association; he will be president, as a result, in 1956. Congratulations, Pat!

Ed Robb visited at the home of Dr. Henry Mussina, 929 Diamond St., Williamsport, Pa. during the month of December. We are glad to receive Ed's report that Henny has greatly improved after his long illness and had recovered enough to go deer hunting.

L. Alice Roberts of Ardmore, Penna., was recently re-elected secretary of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Philadelphia.

25 REV. WILLIAM D. GOLIGHTLY
708 Jefferson Ave.
Scranton, Pa.

REUNE IN JUNE

27 MRS. L. H. COLLISON
Marydel, Maryland

William Devitt, Jr., who has been superintendent of Devitt's Camp since January, 1933, reports that he is the proud father of four red-blooded Americans, William III, Robert, Michael, and John.

Robert W. Dill of Plymouth Meeting, Pa., was recently elected president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Philadelphia.

Milton C. Endres is living at 6903 Wayne Ave., Philadelphia 19, with his wife and two daughters, Judith Ann and Elaine Marie.

Mrs. Dom Marc (Mary Foust) of 2317 N. Stuart St., Arlington, Va., is at present assistant principal and dean of girls in the Wakefield High School of Arlington, as well as co ordinator for the Arlington County of Practice Teachers for George Washington.

We hear that Arthur Harris is connected with the Dodge-Plymouth Agency in Nanticoke and that Bill Gretzinger is with a construction company in Philadelphia. Eugene Halleran writes that along with his teaching duties at Ocean City, he has been the writer of a quantity of low grade short stories and sixteen equally unliterary novels, mostly westerns. In May his latest "The Blazing Border" will be coming out. No library is complete without a copy.

Paul M. Johnston of 7307 Maple Ave., Takoma Pk., Md., certainly sounds as though he was making history since leaving Bucknell. During these years he has served as civil engineer and geologist in the U. S. Army. Presently he is preparing a report on geology and ground water resources in the Washington, D. C. area. He is the co-author of a Geological Survey publication on ground water in Arctic Regions. In 1947 he was graduated from Stanford University, cum laude, and in 1949 was commissioned Major, Corps of Engineers, USAR.

Mrs. Robert Davies (Emma Kahler) has devoted forty-one years to the teaching of English and Latin in the New Castle School, Pottsville, Pa. She writes that she would like to hear from some of her classmates. Her address is Box 215, R. D. No. 3, Pottsville, Pa. A most unusual record is that she spent all of these forty-one teaching years at the same school, having used only three different rooms in all that time!

Miss Katharine Koopmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Koopmann (Mary Konkle) was married to Mr. Norman Scott on January 29, 1955.

28 MRS. H. M. MARSH
(Lorinne Martin)
60 Prospect Hill Ave., Summit, N. J.

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Isaac Smith (Marjorie W. Bell) of Nanticoke, Pennsylvania. We extend our sympathy to her husband, Dr. Isaac R. Smith and her family.

Earle L. Moyer of Lewisburg, Pa., was elected president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Union County.

William F. Muthard is now in the securities business.

Louis A. Pursley, active Lewisburg Republican, was elected to the Pennsylvania General Assembly from Union County in the November election.

We have learned that Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Reimensnyder (Emilie Williams '29 and '54) are living in Towson, Md. where Tom is guidance counselor in Parkville High School and Emilie teaches journalism and English at Towson High School.

Lawrence Scott, principal of the Feters School, Camden, N. J. since 1946, died of a heart attack on October 24. Before 1946, Mr. Scott held a similar position at the Mulford School (N. J.) and had taught at Camden High School and the old Wenonah Military Academy. He was quite active in the Alumni Association of South Jersey.

Surviving are his wife, Lena R.; a son, Peter L. '55; and two daughters, Caroline and Theresa.

Dr. Sydney G. Biddle, husband of Cornelia Trowbridge Biddle, died on October 28 in West Chester, Pa. A noted psychiatrist and brother of Francis Biddle, former U. S. attorney-general, Dr. Biddle was 65 at the time of his death.

29 MISS THELMA SHOWALTER
233 N. State St.
Harrisburg, Pa.

Kenneth Bidlack, who is a member of the Board of Trustees at the Laurelton State Village, recently appeared as a witness in behalf of the Administration at the Village, in order to refute charges made by the present Secretary of Welfare against the former Superintendent and her assistant.

William "Turk" Jones is serving as Fund raising chairman for the Bucknell chapter of Phi Gamma Delta in its efforts to build an addition to the chapter house.

Mrs. M. G. Armogast (Josephine Schilling) of Erie, Penna., was re-elected vice-president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Erie.

Mrs. Kenneth Waterbury (Martha Von Neida) is teaching in the Susquehanna township school in suburban Harrisburg.

30 MRS. BERNARD KLOSTERMAN
(Emmalyn Y. Fuller)
23 Leathers Rd., Fort Mitchell, Ky.

REUNE IN JUNE

Manuel H. Allen, Phi Gam, who is living in Escondido, Calif., finds he will not be able to make the trip East. Manuel, you will probably remember, is married to our Helen Reeves Class of 1930 also. The Allens have a daughter Priscilla. We will miss you both.

Ralph Dunkle is no longer a "lost address" thanks to Bill Bennett. We were really worried about Ralph whose address is Sistersville, West Virginia. If anyone knows the addresses of any more "Lost Bucknellians" of 1930, please let your reporter know.

Elizabeth Figner is camp adviser of the Girl Scouts for Florida, Georgia, North and South Carolinas. Elizabeth is vice president of the Southeast section of the American Camping Association. An expert weaver, Elizabeth has had a number of her hand woven articles selected for exhibition at the National Gallery of Arts, Washington, D. C.

Don't forget our 25th! We are working on the biographies and it is wonderful what our classmates have accomplished. Come and see for yourself June 10, 11, and 12.

32 ELLIS F. HULL
Allentown, N. J.

Miss Mildred F. Walton is executive secretary for the Family Service of Moorestown, N. J., a private social work agency.

On January 18, 1955, Dr. P. Joseph Andrews was installed as the new president of the Harrisburg Academy of Medicine.

33 MRS. JANET W. ENGLEHARDT
375 College Hill
Bloomsburg, Pa.

We will all be interested to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Bellmeyer III (Mary M. Grove) are now living in Arnprior, Ontario, where Joe continues to serve as Vice President of International Latex Corporation, in charge of Canadian Operations. Their daughter Nancy is a member of the freshman class at Bucknell.

Samuel W. Bernstein of Binghamton, N. Y. was re-elected president of the Triple Cities Bucknell Alumni Club.

A Williamsport attorney, Charles Biederspacher Jr., is facing attorneys of Bethlehem Steel Company in a second multi-million dollar suit in which he is lawyer for the plaintiff. This time he is serving as associate counsel in representing a Florida company which seeks damages of more than $200,000 from Bethlehem Steel. Charles worked six months with four other law firms in New York, Washington and Florida before the case went before the Federal Court in Tallahassee on March 7.

Dr. Louise Geiss is still active as an anesthesiologist in a Los Angeles hospital.

Viola Kaste writes that she is teaching at the Academy High School in Erie. Since receiving her master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh, she has taken additional courses in Washington, D. C., helpful in teaching civics to her ninth graders.

Charles P. Leach sent us a note in time to make this issue. He is busy as usual with various business interests. His family status is still the same—wife Clare and three children, Cara, Charles Jr., and Hamilton.

As Secretary of our Area Development Company he had some fun presiding at the dedication ceremonies of the newly constructed Crawford Furniture manufacturing plant. This most modern hard wood manufacturing plant in the U. S. was dedicated on April 29. Among the celebrants were Governor George Leader and Secretary of Commerce John P. Robin. Charles introduced the Governor.

Mabel Lesher is completing her fourth year at Oswego State Teachers College as Nurse-Assistant Professor. She has charge of 500 practice school children and lectures from time to time to college classes on both the Health Program of the Elementary School Child and on Chinese culture—its people and its history. She enjoys tremendously being a part of the local community, being in women's clubs, AAUW, Church, BPW, Scouts. Mabel's mother has moved to Lewisburg (since the death of her father), and she and Mabel love their new home there.

Frank Kennard Lewis and Eloise, his wife, and three children, reside at 36 Lackawanna Ave., East Stroudsburg, Penna. Ken practices law in East Stroudsburg.

William Liming, who is manager of Benefit Plan Publicity for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, New York City, was re-elected vice president of the American Association of Industrial Editors at the annual convention of that association in Buffalo.

Kenneth J. E. Lontz, his wife, and daughter, Marilyn, spent last summer traveling in the Northwestern part of the country. Marilyn is getting her pre-college education. She is a sophomore in high school. The Lontz's address is 409 Logan St., Lewistown.

In addition to law practice in Newburgh, Bernard M. Loth is also auxiliary cantor of Temple Rodeph Shalom in New York.

George C. Lyter, long time principal of the Montoursville schools and well-known and respected educator of Lycoming County, passed away in a Harrisburg hospital, January 2, 1955, after a long illness.

Dr. Joseph Guy Smith has been elected a fellow of the American College of Cardiology.

Samuel S. Stern was elected to the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Whippany, N. J.

Robert Cook was a recent visitor to the Bucknell campus. Robert is professor of law at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio. This summer he will be visiting professor of law at Rutgers University Law School. His textbook "Legal Drafting" has been adopted by a number of law schools.

There are signs of Spring all around, robins, trees budding, daffodils and tulips poking through the ground and muddy shoes almost daily, so before I get Spring fever, I am going to get these notes off, so I'll keep that promise to have a '34 class report in every issue of THE ALUMNUS.

Dr. John T. Szypulski, a prominent thoracic surgeon was the co-author of articles on chest surgery which were recently published in Diseases of the Chest and Journal of Thoracic Surgery. John earned his M.D. at the University of Pennsylvania. His wife, a Penn State grad, is also a physician, and they live in South Mountain, Penna. John is active in his community, holding membership in the Lions, Elks and Alpha Kappa Kappa fraternity. It must be nice to have two doctors in one house.

Another medic of our class, Dr. Tilman H. Foust, also a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, was recently elected president of the medical staff of Polyclinic Hospital in Harrisburg, Pa., where he is chief radiologist. Til is the father of three children, Barbara, 11, Tilman Jr., 8, and Emily 5. He belongs to the American Medical Association, the American College of Radiology and other professional societies. He served a fellowship at Doctors' Hospital, Washington, D. C. During World War II, he held the rank of Major in the Medical Corps serving our country from 1942-1946.

Levere M. Leese of 1124 Hollywood Terrace, York, Pa., has just been elected vice-president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of York. Levere is a residential and farm sales director. He has a daughter Winifred, age 14. He is an active member of Kiwanis and other community groups. It's always good to hear of one of our classmates being really active in Alumni work. I wish more of you would get really busy at it.

May I extend the sympathy of our class to Mrs. Martin Andrews (Marion Osborne) on the recent death of her husband, Martin P. Andrews '35. They were an outstanding Bucknell couple, and I am sure Marion will carry on in the traditional Bucknell way of life. She lives at Mott Rd., Fayetteville, N. Y. with her three fine sons.

William H. Scott of Darien Center, N. Y., is another business man. He is a salesman of industrial tools. Bill married Edith MacKay '35 in 1937, and they have four children, Don 14, Susan, 11, Janet, 7 and Barbara, 4. His hobbies are golf, fishing, and bowling.

Had a wonderful but brief telephone chat with Mrs. Jack W. Koondel (Rhoda L. Turk) of 6 Eton Rd., Rockville Centre, L. I., N. Y. Rhoda was listed as "missing" at our 20th class reunion—somebody "goofed"! She has a lovely daughter Gail in the freshman class at Bucknell and two others at home, Joan, 14, a high school freshman and Bess, 11 in the sixth grade. Rhoda celebrated her 20th wedding anniversary on Christmas Eve. Her husband Jack Koondel is a commission merchant. They share mutually in many community activities in one of Long Island's most fast growing and active villages. Rhoda is active in P. T. A., Ladies Auxiliary of South Nassau Community Hospital and Temple B'nai Shalom. Now that I've located her, I'll try to get her active in our Long Island Bucknell Club.

Hope you all read Dot Kester's inspiring letter in the last ALUMNUS. If you did you'll surely come to Alumni Weekend, June 10-12 at Lewisburg. Get your reservations in early. Just think, you'll see the new Olin Science Building, the freshman dormitory and have the opportunity to meet our new Bucknell President, Dr. Merle M. Odgers. There will be ample opportunity to renew acquaintances and to reminisce. I hope to greet many of you and to hear from those of you who can't make it. The address is at the head of this column and the mail delivery is fine here on Long Island—no mail—no column!

35 MRS. FREDERICK A. STRALEY
(Metta Farrington)
Furnace Rd., R. D. 1, Lewisburg, Pa.

REUNE IN JUNE

Zoommm! went that plane overhead. Never even noticed what's going on down here! Come around cuzzin' and see what's buzzin' at B U for '35's 20th reunion on June 11, 1955. You'll be surprised to find a lot of old friends here looking for you and they'll be mighty disappointed if you don't show up. The reunion committee has already heard from many of us, but they're still looking for your completed questionnaire (mail to Betty Smith Berlin) and for your assurance that you're coming to the reunion.

I'll be there, and I'll be looking for you. Hope you can make it!

Metta Farrington Straley

P. S. Be sure to give as much information as possible on that questionnaire. Our historians are interested in detailed accounts.

P. P. S. Here are synopses of some of the forms that have been received by Betty Smith Berlin.

Harry L. (Cooky) Jenkins is a lawyer in Philadelphia. He married Luella Pierce '35. They have two boys. He belongs to the Union League of Philadelphia, Philadelphia Exchange Club, Philadelphia Bar Association, Commercial Law League of America, and S. A. E. He was a chief petty officer, U. S. Navy for 2½ years. Both Cooky and Lu will be back in June.

Jane Millikin lives in Louisville, Ky., and writes that she is merely a housewife. She has 3 boys and 1 girl who are too young to even think about going to Bucknell. She is still interested in Alpha Chi Omega and her local activities are the Penderis Club, the Louisville Boat Club, P. T. A. She received her M.A. degree at Bucknell in 1936. Best of all, she plans to come to the reunion.

Virginia Hallet (Mrs. L. Carl Stevens) writes from Media, Pa., that due to a severe attack of polio in 1944, she is confined to a wheel chair and will be unable to attend the reunion. She has three boys and feels fortunate that she is able to take care of her home. I know she would be glad to hear from anyone. Her address is: Milbrae—Indian Lane, Media, Pa. R. D. No. 2.

Helen (Sunny) Sutherland (Mrs. R. W. Richards, Jr.) is living in Springfield, Pa., having just recently moved there from Los Angeles, Calif. She has two boys aged 11 and 14, and one girl aged 7. Did graduate work at Montclair St. Teachers College in New Jersey and Santa Monica, Calif. She taught 7th grade.

Martha (Marty) Fulmer is not married, has no children at Bucknell (or elsewhere). She is cashier and office manager of the Williamsport Insurance Company. Marty is active in the Williamsport Music Club, A. A. U. W., Tri Delta Susquehanna Valley Alliance, and is executive secretary for the local chapter of the National Association of Life Underwriters.

A radio commentator reported recently that Dr. Robert M. Lindner's book, "Rebel Without a Cause" will be filmed.

36 MRS. CLYDE E. BURGEE
(Lois Montgomery)
124 S. Fifth St., Lewisburg, Pa.

Mrs. William Frederick (Elizabeth Kehler), Lewisburg, was elected Secretary of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Union County.

Your Class Reporter received a nice letter from our busy Class President, Charles Kottcamp. He promises to keep us informed on any pertinent news of our classmates in the Pittsburgh area. Charles' address is 57 Walnut Road, Bradford Woods, Pa.

James D. Stroup is Sales Manager of the Hotel Cleveland, Cleveland, Ohio, of the Sonnabend Hotel chain. James has been in the hotel business since graduation, with the exception of five years in the Army. He hopes to come back for our 20th reunion next year.

Correction please: Mary Angstadt Glock '51, mentioned in our last issue, is the sister of our Emma Angstadt Walters—not her daughter.

37 SIGMUND STOLER
215 Chestnut St.
Sunbury, Pa.

Rock L. Butler MS'37 retired in 1951 after being active in school business for 50 years.

Elwood Kerstetter of Harrisburg was installed as deacon of St. Andrew's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Penbrook.

Hugh Morrow, associate editor of the Saturday Evening Post, continues to be represented regularly in the Post. Some of his latest writings include, "The Perilous Cruise of the Atka" in the January 22 issue, "The G. O. P. Will Never Be The Same" in the April 2 issue, and "We Took the Atom Sub to Sea" by Commander Eugene P. Wilkinson, U. S. N., in the April 9 issue.

Thayer David Moss is an attorney with the Military District of Washington, office of the Staff Judge Advocate.

P. Herbert Watson of Norristown, was recently elected vice president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Philadelphia.

39 MR. DAVID R. BAGENSTOSE
Conestoga Rd.
Wayne, Pa.

Charles O. Bracken is a deacon of Catsville Presbyterian Church, secretary of the Community Improvement Association, and accountant of Patuxent Institution, Maryland State Dept. of Correction.

Marguerite Yagel Greene, former Bucknell library staff member, and wife of John N. Greene, passed away on August 21, 1954, leaving her husband and 5 year old son, Reginald.

Dr. Allen E. Hamborg is now practicing orthopedic surgery in Jenkintown.

Charles N. Henderson was awarded the Master of Music degree in organ at Syracuse University last August. He is Minister of Music at a 2600-member church in Erie where he directs seven choirs.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Kehlner Jr. (Dorothea L. Zerhola) now reside at 108 Merion Rd., Merchantville 9, N. J., with their children, Elena and Elizabeth. Bill, who used to be soloist for the Men's Glee Club, is now singing the praises of Galer and Hulst, Inc., Phila., where he serves as vice president in charge of sales. Both of Bill's grandparents Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kehlner served as Trustees of Bucknell University in the 1920's and 1930's. Robert Kehlner '51, Bill's brother, was married in October to another Bucknellian, the former Barbara Lou Stein '51.

Mrs. Jack M. Hess (Ruth Llewellyn) was re-elected treasurer of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Johnstown.

Captain Frank Noll, army chaplain in Japan for the past three years, arrived home (Northumberland) in December accompanied by his wife and four children. After a 30 day furlough, he reported to Great Falls, Mont. from which point he will serve as a chaplain for radar bases located in the middle west.

Dr. Melvin A. Wein of Brooklyn, N. Y. writes that his two sons, Elliot, seven, and Paul, four, are anxiously awaiting the time when they can become Bucknellians.

40 MRS. JAMES A. MILLER
(Mary McCrina)
Pattison, Texas

REUNE IN JUNE

According to an old Pennsylvania-Dutch joke, which I have just heard, a lady from New York was driving through Pennsylvania and stopped at a farmhouse. She wanted to buy some corn. "I'm sorry," said the farmer, "but the corn is all." "All what?" asked the lady. "It's all over," replied the farmer. "All over what?" asked the lady. Said the farmer, "It's all over with!" . . . In a few more weeks our fifteenth reunion will be "all over with," but if you'll get your reservations in now and make your plans to be there, you'll be remembering the reunion long after.

Mrs. E. William Kohl III (Edith Boquist) recently moved into a new home at 29 Taylor Road, Andorra Acres, Conshohocken, Pa.

Bringing us up to date on himself, Al Dobrof writes from Indianapolis: "We have a small Bucknell group here which meets about four times a year. Oldest is Class of '09 to Class of '54. After my graduation from Bucknell, I took graduate work at the University of Pittsburgh. Spent four years in Navy as communications officer, then returned to Pittsburgh, where I practiced social work and also married. Came to Indianapolis as executive director of Community Center Association. Now have three daughters, Marilyn, 3, Joan, 16 months, and Susan, 2 months. Am trying to work out my Spring schedule so we can attend the class reunion."

From Puerto Rico, where he expects to be separated from the Army Medics, Dave Rothrock also has news: "After going to Fort Sam Houston, Texas for a quick three weeks' orientation course for doctors, I went to Camp Pickett, Va., in August 1953. I ran an open psychiatric ward for four or five months, then transferred to the preventive medicine section, where I remained until my departure in April, 1954. My family had joined me in October, 1953, but when they started to close the camp, we all had to move. On May 10, 1954, we arrived here and are located ten miles from Ponce, the second largest city in Puerto Rico, on the Southern side of the island. I am married to an Irish-born girl, the former Annie Bridget McDonough, and we have three children—Elizabeth Ann, 9, David Edward, 6, and John Charles, 4."

Mrs. T. Garner Jame (Frances Theiss) recently wrote "Nursery Rhyme England," which appeared in British Travel Association Magazine.

See you at the reunion!

41 MRS. WILLIAM F. HASSELBERGER
1518 Westmoreland Ave.
Syracuse, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. James Differnderfer (Lillian Bullock) became the parents of a son, Scott Clark, in March, 1954.

James R. Hind was married to Lillian Toner of East Orange, N. J. on January 22, 1955. They are living at 17065 Liberty Street, Hayward, Calif. Jim is branch manager of the West Coast Branch of Schering Corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Verdier (Viola Primm) and family have moved to Seaside Park, N. J., where Mr. Verdier is superintendent of Island Beach State Park. The Verdiers have four children, three girls and a boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Underwood are now living in Portland, Oregon. They have three children, two girls and a boy. Ray has served as clerk of the Multnomah County Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends.

Donald Wilson is now living in Copenhagen, Denmark, where he is an attache in the U. S. Embassy.

42 MRS. THEODORE WILKINSON
(Mary C. Forrest)
329 W. Walnut St., Lancaster, Pa.

Charles F. Bond, son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles M. Bond, has been awarded a Danforth Fellowship for graduate study at Cornell University. Mr. Bond is currently serving as assistant professor of zoology at the University of Vermont and will be granted a leave of absence by that institution to complete studies for his doctor's degree at Cornell. Charles and his wife (Amy Stevenson Bond '42) and the two children, Betsy and Chuck will live at Cornell. During World War II, he was an instructor in the physics department at Bucknell, where his father is professor of religion.

Edward J. Brosius owns and operates E. J. Brosius Service Store, Mt. Carmel, Pa., and he is currently the president of the Lions Club, Mt. Carmel, Pa.

It is now Lt. Comdr. John C. Bush, as recently announced by the Bureau of Personnel of the U. S. Navy Department, Lt. Cmdr. Bush is married to the former Betty Jane O'Malia, and they have a daughter, Betsy.

Margaret Faust is now secretary to the Executive Secretary of the Pennsylvania Baptist Convention. Working in the heart of Philadelphia, her home address is 5 Egypt Rd., Mont Clare, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Huskin (Mary Jane Gleckner) announce the birth of a son, William Richard, born April 18, 1954. They have two other children, John, 7 and Mary Elizabeth, 5. Their address is 808 Lincoln Ave., Williamsport, Pa.

Don L. Hopkins and wife announce the arrival of their first child, a daughter, Paula Lynn, born September 29, 1954.

Ann Hough has recently been named chief of social service at Strong Memorial Hospital, Rochester, N. Y. Ann received her M.S. degree from the University of Pittsburgh and served with the American National Red Cross before joining the Strong Hospital in 1948 as case work supervisor.

Mrs. Arthur Davies (Gertrude R. Jones) is no longer a teacher, but is busily occupied as a homemaker.

C. Martin Neff of Red Lion, Pa., was re-elected treasurer of the Bucknell Alumni Club of York County.

Milton E. Nylund is now in Nurnberg, Germany as Assistant Chief Laboratory Services, 16th Field Hospital, APO 696, c/o PM, NY, NY. He and Mrs. Nylund have twins, Leslie and Gary, and another son Eric R. born in Trieste in August of '53. The family hopes to return to the States by the Fall of '55 for a Bucknell reunion.

Dr. Howard W. Runkel, chairman of the speech and drama department of Willamette University, Salem, Oregon, is currently speaking to audiences throughout the Pacific northwest. He and his wife (Mary Walker '35) became the parents of a baby girl, Frances Linda in December, 1953.

George G. Shoemaker Jr. has been appointed supervisor of the Maffett Agency of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, in Philadelphia. With the company since 1947, George will be engaged in development work for the agency.

44 MRS. ROBERT F. BAKER
Lindys Lake
Butler, N. J.

Carolyn Gebhardt and Robert S. Gurney of the University of Rochester were married January 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Mendes III (Ruth Smith) write that their nine month old daughter, Barbara, is walking and learning Bucknell cheers.

Paul Rosenstein received a B.A. degree from New York University 1945.

William H. Schnure was re-elected president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Johnstown.

45 MRS. C. FRED MOORE
(Nancy Woehling)
Gillin Rd., Whitpain Village, Ambler, Pa.

REUNE IN JUNE

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rodriguez (Katherine Bierlmeier) announced the birth of a son, Rodney Henry, in February, 1954.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Boston (Lois Deputy) had their second son, David Lee, on May 16, 1954. Present address: 415 Birch Place, Westfield, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wert (Dawn Knowbel), 134 Poplar St., Highspire, Pa., announce the birth of their daughter, Legene Louise, born on Feb. 15, 1955. They also have a three year old son, Randy. Dawn writes that she "has been doing some rural elementary substitute teaching and expects to do some teaching in the commercial field a little later on."

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shapiro (Vera Messing) became the parents of a baby boy, Edward Jr., in July, 1954.

Dorothy Porter Swarhout has written concerning news of the reunion—and has brought a point to my attention—of course all members of the Class of '45 are cordially invited to the reunion—whether they stayed to graduate or not.

Dottie writes, "I myself wound up going through nurses training at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York City, and am married for six years now to an upstanding young optometrist, Dr. John Baxter Swarhout. We have two sons, Johnny and Frank." Dottie now lives at 17 South Lyon Ave., Menands, New York. She has asked about the following classmates, maybe they'd like to drop her a line: Edith Scharff, Mrs. Julius B. Tusty (Doris Bullwinkel), Mrs. William B. Hambleton (Andre Patton), Mrs. Frederick W. Meyn (Betty Whipple), Eva Muller, and Mrs. James W. Dow (Barbara Allen)—and will each of you tell Dorothy you will see her at the reunion in June.

Mrs. Walter Frantz (Jean Prowattain) has written to Nancy Patterson Moyer concerning the reunion. "Our fine little boys and I are driving to New Jersey from Seattle in June, but I am afraid we will not be on campus that early in June. Your plans sound quite exciting and make me anxious to want to see and talk to classmates. I was married in '45 and the very day I graduated from Temple University in '46 we headed for the West Coast. This June will be my first trip East." Jean is now living in Seahurst, Washington.

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Zigarelli (Eileen Reilly) of 69 Madison Ave., Morristown, N. J. had their fourth child, Patricia Ann, on March 9, 1955.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles J. Rehkamp (Janice Stover '46) became the parents of a daughter, Janice Anne, December 3, 1954. They also have four boys.

Dr. and Mrs. Grant J. Rohrbach (Hazel L. Weber) became the parents of a baby girl, Kimberly Ann, in January, 1954. They also have a son, Grant, Jr., four years old.

William Webster wrote a wonderful letter from his present home in Gillette, Wyoming, where he is minister of the First Baptist Church. He writes:

"It hardly seems possible that we have been out in the 'cold cruel world' ten years. Though the Bucknell memories that go trooping by are fine (fond) indeed, I find even more satisfaction in being well prepared for the right vocation and in having the fun of a family.

"This isolated ranching community seems a long way from civilization at times. I do enjoy the opportunity it affords, however. Two years ago I spent five days with a layman, trailing 13 carload of steers 60 miles to the railroad. Five days on a horse and seeing nothing but cattle and cowboys is an educational experience. Last summer we took our three pre-school children and spent eighteen days in a tent in the beautiful Big Horn Mountains. It was great. We are not completely isolated, however. The local chapter of PEO furnishes a scholarship for a Burmese girl at Bucknell now.

"Since we plan to come East for the national church convention, we are also hoping to be in Lewisburg for the reunion. Perhaps you are surprised to receive this letter. I wanted you to know that your many efforts to keep us informed are not in vain."

This isn't the complete list of those attending reunion, but here are a few: Lois Deputy Boston, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Scanlan, Phoebe Follmer Bacon, Rev. William Webster, Arthur Malcom (7614 Saginaw Ave., Chicago 49, Ill.) who writes: "I plan to be at the reunion, but hope there are a few men there as I recall, the 5th reunion was all gals!", Marriam Krise Young, Nancy and Cal Sholl.

46 MRS. LELAND C. EWING
(Betty Wells)
31260 Westfield Ave., Livonia, Michigan

The Fred H. Anderson's announce the arrival of Scott Keith, Jan. 8, 1955. Daughter Holly Beth is now eight, while Ronald Dehn, age four, was hospitalized for polio in August and is recovering nicely and will soon be completely well. Good news indeed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Staley (Rita Clemens) welcomed daughter Katherine Anne, June, 1954. Son Lee is four years old now.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Kerchner Jr., announce the arrival of William Thomas, Nov. 6, 1954.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Smith Jr., (Doris Ann Miller) and daughter, Deborah Ann, announce the arrival of Kenneth, in November, 1954.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Goslow (Joan M. Ruhlley) welcomed Douglas Harlon, into their family in July, 1954. They also have a two year old daughter, Janet.

Calvin K. Sholl, Syracuse, was elected president of the Alumni Club of Central New York.

Dr. Wendell Smith, Associate Professor of Psychology at Bucknell is co-author with Elizabeth K. Powell '54, graduate student in psychology at the University of Pennsylvania, and Dr. Sherman Ross, former Bucknell faculty member, of "Manifest Anxiety and Food Aversions," which appeared in the January 1955 issue of The Journal of Abnormal and Social Psychology.

Wendell L. Sprague D.D.S. along with his wife and three children, has just returned to the States after 3 years as dental missionary in the French Cameroun for the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. After a year in the States, taking post-graduate courses and filling speaking engagements, he and the family will return to Africa for another 3 years.

Mrs. T. L. Jeramaz (Peg Thompson) has left Sports Illustrated due to the magazine going on an editorial week, and Peggy wanting weekends at home.

The Charles Baird family (Norma White) are moving to London in May for three years. Chuck is with Standard Oil of N. J. Perhaps they can have a reunion with Dr. and Mrs. Gavin Hildick-Smith (Eutha Richter) of 30 Marylebone High St., London.

Mrs. E. A. Hill (Patricia Whittam) deserves a by-line for the news of many of the '46ers in this column. (Pat and her husband have recently returned from Alta, Utah, skiing of course!)

Mrs. H. Nelson Reifsnnyder (Betty Wynn) writes that a Garth Dietrick is director of the Arlene Frances Home TV show. Can anyone confirm if he is Jo Snyder's husband, formerly of the V-12 unit at B. U. and active in Cap and Dagger?

47 ROGER S. HADDON, ESQ.
243 Water St.
Northumberland, Pa.

Mrs. Herbert Goetz (Gloria Child) of Skaneateles, N. Y., was elected vice president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Central New York.

Arthur J. Emery Jr. is now a biochemist employed by the Atomic Energy Commission, and working at the University of Rochester School of Medicine. He received his Ph.D. in biochemistry from Rochester in 1954.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Rathe (Faith J. Lief) have purchased a house in Westbury, Long Island and moved there in April.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fischer (Sheila Obstfeld) recently moved into a new home in Oceanside, N. Y. They have two daughters: Susan, six and one-half, and Jill, three and one-half.

Col. and Mrs. Samuel A. Custer (Charlotte V. Schultz) moved from Needham, Mass. to Fairborn, Ohio in September. Lt. Col. Custer is chief of the Photo Tech Service in the Wright Air Development Center at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. The Custers have a daughter, Karen, three years old, and a son, Scott Samuel, six months old.

Mrs. H. L. Wochling (Mary Wolfinger) of Skaneateles, N. Y., was elected secretary of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Central New York.

BIRTHS: to Mr. and Mrs. William E. Craumer, a daughter, Nov. 12; to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Smith II (M. Elizabeth Erh), a daughter, Oct.; to Dr. and Mrs. N. Dean Rowland Jr. (Alice Leutner '43), a daughter, Dec.

48 MRS. JAMES A. BROWN
(Joann G. Goughly)
954 Caldwell Ave., Union, N. J.

Joseph C. Evans has been transferred to London where he is on the staff of U. S. Army Attache, Joe and Marjorie (Marjorie R. Darnell '49) and the twins live at 44 Kensington Pl., London, W8, England. Not long after their arrival they became acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard H. Ahlfeld '53 (Judith Esmay '54). Len is on duty with the U. S. Navy in London.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Horwitz (Dorothy Gotterer) announce the birth of Abbie Ruth on Jan. 31, 1955.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haigh (Jane Sheble) announce the birth of Robert William Jr., on Aug. 21, 1954.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin S. McFeely (Lois Harvey '50) announced the birth of a baby girl, Melinda Lee, in December, 1954. Franklin is studying for his Ph.D. in statistics at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Mary E. Moyer was married to Robert F. Stevens on July 10, 1954. They are living at 850 No. Court St., Rockford, Ill.

On April 1, Dr. George J. Schumacher was advanced to assistant professor of biology at Harpur College, Endicott, New York, the liberal arts unit of the State University of New York. Since graduation in 1948, George has made great strides in scientific affairs. After earning the Master of Science in biology degree at Cornell Graduate School in 1949, he interrupted work on his Ph.D. at Cornell to pursue a fellowship from Emory University to study in the field of Malaria Ecology. This work, covering a period of 15 months spent in Southwestern Georgia, was carried on with the co-operation of the U. S. Public Health Service. Returning to Cornell, he completed work for the Ph.D. degree in February, 1953, and was elected a member of Gamma Alpha and Sigma Xi. Since September, 1953, he has served at Harpur College. The Schumacher family now includes, besides George, his wife, the former Frances L. Murdaugh '48 and son, George James, born August, 1954.

Fred Snyder is married to the former Claire Smith. They have one son, Fred III, and they are living at 410 Glen Park, Bridgeton, N. J.

Mrs. Thomas B. Graham (Gertrude R. Vogel), public health nurse, received the Jaycee good government award at Phoenix, Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Mahler (Ellen Zahn) became the parents of a son, Peter, in November, 1954. They also have a three year old son, Mark.

49 MRS. THOMAS A. FRAZIER
(Marilyn Harer)
55 Manor Dr., Apt. 8J, Newark, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw (Nancy A. Barker) are now living in High Point, N. C., where Mr. Shaw is in the sales office of Globe Parlor Furniture Company. They have a daughter, Robin, who was three in February.

Mrs. Norman D. Gano (Barbara J. Bond) with her husband and 3 children have occupied the parsonage of the Picture Rocks Baptist Church, Picture Rocks, where the Rev. Gano will serve as interim pastor. Rev. Gano has enrolled for special work at Crozier Theological Seminary. Barbara is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles M. Bond.

Robert L. Bunge is now a chemist for the U. S. Radium Corp. at their Alameda Plant, Bloomsburg, R. D. 5.

Fred L. Burkhart was recently promoted to assistant cashier of the El Paso National Bank, El Paso, Tex.

From Francis M. Carson, we learned that Mr. and Mrs. John S. Ketchledge became the parents of a baby boy in December, 1954. John is with Johns Manville, designing new production machinery at the Waukegan, Illinois plant.

Virginia Corkran has been employed the past four years as an Interior Decorator by Woodrums in Miami, Fla. On January 29, 1953, she married LeRoy V. Abbott, and they are now living at 25 NW 192nd Street, North Miami, Fla.

Frederic H. Edwards of Endicott, N. Y., was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Triple Cities.

Richard English is now mortgage officer for the Central Home Trust Co. in Elizabeth, N. J.

Richard Gerlach Jr. is now teaching 6th grade at Galway Central School, Galway, N. Y. He and wife, plus Richard III, are now living on Milton Terrace, Ballston Spa, N. Y.

Herbert H. Gindele is now in the sales and promotion department of WKNY-TV in Kingston, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Glover (Rae Schultz) adopted a two-month old baby girl, Nancy Rae Glover, on April 1, 1953.

Mrs. Edward Stec (Arlene Nemeth) reports about several of the Class of '49. About Arlene and Ed, she reports that for the past four years Ed has been teaching Social Studies in North Plainfield High School and assisting in coaching in three major sports. This past Oct. 8, they were blessed with a daughter, Emily Jane.

Theresa "Terry" Pellegrino is working for the Young and Rubican Advertising Agency in New York City.

Shirlee Geiger is now Mrs. Stanley Slorance. She and her husband reside in Rego Park, N. Y.

William W. Overbagh is now mechanical supervisor of The American Brass Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Reynolds have a son, Thomas, age three, and a daughter, Patricia Ann, age one and one-half.

Kenneth L. Rounds was appointed assistant county superintendent of schools in Susquehanna Co., effective on February 1, 1954.

William T. Watkinson Jr. is again flying for Eastern Air Lines, having returned home from second tour flying for Navy.

BIRTHS: to Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Perry (Betsy Abert), a son, July, 1954; to Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Adamson (Carolyn Hand '47), a daughter, May 13; to Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Bohs Jr. (Helen Klouder '47), a daughter, Feb., 1954; to Dr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Brenner Jr., a son, Nov. 9; to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Carr (Marie Goldsborough), a son, Aug. 6; to Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Comer, a daughter; to Mr. and Mrs. David Wheeler (Juliet Mason), a son, March 6, 1954; to Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Goodgold (Sally Gottfried), a son, Nov. 23; to Mr. and Mrs. George Smaugh (Emilie Luke), a son, Feb., 1954; to Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Wildfoerster (Alma Fagot), a daughter; to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hood '48 (Mariann Collins), a son; to Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Crowell (C. Nancy Roe), a son, Dec.; to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morris (Helen Spencer), a son, Nov. 1.

50 MRS. DAVID MILLER
(Jane Kreider)
614 Penn St., New Bethlehem, Pa.

REUNE IN JUNE

Sallie Angle is now home from three years in Europe with the State Department.

William P. Godley is now supervisor of construction for the C. V. Maynard Construction Co. in Texas. He and Mrs. Godley have a son, John, age 1½ years.

Frank J. Kamensky, our wrestler, is

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS is published in January, March, May, September, and November by Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa.

Member—American Alumni Council

OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION

WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, President, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York.
JOHN F. WORTH '37, First Vice-President, 233 N. Galveston St., Arlington, Va.
MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), Second Vice-President, 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh 6, Pa.
DAYTON L. RANCK '16, Treasurer, 35 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa.
JOHN H. SHOTT '22, Secretary and Editor, 116 Faculty Court, Lewisburg, Pa.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., New York (1955)
JOSEPH T. QUICK '38, Wright Rd., R. D. 2, Newtown, Pa. (1955)
MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa. (1955)
CLAIR G. SPANGLER '25, 214 N. Sixth St., Reading, Pa. (1955)
JOHN F. WORTH '37, 233 N. Galveston St., Arlington, Va. (1955)
MRS. BROWN FOGHT (Florence Utt '26), 229 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa. (1956)
BRUCE J. MILLER '27, 112 Devoe Rd., Chappaqua, N. Y. (1956)
ALLEN A. RARIG '29, 528 Lindberg Way, Lewistown, Pa. (1956)
DONALD H. SHOLL '42, Munn Lane E., R. D. 1, Haddonfield, N. J. (1956)
P. HERBERT WATSON '37, 67 Prospect Ave., Norristown, Pa. (1956)
MRS. CHARLES E. COPELAND (Amorita Sesinger '22), 85-10 34th Ave., Jackson Heights, N. Y. (1957)
J. NORMAN DAVIES '26, 1112 Mill St., Wilkesburg, Pa. (1957)
WILMER D. GREULICH '34, 715 Greythorne Rd., Wymewood, Pa. (1957)
FRANCIS B. HAAS, JR. '47, 2917 N. Front St., Harrisburg, Pa. (1957)
W. CARL SPROUT '08, Mitchell Apts., North and Front St., Harrisburg, Pa. (1957)

() Year Term Expires.

now with North American Aviation, in Downey, California, and taking courses at U. S. C. leading to the MBA degree.

Lt. Wayne F. Klenck will finish three years of active duty with the U. S. Air Force in August, 1955. He plans to do graduate work at the University of California at Berkeley in September in civil engineering.

Ensign Raymond S. Martin is now serving in the U. S. Navy at Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, Texas.

Edward Miller Jr. was married to Louise Ojerholm on April 5, 1952. They have a son, Glenn born June 9, 1953. Ed and his family are residing in Millbury, Mass., where he is an underwriter for the Massachusetts Protective Association of Worcester.

Dushyant Nanavati has returned to India. His address is Shanti Sadon, French Bridge, Bombay.

George H. Parker has been promoted to sales service manager of the Luria Engineering Company of Bethlehem.

Samuel C. Ranck was admitted to the bar of Northumberland County courts in early January. Sam graduated from Bucknell in 1950, from the University of Pennsylvania Law School in 1954 and he immediately passed the state bar examination. He served his clerkship in the law office of Michael Kivko, Sunbury, with whom he will be associated in law practice. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha and the William Draper Lewis Law Club at the University of Pennsylvania.

Joseph Rubenstein is teaching remedial reading and is tutoring chemistry and algebra in a children's home in California.

Capt. Richard E. Smith has been transferred to Mather AFB at Sacramento, Calif.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Marx (Jean Soars) are living in Tacoma, Washington on the McChord Air Force Base while Dr. Marx is in the service. Their first child, George, was born February 11, 1953 and on December 31, 1954 a daughter, Margaret, was born.

Robert N. Waddell Jr. has rejoined the Pittsburgh agency of Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co., after three years of service in the Navy, where he advanced to the rank of lieutenant. He was with the agency for a year before entering the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Zimmerman announce the birth of a son, Jeffrey Collins, on November 23. Jeff's cousin, Nancy Hazen Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Jones, arrived on May 31. Ralph is teaching at Valley Forge Military Academy, Wayne, Pa.

BIRTHS: to Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Belt, a daughter, Nov. 15; to Mr. and Mrs. David B. Fawcett Jr. (Janet E. McKain '53), a daughter, March, 1954; to Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Freed, a daughter, Jan. 9, 1954; to Dr. and Mrs. David Miller (Jane Kreider), a son, Nov. 15; to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Linde, a daughter, Nov. 21; to Mr. and Mrs. John G. Rickard (Marge N. Lawler '51), a daughter, Dec. 1954; to Lt. and Mrs. Craig W. Gridley (Charis Taylor), a daughter, Nov. 22.

Down the Aisle: Jean Bailey and Robert C. Gaede, 3695 Strandhill Rd., Shaker Heights 22, Ohio; Vincent P. Caracciolo and Gladys M. Miller; Robert G. Hertz and Betty Jean Wolfstone.

52 MISS ELINOR L. CHILDS
74 Mt. Kemble Ave.
Morristown, N. J.

Judson Bunnell is manager of Lake Mohonk Mountain House, Mohonk Lake, N. Y., as of January 26. Mohonk is a large resort with a capacity of over 500 guests on 7,500 acres of beautiful land only 90 miles from New York City.

Judson was married June 19, 1954 to Mary Lou Johnston '54. They are now living at Lake Mohonk Mountain House, Mohonk Lake, N. Y.

Reginald A. Hubley has been appointed

DID YOU VOTE?

Ballots for the election of a member of the General Alumni Association to serve as alumni trustee were placed in the mails on April 1. Ballots were addressed to every Bucknellian with a good mailable address. If you have not yet voted, will you please send your vote in the postage-free envelope mailer. If you did not receive a ballot, will you please drop a line to the Alumni Office now. Balloting closes on May 16, 1955.

district manager of two magazines for the McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. in the Cleveland office.

Joan Jacobsen is assistant personnel manager with the J. Henry Schroder Banking Corp.

Nancy Lange Danieis flew to Okinawa in November to join her husband Charles, who is in the U. S. A. F. and will be stationed there until January, 1956, when his overseas duty will be completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lawson (Shirley O'Grady '53) live in Lewisburg, and they have two children, Kenneth Jr. and Lisa Anne. Kenneth just got out of the service and has returned to Bucknell to finish his course.

Jack L. Peters was recently elected vice president of the Main Line Jaycees and appointed to the Board of Directors for the Athletic Association for the Philadelphia Electric Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richardson (Virginia Turrone) are living at 322 E. Ann St., Apt. 5, Ann Arbor, Mich., where Bob is taking graduate work at the University in sociology and journalism. Ginny is a research assistant at MIDAC, the University's high speed electronic computer.

John M. Roddick was elected head track coach and head football coach at Shippensburg State Teachers College.

Ted R. Simpson of Lancaster, Pa. was recently elected secretary of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Lancaster.

Jeanne M. Smith is teaching second grade in Bergenfield, N. J. and is working on her master's degree.

Milton H. Webb Jr. writes that he is with Shields and Brother, wholesale hardware, in Wenonah, N. J. He began his sales position after returning from sixteen months in Korea.

Down the Aisle: June Finn Auchincloss and Sewell F. Faulkner; Jean Lowry and Robert F. Scarr; Joan Gibbons and George Wilson '49; Mary Ann Rice and William Fearen '50, Harrisburg, Pa.; Doris Wors-tall and James A. Sickler, Doylestown, Pa.; Elizabeth I. Myers and Thomas Englar Waters Jr.; Bertram Smith Murphy and Edith A. Lechner.

BIRTHS: to Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Erdle (Carolyn Knies), a son, Nov., 1954; to Mr. and Mrs. David Krupp (Margo Rauch), a daughter, Dec. 30, 1954; to Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Yackanicz, a daughter, August 17, 1954.

53 MRS. JAMES A. CHAMBERS, JR.
(Barbara Roemer)
391 Church St., Haabrouck Heights, N. J.

Lt. (j.g.) Austin P. Anderson Jr., U. S. N., of Indiana, Pa., has been selected for duty on the NATO staff of Admiral Jerauld Wright, U. S. N., Supreme Allied Commander Atlantic. He previously served on the U. S. S. Missouri.

MAY 1955

Received a wonderful letter from London from Lou Austin and Paul Remmey. Lou and Paul were married on Feb. 26, 1955. Lou has a Fulbright Scholarship and is preparing a study of American foreign policy 1895-1906. She is working at the British Museum. Paul is finishing his degree at Oxford in June—a master's degree in modern history, philosophy and economics. This summer the Remmeyes plan to work at the British Public Record Office on the diplomatic documents relevant to the period they are studying.

Katharine Anne Bell writes that she is teaching kindergarten at Penn Valley School, Narberth, Pa.

Carol Byerly is college adviser to students at Bound Brook High School in New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. William Caldwell (Helen Harrison) will be living at Apt. C, 7327 E. Kenmore Dr., Norfolk, Va., while Bill is stationed there, working with service craft.

Ricky Heidrick and Alan Judkins '52 are the proud parents of a little girl, Alice.

Lt. Ernie Hendricks Jr. writes that all troops going to Europe process through Zweibrucken and are met by Ernie's Truck Company (661). See Ernie when you hit Zweibrucken and get a front seat on the bus.

Chris Hill Killough and her husband have moved to Hemlock Drive, Hickory Hills Lake, Lunenburg, Mass.

Mrs. Edward J. Seibert (Audrey Howard) writes that her husband will finish his two year Army service in August, 1955.

Barbara Klepper is teaching in the Hewlett School in Long Island.

Ed Knorr and Janet Pope '56 were married in Sunbury on November 13.

Stanley L. Lippincott Jr. is with DuPont Explosives in Production in Birmingham, Ala.

The travelers, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Luce '50 (Louise D. Thorne) call 123 B. Wallworth Apts., Haddonfield, N. J., their home now. Hope they stay there until this is printed or I'll be foiled again!

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Becker (Bette MacDonald) announce the birth of a son, Robert Lawrence, born March 9, and weighing 6 lbs., 15 oz. Congratulations!

John McFadden writes that he and his wife are living at 2677½ A Street, San Diego, Calif. which is home port to him while serving in the Navy as supply and disbursing officer on a destroyer. John passed on the news that Bud Bretz and his wife, Bobbie Tredennick '52 are living in Staten Island where Bud is serving in the Army. Fred Hunt has just made Lt. (j.g.) and is due to arrive back in the states after a six month overseas tour on the U. S. S. Leonard F. Mason. Thanks for the news, John.

Heard from Nancy Schmehl from way out in Ohio. Nancy is teaching in Painesville, and her address is: 151 High St. Also learned some news by a Christmas card from Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Worthen (Marilyn H. Smith '55) who are living at 46 Swift St., So. Burlington, Vermont. Hugh is with the Vermont Structural Steel Co. as a draftsman.

Weddings in the news: Joan Lafferandre and Peter Diamandis '52 were married, April 2, in New Vernon, N. J.; Lou Thorne Luce was matron of honor. Seen at the wedding were Lou Tierney, Ellen Herte, and Pat Imschweiler '53. Nancy Carter and Jim Whitney were also married, April 2, in Westfield, N. J. Helen Harrison Caldwell was an attendant. Both the Diamandis' and Whitneys' honeymooned in Bermuda. The third marriage of the day was William R. Voorhees to Joan Horton of Leonia, N. J.

It looks like the stork didn't have a vacation over the holidays at all. On December 26, he brought Bill Heinrich, 2½, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Heinrich (Virginia Nicely), a little sister, Janet Louise. He flew low over the Taylor home in New Milford, N. J. and brought a little boy, 6 lbs., 12½ oz., to Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor '52 (Joan Harris). They've named their son, William Harris Taylor.

54

MISS DOROTHY M. DIORIO
722 Radcliffe St.
Bristol, Pa.

REUNE IN JUNE

What excitement for the alumnae of 1954. They have cluttered the altars from New York to Philadelphia. Even your reporter was "tripping" up the aisle to the tune of Lohengrin—no, not as earth-shaking as you may think—this occurred at Dottie Masemer and Marty Carhart's very lovely wedding on February 6, in York, Penna.

Since Helen Frazee's marriage to Jackson Ferren in August, they have been residing in West Palm Beach, Florida, where Jack is stationed with the Air Force.

Shirley Hartzell was married to Bill Pratt on Feb. 12th. He is going to Germany and Shirley plans to finish graduate school.

Carol Itjen has been Mrs. Henry Haller since November 13. Their two weeks in Switzerland which followed sounds marvelous.

Margaret Klugh and Robert Bennett '52 were married, October 23, 1954 and are now living in Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Lois Anne Cullen was awarded assistantships in chemistry at the University of Maryland and at Tulane University. She accepted the one at Tulane and is now living in New Orleans, busy teaching at the University and studying for her master's.

Jackie Long is working as public relations assistant at Bucknell. She is in charge of editing a book for our first reunion in June, and hopes that every member of the Class of '54 will return the questionnaire by the deadline.

Mary Lou Mayer is working as a teenage program director at the Y. W. C. A. in Williamsport.

Kenneth Stauffer, an X-ray sales representative for the du Pont Photo Products Department, has been assigned to the Dallas District and will be based in Oklahoma City. From there he will cover Oklahoma, the Texas Panhandle, and eastern New Mexico.

Ending this report on a sad note, I have just recently learned of the untimely death of Harvey N. Mawhinney, Jr., which occurred when the car he was driving enroute home to Endicott, N. Y., from the Bucknell-Colgate game on November 6 shot over a guard rail into the Chenango River near Hamilton, N. Y. I know that the members of the Class of '54 join in sending our most sincere sympathy to the family of this fellow-classmate upon hearing of the tragedy.

Elizabeth K. Powell, a graduate student in psychology at the University of Pennsylvania is co-author with Dr. Wendell Smith '46, Associate Professor of Psychology at Bucknell and Dr. Sherman Ross, former Bucknell faculty member, of "Manifest Anxiety and Food Aversions", which appeared in the January 1955 issue of The Journal of Abnormal and Social Psychology.

An Invitation To Bucknell Alumni, All of You—Everywhere!

Ever read one of those "money back if you're not satisfied" advertisements? Well, that's pretty much the way I feel about Alumni Weekend in June.

I can't guarantee your money back, but I'm willing to wager right now that if you return to the campus in June, you'll agree afterward that it was one of the most rewarding and satisfying experiences of your life.

That's especially true for those of you who may have let a good many years roll by since visiting Bucknell. But even for those who go back more often, there is always a thrill about setting foot on familiar paths as "memories fond come trooping by." Spring is the loveliest time of the year at Bucknell. I'll defy even the most uninterested alumnus not to have a twinge of sentiment as he drives over the rolling Pennsylvania hills and up along the Susquehanna. And especially when he catches that first glimpse of Lewisburg in the distance with its church spires and Old Main and East and West Colleges rising above the tree tops.

These are important days for Bucknell. Growth and progress are evident everywhere—the beautiful new F. W. Olin Science Building, completely remodelled Taylor Hall, and the new freshman men's dormitory are but a few of the physical evidences. Alumni activity is marching along, too. Reunion weekend has grown tremendously in scope and interest in recent years—each June finds the number of returning grads greater and more enthusiastic.

Remember the dates—June 10, 11, 12 and 13—but especially the reunion on Saturday, June 11 if yours is one of the 5-year classes, like 1900, 1905, 1910, 1915, etc. There will be class meetings, receptions and parties for classmates, husbands, wives and youngsters—a time for renewing old friendships. And there will be the Alumni Parade, the All-Alumni Luncheon with our new President as a guest of honor, and the evening jamboree to round out a full day of fun and enjoyment. And your overnight dormitory arrangements are set if you mail the reservation slip (p. 3) now.

Better start right now with your plans. Sidetrack your other dates, and make it a must to come back and visit Alma Mater in June.

Yours for Bucknell,
WILLIAM S. (BILL) LIMING '33,
President, General Alumni Association

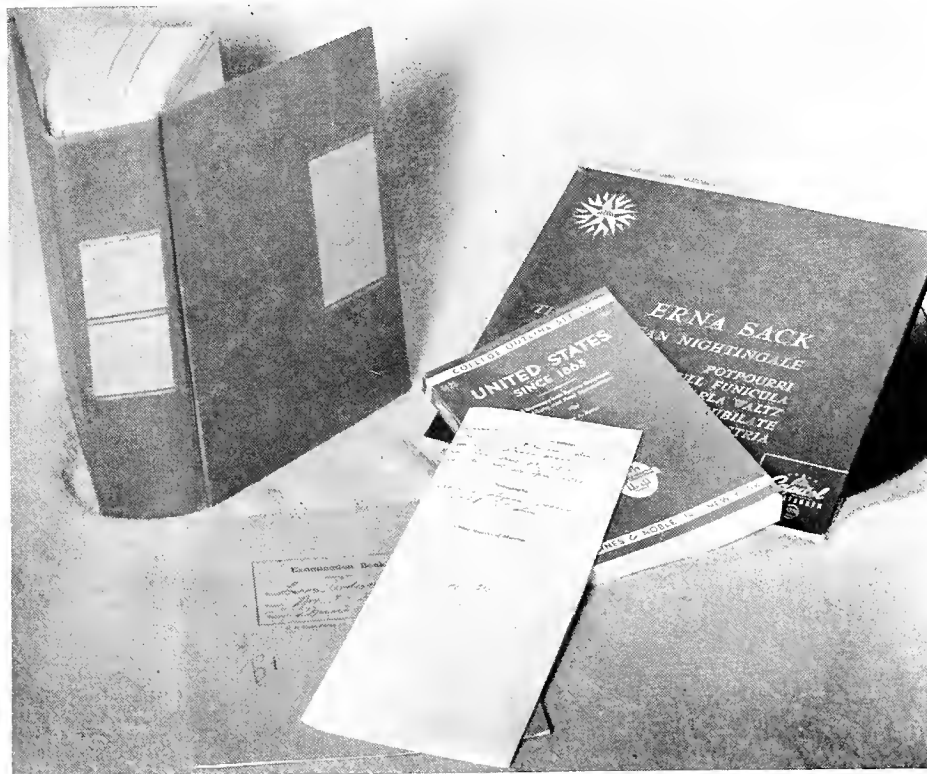

The

BUCKNELL

ALUMNUS

GREETINGS—CLASS OF 1959

Here are some of the tools for hunting Q. C.'s . . .

Happy Hunting!

The General Alumni Association

In This Issue

	Page
Alumni:
Major William H. Baumer '50	13
William J. Carnore '32	21
Dr. Frank G. Davis '11	23
Reese H. Harris '03, Esq.	24
Barbara Hoooven Fullmer '50	24
Morris D. Hoooven '20	24
Oriana W. Martin '93	17
Richard L. Moore '47	22
Dr. Dayton L. Ranck '16	23
Kenneth Vandenbree '31	21
William J. W'rabley '51	7
T. Cortlandt Williams, Sr. '20	24
Abraham J. Zager '38, Esq.	25
Alumni Achievement Award	4
Alumni Reunions Draw Crowd	4, 14
Alumni Trustee Timetable	26
Bison Club	3, 7, 14
Bucknell Baptists	27
Bus Presentation	7
Class Reports	17-22, 27
Class Reunions	8-13
Club Activities	15, 16, 27
Coming Events	13
Congratulations to Trustees	4
Cornerstone, F. W. Olin Science Bldg.	5
Cover Pictures	2
Admiral Ernest M. Eller	16
Faculty, Staff Appointments	16
Football Ticket Reservations	6
Graduates Honored	5
Greetings—Class of 1959	2
Harvard Game Tickets	5
John C. Hayward	16
Homecoming Reservation	3
Honorary Alumni	5
How to Get Miami Tickets	5
Introducing Two New Presidents	24
Invitation from Bucknell Review	24
Kress Benefaction Announced	4
Looking Backward	7, 25
Lycoming Club Officers	27
Second Century Highlights	3, 14
South Jersey Dance	15
Sports	6-7
Dr. Norman H. Stewart	23
Thank You!	26
Their Service to Bucknell	23, 25
Three Distinguished Articles	25
University Conducts Summer Program	25
University Earns Alumni Awards	27

The Cover Pictures

We are pleased to present pictures of the two new University buildings being placed in service this year. The F. W. Olin Science Building (lower picture) will be dedicated on September 28. James S. Swartz Hall, the new dormitory and dining hall for men (upper picture) will be dedicated on Dad's Day, October 15. (See stories on page 14).

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

Published in January, March, May, September, and November by

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Entered as second-class matter December 30, 1936, at the post office at Lewisburg, Pa., under the Act of August 24, 1912.

SECOND CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS OF 1955-56

Homecoming — Dads' Day — Convocation — Dedication Are Fall Features

The academic year 1955-56, opening with the registration of the freshman class of 1959 on September 17, marks the 110th year of the University's existence. Appropriate celebrations of the anniversary of the University's Charter Day—February 5, 1846—will be scheduled on a nation-wide scale to permit the 65 Bucknell Alumni Clubs to participate in the occasion.

However, the whole academic year will feature the 110th year starting with a University Convocation on September 28 to mark the dedication of the completed

F. W. Olin Science Building. On October 15, during the Dad's Day celebration, the dedication of the James S. Swartz Hall will be held.

Homecoming, scheduled for November 5, with Colgate as the opponent, will offer alumni and friends of the University an opportunity to enjoy all of the traditional features of this popular campus celebration.

On September 30, Emeritus members of the Bucknell faculty will be honored at a dinner to be held on the campus.

Colgate Game to Feature Homecoming, November 5

In the words of Lewis Carroll, "The time has come, the Walrus said, 'to talk of many things.'" Homecoming is the time also when many exciting things take place on the Bucknell campus. This year again your committee of alumni, students, faculty, administration and townfolk has been at work to assure you a comfortable and pleasant visit to the campus on this biggest of fall University celebrations.

You won't want to miss one second of the long weekend. Come Friday night, November 4, in time to participate with the students, band, football team, coaches and other alumni in the pep rally at 7:30 at Davis Gymnasium. Here's a chance to relive your own thrilling undergrad days. You can yell, sing and cheer "Beat Colgate" and generally have a whale of a time and incidentally, get a look at the football team.

After the rally, you will want to climb the Hill to register at the Carnegie Building (Old Library) if you haven't done so before and to check on the arrival of Joe, Mary, Tom or Helen.

Bison Club Breakfast

Since you must eat breakfast anyhow, come to the Lewisburg Club, 131 Market St., on Saturday promptly at 8:30 a. m. and enjoy an excellent breakfast, good fellowship and get the latest dope about the team; how they are passing, tackling, punting and blocking. Don't forget that the ladies too are always very welcome at the Bison Club Breakfast.

After breakfast, you will be in fine shape to tour the campus from end to end, visiting the new buildings and observing the many improved facilities that have been made available since your last visit.

Homecoming Parade

At press time the student organizations that provide the colorful Homecoming Parade have not yet had an opportunity to meet and prepare their plans, but it is assumed that the traditional float parade, put on by the fraternities and sororities on the theme of "Beat Colgate" will again be a part of the Homecoming program.

All-Alumni Luncheon

The "No Speeches" rule invoked last year at the Homecoming luncheon was so successful that it is planned to feature only the Bucknell Band and cheer leaders at the luncheon scheduled at noon in the Davis Gymnasium. The Bucknell University Band which holds a pre-season band camp each year will be on hand with its usual pep and tricky routines to thrill you. The cheer leaders will be on stage to help swell the noise and get you in first-class shape for the game. The luncheon is a must to give you the advance look of things to come. Be sure to send the reservation forms appearing on pages 3 and 6.

Bucknell vs. Colgate

Of course, all this preparation has been to prepare you for the organized mayhem that is scheduled for Memorial Stadium at 2:00 p. m. The luncheon will end in time for you to reach your seat (better send in the ticket reservation on page 6 now) in good time for the pre-game festivities and the kickoff. Those Red Raiders from Colgate are back again as the Homecoming feature, and the Thundering Herd is determined to break the Raiders two-year winning streak. It won't be easy, but with your cheers, it will be possible.

Bison Round-up and Reception

More to come? Yes indeed! After the game, we all meet at Davis Gym and replay the whole game, explaining to classmates and friends just how it was done. And here's the chance to meet that classmate you have been looking for all day. He or she will be there to greet you at the cider barrel.

Evening Celebration

Then there will be time for a leisurely dinner followed by the annual Homecoming All-Campus Dance and entertainment in the Davis Gym at 9:00 p. m. Here's another opportunity to meet the gang and see the presentation of the Homecoming trophies.

All in all, it will be a grand celebration, so better send your reservations for the game, the luncheon and the Bison Club breakfast without delay. (See pages 3 and 6).

(Continued on Page 14)

Even though your plans may be tentative, please mail this reservation TODAY and guarantee yourself a share in the program and also assist us in planning your accommodations. Although we will do our best—WE CANNOT GUARANTEE RESERVATIONS RECEIVED AFTER OCTOBER 27.

HOMECOMING RESERVATION

NOVEMBER 5, 1955

Please reserve _____ tickets for the HOMECOMING LUNCHEON,
Saturday, November 5, 1955, at Davis Gym.

Please reserve _____ tickets for the BISON CLUB BREAKFAST,
Saturday, November 5, 1955, at Lewisburg Club.

NAME (Print) _____ CLASS _____

ADDRESS _____

(This slip can be attached to a postal card or slipped into an envelope. Mail to Alumni Office, Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa., NOW. Send your room reservation to Forrest D. Brown, secretary, Christian Association).

ALUMNI REUNIONS DRAW BANNER CROWD

KRESS BENEFACTION ANNOUNCED

Despite inclement weather, a large number of Alumni were again drawn to the campus on June 10-13. A full and enjoyable program of activities was planned by the class presidents and reunion chairmen of the Emeritus Club and the Classes of 1900, 1905, 1910, 1915, 1920, 1925, 1930, 1935, 1940, 1945, 1950, 1954 and 1955.

A capacity crowd of 1,100 attended the annual Alumni luncheon at the Davis Gymnasium and was thrilled by the announcement that Rush Kress '00, honorary chairman of the Board of Trustees, will this year contribute one dollar to the Bucknell Alumni Annual-Giving Fund for each two dollars contributed to the Fund.

Arrangements for the weekend of get-togethers were made by the commencement activity committee of students, faculty, and alumni under the direction of Raymond K. Irwin '47 who provided for the meeting places of the numerous groups.

Bucknellians traveled from far and wide to attend the reunions at their old Alma Mater. The greatest distance traveled to attend the class reunion was by Mrs. Paul Peters '35 (Margaret Weddell) who came from Johannesburg, South Africa, to celebrate the twentieth reunion of her Class of 1935.

Classmates had an opportunity to renew old friendships, note changes that have occurred on the campus, and attend specially planned activities. Included in the weekend events was a narrated pictorial history of the University entitled "The Bucknell Story." Fraternity and sorority symposia were of interest to many and The University Players joined forces with the Cap and Dagger to present selections from "Carousel" and "Mister Roberts" at the Jamboree on Saturday night.

Dr. Horn, Olin Foundation Head, Lays Cornerstone

Highlight of the weekend was the laying of the cornerstone for the F. W. Olin Science Building at noon Saturday. President Merle M. Odgers presided over the ceremony which was shortened due to inclement weather. However, rain did not dampen the enthusiasm of the large group in attendance. Dr. Mark C. Ebersole, University Chaplain, offered the invocation and benediction. Dr. Joseph W. Henderson '08, chairman of Bucknell's Board of Trustees, introduced the special guests: Dr. Charles L. Horn, president of the Olin Foundation; James O. Wynn, Esq., vice president and counsel for the Olin Foundation; and Ralph Clark, the Foundation's secretary. James O. Wynn, Esq., presented the cornerstone which was accepted on behalf of the University by dean and vice-president in charge of academic affairs, Dr. William H. Coleman. Dr. Charles L. Horn was assisted in laying the cornerstone by Mr. James O. Wynn, Dr. Joseph W. Henderson '08, Dr. Merle M. Odgers, Dr. William H. Coleman, and Mr. Ralph Clark. The Olin Foundation officials were presented with gift trowels, replicas of the one used during the ceremony, by Dr. Odgers and Dr. Coleman.

Plan Dedication

September 28, Bucknell's Convocation date, has been selected for the dedication of the F. W. Olin Science Building. The building will be completed and opened for the inspection of students, faculty, and guests. Dr. John C. Warner, president of Carnegie Institute of Technology and president of the American Chemical Society, will be the principal speaker at the dedicatory services. The University will honor a number of outstanding teachers, and guests will include representatives from both industrial and educational institutions.

Treasure Room Opened

Completed through the gift of the Class of 1954, the Bucknell Treasure Room in the Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library was opened, giving Alumni and friends the first opportunity to inspect the several collections. Among these were a Japanese oriental art collection, original manuscripts, photographs and clippings pertaining to outstanding accomplishments of Alumni, pictures of several Bucknell presidents, the original Bucknell charter signed by Governor Francis Shunk in 1846 and other items of interest. An additional feature was an unusual autograph collection which contained signatures of such famous persons as Albert Einstein, Hans Christian Andersen, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Helen Keller, President Eisenhower, and Irving Berlin. In the rooms adjacent to the Treasure Room were displayed student art and photo exhibits. Other displays in the library featured "The Art of the Book," exhibited on the main floor, which included a portion of the works of Elmer Adler and a collection presented by Dr. John A. Walls '98. A collection of bookmarks, several ancient scrolls, and an exhibit of books once banned, such as Machiavelli's "The Prince and Discourses," were on display.

All-Alumni Luncheon

Davis Gymnasium was the scene of much hilarity and fun Saturday afternoon when a capacity crowd gathered to attend the Annual Alumni Luncheon. Director of food services, Mrs. Esther B. Long '47, with the aid of her staff and students, once again served a superb luncheon after which Classes were greeted and announcements were made. William S. Liming '33, who had been re-elected at the Annual Assembly for a second term as president of The General Alumni Association, presided at the program.

Bucknell Alumni Achievement Citation and chair were awarded to Mrs. Erle M. Topham (C. Ray Speare '17), Philadelphia, pictured here receiving congratulations from nephew William E. C. Speare '58.

The announcement that Mrs. Erle M. Topham (C. Ray Speare '17), Philadelphia, had been selected to receive the Bucknell Chair and Citation of 1955, was met with the applause and approval of the group. For many years she has been active in the Philadelphia Alumni Association, has contributed much valuable service and has served as secretary of the club. She was honored also for her activity in the Bison Club. The annual award signifies outstanding achievement and service on behalf of the University and The General Alumni Association. Also present was the most recent member of her Bucknell family, nephew William Speare, who is a member of the Class of 1958. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. C. (Doc) Speare '20.

(Continued on Page 14)

Congratulations and thanks from President Odgers (center) to the Bucknell Trustees who donated funds for the construction of a swimming pool for Bucknell, as an addition to Davis Gymnasium. They are Robert L. Rooke '13, Newark, N. J. (left) and Alfred G. Freas, Tenafly, N. J., father of two Bucknellians, Arthur K. Freas '48 and Mrs. David Traut, Jr. (R. Leanne Freas '50).

Graduates Honored at Bucknell's 105th Commencement

President Merle M. Odgers presented a total of 367 degrees to scholars at Bucknell's 105th Annual Commencement Exercises. Parents and friends witnessed the ceremony which was held in the Davis Gymnasium on Monday morning, June 13, 1955. A total of 334 seniors earned bachelor's degrees with 17 members of the class cited for honors. Twenty-five graduate students received advanced degrees and one professional degree was awarded. Seven honorary doctorates were conferred by President Odgers. Seventy-two seniors, of whom 19 were cited as "distinguished military graduates," were commissioned as second lieutenants in the Army Reserve Corps by Lt. Col. Joseph V. Chauity, commanding officer of the ROTC units at Bucknell.

Honorary Degrees

Three Bucknell graduates were among the recipients of honorary degrees. Major General Charles I. Carpenter '27, chief of Air Force Chaplains and chairman of the Board of Armed Forces Chaplains, was awarded the degree Doctor of Divinity. The Baccalaureate speaker was graduated from Bucknell in 1927 and from Drew University in 1931 with the degree Bachelor of Divinity. Known as the "Flying Carp" by his aides, (see Newsweek, July 11, 1955, p. 66) General Carpenter has had outstanding success in bringing religion to Air Force volunteers.

Miss Sue Weddell '12, New York City, for her work on behalf of foreign missions, received the degree Doctor of Humanities. At the present time she is secretary-treasurer of the Central Committee USA for the Ludhiana Christian Medical College, Punjab, India. Her father, the late Reverend John W. Weddell, had received an honorary degree from Bucknell University in 1897. Dr.

HONORARY ALUMNI—Honorary doctorate degrees were awarded by Bucknell this year to one woman and six men prominent in professional and business life. Here they are, left to right, with Board Chairman Henderson and President Odgers who conferred the degrees: Dr. Charles L. Horn, Dr. Henderson, President Odgers, Dr. John A. Diemand, the Commencement speaker; Dr. John S. Burlew '30, General Charles I. Carpenter '27, the Baccalaureate speaker; Dr. Elmer Adler, Dr. Sue Weddell '12, and Dr. James O. Wynn.

John S. Burlew '30, Philadelphia, was awarded the degree Doctor of Science. Dr. Burlew is assistant director of the Franklin Institute and was formerly technical director of the Cambridge Corporation.

John A. Diemand, the Commencement speaker, received the degree Doctor of Laws. Dr. Diemand, Philadelphia, is president of the Insurance Company of North America, and is a member of boards of directors of many educational, financial and charitable institutions.

Dr. Charles L. Horn, Minneapolis, Minn., was awarded the degree Doctor of Civil Law. Dr. Horn is president of the Federal Cartridge Corporation and of the F. W. Olin Foundation. James O. Wynn, Esq., New York City, was awarded the degree Doctor of Civil Law. He is a senior member of the law firm of Wynn, Taylor and Blattmachr and vice president and counsel of the F. W. Olin Foundation.

Elmer Adler, New York City, was awarded the degree Doctor of Laws. Dr. Adler, an expert in graphic arts and a noted bibliophile, will soon begin an appointment as fine arts consultant to the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

General Carpenter in his Baccalaureate address "Sedatives or Solutions," declared that the world today needs something to live for and that the solutions of the world's ills may be found by individuals of deep, serious conviction who are motivated by dynamic action. The opportunity given Noah to create a new world and his failure through personal weakness was the theme used by General Carpenter in his address.

Mr. Diemand in his Commencement address "Know-How Isn't All!" advised graduates that knowledge without character will prove ineffective and urged them to retain and use the set of true values essential to meeting the world's problems. He stressed the importance of character and the values which make up character. Graduates were urged to retain and use those values after leaving the campus.

Laying the cornerstone of the F. W. Olin Science Building on Alumni Day, June 11. Left to right: Dr. James O. Wynn, vice-president and counsel, F. W. Olin Foundation; Dr. Joseph W. Henderson '08, chairman, Bucknell Board of Trustees; Dr. Charles L. Horn, president, F. W. Olin Foundation; and Dr. Merle M. Odgers, Bucknell President. The completed F. W. Olin Science Building will be dedicated at a University convocation on September 28.

Harvard Game Tickets

You can be assured of tickets for the Harvard game in Cambridge by the special Bucknell Section by sending your order now (at $3 a ticket) to Walter Weidemann, Jr., 107 Valley Road, Needham 92, Mass. Kindly enclose a stamped addressed return envelope with your order and check.

Plans are underway for a dinner after the game, probably at the University Club of Boston. Exact time and place will be announced later.

Grid Prospects

Four months really isn't a long time, unless you happen to be a football coach. If you are, it is because four months is roughly the amount of time that elapses between the close of spring practice and the beginning of the all-important fall pre-season sessions.

The coach, without his players, being like the ship without a sail, can do little more than meditate. The meditation often leads to worry, especially when thoughts of Harvard, Colgate and Miami run through his mind. Time moves slowly. Sometimes four months seem like eight.

Thus, it is a happy mentor who romps onto the field in September, when thought can finally give way to action. Bucknell's Harry Lawrence was no exception, on Sept. 1, when the cleats and togs came out at Lewisburg and football became the order of the day.

A glance at Mr. Lawrence, however, as his charges selected their gear and trotted to the practice field to take part in the photography and other extra-curricular activities that mark the first day of football drills, led one to believe that the wheels that turned continually in the Lawrence cranium during the summer were still very much at work.

As some of the linemen went by Harry looked at them sharply. They weren't big boys by present gridiron standards. A peek around the field indicated that very few of the players present scaled more than 200 pounds. Gone from the football scene were the 235-pound Antkowiaks, Minkers and Lloyds. As a matter of fact, gone was the entire 1954 forward wall and 11 of the 14 lads whom Lawrence liked to call his "forward nucleus." Today it was a bit difficult to differentiate between lineman and backs. There were few big men on the field.

Lawrence scanned the field and started counting heads. There were less than 40 present. Many of the players, especially the linemen, were newcomers up from last fall's frosh team. Inexperience would have to be overcome. A lack of depth would have to be circumvented.

The quarterbacks lobbed a few passes. Neither Tashjy, Klaber or Flurer could be found on the receiving end. Capable ends would have to be developed if the attack was to be balanced.

The Lawrence brow deepened. Would the new line be adequate? Could veterans like Ralph Riker, John Michalski, Jim Kozlowski and Art Kinney and sophomores such as Bob Holmes, Tom Kane and Dick Jewens form a forward wall strong enough to cope with the larger arrays they would certainly be pitted against? And how would the younger men fare when they squared off against two and three-year veterans? Would the Bisons be out-gunned by oppo-

1955 Football Schedule

*Sept. 24—Albright	Home
*Oct. 1—Gettysburg (Chocolate Bowl)	Hershey
Oct. 8—Lehigh	Bethlehem
Oct. 15—Temple (Dads' Day)	Home
Oct. 22—Lafayette	Easton
Oct. 29—Harvard Cambridge, Mass.
Nov. 5—Colgate	HOMECOMING
*Nov. 11—Miami	Miami, Fla.
Nov. 19—Delaware (Scouts' Day)	Home
* Night games

nents three and four deep in every position? Could veterans Dave Wallis and Bill Reilly and soph Bob Walasek take up the needed slack in the flank positions? Those were the problems, and they were many.

Harry glanced to the far side of the field where Bill Lane was talking to a group of the backs. Bob Ford was present and ship-shape. Last fall the young man had been the best back on the squad and one of the best in the East. He has rushed the ball 4.5 yards per try, totaled 636 yards in the season and scored nine touchdowns. He would be even better this season.

Dick McCartney was there along with Bob Sierer, Jim Stewart, Ron Hendricks, Bill Ross and Chuck Wagner. Hendricks and Stewart would handle the quarterbacking more than acceptably. Sierer and McCartney were seasoned veterans who hit hard. Ross could be a sleeper. He was injured quite a bit last year. And soph Wagner had speed to spare. He was a 10-second man. There would be few problems in the backfield.

Bill Wrabley, a new coach but not a new Bucknellian, had the linemen running as Lawrence moved in that direction. Very few dragged their heels. The line wouldn't be big, but it would be faster than last fall's. The forwards seemed anxious and eager. Seven jobs were open and everybody wanted one. Morale wouldn't be a problem. There was plenty of spirit.

Lane turned Hendricks and Stewart loose for some kicking and both started booming the ball. Last fall each averaged better than 35-yards per punt, and neither was a slouch on kickoffs. The kicking would be as good as the quarterbacking and the latter would be good. Both signal-callers were long on experience and both could pass.

Harry walked toward the center of the field. The backfield situation was excellent. Lots of depth there and hard-hitting operators. It was nice to be two-deep at quarterback with both boys able to pass and kick. Up front there would never be a lack of speed, and spirit and morale were high. Those were the assets.

Lawrence blew his whistle. Bucknell University's 70th intercollegiate football season was underway. It would be an interesting one.

TICKETS

Make your move early, if you want to ride the Bison Bandwagon this fall. To procure choice seats for the opener, Dads' Day and Homecoming, it is advisable to get your ticket order in as soon as possible.

Students and faculty again have sections D, E and F and Alumni sections B and C, on the West side of the field. All seats are between the 10 and 45-yard lines. Alumni also have a choice of 50-yard line seats on the East (Press Box) side of the stadium. Please indicate your preference on the application below.

To receive the above priorities for Homecoming, applications accompanied by checks or money orders, must be in the Athletic Office by October 22.

ORDER YOUR FOOTBALL TICKETS EARLY 1955 FOOTBALL TICKET ORDER BLANK BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Last Name	First	Middle	Class
Street			State

Seat Preference	West Side	East Side	Best Available Seat Irrespective of Side
-----------------	-----------	-----------	---

(Check Choice)

Date	Game	No. Tickets	Reserve Price	Amount
*Sept. 24	Albright		$2.50
Oct. 15	Temple (Dads' Day)		$2.50
Nov. 5	Colgate (HOMECOMING)		$3.00
Nov. 19	Delaware		$2.50
*Night	TOTAL

Make checks payable to BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY—INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS. Return order blanks to Albert E. Humphreys, Director of Athletics. Tickets will be sent by insured mail.

GETTYSBURG AT HERSHEY

Team followers should remember that the opening football game with Gettysburg is scheduled for the Hershey Sports Stadium at Hershey on Saturday evening, October 1. Those desiring football tickets in the Bucknell section should send their orders with check (at $2.50 each) to Bucknell University, attention of Albert E. Humphreys, Director of Athletics, without delay.

Bucknellians and their friends arriving in Hershey in time for dinner at 6:00 p. m. are invited to gather in the dining room of the Community Inn, West Chocolate and Cocoa Avenues. While no private dining room can be provided at the Inn, there will be opportunities for Bucknellians to eat together in the public dining room. Better keep in mind that Hershey is crowded for this game, and you should be at Community Inn not later than 6:00 p. m.

Bison Club

A free round-trip plane ride to the Miami-Bucknell football game in Miami on Nov. 11 is on tap for some fortunate and energetic Bison Club member, according to an announcement made by Athletic Director Albert E. Humphreys and clarified by Jay P. Mathias, president of the Bison Club.

At the club's semi-annual breakfast meeting during Alumni Reunion weekend last June, Humphreys announced that the athletic department, to foster interest in the Bison Club, will supply space on the Bison team plane to Miami for the club member who recruits the most new members.

The rules of the contest, as outlined by Mathias, specify that the winner will be the member who enlists the most new members between the June meeting and Oct. 15, the date of the Bucknell-Temple Dads' Day game here.

It was also revealed that henceforth Bison Club contributions will be used for general athletic aid instead of being restricted to tuition scholarships. First goal under the new plan will provide board for freshmen on athletic squads, with the funds being administered as a regular item of the athletic department budget.

Elected to office at the meeting were Jay P. Mathias, president; Thomas Speck, Joseph P. Dent and Frank Wilsbach, vice presidents; John H. Shott, secretary, and Warren S. Reed, treasurer.

Serving on the executive committee are Rush H. Kress, John J. Conway, William J. Busser, Dr. Edward Pangburn, Harry Dayhoff and Dr. David W. Morgan. Arthur Yon, Anthony Wilsbach and T. J. Mangan were named representatives to the athletic advisory committee.

Spring Sports Report

Football may be filling the air now and for the next couple of months as the grid sport seeks its place in the sun, but baseballs didn't fill the air too often at Memorial Stadium field last spring. At least, not when Bucknell's Don Richards was on the mound.

The stylish left-hander from Pittsburgh set two new Bison diamond marks as he paced Bill Lane's baseball combination to an even break in 20 contests, winning seven of 10 decisions.

Richards, a senior this year, struck out 140 opponent batters in 10 complete games for an average of 14 per contest. He also posted an outstanding 1.30 earned run average. Both are new Bucknell standards.

The spring sports campaign, incidentally, was the most successful spring season enjoyed by Bison teams since World War II. The track team led the way with a 5-0 mark, the best record in the history of the sport at Bucknell. Hank Peters' tennis squad posted a 10-8 ledger, while the golfers engineered an even break, splitting 14 matches.

Wrabley Joins Staff

William J. Wrabley '51 a grid standout for Bucknell at center from 1948-1950, has returned to his Alma Mater as line coach, filling the position vacated by Jim (Smokey) Ostendarp's acceptance of a coaching post at Williams College.

With Wrabley available to handle the forwards, Bill Lane, who served as line coach for the past two years, takes over as end and backfield mentor. A 28-year-old Paratroop veteran, Wrabley came to Bucknell from Turtle Creek High School, near Pittsburgh, where he was active as a coach and teacher.

Soccer

Hank Peters' soccer squad, co-champion of the Middle Atlantic conference last season, opens a nine-game slate on Oct. 5 with Temple University in Philadelphia. The booters are scheduled to face the same nine teams that opposed the '54 squad.

The Bucknellians will face seven league foes, plus Temple and Penn State, playing five contests on the road and four at home. Last fall, the soccer team compiled a 4-4-1 ledger.

The schedule:
 Oct. 5—Temple Philadelphia
 Oct. 14—Delaware Home
 Oct. 19—Penn State Home
 Oct. 22—Drexel Philadelphia
 Oct. 25—Wilkes Home
 Oct. 29—Gettysburg Gettysburg
 Nov. 4—W. Maryland Westminster, Md.
 Nov. 12—F & M Home
 Nov. 15—Elizabethtown Elizabethtown

Frosh Football

With Ben Kribbs at the helm for the fourth consecutive year, Bucknell's freshman football entry opens a five-game card on Oct. 7, entertaining the Diplomats of Franklin and Marshall. Four home contests are on tap for the Baby Bisons, including three night games.

The schedule:
 *Oct. 7—F & M Home
 Oct. 14—Gettysburg Gettysburg
 *Oct. 21—Lock Haven Home
 Oct. 29—Kiski Prep Home
 *Nov. 3—Lehigh Home
 *Night games

How to Get Your Football Tickets for the Miami Game

Bucknellians planning to attend the football game at the University of Miami on Friday evening, November 11, can be assured of tickets in the Bucknell Section by sending orders now (at $3 a ticket) to Clair L. Francis, 834 S. W. 12th Court, Miami, Florida, and mark the order "In the Bucknell Section." To insure prompt receipt of tickets, kindly enclose a stamped addressed return envelope with the order. You are cordially invited to the pre-game Bucknell Rally in the "Top of the Columbus" located in the Columbus Hotel, Biscayne Boulevard and N. E. First Street, 7:00 P. M. At the pre-game rally you will be advised of the time and place of the Bison Round-Up scheduled for after the game. These parties, sponsored by the Bucknell Alumni Club of South Florida will be humdingers. You won't want to miss these highlights of your trip to Florida. (Tickets, too, at U of M office, 228 S. E. 1st St., Miami. Mark "In Bucknell Section.")

LOOKING BACKWARD

Thirty Years Ago—1925

In 1925 Freshmen paraded around the campus past the fraternity houses and were thoroughly doused at each house after singing the well-known song: "How Green I Am."

Senator Andrew J. Sordoni, Bucknell trustee and president of the Sordoni Foundation, presents to Dr. Dayton L. Ranck, vice-president and director of development, title to the 32-passenger bus presented to the University by the Foundation. The bus will provide transportation for some of the athletic teams and will be used by the University for other purposes. Looking on are Walter C. Geiger, superintendent of buildings and grounds, and A. J. Sordoni, Jr.

EMERITUS CLUB

Dr. and Mrs. Paul E. Witmeyer served in the capacity of Faculty Host. Their gracious helpfulness was much appreciated.

Due to the absence from the city of the president, Professor Frank Simpson and also the secretary-treasurer, Mr. John Gundy, the vice president, Dr. Mabel Grier Leshner presided and Mr. Charles I. Boyer served as volunteer recording secretary.

Following the taking of the group picture the report of the minutes of the 1954 meeting, sent by the former secretary-treasurer, B. Meade Wagenseller '95, were read and the following new officers were elected: president, Rev. Charles Teufel '04, Milton, R. D.; vice president, Professor Frank Burpee '01, Lewisburg; and secretary-treasurer, Mr. Charles I. Boyer '02, Lewisburg.

Attention was called to the desirability of the president appointing two additional members to serve with the three elected officers as a Board of Directors, which is in accordance with the Constitution. Further, it was felt that such a Board might profitably consider the request of the Alumni Secretary for the Emeritus Group to suggest possible improvements in the alumni program.

Attention was called to the new film, The Bucknell Story and regret over the omission of some of the outstanding, deceased members of the faculty under whom most of the Emeritus Alumni studied, was expressed.

Thirteen members from seven classes and three guests were present. Greetings were also received from eleven absentees who represented four additional classes, ranging from 1892 to 1899.

—CHARLES I. BOYER '02,
Secretary

CLASS OF 1905

The 50th anniversary of the Class of 1905 was a reunion of joyous and warm personal fellowship for the 22 members of the Class and their spouses who met together at Bucknell. A roll call brought out many expressions of appreciation by those present for those who were not privileged to attend and for those who have passed from among us.

The morning of June 11, the Class members met in Bertrand Library where there was a short business meeting and an hour of fellowship and reminiscence. Miss Claire Conway, the president, was unable to attend, so John B. Smiley, our efficient master of ceremonies, presided. The following officers were elected:

president, Mrs. Edith Kelly Fetherston; vice president, Harold V. Leshner; secretary-treasurer, John B. Smiley; class fund manager, Miss Claire Conway; class reporter, L. C. Hylbert.

The class members were guests of the college at the Alumni Luncheon which was one of the outstanding events of the weekend. Following the luncheon, the class members and their guests gathered at the home of Mrs. Edith Kelly Fetherston for a social hour at which old friendships and old times were recalled. Many attended the Jamboree that evening in the gym which was a gay affair. Sunday noon we all gathered again for dinner together at the Lewisburg Inn where the tables were attractively decorated with 50th Anniversary motifs and "Hen" Smiley was a most congenial toastmaster. Dr. J. W. Henderson '08, chairman of the Board of Trustees, brought greetings to the Class and told of the growth of the University in the past few years. There it was learned that Edith Fetherston had made a gift to Bucknell of $1,000.00 in the name of the Class of 1905; the interest from the money each year will be used for an art student scholarship. Many bade good-bye to each other but a few of the members stayed for the Commencement

CLASS RE

CLASS OF 1910

Our 45th reunion began Friday evening and continued through Commencement weekend off and on; but Alumni Day marked the real reunion.

In the morning, with Col. and Mrs. J. Worthen Proctor, faculty host and hostess, we met in the Engineering Building for an informal business meeting. Note was taken of the passing during the past five years of Frank Painter, W. Lee Sprout, Hope Sterner, Hugh Roser, William Gatehouse, and Helen Sholl. Serious illness of Stella Houghton John was mentioned.

Greetings came from Emily Yoder, Allie Puddicombe, Ruby Pierson, Priscilla Thompson, E. Stanley Hartshorn, and Judge "Dutch" Woods.

There was an expression of appreciation for the fine work Helen and Gurney Sholl did on the Reunion Book prior to Helen's tragic acci-

SEND YOUR HOMECOMING
RESERVATIONS EARLY

UNIONS

on Monday which was something never to be forgotten.

Our 1905 Class put out a L'Agenda this year which has reports of 45 members of the Class and records of all 1905 matriculates in the college, academy and seminary classes. You will enjoy reading these reports. They will interest and surprise you. They may be secured from the Bucknell Alumni office for $1.00 per copy.

—LEWIS C. HYLBERT,
Reporter

Wow! What a day, both in memory and weather. The rains came and so did the memories of yesteryear. Many of the classmates are now living over their days with the growing up of their grandchildren—at least so it seemed in the remarks made at the class reunion in Room 117 of the Engineering Building. Not too many out of the entire class were present as the photo will show, but the spirit of those present was jubilant and many saw each other for the first time in years. Those not present were mentioned and especially so since the L'Agenda was opened and names were read. Naturally there was disappointment, in that we did not get to see some we had hoped would be there.

Clair Groover presided and most all know that he lives in Lewisburg. The following officers were elected: president, Thomas B. Williams; vice president, John M. Wingert; secretary-treasurer, Reverend Frederick R. Greninger; class fund manager, Myrna Strickler Hines; and class reporter, Frederick R. Greninger.

A quick "run-down" of those present: John M. (Jack) Wingert, Altoona, Chemical Engineer for PRR; Emma Dillon, Trenton, Lawyer; Harold C. Edwards, Stroudsburg, Lawyer; Gilbert Meredith, Roselle Park, N. J., Salesman; Edward (Ed) Pangburn, Lewisburg, Medicine; F. Theodore (Ted) Brown, Mayor of West Palm Beach, Fla., Engineer; George Irland, Lewisburg, Head of Electrical Engineering Department, Bucknell University; Isabelle Bond, Williamsport, teaching and Dean of Girls, Williamsport High School; Ramona Lenington Davies, White Plains, N. Y., Homemaker; Margaret Gretzinger English, New Jersey, teaching (retired); Edward O. Clark, Chevy Chase, Md., Pastor of Baptist Church; Frederick R. Greninger, Pittsburgh, Pastor of Lutheran Church; Albert J. Clark, Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., Patent Lawyer; and Thomas B. Williams, Langhorne, Engineering.

Those who attended the Alumni Dinner but were unable to attend the class meeting were: Miriam Strickler Winkelbleck, Myrna Strickler Hines, Ethel Galloway Reitz, C. Ray Speare Topham, Margaret Jacobs Bitterman, William T. (Red) Windsor, and Mabel Boyer Parks.

—REVEREND FREDERICK R. GRENINGER,
Secretary

dent and for George Street's excellent completion of it.

At Spanish House, after Alumni Luncheon, we continued the reunion more informally with many a "Do you remember—?" and news of this and that absent member. The steady down-pour which lasted all day failed to dampen anyone's spirits. It was good fun and very satisfying to meet old friends again.

To quote from a letter received from Sara Ray after reunion weekend—"I had partly forgotten how very beautiful the campus is and I love to remember it even in the rain" and "I really am sorry for those who stayed at home"—they so well express the sentiments of all there. Already we're looking forward to our 50th. Begin now to reserve the date!

—MILDRED B. CATHERS,
Acting Class Secretary

CLASS OF 1920

The meeting was called to order by Robert Bell and decision was made to elect officers. Looking forward to the 40th anniversary reunion, Dr. Lester Lighton was chosen president; Corbin W. Wyant, vice president; Mrs. Luetta Wagner Person, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Thomas J. S. Hein replaces Harold A. Stewart as class fund manager; and Hayes L. Person was re-elected class reporter.

A sum of $114 left in the class treasury was voted to be turned over to the Bucknell Endowment Fund.

An appreciated letter from T. Cortlandt Williams, Sr., recently elevated to president of the ENGINEERS

BE SURE TO BE HERE ON HOMECOMING FOR THE
MEETING OF ENGINEERS.
THERE WILL BE NEWS

Stone and Webster Corporation, was read. A list of members whose addresses have been lost was read and several leads to locate them will be investigated. A lengthy list of class members who have passed away was read and a moment of silence marked their memory.

Newly elected President Lighton was called upon to make remarks. He complimented some 30 members present and urged greater attendance at these annual reunions, especially the five year events. He urged all to recall how much each was really obligated to the University and cited some ways to secure even greater interest.

Reunion chairman "Bob" Bell urged alumni fund contributions no matter how small. He emphasized "Les" Lighton's remarks about the Class of 1920 being very prominent in all Alumni activities and often leading the field.

Just about every member present took active part in discussions and the old-time 1920 spirit was strongly in evidence. All promised Reporter "Scoop" Person 1920 class news for each issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.

So interested were the members in fitting their 1920 derbies distributed by "Doc" Speare (recently promoted to Federal Probation Officer in this area) that some overlooked signing the guest list. Those too busy renewing old friendships to sign up, please send in word of your presence.

Special appreciation was expressed by all to the Faculty host Professor Manning Smith who was a real liaison between the University and class members.

—MRS. K. LUETTA WAGNER PERSON,
Secretary-Treasurer

CLASS OF 1925

There was no doubt in anyone's mind, as an alumnus approached the campus, that the Class of 1925 was celebrating its 30th reunion. Everywhere were signs and banners which revealed the spirit of '25 had not been dimmed by age but had assumed greater proportions. With more than fifty classmates registering and donning appropriate badges, it was easy to identify our crowd. On every side were exclamations of, "There's a 30th Reunioner."

The weather could not dampen the spirit of our classmates and at the business meeting held in the Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library, many valuable suggestions were offered for the good of the Class and Bucknell. Dr. Clair Spangler, our president, led the meeting and a hearty welcome was extended to all members of the Class as well as to husbands, wives and friends. The first business was the election of officers for the ensuing years until our 35th reunion. With a great deal of reluctance, the Class allowed the present chairman to step down from his enthusiastic and efficient leadership. The following were elected: president, Francis Haskett; vice president, Phoebe Reinhart; secretary, Mary Schilling Berg; treasurer, Harold F. Roles; class fund manager, Myron F. Decker; reporter, Mildred Francisco Hopper; reunion chairman, Dr. Clair G. Spangler.

The luncheon at the Davis Gym, attended by over 1,100 Bucknellians who returned for commencement weekend, was most inspiring. To hear President Odgers outline some of the future plans was very gratifying.

At four o'clock in the afternoon we gathered in the Stephens House for a social hour with Phoebe Reinhart as hostess. It was a grand way to meet all our old friends, make new ones and discuss everything that happened during the past thirty years.

Dr. Spangler expressed his thanks to the more than forty classmates who assisted with the reunion planning. The special thanks of the Class go to Dr. Spangler, president; Edwin J. Davies, editor; John E. Namisniak, assistant editor; and Frances M. Davis, staff artist; for their work in producing the Thirtieth Reunion Book complete with pictures. Anyone desiring a copy of this interesting biographical record may send $2.00 to John H. Shott, Alumni Office for a copy.

All in all, it was a wonderful day and to those who could not be present, we can only say you missed a thrilling event of the Class of 1925. Better mark your calendar for our 35th reunion in 1960.

—MARY SCHILLING BERG,
Secretary

CLASS RE

CLASS OF 1930

The Class of 1930 had one of the finest class reunions in the history of Bucknell University. Saturday morning, June 11, started off with a class meeting conducted by George "Ollie" Wagner, chairman of the reunion, assisted by Dr. Albert Pierce, Faculty host for the Class of 1930.

The first order of business was the disposition of the Memorial Reserve Fund of $831.61 from our class. It was duly voted that the above amount be combined with the class fund being presented to the University from the Class of 1930. We were very proud at the Alumni Luncheon to hear that the Class of 1930's reunion gift to Bucknell University was $1,855.

Since it is customary at Bucknell to choose a new slate of officers every five years, the following officers were elected: George "Clie" Wagner, president; Francis "Mush" Moerschbacher, vice president; Sally Bailey Jones, treasurer; Art Shorts, class fund manager; and yours truly, Emmalyn Fuller Klosterman, secretary and class reporter.

Francis Moerschbacher worked hard and long on a very clever and interesting Silver Anniversary Book for you. There are a few left and

CLASS OF 1935

The Class of 1935 had a good turn out for its 20th reunion. Forty-one class members, plus families and friends were present at the Alumni luncheon held in the Davis Gymnasium on Saturday, June 11th. Several late-comers showed up at the class reception in the afternoon, and the Thompson brothers, Bob and Jack, had to leave early Saturday morning to attend a family wedding. Bob and his wife, the former Marge Dirlim, had flown up from Ocala, Florida for the occasion. Our class received the distinction for having the Bucknellian present who had traveled the greatest distance. Peg Weddell Peters had come all the way from Johannesburg, South Africa.

A business meeting was held Saturday morning. At this time, officers were elected, and the class picture was taken. Bill Berlin was elect-you may have one by writing to Buck Shott, Alumni Secretary, Bucknell University and enclosing $1.25.

UNIONS

Following a fine Alumni Luncheon at Davis Gym, our class met again at the Milton Country Club for a good "gab-fast" and a nice dinner party with dancing, extemporaneous "speeching," etc. It was really a "fun night" and one which will be long remembered. We had many nice letters from those who could not attend which I will report next month. The only unhappy note was the passing of Manuel "Doc" Allen in April. Our love and sympathy to Pat Reeves Allen.

Your reporter is at present fishing at Watts Bar Dam, Tennessee, with her husband, Bernie '29, and her son, Ken '55. Our clever reunion hats make the finest fishing headgear you ever saw—and the canes? From the way the boys and girls were doing the "Bucknell Hop" at the Country Club, the canes will not be needed for a long time to come.

Let me hear from you all.

—EMMALYN FULLER KLOSTERMAN,
Reporter

el president, Ann Orr Deschanel was chosen to relieve Metta Farrington Straley as class reporter, and Eddie Hartman will replace George McLaughly as class fund manager. Ann's address is Gambriel, Md. She hopes to hear from each one of you in the future. Let's make the Class of 1935 news bigger and better than ever.

At our business meeting, it was announced that the class still has about six hundred dollars in its treasury. The members voted to keep this money, and endeavor to raise additional funds for our 25th reunion. At this time, we hope to make a substantial contribution to the University. (We'll need your help).

The plans for our 25th reunion in 1960 are already under consideration. Jay Mathias has agreed to make arrangements for a class dinner party. Others have promised to help with the formulation of another reunion book. Start contacting your friends now. Five years slips around pretty fast. We want to raise the attendance to 100 next time.

Editor's Note: Several group pictures were taken, but alas the photographer has mislaid or lost the negatives. If any class member took a group picture, will you please lend it to us for publication?

The Alumni office still has some 20th reunion books available. These may be obtained by sending two dollars to John H. Shott, in care of Alumni Office. They contain information about many of our class members, and I am sure will be interesting to all.

To those who so willingly helped us with the planning of this affair, may I again say thanks.

—BETTY BERLIN

CLASS OF 1940

To those who did not attend the reunion, all we can say is "You'll be sorry!" Just check with anyone who did and you'll find out what we mean. Next to being back as a student, it was about as close to college days as you can get. Even bull sessions in the dorm, with one conversation per two people. Our Class was billeted on third floor of Larison Hall, all by itself another class wouldn't have stood a chance. And, as one male alum commented, "I never thought I'd live to see the day when I'd be rooming in Larison Hall."

At our last reunion we had about twenty attending. At the last count about noon Saturday of this Reunion Weekend there were 67 registered. It's evident that the work done by the committees under the direction of Buck Shott was considerable and it paid off. On behalf of all of us who attended and enjoyed our evening so thoroughly, our emphatic thanks, especially to be thanked are Jimmy Duchine, who practically single-handed put out, even delivered in person, and then made us a present of our Reunion Book; and Dotty Oaks McRae, who presided at the meeting (which was no mean accomplishment—things were not as parliamentary as they might have been) and then had strength enough to entertain us all in her home that afternoon.

In the class meeting Jim Duchine was elected president and Wayne Knouse vice president and class fund manager. You're stuck with me for class reporter, unless your complaints are loud enough, and then Ruth Trinkaas Weemhoff (nee "Trink") will take over. The quorum also agreed to support a drive to get each member to contribute to the Alumni fund—a dollar will do if that's all that's left over after the mortgage and car payments. The Alumni Fund is dependent on steady giving by a large per cent of contributors.

MARY McCLENA MILLER,
Reporter

CLASS OF 1945

Those of you who missed the reunion, missed a marvelous weekend in spite of a rainy Saturday! The campus has certainly grown impressively and from all reports will continue to do so. The new buildings are beautiful and the changes made in the buildings we knew is unbelievable.

The class met on Saturday morning in the Vaughan Literature Building. Nancy Patterson Moyer opened the meeting by introducing Dr. and Mrs. John W. Rice as our faculty host and hostess. The class picture was taken and hats were distributed for class identification. The Reunion Book, written by Lois Depuy Boston and Helen Wythes Naimark with the cover illustrations by Jean Williams Wieder-spahn, was distributed. Those of you who missed the reunion, can obtain your biographical history of your class members by writing to Mr. Shott at the Alumni Office and sending a dollar.

Class officers were elected as follows: president, Betsy Richers Richardson; vice president, Nancy Patterson Moyer; secretary, Bill Webster; reunion chairman, Elsie Wilson Young; fund manager, Bill Bond (please support him and our class!); and class reporter, Nancy Woebling Moore (always need news!).

After our meeting adjourned, the class attended the laying of the cornerstone of the F. W. Olin Science Building and then on to the Alumni Luncheon in the Davis Gym where we sat as a class. At three o'clock, the class met for a social hour at Hully House where Elsie Wilson Young served punch and cookies. Needless to say, the Class of '45 didn't lack conversation!

At nine o'clock most of us attended the Reunion Jamboree at the Davis Gym. Here we saw and heard what Cap and Dagger has been doing—a good job.

All in all it was a marvelous time.

—NANCY WOEBLING MOORE,
Reporter

CLASS OF 1950

The Class of 1950 had a rousing fifth reunion. Approximately thirty loyal souls attended the class meetings where our faculty host, Dr. W. Preston Warren, welcomed us on behalf of the University. Professor Souders, who received his master's degree with the Class of 1950, also expressed his best wishes.

The first piece of business of the class meeting was the election of class officers. The results were as follows: president, Fete Weidenbacher; vice president, Bill Bucher; secretary-treasurer, Bob Clancy; class fund manager, Jean McDonald Conklin; class reporter, Jane Kreider Miller; and reunion chairman for 1960, Jack Evans.

The class then took action on two resolutions, the first of which was to commend Jane Kreider Miller for her excellent job in the preparation of our reunion book of "Who's Who in the Class of '50."

The second resolution was one of commendation of our protom Master of Ceremonies, Peter

CLASS RE

Weidenbacher, in taking charge of this session upon short notice and in handling the business like a master.

Letters were read from several class members who expressed regret in not being able to be with us upon this memorable occasion.

After the meeting we adjourned to Davis Gym for a delightful luncheon. At Davis Gymnasium, we enjoyed an excellent presentation of the University's activities during the past year and a forward look to its future.

The Class of 1950 held its social gathering at the Hotel Lewisburger, where to the accompaniment of that fine accordionist, John Linetty, it was proven that we had not lost the close harmony that was always symbolic of the Class of 1950.

Those present in the opinion of your secretary showed little if any change in looks. Here and there, evidences of married life—cute photographs shown with obvious pride by new

CLASS OF 1954

Wading through the inevitable rain puddles, about forty members of the Class of 1954 met in the reading room of the Bertrand Library—a most familiar spot to all of us.

The meeting was called to order by our Class Alumni President Marty Carhart, after which he introduced our faculty host, Dean Mary Jane Stevenson. We were all honored and pleased to have her with us, although she left us briefly trying to locate our misplaced Reunion Books!

Among the lost things, such as Reunion Books and sunshine, we had a few alumni names—those of our Class who left for parts unknown. We found some of them, but the rest shall have to remain "unaddressed." The moral of this story is: to avoid the Lost List, send your address to Buck Shott when you move. Seriously, don't get lost, help us keep in touch with you.

The remaining meeting time was spent discussing our part in the alumni fund program. Being one-year-old alumni, we knew little of fathers and mothers—appeared. And news of marital intentions filled the air.

UNIONS

—BOB CLANCY,
Secretary

Baumer '50 Arrives Home

Bucknellians rejoice that among the eleven fliers recently released by the Chinese Reds was our own Major William H. Baumer. As we go to press the airmen had reached Tokyo and were preparing to fly to the West Coast. Despite his hardships, Bill is in good spirits and wired his mother, Mrs. Hurley L. Baumer, Lewisburg, "It won't be long now." Milton will be the scene of a welcoming celebration upon his arrival in the home area.

the purpose and process of giving to the fund. When we learned that the number of contributors—not the amount—helps establish the size of corporate gifts to the University we determined to boost our "number of givers" record this year and we hope each of you will help. We will have four years until our next reunion, and it was suggested that through card parties, socials, and small area get-togethers, we could keep our Bucknell memories alive. Thus, at our next reunion, the gang could be larger and the contribution greater.

Following our suggestion of social gatherings, the Class of 1954 met Saturday afternoon at the Hotel Milton. Chatter and laughter ran high; old friendships were renewed. Now we have one big wish that you will be with us in 1959.

P. S. We did find our Reunion Books! Did you get yours? If not, send a buck to Buck Shott.

DOTIE MAE MEL CARHART

SEPTEMBER 1955

CLASS OF 1955

Commencement Weekend of the class of '55 seemed like just a few short hours consummating four short but happy years at Bucknell. It naturally began with a rainy morning for our first alumni meeting in which we discussed plans for the weekend and the coming year.

Braving the rain, we attended the cornerstone laying of the new F. W. Olin Science Building for which the ground had been broken just one year previous. Walking through this handsome addition to our campus we took pride in the progress of our University.

Since the rain prevented the usual parade of classes to the All-Alumni Luncheon, we went directly to the luncheon which was attended by a capacity crowd. There we met many of our old friends and heard the latest news from all of them.

Saturday night the fraternity symposia and the Jamboree, which featured dancing and scenes from "Carousel" and "Mr. Roberts," offered plenty of lively entertainment for all.

With our parents we attended the president's reception Sunday afternoon in Hunt Hall where we were serenaded by the Bucknell Band and enjoyed socializing with the rest of our classmates.

The rain was kind to us Sunday night and allowed us to march from the Vaughan Literature Building to the Davis Gym for our Baccalaureate Service, after which the women were granted the first symbol of their graduation, permission to stay out all night.

The sun shone brightly when the great morning arrived; we marched to the Commencement exercises and received our coveted diplomas with mixed emotions, glad that the struggle was over, yet sad to leave our friends and Bucknell. The lawns became covered with photographer's subjects, but the crowd soon dispersed and everyone was homeward bound with four years of happy memories.

—PAT TINNEY.

Dear Alumni of 1955:

If the mailing address shown on the back cover of this magazine is not your preferred mailing address, will you please send the correct one now to the Alumni Office, Bucknell University, telling us your old and new address and including a few words about your present activities.

THE EDITOR

COMING EVENTS—ON AND OFF THE CAMPUS

- Aug. 29—Freshman Reception—Philadelphia, South Jersey
- Sept. 8—Freshman Reception—New York City
- Sept. 8—Freshman Reception—Harrisburg
- Sept. 8—Freshman Reception—Westchester County, N. Y.
- Sept. 9—Freshman Reception—Long Island
- Sept. 10-17—University Band Camp, Hemlock Lodge, South Sterling in the Pocono Mountains
- Sept. 11—Freshman Reception—Pittsburgh
- Sept. 11—Freshman Reception—Northern New Jersey
- Sept. 11—Lehigh Valley Picnic
- Sept. 12—Freshman Reception—Reading
- Sept. 15—Pittsburgh, Child's Restaurant—every Thursday
- Sept. 16—Alumni Meeting—Syracuse
- Sept. 17—Freshman Week Program begins
- Sept. 24 (night)—Football—Albright—Home
- Sept. 28—New York Luncheon, Hotel Shelburne—last Wednesday of every month
- Sept. 28—Annual Convocation—Dedication of the F. W. Olin Science Building

- Sept. 30—Scranton, Chamber of Commerce—last Friday of every month
- Sept. 30—Dinner honoring Emeriti Faculty
- Oct. 1 (night)—Football—Gettysburg—Hershey Stadium
- Oct. 8—Football—Lehigh—Bethlehem
- Oct. 14—Alumni Meeting—Northern New Jersey
- Oct. 14—Artist Course, Alee Templeton—campus
- Oct. 15—Dad's Day—Football—Temple—Dedication of the James S. Swartz Hall, the new dormitory and dining hall for men
- Oct. 20—Penna. Baptist Convention, New Castle
- Oct. 21—South Jersey Square Dance
- Oct. 22—Football—Lafayette—Easton
- Oct. 26—New York Luncheon, Hotel Shelburne—last Wednesday of every month
- Oct. 26-28—Religion in Life Program
- Oct. 28—Alumni Meeting—Providence, R. I.
- Oct. 28-29—Cap and Dagger Play, "Murder in the Cathedral"
- Oct. 29—Football—Harvard—Cambridge, Mass. Bison Round Up after game at University Club of Boston

Second Century Highlights

(Continued from Page 3)

The F. W. Olin Science Building to Be Dedicated

Officials of the Olin Foundation and a number of outstanding educators in the field of science will visit the Bucknell campus for the dedication of the F. W. Olin Science Building.

At the Annual Convocation on Wednesday, September 28, Dr. Charles L. Horn, of Minneapolis, president of the Olin Foundation; Dr. James O. Wynn, of New York, its vice president and counsel; and other Foundation officials will be here to transfer to the University in appropriate ceremonies the completed structure provided by a gift of over $900,000 by the Olin Foundation to house the departments of chemistry, physics, and mathematics.

Dr. John C. Warner, president of Carnegie Institute of Technology and president also of the American Chemical Society, will make the principal address of dedication. Guests at the Convocation will include also representatives from both industrial and educational institutions, and the University will honor the following outstanding teachers from six of the nation's leading universities: Dr. John C. Warner, president, Carnegie Institute of Technology; Dr. Ray Daggs, of the Bucknell Class of 1926, director of research, medical department field research laboratory, Fort Knox; Dr. Raymond L. Wilder, research professor of mathematics, University of Michigan; Dr. Harold K. Schilling, dean of the graduate school, Pennsylvania State University; Dr. Robert T. Woodward, professor of chemistry, Harvard University; and Dr. Leonard W. Labaree, professor of history, Yale University and editor-in-chief of the Benjamin Franklin Papers.

Dad's Day—Dormitory Dedication

A feature of Dad's Day, Saturday, October 15, will be the dedication of the James S. Swartz Hall, the University's new dormitory and dining hall for men. The 230-man living unit will be named for Dr. James S. Swartz, long-time Trustee Board Chairman. Through the gift of land in Virginia to Bucknell, he became the donor of over a million dollars in endowment funds.

The 17th Annual Dad's Day will also include all the traditional characteristics of past celebrations. First of all, Mothers are cordially invited to make the occasion a Bucknell Family affair. The football game with Temple for possession of the Old Shoe will get top billing in the afternoon program. Luncheon, the annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Fathers' Association, Glee Club Concert and Entertainment, inspection of campus facilities will be included in a program that will keep parents and students on the move from morn till night.

For the parents of Bucknell freshmen this will be the first opportunity to see the campus in its full Fall glory. The University and her student body are looking forward to welcoming over a thousand parents to the campus on October 14, 15 and 16, 1955.

ALUMNI REUNIONS

(Continued from Page 4)

Another feature of the luncheon was the address by President Merle M. Odgers in which he expressed his pride in the accomplishments of the University and his confidence in its future. In addition to the F. W. Olin Science Building, he noted improvements to Bucknell's physical plant, and the new James S. Swartz Dormitory and dining hall for freshmen both of which will be completed and open for use in September. Appreciation for the contributions of more than $30,000 from Alumni through the Bucknell Alumni Fund was expressed by President Odgers who stated that the University would once again complete its fiscal year without a deficit. Gifts, grants, and subscriptions to Bucknell during the past calendar year were higher than ever and totaled more than $1,500,000. Two members of the faculty given special tribute by Dr. Odgers were Dr. Frank G. Davis '11, M.A. '17 and Dr. Norman H. Stewart who are retiring after many years of service to the University. Tribute was paid to Dr. Dayton L. Ranck '16, M.A. '34, Doctor of Laws '51, who has retired as Treasurer but who will continue to serve the University as vice president and director of development.

Trustees Named

Three of the four trustees elected to the Board of the University were Bucknell Alumni. Rowland H. Coleman '29, Fairfield, Conn., was among those named. He is the son of Dr. William H. Coleman, vice president and dean of Bucknell and Mrs. Coleman. Presently he is vice president and assistant general manager of the Remington Arms Company, Inc. Hugo Riemer, Esq. '29, Summit, New Jersey was elected to the board. He is the president of the Nitrogen Division of the Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation. Charles E. Wilson, New York, also was named a trustee. He is the chairman of the board of the W. R. Grace Company. Formerly he was president of the General Electric Company.

Alumni Trustee on the Board of Trustees is Franklin D. Jones '19, D.Sc. '46, who was chosen for this position by nation-wide Alumni balloting. Dr. Jones, Ardmore, is consulting chemist on the staff of General Industries, Inc. He has been an active member of the Alumni Association, past treasurer of the Philadelphia Alumni Association and serves as president of the Class of 1919.

At the June 11 meeting of the Bucknell University Board of Trustees, announcement was made that two trustees will donate a swimming pool to be constructed as a unit to the Davis Gymnasium. Robert L. Rooke '13, Doctor of Laws '51, Newark, N. J., and Alfred G. Freas, Tenafly, N. J., are the trustees who are providing the funds.

The new freshman dormitory for men will be named to honor the late Dr. John S. Swartz. Dr. Swartz, a prominent Philadelphian who died in 1931, had been a member of the Bucknell Board of Trustees for 47 years and the chairman for 14 years. Proceeds from his gifts of real estate to the University have totaled over a million dollars.

Association Officers Elected

At the business meeting of The General Alumni Association held on Saturday morning, William S. Liming '33 was elected president to serve until June 1956. Wilmer P. Greulich '34 and Mrs. John A. Rhodes (Helen Bodine '20) were named first vice president and second vice president respectively. Donald B. Young '33, the new treasurer of the University, became treasurer of

The General Alumni Association under the By-Law provisions of the Association.

Five members of the Board of Directors of The General Alumni Association were elected by the 96 delegates from the 33 Alumni Clubs represented at the Annual Assembly as follows: Dr. Merrill B. DeWire '21, Reading; William J. Irvin '22, Trenton, N. J.; William S. Liming '33, East Williston, N. Y.; C. Martin Neff '42, Red Lion and Mrs. John A. Rhodes (Helen E. Bodine '20), Pittsburgh.

The Assembly also approved a complete revision of the By-Laws to bring that document up-to-date. Chief change in the By-Laws provides for the election of three directors annually to serve for five-year terms instead of the election of five directors annually for three-year terms, as at present provided. Alumni officers have been provided with a copy of the revised Constitution and By-Laws. Additional copies are available to any Alumnus upon request to Alumni Headquarters.

Bison Club Shifts Goal

The Bison Club breakfast meeting was another feature of the Saturday morning events. More than 75 members met at the Lewisburg Club. Jay P. Mathias '35, president of the club, announced a new policy for the disbursement of Bison Club funds. Pointing out that contributions now made to the Bison Club have been used to reimburse the University in part for tuition scholarships, he reported that the Board of Trustees will henceforth permit the Bison Club to accumulate contributions to be used for general athletic aid. The immediate goal of the Bison Club will be to assume responsibility of providing board jobs for entering freshmen on athletic teams. It was explained that the contributions of the Bison Club will, as in the past, be paid to the University and will be administered as a regular item of the department of athletics and physical education budget. It was pointed out further that Bison Club fund raising will not interfere with the Bucknell Alumni Fund Program, and it is hoped that Alumni will consider the Alumni Annual-Giving Fund as a first obligation.

Re-elected president for a two-year term was Jay P. Mathias '35. Thomas Speck '37 was elected first vice president; Joseph D. Dent '20, second vice president; Frank Wilsbach '28, third vice president; John H. Shott '22, secretary; and Warren S. Reed '20, treasurer. The executive committee was named and includes Rush H. Kress '00, John J. Conway '16, William J. Busser, Dr. Edward W. Pangburn '15, Harry Dayhoff '23, and Dr. David W. Morgan '24. Representatives to the Athletic Advisory Committee are Arthur Yon '17, Anthony Wilsbach '26, and T. J. Mangan '21. Albert E. Humphreys, director of athletics, reviewed sports events through recent years, and the coaches reported results of spring sports and prospects for the coming year.

Welcome Senior Class of 1956. Beginning with this issue you will receive at your campus addresses each issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS. This service is extended to you by the General Alumni Association in order to acquaint you with the Alumni program and activities.

Bison Roundup in the Gym After the Homecoming Game
November 5

AMONG THE CLUBS

CHICAGO—Our annual dinner meeting was held at Ireland's Oyster House on May 5th, with thirty-five Bucknellians and guests in attendance. After an enjoyable get-acquainted period and dinner, we had a short business meeting followed by the showing of colored slides of the campus.

Our principal business consisted of the selection of new officers for a two-year period. The slate, unanimously approved follows: co-presidents, Luther ('31) and Catherine Reese ('33) Carlisle, 607 South Spring St., LaGrange, Illinois; and co-secretaries, Charles ('48) and Joan Sievers ('51) Hott, 1594 177th Place, Hammond, Indiana.

LOIS MILLER FULLERTON '47, Secretary

CLEVELAND—Sixteen members of the Cleveland Bucknell Alumni Club gathered at the Lake Shore Hotel, Lakewood, Ohio, on April 16, for a dinner meeting.

The President Tom Quigley '47, appointed Gordon P. Bechtel '22 and W. H. Dauberman '38 to serve with him as a committee of three to select officer candidates. It was the consensus of the Club that a ballot should be taken by mail to determine the new Club officers after the committee had agreed upon a slate of candidates.

The President appointed Walter Pfeifer '50 as a Club Delegate to the Annual Alumni Assembly on June 11, 1955.

Mr. Quigley then introduced the speaker of the evening, Dean Malcolm E. Musser '18, who gave a delightfully interesting and informative report on campus activities.

THOMAS J. QUIGLEY '47, Acting Secretary

HARRISBURG—Thirty-five Bucknellians and guests attended the monthly dinner meeting of the Alumni Association of Harrisburg on Thursday, April 14, 1955 at the Y. W. C. A. President Miller '52 opened the meeting by asking Mr. Williams to give the invocation.

Bruce Butt gave his informative report on the activities of Bucknell Alumni.

Mr. Butt '16 introduced our speaker for the evening, Mr. Forrest D. Garrettson, who had just returned from an engineering tour of Saudi Arabia. Mr. Garrettson presented for us, with the aid of slides, some of his own observations on Saudi Arabia. A discussion period followed Mr. Garrettson's lecture.

NORMA GOTWALT '52, Secretary

LONG ISLAND—The Bucknell Club of Long Island held a picnic at Sunken Meadow State Park on June 4th. Despite the threatening weather those who attended had lots of fun. All the children won prizes during the game period. Sports for adults included softball, horseshoe pitching, sack and potato races. Nelson Wendt '34, our prexy, was ably assisted by Walt ('39) and Helen Peachey ('40) Rohrs and Clint ('43) and Marcia Herrgesell ('43) Hegeman.

RUTH ROHR LIMING '34

METROPOLITAN NEW YORK—The July luncheon of the Metropolitan New York Alumni Club entertained two distinguished and unexpected guests—one an alumnus and the other a new member of the Bucknell campus family.

T. Cortlandt Williams '20, newly elected president of the Stone and Webster Engineering Corporation, was in town and dropped in, and Admiral Ernest M. Eller, new director of engineering at Bucknell was also present.

Both were heartily welcomed by the Alumni in attendance at the monthly luncheon.

Bucknellians are always welcome at the New York monthly luncheons—drop in at the Shelburne, 37th and Lexington, the last Wednesday of each month.

MICHIGAN-TOLEDO—The evening of June 21 proved the old Bucknell spirit is alive in Michigan. Alumni from a fifty-mile area responded with forty-six strong at Redford Inn, Detroit.

A social hour preceded the program which was highlighted by the presence of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Shott. His address and a showing of colored slides revived fond memories of campus events and never to be forgotten friendships. In attendance was a special guest of honor, Professor Frank Simpson '95, who was visiting with his daughter and son-in-law, the Cole S. Brembecks '41.

George Johnson, retiring President, installed the following officers for a two-year period: Bruce Scott '51, president; Charles Vogel '37, vice president; John Kingsbury '41, treasurer.

Plans were made for a fall meeting at the Arthur Brandons in Ann Arbor. Plan to attend and enjoy the Michigan-Northwestern football game with us October 15.

J. M. KINGSBURY '41,
Secretary-Treasurer

NORTHERN NEW JERSEY—Fifty-eight loyal members of the Bucknell Alumni Association of Northern New Jersey proved they aren't superstitious about Friday the 13th and attended the spring meeting on the 13th of May at the Friar Tuck Inn in Cedar Grove. The only item of business conducted during the dinner meeting was the election of officers for the coming year. Those elected were: J. Dudley Waldner '46, Montclair, president; Charles T. Farrow '26, Westfield, vice president; Peter D. Weidenbacher '50, Plainfield, treasurer; and Joan Jacobson '52, Cranford, secretary.

Wayne E. Knouse '40, retiring president, served as toastmaster. Principal speaker was Dr. Bruce J. Miller '27, who is Assistant Manager of Research for Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation. A member of the Board of Directors of the General Alumni Association and a former Bucknell professor, Dr. Miller spoke on the subject, "Is Your Child Going to College?" For background on this very interesting talk he drew on the results of an investigation made by the Rockefeller Foundation. A question and answer period followed his address, and Dr. Miller was called upon to answer numerous questions from the audience.

John C. Bank, Cameron A. Butt, and Weaver W. Pangburn, all members of the Class of 1910, were seated at the head table and each was called upon to say a few words to fellow Bucknellians.

JEAN NEWSOM WALDNER '46, Secretary

PHILADELPHIA—The Executive Committee of the Philadelphia Bucknell Alumni Association spent a delightful Sunday afternoon, July 17, at Sycamore Farm, the home of Lee ('35) and Edith Griesinger ('37) Rohde. We planned our Freshman Splash Party to be held Monday, August 29, at the Eastern Baptist Seminary, discussed the annual dinner to be held at Kuglers, Friday, February 3, 1956; and cooled off with a swim in the Rohde's pool. Then we all enjoyed a delicious supper; special treats were: tomaatoes from Jim ('11) and Louise Tyson's farm, Betty Greulich's famous chocolate cake and Virginia Heysham's baked beans, with various salads and other goodies. It was a delightful afternoon of Bucknell fellowship.

ALICE ROBERTS '24, Secretary

PROVIDENCE—True to Rhode Island's nautical tradition the Providence Alumni Club highlighted its annual picnic on June 18 with cruises on Narragansett Bay aboard John Wilbur's '48, beautiful cabin cruiser. The twenty members who attended picnicked at Goddard Park after the boat rides.

We were happy to see several new faces at this outing, namely—Sue Cady '55, Jim Laughlin '39 and Milton Potter '30.

The year's schedule was discussed and it was decided to have a dinner sometime before the Harvard game in the fall; our traditional birthday party in February; and another family picnic sometime in June.

JUNE STOTT MATTHEWS '47, Secretary

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNI CLUB OF SOUTH JERSEY

Will Hold a

SQUARE AND BALLROOM DANCE

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1955

At 8:30 P. M.

THE BARN OF SILVER LAKE INN

White Horse Pike, New Jersey

ROCKY MOUNTAINS—Colorado Bucknellians met informally at the home of President John B. Rishel '15, on May 19.

Greetings were read from Rita Clemens Staley '46 of Murray, Utah; Karl K. Hullely '18 of Boulder, Colorado; and Bright T. Greiner '22 of New Mexico. Previous commitments and the distance involved prevented their attendance. Distances between localities are far in the Rocky Mountain states, and although Rita is living in the neighboring western state, her home is about 500 miles from Denver.

The club decided to hold semi-annual meetings; a dinner meeting in the winter, and a family outing in the summer.

John Rishel flew east in June to attend his fortieth class reunion and as many Alumni activities as his schedule allowed. He also visited at his former home in Williamsport, Pa. John was the bearer of many messages from Bucknellians in this area to their campus friends.

Hostesses for the evening were Marguerite Rishel and Ruth Graham Russell '38.

ETHEL HUTCHINS LOBEL '34, Secretary

SHARON—A meeting was held by the Sharon (Pa.) Alumni Club on June 3, at the Shenango Inn, Sharon. Sixteen Alumni members and seven guests attended and everyone agreed that our first attempt at organization was successful.

The nominating committee, headed by Frank E. Baker '25, selected a slate of offi-

(Continued on Page 27)

FACULTY AND STAFF APPOINTMENTS AND PROMOTIONS

Rear Admiral Ernest M. Eller, U. S. N., (retired) has been recently appointed Director of Engineering at Bucknell University. Admiral Eller who retired from the United States Navy after 33 years of service, will coordinate the work of the four engineering departments. A native of North Carolina, Admiral Eller is 52 years old, married, and the father of two sons. His last assignment prior to his physical retirement in 1954 was in the office of the Chief of Naval Operations. Admiral Eller graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1925, and obtained a Master of Arts degree from George Washington University while teaching at the Naval Academy. His education includes attendance at technical schools in the Navy and the National War College. During his naval career his sea duty included submarines; head of the Training

ADMIRAL ERNEST M. ELLER
Director of Engineering, Bucknell University

School, USS Utah; naval observer in the British Fleet; gunnery officer, USS Savotoga; command of USS Albany; and service on the staff of Admiral Nimitz. He had teaching assignments at the Naval Academy, was in charge of public information for the Navy for two years, and was on the staff of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. In 1950 he became commander of our Middle East Force. His final tour of duty was with the Navy's Division of International Affairs, which studies every policy of the Navy in light of international politics.

A newly created post, Dean of Student Affairs, will be filled by John C. Hayward who has been director of admissions and student relations at Girard College. Mr. Hayward who received his master's degree from Boston University and has completed work on his doctorate in psychology and BALTIMORE—Baltimore Bucknellians held their Spring meeting on May 25 at the Roof Top Restaurant, Northwood with Mr. Benjamin Herman of the North Point Junior High School as the featured speaker.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Mrs. George Mussina (Anna Weigold '32), president; Thomas R. Reed '53, vice president; Mrs. Charles W. Thomas (Doris M. Wilde '49), secretary-treasurer; and Allan H. Jodrey '52 and Deleth Mellinger '17, trustees.

DORIS WILDE THOMAS '49, Secretary

JOHN C. HAYWARD

education at Boston University, Pennsylvania State University and Temple University, will seek to coordinate the various counselling and guidance activities and to provide improved coordination of student affairs including social life, fraternities, sororities, student government and other student activities.

Promotions

On July 1, John F. Zeller III '41 began service as Assistant to the President in charge of business affairs and Dr. Dayton L. Ranck '16, who retired as Treasurer and Vice President in charge of administration, became Vice President and Director of Development. (See THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS, May, 1955, page 8).

Fitz R. Walling '46 has been named Assistant Director of Admissions and Assistant Registrar. Mr. Walling, who has for the past two and a half years served as an admissions counselor, will serve in his new post as an assistant to George R. Faint '25, Registrar and Director of Admissions.

President Merle M. Odgers announced that eleven members of the University faculty have been promoted. Associate professors promoted to the rank of professor were: Dr. Russell A. Headley, economics; Dr. Kenneth W. Hooker, English; Dr. Mildred A. Martin, English; Dr. Wendell I. Smith '46, MA'48, psychology; Paul J. Brand, geography and geology; Harold A. Shaffer '13, '14, MS'24, engineering drawing; and William D. McRae, music.

Teachers promoted from assistant to associate professors are Dr. Cyrus H. Karraker, history, and Dr. Mark C. Ebersole, religion. Dr. Ebersole has been given the additional title University Chaplain and will continue to supervise the weekly chapel services. Promoted from the rank of instructor to that of assistant professor were Howard N. Boyajian, music and Dr. Mildred B. Munday, English.

Retirements

Announcement was made that Dayton L. Ranck '16, MA'34, Honorary Doctor of Laws '51, has retired from the post of vice president and treasurer and will take a new post of vice president and director of development. Dr. Frank G. Davis '11, MA'17 and Dr. Norman H. Stewart have retired after many years of service to the University. (See page 23).

Dr. Koo to Join Faculty

Dr. T. Z. Koo, noted Chinese teacher and philosopher, will join the faculty of Bucknell University for the next academic year as visiting professor of Oriental studies.

Dr. Koo, now professor of Oriental studies at the State University of Iowa, has visited Bucknell several times to speak at international conferences and made a deep impression upon those who heard him. A former secretary of the World's Student Christian Association, with headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland, he has spoken to college students in many lands and has been a leading figure at several important world gatherings.

Born and reared in China, Dr. Koo is a graduate of St. John's University in Shanghai.

Seven new instructors have been named to the University faculty. Roger J. Claus, a graduate of the University of Toledo and Michigan State College, will assume the post of associate professor of civil engineering vacated by Harmer Weeden, who has taken a similar position at the Pennsylvania State University.

To take the position of assistant professor are William A. Beck, mathematics, and Alexander G. Blair MS'51, economics. An instructor at Lafayette College since 1951, Mr. Blair attended Lycoming College and Bucknell University. Dr. Beck, a graduate of Case Institute of Technology, has been a graduate research assistant at Purdue University where he earned his master's and doctor's degrees.

John Dwight Corder will become assistant professor of electrical engineering. After earning his degree of Bachelor of Science in electrical engineering at the University of Wisconsin, Mr. Corder became a technical writer and administrative engineer for Century Geophysical Corporation. He has also served as a test engineer with the Public Service Company of Oklahoma and as instructor in applied science in the University of South Dakota.

New instructors in the English Department are Dr. Marion J. Bonn '34 MA'44, who received her doctorate from Pennsylvania State University in June, 1955, and James R. Carens who is a graduate of Harvard and did graduate work at Yale and Columbia. Instructors in mathematics are Stanley F. Dice who received his master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh and has been a member of the faculty of the University of Detroit for the past three years, and Chester B. Sensenig who is completing his studies for a doctorate at New York University.

Summer Study

Three members of the biology staff received summer grants for doing research. Dr. Roger Bowman was awarded $700 for study on the campus during the summer by the Lalor Foundation. The National Science Foundation granted Dr. Hulda Magalhaes $250 for study at the Institute of Biology at the University of Wyoming. Dr. Roy Tasker received a similar award from the National Science Foundation for study at the Institute for College Teachers of Biology at Lake Itasca Forestry and Biological Station at the University of Minnesota.

CLASS REPORTS

Class news of the Emeritus Club and the reunion classes of 1905, 1910, 1915, 1920, 1925, 1930, 1935, 1940, 1945, 1950, 1954 and 1955 will be found on pages 8 to 13 inclusive.

Emeritus Club

"PRESENT WORTH" is the title of a poem from the pen of Dr. John I. Woodruff '90, beloved and revered educator.

Way back in teen-hood arithmetic
We did a task named "present worth."
"What can this mean to me," I thought,
"When other folks possess the earth?"

I tugged and wriggled at the thongs
That held my cribbed, aspiring mind.
I longed and longed, mid daily toil,
To cast my lot with adult kind.

The worth then present I failed to see:
The rising sun, the brimming morn,
The distant thundering cataract,
The hunter with his elfin horn.

I pity now what I was then:
I pitied then what I am now.
But all in all life still is good
To him that keeps his holiest vow.

Mrs. George R. Bigler (Harriet Walter '93) died in Richmond, Va., March 19. She is survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Lemuel Holt Vaughan, and two grandchildren.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Moorhead '96, retired librarian and teacher at the University of Utah and former resident of Mt. Carmel died at the age of 77 last November.

MRS. ALONZO MARTIN

The latest adventure for Mrs. Alonzo Martin (Oriana Williams I '93) was teaching in one of the isolated regions of Hell's Canyon. On a shelf of the canyon about 2000 feet above the Snake River is a lush meadow called Wildhorse. During the winter the people are practically shut off from the rest of the world.

The Emery family was the last to remain in the meadow. They have four boys. In 1951, after Mrs. Emery's death, Mr. Emery hired Oriana to come and live in their home and teach his boys. In 1952 she was unable to return, but in 1953 she again resumed her duties of teaching the boys. In the evenings she mended the boys' socks and shirts while she supervised the two older boys who were taking High School courses. The most interesting projects were the school programs on Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter and the last day of school. The program consisted of songs and poems all composed by the teacher. Oriana has now retired. She has four small volumes of her poems, all out of print, all beginning to be treasured by those who have them as "collector's items."

The Emeritus Club will be saddened to learn of the death of Reverend John William Neyman '99 in Iowa during the past winter.

01 Mr. J. C. HIGGINS
106 S. Fourth St.
Lewisburg, Pa.

Harvey Silverwood Bogar succumbed at his home in Harrisburg on June 21 at the age of seventy-five. Mr. Bogar was president of the J. D. Bogar & Son Lumber Co., Steelton.

He was a charter member of the Bison Club and maintained keen interest in his Alma Mater.

Mr. Bogar is survived by his wife, the former Jessie Hoffman, and two children: a son Robert Bogar '31, and a daughter Rachel Elizabeth.

The Bucknell family and his classmates will remember him always for his deep loyalty to his University.

Dr. Mabel Grier Leshner served as a lecturer and consultant at the sessions included in the guidance conference during the summer session.

Last spring, Dr. Leshner was honored with a medal award from the medical school of Johns Hopkins University to commemorate her 50th anniversary of graduation.

03 MRS. HARRY C. HERPEL
1250 Park Avenue
McKeesport, Pa.

Col. A. F. Dershimer spent the past winter in Mobile, Ala.

Emily R. Ebling, with 3 friends, sailed from England, Aug. 6, after a five-month tour of France, Southern Spain, Italy as far south as Florence, the Italian Lakes, Switzerland, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Norway and finally London and rural England. We shall be awaiting more news of this most interesting tour.

Classmates will regret to learn of the death, on June 18, of Reese H. Harris. Admiration for the brilliance of his mind and his fine character will always be held for the youngest member of 1903, by his classmates. (See page 24).

On September 29, 1954, members and guests of the Greensburg Baptist Church gathered for a surprise program and reception celebrating Rev. Roger H. Williams' 50 years in the ministry.

Rev. Williams was ordained to the Baptist ministry on September 28, 1904, at Susquehanna, where his father was pastor.

Rev. Williams is married to the former Nelle Hower I'98, of Lewisburg. They have 2 daughters, a son, 8 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren.

06 MR. WILLIAM L. DONEHOWER
22 N. Fifth Street
Lewisburg, Pa.

Reverend Homer D. Pease was honorably retired by the Presbyterian Church on September 1, 1954. He is actively serving two Methodist churches in Oswego County, N. Y., and does considerable driving in his parish work.

Mary M. Moll after teaching in the Milton, Pa. High School from 1925 to 1939 retired from the teaching profession and is now residing at 144 Broadway, Milton.

07 DR. LEO L. ROCKWELL
Colgate University
Hamilton, N. Y.

The New York Times recently announced the retirement of Marc L. Baldwin for thirty-three years head of the department of Latin at the Riverdale Country School for Boys.

Mr. Baldwin entered Bucknell from what was then Broadus Institute, to become a member of the Class of 1911. An omnivorous reader, he became one of the most brilliant students ever to be at Bucknell. Specializing in classics and modern languages, he followed graduation by study at various universities and travel abroad. After teaching for some time at Mercersburg Academy, he returned to his Alma Mater as instructor in modern languages in 1914, and remained until 1918. After a short time at the Hill School, he accepted a position at Riverdale, where he has since been active as one of the most highly respected masters.

His wife, the former Cecil Childs '12, has also taught at the Riverdale school. The two are among the graduates of whom Bucknell may well be proud.

I was grieved to hear of the death of George W. Hawk, M.D., of Sayre on June 9, after an illness of several weeks. His age was sixty-nine.

He was the chief surgeon of the Lehigh Valley Railroad and the president-elect of the Medical Society of Pennsylvania. He had been a pioneer in the field of cancer research. Ironically enough, the disease he devoted a lifetime to combat took his own life at the apex of his career. Before his death Dr. Hawk was the associate and assistant of Dr. Donald Guthrie at the Guthrie Clinic and Robert Packer Hospital, Sayre. He served the hospital since 1911.

Survivors include his widow and a son, Dr. William Hawk, Cleveland, Ohio, and two sisters, Miss Charlotte Hawk '08 and Mrs. Robert Phillips, both of Tower City.

We of the Bucknell family will indeed miss him for he was not only dedicated to Hippocrates, but also to Bucknell University.

09 MRS. HOWARD HEADLAND
3911 First Avenue, North
St. Petersburg 6, Fla.

Our deepest sympathy to the family of Frank Herman Fritz, who passed away on June 9 at his home in Chester, at the age of seventy-three.

Professor Fritz was the retired superintendent of the Chester schools and for some time was dean of boys at the Pennington School in New Jersey. He was later appointed superintendent of the Pottstown school district. He was well known as an educator and administrator in the East and was a Chester civic and political leader.

He is survived by his wife, Marjorie Ladd Fritz; two sons, F. Herman, Jr., Akron, Ohio, and Charles Ladd Fritz, Springfield, and three grandchildren.

At the annual dinner-meeting of the Y. M. C. A. in Williamsport, Pa. Guy W. Payne '09 was presented a plaque for outstanding interest in furthering the world service program.

Ida Sames Yeager and her husband moved into their new home in July. Felicitations to you, Ida and Robert, from all of us 1909ers. By all of us these things are wished for you two: "Work for your hands, a straight path for your feet, sunshine on your window pane in the morning, a song in your treetops at sunset, soft rains for your garden, a coin for your purse, the hand of a friend on your latchstring, love at your hearthstone, and God in your heart." Ida's new address is 1830 Ardin Drive, Norristown, Pennsylvania.

Mabel Slout (Mrs. Harry M. Weeter), who lives in Louisville, Ky., is in Europe this Summer. The report is she will be home in November. Happy goings, Mabel, and send us a story of your trip, please.

Robert C. Woodward died on April 20, at his home in Milwaukee, Wis. He was in critical condition for a week prior to his death.

12 MRS. H. W. HOUSEKNECHT
108 W. Penn Street
Muncy, Pa.

Attended the buffet supper, Friday, June 10, at the University Cafeteria. All fund managers, class reporters and class presidents were guests. Had a nice chat with Mildred Cathers '10, Ethel Watkins '10, Mrs. Palmer Way (Sara Ray '10), Katherine Bailey Hoffman '10 and Paul Abraham '10—all back for their 45th reunion. Mrs. William English (Margaret Gretzinger '15) was there, too, celebrating her 40th.

I told you in my last report that I was acquiring a new daughter. My son Bill and Elizabeth Dahl, Camp Hill, were married June 25, in the Pine Street Presbyterian Church. A very beautiful wedding! I can vouch for it because I had no say in the affair only to hand over the groom. My orders from Bill were that it would give me a chance to get a new dress, hat and corset. I managed to get all three, so together with a corsage completed my ensemble. Pop had a new suit, also a boutonniere. Then we proudly strutted down the aisle.

Had a card from Alberta Bronson Conner and Patty Conner. They were visiting a son and daughter in Houston. On their way down they visited Jennie Fox Lea '11 in Knoxville.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas Montgomery, Swarthmore, announce the birth of a daughter, Leslie. Mrs. Montgomery is the former Janice Iglar, Fred's daughter.

Sue Weddell received the degree of Doctor of Humanities at Commencement. We're proud of Sue and glad that she belongs to us. The rest of us girls will have to display our honorary achievements by belonging to the diaper brigade, the burp club, baby sitters and adding charms to our grandmother's bracelets.

Pop had too much wedding festivities—he has the "gout." The Doctor said he must diet, so I'm slimming him down. The payoff, as misery loves company, he informed me I was much too heavy, and it wouldn't hurt me to go on the same diet. Some nerve; after 36 years to talk about my bulges. Anyway, fellows watch your waist lines, the gout is very painful and Pop's disposition is beyond repair.

In looking over this report, I haven't done much but toot my own horn—but as we go to press, I'll give you another toot to announce a new grandson, David Steck, just 2 weeks old.

Stanley P. Davies, general director of the Community Service Society, has described its new project, a three year study of what constitutes a good old age, as "the most thorough going study of its kind yet undertaken of problems with growing old."

13 MR. CHARLES L. SANDERS
76 Walnut Street
Millinburg, Pa.

The testimonial for Rev. Richard Bowling in Norfolk, Va., following his retirement was a noteworthy occasion. A quotation about the event follows: "The crowd comfortably filled both the upper and lower auditoriums. Parking lots and streets for blocks around were crowded. Telegrams and letters were publicly acknowledged from fellow classmates at Bucknell University and from fellow ministers and public workers all over the eastern seaboard. An offering of $1,400 was presented to the honoree. The Dorcas Class presented a large portrait photograph of the Pastor Emeritus to be hung in the church office. An engraved citation of achievement was presented by Deacon Lee on behalf of Dr. E. Paul Simms, the present Pastor, and the officers of the church."

Dr. Perry A. Caris has been serving as temporary chairman of the Department of Mathematics at the University of Pennsylvania.

After fourteen years as pastor of the First Baptist Church, Clarion, Pa., Rev. George F. Haines accepted a call to the Waring Baptist Church, Rochester, N. Y., in May, 1954. George's address now is 1937 Norton St., Rochester 9, N. Y. More on this in the next issue.

Clay S. Sanders retired in July from his position as chairman of the Department of Languages in Shamokin High School, ending forty-three years in the teaching profession. Before entering college he spent one year in a rural school. Following graduation, for three years he taught languages in the Miami Military Inst., Germantown, Ohio, and for thirty-nine years in Shamokin. For the present he will continue residence in Shamokin.

Congratulations from all classmates to Harold Shaffer on his promotion to a full professorship of Engineering Drawing, an announcement at Commencement time!

Henry G. Weston Smith was the first member of Lambda Chi Alpha on campus. He wrote the history and application and then went to Philadelphia where he was sworn in and brought back to Bucknell the document authorizing the new chapter. Rev. Smith was given an honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from Bucknell in 1937.

A. Miles (Pete) Stetler retired from his position in Buffalo with The Aluminum Co. of America and now resides at Berkeley Forest, Weems, Va. Rumor has it that he and a boat are close companions down by the Chesapeake.

Bright Beck, with Mrs. Beck; Marwood Glover, with Mrs. Glover; Orwill (Red) Hawkins, with Mrs. Hawkins; Jim McClure, with Mrs. McClure; Ethel Hottenstein Miles, Berkeley Hastings, Bob Rooke, Harold Shaffer, and Charlie Sanders reported in for this year's get-together at the cafeteria, the luncheon, and the McClure porch. Our Prexy, Howard (Sal) Fisher, missed this year's happiness because of hospitalization just prior to Commencement time. His illness report—favorable progress.

New addresses: Ethel Hottenstein Miles, 540 E. Broadway, Milton, Pa.; Jane Irey Rees, 1927 S. W. 25th St., Miami, Florida; Hannah Bertin White (Mrs. R. J.), Inverness Road, Montoursville, Pa.

14 MRS. H. B. WEAVER
348 Ridge Avenue
New Kensington, Pa.

Our thanks is due to Edna Whittam Glover for asking Sammy Markowitz to recount for us the highlights of an interesting trip that he and Mrs. Markowitz made last summer. His letter follows:

"I went to Mexico in 1954 under the auspices of the Jewish Statistical Bureau in connection with the 300th Anniversary of the arrival of Jews in America.

"There is in Mexico City a Synagogue whose members are what is known as Indian Jews—and they look it. They are tall, copper-colored, with high cheek bones, and generally what we regard as American Indian in appearance.

"The largest community is composed of Arab Jews who came to Mexico from Damascus in 1904-1906. Greek and Turkish Jews arrived soon after World War I and are now the most cultured of all. German, Polish and Russian Jews are there as a result of the Hitler episode.

"Contrary to previous impressions, Mexico is a land of great fertility. In spite of the mountainous terrain, crops are grown everywhere. And in the tropical areas of the South and Southwest, the lush vegetation is strikingly impressive.

"Mexico City is modern, beautiful, and unforgettable. Its Palace of fine arts is superior to anything in Philadelphia or Chicago. Its Reforma Boulevard is more impressive than the Champs Elysees in Paris.

"We went to a bull fight; and once is enough. The same can be said of the jai alai games. Mexican baseball is patterned after ours; even the slang terms are copied.

"The church still occupies a prominent place in the affections of the masses. Legally, religion is state controlled. The government owns all church property and permission to build a new Synagogue or church is required. Actually, there is not the slightest interference with religious practice of any kind. And many are the church festivals and feast days; and attractively are both people and church adorned on such occasions.

"The first visit is always an introduction. We hope to return and spend much more time there."

The Benjamin Franklin High School in upper Manhattan bestowed the Franklin Medal for Intercultural Education on Dr. Rachel Davis-DuBois. The award was made at the June Commencement exercises.

Dr. Davis-DuBois has contributed more than twenty years of service to the field of human relations. She has been a pioneer in Intercultural Education throughout the world.

17 MRS. ERLE M. TOPHAM (C. Ray Speare)
425 West Sedgwick Street
Philadelphia 19, Pa.

My old friend and Lewisburg High School Classmate (1913) George Bender came through promptly with an answer to my letter and was I glad to hear from him! He knows what it is to gather news and so wanted to co-operate. He severed his banking connections a few years ago and returned home to manage his family's business "Martin's House of Flowers." He does a beautiful job too. Be sure to go in and see him when you go back to Lewisburg. He tells me he still maintains his college interest in the theatre, for which he gives credit to Cap and Dagger and the beloved Miss Shillinger. He goes to New York every four months and sees as many shows as time permits. On the last trip he had dinner with Chet Leaber '19 and Evelyn McGann Leaber '18 and how they reminisced! Said he felt like "The Man Who Came to Dinner" as he stayed for hours.

"Jack" and Henrietta Heinsling Kriner have had a wedding in their family. Daughter Sally '50 was married June 11. Right now they are taking it easy and resting after the big event. Last summer they had a grand trip to the Northwest and Alaska by boat and then followed the Trail of '98 into the Yukon and returned through Jasper National Park, Lakes Louise and Banff. They look forward to attending the Bucknell-Harvard game this fall. It's grand to hear from you folks! Write again soon, won't you? We love it!!

G. Grant Painter died April 19 at the Wilkes-Barre Veterans Administration Hospital. He was a descendant of one of Muncy's oldest families and lived in that town all his life. At one time he was president and treasurer of the Williamsport Printing and Binding Company. A loyal, active Alumnus of Bucknell, he served as president of The General Alumni Association in 1931 and that year was active in the promotion of an Alumni fund. He served in World War I, AEF. In 1920 he was married to Dorothy DeWitt of Muncy who died some years ago. His survivors include a son, G. Grant, Jr.; two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Allen, and Mrs. Edith Painter Harrington '43; his mother, Mrs. James Furlon of Philadelphia, a sister, two brothers, and three grandchildren.

In answer to my request for news about his family, Don Fusia, bless him, sent me a grand letter. Believe me, I appreciate that kind of co-operation. Don left Bucknell to attend the University of Pittsburgh's School of Medicine, but when war broke out he enlisted and was placed in the 10th Machine Gun Battalion and served 29 months overseas. While there he was able to spend a few months at the Montpelier School of Medicine. He re-entered Medical School in 1919 and was graduated in 1923. He still resides in Oakmont where he established general practice in 1924. In 1920 he married Aileen Larson '18 and they have five sons. Donald and Joseph are physicians, Jack, at home, Tom '49 is manager of a Tarentum notion chain, Ed '55 is with Gulf Oil and is married to Patricia White '52, daughter of Hayden White '23. Don and Aileen have at present six grandchildren, five boys and one girl.

All of Don's boys have been in the service, three in World War II and two in Korea. Don himself served as head of Civilian Defense and on the Draft Board in his district. He is attending physician for the Harmarville Convalescent Home and for 27 years was school physician and on the staff of St. Margaret's Hospital, Pittsburgh. He is commander of the Oakmont Yacht Club and Past Exalted Ruler of the Elks. He has a summer home at Springfield Beach, Va. to which he expects to retire someday.

What a life of service to his country and community he has led and we are proud of him! By the way, son Ed and wife Pat attended our Philadelphia dance—almost their first outing after their last baby was born and they won one of our door prizes, a large can of competing oil company's product. They wouldn't touch it and sure caused a lot of fun.

Right here I want to say a fervent "Thank you" to the Alumni for the very wonderful thing which happened to me on Alumni Day. I was never so surprised in my life. You'll probably read about it in some other spot in this issue, so I'll just say, I'm very appreciative, humble, and thankful to all of you and I'll try very hard to deserve the honor. What a beautiful chair and what a wonderful honor to come to me! I'll treasure them all my life.

Warner M. Galloway died in Lewisburg on December 9, 1954.

18 MRS. LAYTON KING
(Elizabeth Champlin)
301 Broad Street, Montoursville, Pa.

I think the most important news of the Class of 1918 concerns Dr. Chester Scott Keeler. The best wishes of all of us go with you, Chet, on your having been named Director of the Boston University School of Medicine.

Evelyn McGann Leaber and I have been honored by our National Sorority. Evelyn has been named regional chairman for the area covering New York State and Eastern Canada, and I have been named recommendation chairman for the State of Pennsylvania.

George Miles' report interests me. He lives at 406 Jackson St., Gallitzin, Pa. He married Martha Seaman in 1932. They have a nine-year-old daughter, Sandra. George has had a varied career. He taught high school and coached at West Newton. Was a high school principal at Herminie. He received his M.D. degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1927, was in the U. S. Army Medical Corps from 1942 to 1946. He is an associate in orthopedic surgery on the Altoona Hospital staff and practices in Gallitzin.

Another report came from Bob Moore, 169 Lafayette Ave., Geneva, N. Y. He sent me a most interesting letter together with a most complete report of his comings and goings. He said he would "break down and cast all modesty aside"—and I am so happy that he did. He has an outstanding record as an educator, including such things as a member of the State Department of Education committee for the preparation of Regents for several years. He is a director of the New York State Teachers Association.

We are proud to report that Malcolm E. Musser was awarded an honorary degree from Susquehanna University during the May 28th Commencement exercises. Malcolm has been dean of men at Bucknell since 1946.

Randall Stover reports that his address is still Shamokin Dam. His family consists of wife and one son. Randall operates a bowling alley.

19 DR. FRANKLIN D. JONES
2617 St. David's Lane
Ardmore, Pa.

Mrs. Mary McLaughlin Robbins died in February. She was married to J. Edward Robbins '20.

Weber L. Gerhart, Jr. was elected chairman of Group 4, Pennsylvania Bankers' Association, at the organization's fifty-seventh annual meeting held at Williamsport in March. He is married to the former Sara M. Reed '28.

Miss Alice Carey Ferris passed away in the Harrisburg Hospital on April 25. Miss Ferris had been secretary to the President of Wilson College for 25 years prior to her retirement in 1943.

21 MRS. ELWOOD DERR
(Sarah M. Bernhart)
1360 Jefferson Ave., Lewisburg, Pa.

Just received a very regrettable letter notifying me of the death of my dear friend, Nellie Wolfe Aumiller on June 23 at the age of sixty-two.

She was a retired William Penn High School teacher in Harrisburg. Surviving are her father, John A. Aumiller, Lewisburg; a brother, Charles P.; three sisters, Mrs. George K. James (Margaret R. Aumiller '27) Ithaca, N. Y.; Mrs. Kenneth Murphey (Frances B. Aumiller '27) Trenton, N. J.; and Mrs. Jane Resnick, Cleveland, Ohio.

Her family and Bucknellians, together with all her other friends, will miss her greatly.

Mrs. Joseph B. Kelly (Emily Devine), past president of The General Alumni Association, writes of the birth of a third grandchild, Kelly Anne Carlough. Kelly Anne's parents, Emily Kelly Carlough '46 and Spence Carlough '50 also have two boys.

Holmes T. Douglass, in addition to his job at Bell Telephone Laboratories in New York, is Council Commissioner for Boy Scouts of the Morris-Sussex Area.

From Rochester, N. Y. comes a note about Art Harris. He has accepted a public relations job with a large Rochester firm. He will retire as principal of Brighton High School as this BUCKNELL ALUMNUS reaches you, after 30 years in education there.

Roy W. Sauers has taught in the public schools of Pennsylvania for the past 35 years. For the last 33 years he has been at the Reynoldsville Public Schools, Reynoldsville, Pa., where he has been high school principal since 1931. He is married to the former Ruth E. Klechner '21. They have two daughters, Mary Lou and Thea, and a son William '48.

Lt. Col. George B. Schuyler, B.S. graduate and veteran of World Wars I and II, recently assumed new duties at the Signal Corps Pictorial Center, Long Island City, N. Y. Acquiring journalism experience in both civilian and Army life, George's assignments have been concentrated largely in Army public relations.

It is with regret that we inform you of the death of our classmate Harry Vernon Thomas, M.D., on April 22 in Clarksburg, W. Va. Dr. Thomas' field was Ophthalmology.

Outstanding among Clarksburg physicians and surgeons, Dr. Thomas was one of West Virginia's most public-minded civic leaders and church workers.

While a Bucknell student he enlisted in the Ambulance Corps (USAAC) serving in Section 525. Dr. and Mrs. Thomas last visited the campus in October 1954 to attend the 35th reunion of the two ambulance units, 524, 525. As a student he was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha.

He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Bucknell and his Doctor of Medicine degree from Johns Hopkins. After serving with the United States Navy from 1925 to 1927, he did postgraduate work in Ophthalmology.

Over the years he maintained deep loyalty to Bucknell University. The sympathy of his classmates and the University is extended to his wife, the former Beatrice Gould, his three sons: Harry V. Thomas, Jr., Cleveland; John D. Thomas, third-year medical student at Johns Hopkins; and William G. at home; a sister, a brother, and one granddaughter.

Stephen J. Wargo, graduate in chemical engineering, died suddenly on October 4, at his home in Ashland, Ohio. A Kappa Sigma, Steve is survived by his wife, four children, and two grandchildren.

William C. A. Willman passed away on November 24, 1954, and all the members of the Class of 1921 extend their deepest sympathy to the survivors.

Dr. Thaddeus A. Salaczynski was married last April 24 to Miss Jule B. Ringana, a nurse from Baltimore.

Charlotte Walton Siple died May 1955, at Havre de Grace, Maryland. "Dot" as she was known to many of her close friends, had been the head of the science department in the Havre de Grace High School for many years. She had taught physics, chemistry and biology for thirty years and had retired in the fall of 1954 due to ill health. In addition to her years at Bucknell, she had done extensive graduate work at Johns Hopkins University and additional graduate work at Columbia University, Cornell, University of Wisconsin, and the University of Pennsylvania. Sympathy is extended to her brothers, Charles B. Siple '17, Dr. Louis Walton Siple '18 and her sister, Mrs. Margaret S. Harsh (Margaret Siple '20).

22 MR. PHILIP C. CAMPBELL
R. D. 5
Danville, Pa.

Read in the paper that Dr. George W. Haupt who was Professor of Science at the State Teachers College, Glassboro, N. J., died early in June at the Philadelphia General Hospital. He was fifty-four years old.

In 1951, Dr. Haupt was appointed Educational Consultant to the Atomic Energy Commission. He was well known nationally as a writer of scientific treatises and as a leader in the field of science for children.

He is survived by his wife, the former Grace Good '25; a daughter, Barbara; a son, Hans and two grandchildren.

We are all going to miss him for his career was a tribute to Bucknell.

23 MRS. LeROY FRONTZ (Olive Billhime)
Evergreen Farm
Allenwood, Pa.

Constance H. Bennett, 105 Main St., Saranac Lake, N. Y., has recently been hospitalized with a severe attack of pneumonia.

All members of the class will be sorry to learn that Alvin F. Julian, Hanover, N. H., while on vacation in Boston, Mass., suffered a cerebral hemorrhage, August 1, 1955, at the age of 55 years. At our last report he was not on the danger list and was in "comfortable" condition at Beth-Israel Hospital, Boston. Since 1950, "Doggie" has been basketball coach at Dartmouth College. While at Bucknell, he was a varsity athlete in basketball, football and baseball. His son, Toby presently a senior at Dartmouth, has followed in his footsteps for in the spring of 1955, he was elected to captain Dartmouth's varsity squad.

Norman W. Morgan was elected president of the audio-visual round table of the Pennsylvania State Education Association. He is supervisor of mathematics and audio-visual education in the Scranton Public Schools.

Mrs. Kenneth MacCalman (Kathryn Wagner) is president of the Morning Music Club of Nyack on the Hudson, New York.

Haydn White has been appointed district manager in the Philadelphia district of the Gulf Oil Corporation.

24 MRS. PAUL CUPP
933 Muirfield Road,
Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Our daughter Louann's wedding in June gave me the opportunity to see and talk with my roommate, Anna Heysham Schweiker and her fine husband, Roy, from Worchester, Penna. Mrs. Robert V. Armstrong, Jr. (Ruth Weidenhamer) of Augusta, N. J. was a guest whom I haven't seen for several years. Ruth and her husband have a dairy farm in Sussex County.

Dr. G. Merrill Lenox has been elected a member of the General Board of the National Council of Churches.

While in Wilkes-Barre recently, I was pleasantly surprised to meet and visit with Mrs. C. E. Anderson (Florence Martz), 3021 Cloverdale Street, Montgomery, Ala. It was good to hear that Floss's husband has greatly improved from the heart trouble he had last year and is now able to return to work. Such news is always most welcome!

Clarence M. Shaffer, Elma Streeter Shaffer and son (attending Valley Forge Military Academy) of 358 Pershing Dr., New Kensington, Pa., and Alice Roberts of Ardmore, visited briefly with your reporter last spring.

In the spotlight of the Twinbrook Life, is Alfred Stoughton. Many alumni know Al because he held the post of public relations director and alumni secretary of Bucknell from our graduation until 1936. Al has led a very busy and active life, which includes public relations work with 29 Y. M. C. A.'s in the Greater New York City area, executive secretary of the Baseball Centennial in 1939, executive secretary of the Protestant Episcopal Cathedral in Washington, D. C., captain and company commander in the Pacific, director of public relations for the hospital division of the U. S. Department of Public Health, and as a public relations hospital consultant. More recently in late 1954, Al has become associated with the Greenbelt Consumer Services Corporation as director of public relations and advertising. He has charge of three stores—Greenbelt, Takoma Park, and Wheaton—and will act in the same capacity for the two stores now in the planning stage.

Mrs. Kirk Mahan (Florence B. Supplee) is living at Old Lancaster Rd., Berwyn, Penna. "Bec" reports that they have two sons; one, a junior at Villanova College and one who will enter as a freshman this year.

26 MISS ANNA L. BROWN
45 Wildwood Ave.
Pitman, N. J.

Classmates of Lelia E. Bower will be interested to know that her present address is Proctor Star Route, Williamsport, Pa.

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas W. Jones '24 (Hannah Metcalf '26) recently observed their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary with open house at their parsonage in Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Tom has been pastor of the Wilkes-Barre Parsons Primitive Methodist Church for the past twenty years. Classmates will recall that Tom and Hannah served as missionaries in Guatemala, Central America previous to their present pastorate. They have two daughters: Mrs. Clarence J. Thomas (Mary Grace '52), Spanish teacher in the Montoursville Area Joint High School, Montoursville, Pa., and Gwen Elizabeth, a music student in her junior year at Wilkes College, Wilkes-Barre.

Rev. and Mrs. A. Kris Jensen (Maud P. Keister) have returned to work as missionaries in Korea. Their address is The Methodist Mission P. O. Box 164, Kwanghwa Moon, Seoul, Korea.

Randall Newell of Harrisburg, Pa. was installed as trustee of Christ Lutheran Church.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Replogle (Veta Davis '27) recently spent a month in the Hawaiian Islands. They enjoyed the crossing on the S. S. Lurline, and found the city of Honolulu and Waikiki Beach section very delightful. The climate was all that could be asked. Probably the most outstanding impression of the trip was the fact that all the people on the Islands were so very polite and courteous. Returning, they flew from Honolulu to San Francisco via Pan American Airlines requiring 7¾ hours actual flying time. Incidentally Neal Blaisdell is the Mayor of Honolulu, and is a very well liked and husy man. The Replogles reside at 2820 Bethel Church Road, Pittsburgh 34, Pa.

The June issue of Holiday Magazine contains an article by Kenneth W. Slifer entitled "It's Easy to Camp Across Europe." Ken, his wife, the former Caryl Dutton '27, son, David, daughter, Diane '54 and her fiance (now husband), Vic Scott '54, toured Europe in the summer of 1953. The Slifers took their station wagon and camped out most of the time. Ken recommends this method of travel as it is inexpensive and is the best way to become acquainted with the countries and their people.

Robert H. Smith writes that his son, Allan, is a member of the Class of 1958.

27 MRS. L. H. COLLISON
Marydel, Md.

I'm sure you'll want our class of '27 to be a five-timer, (by way of explanation, that means having a class news letter included in every Bucknell Monthly issue during the year) this year—and it will be if you help me out by taking time out to sit down, recalling summer experiences, and then writing me some news about yourself and a classmate or two you may have bumped into this vacation season. Here's hoping!

Walter Hufnagle of Catawissa, Pa. writes that after seventeen years of school teaching he launched out into the Insurance Business. He is married and the father of two boys, James and Jackson. In 1933 he received his M.A. from Columbia University.

George W. Walker is superintendent of the Pawnee Indian Boarding School. He has been in Indian service since January 1936 and was located in New Mexico, Arizona, and Nebraska before returning to Oklahoma, his native state. Before entering Indian service George was a teacher and high school principal at Bacone College, Bacone, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Marion Coe Sisson of Factoryville has joined the staff of the Family Service Association of America in New York. She will act as special consultant in the field of family casework in California.

29 MISS THELMA J. SHOWALTER
425 Market Street
Mifflinburg, Pa.

Will you forgive your reporter if she brags a bit about several of our classmates? You have probably heard or read by this time that there were three outstanding men added to the Bucknell Board of Trustees, but have you heard that two of that number were members of the Class of '29? Henry Rowland Coleman, Vice-President and Assistant General Manager of the Remington Arms, Incorporated, and Hugo Riemer, President of the Nitrogen Division of the Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation, are now members of the Board of Trustees.

Your reporter is happy to announce that she has been nominated on the Republican ticket for the office of County Commissioner in Union County. Likewise, due to a change in administration, I am no longer in the capital city of Harrisburg. My services as Administrative Assistant in the Department of Internal Affairs were terminated on August 31 after 16 years with the Department.

31 MRS. W. ZELMAN SLEIGHTER
(Ruth J. Thomas)
833 Chestnut St.
Mifflinburg, Pa.

Adelaide Clark Rozelle and her husband, A. L. Rozelle, live in Bellefonte, where he is sales manager and industrial representative for the West Penn Power Company. They have 3 daughters. Addie is secretary to the Centre County Superintendent of Schools.

Word has been received that Harry W. Erikson died on February 15, at Akeley, Pa.

New honors have come to Dr. Robert S. Ingols, who has been elected vice-president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, as chairman of section "C" (chemistry). Dr. Ingols has achieved prominence as a research scientist and as a professor at the Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta. After earning his B.S. in biology at Bucknell, he was awarded the M.A. degree by Columbia University and M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from Rutgers. Bob reports having met Tom Little at the association's California meeting last December.

KENNETH VANDENBREE

Kenneth Vandembree is quite busy these days. In addition to being sales manager for the Standard Machinery Co. in Mystic, Conn., he has opened a small boat supply shop in Noank, Conn. Ken has become a member of the Society of Small Craft Designers and the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers. He hopes his two daughters, Lois and Ruth, will join the Bucknell family; we hope so too, Ken.

32 MR. ELLIS F. HULL
Allentown, N. J.

William J. Carnow has been appointed special assistant to the treasurer of the Pittsburgh Group Companies, Columbia Gas System.

Since 1947 he has been affiliated with the Columbus Gas System Service Corporation in Columbus, Ohio. He has also been associated with the Scranton-Spring

WILLIAM J. CARNOW

Brook Water Service Company and is a former staff member of the Pennsylvania Utility Commission.

Many of the alumni of the late twenties and thirties will be saddened to hear of the passing of Mrs. Margaret Thomas Beck, known to many as "Mother" Beck. She, with her late husband "Dad" Beck, operated the May-Mar Tea Room in Lewisburg—a gathering place for the undergraduates. She died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Brown (Margaret Beck '32) in Ithaca, N. Y., on May 7, 1955 at the age of 78. She was buried in Pottsville, Pa.

"Mother" Beck was connected with Bucknell in more than having a "home away from home" for students. Besides her daughter Margaret '32, her other daughter, Mary Beck '32, (Mrs. D. Kenneth Leiby) and her son William Jr., one of "Mother" Beck's granddaughters, Jane Brown, graduated in the Class of '53 and her niece Mary Thomas Kammire in '31.

36 MRS. CLYDE E. BURGEE
124 S. Fifth Street
Lewisburg, Pa.

The Class of '35 had a wonderful reunion in June. Let's start now to make plans for our 20th next June.

Our sympathies are extended to John C. Decker whose wife, Elizabeth Talley Decker '37 passed away Aug. 6, of bulbar poliomyelitis at the Williamsport Hospital. They have two sons, John Frederick, 6, and William Alexander, 3.

From down Chester way comes the news of a distaff gathering of Bucknellians who had not seen one another for seven years, more or less. Mrs. Harry T. Shaub (Virginia Nylund) entertained at luncheon for Genevieve Lawrence, Mrs. Chalsmer K. Brown (Charlotte L. Shupe) and Mrs. Paul W. Ziegler (Mabel Nylund '37). The get-together evoked much merriment as the gals caught up on the news. On March 16 Charlotte completed a year as Worthy High Priestess of Immanuel Shrine No. 19, White Shrine of Jerusalem. On May 19 she was installed as Worthy Matron of Leechburg Chapter No. 238, Order of the Eastern Star.

37 MR. SIGMUND STOLER
215 Chestnut Street
Sunbury, Pa.

For the past year, Charles O. Morris has been introducing to foundries in Indiana and Michigan the world's largest merchant iron blast furnace which he helped to obtain as assistant manager of commercial research for American Steel and Wire Division, U. S. Steel.

In addition to his busy vocational duties, Charles is a member of the Rocky River (Ohio) Charter Commission and is assistant scoutmaster of Troop 200 Boy Scouts in Rocky River.

The University community was shocked and saddened by the sudden passing of Mrs. John C. Decker (Elizabeth Talley) on August 6 of bulbar poliomyelitis.

The Deckers had returned from a curtailed vacation just a week earlier because of Elizabeth's illness.

After her graduation, she had served as a laboratory technician at Williamsport Hospital. Married to John C. Decker, Esq. '36, a member of Bucknell's Board of Trustees, in 1944, Mrs. Decker had become widely known for her civic and community activities in Williamsport. Surviving, besides John, are her two sons, John Frederick, 6, and William Alexander, 3. Her classmates and the Bucknell family extend deepest sympathy to the survivors.

41 MRS. WILLIAM P. HASSELBERGER
1518 Westmoreland Avenue
Syracuse, New York

James F. Casey is in charge of all chemical materials engineering for 4 TVA chemical plants, which produce various materials for national defense and a number of different chemical fertilizers.

He was married to Miss Jean Garrison of Florence, Ala., on December 29, 1954.

They are now living at 223½ West Spring St., Florence, Ala.

Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Green '40 (Marion Reynolds).

Their daughter, Ellen Elizabeth, aged 4½ died of cancer May 17, 1955. She leaves a brother, Richard, aged 8.

Frederick B. Hamilton, Jr., was recently transferred to the engineering department of Grumman Aircraft Engineering Company, where he works near Bob Snyder. Fred is the father of 4 children, all getting ready to attend Bucknell.

43 MRS. EARLE E. BENTON
130 Effingham Place
Westfield, N. J.

My first bit of news, and by way of explanation for any omissions for the next year or so, is the arrival of Michael Kirk Benton on February 27. This makes four for us and at the moment I really have my hands full.

Marvin Gerla and his wife, the former Cecily Lichtenstein, Forest Hills, N. Y., are the proud parents of Jamie Dee Gerla who was born July 13, 1955.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan R. Jarrett announce the arrival of a daughter, Penny Kay, on August 27, 1954.

Stanley C. Marshall, Pittsburgh ad man and former Jaycee vice president, headed the committees of the Pittsburgh Junior Chamber of Commerce in winning the awards of the Freedoms Foundation in 1952, 1953, and 1954. He is married to the former Alice Zindel '42.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Moore became the parents of a baby girl, Linda June, born December 11, 1954. They have two other daughters, Janet and Nancy.

Douglas Edward, third child of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Scheule '43, was born on Sept. 6, 1954. Their other two children are Carol, 8, and Steven 4. The Scheules are living at 177 Victory Ave., Salem, N. J.

County Attorney James P. Whyte was prosecutor in the trial of Dr. Benjamin T. Galbraith, socially prominent physician, who is accused of murder and arson in Oklahoma.

Capt. Earl P. Wickerham, Jr. is the Chief of the EENT surgical section of Rodriguez Army Hospital in San Juan, Puerto Rico. He expects to be discharged in October, 1955.

44 MRS. ROBERT F. BAKER
(Honey Rhinesmith)
Lindys Lake, Butler, R. D., N. J.

Wish we had the space to publish letters in their entirety, but since we're limited, please forgive the excerpts.

From Win Bode Liles: "Susan Case Liles arrived May 11, 1955. She joins Diane, George, Jr., and Nancy. Our address is 1266 Whiting, S. W., Grand Rapids, Mich. We moved here Sept. '54, when U. S. Gypsum transferred George to the plant here as Personnel Superintendent. . . Say hello to all our Bucknell friends."

From Mrs. Win. H. Wells (Pat Dawley): "John Patrick arrived June 7, 1955. This is our second, Jacqueline is 2½. We've been in Boston for a year now (47 Wallace St., West Somerville, Mass.). Bill's reporting for the Boston Herald."

46 MRS. LELAND C. EWING (Betty Wells)
31260 Westfield
Livonia, Michigan

Received a note from Mariel Day Mayer in reference to her son, Douglas, who's now almost 18 months old. Mariel married Charles Mayer in August 1954.

Mrs. William E. G. Bond (Marjorie Hudson) was elected treasurer of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lenchuk (Helen Messerole) are living now in Orlando, Fla. at 945 Sherrington Road. Paul is Executive-Secretary of the Association of Florida Concrete Manufacturers, which entails public relations and publicity.

Mrs. William Stubenvoll (Dore Miller) writes that they are back in Jersey at 13 James St., Shrewesbury. Daughter Nancy is nearly five, and on April 16, 1955 a son, Robert Walter joined the family. Dore says she has met Betty Quinn Billings also in that area. Any more B. U. folk about?

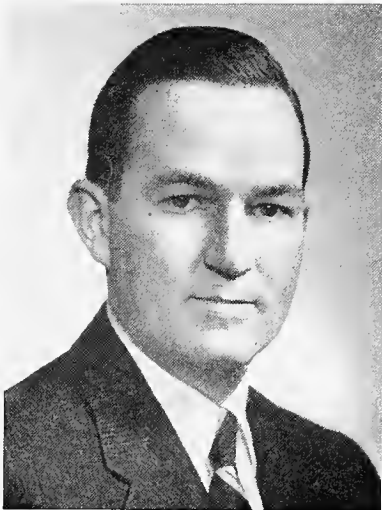

Dr. Edith J. Miller Levit was appointed to the staff, Department of Endocrinology, at Philadelphia General Hospital in October, 1954.

Dr. and Mrs. James Cowan (Gloria Whitman) announce the arrival of Susan Wilde on April 28, 1955. The Cowans are living now at 1639 Laramie, Manhattan, Kansas.

47 ROGER S. HADDON, ESQ.
243 Water Street,
Northumberland, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Nielsen (Doris Alston) have a baby girl born recently at Newport Beach, Calif.

Daughter Patricia Ellen was born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Block (Naomi Farr '49). The Blocks block is (64) Whittington Road, White Plains, N. Y.

RICHARD L. MOORE

Richard L. Moore has been named chairman of the New York Chapter, American Institute of Chemists. He is assistant treasurer and director of personnel and public relations for Foster D. Snell, Inc., a Gotham firm of consulting chemists and engineers. He is an officer of the Bucknell Alumni Club of North-ern New Jersey.

Danny Burt sent us some pithy South Americana recently. Excerpts: Danny has been in Paraguay since 1949, working until December last as a "sort of" editor with Point Four re agriculture. He is now engaged in business with his father-in-law, adding tartly "I handle the General Electric line in Paraguay." Danny and wife have a son born in May 1954. Address is Casilla Postal 235, Asuncion, Paraguay. Among questions raised in Danny's letter: "What ever did happen to Michael Aloysius McGuire?" Mike, wherever you are...

Ed Cross is now claims manager for General Accident Insurance Co. in St. Louis, Mo. Home address is 7326 Leona, 22

St. Louis. Ed and wife have a daughter, Connie, age 3½.

The seventeenth of September will mark the first birthday of Mark Joseph Yocum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Yocum (Josephine Ghormley).

49 MRS. THOMAS A. FRAZIER
(Marilyn Harer)
55 Manor Dr., Apt. 8J
Newark, N. J.

William C. Beals of Tonawanda, N. Y., was elected vice-president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Buffalo.

Lt. Harry Birchard was separated from the Navy on April 8, 1954. He entered the accounting business with his father in West Chester.

Lois May Eberhardt, M.D., received her medical degree from Temple University School of Medicine in June and is now an intern at the Mary Hitchcock Hospital, Hanover, N. H.

Read in the paper that Leah Fletcher, now Mrs. Ralph Seeley, was elected president of the Woman's Fellowship of the Congregational Church in Chester.

Our classmate Harold K. Jones has been named a supervisor in the Controller's Department of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co., Springfield, Mass.

The Reverend Finley M. Keech of Marlboro, Mass., will become pastor of the First Baptist Church in Morristown, N. J. He assumed his new responsibilities the first of September.

Congratulations to Myron W. Kronisch who is opening a law office at 744 Broad St., Newark, N. J. He graduated from Rutgers Law School in 1952.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Shinal are the parents of two children, Dawn, 8 years old, and Paul, 17 months.

Marvin W. Weinstein has accepted a position as an attorney with the Tax Division of the Department of Justice, Washington, D. C.

51 MISS FRANCES WILKINS
Apt. 62, 1316 New Hampshire Ave.
Washington, D. C.

Robert C. Babbitt is now employed as a Civil Engineer with the United States Department of Agriculture in Norwich, N. Y. He was married July 10, 1954 to Bonnie Cross, Buffalo State '50.

Good luck to William C. Berilla (formerly named Charles Ray Berilla) who is now owner of a shoe store in Towanda. The former owners operated this store for 63 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Close, Jr. (Helen L. Berlin) announced the birth of a son, Lawrence Lee, in September, 1954. They also have two other children, Debby, three years old, and Leanne, one and one-half years old.

Congratulations to Harry B. Blecker who just recently received his doctorate in Chemistry from Rutgers University. He is now a research chemist with the University of Michigan staff.

Dorothy J. Clark is attending graduate school at Ohio State University, School of Social Administration, working for a Master's degree in social casework.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alan C. Davis (Rachael J. Heim) became the parents of a second son, Jeffrey Carroll in February.

John A. Douglass is at Columbia University Graduate School of Business Administration after completing three years on the destroyer Monssen, leaving as a Lieutenant (jg.). He covered the Caribbean and parts of the Far East on his tour of duty.

Pvt. Deane C. Frank, who passed his bar exam this fall, is now stationed with the U. S. Army in Stuttgart, Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Hammer (Myrtle N. Hopkins) announced the birth of a daughter in February.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee E. Hanna (Nancy Rose '49) moved to Oil City, Pa. in 1953. They have three children, Marilyn, 4, Sherry, 2½, and Nancy Gail, 5 months.

Congratulations are in order for Donald R. Koehler who was awarded an M.D. degree from the University of Pittsburgh, commissioned a 1st Lt., and who is interning at Tripler Hospital, Honolulu, T. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. LaRue (Barbara L. Planz) became the parents of a second daughter, Terri Lee, in May, 1954. Dick is teaching Spanish at Ridgewood High, where he also coaches soccer and track.

52 MISS ELINOR L. CHILDS
74 Mt. Kemble Avenue
Morristown, N. J.

The William H. Bartons had a baby girl on April 14. Her name is Karen. The mother is the former Geraldine Temin.

Ricky Richter Bosted and Paul '53 are living at 215 Lynhurst Ave., Horseheads, N. Y. They now have two children, Peter Eric, who was born on Feb. 10, 1953 and Marta Elizabeth who arrived on May 9, 1954.

Ruth Castner Rusling and Bill announce the arrival of a son, David Blair, on April 30, 1955. The Ruslings also have a little girl, Beverly.

On August 16, 1954, Paul P. Cooper accepted a position as supervising principal of Towanda Valley Joint Schools.

Best wishes to Ralph L. Gemberling who just recently graduated from the Drew Theological Seminary. He was appointed pastor of the Methodist Church in Newfoundland, N. J.

Lou Hind Palmore and Peyton write that their work as missionaries in Japan is a real challenge. They are hard at work learning the language. Their address was incorrectly superscribed at one time causing chaos in the Tokyo Post Office. It should be: Mr. and Mrs. Peyton L. Palmore III, Interboard House, 12 No 4 Shiba Koen, Minato Ku, Tokyo.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant E. Johnson welcomed the arrival of a daughter, Kathy Ann, on February 24.

George M. Keen III, was drafted into the Army on January 6, and stationed at Fort Knox. He received scientific and professional rating.

Charles B. Mercer received his Bachelor of Divinity degree at Colgate Rochester Divinity School in Rochester, N. Y. on May 16.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Ostendarp (Shirley J. Reidinger '53) announce the birth of a daughter on January 9. Smokey becomes assistant football coach at Williams College this fall.

53 MRS. JAMES A. CHAMBERS, JR.
(Barbara Roemer)
391 Church St., Hasbrouck Heights, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. James LePard '52 (Vivian Abronski) are living at the Broadlawn Apts., Bryn Mawr, Pa. Jim is working with Alcoa.

Helen A. Loewisch was on a two-month leave of absence from Equitable Life Assurance Society, N. Y. C., last summer for a trip to Europe.

Lt. William C. Mader is serving with the Marine Corps at the Marine Air Base in Miami, Florida. He married Barbara Birkenmeyer of Minneapolis in August, 1954.

(Continued on Page 27)

THEIR SERVICE TO BUCKNELL TOTALS 107 YEARS

On the official records of the University, the word "Emeritus" has been inscribed back of the names of Dr. Frank G. Davis, Dr. Dayton L. Ranck and Dr. Norman H. Stewart—but they have not "retired."

At the Alumni Reunion Exercises in June an all too brief reference was made to the 31 years of service of Doctors Davis and Ranck and the 45 years of service of Dr. Stewart. A whole issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS could not adequately record the expressions of esteem from alumni and friends. Hardly a week goes by that we do not have mail from Bucknellians expressing best wishes and thanks for help extended and guidance freely given far beyond the line of duty by these three gentlemen.

We could fill this and many more pages with their professional achievements. But these have been recorded here (however inadequately)—as they occurred.

Of far greater interest to Bucknellians at this moment would be their reflections after 107 years of service to Bucknell University. We give you then: "Impressions of Bucknell, 1925-1955" by Doctors Davis, Ranck and Stewart.

DR. FRANK G. DAVIS

DR. DAYTON L. RANCK

DR. NORMAN H. STEWART

One can hardly be a Bucknellian for 47 years without feeling himself a part of a growing, developing, maturing institution. Bucknell had only 500 students when I graduated in 1911, but it had a sense of mission. President John Howard Harris had seen the need for scientists and engineers as well as that for ministers and teachers. The need for social science had scarcely appeared, since natural science had not yet got out of hand, so the curriculum in that self-satisfied era could go along largely untouched by the threats of tomorrow. For instance, two full-time Latin teachers and one nearly full-time Greek teacher taught us what we considered necessary then but the need for which most students today feel is met by a course in Latin and Greek in English.

Teaching, for example, in that much less complicated era, required no professional training at all. Economics was mainly theoretical; so far as we could see, little had changed from the nineteenth century. A few premonitions of the future were appearing here and there, such as wireless telegraphy, the automobile, the airplane, and silent moving pictures, mainly in the nickelodeon. Labor was cautiously raising its head but had slight effect on the economy. Modern medicine had begun in a very small way to lengthen the life span, which has now been increased by nearly 20 years since the beginning of the century.

Many other important events have transpired in the past 47 years. In far too many instances our colleges are failing to meet the challenge of the present and the future. Despite two world wars and a sizeable "incident" in Korea, and the fact that the world is lined up in two camps: communist and free, the amount of study that is being devoted to Russia or China is insignificant. We don't know

(Continued on Page 25)

EARLIER — NOW

Yes, there is a new look to the Bucknell campus. It is different in its physical appearance, far different from what it was in 1910 when I first appeared on the campus as a student, different from its look in 1924 when I returned as an employee of the College. Thirty-one years as an employee of Alma Mater certainly brings many changes.

The Faculty. All my own professors gone. Of those on the faculty thirty-one years ago, few remain. Now, we have many more courses and many more well-trained, dedicated men and women to teach them.

The Student Body. Less than a thousand in 1924. Today, two thousand. But why are these seekers after knowledge growing younger each year—in appearance, at least? The cause, Dear Alumnus, is with us. Put on glasses; wipe off the haze; and then realize that it is our viewpoint that is constantly changing! To the advantage of youth!

The Campus. Westward from the old library. New buildings, functional yet with architectural embellishment. Extensive walks and drives. Cars and parking. Flowers, trees, shrubbery, landscaping!

Finances. A modest budget of less than half a million. An endowment of nearly $800,000. Today? A budget of nearly three-million dollars. An endowment with a book value of over three-million dollars. A market value of more than four million. Still far from adequate, but what progress!

LOOKING AHEAD

It's Bucknell enthusiasm that will count most. Contagious? Yes. There is something about the Grand Old Institution that

(Continued on Page 25)

Dear Bucknellians, People often say to me, "I suppose Bucknell has changed a great deal since you came here?" My reply is both a slow contemplative "yes," and then a smiling "no." It is yes when I think how its original "front" facing the river, seems to have turned about to face far wider horizons. Certainly we no longer gather in little old Bucknell Hall for chapel each morning at eight o'clock, and the president's reception to the faculty cannot be held in the Academy Building, (now Taylor, 326, live hamster room!) We do not sit on the hillside overlooking Loomis field to witness football games. Dignified and fearsome faculty whiskers and shiny black clothes are almost extinct. Cars would disturb any crows that tried to nest in the big oak trees today, or any meadowlarks wishing to nest anywhere beyond Seventh Street.

Yet, as I sit here in my home and look up at the campus hill, I feel that Bucknell has not changed in those ways that I consider vital. More acres, yes, more buildings, yes, larger faculty and student body, certainly, more fraternities, intercollegiate relations and world wide interests—yes, all those things. They sometimes seem about to change Bucknell, but Alma Mater smiles and goes right on in her forward looking way to accomplish her God-given mission. She seems to say, "The only reason for having small colleges is my inspiration, still my greatest asset. It is the friendliness, the mutual regard, the loyalty, yes, the kinship that binds us all together as fellow students, making for richness of life through devotion to our common goals!"

Introducing Two New Presidents . . .

Stone & Webster Engineering Corporation elected T. Cortlandt Williams, Sr. '20 as President. Associated with Stone & Webster since 1923, he was appointed construction engineer in 1942 and elected executive vice-president in 1953. As President, with headquarters in New York City, Williams will be responsible for the company's world-wide engineering and construction activities. He is currently serving also as President of the National Constructors Association. Married to Mary Evelyn Deveney (Goucher College) in 1924, they are the parents of one son, T. C. Williams, Jr., who attended Bucknell and was awarded the degree of civil engineering by The Citadel in 1948. He is now a Captain in the Army.

Mrs. James Clark Fullmer (Barbara B. Hooven '50), and her father, Morris D. Hooven '20, 1955-56 President of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, at the Summer General Meeting of the Institute at Swampscott, Mass., where Mr. Hooven's election as head of the largest technical society of its kind was announced, and where Mrs. Fullmer acted as co-hostess. Barbara is a native of Montclair, N. J., and now lives at Fart Deven, Mass. Her father, who took office Aug. 1, is an engineering executive with Public Service Gas and Electric Company, Newark, N. J.

Former Trustee Reese H. Harris '03 Succumbs

It is with sadness that we record the death of Reese Harvey Harris, Sr., Esq. '03 on Saturday, June 18 at his La Plume home. Only a brief illness preceded the fatal heart attack at 72. His demise came as a shock to friends and business associates. Only a week previously he had been at work in his office where he was senior member of Harris, Warren, Hill & Henkelman and practicing attorney for more than 47 years in Lackawanna County Courts.

Attorney Harris was the son of Dr. John H. Harris and Lucy Bailey Harris, former longtime Bucknell University President, founder of the Keystone Junior College, and nationally known educator.

He received his preparatory training in the Lewisburg public schools and Bucknell Academy. From Bucknell University he was awarded Bachelor and Master degrees, summa cum laude and from Harvard University, where he was a Faculty Scholar, he achieved his Law degree, cum laude. He was a Phi Gamma Delta and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa at Bucknell as a Foundation member of the Bucknell chapter.

His interests in banking, lumber, and coal, as well as his keen concern for education and law, gained him statewide recognition. He was a former trustee of both Keystone Junior College and Bucknell University. His brilliance in law led to his long term appointments on the Board of Governors of the Pennsylvania Bar Association and he held membership in the Lackawanna County and American Bar Associations. Among his directorships were those in the First National Bank, Scranton; Temple Coal Company; Edison Anthracite Coal Company; Pennsylvania Coal Company and Northwestern Mining and Exchange Coal Co. He was a past president and director of the United States Lumber Company.

Attorney Harris married the former Christine A. Richards of Connecticut, a New England Conservatory of Music and Mansfield State Teachers College graduate. Her demise November 5, 1952 occurred after 42 years of marriage. Three children survive: Reese H. Harris, Jr., Mrs. Philip W. Scheide, both of West Hartford, Conn., and Mrs. William Acker '43, Waverly. Three brothers and one sister, Bucknellians all, survive: Stanley N. Harris '18, Pittsburgh; James P. Harris '12, Kingston; Dr. Coleman J. Harris '12, Charleston, W. Va.; and Dr. Mary B. Harris '94, Lewisburg, noted penologist and Bucknell Trustee.

He will be greatly missed not only in law circles but by his family and a host of Bucknell friends.

An Invitation From Bucknell Review

Beginning with the fall issue, Bucknell Review will become a quarterly journal of letters, arts, and science open to contributors outside Bucknell University as well as to the Faculty. Heretofore contributions to Bucknell Review (formerly Bucknell University Studies) were restricted to the Bucknell Faculty.

As a result of the change, the Editor, Dr. Gladys E. Cook, invites alumni, present and former Bucknell Faculty members, and scholars in general to help the University assume the intellectual role that Bucknellians want Bucknell to have.

Journals abound, but most of them are either too technical or too popular or too limited in scope to welcome certain kinds of intellectual essays of general interest. Though the editors will continue to publish the kinds of articles that other scholarly and critical quarterlies solicit, Bucknell Review is especially anxious to welcome papers that do not readily fit the current grooves.

There is good reason to anticipate that Bucknell Review can become a leading quarterly in this area. As is well known, many colleges have raised their national standing and their academic excellence because of their journals. The alumni of Bucknell, by contributing articles and by subscribing to the new quarterly, at $2.40 a year, can help the University distinguish itself in the academic world.

Three Distinguished Articles

Bucknell University may well be proud of the latest issue of The Bucknell Review, which appeared in May, containing three excellent essays of literary criticism.

Professor Robert E. Maurer's "Latter-Day Notes on E. E. Cummings' Language" offers more than the modest title indicates, for by a brilliant study of Cummings' grammar, substitution of one part of speech for another, use of metaphor, and by relating these to Cummings' thought and feeling, he has gone immediately to the heart of the difficulties involved in reading Cummings, and explained most of them. Beginning with the childlike quality of Cummings' coinages, Professor Maurer goes on to an analysis of the thought process involved in the use of such words as why and if as nouns. For Cummings, why is used to mean "a state of uncertainty, a searching for direction from sources outside oneself, an unspontaneous demanding of reasons and causes in the face of life. A person who is a why is generally a subject for ridicule, like an if, a timid creature who thinks, fears, denies, follows, unlike an all-alive is." Professor Maurer has done a difficult piece of literary criticism with tact and intelligence, and has increased our enjoyment of an important American poet.

Professor Ward Hooker's "Apuleius's 'Cupid and Psyche' as a Platonic Myth" takes issue with the prevailing view that the story is "an aimless potpourri," and advances the opinion that the Platonic influence "was what determined the major characterization and the plot," although the minor characterizations and incidents come from folklore. Drawing on a wide range of knowledge and mature judgment, Professor Hooker makes a good case for his view that the story is based on the Socratic doctrine expressed in the Symposium that love is (1) birth in beauty; (2) both physical and spiritual elements within the soul contribute to progress on the "ladder of love"; (3) love is a pursuit of immortality. Professor Hooker presents his case in an urbane style which indicates his own good sense and good temper.

The third article in the Review is Miss Mildred Munday's "Pejorative Patterns in Shakespeare's Troilus and Cressida." Like Professor Maurer's it deals with language as a clue to the evaluation of the literature, and like Professor Hooker's, it takes issue with prevailing opinion and offers a new view. The theme of Shakespeare's play, social disintegration, "a world where heroism is opportunism" is expressed in images of bestiality and gluttony, by the use of degrading epithets, and technical devices used to cast aspersion on whatever is being discussed. Miss Munday has a wealth of specific detail, and her conclusions are apparently sound, though one could wish for firmer links between her detailed evidence and her generalizations. However, Miss Munday's study, like those of Professors Maurer and Hooker, unites sound scholarship with independent thought.

LOOKING BACKWARD

Fifteen Years Ago — 1940

Two new dormitories were opened. The Co-operative House at 29 Taylor Street and the Van Gundy Home at 6th and Taylor Streets housed ten and fifteen girls respectively. The school enrollment increased to 1,250.

University Conducts Full Summer Program

The Bucknell campus seemed to be filled with activity this summer. A total enrollment of 506 students for the various summer sessions was recorded. Of the total, 336 students enrolled in the eight-week course for regular students. Another 170 persons took part in the six-week session for teachers and educators.

Dr. Frank G. Davis '11 was director and Dr. J. Charles Jones '42 was assistant director of the 11th annual Guidance Workshop conducted in the six-week summer session of which Dr. Walter H. Sauvain is director. Besides the regular staff members of the department of education, the Guidance Conference included these visiting lecturers: Dr. N. Harry Camp, director of clinical services, Baltimore Co., Md.; Dr. Robert Hoppock, professor of education, New York University; Mabel Grier Lesher, M.D. '01, social hygienist; Dr. Esther Lloyd-Jones, professor of education, Columbia University; Mrs. Pearl S. Norris, guidance supervisor, Philadelphia; Dr. Daniel A. Prescott, professor of education, University of Maryland; Dr. Frank L. Sievers, executive secretary of American Personnel and Guidance Association; and Dr. Willis Thompson, past high school principal, New Rochelle, N. Y. A number of faculty staff members and visiting educators served as panel and discussion leaders.

Institute for Foreign Students

Overlapping the Summer School, was the 12th annual Bucknell Institute for Foreign Students. This program enrolled fifty students from twenty countries, all young professional people: doctors, nurses, teachers, engineers, business men and government officials. They follow a concise seven-week program that features classroom work emphasizing the development of the ability to speak, hear and write English and includes numerous non-classroom activities aimed at improving their English and learning about American life. Two farm weekends are included in the program. In September they go to many Universities and research centers across the land. They are sponsored in the United States by the Department of State, Department of the Army, the Institute of International Education, and the Rockefeller Foundation. Included in the visiting students was Masaya Yamamoto, son of a Bucknell graduate, Kenbi Yamamoto, of the Class of 1925, who died in 1950.

Dr. C. Willard Smith, the Institute director, and Dr. Frank W. Merritt, associate director, were assisted by a staff of eleven instructors, some from the faculty and seven guest lecturers.

Dr. Frank G. Davis

(Continued from Page 23)

their languages and we know little about their peoples or governments or economies, or those of many other important nations of the world. Colleges are still too much inclined to build their curricula on the rock of tradition and stand there while the tides of civilization sweep ahead.

Scientists have explored and are exploring the secrets of nature and making progress not believed possible two decades ago. We couldn't stop them if we would. The mind of man will not be still. Our educational program should encourage the same curiosity, the same eagerness to explore, and the same feeling of unsatisfied-

Zager '38 Serves National Fraternity

In a recent survey of alumni the question "Any Particular Hobby?" was asked. Abe Zager's answer was "Who has time?" After looking over his recent activities, it is not hard to see why Abe is so busy. He had to interrupt his law school course to enter the Army. He was separated as a Captain (Signal Corps) in May, 1946, after four and a half years of service. Always interested in the national social fraternity, Sigma Alpha Mu, he now serves as a national officer, and so far as we can learn is the only member of the Bucknell Chapter of SAM to have reached that level of service in the fraternity. His other activities include an active law practice as a partner in the firm of Parsons, Labrecque, Canzona & Combs in Red Bank, New Jersey. He is also active in the American Legion, Jewish War Veterans, B'Nai Brith, Monmouth County Bar Association, New Jersey State Bar Association, American Bar Association and for two terms has been president of Congregation B'Nai Israel of Red Bank.

Married to the former Nettie Caplan, they are the parents of two girls and a boy.

Abe is still very active in the Alumni Chapter of the SAMMIES and gets back to the campus regularly. He assisted with the rebuilding of the local fraternity house which was dedicated in the Spring of 1955.

ness with the status quo among all our students, particularly the gifted ones. How shall man catch up with the machine? Only by the creativeness that brought the machine into existence. Those persons responsible for building college curricula should take at least two looks into the future for every one into the past.

Dr. Dayton L. Ranck

(Continued from Page 25)

causes men and women to love her. And that enthusiasm will ultimately carry our Alma Mater to her goal: a physical plant adequate for all purposes of her student body, including a chapel, a social science building, a completed Vaughan Literature Building, a finished front of the Davis Gymnasium to the end that the new swimming pool will stand out as an embellishment to a completed physical education plant, all complementing the Bertrand Library, the F. W. Olin Science Building, the James S. Swartz Hall, and the many other monumental structures.

And all will eventually be brought about because of an ever-enlarging vision on the part of a group of conscientious and devoted Trustees giving of their time, their energy, and their money, along with faculty members and administrators, determined that Bucknell's primary purpose for existing shall be met: instruction and character building of the young men and women who come to the campus for the four best years of their lives.

What do I see ahead? A campus ever being beautified, constantly being enlarged and made more serviceable. A student body absorbing the Bucknell tradition, loyalty and sacrifice of trustees, faculty and administrators. Sixteen thousand alumni who love the college. The constant march toward the goal of all. It's a grand college for you and me—and if for us, then for the generations to follow.

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS is published in January, March, May, September, and November by Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa.

Member—American Alumni Council

OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION

- WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, President, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., N. Y.
- WILMER D. GREULICH '34, First Vice-President, 715 Greythorne Rd., Wynnewood, Pa.
- MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), Second Vice-President, 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh 6, Pa.
- DONALD B. YOUNG '33, Treasurer, 226 S. Fourth St., Lewisburg, Pa.
- JOHN H. SHOTT '22, Secretary and Editor, 116 Faculty Court, Lewisburg, Pa.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

- MRS. BROWN FOCHT (Florence Utt '26), 229 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa. (1956)
- BRUCE J. MILLER '27, 112 Devoe Rd., Chappaqua, N. Y. (1956)
- ALLEN A. RARIG '29, 528 Lindbergh Way, Lewistown, Pa. (1956)
- DONALD H. SHOLL '42 Munn Lane E., R. D. 1, Haddonfield, N. J. (1956)
- P. HERBERT WATSON '37, 67 Prospect Ave., Norristown, Pa. (1956)
- MRS. CHARLES E. COPELAND (Amorita Sesinger '22), 85-10 34th Ave., Jackson Heights, N. Y. (1957)
- J. NORMAN DAVIES '26, 1112 Mill St., Wilkinsburg, Pa. (1957)
- WILMER D. GREULICH '34, 715 Greythorne Rd., Wynnewood, Pa. (1957)
- FRANCIS B. HAAS, JR. '47, 2917 N. Front St., Harrisburg, Pa. (1957)
- W. CARL SPROUT '08, Mitchell Apts., North and Front Sts., Harrisburg, Pa. (1957)
- MERRILL B. DEWIRE '21, 225 N. Sixth St., Reading, Pa. (1958)
- WILLIAM J. IRVIN '22, 202 Hillcrest Ave., Trenton 8, N. J. (1958)
- WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., N. Y. (1958)
- C. MARTIN NEFF '42, P. O. Box 230, Red Lion, Pa. (1958)
- MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh 6, Pa. (1958)

() Year Term Expires.

Alumni Trustee Timetable

- June Commencement — Appointment of Committee on Nominations for Alumni Trustee.
- August 15—Letter to Alumni Club Presidents.
- September 1—Follow-up to Alumni Club Presidents.
- September 15 — Letter to representative Alumni, Alumni Class Presidents, Alumni Fund Representatives, Past Presidents of the Alumni Association, and former Alumni Trustees.
- October 15—Deadline for receiving suggestions to be considered by Committee on Nominations.
- November 5—Meeting of Committee on Nominations.
- November 19 — Committee on Nominations submits three candidates to the President of the Association.
- December 20 — Deadline for Board approval.
- January ALUMNUS—Announcement of names of three candidates in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.
- February 15—Petition deadline.
- March 1—Election announcement in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.
- April 1—Ballots in mail.
- May 15—Deadline for receiving ballots in Alumni Office.
- June Commencement — Certification to Board of Trustees.

THANK YOU!

When the 1954-55 Bucknell Alumni Fund year ended on June 30, new highs were established. Here are the totals, with last year's shown for comparison.

	1953-54	1954-55
Number of Gifts	2,644	3,415
Percent of Alumni Participating	18%	22%
Total Dollar Contributions	$28,888.95	$34,159.46

When you contribute to the Alumni Annual Giving Fund, you provide Bucknell with the capacity: To keep you and all Bucknellians informed, through THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS, of:

- News of the University Program;
- Activities and Achievements of Your Classmates;
- Plans for Alumni Reunions and Local Club Meetings.

To increase funds:

- For Student Scholarship Aid;
- For Faculty Salaries;
- For Research Programs;
- And a dozen other Activities provided for in the Current Budget.

Each boost for present-day Bucknell makes your Bucknell education (no matter when you received it) more valuable to you.

And in Addition, 394 gifts from alumni, totaling $263,286.11, helped Bucknell provide capital investments in buildings, increase endowment and establish permanent scholarships.

THANK YOU FOR HELPING KEEP BUCKNELL STRONG

AMONG THE CLUBS

(Continued from Page 15)

cers and directors for the coming year. The following people were elected: Frank D. Hamlin '48, president; Jonathan Bland '39, vice president; Mrs. John Nixon '51 (Ann L. Cooper), secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. David F. Shontz '39 (Mildred E. Clouser), Dr. M. Wilson Snyder '33, Mrs. William H. Douglas '49 (Nancy Bishop), William H. Berlin '35, Robert T. Jones '36, and John R. Bell '10, directors.

The group enjoyed hearing Chauncey E. Brockway Esq. '07 describe his experiences of his most recent trip to Europe. Mr. Brockway, a well known attorney and president of the First National Bank of Sharon has spent a lot of time studying the world situation and the national economic health. The talk was most interesting and informative.

We intend to have a meeting on Bucknell's Birthday to fit in with the general Alumni program.

IRA G. FOX '38, Secretary

SOUTH JERSEY—Thirty-eight people attended the Family Picnic at Bob Rink's '41, home in Gibbsboro on June 5.

The next big affair is October 21, 8:30 p. m., at The Barn of Silver Lake Inn on the White Horse Pike. This will be our fall event with square and ballroom dancing . . . both to the music of Mac Hammond and his Orchestra. REFRESHMENTS!

Recently elected officers are Robert W. Rink '41, president; Richard M. Gray '42, vice president; Elizabeth B. Heald '54, secretary; Robert A. Batten '49, treasurer.

All South Jersey Alumni, please don't forget to send your dues "NOW" to Bob Batten, 19 Ninth Ave., Haddon Heights, N. J.

See you at the Dance, October 21, at 8:30 p. m.!

ELIZABETH B. HEALD '54, Secretary

SUNBURY—The annual meeting was called to order by President Russell Winegardner MA'47 who called on Dorothy Shaffer MA'51 to ask the blessing. Following the dinner, four new officers were elected: Willard D. Zimmerman '37, president; Anna L. Becker MA'36, vice president; Helen E. Barrow '42, secretary; and Sigmund Stoler '37, treasurer.

Alumni Secretary John H. Shott '22 was then introduced to the group and he in turn introduced the student guests and the guest speaker. The first student entertainer, Miss Sue McMickle, a freshman, sang a number of songs, accompanied by Mr. Richard Ringenwald, a junior, who also played a piano solo. The entertainment was very well received by the group.

The guest speaker, John F. Zeller III '41, Assistant to the President, presented a very interesting address on Bucknell affairs of the present and of the future. He spoke of the academic achievements of both faculty and students, new buildings erected, and improvements to the grounds. He also mentioned the many new or enlarged facilities that will be needed if it is decided to follow a plan of controlled expansion. He reviewed the school's three main problems of the moment: finance, liquor, and automobiles, and closed with a plea for continued cooperation of the Alumni in all University matters.

HAROLD M. KEEF, JR. '48, Secretary

WESTCHESTER—Alumni filled the Oak Lounge of the Roger Smith Hotel, June 6, at the initial meeting of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Westchester. Following a get-acquainted session, there was discussion of the petition for a charter, the adoption of the General Alumni Organization's suggested constitution, and the election of officers. Guest speakers were William Liming '33, president of the General Alumni Association, and Mrs. Charles E. Copeland (Amorita Sesinger '22, MA'24), president of the Bucknell Metropolitan Alumni Association.

Following a report of the nominating committee, the following officers were elected: William M. Wilkinson '46 of Rye, president; Dr. Bruce J. Miller '27 of Chappaqua, vice president; Miss M. Jayne Rothschild '52 of Scarsdale, secretary; and Sidney W. Starr '47 of Yonkers, treasurer.

Elected to serve on the executive committee were Harvey D. Crawford '18 of Hartsdale for three years, Gene Zanarini '35 of New Rochelle for two years, and Mrs. Leonard Block (Naomi Farr '49) of White Plains for a one-year term.

Prizes were awarded to Robert ('51) and Carol Smith ('52) Torsch of Stamford, Conn., for traveling the longest distance to the meeting and to Dr. Stanley P. Davies '12, Hon. '39 for being the Alumna of longest standing in attendance.

Refreshments concluded the meeting, and plans were made to reconvene in the fall. Suggested programs include a Freshman Reception in September and a Bucknell Birthday Dinner, together with the Long Island and Metropolitan New York Clubs in February.

M. JAYNE ROTHSCHILD '52, Secretary

Bucknell Baptists in Atlantic City

Sixty-five Bucknellians and their guests gathered for the annual luncheon at the American Baptist Convention in Atlantic City on May 20. Our luncheon, necessarily in competition with other convention activities, drew a record crowd almost three times the usual attendance.

The invocation was offered by Dr. Finley Keech '22. Following the luncheon, Buck Shott, Alumni Secretary, introduced Dr. Emma E. Dillon '15, member of the Bucknell Board of Trustees, who was a guest at the luncheon. Dr. Dayton L. Ranck '16, vice president of the University, in his address, presented ample evidence of Bucknell's continued adherence to Christian principles in the educational program.

Following the speaking program, there was a self-introduction of the Bucknellians and guests, which showed that there were Alumni representatives present from Coast to Coast.

LYCOMING COUNTY—The Lycoming County Club held its annual dinner meeting in April with the largest attendance in its history.

Dr. Eugene P. Bertin '17, president and master of ceremonies, greeted 120 Alumni and friends who gathered in the Lycoming Hotel to meet and hear Dr. Merle M. Odgers, president of the University.

In a brief business meeting the group elected the following officers: president, Mrs. Edward West (Mary J. Marley '46); vice president and treasurer, the Rev. Dr. Malcolm V. Mussina '24; second vice president, G. Norman Wilkinson '09; secretary, Mrs. Orville W. Mitstifer (Elsie Bostley '52); and chairman of the board of directors, Dr. Eugene P. Bertin. Pictured below left to right are: the Rev. Dr. Malcolm V. Mussina, Mrs. Edward West, Mrs. O. W. Mitstifer, and Dr. Eugene P. Bertin.

University Earns Two Alumni Awards

At the annual meeting of the American Alumni Council held in June, Bucknell University received two citations.

"The Handbook for Alumni Club Officers" developed by a committee under the chairmanship of William S. Liming '33, president of the General Alumni Association, won the 1955 award for significant achievement in promoting alumni club leadership.

The book of poems by Lois Ann Davison '56 "Ask of the Eagle" produced by the development office, under the direction of Alfred H. Fenton, was awarded the 1955 citation for significant achievement in the use of direct mail to promote special fund gifts. The book of poems was distributed to prospective benefactors of the University. The volume was reviewed in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS, March, 1955, p. 5.

Framed citations of these two awards now hang in Alumni Headquarters along with the award earned in 1953 for the best annual fund report. Next time you're in Lewisburg stop in the Alumni Office and see this growing display of awards earned by our alumni leaders in national competition. And when you are in the office, don't forget to sign our historical guest book which dates back to 1885.

Class Reports

(Continued from Page 22)

Sue Masters writes that she is working on her master's degree in medical social work at Simmons School of Social Work, Simmons College, and at present she is doing research in epilepsy at Dr. Lennox's Seizure Unit of the Children's Medical Center. Susie's address is, 85 Duster Rd., Jamaica Plain, Boston 30, Massachusetts. Good to hear from you!

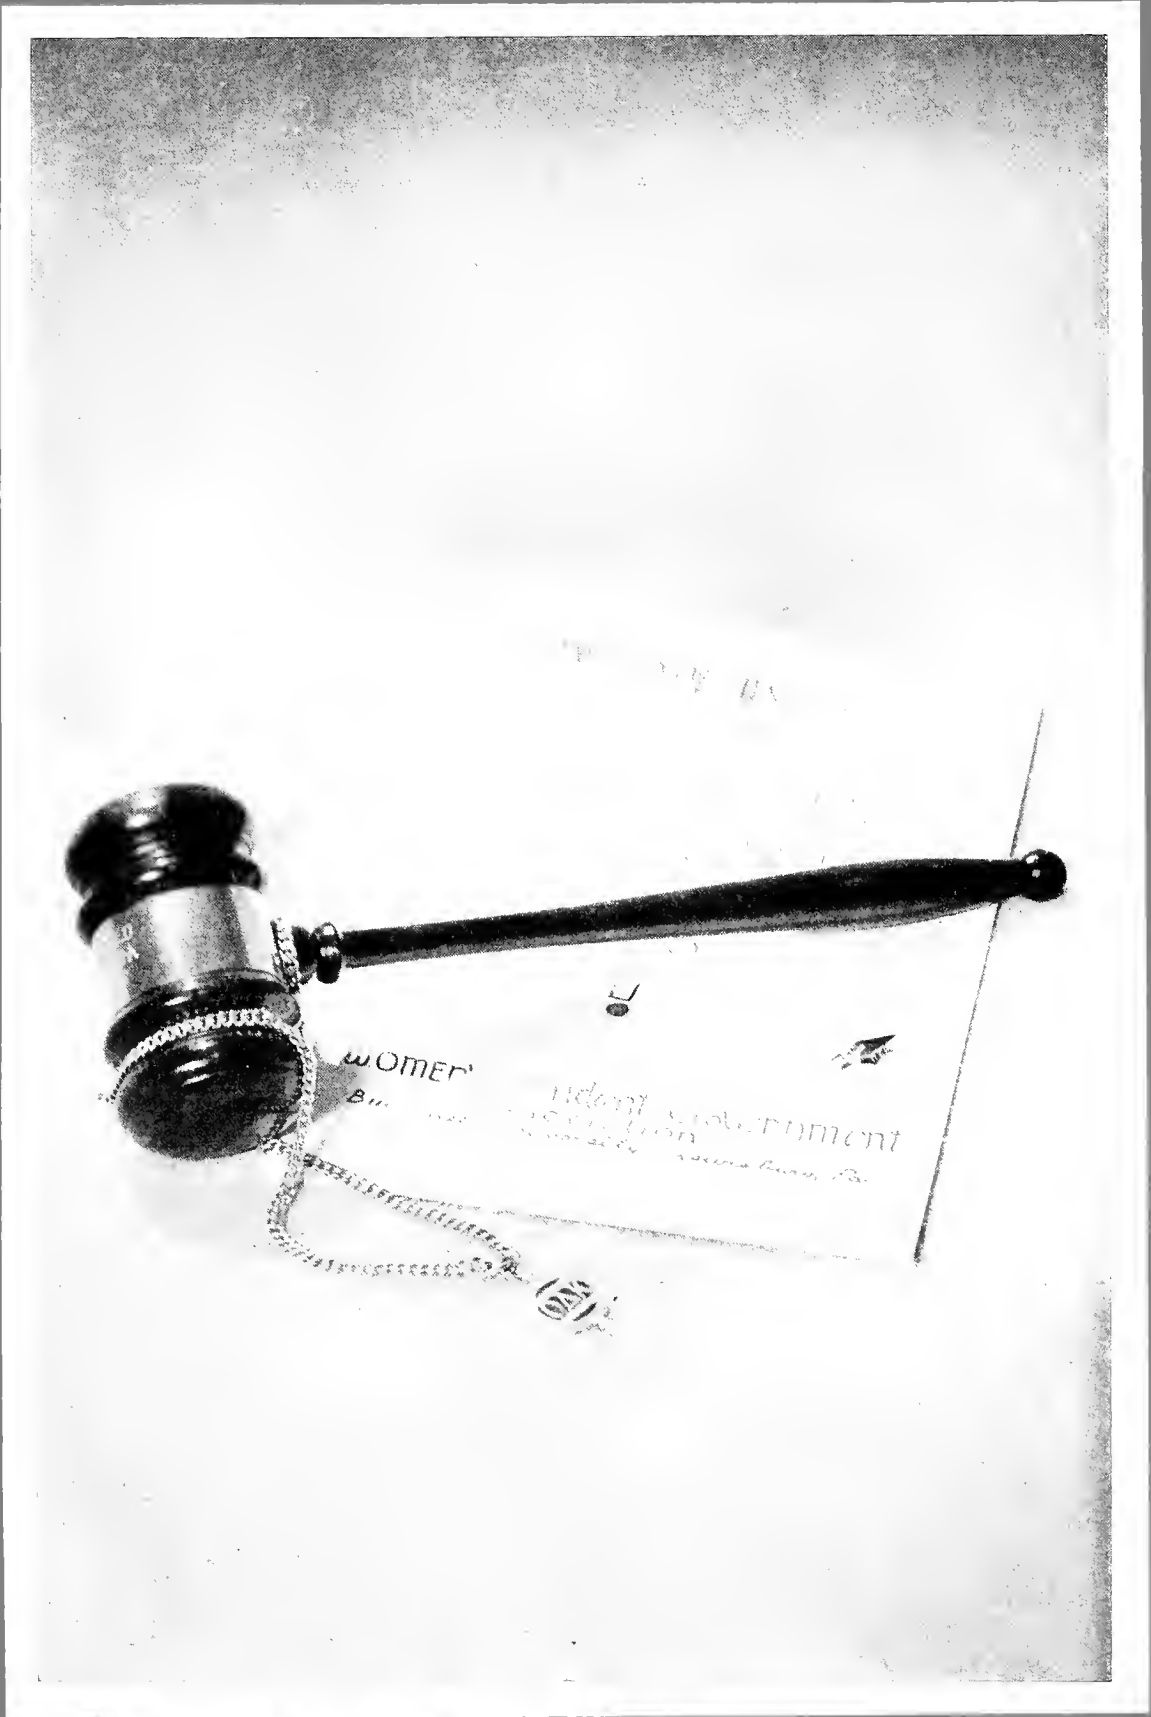

Karl Mauger is now teaching in the Milton Senior High School. Karl is married to the former Mary Ann Shimer '50, and they are the proud parents of a daughter and son, Karen Ann, age 3, and Frederick Scott, age 1.

Joan Catherine Parent was graduated, February 15, with a master's degree in elementary education from Temple University.

Gale C. Pershing has been transferred to the New York office of the American Bridge Company as estimator.

Gerard R. Rankin is employed as a technical sales representative for Linde Air Products Co. in the southeastern states.

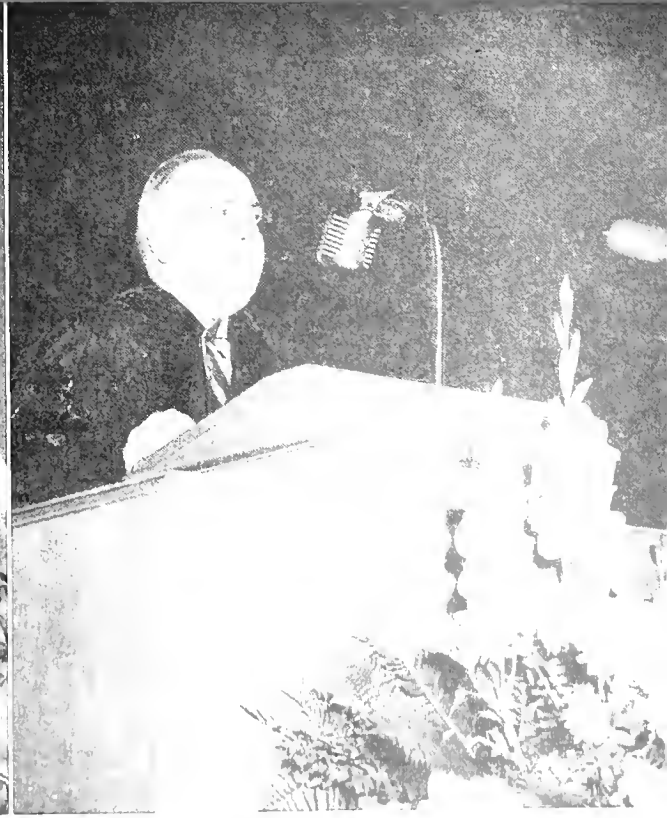

Joanne Smedley is with American Viscose Corporation in Philadelphia; secretary to the manager in the Market Development Department.

The

BUCKNELL

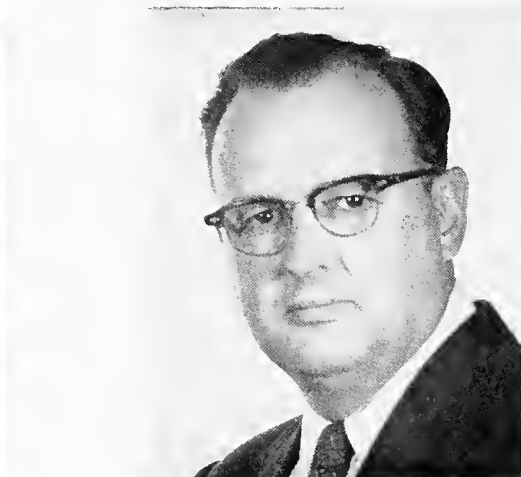

ALUMNUS

THE FUND LOOK

ROY E. NICODEMUS '25

CLYDE P. BAILEY '29

On July 1, Clyde P. Bailey, Esq. '29 handed the reins of the Alumni Fund Chairmanship to Dr. Roy E. Nicodemus '25.

Under Clyde's inspiring leadership during the 1954-55 Fund Year, more Bucknellians gave more dollars for a higher percentage of participation than ever before in the eight-year history of the Bucknell Alumni Annual-Giving Program.

Already Roy (better known to countless Bucknellians as "Nick") has taken steps to follow the wise policy of the Fund since its inception—to press onward toward increased giving of unrestricted funds under the "living endowment" principle for the current budget needs of the University.

Hundreds of Bucknell Alumni fund workers extend a big "thank you" to Clyde for a job well done and express a big "welcome" and pledge of continued support to Nick.

A glance at the unrestricted giving totals tells the story of the awakening Bucknell Alumni to the current budget needs of the University:

Year	Total Contribution
1948-1949 (6 months)	$ 5,736.08
1949-1950	15,699.57
1950-1951	15,114.31
1951-1952	20,530.39
1952-1953	21,782.43
1953-1954	28,888.95
1954-1955	33,819.96
Total Gifts (6½ years)	$141,571.69

Besides the Alumni Fund gifts, Bucknellians in the past two years alone have made generous contributions to specific projects—largely capital gifts—for scholarships, research, endowment and buildings:

Year	Amount Contributed
1953-1954	$ 28,155.71
1954-1955	367,556.56

Personal Solicitation

The 65 class fund managers who remind their Bucknell classmates of the fund program each February, were joined this past year by a group of almost 400 volunteer personal solicitation agents (see lists on pp. 10-20). This new group of workers established new highs in percentage of participation:

Solicitation Area	Percentage of Participation
Lycoming County	48%
Southern New Jersey	48%
Trenton, New Jersey	43%
Washington, D. C.	39%
Long Island—Queens	38%
Union County	37%
Pittsburgh	33%
Philadelphia	30%
Harrisburg	26%
Binghamton	21%

It is interesting to note that in the personal solicitation program more than half of the contributors were Bucknellians who had never before given to the Bucknell Alumni Annual-Giving Fund, reminding us again that many donors need a personal visit to start them on the road to annual-giving. Since there are probably several thousand Bucknellians who need this personal touch to start them in the program, the personal solicitation effort will be continued and expanded in the coming year.

The complete report of the results of the 1954-55 program by classes will reach you by mail within a few weeks in an interesting booklet Growing Bigger Every Year! The booklet will also carry an appeal for your contribution for the new 1955-56 fund year of annual-giving. Be on the lookout for your copy, see how your class finished in the competition, and then put your class in the forefront by an early gift to the Eighth (1955-56) Fund.

In This Issue

	Page
Alumni:
Clyde P. Bailey '29	2
Horace A. Hildreth H'53	4
Ralph E. Jones '50	7
Roy E. Nicodemus '25	2
E. W. Pangburn M.D. '15	5
Bette L. Skow '56	6
Paul L. Troast H'52	4
Air Age Education at Bucknell	8
Alumni Fund Contributors	11-22
Alumni Headquarters Moved	30
Alumni Trustee Timetable	30
Among the Clubs	4, 5, 8
Bucknellians Abroad	7
Class of 1955 Elects Alumni Officers	7
Class Reports	9, 10, 23-31
Dormitory Dedication	4
Engineers to Meet Nov. 5	8
Fund Look	2
Gifts to University	11
Olin Science Building Dedicated	3
Pool Next Step in 2nd Century Development	7
Richardson Memorial	7
Sports	6
These Bucknellians Helped	12-22

The Cover Pictures

Front Cover—(Upper Left) Dr. Charles L. Horn, President of the F. W. Olin Foundation, delivering the key to the F. W. Olin Science Building to Dr. Merle M. Odgers, President of Bucknell University. (Upper Right) Dr. John C. Warner, President of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, addressing the convocation and dedication audience on September 28. (Lower) Observing the dedicatory plaque are (Left to Right) Dr. Merle M. Odgers, President of Bucknell; Dr. William H. Coleman, University Vice-President and Dean of the University; Dr. Charles L. Horn, President of the F. W. Olin Foundation; and Dr. James O. Wynn, Vice-President and Counsel of the Foundation.

Back Cover—Some of the speakers at the dedication exercises on October 15 of the James S. Swartz Hall, new men's dormitory and dining hall, were (Left to Right) Dr. Paul L. Troast, University Trustee; Hon. Horace A. Hildreth, U. S. Ambassador to Pakistan, Trustee and former President of Bucknell; Dr. Joseph W. Henderson, Chairman of the Bucknell Board of Trustees; and Dr. Merle M. Odgers, President of Bucknell.

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

Published in January, March, May, September, and November by

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Entered as second-class matter December 30, 1930, at the post office at Lewisburg, Pa., under the Act of August 24, 1912.

OLIN SCIENCE BUILDING DEDICATED

One and one-half years after the announcement of the F. W. Olin Foundation gift, the building itself became reality as the science structure was presented for dedication by Dr. Charles L. Horn, president of the Foundation.

The $900,000 grant was announced by Dr. Horn at a special assembly of students and faculty in Davis Gymnasium, January 12, 1954. The ground breaking ceremony was held at noon June 12, 1954. The cornerstone placement was made Saturday, June 11, 1955 and on September 28, 1955 at 10:00 A. M., the modern four-story building was dedicated at the annual convocation with impressive ceremony. The gift to Bucknell University, Dr. Horn announced, was made in the belief that "a college must have good teachers and correspondingly good facilities if it is to do its job well."

The Bucknell architect, J. Frederick Larson, prepared the plans for the brick structure to house the departments of physics, mathematics, and chemistry. The Andrew J. Sordani Construction Company, Wilkes-Barre, was in charge of building operations.

In central position near the entrance to the F. W. Olin Science Hall, there is an auditorium or lecture room with seating capacity of 200. The front of the auditorium is fitted with demonstration tables. From this point lights can be controlled as well as from the projection booth. To augment hearing facilities, a public address system has been installed.

The physics department has six laboratories; each has movable and adjustable tables. At the work tables, electrical circuits have been laid so that each student can carry on independent research simultaneously. A shop for use of students and faculty is available for construction and repair work. In addition there is an electric instrument room where equipment is built, repaired, and tested.

Particularly popular with the student is the physics demonstration lecture room, which is equipped with a catwalk to eliminate the necessity of ladder-step climbing to reach materials on top shelves. Here demonstrations in physical phenomena are given. A seminar and a battery room complete the department.

For the department of mathematics, a large calculating room is provided together with five office rooms and classrooms.

A feature of the chemistry department is the inclusion of acid-resistant tile in the laboratories. In the student labs the tables have been specially treated, the stone tops impregnated with plastic, and the wood itself has been processed for durability. Five balance rooms for weighing materials adjoin the laboratories. A sink has been installed opposite each desk in elementary chemistry. In the department of analytical chemistry, a shower in the rear of the lab is accessible in case of acid or fire burns. Ovens for drying at 110 degrees Centigrade or 225 Fahrenheit and a muffle furnace for extreme temperatures are supplied.

Four of the six offices for faculty members are connected with laboratories. There are two laboratories for graduate students, a special instruments room, and a chemical library.

Six first-floor classrooms will be used by all three departments. Some unusual laboratory appointments are hoods for disposing of obnoxious fumes, a motor generator set room, a buildings and grounds room, an elevator, and a general stockroom with built-in incinerator.

The convocation ceremony was held in Davis Gymnasium with Dr. Merle M. Odgers, president of Bucknell University, presiding. The University Band under the direction of Professor Allen W. Flock presented the Triumphal March of Rozsa for the academic procession. Before the singing of The National Anthem by the 2,000 guests, faculty and students, chaplain of the University Dr. Mark E. Ebersole offered the invocation.

Dr. John C. Warner, President of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, addressed the convocation on "Science, Scientist, and Civilization." Dr. Warner traced the expanding role of science through the years. He told his audience that man's understanding of natural phenomena and his material environment has not only deepened but that the scientist has developed efficient methods that can be helpful in solving man's social, political, and economic problems. This method, he declared, with substantial modifications, should be applicable to the solution of our pressing current problems of properly distributing the material fruits of science, and of so organizing society that, in the long run, civilization will progress toward the goal of all human effort.

Noting the lack of appreciation for the scientific method, Dr. Warner continued "not having solved the problems of equitably distributing the material benefits of science, we waste them in trade wars, class strife, and armed conflicts, and we restrict the production of foodstuffs or destroy stockpiles of potatoes while people are hungry."

Dr. Warner concluded his address with the observation of the need for political, moral, and business leaders who are more scientific and scientific leaders who are more humane.

Before the presentation of the F. W. Olin Science Building by Dr. Charles L. Horn, president of the F. W. Olin Foundation, Inc., to Bucknell, the anthem "O Praise Ye God" by Tschaiikowsky was sung by the a cappella Bucknell University Chapel Choir led by Dr. William D. McRae.

In his bestowal oration, Dr. Horn expressed the layman's point of view on how a college should be directed. He advised college leaders to take a look at the way they were administering their schools. After citing the high incidence of freshman and sophomore withdrawals from college, he suggested that lower classmen be charged higher rates to prevent the college from developing deep deficits. A nationwide survey revealed the startling percentage of second-year withdrawals as 51%.

Vice President and Dean of the University William H. Coleman in appreciative response accepted the building on behalf of Bucknell and observed, "In our modern world science is playing an increasingly important role, and it is therefore a source of gratification to Bucknellians everywhere to have made available through the generosity of the F. W. Olin Foundation superior facilities for the teaching of chemistry, physics and mathematics in which fields Bucknell has always been outstanding."

Following the presentation ceremony, President Odgers conferred six honorary degrees:

On Leonard Wood Labaree, Doctor of Literature, Yale University. Professor, historian, author, editor of the Benjamin Franklin papers to comprise 25 to 30 volumes . . . "An historian whose penetrating insight into the forces operative in a free society has made him a recognized leader in a special field, honored at home and abroad . . ."

(Continued on Page 4)

Honorary degrees conferred at the F. W. Olin Science Building dedication exercises were awarded to (left to right): Dr. Raymond L. Wilder, University of Michigan; Dr. Leonard W. Labaree, Yale University; Dr. Robert B. Woodward, Harvard University; Dr. Roy G. Doggs '26, United States Army Medical Research Laboratory, Ft. Knox, Kentucky; Dr. Harold K. Schilling, Pennsylvania State University; and Dr. John C. Warner, President of the Carnegie Institute of Technology.

HILDRETH SPEAKS AT DORMITORY DEDICATION

The United States ambassador to Pakistan, Dr. Horace A. Hildreth, formerly president of Bucknell (1949-1953) and now trustee of the University, presented an inspiring, first-hand report on United States-Pakistan social, cultural, and political relationships at the dedication service of the James S. Swartz Hall at Bucknell, Saturday, October 15. Dr. Hildreth spoke to an overflow audience in the lounge of the new $750,000 dormitory for Freshman men.

The ambassador remarked to assembled guests, friends and parents on hand for the Seventeenth Annual Dad's Day program, that in Pakistan, as elsewhere abroad, people think the United States has so much money it is glad to "throw it away." In illustration, Dr. Hildreth cited the president of a small college who complained that large universities received the bulk of United States aid with smaller colleges given only token assistance. When Dr. Hildreth protested that help to everyone was not practicable, he was shocked to hear the reply, "But everyone knows the United States has so much money it is glad to get rid of it." The former president of Bucknell recalled that moment as the only instance of his anger in diplomatic position. Though his concern for undeveloped areas of the world is uppermost, Dr. Hildreth added that foreign peoples must learn that we work hard in the United States to attain what we have.

Dr. Paul L. Troast, H'52, University trustee of Passaic, N. J., declared that a chief objective of the Board of Trustees has been better housing for Bucknell students. Toward this goal, John Houghton Harris and Rush Kress '00 have made noteworthy gifts.

Dean Malcolm Musser '18 hoped that the building "will contribute to the moral, social, academic, and democratic development of the students."

Vice President and Director of Development, Dr. Dayton L. Ranck '16, profiled Dr. James S. Swartz for whom the building is named. "We must recognize that he made his contributions to Bucknell because of his interest in young people. He was determined that institutions should develop character."

Dr. Joseph W. Henderson paid tribute to Dr. Swartz in the dedicatory plaque unveiling ceremony. Dr. Henderson, chairman of the Board of Trustees observed: "Buildings do not make institutions—men and women make institutions." In urging students to build up class spirit, he emphasized "when you have a strong organization, it is hard to break it down."

Dr. James S. Swartz, a 47-year member of the Bucknell Board of Trustees and Board chairman for 14 years, died in 1931 at the age of 91. From proceeds of real estate gifts, principally Fairfax County, Virginia, lands, Bucknell has realized in excess of $1,000,000. The final parcel of land sale was made last year. In the plaque inscription, the tribute concludes with the words "in recognition of his devotion to the University and of his high standards as a Christian gentleman."

The designation of the Freshman students dining room as John Houghton Harris Dining Hall memorializes a former Bucknell University Trustee and member of Bucknell's Second Century Development Committee. His death occurred in 1954. Mr. Harris' keen interest in the University was manifest by several large gifts to Bucknell.

After the morning dedicatory ceremonies, Dad's Day observance followed through the Bucknell-Temple (Bucknell won) (38-0) football game at Memorial Stadium, with dinner for students and parents at 6:30 in Davis Gymnasium. A special Dad's Day program at 8 P. M. afforded music, brief remarks and introductions of key University personnel as well as distinguished guests. Mr. Norman Klauder, president of the Fathers' Association, presided. A welcome by John Z. Jacoby '56, president of the Student-Faculty Congress, was followed by music of the Bucknell University Women's Glee Club directed by Professor Allen W. Flock of the Music Department. President of the University Merle M. Odgers spoke briefly before the presentation of the Booster Club plaque by Mr. John Hayes, Booster Club president, to Ralph A. Cooper, Esq., of New Castle. Mr. Cooper will head the Fathers' Association for the 1955-56 school year. He is the father of Jeanne E. Cooper, a senior in the education curriculum; his daughter Mrs. Ann Cooper Nixon received her Bucknell A.B. in 1951. After introductions by the master of ceremonies, the assembly heard the Men's Glee Club under the baton of Dr. Harold E. Cook. The entertainment was brought to a close by Mr. George Bailey '27, "The man with the photographic mind" who presented a program of recollection achievement and memory magic.

Olin Science Building

(Continued from Page 3)

On Ray Gilbert Dags, Doctor of Science. Bucknell University '26. Lieutenant Colonel in the United States Army Medical research laboratory at Fort Knox, Kentucky. Director of research in endocrinology and environmental physiology, author, editor . . . "He has been instrumental in achieving results of incalculable value to his country and mankind. Because his Alma Mater takes pride in his constructive accomplishments . . ."

On Harold Kistler Schilling, Doctor of Science. Pennsylvania State University. Physics professor, dean of the graduate school, author and Fellow of the American Physics Society . . . "Inspiring teacher and able administrator-representative of a great neighboring university . . ."

On John Christian Warner—Doctor of Science. Carnegie Institute of Technology. President. Member of General Advisory Committee to Atomic Energy Commission. Lecturer and recipient of chemistry awards. Member of learned societies . . . "Joining courageous conservatism with intelligent daring; combining learning with vitality and common sense, he ably directs the destinies of a great university."

On Raymond Louis Wilder, Doctor of Science. University of Michigan. Research professor of mathematics. Member of the Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton. Guggenheim Fellow. Author, lecturer . . . "Endowed with a ranging mind, original intellect; devoted to research and scholarship, he is a distinguished ornament of his profession."

On Robert Burns Woodward, Doctor of Science. Harvard. Chemistry Professor, industrial consultant, recipient of medals and prizes at home and abroad, researcher of antibiotics and alkaloids . . . "For his creative achievement and contribution to human welfare, Dr. Woodward stands preeminent. His research has illuminated the field of medical science and he has succeeded in welding theory and practice."

AMONG THE CLUBS

Luncheon Meetings Growing

Philadelphia is the latest club to add weekly alumni luncheons to its schedule of meetings. Beginning November 7, at 12:30 p. m., Philadelphia alumni and visitors are cordially urged to attend the luncheons to be held each Monday at the Hotel Adelphia, 13th and Chestnut Sts., Philadelphia.

San Francisco began a monthly luncheon program in October, and Metropolitan New York has been conducting successful monthly luncheons since last January.

Local area alumni, visiting Bucknellians and their friends, are cordially urged to attend any of the following weekly or monthly club luncheons and dinners:

PHILADELPHIA—Every Monday at 12:30 p. m., Hotel Adelphia, 13th and Chestnut Sts.

NEW YORK—Last Wednesday of each month at 12:15—Hotel Shelburne, 37th and Lexington. (Reservations required, phone Mrs. Copeland, Murray Hill 2-2505.)

PITTSBURGH—Every Thursday at 12:00 noon, Child's Restaurant, Fifth and Summerfield.

HARRISBURG—First Thursday of each month at 6:00 p. m., Harrisburg Y. M. C. A., Front and North Sts.

SCRANTON—Last Friday of each month at noon, Chamber of Commerce Building.

SAN FRANCISCO—First Tuesday at 12:15 p. m. Mayes Original Oyster House, 468 Pine St. (Reservations requested, call Harry Pierson, YUKON 2-4640.)

When visiting in the above mentioned cities, be sure to meet your Bucknell classmates and friends at the weekly and monthly meetings.

METROPOLITAN NEW YORK—The first annual freshman reception of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Metropolitan New York was held on September 8. Mrs. Amorita Sesinger Copeland, president of the club, conducted the meeting attended by over 100 entering freshmen and their parents and introduced the panel of present undergraduates, who then spoke briefly on phases of student life. Following a question and answer period, Buck Shott, alumni secretary, briefly presented a picture tour of the campus and university activities.

The program was conducted in the auditorium of the Esso Building, West 51st St., which was made available to the club through the kindness of the Esso organization.

Officers of the Metropolitan New York Club, besides Mrs. Copeland as president, include the following: Mrs. Robert Carlson (Claire Wynkoop '49), vice president; Robert Goldston, Esq. '49, second vice president; Fred A. Michel '41, third vice president; Sandra Whipple '54, secretary; Constance A. Jenrich, assistant secretary; Chester R. Leaber '19, treasurer.

PHILADELPHIA — The Philadelphia Bucknell Alumni Association, assisted by the South Jersey Club, held its annual "Splash" Party for incoming Freshmen at the Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary August 29. Guests were greeted by Gladys Murray and her committee in charge of registrations.

Our President Bob Dill greeted the incoming Freshmen and their parents, after a brief song and cheer session led by Vice President Herb Watson. The South Jersey President Bob Rink spoke briefly of the Jersey Club activities and then Buck Shott presented a splendid picture of Bucknell campus life. The group then divided into men's and women's panels led by Jim Tyson and Alice Roberts respectively.

Following the discussion period, guests had an opportunity to swim in Eastern's beautiful pool. Refreshments, in charge of the Bob Teters assisted by Allen Beck were served at the close of the program. Our thanks go to the 25 present students who so kindly assisted in answering questions and entertaining the incoming Freshmen.

BOB DILL '27, President

ROCKY MOUNTAIN—A round-up of Bucknellians was held at John Rishel's cabin in the Rockies near Georgetown, Colo., on August 28. John's cabin is located about 10 miles east of Loveland Pass on the Continental Divide, altitude 11,992. Does this top the records for elevation of club meetings?

Western informality was the order of the day, and guests answered the call with appetites sharpened by the mountain drive. After pot luck (Mrs. Hulley's pan full of fried chicken had quickly disappeared, along with Marguerite Rishel's delicious apple pie) a brief meeting was held during which John Rishel '15 reported upon his flying trip east when he visited the campus.

Newcomers welcomed were: Mead Abbott '48, now living in Denver; Laura Davis '55, a teacher at Kepner Jr. high school, where John is principal; and Sally Haven '55, a secretary with United Airlines. Prof. and Mrs. Karl K. Hulley '18 came over from Boulder, Colo. Albert J. Faraguna '50 and Mary Ann Chiesa Faraguna '49 drove over from Estes Park, Colo., with their three children.

Afternoon activities were many and varied. Some indulged in Izaak Walton's favorite sport; Art Rishel, from the Camp Carson Mountain and Cold Weather Training Command, and his friend Bob Hanson landed three trout in a short time. Youngsters busily explored John's acres, and investigated the entrance to a nearby abandoned gold mine. Ted Grosvenor '46, also a teacher at Kepner, and his wife went hiking in the hills. Target shooting attracted attention from our Annie Oak boys.

"The unequal'd combination of hill, stone and wood" in the "backbone of our hemisphere" as Wab Whitman so aptly described the Rocky Mountains in his specimen Days in America, plus congenial companions, added up to another memorable day in our club history.

ETHEL HERRICK—Edna '33, Secretary

NORTHERN NEW JERSEY In spite of the warring heat, the exhausting traffic, and the absence of many vacationing members, the Northern New Jersey club's August 29 picnic was a cool relaxing success. Cade's Pond in Denville helped many alumni, their children and friends to revel in some healthy and mellow swimming and fun. Totting heavy picnic bakets, battered bathing suits, and junior's "instruments" fifty families managed to outwit the wicked heat for a few precious hours that Saturday afternoon. Really old fashioned picnics complete with pickles and poison ivy are more fun than most of us dreamed.

With our first year "alone" looming over the alumni horizon, the New Jersey group is brightly enthusiastic and anxious about meeting Bucknellians past, present and future. Proof: The autumn season was inaugurated with a reception for entering Freshmen Sunday afternoon, September 11 at the Watchung Presbyterian Church in Montclair, N. J.

Attended by at least 130 future Bucknellians and their parents, the reception skipped along at a lively pace sparked by laughter as well as seriousness. After club President Dud Waldner welcomed the '59'ers, he announced the panel portion of the program which gave the Bucknellians-to-be an opportunity to become acquainted. With the informal panel and moderator as a sounding board, they questioned and listened for about an hour. This period seemed to leave both the Freshmen and their parents feeling more confident and at ease about approaching collegiate careers.

The men's panel was moderated by Dan Rothermel '38, vice-principal of Fairlawn High School, and Jim Izatt '56, Bob Landzettel '57, and Herb Kopp '56 were the speakers. The women's corner was conducted by Nancy Barnes '55, Peggy Maddock '56, and Vera Mazzaro '56. Before refreshments were served a prominent, active Bucknellian spoke some words of wisdom. Alumni Secretary "Buck" Shott talked to everyone briefly about the entering class and improvements on campus.

Considering this was a "first try", the Freshman Reception was truly a worthy and gratifying experience for Bucknellians old and new. If smiling faces and eager "thanks" are any indication of the future, we all can feel confident that the campus will continue to be led and enjoyed by healthy, intelligent young Americans.

Midst cheery candlelight and crispy fried chicken about forty Bucknellians gathered at the Friar Tuck in Cedar Grove, N. J. for the club's first '55 meeting. October 14th brought a rainy tropical surprise to Northern N. J. dousing residents and electricity. And we think we've earned the distinction of being the first alumni group to conduct an entire meeting with candles. With the pine-paneled rooms of Friar Tuck's Inn, a delicious feast, and lively gay people, who could possibly miss Robin Hood?

President Dud Waldner welcomed all and short reports were given by the secretary and the treasurer, Pete Weidenbacher. While coffee was cozily sipped our guest speaker, Prof. John Gold of the Bucknell math department, talked about "Bucknell's Heritage" and answered many thoughtful questions.

Dud announced that the next meeting would be a combined dinner affair at the Park Sheraton with the alumni clubs of New York, Long Island, and Westchester on February 9th. Getting to New York may not be half the fun, but there's an evening wrapped in enjoyment and memories waiting for you.

—JOAN JACOBSEN '52, Secretary

WILLIAMSPORT—About 60 alumni of Temple and Bucknell held a pre-game dinner and rally on the eve of Dad's Day, October 14.

George R. Walters '33 was general chairman and prepared a program that was carried out with typical Lycoming County enthusiasm. Doctor Eugene P. Bertin '17, master of ceremonies, introduced the speakers: Dr. Charles A. Sutliff, a graduate of Temple; Dr. E. W. Pangburn '15, the guest speaker of the evening, Mrs. Edward West (Mary Jane Marley) '46, president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Lycoming County, and Buck Shott, alumni secretary.

Committee chairmen assisting George R. Walters were John C. Decker, Esq. '36, planning committee and song leader; Mr. Raymond R. Rommelt '34, reception; and Miss Ida R. Heller '24, decorations. Mrs. West outlined the program schedule for the balance of the year which is to include a series of monthly luncheons or dinner sessions, the annual birthday banquet in the early Spring and a Bucknell family picnic to be held at the Cowan recreation center at Bucknell in the early Summer, and a reception for parents to be held prior to the opening of school in September, 1956.

(Continued on Page 8)

Temple-Bucknell Rally at Williamsport—Front Row (L. to R.)—Mrs. Edward (Mary Jane Marley) West, George R. Walters, Dr. Eugene P. Bertin, Dr. Edward W. Pangburn. Back Row—Edward West, Mrs. Louis L. Pearce, Dr. L. L. Pearce, Rev. Dr. Malcolm V. Musyana, Buck Shott.

BETTE SKOW

BU Beauty Featured in Sport

Bette Skow, the lovely young lady who rhymes with snow, is one of the very few college girls throughout the nation who have been chosen to compete in Sport magazine's annual Campus Queen contest. And, fortunately for Bucknell, Bette attends Bucknell.

A senior from Springfield, Pa. and Bucknell's head drum majorette for the past three years, Miss Skow's picture graces page five of the November issue of Sport. She is candidate No. 3 for the Campus Queen crown.

Bucknell students, especially the male population, think that Bette has all the qualifications for a campus queen. The young miss, who turns 21 this month, has beauty, brains, leadership ability and—of all things—an inclination toward athletics.

Bette's list of activities at Bucknell runs to almost every area open to female students and she's been on the Dean's Honor List every semester to date. As an "athlete," the brown-eyed coed is a three-year veteran of Bison girls basketball all-star team. As a high schooler, she once accounted for 32 of the 45 points scored by her basketball team.

Men's Intramurals

Although it is a bit late, it may be news to many of the Phi Kappa Psi alums to know that the Phi Psi's have been crowned 1954-55 Bucknell intramural champions. They can now claim temporary possession of the All-Year Trophy and the Dr. Edward W. Pangbura Trophy.

The Phi Psi's nosed out Delta Upsilon for the title by 20 points on the strength of four individual trophies and outstanding perform-

Strength of Grid Team Still Questionable After Three Contests

With one-third of the football season already a thing of the past, the 1955 Bucknell University grid combination was definitely a team with a number of possibilities, many good and a few bad.

The Bisons, with Coach Harry Lawrence at the helm for the ninth straight year, opened the campaign against Albright College, certainly the weakest team on a tough, nine-game slate. Playing somewhat under wraps, the Orange and Blue moved to a relatively easy 25-14 triumph. At the Hershey Chocolate Bowl, the following week, the Herd ran into a fired-up group of Gettysburg Bullets who carried Coach John Yovicsin off the field on their shoulders after rolling to a 27-6 win. Against the small but slick Bullets, Bucknell was far from impressive.

One week later, at Bethlehem, the Bisons came to life and extended a big Lehigh team almost to the breaking point before succumbing 27-20 in a contest that had 7,000 spectators sitting on the edges of their respective seats throughout most of the second half. Against the Engineers, the Herd looked like a team on the upgrade.

With three contests in the record books Coach Lawrence could list the Bison pros and cons, then look back a few weeks and call himself a prophet. On the plus side Bucknell could point with pride:

1. To an offense that had been able to generate power, especially on the ground.
2. To the line-bucking ability of fullback Bob Ford.
3. To the all-around play of quarterback Jimmy Stewart.

On the other side of the page, where an equal number of debits stood out in red ink, Lawrence found:

1. A line that, although spirited, was far from outstanding.
2. A general weakness on defense.
3. Injuries that hindered the development of the team's breakaway backs.

Bucknell's offense had been all that the coach expected. The Bisons rolled up the yards against Albright with relative ease and found the Lehigh line, rated stronger than Colgate's by Cornell coach Lefty James, far from a tough nut to crack. Although neither fast nor tricky, the Herd attack was a solid thing devised to grind out yardage with consistency.

Ford, a 200-pound senior from Collingswood, N. J., was well on the way to his greatest gridiron season at Bucknell. The 5-11 Bison Thunderbird, who hits like a Mack truck, was averaging almost four yards per carry despite the fact that he was a marked man on every play. Opponents gearing for Bucknell, prepared for Ford, and were still unable to halt the hard-hitting fullback. Against Lehigh, Ford carried the ball twice as many times as any other Bison back as he paced the Herd to three touchdown marches.

Stewart, a junior from Wayne, Pa., directed the Bisons to seven of their first eight touchdowns of the campaign, and also stood out as a defensive man and a punter. Against Lehigh he got off a fine 46-yard boot that hiked his punting average to 38.0 yards-per-try.

The Bison line, which could not claim one 1954 regular, improved during each of the first three contests. Mistakes of inexperience that were made against Albright, did not return in the Gettysburg fray. Against Lehigh there were still fewer errors. And never was there a lack of desire on the part of the Herd forwards. The question, however, was whether the Bucknell line would improve enough to stand up to the tough forward bastions featured by the stronger opponents on the latter part of the '55 grid slate.

Bucknell's defensive weaknesses, obvious against Gettysburg, diminished against Lehigh as the line began to jell. A continued resurgence by the forwards would allow Lawrence's four "umbrella" defenders to be more wary of the forward pass, a weapon that had been used effectively against the Herd in the early contests.

The injury bugaboo, one that threatens coaches and teams at all times, did not play favorites with the Orange and Blue. Chuck Wagner, a fleet halfback who ran the 100-yard dash in 9.8 seconds in prep school, suffered a shoulder separation during pre-season drills and was forced to sit out the first three contests. Bob Sierer, a Bison mainstay at halfback for the past two years, was slowed almost to a walk by the continued recurrence of a muscle pull.

As the Thundering Herd embarked on the latter two-thirds of the season it had one way to go, up, and that was the direction Harry Lawrence had in mind. The team was aggressive, with power in the backfield but few giants up front, and Harvard, Colgate and Miami were peeking out from under the next page of the calendar.

Basketball Squad Drills For 21-Game State, Hofstra Tourney

Despite the fact that footballs still fill the air at Memorial Stadium practice field, basketball stuck its foot into the athletic door at Bucknell this week when Coach Ben Kribbs' Bison hoopsters began drilling in Davis Gymnasium.

The Orange and Blue court squad, which should be much longer on height and depth this season, plays a 21-game slate and competes in the annual Hofstra Tournament at Hempstead, N. Y. from December 27-30.

ances in other sports. Phi Kappa Psi copped titles in soccer, wrestling, boxing and track.

DU, which grabbed the All-Year crown in 1952-53 and 1953-54, won championships in tennis, cross-country and softball.

In other sports, Sigma Alpha Mu was victorious in handball, SAE came out on top in bowling, Sigma Chi took basketball and Lambda Chi captured both volleyball and golf.

The Bisons are scheduled for nine contests on the campus.

The schedule:

Date	Opponent	Place
Sat., Dec. 3	Juniata	Lewisburg
Fri., Dec. 9	Colgate	Lewisburg
Wed., Dec. 14	Lehigh	Lewisburg
Dec. 27, 28, 29, 30	Hofstra Tournament	Hempstead, N. Y.
Sat., Jan. 7	Carnegie Tech	Pittsburgh
Wed., Jan. 11	Gettysburg	Lewisburg
Sat., Jan. 14	Lafayette	Easton
Wed., Jan. 18	Penn State	Lewisburg
Sat., Jan. 21	Muhlenberg	Allentown
Fri., Feb. 3	Hofstra	Hempstead, N. Y.
Sat., Feb. 4	Wagner	Staten Island, N. Y.
Wed., Feb. 8	Temple	Philadelphia
Sat., Feb. 11	Delaware	Lewisburg
Wed., Feb. 15	Penn State	University Park
Sat., Feb. 18	Gettysburg	Gettysburg
Tues., Feb. 21	Muhlenberg	Lewisburg
Fri., Feb. 24	Lafayette	Lewisburg
Sat., Feb. 25	Lehigh	Bethlehem
Wed., Feb. 29	Franklin and Marshall	Lancaster
Fri., Mar. 2	Colgate	Hamilton, N. Y.
Sat., Mar. 3	Rochester	Rochester, N. Y.
Wed., Mar. 7	Albright	Lewisburg

All home games at 8:30 p. m.

Pool Next Step in Second Century Development

Architect's drawing shows proposed swimming pool as a third wing (at right) of Davis Gymnasium. It is hoped that the front of the gymnasium may be added at some future date.

Construction of a swimming pool at Bucknell University, the gift of two trustees of the university, is expected to start this fall, with completion scheduled by next September. The pool will be made possible by the generosity of A. Guy Freas of Tenafly, N. J., and Robert L. Rooke '13, of Westfield, N. J., who have donated the necessary funds.

Mr. Freas, the father of two recent Bucknell graduates, made a substantial contribution last year towards the cost of the pool and he and Mr. Rooke have volunteered to provide the remainder of the amount that will be needed.

J. Frederick Larson, Bucknell's architect, is completing working plans for the pool, based on conferences with the director of physical education and other officials who have made an extensive survey in order to determine the type of pool which will best serve the University's 2,000 students.

This survey has included visits to a number of colleges at which pools have been put into operation recently, in order to study the relative advantages and disadvantages of each.

After the working plans have been approved by the donors and cost figures obtained, the contract will be let as soon as possible.

The pool, which will be available for both men and women students of the University, will form a third wing of the present Davis Gymnasium. A second wing was added to the back of the building this summer in the form of a field house, which will be used temporarily for chapel purposes.

Ralph E. Jones '50 Establishes The Richardson Memorial

Former students of our beloved Professor, C. H. Richardson, continue to express their appreciation for the contribution he made not only to their college training but to the high ideals which were so much a part of his teaching.

Ralph E. Jones, A.B. '50, M.A. '51, a former student and now a professor of mathematics at Valley Forge Military Academy, decided to do something concrete to memorialize his close association and friendship with Doctor Richardson. During his attendance at Bucknell, Ralph studied all of the courses that Doctor Richardson offered. He also had the opportunity to serve as an assistant in the mathematics department while doing his graduate work.

How Mr. Jones came to establish the Richardson Memorial Award at Valley Forge Military Academy bears testimony to Doctor Richardson's great teaching and counselling, and can best be told by quoting directly from Ralph E. Jones as follows:

"I have been teaching in the secondary school at Valley Forge since 1951, and I can truthfully say that few days pass that I do not draw upon the lessons that I learned in Dr. Richardson's classroom. Naturally, you don't teach integral calculus and advanced statistics to high school students, but many of the finest lessons I learned from this gentleman were not concerned with mathematics. By his genial manner and gentle humor, he taught a profound philosophy of how to live and teach.

"When Professor Richardson passed away this spring, I wanted to make some gesture that would perpetuate his memory as a teacher and a friend. When I suggested establishing an annual prize in mathematics, our Superintendent, General Milton Baker, was congenial to the idea. The award will be made to that student of our graduating class who has attained the highest average in mathematics during his second and first class years. A carved wooden plaque, now in preparation, will be placed in Shannon Hall, our main

The Foundation for Independent Colleges, Inc., of Pennsylvania, of which Bucknell is a member, has reported that 133 contributions for a total of $172,340 were received during the fiscal year 1954-55. These figures represented a 46% increase in contributions and a 177% increase in dollars over the previous year.

The net results of this annual solicitation of business and industry are apportioned among the 38 member colleges in three ways. One-third of the total is divided equally; one-third is divided on the basis of enrollment; one-third is divided on the basis of a formula that is influenced by the individual college's ability to help itself through contributions from alumni and friends.

During the three years that the Foundation has been in operation, Bucknell has received a total of $6,948.99 and it is interesting to note the progress made during that period by the fact that Bucknell's receipts from this source have more than doubled each year. The first year Bucknell received $718.82; the second, $1,639.89 and last year, $4,590.28.

academic building, and will bear the following inscription:

"In Memory of Clarence H. Richardson, Ph.D., Professor of Mathematics at Bucknell University 1928-1955.

"Each year a brass plate will be affixed to the plaque bearing the name of that year's winner. The award for 1955 was made to Cadet Harvey Habib, a student from Havana, Cuba.

"I am grateful for an opportunity to thank Bucknell and those who taught me there."

Bucknell salutes alumnus Jones who recognizes the benefits he received from the University and from one of her greatest teachers.

The Class of 1955 Elects Alumni Officers

In selecting Alumni officers, the Class of 1955 has made provision for a continuous round of class activities rather than the usual "once-in-five-years" program. Following the pattern of the past few years, a full staff of leaders was elected. We predict great results from the Class of 1955.

The Class of 1955 Alumni president is Joseph English, Williamsport; vice president is Martha Jones, McKeesport; secretary, Betsy Bice, Wilmington, Del.; treasurer, Rich Klaber, Pittsburgh; and class reporter, Jane Jones, Philipsburg.

The class fund manager, Stuart Bean, Addison, N. Y., will be aided in his work by the following assistants: Jan Bayreuther, Chatham, N. J.; John Chironna, Westfield, N. J.; Joy Cooper, Willow Grove; Margery Cuff, Floral Park, N. Y.; Sue Fleming, Reading; Roy Gavert, Pittsburgh; Diane Johnson, Lewisburg; Martha Jones, McKeesport; Marian Kennedy, Frederick, Md.; Rich Klaber, Pittsburgh; George Klauder, Philadelphia; Claire Marshall, Port Washington, N. Y.; Tom Miller, Painesville, Ohio; Marion Minker, Baltimore, Md.; Ed Mizma, Hilton, N. Y.; Ruthmary Ragsdale, Silver Spring, Md.; Frank Richardson, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Rich Richter, Scarsdale, N. Y.; Dale Steinmetz, Ardmore; and Ed Titus, Andover, N. J.

The Reunion Committee chairman selected is Donald Clark, Pittsfield, Mass., who will be assisted by these area committee members: Polly Told, Swarthmore; Mary Anne MacFain, Pittsburgh; Harold P. Dillon, Bloomsburg; Richard Johnson, Plainfield, N. J., and Ardis Hinkle, Newark, Del.

Bucknellians Abroad

We of Bucknell are the possessors of a family bond which time and distance cannot erase. While traveling in Europe this summer, Rhoda Wolf, a senior from Philadelphia, met two Bucknellians who, despite many years, still retain our friendly "Hello" spirit. It was during the few days spent in Oslo, Norway, that she met Mrs. Mahel Slom Wecker '09. She was touring the famous park in which are Vigeland's famous statues. Hearing a friendly voice, she turned, and as usual they began to discuss the weather (rainy like Bucknell); nevertheless, they soon discovered that both were Bucknellians.

Another Bucknellian met over an English milk shake "whipsy" and hamburger "wimpy" was Eugene Gaier '47, who is currently a college psychology professor at Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge, La. However, not forgetting his Bucknell ties, he corresponds regularly with our Dr. Philip L. Hariman, head of our department of psychology. Small world . . . etc.

AMONG THE CLUBS

(Continued from Page 5)

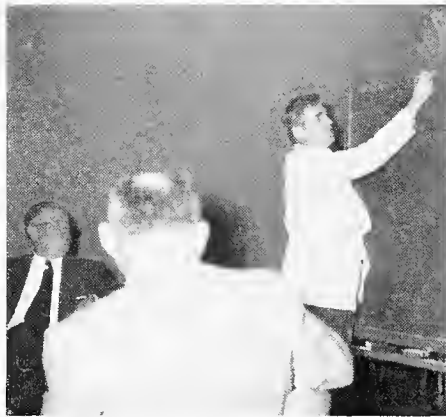

HARRISBURG—The first fall dinner meeting of the Harrisburg Bucknell Club was held on Thursday, October 6 at the Y. M. C. A. President Jack Miller opened the meeting by asking Mr. Saylor to give the invocation. Twenty-three members were present.

After dinner, Bruce Butt presented his information report concerning the present activities taking place at Bucknell, as well as the current news of Bucknell Alumni.

Dr. Eugene P. Bertin introduced our speaker, Mr. David T. Stafford, director of research of the P. S. E. A., who presented a research synopsis as applied not only to education, but to life in general. His topic was followed by a film, "Johnny Keystone's School Report."

A discussion period followed Mr. Stafford's presentation.

—NORMA GOTWALT '52, Secretary.

SHAMOKIN-MT. CARMEL—About 40 alumni and parents met at the Penn Lee Hotel, Shamokin, on October 12 to hear Dr. Harold W. Heine, professor of chemistry at Bucknell, present his illustrated address on The Tetanus Research Program Conducted at The University. Buck Shott, alumni secretary, in brief remarks urged alumni in the region to become active in the student selection program now being operated in a number of alumni club areas.

Francis F. Reamer, Esq. '21, president of the Shamokin Club, presided at the dinner and introduced the other officers: Shamokin—Mrs. Emery Erdman (Gladys Emerick '23), vice-president; Miss Irene Fritz '19, secretary.

Mt. Carmel—Harry W. Jones '23, president; Frank S. Bartosawicz '23, vice-president; Mrs. Harry W. Jones (Elizabeth Moore '24), secretary-treasurer.

WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA—Again, Western Pennsylvania Bucknellians responded to the call and on Sunday, September 11, revisited the rolling country acres of Mr. and Mrs. J. Norman Davies '26 to attend the annual Alumni picnic. Norm's farm has become the traditional locale of this perennial affair and quite probably, our members turn out with continued enthusiasm because of the amiable atmosphere created by the genial host and the ever gracious Mrs. Davies.

A reception for entering Freshmen from the area and their parents was as usual the festive theme and a number of "greenies" and their parents enjoyed their first brush with the Bucknell Way-of-Life.

Fitz R. Walling '46, assistant director of admissions, most willingly and obligingly drove down from the campus to meet the incoming students. Informal discussions enlightened them generally on things to come.

Conversation and the exchange of newsy items were sub-themes of the day as the afternoon wore gayly on.

Due to the industry of Floyd L. Arbogast, Jr. '40, our vice president and picnic chairman, all were well fed, well entertained and well rewarded for attending.

Time ebbed, but not the spirit as Ole Sol faded, causing retreat at a reasonable hour. Many thanks to those who appeared and to those whose efforts contributed to a most delightful occasion.

—GEORGE J. MILLER '48, President

WESTCHESTER—About 75 alumni and friends of Bucknell University met September 8 in a combined freshman reception-charter night party of the new Bucknell Alumni Club of Westchester. Mr. John F. Zeller, III, assistant to the President of Bucknell, extended greetings on behalf of the University and presented the charter to the newly organized group. William Wilkinson, president, accepted the charter for the club and welcomed the new Bucknellians from the area and their parents. After a brief business meeting, discussion groups were organized and led by current students giving the new Bucknellians a little preview of THE BUCKNELL WAY OF LIFE. Afterwards, refreshments were served.

The Westchester Club is planning a dinner-with-speaker meeting around mid-November and expects to participate with the other New York metropolitan area clubs in the annual Bucknell birthday party early February. Bucknellians in the area who have not been receiving announcements of this new club's activities are urged to get in touch with William Wilkinson, Two Cowles Avenue, Rye, New York.

—WILLIAM M. WILKINSON '46, President

SYRACUSE—Our fall meeting of the Syracuse Alumni Club was held on September 16 at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest S. Cramer '38. Our president, Cal Sholl '46, presided with 16 people present. Robert Engels '49, Rome, N. Y., came the farthest distance.

It was decided that we have three Alumni meetings this year: this being the first meeting; the second being our February dinner meeting at Martin's Restaurant; and the third being a picnic in the spring.

There are four freshman students entering Bucknell this year from this area. We are going to invite them and their parents to our February dinner meeting.

After the business meeting, a pleasant social hour followed with delicious refreshments served by Rene and Ernie Cramer. We appreciated their opening up their attractive home for our meeting.

—MOLLIE WOEWHLING '47, Secretary

Engineers to Meet November 5

From time to time over the past year references to the proposed formation of an organization of Bucknell engineers, similar to the highly successful "Doctors for Bucknell" which has been functioning for some time, have appeared in various University publications. The prime purpose of the proposed engineering organization is the advancement of the program at Bucknell, particularly by means of interesting industrial concerns, foundations, and others in providing additional equipment, scholarships, research fellowships and grants, and numerous other aids which will enlarge, strengthen, and enrich the work of the engineering department.

The initial impetus of this movement was provided by several prominent Bucknell engineering graduates, led by Dr. Earl M. Richards EE'13, and Dr. Lester E. Lighton ME'20, as well as other Bucknellians, such as Dr. Bruce J. Miller '27, who, although not enrolled in the engineering courses while undergraduates, work in that field and are vitally interested in the welfare of the engineering program.

Upon taking up his duties in the newly established position of Director of Engineering, Admiral Ernest M. Eller conferred with the group already active in promoting the much needed organization. Plans now have crystallized to the extent that informal meetings of interested persons have been held in the New York and the Philadelphia areas. To present the possibilities, a dinner meeting has been arranged for Homecoming evening, November 5 in the cafeteria of the fine new James S. Swartz Hall.

All Bucknell engineering alumni are urged to attend and, as far as possible, are being especially invited by means of letters, with enclosed reservation forms. Attendance is not limited to engineering alumni only, as wives, husbands, friends, and, in fact, anyone interested in the project, is invited to attend. Paid in advance reservations are necessary. Anyone not receiving reservation forms may obtain them by contacting the Chairman, Engineering Homecoming Committee, Engineering Building, Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa. Please let us know early.

REMEMBER ENGINEERS FOR BUCKNELL DINNER

PLACE—James S. Swartz Hall Cafeteria
TIME—6:30 p. m., Saturday, November 5
YOU BE THERE

Air Age Education at Bucknell

The Air Age Education Workshop is a full-time post-session summer course. It is designed for school teachers who plan to teach aviation subjects or form aviation clubs.

The picture shows a group of workshop members on a field trip at Olmsted Field, Middletown, where they were shown jet engine assembly and types of military aircraft.

The workshop also uses an airplane based at Lewisburg to make flights to other points of aviation interest.

Major Harwood J. Rhodes, AFR, a member of the Bucknell Class of 1940, (left on picture) served his fourth year as teacher of the Air-Age group. During World War II, he was a Flying Fortress pilot and director of combat crew ground training at an Eighth Air Force base in England.

CLASS REPORTS

EMERITUS CLUB

The Class of 1898 and Bucknell University were sorry to learn of the death of Dr. J. G. Lauderbaugh in Washington, Pa., on June 5. He had served in the active ministry for 40 years and served as a supply pastor for about 20 years.

Sympathy is extended to those who survive.

Ruth Sprague Downs, Narberth, was initiated into membership of the Phi Beta Kappa chapter at Bucknell University on May 23. She was graduated from Bucknell in 1898 and received a master's degree in 1899. A former high school teacher and principal, Mrs. Downs became interested in Braille as a result of experience as a reader for university students at the Overbrook School for the Blind and in 1953 was cited as a "Distinguished Daughter of Pennsylvania."

Word was received that Hattie Walter Bigler who was in the Institute Class of 1893, passed away March 19. Sympathy is extended to the members of her family.

Word was received that Phillip B. Wolfe '90 died July 27, at the age of 85 years. Mr. Wolfe, a Lewisburg resident for many years, had been in ill health for the past five years. Sympathy is extended to his cousins and friends.

After spending the season at Chautauqua, Dr. Andrew R. E. Wyant '92 returned to his summer home in Clarion, where he addressed (for the tenth time) the Kiwanis Club of Clarion. On October 20, he represented the Reedsburg Baptist Church, where he was baptized in 1885, at the Pennsylvania Baptist Convention in New Castle. Andy is probably the "travelling-est" and busiest "retired" Bucknellian. Any other nominations?

01 Mr. J. C. HIGGINS
106 S. Fourth St.
Lewisburg, Penna.

We were saddened to learn of the death of Miss S. Elsie Bentz of York, last July. After a long career in teaching, Miss Bentz, for the past few years, had served as housekeeper for her brother, Mr. Abner D. Bentz '02. Throughout the years, she maintained close ties with the University and regularly supplied the Library with subscriptions to several of her favorite periodicals for the benefit of the student body.

02 MRS. SARAH JUDD SHIELDS
(Sarah Judd)
79 University Avenue
Lewisburg, Penna.

We are sorry to report the death on August 16 of Abner D. Bentz in Carlisle. Abner, who lived with his sister, Miss S. Elsie Bentz '01, until her death just a short time ago, was busier than most "retired" members of our class. He served as district superintendent of the International Correspondence School for 42 years, and after his retirement, continued his active interest in his church and in his musical activities. He is survived by a son, William J. Bentz, Norristown and a granddaughter to whom the heartfelt sympathies of his classmates and the University are extended.

Lives of Danger and Daring, is the title of the new book written by Dr. Lewis E. Theiss '02, Bucknell professor emeritus, and published by W. W. Wilde Company, Boston. Nine contemporary events dealt with by Dr. Theiss in the 278-page volume include: scaling of Mount Everest; charting and plotting of hurricanes by Navy weather planes; story of Capt. Kurt Carlson and the Enterprise; adventures of news cameramen; spelunkers' underground cave explorers; firefighters who parachute into blazing forest fires; men on lightships whose job is to guide shipping; and the bombing of Japan as carried out by Gen. James Doolittle and his crew.

05 DR. LEWIS C. HYLBERT
435 Drake Ave.
Upland, Calif.

Joseph S. Bittenbender's son, Joseph Bostwick Bittenbender, graduated from the University of Pennsylvania Medical College in June—and is now located in the Harrisburg Hospital.

Edith Kelly Fetherston, in honor of the 50th reunion of her class, has created and endowed an art prize for the Bucknell senior producing the most outstanding work of creative art. The income from the endowment of one thousand dollars will be awarded each Commencement.

06 MR. WILLIAM L. DONEHOWER
22 N. Fifth Street
Lewisburg, Penna.

A roving jurist for the past nine years, Judge Frederick V. Follmer assumed a permanent judgeship in the U. S. Middle District court on May 31, 1955. He attended ceremonies in Scranton which honored Judge Albert L. Watson, retiring chief judge of the Middle District. Judge Follmer will maintain his headquarters at Lewisburg.

Dr. Harold N. Cole has recently retired from active medical practice and as professor at Western Reserve Medical School, Cleveland, O. Doctor and Mrs. Cole, former Hazel L. Knapp, both in the Class of '06, are looking forward to attending the fiftieth anniversary reunion in 1956.

Romain C. Hassrick is secretary of the Sigma Chi fraternity foundation which is a beneficent, charitable, educational foundation not for profit and which concerns itself basically with improvement of scholarship in the fraternity.

07 DR. LEO L. ROCKWELL
Colgate University
Hamilton, N. Y.

By a natural mistake the retirement of Mark Baldwin '11 from the Riverdale School was included in the 1907 class notes in the September ALUMNUS, probably because this reporter noted the story in the New York Times and sent it in. We apologize to the class of 1911 for seeming to have tried to kidnap one of its most brilliant members.

Two more members of our class have crossed the Great Divide. Peter Garfield Cober, known to the family as Garfield, and to the class as Pete, died at Somerset July 20 of uraemic poisoning in his seventy-fifth year.

After attendance at the Somerset County Normal School at Berlin and the California State Teachers College, and some years of teaching, he entered Bucknell to take a pre-law course. He was active in class affairs, being a member of the football team and elected sophomore class president. He became a member of the Demosthenean Club (later affiliated with Delta Upsilon Fraternity).

After graduation he entered the law school of the University of Pittsburgh and was granted the degree of LL.B. in 1912. He began the practice of law in Somerset and continued there until his death. He was twice elected by large majorities to the office of District Attorney of the county. He also served for some years in the Pennsylvania National Guard, and was active in educational work during World War I.

Always loyal to his college and his class, he was a contributor to the Alumni Fund from the year of its establishment and whenever possible attended the class reunions, his last having been that of 1952.

Garfield was a member of an old Somerset-Bucknell family. Following his uncle, the Rev. Dr. Alvin A. Cober '96 and his brother Emmanuel "Cappy" Cober '98, he was followed by Mrs. Leo L. Rockwell '07 (Vera Cober '11), Albert Cober '13, the Rev. Dr. Kenneth Cober '24, Mrs. Preston Crane (E. Jean Cober '46) and Mrs. Jack Hepfer (Ellen Cober '50).

He is survived by his widow, the former Ida Cook of Meyersdale, whom he married in 1918.

Word has been received also of the death on January 15, 1955, of Annie Martha Alexander Stibgen. Although Mrs. Stibgen did not remain with us until graduation, and although her home was in Seattle and later in other communities in the State of Washington, so that she did not get back to class reunions, we remember her and extend our warm sympathy to her husband, Barr S. Stibgen, in his loss.

08 MRS. JOHN MATHIAS
(Margaret M. Pangburn)
202 St. Louis St.
Lewisburg, Penna.

Our class and Bucknell lost a true friend and loyal alumna with the death on Sept. 10 of Mrs. Helen Tiffany Blake-more.

Widowed twice, Helen reared a fine family and attained recognition in her career as a teacher of high school mathematics. After her retirement from Reading Senior High School in 1949, she continued serving young people on the staff of the Children's Home of Harrisburg. Last June she retired from that position and returned to Honesdale.

Surviving are three children: Judson T. Shaplin, Cambridge, Mass.; Mrs. Gilbert Zimmerman, Harrisburg and Chief Petty Officer, William T. Blakemore, Sanford, Fla.

We probably all know that Clyde Hosterter had to undergo an operation amputating his leg. On May 9th after an absence of nine months from home, Clyde and his wife Ida landed in Winter Park, Fla., where the ladies of Dale Avenue welcomed them, lassoing Clyde with a lei and bestowing it with salutations appropriate to the homecoming occasion. Clyde says, "This proves that one can rate a lei without visiting Hawaii."

Clyde is still doing some consulting work and writes a report now and then; he also is using woodworking tools making patterns for a possible new product.

All members of 1908 class wish more power to Clyde in his marvelous spirit.

Our good friend Walter Noll had a stroke a year ago from which he is gradually recovering. Walter and Mary are living at St. Cloud, Fla., and are planning to stay throughout the year. Speedy recovery is the wish of us all for Walter.

A note from Elsie Owens Long tells of the death of her husband, Dr. William W. Long, last February 14. We extend our deepest sympathy to Elsie on her loss.

09 MRS. HOWARD L. HEADLAND
(Sarah E. Walters)
3911 First Avenue North
St. Petersburg 3, Florida

Now is the time to come to Florida. Everything here including the water is fine. If and when you do come, please don't pass us by but stop for a chat. See address above.

We were grieved to learn of the death early this spring of Dix D. Colvin, husband of Katherine E. Heinen.

Another of our classmates, one of the athletes in our class, Eugene L. Martin, died July 15, in Carlisle. Eugene, obligated by his father's death to leave the University after one year, became a newspaper reporter in Franklin and later joined the staff of the Philadelphia North American. For a time he worked as special reporter for stories about the famous Carlisle Indian School football team, Jim Thorpe and Pop Warner. In 1915, he entered the securities business, and at the time of his death, he was resident manager in Carlisle for Eastman, Dillon & Company. He is survived by his daughter, Kathleen M. Martin, assistant manager of Eastman, Dillon in Carlisle to whom the heartfelt sympathies of the class and the University are extended.

10 MISS MILDRED B. CATHERS
100 W. 33 St., Apt. 6
Bayonne, N. J.

Another of our 1910ers, Cameron A. Butt, retired last spring from his position as chief estimator in the mechanical engineering division of Esso Refinery at Rahway, N. J., after 31 years and 7 months of service. His friends at "Esso" honored him with a farewell dinner and with a souvenir booklet depicting the highspots of his career.

Gardening at his home, 1068 Mt. Vernon Rd., Union, N. J., active membership in a Masonic Lodge and in American Legion East Orange Post 73, should keep him busy and happy. Best wishes to "Cy", one time Bucknell track captain, and his wife, the former Edna Follmer '22, for all the joys of retirement.

We are pleased to announce the appointment of Homer D. Kresge, 64 Main Ave., Ocean Grove, N. J., as class fund manager. Weaver W. Pangburn, who has served long and well as leader of our fund raising efforts, has established a fine record of annual giving of which many classmates can be proud. Under Weaver's guidance our record has risen from 18 contributors (20% of participation) in the first full year of the Bucknell Alumni Fund to 31 contributors (37% of participation) in the 1954-55 year. In each year our Class of 1910 has exceeded the percentage for the general alumni group. Thank you, Weaver, for your reminders. Now let's all get back of Homer's efforts and show him that we can reach at least 50% of participation this year.

12 MRS. H. W. HOUSEKNECHT
(Maze Callahan)
108 W. Penn Street
Muncy, Penna.

In late summer the newspapers print such items "What the Coed Needs"— wardrobe, luggage, furnishings for her room as matching end tables to be used near her favorite chairs, floor lamps, draperies to harmonize with the rug, nests of ash trays, etc. It always gives me such a laugh and at the same time it brings back memories of 47 years ago, when we entered Bucknell.

I think it would be interesting to this generation to know how we lived at the Gen for 4 years. Each girl had a trunk which contained her worldly possessions. I can still see the expressman carrying them to the various rooms for 50 cents. In this trunk were a few pictures for the wall, photographs of our loved ones, a B. U. pennant, chafing dish, couch cover used to adorn the trunk for seating purposes, bed linen, towels, extra blanket, dresser scarf, a couple of sofa pillows, then all our clothes until Thanksgiving.

The girls wore skirts and shirtwaists with high stiff collars, a bow stretched across the front as a tie. We also wore Pete Thompson suits with the regulation sailor collars both in cotton and wool, high shoes, long underwear, one coat and hat for classes, maybe one sweater, a better outfit for Sunday. The men wore suits, high buttoned shoes, sometimes a shirt and tie, but most of the time turtle-neck jerseys.

Our day began with a rising bell at 6:45. A little old janitor walked through the hall performing this duty. Breakfast was at 7:15, classes at 8:00, study periods in the library, lunch 12:30, and classes in the afternoon which ended around 4:00. Then we were allowed to walk down town, look over the situation, back for dinner at 5:45. That's the last breath of air we got till the next morning. Two or three times a week for dinner we changed our school clothes for a simple dress. After dinner we went to the old gymnasium to dance with the girls. Chapel at 6:45—after this we went to our rooms to study (undisturbed) till 9:00. As soon as we reached our rooms we put on a nightgown, kimono and slippers. Lights out at 9:30.

Our rooms were very meagerly furnished. A wall bed, dresser, rug, table and one chair. A light hung from the ceiling. We bought our own curtains for the windows; also a rocking chair.

We were allowed to have so many pieces in the laundry. On Saturday we could go to the laundry to wash, iron, and press our clothing. We washed our handkerchiefs in the bowl in the bathroom, then pasted them on the windows to dry. Dry cleaners did not do a rushing business.

Saturday evening was calling night. If you had a date, the maid would bring a card to your room. You would walk down the stairs, grab your man and enter the large parlor which contained several settees. If you were lucky enough to be first you would turn your sofa to the wall and proceed to hold hands. If you were a trifle late, you sat on straight chairs the entire evening. At the appointed hour of 10:00 dear old Tommy Edwards would come to the door and say "Gentlemen, I hope you have had a pleasant evening." The fellows shuffled their feet and departed.

No one displayed too much cash. Our tuition, books, food, clothing, and shelter were paid. On Saturday morning, if we were fortunate enough not to have an 8:00 class, we slept in. Later we went down to Mrs. Huth's for breakfast. She was a kind lady around 50, who had a tea room. She would serve us two eggs on toast with an extra slice of toast, buttered too, a cup of coffee for $1.5.

The big social function of the year was the college girls' reception in March. This was held in the chapel, of course, decorated in quite a festive manner. All the girls had evening gowns, some with trains. The boys wore tails, some owned, some borrowed, some rented. As I said most of the girls wore long underwear, so we were not allowed, according to our parents, to remove them entirely, so we cut out the neck, the sleeves off at the shoulders, the legs at the knees.

There were 133 when we entered in 1908. As far as we know, 39 have passed away. The rest of us to my knowledge are rugged and handsome, no aches nor pains, all taking vitamins, all "raring" to get ready for our 45th Reunion in 1957.

13 MR. CHARLES L. SANDERS
76 Walnut Street
Mifflinburg, Penna.

After a period of temporary illness C. Baker Bernhart reports satisfactory improvement and resumption of work again. This is good news to all classmates. He hopes to be in Lewisburg for Homecoming. "Bake's" address is 1042 W. Market St., York, Penna.

Writing of his change of pastorate from Clarion, to the Waring Baptist Church, in Rochester, N. Y., George Haines tells of his new parish: "The Waring Baptist is a New Frontier church." A native of Winfield, George added that when he gets around to retirement he and Mrs. Haines may come back to Lewisburg to live for the 100 mark. A grand idea, Rev. George!

Just one day before deadline your reporter enjoyed a pleasant afternoon call from Delinda Potter. With a friend from her town, Centre Hall, she was enjoying an autumn drive into Union County, home of Bucknell, Alma Mater of us all. Delinda is a loyal Bucknellian, living almost in the shadow of Penn State. Next best thing to a call is a letter from each of you.

Leslie Stout has not been up to physical par for a year or more, result of surgery. Though handicapped and incapacitated to a degree, "Les" could still pen a cheerful note to Marwood Glover telling of his hope to join classmates at Commencement time in '56.

The November issue being the last before the holidays, though writing this account in early October, your reporter greets you with his wishes for a Merry Christmas and hale and hearty health to all.

16 REV. ERIC A. OESTERLE
114 East 183 Street
New York, New York

(Editor's Note)

As you see by the heading of this column, the Rev. Eric A. Oesterle has agreed to serve as class reporter to replace Mrs. George Stevenson (Amy Patterson) who is not well enough to continue her task as class reporter. Eric will appreciate your news notes sent him to the above address. All news will be appreciated, but let's make next issue a special report on grandchildren. Just send Eric a post card listing your score in the grandchild derby.

We received some news from Ruth Williams, wife of Albert J. Hamlin '15. She now has eight grandchildren, including three Brazilian granddaughters. Those grads interested write 120 Weldy Avenue, Oreland, Penna.

17 MRS. ERLE M. TOPHAM (C. Ray Speare)
425 West Sedgwick Street
Philadelphia 19, Penna.

In answer to my letter to Fountain Burlew, I received the sad news that he had passed away on July 27, 1955. I have extended the sympathy of our class to his widow who was kind enough to answer my letter. After leaving Bucknell, Fountain graduated in dentistry from the Uni-

(Continued on Page 23)

SUMMARY OF GIFTS TO THE UNIVERSITY FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1955

	ALUMNI FUND		CAPITAL AND OTHER GIFTS		TOTAL GIFTS
	Number Giving	Amount Given	Number Giving	Amount Given	Number Giving	Amount Given
Alumni	3,325	$33,819.96	*	$ 365,039.56	3,325	$ 398,859.52
Bison Club			234	2,517.00	234	2,517.00
TOTAL ALUMNI GIVING	3,325	$33,819.96	234	$ 367,556.56	3,559	$ 401,376.52
Parents			271	13,172.50	271	13,172.50
Friends	11	327.50	148	188,636.55	159	188,964.05
Faculty	38	423.75	91	2,000.00	129	2,423.75
Foundations			25	1,141,395.28	25	1,141,395.28
Corporations			36	26,195.00	36	26,195.00
	3,374	$34,571.21	805	$1,738,955.89	4,179	$1,773,527.10
Less duplication of credits due to contributions of Bucknellians on Faculty being listed under "Alumni" and "Faculty."	36	411.75	38	1,067.50	74	1,479.25
TOTAL GIFTS	3,338	$34,159.46	767	$1,737,888.39	4,105	$1,772,047.85

*These donors are included in Column I "Alumni Fund—Number Giving."

ACCORDING TO PURPOSE:

Unrestricted Gifts	$ 74,366.99
Endowment Funds	223,906.38
Scholarships	11,190.00
Grants for Research, etc.	5,300.00
Taylor Hall Rebuilding	52,780.00
F. W. Olin Science Building	902,425.00
James S. Swartz Dormitory for Men	322,294.00
Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library	3,558.55
Christian Association (Cowan Lodge)	16,772.39
Swimming Pool	159,454.54
Total Gifts	$1,772,047.85

CONTRIBUTORS 1954-1955

Gifts Received from July 1, 1954 to June 30, 1955

The following is a list of the names of ALUMNI, FACULTY, FRIENDS, and PARENTS who made contributions to the University during the SEVENTH FUND YEAR 1954-1955. Names of PARENTS who contributed to the FATHERS' LOYALTY FUND are listed on page 21.

As a result of their generosity the funds have reached a total beyond any previous year! This report is dedicated to these "Bucknell Partners" in the hope that they will be accorded some measure of the recognition they so richly deserve.

Extreme care has been taken with the preparation of these lists, but some errors and omissions are inevitable. It will be greatly appreciated if you will bring such errors to the attention of the ALUMNI OFFICE. Gifts received since July 1, 1955, will be credited to the Eighth Fund and the donors' names will appear on the Eighth Fund list, to be published in November 1956. The numbers in parentheses following the names of givers indicate the number of years of continuous giving. Bucknell's endowment is small. Continuous annual giving is emphasized because, under the "living endowment" principle, an annual gift from every alumnus represents the return (at 4%) on endowment the University does not possess.

1885 In Memoriam Beaver, William P.
1887 Harley, Walker S. (4)
1888 Hayes, William Van V. (6)
1889 Meixell, Edith Slifer (5)
1890 Fund Manager John I. Woodruff
Class Members	5
Contributors	3
% Contributing	60%
Alumni Fund	$30.00
Other Gifts
Total Gifts	$30.00
Dancy, Elizabeth Lloyd (1) Woodruff, John I. (6) Wynkoop, Lois Lyman (1)
1891 Fund Manager George E. Fisher
Class Members	7
Contributors	2
% Contributing	28%
Alumni Fund	$45.00
Other Gifts
Total Gifts	$45.00
Fisher, George E. (6) Glover, Mrs. Maze P. (2)
1892 Fund Manager A. R. E. Wyant
Class Members	9
Contributors	2
% Contributing	22%
Alumni Fund	$555.92
Other Gifts
Total Gifts	$555.92
Salier, Frances Montgomery (2) Wyant, A. R. E. (5)
1893 Fund Manager Flora M. Clymer
Class Members	15
Contributors	2
% Contributing	13%
Alumni Fund	$2.00
Other Gifts
Total Gifts	$2.00
Clymer, Flora M. (2) Martin, Oriana Williams (2)
1894 Fund Manager Mary B. Harris
Class Members	20
Contributors	8
% Contributing	40%
Alumni Fund	$235.00
Other Gifts	150.00
Total Gifts	$385.00
Callender, Mabel C. (6) Harris, Mary B. (6) Lawrence, Blanche Swengel (6) Mulford, Alice Probosco (6) Smith, Harvey F. (6) Smith, H. Burns (6) Topping, Mabel Thomas (2) Wattson, Ida Greene (6)

1895 Fund Manager B. Meade Wagenseller
Class Members	21
Contributors	10
% Contributing	48%
Alumni Fund	$320.00
Other Gifts	100.00
Total Gifts	$420.00
Allen, Ezra (6) Baldridge, Thomas J. (6) Bower, Herbert K. (3) Nisbet, E. Beulah Hayes (1) Shorkley, Sara Merriman (1) Sigmund, Franklin I. (2) Simpson, Frank M. (5)
1896 Fund Manager Mary M. Wolfe
Class Members	22
Contributors	4
% Contributing	18%
Alumni Fund	$71.00
Other Gifts	100.00
Total Gifts	$171.00
Cotton, Mary (1) Kase, Gertrude E. (2) Walker, Elizabeth C. (6) Wolfe, Mary M. (6)
1897 Fund Manager Romeyn H. Rivenburg
Class Members	17
Contributors	3
% Contributing	18%
Alumni Fund	$90.00
Other Gifts
Total Gifts	$90.00
Deike, Byrde Taggart (6) Gundy, John M. (2) Rivenburg, Romeyn (5)
1898 Class Members	23
Contributors	6
% Contributing	26%
Alumni Fund	$ 157.00
Other Gifts	2,327.05
Total Gifts	$2,484.05

Anderson, John Truman (1) Flint, Mary Chambers (6) James, Anna Rodgers (4) Leiser, Andrew A., Jr. (6) Pohlmann, Flora Sigel (6) Walls, John A. (6)
1899 Fund Manager M. Eloise Schuyler
Class Members	28
Contributors	13
% Contributing	46%
Alumni Fund	$305.50
Other Gifts	25.00
Total Gifts	$330.50
Baldwin, Mary McCreight (1) Ballentine, Floyd G. (4) Bartleson, Carrie Devitt (3) Bostwick, Marie Leiser (5) Calvin, John E. (6) Downs, Gertrude Stephens (6) Engle, William H. (6) Hozen, Joseph C. (3) Ivins, Robert M. (2) Krise, Daniel H. (4) Meserve, Howard C. (6) Schuyler, M. Eloise (6) Strong, Ann Gilchrist (1)
1900 Fund Manager Anna C. Judd
Class Members	36
Contributors	12
% Contributing	33%
Alumni Fund	$ 151.00
Other Gifts	11,125.00
Total Gifts	$11,276.00
Black, Sara M. (3) Fraddbury, Grace Callender (5) Bunnell, Charles E. (3) Deppen, Joseph H. (1) Drynan, Alicia Zierden (1) Dutton, Mabel Batten (4) Emery, Gertrude Roos (1) Judd, Anna C. (6) Kress, Rush H. (6) Marris, T. J. (3) Slifer, Edna Shires (6) Smith, Louise Warriner (5)
1901 Fund Manager Mabel Grier Leshor
Class Members	35
Contributors	16
% Contributing	46%
Alumni Fund	$ 626.00

Other Gifts	1,672.58
Total Gifts	$2,298.58
Allison, Archibald M. (6) Bentz, S. Elsie (3) Bidelspacher, Charles F. (3) Bower, C. Ruth (6) Burpee, Frank E. (3) Higgins, J. C. (1) Konkle, Laura Allen (5) Leshor, Mabel Grier (6) Pierson, Raymond G. (3) Pogue, Mabel Browning (1) Rambo, O. N. (3) Robison, Isabel Schwyer (6) Ruch, Walter E. (6) Stephens, John S. (1) Trax, Harland A. (6) Wolfe, Charles W. (3)
1902 Fund Manager Lewis E. Theiss
Class Members	37
Contributors	9
% Contributing	24%

Alumni Fund	$174.00
Other Gifts	395.00
Total Gifts	$569.00
Anthony, Mark L. (1) Bentz, Abner (4) Burrows, Helen Buoy (1) Comstock, Rachel Kunkle (2) Edgett, George E. (6) Miller, Grace Brubaker (6) Naaker, Anna E. (6) Shields, Sarah Judd (6) Williams, T. Lomar (6)
1903 Fund Manager Jay Bond
Class Members	48
Contributors	21
% Contributing	44%
Alumni Fund	$259.00
Other Gifts
Total Gifts	$259.00
Alexander, Eudora Davies (3) Bond, Jay (3) Bresnahan, Remembrance (1) Bullis, Jane Fowler (3) Carringer, Royce E. (4) Dershimer, Alexander F. (6) Ebling, Emily R. (6) Eisenmenger, Charles F. (4) Felsberg, Louise E. (6) Frampton, J. V. (3) Gilmore, Eva Ginter (2) Herpel, Elvie Coleman (1) Kaip, W. Lawrence (6) Long, Clara Slifer (6) Luchsinger, Ida (1) Mauser, Harry S. (6) Murphy, Charlotte Shields (4) Sheldon, Morton R. (6) Snow, John M. (1) Williams, Howard K. (4) Zeller, Helen Houghton (6)
1904 Fund Manager John C. Johnson
Class Members	45
Contributors	21
% Contributing	46%

THESE BUCKNELLIANs HELPED IN THE PERSONAL SOLICITATION PROGRAM

Class of 1905—Mrs. Harry E. McCormick, Captain.

Class of 1906—Mrs. G. Norman Wilkinson.

Class of 1908—James F. Hayes, Mrs. John Mathias, Joseph R. Shultz.

Class of 1909—G. Norman Wilkinson.

Class of 1910—Robert J. Saylor.

Class of 1911—James A. Tyson, Captain.

Class of 1913—Charles L. Sanders.

Class of 1914—Raymond L. Apgar, Earle B. Armstrong.

Class of 1915—Clair G. Groover, Esq., Albert J. Hamlin, Prof. George G. Irland, Dr. Edward W. Pangburn.

Class of 1916—Bruce E. Butt, Captain; Miss Verna G. Noll.

Class of 1917—James A. Case, Mrs. Carl A. Schug.

IN MEMORIAM
William P. Beaver, 1885
Winifred Patchin Clark, 1895
Elbino L. Bender, 1906
Charles Whittaker, 1906
Anne Galbraith, 1907
Mabel Gleason, 1907
George W. Hawk, 1907
Theodore B. Hoy, 1907
Paul Knorr, 1907
Lawrence O. Manley, 1907
William W. Raker, 1907
Harry E. Snavelly, 1907
Charles C. Wagner, 1907
Edwin L. Royer, 1908
Richard Darlington, 1909
William H. Gotehouse, 1910
Helen Hore Sholl, 1910
Hope B. Sterner, 1910
E. Lloyd Rogers, 1915
Russell E. Boyer, 1918
S. Dole Spotts, 1918
Mary McLoughlin Robbins, 1919
Horry V. Thomas, 1921
Lehman P. Gilmore, 1933
Elizabeth Talley Decker, 1937
Harvey N. Mawhinney, Jr., 1954

The numbers in parentheses following the names of contributors indicate the number of years of continuous giving.

Alumni Fund $484.00
 Other Gifts 330.00
 Total Gifts $814.00

Beagle, Mae Morgan (3)
 Caruthers, Corral (2)
 Crist, H. M. (1)
 Datesman, John R. (1)
 Durham, James G. (1)
 Graff, Margaret B. (6)
 Halfpenny, Estella Albright (2)
 Hursh, Clarence M. (2)
 Johnson, John C. (3)
 Kester, Thomas V. (1)
 Kuder, Blanche Bone (2)
 McCormick, Harry E. (4)
 Merrill, Elizabeth Williams (6)
 Murdock, William G. (2)
 Reed, Elizabeth E. (3)
 Robey, Louis W. (6)
 Robinson, David W. (6)
 Schilling, Olive (4)
 Stahl, John H. (6)
 Stevenson, Edgar T. (2)
 Teufel, Charles M. (6)

1905

Fund Manager
 Claire Conway
 Class Members 63
 Contributors 32
 % Contributing 50%
 Alumni Fund $ 411.00
 Other Gifts 1,532.41
 Total Gifts $1,943.41

Andrews, Mary Halfpenny (6)
 Bittenbender, Joseph S. (2)
 Bliss, Ruth Sharkley (6)
 Bawer, Mary I. (6)
 Conway, Claire (6)
 Cooper, Charles D. (3)
 Cooper, Cottie Albright (3)
 Dudley, Mary Unruh (5)
 Elliott, Ralph (4)
 Fetherston, Edith Kelly (6)
 Flood, John H., Jr. (3)
 Forgeus, Margaret (4)
 Gardner, E. Roy (1)
 Guinter, Laura Hummel (1)
 Hall, Wyman L. (6)
 Hummel, Elmer A. (1)
 Hylbert, Lewis C. (6)
 Johnson, Nellie E. (4)
 Leshner, Harold (2)
 McCoin, Donald R. (3)
 McCauley, Francis (1)
 McCormick, Dorothy Walls (6)
 Millward, Mary Kreisher (1)
 Maisson, C. Maude Hummel (1)
 Porter, W. W. (6)
 Royer, Robert D. (5)
 Sanders, John C. (4)
 Smiley, John B. (1)
 Smith, Paul G. (4)
 Steinhilper, Nellie Goddard (6)
 Thomas, Norman M. (11)
 Thomas, Ruth Leshner (1)
 Thomas, Jessie McFarland (6)
 Wood, E. Blanche Stanier (1)

1906

Fund Manager
 Frank L. Yost
 Class Members 72
 Contributors 22
 % Contributing 31%
 Alumni Fund $226.00
 Other Gifts 35.00
 Total Gifts $261.00

Cale, Harold N. (6)
 Cale, Hazel L. Knapp (6)
 Donehower, W. L. (4)
 Fallmer, Frederick V. (1)
 Frost, Sarah Furman (6)
 Glick, Katherine Sonner (1)
 Goldsmith, Maurice F. (1)
 Kech, Augustus S. (4)
 Long, Grace Meek (4)
 MacLaggan, Catherine F. (3)
 Millward, Carl L. (6)
 Morrison, Charles C. (6)
 Parmley, Harry M. (6)
 Parsons, Daisy Van Syckel (4)
 Pease, Homer D. (1)
 Rumsey, Edwin W. (6)
 Shelley, Penrose H. (6)
 Sheppard, Horace J., Sr. (3)
 Wilkinson, Katherine MacCart (6)
 Yost, Frank L. (4)

1907

Fund Manager
 Mary Stanton Speicher
 Class Members 67
 Contributors 32
 % Contributing 48%
 Alumni Fund $368.00
 Other Gifts 75.99
 Total Gifts $443.99

Andrews, Percy C. (4)
 August, Wendall M. (4)
 Brockway, Chauncey E. (6)
 Catherman, John I. (6)
 Haskell, Vera Duncan (2)
 Hiltan, Walter B. (2)
 Hoechst, Carl R. (2)
 Jones, Ruth C. (4)
 King, Kathryn M. (6)
 Mattis, George (4)
 Olds, Helena M. (3)
 Perez, Gilbert (4)
 Patter, Charles F. (4)
 Riggs, George A. (4)
 Riggs, Margaret Leshner (4)
 Rockwell, Leo L. (6)
 Schultz, Thomas V. (6)
 Shave, F. Rebecca (5)
 Speicher, Mary Stanton (6)
 Ulmer, Margaret Myers (3)
 Weddle, Joseph N. (6)
 Wolfe, Jonathan (5)
 Zug, Fred R. (5)

In Memoriam

Galbraith, Anne
 Gleason, Mabel
 Hawk, George W.
 Hoy, Theodore B.
 Knorr, Paul
 Manley, Lawrence O.
 Raker, William W.
 Snavely, Harry E.
 Wagner, Charles C.

1908

Fund Manager
 W. Carl Sprout
 Class Members 81
 Contributors 33
 % Contributing 41%
 Alumni Fund $ 424.00

Andrews, Mary Halfpenny (6)
 Bittenbender, Joseph S. (2)
 Bliss, Ruth Sharkley (6)
 Bawer, Mary I. (6)
 Conway, Claire (6)
 Cooper, Charles D. (3)
 Cooper, Cottie Albright (3)
 Dudley, Mary Unruh (5)
 Elliott, Ralph (4)
 Fetherston, Edith Kelly (6)
 Flood, John H., Jr. (3)
 Forgeus, Margaret (4)
 Gardner, E. Roy (1)
 Guinter, Laura Hummel (1)
 Hall, Wyman L. (6)
 Hummel, Elmer A. (1)
 Hylbert, Lewis C. (6)
 Johnson, Nellie E. (4)
 Leshner, Harold (2)
 McCoin, Donald R. (3)
 McCauley, Francis (1)
 McCormick, Dorothy Walls (6)
 Millward, Mary Kreisher (1)
 Maisson, C. Maude Hummel (1)
 Porter, W. W. (6)
 Royer, Robert D. (5)
 Sanders, John C. (4)
 Smiley, John B. (1)
 Smith, Paul G. (4)
 Steinhilper, Nellie Goddard (6)
 Thomas, Norman M. (11)
 Thomas, Ruth Leshner (1)
 Thomas, Jessie McFarland (6)
 Wood, E. Blanche Stanier (1)

Other Gifts 7,995.66
 Total Gifts $8,419.66
 Black, Jennie MacLaggan (1)
 Blakemore, Helen Tiffany (1)
 Bolton, Elmer K. (6)
 Condict, E. Carroll (6)
 Duncan, Stephen G. (6)
 Ferguson, Charles D. (1)
 Foster, Carol Spratt (6)
 Gibney, John V. (3)
 Haller, Ralph W. (4)
 Hartzell, Harry F. (2)
 Hayes, James F. (1)
 Henderson, Joseph W. (6)
 Hershey, Helen Farrest (1)
 Higby, Chester P. (2)
 Hostetter, Dr. John C. (4)
 Hummer, John F. (6)
 Kerschner, George W. (1)
 Landers, Olive Richards (6)
 Long, C. Edward (1)
 Long, Elsie Owens (4)
 McGuire, Mae Janes (2)
 Mathias, Margaret Pangburn (3)
 Nicely, Charles A. (4)
 Nall, Walter L. (1)
 Norwood, Harriet Burrows (1)
 Richards, Beatrice R. (3)
 Shrum, Reuben W. (6)
 Shultz, Joseph R. (1)
 Sprout, W. Carl (3)
 Steele, Robert M. (2)
 Thomas, Ralph L. (6)
 Thompson, Henry (6)

In Memoriam
 Royer, Edwin L.

1909

Fund Manager
 Newton C. Fetter
 Class Members 95
 Contributors 27
 % Contributing 28%
 Alumni Fund $ 189.00

PROGRESS OF THE FUND — 1948-1955
	Total Contribution	Number of Contributions	Average Contribution
1948-1949 (6 months) ..	$ 5,736.08	584	$ 9.82
1949-1950	15,699.57	1,723	9.11
1950-1951	15,114.31	1,471	10.27
1951-1952	20,530.39	2,056	9.99
1952-1953	21,782.43	2,192	9.94
1953-1954	28,888.95	2,644	10.92
1954-1955	33,819.96	3,205	10.55
Total Gifts (6½ years)	$141,571.69	13,875	$10.20

Other Gifts 151,025.00
 Total Gifts $151,214.00

Boilets, George F. (6)
 Blair, Harry J. (4)
 Carey, Alfred L. (1)
 Chaffee, Myra M. (6)
 Colvin, Katharine Heinen (2)
 Fetter, Newton C. (6)
 Headland, Sarah Walters (2)
 Jackson, Hazel Craig (6)
 Leiser, William, III (1)
 Lepperd, Charles J. (6)
 Lyte, Gilbert H. (6)
 Payne, W. Guy (4)
 Paffenberger, Albert T. (2)
 Quandt, Iola B. (6)
 Quick, Horace F. (1)
 Ritter, Allan G. (5)
 Roush, Charles S. (5)
 Shirley, John T. (6)

Way, Sara Ray (1)
 Winter, Stanley M. (2)
 Woods, Elmer B. (6)
 Yoder, Emily Lane (4)

In Memoriam
 Gatehouse, William H.
 Shall, Helen Hore
 Sterner, Hope B.

1911

Fund Manager
 J. Leslie Crowell
 Class Members 102
 Contributors 27
 % Contributing 26%
 Alumni Fund $ 294.00
 Other Gifts 940.00
 Total Gifts $1,234.00

Harris, Coleman J. (2)
 Harris, James P. (1)
 Hean, Frank R. (1)
 Houseknecht, Maize Callahan (4)
 Iglar, Frederick B. (6)
 Lister, Lyman L. (1)
 Lowther, Elizabeth Heinsling (4)
 McNeal, David A., Sr. (6)
 Meyer, Robert W. (6)
 Ogden, Merton M. (6)
 O'Leary, Ruby Stuck (1)
 Reiter, George F. (1)
 Riehl, Paul L. (5)
 Ruth, D. Clifford (6)
 Ruth, Helen L. (2)
 Waltz, Arthur D. (5)
 Weddell, Sue E. (1)
 Williams, Pearl Reom (6)

1913

Fund Manager
 John D. W. Fetter
 Class Members 70
 Contributors 36
 % Contributing 50%
 Alumni Fund $ 603.00
 Other Gifts 162,036.18
 Total Gifts $162,639.18

Beck, Bright W. (4)
 Dunkle, D. Forrest (6)
 Durkee, Sallie McSparran (1)
 Edwards, Walter H. (6)
 Fairchild, Elmer E. (4)
 Fetter, John D. W. (6)
 Fisher, Howard V. (6)
 Glaver, Marwood B. (3)
 Goehring, Howard M. (6)
 Gaehring, Raymond R. (1)
 Haines, George F. (3)
 Hastings, Berkeley V. (6)
 Hawkins, O. V. W. (5)
 Hemphill, Hazel Gallaway (4)
 Henderson, Anne Dresbach (1)
 Hulley, William C. (1)
 Jackson, L. Earl (3)
 Kelly, Harry X. (1)
 McClure, James F. (6)
 McKeague, J. Leslie (6)
 Naylor, Winifred A. (1)
 Redelin, Albert N. (3)
 Rees, Mary Irey (3)
 Rhoads, Joletie Arthur (1)
 Richards, Earl M. (5)
 Rooke, Robert L. (6)
 Sanders, Charles L. (6)
 Sanders, Clay S. (6)
 Shaffer, Harold A. (4)
 Shaemaker, Eva Brawn (3)
 Smith, Henry G. W. (1)
 Stein, Paul L. (3)
 Stetler, Aaron Miles (6)
 Still, Ralph A. (6)
 Stout, Leslie W. (3)
 Zehner, Herman E. (3)

1914

Fund Manager
 Jesse E. Riley
 Class Members 98
 Contributors 30
 % Contributing 31%
 Alumni Fund $333.00
 Other Gifts 100.00
 Total Gifts $433.00

Appger, Raymond L. (1)
 Applegate, Charles J. (1)
 Armstrong, Earle B. (1)
 Campbell, Harry E. (5)
 Coleman, Charles E. (6)
 Corson, Daylan T. (1)
 Criswell, John R. (6)
 DeWire, Harry (1)
 Glover, Edna Whittam (1)
 Goughly, Joshua R. (6)
 Hawkins, Marrian Harman (3)
 Kunkel, Mary A. (2)
 Kuyil, Henry G. (4)
 Lanning, Leland P. (4)
 Linclber, Ernest O. (1)
 Lowther, Wallace C. (4)
 Markowitz, Samuel H. (1)

THESE BUCKNELLIANS HELPED IN THE PERSONAL SOLICITATION PROGRAM

Class of 1918—Claude O. Boothroyd, Clifford C. Deck, Bruce O. Ranck.
Class of 1919—John C. Hendren, Captain; Raymond D. Kline, George M. Kunkel, James C. Pierce.
Class of 1920—Dr. Thomas S. J. Heim, Dr. Lester E. Lighton, David J. Martin, Captain; Hayes L. Person, Miss Marguerite I. Quigley, George E. Rickart, Mrs. Kathryn G. Shoemaker.
Class of 1921—Herbert N. Derr, Mrs. George M. Kunkel, Thomas J. Mangon, Clarence B. Moore, Captain.
Class of 1922—Dr. Alex A. Allen, Mrs. Amorita S. Copeland, Chairman; Richard K. Estelov, Arthur F. Gordner, Captain; William J. Irvin, Chairman; L. W. Lawson, Captain; E. B. Mickle, Mrs. Ralph Sherman, E. L. Worthington, Captain.

Shultz, Hannah Mervine (2)
 Shupe, Myrtle Walkinshaw (5)
 Stone, Helen Cliber (6)
 Van Why, Eugene (6)
 Wilkinsan, G. Narman (2)
 Winegardner, Ralph G. (3)
 Wolfe, Josephine Hankins (6)
 Youngken, Heber W. (6)

In Memoriam
 Darlington, Richard

1910

Fund Manager
 Weaver W. Pangburn
 Class Members 84
 Contributors 32
 % Contributing 38%
 Alumni Fund $425.00
 Other Gifts 276.00
 Total Gifts $701.00

Abraham, Paul J. (3)
 Balliet, Georgie Weddle (1)
 Bank, John (4)
 Brawn, Josephine (3)
 Butt, Cameron A. (6)
 Case, George F. (2)
 Cothers, Mildred (5)
 Fagley, Gilbert H. (2)
 Fulton, Elizabeth Stage (4)
 Hardgrave, Winnie Dickson (6)
 Hartshorn, Edward S. (4)
 Hertzog, Phares H. (1)
 Jury, Mabel Christian (5)
 Kresge, Homer D. (6)
 Kresge, Mary Stevenson (1)
 Lawrence, Mait Cathroll (4)
 McDonough, Michael J. (4)
 Mickle, Roy (3)
 Pangburn, Weaver W. (6)
 Saylor, Robert J. (6)
 Sherwood, Alexander M. (6)
 Sholl, John G. (4)
 Street, George T., Jr. (5)
 Thompson, Priscilla Hardesty (1)
 Watkins, G. Ethel (1)

App, Elmer M. (1)
 Ballard, Mabel Rosensteel (1)
 Baker, W. Neil (1)
 Baker, Ruth Mohn (1)
 Brawne, Elizabeth Hughes (6)
 Bush, Margaret Curtis (2)
 Carpenter, Katherine G. (6)
 Crowell, J. Leslie (6)
 Davis, Frank G. (6)
 DeLong, Roy Allen (1)
 Fairchild, Arthur C. (2)
 Fitch, Allan M. (1)
 Grimes, William G. (1)
 Harris, Lester (3)
 Heacock, Charles H. (2)
 Lloyd, Herbert (4)
 Loveland, Charles D. (6)
 Mann, Walter H. (5)
 Rackwell, Vera Cober (6)
 Shipe, James W., Sr. (3)
 Sisson, Robert D. (2)
 Snyder, Edgar A. (6)
 Starkweather, Matilda Golding (6)
 Tyson, James A. (6)
 Villalón, Jase A. (5)
 Waite, John H. (3)
 Waltman, Harry R. (6)

1912

Fund Manager
 A. Oscar Wolfe
 Class Members 92
 Contributors 26
 % Contributing 28%
 Alumni Fund $318.50
 Other Gifts 115.00
 Total Gifts $433.50

Appger, Eva Himmelreich (1)
 Clemens, Anna Reed (1)
 Conner, A. Cleveland (4)
 Conner, Alberta Bronson (4)
 Davenport, Ralph F. (4)
 Duffon, Edward P. (6)
 Fisher, Margaret McClure (5)
 Goff, Frances L. (1)

The numbers in parentheses following the names of contributors indicate the number of years of continuous giving.

O'Leary, Thomas A. (1)
 Peterson, Ethel E. (1)
 Reimensnyder, Florence I. (4)
 Reitz, W. S. (4)
 Rice, John W. (6)
 Rice, Ruth Hoffa (5)
 Riley, Jesse E. (6)
 Schure, Fred O. (6)
 Slack, Lois Brown (2)
 Snyder, Clinton F. (3)
 Stapleton, R. B. (5)
 Stout, Helen G. (1)
 Weaver, Harry B. (6)
 Weaver, Eudora Hamler (6)

1915

Fund Manager
 Myrna Stickler Hines

Class Members	96
Contributors	30
% Contributing	31%
Alumni Fund	$477.50
Other Gifts	348.50
Total Gifts	$826.00

Allen, Joseph W. (1)
 Bancroft, Marion R. (4)
 Bates, Jeremiah B. (2)
 Bond, Isabelle F. (1)
 Brown, F. Theodore (1)
 Clapp, Edgar T. (1)
 Clark, Albert J. (3)
 Clark, Edward O. (1)
 Crouse, Walter S. (5)
 Dillon, Emma E. (6)
 Edwards, Harold C. (1)
 English,
 Margaret Gretzinger (3)
 Geiger, Carl E. (6)
 Groover, Clair G. (1)
 Hamlin, Albert J. (6)
 Hines, Myrna Strickler (1)
 Irland, George A. (6)
 Keiser, William (1)
 McQuay, Helen Eede (6)
 Michael, Carlton A. (3)
 Muffly, G. Walter (5)
 Pangburn, Edward W. (6)
 Reitz, Ethel Galloway (4)
 Schaffner, Dwite H. (5)
 Smith, Omar H. (4)
 Stevenson, George S. (6)
 Topham, Erle M. (5)
 Walter, Mark M. (3)
 Winkelbleck,
 Miriam Strickler (2)
 Wolfe, H. Michael (1)
In Memoriam
 Rogers, E. Lloyd

1916

Fund Manager
 William L. Showers

Class Members	101
Contributors	33
% Contributing	33%
Alumni Fund	$501.00
Other Gifts	247.50
Total Gifts	$748.50

Alter, Samuel G. (6)
 Barnitz, Sara G. (1)
 Bartholomew, Derben W. (4)
 Bartlett, Lester J. (3)
 Bigler, R. P. (5)
 Brandon, Margaret Weddell (6)
 Butt, Bruce E. (6)
 Colestock, Bertha Wagner (1)
 Conway, John J. (3)
 Davenport, Samuel M. (6)
 Everett, Russell W. (1)
 Fernandez, Marie Yeisley (3)
 Giffin, Harold W. (1)
 Hamlin, Ruth Williams (6)
 Hann, H. H. (1)
 Henszey, William H. (2)
 Jones, Carrie Foresman (4)
 Laird, Elizabeth B. (5)
 McCollum, Cecile (1)
 Mensch, Sterling R. (1)
 Nancarrow, James E. (1)
 Noll, Verne G. (1)
 Phillips,
 Theresa McCollum (1)
 Ranck, Dayton L. (5)
 Rice, Charlotte Lansing (1)
 Ryan, Margaret Wallace (3)
 Sanders, Homer M. (4)
 Schure, Dorothy Bunnell (6)
 Showers, William L. (4)
 Smith, Harold E. (3)
 Stevenson, Amy Patterson (6)
 Sutton, Grace I. (4)
 Switzer, Lester A. (5)

1917

Fund Manager
 Clinton I. Sprout

Class Members	124
Contributors	36
% Contributing	29%
Alumni Fund	$ 521.50
Other Gifts	1,010.00
Total Gifts	$1,531.50

Adams, Alvin J. (2)
 Beard, Ralph B. (1)
 Baathroyd, Claude O. (1)
 Boswell, David N. (4)
 Boswell, Mary Dunn (2)
 Bower, Helene Diffendafer (6)
 Deck, Clifford C. (1)
 Dent, Edith Crane (6)
 Derr, Mary Beatty (6)
 Faresman, Grover (6)
 Fritz, Mabel H. (6)
 Gold, John S. (6)
 Grice, Herbert C. (1)
 Hall, Miriam Minch (6)
 Harris, Stanley N. (5)
 Keefer, Chester S. (1)
 Kline, Jessie Potts (3)
 Leaber, Evelyn McGann (3)
 Lennox, Samuel D. (1)

WHAT IS THE ALUMNI FUND?

The plan for the Bucknell Alumni Fund is simple. Alumni dues and magazine subscriptions have been discontinued. Every alumnus and friend of Bucknell is invited to contribute annually to the University for current operations. Each person contributing, no matter what the amount, will be listed as a donor in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.

The amount contributed to the Bucknell Alumni Fund alone this past year equals the return on almost $850,000 of invested endowment. By their increasing support of the Bucknell Alumni Fund, alumni and friends can make it more and more a substantial "living endowment."

Abbott, M. L. (1)
 Backley, Francis J. (2)
 Belcher, Louise Bassell (4)
 Bender, George T. (1)
 Bertin, Eugene P. (2)
 Baggess, Paul W. (1)
 Calkin, LeRoy P. (3)
 Case, James A. (2)
 Coty, Helen Krouse (3)
 Derr, Ralph B. (6)
 Felton, Raleigh M. (5)
 Geating, William J. (1)
 Giffin,
 F. Geraldine Hanson (1)
 Hay, Charles J. (1)
 Heberling, John A. (3)
 Heberling,
 Hazel Williamson (1)
 Higgs, Frances Hilgert (2)
 Knouse, Holman G. (3)
 Kriner, Clarence M. (6)
 Kriner,
 Henrietta Heinsling (6)
 Lindsey, Esther Edge (2)

Milles, George H. (4)
 Musser, Malcolm E. (5)
 Owen, Ella Jones (2)
 Ranck, Bruce O. (6)
 Rauner, Elizabeth Stephens (3)
 Shellenhamer,
 Carrie Wetzell (6)
 Smith, Ora B. (6)
 Sprout, Louise Hahn (6)
 Trimble, William E. (3)
In Memoriam
 Boyer, Russell E.
 Spotts, S. Dale

1919

Fund Manager
 Franklin D. Jones

Class Members	139
Contributors	40
% Contributing	29%

THESE BUCKNELLIANs HELPED IN THE PERSONAL SOLICITATION PROGRAM

Class of 1923—Mrs. Donald Bechtel, Alfred V. Jacobs, Lawrence M. Kimball, Frank R. McGregor, Thomas M. Musser, Harry E. Stabler, Chairman; Hoyden J. White, Captain.

Class of 1924—Dr. Merl G. Colvin, Mrs. Paul Cupp, Mrs. Bonks O. Daubert, Miss Ido R. Heller, Foster D. Jemison, Albert M. Kishbaugh, Rev. Malcolm V. Mussino, Captain; Edward D. Robb, Miss Alice Roberts, Captain.

Class of 1925—Mrs. Kenneth I. Cober, Theodore Heysham, Jr., Captain; Alon W. Torr.

Class of 1926—Dr. Eugene D. Corstater, Captain; J. Norman Davies, Mrs. Brown Focht, Chairman; Mrs. Clifton C. Harkness, George T. Henggi, Captain; Joseph W. McCormick, Co-Chairman; T. Jefferson Miers, Mrs. T. Jefferson Miers, George B. Reed, James S. Replogle, Ernest C. Shaffer, Captain; Kenneth W. Slifer, Chairman; Mrs. Thomas C. Summerrill, Miss Myrtle K. Thompson, Emerson E. Ware.

McCarthy, Elizabeth Lehr (1)
 Michael, Mary Bubb (1)
 Moore, Olive E. (6)
 Russell, Hugh T. (5)
 Schug, Alice Johnson (6)
 Seemann, S. Leroy (4)
 Smith, Calvin J. (1)
 Sowers, Irvin P. (6)
 Sprout, Clinton I. (6)
 Stettler, Frank E. (2)
 Thomas, Richard E. (2)
 Topham, C. Ray Speare (5)
 Volkmar, Marie (6)
 Williams, Frank E. (6)
 Yan, Arthur (6)

1918

Fund Manager
 Malcolm E. Musser

Class Members	140
Contributors	30
% Contributing	21%
Alumni Fund	$292.50
Other Gifts	100.00
Total Gifts	$392.50

Adams, Alvin J. (2)
 Beard, Ralph B. (1)
 Baathroyd, Claude O. (1)
 Boswell, David N. (4)
 Boswell, Mary Dunn (2)
 Bower, Helene Diffendafer (6)
 Deck, Clifford C. (1)
 Dent, Edith Crane (6)
 Derr, Mary Beatty (6)
 Faresman, Grover (6)
 Fritz, Mabel H. (6)
 Gold, John S. (6)
 Grice, Herbert C. (1)
 Hall, Miriam Minch (6)
 Harris, Stanley N. (5)
 Keefer, Chester S. (1)
 Kline, Jessie Potts (3)
 Leaber, Evelyn McGann (3)
 Lennox, Samuel D. (1)

Alumni Fund	$464.50
Other Gifts	115.00
Total Gifts	$579.50

Anchor, Charles J. (5)
 Andrews, Harry F. (4)
 Augel, Harry H. (6)
 Aubrey, Edwin E. (2)
 Bitner, Edith Larson (2)
 Cornish, Raymond J. (2)
 Cruse, Ernest J. (3)
 Davis, E. Irene Yannell (2)
 Eiserman, Naomi Lane (5)
 Garner, Lloyd L. (1)
 Gerhart, Weber L., Jr. (2)
 Gilbert, Harold N. (4)
 Grave, Mary E. (6)
 Harer, Howard L. (5)
 Hedge, Thomas R. (2)
 Heiter, Oliver (1)
 Hendren, John C. (2)
 Hoffa, Helen R. (2)
 Hornberger, J. Howard (3)
 Jones, Franklin D. (6)
 Kelschner, Alice M. (6)
 Keough, Edwin M. (3)
 Kline, Raymond D. (6)
 Kunkel, George M. (2)
 Laning, Golda Clark (4)
 Lawrence, Frank A. (6)
 Leaber, Chester R. (3)
 McKinley, Arthur D. (2)
 Markowitz, Benjamin (3)
 Neal, Annette Stahl (2)
 Owen, Elizabeth Spyker (2)
 Pierce, James C. (4)
 Rudin, Miriam Bridge (5)
 Skavish, Jean O'Flanagan (3)
 Small, Helen Swartz (2)
 Starkweather, George A. (6)
 Stein, Ruth (6)
 Warfel, Ruth Farquhar (1)
 Withington, Clyde W. (2)
In Memoriam
 Robbins, Mary McLoughlin

1920

Fund Manager
 Harold A. Stewart

Class Members	189
Contributors	56
% Contributing	29%
Alumni Fund	$ 894.00
Other Gifts	6,234.23
Total Gifts	$7,128.23

Ball, Robert K. (6)
 Brown, Merrill W. (2)
 Class of 1920 (1)
 Copeland, Daymond W. (5)
 Crossgrove, David (1)
 Delang, Elthera Mohler (6)
 Dent, Joseph D. (6)
 Dimlich, Stephen F. (2)
 Dimlich, Dorothy Villinger (1)
 Dyer, Ralph M. (1)

1921

Fund Manager
 Nelson S. Rounsley

Class Members	154
Contributors	49
% Contributing	31%
Alumni Fund	$ 766.73
Other Gifts	270.00
Total Gifts	$1,036.73

Angstadt, Robert W. (4)
 Baker, Edna M. (6)
 Barbour, Elizabeth Davis (2)
 Bateman, Lydia Coene (4)
 Bell, Matilda E. (2)
 Carpenter, Clara Casner (2)
 Clark, Eva Thayer (1)
 Coe, Nancy Marguerite (3)
 Gale, Edna Martin (2)
 Davis, Clarence A. (2)
 Derr, Herbert N. (6)
 DeWine, M. B. (4)
 Dietz, Charlotte N. (1)
 Douglass, Holmes T. (4)
 Edwards, Walter P. (4)
 Fallmer, Grace R. (1)
 Goho, Albert (4)
 Grice, Fannie Fisher (1)
 Herb, Grant O. (6)
 Hess, J. Leo (1)
 Hilday, Raymond G. (6)
 Hulsizer, Robert L. (2)
 Kelly, Emily Devine (3)
 King, Alden P. (6)
 Kohler, E. Larue (6)
 Kunkle, Stanford L. (2)
 Laher, Donald S. (6)
 Leiser, Martha Leiser (1)
 Lutz, Helen Fallmer (1)
 Maggig, Michael J. (2)
 Mangas, Thomas J. (5)
 Metz, C. A. (5)
 Miller, Katherine (4)
 Miller, Marguerite Lotte (1)
 Moore, Clarence B. (1)
 Nancarrow,
 Marjorie McCoy (1)
 Nichols, William E. (1)
 Reamer, Francis F. (6)
 Reamer, LaRue Unger (6)
 Rickenberg, Charles H. (1)
 Rounsley, Nelson S. (4)
 Salczynski, Thaddeus A. (3)
 Souers, Roy W. (1)
 Seemann, B. R. (1)
 Shimer, Harold L. (4)
 Shimer, Helen Beck (4)
 Smith, Ellis S., Sr. (6)
 Winsor, Kenneth C. (2)
In Memoriam
 Thomas, Harry V.

1922

Fund Manager
 Finley Keech

Class Members	179
Contributors	54
% Contributing	30%
Alumni Fund	$594.00
Other Gifts	332.50
Total Gifts	$926.50

Allen, Alexander A. (3)
 Balliet, William E. (6)
 Butt, Edna Fallmer (6)
 Campbell, Philip C. (6)
 Copeland,
 Amorita Sessinger (6)
 Copeland, Mary Williamson (5)
 Cornwall, Florence D. (1)
 Davenport, Howard T. (1)
 Derck, Chester H. (1)
 Dickrager, Leona (6)
 Doty, Angelina Kissinger (6)
 Ebert, Hulda Heim (1)
 Effinger, Myra C. (1)
 Estlow, Richard K. (6)
 Foxall, Frederick A. (2)
 Galbraith, Walter D. (6)
 Gardner, Arthur F. (5)
 Gass, Mark K. (2)
 Hartz, Ralph F. (2)
 Hill, Eloise E. (1)
 Hoffman, Wade (2)
 Humphrey, Isaac (2)
 Irvin, William J. (6)
 Johnson, Eve Bunnell (1)
 Johnson, William S. (1)
 Keech, Finley (6)
 King, Oliver L. (6)
 Krug, Karl (4)
 Lawson, L. W. (1)
 Levine, Isaac (1)
 Shea, LaVerne H. (4)
 Lowry, W. N. (4)
 Mathieson, Effie Muir (5)
 Mathieson, George W. (5)
 Miller, Emerson R. (1)
 Morrison, William H. (1)
 O'Neil, Susanna Plummer (4)
 Patton, Stewart U. (2)
 Reiner, Ray Seaman (1)
 Rinebold, William J. (6)
 Ritter, Thomas D. (1)
 Ross, E. Willis (4)
 Sherman, Mary Shall (1)
 Sheridan, Robert H. (2)
 Shott, John H. (5)
 Stahl, Catharine Y. (5)

The numbers in parentheses following the names of contributors indicate the number of years of continuous giving.

Stahl, John C. (4)
Stine, Roy B. (3)
Stuntzner, Louis K. (2)
Walter, Stuart M. (1)
Weaver, Paul A. (6)
Wiant, Herman E. (4)
Williams, Robert A. (3)
Wolfe, Ruth Brown (6)
Worthington, Elmer L. (6)

1923

Fund Manager
Arda C. Bowser
Class Members 222
Contributors 47
% Contributing 21%
Alumni Fund $544.50
Other Gifts 185.00
Total Gifts $729.50

Bowser, Arda C. (6)
Breth, Isabella Webster (2)
Bunting, Charles T. (1)
Callender, Willard D. (6)
Carr, Lyle (2)
Chapman, Marcus M. (2)
Crank, Bertha Smith, (3)
Crist, Anna M. Speare (1)
Dawson, Robert M. (4)
Dayhaff, Harry O. (6)
Erdman, Gladys Emerick (2)
Farquhar, Hazel M. (2)
Gehring, George W. (1)
Gille, Albert H. (1)
Griffith, Dalzell M. (6)
Hanna, Elinor S. (3)
Hayden, Katherine Owens (5)
Heebner, Natalie Musser (4)
Henninger, Miles (1)
Ingram, Helen Ferguson (3)
Jacobs, Alfred V. (2)
Jones, Harry W. (1)
Kimball, Lawrence M. (6)
Kutz, Jacob H. (5)
Lewis, Arlington R. (2)
Lofberg, Dara Keough (6)
Lundy, Elva Flanagan (2)
McGregor, Frank R. (6)
Mallay, Paul C. (6)
Martin, M. V. (3)
Mickle, Earl B. (1)
Miller, Luther F., Sr. (2)
Murden, Alma Royer (2)
Musser, Thomas M. (2)
Pangburn, Jessie W. (1)
Purnell, John S. (2)
Reuhl, Ruth (1)
Richards, Lillian Russell (1)
Shaw, Walter B. (2)
Shall, Dorothy B. (1)
Stabler, Harry E. (6)
Stager, Luke L. (5)
Summerfield, Frank W. (6)
Sykes, Dorothy Auer (1)
Thomas, Dorothy Wilhelm (1)
Thurston, Helen Powell (4)
Weinrich, Edna Tamplings (1)

1924

Fund Manager
Merl G. Colvin
Class Members 218
Contributors 49
% Contributing 22%
Alumni Fund $ 825.00
Other Gifts 645.00
Total Gifts $1,470.00

Ashman, Edward T. (6)
Budd, C. Kenneth (6)
Cober, Kenneth J. (4)
Colvin, Merl G. (6)
Cupp, Louise Benschoff (4)
Daubert, Prudence Walters (1)
DeLoCaur, Alice Ruhl (4)
Dunlap, Earl S. (6)
Fowler, Helen A. (1)
Frazer, Hilda DeWitt (3)
Glover, Henry A. (1)
Hall, Iva DeWitt (4)
Harriman, Alice Stokes (1)

Hartman, Levi F. (6)
Heim, Robert C. (6)
Heller, Ida R. (6)
Holter, H. Walter (5)
Hudson, Roland O. (4)
Jemison, Foster D. (1)
Jones, Harold (1)
Jones, Elizabeth Moore (1)
Jones, Thomas W. (1)
Kishbaugh, Albert K. (1)
Lamborne, George W. (3)
Lenox, G. Merrill (5)
Lenox, John E. (4)
Lindig, Charles F. (2)
McMurtrie, Arthur J. (4)
Megahan, Mildred (1)
Miller, Grace Peterson (1)
Moore, Geneva Gerlach (6)
Morgan, David W. (2)
Mussina, Henry B. (1)
Mussina, Malcolm V. (2)
Overdorff, H. Virgil (2)
Palma, Nicholas (1)
Persing, A. V. (2)
Rivenburg, Marjorie J. (3)
Roberts, L. Alice (6)
Schweiker, Anna Heysham (2)
Shaffer, Mildred Hauseman (1)
Smith, Meribel Ritter (6)
Steckel, Rachel M. (4)
Strauser, Evelyn K. (1)
Tewitzer, Paul R. (2)
Terpak, Stephen (6)
Unversagt, Aimee Angella (1)
Wihtal, Rose Curtis (1)
Wolf, Sara Monahan (4)

1925

Fund Manager
Clair G. Spangler
Class Members 249
Contributors 69
% Contributing 28%
Alumni Fund $ 898.50

Ebert, Carrie Smithgall (6)
Ellis, Charlotte Bosler (4)
England, Donald C. (2)
Eschbach, Donald O. (1)
Evans, William C. (4)
Faint, George R., Sr. (5)
Foster, J. Wallace (2)
Gardner, Gertrude (1)
Golightly, William D. (3)
Gumma, Blanchard (6)
Haines, Sara Walton (1)
Hammond, Thomas M. (1)
Harvey, Wildon T. (6)
Hendrickson, Andrew (3)
Henry, Donald E. (4)
Henry, Thomas J. (1)
Heyshom, Theodore, Jr. (4)
Hill, H. Leonard (2)
Hines, Kathryn Glose (1)
Happer, Mildred Francisco (1)
Jackson, Elizabeth Harman (1)
Jones, Allen F. (6)
Jones, Frank L. (2)
Kapp, Carl G. (6)
Miller, Florence Pratt (4)
Mills, Thomas (1)
Myers, Franklin B. (1)
Neisser, Wilson R. (2)
Niedemus, Roy E. (6)
Painter, William (3)
Painter, Helen G. (1)
Reed, Marian McInoy (1)
Reitz, William D. (1)
Replogle, M. Dorothy (3)
Rales, Harold F. (1)
Ronan, Vera Sackett (1)
Schmidt, Paul G. (4)
Shaffer, Robert B. (1)
Spangler, Archie (1)
Spangler, Clair G. (6)
Stewart, Estella (6)
Thomas, Elizabeth Hartranft (3)
Thomas, William G., Jr. (6)
Wagner, Howard W. (1)
Wilsbach, Johannetta Snyder (1)

Miers, Louise Matthews (5)
Miles, Howard C. (1)
Miller, David L. (1)
Miller, John B. (1)
Montgomery, Andrew B. (1)
Morrow, Martha M. (4)
Murphy, Thomas E. (1)
Newell, Randall L. (2)
Nicely, Ethel Fowler (4)
Postpichal, Ruth Propert (5)
Potter, Paul G. (2)
Reed, George B. (1)
Replogle, James S. (6)
Rigg, Donald L. (5)
Rishell, Chester A. (1)
Rood, Carrie Smith (4)
Ryan, Eleanor Dakin (6)
Songston, Russel E. (3)
Shaffer, Ernest C. (1)
Shaffer, J. Paul (2)
Sheddan, Boyd R. (1)
Slifer, Kenneth W. (6)
Smink, Robert D. (2)
Smith, Robert H. (1)
Snyder, Charles R. (1)
Summerill, Ann Zerby (5)
Thorn, Norman H. (4)
Wagner, William Frank (2)
Wandaver, Clare C. (1)
Ware, Emerson E. (2)
White, William R. (5)
Wilsbach, Anthony K. (2)

1927

Fund Manager
Carl J. Geiser
Class Members 282
Contributors 56
% Contributing 19%
Alumni Fund $722.00
Other Gifts 230.00
Total Gifts $952.00

Beon, Stuart H. (5)

THESE BUCKNELLIANS HELPED IN THE PERSONAL SOLICITATION PROGRAM

Class of 1927—Elmer W. Dietz, Captain; Carl J. Geiser, Gordon Goodyear, Captain; Paul M. Johnston, Mrs. John J. Koopmann, Captain; Dam B. Mare, Mrs. Dom B. Mare, Mrs. Kenneth T. Murphey, Mrs. George F. Roop, Miss Jane Schrum, Harold F. Webber.

Class of 1928—Mrs. Marie Carstater, Mrs. E. H. Grimm, Harry C. Hunter, Fred B. Kemery, Captain; Mrs. Lewis V. Kost, Miss Jean E. Little, David E. Long, Earle L. Moyer, Captain; Luis A. Pursley, D. M. Wisehaupt.

Class of 1929—Kenneth A. Bidlock, Esq., Poul E. King, Chairman; Miss Dorothy Wogner.

Class of 1930—Mrs. John S. Burlwe, James S. Hurlburt, John L. McNally, Mrs. James A. Voelker.

Wilson, Lillian M. (4)
Woodings, Robert T. (2)
Young, Mary Bray (1)

1926

Fund Manager
E. D. Carstater
Class Members 248
Contributors 65
% Contributing 26%
Alumni Fund $ 899.00
Other Gifts 2,263.25
Total Gifts $3,162.25

Adams, Muriel E. (6)
Bailey, Guy W. (1)
Bauer, Leslie E. (6)
Boyle, Catharine P. (1)
Brewen, Stewart F. (6)
Brown, Anna L. (6)
Carstater, Eugene D. (6)
Coloman, Carlton G. (2)
Conklin, Albert E. (1)
Cooley, Grace C. (1)
Councilman, Elberta Stane (2)
Crowding, Catharina Frederick (1)
Eaton, Asa T. (3)
Facht, Florence Utt (6)
Gardner, Carlton L. (6)
Garrett, Robert Y., Jr. (1)
Hond, Orval J. (6)
Honn, Thomas D., Jr. (2)
Henggi, George T. (2)
Hortar, Richard L. (1)
Humphreys, Edward J. (3)
Jensen, Maud Koister (4)
Jones, Eurhryn (2)
Jones, Hannah Metcalf (1)
Jones, Malcolm G. (6)
Kusheil, Isabelle Morrison (4)
Lady, Roy A. (1)
McCuskey, Irene Bell (2)
McCormick, Joseph W. (2)
McCue, Louise Curtis (2)
McHail, Bruce A. (6)
Martz, James V. (5)
Miers, T. Jefferson (5)

Bihl, Albert W. (5)
Baben, William R. A. (3)
Bradley, Harry F. (1)
Brandon, Arthur L. (6)
Bull, Howard A. (2)
Chesney, J. Graham (5)
Convery, Samuel V. (3)
Cawell, David E. (1)
Darkes, William F. (2)
Davies, Emma Kahler (1)
Day, Anna Outwater (1)
Deen, Evelyn H. (6)
Derr, LeRoy F. (1)
Dietz, Elmer W. (1)
Dill, Robert W. (1)
Dunbar, Agnes (2)
Etzweiler, Marilyn (1)
Farnsworth, J. Fred (1)
Fogelsanger, D. Aldus (4)
Gardner, H. W. (4)
Gaventa, Katherine E. (1)
Geiser, Carl J. (6)
Gill, Earl A. (4)
Giardano, James V. (6)
Glenn, Catherine Mench (2)
Gretzinger, William C. (1)
Harris, Frances M. (1)
Hart, George W. (6)
Jenkins, Goldana Guilford (2)
Johnston, Paul M. (1)
Kaphart, Mildred Fox (1)
Kimball, C. Arlene (3)
Koopmann, Mary Konkle (5)
Kunkel, Helen Egge (2)
Kushell, Charles J., Jr. (6)
Laucks, Joseph C. (4)
Lawson, Elizabeth K. (4)
McCuskey, S. A., Jr. (4)
McNutt, William P. (1)
Marc, Mnyr Faust (3)
Marc, Dom B. (1)
Merrick, Grace Milhaus (2)
Miller, Bruce J. (6)
Miller, Florence Beckworth (6)
Murny, Mabel Funk (1)
Parmley, Florence E. (3)
Replogle, Veta Davis (6)
Roop, Amy Haldeman (1)
Sheckells, Albert W. (2)
Shrum, Jane (1)
Slifer, Caryl Dutton (6)

Springer, Charles H. (1)
Webber, Harold (5)
Williams, Harry H. (1)
Wilson, Doris Worrell (2)

1928

Fund Manager
S. Cober Braucher
Class Members 311
Contributors 54
% Contributing 17%
Alumni Fund $537.50
Other Gifts 38.00
Total Gifts $575.50

Avery, Anna Everitt (4)
Blesh, Harriet Small (3)
Bly, Eleanor Schooley (2)
Braucher, S. Cober (2)
Bull, Kathryn Bossler (2)
Carstater, Marie Helwig (5)
Couch, Ruth Broy (4)
Dill, Eleanor Miller (5)
Evans, Pauline Biery (1)
Field, Margaret M. (6)
Fink, Pauline Belles (5)
Focht, Brown (6)
Fox, Frederick, Jr. (6)
Gerhart, Sara Reed (1)
Goldenberg, B. D. (3)
Grimm, Dorothy Griffith (1)
Gum, Amanda Brown (4)
Heller, Jeanette M. (6)
Herrick, Vera L. (1)
Hopkins, Francis C. (1)
Huffman, C. Elwood (1)
Huntingdon, Miles W. (1)
Johnston, Frank E. (1)
Keiser, Edwin Lee, Jr. (5)
Kemery, Fred B. (2)
Kost, Sara Heysham (2)
Little, Jean E. (1)
Lang, D. Eugene (1)
Losch, Lenore M. (6)
McNutt, Helen Durkin (1)
Moyer, Earle L. (1)
Moyer, M. Christine Sterner (1)
Potter, Margaret Riley (1)
Priemer, B. August (4)
Pursley, Luis A. (2)
Reber, Harold Z. (1)
Shannon, Ridge R. (4)
Sheppard, J. C. (1)
Sheppard, Catharine Cunningham (1)
Sheriff, Wilbur S. (6)
Shuttlesworth, Melvin C. (2)
Signarina, James R. (1)
Snyder, M. Josephine Kunkel (1)
Strowbridge, Geraldine Mix (1)
Ulmer, Alfred R. (6)
Vostine, John R. (6)
Wagner, Dale R. (5)
Wendin, Barbara Reifsnnyder (2)
Whitaker, Edna L. (6)
White, Jason W. (1)
Whitehead, Genevieve Panches (5)
Winter, Bruce H. (6)
Wisehaupt, Darwin M. (1)
Wolfgang, John L. (1)

1929

Fund Manager
Charles W. Kalp
Class Members 259
Contributors 35
% Contributing 13%
Alumni Fund $597.00
Other Gifts 130.00
Total Gifts $727.00

Abbott, Albert J. (6)
Anselm, Frances Soul (2)
Armogast, Josephine Schilling (4)
Bailey, Clyde P. (5)
Bailey, Dorothy Leman (5)
Bidlack, Kenneth A. (1)
Brickley, Myrtle DeCoursey (4)
Brobokor, Donald (2)
Cawley, Alice Spakes (4)
Ceresa, Louis (2)
Coloman, Rowland H. (4)
Cook, John B. (1)
Downes, Harlan A. (2)
Eyster, Jessie Fielding (5)
Fink, Paul E. (5)
Fox, John R. (1)
Frederick, A. Elizabeth (6)
Harrison, John M. (1)
Horan, William H. (1)
Hoy, W. Duffield (6)
Kalp, Charles W. (3)
Mahaad, William T. (2)
Moyer, Gilbert B. (3)
Rorig, Allen A. (5)
Reinheimer, Kenneth G. (5)
Rieder, Mary Taubel (2)
Riemer, Hugo (3)
Ries, H. William, Jr. (1)
Showalter, Thelma J. (6)
Storaci, Frank S. (4)
Swing, Frank A. (1)
Vensel, Sarah J. Collner (1)
Wagner, Dorothy (2)
Weber, Marie Fetherolf (4)
Wright, Esther Heritage (1)

DISTRIBUTION OF ALUMNI FUND GIFTS

	1954-55	1953-54
Over —$500.00	2	2
$200.00—$499.99	4	6
100.00—199.99	27	30
75.00—99.99	1	1
50.00—74.99	66	45
30.00—49.99	37	36
20.00—29.99	309	280
15.00—19.99	99	77
10.00—14.99	768	619
5.00—9.99	1140	935
0—4.99	771	584

The numbers in parentheses following the names of contributors indicate the number of years of continuous giving.

1930

Fund Manager

Blanche Thomas Simpson
 Class Members 256
 Contributors 65
 % Contributing 25%
 Alumni Fund $1,979.42
 Other Gifts 125.00
 Total Gifts $2,104.42

- Anderson, Sarah Hawes (3)
 Andrews, Emrys W. (1)
 Baker, Abraham J. (1)
 Baumgartner, Mildred P. (1)
 Beckworth, Evelyn M. (1)
 Burlew, John S. (3)
 Burlew, Grace Schoum (3)
 Cady, Eric Bates (6)
 Class of 1930 (1)
 Coleman, Esther Keim (2)
 Craft, Geraldine Welchons (1)
 Crogo, Paul H. (5)
 Crosier, Ruth Edwards (1)
 Davidson, Henry E. (2)
 Davies, Dorothy M. (1)
 Emmitt, William C. (1)
 Emmitt, Gertrude Brooks (1)
 Everitt, Mary Loring (6)
 Fenichel, Benjamin (6)
 Figner, Elizabeth (6)
 Gavenita, Bertha L. (1)
 Girton, Helen Welliver (1)
 Glover, Edwin A. (1)
 Grimes, Freida Miller (1)
 Hauber, Fardyce C. (2)
 Henderson, Marion R. (1)
 Henry, Goldie Heyman (1)
 Hill, Spencer W. (1)
 Hoffman, Edward S. (1)
 Hurlburt, James S. (1)
 Jones, Sara Bailey (1)
 Keller, Ralph G. (3)
 Kille, Bertha Thomas (2)
 Klosterman,
 Emmalyn Fuller (1)
 Layman, Kathryn Gambler (5)
 Lingle, Ralph G. (1)
 Maxwell, Emilie L. (5)
 Mazeine, Elizabeth Huxley (1)
 Metcalf, Edgar C. (1)
 Miller, Marie Walbert (4)
 Moerschbacher, Francis (1)
 Owens, Jennie (1)
 Payne, Robert L. (5)
 Pазienza, Louis N. (1)
 Potter, Milton J. (6)
 Quisito, Joseph M. (1)
 Riesmeyer, J. Paul (3)
 Rise, Wilson S. (1)
 Robertson, Juliet M. (3)
 Schreyer, Cloro Miles (1)
 Shorts, Arthur M. (1)
 Simpson, Blanche Thomas (3)
 Smith, Amos B. (1)
 Soars, Jessie L. (6)
 Stephens, Marilyn B. (2)
 Truscott, Francis T. (1)
 Ulmer, David C. (1)
 VanTuyl, Kathryn Leach (2)
 Voelker, Louise Rinck (1)
 Wagner, George O. (6)
 Walker, Marjorie Gamble (3)
 Wendle, Herbert M. (1)
 Williams, Sybil (1)
 Winter, Helen Ryder (1)
 Wishart, Catherine Browne (1)

1931

Fund Manager

Edward J. Smalstig
 Class Members 343
 Contributors 80
 % Contributing 23%
 Alumni Fund $794.50
 Other Gifts 735.00
 Total Gifts $1,529.50

- Atwood, Theodore C. (5)
 Bagar, Robert H. (1)
 Bolster, Ann Sprout (2)
 Brondriff, Henry Mowry (1)
 Brooks, Harry R. (2)
 Buchholz, Eleanor L. (1)
 Corlisle, Luther O. (2)
 Christopher, Helen E. (1)
 Doyton, Harold E. (1)
 DeVos, Italia Bertagni (1)
 Dundore, Grace Grimshaw (5)
 Egel, Norman (3)
 Easley, Trentie (1)
 Emery, Paul W. (4)
 Emey, Adolph D. (1)
 Fitch, Margaret Erb (6)
 Fleming, Alexander S. (6)
 Fox, Charles F., Jr. (4)
 Fox, Marian Stinson (1)
 Ganne, William H. (2)
 Giles, Marie Condit (1)
 Grove, Robert D. (4)
 Haines, Keith E. (1)
 Heine, Dorothy Grimshaw (5)
 Herr, Edward B. (3)
 Hibler, Marjorie Budd (6)
 Higgins, Delazon P. (1)
 Hopkins, Samuel A. (1)
 Hort, Percy (1)
 Hosler, Doris Bracey (6)
 Hottle, Betty Rodenbeck (1)

- Ingols, Robert S. (6)
 Keagy, R. Marvel (6)
 Keenan, Robert J. (6)
 Keiser, Robert H. (3)
 Konkle, James H., Jr. (3)
 Koser, Ralph B. (1)
 Kressler, Russell (1)
 Lawson, Esther Minich (2)
 Leonard, Clare M. (1)
 Longstreth, Mary Wilson (1)
 McClain, Warren J. (1)
 MacDonald, Lois Baker (4)
 Marquand, Naomi Clark (3)
 Minnier, Arthur E. (1)
 Morris, Charles M. (1)
 Murphy, Emma Shaff (1)
 Murray, Gladys S. (1)
 Nagel, Richard A. (1)
 Nissley, Joseph (4)
 O'Brien, Martha Warner (6)
 Poynter, Donald A. (1)
 Raker, Ned Tyson (1)
 Reece, Helen (4)
 Rider, Bernice Bachman (4)
 Rollins, Miriam Stafford (6)
 Rathman, Mary Gross (2)
 Ruhl, George A. (1)
 Shields, John J. (6)
 Shoop, Kathleen Wineman (1)
 Showalter, Paul M. (1)
 Simpson, James R. (6)
 Sleighter, Ruth Thomas (3)
 Smalstig, Edward J. (6)
 Smalstig, Alice Drennen (6)
 Smith, A. Crossley, Jr. (4)
 Snyder, Charles P. (6)
 Snyder, Ruth Weidemann (6)
 Stable, John A. (1)
 Sterling, Oscar R. (1)
 Sucher, Miles H. (1)
 Sucher, Alice Sweeley (1)
 Thomas, Russell F. (6)
 Thompson, Robert J. (3)
 VanTuyl, George H., Jr. (2)

- Laudenslager,
 Barbara Smith (1)
 Leavitt, Shirley M. (6)
 Leiby, Mary Beck (4)
 Logan, James P. (6)
 Longstreth, John (1)
 McMurray, Joseph H. (1)
 Mandel, Martin E. (3)
 March, Louis A. (6)
 Morgenstern, Eva Folsom (1)
 Mussina, Anna Weigold (3)
 Nayfield, Ronald C. (2)
 Remington, Hugh V. (1)
 Roberts, Stephen W. (3)
 Rollins, Glen W. (6)
 Ruggles, Evadne M. (6)
 Sheaffer, Grace Fithian (1)
 Shippis, Marvin G. (2)
 Shorts, Mary Reese (1)
 Sleighter, W. Zelman (1)
 Stevenson, James B. (4)
 Twaddle, Ruth Christian (6)
 Walton, Mildred F. (1)
 White, W. J., Jr. (4)
 Wood, W. H. (1)
 Woolley, Samuel H. (1)
 Ziegler, Nolan F. (1)

- Myers, Edna Cleckner (2)
 Nelms, Jane Williams (1)
 Offenkrantz, Frederick M. (6)
 Oler, Mildred Thomson (1)
 Polsgrove, Doris G. (4)
 Peirce, Gretchen Fisher (1)
 Pratt, Burt C. (1)
 Rakestraw, Louise (2)
 Rider, Stanley O. (2)
 Rutledge, Campbell, Jr. (6)
 Sheasley, Carl W. (3)
 Showalter,
 Katherine Graham (1)
 Smith, Virginia Humphreys (1)
 Smith, J. Guy (2)
 Smith, William N. (5)
 Stern, Samuel S. (3)
 Thomas, Thelma Swanson (1)
 Vanderhoof, Lorna (6)
 Vandermark, Leland C. (1)
 Van Deventer,
 Louise Christian (3)
 Vinyard, Caroline C. (6)
 Walters, George R. (2)
 Wells, C. Edmund (4)
 Williams, Robert F. (3)
 Windes, Stephen L. (1)
 Wright, John W. (1)
 Yohn, William H. (1)
 Young, Donald B. (4)
 Zanella, D. Andrew (5)
 In Memoriam
 Gilmore, Lehman P.

- Peters, Ruth Rippel (1)
 Plankenhorn, William F. (2)
 Ragusan, Francis J. (1)
 Rommelt, Raymond R. (1)
 Rowe, James L. (1)
 Saddler, Owen L. (1)
 Schrader, W. A. Benton (1)
 Sherman, Elizabeth Mayhew (1)
 Shields, Kelvin L. (2)
 Simpson, Helen Hoffner (5)
 Sweet, Robert H. (1)
 Szyplowski, John T. (3)
 Tenney, Eunice Lamb (2)
 Vaughn, Delbert Carroll (3)
 Walker, Sherburne B. (2)
 Wayland, Vincent B. (2)
 Wendt, Nelson (1)
 Wittmer, Lois Kurtz (3)
 Zlotkin, Isadore I. (2)

1933

Fund Manager

Campbell Rutledge, Jr.
 Class Members 324
 Contributors 78
 % Contributing 24%
 Alumni Fund $843.50
 Other Gifts 368.00
 Total Gifts $1,211.50

- Arman, Walter H. (1)
 Balldwin, Mary E. (1)
 Ballard, Dorothy A. (5)

1934

Fund Manager

Frank E. Gerlitz, Jr.
 Class Members 322
 Contributors 61
 % Contributing 19%
 Alumni Fund $693.00

THESE BUCKNELLIANs HELPED IN THE PERSONAL SOLICITATION PROGRAM

- Class of 1931—Miss Helen Christopher, Keith E. Haines, Mrs. J. Clair Heine, Delazon P. Higgins, Captain; Percy Hart, Mrs. Vincent S. Hattle, Miss Gladys S. Murray, Captain; Paul M. Showalter, Esq., Mrs. W. Z. Sleighter, Captain; Mrs. Miles H. Sucher, Carl E. Truxel, Cyrus L. Wagner, Mrs. Virginia Wahl, Mrs. Edwin L. Wertheim.
- Class of 1932—Miss Martha Bickel, Henry G. P. Coates, Esq., Dr. John S. Fetter, Captain; G. Heil Gramley, Ellis F. Hull, Miss Frances E. Knights, Stephen W. Roberts, Harry S. Sacks.
- Class of 1933—Samuel W. Bernstein, Captain; George Eastburn, Jr., Francis F. Fairchild, Captain; Rev. Fred G. Heather, Mrs. William Jamison, William S. Liming, Chairman; Mrs. Ralph Reish, Carl W. Sheasley, Captain; Mrs. Paul Showalter, Co-Chairman; Mrs. A. Crossley Smith, Captain; Mrs. Charles W. Thomas, George R. Walters.
- Class of 1934—Dr. James M. Converse, William A. Danda, Harry C. Fithian, Jr., Esq., Captain; Walter C. Geiger, Captain; Wilmer D. Greulich, Co-Chairman; Mrs. William S. Liming, William F. Plankenhorn, Raymond R. Rommelt, Captain; Sherburne B. Walker, Captain; Nelson E. Wendt, Captain.

- Wagner, Cyrus L. (6)
 Wahl, Virginia Cowell (3)
 Walker, Winona Bollinger (1)
 Weber, Warren A. (2)
 Wertheim,
 Madeline Waldherr (5)

1932

Fund Manager
 Forrest D. Long
 Class Members 286
 Contributors 52
 % Contributing 18%
 Alumni Fund $560.50
 Other Gifts 120.50
 Total Gifts $681.00

- Abernethy, George L. (5)
 Barbarin, Marco P. (2)
 Barton, Jack H. (1)
 Bickel, M. Martha (1)
 Brastow, William C. (3)
 Brenholtz, Laura A. (1)
 Bucknam, Bettina (6)
 Canfield, J. J. (1)
 Coates, Henry G. P. (5)
 Davis, David J. (5)
 Derrick, J. Raymond (2)
 Dieffenderfer, Lulu Miller (1)
 Donald, Lucy Lanyon (1)
 Engelhardt, August H. (1)
 Fetter, John S. (6)
 Fuller, Charlotte Lebo (1)
 Gramley, G. Heil (3)
 Gring, David E. (1)
 Guldin, F. Arthur (1)
 Hall, Walter E. (1)
 Haffman, Lloyd S. (5)
 Happer, Walter F. (6)
 Hull, Ellis F. (2)
 Johnson, Paul E. (1)
 Knights, Frances E. (6)
 Kohl, Virginia Kandle (6)

Other Gifts 113.00
 Total Gifts $806.00

- Bollentine, Robert G. (1)
 Barcus, Sanford L. (1)
 Barker, Samuel (1)
 Benson, Mary Nell (4)
 Boger, William P. (1)
 Bond, Lawrence R. (6)
 Breen, Harriet Kramer (1)
 Brickley, Kenneth S. (1)
 Burger, Charles A. (1)
 Bush, Jean Hill (5)
 Clark, Robert D. (1)
 Converse, James M. (3)
 Cranin, Virginia Dunkle (2)
 Danda, William A. (1)
 Deacon, Joseph R. (2)
 Dorman, Jack V. (3)
 Everitt, Joseph A. (4)
 Farino, Nicholas A. (2)
 Favino, James F. (5)
 Fithian, Harry C. (6)
 Foust, Tilman H. (6)
 Gangewere, Woodrow W. (2)
 Garver, Charles K. (2)
 Geiger, Walter C. (4)
 Gerlitz, Frank E., Jr. (2)
 Gilleland, Walter H. (1)
 Greulich, Wilmer D. (4)
 Hallbauer, William (1)
 Heritoge, B. Paul (1)
 Heritoge, Mary Bell (1)
 Ingram, Mary Hazard (1)
 Jamison, Edna Clayton (1)
 Jeffery, Margaret Van Tuyl (5)
 Kaste, Viola M. (5)
 Kenseth, Harold E. (1)
 Koster, Rhoda Lee (1)
 Leach, Charles P. (5)
 Leshner, Mabel (4)
 Liming, William S. (4)
 Lath, Bernard M. (2)
 McGaldrick, John L. (1)
 Marshall, Hugh L. (1)
 Mohr, John (2)

1936

Fund Manager

Hubbard S. Ruoff
 Class Members 295
 Contributors 49
 % Contributing 17%
 Alumni Fund $473.00
 Other Gifts 140.00
 Total Gifts $613.00

- Bote, Marie Rockwell (3)
 Bideispacher,
 Margery Treneer (1)
 Boyer, Russell R. (1)
 Brandon, Virginia R. (6)
 Brown, Charlotte Shupe (4)
 Buek, Alice Tyson (1)
 Bufonio, Fred A. (4)
 Clark, M. Howard (1)
 Collins, Sara Andrews (1)
 Condit, Edward C. (2)
 Cooley, R. L. (1)
 Decker, John C., III (5)
 Duck, Charles W. (3)
 Eckles, Eleanor N. (1)
 Furey, Jane A. (1)
 Gilbert, Richard W. (2)
 Griffith, Daniel F. (1)
 Hausel, Robert V. (4)
 Johnson, George C. (1)

Jones, Robert T. (4)
 Kinter, Kathryn Byerly (1)
 Lawrence, Genevieve (2)
 Lewis, Dean E. (2)
 Long, May Mallinson (1)
 McGee, Henry M. (3)
 McKee, Edward E. (6)
 Marvin, Arthur J. (1)
 Mathias, Margaret Blair (1)
 Moore, Frederick M. (1)
 More, Raulston H., Jr. (1)
 Park, Madeleine H. (1)
 Platt, Janet Soars (6)
 Pluto, Irene Lewski (6)
 Punshon, Thomas, Jr. (4)
 Rapp, Frederick W. (1)
 Reisman, Edward A. (3)
 Rohde, LeRoy (4)
 Sedgwick, Cornelius E. (6)
 Shackatone, Marc (2)
 Shaub, Virginia Nylund (4)
 Smeal, Dean E. (6)
 Stannert, Roy H. (1)
 Stanwood, Lillie Brown (1)
 Sweet, Theresa Symington (1)
 Tursky, Rosemarie J. (4)
 Verga, Armand F. (1)
 Wells, Jean Ernest (1)
 Wendt, June LeQuatte (1)
 Zanarini, Mary Hanning (3)

1937

Fund Manager
 Clinton A. Condict
Class Members 295
Contributors 54
% Contributing 18%
 Alumni Fund $631.50
 Other Gifts 278.00
 Total Gifts 909.50

Amish, Marie Schaff (2)
 Baker, Arthur (1)
 Brouse, Mary Crabb (1)
 Butcosk, Arthur F. (1)
 Butler, Rock L. (1)
 Campbell, Ruth (2)
 Clemens, William B. (6)
 Condict, Clinton A. (6)
 DeMuro, Samuel A. (2)
 Dunham, Frank W. (1)
 Dunkle, Brown (1)
 Eck, Helena (4)
 Eck, Mable E. (4)
 Elcome, William E. (1)
 Esch, Georgiana Crum (1)
 Griffith, Helen Morgan (1)
 Hebbard, Harry A., Jr. (1)
 Hitchner, Anne Weatherby (1)
 Hopper, Roger K. (2)
 Keiser, Laura Haines (1)
 Kerstetter, Elwood (1)
 Leavitt, Willard H. (1)
 Logue, James Gibson, Jr. (2)
 Marshall, George L. (1)
 Marshall, Eloise Klinetob (1)
 Mervine, Frances Miles (3)
 Mielke, Hazel Jackson (6)
 Miller, Robert G. (1)
 Moll, George A. (3)
 Monahan, Ray (1)
 Morreall, Herbert W., Jr. (6)
 Morris, Charles O., Jr. (2)
 Moss, Thayer D. (2)
 Nesbit, Samuel M. (1)
 Noll, Clyde M. (2)
 Osborne, Carroll E. (1)
 Palmisano, Vincent S. (3)
 Richards, Thomas B. (2)
 Rohde, Edith Griesinger (4)
 Sanicks, Ambrose, Jr. (5)
 Semmer, Freas E. (6)
 Sillman, Emmanuel I. (6)
 Slick, Ruth Ort (3)
 Speck, Thomas W. (1)
 Taxis, Ellen Gronemeyer (4)
 Thompson, Catherine E. (2)
 Vasquez, Anthony E. (1)
 Watson, P. Herbert (6)
 Weightman, Joseph (2)
 Worth, John F. (6)
 Wray, Elizabeth A. (2)
 Zeliff, Alice O'Mora (1)
 Ziegler, Mabel Nylund (3)

In Memoriam
 Decker, Elizabeth Talley

1938

Fund Manager
 Robert E. Streeter
Class Members 297
Contributors 50
% Contributing 17%
 Alumni Fund $564.00
 Other Gifts 43.00
 Total Gifts $607.00

Ake, Harold N. (1)
 Anderson, Jean Kirby (2)
 Atkins, Sue R. (2)
 Blanche, Ernest Eved (4)
 Bannan, Herbert F. (4)
 Branner, Nellis B., Jr. (5)
 Brown, Alice G. (1)
 Candy, Jack H. (4)
 Clouser, Isabelle L. (4)
 Dauberman, William H. (4)
 Duck, Thelma Slack (3)

Dueger, Virginia Russell (1)
 Farqahar, Mary I. (5)
 Fox, Ira G. (6)
 Griffey, Helen Noecker (1)
 Hart, Carol Davis (1)
 Hillstrom, Jane Raymond (2)
 Hinkle, Thomas L. (3)
 Hoffman, William M. (5)
 Kamienski, Edward P. (1)
 Kob, Leo B. (5)
 Ledden, Lewis J. (6)
 Leinroth, Alma Bloecker (4)
 McKeage, Mary Belle (5)
 Magee, Eleanor Hoffa (1)
 Martins, Edith Lipphardt (2)
 Matson, Janet McKenna (2)
 Mayock, Robert Lee (6)
 Newman, Robert G. (4)
 Peebles, William R. (1)
 Peel, Frances Wolfe (1)
 Porter, George R. (2)
 Quick, Joseph T. (3)
 Quick, Mary Bachman (3)
 Rapp, Grace Gault (1)
 Reider, Janet McMahon (1)
 Robertson, William E., Jr. (1)
 Roos, Marian Richardson (2)
 Rose, Marion Rank (1)
 Rothermel, Daniel A. (6)
 Spotts, Ruth Walter (1)
 Streeper, Robert E. (1)
 Swick, J. Howard (6)
 Weisser, Roland J. (1)
 Whitten, Sally Reifsnnyder (6)
 Work, William S. (3)
 Wyckoff, Richard H. (2)
 Zager, Abraham J. (3)
 Zlotkin, Louis C. (2)
 Zott, Frederick D. (6)

1939

Fund Manager
 Leonard O. Friedman

Lewis, Robert B. (4)
 Linnig, Frederick J. (1)
 McCune, John C. (5)
 Manrodt, Kurt, Jr. (6)
 Martelli, M. Joseph (6)
 Mathias, Earl P. (1)
 Mathias, Roy P. (3)
 Miles, Hannah Mervine (2)
 Miller, Marjorie Bastedo (1)
 Mueller, Ernest C. (1)
 Mutchler, Charles E. (1)
 Noll, Frank H. (1)
 Pearlman, Emanuel E. (5)
 Perry, Ruth A. (1)
 Peters, Henry (1)
 Rabe, Edward F. (6)
 Rathmell, Bernice Henry (1)
 Raup, Zura E. (1)
 Rishel, Robert S. (2)
 Robbins, Donald H. (1)
 Rohrs, Walter F. (1)
 Seers, Robert F. (2)
 Slack, Jean E. (1)
 Smith, A. Eugene (1)
 Smith, Robert E. (3)
 Sober, Charles T. (2)
 Stevenson, Robert E. (1)
 Warner, Kathryn Christopher (1)
 Weightman, Dorothy Millward (2)
 Wein, Melvin A. (2)
 West, Donald P. (1)
 Westby-Gibson, Herbert (1)
 Widman, Eleanor Edwards (2)
 Withers, Katherine Lucas (2)
 Wynn, D. Richard (1)

1940

Fund Manager
 W. Donald Walker
Class Members 379

Koch, Alfred P. (2)
 Kohberger, Ruth Cox (6)
 Kohl, Edith Boquist (1)
 Kovski, John J. (4)
 Kraft, Stephen (1)
 Laird, Martha A. (3)
 Lemler, Stanley R. (4)
 Link, Joseph A. (1)
 McRae, Dorothy Oaks (1)
 Mack, Elma Griscam (1)
 Maguire, Robert F. (1)
 Malliqueu, Eleanor (1)
 Manker, Raymond O. (1)
 Marks, Franklin J. (3)
 Mayer, Dorothy White (1)
 Miller, Mary McCrina (4)
 Noll, Betty Boyd (1)
 Perez, Robert C. (1)
 Porch, Rae Shultz (1)
 Posner, Ralph M. (2)
 Price, Frederick S. (1)
 Rader, Reuben W. (1)
 Randolph, Jeanette Armstrong (1)
 Reid, Joseph A. (5)
 Rice, John M. (6)
 Rohrs, Helen Peachey (1)
 Romweber, Margaret T. (3)
 Rothrock, David R. (4)
 Rougharden, Cornelius R., Jr. (1)
 Roush, Richard J. (2)
 Savidge, Alice Healey (1)
 Schnure, Robert B. (4)
 Schnure, Annabel Kreider (4)
 Selinger, Doris Loos (4)
 Shoner, Robert J. (5)
 Shultz, Richard C. (3)
 Simons, Leo H. (1)
 Slade, Arthur R., Jr. (1)
 Sloff, Franklin (2)
 Stanton, Robert L. (3)
 Thomas, Kay Geissel (6)
 Tydings, Marie Roversi (1)

Dietz, Anthony G. (2)
 Dietz, Grace Stone (1)
 Diffenderfer, Lillian Bullock (2)
 Dumelin, Janet Clayton (1)
 Edwards, Charles (1)
 Elliott, Mary Griffith (1)
 Francis, Sarah (2)
 Frantz, Marion Martin (2)
 Fredrickson, Robert A. (1)
 Geiss, Jack C. (2)
 Glover, Donald W. (1)
 Golden, Frederick (2)
 Graybill, B. Eloise Garber (6)
 Greenleaf, Helen E. (2)
 Gunther, Miriam Mensch (6)
 Hamilton, Frederick B., Jr. (1)
 Hanna, John F. (1)
 Hayes, Eugene D. (4)
 Hind, James R. (4)
 Hulley, William C., III (6)
 Hunter, Miriam Leshar (3)
 Johnson, William S. (4)
 Jones, Aldwin D. (1)
 Kaufman, W. Richard (1)
 Kerr, Robert M. (6)
 Longworthy, Betty Stover (2)
 Lawrence, Dorothy Outman (3)
 Lepke, John R. (3)
 Madison, Sarah Slaughenhaup (6)
 Mathieson, Richard A. (2)
 Meyer, Thomas O. (1)
 Michel, Frederick A., Jr. (2)
 Miller, Victor (3)
 Minnich, Betty Fleckenstine (2)
 Morton, William R. (1)
 Mueller, Dorothy Minium (1)
 Netzel, Philip C. (1)
 Nolan, Robert J. (4)
 Nonemaker, Frank, Jr. (5)
 Olsen, Bernice Fisher (1)
 Porch, Alberta McCreehy (1)
 Ranck, Lee S. (3)
 Reckard, Lyle Long (3)
 Reed, Charles P. (1)
 Reed, Martha Rice (1)
 Reid, Tatiana C. (1)
 Rink, Robert W. (3)
 Rosenberg, Allan J. (3)
 Savidge, H. Blanche (6)
 Scott, Carolyn Gemmill (5)
 Scott, Richard C. (5)
 Serrao, Frank R. (1)
 Sleeth, Eleanor Lindell (6)
 Smith, Alan H. (1)
 Smith, Margaret Farrell (5)
 Snyder, Dorothy Derr (6)
 Teter, Robert H. (2)
 Thomas, Robert E. (1)
 Tuhy, Darina (2)
 Underwood, Raymond P. (2)
 Verdir, Viola Primm (2)
 Waldner, Craig M. (1)
 Watson, Alice Colbert (1)
 West, Doris Weston (1)
 Zeller, John F., III (6)

1942

Fund Manager
 Donald H. Sholl
Class Members 366
Contributors 101
% Contributing 27%
 Alumni Fund $717.25
 Other Gifts 260.00
 Total Gifts $977.25

Alley, Elaine Schotz (1)
 Bacon, Albert N. (4)
 Bacon, Elva Ahrensfield (4)
 Bayless, Kenneth (2)
 Bishop, Dorothy Benham (6)
 Bond, Charles F. (3)
 Bowen, William W. (1)
 Brown, J. Kenneth (2)
 Brown, Joseph S. (2)
 Burt, Douglas W. (6)
 Carson, F. William (2)
 Carson, Betty Thomas (2)
 Cosden, Daniel D. (6)
 Clark, James O., Jr. (1)
 Cloke, Harvey W. (1)
 Cloke, Janet House (1)
 Craig, Eleanor Tully (3)
 Cummings, Arlene Avrutine (2)
 Davies, Gertrude Jones (6)
 Dietz, Germaine Pepperman (2)
 Donehower, Robert W. (6)
 Drou, William M., Jr. (4)
 Durante, Lois Johnson (2)
 Ehringer, J. Leslie (1)
 Eisaman, H. Keith (1)
 Eister, Donald H. (1)
 Faust, Margaret H. (1)
 Frantz, Jasper H. (1)
 Freyburger, Walter (2)
 Garro, Frank T. (1)
 Gilbert, Harry L. (2)
 Granberry, Margaret Linaberry (2)
 Gray, Richard M. (6)
 Grim, D. Elizabeth (6)
 Grimforth, Carl H., Jr. (5)
 Heaney, Herbert, Jr. (4)
 Held, Eleanor Perry (1)
 Haller, Madeline Morgan (1)
 Holt, Gilbert P. (1)
 Hopkins, Don L. (1)
 Houser, Robert C. (1)
 Huskin, Mary Gleckner (3)

THESE BUCKNELLIANS HELPED IN THE PERSONAL SOLICITATION PROGRAM

Class of 1935—Miss Gertrude Carey, Theron S. Dershem, Mrs. Lorraine Fenstermacher, Harry L. Jenkins, Captain; Mrs. Harry L. Jenkins, Lt.-Col. J. Melvin Miller, Miss Theo Smith.

Class of 1936—M. Howard Clark, John C. Decker, Esq., Captain; Mrs. William N. Frederick, Captain; William T. Granger, D. F. Griffith, Captain; Dean E. Lewis, Mrs. Carrall A. Platt, Edward A. Reisman, Captain.

Class of 1937—Mrs. Reuben G. Brouse, Arthur F. Butcosk, Mrs. D. F. Griffith, Mrs. Anne W. Hitchner, Mrs. Louro H. Keiser, Elwood Kerstetter, Mrs. Frances Mervine, Herb W. Morrell, Jr., Captain; Thayer D. Mass, Captain; G. W. Richards, Captain; Joseph F. Rickards, Mrs. L. H. Rohde, Captain; Mrs. John O. Taxis, Rev. Anthony F. Vasquez, P. Herbert Watson, Chairman; John F. Worth, Chairman; Mrs. Paul W. Ziegler.

Class of 1938—William R. Peebles, Co-Chairman; George R. Porter, Captain; Joseph T. Quick, Co-Chairman; Mrs. Joseph T. Quick, William S. Work, Captain.

Class Members	397	Contributors	85
Contributors	71	% Contributing	22%
% Contributing	18%	Alumni Fund	$630.95
Alumni Fund	$593.00	Other Gifts	124.00
Other Gifts	286.00	Total Gifts	$754.95
Total Gifts	$879.00

Wagner, Gerald F. (3)
Walcott, Permilla Miller (6)
Walker, W. Donald (3)
Weemhoff, Ruth Trinkaus (3)
Westby-Gibson, Dorothy Fenton (1)
Williams, Donald S. (1)
Winter, John C. (3)

1941

Fund Manager
 B. Eloise Garber Graybill
Class Members 349
Contributors 88
% Contributing 25%
 Alumni Fund $507.00
 Other Gifts 35.00
 Total Gifts $542.00

Armor, Raymond H. (4)
 Askey, William H. (1)
 Auman, George E. (1)
 Baird, Mary Hutchinson (1)
 Baker, Janet Chistador (3)
 Bendell, Eleanor H. (6)
 Bessel, Morris (1)
 Bier, Vera Lein (1)
 Bloete, Wilbur R. (4)
 Blum, Jean Sheinhouse (2)
 Brembeck, Cole S. (3)
 Brown, Evelyn Day (1)
 Burt, Alma Jacobs (6)
 Cann, Thomas W., Jr. (1)
 Casey, James F. (1)
 Colwell, Helen Meek (6)
 Craig, James D. (3)
 Cressman, Carolyn Minner (1)
 Cummings, Martin M. (2)
 Dannehauser, Kenneth S. (6)
 Davis, John W., Jr. (1)
 Davis, Janet Cook (1)
 Davis, Genevieve Brennan (2)

The numbers in parentheses following the names of contributors indicate the number of years of continuous giving.

Johnson, LeAnne Boyle (1)
 Jones, J. Charles (4)
 Kehler, Ronald E. (1)
 Kingsbury, John M. (1)
 Knupp, Melvin (1)
 Kardish, Emil (4)
 Kulp, Mary Heacock (5)
 Lank, Richard A. (1)
 McGuire, William (3)
 McNamee, Ruth Braden (6)
 McPherson, Murray B. (6)
 McPherson, Jeanne Meyer (6)
 Mannella, Clifford W. (1)
 Marshall, Alice Zindell (2)
 Mastin, John B. (1)
 Mastin, Elizabeth Becker (1)
 Mazzoella, Daniel A. (2)
 Milleman, Dwight S. (2)
 Miller, Audrey Leipsig (3)
 Mutchler, Helen Cabaugh (1)
 Nicely, Linabelle (1)
 Nolan, Martin J. (1)
 Nolan, Mary Gallagher (1)
 Olley, James F. (1)
 Owen, J. Russell (1)
 Pettit, Harvey P. (6)
 Puff, Robert C. (6)
 Raab, Martha Miller (1)
 Ragsdale, Mary Divine (1)
 Richards, Mary Savidge (3)
 Richardson, Danforth K. (2)
 Riley, John W. (1)
 Rank, Willard L. (1)
 Runkel, Howard W. (6)
 Schnure, Fred O., Jr. (4)
 Seltzer, Charles J. (5)
 Seltzer, Ethel Jaegle (5)
 Seltzer, Germaine Roshon (3)
 Shafer, Albert W. (1)
 Shaffer, Robert O. (2)
 Sholl, Donald H. (6)
 Simms, James S. (1)
 Sleeth, Clovis S., Jr. (5)
 Smith, Ruth Zimmerman (1)
 Smith, Bertha Gannon (4)
 Smith, Annabelle Shepler (1)
 Snyder, Robert A. (6)
 Sterner, Charlotte Root (1)
 Strittmatter, Kenneth R. (2)
 Teter, Doris Green (1)
 Tracy, Richard H. (2)
 Vanderbilt, Walter S. (3)
 Waldner, Anne Randle (1)
 Wedel, Dorothy Roser (2)
 Whitney, Leslie W. (1)
 Whitten, Mary H. (4)
 Weinberger, Marion B. (1)
 Yagel, Sara Bernitz (1)
 Yost, John H. (6)

1943

Fund Manager
 William G. Thomas
 Class Members 385
 Contributors 88
 % Contributing 23%
 Alumni Fund $619.00
 Other Gifts 162.50
 Total Gifts $781.50

Alexander, Alex L. (2)
 Anderson, William J. (4)
 Anthony, John A. (2)
 Armstrong, Theodore R. (1)
 Boserman, Kenneth J. (1)
 Bauers, Dorothy Wolfe (1)
 Bergman, Charles S. (4)
 Brautigam, Edward H. (1)
 Bunnell, Catherine M. (2)
 Charney, Stephen M. (2)
 Clemmer, Clara Walton (6)
 Cochran, Jean Troyer (5)
 Cook, M. Eugene (6)
 Cowles, Clinton, Jr. (1)
 Faber, Richard F. (6)
 Fairclough, William A. (4)
 Fish, Donald E. (6)
 Frankel, Volney B. (4)
 Frantz, Robert H. (1)
 Gibson, George C. (1)
 Glazier, Harold E. (1)
 Glover, June Jaggard (1)
 Godley, Paul F., Jr. (5)
 Griffith, Jane W. (6)
 Griffith, William M. (1)
 Hain, George R. (1)
 Haines, George F., Jr. (4)
 Hegeman, Clinton, Jr. (1)
 Hegeman, Marcia Herregesell (1)
 Held, Walter G. (1)
 Henneberger, Lois M. (5)
 Hillstrom, Claire A. (1)
 Hoopes, Albert W., Jr. (1)
 Jarrett, Ivan R. (6)
 Johannessen, John D. (1)
 Johannessen, Mary Orsa (2)
 Jordan, Herbert V., Jr. (2)
 King, Lucy Hoffman (1)
 Krout, Robert R. (3)
 Latta, Eleanor Pyle (1)
 Leavy, Florence Simmons (1)
 Luce, Arlene Downs (1)
 McCabe, Virginia (3)
 McCully, Harry G. (1)
 Manrodt, Virginia Mitchell (3)
 Marshall, Stanley C. (2)
 Mathieson, Patricia Salmon (2)
 Meyer, Marion Phillips (1)
 Miles, Betty E. (1)

Moore, James R. (6)
 Nicely, Eleanor E. (1)
 Passage, Douglas W. (6)
 Peck, Maribeth Bond (1)
 Pettit, Mary Beidler (6)
 Podd, Chester V. (1)
 Puff, Isabel Clark (6)
 Ragsdale, Marshall N. (1)
 Ranck, Eugene F. (1)
 Rehkamp, George J. (2)
 Reiss, Ruth Chamberlin (1)
 Reyner, John F. (5)
 Richardson, Marjorie Hopwood (3)
 Robinhold, William L. (1)
 Rodgers, Charles J. (1)
 Rogers, William J., III (3)
 Rollins, William S. (6)
 Rowland, Alice Leutner (1)
 Rue, Lawrenson C. (1)
 Saylor, Beatrice Lepley (1)
 Scheule, Harold J. (1)
 Shipman, Cullen F., Jr. (6)
 Shipman, Ruth Guarnaica (6)
 Sholl, Janet Bold (6)
 Simmonds, Harriet Lynn (6)
 Snell, Frederick A. (1)
 Stevens, Rosalind M. (5)
 Thomas, Jeanne Hoynes (1)
 Thomas, William G. (3)
 Vanderbilt, Dorian Smith (3)
 Wagner, Jay W. (1)
 Wean, Jeanne Lever (1)
 Weaver, John M. (1)
 Whittam, Stewart F. (1)
 Wickerham, Earl P., Jr. (6)
 Wilkinson, Marion Weist (6)
 Wilson, Doris Ranck (1)
 Zoerb, Sallie (3)

1944

Fund Manager
 Raymond K. Irwin

MacPherson, Ruth Cooper (1)
 McQuillen, Leo V. (1)
 Mausteller, J. Wilson (1)
 Mendes, Frank E., III (3)
 Mendes, Ruth Smith (3)
 Muncaster, Frances Olsen (1)
 Pascale, Elmo (3)
 Posner, Robert P. (1)
 Puff, Henry B. (4)
 Reece, J. William (1)
 Reed, Henry M. (1)
 Revis, Kathleen (3)
 Rosenstein, Paul (1)
 Ross, Frank A. (1)
 Royer, Helen E. (1)
 Salzer, Helen Ludwig (1)
 Schnure, William H. (3)
 Schultz, Mary R. (1)
 Seiple, Helen Fisher (2)
 Smith, Leonard R. (1)
 Snyder, Fay Adams (1)
 Sortore, Jane (1)
 Sterner, Robert R. (3)
 Strange, Nancy Donehower (1)
 Straub, Arthur L., Jr. (6)
 Strittmatter, Mary Alice Lewis (1)
 Tusty, Doris Bullwinkel (3)
 Verbeyst, Dora Seyfarth (2)
 Wood, June Chopman (4)

1945

Fund Manager
 Nancy Woehling Moore
 Class Members 300
 Contributors 60
 % Contributing 20%
 Alumni Fund $333.50
 Other Gifts 20.00
 Total Gifts $353.50

Scanlan, Elizabeth Daughy (4)
 Schaffer, Ella Wagner (1)
 Schnure, Elise Miller (4)
 Schnure, Anne Kloss (6)
 Schwalm, Carolyn Dunkelberger (3)
 Schwarze, Louise Laube (1)
 Shapira, Vera Messing (1)
 Sholl, Nancy Ireland (1)
 Sirionni, Mary Lou Jenkins (1)
 Smith, Sara Gault (2)
 Stuempfle, Patricia Madenfort (1)
 Swarthwout, Dorothy Porter (1)
 Taft, Margery Tyson (1)
 Wagner, Charles L. (2)
 Wagner, Rachel Arbogast (2)
 Webster, William R. (1)
 Wert, Dawn Knoebel (3)
 Wiederspahr, Jean Williams (3)
 Williams, Thomas P. (1)
 Young, Elsie Wilson (1)

1946

Fund Manager
 Fred H. Anderson
 Class Members 381
 Contributors 73
 % Contributing 19%
 Alumni Fund $443.50
 Other Gifts 124.50
 Total Gifts $568.00
 Allen, Nancy Kline (1)
 Anderson, Fred H. (5)
 Atherton, Eloise Oram (4)
 Bausch, Mary (2)
 Bella, Jeanne Hackenberg (3)
 Berger, Seymour P. (5)

1947

Fund Manager
 Thomas J. Quigley
 Class Members 530
 Contributors 108
 % Contributing 20%
 Alumni Fund $605.00
 Other Gifts 220.00
 Total Gifts $825.00
 Austin, Robert D., Jr. (1)
 Bacon, Edwin F. (1)
 Bancel, Marjorie Gails (1)
 Banner, Alice Thirkield (1)
 Benner, J. William (1)
 Billings, Elizabeth Quinn (1)
 Bohs, Helen Klauer (1)
 Brady, James E. (5)
 Brogan, Charles C., Jr. (2)
 Bullcock, Ruth Richardson (1)
 Craumer, William E. (1)
 Custer, Charlotte Schultz (3)
 Davis, William C. (2)
 Dill, Mary Hess (1)
 Dombroski, Betty Angstadt (1)
 Donaldson, Peggy Randolph (2)
 Dubreuil, Shirley (6)
 Dueder, L. Edward (1)
 Edmunds, Margaret Matthews (2)
 Edmunds, Robert E. (2)
 Erieg, Mathias F. (1)
 Fetter, W. Roger (1)
 Fischer, Shiela Obstfeld (1)
 France, Elizabeth Cargill (1)
 Fullerton, Bushnell (6)
 Fullerton, Lois Miller (6)
 Garde, Marjorie Hall (1)
 Garten, Thomas L. (2)
 Gifford, Dorothy Kohl (1)
 Glover, Carolyn (2)
 Goldman, Tamara Gurvitch (5)
 Gordon, Mabel Swineford (1)
 Gronau, Grace Deissler (4)
 Haas, Francis B., Jr. (6)
 Haddon, Roger S. (4)
 Hale, Barbara Messer (1)
 Ham, James G., Jr. (1)
 Herpst, Roland C. (3)
 Hosterman, Warren W. (2)
 Hubka, Eugene L. (1)
 Hurwitz, David L. (2)
 Iba, Jean Steele (1)
 Jacques, Milton G. (2)
 Jones, Mary Pangburn (1)
 Kazy, Albert (4)
 Kazary, Anna Gold (4)
 Kullman, Harold M. (6)
 Landew, Melvin (1)
 Lanfeur, Alfred J. (2)
 Lennox, Samuel D., Jr. (1)
 Lang, Esther Baumgartner (2)
 Loui, Wallace W. S. (1)
 McGowan, R. C. (1)
 Martin, Anthony J. (1)
 Matthews, Eugene J. (5)
 Matthews, June Stott (5)
 Megargel, Robert W. (3)
 Mitchell, Brinton B. (1)
 Mologne, Stuart J. (1)
 Murdock, Porter (4)
 Nielson, Doris Alston (2)
 Northrup, Robert M. (2)
 Oberdorf, Joy A. (1)
 Obitz, Clarence S. (4)
 Ohl, Donald G. (1)
 Painter, Mildred Valentine (2)
 Perkins, Mary Park (2)
 Pugiessie, William M. (1)
 Pursley, Homer O. (1)
 Pursley, Donna McNeal (1)
 Rathe, Faith Lief (1)
 Redding, John J. (1)
 Redding, June Marshall (1)
 Reece, Richard C. (1)
 Reynolds, Ford A. (6)
 Roberts, W. Nelson (1)
 Roberts, Jeanne Margenthal (1)
 Rodgers, Nancy Anchor (6)
 Rombo, Marvin (1)
 Rowland, N. Dean, Jr. (1)
 Rudolph, Girard W. (1)
 Sandin, Marilyn Kappel (1)
 Sanger, Sanford H. (3)
 Schalin, Dorothy Watkinson (6)

THESE BUCKNELLIAN HELPED IN THE PERSONAL SOLICITATION PROGRAM

Class of 1939—Barr Cannon, Co-Chairman; Leonard O. Friedman, John N. Green, Willis E. Jones, Captain; Frank W. Magill, Jr., Captain; Roy P. Mothios, Henry N. Peters, Walter F. Rohrs, Captain; Mrs. Joseph Weightman, Captain; Mrs. John Withers.
Class of 1940—Floyd L. Arbogast, Jr., Captain; John L. Dunn, Miss Ruth Gemberling, C. Robert Keenan, Robert F. Maguire, Jr., Mrs. Rowland B. Porch, Cornelius R. Roughgarden, Jr., Robert B. Schnure.
Class of 1941—George E. Auman, Mrs. Frederick W. Baker, Thomas W. Conn, Jr., Captain; Donald W. Glover, Frederick B. Hamilton, Jr., Thomas O. Meyer, Captain; Lee S. Ranck, Robert H. Teter, Captain; Croig A. Waldner, Chairman; John F. Zeller, Esq.
Class of 1942—Albert N. Bacon, Allen W. Beck, Dr. Daniel D. Casden, James O. Clark, J. Leslie Ehringer, H. Keith Eisaman, Frank T. Garro, Richard M. Gray, Don L. Hopkins, Captain; Robert C. Houser, Mrs. William Seltzer, Captain; Mrs. Robert H. Teter, Gilbert H. Unruh, Jr.
Class of 1943—Mrs. Calvin L. Clemmer, M. Eugene Cook, W. Jae Culbertson, Captain; Donald E. Fish, Gilbert P. Halt, Ivon R. Jarrett.

Class Members 323
 Contributors 64
 % Contributing 19%
 Alumni Fund $417.25
 Other Gifts 51.00
 Total Gifts $468.25

Adams, Phyllis B. (4)
 Adamson, N. Arthur (6)
 Adamson, Irene Bardwell (6)
 Alston, Estelle Howley (1)
 Baker, Robert F. (3)
 Baker, Helen Rhinesmith (1)
 Barclay, Kathryn Stevenson (1)
 Benner, Betty Miller (1)
 Bernstein, Seymour (6)
 Bond, Amy Stevenson (3)
 Breg, Margaret Meston (2)
 Caverly, Myron R. (6)
 Diring, Owen I. (1)
 Franklin, Mary Evans (3)
 Friedrich, Robert E. (1)
 Grobowski, Elsa Larsen (2)
 Haines, George D. (1)
 Haire, Sybil D. (1)
 Hannis, Edith C. (1)
 Heaney, Helen Ahrensfield (4)
 Heim, William (1)
 Hewson, Jeanne Watts (1)
 Horneyak, Helen Wachtel (1)
 Irwin, Raymond K. (2)
 Jones, Marguerite Strouse (3)
 Joralemon, Mary Foley (1)
 Kantarian, Halg (1)
 Kealey, Sybil J. (2)
 Kistler, Warren A. (1)
 Kleppinger, Dorothea Bittner (4)
 Kuhl, Florence Fitzcharles (6)
 Leach, Janet B. (4)
 Levitt, Eugene (5)
 Light, Richard M. (5)
 MacPherson, Ronald H. (1)

Bornes, Betty Louise Cleckner (1)
 Blessing, R. Wayne (2)
 Bond, William E. G. (2)
 Boston, Lois Dupuy (2)
 Braun, Mildred V. (4)
 Bregman, Irvin (4)
 Buffington, Catherine M. (1)
 Caverly, Janet Southgate (6)
 Check, Kenneth G. (1)
 Cobsworth, Dorothy Anderson (1)
 Davison, Thomas, III (6)
 Dent, Constance P. (1) deToledo, Marjory Chapin (1)
 Diehl, Jerome F. (1)
 Diffenderfer, Richard B. (1)
 Drexler, Martha Nickeson (1)
 Eichberg, Bettie L. (1)
 Everett, Ruth E. (3)
 Fish, Elizabeth Baldwin (5)
 Goad, David R. (2)
 Pammer, Marcia Beatty (4)
 Hegner, Kathryn Stout (2)
 Johnston, Chester A., Jr. (2)
 Jones, William B. (2)
 Lowrie, Marian Murachanian (6)
 Mills, John L. (1)
 Moore, Nancy Woehling (1)
 Olmsted, Lois Martin (1)
 Pembleton, Ruth Burnett (2)
 Podd, H. Louise Stead (1)
 Quillen, H. Hayward (6)
 Rader, George R. (1)
 Reckmever, William J. (2)
 Rehkamp, Charles J. (2)
 Rodriquez, Katherine Biermeier (1)
 Rohrbach, Hazel Weber (2)
 Roop, Daniel M. (1)
 Ross, Phoebe Goldsmith (3)
 Ruff, Delia Edel (1)
 Saters, June Gates (1)

Bordow, Burton W. (1)
 Bowen, Donna Roy (1)
 Caldwell, Doris Lyngaas (6)
 Carlson, Anno Talley (2)
 Dainoff, Olymp (1)
 Davis, Dorothy Hutton (5)
 Eisenhauer, Robert D. (3)
 Ermenc, Mary Steele (1)
 Ewing, Elizabeth Wells (6)
 Finkelstein, Sanford (6)
 Fischer, Janice Ubil (1)
 Gettman, M. Nancy (2)
 Gold, William D. (4)
 Goslow, Joan Ruhnley (4)
 Greene, Elaine T. (1)
 Haddon, Harry H. (1)
 Harris, Ruth E. (1)
 Harshbarger, Jeanne Phillips (1)
 Everett, Louise S. (3)
 Hetrick, Patricia Yoder (1)
 Hinkelman, Harold I. (1)
 Howell, Alfred C. (2)
 Jeramaz, Peggy Thompson (3)
 Jones, Harry D. (5)
 Kidder, Dorothy King (1)
 Krzywicki, Faith VanSise (4)
 Lawida, Josephine Avia (6)
 Leggett, Charlotte Grothers (2)
 Levit, Edith Miller (1)
 McChesney, Eleanor Golithly (4)
 Machamer, Andrew W. (1)
 Marshall, Tozia Lewski (1)
 Mason, Dorothy Minter (1)
 Mauk, Jean Adams (1)
 Mayer, Mariel Doy (1)
 Moore, Sally McFall (6)
 Morton, Ruth Irland (5)
 Munson, John A. (1)
 Ness, Sara Krone (3)
 Palmeter, Jane Rockwell (6)
 Pangburn, Edward W., Jr. (3)
 Reifsnnyder, Betty Wynn (4)
 Roash, Nicholas A. (1)

The numbers in parentheses following the names of contributors indicate the number of years of continuous giving.

Schreckengast,
Betty Housh (1)
Show, Maurice R., Jr. (2)
Show, Anne Glomb (2)
Smeltzer, W. Paul, Jr. (1)
Smith, Elizabeth Erb (1)
Stamm, Phillip H. (1)
Starzyk, Jocelyn LeMassena (1)
Steamer, Robert J. (1)
Steininger, Charles F. (1)
Steininger, Dorothy Gleckner (1)
Stuempfle, D. William (1)
Syme, Jesse W. (1)
Toplis, William M. (1)
Tyler, June Frantz (6)
Ullmann, Jeanne Phelps (1)
Updegrove, Ruby Hunsberger (1)
Vitray, G. Alain (3)
Wargo, Michael M. (1)
Wargo, Clarissa Bush (1)
Warren, Kenneth (5)
Wilson, Andrew T. (1)
Woehling, Mory Wolfinger (4)
Woods, Elmer B., Jr. (1)
Yocum, Josephine Ghormley (1)
Zachora, Francis M. (5)

1948

Fund Manager

Robert H. Taylor

Class Members	670
Contributors	128
% Contributing	19%
Alumni Fund	$662.00
Other Gifts	174.00
Total Gifts	$836.00

Abbott, R. Meade (1)
Anderson, Gladys Kurtz (1)
Austin, Robert K. (6)
Balakian, Arax Aroasian (4)
Baum, John E. (6)
Baumbach, Mary Grove (1)
Bell, Edwin L., II (2)
Bell, Frances Reichard (1)
Benfer, Neil A. (1)
Bennett, Clyde E., Jr. (2)
Berg, Helen M. (1)
Bigler, Harold S. (1)
Bobb, William T. (4)
Bogar, Joseph (2)
Bowman, Roger H. (1)
Brown, Elizabeth Simmons (1)
Brown, Gordon J. (2)
Brown, Joann Golithly (6)
Brown, Richard S. (1)
Bullock, George C. (1)
Ciccarelli, Pasqualino A. (1)
Coats, Margaret Hughes (1)
Collins, Virginia Lewis (1)
Commins, James A. (1)
Cooke, Patricia R. (1)
Coyne, Stuart L. (2)
Craumer, Robert C. (1)
Dale, John L. (1)
Davis, Florence Kreidler (6)
Dill, E. Lamont, Jr. (1)
Dodd, Samuel M., Jr. (2)
Donaldson, James A. (2)
Dudeck, Frances Wentzel (1)
Duerig, Jean Kohler (1)
Eisenhauer, Eleanor Moore (3)
Elze, Warren E. (4)
Elze, Nora Giovelli (4)
Exstein, Louis H. (3)
Fennell, Edward G. (1)
Flinchum, Mariam Burkert (1)
Foster, Alexander (1)
Freas, Arthur K. (2)
Freeman, John E., Jr. (5)
Gibson, Dorothea Jane (1)
Gald, Virginia Lehr (4)
Graham, Gertrude Vogel (2)
Gullo, Salvatore (1)
Higgins, Mary F. (1)
Hillhouse, Barbara (1)
Holt, Gertrude Cooper (1)
Horwitz, Dorothy Gottterer (2)
Hott, Charles W. (1)
Houghton, James A. (1)
Hoying, Anthony B. (6)
Iredell, Milton H. (1)
Kommer, Edwin P. (3)
Kelly, Helen Painter (6)
King, Norman R. (2)
Kramer, Daniel D. (3)
Krusse, Margaret Jammer (1)
Krzywicki, Anthony A. (4)
Lazell, Adair Appleton (1)
Lighton, Robert E. (1)
Lowrie, Richard W. (6)
Lowry, Helen Grosskurth (1)
McChesney, William H. (4)
McFeely, Franklin A. (3)
Mackey, Betty Waddington (3)
Mahler, Ellen Zahn (1)
Marantz, I. Clint (1)
Marantz, Audrey Johnson (1)
Marbach, Dorothy Merritt (4)
Marino, Doris Strasser (1)
Martin, Mildred Harriman (1)
Mensch, Milton (2)
Messinger, Arthur H. (6)
Miller, George J. (2)
Mines, Martin F. (1)
Mizuki, Sachie (2)
Moran, Virginia (3)
Morrow, Kathleen McCouley (1)
Munnell, Ralph D. (1)
Munnell, Ida Mussen (1)
Nelson, Helen Hayden (1)

Nienstedt, Carl W., Jr. (1)
Painter, Robert S. (2)
Reitz, Mark H. (6)
Reize, Andrew C. (6)
Ritter, Robert (1)
Roberts, Mary Havens (1)
Robinson, William C. (1)
Schaffer, Anita Coleman (4)
Scherer, Robert G. (3)
Schmidt, Albert E. (5)
Schmidt, Edith Plumb (5)
Schwenke, William M. (1)
Seesholtz, Dorothy J. (2)
Sentz, Robert C. (2)
Show, Robert M. (1)
Shorkley, Frank H. (2)
Sieger, Jane Koch (1)
Smythe, Kenneth K. (3)
Speirs, Mary E. (1)
Spencer, Gordon W. (4)
Spicer, Lawrence J. (1)
Spielman, J. Edgar, Jr. (1)
Sprout, John W. (6)
Sundy, Robert M. (2)
Swartz, Jean V. (2)
Sword, Brian M. (2)
Taylor, Robert H. (6)
Thomson, William B. (1)
Tyler, Raymond (6)
Ullmann, Joseph C. (1)
Uskuroit, Robert H. (4)
VanNort, Theodore C. (3)
Walters, Quentin R. (4)
Warden, John B., Jr. (3)
Watson, Richard A. (1)
Wiley, Ernest J., Jr. (2)
Wilbur, John M., Jr. (3)
Winter, Shirley Maneval (1)
Wohlhieter, Marion (6)
Young, Charles A. (1)
Zachora, Janet Mallett (5)

Camac, June Buhl (1)
Carmichael, Cedric (5)
Carr, Thomas J. (1)
Carr, Marie Goldsborough (1)
Carson, Francis M. (1)
Casper, Arthur (2)
Clark, Lynn M. (6)
Clement, Madeleine Wolferz (1)
Colvin, Marie McNinch (6)
Camerer, Robert M. (6)
Craumer, Natalie Dann (1)
Crow, Clarence N. (1)
Crowell, Nancy Roe (1)
Daly, William A., Jr. (1)
Davenport, William S., Jr. (6)
Davies, M. Lloyd (5)
Derr, Carolyn Melick (1)
Devore, Richard G. (1)
Diserofino, Robert S. (1)
Drexler, Joseph S. (1)
Dudeck, Carl R. (1)
English, Richard (5)
Fagan, Harry M. (5)
Fagan, Shirley Schweiker (5)
Fender, Garnet E. (1)
Fenstermaker, William E. (1)
Fischer, Alvin M. (1)
Fitchett,
 Hannelore Petschow (2)
 Fregly, Melvin J. (3)
 Fusio, Tom L. (5)
 Gailey, Ruth Stulcliffe (1)
 Garrison, Jack M. (6)
 Gerlach, Richard F., Jr. (4)
 Gindele, Herbert H. (2)
 Glover, Edward M. (2)
 Glover, Rae Schultz (2)
 Goldreich, Vivian Jaffee (2)
 Good, Sherman E. (1)
 Goucher, William B. (2)
 Graybill, Irvin, Jr. (4)

Neuville, Jane Foster (2)
Noble, G. Ralph (2)
Nothel, John F., Jr. (6)
Overbagh, William W. (4)
Perry, Betsy Albert (3)
Petredis, William C. (1)
Phelleps, Ralph J. (1)
Phelleps,
 Rosemary Zimmerman (1)
 Powell, Frank J., Jr. (1)
 Pratt, Robert T. (4)
 Purnell, Barbara Jones (1)
 Reitz, Carl O. (3)
 Reynolds, James F. (1)
 Riggins, Loren S. (1)
 Ripley, Mary Harrison (6)
 Roberts, Ralph C. (1)
 Rovinski, Robert S. (1)
 Rummel, William H., Jr. (2)
 Rydzewski, Henry J. (3)
 Schmouch, Emilie Luke (2)
 Seeley, Leah Fletcher (3)
 Sharrett, Emily Hill (2)
 Shaw, Nancy Barker (2)
 Shinal, Joseph B. (3)
 Simmet, William H. (1)
 Slack, Frederick W., Jr. (2)
 Smith, Albert G. (1)
 Smith, Elizabeth M. (5)
 Speck, Ralph W. (6)
 Spencer, Donna M. (5)
 Sprout, Robert C. (6)
 Stec, Arlene Nemeth (1)
 Stevens, Kenneth J. (2)
 Stickney, Dorothy Turnboch (1)
 Stults, Charles S., Jr. (1)
 Sukloff, Donald M. (5)
 Taylor, Robert H. (1)
 Thomas, Doris Wilde (4)
 Trebilcock, George J., Jr. (4)
 Turner, William H., Jr. (1)

Campbell, Robert B. (2)
Campbell, Ellen Hauser (2)
Campbell, Verdine E. (5)
Caracciolo, Vincent P. (2)
Clark, Clifford W. (3)
Clement, Walton, Jr. (2)
Coladny, Mark J. (1)
Conrad, Robert E., Jr. (4)
Culver, Harry E. (1)
Danforth, Richard W. (1)
Dehls, Allan W. (4)
Derick, George C., Jr. (1)
Derr, Dale A. (1)
Dohmann, John J. (1)
Edwards, Lawrence W. (1)
Erman, Eileen (2)
Ervin, Robert F., Jr. (4)
Evans, John H. (2)
Fowcett, David B., Jr. (5)
Foss, Herbert G., Jr. (1)
Freed, Richard L. (2)
French, Richard M. (1)
Freund, Clara (1)
Galbraith, Matthew W., Jr. (1)
Galloway, Bettyanne (4)
Geck, Wilhelm Karl (1)
Geise, George A., Jr. (3)
Geisler, George C. (1)
Gessner, Richard W. (1)
Gloisten, Helen E. (1)
Godley, William P. (1)
Goodman, Sara Kriner (3)
Gorman, Mary Alice (1)
Grimm, David A. (5)
Guckes, Nancy Sparks (1)
Hammesfahr, Ernest J. (5)
Harris, Adam (1)
Hendler, Edward R. (1)
Hepler, Ellen Cober (4)
Herman, Charles B. (1)
Hertz, Robert G. (3)
Hinkle, Charles, Jr. (2)
Hons, Naomi M. (3)
Hoover, James S. (2)
Ireland, John W. (2)
Jefferson, John A. (1)
Jefferson, Sydney Anderson (1)
Jones, Charlotte L. (2)
Kierce, Russell M. (2)
Kierce, Joan Anderson (4)
Kierce, Robert R. (5)
Klenck, Wayne (1)
Krapp, Guy L. (1)
Lacy, F. Prontice (1)
Luce, Robert A. (2)
Lilok, Steven (1)
Lindauer, Samuel L. (2)
Little, George R. (3)
Lose, John J. (4)
Lose, Martha Woodburn (4)
Lowe, Ralph F. (1)
Luce, Edgar A. (1)
McCloskey, Lee E. (1)
McFeely, Lois Harvey (3)
McIver, Walter G. (1)
Mannheim, Frances K. (1)
Marcinek, John P. (4)
Martin, Raymond S., Jr. (1)
Mathieson, Drew (4)
Mackley, Alfred L. (1)
Meyer, Victor F. (2)
Montgomery, Nancy Gibson (1)
Moak, John C. (2)
Morrow, Christopher M. (1)
Masher, Lester W. (3)
Moyer, Robert H. (1)
Neff, Margaret Smith (1)
Newcomb, Boyd L., Jr. (2)
Norton, George F., Jr. (1)
Odell, Amy Miers (2)
Odell, John, Jr. (4)
Pangburn, James P. (1)
Porkansky, Andrew K. (1)
Peoples, John W. (1)
Pfeifer, Walter C. (1)
Purnell, John S., Jr. (2)
Raab, James E. (1)
Reitz, John G. (1)
Ripa, Frank (5)
Roberts, J. Donald (3)
Robyns, Rose (1)
Romesberg, Floyd E. (1)
Rosser, James L. D. (2)
Russo, Anthony J. (1)
Sandin, John E. (2)
Schneeburn, Virginia Ely (1)
Seaman, George (2)
Shatt, John H., III (3)
Sieger, Earl W. (1)
Smith, R. Emory, Jr. (1)
Smith, Richard E. (1)
Sprout, Carol VanAllen (5)
Stahl, Marle C. (1)
Stahl, Roland E. (1)
Stanton, George W. (1)
Startzell, Harry L. (1)
Starr, Robert R. (1)
Starr, Roy W. (1)
Stumbaugh, James E. (3)
Tawoda, Maa Piericci (1)
Taylor, William F. (2)
Thomas, Harold E. (1)
Totten, Harold J. (4)
VanRoden, Cynthia Robb (3)
Verson, Elizabeth E. (1)
Wardell, James P. (1)
Wardell, Robert N., Jr. (1)
Berla, Arthur W. (5)
Wagner, William C. (5)
Wnsko, John F. (1)
Wolber, William R. (1)
Weidenbacher, Peter (3)
Weist, William B. (1)

THESE BUCKNELLIANS HELPED IN THE PERSONAL SOLICITATION PROGRAM

- Class of 1944—James E. Brady, Henry S. Mansel, Leonard R. Smith, Mrs. Julius B. Tusty, Mrs. Robert R. Wood.
- Class of 1945—Mrs. William E. Barnes, Captain; Mrs. Alberto de Toledo, David R. Good, Mrs. C. Frederick Moore.
- Class of 1946—Miss Nancy Gettman, Captain; Mrs. Edward West.
- Class of 1947—Robert E. Edmunds, W. Roger Fetter, Esq., Francis B. Haas, Jr., Esq., Chairman; Mark O. Henry, Raymond K. Irwin, Anthony J. Martin, John A. Munson, A. Thomas Wilson, Esq.
- Class of 1948—Neil A. Benfer, Dr. Richard S. Brown, E. Lamont Dill, Jr., Mrs. Warren E. Elze, Alexander Foster, Edward K. Lanck, George J. Miller, Captain; William M. Schwenke, Mrs. Florence Skove, Captain; J. Edgar Spielman, John W. Sprout, Robert M. Sundy, Robert H. Taylor, Captain.
- Class of 1949—Dr. Curtis Bartelt, Dr. Robert A. Botton, William K. Bishop, Robert M. Camerer, William Daly, Jr., Mrs. Dale A. Derr, Harry M. Fagan, Jr., Edward M. Glover, Louis C. Haug, W. Dale Hay, Co-Chairman; Miss Jean T. Heller, Robert A. Hughes, L. W. Lawson, Jr., William K. Lawson, Miss Marion E. Mayfield, Robert L. Miller, Captain; John F. Nothel, Jr., Ralph J. Phelleps, Mrs. Rosemary Phelleps, Mrs. John S. Purnell, Donald Sukloff, Captain. William M. Wagner, John M. Weidenhamer, Marvin S. Weinstein, Miss Jone L. Worley.

Zigler, Albert M. (1)
Zigler, Audrey Husk (1)
Zingg, James D. (1)

1949

Fund Manager

Richard D. Atherley

Class Members	863
Contributors	164
% Contributing	19%
Alumni Fund	$934.59
Other Gifts	51.00
Total Gifts	$985.59

Abbott, Robinson S. (1)
Acker, Stanley R. (1)
Acker, Barbara Bechtel (1)
Adamson, Richard W. (2)
Anes, Leonard J. (1)
Arnold, Harriet J. (4)
Arter, Malcolm E. (1)
Atherley, Richard D. (5)
Ax, Dorothea Koyhart (2)
Barrott, Alfred (1)
Batten, Robert A. (1)
Beiseigel, Howard (1)
Beiseigel,
 Shirley Shumberger (1)
Benning, Robert E. (1)
Berninger, Bowdoin H. (1)
Birchard, Harry (1)
Bishop, William K. (3)
Black, Naomi Farr (4)
Bohs, Louis, Jr. (1)
Boswell, Wallace D. (2)
Brenner, Samuel S., Jr. (1)
Buchanan, George D. (1)
Bujak, Bernard (2)
Camac, Robert (1)

Groulx, Joan Y. (1)
Hortung, Mary Christian (5)
Haug, Richard A. (1)
Hoy, W. Dale (6)
Hays, Richard M. (3)
Heller, Jean T. (1)
Henneberger, Amy L. (4)
Hermon, Sherman A. (1)
Herpst, Elmo Zeigler (1)
Hochbrunn, Donald A. (1)
Holman, Harvey L. (1)
Homo, Stephen W. (1)
Hughes, Robert A. (1)
Hummel, Dorothy Krause (5)
Hunter, Robert D. (4)
Iba, Mark L. (2)
Jenkins, Weston H. (1)
Jones, John Wesley (5)
Kates, Howard, Jr. (4)
Kennedy, Charles H. (5)
Kessler, Kenneth C. (1)
Knause, Jack B. (5)
Kronisch, Myron W. (6)
Krystofik, Joseph A. (1)
Kuchta, George N. (1)
Kuzmak, George J. (4)
Loher, Donald S., Jr. (6)
Lind, Adn Acker (2)
Lipman, Robert G. (1)
Long, Morris A. (1)
Maloney, Kenneth F. (3)
Markley, William A., Jr. (1)
Maudlin, Carole Jackson (2)
Mauger, Ann Gesiecko (1)
Mayfield, Marion (3)
Megargel, Robert W. (3)
Megargel, Nancy King (3)
Miller, Alice Bogdanoff (6)
Miller, Robert L. (6)
Mills, Royal M. (1)
Molof, Alan H. (3)
Morrison, Helen Spencer (1)

Vosos, Frank A. (1)
Vinesky, Dolores S. (6)
Wegner, William M. (1)
Wolgron, Robert E. (1)
Wolgron, Martha Chance (1)
Watkinson, William T., Jr. (1)
Weaver, William A. (2)
Weidenbacher,
 Alice Richter (1)
Weidenhamer, John M. (1)
Weinstein, Marvin S. (1)
Wheeler, Juliet Mason (6)
Wickerham, William W. (2)
Wildfoerster, Ernest (1)
Wildfoerster, Alma Fogot (1)
Worley, Jone L. (6)
York, Edward R. (1)
Zeiders, Charles V. (2)
Zenzl, Joseph A. (2)

1950

Fund Manager

Robert F. Ervin, Jr.

Class Members	796
Contributors	138
% Contributing	17%
Alumni Fund	$875.00
Other Gifts	55.50
Total Gifts	$930.50

Anderson, Eugene R. (1)
Anglo, Sara A. (1)
Armstrong, Donald (1)
Berla, Arthur W. (5)
Brewer, Dean M. (1)
Brown, Forrest D., Jr. (3)
Bucher, Robert G. (1)
Bucher, William M. (1)
Burmeister, Roy (3)

Wellenkamp, Joan Doris (2)
Wendle, J. Gale, Jr. (1)
White, William R. (1)
Williams, Charles W. (1)
Wittes, John A. (1)
Walensky, William (1)

1951

Fund Manager

Claire Harth Bucher
Class Members 766
Contributors 120
% Contributing 16%
Alumni Fund $914.50
Other Gifts 67.50
Total Gifts $982.00

Acton, Barbara Snyder (1)
Andrews, William (2)
Babbitt, Robert C. (1)
Barrett, Walter E. (1)
Bauman, Walter W. (4)
Benjamin, Robert D. (2)
Bergman,
Dorothy Winterstella (2)
Betty, Donald W. (1)
Beuerlein, Edward W. (1)
Bielkin, Kenneth J. (1)
Blick, Edwin J. (4)
Briggs, Diane Stott (2)
Brown, Donald S. (2)
Brown, Elizabeth Hatch (2)
Bucher, Claire Harth (4)
Burnham, Jean Bentz (1)
Bush, Harvey H. (1)
Butler, Allen G. (4)
Clark, Anne Schweiker (3)
Clark, Prentiss A. (1)
Clarke, George W., Jr. (1)
Close, Helen Berlin (2)
Cohn, Elise (1)
Coney, John L. (1)
Davis, Joan Hedgren (1)
DeWire, Donald E. (1)
Douglass, John A. (1)
Dunlap, James H. (4)
Easley, Thomas H. (1)
Egee, Leonard P. (1)
Fehr, James R. (1)
Fleischer,

Margery Davidson (1)
Gile, Patricia McElvany (1)
Glock, Mary Anstadt (1)
Haggerty, Barbara A. (1)
Hall, Craig M. (3)
Harris, Ruth Block (1)
Hawkins, Dorothy (1)
Hay, Norma Hunsinger (4)
Headley, Marian (3)
Hess, John F. (1)
Hiern, Jane Gale (1)
Hile, Howard B. (1)
Hosterman, Robert (2)
Hott, Joan E. Sievers (1)
Hunt, James (2)
Hunter, Maurette Boynton (4)
Jackson, William W. (1)
Johnson, Richard D. (2)
Kahn, David (1)
Kates, Betty Busch (4)
Kelchner, Robert E. (1)
Kelchner, Barbara Stine (1)
Keller, Ronald J. (2)
Kerchner, Alice (3)
Krivak, Michael T. (1)
Kuzman, Gloria F. (1)
Lacke, Mary Riley (2)
Longer, Gloria Jayne (3)
Larson, Charles A. (1)
Larue, Richard W. (1)
Larue, Barbara Planz (1)
Lawrence, Harry L. (1)
Lewis, Thomas (2)
Lyon, Earl C., Jr. (1)
Lyon, Christine Riley (1)
McBride, Lorraine Yaufman (2)
McCloskey, Lena Garro (1)
McMahon, John E. (1)
Manning, Alan S. (1)
Martin, William M. (3)
Masters, Gordon E. (2)
Mather, C. Elizabeth (2)
Miller, Susan Reinhoel (4)
Miller, Luther F., Jr. (2)
Miller, William D., Jr. (3)
Morley, Mary Day (1)
Mothermal, Thomas S. (1)
Narel, Margaret Gerber (1)
Nixon, Ann Cooper (1)
Norris, Rebecca Rogers (1)
Packs, Nicholas J. (2)
Parsons, Donald S. (2)
Parsons, Patricia Wiley (3)
Prigge, John S., Jr. (2)
Ragg, William H. (1)
Ranck, Dale E., Jr. (1)
Raup, Eleanor Ann (3)
Reich, Betty Kissinger (1)
Reidenauer, Robert E. (2)
Reigle, Richard Scott (1)
Reitz, William S., Jr. (1)
Robinson, June Simon (1)
Radan, M. June (1)
Royer, Ellsworth C. (1)
Saphier, Jay (1)
Schaffner, William C. (4)
Scheid, Joan M. (1)
Scott, Bruce M. (4)
Shields, Edgar T. (2)
Shultz, James R. (4)

Simon, Herman (1)
Sloat, Arthur E. (2)
Snyder, John H., Jr. (1)
Sparrell, Joan (4)
Stabler, Andrew W., Jr. (3)
Stevenson, William C. (4)
Swanson, John P. (2)
Tallau, Raymond (4)
Torsch, Robert E. (1)
Triggs, Eloise M. (1)
Troast, Arthur (4)
Watkins, Robert Allen (4)
Wilkins, Frances (1)
Woods, Janet (4)
York, Donald E. (2)
Young, John D. (2)
Zearfoss, Herbert K. (2)

1952

Fund Manager

Richard Jeffery
Class Members 783
Contributors 124
% Contributing 16%
Alumni Fund $762.50
Other Gifts 26.00
Total Gifts $788.50

Akerhielm, David A. (1)
Akerhielm, Betsy Conklin (1)
Albert, Robert R., Jr. (2)
Andrews, James W. (2)
Baird, Barbara (2)
Balliet, William E., Jr. (3)
Barker, George M. (1)
Barrett, Doris Neuberger (1)
Barton, William Howard (3)
Bennett, Robert R. (1)
Bergman, Janice (2)
Bohling, Dorothea M. (1)
Boland, Robert J. (1)

Manning, Donald W. (1)
Manning, Mary Tompkins (1)
Mead, Earle M. (1)
Meyer, Joan Morris (2)
Mighell, Edwin R. (1)
Minnigan, Richard D. (1)
Mirza, Josephine Hildreth (3)
Mistifer, Elsie Bastley (2)
Murphy, Bertram S. (1)
Neff, William H. (2)
Ortlieb, Joseph W. (2)
Palmore, Mary Hind (2)
Parkinson,
Marianne Colville (3)
Pearce, Earnest O. (1)
Pederson, Phyllis Bell (1)
Peters, Jack L. (3)
Price, Eugene B. (3)
Pugh, Charlotte Reed (1)
Purpuri, J. Ann (1)
Putnam, Mary Adams (3)
Reidenauer, Betty Linstrom (1)
Richardson, Robert B. (1)
Rickart, John C. (2)
Riley, James E. (3)
Rimert, John Marlyn (1)
Rogers, Charles S. (3)
Rott, Jack (3)
Saphier, Barbara Bernstein (1)
Scarr, Jean Lowry (1)
Schaumberg, Anne Buswell (1)
Schimmel, Anne P. (1)
Schriest, Claude J. (1)
Selner, Chester J. (1)
Shaudys,
Phyllis Vandenberg (3)
Sinclair, R. Malcolm (1)
Smith, Jeanne M. (1)
Smith, Norman H. (1)
Snyder, Harry C. (3)
Sowers, Hugh H. (2)
Spragg, Walter S., II (2)
Stahl, Jane S. (2)

Bernstein, Alan E. (2)
Boguszewski, Frank S. (2)
Boston, Robert (1)
Bowers, Martin L. (2)
Brewer, Hugh H. (1)
Brown, Ruth Zimmerman (2)
Byerly, Carol L. (1)
Caldwell, William A. (2)
Caldwell, Helen Harrison (2)
Christian, Robert W. (2)
Claud, Jeanne White (1)
Cole, Donald (1)
Cunningham, Roy I. (1)
Dean, Dorothy Courson (2)
Dear, Paul D. (1)
DeMar, Eleanor M. (2)
Diamandis,
Joan Lafferandre (2)
Diamandis, Peter G. (1)
Dilworth,
Mary Ann Fairchild (2)
Doeschler, Greg (2)
Doeschler, Patricia Lewis (2)
Dunbar, A. Gay (1)
Farb, Oriole Horch (1)
Fox, Frederick, III (1)
Fraas, Joan S. (2)
Freye, Donald L. (1)
Freytag, Norman (1)
Freytag, Marilyn A. (2)
George, Barbara E. (2)
Graybill, Sara A. (2)
Gragg, James R. (2)
Haberstroh, Lois Gleason (1)
Hansman, Sarah Elder (1)
Heine, Marjorie Boote (1)
Hendrixson, Suzanne Joas (1)
Hill, Donald W. (1)
Hill, Elizabeth Quick (1)
Hollingsworth, Leroy H. (1)
Hudson, Elizabeth A. (1)
Husted, Richard (2)
Jacques, Paul B. (2)

Thompson, Jeffrey K. (1)
Towner, Nancy Deibert (2)
Traumuller, Anneliese (3)
VanBuskirk, Max (1)
VanBuskirk, Mary Webber (1)
VanEvery, Nancy (1)
Vogelsong, Claire (2)
Voorhees, William R. (1)
Wahlquist,
Barbara Bennett (1)
Whitney, James D. (2)
Wilson, Anne Wieboldt (2)
Wu, Wen Shao (1)
York, Florence J. (1)

1954

Fund Manager

Patricia McCol Stark
Class Members 729
Contributors 94
% Contributing 12%
Alumni Fund $402.50
Other Gifts 57.50
Total Gifts $460.00

Alenson, Lois Dehls (2)
Anderson, Barbara (1)
Anthony, Josephine B. (1)
Appleton, Ann M. (1)
Bayless, Janet Nides (2)
Bennett, Margaret Klugh (1)
Bonam, Eleanor M. (1)
Cadwallader, Tom (1)
Cadmullader, Eva Hauel (1)
Carhart, Marty (1)
Carson, Marcia Ball (1)
Castelbaum, Martin (1)
Christopher, Drusilla M. (1)
Ciolina, Peter (1)
Clarke, Ernest T. (1)
Coleman, Audrey Knoepke (2)
Cressy, Sandra W. (1)
Cullen, Lois Anne (1)
Davenport, Barbara A. (1)
Davis, Barbara J. (1)
Dayton, Sue (1)
DiOrio, Dorothy M. (1)
Donall, Robert L. (1)
Donall, Eleanor Gilliams (1)
Doady, Lora B. (1)
Ertel, Luther (2)
Ferguson, James R. (1)
Gill, Jane Pittenger (2)
Gilmore, Nellie Manning (1)
Goldfinger, Gay Kramer (1)
Haller, Carole Ifjen (1)
Hammer, Patricia Ann (1)
Haynes, Robert K. (1)
Heald, Elizabeth B. (2)
Heininger, Janyce Cole (2)
Hemecker, Ralph C. (1)
Herrmann, Joan L. (1)
Herrmann, Mary Lou (2)
Hess, Shirley (1)
Holcomb, Francis M. (1)
Holton, George A. (1)
Huxster, Marilyn R. (1)
Ireland, Margaret A. (1)
Jewell, Barbara L. (1)
Jolly, Jacqueline (1)
Jones, Donald Frederick (1)
Keller, Alda L. (1)
Keller, Robert P. (1)
Knezel, Patricia Pratt (2)
Krzeminski, Wallace H. (1)
Lashbrook, John M. (1)
Lashbrook, Connie Corey (1)
Leisman, Katherine H. (1)
Libenson, Benjamin (1)
Light, Barbara (1)
Long, Jacqueline (1)
Lower, James R. (1)
McCoy, Mary Ann (1)
Mackwell, M. Joy (1)
MacLaury, Virginia Naef (1)
Monaco, Dean E. (1)
Newton, Dorothy H. (1)
O'Hazzo, Harold G. (1)
Ortlieb, Maralyn Murphy (2)
Owen, Arch A., III (1)
Peyser, Robert F. (1)
Pratt, Shirley Hartzell (1)
Rafai, Joan Vera (1)
Reimensnyder,
Margaret Hines (1)
Rhodes, Mary Jane (1)
Richers, Louise (1)
Savidge, Benjamin (1)
Scott, Victor F. (1)
Scott, Diane Slifer (1)
Sears, Edwin H. (2)
Simon, Arthur L. (1)
Simon, Patti Ponon (1)
Small, Arlene (1)
Smith, Barbara A. (1)
Smith, Harold E., II (1)
Sponangle, Maxine (1)
Stanton, Charles M., Jr. (1)
Stark, Patricia McCol (2)
Tawoda, Robert J. (1)
Tuckerman, Anne E. (1)
Vollrath, Mary (1)
VonHeill, Liv Joan Hanto (1)
Wang, Hung-En (1)
Wilson, Richard L. (2)
Wilt, Janet C. (1)
Wire, Kenneth E. (1)
Woodward, Theodore R. (1)
Zearfoss, Thelma McCarthy (1)

THESE BUCKNELLIANS HELPED IN THE PERSONAL SOLICITATION PROGRAM

Class of 1950—Miss Sora A. Angle, James A. Bowes, Jack D. Bazarth, Robert W. Cloncy, Clifford W. Clark, Robert E. Conrad, Jr., David B. Fawcett, Jr., William Fearen, Co-Chairman; George A. Geise, George C. Geisler, William P. Gadley, Ernest J. Hammesfahr, W. Floyd Henderson, James S. Hoover, Walter S. Keister, Andrew W. Mothieson, Christopher M. Morrow, Lester W. Mosher, Mrs. William F. Neff, George Norton, Jr., John A. O'Dell, Jr., John W. Peoples, Jr., Dr. John S. Purnell, Captain; Thomas F. Riddell, Bernard M. Tostanoski, Robert N. Woddell, Jr., Captain.

Class of 1951—Robert D. Benjamin, George W. Clarke, Thomos H. Easley, William H. Foulk, Jr., Captain; Craig M. Hall, Captain; Miss Marion G. Headly, Howard B. Heinaman, Jr., John F. Hess, Robert E. Kelchner, Captain; Edward J. McGinnis, Miss Betty Mather, William D. Miller, Nicholas J. Packs, Captain; Miss Eleanor A. Raup, Captain; C. Gradydan Ragers, Jock R. Rott, Andrew W. Stabler, Jr., Robert A. Watkins, Miss Frances E. Wilkens, Ens. Herbert K. Zearfoss.

Bunnell, Judson W. (2)
Campbell, H. Stuart, Jr. (1)
Carman, Lucille Swetland (2)
Carman, Robert H. (3)
Childs, Elinor L. (3)
Cloud, Fred E. (1)
Coleman, Spencer L. (2)
Cooper, Paul P. (1)
Cunningham, Barbara J. (1)
Deardarff, Peggy L. (2)
Dannell, Garrett (1)
Erdle, Carolyn Kniss (1)
Eshelman, Richard G. (1)
Freed, Naomi Geiser (1)
Friday, Gilbert A., Jr. (1)
Fritz, Mary Ann (2)
Gibbons, Joan D. (3)
Gaulding, Marshall S., Jr. (3)
Griest, Marcia A. (1)
Haberstroh, Richard C. (1)
Hahn, Ann L. (1)
Horman, John H., III (1)
Hortline, Florence S. (2)
Heininger, Karl A., Jr. (2)
Hendrixson, William G. (1)
Hennel, Nancy Boyer (1)
Higgins, James J., Jr. (1)
Hoffman, Robert A., Jr. (2)
Hubley, Reginald A. (1)
Hurt, N. William (1)
Johnson, Grant E. (3)
Johnson, John VanWirt (1)
Kazarian, Kirk K. (1)
Keely, Catherine Hill (2)
Keen, George M., III (2)
Kerr, Robert M. (1)
Kiely, William R., Jr. (3)
Kiely, Elizabeth Shuster (1)
Kimball, Warren, Jr. (2)
Kucker, Robert G. (1)
Kwasnoi, Martin W. (3)
Kwasnoi, Elizabeth Holter (3)
Lamson, Charlotte Weber (1)
Lentz, Marilyn Fisher (1)
McNutt, Joan B. (2)
Mackinnon, Carolyn Hanson (2)
Maio, Louis F. (2)

Stanton,
Sara Lee Baumgardner (1)
Stavros, A. James (1)
Swanson, Mary Brakow (1)
Thomas, Rosina (2)
Thompson, Margaret Ann (2)
Tilton, Paul S. (1)
Torsch, Carol Smith (1)
Totten,
Alice Windeknecht (3)
Towner, Kenneth W. (1)
Tress, Jack E. (2)
Trautman, Edward C. (1)
Trautman, Elizabeth Auten (1)
Tschop, Samuel (3)
Tschop, Elizabeth Denning (3)
VonHeill, Leonard S. (1)
Wadle, Albert (1)
Waters, Elizabeth Myers (2)
Webber, John S. (3)
Weiser, Carl S. (1)
Welsh, Eleanor J. (3)
Whipple, Joseph A. (1)
Woodside, Daniel (3)
Young, Donald K. (2)

1953

Fund Managers

Frank S. Boguszewski
Joan L. Diamandis
Class Members 712
Contributors 109
% Contributing 15%
Alumni Fund $548.00
Other Gifts 89.50
Total Gifts $637.50

Abbe, Colman (2)
Allen, W. Scott (1)
Axelrod, Edward H. (3)
Boiley, John L. (2)
Bayless, Theodore (2)
Bell, Katherine Anne (2)
Bellamy, William C. (1)
Johnson, Berda Stout (1)
Killaugh, Christine Hill (2)
Kistler, Shirley (2)
Klepper, Barbara (1)
Knutzen, Gertrude (1)
Kreger, Gerald J. (1)
Laskowski, Theodore (1)
Light, Claude F. (1)
Lindsey, Donald W. (2)
Lippincott, Stanley L. (2)
Loewisch, Helen A. (1)
Lower, George H. (2)
Lowry, Sally Spencer (2)
Lowry, W. Norwood, Jr. (1)
Luca, Louise Thorne (1)
MacBain, C. Joan (1)
Magee, Jane Elverston (1)
Mackwell, M. Joy (1)
Markson, Richard (1)
Maurer, Barbara Ruth (2)
McCannell, Walter L. (2)
McCannell, Isabel Beers (2)
McCadden, Doris S. (2)
McCadden, John V. (2)
McMahon, Nancy Schmehl (1)
Miller, Susan R. (1)
Mufson, Maurice A. (2)
Parent, Joan Catherine (1)
Powelson, Abram, Jr. (2)
Primus, Constance Merrill (1)
Pritika, Edward A. (1)
Purcell, Ann Sundberg (2)
Rankin, Gerard (2)
Ray, Donald C. (1)
Riley, Joan Krummel (2)
Ritter, Margaret O'Brien (1)
Sauvain, Esther Granvold (1)
Seibert, Edward J. (1)
Seibert, Audrey Howard (1)
Shelley, Penn (2)
Shive, Carolyn Reiner (1)
Simpson, Barbara (1)
Smedley, Joanne Lee (1)
Stark, Albert L. (2)
Swanger, Jean (2)
Talmage, Barbara Jordan (1)
Taylor, Mildred (2)

The numbers in parentheses following the names of contributors indicate the number of years of continuous giving.

Baker, Bruce R. (1)
Beaver, Todd K. (2)
Benton, William Andrew (1)
Berger, Joanne (1)
Castantini, Alfred D. (1)
Dillon, Harold P., II (1)
Fleming, Susan C. (1)
Hertz, Charles (1)
Klauder, George (1)
Koelsch, William A. (1)
Linkins, Richard L. (1)
McMann, Norine (1)
MacMain, Marianne (1)
Marshall, Claire (1)
Renninger, Barbara (1)

Scheinwald, Robert (1)
Thompson, Irene E. (1)
Told, Mary B. (1)
Usher, Robert J. (3)

Brawn, Henry C. (1)
Howell, Barbara Vaux (1)
Linkins, Margaret Ferguson (1)
Mann, Lois E. (1)
Nemchick, Joseph C. (1)
Ryer, Roderick A. (1)

Christiansen, Carol S. (1)
Hooven, Daniel B. (1)
McClain, A. Daniel (1)

Marshall, Charles J.
Miller, Dr. A. Bayd
Miller, Leon
Mintz, Alexander
Moran, Thomas F.
Mosteller, Clinton R.
Nieman, Barney
Obert, Albert
Orenstein, Charles
Ortlieb, George
Oseroff, Abraham
Palmer, H.
Mr. & Mrs. Salvatore C.
Parkhurst, Richard M., III
Parkinson, Percival S.
Pascucci, Ralph
Patterson, Rev. Curtis J.
Patzau, Otto J.
Paulus, John E., Sr.
Pausser, Arnold E.
Phillips, Albanus, Jr.
Picker, Lawrence F.
Pike, Kenneth L.
Planten, Frank G.
Planz, John
Plattman, A.
Plump, Dr. Ellsworth B.
Poindexter, Emmett W.
Polson, W. G.
Ponzer, Howard S.
Prosser, Harry E.
Purdum, F. P.
Rafaj, Rev. Paul
Ragsdale, W. B.
Reynolds, A. H., Jr.
Rich, Charles H.
Ringkamp, William A.
Rasenbloom, Irving
Rothermel, John G.
Rourke, Horace C.

Tonkin, Dr. H. L.
Traumuller, William O.
Tuckerman, Dr. Joseph
Unger, Joseph
Urken, Hymon
Vargas, Mr. & Mrs. Antonio B.
Vasiliades, Angelo
Vernoy, Mr. & Mrs. Harry E.
Vizethann, Raymond
Vosburg, Charles A.
Walgren, Gustav H.
Walthart, H. L.
Webber, William S., Jr.

Wechsler, Dr. Harry F.
Westberg, A. Harold
Wheeler, Mrs. Evelyn
White, Rev. Edgar E.
Widmaier, Mr. & Mrs. Gottlieb
Wilson, John S.
Wish, Henry
Woll, Frederick S.
Woodhull, Earle R.
Wylie, Richard T.
Yoder, Elmer J.
Zeigler, Dr. E. A.
Zimmerman, Carle C., Sr.

Parents Contributing to the Fathers' Loyalty Fund

Ahders, Henry W.
Aistrup, L. T.
Albee, Donald L.
Anderson, William
Andrews, R. Gordon
Anonymous
Armstrong
Mr. & Mrs. Joseph A.
Auerbach, Leon
Bandler, L. C.
Barbour, C. Laurence
Boyer, H. S.
Bayreuther, William A.
Beardsley, L. E.
Bechtel, Lloyd R.
Bettle, Harold E.
Behrmann, John C.
Benton, Thomas H.
Bergmann, Charles L.
Berniker, Herman
Berringer, George G.
Bischof, Mr. & Mrs. G. J.
Blick, Louis D.
Block, Joseph H.
Block, Max
Bloom, George
Blum, Carl K.
Bohr, Earl D.
Bolte, W. J.
Borst, George E.
Brayman, George
Brice, Brooks A.
Broodhurst, Henry M.
Brown, Mr. & Mrs. Art
Brawn, William A.
Bruml, Benedict
Bryfogle, Paul
Burg, Edward A.
Burgess, Harold P.
Cady, Donald H.
Campbell, John
Carter, Paul C.
Castelbaum, David
Chironna, Frank
Clark, Aaron
Clark, G. Russell
Clark, Warren I.
Clow, Arthur P.
Coene, Emil L.
Cohen, Benjamin
Cale, William H., Sr.
Colville, David H.
Connelly, John P.
Cooper, Ralph A.
Corrigan, Mrs. Francis J.
Couch, Donald D.
Couragen, Peter M.
Cox, Dr. & Mrs. R. F. B.
Crane, Charles W.
Crossman, Royce W.
Cuff, George A.
Curnin, Michael P.
Currie, Dr. Donald F.
Davison,
Mr. & Mrs. Otto C., Jr.
Day, Ezra H.
Deaney, George T.
DePaul, Frank P.
Diefenbach, Henry G.
Dittmar, Harry R.
Donahoe, Robert
Dorau, Armin C.
Dull, Mr. & Mrs. Oscar M., Jr.
Dulmage, E. B.
Dunham, William E.
Edwards, Charles F.
Eifert, Alan F.
Eisenhart, E. K., Jr.
Elliott, Robert F.
Ellison, Dr. J. Vernon
Feyrer, Rev. Joseph
Finley, John D.
Fish, Nathaniel L.
Foster, C. A., Jr.
Freund, Walter
Frisbee, Leroy W.
Garland, Ernest L.
Geneske, Chester
George, Mr. & Mrs. Norman D.
Gerber, Albert D.
Gilman, Mr. & Mrs. Max
Goldsmith, S. Delvalle
Goldstein, Jonas
Grande, Alfred F.
Haber, P. H.
Hall, Ernest
Hall, R. C.
Hartwell, Arthur
Heath, John

Heine, Ewald B.
Heineman, A. F.
Hemphill, William
Henderson, Robert H.
Herb, I. Clarence
Herrigel, Fred, Jr.
Hertzler, J. Wayne
Hildreth,
Hon. & Mrs. Horace A.
Hiltner, James R.
Hirschkorn, Lester S.
Hoffman, Joseph B.
Hoffman,
Mr. & Mrs. Raymond C.
Hofstadter, George J.
Hollander, H. Louis
Hollister, Slaver K.
Halton, George A.
Hubner, Walter H.
Hund, George
Hundley, Dr. & Mrs. J. Warren

Hunter, Wallace B.
Hyden, W. L.
Irving, Mr. & Mrs. Donald F.
Izatt, Thomas
Jackson, Dr. George H.
Jacobson, Mr. & Mrs. Archie
Jefferson, Mr. & Mrs. Thamos H.
Jewell, George A., Jr.
Jones, Dr. Louis W.
Jones, Richard L., Jr.
Joseph, Mrs. Seymour
Kaercher, Charles G.
Kalman, Henry A.
Kantra, Andrew E.
Kastner, Edgar P.
Keller, Mr. & Mrs. Robert F.
Kennardell, Mr. & Mrs. Fred H.
Kessler, John J.
Klauder, Norman
Knudsen, Louis R.
Kohler, Walter W.
Kopp, J. A.
Kromer, Lester J.
Kruh, Robert
Kruslich, Robert R.
Krupka, George C.
Kunz, Charles W.
Laffin, Mrs. Robert
Lapof, Samuel
Larrabee, William M.
Lauber, Charles G.
LeRoy, Clinton L.
Letchworth, George E., Jr.
Letzing, Hans
Levin, David
Levine, Irving H.
Licht, Harry
Little, James W.
Londoner, Mr. & Mrs. Joseph O.
Luscian, Stephen J.
McKee, John R., Jr.
MacDonald, Roland
MacIntosh, George M.

Adler, Elmer
Ake, Frank W.
Albanese, Joseph
Alpha Chi Sigma
Alpha Kappa Delta
American Baptist Convention
Anonymous
Arbaugh, Mr. & Mrs. Charles
Auten, Mr. & Mrs. Clarence L.
Baptist Church of the Redeemer
Bartholomew, William T.
Bassett, Mary Ruth
Beck, Theodore
Bennett, Lyle
Berlin, A. J.
Berger, Laura
Bingaman, Mrs. Eleanor
Bond, Mrs. Charles M.
Bonom, Paul J.
Brooks, Lynn C.
Brownell, Mr. & Mrs. Roscoe
Burpee, David

Friends and Non-Bucknellian Honoraries

Hopper, Laura S.
Hopper, Marie Louise
Houghton, Arthur A., Jr.
Hurwitz, Kermit
Hurwitz, I.
Ireland, Mr. & Mrs. Leslie W.
Johnson, D. Donald
Johnson, Mrs. Naomi
Kappa Phi Kappa
Keefe, Leroy
Kelly, William H.
Killiam, Paul L.
Kindig, Mrs. Carl
Kirk, Mrs. Elizabeth I.
Kruiger, Edgar A.
Langsner, Adolph
Laurelton Women's Club
Lawrence, Mrs. Harry
Lindback, Mrs. C. R.
Linn, Merrill W.
Long, Hannah
Larwy, Mrs. W. Norwood
McCreary, Ralph W.
McKinney, Walter B.
Martz, A. C.
Meixell, M. S.
Mensch, Edwin D.
Merritt, Mrs. Frank
Michener, Mrs. Helen M.
Middlesworth, John
Mifflinburg Civic Club
Miles, Thomas M.
Miller, Logan
Moyer, Rudolph
N. A. A. C. P. (Betty Ann Quinn Scholarship)
Nesbit, Melville
Northumberland High School
Olsen, Frank
131 Club
Osler, John F.
Peters, Mrs. Henry N.
Peterson, Mrs. Edyth
Palmer, D. R. A.
Pi Beta Phi and Kappa
Kappa Gamma Sororities
Pi Mu Epsilon
Paffenberger, Mrs. H. L.
Poling, Daniel A.
Pray, Harold
Purnell, Mrs. John
Reagan, Charles R.
Reitz, Maynard
Reitz, Mrs. Maynard
Rase, Harry V.
Rose, Ivan Murray
St. Paul's
Evangelical U-B Church
Schad, Harry G.
Scheie, Marie I.
Schnure, Mr. & Mrs. Edgar
Smith, Emory B.
Sordani, Andrew J.
Spencer, Herbert L.
Spotts, Mrs. S. Dale
Stahl, Clarence
Stamey, Harry C.
Stilley, Edith
Stilwell Estate
Strunk, L. W.
Swartz, Fenton
Syracuse Alumni Club
Tomlinsan, Charles S.
Traver, Rufus M.
Troast, Paul L.
VanBuskirk, Clay
Warron, Jesso
Webster, Robert B.
Weir, Alice
Whiting, John
Williams, Mr. & Mrs. Robert E.
Winkleblock, Jacob E.
Woolhling, H. Leigh
Wolfe, Ruth H.
Zabley, Mrs. Jessie

In Memoriam
Llewellyn, Annle E.
Robbins, H. W.

THESE BUCKNELLIANS HELPED IN THE PERSONAL SOLICITATION PROGRAM

Class of 1952—James W. Andrews, Robert R. Bennett, George Blackmare, Fred E. Claud, Mrs. Robert F. Cabaugh, Mrs. William E. Fearen, Miss Norma J. Gatwalt, Warren Kimball, Jr., Miss Jaan B. McNutt, Donald W. Manning, Mrs. Elsie B. Mitsifer, Joseph Ortlieb, John C. Rickart, Charles S. Rogers, Miss Susan C. Simpson, Harry C. Snyder, Hugh H. Sowers, Leonard S. VonHeill, Joseph A. Whipple.

Class of 1953—Miss Katharine Bell, Mrs. R. E. Dilwarth, Miss Marilyn A. Gardner, Mrs. Marjorie Heine, Miss Trudy Knutzen, Miss Jaan MacBain, Abram V. Pawelsan, Miss Barbara A. Simpson, Miss Jaanne Smedley, Miss Claire Vagelsang, Captain.

Class of 1954—Miss Josephine B. Anthony, Captain; Miss Katherine H. Leisman, Robert F. Peyser, Mrs. Margaret H. Reimensnyder, Miss Anne Savacaal, Victor F. Scott, Miss Anne Tuckerman.

Ryer, Dr. Walter J.
Sofian, Felix
Sahli, Edward A., Sr.
Sale, Max
Sandbank, William
Sands, Dr. Abraham M.
Santicioli, Guido
Schaefer, Walter R.
Schatz, Carl F.
Scheinwald, Reuben
Schlesinger, M. D.
Schneider,
Mr. & Mrs. Rudolph A.
Scott, Harold W.
Seaman, Charles E.
Seibel, Louis
Sherwood, A. J.
Shimp, E. H.
Shulof, Joseph
Shultz, Mr. & Mrs. Charles A.
Silfen, Joseph
Smith, Chester P.
Smith, Paul D.
Smith, William T.
Sneath, Ralph W.
Snyder, James W., Jr.
Somerville, Peter
Stanes, Albert D.
Stansfield, Chester T.
Stansfield, Raymond T.
Stewart, James C.
Stoso, C. Willis
Studzinski, Richard S.
Sugarman, Barnat
Sutherin, Robert G.
Tallman, Herbert L.
Tiemann, R. W.
Toft, James C., Jr.
Togut, Charles A.

Cap & Dagger
Clement, Martin W.
Confer, E. I.
Conklin Avenue Baptist Church
Criswell, Robert
Cupp, Paul
Danville Girl Scout Troop 4
DeDonica, Angelo
Deibert, Samuel T.
Dennis, Mrs. Russell E.
Delta Mu Delta
East End Baptist Church
England, Bayard L.
Farley, John
First Baptist Church
Frantz, Mrs. Adolph
Frazier, William R.
Freas, Alfred G.
Fremont, Michael
Friedman, Ed.
Gildich-Smith, Mrs. E. H.
Glover, Robert V.
Goetho, C. M.
Goodbar, Mrs. Joseph E.
Gorman, Mr. & Mrs. Charles
Gravell, Robert
Green, W. Howard
Groover, Mr. & Mrs. J. G.
Hall, Clarence W.
Hankins, F. W.
Harris, Abe A.
Harrison, Mrs. Joseph
Herring, Elmer J.
Hess, Frederick G.
Hess, Robert
Hildreth, Horace A.
Hildreth, Mrs. Horace A.
Haffman, Elsie Mae

Faculty and Administration

Ballentine, Floyd G.
Baughman, Mrs. Blanche K.
Beattie, Mrs. Jeannie
Bennett, Mrs. Earl
Blair, Mrs. Winifred
Blum, Sylvester J.
Blume, Albert M. K.
Balich, Mildred
Bond, Charles M.
Bowman, Roger H.
Brand, Paul J.
Brown, Forrest D.
Bryan, Margaret L.
Burgee, Clyde E.
Burmeister, Dorothy
Burpee, Frank E.
Carr, William J.
Chew, Jeanne M.
Coleman, William H.
Colton, Grace
Corrin, Mrs. Edith
Cressey, Marjorie
Davis, Frank G.
Dennis, Russell E.
Diftenbaugh, Donald J.
Eisley, Trennie
Elze, Warren E.
Epler, Ruth
Faint, George R.

Fairly, Homer M.
Fenton, Alfred H.
Fowle, Lester P.
Franz, Adolf I.
Garvin, Horry R.
Gathings, James A.
Geiger, Walter C.
Geiser, Carl J.
Gemberling, Ruth A.
Gilmare, Eva Ginter
Gold, John S.
Griffith, Dalzell M.
Gummo, Blanchard S.
Harris, Martha
Headley, Russell A.
Heine, Harold
Hile, Howard B.
Hinkelman, Harold I.
Humphreys, Albert E.
Ireland, George A.
Irwin, Raymond K.
Jewell, Lorene
Jones, J. Charles
Karraker, Cyrus
Kieft, Lester
Kindig, Carl
King, Beryl
Kleinfelter, Helen Krotchko, George

Krzywicki, Anthony A.
Kunkel, George M.
Kunkel, Mory A.
Kunkle, Stanford L.
Lawrence, Horry L.
Lang, Esther Baumgartner
Love, Harriet
Lowry, W. Norwood
McCarmick, Harry E.
McRae, William D., Jr.
Magalhaes, Hulda
Manning, Wayne E.
Martin, Francis D.
Melrose, Melicent
Melzer, Janet
Merritt, Frank
Miles, Gertrude
Miller, Harold W.
Miller, John B.
Moffett, Natalie C.
Musser, Malcolm E.
Odgers, Merle M.
Ohl, Donald G.
Oliphant, J. Orin
Orrak, Douglas H.
Peters, Henry N.
Powers, Maurice C.
Ranck, Dayton L.

Rice, John W.
Riley, Reed F.
Rivenburg, Romeyn H.
Sauvain, Walter H.
Shoffer, Harold A.
Shatt, John H.
Simpson, Frank M.
Sims, Hugh D.
Smith, Manning A.
Smith, Wendell I.
Soelzer, Rolph F.
Sauders, D. Paul
Sprague, Frank A.
Stevenson, Mary Jane
Stewart, Norman H.
Stickney, Charles F.
Stoner, Clara E.
Tuhy, Darina J.
Walling, Fitz R.
Weightman, Joseph
Weist, William B.
Werner, Joy A.
Wilson, Andrew T.
Wilson, Dorothy M.
Winstead, Meldrum B.
Yearick, Miriam R.
Young, Donald B.
Zeller, John F., III

Remember:

1. Your Fund gift is deductible on your income tax.
2. If you have your own business, a corporate contribution is worth considering.
3. IN MEMORIAM gifts are made by many Bucknellians, honoring Bucknell friends and relatives.
4. Family gifts will be credited to husbands and wives (50-50) if you list names and classes of each in your remittance envelope.
5. Fund ideas or personal news items, enclosed with your check, will make it doubly welcome.

Class Reports

(Continued from Page 10)

versity of Pennsylvania in 1919. He practiced dentistry in Matawan, N. J. for 35 years. He was first married in 1922 and had one son, Robert, who is a physician. Bob has two children. Mrs. Burlew extends her best wishes to us for a successful 40th reunion in '57.

LeRoy P. Calkin tells me he was married in 1925 to Dorothy Liggett of Canton, Ohio. They have one daughter, Carol, who graduated from Oklahoma University in 1952. She is married to a Presbyterian minister and lives in Midland, Texas. She has one daughter. LeRoy lives in Bartlesville, Okla., and is employed by the Phillips Petroleum Co. He is rounding out his 30th year and is looking forward to retiring in the not too distant future. Sometime ago, Scow Garner '18 and Ames Lawrence '19 were working down in his neighborhood but he hasn't seen them for quite a while. A. M. Ripple '20, formerly of Milton, is the only other Bucknellian living in that area now. LeRoy says, "can we visualize him as a minister's father-in-law?" Well it's hard, but I think I can—Good luck LeRoy. Write soon again.

Betty Redelin (Mrs. Roscoe Davis) made me very happy with a quick answer to my letter. She said it set up a long chain of happy memories of our wonderful days at Bucknell. Ross and Betty say they lead a very happy but uneventful life together. They have one daughter, Betty Davis McVicker '39, who lives about 15 miles from them. She has three wonderful children, Kathy, 14, Richard, 12, and David, 9. The Davises live at 17 Mitchell Drive, Pittsburgh 16.

The following fine account about Clinton Sprout who lives in Hightstown, N. J. was sent in to the office by a friend. "In 1921 (Kink) as he is known to all here—arrived at Peddie where he became English master and pioneer of Peddie swimming.

"Recently Kink decided it was time to step down as swimming coach after thirty years of building Peddie swimming teams, starting literally from scratch.

"Kink's '53 team won the eastern championship after having been state champions in '52.

"Kink also coached baseball for 20 years and produced many outstanding players including a major leaguer, George Case."

Kink is married to Elizabeth Hahn '18 and they with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Geiger '15 attended one of our Philadelphia Bucknell Birthday parties several years ago. It was so nice to see them. So nice, in fact, that the next day Tip and I drove up to Hightstown to see them again, and incidentally, to collect Tip's overcoat and return Mrs. Hahn's, on which the check girl had switched tickets. Some fun!!

18 MRS. LAYTON KING
(Elizabeth Champion)
301 Broad Street
Montoursville, Penna.

Mrs. Chester Leaber '19 (Evelyn McGann) was in Williamsport at press time, baby sitting and awaiting the arrival of their second grandchild. Son-in-law, Pat's husband, is in Spain.

I note that Clara Ray Speare Topham '17 "scooped" me in the last issue, giving us news of Mrs. Donald Fusia (Aileen Larson) and her five sons. I wonder if any one else in our class has a record like that?

Some sad news this time; regret to report the death of Peter G. Dougherty, husband of Anne Waite Dougherty '16 of Williamsport.

One of my questionnaires that was returned to me reports that Mrs. James Ryan (Margaret Wallace '16) has two daughters who have graduated from Bucknell, and a third is a student at Ohio University. Peg lives at 330 Cinnaminson Ave., Palmyra, N. J.

19 DR. FRANKLIN D. JONES
2617 St. David's Lane
Ardmore, Penna.

Lloyd Garner has written me a long letter from Amarillo, Texas. Upon graduation Lloyd became affiliated with the Cities Service organization in Bartlesville, Okla., where our former varsity basketball captain organized a team for the company's employees and beat "Phillips 66" for city championship. Lloyd worked as operation and sales manager for a number of companies in the Cities Service organization and, although he sustained a broken neck in an automobile accident in 1939, he continued with the Cities Service until he retired. Because he wished to be active, Lloyd entered the motel business and now owns The Western Motel in Amarillo.

20 MR. HAYES L. PERSON
60 S. Third St.
Lewisburg, Penna.

General Carroll H. Deitrick, who recently served as commander of Ordnance Headquarters of the U. S. Army, in Germany, was appointed to the rank of major general.

Advancement to the rank of two-star general is his second promotion in less than two years.

William E. C. Speare, Jr. '58, son of William E. C. Speare, received a Certificate of Heroism at the annual recognition dinner of Dan Beard Boy Scout Council.

On June 22, 1954, some people were swimming and boating on Lake Winola, near Scranton. Eagle Scout William Speare was in a motorboat when he saw two people struggling in the water about 200 yards away. Bill and his companions turned the boat in the direction of the struggling people, and Bill jumped in to assist Abina Monacelli, age 15, who was under water.

Mr. John N. Bauman was recently elected vice president of the White Motor Co., in Cleveland, Ohio. John graduated from Bucknell with a degree in mechanical engineering. He has been with the firm since 1922. At college his classmates called him "Nevin" and he is best remembered by that name.

We were pleased to learn of the recent appointment of William E. C. (Doc) Speare as chief probation officer of the Middle District of Pennsylvania, United States Court. He will continue to have his office in Scranton, although with his new duties he will handle cases from the New York State Line to the Mason-Dixon Line. In addition to being president of the Scranton Alumni Club, he is active in the Y. M. C. A. and Boy Scout programs.

Miss Marguerite I. Quigley who has been teaching in the Williamsport High School for the past 40 years will retire this year. She has been instructor in Romance languages. Her retirement will afford opportunity to fulfill varied hobby pursuits—notably fan collection.

21 MRS. ELWOOD DERR
1360 Jefferson Ave.
Lewisburg, Penna.

The Class of 1921 and Bucknell University extend their heartfelt sympathies to Paul L. Miller on the death of Mrs. Miller (Marguerite T. Lotte) on July 28, 1955. She was secretary to the Paul L. Miller, Inc., chemical corporation on Fifth Avenue, Paterson, N. J., and a member of the Broadway Baptist Church.

Surviving are her husband, one son, Edward A., of Paterson; a daughter, Mrs. Helen Rosenthal, and one grandson, Edward S. Rosenthal, all of Washington, D. C.

22 MR. PHILIP C. CAMPBELL
R. D. 5
Danville, Penna.

The Class of 1922 will be sorry to learn of the death in Cleveland, Ohio, of Cartwright (Pinky) M. Hunter on August 6. He had been in ill health about a year and succumbed to pneumonia in the Huron Road Hospital.

Longtime singer, song writer, master of ceremonies and sportscaster with WHK, he served for the past decade as program director. "Pinky" matriculated at Bucknell when the Student Army Training Corps program was in full swing and during his University days he joined Phi Kappa Psi. However, he left the campus for the Army artillery at Camp Taylor and after service tenure, he began achieving recognition as banjoist and crooner with leading Ohio orchestras. His outstanding radio work as assistant musical director led to his selection as sportscaster for the Cleveland Indians—assistant and partner of John (Jack) Graney. "Pinky's" sole survivor is his wife, Kate. They lived at 2809 Van Aken Boulevard in Cleveland.

Brig. Gen. Harry W. Johnson was appointed to assistant CG of the Second Armored Division, as CG of advance section, Company Z, on August 2. In World War II he landed at Normandy with the XIX Corps and in October, 1944 became chief of staff for the 70th Inf. Div. His combat service has earned him the Silver Star, the Legion of Merit, the Bronze Star with three clusters, the Order of Leopold, and the Croix de Guerre with palm from Belgium. Johnson earned his bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from Bucknell and another in civil engineering from the U. S. Military Academy, from which he was graduated in 1926.

24 MRS. PAUL CUPP
(Louise Benhoff)
933 Muirfield Road,
Bryn Mawr, Penna.

The Class of 1924 and the University were saddened to hear of the death of Daniel Theodore Geist in July, after a brief illness, in Orlando, Fla. A graduate of Bucknell and Indiana State Teachers College, Mr. Geist was employed in the decorating department of the Owens-Illinois Clarion (Penna.) plant for three years, and managed the Pennsylvania Liquor Store at Clarion, for 17 years. He was a member of the BPOE in Kissimmee, Fla., and the St. Cloud Lions Club.

Dr. Henry Benjamin Mussina, Williamsport, inventor of "screwy lures" has for his latest invention the "caddis worm"—a non-poisonous pastelike mixture of chemicals which when submerged reacts to water and motivates like a grub worm. The patent is pending and the lure is featured in a local sporting goods store. He has several different formulas to represent a grub, stickworm, red worm, salmon eggs, larvae, hellgramite, flies, and inch worm. Henry, forced to retire from his medical practice in 1951 after several heart attacks, could do nothing strenuous and decided to develop his lure. He mixed 1,088 different formulas with 150 different chemicals until he found what he wanted.

Henry's daughter, Diann Kay, is presently studying for her master's degree at Bucknell.

James N. Patterson, M.D., 911 Citizens Building, Tampa, Fla., is not a hermatol-ogist (as reported in our May issue). He is a hematologist, a specialist in the study of blood. Incidentally, Jimmy reports that his son, Joseph Richard Patterson, is now a senior medical student at Tulane University Medical School and recently married Lora Beatrice Rooks, a senior at the University of Florida.

Lillian Greenland Williams, 1417 North 22nd Street, Superior, Wis., left our class in 1922 and graduated and received her M.A. from Michigan. Her husband is head of the English Department at the State College. They have three children.

Oliver T. Sommerville and wife (Mid Clower), 77 West Gouverneur Avenue, Rutherford, N. J., have a home at 310 Ocean Street, Beach Haven, N. J., which they use for weekends when it is nice. We hear that they are near the Little Egg Harbor Yacht Club and that they are "friendly" to Bucknellians who call! We will remember that!

We haven't heard from Ruth Peck Steiner but we do know that they live at 4774 70th St., La Mesa, Calif. Ruth and Chuck '23 have just announced the marriage of their son, James Philip Steiner to Mary Barrett Capstaff on June 25 in Boston, Mass.

25 MRS. DANIEL HOPPER, JR.
(Mildred C. Francisco)
36 Van Daren Avenue
Chatham, N. J.

As the new and inexperienced Class Reporter for 1925, please help me to stimulate interest so that at our 1960 Reunion we will have a real bang-up turnout. I, with many others, returned for our 30th get-together, and it was mighty fine to erase the years and bring back the fond memories of years gone by.

Send me all items of interest and let's find our missing and lost members. As a starter, does anyone know the addresses of George Beale, Joseph H. Carson, Ruth Lupold, or Anne Hobensack?

My apologies to you all for the absence of a letter in the September issue. I was traveling in Colorado, visiting my sons, Dan, who was at Grand Junction, and Bob, Bucknell Class of 1956, who is still at Lowry Air Force Base. I arrived home after the deadline date for the letter.

Mrs. Clara Price Cober is on the faculty at the Baptist Institute for Christian Workers at Bryn Mawr. She is a member of the Board of Managers of The National Council of American Baptist Women and has been chairman of the Program Packet Committee this year. She is married to Dr. Kenneth L. Cober '24, and they have a daughter Mrs. John M. Hepfer (Ellen Cober '50).

Reverend William D. Golightly of Scranton was guest preacher at the Community Services in Plainfield, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Lybarger and family are now living in Djakarta, Java. He is employed by the J. G. White Engineering Corporation of New York and is making slide films for the Indonesian government.

Those of you who have not secured your Reunion Book may do so by sending $2.00 to Buck Shott. We urge you to get your copy now, and renew your acquaintances with your classmates of 1925.

Margaret Ackerman spent the summer at Middlebury College in Vermont at the German School. Another visitor to Middlebury this summer was Mildred Biddison who attended the reunion of the French School.

Mrs. Paul O. Young (Mary Bray), with her family, spent a vacation in Colorado and also visited Mrs. James H. Fritz (Grace Matz) in Michigan on the return trip.

24

Mrs. Ernest S. Aydelott (Ruth Mandeville), or "Mandy" to most of us, now lives in Bellevue, Wash. She has promised faithfully to return for our thirty-fifth reunion. Her older son Bob graduated from Whitman College in June and George, the younger, is in high school.

John Namisniak of Nanticoke (Penna.) also toured the West this summer.

Howard F. C. Thomas is supervising principal of the Blue Ridge Joint Schools, Susquehanna County, not the Green Ridge Schools.

26 MISS ANNA L. BROWN
45 Wildwood Ave.
Pltman, N. J.

We were sorry to learn of the death of Thomas B. Kantz on April 1.

Stanley Slocum, 54, 643 Ford Ave., Kingston, a direct descendant of the founders of Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, died August 6 at his summer home at Pocono Lake Reserve following a heart attack.

The Class of 1926 and Bucknell University extend heartfelt condolences to those who survive.

J. B. MILLER

John B. Miller, professor of electrical engineering at Bucknell University, is holding the Frank A. Hoppe Memorial Trophy, which he was awarded recently as winner of the Pennsylvania State Smallbore Rifle Championship. His winning score of 3195 out of a possible 3200 points is the highest ever fired in this annual tournament. He is the 13th winner of the trophy.

27 MRS. L. H. COLLISON
(Grace M. Pfeifer)
Marydel, Md.

Early in September we learned that LeRoy Horton and his family of wife, son and daughter, recently returned to their home at 341 Hawthorn, Glen Ellyn, Ill., after taking an eight-week tour in Europe. According to LeRoy, (who is engaged in the heating and plumbing industry, being with the Lennox Furnace Co. in Chicago) the plumbing, heating, and sanitation standards in Europe are at least a generation behind ours. Quoting: "In many parts of Europe the American tourist is regarded as a person to be overcharged and mined for gold. We have the equivalent of scenery and historical relics in our own country, so why should we be interested in the family wars of ducal families in Italy, and Germany!" Evidently he agrees heartily with Henry Van Dyke who penned America for Me when he chose to return to the land of youth and freedom where the flag is full of stars!

We also heard, indirectly, that Mrs. J. Leon Merrick (Grace Milhous) is on the planning committee in charge of the big anniversary doings held at Kennett Square, (Penna.) this fall. Perchance she is now a "Lady of the Swish!"

"Abe" Sheckells writes from 826 Westcott St., Syria, N. Y., that he is still a busy pastor and has been for the past five years director of Christian Education for the Massachusetts Baptists and is now serving in the same capacity for the New York Baptist Convention. Abe is the proud father of three children.

28 MRS. H. M. MARSH, JR.
(Lorinne Martin)
60 Prospect Hill Ave.
Summit, N. J.

Harry H. Pierson just completed a quick six weeks tour of the Asia Foundation Field Operations, touching at Tokyo, Hong Kong, Manila, Bangkok, Rangoon, Karachi, Dacca and Colombo. He plans to be back in his home office at San Francisco for the monthly luncheon of Bucknellians scheduled for Tuesday, January 3.

30 MRS. BERNARD KLOSTERMAN
(Emmalyn Y. Fuller)
23 Leathers Rd.
Fort Mitchell, Ky.

With space limited last issue, I was unable to tell you what a big thrill it was for those of us who were there to see John S. Burlew receive his honorary degree from Bucknell University.

I received a most interesting letter from David W. Robinson '04. After attending his 50th Reunion last year, he went on to the New England coast. He was taken ill at Portsmouth, N. H. and had to undergo surgery. His first caller was Dr. John N. Feaster, pastor of the North Church and a member of the hospital board. Mr. Robinson had so many fine things to say about John that they would fill a page. He ended his letter by saying "if he is a fair sample of your class, you can indeed be proud." So—we're proud!

We regret to report the passing of D. Vincent Smith, the father of Mrs. John A. Stoll (Ruby Eleanor Smith). Mr. Smith, who was known as the "cycling photographer," had peddled his bicycle 100,000 miles over a period of 55 years.

Mrs. Arthur Kille (Bertha Gwen Thomas), with her husband, is operating the Cozy Rest Motel on Benson Highway in Tucson, Ariz. Bucknellians traveling through her beautiful state are always welcome.

Before our 25th Reunion I received a long letter from Mrs. William C. Shure (Ruth Wentworth). Ruth says during the past sixteen years she has been trying to keep up with a perambulating Army chaplain. To date they have lived in twenty-one different places and at present are located in Stuttgart, Germany. "The longer I live outside the U. S. A. the more of a flag-waving American I become," Ruth maintains.

We were proud when we heard Godfrey Frank Zimmerman had been advanced to the rank of lieutenant colonel in the Marine Corps Reserve. Since 1949 he has been principal of Cranford High School, Cranford, N. J.

Your Class Reporter sounds more like a Roving Reporter. I am, at present writing in Williamsburg, Va., enjoying this beautiful historical city, and visiting my son Ken at Fort Eustis. There are about eight boys from Bucknell in his present training class, and they stick together like glue—which is not true of the many other universities represented—so the friendly 300 acres must have something!

Paul Crago, treasurer of the Long Island Bucknell Club, has a son, Bill, a freshman at Bucknell. I don't know whether Bill can run as well as "Red" but he certainly is a handsome boy.

Mrs. Fred H. Crosier (Ruth Edwards) has a son, Fred, nineteen. Fred is a student at Penn State.

31 MRS. W. ZELMAN SLEIGHTER
(Ruth J. Thomas)
833 Chestnut St.
Mifflinburg, Penna.

James R. Cox, Jr. has been promoted to field manager, Boston District of the IBM Corporation. He has been with IBM in Endicott, N. Y.; Harrisburg and York; Springfield and Boston, Mass. He is also secretary of the Little League in Wellesley, Mass., and manager of a team there; in PTA and Cub Scouting; a member of Boston Sales Managers Club; a member of Boston Executives Association; and a Director of Massachusetts Safety Council Mr. and Mrs. Cox have three children.

Mr. Frank P. Jeckel of Erie was re-elected president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Erie.

Mr. Clare M. Leonard has been teaching mathematics at Baldwin (N. Y.) High School for 19 years and is serving as Guidance Counselor for Junior boys.

Mr. Donald A. Poynter is vice president of the St. Lawrence Corporation of Newfoundland, Limited. His address is St. Lawrence, Newfoundland. The Poynters are the parents of four children—a daughter and three sons.

Mr. Robert J. Thompson was appointed sales manager, Griplock Division, of C. Tennant Sons & Company, New York.

Richard W. Cleckner '49 and William Fearen '50 are now associated with Joseph Nissley's law firm, Livengood & Nissley in Harrisburg.

Mrs. Hollis T. Ross (Mary E. Wolfe) is recovering at her home in Lewisburg after delicate heart surgery at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital. While there one of her faithful callers was Mrs. August Wahl (Virginia Cowell) of 3447 W. Penn St., Philadelphia 29.

Dr. George Sale is practicing medicine at Missoula, Mont.

32 ELLIS P. HULL
Allentown, N. J.

A recent note from Grace Fithian Sheaffer tells us that she often sees Grace Link Graham and her husband Paul W. Graham '34 due to their mutual activities in the Williamsport P. T. A. and in the Boy and Girl Scouts. She also included information about Dr. Williver who was the Beaver Memorial Methodist Church minister during our University days. He is now District Superintendent of the Williamsport District with headquarters and home in Williamsport. He and Mrs. Williver have five sons.

Mr. Warren W. Herneane is still teaching in the Huntingdon, Penna., schools.

A Williamsport newspaper clipping reports that Miss Frances E. Knights has been recently elected to the presidency of the Lycoming College chapter of the American Association of University Professors. She was the first woman elected to such office since the club's founding in 1951.

Our best wishes to Charlotte Mary Patrick on receiving her master's degree in education administration from Pennsylvania State University.

33 MRS. JANET ENGELHARDT
(Janet Worthington)
Irontdale Place, Millville Road
Bloomsburg, Penna.

Stanley J. Bienus is still principal of the Benjamin Franklin Junior High School at Hanover Township.

Dr. Louise Christian VanDeventer has practiced anesthesiology in Los Angeles for the last 11 years. Her husband, Dr. J. K. VanDeventer, specializes in internal medicine (chest diseases). They have a son, Ralph, 16, and an adopted son, Clarke, 6.

Robert N. Cook, professor of law at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, completed a summer of teaching at the Rutgers University School of Law, where he taught legal drafting. He used his own book, Legal Drafting as the text. He is also co-author of the 1954 supplement to Page On Wills.

Dr. Engelhardt '28 and I are moving November 1 to our new home, Irontdale Pl., built in 1829, formerly owned by Dr. Thomas North, retired dean of instruction at Bloomsburg State Teachers College. Our son, Hans, is enrolled as a freshman at Haverford College. An article of mine "Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania, A Town of Many Advantages for Home and Industry" appeared in the September issue of the Reading Railroad Magazine published in Philadelphia.

I saw Mr. and Mrs. Leiser Johnson (Ellen Koser '34) touring the Bloomsburg Fair this year. Ellen's erect carriage, and graceful walk, makes her recognizable anywhere. They live in Berwick where her husband is an insurance agent for Grocers Mutual, a fire insurance company for home and business. They have one daughter, Penny, who is in high school now.

Mrs. Harold Miller (Muriel Marshall) is now the full time organist at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Bloomsburg.

I received a note from Mrs. Ellsworth (Eunice Miller) whose address is 419 Creswell Rd., Baltimore 25, Md. She says "I am a widow, have two wonderful sons, aged 9 and 11, who study piano at Peabody here. I am probation officer in the divorce and alimony division, Family Service Unit for the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City Courts. I study law at night. If any of my Bucknell friends come to visit our beautiful old city, please drop in to see me at Room 138, Court House. We also have the smartest hound dog in Anne Arundel County."

Leland C. Vandermark has completed his eighth year as supervising principal of the White Haven School District.

34 MRS. WILLIAM S. LIMING
(Ruth Rohr)
396 Andrews Road
East Williston, N. Y.

(Editor's Note) The absence of a class report in our September issue was the result of an oversight in the Alumni Office and not the fault of your reporter, Mrs. Ruth Rohr Liming. In fact, Ruth sent her report early in July to be sure it would be included in the September issue. Ruth's reports for both issues are included in the following class notes.

Thought you might like to know our class was one of the few honored by having news in every issue of THE ALUMNUS. I'll keep it up only if you send me the news so how about a letter right now.

Had a marvelous letter from Nina Lambert, the extremely busy wife of even busier George Vetter '33. They are at home at 303 Sharple Place, North Tonawanda, N. Y. George is director of athletics, and teaches history as well as turning out championship football and basketball teams. Their son, Larry, was on the All Star Little League team and pitched in the state quarter finals at Corning, N. Y. Maybe this southpaw will make the major leagues! Nina is a charter member of the Hospital Auxiliary, serving her second elective term on the Y. W. C. A. board of directors, an advisory member of the teen-age committee of the Y. W., also a former member of the public affairs committee of the Tonawandas. The Veters spend weekends and vacations at their cottage in Canada, but would love to say "Hello" to any Bucknellians who get out their way.

Nina tells me John Plewak '41 (Bucknell's watch charm guard) is one of George's assistants in football and equipment manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wood '33 (Dolly Flint '32) visited the Veters and are now in this upstate area.

John Rogers '47 and William J. Rogus III '43 also are busy meeting the dental and medical needs of Tonawandans.

Richard Bowan '44 is doing well in wood products connected with the manufacture of plastics in North Tonawanda.

Mr. and Mrs. William Scott (Edith MacKay '35) live in Darien Center, N. Y., and keep in touch with the Veters. They also see Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Smith '38 (Edith McCormick '35).

L. Benson Bristol, D.D.S., who has been practicing dentistry in Detroit, left in June for two years' service in the Air Force.

Dr. James M. Converse, Williamsport, has been elected president of the Pennsylvania Radiological Society at the annual meeting held in Reading. Jim had served ten years as secretary-treasurer of the society. His son is a freshman at Bucknell this year.

Saw Harry Fithian at Alumni Weekend. He looks fine, and I am sorry I didn't get near enough to have a chat with him.

Miss Bessie M. Snyder was married to Mr. Lytle F. Caruthers on March 30, 1955.

35 MRS. PAUL DESCHANEL
(Ann W. Orr)
Gambrils, Md.

This seems to be a shakedown cruise for the news—for the next twenty years. We should all give Metta Farrington Straley a vote of thanks for gleaming the news for the first twenty. The Berlins did a terrific job on our reunion, and those of us who braved the rains were thrilled to see Bucknell so improved—made us all feel like dashing out and enrolling the offspring and sending contributions to the Alumni Fund—let's do it!

We were all glad to hear that Johnny Bergen has been elected a charter member of Liberty Mutual's Leaders Club. Also heard that Mary Ellen Arner Gingrich has forsaken teaching to care for daughter Marcy Ellen.

I hear by the grapevine that Bob Lindner is commuting between Baltimore and Hollywood. Seven years ago Paramount bought title to one of his first books Rebel Without a Cause. The movie mags are reporting that the film will soon be out. Bob's latest book on the shelves, The Fifty Minute Hour would certainly provide several intensely exciting stories for films. Bob and Johnny Johnson '34 make one of Baltimore's most hospitable teams.

Our reunion foursome convinced Hermie Umpleby Lawrence that she should join us at the alumni luncheon in the gym. It was a very impressive affair and so gratifying to see Bucknell benefactors so generous. I spotted the youngest Ori-grandchild, Jim Vanaman, who graduated this year. I'm the oldest—so we are now alumni twenty years apart.

Have you heard that Bob Wilson and former Peg Huling '33 have a son at Annapolis? Stop in sometime Bob and Peg—we live just 14 miles from the Naval Academy.

For up-to-the-minute data on our class, be sure to get the reunion book, if you haven't already. It contains an amazing amount of information and interesting biographies of class members.

Stop by (Route 175 near Fort Meade), write, phone (South Shore 4147), wire, or cable—send me the news—even if by carrier pigeon.

PERSONAL: After twenty years some of us looked a bit older—Mrs. Marlin Balsbaugh (Romlyn Rivenburg) an exception, looked all of nineteen, slim and unscathed by the years. Martha Fulmer, also young looking and a busy career gal. Anne Fishel Poorbaugh—so pretty in blue; Bill Stokely as funny as ever, all the way up from Florida with brother and Dad; Betty Berlin Smith weighing exactly the same as she did twenty years ago. Ed Hartman and Jerry Morr are some other lads having a whirl on a bachelor weekend. Ed Knights and sister Winnifred looking so distinguished, both in medical careers. Janet Keefer Strite smiling as usual, telling of her busy life in civic affairs; Charlotte Lickhard Messenger chatting about her children, as was Betty Benedict James, who keeps busy with four. Jay Mathias enthusiastically planning a whing-ding for our twenty-fifth reunion; Edith McCormick Smith still a glamor girl; George McGaughey looking as if he had just stepped off the football field—remember the Fordham victory? Emily Orr Stewart with husband Eric '36, looking sylph-like, accompanied by their charming daughter; Essie Powell Rodgers more fun than ever. A quick glimpse at Jack and Bob Thompson and wives, former Louise Windsor and Marge Dirlam '37—so good to see them again—they were on their way to a wedding in Philadelphia, but made a special trip (Bob from Florida) to see old classmates.

37 MR. SIGMUND STOLER
215 Chestnut Street
Sunbury, Penna.

On June 1. Rev. Clinton A. Condict became associate pastor of the Lakewood, Ohio, Baptist Church, after leading United Church in Lakeport, N. H., for five years. Mr. Condict has been director of student Christian work at the University of New Hampshire, and is a son of retired Burma missionary Dr. E. Carroll Condict '08.

Lloyd Swartz has accepted a position as engineer with the Atomic Power Division of Westinghouse, Bettis Field, Pittsburgh. Lloyd, his wife, the former Leslie Wheat Minor MA'36, and their children, Eleanor, Margaret, and Minor, are now living at 5100 Brownsville Rd., Pittsburgh 36. Lloyd taught mathematics at our Alma Mater prior to accepting his present post.

The Rev. Thomas B. Richards, a former chaplain at the Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary, was selected as "The Man of the Month" in a recent issue of Pastoral Psychology, a ministerial journal. The article cites him as outstanding in the field of religion and health.

Mr. Richards is now director of the Men's Service Center at Rochester, N. Y., and he continues his work with Alcoholics Anonymous and at the county prison.

Charles I. Vogel has been promoted to vice president in charge of sales of Brooks & Perkins, Inc., Detroit, Michigan. Mr. Vogel joined B&P at the end of World War II as a Sales Engineer; he has been active in the company during its entire period of growth. He graduated from Caldwell (N. J.) High School and was a long time Caldwell resident. For the past eight years he has been general sales manager.

HARRY A. HEBBERD, JR.

Harry A. Heberd, Jr. has recently been placed in charge of marketing for Stokely-Van Camp, Inc., Indianapolis, and made an assistant to L. J. Noonan, vice president in charge of sales and advertising. Mr. Heberd has been with Stokely-Van Camp since 1949, and, in addition to his new duties, will continue to direct the merchandising and advertising of the foods packed under these two long-established labels.

Harriette Speyer Newcomb writes that she is living at 11 Gorham Ave., Brookline 46, Mass., with her three children—Mary Linda, 13; (Buddy) Herbert George, Jr., 12; and Bradley, 7. In Harriette's words: "Since last Fall I've been working as secretary to the executive director of the Brookline Taxpayer's Association, and I'm enjoying it tremendously. I had reason to relive my dramatic efforts at Bucknell not long ago when I served as prompter for 'The Late George Apley,' which was put on by the local Little Theatre group."

39 MR. DAVID R. BAGENSTOSE
Conestoga Road
Wayne, Penna.

Christian L. Addimanda received his M.A. in education and history at the University of Scranton in June. He wrote his thesis on "The History of Secondary Schools and Vocational-Industrial Education in the Greater Pittston Area Prior to 1954."

Mr. Addimanda, who has been employed as related subjects instructor at The Greater Pittston Area Joint Vocational School, has accepted a new position of social studies teacher at the Benjamin Franklin High School, Rochester, N. Y.

Mrs. Edward M. Tedder (Elizabeth Dinsmore) has been made a registered representative for the Goodbury & Company, Louisville Stock Exchange firm, giving her the official status of investment broker.

Charles N. Henderson became organist and choir master of Saint George's Church, Stuyvesant Square, New York City, on September 1. Bucknellians are invited to worship at this second oldest church in New York, famous for its program of ministering to the people in the heart of the city.

Captain Frank Noll, army chaplain in Japan for the past three years, arrived home (Northumberland) last December accompanied by his wife and four children. After a 30-day furlough, he reported to Great Falls, Mont. from which point he will serve as a chaplain for radar bases located in the Middle West.

40 MRS. JAMES A. MILLER
(Mary McCrina)
Pattison, Texas

Warren Eister, connected with the atomic plant at Oak Ridge, Tenn., for the past ten years, was one of a few men from this country selected to be present in Geneva, Switzerland, for the demonstration of an atomic reactor, with the Big Four powers of the world, which was presented nationally in film over television. Mr. and Mrs. Eister are the parents of two children, Kenneth, 12, and William, 2.

Bringing us up-to-date via a nice letter was the announcement of the stork's arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eyer, of Williamsville, N. Y. Their third child, Lynne Margaret, made her debut November 14, 1953.

Robert K. Herzfelder is assistant manager at the Family Finance office in N. Y. C. He still plays with orchestras on weekends.

Mary Louise Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Johnson '96, and Edward W. Peterson, exchanged wedding vows on Saturday, May 19, in the Federated Church of Eagles Mere. Mary Louise is with the Sinclair Oil Tour Bureau in New York, and her husband is with M. H. Lamston, Inc., Jamaica, N. Y.

Edward A. Kandle (Ted) is now in the Copy Department of N. A. Ayer and Son, Inc., in Philadelphia.

Alfred P. Koch, now an associate professor of accounting, Lehigh University, has had an article, "The Treasury's Bargain Counter: Contribution," published in the April 1955 issue of TAXES-The Tax Magazine.

It will probably take a year before you stop hearing about our fifteenth reunion in this column—little bits of information continue to seep in at intervals. "Small world" department: Doris Loos Selinger had an odd tale to tell of how she was instrumental in returning an Alpha Chi pin with the inscription "B. Webb"—it belonged to Betty Webb '39, who is now married, living in Devon, Penna.

In your wandering reporter's safari to and from the reunion, it was a treat to visit with classmates along the way. On the stop in Washington, D. C., we were guests of Bob Maguire, and Marie Roversi Tydings, both of whom live in nearby Silver Spring, Md. Marie and her husband had hoped to come to the reunion. They have four lovely children. Reunion day was the date set for Bob's wedding . . . When we arrived in Corning, N. Y., we saw Bob Kahley, who personally conducted us on a "short deluxe" tour of the Corning Glass Center, where he is accountant.

This belated birth announcement was solicited from Doug and "Mahoo" (Mary Louise Mayhew) Fish: Barbara Louise, born November 19, 1954, their third child.

Rev. and Mrs. Reuben W. Rader's fifth child, John Conrad, was born on September 13, 1954. He joins Emily, 8, Elizabeth, 6, Barbara, 4, and David, 2.

David R. Rothrock was discharged from the Army on July 4. His new address is 13441 N. W. Miami Ct., Miami, 38, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald F. Wagner are the parents of three children, Jeffrey, 5, Stephen, 3, and Gretchen, 1.

We learned recently that our classmate, Robert D. Wilt, who joined the staff of International Business Machines Corporation in 1940, has been promoted from branch manager in the Endicott sales office to assistant manager in Chicago.

John C. Winter, M.D., has begun a three-year residency in internal medicine and allergy at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Pittsburgh. The Winters will be at home at Haymaker Road, Pitcairn, R. D. 2.

41 MRS. WILLIAM F. HASSELBERGER
(Jean Steele)
1518 Westmoreland Ave.
Syracuse, N. Y.

Mr. John Frederick Zeller, III and Martha Edna Harris, assistant dean of women, were married on August 6 at the Immanuel Presbyterian Church in Los Angeles, Calif. Mr. Zeller became assistant to the president at Bucknell, on July 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Doenges, Jr. had their fifth child, Vincent Rene, on June 19. Harry has recently been employed by the Stanolind Oil and Gas Company as a junior accountant in the company's Houston, Tex., accounting department.

42 MRS. THEODORE WILKINSON
(Mary C. Forrest)
329 W. Walnut St.
Lancaster, Penna.

Mr. James B. Aikman of Kenmore, N. Y., was recently elected president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Buffalo.

Heard that the stork arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Durante, Jr. (Lois Johnson). A boy, David, was born on January 3. David, his brother, and parents are still living in South Euclid, Ohio.

Bill and Christine, children of Mrs. William J. Smith (Annabelle Shepler '42)

Mrs. William J. Smith (Annabelle Shepler) won the Second Flight Golf Club Championship.

Willard L. Ronk married Virginia Suhrie, M.D. in 1952, and he is now assistant production manager of Yarnall Waring Company in Philadelphia.

Arthur Pedrick Schalick, Jr., Vineland, N. J., and his wife, the former Nadine H. St. John, are the proud parents of Nadine Helen Schalick, born on July 30.

43 MRS. EARLE E. BENTON
(Norene Bond)
136 Effingham Place
Westfield, N. J.

Major and Mrs. Harry M. Suttle (Josephine Vansant Bagg) and their three children are now living in Tripoli. Their address is, 1617A-HQSQ, Sec. 1603D, ATW Wheeler Field, A. P. O. 231, N. Y., N. Y.

Dr. Gordon Brownell was sent to Geneva, Switzerland as a delegate to the "atoms for peace" congress. Dr. Brownell is at present head of the biophysics research department at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

Dr. Russell M. McQuay, Jr., head of the parasitology department at Mt. Sinai Hospital, Chicago, has been named assistant in parasitology at the Chicago Medical College.

The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vanderbilt, Jr. '42 (Dorian Smith) bringing Alice Dorian on Feb. 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Young, Jr. (Ruth D. Kistler) now living at 206 Cherry Lane, Ambler, have a daughter, Barbara, who is almost two.

44 MRS. ROBERT F. BAKER
Lindys Lake
Butler, N. J.

Burr and Sylvia Cliffe Williamson arrived back in N. J. in March after several years in Texas. Their daughters now number three with the arrival of Debra Jeanne, May 30, 1955. Should have a new address for them next time. The temporary one is 23 Speedwell Ave., Morristown, N. J.

The Bill Crages (Donna Perry) have adopted a daughter, Michele Anne, born March 26, 1955.

Through mutual friends who kept the meeting a surprise, we spent a lovely evening with Herb '42 and Helen Ahrensfield Heaney. Guess none of us had changed too much since we last saw them 13 years ago, as we were all recognizable. . . . Also were paid an unexpected visit by Marianne and Bill Barto '33 of Lewisburg. . . . Mary Straus Millikin phoned from Long Island last month. She and her son had driven up from Maryland to await Gene's arrival from a year's assignment in Germany.

Frederick S. McVeigh and Phyllis B. Adams were married on August 3, in the Russell Sage Chapel, East Northfield, Mass. Their present address, Mount Hermon School, Mount Hermon, Mass.

The Ralph Franklins (Betty Evans) announce the birth of their third son, John Horton, on July 24, 1955.

Last, but to us, not least, we'd like to announce the arrival of our Thomas Harry, Sept. 26, 1955. He joins Bob, 10, and Kitty, 5.

Sybil J. Kealey was married April 10, 1955 to H. Mervin Harris '39. Their address is Benson Apt., Washington Lane and Township Line, Jenkintown, Pa. Sybil was recently promoted to assistant professor in mathematics at Drexel Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. George Liles '48 (Winfred Bode) are now living at 2035 Tenway, S. E., East Grand Rapids, Mich.

Helen E. Royer is working as part time instructor in American History at Pennsylvania State University, while working on her Ph.D. degree.

Had a visit from Mrs. Gordon Brownell (Catherine Wittenberg) and her three lovely children while Gordon '43 was doing research in Europe.

45 MRS. C. FRED MOORE
(Nancy Wochling)
Gillen Rd., Whitpain Village
Ambler, Penna.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. Baker (Helen Grim) had their fifth child, William, on May 13. They are now living at 1374 S. Garey St., Pomona, Calif. Their other children's names are Johnnie, Davie, Larry and Babie.

The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wurfel '48 (Janice Felmy) on July 6, 1955 bringing David Allyn. The Wurfels are living at 159 Beech St., Nutley, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sirianni (Mary Lou Jenkins), Hop Bottom, Pa., had their second child, Susan Mary, born Sept. 11, 1955. Their son, John, is now 4 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Wiederspahn (Jean Williams), 1203 Hollins Rd., Richmond 26, Va., announce the arrival of their second child, Jean, born May 4, 1955.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick O. Schnure, Jr. '42 (Elise Miller '45) and family, Christine, 7, Rickey, 5, and Dorothy, 1½.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron R. Caverly '44 (Janet Southgate '45) and children, Pamela Jean, 9½ months, Judy Ann, 4, and Thomas Michael, 2½.

Children of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hegner (Kathryn Staut '45), David Lohr, 5, Janet Elise, 1, and Robert Ernest, 3.

46 MRS. LELAND C. EWING
(Betty Wells)
31260 Westfield Avenue
Livonia, Michigan

Rev. and Mrs. Edmund Fetter (Edythe A. Bedell '49) welcomed Thomas Bedell into the family on August 15, 1955.

Eloise W. Headland is now Mrs. Douglas V. Whitesides. The happy couple reside at 302 North 7th St., La Crosse, Wis.

Mary Jane Marley became the bride of Edward West on June 4, 1955. Mary Jane is a member of the faculty at Lycoming College and president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Lycoming County. Ed is a physics teacher at the Williamsport Technical Institute, and they reside at 1108 W. Fourth Street, Williamsport.

A son, James Robert Mason, arrived December 5, 1954 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Mason (Dorothy Minter).

Mrs. Saxon B. Palmetter (Jane Rockwell), who now lives at Park Boulevard, East Liverpool, Ohio, writes that she has her mother lined up to care for Saxon, Jr., Wendy Ann, and Douglass during our 10th reunion next June. Jane lives just across the Pennsylvania line, and her husband is project engineer for the first commercial nuclear power plant being built at Shippingport. She also wrote that in June she heard from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Score (Ruthanne Studebaker '45). At that time they were living at 2899 Clarkson Rd., Cleveland Heights 18, Ohio, with daughter, Jennifer, born last December.

Richard S. Sheetz received his M.B.A. degree from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration in June.

Mrs. Charles Baird (Norma White) writes of her family's new life in England. They have been over there 4 months and have bought a home, "White Bays," Warren Drive, Kingswood, Surrey, England. Susan, 6½, will attend a girls' school and Stevie, 5, will go to nursery school, and Chip, 2, will keep Mommy busy at home. Young Stevie was most conspicuous in dungarees and cowboy shirt, Whitey reports, so he's now outfitted in grey knee pants, grey knee socks, and grey shirt! They tried to contact Mrs. Gavin Hildick-Smith (Eutha Richter) but learned that she and her family are in Canada at 70 Mark Ave., Ottawa 2.

48 MRS. JAMES A. BROWN
(Joann G. Golightly)
954 Caldwell Avenue
Union, N. J.

Helen I. Beringer was married to John L. Beale on April 30, 1955 in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mrs. William Hansen (Dorothy Clark) sent me a long letter with the news that her husband, William, passed his bar exams and was admitted to the Bar of N. Y. State in June. Dotty and Bill's family includes a son, Bobby and a younger daughter, Carol.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bertrand Clark and the three girls, Carolyn, Cynthia and Constance are now living at 1234 Anita, Grosse Point Woods 36, Mich. Since June, John has been an account executive with the Campbell-Ewald Company (advertising) in Detroit.

Congratulations to Bill K. Cooper on his completion of a fellowship in architecture at the "Beaux Arts" in Paris. He is now employed as an architect in Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Edward J. Dentz (Marjorie A. Kohl) of Tonawanda, N. Y., was elected secretary of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Buffalo. She is married to Edward J. Dentz '49.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Skoye (Florence Fellows) announce the arrival of their second child, Cynthia Margaret, on Sept. 21, 1955. She joins their 3½ year old son, David.

Heard that Milton H. Iredell, Jr. received his doctorat in psychology from Western Reserve University in Ohio. On behalf of the Class of 1948, our congratulations and best wishes in his future clinical work with the Department of Defense in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Robert C. Kessler is assistant personnel manager of Merck & Co., Inc., Cherokee Plant, Danville, Pa. He is married to the former Harriet Foust '50 and they have two children, Carol Jean, 5½, and Robert Clark, 2½ years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman R. King toured France, Germany, Austria, Italy, and England last fall. Norman had a thrilling reunion with many of the people in France who aided his escape by the underground in World War II, after he was shot down over enemy occupied France, on January 5, 1944.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kramer of Margate, N. J. welcomed a future Bucknell coed into their home on May 9. Best regards to the whole family.

Firecracker, Bruce Michael Davis, arrived on July 4 to join his brother, John Eric, who had celebrated his second birthday just five days earlier at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Matthew Davis (Florence Kreitler). Candy reports that husband, Walt, is now a senior engineer at Sperry Gyroscope. They live at 31 Sherwood Rd., Glen Cove, L. I., N. Y., and Candy reports having seen Anita Rosenberg Millar with son Mike and Dottie Watkinson Schalin '47 and Bill recently.

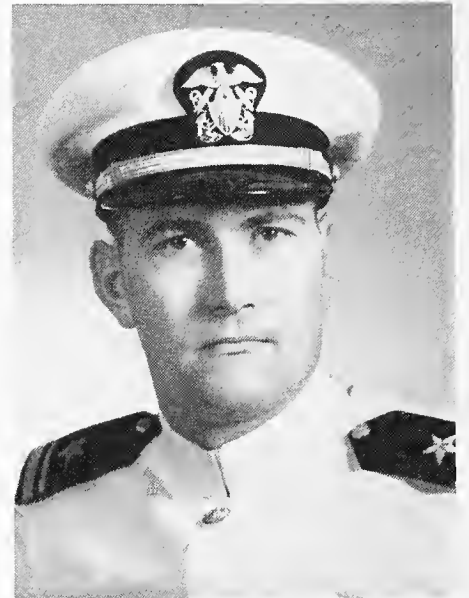

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richard McKee '49 (Ruth Frances Williamson) welcomed Patricia Louise to the family on July 13, to join Barbara, 3, and Tommy who is 2. Tom, Sr. is busy teaching at the Traphagen Junior High School in Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Marbach (Dorothy Merritt) wrote to let us know of the arrival of Alice Wells on Aug. 23, 1955. They are also the parents of a son, Philip.

A nice newsy letter came from Mr. and Mrs. David Messersmith (Anne Bailey) telling me of the addition of David Bruce on May 11, 1955. He joins three year old Andrew and William, 22 months. They live at 390 Cooper Ave., Landisville, Pa., and would love to see or hear from some other '48ers.

On May 25, 1955, Miss Mariam C. Krell, Hazleton, became the bride of Walter A. Sprague. The couple reside at 430 Hardwick St., Belvidere, N. J. Walter is employed as a mechanical engineer by the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company.

CHARLES WALTER LOFFT, JR.

Charles Walter Lofft, Jr. was graduated from the Navy Officers' Candidate School as a Reserve Officer in May at Newport, R. I.

49 MRS. THOMAS A. FRAZIER
(Marilyn Harer)
55 Manor Dr., Apt. 8J
Newark, N. J.

Sherman A. Herman recently transferred to the New York Office of A. C. F. Ind., Inc. as stress analyst on the Calgo Project—Special Products Division.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. McDonald (Evelyn Durfee) welcomed an addition to their family on March 4, 1955. They named the new arrival James Andrew. Robert recently opened his own office for general practice of medicine at 630 Bay Rd., Webster, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Martin (Joyce Hauch '47) announce the birth of a son Kimberly Ingram Martin on Oct. 12, 1954. Roger is completing work on his master's degree at the University of Pittsburgh. Recently he was promoted to chief operating engineer at Duquesne Light Co. They are at home at 814 Killarney Dr., Pittsburgh 34, Pa.

Congratulations are in order for William C. Petredis who received his Master of Education degree from the University of Pittsburgh, June, 1955. Bill married the former Irene Kokales in June, 1953, and they live at 3 Franklin St., Pittsburgh 23. For the past four years, he has been teaching commercial subjects in the Robinson Township High School. Bill took a trip abroad in 1950 and spent four months visiting relatives and sightseeing in Greece.

Frank Joseph Powlitch, Jr. (now Frank J. Powell) is working as a mechanical engineer for the National Bureau of Standards. He earned his master of science degree from the University of Maryland in 1954 and is teaching mechanical engineering part time at George Washington University. Frank married Ann R. Herstek soon after graduation, and they, with their two boys, James 4, and Frank, 1, now live at 9919 Mayfield Drive, Bethesda 14, Md.

47 ROGER S. HADDON, ESQ.
243 Water St.
Northumberland, Penna.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger E. Martin (Joyce Hauck) notify us that son Kimberly Ingram Martin became one year old on Columbus Day.

Jean DeGroat Richardson '46 was kind enough to tell us of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. John Kruse (Marty Jammer) March 15, 1955—Heidi Margaret Kruse, a little sister for Constance Ann (2½ years plus); also that their third child was born in January to Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Roberts (Jean Morgenthau), name of Karen, who joins Karol (4½) and Keith (3).

Let's come up to date on Richard C. Reece: received degree of Master of Architecture at M. I. T. in 1950; joined the firm of Anderson, Beckwith & Haible, architects, as associate member; married to the former Susan Womack, (U. of N. C. 1948); three children—John Winslow, Michael Colt and Sarah Womack.

Dr. and Mrs. William K. Smith '41 (Julia Yarnall '47) have welcomed daughter Alison Catherine, born April 13. Bill is an associate professor of mathematics at B. U.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Steinger (Dorothy J. Gleckner), formerly of Philadelphia, now live at 6816 Aberdeen, Dallas, Texas. Chuck is a patent attorney for Atlantic Refining Company.

We were saddened to learn that Robert Weston was found dead in his car near Bentleyville, Pa., on January 20. He is survived by his wife, the former Marcella E. Wingert '43, parents and a sister.

Dorothy G. Wilson, M.D., has moved her practice to Sunbury, opening her offices there in August. A specialist in obstetrics and gynecology, she received her medical degree at Temple University School of Medicine in 1951. She interned at Temple and then underwent three years of practice in her specialized field at the Temple University Hospital, also teaching during that time at Temple Med. Dorothy is a member of the Residents Division of the American Academy of Obstetrics and Gynecology. Her new offices are located at 252 North Eleventh Street, Sunbury, and she will reside in an adjoining apartment at the same address.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas '50 (Dotty Bergfors) are now living at 5739 East 30th Place, Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ward are at home at 2365 Kensington Street, Harrisburg, Pa. Don is Field Supervisor for the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co. They have two children, Cyndie, who is 4, and Jeff, who is one year old.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Webster '48 (Margaret Donaldson) are now residing in Charlotte, N. C., where Don is District Manager for the Magnavox Co. The Websters have one son, William David, adopted on Nov. 22, 1954.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Thomas (Doris Wilde) had their second daughter, Ann Megan, on April 3, 1955. They are now living at 2811 Dungen Ct., Dundalk, Baltimore 22, Md.

50 MRS. DAVID MILLER
614 Penn Street
New Bethlehem, Penna.

Sarah Angle and Erick von Nicol of Berlin, Germany were married in August. Among the many familiar faces at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heist '51 (Janet Walter). The bride and groom are residing in Philadelphia.

Major William H. Baumer is now in the Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, where he has undergone an operation for the removal of his left foot above the ankle. The operation was necessary to correct disabilities received during his long prison stay after his capture by the Chinese Reds. Major Baumer will be required to spend the next two to four months in the hospital. His classmates, as well as all Bucknellians, wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Verdine E. Campbell are the parents of a son, Terrance, born in August 1954.

Donald Davidson has become an adhesive specialist and is presently representing Armstrong Cork Company at General Motors Corporation. He and his wife, the former May Ellen Cunningham, are living at 1926 Maryland Blvd., Birmingham, Mich.

Congratulations to James W. Dean who has been made dean of students at Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

On April 1, 1955, Yutwee G. Eng assumed duty as the head of the Social Service Department at Craig Colony, Sonoma, N. Y., a state hospital for epileptic patients.

Maj. William R. Fuchs is teaching in the Department of Mathematics, U. S. Air Force Academy, in Denver, Colo.

To Mary Alice Gorman our congratulations. She was recently a recipient of a Master of Science degree in Child Development and Family Relationships at the Pennsylvania State University.

An eight pound addition arrived at the home of the W. Dale Hays. She is the former Norma Hunsinger.

David G. Hayhurst was awarded his LL.B. degree at Harvard University on June 16, 1955.

A son was born to the Charles Hermans in Baton Rouge, La. Charles is working for E. S. Standard Oil Company.

John C. Hoover, who received his master degree in education, was awarded a DuPont scholarship to Cornell University this summer. He was enrolled in an advanced science course.

A baby was born on May 14, 1955, to Mr. and Mrs. George Sumner (Elizabeth Koch). She was named Carol Ann.

It's a baby boy for the Lee McCloskeys. She is the former Lena Garro, now living in Carlbad, N. M.

Charles Post received a Master of Social Work degree from the University of Pittsburgh in June and accepted a position as medical social worker in the Department of Public Assistance. We learned also that he and his family are living at 3229-B Wakefield Rd., Wedgewood Hills, Harrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Rahner, Jr. are the proud parents of a second son, Jeffrey Lee, born on May 4, 1955.

Samuel C. Ranck was admitted to the bar of Northumberland county courts. He is the nephew of Dr. Dayton L. Ranck '16, vice-president of Bucknell University.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Gale Wendle, Jr., became the parents of twin daughters, Carol Ann and Barbara Jean, born in May 1954.

Received a note from Martha Woodburn and her husband John Lose—they missed our Fifth Reunion because of an addition to their family. Her name is Ann and she was born in June.

Hugh Williamson is now teaching chemistry at Lock Haven State Teachers College. Hugh's address is 117 Huffman Ave., Williamsport.

51 MRS. GARRY E. BROWN
(Frances Wilkins)
Schoolcraft, Mich.

Charles E. Miller is working as vocational rehabilitation counselor, Bureau of Vocational Education in Sunbury.

1st Lt. and Mrs. William Eubanks (Audrey T. Nicodemus) are the proud parents of a son born on March 22, in Greenville, N. C. Audrey is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Nicodemus '25.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay J. Saphier (Barbara A. Bernstein '52) are now living in Indianapolis. Jay is at the U. S. Army Finance Center, Ft. Harrison, and Barbara is teaching.

Joan M. Scheid writes that she has been working as advertising manager of Thomas Nelson and Sons, publishers of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible and juvenile and trade books since January, 1954.

Congratulations to Dorothy Carringer Smith who received her Master's degree in social work from the University of Pittsburgh. Dorothy is married to Donald M. Smith also of the Class of 1951, who is an account assistant with Kethum, McLeod and Grove, advertising firm in Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Acton (Barbara Snyder) recently moved into a new home at Howard Drive, Harris Acres, Woodstown, N. J. They have a son, Jeffrey Gregg, born in July 1954.

Robert E. Stover is assistant professor of psychology at Pennsylvania State University. He received his M.S. in 1953 and his Ph.D. in 1954 at P. S. U.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Swanson (Mary Jane Brokaw '52) became the parents of a baby girl, Kathy, in May 1953.

The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel E. Astor in Santruce, Puerto Rico, on Aug. 4, 1955, bringing little Mari Nadia.

Edwin J. Blick is presently employed at the Lighthouse, the New York Association for the Blind. Ed works in the department of public support.

Harvey H. Bush has completed his military service and is now a sales engineer with Alcoa. He lives at 328 Cross St., Ft. Lee, N. J.

As of September 10, 1955 Frances E. Wilkins became Mr. Garry E. Brown. Their new address is Schoolcraft, Michigan.

F. Alan Davis has just joined the Public Relations Department of Ford Motor Company, Detroit, as editor of the Management Bulletin of the Willow Run Plant. During the past three years, while Alan was earning his advanced degrees at the University of Michigan, he has served as assistant and associate editor of the Michigan Municipal Review, organ of the Michigan Municipal League. Alan and his wife, the former Rachael Jean Heim '51 now have two sons. With Dr. Frank G. Davis for a grandfather and Dr. Ephraim Heim as a great-grandfather, they should be Bucknellians, don't you think?

A daughter, Catherine B. (Katie), was born to Mr. and Mrs. James R. Fehr on Feb. 1, 1955. Daddy is the vice-president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Reading.

Word was received that Joan Gretchen Hoshauer, daughter of Dr. John C. Hoshauer '26, was married to James F. Madison in June 1955. Joan, a graduate of Temple University Medical School, will intern at Germantown Hospital, Philadelphia. Her husband, an alumnus of Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, is presently a senior at the medical school.

Miss Erma Metz has taken a position with Lycoming County Child Welfare Services in Williamsport. Erma worked as a clinical psychologist at Laurelton State Village before going to her present job.

Charles E. Peterson, Jr. was appointed to the administrative staff of Dickinson College as assistant to the dean of admissions. Since 1951 Peterson has been the secretary-treasurer and office manager of the Pine Creek Lime and Stone Co. of Jersey Shore.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Prigge, Jr. were gifted with a daughter, Robin Marilyn, on April 2, 1954. Mr. Prigge received his advanced aeronautical engineering degree this past June.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce M. Scott became parents of a second daughter, Susan Lynn, on April 12, 1955. Dad is president of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Michigan-Toledo.

Webster Smith, son of Professor C. Willard Smith (our favorite English prof), has been awarded a Fulbright Fellowship for a year's study in Italy. Web plans to spend four weeks in Perugia and the remainder of the year in Florence where he will be engaged in the special study of Renaissance architecture.

The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carl Streitz on June 9, 1955 bringing John Frederick. Mr. and Mrs. Streitz are now living at 500 1/2 W. Mill St., Selinsgrove.

52 MISS ELINOR L. CHILDS
74 Mt. Kemble Ave.
Morristown, N. J.

John M. Rimert was transferred to the Trinity Evangelical United Brethren Church, Pemsdale, Pa. He graduated from the United Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio.

R. Malcolm Sinclair returned from Europe in the summer of 1954, after serving with the U. S. Army in Germany. He was working in the Public Information Office.

Donald W. Strassner and Helen W. Miller were married on April 23 at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, in Port Washington, L. I. The couple is now living at 204 David Drive, Apt. C3, Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Former Bucknell president, Horace A. Hildreth, now U. S. ambassador to Pakistan, became a grandfather on August 11, with the birth of Enver Lawrence Mirza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Humayun Mirza (Josephine Hildreth '52) in Karachi, Pakistan. The young man is also a grandson

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS is published in January, March, May, September, and November by Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa.

Member—American Alumni Council

OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION

WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, President, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., N. Y.
WILMER D. GREULICH '34, First Vice-President, 715 Greythorne Rd., Wynnewood, Pa.
MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), Second Vice-President, 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh 6, Pa.
DONALD B. YOUNG '33, Treasurer, 226 S. Fourth St., Lewisburg, Pa.
JOHN H. SHOTT '22, Secretary and Editor, 116 Faculty Court, Lewisburg, Pa.

Alumni Headquarters—Ground Floor, East College

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

MRS. BROWN FOCHT (Florence Utt '26), 229 Market St., Lewisburg, Pa. (1956)
BRUCE J. MILLER '27, 112 Devoe Rd., Chappaqua, N. Y. (1956)
ALLEN A. RARIG '29, 528 Lindbergh Way, Lewistown, Pa. (1956)
DONALD H. SHOLL '42 Munn Lane E., R. D. 1, Haddonfield, N. J. (1956)
P. HERBERT WATSON '37, 67 Prospect Ave., Norristown, Pa. (1956)
MRS. CHARLES E. COPELAND (Amorita Sesinger '22), 85-10 34th Ave., Jackson Heights, N. Y. (1957)
J. NORMAN DAVIES '26, 1112 Mill St., Wilkesburg, Pa. (1957)
WILMER D. GREULICH '34, 715 Greythorne Rd., Wynnewood, Pa. (1957)
FRANCIS B. HAAS, JR. '47, 2917 N. Front St., Harrisburg, Pa. (1957)
W. CARL SPROUT '08, Mitchell Apts., North and Front Sts., Harrisburg, Pa. (1957)
MERRILL B. DEWIRE '21, 225 N. Sixth St., Reading, Pa. (1958)
WILLIAM J. IRVIN '22, 202 Hillcrest Ave., Trenton 8, N. J. (1958)
WILLIAM S. LIMING '33, 396 Andrews Rd., East Williston, L. I., N. Y. (1958)
C. MARTIN NEFF '42, P. O. Box 230, Red Lion, Pa. (1958)
MRS. JOHN A. RHODES (Helen E. Bodine '20), 1035 N. Negley Ave., Pittsburgh 6, Pa. (1958)

() Year Term Expires.

of Iskander Mirza, Governor General and Head of State in Pakistan.

Claude J. Sechrist (Jerry) is now employed as a heating control sales engineer in the appliance control department of the General Electric Company. He married the former Mary Jo Denny, on April 18, 1954. Jerry and Mary Jo are now living at 307 N. Base St., Morrison, Ill.

Marianne Thurnall was married to Dr. Joseph Laffy of Lynn, Mass. They are living at 84 Carter Rd., Lynn, Mass., where Joe is practicing dentistry.

Jean Marie Zimmerman is engaged to Allen G. Quynn, Jr., an M. I. T. graduate.

Robert J. Birnbaum was awarded his LL.B. degree at Harvard University on June 16.

The Harrisburg School Board named Thomas Dean head football coach at William Penn High School. Tommy spent the past two years at the Selinsgrove High School. He is the youngest coach in the strong Central Pennsylvania Conference.

On August 11, the stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mehl (Carolyn Eschbach) bringing little Karen Meridith. The Mehls new address is 3212 Cagua Drive, N. E., Albuquerque, N. M.

Mrs. Bernard P. Lentz (Marilyn Fisher) now has her own television program called "Carolina Cookery" from Charlotte, N. C. Tune in, y'all.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Hendrixson (Susanne Joos '53) have now settled in California at 12007 South Paramount Blvd., Apt. 25, Downey, Calif. Bill is a design engineer at North American Aviation and Sue is teaching in the public schools of Downey. Will some of you California Bucknellians drop in and give them the grip?

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Kleppe are the proud parents of two children, Janet Elise and Donna Lyn. Stanley is employed at the Standard Oil Development Co. of New Jersey, now known as the Esso Research and Engineering Co., as an engineer. He earned his master of mechanical engineering degree at the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn in 1955.

We have learned just recently that Lt. Albert McKinley Zecher, died Sept. 3, 1953 in Korea in an automobile accident. Lt. Zecher had seen action in that country for about 1½ years. He had been in service during 1945 and 1946, being discharged in the latter year.

Elizabeth Lucia Pinner, better known to us as "Lu," has received a master's degree in social work at the University of Pittsburgh. Lu has joined the Girl Scouts' staff and is district director in the Baltimore Area Council.

53 MRS. JAMES A. CHAMBERS, JR.
(Barbara Roemer)
Boulevard Apts., 8 Clark St., Lodi, N. J.

Morris Malstrom received his M.B.A. degree from the Wharton School in February and is doing personnel work for Johnson & Johnson in New Brunswick, N. J.

Lt. Marguerite Bailey Evans and Lt. David Hermann Wagner were married on December 5, 1954, in Macon, Georgia. David is a company commander and legal officer of the Second Recruit Training Battalion at Parris Island. The couple reside at Beaufort, S. C.

Barbara Bennett is now married and living in Greenbelt, Md.; her husband is studying at the University of Maryland. Best wishes to the William Wabquists!

Lt. Gregory Bowen, U. S. M. C. R. and Mrs. Bowen (Jane Banker) announce the birth of a daughter, Gertrude Banker Bowen on June 30.

Nan Carter was married on April 2 to Jim Whitney former SAE at Bucknell. They were married in the Westfield, N. J. Presbyterian Church.

The Dillers, Wayne and Carol (Miller '55) announce the birth of a son, April 2, weighing in at 6 lbs., 13 oz. The Dillers

Alumni Headquarters Moved To East College

On October 24, Alumni Headquarters were established on the Ground Floor of East College. In our new and larger quarters (recently vacated by the Physics Department) we will be able to give better service to our 16,000 alumni spread around the world and to the many University departments that call on the Alumni Records Office for names, addresses, lists, biographical data, etc. every day. Next time you are on the campus be sure to visit our new offices—enter by the ground floor (east or river side) door of East College—and sign our Guest Book. The office of Dr. Dayton L. Ranck, Vice President and Director of Development is also located on the same floor.

Alumni Trustee Timetable

October 15—Deadline for receiving suggestions to be considered by Committee on Nominations.

November 5—Meeting of Committee on Nominations.

November 19—Committee on Nominations submits three candidates to the President of the Association.

December 20—Deadline for Board approval.

January ALUMNUS—Announcement of names of three candidates in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.

February 15—Petition deadline.

March 1—Election announcement in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.

April 1—Ballots in mail.

May 15—Deadline for receiving ballots in Alumni Office.

June Commencement—Certification to Board of Trustees.

live at 1482 Bartlett Walk, Crescent Apts., Fairview, Camden 4, N. J.

Betty Grimley, one of the few women who hold degrees in engineering, works in the aerodynamics department of the Glenn L. Martin Company at Middle River, Md. Betty and her roommate, being avid sailing fans, have a little penquin which they enter in many races. She is taking a course in navigation and is also studying the history of art at Johns Hopkins. Betty is a member of The American Society of Women Engineers.

In the cadet chapel at West Point, N. Y., Ellen Herte became the bride of 2nd Lt. John Schick on June 11.

Donald W. Hill is commercial representative for American Telephone and Telegraph Company. (Long Lines Dept.).

Heard that Dick Husted is doing graduate work in education and history at the University of Rochester.

Double announcement here: Anne (Kite) and Jack Waldron were married in 1954; and on May 10, 1955 a daughter was born. They are now living in West Chester, Penna.

Karl O. Miller, when last heard from, was at Fort McClellan, Ala. in the Chemical Corps Training Command.

We regret to report the death of Donald E. Paxton on December 1, 1954.

Mr. Gale C. Pershing was married on June 19 to Drora Barkai.

Carolyn F. Reiner was married to James L. Shive on March 19, 1954. The wedding took place at Pearl Harbor, and the Shives are now living at 1630 Second Ave., S. E., Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

A son, Bradley David, was born to Mary (Sellers) and David Shinn on July 21. The Shinn's live at 124 Hondler Drive, Beverly Heights, Burlington, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Storch (Joanne Cottle) became the proud parents of a daughter on March 30.

Charles E. Swope was promoted to First Lieutenant, and is battalion legal officer of the United States Marine Corps. He is stationed at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard McMahon '52 (Nancy Schmehl) are deep in the heart of—yes, El Paso, Texas (6118 Geiger Rd.) where Nancy is teaching, and Dick is stationed while in the Army. They will be back East in June.

We regret to report the death of Lt. John J. Wurtzel in a jet plane crash in Germany, early in July. John was in the Marines before coming to Bucknell. He spent two years at the University before enlisting in the Air Force.

Margaret Ohn Bwint returned to Rangoon, Burma in August, where she is working at the Rangoon Y. W. C. A.

Norm Freytag, having finished his Army service, is back with his former job with Budd Wheel in Philadelphia.

Gerald J. Kreeger separated from the Army on June 8 and joined the staff of Young & Rubicam, New York, as an assistant television director.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter McConnell (Isabel Beers) have a daughter now, Barbara Joyce, born on March 20. Walt is attending Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia. The McConnell's home is at 502 B Rand Street, Camden 5, N. J.

Joan A. Meister, who entered the Yale Nursing School following graduation, was a Yale delegate to the recent convention of the National League for Nursing in St. Louis, Mo. Joan is currently president of the Student Council.

It's "boys" this month, it seems. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Worthen (Marilyn Smith '55) have a 7 lb. 7 oz. son, William Blake, born on Sept. 15. Another boy, Steven Finley Killough, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Killough (Christine Hill) on Sept. 16. He weighed 9 lbs.! Young Steven becomes the 5th Bucknell boy at Ft. Devens, where Chris and Bob are living.

Lt. Melvin L. Woodward writes from Okinawa "I enjoy it here since I'm busy but I'll trade anytime the heat, humidity, typhoons and all of this tropical island for the floods, hurricanes and winters of Pennsylvania." Mel is with the Marine engineers building new camps. He was happy to read of Bucknell athletics in The Stars and Stripes to bridge the 7,000-mile gap with home ties. He extends best wishes to his classmates and hopes to be a civilian before long when he can say "Hello" in person.

STORK-LINE: Dr. and Mrs. Harold W. Heine (Marjorie A. Boote) welcomed a daughter, Katharine Elizabeth, born December 14, 1954. Dr. Heine is professor of chemistry at Bucknell.

WEDDING BELLS: Gay Dunbar became Mrs. Robert Stoner on May 14 in Pittsburgh, Penna.

54 MISS DOROTHY M. DORIO
722 Radcliffe St.
Bristol, Penna.

Our Class of '54 is rapidly becoming widely scattered. One can drop in for dinner with Bucknellians of '54 all over the world.

Gay Kramer became the bride of Theodore Goldfinger on November 11, 1954. Ted is an alumnus of Pratt Institute.

Certainly you remember Ginny Naef, a cum laude graduate from Columbia and an ex-member of Bucknell's Class of '54. I noted in a New York newspaper the announcement of her engagement to Lt. Bruce King MacLaury Jr., a Phi Beta Kappa alumnus from Princeton.

Jack Stark and Sondra Harrington '56 were married on November 27, in Rochester, New York.

Now on to the scholastic and military news.

During August, Toshio Usuka, of Izumo City, Shimane-ken, Japan was asked by the parents of twenty preparatory students to do tutoring at his house after school. He teaches the pupils until 9 p. m. on weekdays and 4 p. m. on Sundays.

I had a wonderful letter from Barbara "Shuf" Graf '56 informing me that she and Frank, now residing in Kaiserslautern, Germany, in accord with the U. S. Army's master plan, could well start an alumni club there. Their fellow Europeans include: Carl Phizzenmaier III, Billy Toll, Cal Nodine, Donald Hilbig, Ellwood Derr, and Bill Johnson and wife, Barbara Marselis. Let's have our next reunion in Europe.

NANCIE JANE HEINEMANN

Nancie Heinemann has won the silver wings of a United States Air Lines stewardess. After five weeks at the company's stewardess training school, Cheyenne, Wyo., she now serves aboard Mainliners flying in and out of Los Angeles.

Doing the military honors we have: Dick Kirschman who spent 4 months as a trainee with Burlington Mills and is now attending the Navy's Officers' Candidate School at Newport, R. I.

Robert W. Jaggard graduated from the U. S. Naval Pre-Flight school at Pensacola, Florida. He is now assigned to the Whiting Field U. S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Milton, Florida, for primary flight training.

That tall, good looking blond Lt. Ronald C. Chaffee was married in Rutherford, N. J. on April 21.

We learned recently that Ellwood Derr, Jr., a private in the U. S. Army, has been appointed instructor of English in the Merrill Barracks Education Center at Nurnberg, Germany, where he is stationed.

J. Michael Devinney and Janet C. Wilt were recently married. They are living at 28 Highland Ter., Pitman, N. J.

David B. Eavenson was named director of athletics and chairman of the physical education department at Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., on July 13, 1955. David has coached four sports in his 10 years at Wyoming Seminary. He has been the director of the athletic program there since 1951. His education at Oglethorpe University was interrupted by World War II in which he served as an army officer and was twice wounded in France. He completed his education at Penn State and Bucknell. He received a B.S. in Education at Bucknell in August, 1954.

We all thought that Shirley Hess went West to teach, but obviously she had some extra-curricular activities. She was married August 13th to Joseph Hammon. They plan to return to Arizona.

Pvt. Donald D. Hilbig is now stationed with the army, at Pirmassens, Germany. He is a member of the 32nd Surgical Hospital. Don entered the army in July, 1954 and received his basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. He is a member of the Kappa Delta Rho fraternity.

Barbara Ann Hodgkins and Edward J. Smith were married December 11, 1954. They are living in Manhasset, N. Y.

Ensign Barbara Lamb and Ensign Frances C. Kemper were two of the first group of women to complete successfully the Navy's 16 weeks' Officer Training Program at the U. S. Naval Station, Newport, R. I. After a short leave, Ensign Lamb returned to duty at the U. S. Naval Shipyard, Portsmouth, N. H., and Ensign Kemper returned to duty at the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations, Washington, D. C.

Marion E. Myers is employed as a secretary in the sales engineering department of the Gleason Works, Rochester, N. Y., and is living at 160 Merriman St., Rochester.

Congratulations to Joseph F. Scinto who is attending St. John's University, Brooklyn, N. Y. He topped the evening session Dean's List of the University's School of Law.

Second Lt. Richard E. Slaughenhoupt recently was graduated from the Army's Transportation School at Fort Eustis, Va.

On to the marriage section which is purposely last, but not least: Mary Lou Mayer and Bob Brooks; Bob Donall and Eleanor Gilliams; Ron Chaffee; Nina Remmy and Anthony Caimi; Louise Austin and Paul Remmy; Ginny Nill '55 and Bill Swartz; Alice Rhoads and Paul Orme; and Joan Herrmann and Bill Richmond.

55 MISS JANE E. JONES
1013 Clinton Street
Philadelphia, Penna.

Terribly sorry to miss the first issue of the ALUMNUS, but at the time of the news deadline Debbie White '56, Del Penza '56, and I were discovering the Montmartre section in Paris.

James Gibson Fusia, born May 1, 1955, is the third son of George Fusia and his wife, the former Patricia White.

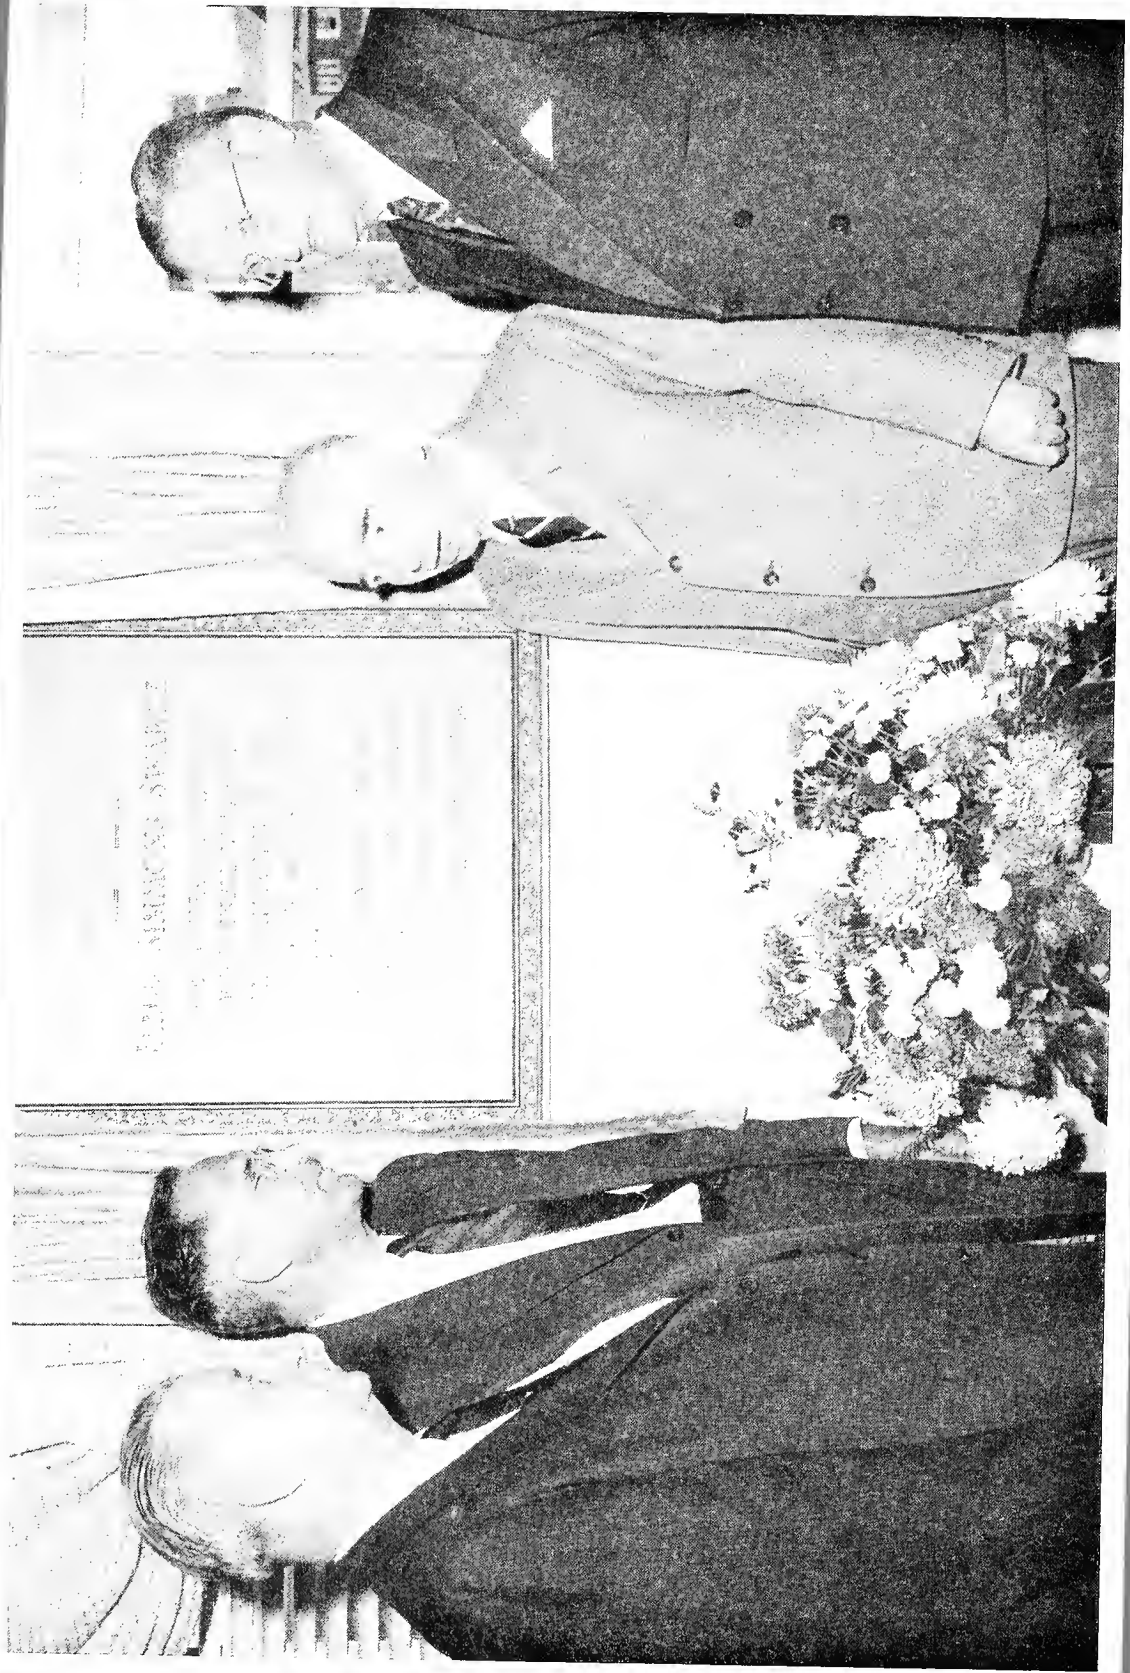

While glancing through the Harrisburg paper I found Sue Goldsmith's picture on one of the front pages. The caption said that she was now teaching elementary school music in that city.

Can you imagine Jay Koster bouncing twin sons on his knees? Well, on July fifteenth, the twins, Robert Henry and John Edward, were born to him and Mrs. Koster (Polly Luttringhaus '56).

Martha Roberts has a scholarship to the University of Pennsylvania School of Physical Therapy where Enid Dietrich is also a student.

Jim Vanaman is now employed as a physicist with the Armstrong Cork Company. He will, however, begin his service in the Army in January, 1956, at Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

The wedding bells have chimed for: Beverly Gray and Malt Higley; Margery Cuff and Dutch VanDuzer '58; Mollie Houseworth; Gaird Messersmith and Mike Jensen '54; and John Winebrenner and Ruth Snyder.

THE BUCKNELL
ALUMNUS

JANUARY 1956

SPEECH EDUCATION FOR ALL
Dorothy Kester '34 — P. 4

THE JUNIOR YEAR ABROAD PROGRAM
A Report by Cargille '56 and Lovrey '57 — P. 6

$538,100 FROM FORD FOUNDATION

On the morning of December 13, as final copy was taken to the printer for the January issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS, word was given out by the Ford Foundation that it had earmarked $538,100 for Bucknell as endowment for faculty salaries.

The grant was one of more than 4,000 which the foundation announced. The total amount of money to be dispersed is $500,000,000, the largest such benefaction ever recorded.

Of this sum, $210,000,000 was awarded to 615 accredited, private educational institutions in the United States, another $200,000,000 was given to 3,500 privately supported hospitals and $90,000,000 was reserved for privately supported medical schools.

The distribution to the colleges was based on the amount of money spent during 1954-55 by the colleges for faculty salaries.

Bucknell must use the income from its grant, which will amount to approximately $25,000 per year, to raise faculty salaries. After 10 years it will be allowed to dip into the principal, if it so desires.

FUND AVERAGE GIFT BOOSTED

Early gifts to Bucknell's Eighth Annual Alumni Fund indicate a higher average gift for the new fund year. By the first of December, 269 Alumni had contributed $6,668.50 for an average of $24.79 each.

These figures are particularly encouraging for two reasons. First, it shows that Bucknellians are out to make the most of the generous offer of Rush H. Kress '00 to give the University one dollar for every two given by all other Alumni. Thus, the figure of $6,668.50 is actually worth $10,002.75 because of his offer.

Second, the 1955-56 Fund totals for December 1 were virtually the same as those for 1954-55 without a general appeal to all Alumni. Last year at this time 520 Alumni had given $7,001.50 as the result of a special letter to selected Alumni and a general appeal to all Alumni. This year only the special letter had been mailed and the cash on hand is $6,668.50.

This year, mailing of the first general solicitation—the seventh annual alumni fund report—was delayed until December.

When it is received by Alumni, then watch the Alumni Fund totals grow. Each day brings evidence of continuous and broadening interest in the University and its Fund Program. Here are a few of the letters on the writer's desk as he prepares this report on Fund progress:

Rutland, Vt.
November 4, 1955

DEAR MR. SHOTT:

I cannot recall whether or not I have contributed to the Alumni Fund this year, and I want to every year. I want to be continuous, so please prompt me, if I get in arrears.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

MERTON M. OGDEN '12

Winter Park, Fla.
November 7, 1955

MY DEAR DR. NICK:

Enclosed is check for $——. I waited a long time to reply, hesitating. One year ago today I suffered a "coronary thrombosis" which has put me on the sidelines. Since my earning capacity is nil, I am living on accumulated fat. But your letter reached me right from my homeland. My wife and I are both from the hills north of Mooresburg, and had it not been for Bucknell I probably would have spent my years trying to scratch a living out of a hill farm. I know that I got much more than I could pay, because of the generosity of those whom I never knew. So I want to contribute something for others who may be short of funds as I was. Then too, I have, many times, enjoyed the hospitality of Rush Kress in his "Rock Hills" estate. Would that we had a hundred alumni like Rush!

One of my joys has been to enjoy the U. S. A. This I have done from Maine to California and the Southland. But no place has more beauty than Central Pennsylvania. I could tell you of a hundred beautiful drives in Pennsylvania. On my last trip to the homeland I crossed the Susquehanna 12 times in one day of sight-seeing.

We are permanently located in this wonderful city. In this small city we have a University Club of more than 800 members. More outstanding scholars and authors retire here than any other spot I know of.

Sincerely yours,

DAVID W. ROBINSON '04

In This Issue

Alumni	Page
Albert J. Abbott, M.D. '29	11
John S. Burlew '30	12
Charles M. Cargille '56	6
Walter D. Celmer '47	12
Cyrus B. Follmer '16	14
Dorothy Kester '34	4, 5
Alvina Lavery '57	6, 7
William S. Liming '33	24
Merton M. Ogden '12	2
David W. Robinson '04	2
Alumni Census—1955	13
Alumni Fund	2
Alumni Trustee Candidates	17
Among the Clubs	9, 18
Bucknell Birthday Parties	17
Bucknell Business Forum	11
Bucknell Engineering Alumni	10
Chemistry Research	5
Class Reports	19-22
Coleman to Get New Post	17
Diary of James Moore II	14
Doctors For Bucknell	11
Faculty News	10, 16, 17
Ford Foundation Gift	2
Friends of the Bucknell Library	14
General Electric Alumnus Program	23
Homecoming—1955	3
Junior Year Abroad Program	6
Merck Lectures	11
Nation's Business and Alumni Giving	13
Necrology	8, 18
Speech Education for All	4, 5
Sports	15
Swimming Pool Begun	3
They Represented Bucknell	12
Trustee Board Meets	7
Tuition Increased	7
WANTED—Any and All Alumni	11

The Cover

Dr. George G. Groff, M.D., Ph.D., LL.D., who taught at Bucknell from 1879 to 1910, was the founder of what is today the Department of Biology. It is fitting, therefore, that his portrait, painted by Arthur Conrad of Baldwin, Maryland and purchased by Doctors For Bucknell, should be the first to be hung in the newly renovated Taylor Hall. The portrait was unveiled at Homecoming by his daughter, Frances L. Groff '12.

THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

Published in January, March, May, September, and November by

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Entered as second-class matter December 30,
1930, at the post office at Lewisburg, Pa., under the Act of August 24, 1912.

Trustees Alfred G. Freas of Tenafly, N. J. (Left) and Robert L. Rooke '13, of Westfield, N. J., perform for the photographers during the ground-breaking ceremonies for Bucknell's new swimming pool, which were held on Homecoming Day morning. The pool, which these two trustees are giving to the University, is expected to be completed by the fall of 1956.

Lester Lighton '20 addresses a meeting of 130 Bucknell Engineers and their guests on the night of Homecoming. The Engineering Alumni voted to organize along the basis of Doctors For Bucknell in order to render unified support to the engineering program of the University.

1955 Homecoming Proves to Be the Best in Years

Homecoming on November 5 was just that.

Two hundred hardy souls were on hand at 8:00 A. M. for the Bison Club breakfast; nearly seven thousand saw Colgate whip the Bisons in the afternoon; one hundred and thirty Bucknell Engineers and their wives had dinner in the new Swartz Hall and organized Engineers For Bucknell; seventy-five doctors and pre-medical students attended the third annual Homecoming Dinner of Doctors For Bucknell; and the all-college dance in Davis Gymnasium Saturday night really packed the place.

Day Starts Early

Members of the Bison Club, dragging themselves to breakfast at the Lewisburg Club on Saturday morning, may have wondered if their courage would last until the afternoon, but the day, which started as a cold and raw one, gradually changed so that by 10:30, when the Homecoming Parade started, the outlook was much pleasanter.

Thereafter things began happening thick and fast. Just as the parade started, Doctors For Bucknell presented a portrait of Dr. George G. Groff to the University with the unveiling being done by Miss Frances L. Groff '12, daughter of Dr. Groff, in Taylor Hall.

Three-quarters of an hour later came the ground-breaking ceremonies for the new swimming pool. With new buildings popping up on the Bucknell campus like mushrooms, it was not surprising that those attending Homecoming should witness more evidence of Bucknell's progress. Accordingly, Alfred G. Freas of Tenafly, N. J. and Robert L. Rooke '13, of Westfield, N. J., turned over some turf at the eastern side of the gymnasium to signify the start of a 110 by 81 foot addition to that building. The new wing, which will cost an approximate $300,000 and is being donated to Bucknell by these two trustees, is expected to be ready next fall.

As soon as this ceremony was over, the crowd jammed into the gymnasium for the annual All-Alumni Homecoming Luncheon. Here again more evidence of Bucknell's progress could be noted, for the luncheon was served from the new addition to the rear of the gymnasium, which, in addition to providing more space for athletics, also houses a kitchen which facilitates the serving of large crowds on occasions such as this one.

Game One-Sided

With their stomachs well filled, the Alumni moved over to Memorial Field to watch Colgate engage Bucknell at football. They watched pretty much in silence for Colgate dominated the play for the better part of the game. Only in the third quarter, when Bucknell put on a 15-play, 70-yard march for its only touchdown was there much chance for local cheering. Bob Sierer '56, Don Koppes '57, and Jimmy Stewart '57 stood out in the losing cause.

After the game, many of the Alumni returned to Davis Gym for the Bison Round-up and then went their way for dinner. The Engineers, intent on forming an organization comparable to Doctors For Bucknell, went to the new freshman dormitory, Swartz Hall, and listened to Earl M. Richards '13, Lester E. Lighton '20, George A. Irland '15, and Admiral Ernest M. Eller, newly appointed Director of Engineering. A committee was appointed to organize the Engineering Alumni.

The Doctors rallied at the Lewisburg Club, where the chief speaker was Dr. Joseph C. Hinsey, director of the New York Hospital — Cornell Medical Center. During their business meeting the Doctors elected Dr. Albert J. Abbott '29 as president; Dr. Cornelius E. Sedgwick '36, vice president; Alfred H. Fenton, secretary-treasurer; and Dr. Edward W. Pangburn '15, retiring president, as a member of the Executive Committee. Dr. W. F. Darkes '27, originator of Doctors For Bucknell, was elected an Honorary Life Member of the Executive Committee.

The Doctors also presented a gift to Dr. Norman H. Stewart, who retired in June after 45 years of teaching at Bucknell.

In the meantime, other Alumni began drifting back to Davis Gymnasium for the All-Campus Dance and Entertainment. The effort was worthwhile. In addition to a lively dance band, the University also provided excellent entertainment in the form of an interfraternity singing competition, which was won by Lambda Chi Alpha, followed by Delta Upsilon and Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Also announced at this affair were the winning floats in the Homecoming Parade. Phi Kappa Psi placed first, followed by Tau Kappa Epsilon and Phi Gamma Delta. Phi Lambda Theta was given honorable mention. Carey House was given the top award for the best decorated dormitory.

And not too surprising was the selection of Bette Skow '56 of Springfield, who is Bucknell's favorite drum majorette, as Homecoming Queen.

After that, things tapered off somewhat, but those Alumni who could stay on during Sunday, saw a demonstration of water color painting by David Fredenthal, famous American artist, in Taylor Hall on Sunday afternoon and had the opportunity to meet the gentleman at a reception in Roberts Hall later in the day.

Even the oldest resident cannot remember when Alumni had so much fun at Homecoming.

Speech Education For Every Child

Dr. Dorothy Kester '34 Raises a Question

What is Speech Education? Is it only for the handicapped or is it for all of us? Is there a place for it in a public school curriculum or should it be carried on privately?

To begin with the first question, Speech Education is a program of training in oral communication for everyone. Speech Education becomes Speech Correction if the child's communication is so distorted that it does not convey meaning easily and without distractions to his hearers. It becomes Speech Improvement if he is an average or superior speaker, who can learn better skills for communicating ideas and emotions.

If Speech Education is both of these things, then it can be of service to all. Under our democratic system of public education, it becomes basic to all other instruction and therefore should be included in the curriculum of every school.

Granting this premise, it might be asked, "What are the procedures and what are the values in each field of speech education?" Keeping in mind that they inevitably overlap, let us look at one and then the other.

Speech Correction is the training of a child whose speech sets him apart from his peers. Speech develops as the rest of the child grows. What is normal for a three-year old sounds retarded in a first-grader. But what sounds distorted in a third-grader's speech may be acceptable in the first grade.

How can parents help to see to it that their children speak well? First, by setting a good example. This would include looking directly at the child when they speak to him, taking time to see that he comprehends what is said, avoiding deliberate distortions in imitation of the child's attempts at communication (how is he ever to learn that that white liquid in the glass is "milk" if his mother holds it out to him and says, "Gink of mook"?) and, above all, flooding him with talk while he's being bathed, dressed, fed, entertained and put to bed. It is in this shower of sounds that the child begins to realize that there is a word-fact relationship, that the object that encases his foot is a shoe, that the instrument for getting food from his plate to his mouth is a spoon and that that noisy, strong, exciting person who throws him into the air is his Daddy. If his first attempts to reproduce those words are met with enthusiasm by the adults around him, he will try them again and eventually use them at will. Once he begins to use understandable words, parents should pay attention to his efforts, repeating his distortions in the correct form and making him feel that he has their attention while he is speaking. Once he has learned to say a word correctly they should not accept his former "baby-talk" but should gently remind him of the right way to pronounce the word. Gradually, he will increase his vocabulary and his fluency and become a normal speaker for his age.

If something interferes with this normal growth of speech, like an injury or an illness at the time of the onset of speech, or if he is made unpleasantly aware of his inadequacies, then he becomes a candidate for Speech Correction. The most common speech defects are stuttering and the substitution of one sound for another. Stuttering must be treated not as an entity but as a symptom of a maladjustment of the personality. We know of no physical basis for stuttering, so it must be considered to be a type of response to an emotional situation. If that is the case, then it becomes clear that to relieve the symptom, one must eliminate the cause. Causes may be such things as have been mentioned: accidents or illness which discouraged a normal growth in speech; awareness that the repetitions which are a legitimate part of the growth of speech at the three-year level (me-me-me-go!) are some-

DR. DOROTHY KESTER '34
Coordinator of Speech Education, Akron, Ohio Public Schools

how not socially acceptable; or tensions induced by the persons in his environment—an over-solicitous grandmother, a bullying older brother, strained relations between the parents or competition for grades or attention with a sibling. Speech therapy for a child with a stutter then becomes treatment of his environment, to eliminate the cause of his insecurity. Parental co-operation is an important part of any speech therapy, but most important in cases of stuttering.

Distortion of sounds, or the substitution of one sound for another, makes up the greatest number of speech defects to be found in a school population. The cause of these cannot always be determined, but before therapy begins, it is basic to determine whether there is a hearing loss and what kind of loss it is. Only an audiometer in the hands of a qualified operator can give this information. By the use of an audiometer, it is possible to determine what kinds of sounds are not heard by the child. The sound of "s" for instance, has a high frequency. If a child has a high-frequency loss he can hear boat whistles and bass violi perfectly but a sentence like, "I see a snowman beside the street-car" is likely to sound like, "I ee a noman be-ide the rectcar." Naturally, he will reproduce what he hears. Therefore a hearing test is imperative.

If he has even a slight hearing loss, it will be wise for him to have training in lip reading, especially if the loss is likely to be progressive. He should have ear-training while he still has his maximum hearing ability, not after that faculty has diminished still further.

But, supposing the physical aspects do not need to be considered, his ears, lips, tongue, teeth, jaws and palate are in good condition, then his deviations are probably the result of habit and may be corrected by motivation, drill and carry-over. Under the heading of articulatory disorders are such phenomena as "tar" for "car", "do" for "go" and "thay" for "say." The usual procedure for correcting such substitutions is, first, ear-training so that he hears the sound correctly and knows he is hearing it; then, discrimination of one sound from another, then producing that sound in isolation but not by imitation ("the snake sound", not "s-s-s"); and, finally, the use of the sound in words and in sentences. Throughout the training period, he must be kept motivated by a goal or by constant stimulation. We all learn better if we have fun while we are doing it or if we see a fairly immediate purpose in doing the drill. Speech therapists use great ingenuity in constructing lessons so that each child in the group of five or six has some individual attention during the lesson and some activity with the group as a whole. After all, speech is a social activity, highly suspect if practiced in solitude! It is a part of the therapy program to encourage interchange of ideas orally, not only among the children in speech class, but between them and their other classmates and associates. That's where the carry-over program enters the speech activities. When a sound has been learned correctly, opportunities must be created for its continued use. Classroom teachers and families afford chances to reinforce the learned sound. The therapist helps to acquaint them with techniques for doing so. For instance, a ride in the family car affords a chance to practice a sound. Every time a red barn or a bus or a brown dog is sighted, the first one to see it says "s-s-s." Or a game may be played with one member of the family saying, "I am thinking of something in this car that starts with s-s-s." The others guess, "Are you thinking of seats?" "Are you thinking of the steering wheel?" The point is won only if the "s-s-s" sound is produced correctly. Other practice times could be at bedtime, during meal preparation in the kitchen, during a relaxed period in the living room. Picking out pictures from a magazine or favorite book is a good way of bringing the sound to the child's attention. Drill on a sound should be of short duration and conducted only when the child is relaxed and receptive.

Setting a good example is one of the basic rules in Speech Correction.

The second area of speech education includes the techniques that improve a child's voice, stimulate his imagination, help him to analyze situations so that he can make a good evaluation of them and of himself and encourage him to communicate accurately his thoughts and feelings within the framework of his social group. Among the activities that help to do these things are choral speaking, creative dramatics, radio, puppetry and public discussion. There is not space to describe all of these. Radio, puppetry and discussion are fairly well-known techniques. The most common techniques for groups are choral speaking and creative dramatics.

Speech is a social activity, highly suspect in children if practiced in solitude.

Choral speaking engages the imaginations, the analytical and synthetic faculties and the voices of a roomful of children. They study a poem orally, that is, the teacher reads or says the poem and the children discuss it, finding its meaning through an interchange of ideas. When the interpretation is agreed upon, the class decides how best to make the meaning clear through their voices and faces. They may alternate boys' and girls' voices, they may speak a row at a time, they may have occasional solo voices, they may speak in unison. The result is that the class takes part in an oral experience which grows from mental and emotional understanding of the author's thoughts. It is highly satisfying to them and is a convenient way of presenting material in a program for an audience.

Creative dramatics are the results when a story is told, the characters and motives analyzed and understood by the children, and then presented with spontaneous dialogue and movement. It is an activity which fosters keener perception by the children and an increased awareness of the meanings behind much of life. Both class and teacher grow as a result of the experience.

The field of speech education has many possibilities for service to children today and it can easily be incorporated into school systems or individual classrooms where there is an interested teacher or administrator.

One asks, "Why haven't we thought of this before?" Well, now we have. Will you do something about securing it for your community? It takes only one enthusiastic person to kindle the fire. The Torah asks, "Where, if not here? When, if not now? Who, if not I?"

ABOUT THE AUTHOR—Dorothy Kester began teaching at Johnstown, Ohio high school after her graduation from Bucknell in 1934. She then became Speech Instructor at Milligan College in Tennessee. This inspired her to go seek more degrees and subsequently she obtained her master's from Bucknell in 1940, the year she became Speech Supervisor for the Akron School System. In 1950 she received her Ph.D. from Northwestern University. Her interest in the drama, begun at Bucknell, has not lagged either and during the summer of 1942 she served as Director of the Cain Park Theatre at Cleveland Heights.

Bucknell Chemists Work In Rural Pennsylvania To Lick Ocean Problem

Three Bucknell University chemistry professors are currently working in the rolling hills of Central Pennsylvania to help solve a problem that involves a parasite of the Atlantic Ocean which has invaded the Great Lakes. Tying these localities together makes an interesting story.

The villain in the plot is the sea lamprey, a lecherous eel that sucks blood from game fish. The lamprey years ago made its way up the St. Lawrence River and infested Lake Ontario. There it stayed until 1921, nearly one hundred years after the Wellington Canal was built to by-pass Niagara Falls, when it was discovered in Lake Erie.

By 1935 the lamprey had begun to make inroads in the commercial fishing on Lake Huron and by 1940 its work had been felt in Lake Michigan. Fishing production charts in these two lakes show that it takes just about ten years for the lamprey, once it has established itself, to ruin the fishing. Research shows that Lake Superior is at the fore-edge of a ten-year decline in fishing production.

For some time now, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service has concerned itself with this problem. It has tested some 4400 chemical compounds, in its search for a chemical that will destroy the lamprey larva without disturbing the fish population.

Two Wildlife Service biologists, Vernon C. Applegate and William Howell, have been carrying on the research in Michigan and at long last have discovered a compound that they think will do the job. It is rather expensive and difficult to make. They took their problem to a Buffalo chemical company and there talked with Dr. Sherman K. Reed, former Bucknell professor.

The biologists needed only a small amount of their compound for their final laboratory test and so Dr. Reed suggested that they get in touch with Dr. Manning A. Smith, professor of chemistry at Bucknell.

Consequently, Dr. Smith, along with Dr. Harold W. Heine and Dr. Meldrum B. Winstead, Jr., began production along with a number of other colleges and laboratories.

The experiment, in which this compound will be used, calls for a solution of the compound to be deposited in a tank representing the bed of a lake. Here lamprey larva are buried in the mud and fish, particularly bluegills and rainbow trout, are swimming in the water above the mud. Preliminary tests have indicated that the compound destroys the larva, but does not harm the fish.

The larval stage of lamprey extends over a period of seven years, so that by attacking the parasite at this stage of its life, some six or seven generations can be wiped out at once.

Assuming that the experiment in which the Bucknell product will be used is completely successful, the solution to the fishing problem on the Great Lakes will not be solved. There will still remain the problem of manufacturing the compound in sufficient quantities and at a low enough cost so that complete destruction of the lamprey can be assured.

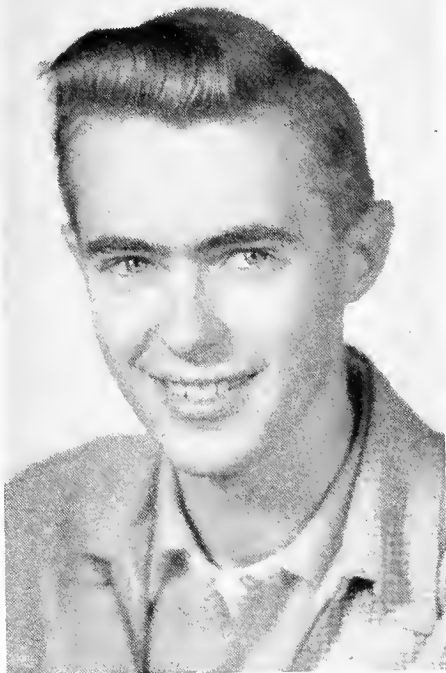

The project has a long way to go, but then it has come a long way—from the Gulf of St. Lawrence to Michigan and back to Lewisburg.

Bucknell's Junior Year Abroad Program

Cargille '56 and Alvina Lavery '57 Report

Four Bucknell juniors are currently studying abroad and the idea, like the automobile, seems to be here to stay.

Two years ago the administration established the policy of allowing qualified students to study abroad at any accredited university while receiving credit toward their Bucknell degree. Four students took advantage of the scheme in 1954-55 and this year Paul C. Carter, Jr., Valley

CHARLES M. CARGILLE '56
Advocate of Foreign Study

Stream, N. Y., and Marc Grosman, Newark, N. J., are currently attending The University of Southwest England, better known as Exeter; Alvina Lavery, Summit, N. J., is at Silliman University of Dumaguete, The Philippines; and Philippa Wehle, Cherry Point, N. C., is at the University of Paris.

One of the staunchest advocates of this plan is Charles M. Cargille '56 of Arlington, N. J., who spent his junior year at the University of Aberdeen in Scotland. Here is what he has to say about it:

"Having but ten classes a week with few assignments or tests during the year is quite different, although one must pursue extensive independent study in his field of interest. To shoulder a pack and hostel for five and a half weeks during Easter vacation while making friends in many countries, hearing many points of view, and being warmly welcomed as a student and friend in every land, is adventure. Europeans are warm and hospitable to students who show real interest in them—rather than just looking while rushing by. It is an advantage overseas to be a student, and an American, except that Americans have so little time to stop during their brief summer tours.

"Having sufficient time to meet people while learning their language and way of life will perhaps be the finest benefit of your year abroad. My friend, Ron Dear,

ALVINA LAVERY '57
At Silliman University

while sharing with me a year at the University of Aberdeen in Scotland, enjoyed ten weeks of travel while spending only $1250 from October to June including passage. A year of study plus one summer would cost $1600 and encompass twenty free weeks. A year of study and two summers cost me $1950 and encompassed thirty weeks of adventure. It is striking that the cost of an organized eight-week summer tour is equivalent to the expense of eight months of independent travel and study.

"There are group plans of study abroad organized by certain universities, although these cost fully twice as much as the independent plan sketched above. Students who are not academically serious must be warned against any plan of overseas work. Their credit cannot be transferred unless all work is clearly of fine quality."

And here is a letter from Alvina Lavery telling of her first impressions of life at Silliman University in the Philippines:

Silliman University
Dumaguete, Philippines
August 6, 1955

"Dear Friends:

"I have been here at Silliman for a little more than five weeks now. I have fallen in love with my new home in the tropics. I still feel that I am dreaming. I have come ten thousand miles from my home in New Jersey and yet I feel my home has always been right here in this beautiful little city on the edge of Negros Island. I have grown quite accustomed to stately palms by the peaceful sea at one edge of our campus and the dark, protective Horns of Negros Mountains framing the town on the other side.

"I know you are all bursting with curious questions and so I will devote this first letter to answers. True, I am in a foreign country in a tropical country, and among a people with a different cultural background, but these people are basically just like every one of you. They are fun-loving, hard-working people whose motivations are the same as ours. I know, more than ever before, that all the human race are truly brothers in one great family.

"Through letters from home I am convinced that it is much cooler here than it has been where you are. There is not the wilting, muggy kind of heat that I have known before. Some of us sleep under a sheet at night. It is the rainy season now, but it rains very little during the day. I cannot recall one day that the sun has not come out and dried things. When it does rain, it rains hard and is so very soothing. The sunrises and sunsets are like a great protector's curtain of gold starting and ending each new day. I do enjoy the siesta hour at the heat of noon. All offices and stores close from 12 till 2, but the class schedule is not quite so leisurely.

"I am taking five courses this first semester, and I feel each one is on an equivalent level with the college courses I have known in the United States. I have two Filipino professors and three fine American ones. The psychology of education is necessarily slightly different from that at home, but I feel it is fine discipline for me. There are many very different dialects spoken in the Philippines, but all the schools teach in English. These students are actually studying in a language foreign to them, and so they have difficulty expressing their deeper thoughts. For this reason the courses are quite dependent on the text and library sources. I think this is a very good thing for such courses as philosophy and religion, for the students will not accept an ungrounded statement. They learn by rote and therefore they will complain if a test covers too much material. Because the tests are frequent, the students are forced to keep up with the assignments.

"Three days after we arrived in Dumaguete, Jean and I moved into Channon Hall. This is the girl dorm for the College of Theology, and these girls are carefully picked. All but five are Protestant Christians and they seem to have a real purpose in life. Dormitory life is a delightful experience no matter where it may be.

MARC GROSMAN '57
At Exeter University

PHILIPPA WEHLE '57
At University of Paris

We rise at 5 A. M. every morning and hold a twenty-minute devotional led each day by a different girl. We eat breakfast at 6 and the first class is at 7 A. M. We all study in a large well-lighted room in the dorm. and quiet is amazingly enforced by a tiny bell. The lights are turned out at 10:15, and so we always get at least seven hours of sleep. Our living quarters are on one large floor upstairs over the theology library and several large classrooms. Jean is on the porch facing the mountains and I can see the water from my top bunk. We eat with the boys and girls, all Filipino food. The constant rice and banana diet is filling but quite monotonous. We are invited by our wonderful American friends for a real-home-cooked meal about four times a week. We have pie-a-la-mode nearly as often as you do, so you needn't feel sorry for us.

"I am enjoying the summer months thoroughly even though summer here comes in April and May. One of the American men takes us sailing or water skiing almost every weekend. The water is always so warm and the coral bottom of several beaches is like a land of lace. Just last night some of us went for a moonlight swim. I am sure you will be even more envious after I write of swimming and sailing on Christmas.

"The social customs of these friends are very wholesome. They are gregarious; I am never without a companion. There is very little individual dating, but there are several picnic excursions to the nearby beaches every weekend, and we have been to many square dance parties. I am a naturalized member of the International Students Club. We are 32 students from nine countries. Our club went to the beautiful home of Col. and Mrs. Ausejo for a lechon dinner one Sunday noon. Lechon is a whole barbecued pig, a real special treat for a Filipino meal. Mrs. Ausejo has more than 25 different fruits on their property and lots of the common orchids. There are comparatively few homes that are as modern and comfortable as theirs is. The more typical homes are of bamboo raised on poles off the ground. The pigs, chickens, and dogs live downstairs while the family lives on the main floor. There are a few girls in the larger dorm who must live on the ground floor and they are very resentful for that is the level for the animals. One of the vices of the Philippines is cock-fighting with heavy betting. They also have a fermented coconut drink, tuba, but very few college students indulge. I could fill many letters with little descriptions of the people and their way of life. I am trying to get an inclusive colored slide account of all these things.

"There is one experience I am having for which I will never be able to find adequate words to share with you. Ten years ago the Japanese troops occupied most of these islands and took many, many lives in the ruthless war. The war stories are almost unbelievable to me; the hatred still lingers in the hearts of many Filipinos. This year the first Japanese boy has come to Silliman to take advanced studies in theology. Because he has never used English as a working language his speech is a little shaky. I have been working with him, improving his English a little bit each week day. Paul is one of the finest and bravest friends I know. This is the end of a very significant week here at Silliman. A Japanese Good-Will Team consisting of two men and two women are touring the Philippines pleading with these people for forgiveness and sound Christian brotherhood between these two bitter countries. The team left today and Paul remains to carry on his shoulders alone the wish for peace. I truly believe that the next great war will not be one of bloodshed, but ideally a campaign for deepening friendship between men of all creeds.

"This is just a simple outline of the life, the people, and experiences which are realities to me for this one short year. My only wish is that you, my friends at home, are also finding the basic human happiness of living and working day by day in experiences which are equally as satisfying to you. Please remember me with your thoughts and letters for I am constantly thinking of you all who have helped to make this an unforgettable experience for me.

Most sincerely yours,

ALVINA (BUNNY) LAVERY '57"

Such enthusiasm is likely to be contagious. Don't be surprised if many more Bucknell juniors venture abroad next year.

PAUL C. CARTER, JR. '57
At Exeter University

Trustees Name Kennedy, Approve Tuition Raise

The Board of Trustees, meeting at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel at Philadelphia on Saturday, December 3, 1955, elected Ridgway Kennedy, Jr., president of Abbotts Dairies, Inc., a member; accepted a portrait of the late Christian R. Lindback, former honorary chairman of the Board; and approved a raise in the University's tuition charges.

Dr. Joseph W. Henderson, Trustee board chairman (left), greeting new Trustee, Ridgway Kennedy, Jr.

Mr. Kennedy, who has been employed by Abbotts Dairies since 1912 was elected vice president and general manager of the company in 1940 and president in 1950. He is also currently serving as president of the International Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers. He has been familiar with Bucknell for many years through his association with Christian R. Lindback, who for many years was president of Abbotts Dairies and who served Bucknell as a trustee from 1937 until his death in 1950.

It was fitting, therefore, that at this same meeting, Mr. Kennedy should formally present to the University a portrait of Mr. Lindback. In making the presentation, Mr. Kennedy stated that he was carrying out the wishes of Mrs. Lindback, who died during the past year. The portrait is the work of Augustus May and will be hung in a suitable location on the campus.

Mr. Lindback received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws in 1941 and was made honorary chairman of the board in 1947.

The decision to raise Bucknell's tuition fees was made to meet higher costs of operation, and to maintain higher salaries for the faculty. The new rates will become effective in September of 1956. A previous increase in fees was made in September, 1951.

Under the new schedule, all resident women students and all resident freshman men will pay a comprehensive annual charge of $1500 to cover tuition, general fee, room, and board.

Upperclass men living in East or West College will pay a comprehensive charge of either $1400 or $1500, according to the type of room selected.

Non-resident students will be charged $700 for tuition, plus a general fee of $150, for a total of $850 a year.

Other students will be charged $700 for tuition, $150 for general fee, $150 or $250 for room, depending on the type selected, and $400 for board.

NECROLOGY

1895

BROMLEY SMITH, former Bucknell and Johns Hopkins University professor of English, died November 7, 1955 at Culver, Indiana. Funeral services were held at Factoryville with interment at the Evergreen-Woodland Cemetery in that town.

Professor Smith has been called the Father of Track Athletics at Bucknell and as a student served as the University's first trainer; during his senior year he became unofficial Director of Athletics. His interest in the sport is attested by the records of one of the first university meets which show that Professor Smith won three of the nine major events scheduled, thereby acquiring a silver cup donated by a local merchant.

The professor obtained his master's degree from Bucknell in 1896 and joined the Faculty as an instructor of public speaking in 1904. He taught at the University until 1919 when he resigned to accept a position at Johns Hopkins University.

Professor Smith was born in Philadelphia in 1870 and married the late May Reynolds of Factoryville. He is survived by one son, Donald Smith of Scotia, N. Y.; two daughters, Mrs. Lewis Welsh of Huntingburg, Ind., and Mrs. William Hudson of Baltimore. A son, Bromley Smith, Jr., was killed during World War I while the family resided at Lewisburg.

1897

ROBERT OTTENS KOONS of Shickshinny, a medical practitioner for more than 50 years, died at his home on November 9, 1955.

Dr. Koons was born in Conyngham in 1875 and entered Bucknell from the Hazleton Seminary. He received his degree in medicine from the University of Pennsylvania in 1900, following which he took postgraduate work at Polyclinic Hospital, Philadelphia.

Dr. Koons practiced medicine at Conyngham until 1920, with the exception of the years he served in World War I. Thereafter he practiced at Shickshinny until his death. In 1950 he was honored by the Luzerne County Medical Society for his 50 years of medical service.

In addition to medical societies, Dr. Koons also was a member of the Shickshinny American Legion, Hazleton Lodge of Masons, Knights Templar of Hazleton and the Conyngham Lutheran Church.

He is survived by his wife, the former Helen J. Leonard '02; a daughter, Constance Christian of Washington Grove, Md.; and a son, John M. Koons, M.S. in Education, 1949.

1900

E. JOSEPHINE LAWSHE, a native and resident of Lewisburg, died September 24, 1955 in the Evangelical Community Hospital of Lewisburg where she had been a patient for one week. She had been in ill health for three years.

Miss Lawshe was graduated from the Institute in 1897 and took a degree in music in 1900. For many years she was a private teacher of the piano and pipe organ and in later years became affiliated with the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

She was an active member of the First Presbyterian Church of Lewisburg and was interested in many community projects.

Surviving are a sister, Miss Louise W. Lawshe '98 of Lewisburg; a brother, E. Irland Lawshe '09 of Frederick, Md.; a niece, Mrs. William H. Kemp, and a grandniece, Mary Kemp, also of Frederick.

Miss Lawshe was buried in the Lewisburg Cemetery.

DR. ANDREW J. SHERWOOD, captain of the Bucknell track team in 1900 and father of Dr. John N. Sherwood '46 and Richard M. Sherwood '47, died recently according to word received at Lewisburg.

"Sherry," as he was known to his classmates, practiced medicine for nearly 50 years in his native city of Uniontown, Pa., after having received his medical degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1903. He married Emma V. Anderson in 1907 and they had three sons, the first of whom died at an early age. The second son, Richard, is currently living near Philadelphia and is employed by the Atlantic Refining Company. The third son, John, is practicing medicine in his father's office at Uniontown.

In addition to his track activities "Sherry" Sherwood was a member of the football team at Bucknell and Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

In later years Dr. Sherwood was a friend of the Bucknell library and belonged to the Masons, and Presbyterian Church, the University Club of Erie and the Hunters' Lodge of the same city.

1901

THOMAS EVANS, JR., who practiced medicine for more than 50 years in Pittsburgh, died October 23, 1955 after a useful life of 77 years.

He was born in Freeland in 1878 and was graduated from the Bucknell Academy in 1897. He received his degree in medicine from the University of Pennsylvania in 1905 and later studied at the University of Berlin and the University of Vienna.

Dr. Evans became a gynecologist at the Pittsburgh Hospital in 1913, and with the exception of overseas duty with the U. S. Army Medical Corps during World War I, practiced all his life in that city. In addition to holding membership in a number of medical societies, he was also a past president of the Pittsburgh Gynecology Society. He also served on the staffs of the Columbia and St. Margaret Hospitals of Pittsburgh.

Surviving are two daughters, Miss Helen H. Evans and Mrs. Robert Simpson; three brothers, Dr. William Evans, Allen and Arthur Evans; and two sisters, Mrs. Beatrice Evans and Mrs. John Hemsath.

1903

JAY FOLLMER BOND, one of Bucknell's most active Alumni, died at Factoryville on October 24, 1955. Although he held a degree in forestry from the University of Michigan, Bucknell was his true Alma Mater.

A native of Milton, Jay Bond attended Bucknell for three years and then transferred to the University of Michigan in order to specialize in forestry. He was associated with the U. S. Forest Service for four years, following which he served two years as a forester with the Pennsylvania Railroad and another two years in the same capacity for the International Harvester Company.

From 1911 to his retirement in 1949, Jay Bond was employed by Armour and Company, first as a department manager and later as assistant manager of the Fairmount Packing Company.

He was a past president of the New York Bucknell Alumni Club, fund manager for the Class of 1903 and a member of the Bison Club.

He was married to the former Laura S. Boone and they had three children, Blanch Frances, Mary Catherine and William Brockway.

1904

LLOYD WEBSTER, lawyer and dairyman, died April 14, 1955 at Cambridge, Md. No details of his death have been forthcoming, but it is known that he received his LL.B. from the University of Maryland Law School after his graduation from Bucknell and that he practiced law and operated a dairy at Cambridge.

He is presumably survived by three sons, James Lloyd '34, Woodrow Steele and Thomas Milton.

1910

ELMER BILLINGFELT WOODS, a well-known class member and a Superior Court Judge for the State of New Jersey, died at the age of 69 at his summer home at Avalon, N. J. on November 6, 1955 after an illness of more than a year.

Judge Woods started his adult life as a teacher and served as principal of the Red Bank, N. J. High School for two years before transferring to Glassboro, where he was superintendent from 1913 to 1921. In the meantime, however, he became interested in the law and, by studying nights and summers, he was graduated from the Temple University Law School in 1920.

During World War I, he was a member of the Y. M. C. A. Army Educational Corps. He later joined the legal department of the Provident Trust Company. Eventually he opened his own law firm in Pitman, N. J., where he made his home during the later part of his life.

In 1934, Governor A. Harry Andrews appointed him to the bench of Gloucester County Court, where he served for 14 years. He then became an assignment judge of the Superior Court, a position he held until his illness.

A native of Reading, Judge Woods married Anna L. Kline in 1907. They had three children, Wellington C. Woods, a Glassboro councilman; Elmer B. Woods, Jr. '47, of Pitman, and Mrs. Katherine W. Skinner, also of Pitman.

Judge Woods belonged to several bar associations as well as to the Masonic Lodge of Camden and the Crusade Commandery of the Odd Fellows. In college he was a member of Phi Kappa Psi.

1917

FRANCES GERALDINE HANSON GIFFIN, wife of Harold W. Giffin '16, died October 17, 1955 in Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia.

A native of Flemington, N. J., Mrs. Giffin held membership in the Trenton College Club. Besides her husband, who is Chief Engineer for the New Jersey State Highway Department and was the man responsible for the design and construction of the Garden State Parkway, Mrs. Giffin is survived by three sisters, Miss Elsie Hanson of Plainfield, N. J., Mrs. Ethel Talbot of Baltimore and Mrs. Gladys Knarr of Cape May, N. J.

Interment was held in Ewing Church Cemetery, Trenton, N. J.

1922

OLIVER LINTON KING, Township Engineer for Abington Township for 28 years, died on June 10, 1955, at the age of 56.

A registered professional civil engineer, Oliver King started his career as a drafts-

(Continued on Page 18)

AMONG THE CLUBS

BOSTON—Following a thrilling football game in which our Bisons fought the Harvard Crimson to a 26-26 tie, 38 Bucknellians and friends gathered at the Beaconsfield Hotel, Boston for a Roundup and dinner.

The business meeting, presided over by President Walt Weidemann '39, followed the dinner. A committee for the selection of new officers was appointed and was asked to meet sometime in November. Buck Shott, General Alumni Secretary, spoke briefly on the work and plans of the Alumni Association. He also stressed the need for active canvassing in New England for Bucknell students.

Our new President, Dr. Merle Odgers, then presented a very inspiring message on the plans for Bucknell's Second Century. He outlined the progress made thus far and detailed the needs for future expansion. All present were high in their praise of Dr. Odgers, who was making his first appearance at an Alumni meeting north of New York.

Walt Weidemann announced plans for our next meeting to be held on February 11. This will be a dance held in conjunction with the University Club of Boston which represents colleges and universities whose alumni reside in this area. A motion was passed that a congratulatory telegram be sent to Coach Harry Lawrence and the members of the football team in recognition of their outstanding performance in Harvard Stadium.

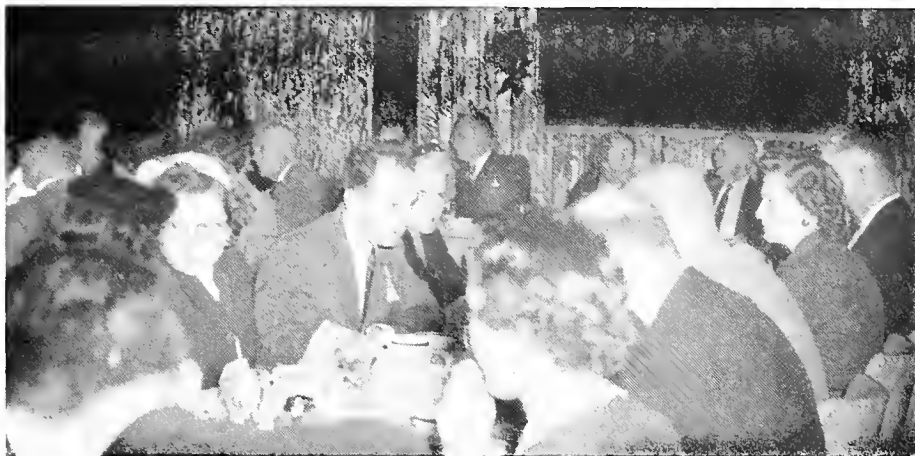

See you in February.

RAY W. CLUGH '49, Secretary

PACIFIC NORTHWEST—A small but enthusiastic group of Bucknell Alumni and their families met on August 2, 1955 in the Student Union Building on the University of Washington campus in Seattle, Washington.

The meeting was called to order by President James Egly '42 who then stated that due to the lengthy period of inactivity of the club he felt it appropriate to conduct this meeting in an informal manner. He further stated that a meeting for the purpose of reorganization and election of new officers was in order. It was suggested from the floor that a special committee be appointed for the purpose of programming such a meeting to be held in early November. This suggestion met with the approval of all present.

Each Alumnus present was then asked to identify himself and guest, stating his class and then giving a resume of the period between graduation and the present. It was very pleasing to welcome the recent graduates who were new to the Northwest.

Boston Alumni and friends, 38 strong, meet at the Hotel Beaconsfield after the Harvard game and get their first look at President Odgers, who may be seen in the background with Mrs. Odgers and Buck Shott, Alumni Secretary.

Professor Allen Flock of the Department of Music, Director of the University Band, and Director of the Women's Glee Club and Mrs. Flock were introduced by Mr. Egly. Professor Flock then gave a very interesting review of the present situation on campus. The group showed particular interest in his review of the construction program, of the increased curriculum offered, and of the present administration.

Mr. Egly expressed the group's appreciation to Professor and Mrs. Flock for the visit and asked them to convey back to campus our renewed loyalty.

JAMES A. EGLY '42, President

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA—Inauguration of monthly luncheon meetings was started on Tuesday, November 1, 1955 with ten Bucknellians showing up at Maye's Oyster House in San Francisco. The group voted to try it again the following month. Harry F. Hartzell '08 also is planning a big meeting in the spring at Orchard Hill, Los Altos, so that wives and husbands may also attend.

Those present, besides Hartzell, included Paul W. Clark '41, James R. Hind '41, Ted Lavers '29, George Mattis '07, Lee Midgley '39, Nina Osovick Magilligan '43, Charles Roush '34, and Sandy Sanger '47.

HARRY HARTZELL '08

WASHINGTON—The fall meeting of the Bucknell Club of Washington was held at Hogate's Arlington House in Arlington, Virginia on October 26, 1955. It was attended by 34 Bucknellians and their guests. After a delicious dinner, Dr.

Lester Lighton '20, vice president of the Electric Storage Battery Company, showed slides of Bucknell and Europe.

NEWARK, N. J. (KAPPA SIGMA DIVISION)—Alumni of Kappa Sigma living in the Newark area will meet on Friday night, January 20, at Harwood's, 44 Commerce St., Newark, N. J. Contact Charles S. Gwynne '36, 28 Charter Oak St., Wood-Ridge, N. J.

HARRISBURG—Twenty-nine Bucknellians and guests attended the regular monthly dinner meeting of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Harrisburg on Thursday, November 3, 1955 at the Y. M. C. A. President Jack Miller opened the meeting by asking Bill Foulk to give the invocation.

Bruce Butt presented his enlightening report concerning the various activities of Bucknell Alumni. Bruce also reported that two of our present members would be leaving Harrisburg in the near future. They are Judy Wheatley '49, who will join her husband in Wyoming, and Nancy Gettman '46, who is planning to return to her home town, Altoona.

Bill Schaffner announced plans, including the speaker and the various committees, for the Christmas Party which is to be held in December.

Mr. Butt introduced our guest and speaker, Dr. Linwood G. Grace, Director of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Dental Health. Dr. Grace spoke on the topic of fluoridation and prevention of tooth decay. A fifteen-minute film, "A Drop in The Bucket" was shown in connection with Dr. Grace's presentation.

The Christmas Party was held December 1, at the Y. M. C. A. Forty-four alumni and guests were present.

After dinner, Mr. Schaffner asked for the report of the Nominating Committee. Mr. Robert Saylor read the following slate recommended by the committee: president, Mrs. William Barnes; vice president, William Foulk, Jr.; secretary, Norma Gorwalt; treasurer, Claude Boothroyd. There were no additional nominations from the floor. Following a motion that the nominations be closed, the above slate was unanimously approved.

Special music was presented by Miss Kathryn Bergstresser and Miss Kathryn Leisman. They rendered a novel version of the Christmas favorite "Twas the Night Before Christmas." Mrs. Herbert Walker conducted a "grab bag" exchange as part of the Christmas Party program.

Mr. Schaffner introduced our speaker,

(Continued on Page 18)

The Northern California Club tried the monthly luncheon meeting idea recently and came up with this group of ten loyal Bucknellians. For their names, see the above article.

Bucknell Faculty to Sponsor Science Fair

Bucknell University will sponsor a science fair for high school students on April 14, according to plans currently being worked out by members of the Bucknell Faculty and representatives of secondary schools in the area.

Purpose of the fair is to create a greater interest in science among students in the Central Pennsylvania area and to encourage these students to make science their life work.

The percentage of students entering the various fields of science and engineering has been falling off sharply in the past decade and the Bucknell Faculty has been considering for some time steps to help reverse the trend.

In late October, at the instigation of Admiral Ernest Eller, director of engineering at Bucknell, a meeting of science teachers and administrators was held at the University for the purpose of discussing the possibility of holding a science fair. As the result of this meeting definite plans were made to go ahead with the project.

Representatives, composed largely of teachers of science, have been chosen from Canton, Harrisburg, Lewisburg, Selinsgrove, Shamokin, Sunbury, Wilkes-Barre and Williamsport and the effort to get high school students to prepare exhibits for the fair is well underway.

The Susquehanna Science Fair will follow closely the pattern established by the Lehigh Valley Science Fair, which has been conducted for the past ten years. Dr. Emil J. Polak, assistant professor of mathematics, is chairman of the science fair committee and other members of the science departments at Bucknell have pledged themselves to help any students who might need advice and assistance in their efforts.

Faculty Revises Regulations For Selecting Honor Graduates

On the recommendation of the Committee on Academic Standards, the Faculty has accepted the following resolutions concerning honor graduates:

(1) Criteria for selecting honor students at Commencement be based on a Grade Point Average System as follows:

- (a) Summa Cum Laude—2.900 or over
- (b) Magna Cum Laude—2.700 to 2.899
- (c) Cum Laude—2.400 to 2.699

(2) Each candidate for honors must have taken thirty per cent or more of the total number of hours required for graduation, in his respective curriculum, in courses numbered above 199.

(3) Any other Faculty regulations, inconsistent with this resolution, are hereby rescinded.

These changes are based on a study of the records of the percentage of graduating students making honors during the past thirty years. Since the college adopted the grade point system six years ago, this experience made it possible to evaluate the letter-grade standards previously employed in determining honor graduates. It was the opinion of the committee that the new regulation would prove to be a more accurate and discriminating basis for selecting honor graduates.

The above resolutions will go into effect for the graduating class of 1957.

EMIL J. POLAK
Assistant Professor of Mathematics and Chairman of the Susquehanna Science Fair Committee.

Phi Gamma Delta Grads Give Mathewson Portrait to House

A portrait of Christy Mathewson '02 was presented to Phi Gamma Delta on Homecoming night by the Delta Chapter Alumni Association.

Principal speakers at the ceremony were Andy Wyant '92 and Hans Lobert, former star of the New York Giants baseball team. Mrs. Mathewson and representatives from the administration were present for the presentation of the portrait.

Introduced by Turk Jones '29, Wyant spoke on the personal character of Christy Mathewson and gave a short sketch of the baseball hero's life. Hans Lobert spoke of his experiences with Mathewson while playing for the Giants.

The portrait, now hanging above the dining room fireplace in the chapter house, is a copy of a photograph presented to the house some years ago by Mathewson himself. The inscription, "Our hearts shall turn eternally to Delta Chapter—(signed) Christy Mathewson" has been copied from the photograph and appears in gold on the portrait. The portrait work was done by Joseph Burgess, a noted painter and also a Phi Gam.

Ted Groom '56 accepted the portrait on behalf of the active chapter.

Bus Blum, Wife to Head Student Tour of Europe

S. J. "Bus" Blum, associate professor of physical education, and Mrs. Blum are currently working out plans to conduct a 67-day, eight-country student tour of Europe next summer for Transmarine Tours, Inc.

The tour, which will embrace Belgium, Holland, England, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Austria and France, is also open to any Alumni who might care to take advantage of the low rates. The all-inclusive price is $1,098 for the 67-day tour, which is scheduled to leave New York City on June 29 and return September 3. Transportation across the Atlantic will be via the Netherlands Government, one-class steamship, the Grootee Beer.

Transmarine Tours, Inc., is the organization for which Professor Harriet Love and Forrest Brown conducted tours of Europe last summer.

Persons desiring further information, including a detailed itinerary, should address Professor S. J. Blum, Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa.

Engineering Alumni Vote to Form Organization

Formation of a permanent organization of Bucknell engineering alumni was authorized Homecoming evening at a dinner meeting of 130 engineering graduates and their guests who met in the James S. Swartz Hall to discuss the development of the University's engineering program.

An alumni committee, consisting of Dr. Earl M. Richards '13 of Ocean Grove, N. J., former vice president of Republic Steel, Dr. Lester B. Lighton '20, vice president of Electrical Storage Battery of Philadelphia, and Dr. Bruce J. Miller '27, vice president of Union Carbide and Carbon Co., was empowered to appoint an executive committee to set up the new organization.

This action was taken after the group had heard several speakers who outlined the problems faced in strengthening the present program to meet the current high demand for well-trained engineers. Alumni speakers included Dr. Richards, Dr. Lighton, and Dr. George A. Irland '15, head of the electrical engineering department at the University.

Ernest M. Eller, retired admiral who was recently named to the newly-created post of director of engineering at Bucknell, pointed out that Bucknell has had a great engineering past, as evidenced by the success of her graduates in many different fields.

"Bucknell can have a great engineering future," he declared, "if our alumni will help us meet some of our current problems."

Admiral Eller cited especially the need for higher faculty salaries in order to provide a teaching staff of the highest caliber and the necessity of making greater provision for graduate research.

He quoted from a message sent to the dinner by Morris D. Hooven '20, who is president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, who predicted that the professional class of the future will be composed largely of the engineer and the scientist.

It is estimated that 22,000 engineers will be graduated from college this year, but that the demand is for just about twice that number.

"Bucknell," said Admiral Eller, "wants to be of the greatest possible service to industries in the central Pennsylvania area and will make its facilities and its faculty available for research projects which those industries may desire."

The extent of research possibilities at Bucknell was described by Dr. Irland, who added that the University has available printed booklets outlining these possibilities in detail.

Admiral Eller called attention to the fact that Bucknell now has more than 2,000 engineering graduates. "With their backing," he said, "our efforts here on the campus can be multiplied a hundred-fold and Bucknell can continue to maintain her high reputation in the engineering field."

Abbott '29 to Head Doctors For Bucknell

Seventy-five persons sat down to the Third Annual Dinner of Doctors For Bucknell Homecoming evening, enjoyed roast beef, heard an excellent address by Dr. Joseph Hinsey, Director of the New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center and contributed more than one thousand dollars to the support of the Bucknell Department of Biology.

Business accomplished included the election of officers for the coming year as follows: Dr. Albert J. Abbott '29 of Nanticoke, President; Dr. Cornelius E. Sedgwick '36 of Boston, Vice President; Alfred H. Fenton of Lewisburg, Secretary-Treasurer; and Dr. Edward W. Pangburn '15 of Lewisburg, the retiring President, as a member of the Executive Committee. Dr. W. F. Darkes '27 of Orwigsburg, the originator of Doctors For Bucknell, was elected an Honorary Life Member of the Executive Committee.

The Doctors presented a brief case to Dr. Nelson H. Stewart, Professor of Zoology, who retired last June after 45 years of teaching at Bucknell, and a check to Alfred H. Fenton, who left Bucknell in December to accept a position elsewhere.

A menu, signed by all present, and a resolution were sent to Dr. John W. Rice '14, Professor of Bacteriology and Chairman of the Department of Biology, who was unable to be present because of a heart attack suffered in late September.

More than half of those in attendance were pre-medical students who were the guests of 36 doctors who purchased tickets for the dinner but were unable to be present. These doctors included John A. Anthony, Jr. '43, Loren D. Bly '33, William P. Boger '34, Stewart F. Brewen '26, Howard S. Brooks '32, Daniel D. Casden '42, James J. Colavita '33, Harold N. Cole '06, Jacob L. Davis '32, Richard F. Faber '43, John S. Fetter '32, James L. Fitzgerald '35, Tillman H. Foust '34, Sybil D. Haire '44, Charles H. Heacock '11, John A. Heberling '17, Lois M. Henneberger '43, Isaac Humphrey '22, Eurfryn Jones '26, R. Marvel Keagy '31, S. Bruce Kephart '39, A. P. King '21, E. Kirby Lawson, Jr. '32, H. S. Mauser '03, William E. Merrill '31, David Morgan '24, Roy E. Nicodemus '25, Vincent S. Palmisano '37, Robert C. Puff '42, David P. Rothrock '40, P. H. Shelley '06, Marvin G. Shipp '32, Harvey Smith '94, George S. Stevenson '15, Willard H. Tice '26 and Armand F. Verga '36.

Doctors present, in addition to the officers listed above, included Merl G. Colvin '24, Harold W. Evans '36, Lester P. Fowle '20, Robert L. Gatski '44, Allen E. Hamburg '39, Carl G. Kapp '25, John Y. Leiser '39, Kurt Manrodt '39, Dallas E. Mettler '49, John S. Purnell '23, John S. Purnell, Jr. '50, John R. Vastine '28, Joseph Weightman '37, and Melvin Wein '39.

Also present, as a guest of honor, was Miss Frances L. Groff '12, daughter of Dr. George G. Groff, who unveiled a portrait of her father at exercises in Taylor Hall earlier in the day.

Pennsylvania Light Company Aids Girl Student and Bucknell

Miss Jean E. Nardi '59, of Williamsport is currently attending Bucknell under a Pennsylvania Power & Light Company scholarship, which means that she is not only gracing the University with her presence, but also helping it financially.

The twist to this story is that by choosing Bucknell for her education, Miss Nardi thereby made a present of five hundred dollars to the University. According to the terms of the Pennsylvania Power & Light Company scholarship program, winners of the scholarships are given five hundred dollars toward their college tuition, but in addition, the company gives an equal amount of money to the college of the student's choice.

During 1955-56, six students were selected for scholarships from the area served by the power company. The purpose of the program is to aid deserving students and to help the nation's independent colleges and universities.

Miss Nardi, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Nardi, has selected a liberal arts program at Bucknell. She plans to major in English with a minor in French as preparation for entering the teaching profession.

Bucknell Forum to Hear Business Leaders

This year the Bucknell Business Forum, an organization sponsored by the University to bring outstanding speakers to the area, offered eight tours and lectures during the season.

The speakers for the first semester included: September 14, Walker W. Stevenson, Jr., general partner, Hemphill, Noyes & Co., New York; October 19, W. A. Clarke, president, W. A. Clarke Mortgage Co., Philadelphia (panel session); November 30, J. B. Anger, General Sales Manager, Radio Products Division, Motorola, Inc., Chicago, Ill.; January 4, two Faculty members, professors in the Bucknell University Economics Department will speak; Russell A. Headley, Ph.D., will discuss "Tariff Policies and Their Economic Effect" and Earl B. French, Ph.D. will lecture on "Personnel Management of Managers."

The second semester schedule lists: February 8, V. A. Bellman, director of Domestic Marketing, Socony Mobil Oil Company, New York; March 14, R. H.

Coleman '29, Trustee of Bucknell University and Vice President of the Remington Arms Co., Inc., Bridgeport, Conn.; April 10, George W. Taylor, University of Pennsylvania Wharton School Professor of Industry.

Merck Lectures

Four more lectures remain in the annual Merck Lecture Series being conducted jointly by Bucknell and the Merck and Company, Inc. on the Bucknell campus. These are January 9, Dr. Charles C. Price, of the University of Pennsylvania; February 16, Dr. Eugene E. Howe, head of process developing of natural products at Merck and Company; March 8, Dr. William Rieman III, professor of analytical chemistry at Rutgers University; April 12, Dr. John B. Conn, head of inorganic research at Merck and Company.

Previous speakers in the series this year were William J. Mader, manager of the analytical department of Merck; Dr. Richard Wilhelm, professor of chemical engineering at Princeton University; and Dr. P. J. Flory, professor of chemistry at Cornell University.

The lecture series was designed three years ago to provide scientific stimulation to students at the University, employees of Merck's Danville plant and residents of Central Pennsylvania.

(Coupon to be cut and mailed)

Dear Buck:

I would like to be a loyal, enthusiastic, AND ACTIVE alumnus, so may I take this opportunity to volunteer for the following job:

- Fund worker
- Class reporter
- Hi School Contact Committee
- Alumni Welcoming Committee
- Publicity Committee
-

Name _____

Class _____

Address _____

City _____

Men's Glee Club Schedule

Sunday, Feb. 5, Scranton; Monday, Feb. 6, Newburgh (N. Y.) Free Academy; High School, Middletown, N. Y.; Tuesday, Feb. 7, Central High School, Carmel, N. Y.; High School, Danbury, Conn.; Cresskill (N. J.) School; Wednesday, Feb. 8, High School, Ridgewood, N. J.; Grover Cleveland High School, Caldwell, N. J.; High School, Westfield; Thursday, Feb. 9, High School, New Rochelle, N. Y.; High School, White Plains, N. Y.; High School, Manaroneck, N. Y.

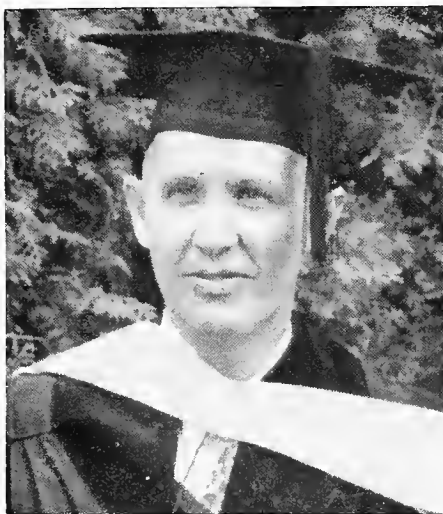

The club will sing for the Bucknell Alumni Clubs of Metropolitan New York, North Jersey, Westchester (N. Y.) and Long Island at the Park-Sheraton Hotel in New York City on the evening of Thursday, February 9.

John S. Burlew Institute Director

John S. Burlew of the Class of 1930 has taken another step up.

In July of 1954 he became assistant director of The Franklin Institute of Philadelphia. This past June he received the honorary degree of Doctor of Science from Bucknell and now he has been made director of The Franklin Institute. The appointment was announced in late October.

An English major at Bucknell, from which he was graduated magna cum laude,

JOHN S. BURLEW

Dr. Burlew has continued to gain honors. He took his Ph.D. from Johns Hopkins, where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi. For 16 years he was physical chemist on the staff of the Geophysical Laboratory of the Carnegie Institute of Washington. During World War II he also served the Government with the Office of Scientific Research and Development, for which he received the Presidential Medal of Merit.

Prior to becoming assistant director at The Franklin Institute, Dr. Burlew was technical director for the Cambridge Corporation of Cambridge, Mass.

Among professional societies, Dr. Burlew is a member of the American Chemical Society, the Philosophical Society of Washington, the American Nuclear Society and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

He is married to the former Grace Schaum '30 and has two sons, David and Thomas.

Tax

Bucknellians have been playing a prominent part in the state-wide effort to repeal the present 15% tax on charitable bequests imposed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Last summer, when the Alumni Secretary sent out a request that Bucknell Alumni living in the state sit down and write letters to their representatives in support of House Bill 727, the results were most encouraging. These letters, plus the many that were penned by Alumni of other Pennsylvania colleges and universities, have done much to convince the Legislature that the tax is an unfair one. Actually, Pennsylvania is the only state that taxes bequests to educational institutions.

Mag Story Has B. U. Flavor

The story published in Women's Home Companion of February, 1955, entitled "It's Been Fun But—" by Dorothy MacDowell sent us searching our directories to learn about Dorothy. The reason: her story, which referred to the Bucknell campus, Dean Coleman, Half Way Dam and other familiar Bucknell references, made us feel that Dorothy MacDowell must have spent some time here as a student. At last, after searching through the editorial offices to the writer's agent, we find that Dorothy MacDowell is the pen name of Mrs. Charlotte H. Billipp, the mother of two of our graduates, Charlotte Heberd Billipp '47, who is now married to Jasper H. Frantz '42 and lives in Rockville, Md., and Bramley Hill Billipp '51. Good work, Mrs. Billipp, let us know—in advance—when you publish your next story with a Bucknell background. And incidentally, was that Bucknell coed pictured in your story typical of our college women?

As the result of this activity, Senate Bill 151, the companion bill to House Bill 727, was brought to the floor in late November and passed unanimously. At the present writing, Senate Bill 151 is reposing in the House Ways and Means Committee and it is hoped that it will be brought to a vote before too long.

If the tax is eventually repealed, Bucknell Alumni will have earned a hearty vote of thanks, not only from their own Alma Mater, but from every privately supported institution in the state.

They Represented Bucknell Around the Country

Bucknell Alumni continue to represent Bucknell University at the inauguration ceremonies of many universities. That this kind of service to the University is pleasant and satisfying in most cases is amply illustrated by the following quotation from a recent letter: "Although I attended with misgivings, feeling inadequately prepared for the job, I was soon greatly impressed with the ceremony and proud to be representing Bucknell. I might add, too, that I felt closer to Bucknell than at any other time in the twenty years since my graduation."

Since last fall the following Alumni represented the University at presidential inaugurations and celebrations: Mr. Eugene Jacobs '34, at Mount Union College, Alliance, Ohio; the Reverend John P. Gates '40, at The University of Maryland, College Park, Md.; Dr. Harold E. Kenseth '33, at Columbia University, New York City; Mr. Robert C. Grosvenor '47, at Michigan State College, East Lansing, Mich.; Dr. Walter S. Eisenmenger '12, at The University of Massachusetts, Amherst, Mass.; the Reverend Herbert R. Smith '29, at Andover Theological Seminary, Newton Centre, Mass.; Mr. George E. Myers '49, at Davis and Elkins College, Elkins, W. Va.; Mrs. George Fred Rassweiler '24, at Beloit College, Beloit, Wisc.; C. H. Richardson, Jr., Esq. '38, at Georgetown College, Georgetown, Ky.; Dr. Thornton M. Shorkley '00, at Santa Barbara College, Santa Barbara, Calif.; Dr. Arthur Gerhart '12, at State Teachers College, Millersville; Mr. Alden E. Davis '19, at Saint Mary's College, Notre Dame, Ind.; Dr. Gerhard E. Von

Celmer '47 Credited With Drug Discovery

Partial credit for the discovery of a new antibiotic, synergistin, has been given to Dr. Walter D. Celmer '47, who is currently a research supervisor for Charles Pázer and Company, Inc. of Brooklyn.

WALTER D. CELMER

The new drug has been proven effective against certain strains of bacteria that have become resistant to other antibiotics.

Dr. Celmer, who was graduated from Bucknell cum laude, after making the Dean's List for four straight years as a chemistry major, has been working on antibiotics ever since his graduate school days at the University of Illinois, from which he received his Ph.D. in 1951.

He is currently living in Garden City, Long Island, is married and has a daughter five years of age.

A year ago he was able to get close to Lewisburg when he came to Pennsylvania to address the Central Pennsylvania Section of the American Chemical Society at Pennsylvania State University.

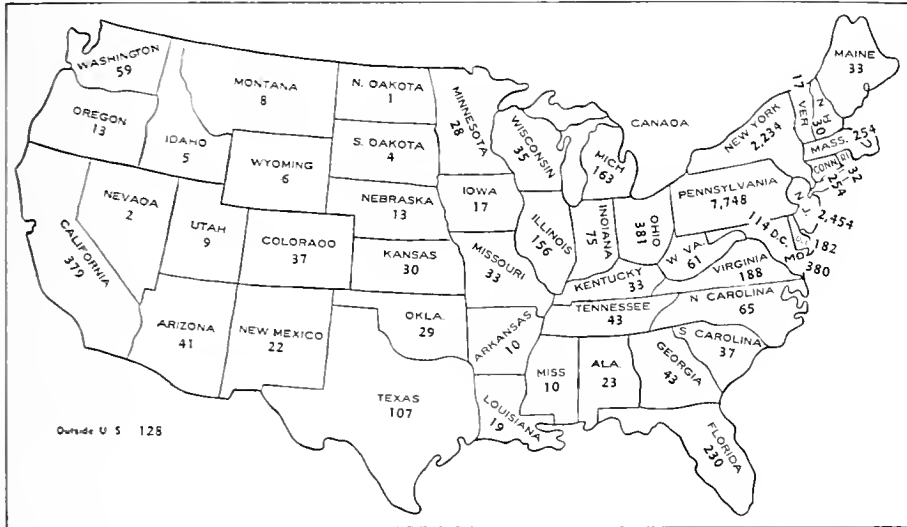

Glahn '32, at the University of North Dakota, Grand Forks, N. D.; Theodore Garris, Esq. '35 at Queens College, Flushing, N. Y.

Mr. Walter D. Galbraith '22, at The Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Tex.; Mr. Gordon J. Brown '48, at The University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore.; the Reverend Idris W. Jones '31 at Bradley University, Peoria, Ill.; Dr. John Z. McFarland '35, at Northwestern State College, Natchitoches, La.; Dr. Robert E. Streeter '38 at The University of Chicago; the Reverend John N. Feaster '30, at Colby Junior College for Women, London, N. H.; Dr. Chester P. Higby '08, at re-dedication of State Historical Society of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisc.; Matthew E. Friedman, Esq. '47 at the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mr. John T. Shirley '09, at Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh; Mr. Ambrose Saricks '37, at Kansas Wesleyan University, Salina, Kans.; Merrill B. DeWire, M.D. '21, at Albright College, Reading; the Reverend Raymond G. Taylor '30, at Adrian College, Adrian, Mich.; Dr. Robert M. Lindner '35 at Loyola College, Baltimore, Md.

Bucknell Alumni Census of 1955

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the eighth of a series being published in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS to show the geographic distribution of Bucknell Alumni. The present article reports the census of 1955.

The accompanying map shows the state-by-state distribution of the 16,275 former students of Bucknell University with known addresses. The count was made in October 1955 and includes the graduates of June of this year. The state list shown under the map includes the comparable census for October 1954. About 10% of our Bucknellians move each year and tell Alumni Headquarters of their new address. Another 5% move and leave no forwarding address. Experience shows that about 250 copies of this issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS will be returned to Alumni Headquarters as undeliverable. We can improve that position by being sure to tell Alumni Headquarters when and where we move and inform the office about Bucknellians who move into our local community. The post office department does a splendid job of notifying us about changes of address that it has received, but a sizeable amount of tax money could be saved if everyone notified our office of a change of address BEFORE moving.

Nation's Business Eyes Alumni Giving

Alumni giving has become a pivotal factor in financial strengthening of colleges and universities, the Council for Financial Aid to Education, Inc. has asserted in releasing a cost-of-education survey report of 753 American colleges and universities. The success with which an institution of higher education attracts annual support from its alumni may determine whether a college ends the year in the blue or red; and the extent of alumni giving to institutions which trained them is a criterion used by an increasing number of corporations to determine their own support.

Students at privately-supported colleges and universities pay from 40 to 60 per cent of the costs of educating them; students of state-supported institutions pay 20 per cent of the educational dollar, the council's survey showed. According to a tabular summary ending the report, the gap is widening between income from tuition and institutional costs in spite of tuition increases.

Rising costs of education have far outstripped tuition increases in all institutions of higher education excepting the professional and technological schools, according to the survey. These specialized schools increased their tuitions roughly in direct proportion to cost increases. But in the privately-supported colleges and universities, the cost of educating each full-time student rose 45 per cent at 66 independent universities, 46 per cent at 184 independent liberal arts colleges, 49 per cent at 125 church-related colleges, and 58 per cent at 26 church-related universities. These increases were over the five-year span ending with the academic year 1952-53. Respective tuition increases for these institutions were only 30, 24, 23, and 26 per cent during the five-year span ending with the academic year 1953-54.

Students paid 20 cents on the educational dollar spent for educating them at the tax-supported colleges and universities in 1952-53. At the privately-supported institutions average tuition and fees paid by the student accounted for 45 to 66 per cent of the cost of educating him.

The highest average cost of operations was at the 184 non-denominational independent liberal arts colleges which averaged $1060 per full-time student per institution; and at the 80 professional and technological schools which averaged $1065 per full-time student per institution.

Privately-supported colleges and universities therefore attach increasing importance to the annual giving by alumni, the council stated in the survey report. Gifts to the alumni fund are a form of repayment of a loan by society, it said. These are not only a means of supplying a person's Alma Mater with badly needed funds for current operations but they are a means of repaying the costs of education.

Gifts by alumni to their colleges have double force, the council pointed out. Business concerns, now being asked increasingly to help support the nation's colleges and universities, have a clearly stated preference for those whose alumni already are helping in a substantial way. They regard their gifts as a supplement to, not a substitute for, alumni giving. Several companies, led by General Electric, are now offering to match (up to $1,000) annual gifts to the respective alumni funds by college graduates in the company's employ.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB SCHEDULE

Friday, Feb. 3, Lewisburg High School; Sunday, Feb. 5, Lewisburg Methodist Church and Advent Lutheran Church, York; Monday, Feb. 6, High School, Gettysburg; High School, Rockville, Md.; Methodist Church, Bethesda, Md.; Tuesday, Feb. 7, High School, Silver Springs, Md. and Lovely Lane Methodist Church, Baltimore, Md.; Wednesday, Feb. 8, Kenwood High School, Baltimore, Md.; High School, Towson, Md.; Baltimore Friends, Baltimore, Md.; church concert, Wilmington, Del.; Thursday, Feb. 9, duPont High School, Wilmington, Del. and Catholic High School, Harrisburg.

Lewisburg Kills Sunday Movies

In a local referendum vote in the Borough of Lewisburg in November, the option of having Sunday movies was voted down by a 50 vote majority. An unofficial count shows 771 votes against the option and 721 votes in favor.

The Borough is divided into three wards, two of which voted against the option and one voted in favor. Votes from all three wards were tallied in an over-all count. Four years ago, the option was defeated by a 167 majority and eight years ago it was defeated by an even larger majority.

Milton residents, voting on the same question in reference to Sunday movies in that area, passed the option for the first time.

Pennsylvania Sunday Blue Laws outlaw the showing of Sunday movies in the state unless 30% of those voting at the last election petition the local district to have the issue on the ballot.

Friends of Library To Hear C. B. Follmer

Two more meetings of the Friends of the Bucknell Library are scheduled for this academic year. On Sunday, March 4, Mr. George Hersey, instructor of art at Bucknell, who has a major interest in American architecture, will talk to the Friends on "Lewisburg Architect." Mr. Hersey has already done considerable research on the University's architecture and recently presented a paper on that subject to the Scholars' Club of the Faculty.

The final meeting of the year for the Friends will be held on Sunday, April 15, when Hon. Cyrus B. Follmer '16, recently retired U. S. Consul to Calgary, Canada, will discuss some of his experiences in the diplomatic service.

All meetings of the Friends are scheduled for 3:00 P. M. in Room 201 of the Ellen Clarke Bertrand Library and are open to the public as well as to all members of the Bucknell family. A reception and a tea are held after each meeting.

The first two meetings of the year were held on October 30 when Dr. Mildred Martin, professor of English, discussed "T. S. Eliot and Religion", and on December 4, when Dr. Ts-Zung Koo, visiting professor of Oriental studies, played songs of Old Cathay on his bamboo flute.

Chapel Choir Tours

The Bucknell University Chapel Choir made its annual fall tour during November, visiting Arlington, Va., Baltimore, Md., and Wilmington, Del. The 47-voice a cappella group, which has become one of the best known choirs in the East, is directed by Dr. William D. McRae, associate professor in the Department of Music.

Britons Win Close Debate

A touring team of British debaters from Cambridge University gained a 2-1 decision over Bucknell at Lewisburg early this past fall. Taking the negative side of the subject, "Resolved: That the Non-Agricultural Industries Should Guarantee Their Employees an Annual Wage", Kenneth W. J. Post of Chatham, Kent and John G. York of London triumphed over Ronald McCreery '57, of McKeesport and James Roman '58 of Jamestown, N. Y.

Diary of James Moore II, Given to B. U. by Heirs

Perhaps the most noteworthy gift to the Bucknell Library during the past six months has been eight volumes of the personal diary of James Moore II, first treasurer of Bucknell and one of its founding fathers. The diary covers the last decade of his life, 1845-1855.

The diary was presented to the University this past summer by six of James Moore's great-great-grandchildren, Harold E. Moore, William C. Moore, Glen Allen Moore, Mrs. Reba Goodale, Mrs. Helen Nutley and Mrs. Marian Masser, but special credit is also due to Mrs. Blanche K. Baughman, senior assistant in the Bertrand Library, who spent three years in search and correspondence.

The bookplates in the eight volumes note that they are given in memory of Allen R. Moore, 1867-1953, the father of the above six progeny.

It is quite fitting that this diary should be returned to Lewisburg and especially to Bucknell, since it was written in the large stone house that still stands along Route 15 between Lewisburg and West Milton, and since its author was a moving force behind the founding of the Lewisburg Baptist Church, the Academy and the University. He was an original trustee of the University and served from 1846 until his death in 1855.

Prominent in Area

James Moore II was a prominent person in the area. He was a farmer, a contractor, a portable bank, a leading Baptist layman, a temperance advocate, a judge, a fisherman, a hunter, an avid reader, and possibly a historian. His diary is an especially fine addition to Bucknell's collection of Central Pennsylvaniana since it throws considerable light on how James Moore spent his declining years.

James Moore II was born at Perth Amboy, N. J. in 1781, but came to Snyderstown, near Sunbury, around 1800. He eventually purchased a farm between Lewisburg and West Milton, which became known as Mooresdale and which originally included the property now used by the Evangelical Church as the Oak Heights Camp Meeting grounds. As a successful and wealthy member of the community, James Moore II was involved in many matters. His diary shows that he did considerable traveling to nearby communities as well as to Philadelphia. In fact, from his notes we come to learn that the stagecoach fare between Philadelphia and Harrisburg was $2.90 and that cakes purchased en route at Reading cost only five cents. We also learn that his annual county tax amounted to $16.54, his state tax to $33.11, his school tax $10.11 and his road tax $8.30, including two dollars he paid to a workman.

In his diary, James Moore II tells us that he attended many conventions of the Baptist Church and that it was up to him to see that the local minister, Rev. Joel Bradley received his salary. He fulfilled that duty by visiting various members of the church and collecting on their pledges. Being a businessman as well as farmer, he has made a number of financial entries in his diary. There is considerable information about whose notes he held and how much was due. In fact, one can readily see that he served the area as a traveling bank.

Prices Noted Are High

The prices he records are surprisingly high—$1.00 a bushel for wheat, $2.50 for a shirt purchased at Philadelphia and $2.50 for a shawl for Mrs. Moore, also purchased on a business trip to the City of Brotherly Love. On the other hand he tells us that his bill for himself, Mary and the horses was only $1.37½ for one night en route to Philadelphia. The trip, incidentally, took two days.

His mail and the many newspapers to which he subscribed, were delivered to the Milton Post Office, where he picked them up at regular intervals. Baptist publications, the Miltonian, the Philadelphia Saturday Evening Past are among the periodicals mentioned.

As a judge, he naturally was interested in politics and we find that he voted for Zachary Taylor in November, 1848 and that two days later he learned that Taylor was leading in most sections of the country. He does not tell us much about the cases he heard, but he does record that his wages and mileage for a week amounted to $7.62½.

Once, when it was too cold to work in his shop, he noted that he spent the day in writing a history of Wyoming. At another time he tells of going hunting for deer at White Deer, without success. In fact, he records that he left his powder horn near a spring and lost an hour returning for it. His expedition to White Deer for trout was considerably more successful.

James Moore tells us of going to a church meeting in the basement of the new Lewisburg church and of paying $15 for a new coat, of buying glass and other items for the new church and of how his son, James Moore III, told the gate proprietor on the Philadelphia turnpike to charge the toll to their company.

Baptism in December

Being a bridge builder it is not surprising to find the record of a dividend of $3.45 on some bridge stock and as a Baptist layman one naturally would expect some mention of the baptism of Mrs. Wilhelm, wife of Henry Wilhelm, in the river. "All went off orderly", even though the date was December 13, 1846.

The same year he estimates that 5000 persons attended the funeral of General Hamond and the Baptist church was dedicated. He also bought a buggy from John Shomaker of Milton for a double barreled fowling "peace" and an order on Mosteller and Swank for $62.50.

His first mention of the University is October 29, 1845, when he writes: "met Br. Bradley, the Doctor and Joseph Meixell at Br. Woolfs to consult upon the propriety of establishing a literary institution at Lewasburg, Pa. under the direction of the Baptist Denomination."

Thereafter there are numerous short notes about trustee meetings and visits to the college property. He notes his payment of $80 on his pledge of $1000 to the University and also tells how he worked all day on the footbridge to the college. He and three other men dug 12 post holes, felled an elm tree and hauled five loads of stone. A week later the bridge was almost finished.

The last entry which he made in his diary was dated May 20, 1855. Nine days later he was dead, having caught pneumonia on a ride to White Deer on May 21.

The first member of the Kiwanis Club of Lewisburg to accept the chairmanship of a state committee of that organization is Dr. C. Hershel Jones, associate professor of political science, who in November was appointed Pennsylvania district chairman of vocational guidance.

Varsity Football

A summation of Bucknell's 1955 football season would be incomplete without the expression—"it's not the game, but how you play it." Coach Harry Lawrence's Herd completed festivities with a far from imposing 2-6-1 record, a ledger that did not come close to telling the entire football story at Bucknell for the year 1955.

First of all, the Bisons took on a schedule that was the toughest arranged for a Bucknell gridiron team since World War II, a card that included such formidable foes as Miami, Colgate and Harvard. Secondly, the Herd embarked on the campaign with a line devoid of all its 1954 regulars and 11 of the 14 men who made up the first and second string forward walls. Sophomores and former third stringers were forced into positions previously held by battle-tested veterans.

Yet the team never quit. The Bisons defeated Albright and Temple, gave Lehigh a scare before succumbing by one touchdown, deadlocked a favored Harvard team and carried a fine Delaware combination into the second half before falling 27-12 in a snowstorm.

Plaudits were tossed at the Bucknellians, although victories were often too elusive. At Miami, the Herd went down to a 46-0 defeat without anything akin to humiliation. A post-game consensus of fans and press alike praised the Bisons for spirited play. Jack Harding, the Hurricane Athletic Director, pointed at the Bucknell team as it left the field and said "there's a team that wouldn't quit."

At Boston, where the Herd became the first collegiate team in known history to be unjustly deprived of two downs, the men of Lawrence bounced back from a 19-6 deficit to earn a 26-26 deadlock. With seconds remaining the Bisons tossed a forward pass in a victory attempt, although they could easily have settled for the tie and a definite moral victory. Said one post-game newspaper report, "The Bucknell forward pass was significant and memorial. It informed the twin hemispheres that Bucknell wasn't content to settle for a tie—that it was playing for victory, and was willing to gamble a possible loss against the triumph. In other words, the Bisons came to play, and they surely did. Harvard had the edge in statistics, but refusal to quit and that of Deezzyre made up the deficit, as it often does."

"Yes, the season was a success in many respects," commented Lawrence. "We didn't win a lot of football games, but the boys certainly gave it everything they had. They were as spirited a bunch as I've ever coached."

Bucknell's season-opening 25-14 victory over Albright and the 27-6 and 27-20 losses to Gettysburg and Lehigh, respectively, were reported in the November ALUMNUS. The six remaining games shaped up this way:

TEMPLE. The Bisons copped their sixth straight home game over a two-year period and sent a Dad's Day crowd home in a happy mood by pasting Temple 38-0 under cloudy skies. Six different Bucknellians hugged the ball over the Owl goal line as the Herd retained custody of the coveted "Old Shoe" trophy.

LAFAYETTE. Joe Bozick, a sophomore Maroon quarterback who could easily find work as a magician, directed Lafayette to a 34-13 win over the Bisons despite a fine individual effort on the part of Bucknell junior quarterback Jimmy Stewart. Stewart exhibited triple threat form against the host team—as a kicker, passer and runner.

HARVARD. An underdog Bison team almost pulled the rug out from under Harvard's Crimson by narrowly missing a victory and coming away with a 26-26 tie. Fullback Bob "Thunderbird" Ford ripped the Harvard line to shreds inside the 20 and scored three touchdowns.

COLGATE. One of the best Red Raider teams in recent years had too much power and line ability for the Herd in the annual Homecoming game and marched to a decisive 35-7 triumph. Halfback Bob Sierer bounced back from leg injuries to spark the Bisons with two 30-yard gallops.

MIAMI. Big league football proved to be just that in the Orange Bowl as Miami's power-laden Hurricanes ran around and tossed over the Herd to the tune of a 46-0 victory. Bucknell gained 132 yards on the ground, but the hosts throttled the Bison air wing and held the Herd scoreless.

DELAWARE. Snow replaced the usual rain and mud for Delaware and the Blue Hens and fullback-halfback Andy Wagner put on a second half spurt that netted a 27-12 win. Reserve Bison fullback Don Koppes was the crowd(?)-pleaser, however, with 128 yards gained on 18 carries, the best performance by a Bucknell back all year.

Basketball

As November gave way to December, football gave way to basketball at Bucknell and it appeared that things were very definitely on the upgrade in the latter field of athletic endeavor.

Three years ago the powers that be at the 300 acres decided that the time was ripe to place some added emphasis on the sport entitled basketball. Bison hardwood teams had gone from bad to worse and in five seasons had posted records of 5-17, 2-18, 5-16, 9-13, and 8-16. It was time for a change and a change was made. Benton A. Kribbs, a highly successful court mentor at Clarion State, was brought in as head coach and a new policy was mapped for basketball.

A period of transition began that was not obvious to the naked eye. The '52-'53 varsity five recorded a 3-16 log and the following year a 4-16 ledger was far from spectacular. During the '53-'54 campaign, however, the Bucknell freshman team registered a gaudy 15-2 record. Last winter the situation was much the same. The Bison varsity, dominated by non-experienced sophomores, was able to win but three of 21. On the other hand, a frosh group finished with 13 triumphs in 15 outings.

Thus, the present Bucknell varsity squad is made up almost completely of players who won 28 of 32 as freshmen against yearling teams from the various schools against which the Bisons also compete on a varsity level. And the present frosh team, according to Coach Bill Lane, rates in the same bracket with the past two.

Can this, then, be the year that Bucknell basketball will make its long awaited surge? Unfortunately, the answer is probably still no. The surge should come next year. The big jump in quality has arrived, however, and the present season should be one that shows vast improvement.

Last season, despite the fact that the Bison entry set a new all time record by averaging no less than 76.4 points per game, the Bucknell team lacked three prime ingredients—height, depth and experience. This year two of the three have been almost completely erased. Kribbs has a 15-member squad which is composed of numerous capable performers, especially in the way of outside men. He also commands seven juniors who can now be considered battle-tested veterans.

Height, then, may be the 1955-56 Orange and Blue bugaboo. Veteran 6-4 John Beatty, who posted a 12.9 average last winter, is the only seasoned and proven big man on hand, although another junior, 6-4 Al Kenzie, is a returning letterman with considerable game experience. Bison fortunes may hinge on the rapid development of 6-7 soph Jim Beidleman and classmates 6-5 Bob Taylor and 6-4 Jack Hunter. Beidleman looked impressive in Bucknell's season-opening 71-68 victory over Juniata. He tallied 11 points and, more important, came away with 14 rebounds.

On the outside, the Herd is well fortified with speed and shot-making ability. Junior lettermen Norm Voorhees, Joe Baccelli, Marty Tannenbaum and Mike Corrigan, fellows who averaged better than 10 points per contest last season, lead the parade with senior Ben Slavitt and sophomores John Strizzi and Skip Wieder also high up on the list.

By the close of Christmas vacation, Kribbs expects to have a good line on the strength of this court combination. The Bisons will have played strong Colgate and Lehigh teams and participated in the Hofstra Tournament. Bucknell's goal for '55-'56 is a 50-50 split but next year, adds Kribbs, the sights will be set higher.

Soccer

Bucknell's soccer team, directed ably by veteran coach Hank Peters, completed the fall campaign with a 4-4-2 record and just missed the championship of the Northwest League of the Middle Atlantic Soccer Conference.

The Bisons, captained by senior fullbacks Al Christenson and Herb Kopp, scored victories over Delaware, Gettysburg, Western Maryland and F & M, fell before Temple, Penn State's defending National Champions and Drexel and tied Wilkes and Elizabethtown in regularly-scheduled matches. Drexel topped the Herd in a post-season re-match to garner the league crown.

Against Penn State, the Bison booters almost pulled one of the upsets of the year. Leading 3-2 at halftime, Bucknell extended the Lions to the limit before succumbing 4-3.

Wrestling

The Orange and Blue wrestlers, with football line coach Bill Wrabley at the helm for the first time, embark on a seven-match slate later this month. The Herd will tackle the same seven foes it faced last winter and also compete in the annual Middle Atlantic matches.

The schedule:

Date	Opponent	Place
Tues., Jan. 10	Temple	Lewisburg
Sat., Jan. 14	Lafayette	Lewisburg
Sat., Jan. 21	Muhlenberg	Allentown
Wed., Feb. 8	Haverford	Lewisburg
Sat., Feb. 11	Gettysburg	Gettysburg
Sat., Feb. 18	Ursinus	Lewisburg
Sat., Feb. 25	Delaware	Newark, Del.
Fri. Sat., March 2, 3	Middle Atlantic	Matches

Additions

Five additional appointments to the Bucknell University academic staff have been made to bring Faculty membership to a 199-total. An administrative staff post in the office of the dean of men has been filled, two assistants to the dean of women appointed, and a resident director of the James S. Swartz Hall, new dormitory for Freshman men, has been named.

Vincent H. Malmstrom, Ph.D., assumes the position of assistant professor of Geology and Geography. Dr. Malmstrom, a Michigan native, received an A.B. with distinction, M.A. and Ph.D. all from the University of Michigan. During his years with the university, he was the recipient of numerous scholarships and awards. He served as map curator and teaching fellow both at Michigan and the University of Texas. From June 1950 to June 1952, he studied at the University of Oslo, Norway, and is an associate member of the American-Scandinavian Foundation. A frequent contributor to magazines and newspapers, he has lectured on North European and geographic subjects both on platform and radio. He is a member of the Association of American Geographers.

Charles G. Shinaberry, D.Ed., joins the Education Department as assistant professor. He received his A.B. degree from West Virginia Wesleyan and his master of education and doctorate degrees from the Pennsylvania State University. Before coming to Bucknell, he served as assistant professor in a New Jersey State Teachers College. He is a member of West Virginia, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and national education societies.

Also named to the Education Department as assistant professor is Margaret C. Means, who received her B.S. from Indiana State Teachers College and M.S. from the Pennsylvania State University. Mrs. Means served last year in the Lewistown schools where she taught elementary grades and supervised playground crafts. She has two children.

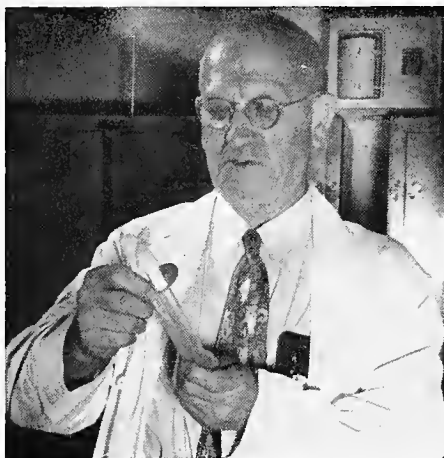

In the Department of Military Science Captain William S. Cranford has been appointed instructor and supply officer. Captain Cranford attended Mississippi Southern College and the University of Mississippi where he received his B.S. in Chemistry. He was affiliated with Monsanto Chemical Company, Dayton, Ohio, before Army recall to the chemical and radiological laboratories.

Sergeant First Class John R. Verge, who becomes training aide sergeant in Bucknell University Detachment 18, was last stationed at Fort George G. Meade, Md. He is an Army career man having been in the service since the age of 17. He married Anita I. Eberhard in Germany in February 1952, and the couple has an 11-month-old daughter.

The new assistant to the dean of men and director of men's residences is John S. Carhart, of Riverton, N. J. He is the brother of E. Marter Carhart '54, Alumni president of the Bucknell Class of 1954. Mr. Carhart won his A.B. in European history from Oberlin and his master's degree in American history at Temple. He succeeds Mr. Ralph F. Soelzer, now a Florida resident.

Miss Francine L. Klotz, formerly dormitory counselor at Indiana University, and Miss Joyce Lines, recent head resident at Syracuse University, assumed responsibility as assistant deans in the office of Miss Mary Jane Stevenson, dean of women. Miss Klotz, B.A., Utica College of Syracuse University; M.S., Indiana University, will be sophomore women counselor and head resident of Harris Hall; Miss Lines, a graduate of Hood College with master's degree in student personnel work from Syracuse University, becomes head resident of Hunt Hall and calendaring official for Bucknell.

16

DR. JOHN W. RICE '14
Professor of Bacteriology, who suffered mild heart attack just before opening of classes, but who is progressing favorably and itching to get back to work.

Dr. Robert Gross, assistant professor of English and Bucknell Faculty member since 1951, holds the resident directorship of the James S. Swartz Hall. He will continue his teaching duties while serving as head resident of the new dormitory for Freshman men.

Dr. Cyrus Karraker, associate professor of history was honored in November by the Williamsport Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for his efforts to improve living conditions in migrant labor camps in this area. As chairman of the Pennsylvania Citizens' Committee on Migrant Labor, he has been active for a number of years in this work and last year received an award from the state.

Bucknellians have contributed three chapters to Present Day Psychology, a newly published textbook edited by A. A. Robeck. Dr. Philip L. Harriman, professor of psychology, contributed the chapter "Abnormal Psychology"; Dr. Wendell I. Smith, professor of psychology, collaborated with Dr. Sherman Ross, a former Bucknell professor now at the University of Maryland, on the chapter, "Animal and Comparative Psychology"; and Dr. Eugene Gaier '48, who is now at Louisiana State University, wrote the chapter, "Social Psychology."

Dr. J. Orin Oliphant, professor of history, addressed the Northumberland County Historical Society in November on the subject, "How Lewisburg Became a Canal Port." The professor has become interested in Central Pennsylvania history of late and has published a number of articles in this field. He also is working on a history of the Alexandria, Virginia lands which were given to the University by Dr. James S. Swartz and his friend, Henry J. Loftus.

Miss Harriet Love, associate professor of economics is currently secretary-treasurer of the National Officers of Delta Mu Delta, honorary economics fraternity.

Dr. F. David Martin, associate professor of philosophy, presented a paper in October to a joint meeting of the American Society for Aesthetics and the Midwest College Art Conference at Northwestern University.

Dr. Harold W. Heine, professor of chemistry, has recently published two articles in the Journal of the American Chemical Society. He also was called to Midland, Michigan to address research chemists at the Dow Chemical Company, and has been awarded a research grant by Warner-Chilcott Laboratories of Morris Plains, N. J. As is his custom, Professor Heine has assigned a graduate student, Louis Boxenbaum '55, to the project with the stipulation that any findings that are published will carry the student's name as author.

Two members of the Psychology Faculty, Dr. Wendell Smith and Dr. William Carr, are offering an adult education course this year for business and industrial personnel at the supervisory level. The courses are "Industrial and Business Psychology" and "Psychological Testing in Business and Industry."

As an emergency substitute for Dr. John W. Rice '14, who suffered a mild heart at-

(Continued on Page 17)

Bucknell Holds Conference on Area Needs

The Bucknell Institute of Local Studies, headed by Dr. R. E. DuWors, professor of sociology, and Dr. Wendell I. Smith, professor of psychology, is currently concerning itself with the possibility of forming an organization for area development. A conference on the subject, held at Bucknell in November, was a further step in an interesting project that has been developing on the campus.

Back in 1951, when the Bertrand Library was opened, the Friends of the Bucknell Library, in conjunction with the Library Committee of the Faculty, agreed that Bucknell should make an effort to collect as much historical material pertaining to the Central Pennsylvania area as possible. Considerable progress has been made in this direction.

Later, Professor DuWors became interested in the collection and in the problems of the region and began a series of surveys of local towns as part of the advanced work of the Sociology Department. The results obtained in these surveys by Bucknell students began to attract attention with the result that the Bucknell Institute of Local Studies was formed, and wider fields were considered.

This led to the conference which the institute sponsored on November 16. The program included addresses by a representative of the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce, by the Pennsylvania Secretary of Commerce, Mr. John Davlin, and by representatives of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry and the U. S. Department of Commerce. These talks were followed in the evening by a discussion on the possibilities of an area development organization.

Another outgrowth of this work has been the establishment at Bucknell of a course entitled "The Central Pennsylvania Project" in which Professor Smith has assisted Professor DuWors. Henry Lambert, Jr. '57, is student research assistant for the Institute of Local Studies.

New Post for Dr. Coleman

Dr. William H. Coleman, vice president and dean of Bucknell University, will retire from the post as dean of the college in June, in accordance with the University's retirement program. President Odgers announced at the December meeting of the faculty.

After July 1, Dr. Coleman will fill the newly-created position of vice president and secretary of the Bucknell Study which will undertake an extensive review of the aims, the curriculum, and the educational policies of Bucknell.

"We are very happy that the University will have Dr. Coleman's services for the 1956-1957 college year in this new capacity, since his wide knowledge of sound education practices and his thorough understanding of our institution, gained over a period of 31 years, eminently qualify him for the work which we have asked him to undertake," President Odgers said.

As part of the general program of self-study of which Dr. Coleman will be the secretary, a Core Committee of five members of the faculty has already been appointed by President Odgers, who will serve as its chairman.

Dr. Coleman has been associated with Bucknell since 1924 and has held his present position of vice president and dean since 1953.

He served as head of the English Department at Bucknell before being named dean of the college in 1945 and eight years later was appointed vice president.

Well-known scholar and lecturer, Dr. Coleman is a graduate of Acadia University in Nova Scotia. He later studied at Yale University, the University of Wisconsin, Harvard, and Cambridge University in England. He received his Doctor of Literature degree at Acadia.

Dr. Coleman began his college teaching career at Bates College in 1914. He next served as professor of English at Furman University, coming from that institution to Bucknell. Upon occasion he has lectured at the famous Bread Loaf School of English at Middlebury College.

He has been a frequent contributor to periodicals, including the noted "Quarterly Review" of London, and is co-editor of "Western World Literature," a widely-used college textbook now in its 16th printing.

Because of his high standards of scholarship, Dr. Coleman has been elected to membership in numerous professional and honorary organizations. He was a foundation member of Phi Beta Kappa when the Bucknell chapter was installed at the college in 1940. In 1954, he served as president of the Eastern Association of College Deans and Advisers of Men.

Two years ago, Dr. Coleman was largely instrumental in securing from the F. W. Olin Foundation a grant of $900,000 to build and equip a new science building at Bucknell.

Bucknellians With Eastman Kodak

On a recent visit to Eastman Kodak in Rochester, Professor Clyde E. Burgee, head of the department of economics, commerce and finance, had the pleasure of lunching with a number of business graduates of Bucknell now employed at Eastman Kodak. They included Frank J. Kocher '47, Alvin S. Houck '50, Dolores Staley '53, John A. Kurtz '54, Daniel Dombey '55, and Fred Drexler '44.

Alumni Trustee Candidates Announced

The committee on nominations for Alumni Trustee met at Homecoming and after studying the records of achievement of a number of prospective candidates suggested by the general alumni body announced the names of the following candidates for the 1956 Alumni Trustee election:

DR. GEORGE L. ABERNETHY '32, Davidson, N. C.

MR. JOHN C. JOHNSON '04, Philadelphia, Pa.

CLAIR G. SPANGLER, M.D., '25, Reading, Pa.

Photographs and biographical records of the three candidates will be published in the March, 1956 issue of THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS, and in April every Alumnus will receive a mail ballot and will be urged to vote for his or her favorite candidate.

Additional candidates may be nominated by a petition signed by no fewer than two hundred Alumni, provided such petition shall be filed in the Alumni Office not later than February 15, 1956.

It is regretted that a number of excellent prospective candidates were not suggested until after the deadline date of October 15, 1955. These candidates, however can be considered in a following year by the committee on nominations.

Bucknellians should bear in mind that the year 1957 will be a big year for the ladies—in that election only women candidates will appear on the ballot. The deadline for suggesting candidates for that election is October 15, 1956. Let's all look over the field of excellent Bucknell women and send in the name of a candidate or two to the Alumni Secretary at any time between now and October 15, 1956.

The Alumni Trustee timetable for the current year election is as follows:

February 15—Deadline date for nominating candidate by petition signed by two hundred Alumni or more.

March 1—Election announcement in THE BUCKNELL ALUMNUS.

April 1—Ballots in mail.

May 15—Deadline for receiving ballots in Alumni Office.

June Commencement—Certification of winning candidate to the Bucknell Board of Trustees.

Plan to Reune In June

June 1956 Alumni Reunion plans are underway.

An increasing number of Bucknellians return to the campus every June for Alumni Day because they have learned that classmates and friends are doing likewise. However, each June a number of classes plan special events to commemorate the five-year reunion of the class group. Committees are already at work in most reunion classes, and a majority of them will be publishing special reunion anniversary books. Alumni of these reunion group classes are urged to assist by filling out a questionnaire even though they cannot, because of great distance, attend the reunion. Members of these classes should be on the alert for the class letter and questionnaire which should reach them within the next few weeks. When it does, two steps should be taken. They are:

1. Respond promptly to the first "Call to Reune in June" you get from your Class Reunion Planners.

2. Plan to be in Lewisburg for Alumni Reunion Weekend, June 8-11, 1956.

The classes reuning in June, 1956, with the names of their class leaders are:

Class President and/or Reunion Chairman
Emeritus Club	Rev. Charles Teufel '04
1901	Charles F. Bidelspacher, Esq.
1906	Dr. Carl L. Millward
1911	Mr. James A. Tyson
1916	Dr. Dayton L. Ranck
1921	Mr. Nelson S. Rounsley
1926	Mr. Fred W. Evans
1931	Mr. Edward J. Smalstig
1936	Mr. M. Howard Clark
1941	Mr. Raymond H. Armor
1946	Mr. J. Dudley Waldner
1951	Mr. Harvey H. Bush
1955	Mr. Donald P. Clark

Faculty Additions

(Continued from Page 16)

tack just before classes got underway, Dr. Norman L. Somerson, bacteriologist on the staff of the Philadelphia General Hospital, was appointed assistant professor of biology in October.

A graduate of Marietta College in 1950, Dr. Somerson specialized in the field of medical microbiology at the University of Pennsylvania, where he received his doctor's degree last year. While at the University of Pennsylvania he taught bacteriopathology in that institution's Dental School. Last February he was appointed by the Philadelphia General Hospital to the post which he relinquished to come to Bucknell.

Dr. Wayne E. Manning, associate professor of botany, who is widely known as an authority on the trees of the walnut family, has received a signal honor in the form of an invitation to contribute to the forthcoming botanical volume, "Flora of Panama." Dr. Manning will write the definitive account of the members of the walnut family for the volume, fourth in a series of publications dealing with the flora of various nations.

100TH ANNIVERSARY

OF

Bucknell Charter Day

FEBRUARY 5, 1956

Help celebrate Bucknell's Birthday with other Bucknellians at a meeting of your local Bucknell Alumni Club

Watch for letter announcing your meeting date and place

AMONG THE CLUBS

(Continued from Page 9)

Rev. J. Charles McKirachan, pastor of Pine Street Presbyterian Church. Rev. McKirachan spoke on the timely subject, "The Ten Commandments for Keeping Christmas." After the singing of the Alma Mater, the meeting was adjourned.

NORMA GOTWALT '52, Secretary

SOUTH FLORIDA—Almost 70 Florida and visiting Alumni and guests celebrated the valiant play of the football squad against University of Miami following the game in the Orange Bowl on November 11, 1955.

The Bison Roundup, arranged by the officers of the Bucknell Alumni Club of South Florida, was held at the Top-o-the-Columbus overlooking beautiful Miami and Miami Beach.

The honored guests included Miss Emma Rebekah Baker of the Institute Class of 1885, Mr. John O. Roser '11, former Bucknell trustee and his family, and Mr. and Mrs. John I. Catherman '07.

GAINESVILLE, FLA.—Eleven Bucknellians and friends gathered for dinner at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Warfel '20 on November 18 on the occasion of the visit of Buck Shott, alumni secretary, and Mrs. Shott to the Southern clubs. Harry, as usual, was putting the final touches to his latest book, this time "American English in its Cultural Setting," co-authored with Dr. Donald J. Lloyd of Wayne University. It will be published by Knopf in February.

CAMDEN, S. C.—An even dozen Bucknellians attended the first gathering of Alumni in South Carolina on November 21 in Camden. The dinner turned out to be an All-duPont affair—all of the men in attendance being connected with the duPont Orlon plant there.

The group heard Buck Shott, alumni secretary, discuss "The Lass Look" and then enjoyed the color pictures of the campus shown by Mr. and Mrs. Shott. Mrs. William J. Scheible (L. Audrey Bruce '47) was selected to serve as chairman of the alumni group in South Carolina.

INDIANAPOLIS—Bucknellians in the Indianapolis area have been meeting from time to time under the chairmanship of Art Zimmerman '24. The most recent meeting was held on November 18 at the home of Mrs. Walter L. Miller (Sue Post '23). Plans are under way to hold the next meeting on Friday evening, January 20, 1956, at McLaughner's Restaurant, 3720 East 38th Street, Indianapolis, at 6 p. m. After the dinner there will be a showing of pictures of the Bucknell campus and recent activities. Bucknellians in the area are urged to make their reservations with Mrs. W. Norman Ball (Dorothy Sauer '35) at 4038 North Adams Street, Indianapolis 5.

NORTH CAROLINA—Fourteen Bucknellians from Durham, Greensboro, Chapel Hill and Sanford, N. C., gathered at the Washington Duke Hotel in Durham on November 22. Francis E. Walker, Esq. '32 acted as chairman of the meeting. Dr. Sherwood Githens, Jr. '31 gave the invocation. After a delicious meal the group heard Buck Shott, alumni secretary, in a talk on recent campus development, followed by the showing of colored pictures of alumni celebrations.

It was decided to continue the North Carolina State Alumni organization with Mr. Walker as state chairman, and it was suggested that the next meeting be held in some other part of the state to give North Carolina Bucknellians a better opportunity to attend.

